

WOMAN ACCUSED BY MRS. BELL IS RELEASED FRIDAY

Mrs. Elizabeth Cavender is again free as Mrs. Bell goes to prison.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY ORDERED HER RELEASE

Woman Convicted Of Murder Of O. A. DeMoss Left Thursday For Penitentiary.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cavender, who was arrested at Muskogee after she had been implicated in the killing of O. A. DeMoss by a statement of Mrs. Bell was released from custody Friday morning upon instructions from District Attorney Walter F. Rehensch.

As Mrs. Cavender stepped out of the cell on the third floor of the court house, Mrs. Bell, her lawyer, and other witnesses were waiting for her.

Mrs. Cavender was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary, was on her way to that institution to begin the term.

Mrs. Bell was taken to Fort Worth Thursday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff T. W. Morgan and there turned over to Bud Russell, the agent of the state prison who was to take the woman to Huntsville Friday morning.

Last Sunday afternoon after the jury had returned a verdict of guilty against Mrs. Bell, she made a voluntary statement to the judge that Mrs. Cavender had offered her $100 to kill DeMoss but that she had never seen paid the money.

Officials at Muskogee were notified and the Cavender woman was placed under arrest.

Deputy Sheriff W. W. DeLoach returned the woman to this city early Thursday morning and placed her in jail. After a thorough investigation of the matter district officials ordered her release.

The unhappy distinction of being the first Wichita county woman to go to the penitentiary for murder and one of the very few to go on any charge, is Mrs. Bell's.

ALABAMA SENATOR IS TWICE REBUKED

Senator Heflin's influence against Senator Wadsworth was plain.

The vote, however, did not end the matter. Senator Wadsworth took the floor after the roll call and renewed the argument by charging that Senator Heflin had in several instances revised his record before their publication in the Congressional Record.

Senator Wadsworth, "but it shows that you cannot always tell what a senator says by reading the Congressional Record."

He added that he had asked if Senator Wadsworth and Mr. Taft "represented Wall Street" and insisted that the stenographer's record in the majority of cases was correct.

Senator Wadsworth, "I am not sure that I did not understand why other senators were not called to the floor. I declared the vice president 'never baited an eye' when Senator Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin, made his 'trade' speech, Iowa, yesterday, and imputed Russian soviet purposes to Mr. Brookhart."

He added that he had asked if Senator Wadsworth and Mr. Taft "represented Wall Street" and insisted that the stenographer's record in the majority of cases was correct.

Several of the senators who voted to expunge the roll call had been recommended to him as progressives. Mr. Heflin said, adding that he "had his doubts all along."

There is no doubt as to the record. I want the changes to be made now in the open senate and before the galleries, to which the senator from Alabama, plays, and therefore move that that portion of the senator's remarks be expunged from the record."

"I do not propose," said Senator Cousins, "to let the senator from Alabama begin to in the night time and change his remarks respecting the senator from Michigan, myself, before they are published in the record. I want the changes to be made now in the open senate and before the galleries, to which the senator from Alabama, plays, and therefore move that that portion of the senator's remarks be expunged from the record."

Immediately after Senator Heflin concluded, Senator Cousins rose to a point of personal privilege, asked that the transcript of Senator Heflin's remarks pertaining to him be brought in and read, and then moved they be expunged from the record.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC GRANTED PERMIT TO INCREASE SAILINGS

CONCESSION IS GIVEN STEAMSHIP LINE BY I. C. COMMISSION.

THREE COMMISSIONERS DISSENT FROM OPINION

Majority Held Increased Service Would Be Advantage to Commerce.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Southern Pacific railroad steamship lines which now render service between Galveston and New Orleans and New York may increase sailings, the Interstate Commerce commission decided today, to provide water transportation between nearly all New England ports and ports on the Gulf of Mexico west of New Orleans without violating interstate commerce laws.

Increased service, the commission held, will be of advantage to commerce and will not tend to exclude competition of independent water lines. The right to maintain a line between Houston and Philadelphia, however, was refused by the commission on the ground that independent steamship service now rendered between these ports would be endangered.

All rates, sailing schedules and regulations of the Atlantic Steamship subsidiary which will operate the projected service, are to be submitted to the commission before becoming effective.

The decision resulted from the application of the Southern Pacific as a rail and water carrier, for permission to extend the scope of its steamship operations which are under the jurisdiction of the commission. An issue as to the legality of a railroad going into extensive competition with independent lines was raised, and although the majority of the commission held that authority to do this could be given the Southern Pacific, Commissioner Eganman, Campbell and Potter dissented.

Says Law Forbids. Commissioner Eastman expressed the view that the law forbade such extension of service, and declared further that the Southern Pacific has given no assurance that it would extend the steamship service as outlined if permission were given, while independent ship lines would be forced to "hesitate before making competition with steamship as subsidized by the Southern Pacific."

ADAMS ACQUITTED BY JURY'S VERDICT

his story, despite the fact that he had before him the story as told at two different occasions. If Weir was not telling the truth do you think that it lies within human possibilities for a man to tell the same lie three times just exactly alike?" he asked the jury.

