WACO NEGRO ASKS FOR TEXAS RANGERS; ATTORNEYS NAMED

WACO, TEXAS, March 5.—District Judge H. I. Munroe of the district court today noted a plea of not guilty opposite the charges against Roy Mitchell, negro, who he was arraigned this morning on charges of having murdered Mrs. Ethel Dancamp and W. E. Holt, two of Waco's murder mysteries, and to which Mitchell has made a written confession, along with three other murders. Mitchell refused to plead.

The court interrogated Mitchell as to whether he had a lawyer, and the negro replied that he felt sure he would have one—that the colored people and his white friends were helping him. Mitchell told the court that he understood it had been raised, but that the lawyers he and his friends had in mind wanted $1,000.

The court asked Mitchell who he would rather have represent him, but to this question no definite reply was given.

The court then over Judge Munroe appointed Russell H. Kingsbury, former city recorder; A. C. Price and Claude Miller to represent Mitchell.

Two cases are set for March 15.

As Sheriff Stegal was about to lead the negro from the court room the latter suddenly halted and asked the court:

"Why can't I be protected by having Texas Rangers here to see that I get to the state prison?"

"We'll cross that bridge when we get to it," Judge Munroe replied.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

MRS. PAULETTE SALADES

NEW YORK, March 5.—The jury exonerated by the court to try Mrs. Paulette Salades for the murder of Oscar Martelliere, a broker, with a head instead of a heart, last night returned a verdict of second degree murder, carrying a sentence of 20 years to life.

As she was being led back to the Tombs from the court, Mrs. Salades, who several times after she shot and killed the broker in his office last October, attempted suicide, took from her glove a small box believed to have contained poison and swallowed the contents.

The Tombs physician, after examining Mrs. Salades, said he believed she had swallowed a brass polish containing poison, although the content of the box looked like rouge. Urinating and apparently in great pain, the woman was carried out to the Tombs.

After physicians had applied a stomach pump and pronounced Mrs. Salades out of danger, she made another attempt at suicide by dashing her head against the stone walls of her cell in the Tombs.

WATCH MRS. SALADES TO PREVENT SUICIDE

NEW YORK, March 5.—Attendants at the Tombs were watching Mrs. Salades today to prevent her from attempting to commit suicide.

Mrs. Salades, who killed the insurance broker in his office October 18, was in a serious condition today from swallowing poison. Three times after the jury foreman had spoken yesterday she renewed her attempts to take her own life. Since Martelliere's death she has failed at suicide seven times.

Unless her attorney, James A. Turley, succeeds in having the conviction set aside or wins an appeal for a new trial and obtains a stay of sentence, Mrs. Salades will know her fate next Wednesday.

DALLAS COUNTY TO HAVE A NEW COURT NO VETO IS FILED

AUSTIN, March 5.—A new district court for Dallas county was made certain today when Governor Neff filed with the secretary of state without his signature, the bill creating one new and one temporary court in that county. The measure will become a law without the governor's signature. This is the first measure creating a new district court which has not been vetoed by the governor. A former bill seeking to give Dallas county two new courts was vetoed.

RECEIVERS APPOINTED FOR STEEL ENTERPRISES

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 5.—Receivers were appointed in federal court here today for the L. H. Steel enterprises, in which the public has invested about $22,000,000.

Steel, the promoter, covered his book with the companies, of which there were twenty, a receiver of the companies, to be appointed by the court, and since then the direction of the Steel enterprises has been in the hands of a board of control.

The receiver was appointed to administer the assets of the various corporations. The petition to the National Bankruptcy court at Buffalo, N. Y., was filed by the Steel Enterprises Company of Monticello, Wis.

Judge John R. Hazel named as receivers William W. Kelly, Buffalo lumber merchant; David M. Lewis, New York lawyer, and Charles Bennett Smith of Buffalo, former congressman.

The Parent Steel Company was organized in 1919 by Leonard R. Steel, who for several years had been identified with chain saws. It later became as L. H. Steel, Inc., and as the business grew subsidiaries were formed to sell stock to administer the real estate controlled by the various enterprises and for many other purposes.

Elaborate offices were opened in the city of Buffalo, N. Y., and in the United States and Canada and a large selling force was engaged to dispose of stock. Fifty thousand shares, it is stated, were sold at $100 a share. The first sign of distress came on January 27 when it was announced that Leonard R. Steel had resigned the presidency of the L. H. Steel, Inc., the L. H. Steel Service Corporation and the L. H. Steel Realty Development Company, and had placed his stock holdings in them and other subsidiaries in the hands of an executive board.

Steel, it was estimated, left his enterprises without a dollar except what was represented in his stock security holdings. His city home previously had been sold and a beautiful country residence where he now lives was in his wife's name. Mr. Steel's health was shattered by his three years devotion to the business, it was stated.

M. L. TITTLE PAID HIS EXCESS FEES LONG AGO

M. L. Tittle, formerly tax collector of the county, stated Thursday morning that he had paid all excess fees due the county in January of each year. For 1925 he paid back $4,341.65; for 1921, $5,465.95, and for 1922, $6,141.15. His payments were all made in the January of the following year. The impression has been received by a number of people that some of the county officials have made reports and paid back excess fees. There are some who have not paid back the fees, but there are many who have done so.

Charged Students Paying for Tuition With Blood Money

BALTIMORE, Md., March 5.—Students at the Johns Hopkins Medical School are paying for their tuition with blood money, literally and without invitation, investigation. They are selling their blood for transfusion purposes at $50 a transfusion.

It is an easy way to make money, according to Dr. John S. Rock, professor of medicine. All the student has to do is to lie down, sacrifice a little blood, and then collect the $50. But the danger is the student, from the student's standpoint, is that all are not eligible to be bled. The subject must be perfectly healthy. Then, the blood must measure up to a certain standard. A man loaded with fat for transfusion purposes must be more than a movie hero.

HUSTON WILL RESIGN TO ACCEPT PRESIDENCY OF NEW OIL COMPANY

WASHINGTON, March 5.—O. H. Huston, oil company executive, secretary of commerce, is expected to resign in the near future to accept the presidency of the new oil company, the World Commerce Corporation, a new company now being organized in New York and Pittsburgh for the purpose of acquiring control of oil lands in Venezuela and Central America and establishing a shipping service to market the product.

Last year Mr. Garrett had a beautiful garden of flowers throughout the summer and he stated Thursday that he intended having more pretty beds this year.

