HOUSE PASSES COURT BILL FOR PANHANDLE OVER GOVERNOR VETO

TEEGERSTROM IS TO BE RECALLED IN BASTROP CASE

BASTROP, La., March 9.—Harold Teggerstrom, 20, timekeeper at the plant of the Southern Carbon Company, Spikar, regarded as an important witness for the state in the investigation into the masked band activities in Morehouse parish last summer, will be recalled today to resume his testimony before the grand jury which began its inquiry Tuesday following the presentation of the testimony obtained at the open hearing here in January by Attorney General Cocco.

Teggerstrom was examined by the jury late yesterday. He disappeared from the carbon plant a few days before the open hearing started here January 6, and remained away until after its close. A statewide search was instituted for him. He appeared in Morehouse a week after the conclusion of the hearing.

As timekeeper he was sought by the state to testify at the hearing in connection with the charge of murder placed against T. Jeff Burnett, a former deputy sheriff, and an employee at the carbon plant, who is now at liberty under a $5,000 bond. During the hearing several witnesses identified Burnett as one of the masked band who kidnaped Watt Daniel and T. P. Richard August 24.

PACKING HOUSE MERGER NEARING CONSUMMATION

CHICAGO, March 9.—The merger of Armour and Company and Morris and Company will be consummated within a week, it was announced today from an authoritative source. At that time, the valuation of Armour and Company stock is to be exchanged as part of the purchase price. The deal will be consummated by a merger, it is said.

The price at which Armour and Company stock will be acquired by the Morris interests is understood to be the only point yet undecided in the deal.

In packing circles here it is considered that the filing of a complaint against the merger by Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture will not operate to block the merger.

While it is admitted that the complaint will have to be heard and thrashed out, it is understood that the deal will have been completed before the hearing on the complaint begins.

When the packers, it is said, expect the hearing to result favorably for them, they are prepared, it is necessary, to go into court to prove that the merger is legal in every respect.

HENRY FORD WILL PAY ALL CREDITORS LINCOLN MOTOR CO.

DETROIT, March 9.—All creditors of the Lincoln Motor Car Company, purchased last year by Henry Ford at a receiver's sale, have been reimbursed in full by Mr. Ford. It was officially announced. The sum needed to pay all claims in full was approximately $1,000,000. Mr. Ford took the step, it was announced, despite the fact that he was not required to do so under the terms of his purchase.

HOP OFF IS DELAYED TO OVERHAUL PLANE

MIAMI, Fla., March 9.—Captain Thomas C. Lanphier, commander of the squadron of six army planes on test flight from San Antonio, Texas, to Fort Rile, announced this morning that the hop-off from Curtiss field to Havana will not be made until some time Saturday. The delay is caused by necessary overhauling of the plane, which had to land twice during the flight from Jacksonville to Miami and also by the rule requiring 24 hours' notice to Washington of the time of making the hop-off.

POSTPONE HEARING ON MOVE TO BLOCK ELECTION IN CLAY

HENRIETTA, TEXAS, March 9.—The attempt to block the district bond election to be held in Henrietta March 30 by the anti-good roads faction, which was to have been heard before Judge H. R. Wilson at Graham Thursday has been postponed by request of R. F. Taylor, who is representing the opposition. The case is to come up next Wednesday.

The law firm of Wantland, Dickey & Glasgow, of Dallas & Stone, attorneys for the county commissioners and good roads advocates, state they do not believe the petition will be used by the anti.

J. B. Higgins, a wealthy ranchman leading the fight for the anti in the mandamus proceedings, which were defeated, has left town until after the election and states he will not push the fight further.

Literature has been circulated, cartoons placed in all business house windows and all kinds of good roads propaganda is being used. There is a great deal of excitement all over Clay county, as well as in Henrietta, over this election.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE MURDER OF DEPUTY SHERIFFS

FIFTY WITNESSES TO TESTIFY IN FRANKLIN, LOUISIANA, CASE.

NEW CONFESSION MADE BY ONE OF MEN HELD

Shot Deputy As Letter Started to Drink Cup of Moonshine Whiskey.

FRANKLIN, La., March 9.—The Washington parish grand jury, called in special session yesterday by Judge F. B. Carter, was expected to begin taking testimony today in its investigation into the slaying of Robert Wesley Crain and Wiley Pierce, deputy sheriffs, whose bodies were found Wednesday buried in the muddy swamps of Bayou Lafourche, eight miles east of here. Fifty witnesses have been summoned.

John Murphy, confessed slayer of the two officers, in a new confession admitted that he shot them Saturday as they raided a moonshine still, of which he was part owner.

Murphy said he offered Pierce a cup of the moonshine whiskey which was being made when the officers appeared, and as the deputy sheriff started to drink it he whipped out his pistol and shot him. Turning quickly he said he shot Crain.

Mack Little and Jim Little, father and son, and Frank Carter, three of the 16 men held in connection with the case, were questioned last night by District Attorney J. Vol Barker and other officials who are said to have obtained a confession from them that Murphy and Clarence Rester, who has stated that he was with Murphy at the time of the killing, told them of the details of the slaying.

HOLD LIVESTOCK RATE IS UNREASONABLY HIGH

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Freight rates on livestock moving from South Dakota producing points to packing centers in the middle west are unreasonably high, the producers' committee decided today in passing upon a complaint brought by the board of railroad commissioners of that state.

The committee, which is preparing new schedules by May 23, in accordance with a distance scale which the commission presented last week, said it was in the producers' opinion, that standards on a par with those now possessed by cattle producers in Nebraska, Iowa and other producing states.

FOURTEEN CENTS ON EVERY DOLLAR GOES FOR TAXES

NEW YORK, March 9.—Taxation is rapidly becoming unbearable and the federal income tax threatens economic progress, the National Industrial Conference declared in a statement today. Approximately 14 cents of every dollar earned by the nation in 1932 would be paid in taxes, it was declared.

Federal taxes in 1932-33 took more than half of the total payments of $1,500,000,000 in that period, it was stated. The total income of $3,000,000,000, according to the statement, in 1932-33 took but 64 per cent of the total income, it was pointed out.

The conference, a so-called "some" a system of taxation, aimed at its stifling effects on individual initiative and effort, appeals for a lower standard of living for the American people, the statement concluded.

REV. JOHN MOORE DIES AT HOME IN SHERMAN

SHERMAN, TEXAS, March 9.—The Rev. John Moore, for the past 25 years county probation officer here, and long time member of the north Texas conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, south, died at his home this morning. He is survived by his widow and three children.

They do not believe the petition will be used by the anti.

J. B. Higgins, a wealthy ranchman leading the fight for the anti in the mandamus proceedings, which were defeated, has left town until after the election and states he will not push the fight further.

Literature has been circulated, cartoons placed in all business house windows and all kinds of good roads propaganda is being used. There is a great deal of excitement all over Clay county, as well as in Henrietta, over this election.

ALFRED SEMNACHER

HOLLYWOOD, CAL., March 9.—Alfred Semnacher, motion picture man, who was a prominent witness in the trial of Roemer (Pat) Arbuchie at San Francisco, died today at his home here. Semnacher was at one time manager for Miss Virginia Rapp, who died after being taken suddenly ill at a party in Arbuchie's apartments in a San Francisco hotel on Labor day, 1924. Semnacher also was present at the party and was a prosecution witness in the trials which resulted in Arbuchie's acquittal on a manslaughter charge. Semnacher had been ill for only a few days.

Regarding an oral agreement which the laborers claim was entered into with President Hamilton, D. W. Tracey, international vice president of the Electrical Workers Union, and C. H. Jones, representative of the machine tool union, issued a statement today saying that Hamilton had advised them in conference last December to tell the union members to go on strike if the former employees to those from any other point.

PORT MADISON, IOWA, March 9.—Christ and company, the last, and without a word of regret on his lips for the crime he had committed, had been sentenced to life in prison for the murder of a school teacher, who "turned him down."

Sheriff Ben A. Davis pulled the lever at exactly 7:30 a. m.

HANGED FOR MURDER OF PRETTY SCHOOL TEACHER WHO TURNED HIM DOWN

SALEM, ORE., March 9.—Husted A. Walters, convicted of the murder of Jerome Palmer, Portland policeman, was hanged at the state penitentiary here today.

BRUNSWICK, MAINE, March 9.—The teaching of history should be changed to take a broader view that would consider the nations of the world in their relation to one another instead of considering them separately, President Harding said in a letter to President Kennan, C. D. Sullivan of Bowdoin College, made public today. The president was congratulating the college on its plans for an institute of modern history to be held here from April 19 to May 1. Our point of view regarding modern history had been shifted greatly by the events of the last decade, he wrote.