Mr. Fulton also touched upon the letter proposition, which Weir told about Weir had told that Adams said he had found a letter in Turner's tent the night that Turner was killed and that the letter made reference to him, Adams Weir had also told that Adams said he had read the letter and burned it.

The county attorney then called the jury's attention to the testimony of the City Policeman Cook, who had stated that he saw Adams in the City cafe on the night of November 15, reading a letter and that after reading it he threw it into the stove and burned it up.

McDonald Accuses Weir. In his opening remarks, Mr. McDonald stated that never before in his life had he been called upon to make a speech under such trying circumstances. He referred to the fact that his father was lying at the point of death and commented on the fact that had been extended to him by Judge Weir, who had counseled by calling a night session so that he could perform his last duty for his client and then hurry away.

"The facts as they came to your ears, gentlemen of the jury," prove that B. C. Weir, the state's star witness, is a consummate liar. Mr. Fulton practically convinced me that Weir was the guilty party to this crime in his argument. Weir has a perfect alibi up until a short time after 11:00 o'clock of that night but where was he from 11:00 to 12:00 o'clock. He could have gotten in an automobile and gone to Turner's shack and fired the bullet that caused this man's death.

Furthermore, both Weir and Adams testify that after the two had gone to bed shortly after midnight that night that Adams went to sleep at once but that Weir was restless and tossed about on his bed. Who is here to tell us that Weir stayed in bed from 12:00 o'clock that night until 5:00 o'clock the next morning?"

After the defendant had completed his testimony and two documents were introduced in evidence the defense rested its case at 2:50 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Judge Declines Plea. Attorney B. Y. Cummings presented the defendant's case to the jury Friday morning. He spoke slowly and distinctly and expressed regret that Attorney McDonald could not be present to close the argument for his client.

"A man does not turn at a right angle when he awakes from the right path to that of a criminal, and yet that is what the state would have you believe," he said. "A man leaves the narrow track and the path of a good reputation by degrees, not all at once."

He spoke at length on the reputation that the defendant bore at his former residence to abuse Weir. State's counsel may be disappointed in that statement. But I am not concerned about fixing the guilt for the murder of J. D. Turner on any man. Every sane man has a reason or motive for everything that he does and says conscientiously.

Attorney Cummings referred to the promise of immunity given Weir by the state of Texas.

District Attorney Closes. District Attorney Walter V. Schenck closed the argument on the case.

"This is not a case of circumstantial evidence," Mr. Schenck told the jury.

jury, "but a case in which we have a confession from the defendant. It was the confession made by B. C. Weir before the defendant's arrest and that confession was corroborated by the physical facts in this case as testified to from that witness chair."

"Weir told you about a letter that was found in Turner's tent did he not?" He told it to you just like that defendant there told you. How did Weir know what this officer of yours, Policeman Cook of Burkburnett, was going to testify to?"

"What did Cook tell you? He told you that on the night when J. D. Turner met his sudden death that he, the witness brushed coat sleeves with this defendant in the City Cafe at Burkburnett some time between 10 and 11 o'clock."

Refuses to Letter. "And what was the defendant doing at that time? He was reading a letter. What letter was that? It was the same letter that you heard about from the witness Weir as told Weir by the witness Adams. And Adams told Weir that he burned the letter. And Cook tells you that Adams walked to the stove and threw the letter into the flame."

"And where did you hear about those round toed shoes? From the witness Weir. Who told him about those shoes and who told him where they were?"

"Round toed shoes—and the defendant wears shoes that are pointed on the morning when he was arrested, and this defendant appeared before Justice of the Peace Chatham in the latter's office at Burkburnett, who did he tell the officer where he was accused of anything? He told him, 'If you think I was out there and see if you can find my tracks.'"

The Round Toed Shoes. "Gentlemen, this defendant knew about those round toed shoes and knew where he had left them and he told Weir about them that night. 'Go out and see if you can find my tracks,' he told the officer. Gentlemen, this defendant felt secure of account of those shoes and how did he know about those shoes? The same guilty conscience that moved him to tell Weir about that murder was still working within his breast when he made that indirect reference to the justice of the peace."

In closing his argument the district attorney asked for a penalty that was commensurate with the crime committed and asked for a death penalty or a life term in the penitentiary.

The case went to the jury at 11:20 o'clock.

State in Rebuttal. It was then that the state began its line of rebuttal testimony.

R. D. Cook, a tailor of Burkburnett testified that two or three days before J. D. Turner was killed that Wayne Adams had come to his place of business and secured a 38 caliber revolver that he had left there with him for four or five days prior to that. On cross examination he said he was not positive that it was a 38 but he thought it was.

K. D. Kilpatrick, whose name had been mentioned in the cross examination of the defendant stated that on Sunday night, November 12, the night Adams testified he spent in Wichita Falls he saw Adams in the City cafe about 11 o'clock at night. He said his top coat was slightly splattered with mud.