EXPECT INDICTMENT OF TWO FOR MURDER OF DEPUTY SHERIFFS

FRANKLIN, La., March 5.—At least two men were expected to be indicted when an extraordinary session of the Washington parish grand jury convened here today for investigation of the slaying of Wesley Crain and Willie Pierce, deputy sheriffs, who were shot and killed last Saturday by alleged moonshiners in the swamps of Bayou Cheek, eight miles east of here.

The bodies of the two men were found yesterday buried in a shallow grave near a still they had destroyed by fire before attempting the arrest of the men.

John Murphy and Gideon Restor, 25, 34-year-old negroes, in connection with the murder, were accused by the authorities as the slayers.

They revealed the hidden graves of the two officers in a confession, according to District Judge Prestige B. Carter.

Murphy is said to have declared in his confession that he killed both deputies.

In addition to Murphy and Restor those held for further investigation are Kelly Restor, Pete Little, Jeffery Smith, John McGurk, M. P. Little, Young Williams, E. J. Williams, Dumaria Restor, Zep Little, Frank Carter, Julian Williams and Pete Jones, all of them residents of the section where the still was located.

'FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH' IS FOUND BY SCIENCE

European Discovery, Easily Used at Home, Restores Vigor Quicker Than Glaxo Operations.

Those who suffer from nerve weakness and lack of vigor will be interested in a European discovery which restores full physical power quicker than gland operations. It is a simple home treatment in tablet form, absolutely harmless and yet the most powerful invigorator known. Acting directly on important nerve centers, glands and blood vessels, it often produces amazing results in 24 to 36 hours and gratifying results within a week. Physicians say it gives speedy satisfaction in cases that defy all other treatment. Elderly people declare it is a real "fountain of youth."

Distributed under the trade name of "Korex compound" the discovery has been made by the National Laboratories, 144 Madison Avenue, New York City, and the manufacturers have received a veritable flood of letters of praise and gratitude from revitalized men and women in every state. Patients past 60 testify that the compound quickly restores to them the " vigor of the prime of life."

Knowing that this news may seem too good to be true, the distributors invite any person needing the compound to take a double-strength treatment, sufficient for ordinary cases, with the understanding that it costs nothing if it fails. If you wish to try this guaranteed invigorator, write in strict confidence to the National Laboratories, 144 Madison Avenue, New York City, Mo. You may enclose $1 or simply send your name, without money, and pay the postman $2 and postage on delivery. In either case, if you report "no results" after one week, the laboratories will immediately refund your money. This offer is guaranteed by ample bank deposits, so nobody need hesitate to accept it.

To Be Benefit for Alamo Mother

Besides delighting the souls of the hundreds of children who will see him in "Oliver Twist" at the Strand Saturday morning, "Jackie Coogan" will be adding shekels to the Alamo Mothers treasury for school improvement work, according to an announcement from the Alamo Council Thursday.

At the National Theatre matinee presents Oliver Twist's childhood nobody would fry.

The supporting cast in "Oliver Twist" is exceptionally good. The old red-coat illustrated edition characterization of Bill Sikes, especially those who were fortunate enough to have read the story in the old red-coat illustrated edition of Dickens, where Bill is pictured in all his dreariness, is will be an Alamo Council benefit, and every school child in the city will be admitted to the theater for 10 cents, including all of the Junior High as well as the ward school children. This will take in many children over 12 years of age—the usual age-limit for children's rates.

Our friends sincerely and truthfully are seated on the screen. Fagin, Nancy, the orphan, and the sea-robber, the grandest of the sea-robber undertaker—all of the characters who people the Dickens story—are there in the spirit and the flesh.

Of those arrested, charges of vagrancy and gambling were placed against 15 of them, while Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Taylor were held on charges of possession and possession for the purpose of sale. Both were released later after perfecting bonds of $100 each.

Chief of Police J. W. McCormick, who was in charge of the raiding squad, stated that the surprise raid had been under consideration for the past two weeks and after assembling all the available officers Wednesday afternoon, prepared to carry out the plan.

Chief McCormick and the sheriff entered the hotel first and placed Mrs. Taylor under arrest. She was taken to the court house by the sheriff. McCormick and nine officers then began a systematic search of the entire building.

Not a single room escaped a search from the basement to the attic. After the raid was over, officers stated that whiskey was found in a large number of the rooms, but that the bottling machine, labels, corks, empty bottles and a large amount of whiskey were all found in one room.

A poker game was also taken by the officers in another room in the hotel. The men and women who were found in the hotel were turned over to city authorities and booked at the city hall.

According to officials who took part in the raid, the still that was confiscated last Sunday afternoon by Constable Frank Morgan and his deputies was located on a farm owned by Mrs. Roy Taylor. With other information had, the officers began laying their plans for the raid.

A short time after the raid had begun, a crowd of over a hundred people assembled from the hotel and watched the progress of the officers. When a truck was backed up near the hotel and the confiscated property loaded, fully 250 people had gathered.

Flames erupted forth from the third floor, front, producing a crackling heat, and soon the Sanger building was ablaze. The flames shot well-nigh across the street and then turned upward, driven by the stream of water, maneuvered by nine fire fighting companies.

The roof of the drug company, next door, and on the corner of the central downtown location, yielded quickly to the hungry flames. By this time a throng had gathered and a thrill came when a report went around that quantities of chemicals that might explode were stored in the drug company's building.

There were high explosives in the building, however, E. Weiss, president, declared today. The building contained barrels of oil, glycerin (medical) and some chemicals, he said.

The crowds back of the ropes soon saw an end to the blaze which subsided almost as abruptly as it had sprung up and spread.

MERGER OF ROADS DEPENDS ON I. G. N. ACTION ON STRIKE

AUGUST, March 8.—No attempt to pass St. Louis-San Francisco railroad consolidation bill will be made until officials of the International-Great Northern, one of the merger lines, have answered requests on the part of a group of legislators to settle the railroad strike on that line, members of the house stated today.

A movement to block passage of the merger bill unless railroad officials agreed to carry out an alleged oral agreement with union strikers was launched yesterday. Representative Eastburn of San Antonio, announced. Meanwhile, the senate committee on state affairs is attempting an agreement on the Palestine provision of the bill. The latest addition to the senate bill is a provision which would exempt the consolidated lines from moving general headquarters to Palestine. Action on the bill in the house is expected tomorrow.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness. 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes.

Do You Pay Your Bills?

One makes a purchase at a retail store and says, "Charge it," he is not asked the pointed question, "When do you intend to pay," but if the user has heretofore paid his accounts promptly the account is opened. It should be paid the first of the following month, and in no later than the tenth.