All the factors of the history of mankind which was an essential unity, he said, must be weighed and appraised if any were to be accurately estimated and understood. A broader view of history would help greatly those having to deal with the problem of preserving peace and outlawing war.

It was conceded that some of the lessons of the past had been misunderstood, the president said, adding: "It is peculiarly necessary in times like these that every effort be made to correct whatever misapprehensions may have arisen."

REVISION OF HISTORY URGED BY PRESIDENT

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 9.—Fire which swept two floors of the Shepherd Company department store in the heart of the business district today. Members of the fire department were called to the scene by action today in order that the bill might be finally passed this session. It proposes to amend the consolidation of five Texas laws including the International Great Northern with the Frisco.

The upper house is scheduled to open its debate on the so-called "quo warranto" bill which drew heated debate and controversy yesterday. After discussing the measure all afternoon yesterday the bill remained on the calendar when the senate adjourned.

The house late yesterday passed finally the Thomas bill providing for substitution of election for hanging in capital punishment cases. Only minor amendments were attached to the bill in the house and these are expected to be concurred in by the senate. The fate of the measure will then rest with the governor.

NEGOTIATIONS UNDER WAY AT AUSTIN IN EFFORT TO AGREE.

CONSOLIDATION PLANS ARE AWAITING OUTCOME

House Members to Oppose Measure Unless Some Agreement is Made.

AUSTIN, March 9.—Negotiations between railroad, state and federal officials and labor union representatives were in progress here today looking toward an agreement regarding the employment of union men who went on strike last July before the bill authorizing the consolidation of the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad with the International-Great Northern and other roads called up in either house.

W. A. Hamilton, president of the International-Great Northern, arrived here today to confer with representatives of the state and federal governments as well as union men. Included in the conference was Charles T. Connell, Washington, United States commissioner of conciliation, who was sent to Texas to carry on negotiations for a general strike settlement.

Although house members last night stated opposition to the bill had been withdrawn by the labor group, members representing the group stated today they intend to oppose the measure unless some agreement is made for taking back as vacancies occur union men, who went on strike last summer.

POSITION ON CALENDAR TO PREVENT FURTHER CONSIDERATION.

PROVIDED FOR REMOVAL OF COUNTY OFFICIALS

Supporters Fail in Effort to Suspend Rules For a Reconsideration.

AUSTIN, March 9.—An attempt to delay action on the "quo warranto" bill by members of the senate yesterday apparently was successful. When the senate met today the measure was not pending business and that the bill cannot now be considered until another house bill day. This would prevent further consideration of the bill during this session, except by unanimous consent or suspension of rules by two-thirds vote of the upper house.

When the chairman ruled on the point, Senator Bledsoe appealed from the decision of the chair. With Senator Bailey presiding, the senate sustained the ruling of Senator Dudley by a vote of 14 to 11, and the quo warranto measure was placed in regular position with other house bills. Members who yesterday strongly opposed the measure declared they will not consent to bringing the bill up further.

The Patterson bill sought to permit the filing of quo warranto proceedings against sheriffs or other peace officers by the attorney general at the request of the governor for failure or refusal to enforce criminal laws. It also would permit trial of such officers in district courts adjutant to the county where the offense was committed.

By a vote of 15 to 11, the senate refused to suspend rules and consider the quo warranto bill. Senator Bledsoe charged that members of the senate had been "intimidated" and "bought" by the governor in an attempt to secure final passage of the bill.

Senator Will reiterated with the measure, or whether or not it is limited into voting a certain way on any measure.

For — Bledsoe, Bledsoe, Dovers, Collins, Davis, Floyd, Lewis, Pollard, Ridgway, Stuart, Thomas, Turner, Wood and Woods; against — Bailey, Burkett, Jarvis, Denny, Fairchild, Holbrook, Holliday, Murphy, Pat, Rogers, Wirtz.

The senate passed, finally the Bledsoe bill reducing royalties to the state on river beds leased off from one-eighth to one-sixteenth and also the Bledsoe bill regulating ex-officio fees of county officers.

The senate adjourned this morning session was spent in debating the house bill which proposes amendments to the workers' compensation act. Numerous amendments to the bill were offered and discussed at length but no final action was taken on the measure.

RAILROAD CONSOLIDATION BILL BEFORE THE SENATE

AUSTIN, March 9.—The St. Louis & San Francisco railroad consolidation bill is the principal measure expected to be before the legislature today. Members of the house were intending to call the measure up for action today in order that the bill might be finally passed this session. It proposes to amend the consolidation of five Texas laws including the International Great Northern with the Frisco.

The upper house is scheduled to open its debate on the so-called "quo warranto" bill which drew heated debate and controversy yesterday. After discussing the measure all afternoon yesterday the bill remained on the calendar when the senate adjourned.

NUMEROUS COMPLAINTS BEING FORWARDED TO WASHINGTON BY CONCERNS AFFECTED BY ORDER

WANTS GAMBLING STOPPED AT JUAREZ DURING CONVENTION

EL PASO, March 9.—Adolph Schwartz, president of the chamber of commerce here, today wired President Oregon of Mexico, asking him to put a stop to public gambling in Juarez before the annual convention of the Texas and Northwestern Cattle Raisers' Association in El Paso March 12 to 15.

Open gambling already has been allowed for 30 days and has been permitted under the renewal of the original concessions of 13 days to run 10 days more.

About 2500 visitors are expected here during the convention. Schwartz pointed out, and the entertainment program calls for visits to Juarez.

Up to date the Washington government has not announced any policy for far as is known here. The British, Dutch and Swiss exporters are in the same plight as the French, and the French are being investigated offer slight comfort to buyers of seasonal goods which the fear may be indefinitely delayed.

FRENCH TROOPS AGAIN WITHDRAWN FROM DORTMUND

DORTMUND, March 9.—The French troops have again been withdrawn from Dortmund, which was occupied yesterday for the purpose of rounding up all the members of the disbanded security police still at large. The city was searched by the French soldiers and 270 of the security force members were arrested and expelled from the district with a warning not to return.

CHILDREN ARE MOVED FROM TROUBLE ZONE

POITUM, March 9.—The transfer by the German army of several hundred thousand children from the trouble zone has begun. Five hundred youngsters from 3 to 7 years of age were sent from here by special train yesterday. The German announced they were sent to Bremen where they would be distributed among private families to be cared for until the trouble blow over.

HARDLY REGARDED AS A SIGN OF NEUTRALITY

BERLIN, March 9.—Premier Poincare is declared by the social democratic news agency to have notified the Danish government that France can hardly regard the admission of German children to Denmark for repatriation as a sign of neutrality.

The statement is made public in connection with a report that the Danish socialists had decided to care 14,000 children from the Ruhr for three months instead of two as originally planned.

STATE TROOPERS STAGE BIG RAID JOHNSTOWN, PA.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., March 9.—The city of Johnstown was much disturbed today than for many months as a result of wholesale raids conducted here yesterday by state troopers from the Greensburg barracks, ignoring district prohibition officers and the Johnstown police, the troopers, working under Governor Pinchot's order to "dry up the state," swooped down on this industrial city, raided saloons and hotels and arrested 25 persons.

Much attention was attracted to the Johnstown prohibition situation last August when Mayor Joseph Confield informed brewers and saloonkeepers that he would have no objection to their doing as they pleased but be free from "union and other" such as the bootleggers have been dispensing here. He criticized prohibition enforcement agents, saying they were not trying to enforce the law. The mayor declared his "real heart" was prompted in an effort to put bootleggers out of business and to provide a substitute for the city's water supply which, he said, "is full of bugs."

After taking a "bore" from a band picked up at 1475 feet above the level of the sea, the state troopers, armed with machine guns, entered the little home at 121 Patterson street, where he and his wife, Mrs. Mary, were residing. The older man was dead by the time a physician arrived.

YOUTH FINDS FATHER WITH CLOTHING AFIRE; BURNS PROVE FATAL

The spectacle of his father, unconscious and with his clothing ablaze, met the eyes of little John Carr, aged 11, when he returned from school Friday afternoon and entered the little home at 121 Patterson street, where he and his father, John Carr, were residing. The older man was dead by the time a physician arrived.

A pistol with an exploded shell by near the body and neighbors believe that when John Carr, the father, fired the pistol as a distress signal to them, his clothing was ignited from the flash, and that he was unable to either extinguish the flames or obtain help from the outside.