C. C. Garner was recalled and stated that the defendant on the night that he rented the Ford car and on the night that Turner was killed had invited Weir to take a ride with him.

George F. Moore, whose name had been referred to many times in interrogatories as to his whereabouts, told that he had left his home in Newton at 9 o'clock on the morning of November 15. That he came to Wichita Falls and caught the 2:15 Denver train. He said he went to Eldorado, Ark., W. W. Becher, deputy sheriff testified that he saw Moore on his way to Wichita Falls about 10 o'clock on that morning in a service car.

J. E. Abbot who lived 300 feet from Turner's home told of hearing a Ford car start between his home and Turner's home about 2:45 o'clock on the night of November 15.

The state called P. F. Cook, a city officer of Burkburnett who told of seeing Wayne Adams in the City cafe on the night of November 15 between 10:30 and 11:00 o'clock and saw the defendant reading a letter. After finishing reading the letter the officer said Adams walked over to the stove and pitched it in. J. R. Chatham, Justice of the Peace at Burkburnett at the time of the killing testified that Adams told him the following morning after he had questioned him many times about where he had been the night before.

"If you think I was out there, why don't you go out and see if you can find my tracks?"

Lovely Before Breakfast, Woman's Supreme Test

By MARIAN HALE
Gladys Cooper is heralded as the most beautiful actress in England. I believe she is.
I saw her clad in a simple blue silk nightgown, her blond hair, with its natural wave, hanging loose about her exquisitely modeled shoulders.
She was propped up in bed, for I called early in the morning.
Yet, without makeup or artifice, she was one of the most perfect things I've ever seen.
First Hours Hardest
The first hours are the hardest, as every woman knows. One who is beautiful before breakfast need not worry about the rest of the day.
Her secret? Hard work, country life, a youthful spirit!
She has played continuously in London for three years without a vacation, but she always lives in the country, is devoted to riding and hiking in the English fog, to rose gardens and to home cooking.
She believes city life ruins a woman's freshness.
"But why," she asks, "do you Americans concern yourselves so entirely with beauty of face? I find a woman's style, character, personality, vivacity, the things she has cultivated for herself, infinitely more interesting."
"A beautiful figure is more to be desired than a perfect face."
"In France they judge a woman by her appearance from the tips of her toes to the top of her head. I do that, instinctively. France doesn't interest me, aside from what they contribute to the whole effect."
Miss Cooper holds that plain women can cultivate beauty.
"I mean," she explains, "that beauty is merely the emphasizing of the distinctive things about one's self."
To cultivate beauty, I should say, cultivate yourself and your mentality. Then progress along your own distinctive line. Distinction is bound to come.
All Can Beaut
"Have you noticed the difference in children? Some are lovely, individual, charming. Others are just plain, drab things. The grab ones could be just as beautiful as the others if someone took the pains to fix them up and cultivate them."
"That's all I see to beauty—or charm—or whatever it is that makes a woman admired—just the knowledge of how to find your type and bring yourself up in it."
Miss Cooper came to America for just a week, in the hope of finding a play to take back to London for production.

The Players' club members were so delighted with the informal entertainment given by Mrs. Fenetta Haskell Thursday evening that they are considering bringing her back to Wichita Falls for an engagement some time in the spring.
Mrs. Haskell, who gave two programs at the Academy of Mary Immaculate Wednesday, read "Marsh Chan" from a Thomas Nelson Page collection for the Players' club at their regular meeting Thursday. Her interpretation was superlatively charming, from the accounts of those who heard her, and plans for a later engagement with the club were discussed.
Mrs. Haskell goes from Wichita Falls to Denver and from there to the Panama Canal zone and Cuba with an interesting route of engagements.

The hostess served delicious refreshments of cherry pie à la mode and coffee to the following members: Mesdames E. R. Archambeau, H. A. Glass, Greg, Harrison Buchanan, Eckert, Taylor, C. E. Haynie, Joe D. Harris, V. R. Martin, Stanley McGregor, Lawrey, H. E. White and Alfred Burnsides.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS MOON MAN'S VALENTINE

"Will you please make me a valentine to send to Mr. Peerabout, the Man-in-the-Moon?" asked Nancy.
"Certainly," said Forget-Me-Not, the fairy. "What shall it be about?"
Nancy thought a minute. "Just about nice things," she decided.
"He's so old and kind and always thinking of other people. He lives alone on the moon in a golden forest, in a rummy little hut with the richest furniture. And he wears old clothes and his hair is pure white, what there is of it, for he's mostly bald-headed."
Then Nancy told the fairy all about the time she and Nick had been to the moon and what they saw there.
After that Forget-Me-Not wrote and wrote and wrote. And this is the valentine he finally handed to the little girl, and which the Twins flew off to the moon with and tucked under Mr. Peerabout's front door.
"My sweetheart's the Man-in-the-Moon.
I'm going to visit him soon.
Up there in the sky
Where the stars go by
And little light clouds fly big birds fly by I'll sail in a magic balloon.
"We'll walk in the forest of gold.
Mr. Moon Man and I, in the cold.
And wherever we go,
We'll keep watching you know.
To see that thought goes quite smoothly below,
Where for thousands of years it has rolled.
"Mr. Peerabout's nice and so kind!
People think that he's going quite blind!
But his eyes are so sharp.
He can see in the dark.
And his gaze! My, oh my! They'll hear every remark.
And he has a most wonderful mind!
"Yes, my sweetheart's the Man-in-the-Moon.
He keeps watch from July unto June,
Sees every small head,
Tucked quite safely in bed.
Then turns on the Moon like a lamp overhead.
Till the sky is as bright as at noon.
"From Guess Who!
When Mr. Peerabout found it, he read it and chuckled.
"I'll bet you it's from Nancy," he said fondly.

