NEGRO CONFESSES TO MURDER OF PEOPLE IN THAT CITY AND ATTEMPT TO KILL THREE MORE WACO, TEXAS, Feb. 9 .- The police department and the local

militia are being mobilized to defend the jail here in the event of attack in the effort to get Roy Mitchell, the negro charged with several 200 ARE EXPECTED murders. Rumors of the forming of a mob have reached the authorities. Mayor Ben C. Richards in a talk to the police force assembled for emergency service at the Jail, told them that if there was one who did not feel it was his duty to serve in the emergency he could leave the FRIDAY GIVEN OVER TO REGIS meeting and go back on his beat and it would not affect his job. "I have called you together to find out how many of you are willing to go to the jail with me tonight and stop any mob that may attack the jail. I want those of you who are willing to go and to obey orders to be ready to shoot if it becomes necessary and shoot to kill. All who AT SATURDAY SESSION are willing to do that stand up." Every policeman sprang to his feet and saluted.

"That's the way I like to see you respond. Now we'll be there and for once if a mob appears, it will be given a reception that will wipefrom the city the stain of past experience."

Details to protect the jail were arranged to enter the jail just before night and remain until morning. Meantime a signal has been not known early Friday afternoon, agreed upon for mobilization on short notice in the event a mob appears it is thought that fully 200 girls before night.

FIND BODY IN SHALLOW GRAVE NEAR TULSA, OKLA.

Persons Acquainted With Noted Gunman and Bandit Are to Be Questioned.

TULSA, OKLA., Feb. 9 .- Delving into the criminal history of Frank Holloway, notorious in the southwest as gun man and bandit, Tulsa county officers today hoped to uncover evidence that would connect members of his gang with his assassination.

Holloway, old in crime, paid the penalty of the underworld for double crossing, if the theory of officers is correct.

Securely bound and gagged, he was "bumped off" and his body thrown into a shallow grave in the brush on a lonely hill near Red Fork, a village south of here. The body was found two days ago. Two bullets had been fired into the top of his head.

Officers working on the case strongly believe that Holloway was put out of the way because some of his associates thought they had been double crossed or feared that he intended to expose them to gain immunity for himself.

Several persons who knew Hollo-way will be questioned during the day, County Attorney Goldesberry

Officers hope that some of Holloway's underworld friends may offer information that will lead to the apprehension of the slayers. At the time of his death Holto-way was under indictment for alleged participation in a train rob-bery near Denison two years ago and at Texarkana some time later

TULBA, OKLA., Feb. 9 .- Frank Holloway, ex-convict and known ut the southwest as a bank and train robber, whose body was found in a shallow grave near here late Wednesday, was slain by mem-bers of his own powerful gang who traced him here in the belief that he had double crossed them and was about to expose them to secure on a 13-year-old girl in a jury ver-immunity for himself from pending dict last night. ments had been confirmed by two attorneys who had been employed by the dead man at various times. Hollowsy was said by officials here to have been the brains of an erganization composed of the "fast-est ateppers and most daring gun-men" of the west. This gang is reported to have operated between Mobile, Ala., and Los Angeles with Tulsa and Dallas as headquarters at various times; On November 10, 1922, Holloway was arrested here charged with train robberies at Bells and Denison, Texas, and after a desperate fight against extradition, was sent to Dallas. At Chrisman, convicted here and sentenced to prison for the robbery of a bank at Sperry, was arrested on charges similar to those against Holloway. Poth men since had been held under bond at Dallas for trial.

Daring Bond Robbery.

The story of Holioway's activities which led to his death, as told by local authorities, had its inception in New York City 'two years ago when more than $500,000 in Liberty bonds were taken in a daying robbery. The bonds later turned up in Tulsa, so the story goes, in the hands of Holloway and his band. Their efforts to dispose of the lost in said to involve men high the business and social life of Tulsa. Holloway's manipulations with the bends are said by those who related the history of his brief career to have led the members of his gang to believe he had double grossed them.

The gruesomely convincing evidence of the penalty assessed by his comrades for that offense was rerealed late yesterday in the hidden grave in the shadow of notorious Pistol Hill where lay Holloway's dead body. He had been shot twice through the head.

The course of the bullet down-ward through his body drew a vivid picture in the minds of officers that Holloway had been killed while on his knees appealing to the slayers to spare his life. No arrests have

Newest Frocks to Have Many Ruffles

GATHERING A valentine party should feature, literally, the world's most popular game—the game of hearts.

VALENTINE

On one wall arrange a sheet or large piece of white cardboard. On it make a target of red and white hearts, graduated in size and alternating in color until the center one is very small.

Number the different hearts, say 10, 20, 20, 40 and 100, the latter number being the one for the center heart—the 10 for the outside.