The older Carr had been subject to attacks of heart trouble for some time, and had told neighbors that when they heard him fire his pistol, it would mean that one of the attacks was upon him and that he needed assistance.

A very slight wound on Carr's arm was thought to have been caused by the bullet as he fired.

Both his clothing and the bed covering were so badly burned that he was unable to move. He was taken to the hospital, where he was the only other resident of the place, arrived home from the hospital.

BRAZOS IRRIGATION IS CHIEF ITEM ON SEYMOUR PROGRAM

ANNUAL MEETING OF C. OF C. IS HELD THURSDAY EVENING.

PROPOSED DAMSITE IS VISITED BY THOMPSON

Early Steps to Obtain Survey by State Engineers to Be Taken by Organization.

Staff Special to The Times.

SEYMOUR, TEXAS, March 8.—One of the first matters that will be discussed by the newly-elected board of directors of the Seymour Chamber of Commerce will be a proposal to request the state board of water control to make a survey of the Brazos river west of Seymour for the purpose of determining the feasibility of an irrigation project. This matter will be presented to the Seymour Chamber of Commerce early next week and favorable action followed by an early conference with the board at Austin is expected.

A site some 25 miles west of Seymour from which a survey was made in 1918 by Murray Harris, civil engineer well known in the southwest, was inspected Thursday by R. A. Thompson, chief engineer of the Big Wichita project. This site is now what is known as the Narrows, a strip of high broken land that separates the Brazos and the Big Wichita rivers, which for a short distance run within a few miles of each other, and is also near the old Hardings crossing of the Brazos. It is interesting to note in this connection that J. A. Kemp of Wichita Falls destroyed half of the cost of the survey, it having been Mr. Kemp's plan to divert a part of the water impounded from the Brazos into the Big Wichita.

High hills on both banks of the Brazos at the proposed site with a natural formation for a spillway at one extremity make it favorable for the location of a dam, but it would be necessary to build a much longer dam here than the storage dam on the Big Wichita.

Mr. Thompson has promised his aid to the Seymour people in presenting the matter to the state board. The survey, it is made, would be made by the state's engineers and the costs would be paid out of the appropriation voted at the present session of the legislature.

From the damsite down to Seymour and beyond extends as beautiful and fertile valley as could be imagined, practically every acre of which could be irrigated. The land is a sandy loam and lies most favorably for irrigation. It is already settled by thirty farmers, who yesterday were busy in their fields. Below Seymour the valley is much the same and it is estimated that approximately 125,000 acres could be irrigated.

The Brazos above Seymour drains a watershed approximately seven times that of the Big Wichita watershed. Mr. Thompson has estimated, and the project would be of greater magnitude in some respects than the Big Wichita project.

Joe Atwood, manager of the Seymour Chamber of Commerce, mentioned by Joe Wheat and other speakers at the annual banquet of the Seymour Chamber of Commerce Thursday night as one of the things to be taken up by the people of Seymour in the near future.

The banquet was held at the fair grounds and was attended by approximately 100 persons. Judge John C. Kay of Wichita Falls was the principal speaker and a brief address was made by Hubert Harrison, general manager of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, who extended Wichita Falls' greetings and best wishes. Mr. Thompson was a guest at the banquet.

Taxation was Judge Kay's theme. He said he had chosen this because he had just gotten up from the "fin" and wanted the groughest theme he could think of. His address was a plea for individual economy and for a closer watch on public expenditures.

He said that in the early days of the republic there were two ideas about taxation. Thomas Jefferson advocated a direct tax, believing that if men paid their taxes directly they would keep a closer watch on their government. Alexander Hamilton advocated indirect taxation through tariff, stamp and excise taxes, believing that what the people did not feel directly would not bother them. Modern leaders, he declared, believe that both direct and indirect taxes are right and the public is hit with both forms in a multitude of ways. He said the federal government alone collects more taxes than the values of entire corn, wheat, oats and potato crops of the United States combined. He told of the statement of Governor Hogg that the state of Texas ought to be supported by taxes of two million dollars, while today legislators are making preparations to put down a deep test in block 320 Mary Cody, administrator land of the Waggoner Colony lands, about seven miles northwest of Electra. Aerrick has been built and the installing of the latter well way to start drilling at once.

This test is located to the southeast of the old Burk-Parson test, about one mile; the latter well which was drilled three years ago occasioned a great amount of interest by having a number of showings.

DELIVERS PRINCIPAL ADDRESS AT SEYMOUR

JOHN C. KAY

Isolated are boasting of levying fifty millions of dollars. He showed that all taxes are paid through human effort, and warned against the tendency of the times which he said would surely end in bankruptcy and the destruction of civilization.

Other Features.

The banquet was served by the missionary society of the Methodist church and was everything that one could expect from these ladies. It was served by half a hundred young ladies and the whole was handled in most admirable fashion.

There were a number of highly pleasing musical numbers including a selection by Master John Davis and Sarah and Charlotte Wheat, a toy symphony orchestra directed by Miss Willie Harris, a vocal solo by Mrs. R. D. Mosier, a quartette comprised of Messrs. Henry, Albright, Lewis, Davies, Dutton, Dales and Bryan Perry.

A highly humorous and entertaining feature of the program was a session of the Seymour Chamber of Commerce staged by a group of ladies. The time was 1945. The session was carried through in burlesque and was one of the big hits of the evening.

A short address by L. O. Harrison and a reading by Mrs. O. Harrison completed the program following which directors for 1923 were elected and more than $2,000 was subscribed to carry on the work of the organization. The following directors were elected: Frank Davis, W. D. Murphy, M. B. Russell, Lem Bellows, Guy White, and Dr. J. T. Easley.

O. P. Caldwell presided at the banquet.

TEST NORTHEAST OF ELECTRA PLANNED BY BREWER, ET AL

Bob Brewer and associates of Electra are making preparations to put down a deep test in block 320 Mary Cody, administrator land of the Waggoner Colony lands, about seven miles northwest of Electra. Aerrick has been built and the installing of the latter well way to start drilling at once.

This test is located to the southeast of the old Burk-Parson test, about one mile; the latter well which was drilled three years ago occasioned a great amount of interest by having a number of showings.

APRIL TRADE TRIP IS CHIEF TOPIC AT BUSINESS COUNCIL

NUMBER OF MEMBERS PLEDGE THEMSELVES TO TAKE PART.

SEEN AS OPPORTUNITY FOR NEW ACQUAINTANCE

Not Excited by Any Other Form Of Advertising, One Speaker Declares.

The April trade trip was the chief topic discussed at the weekly meeting of the business council at the Elks Friday. A number of additional members pledged themselves to take part in the trip, and decided impetus was given the trade trip movement.

The matter was presented, on behalf of the trade extension committee of the chamber of commerce, by E. E. Goodner, vice-chairman, who outlined the itinerary and program. B. J. Bean declared that trade trips were not excited by any other form of advertising.

"Some of you men who feel that $21.15 too much of an expense for this trip will sit in your office tomorrow and let somebody else do the work for you. You will get some money from your work, but never but an eye," Mr. Bean said. Mr. Bean added that in territory covered by previous trade trips, he had found it much easier, after-ward, to develop his business.

Other speakers, D. J. Charters, Dr. Everett Jones, Al Ellis and others also urged participation. Some of those who spoke dwelt on the fact that such trips afforded opportunity for extending acquaintance among Wichitans as well as in other towns, and that this was one of several ways in which the trip benefited retailers as well as wholesalers.

A highly humorous and entertaining feature of the program was a session of the Seymour Chamber of Commerce staged by a group of ladies. The time was 1945. The session was carried through in burlesque and was one of the big hits of the evening.

A short address by L. O. Harrison and a reading by Mrs. O. Harrison completed the program following which directors for 1923 were elected and more than $2,000 was subscribed to carry on the work of the organization. The following directors were elected: Frank Davis, W. D. Murphy, M. B. Russell, Lem Bellows, Guy White, and Dr. J. T. Easley.

O. P. Caldwell presided at the banquet.

"LAME DUCKS" OF PROMINENCE ARE BEING CARED FOR

GIVEN JOBS NOTWITHSTANDING AN EARLIER STATEMENT.