Oats now ready before coffee

There is now a Quick Quaker Oats which cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes. It is the quickest cooking oats in the world.
The same extra quality as in regular Quaker Oats. Flaked from plump grains only—just the rich, plump, savory oats. They have the same exquisite flavor which won the world to Quaker.
But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And the small thin flakes cook quickly.
Grocers have both styles—take your choice. The Quick style has "Quick" on the label.

FIRST METHODIST HAS GOOD REPORT FOR CONFERENCE

QUARTERLY MEETING HELD BY PRESIDING ELDER BLACK.

SPLENDID PROGRESS IN EVERY DEPARTMENT

One Hundred and Twelve New Members Added During Three Months.

The first quarterly conference of the First Methodist Episcopal church, south, held here and conducted by the presiding elder, Rev. S. M. Black, covered the work of the church for the months of November, December and January and showed large progress in every department of the church activities. The following detailed report is made of the work:

The work of the Epworth League was reported by President H. A. Kinkead, which showed 150 members and 4983 raised for all purposes. Plans are being worked out for the organization of a new Senior League and a new Junior League. This organization supports two foreign missionaries and one Wesley college student. The report from the Women's Missionary society was made by Mrs. J. C. Lacey, which showed a large number of additions to its membership, which now totals 256. Their work is done in six circles with about 50 members in each circle. During the quarter they have raised $1,022. They have recently organized a new auxiliary which gives promise of large usefulness in the future. The society supports two foreign missionaries and one Alexander college student. E. C. Hucksabee, director of religious education of the church, reported the work of the Sunday school, which showed an enrollment of 1906 with a net average gain in attendance of 199 over the attendance of one year ago. He reports $2,149 raised by the school during the three months, which includes the offering to the orphanage, and four teacher training classes recently organized.

The report on the Christian education movement was made by J. T. Harrell. This work covers a period of two years. During that time regular and special subscriptions have been paid to the amount of $114,899. During the quarter $21,726 has been collected. The Christian Missionary work was reported by T. A. Baggett, treasurer of the local fund, and showed that on this fund the Sunday school had paid $1,304, the Epworth League $3,250, and the individual pledges to date $15,217, and through the conference collections credits $4,516, and by the Women's Missionary society $4,225. The treasurer of the church budget, Ora A. Jones, reported $125 to Wesley college, $2,200 to the orphans' home, and salaries and incidentals to the amount of $9,262, making a total of finances raised during the quarter of $42,922.

The spiritual activities of the church were reported in detail by the pastor, Dr. C. M. Simpson, which showed that 112 new members have been added to the membership of the church during the three months, and that every department had had large gains in its working forces. A pre-Easter campaign for the month of February and March, which involved the enlistment of every member of the church and the gathering of a large number of new members, was laid out in plans. This contemplates a period of evangelistic services, climaxing with Easter Sunday.

IS FIRST TO ANSWER CALL BY RADIO FROM CINCINNATI

While listening in on the program of Station WLW of the Crosley Manufacturing company at Cincinnati, Ohio, Thursday night, C. W. Snider of this city heard an announcement of prizes to be given for the first messages received from certain territory in and around Cincinnati and then prizes for the first message received from each state. The messages were not to be sent before the conclusion of a certain number on the program and must contain a catch word. Mr. Snider caught the catch word, grabbed the telephone dial and soon had his message starting Cincinnatiward. Twenty minutes later the broadcaster announced the receipt of more than four hundred messages and soon began reading them. Among the first read was Mr. Snider's. His was the first received from Texas.

Departed Spirit Asks Aid in Finding Letter That Was Lost in 1889

The departed spirit of William Billeu cannot rest until some papers, left in a desk drawer in 1889, are brought to light.

A letter received by the chamber of commerce Friday from Lorena Rhoades of Los Angeles states that Billeu's spirit had "come into the circle" and asked her to write about the missing papers, which concern the Rhoda Collier estate.

"He said the paper was put in the back of his desk behind a small drawer in the year of 1889," the letter says. It added: "He said he could not find rest until it was made straight. He has come several times, so I have written."