Give every guest a bow and arrow and let each one have the same number of chances.

The highest score takes the prise.

Beware Stray Shets.

This is great fun, played by blindfolded markamen, but the other guests should be careful to keep entirely responsible for his aim.

Cupid's Well is a good stunt;

In a darkened corner have erected a mound, to earry the idea of a well, presided over by the Queen of Hearts.

This game is sometimes productive of artistic results. Give each guest a smail portion of paper lace, red carboard and crayons and any other material that may occur to you as useful in making valentines. Allow a certain time for the making of these trifles, and award a prize to the most beautiful and the least'so. Some guests prefer making comics.

least so. Some guests prefer making comics.

Prizes should always be in the spirit of the occasion—a heart-shaped box filled with candy or nuts, or any of the numerous favers to be found at the favor counters. The main point to remember is to provide a number of stunts, and not to prolong any one past the point of interest.

Let the guests get into the spirit of the occasion, and often they will prefer making their own entertainment to following any set program.

"GOOD READING."

Only 6863 new books were published last year in America. You wonder why the "only." It seems a lot. But in 1921 the total was 10.310.

Figures along this line mean much to any one trying to watch the activity of the American brain in its alternating cycles of stimulation and decay. A falling-off of a third in the number of new ks published, however, doesn't necessarily reveal the amount of reading being done by the public. For instance, 100 new books selling an average of 1,000 pies each, or a total of 100,000 copies, do not mean nuch as one good book selling 150,000 copies. The public unquestionably read more books last ar than the year before. That might not show up the total number of volumes sold, for at least five times as many people borrow books as buy new The drop in the number of new books issued last year does mean that publishers are selecting manu scripts more carefully before putting their money and sales organizations back of them. Fewer new works of fiction are being published than in 1892. The movies explain that. They supply n without the bother of wading through type On the average, one hour of movies provides more genuine diversion, entertainment and relaxation than 10 hours of printed fiction.

The poets and dramatists seem to be getting a larger audience. Last year 680 new works of verse and drama were published, compared with 259 in Geography and travel, in the matter of new books, has shown very little change in the last 20 years. Biography has fallen off a third; we get our great men in the daily news.

The world war has made many of us interested in original causes. Which probably explains why 518 different works of history were published last year, compared with 165 in 1892.

When you observe that 17,173 new books were published in our country during the last two years, you realize how few books out of the total the aver age person has time to read. To wade through all of them, you would have to read nearly 24 volumes

Considering that very few of the total are really. worth reading, it's all for the best that readers are pressed for time. The trouble is that, in the labyrinth of new books, a reader is rather dazed about which few to peruse. Newspaper editors sense this, and the old-time book review department is returning to

AN ARGUMENT FOR LIFE INSURANCE.

Charlie Coe, who was burned to death in an effort to save the life of the infant Hahn in a burning building at Burkburnett several days ago, carried life insurance that will provide at least for the temporary needs of his family. His widow has requested that funds subscribed for the family be given to the family of Dave Hahn, who, besides the death of the infant burned to death with Coe, lost practically all their belongings.

The death of Coe is a very strong argument in favor of life insurance. Even though his family may be possessed of other property the death of its head and breadwinner might easily have brought financial smbarrassments which his life insurance, immediate ly payable, have avoid,

Every man, with dependents, who can possibly make the payments and who is eligible, ought to take out life insurance, and this ought to be done as Mr. Coe did when a man is young and while his earning power is unimpaired. Then when the call comes to heroic action as it did to Charlie Coe or ident. when death comes in its natural course, one's dependents will not be objects of public charity.

BE A SIDE LINE OBSERVER. For information I would go to the one who talks

I would trust the observer—the one who used his eyes. Words too often smother ideas and make im-

The side-line observer is always a storer of knowledge. To forget all about the mere making of money to dismiss every worry of the mind, and just to center one's thought on the things around one, for the pure pleasure of observing and reflecting what could bring greater relaxation and renewal of spirit?

And of all the advantages of being a side-line ob-server one of the greatest is that you can form your own opinions—and keep them to yourself, as well. You can dream dreams, too, paint masterpieces in your imagination, and be a great leader of your

JUST FOLKS

THE RAINBOW.

The rain has ceadsed. Across the sky An arch of beauty caught the eye: An arch of falling pearls was strung On which were perfect colors flung, An arch of triumph, glowing warm, Marking the passing of the storm.

Still from the distant hills there came The thunder's echo and the flame Of lightning. But to use the sun Signaled the news "the storm is done." And on the clouds which traveled low We saw the spectrum paint his bow.

Who sought the rainbow, turned his back Upon the sun's majestic track, Faced what had been, which came with freight And saw it radiant with light; Upon the clouds which we had feared An arch of triumph then appeared.