You Know Your Credit Standing; So Does Every Merchant

There is a very much difference between the fellow who takes something that does not belong to him and the man who buys merchandise on credit and does not pay for it? There may be times when one cannot meet all obligations at the appointed time, but there is never a time when no effort should not be made to settle up or make satisfactory explanations.

A Deadbeat Is a Menace to Any Community

He who buys beyond his ability to pay is closely akin to the one who does not intend to pay.

CREDIT IS A CAPITAL; DON'T OVERDRAW YOUR ACCOUNT

Would You Like to Have Your Name Discussed?

Several times every month, the credit managers from the various stores, meet and discuss their past due accounts. Every person whose account is not paid as agreed or by the TENTH of the month following date of purchase, may feel assured that his or her name will be discussed at these meetings. Names are presented regardless of their financial standing or position in the community. This is no more than a clearing house. The list of all accounts around town due by the same person is assembled at these meetings.

Do You Keep Books With Your Bank Account?

A daily bulletin is published giving names of people giving "Insufficient funds" and no account checks," together with name of bank drawn on and the amount obtained. Your merchant wishes to be accommodating but he does not wish to advance cash or merchandise for a Bogus Check.

If you owe accounts long past due, then you know your credit standing is not good. If you will call on the manager of this Association he will lend whatever assistance possible toward paying up in order to get a new start and enjoy a good credit.

If You Can't Pay What You Owe Don't Ask for Additional Credit

The Retail Merchants' Association in the city is composed of members from every line of retail business—all the banks, manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers and doctors, lawyers and other professional men.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY
 This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of which I am chief.— 1 Tim. 1:15
 We are all sinners; therefore whatever we blame in another we shall find in our own bosoms.—Seneca.

THE REASON FOR PROHIBITION
 If the prohibition laws were designed to trespass upon personal rights, infringe upon personal liberty or were attempts to make men good by statute, and there are doubtless prohibitionists who want to do all these things, we would be against them. But prohibition has come about for a better reason and that is the protection of society. Prohibition hasn't been brought about by a desire to reform drunkards, for that can hardly be done by prohibitory laws, but it has come about through the desire and necessity of society protecting itself against all the evils of alcohol.

And our present prohibition laws have not been a sudden development. They have been the growth of nearly a century's effort to handle the problem and have come out of trial and experience.

The truth of the whole question," says the Houston Chronicle, "can be phrased in no very great number of words.

The 18th amendment and the Volstead law are the result of the exercise by the people for their defense and protection of that most elastic and far-reaching power, known as the "police power," which is inherent in every government and which is reserved to be exercised when the preservation and promotion of the public health or public morals or the general welfare makes such action necessary.

"The people reached the conclusion that the time had come for the exercise of that power and they acted, and that is all there is to it.

"Every enemy of the Volstead law knows, or ought to know that no man ever had any vested or inherent right either to make or sell intoxicating liquor. The courts have so repeatedly held.

"When any man says the prohibition law makes criminals he phrases an absurdly ridiculous statement.

"No law demanded by the public welfare ever made a criminal. Such a law always finds ready at hand the man with whose activities it interferes, and who is therefore ready to violate it.

"The truth is that the cause of the crusade against the prohibition law lies far behind that law and behind the eighteenth amendment. We must go back 300 years to get at the real cause. For that length of time this nation legalized the manufacture and sale of liquor. It became a partner in the business by receiving billions of money for the privilege extended thousands of people to operate distilleries and rum saloons.

"All men knew that the policy bred drunkenness and poverty and crime and suffering as the sun breeds maggots in a carcass. Yet the partnership continued, and whenever it was proposed to dissolve it millions of people rose in vehement protest, and for a century prevented its abolition.

"The liquor habit was fastened on millions of people. Their entire systems were saturated with liquor. Criminals of all grades made the saloons headquarters and many who were not criminals were habituated to liquor, and when they are cut off from their lawful source of supply they are ready to violate the law.

"Behind the illicit still and the moonshiner and the bootlegger and the liquor smuggler is the inquiry of other days, the legalization of the liquor traffic.
 We are reaping the harvest from seed of our own sowing. This nation held the intoxicating cup to the lips of our forefathers, and the inquiry is being visited upon their children."

HELPING EAST TEXAS OUT.
 Wichita Falls motorists will contribute $270 daily to the state highway funds and $90 to the school fund, if the gasoline tax bill passed by both houses at Austin becomes a law. The bill provides for a tax of one cent a gallon. Wichita county has 12,000 motor vehicles and it is estimated that they use an average of three gallons daily—36,000 gallons, or $360 per day tax, of which the highway and school funds get three-fourths and one-fourth, respectively.

Wichita county motor vehicle owners would not object to paying nearly $100,000 annually to the good roads fund, if there were any promise that any of the money would be spent in this county. That amount would construct over three miles of concrete road. Nor would there be any kick over paying an additional $33,000 into the state school fund if that fund could be used nearer home than in some East Texas county that has doctored its assessment roll so as to get more money back from the state than it has paid in.

One cent tax on the gallon won't break anybody; presumably, the tax falls on a class of folks that can best afford to pay it; but it does get rather tiresome contributing to state funds from which Wichita county gets so little benefit.

A GOOD SELECTION.

The classic declaration of Mirabeau B. Lamar, second president of the republic of Texas, that "untamed mind is the guardian genius of democracy;" it is the only security that freedom desires, the only dictator that freedom acknowledges," will adorn the panel of one of the art windows in the junior college and high school building.

The chief architect for the building, a St. Louisan, had suggested something from Rousseau for the inscription. When he learns of the board's action he may ask "who the devil was Mirabeau B. Lamar?" just as, in all likelihood, some member of the school board asked "who the devil was John W. Rousseau?"
 But there is nothing provincial about the utterance of Mirabeau B. Lamar. It is preeminently entitled to a place in the building. It is very much in place on any school building; it is very much in place on any Texas school building.

AN INTERESTING SPECIAL EDITION.

The Times has received a copy of the Aberdeen Washington Daily World's special "Port Edition," telling of the wonderful growth and possibilities of Gray's Harbor, the timber resources of the section.
 The edition contains 108 pages including a rotogravure section and hundreds of photographs. It is one of the most complete and best gotten up special editions that have ever reached The Times exchange desk. Simply by looking at the photographs one can get some idea of the magnitude of the lumber and fishing industries of that section and hundreds of columns of interesting reading tell the story in a comprehensive manner.

If the Chicago man who paid $20,000 for a kiss

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

BUILDERS.

May hero worship never die out in this world!
 Who else but the hero makes heroes of us? And were among all the heroes can there be found more inspiring ones than among the builders?