The letter did not say whether Billeu was supposed to have resided here. Early residents of this city said Friday they did not recall the names of either Billeu or Rhoda Collier.

While the place from which the request originated, according to the letter, is rather outside Wichita Falls' trade territory, General Manager Harrison of the chamber of commerce said he would attempt to forward any information that might be received.

ARREST AT AUSTIN IN CONNECTION WITH BIG JEWELRY THEFT

AUSTIN, Feb. 2.—A man giving his name as George Gallager, is in custody of officers here, having been arrested last night in connection with the robbery of a pawnshop in Cincinnati last March 22, in which three men obtained $50,000 in diamonds and jewelry. Gallager admitted having taken part in the robbery, according to officers.

He waived extradition proceedings and announced his willingness to return to Cincinnati and face trial. Police Chief Copeland of Cincinnati was notified of the arrest and said an officer was on the way here to take Gallager to Cincinnati. Officers say they expect to make arrests in connection with other robberies over the country as a result of information given them by Gallager.

TEMPLARS CONFER DEGREE OF MALTA IN FULL CEREMONY

James W. Duhan, Cyrus H. Parker, David D. Moninger, Everett L. Smith and B. Bentley Bacon were the first candidates to receive the degree of Order of Malta conferred in full form by Wichita Falls Commandery at their stated meeting held Thursday evening. Owing to stormy weather, members of Vernon Commandery, were unable to be present.

The Commandery opened at 7:00 p. m. Routine business was disposed of, and then the Red Cross degree was conferred before the supper hour. At 8:00 p. m. Commandery then opened up in long form and was turned over to the officers of the Malta Commandery, who amplified it faithfully, under the able direction of George Lawler, prior.

Since Wichita Falls Commandery is the second Commandery in the state to work this degree in full form, it was natural that expressions of opinion were given by several of the local commandery members of the local commandery expressed wonderful appreciation at the manner in which the degree was put on, and all agreed that it should be conferred in long form frequently.

Leif Lawler, a charter member of the Commandery, who has been living in Dallas for some time and a brother of George Lawler, gave a splendid talk, and said he had been wonderfully impressed with the work, since it is said that anyone sees the degree conferred in long form. Many other things by the officers of the team and candidates, made the occasion of the conferring of this degree in long form for the first time, a memorable one.

During the conferring of the Red Cross degree, Mrs. Tullia Thompson sang "The Holy City." During the conferring of the Malta degree, the regular Commandery quartet, consisting of Miss Tillie Mae Shaffer, Miss Mildred Martin, Grover Buntington and Paul von Altmann, rendered appropriate selections.

Thursday evening, Feb. 2, the Commandery will convene at 7:00 p. m. to confer the order of the Temple upon the five candidates who received the degree of Malta, and the following Thursday, Feb. 8, the degree of Malta will again be conferred in full form, when it is hoped that a large attendance will be present to see the work put on.

Groundhog Sees His Shadow Friday; There's Going to Be Some Winter

After Groundhog decided Friday that there was going to be some winter, after all. If he sees his shadow on February 2, it means "six weeks more" of winter; however, as there hasn't been any winter here yet, this year the "more" can be left out. It was doubtful, early Friday, whether the groundhog would see his shadow. During the forenoon, however, the sun came out. Take the groundhog's word for it, for he knows. Every February 2 has been coming out of his winter dugout to learn about the weather. If it's sunny and he sees his shadow, so he did today, he turns right back and stays in his dugout six weeks longer. But if the day is cloudy, so he can't see his shadow, the groundhog stays out of winter quarters and prepares for warm weather. For he knows, even if it doesn't look it, there'll be no more cold weather. The idea of Groundhog day seems to be of German origin. In Germany, however, it was the legend that foretold the weather February 1. When the first Germans coming to America brought this belief with them, the common groundhog or woodchuck was adopted in place of the badger, because the latter was not so well known here. But the belief that the weather on February 2 predicts warm or cold weather for six weeks to some date back to the fifth century, when the festival of Candlemas was established.

When the first Germans coming to America brought this belief with them, the common groundhog or woodchuck was adopted in place of the badger, because the latter was not so well known here. But the belief that the weather on February 2 predicts warm or cold weather for six weeks to some date back to the fifth century, when the festival of Candlemas was established.

NEXT SUNDAY'S TIMES

THE SUNDAY TIMES is increasing in popularity from week to week. One reason is doubtless the number of high class special articles and features as well as a thorough presentation of the news, local, national and worldwide.

NEXT SUNDAY'S TIMES promises to be of exceptional interest. One of its most interesting features will be the story of the fight with the Indians in Young county in the early days. This story was written by Edwin Hill of Olney who made a trip to Jacksboro to interview one of the survivors, probably the only survivor of the battle. Mr. Hill has written an interesting account. It will be illustrated.

DO YOU KNOW why you had best buy that engagement ring now? That when kings and queens lose their jobs diamonds are cheaper? How these stones harder than steel, are cut, sawed, split and polished? What city in Holland has 10,000 diamond cutters and to what race they belong? These are some of the questions that will be answered in a fact-full letter from Frank G. Carpenter who is touring Europe and writing a series of letters for The Times and a number of other papers.