PRESIDENT IS UNABLE TO RESIST THE PRESSURE

Less Influential Of Those Defeated Not Pleased With the Outcome.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—It is possible that the president tried to carry out just what it was said he intended to do but found the pressure too great. On the other hand, maybe he merely wanted to save himself from the continual pestering of political discards. Any way, his good intentions, if such they were, were "blown" before long and lucid plums began to drop into the laps of a few favorites who had lost out with the voters last fall. Senator New was given the postoffice portfolio; Senator Poindexter was made ambassador to Peru; Congressman Mohr made a member of the war finance corporation, and Congressman Blanton of Indiana presented with a life tenure place as judge of the court of customs appeals.

In addition it is known that a number of other illustrious "lame ducks" are in line for preferment. It is understood that Senator Freylinghausen of New Jersey can be head of the U. S. shipping board when the latter steps out in June or July. Senator McCumber of North Dakota, Senator Kelllogg of Minnesota as well as Representative Campbell of Texas, can each have "something" for the asking and there are quite a number of good jobs remaining, including comptroller of currency and several places on boards and commissions.

Nearly all of the "lame duck" appointments came to the surface during the final and hectic days of the 67th congress and no opportunity was afforded the less influential ones in the flock to bring the requisite pressure to bear. And most of them feel it is too late now.

This week, brought to capitol hill by Senator Watson of Indiana and others was accepted as "authentic" and it caused consternation to the flock of "discarded" Republicans, who, despite the misfortune of politics, had hopes of continuing on Uncle Sam's payroll. There was some little grumbling for a while but on the assumption that the president had meant just what was said, the situation finally was accepted.

TEXAS COMPANY TO BUILD 6-INCH LINE TO HIRSCHI DISTRICT

The Texas Pipeline Company is laying a six-inch oil line from the Hirsch pool to the Brandon station six miles northeast on the bank of the river, adding to the pipe line facilities in this section. The Texas Company has at present two 2-inch lines in here, but due to the rapid increase in the amount of oil from the number of good wells coming in, has been forced to increase the capacity.

To Test Shallow Sand.

Casing has been set on what promises to be one of the best shallow sands picked up in the pool southeast of Burk Burnett on the Noble Gray tract of 187 acres in the D. L. & C. Company's survey. The top of the sand was encountered at 500 feet showing considerable oil. George Widner and others of this city, owners of the well, have made arrangements to drill several wells on their lease which possesses three distinct sands.

CARBON BLACK BILL DEFEATED BY CLOSE VOTE IN THE HOUSE

AUSTIN, March 8.—The Strong carbon black bill was probably finally disposed of late last night when the house voted to postpone action on the measure indefinitely, by a vote of 53 to 52. The vote required a verification before the defeat of the measure was conceded. Before the vote was taken, the bill was debated for two hours. It was not until shortly before midnight that the vote came. An attempt to reconsider the vote will be made today.

The Strong bill had been widely discussed and opposition to it had been expressed from many quarters. The bill passed the senate after an extended contest. In the house, however, it met with considerable discussion before it was taken up last night. The bill would have permitted the manufacture of carbon black from residue and waste casing head gas within 25 miles of any border of the state. Several amendments were adopted before the measure was indefinitely postponed last night.

THIRTY-SIX HOLES OF GOLF APPEAL TO PRESIDENT HARDING

VERO, Fla., March 8.—Thirty-six holes of golf appealed to President Harding today as he began the fourth day of his Florida vacation trip. The most golf the executive has been able to get in heretofore in one day has consisted of 18 holes. The 60-mile cruise made yesterday by the houseboat Pioneer, however, put the presidential foursome in position for a round this morning here and another this afternoon at Fort Pierce, a half-hour automobile ride from here.

While golf is doing much for the president, the warm Florida sunshine is greatly benefitting Mrs. Harding. Members of the party said yesterday that she was enjoying the cruise down the Indian river and was feeling better than at any time since she was taken ill last September.

ACCIDENTALLY LOCKED IN A CONCRETE VAULT

PATERSON, N. J., March 8.—Charles di Giacomo, 19, was in a serious condition in a hospital here today, as the result of his experience last night when he was accidentally locked in a concrete and steel vault by his father, William di Giacomo, a fellow worker in the Peoples Park Bank.

Di Giacomo was rescued after five hours of feverish, unceasing toll by relays of men who battered, burned and drilled their way to him, while crowds waited breathlessly outside for word of his fate.

IMMEDIATE RELIEF NOW AVAILABLE FOR IRRIGATION FARMER

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Immediate relief for thousands of farmers located on federal irrigation projects in the west will be made available under a policy announced today by Secretary Work of the interior department. The farmers in many cases had been threatened with ruin through their failure to raise sufficient crops to pay charges due the government for supplying water, and these charges under the new policy will be deferred.

COMPLETE FORMAL DRAFT FOR DEBT SETTLEMENT

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The American debt funding commission today completed the formal draft of the debt settlement which embodies the terms of the debt refunding settlement recently negotiated with Great Britain. No announcement was made, however, as to when the contract would be submitted to the British representatives for the signature of their government.

USES GASOLINE IN STARTING FIRE AND THREE ARE KILLED

FORSYTH, GA., March 8.—Marcellus Abernathy, 40, a farmer, used gasoline by mistake to start a fire in his home near here yesterday. The explosion that followed proved fatal to himself, Mildred, his youngest daughter, and Clarence, his youngest son. Early today doctors said Mrs. Abernathy, badly burned about the head and body, would recover. The father died fighting in an effort to save his wife and children. The home was partially destroyed.

TWO SAILORS ARE KILLED AND FOUR OTHERS INJURED WHEN TORPEDO EXPLODES

Associated Press.
GIBRALTAR, March 8.—Two sailors were killed and four others injured, two of them probably mortally, as a result of a torpedo explosion on board the British cruiser Coventry during the night. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

This Laxative Works Fine on Old People

Thousands have kept themselves healthy with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

ADVANCING age with its subdued ambitions and strivings could be made very happy if only good health accompanied it, and the basis of good health, as everyone learns upon reaching the age of 60, is the regular daily movement of the bowels. If it can be effected through the food you eat, the water you drink and the exercise you take, so much the better. But if nature will not operate it must be assisted or sickness will follow. Neglected constipation causes the blood pressure to go up 25 per cent, and that is the forerunner of hardening of the arteries. It makes rheumatism and gout worse, too.

The ideal constipation remedy for people of advancing years is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a vegetable compound of Egyptian soma and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics. It is gentle and does not cramp or gripe. It is a mistake to think you need a violent salt or powder or pill, calomel, castor oil and such things. They purge and weaken you, and their reaction tends to make you more constipated than before. Now try the milder method. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin does not lose its good effect with repeated use, and increased doses are unnecessary. Mrs. E. M. Burgess of Enfield, N. C., who is 73, keeps herself in good health with it, and Mr. Charles Chorman of Stapleton, Staten Island, N. Y., wasted fifteen years and considerable money on other remedies before finding steady relief with Syrup Pepsin.

Use Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin yourself the next time you suffer from constipation, biliousness, headache, sleeplessness, indigestion, piles or night cramps. Many thousands of elderly people use nothing else, and it costs them less than a cent a dose. Druggists have sold it successfully for 30 years, and it is the most widely bought family laxative in the world.

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN
PRESBOTT TO JOSEPH
GRAVES HAMILTON

Joseph Graves Hamilton,
Stanton, Pa.

My Dear Mr. Hamilton:

By the time you receive this letter, Leslie will have probably told you that I have asked her to be my wife. As you know nothing of me, however, I thought it would be nothing less than honorable to tell you a little about the man to whom you are being asked to give your daughter.

As you probably have guessed from my name, John Alden Prescott, my forebears were of Puritan stock. My father is dead and my mother has enough to keep her comfortably without any help from me.

My mother is especially proud of being a direct descendant of John Alden, but that of course means nothing to me; in fact, I have felt that all my life I have been somewhat circumscribed and confined because my mother expected me to live up to the more or less narrow precepts of my ancestors.

I haven't done it. I am just a modern young man who has gone through college with more or less escapades and honors—perhaps more escapades and less honors. However, I have not done anything that I am sure even you would consider unpardonable.

Of course, I cannot expect to keep Leslie in the way in which she now lives, but I am getting $4000 a year with the Annie Advertising Company, and I have prospects of being raised another thousand dollars, and a good chance of becoming a member of the firm some day.

Leslie tells me that she is sure she can live on a comparatively small salary, and I think perhaps she would be willing to make some sacrifices for me, and I know anything that I shall give up will mean nothing to me beside the fact that I shall be privileged to call the sweetest woman in all the world my wife.

If you think me not wholly unworthy it will give me the greatest joy; but I must also tell you that with or without your consent, I shall make Leslie Hamilton my wife, because I love her with all my heart and she has told me that she loves me.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN ALDEN PRESBOTT.