I would rather have been the builder of Brooklyn Bridge than to have been the greatest military

Stand upon that bridge—or perhaps on one of the newer ones that span the East River from New York City to Long Island—and think, as you keep your eyes open. Think of all that is transacted for good as the thousands upon thousands wend their way across that great structure day by day. Teeming millions united by the genius of a builder!

Several years ago I rode across the great Salt Lake in Utah. I remembered, as I did so, the remark of K. H. Harrison when they came to him and said it was impossible to build that bridge. "All right," said this builder, "go ahead and build it!"

Five years ago, I first visited Florida. I kept my eyes open as I went through that state into which the vision of Flagler had put blood and life. From sand heaps have sprung thriving cities, and fertile acres by the million are green with the fruits of that tropic clime.

But what has stirred my admiration most has been the work and vision of that modern Napoleonic builder, Carl Fisher.

A few years ago, the idea came to Fisher that across the bay from Miami should be a wonderful winter playground. At that time nothing but a swamp and tangled trees of jungle existed there. Millions of dollars were spent simply clearing that land—then as many millions more in pumping up ocean bottom and building more land. Islands sprang into life as though by a miracle.

One day the remark was made that there were too few trees on this new Miami Beach. "You're right," said Fisher, "get a half a million and have them planted!"

Folks by the thousand from all over the world visit Miami Beach each year for its marvellously mild and mellow climate. But it's well worth visiting just to see what a great builder has done.

I have never met this man, Carl Fisher—but I have seen what his vision has done.

JUST FOLKS

By Edgar A. Guest

LET HER CRY IT OUT.

"Let her cry it out," they say.
 But I wasn't built that way.
 Wasn't fashioned to remain
 Deaf to every call of pain;
 It may be I ought to sit Here indifferent to it,
 Ought to take her mother's word
 That such conduct is absurd.
 But it takes more nerve than I Own, to let a baby cry.

Six months old, and learned to know
 Up to her her Dad will go
 If she whoops it up and screams, Babies soon grow wise, it seems.
 Soon discover who of us
 Cannot stand to hear them fuss, Who'll be first to cave right in,
 Breaking all the discipline.
 Who will run to see what's wrong
 If their cry is loud and strong.

They can tell me she's been fed
 And it safely put to bed,
 They can say it's very plain
 By her cry she's not in pain;
 They can argue as they may
 That it's temper on display
 And beyond the slightest doubt
 We should let her cry it out,
 And with them I will agree,
 But I want to go and see.

I'll admit the tyke is wise
 And has found that when she cries
 One of us will surely go
 Up to her and want to know
 What the trouble's all about.
 Maybe we should fight it out
 And should force that babe to learn
 Who is boss of this concern.
 But when she begins to cry
 I've just got to find out why.

The Legitimate Tests.

Waco Times-Herald: One of its subscribers having asked the Kansas City Star-Journal the religion of a supposed presidential aspirant, that paper thus informs: "William O. McAdoo is an Episcopalian." A man's church affiliation does not determine the quality of his democracy or the quantity of his ability.
 Of course, to a certain extent a man is influenced by his church membership, but whether he be Whig or Democrat depends on several factors, some from inheritance and some by reason of environment.

Men can belong to the same church and even to the same political party and yet be in hearty disagreement.
 Grover Cleveland and William Jennings Bryan, for example. Both President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes are members of the Baptist church and therefore should be strong believers in home rule or state sovereignty, but their political affiliations would seem to negative that idea. Near the navy yard in Washington stands Christ church, and, according to one historian,
 "here many patriots of the day,
 journeying by Jefferson, Adams, Randolph—tied their horses in front of the church and, in the words of a Congregationalist, and Jefferson a Liberal, and far removed from each other in political thinking—yet they were fellow-worshippers at Christ church. John Quincy Adams and Andrew Jackson were members of the same church in Washington.
 The New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, and yet they were political enemies. Abraham Lincoln and General Grant were members of the Presbyterian church, yet circumstances put them at war with each other. The late Chief Justice was a Roman Catholic and a Democrat; the present chief justice is a Unitarian and a Republican; during an unbroken friendship through many years, and they were not far apart in their political thinking. The husband and the wife may be as loving and loving can be," and yet be separated in their church affiliations—Presidents Benjamin Harrison, Taft, Roosevelt and Wilson being conspicuous examples in this particular, their wives worshipping at other or alters than they. A man's church affiliation ought not to influence us, fellow-citizens, when we come to making choice of public servants. Is he honest? Is he capable?
 Do his principles and his policies best coincide with our own? These are the legitimate tests. If we choose a man who is not honest, who is not capable, whose principles and policies are at variance with the principles and policies of the nation, we shall find only only genuine merit should be evidence.

DOLLAR

The American dollar, worth 100 cents in the year 1913, now has a comparative purchasing power of only 61 cents in buying goods at wholesale. So figures the famous economist, Professor Irving Fisher.
 He says, "The dollar is doing that

RICHER

Nearly 24 billion dollars was the total income of the Americans who made more than $1000 a year in 1926. This just about matches the national debt. The average of all about 140 million dollars in 1913, war-room year. The figure for 1926 is rather amazing, compared with 1913, since the latter half of 1926 was a slump period.

WOMEN

Among those who paid income tax in 1926, U. S. Census reports, were 712,000 women. Their combined income for the year was nearly $200 million dollars. The average of all about 140 million dollars in 1913, war-

CLOCK

A Florida man commits suicide by the gas route. He sits leaning over the stove, inhaling the deadly fumes until his heart stops. Friends find him, his hand still clutching the watch with which he had observed his life tick away.

A terrible force is the ticking of the watch or clock, as you've observed when unable to sleep. We can escape from anything except time and death.

FALSE

There's an old saying about "starving a fever and feeding a cold." Modern laboratory research proves that the quickest way to get rid of a cold is to starve it.
 When you have a cold, eat lightly. And go to bed. A few days in bed is more effective for almost any illness than pills or other kinds of drugs. When you're on your back, the heart has an easier job than when you're on your feet and moving about. By going to bed when feeling out of sorts, we relieve the heart of part of its customary burden, enabling it to rally our energy for an attack on disease germs.

Joseph Cannon Bids Farewell To Washington

WASHINGTON, March 8.—A quiet little man with gray beard and a slouch hat flattened so as to fit into a pocket got out of an automobile at the station today, walked slowly through the crowded waiting room and boarded a train for Danville, Ill. One or two remarks, "There goes Uncle Joe," the train drew out and with scarcely a ripple, the bustle of the railway terminal went along as usual.