KATHLEEN NORRIS will discuss the "Unpopular Woman" in her keen, analytical but common sense way, and while this will be one of her series of "Woman to Woman Talks" it will be mighty good reading for the men too.

ROBERT QUILLLEN'S "Old Home Folks" will fill a corner of the editorial page. Aunt Het, Uncle Gus, The Girl and the Butcher Boy will be there as usual with a good lot of quaint, humorous philosophy which will do you good to read as well as entertain you.

DAVID LLOYD GEORGE, former premier of Great Britain will discuss the agreement between Great Britain and the United States for settlement of the British war debt. Lloyd George's article was written and cabled to America before the terms were accepted by Great Britain but he forecasts that acceptance and gives the British attitude. It will be well worth reading.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN'S Bible Talk will be mighty good reading either before or after going to Sunday school. There are some folks who do not follow Bryan's political teachings who admit that he is a great moral teacher and he knows the Bible well.

WILL ROGERS, cowboy comedian, will loop them over with "Thoughts on the Rum Fleet and Other Things" and if your cheeks are chapped we want to tell you now not to read his talk. Rogers gives one of his talks every week for The Times.

THE WONDERFUL IRRIGATION system of which Phoenix, Arizona is the center is of interest here because in many respects the conditions resemble those of our own big undertaking. Sunday's Times will contain an interesting and well-illustrated article dealing with the Arizona project.

EDWARD MARSHALL interviews Senator Capper of Kansas on the proposed uniform marriage and divorce bill. As a believer in the rights of the state and in local self government, most of us are, you may not agree with Senator Capper's effort for national legislation on the subject, but it is sometimes a good thing to hear the other fellow's argument. Edward Marshall is a master interviewer and Senator Capper's view is well presented.

A GOOD MANY FOLKS, we learn are saving our prints of the drawings of Charles M. Russell, the great artist of western and frontier life. Sunday's drawing depicts one of the cruel and sordid exploits of Billy the Kid, one of the most notorious of the bad men who terrorized Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. Billy the Kid was killed at the age of 21, yet so desperate had been his life that his gun carried 21 notches. His was a type and time that are now no more, yet his kind figured in the history of those early days.

THE COLOR PAGE for the eight page magazine section will be a Dan Smith drawing of the Fascinating Fad of Ear Rings. Other pages for the magazine section include a Blue Ribbon short story by Mary Synon, another installment of the Man on the Roof, the Man Behind the Ku Klux Klan Probe, A Martial Hoodoo, Fashion Forecast by Mme. Francis, Reformers Would Revise the English Alphabet.

EIGHT PAGES OF COMICS, including several that can be obtained in no other paper in this section.

A REVIEW OF THE WEEK in the state legislature by a correspondent who is in very close touch with the situation.

OIL NEWS, SOCIETY NEWS, local news and state, national and worldwide news from our own special correspondents and by the leased wire services of two of the greatest newsgathering agencies, the Associated Press and the United Press associations.

SOME ONE HAS DOPED IT OUT that Harding will be the candidate of the republicans in 1924, McAdoo the candidate of the democrats and that Henry Ford will be an independent candidate. All of this is interesting and may be satisfactory or unsatisfactory, according to your view.—Mark Sullivan in Sunday's issue will discuss probabilities for the G. O. P. nomination. Sullivan is always interesting and usually a good forecaster.

Our Mammy Lou Urges "Boss Yo' Own Appetite"

Mammy Lou planned her meals with a stern adherence to schedule. On slow days, bean days or chicken days the food of the day was served unless most gloriously exceptional "company" appeared. Mammy's White Lady allowed this privilege and the plan had worked famously, even if there had been certain times—but that was past. Today Mammy had planned to serve spinach, carrots and baked potatoes. She was baking and the potatoes would cook themselves, the last 45 minutes.

"Things were getting out of the way. The carrots were scraped and cut in slender 'fingers,' the spinach had been carefully washed under much running water and was crisping in a cool water. There were spice drop-cakes cooking and Mammy was spreading the meringue on a plump custard pie when her beloved White Lady appeared. "Mammy Lou, my cousin has just come in. You remember the girl who ate so few things. She is passing through and will be here for dinner. She particularly detests carrots and spinach. What are we to do?"

Mammy was thoughtfully silent for a moment then "Gussie ma, Miss. You rec'lect yo' cousin an' she never tasted no spinach or carrots cooked as I does 'em. I reckon if she'd taste 'em an' give 'em a good chance, she might like 'em. Anyway, I is jes' goin' on an' fix 'em or not, they's a-suff' other 'yit'."