Not where the sun breaks through we see The rainbow's arch of victory, But far across the stretch of sky Where still the clouds of tempest lie This bit of splendor breaks at last Out of the danger that has passed.

So when the bitter hours have fled When we have done with doubt and dread, When once again our sun appears, If we will look through falling tears Back at the griefs we leave behind, Their glorious purpose we shall find.

GAMES IN PROSPECT FOR SATURDAY NIGHT

Local basket ball followers will s allowed the privilege of seeing three of the district contenders in action Saturday night, even if they are not allowed the opportunity of witnessing the district tournament at Archer City Monday and Tuesday.
Coyotes vs. Petrolis, champions of Clay county, and Iowa Park, victors in Wichita county matches last week, vs. the Junior college, will be the lineup for the evening battles at the American Legion hall Saturday night. Action will begin at exactly 5 p. m.

The Coyotes were in readiness to contend in the district when it was postponed until next week. How-ever, the contest Saturday night will only provide a bit more experience for the Red and Black quintet. One look at the high school crew would convince anyone that the in-stitution possesses a great team. Under the guidance of Coach Jones the boys have been working regu-larly, and although having met with one or two defeats, been victorious one or two defeats, been victorious in the majority of the games played. Players and students alike are confident that the Coyotes will cop the district title which will give them the right to go to state this year, but everyone is of the opinion that there will be some strenuous tustles at Archer City Monday and Tuesday.

Every year in the majors produces one or more bonehead plays that stand out as the classic of their particular line. To Pitcher Hodge of Chicago and Second Baseman Ward of New York goes the discredit of figuring in two of the funniest plays of the year in which solid ivory played an important feature.

In a game at Detroit, Hodge was doing the pitching for Chicago and was enjoying a slight lead when he got himself into a jam by a feelish bit of by-play.

Of late years there has been much complaint by the players over rough balls in play. The concrete grand-stands are responsible for such a condition, as usually when a ball hits the rough surface it is rendered unfit for play.

In the game at Detroit, with a runner on second and the score very close, Hodge decided the ball in his close, Hodge decided the ball in his possession was unfit to be pitched. Instead of getting the umpire's o. k., Hodge simply threw the ball into the Detroit dugout.

The umpires were more surprised than anyone in the park over Hodge's act. There was nothing for them to do but score the runner from second, as the runner than the park over the manner of the park over the runner of the runner o from second, as the rules give the right to advance two bases on a ball thrown into the dugout.

The play was given much publicity, yet a few weeks later Ward of New York turned the same trick with a runner on first and the Yankees leading by only one run. A rough ball that didn't suit him

COTTON MARKET

New York. Feb. 2.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of five points to a decline of two points and held fairly steady during the early trading owing to steady late cables from Liverpool of a better tone in foreign exchange rates and diminishing nervousness over the near eastern situation. The weather map was considered favorable, however, as it showed showers in the southwest with higher temperatures following the recent cold shap, and while celling of new crop months was restricted by the discounts, there was considerable pressure against July. This caused rather irregular fluctuations during the early trading but after selling off to 27.96 for May and 27.30 for July, prices steadied up on covering and trade buying.

Offerings increased on the early weak and unsettled. May contracts broke to 27.78, or 24 Points and July sold off to 27.25 or 12 points below yesterday's close, but the selling tapered off at these sigures and when some of the early sellers attempted to cover the found comparylive few contracts of fered. GRAIN AND PRODUCE

CRIMAGO, Peb. 3.—Notwithstanding some hesitancy at the outset wheat took a general upward swing today during early dealings. The principal strength was in May delivery, in which eastern interests were said to have large concentrated holdings. Selling at the start appeared to be of a local speculative character, and with the offerings readily absorbed by houses with eastern connections, the market soon advanced. The opening, which warled from unchanged to be lower. May $1.23! to 1 and July $1.13! to 1, was followed by a rise to well above yesterday's finish all apound. Announcement that Turkfy Terfused to revoke her ultimatum against allied warships at Smyrns led to general purchasing and to a material advance in prices but later reports that an agreement had been reached averting hostilities was responsibile for a reaction in which a good deal of the gain in values disappaared. # TILLMAN COUNTRY

Tillman county, Oklahoma, will make a strong effort to repeat this year the victory it won with its county exhibit at the Texas-Okla-homa fair last year; farmers and others at Frederick so informed County Agent Guy R. Jones and Hubert M. Harrison Thursday when these Wichitans attended the Tillerick. Snow and adverse weather cut show, but some splendid specimens of Hereford cattle and Poland China hogs, on which Tillman county farmers are concentrating, were shown.

Altus and Jackson county expect to vigorously dispute the Frederick claim to Texas-Oklahoma fair hon-ors, Mr. Harrison reported; he was told that both counties will be well