LETTER FROM JOSEPH
GRAVES HAMILTON TO
JOHN ALDEN PRESBOTT

Mr. John Alden Prescott,
Albany, N. Y.

My Dear Sir:

So you want to marry my girl, do you?

Well, I've been expecting this for a long while. I knew some man would have the good taste to pick her out from among the crowd.

I was very glad to get your letter, my boy, because Leslie had been singing your praises from the moment I met her at the train, and yet I found that she really knew something about you. I asked her what you were going to live on, and she did not know; in fact, with the exception of knowing the name of your advertising company, she knew nothing about your present earnings.

Well, I've been expecting this for a long while. I knew some man would have the good taste to pick her out from among the crowd.

I asked her what you were going to live on, and she did not know; in fact, with the exception of knowing the name of your advertising company, she knew nothing about your present earnings.

Well, I've been expecting this for a long while. I knew some man would have the good taste to pick her out from among the crowd.

I was very glad to get your letter, my boy, because Leslie had been singing your praises from the moment I met her at the train, and yet I found that she really knew something about you. I asked her what you were going to live on, and she did not know; in fact, with the exception of knowing the name of your advertising company, she knew nothing about your present earnings.

"Monocles for Misses." Fashion's Decree

By MARIAN HALE

In London women are wearing the saphyromorphic horn-rimmed spectacles no longer. For are they lifting the supercilious forehead. That is the smart ones' art.

They've adopted the monocle. Beauty doctors, style designers and opticians all are wondering how far the fad will go. Now long it will last, and what, if anything, they ought to do about it.

Quite a Thrill

A New York actress who returned recently from "dear old Lunnon" gave her friends quite a thrill when she came ashore in her latest European gown—with a glass in one eye.

The monocle never stood a chance in this country so long as it had to depend on popularity. But, women having taken it up, the style may be expected to spread. So it's as well to be prepared.

London women say the monocle gives a characteristic touch to the feminine get-up that can't be obtained from glasses or the double-barreled type.

Lots of Individuality

Glasses, it's pointed out, couldn't be counted on to give any variety of effects.

It's contended that monocles, on the other hand, are modified by women, their own individuality being stamped on them.

Women didn't adopt the monocle without trying to improve on it where they could.

Men were content to wear a uniform-sized glass and to acquit and acquiesce until it had fitted itself into the masculine face.

Women know that no fad productive of squinting and wrinkles is calculated to do them any good. So they have their glasses fitted with absolute accuracy, and when one of them is inserted into an eye, there it stays, without any facial readjustment at all.

Now and Then

A woman is careful to get just the right size glass in proportion to her face.

Furthermore, she can ruin her looks by wearing, say, a round glass when she ought to wear an oval one, or by framing it in a wide tortoise-shell rim when her style calls for no rim whatever.

Also, whereas the woman with a fair skin looks smart with the severe black water-ribbon which always has accompanied the monocle hitherto, the more frivolous blond may prefer a blue ribbon, to match the color of her eyes.

Points to Remember

Whatever else she does, a woman must emphasize her own particular type in the selection of her glass.

The style is said to be becoming to bobbed-haired girls that it promises to bring this style of cold-fur back into popularity again.

At any rate, "Monocles for Misses" is the latest cry.

HOWIE PARENT-TEACHERS BRING BIRTHDAY MONEY

A birthday offering of $5.00 was brought to the Wednesday meeting of the Howie Parent-Teachers Council this week, when the mothers held their regular monthly business meeting.

About forty mothers were present, and a program and business session was held. Mrs. E. S. Goodner led the devotional service, choosing for her subject "Mother and Home," after which Mrs. Ray Wilhite sang two songs and Miss Vivian Bailey played a violin solo.

The musical numbers being much enjoyed, Master Wilton Hagerman gave a reading, "The China Clock."

During the business session the club decided to have a bake sale at the Piggy-Wiggy No. 2 store March 11, and a committee was appointed to collect old newspapers and magazines to sell for the council benefit.

Miss Smith's room received the pictures for having the best representation of mothers.

MRS. JETER IS HOSTESS TO KIDNERS THURSDAY

Mrs. J. A. Jeter was hostess to her Kiders Club members at her home on Burnett street Thursday afternoon, when a very enjoyable afternoon was spent by a double quartet of guests.

The hostess served sandwiches, cake, coffee and mint with the shamrock-color carried out in an attractive suggestion of St. Patrick's day. Those present included Mesdames Hal Shirley, Parker, W. L. Dalton, G. I. Dorrance and W. W. Sherrill, and John Haggard and G. S. Ray, new members, and Mrs. Barrett, a guest.

U. P. C. MEETING SATURDAY

MEMBERS URGED TO ATTEND

Local and visiting members of the United Daughters of the Confederacy are urged to attend the meeting Saturday afternoon of the U. D. C. at the home of Mrs. Fred C. Barron at 1209 Twelfth street.

The meeting convenes at 2:00 o'clock.

WILLIAMS PERFECTS $2,000 BOND WHILE CLARKE GOES BACK

Ben Williams, who was arrested last Sunday after a woman had made a statement regarding the alleged holdup of him and Clarke on charge of theft by bailee, perfected a $2,000 bond and was released.

Red Clarke, the second man, waived hearing before the justice of the peace and was returned to the county jail in default of a $2,000 bond.

The cases against these two men will not be heard by a grand jury until the opening of the June term of the 20th district court.

The two men were arrested after they reported a daylight holdup a week ago last Thursday in which they said $1223 was taken from them by two holdup men. The money represented the half month's wages of 20 men employed by the Northwestern. The money was found in a tin can on the Friberg road at a spot where Williams told officers they could find it.

NAB SMALL BOY WHO SOLD NEWSPAPERS THAT HE'D SWIPED FROM YARDS

City officers took a small boy in charge Friday morning on a charge of selling stolen property. The boy was selling papers on the street and officers failed to find any record of where the papers were purchased. The boy admitted to city officers that for the past four days he had followed the route carriers and collected papers enough to make his daily sales. The boy was turned over to Juvenile Officer Bralley.

County Judge B. D. Sartin went to Burkburnett Friday afternoon to attend to some important road matters.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Stearns of Matador, Texas, drove through in their car Thursday and arrived at Mrs. Stearns' sister, Miss Lena Wilson, at the home of Mrs. L. P. Perham on Tenth street.

Mrs. Ella Skidmore is reported ill from influenza.

Mrs. Hugh Weaver, who spent a week in Dallas, has returned home.

MRS. BROTHERTON HOSTESS BIDE-A-WEE BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. R. P. Brotherton was hostess to the Bide-a-Wee Bridge Club Thursday afternoon at her home, when three tables were arranged for the games.

During the afternoon time limits were served at the tables, and after the games the hostess served a dainty ice course, carrying out the St. Patrick colors. Those who enjoyed the hospitality included Mesdames F. A. Rogers, C. B. Clement, W. P. Crews, K. S. Chapman, G. N. Murch, C. V. Darden, H. Mansfield, G. C. Biggs, F. C. Rochon, and Misses Lella and Thelma Williams.

High score prize for the club members was awarded Mrs. N. S. Chapman, who received a blossom for potted plant, and a hand-embroidered fudge apron was presented Mrs. G. C. Biggs for high score among the guests.

MISS INEZ BARKAN IS HOSTESS, BRIDGE PARTY

Miss Inez Barkan entertained the girls of the Four o'Clock Bridge Club at her home this week, when tables were arranged for two sets of players. In the games, Miss Barkan won high score and received a Colgate's compact, while Miss Bernice Taylor was consoling for low with a big, and a hand-embroidered fudge apron was presented Mrs. G. C. Biggs for high score among the guests.

MRS. DAVENPORT HOSTESS THURSDAY BRIDGE CLUB

The members of the Thursday Afternoon Bridge Club and a few extra guests were entertained delightfully at the home of Mrs. John Davenport Thursday afternoon.

In the usual games, Mrs. John S. Morrison won high score for members and was presented a beautiful vase, and Mrs. Guy Frank of Burkburnett won high among the guests and received a pretty carved amber pendant. After the games the hostess served a delicious salad course to the following: Mesdames T. M. McDaniel, Martin of San Antonio, Frank of Burkburnett, C. U. Daniels, Joseph Huxkins, John P. Marrs, C. E. Rodgers, John E. Stevens, Harrison Bachman, W. B. McClain, John S. Morrison, Stanley McGregor and John Davenport.