Reassured the White Lady returned to her relative and Mammy went forward with her dinner preparations. Some time later the carrots were tender and drained and Mammy had made a rich cream sauce. She blended them with it in the new glass casserole. The carrots were tender and drained and Mammy had made a rich cream sauce. She blended them with it in the new glass casserole. hard, but not tough, and now Mammy turned her attention to the piping hot vegetable dish that was to receive the spinach. She mixed a generous quantity of melted butter with several teaspoonsful of vinegar, some pepper and salt and turned the spinach into the dish and stirred the seasoning into it. The eggs were sliced and arranged over the top. Every bit of the delicate vegetable was permeated by the butter sauce. The oysters on the broiler rack were curling in their blisters of bliny bacon. Mammy took the platter and arranged small mounds of noodles that had been drained and seasoned with the bits of butter and paprika. In the center of each mound she placed "pigs in blankets" or as she liked to call them, "oysters in blankets." Parsley and sliced onion flanked each mound. Small hot muffins were to be served with the spinach and the baked potatoes were just right. Of course Mammy had placed their skins before cooking and now she repeated the operation and now she repeated the operation and now she repeated the operation.

Mammy called in to announce dinner. Butter went into the open flame. She slit a crisp-crust in them and loosened the meaty interior. Butter went into the open flame. CHOP SUEY.

2 lbs. fresh pork
2 cups sliced onion
2 cups sliced celery
2 cups chopped green peppers
1 cup sliced canned or fresh mushrooms
2 tablespoons Soya sauce
1 teaspoon cornstarch or
1 tablespoon rice flour
3 cups stock (made from bone in pork)

1 cup rice
From the pork, cut off every bit of fat; cut the meat in thin slices, and put in four cups cold water to cook 25 or 30 minutes.

Plenty of Rice
Fry the fat until crisp, then add onions and cook without browning for five minutes. Add celery, cook five minutes. Add wheat, cook 10 minutes. Add pepper, mushrooms, cornstarch or rice flour diluted with cold water, add stock, cover closely and cook 20 minutes. Serve on a platter surrounded with rice which has been cooked dry.

A La Chinese
The Chinese add twice as much cold water as rice, a teaspoon of salt to each cup of rice, and cook in a kettle closely covered 10 minutes or until the water has disappeared. Then place kettle where rice will steam, but not burn, for 20 minutes. It should be dry, and kernels distinct.

Soy Bean Sauce
The Shoyu or Soya sauce is the Worcestershire of China. It is made from the soy bean and gives the characteristic flavor found in Chinese food. If it cannot be purchased, use Worcestershire, one tablespoon, and a little salt. The soya sauce is saltier, and here used, no other salt is required.

AUNT ELIE'S COOKIES.

1 egg well beaten
1/2 cups sugar
2-3 cup lard and butter mixed or all butter.
2-3 cup sour milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped raisins
Flour to make stiff enough to roll

1 teaspoon soda, added to the sour milk or sifted with the flour
Roll to 1/2 inch thick, cut and bake 10 minutes.

These cookies are better if allowed to stand two or three days in a stone jar before using, and they are not crisp, but soft and quite thick. Also, all cookie dough is more easily handled if allowed to stand in a cold place for several hours after mixing.

EGG PLANT PALATABLE WHEN WELL SEASONED

We are offering two tested recipes for cooking egg plant. The first step is either to pare the egg plant, slice and cook until done. Enclosed egg plant is a casserole dish, in which egg plant, chopped green peppers, tomatoes, grated onion, grated cheese and crumbs are the ingredients. Taste determines the method. The whole may be milted and seasoned or arranged in layers with crumbs, seasonings and dots of butter between. There should be enough juice in the tomatoes to supply the liquid. The green peppers should be scalded and peeled before chopping. The casserole should be placed in a pan of water in the oven for cooking.

LEFTOVER HAM IS BASE OF MANY DISHES

Left-over ham offers opportunity for many tempting dishes both cold or hot. Ground ham mixed with hard cooked eggs and olives makes a delicious salad. Ground ham with cold mashed potatoes, well seasoned, is unsurpassed for croquettes. Ham assumes the responsibility of being the substantial dish of the meal when made into a sort of loaf. Mix ground ham, mashed potatoes, cooked corn or peas and stale bread, crumbs with thick cream sauce. Season with chopped parsley, prepared mustard and paprika. Mold into a loaf pan that has been thoroughly greased, and place this pan, in a large one holding water. Serve with tomato or cream sauce rich with grated cheese. Cooked rice may be used instead of potatoes. The corn or peas may be omitted. The plan should be to use left-overs that are good with ham.

8000 CUBIC YARDS OF SPILLWAY OUT AT DIVERSION DAM

NO SERIOUS SETBACK TO WORK, ACCORDING TO OFFICIALS.

INCOMPLETE STRUCTURE HOLDS FOR SEVEN HOURS

Embankment itself Very Slightly Damaged; Storage Lake Up Nearly Ten Feet.

The Wichita river struck back bravely and vigorously, at those who sought to restrain it and left an 80-foot scar where the blow landed.

Construction company and irrigation district officials who returned to the city late Thursday from the diversion dam brought the first definite reports of the spillway damage occasioned by the rains earlier in the week; while these reports indicate the damage to have been greater than at first reported, no one feels that any serious setback has occurred.