The incident marked the final passing from official life of Joseph Cannon, who came to Washington fifty years ago to begin his legislative career. His departure was almost as unheralded as was his arrival. He had been in the city for a few days when the Civil war was as fresh in the memories of the people as the world war is today.

SAYS WALL STREET NOT OPPOSING LAW TO PUNISH FRAUDS

NEW YORK, March 8.—Beynon L. Cronwell, president of the New York stock exchange, in an address before the Merchants Association of New York today declared the persistent stories to the effect that Wall Street, without reservation, was opposing legislation looking to the checking of fraudulent practices in dealing in securities, were untrue. Such stories, he said, had been circulated in an effort to create in the public mind a prejudice against Wall Street.

Referring to published statements attributed recently to District Attorney Anton that $2,000,000 had been lost to the public through brokers since the war, Mr. Cronwell said he wished to deny that such a statement was true. He said that the stock exchange had been strictly within the state and not subject to the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission. Therefore, the state sought to compel the road to resume operations, but the lower courts held that the state had no right to do so nor be prevented from dismantling and salvaging.

Attorney General W. A. Keeling said in the supreme court that the state had a right under the charter it had granted the company to insist that the road be dismantled. J. H. Turney, for the railroad, replied that the charter was not a contract and that the state could not compel the operation of trains.

2 SMALL BOYS ARE HELD FOR CASHING BAD CHECKS HERE

Not satisfied with four successful attempts at cashing bogus checks, which had netted them $20 and a few articles, the American boys, two small boys who gave their names as 13 years, returned to the P. B. M. store yesterday with a small party of the fifth check with the same worthless fictitious signature attached. As soon as the purchase was made and the check presented at the store, the boys were taken to the city hall and questioned closely. They told officers that the checks had been given them by a "tall lady," who had asked them to wait on the corner for the money.

Officers waited on the corner but the imaginary woman failed to make her appearance. The boys admitted cashing all four of the checks within the last week. Each time they cashed a small purchase had been made and the check presented for payment. The boys were turned over to Juvenile Officer Bradley.

Stitches Mourning Garments at Bedside of Poisoned Husband

CHICAGO, March 8.—Charges that Mrs. Tillie Klimmek, on trial for a murder conspiracy to poison husbands and relatives, sat by the bedside of her third husband, Frank Kupsnyk, and stitched her mourning garments, were made by Assistant State's Attorney William F. McLaughlin in his opening statement today.

Mrs. Klimmek also showed Kupsnyk an advertisement of an undertaking firm showing coffins for $30 and told him he did not have long to live, the prosecutor said.

BY ROY GIBBONS

NEA Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, March 8.—Dragged back to life from the very edge of the grave, Joseph Klimmek may prove the nemesis that will send his wife, Tillie, to the gallows, and, with her, her cousin, Mrs. Nellie Sturmer Koulik.

Klimmek is expected to be the state's star witness in the trial here Feb. 27 of the two women, charged by police as being the "bluebeard" poisoners of 10 persons. Both are held under indictments of first-degree murder.

The aged man who may turn their heads, is Mrs. Klimmek's fourth husband. Mrs. Koulik has had two husbands and is mother of 11 children.

Assistant State's Attorney W. F. McLaughlin says the trial jury will be asked to impose death penalties, which, if granted, will break an established precedent—for no woman ever has been executed in Illinois.

In a local hospital, Klimmek is slowly recovering from the leg. Physicians say he was paralyzed by the secret "introduction of arsenic" into his food over a prolonged period.

As days pass he nurses his hatred against the woman who he says plotted his life and vows he will make her pay.

"She made me get more insurance," he mutters. "I did not suspect, though the soup and things did taste queer. Then I got sick."

Detectives diving deep into the sinister pool swirling past the heads of the women have exhumed the bodies of 12 women whose deaths are laid at the door of the indicted pair.

In each body coroner's chemists say they found enough arsenic to kill a dozen.

What State Charges

Attorney McLaughlin promises that testimony will show that while one of Mrs. Klimmek's husbands lay dying, Mrs. Klimmek often remarked she believed he would not live long.

That a few days before the husband died, Mrs. Klimmek secured a coffin at a bargain for $10.

That after his death she played dance music on a phonograph in the room where the body lay.

Tracing Mrs. Klimmek's natal ventures, it has been found that in January, 1914, Joseph Miklewski, the woman's first husband, died.

Within a few weeks after Miklewski's death, Mrs. Klimmek married John Kupsnyk. In May he died. Within a few months also came the end of John Guskowski, a sweet heart.

Mrs. Koulik's case

Mrs. Koulik, the other woman, is specifically held on charges of having poisoned her husband, John Sturmer. Arsenic was found in his stomach, chemists say.

"Repeatable and responsible dealers in securities," he said, "have done more to give New York its great prestige than any other business and I protest against the closing of legitimate and supremely necessary business with the operations of swindlers."

Spudders Sign Hollis Austin College Star; Plays at Second Base

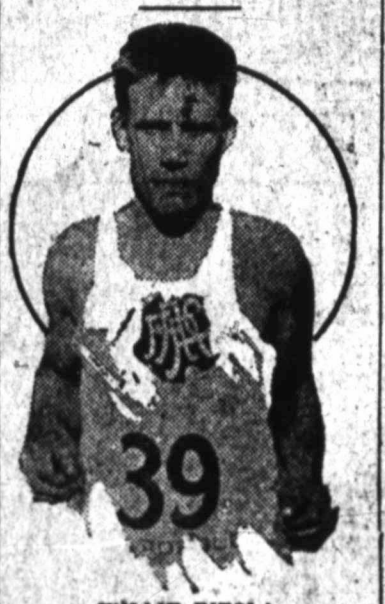

Spudders "Hollis" Hollis, Austin College football and baseball star, has signed a contract to become a Spudders. He returned the contract with him on the dotted line to the office this morning and is to arrive here either Saturday or Sunday.

Hollis has been a star at Austin College both on the football field and on the diamond for several seasons. He is considered one of the college athletes in the Texas league circles.

Hollis played at second base last year and he comes highly recommended to the Spudders. Although he is not fast enough to make a star in the Texas League this year, he has the makings of a star and is expected to make a name for himself through his college career.

Hollis played professional baseball in Oklahoma last year and he made himself invaluable to the football team during the last part of the season last year.

Flying Finn Sets New World Record For 3-Mile Run

WILLIE RITOLA

NEW YORK, March 8.—Once in a while some athlete takes a fall out of a world record. But seldom does a contestant pull the stunt of tumbling two records at the same time.

Willie Ritola, the flying Finn, did this. He set out to beat Joia Ray, king of distance men—and to do it he put forth the greatest three-mile run the world has ever witnessed. On a poorly conditioned indoor track he beat the cinder path mark.