LAMAR T. E. L. CLASS IS ENTERTAINED THURSDAY

Mrs. T. P. Walker of 2315 Austin was hostess to the Lamar Baptist T. E. L. Class Thursday afternoon, when the members enjoyed a very delightful social hour following the monthly business meeting.

During the business meeting the class voted to hold an Easter bazaar March 11, with the proceeds of which it is proposed to buy doors for the classroom.

Games, contests, and music were enjoyed during the social hour, and the hostess, assisted by Mesdames A. L. Cogg and G. E. Walker, served ice cream and cake with shamrock favors to Mesdames R. F. Jones, W. E. Walker, J. J. Roseman, M. C. Ray, W. F. Ward, A. J. Catlin, N. E. Rawlin, H. L. Haley, A. G. Michael, A. J. Holt, James Smith and T. M. Boone.

SIXTY—AND EIGHTY

MRS. RUBY LAFAYETTE CURRAN.

By JAMES W. DEAN.
NEW YORK, March 9.—Sixty—and time to die! Ten years more, perhaps, to get ready for death. . . any time there's not much to look forward to except the setting sun at 60, is there?

Let's ask Mrs. Ruby Lafayette Curran about that.
She used to be an actress. From coast to coast she tramped with theatrical companies, shouts and murmurs and wild applause were all in her share of the day's profits. One sees a lot of life in the trouping business and the more one sees of life the faster it seems to flow by. It wasn't long before Ruby Lafayette Curran caught up with Sixty, or Sixty caught up to her. Sixty—and time to look for death!

Her career as an actress over Mrs. Curran and her husband went to Lampasas to live. Lampasas is a sleepy little town in Texas where each day rolls along much like the day before, quietly and serenely. Lampasas, a fitting place for a rendezvous with death.

And so the years went along with their darning, their sweeping, their baking and their dish washing. All that the neighbors knew about her was that once she had been an actress and now she was the neatest housekeeper in town.
The girl that once swept through the curtains to thrill and how to the tumult of an audience was now a white-haired woman content occasionally to peer through the curtains and wonder when the "White Rider" would come on the road.
She didn't enter into the social life of Lampasas very much. The nearest No. 1 in that new-fangled stuffed to one who had spoken her lines before an audience!

Two years ago she went to California to see a grandchild. Movie directors saw in her a wonderful "mother type." Rather reluctantly she consented to appear before the camera.

Then she saw herself on the screen. She fell. She was as enthused as one of these flapper extras who see herself for the first time in moving silhouette.
There's magic in the movies. The magic of youth. They touch old hearts and make them young. Mrs. Curran thought her career had ended 20 years ago, she had faced an audience for the last time.
Now at 60 she is featured in "The Dream Mother" and "Mother of Mine." She has what thousands of young girls starting out in life would give their all to have, a contract to act in the movies.
Eighty—and time to die?
No! Eighty—and time to start to live!

Let's ask Mrs. Ruby Lafayette Curran about that.

Isadore Duncan
Not Citizen or United States

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Isadore Duncan, who says she does not like the United States, is not an American citizen, the department of labor decided. She lost her citizenship the department held in a decision announced today, through her marriage to Serge Esenine, a Russian, April 1, 1922.

Recently on leaving these shores with her husband, the dancer took occasion to deride American institutions and incidentally took a verbal shot at prohibition and what she described as the kind of liquor refreshment one was compelled to drink now it at all.

After reading press reports of her opinions regarding the United States, Secretary Davis of the labor department announced that steps would be taken with a view of depriving Isadore of her American citizenship.

Capacity Houses
At the Olympic
For 'Jazzmania'

Mac Murray's new picture, "Jazzmania," continues to draw capacity houses to the Olympic. The picture, which is one of the most beautiful in presented with one of the best jazz bands that has ever been heard here, offers an amusement treat. In presenting "Jazzmania" at this date the Olympic is giving Wichitaans the picture when it is being given its premier in some of the larger cities. It opened last Sunday at the California in Los Angeles and at the Palace in Dallas, the opening at the Olympic being just two days behind these houses.

The story of "Jazzmania" is one quite different from any the screen has offered lately. Miss Murray appearing as Queen Ninon of a little country in the Balkans. As usual, there is a revolution on foot and an American reporter hearing about it crosses the Atlantic to get the "low down" on the queen's affair. How he gets into the palace while a mob threatens its doors and gets on good terms with "queenie" gets several good laughs.

His persuasive her to accompany him to America where the prancing feet of Ninon are guided through movements that amuse her audience by the strains from a jazz band. She is one grand riot and in the end returns to her country and proceeds to Americanize it. This she does even to replacing ex-carts with Ford Roadsters and the queen's throne with a chair for Madame President.

Divorce Granted
And Valentino Is
To Be Married

CHICAGO, March 9.—With legal restrictions now disposed of, Rudolph Valentino, motion picture actor, appearing here in a dancing engagement, announced that his marriage to Miss Winifred Hudnut, his dancing partner, would occur Monday or Tuesday.

Information was received from Los Angeles yesterday, Mr. Valentino said, that a divorce had been granted, legally separating him from Mrs. Jean Acker Valentino, and that it would be entered of record Monday.

"It will be a quiet little affair," Mr. Valentino said of the second ceremony.

BRADLEY NO. 10 IS DEEPEMED, MAKING
OVER 800 BARRELS

Drilling two feet further into the sand at 1874 feet the No. 10 well of the Bradley Oil Company, located in the northwest part of the John Hirsch tract in block 124 increased its production and is flowing a steady stream of oil through a four-inch line between 260 and 250 barrels.

The well came in about 10 days ago, making a flush production of 260 barrels.
The greatly increased volume of oil which came as a surprise, quickly filled all the available storage and the oil was allowed to flow in the slush pits until additional storage could be erected. At present two 500 tanks are full and one more being rushed to completion. The oil is of the highest gravity, testing 42, demanding the usual posted price and premium.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Pilate saith unto him, What is truth?—John 18:38.
The truth of truths is love.—Bailey.

SWEET GRAFT.

A sugar famine this year? Not unless housewives stampede and create a shortage by stocking up with a hundred or so pounds for each family. Remember, that's what started the sugar shortage several years ago and shot the price up around 30 cents a pound.

Cuba this year will produce about 197,000 tons more sugar than last year, according to the leading sugar trade authority, Guma-Meyer. The European best sugar crop will total nearly 400,000 tons more than in the 1931-32 season. In America we started 1935 with "wartime size" stocks of sugar in storage —official government report. Much depends, of course, on the size of the 1935 American crop.

But Cuban sugar is the main regulator of what we pay for sugar. And the supply of Cuban sugar for this year "appears to be practically the same as was available in 1931," says the market letter which the American Sugar Refining Co. sends to its customers.

In 1931, five to eight cents a pound was considered a good wholesale price for refined sugar here in the United States.

It's hard to get at the truth about the sugar situation, for it's an industry of highly complicated statistics. Let's take a bit of unfavorable news and analyze it:

The American Sugar Refining Co. estimates that the surplus stocks of Cuban sugar around the first of the year 1935 were 1,129,000 tons less than a year before.

Half of this decrease is counteracted by the 1935-36 gains in Cuban and European sugar production.

And it's reasonable to expect that most of the balance will be canceled by the fact that Americans this coming summer will make less home-made wine than last summer and the one before. The enormous increase in the amount of sugar used by Americans, during the last few years, has been due mainly to home-made wines. Fifty pounds of sugar doesn't look like much to a cellar chemist. Wine making is on the wane—"too much trouble, not worth the fuss."

We dig into the newspaper files and in 1930 find Edgar Watkins, counsel for the Southern Grocers' Association, quoted as saying: "Refinery prices for sugar the first four months of this year ranged from 14 to 18 cents a pound, while most buyers quoted them
as 27 and 30 cents a pound."

As you'll recall, sugar led all other commodities
when it came to speculation and exorbitant prices.
During the sugar "famine," the law of supply and demand was temporarily repealed. The surest, quickest way to play into speculators' hands is to buy a lot of sugar and store it in the attic.

ARE YOU ALERT?

A magician would find it easier to fool Einstein than to deceive Einstein's eight-year-old son. So claims Arthur Buckley, official of the Society of American Magicians.

It's common knowledge in the show business, that a stage wizard is most nervous when doing his tricks before an audience containing a great many children.

The grown-ups are fooled easily. But chances are that the shrill voice of some youngster in the rear of the house will pipe out: "I seen how he done it!"

Children are much more alert than their elders.
One reason is because they find everything in life new and interesting and are constantly watching for another bit of knowledge. Interest keeps the brain sawed up to a high, keen pitch.