From 8:00 to 10:00 cubic yards of earth in the temporary spillway was taken out by the rise. The incomplete structure withstood the water's attack for seven hours, then buckled and broke; the released flood milled through the opening with a rush and swept the 70-foot spillway opening clean and bare.

Embankment Not Hurt The embankment itself, built up to a height of 35 to 40 feet on each side of the spillway, was damaged very slightly.

The spillway was a temporary affair, consisting of a 70-foot opening in the embankment at the north bank of the stream; it was designed to carry off overflow waters until the permanent spillway, at the south end of the dam, was completed. Wooden piling had been driven deep into the bed of the stream and the work of constructing a floor and wall of boards was under way when the river struck. A few days more would have seen the work finished.

Whether the spillway, had it been finished, could have withstood the flood is a question on which officials do not agree. Those who believe that it could point to the fact that the unfinished structure held for seven hours against a flood estimated at 250 to 300 second feet.

The contractors now have quite a problem on their hands to repair the damage. The washed-out section is so situated that it cannot be reached by teams, and some sort of equipment to convey earth and rock to it must be rigged up in the meantime, since the weather for the next few weeks.

The level of water in the storage lake was raised about 10 feet by the rains and was still rising very slowly Friday.

NO OFFICIAL ACTION IN CONNECTION WITH THREATENING LETTER

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 2.—No official action will be taken by Attorney General A. V. Cooze in connection with the receipt recently of a threatening letter by Robert L. Dade, mayor of New Orleans, La., concerning a warning that he "leave within 10 days or become a corpse." It was learned today that the communication, dated January 25 and signed "Law Abiding," was mailed from Hot Springs, Ark.

Mr. Cooze said the identity of the writer was unknown to him and that his department could take no action unless an attempt was made to put the threat into execution.

When the new Orleans grand jury convened at Hot Springs on March 1 to investigate hooded band activities in that parish, the state will be ready to present the case, the attorney general said.

Man Arrested for Reckless Driving Truck With Nitro

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 2.—Charged with intoxication and reckless driving of a truck loaded with 50 quarts of nitroglycerin, with which he started to the Butler county oil fields yesterday, T. M. McChargus, was held in jail here today.

The truck was upset opposite the Empire refinery at the north city limits and the cans containing the explosives were scattered all over the road. It is estimated there was enough of the explosives to have destroyed the city.

REV. GRANT WILL NOT BE TRIED FOR HERESY

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The Rev. Dr. Percy Slickner Grant, rector of the Protestant Episcopal church of the Ascension, has escaped trial for heresy for his public utterances which were interpreted as implying doubt as to the deity of Christ.

Bishop William T. Manning, who had demanded that Dr. Grant either recant or resign, says in a letter to the rector, published today, that his statements are too vague and ambiguous and that a heresy court requires clear and convincing proof of diabolical.

Russian Actress To Leave Screen Wants Applause

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 2.—Alla Nazimova, Russian actress who quit the stage for the screen, plans to leave the screen for the stage. She craves applause, "Applause," she said, "is the actor's greatest reward. It took me months to realize just what vital element was lacking. I have collapsed after tense emotional scenes and always felt tremendous disappointment. I missed the applause."

FORECASTS EXPENDITURE OF TWO MILLION DOLLARS FOR AUTOS THIS YEAR

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Expenditure of $2,000,000,000 for automobiles in 1935 by the American public was predicted today by leaders in the automotive industry here attending the national automobile show. They said their estimate was based on a survey of the replacement market and general financial conditions.

ANOTHER NIGHT OF RAIN BRINGS HALF INCH IN DISTRICT

The north wind brought back the rain clouds Thursday night which had passed over going in that direction a few days ago and showers fell at intervals throughout the night. A total of a half inch of rainfall was recorded in this city and at other points in the district touched by rainroads the amount was greater.

Friday morning the clouds were breaking away and agents north of Altus reported, clear skies. The temperature during the night fell down as low as 24 degrees at Woodward, but locally it fell only to the 42 degree mark.

Thursday afternoon the thermometer suffered quite a fall when the north wind brought with it a fringe of frost. Early Thursday night a fine mist fell which for awhile looked as though it would turn into snow. At 11 o'clock however a heavy shower fell and a half dozen more were reported before morning.

LITTLE DAMAGE IS DONE CALIFORNIA FRUIT CROP

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 2.—The cold snap which has visited southern California the last few days was becoming a little less cold, according to available reports today, and indications were that little damage had been done to fruit or other crops.

While citrus growers in general took the precautions of keeping the smudge pots burning in their orchards, the Southern California Growers' association issued a statement that no serious damage had been done by the drop in temperature.

Young orchards. Little damage has occurred in the older orchards.

"Ripening oranges and lemons have suffered practically no damage by the cold snap," the report of the exchange stated. "Lemon blossoms, however, have been damaged in a few sections, especially in