Dreadfully beating at Joia's heels with his peculiar, awkward gait, Ritola drove the veteran runner to superhuman efforts. Then, in the spirit of the game Ritola passed him and hung up a mark of 14:16.4.

This not only shattered the world record for the inside three-mile run, but lowered the record the great Alfred Shrubbs set on an English outside track in 1922.

KIRKWOOD INCREASES LEAD IN GOLF TOURNEY

ST. AUGUSTINE, FLA., March 7.—George Kirkwood of Australia, increased the lead of the large field of professionals in the open game at the St. Augustine links this morning from five to seven strokes when he shot a 71 in the third round of the event and held his total down to 311 for 41 holes. Kirkwood is now eight strokes under par for the three rounds and is being trailed by Walter Hagen, British open champion, who held second place this morning when a par 79 gave him 319 for the three days.

Jim Barnes, former national open champion, played the best golf of the morning with a card of 74 and tied with Leo Diegel, who shot a 74 for third position with scores of 321 strokes. Johnny Farrell of Quaker Ridge fell away from the leaders when he shot a 75 and Arthur Reid of Ardley-on-Hudson who was tied with Barnes for fifth place last night broke with an 83 and went into a tie for ninth place.

Henrietta Makes Bid for Texas Oil Belt Field Trials

It was unofficially announced Thursday morning that the Oil Belt Field Trials would be held at Henrietta in the near future.

It was said that Henrietta was being a strong bid for the trials because it has better courses than any other place in the state. It is also said that it is better equipped to take care of the visitors to the trials.

A board of governors of the association is not likely to select a site for the next trials until September, however.

Golf Champions May Meet Again On Miami Links

MIAMI, FLA., March 8.—Another golf match may be staged between Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen before spring breaks and opening up in the south.

The present Sarazen and Hagen are touring the south, and Walter Hagen and Joe Kirkwood are expected to meet in a return match at Miami, Fla., some time.

It was hoped that the two champions, Sarazen and Hagen, could be put together in a 72-hole match at Miami, Fla., some time.

The Sarazen national open champion, defeated Hagen, holder of British open title, last fall. It is reported that Sarazen agreed to Hagen a return match.

Hagen was then stricken by appendicitis, which made it impossible for him to enter into a return match on the coast in January.

Hagen did not feel that he had completely recovered his form to play Hagen.

At the time he said that he might play him in Florida during March.

It is why Florida promoters are anxious for the match.

FAILURE TO COVER FIRST BASE AT THE RIGHT TIME COSTS BILL DOAK THREE NO-HIT GAMES

By HILLMAN EVANS
Always cover first base.
That is a set rule in baseball that pitchers are supposed to follow when the batsman grounds to the first baseman.

Always, based on first base on a strike from a pitcher who has no play at the plate.

Catchers are supposed to do that as well as to be in a position to handle any overthrow of the third baseman.

Pitchers and catchers in the major leagues follow out these two theories religiously. Hundreds of times it is a wasted effort as the play is perfectly executed.

Occasionally the pitcher and catcher slip up on the play, fail to go to the first base line, the boot proves costly.

Bill Doak, star pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, is offered as Exhibit A to prove that the pitcher always covering first base.

Bill Doak, star pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, is offered as Exhibit A to prove that the pitcher always covering first base.

DOAK HIT

Failure to cover first base has robbed Bill Doak of three no-hit games and prevented him from occupying a spot in baseball's hall of fame that no other pitcher has ever reached.

"Covering first base is a hobby of mine. Don't believe I have failed to go over a half dozen times in my career. Every time I have failed to go over a base hit has been the result."

There is no way Doak views his failure to cover a pitch pedestal at his own.

Cyrus Young has two for his record in 1922 against the Athletics and in 1923 against the Yankees.

The late Adie Joss had two, turning the trick for Cleveland in 1908 against the White Sox and against the same team two years later.

Christy Mathewson has two in the National League against St. Louis in 1901 and Chicago in 1905.

And they are the only big league pitchers who have acquired no-hit fame in more than one game.

Many Fans Enjoy Coursing Events Staged Wednesday

Twenty-six grey hounds, and 14 rabbits, served as an introduction to the coursing fans Wednesday afternoon. For the first event the race was run in good order except for the fourth race, which should have been the last. The rabbit was not better than the eight dogs, which always comes with the coursing. The dogs were kept in the pen too long and failed to give the dogs a race.

A sharp breaking curve, pitched with good speed, is practically an effective against the jags as the fast ball.

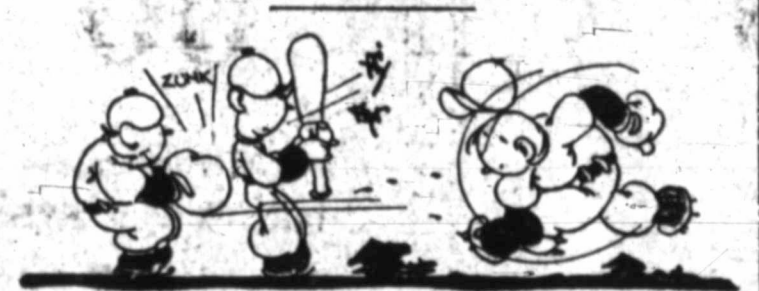

The surprising thing was the ease with which the Japs hit our slow ball. Naturally we pulled a dog that would barely carry to the plate.

It seemed as if the windup followed by an exact change in the style of delivery expected hypnotized them.

A chap by the name of Tanaguchi, dressed as the best pitcher in Japan, he is about the size of Artie Nehy and has much the same style. The Japs still use a skinnier diamond. They have not yet come to the grass infield. That will be the next step of progress. It is sure to greatly improve the play of their infielders.

There are many good outfielders in Japan. The Japs seem to judge fly balls better than grounders. Of the infielders the shortstop seems to have made better progress than the others.

WAITE HOYT TELLS HOW YANK PITCHERS FOOLED JAP BATTERS BY DELIVERY

DOAK

By WAITE HOYT
New York American Pitcher and World Series Hero

By experimenting, the American pitchers on the trip, reached the following conclusions relative to the Jap batters:

The hardest ball for them to hit is the fast ball kept high and inside. Most of the Japs hit a low ball much better than a high one.

Ray Evens With Ritola By Setting New World Record

NEW YORK, March 8.—Joia Ray of Chicago, has evened up matters with his most prominent rival on the track, Willie Ritola of New York.

Ray set a new world's record of 14:16 for the five thousand metre run in defeating Ritola here last night. Last week Ritola beat Ray in a three mile run.