As we get older, we observe that life is an endless repetition, the same old stuff over and over with only an occasional surprise. Naturally, we fall into the habit of not looking for something new. In turn, this gradually dulls our perceptions, slows down our ability to observe quickly. So the stage magician finds it easy to hoax us.

Magician Buckley, as quoted, conveys the idea that the wiser a man is, the easier to fool him. For instance, a very simple trick will baffle a profound brain, while a man of only average intelligence is apt to "catch on."

The psychology of this is that one of the characteristics of deep thinking is a tendency to concentrate entirely on important subjects. Which explains why a person with a brilliant intellect often is unable to master card games, trivia which the deep thinker subconsciously is averse to concentrating on.

The "heavy thinker," apparently interested in the stage magician and trying to solve the trick, has about 95 per cent of his brain power far away, broving unconsciously on important matters. The man of lesser intelligence is not in a semi-trance or hypnotic state of interest in important matters, so he is able to rally his concentration 100 per cent on the magician's tricks.

This delves into psychology raises the interesting question that alertness is not necessarily a sign of brain power. On the other hand, it may indicate intelligence only average, or below.

The absent-minded professor is the subject of many jokes. He, deeply concentrated on things that really count, is far from alert. Often he has to have questions repeated two or three times before he gets them. But bring up one of the important subjects that really interest him, and you find him as alert as a hair-trigger.

It's a queer machine, that gray brain inside our skulls.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

IS THERE A REAL LIFE?

When we get tired and very discouraged, and are quite lonely—and we look upon the fallen walls of much that we have tried to build—life doesn't seem very real. We wonder why we are here, and what it is all about anyway.

Stars, and beautiful sky colorings, lovely forests and streams, laughing waterfalls, trusting people, and flowers bursting with perfume, mean so little then.

But when our moments of greatest strength come,
these very same things magnify our appreciation of all that is beautiful, and each in its turn has a new argument for all that is enduring—the greatest of which is life itself.

This life is very real when we put realness into it.
If we keep taking from our wonderful storehouse that which has been given us for times of emergency, and waste it along the way, we must not complain when at the height of the race of life we find ourselves passed by someone who has conserved.

And we mustn't say then that life plays favorites.
We play favorites with ourselves—or we don't!
One thing is certain, God didn't build this great world and then run off and forget about it.

A little while ago I looked out of my window and saw an earth that was wrapping about its throat a gorgeous coat of the whitest snow. The sun was just creeping through the trees beyond, where I looked. Soon the ground sparkled like one great mass of tiny diamonds.

Tonight I stood upon the porch of the house where I am living for a little while and looked into a tropic night sky—a canopy of pure opal. A new moon, out like a cameo. A few stars peeping out to see if anyone wanted to talk to them. And palms throwing whispered love across the vast space, from here below to there above.

When I do most to make others happy, this seems a very real and happy life.

THE LAND OF YESTERDAY.

The happy land of yesterday
Seems always, oh, so far away,
And all the friendly people, too,
That in the days of youth we knew,
Walk phantom-like throughout our dreams,
So far away their country seems!

The happy land of yesterday!
Thine there the charms of boyhood stay,
Thine there the joys of youth we knew,
Our favorite haunts remain unchanged,
And 'twile of pals and grief and care,
Youth keeps its old-time freedom there.

The happy land of yesterday,
A land where it is always May;
There we may turn and ever see
The orchards as they used to be,
And meet that first sweetheart again
Somewhere along the shady lane.

There still she lives, a little girl,
Time has not changed one lovely curl,
Or stolen from her cheeks the charm;
The beauty of her dimpled arm
Is still as glorious to see
As long ago it used to be.

'Tis only here that men grow old,
And beauty fades and hearts turn cold;
'Tis here relentless death and age
With youth their constant battle wage,
But they are safe, though far away,
Who rule the land of yesterday.

FRIDAY

Love Empowered by Prayer

Teacher, I brought unto thee my son, Mark 9:17.

The growing achievement of a man on earth is to make the word
"father" so rich in memories and associations, that it brings God nearer to his children.

MEDITATION: Many modern parsons are apt to be too much anxious about their children's physical health, education, or even their religious training.

MYN: God, descend upon my heart:
When I from earthy thought Swoop to my weakness, mightily as thou art.

And thou love thee as I ought to love.

PRAYER: O Heavenly Father, Arise forth thy meek spirit richly on all the members of this household. Make each of us an instrument of thy love and grace, and thy heart, strengthen our minds

FACULTY CHARGES
FORMER EMPLOYE
INSTIGATED RIOTAUSTIN, March 9.—Signed statements of a majority of the faculty members of the state school for deaf and dumb here where a riot occurred last Saturday night, declare that a former employee of the institution instigated the riot, a member of the state board of control stated today. Statements of the faculty members were filed with the board of control today. The board will make a personal investigation of the affair this afternoon. It was said.

Considerable damage resulted Saturday night at the institution when fifty students became enraged and broke furniture and entered the superintendent's rooms. When questioned, the students testified that the riot resulted from feeling among the student body over the discharging of the physical training director of the institution. The disciplinary committee of the institution is conducting an investigation into the affair in conjunction with the board of control.

At five minutes to ten on the following morning, I watched Mr.
James Stanfield, push open his private gate leading onto the links,
and stroll across toward the clubhouse. I waved my hand, and
stepped back into the locker room.
Three or four men in tweeds and golfing outfit were waiting there. In five minutes, the men were all gathered. In five seconds the handcuffs were on his wrists, and
one of the three apparent golfers
had the man by the back of the neck.

"You are charged," he said, "with feloniously wounding William Harrington, manager, and John Stokes, clerk, of the Links, and with stealing from the premises the sum of seven thousand pounds. I should recommend you to come with me quietly, and to reserve for the present, anything you may have to say."

Looking at him as he stood leaving a little against his own locker, I could have sworn that there was no manner of change in the face or expression of my enemy. He looked pleased, and looked across at me.
"This is your doing," he asked.

"Altogether," I admitted.
"You knew, didn't you?"
"I was very much reminded of what I need not take into it," I replied.
He nodded.

"The task is to you," he confessed. "I am ready, gentlemen."
He walked quietly out to a waiting motorcar, with a burly policeman on either side of him, and a very important man from Scotland Yard in the party. Rimmington and I were left behind, and presently we saw a round of golf. All the time my eyes kept straying toward the Links. No sign, however, came from there.

"The Links is marked,"
as we waited for a few minutes on the tenth tee. "Don't quite understand how you tumbled to this affair
so quickly."

"It was quite easy when you once admit the possibility of the occupants of the Links car being concerned," I replied. "Of course,
Roberson was in it up to the eyes.
It was Stanfield who drove up in Roberson's Ford and went direct to the bank. The Dartier car was already there, containing Stanfield and Roberson, wearing a gray Homburg hat and a linen duster, store a small order which the grocer's assistant packed and took out.
The chauffeur was taking advantage of the delay to fill up with petrol.
The moment Stanfield descended from the Ford and made his way to the bank, Roberson slipped off his linen duster, produced a Panama hat which he pulled over his eyes, and made his purchases in the shop. He came out just as Stanfield re-

"With pleasure," I assented.
"At ten o'clock?"
"I will be in the clubhouse," I promised him.

"We go to bed, up here," he remarked, "practically with the sun."
I rose to my feet. I took my leave,
and as I walked down the drive,
with the yellow moon shining through the aspen trees, I felt the ghosts of tragedy gathering.

At five minutes to ten on the following morning, I watched Mr.
James Stanfield, push open his private gate leading onto the links,
and stroll across toward the clubhouse. I waved my hand, and
stepped back into the locker room.
Three or four men in tweeds and golfing outfit were waiting there. In five minutes, the men were all
gathered. In five seconds the handcuffs were on his wrists, and
one of the three apparent golfers
had the man by the back of the
neck.

"You are charged," he said, "with

CUSTOMS BARRIER "THORN IN FLESH" TO BRITISH TRADE

OUTCRY RAISED BY THE MERCHANTS IS NOW GAINING STRENGTH DAILY.

PROTESTS RENEWED BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Revive Discussion of the Possibility of Withdrawal of General Gort's Troops.

LONDON, March 9.—The outcry raised by British merchants in Cologne against the Franco-Belgian customs barrier around that area gathered strength today. The chief complaint is that British trade with Germany is being strangled and is almost at a standstill.