Ray let Ritola set the pace last night until the last 230 yards, then the Chicagoan went to the front and did the rest in the last time of 24:2-3 seconds, winning by 30 yards.

WINNER IN PUPPY STAKE AT BOWIE TRIALS DIES; OWNER REFUSED $500 OFFER

Word was received here Wednesday that the dog, a black and white setter, by Mr. Antonio out of Buckeye Betty, was sick when he ran in the race and Pritchett had not been able to move him from Bowie.

Pritchett is the handler that won $800 in two days in the field trials at Bowie by placing three winners in the open event.

He started by handling race horses for William Zeigler of New York, the "baking powder king."

Joe Crane, Veteran Trainer Is Confined To Bed in Bowie

Joe Crane, veteran dog trainer and handler, for the Zeigler Kennels, is still confined to his bed at Bowie where he has been since Saturday.

Crane took down with a bad cold on the last day of the trials and was not able to handle his entry in the open all day. His son, Joe Crane Jr., handled the dog and landed it in second place.

Crane, the fighting "fishman" as he calls himself, is one of the oldest dog handlers and trainers in the game at the present time. He has been in the service of the Zeigler family for over twenty-five years.

FIRPO GOES TO COURT IN EFFORT TO MEET BILL BRENNAN MONDAY

NEW YORK, March 8.—Louis Firpo, South American aspirant to a title match with Jack Dempsey, was summoned to court today and asked to appear in court today and show cause why an injunction should not be issued preventing him from meeting Bill Brennan in a 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden Monday night.

The order was obtained by the Pioneer Sporting Club which claims to hold an agreement with the South American for priority of his services.

Rumor Has It Lively Ball Is To Be Slowed Up

NEW YORK, March 8.—Will the baseball be as lively this year as last?

Despite the fact that the scheme for slowing home runs by increasing the regulation distance to 300 feet failed, it is said that most of the club owners are agreed that the home run is becoming too common.

The liveliness of the baseball is made possible by the material used in the production of same, and the manner in which the yarn is wound around the cork center.

No change has been made in the cork center. It is identical to the same as when home runs were rare. The lively ball has been made possible by the better yarn and workmanship.

It would be an easy matter to slow down the ball by simply winding the yarn a trifle more loosely or cutting down on the quality of the yarn.

It is said that the home-run feature was taken up at both major league meetings. The feeling was that it should be curtailed.

It won't be very long now before the "lively" ball will be a thing of the past. Major league pitchers are hoping the report of slowing it up is true.

WINNER OF BETTISON TROPHY AT BOWIE TRIALS SENDS BOND FOR CUP

A bond of $1000 was received by "Doc" Landon Wednesday from J. O. Barnes of Oklahoma City for the handsome Bettison trophy awarded him as the result of his puppy. Another puppy, named "Bettison," being returned to the owner.

They had traveled 1,417 miles and nine laps. The record is 1,494 miles and six laps.

Pat and Young Brother Arrive in Camp, Others are on Their Way Here

Pat and Leo Flaherty arrived in Spudderville Wednesday and announced "ready" for the coming season. Pat "Babe Ruth" Flaherty has no introduction to the local fans who will remember his twirling of last season. His young brother, Leo, is a catcher and Pat says that he is a good one.

Both of the Flaherty boys are anxious to get down to action and took a light workout at the ball park Wednesday afternoon. Pat seems to be in perfect shape and says that he feels better than ever. He is only one pound overweight.

Letters have been received from all of the players signed this year that they are on their way to camp and are expected to arrive here either Saturday or Sunday. Salm expects to start the lumbering up exercises at the park on Monday.

Tex Wistler, signed from the Pacific Coast League will be the only new Spudder that will not report. Tex says that he has played enough baseball and has asked to be put on the retired list. He prefers staying in California to coming to Texas and playing baseball, he says.

NOW FAMOUS BATTLE BETWEEN BATTLING NELSON AND AD WOLGAST GRUELLING AFFAIR

Thirteen years ago—or on Feb. 22, 1910, to be exact—Ad Wolgast, then known as the "Michigan Wildcat," won the lightweight championship of the world from Battling Nelson, the "Durham Dana." In one of the most gruelling battles in the history of the roped arena.

That fight, which was scheduled to go to a finish, came to an abrupt end in the fortieth round when Nelson's seconds threw in the sponge, as their man, a bruised and battered sight, was staggering aimlessly about the ring.

The outcome was a huge surprise as Nelson had Wolgast almost out in the twenty-third round. In the crowd had already started filling out the enclosure as the supposedly "fatal ten" was being counted on the challenger.

But the referee never reached the double figure for Wolgast; crawled to his feet, and by one of the most sensational "comebacks" ever staged in the history of boxing, he gradually won back his man and beat him at his own game.

The fight itself was unique in that it brought together a pair of men who used the same style of tactics in the ring. Nelson and Wolgast were fighters pure and simple. They couldn't box, and they cast science to the winds. Many ambitious opponents were of the opinion that it took a freight car to keep him from being knocked out.

But in Wolgast the fighter found the same type of pugilist. A rough-and-tumble, who knew no fear, and who would take a punch on the wall. A battery of punches on his anatomy meant nothing to him. The more punches he received the harder he bore.

Thus when they met it was "slugger against slugger" with the man possessing the greater staying power. The better slugger, being returned the victor. And on that occasion it was Wolgast.

The defeat practically finished the career of the "Michigan Wildcat," who had copied the championship in 1902 by knocking out the old master, Joe Gans. For Nelson was never the same "warrior" following the terrific beating he took from the "Michigan Wildcat."

Incidentally it was the first time in Nelson's long career and he fought some of the greatest fighters the division produced—that he ever saw the old towel, acknowledging defeat, tossed in from his corner. But at that it took a fighter of Nelson's style to turn the trick. Jimmy Britt, Fighting Dick Hyland, Aurelio Herrera, Joe Gans and others had all tried and failed simply because they weren't the fighters for punishment that were Nelson and his successor, Ad Wolgast.

VALUABLE BOOKS GIVEN TO COLLEGE BY JUDGE CARRIGAN

The Wichita Falls Junior College was presented with a set of nine volumes of the original testimony of the Red River boundary case, by Judge A. H. Carrigan Wednesday afternoon. This is the only set of books available on the case, and was obtained by Judge Carrigan through a friend.

Judge Carrigan also gave the college history department a copy of "Early Times in Texas," by J. C. Duval, one of the survivors of the Goliad massacre. This is a copy of an old edition, and a duplicate cannot be secured.

Miss Boone, head of the college English department, stated that Judge Carrigan had given the college access to his library, and that anything desired by the department would be given. Judge Carrigan has over 400 old books, most of which were published before 1870, and has agreed to give them to the college library.

The liberal donation will add a great deal to the history library of the junior college, and the gift is greatly appreciated by the students and faculty.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY OF BUSINESS COLLEGE HEAD

F. A. Farmer, head of the National Business College, was the surprised honoree of a "kid" birthday party celebrating his thirty-second birthday Wednesday evening at the college, when students of the institution came dressed in costumes appropriate to the occasion.

The celebrants turned the calendar back many times and found delightful entertainment in such games as "Going to New York," "Spin the Fan," etc., with a grand march led by Mr. and Mrs. Farmer, and a contest among the guests as to which was the best "boy" and "girl." Mr. Farmer was judged the best boy, with Miss Ruby Murrell the best girl, and prizes of a rubber doll and a whistle were awarded the two.

After the customary birthday cheerfulness, Mr. Farmer was allowed to cut the birthday cake, which was decorated with thirty-two green candles forming his monogram, and the cake was served.

Flavoring with Berton Baby

THE SOUTHERN.
ANTHONY IN THE SOUTH.
I like the South—a lot of it—though now and then some spot of it does not exactly thrill me through and through.
And in this southern latitude I sure am full of gratitude
For all the friendly things that people do.
They have a joyous way with them that brightens up your stay with them.
And they're not out to rob you of your chin.
Back on taking reference I make with all due deference:
I wish that they'd make coffee fit to drink!

It's muddy as their rivers are! I wonder what folks' livers are
Who drink this southern coffee every day?
A spoon will scarcely sink in it, there must be lye and lard in it.
It's strong enough to gull a heavy day.
By some infernal trickery they fill it full of chickory
And then, as if that were not quite enough,
They stew it for an hour or two, thus giving it the power to Compete with T. N. T. as potent stuff.

Sometimes, by luck that's notable, you find the coffee potable.
A drink that anybody can imbibe!
But mostly it's incredible, a beverage so dreadful
That nothing in the language could describe it.
Oh, southerners, you've treated me awfully, and you've treated me
With courtesy wherever I have stayed:
I love you most ardently, but still I cry imploringly,
"I wish you'd leave how coffee should be made!"

JURY FINDS FOR WIFE IN DIVORCE TRIAL THURSDAY

A jury in the 10th district court, Thursday, returned a verdict in favor of the wife in the contested divorce suit of R. N. Lockridge against Mrs. R. N. Lockridge. The husband asked for a decree of divorce on grounds of improper conduct and cruel treatment and asked for the custody of two children.

The jury found that the conduct of the defendant was not of such a nature as to constitute a divorce, and that it was of such a degree as making the living of husband and wife together as insupportable.

The case against J. C. Hampton, charged with negligent homicide, went to the jury late Thursday afternoon. The testimony was conflicting, but the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant.

TIMES DAILY MARKETS

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, March 8.—There was renewed covering by near month shorts in the cotton market this morning. First prices were steady at an advance of 3 points on July but generally 7 to 10 points lower under realizing and scattered southern selling. These offerings were quickly absorbed, however, and within the first half hour May contracts sold up to 31.47, or 59 points net higher, and the old crop months made new high records for the season. The strength in these positions brought the price of October up to 24.93 or 8 points net higher in spite of continued word weather in the south and scattered southern selling of the early new crop deliveries.

The early advance was a good deal of realizing and offerings increased toward the middle of the day. The market was a little easier in some parts of the south, where a number of reports from New Orleans that some merchants in the interior were offering cotton for new crop delivery at 10 cents. This seemed to encourage reaction in the settlement on the decline which carried May contracts down to 31.15 and October at 24.71 around mid-day, or about 18 to 24 points lower than the previous high. July held around 32.22 or within 2 points of yesterday's closing quotation, and the old crop months were 10 to 15 points lower on the general list. This was checked by heavy covering, however, and the market was several points higher by July relatively firm. Cotton closed easy.

beard failed to bring about any material selling pressure in the last part of the day. The close was unsettled at 1 to 2 net gain. May 31.15 to 31.16 and July 31.15 to 31.16.

Corn and oats were firm with wheat. After opening a few higher, May 1.10 to 1.11 and July 1.10 to 1.11.

Trading was mostly in the nature of evening up to prepare for the government report. Prices closed weak at the market yesterday's figures to be lower, May 73 to 74, and later held near today's initial range.

Despite lower quotations on hogs the provision market advanced higher, intensified apparently by the action of other commodities.

RIPPLED CLOUDS MOVE IN AS WIND LOSES ITS LIFE

Grey thin clouds that gave the appearance of the rippled sands of the sea shore moved into the district Thursday morning when the wind lost all its life and a deep still calm settled over the entire northwestern portion of the state.

The wind direction Thursday morning was from the south but smoke coming from the mouth of chimneys traveled upward a considerable distance before a current of air was reached which was sufficient to determine the direction.

The thermometer reached the 77 degree point Wednesday afternoon and during the night receded to the 47 degree mark. Similar thermometer readings were reported from other points in the district.

Later in the morning several disturbing features of the weather were noted and it was indicated that there was a probable change in sight, but nothing was of a deciding nature.

MANY FINES AND FORFEITED BONDS IN POLICE COURT

Thirteen arrests were made by the city police department Wednesday night of these said "good morning, Judge" in the city court Thursday morning at a cost of all the way from $10 to $350. One case was dismissed.

Bonds were forfeited in six charges of gaming; the men booked on the gaming charge were arrested in the raid staged by city and county officers Wednesday afternoon.

A negro employee of the hotel, who was arrested shortly after the raid, pleaded not guilty to a vagrancy charge. The negro was held on the specific charge of soliciting for a resident of the hotel. The woman who is being held for investigation, appeared and testified against the negro. A fine of $300 was assessed in the case.

Five men and two women who were arrested in the raid Wednesday afternoon are being held in the city jail awaiting an investigation.

ANOTHER DAMAGE SUIT IS FILED AGAINST B. SHAW

A second damage suit against Burt J. Shaw and his wife was filed in the 85th district court Wednesday afternoon as the outgrowth of an accident that occurred on Brook street on October 26, 1932.

Joseph J. Pistocco prays for a judgment of $5,000 for injuries which he suffered at that time and which he alleges were directly caused by the reckless and careless manner in which Mrs. Shaw was driving her automobile when it struck the automobile on which he was working.

He contends that he suffered a painful injury to his left arm and left leg and that up until the present time he has not regained full control of the arm which was injured.