The British chamber of commerce in Cologne has renewed its protest to the London government against what it regards as an attempt to blockade the zone. It seems that there also is some resentment over the action of the French and Belgian troops in completely surrounding the British bridgehead which has made it impossible for the English to move eastward without obtaining permission of the military posts. There are reports that the relations between these posts and the British are none too friendly.

Some of the newspapers have revived the discussion of the possibility of withdrawal of General Gort's troops.

On the other hand, the Cologne correspondent of the Daily Mail, which is practically the only London newspaper supporting the French, says that German propagandists are seeking to create dissensions between the British and the Ruhr allies. He asserts that the British traders are over doing their complaints.

Meanwhile, it is understood that an active interchange of views is proceeding among the British ministries of war, foreign affairs and trade with regard to the tangled situation. It is learned authoritatively that verbal representation has been made to France through diplomatic channels, pointing out the difficulties forced upon the British authorities in the Rhineland.

WANTS LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH EGG LAYING AND TESTING STATIONS

AUSTIN, TEXAS, March 9.—Establishment of three temporary egg laying and breeding testing stations at the Agricultural and Mechanical College, Grubbs Vocational College, and John Tarleton College, will be sought at the special session of the legislature, Representative R. E. Sparkman, today announced today.

Representative Sparkman has taken up the matter of egg laying and chicken breeding stations with the state board of control and it has been agreed that the state board will recommend an appropriation for such work to the special session. As a preliminary step toward establishing such experiment stations, Representative Sparkman will visit the three schools and investigate facilities at each institution for such work and the needs along such lines. He will then report to the board of control the amount of funds needed to carry on the work. Sparkman will go to the schools immediately following close of the regular session next week.

It has also generally been agreed, Representative Sparkman said today, that the board of control will recommend an appropriation of at least $5,000 a year for the next two years for the experimental work. This amount would be divided among the three schools according to the extent of the experimental work.

Decision to ask for development of this line of work was made by the farm "block" of the legislature, the Italian representative said, although it was too late in the regular session to attempt any legislation. By recommending through the board of control, however, the matter can be brought up during the special session.

The primary purpose of such stations would be to educate the farmers of the state in choosing the best egg producing chickens and developing the best breeds possible. Representative Sparkman stated, "A number of other states have such experiment stations and have found them to be very successful. Farmers and chicken raisers throughout the state would be urged to send specimens to the stations to be tested. In this way they could cut out the non-producers."

"PEN YOUR CHICKENS" IS ORDER OF ELECTRA MAYOR

ELECTRA, March 9.—"Pen your chickens" is an order issued by Mayor Wm. Calvert. There is an ordinance in Electra against permitting chickens to run at large, and Mayor Calvert has issued instructions to the police to prosecute all who violate this law.

Poultry growing is popular in Electra, perhaps because of the steady demand for eggs and frying chickens at fancy prices. Interest this spring in the planting of trees, flowers and lawns exceeds any previous time in the history of Electra. So that the chicken ordinance, heretofore somewhat ignored, is being rigidly enforced to prevent them from deprecating on the lawns and flower beds.

FURTHER LIGHT ON CONTROVERSY OVER CONSULATE OF U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Further light was shed on the divergent positions taken by the United States and British governments in the Newcastle consulate incident in the publication today of statements on the case by both governments along with the last British note and the entire series of American communications.

The documents on the American side of the case were made public by the state department immediately after the British embassy by direction of the foreign office, had issued with the text of its last note a statement explaining that it had not "invited a discussion of the grounds" upon which the British government withdrew its recognition of Consul Slater and Vice Consul Brooks. To remove what was regarded as a misapprehension on this point, the statement said, the reasons for the action taken were conveyed to the United States government merely in compliance with the existing commercial convention between the two governments.

While the correspondence showed the American government to have adhered throughout to its position that its position in defense of the consular officers was based primarily on the circumstance that the charges were given publicity in London. For this the British government in the note made public which was signed by Lord Curzon and dated December 27, disclaimed all responsibility.

Although the British government subsequently offered to drop the charges if the consulate were reopened, the American government replied that this course would be acceptable only on condition that it agreed again to grant recognition to Messrs. Brooks and Slater as consular officers there and "to the simultaneous issue of the two capitals of an announcement in a form satisfactory to both governments of the action taken and the reasons therefor."

Although the United States has six times the railway mileage of Canada, Canada has more than twice the mileage per capita.

MISS MARY CRAIG WEDS HOUSTON MAN AT GRAHAM

GRAHAM, TEXAS, March 9.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Graham was the scene of a beautiful wedding Wednesday afternoon, March 7, at 3:30 o'clock when their niece, Miss Mary Craig of this city, was married to Mr. Hugh L. Mills of Houston. The reception rooms were elaborately decorated in pink and white. Mrs. E. A. Graham, aunt of the bride, sang the pre-nuptial song, "Bedecked, It Is Morn," and Miss Nona Akard played Lohengrin's Wedding March. The bride couple was preceded to the altar of roses and ferns by a sister, Miss Catherine Craig, as maid of honor, and F. E. Davis, brother-in-law, as best man, where the ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. E. Bowman of the First Methodist Church. The bride was given away by her uncle, M. K. Graham.

Miss Craig is a daughter of Mrs. Addie M. Graham, and is a graduate of the University of Texas and of Columbia University of New York. She was instructor of English and Latin for two terms at St. Mary's College. The couple left immediately after the ceremony in their car for Fort Worth and Dallas and other places before going to Houston to make their home.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Miss Eric Weary of Dallas, Mrs. R. M. McCarver of Dallas, Mrs. Bell Martin of Dallas and Miss Grace Lichte of Fort Worth.

TWO OFFICERS ARE KILLED IN GEORGIA BY MAIL CARRIER

GAINESVILLE, GA., March 9.—Robert Hope, a mail carrier, is in jail here today charged with murdering Marshal Vilas Martin and Jack Bryant of the town of Lula, in the north Georgia mountains, were slain yesterday while attempting to place the mail carrier in jail.

Hope was ordered arrested by the mayor of Lula after he had been arraigned before the town executive for a minor offense. Officers said the mail carrier was fined a small sum for which he gave a personal check, later stopping payment on it. As the two officers were leading Hope into the jail he jerked out a pistol and began firing. Martin and Bryant being instantly killed, Hope surrendered to the sheriff.

On a charge of a snow-capped volcano mountain on Unalakleet island are sulphur deposits of 15,000 tons.

EARL OF BALFOUR REPLIES TO SPEECH OF GEORGE HARVEY

SOME WRITERS REGARD ADDRESS AS POLITELY CENSORIOUS.

FINDS NOTHING OBSCURE IN PASSAGE HE QUOTES

Speaker Inclined to Somewhat Less Commercial View of Question.

By Associated Press.
LONDON, March 9.—The Earl of Balfour's reply in the house of lords to Ambassador Harvey's recent reference to the famous Balfour note on the subject of allied debts receives much attention from London newspapers today. Some of the writers regard the address as politely censorious. The Westminster Gazette for example, refers to it as "a lecture in international morality."

Repeating Colonel Harvey's quotation of the contentious clause in the note—"under the arrangement arrived at the United States insisted in substance if not in form, though our allies were to spend the money, it was only on our (allied) security that they were prepared to lend it"—Lord Balfour said he could find nothing obscure or misleading in this passage. He suggested that the points of difference were in the divergence of the American and British views as to the extent of cooperative effort in financing the war and to the fact that America after her entry into the struggle, refused to accept the British suggestion that she relieve the "London" government of part of its burdens. He pointed out that Colonel Harvey as he understood the American position, "regards the financial arrangements between the partners in the great war as so many isolated undertakings, to be separately considered and carried through one by one, as occasion offers."

Asserting that this policy, in Mr. Harvey's view, is necessary if the sanctity of contract is to be maintained, Balfour added that he himself was inclined to "a somewhat less commercial view."

"The extraordinary circumstances of the war," he continued, "the magnitude of the cooperative effort made by the allied and associated powers might seem to remove the financial arrangements into a sphere where the ordinary categories of debtor and creditor, though still valid, could hardly be deemed a sufficiency."

MAN IS INJURED IN ACCIDENT THURSDAY AT DIVERSION DAM

T. M. Dodd, employed on a construction crew at the diversion dam, was brought to the General hospital late Thursday, with his skull fractured, as the result of an accident earlier in the day.

Dodd struck his head between two planks of the frame tower used in pouring concrete for the diversion spillway, and one of the empty concrete buckets, descending, struck him, just behind the right ear and then forced his head to one side as it passed on down. He was given first aid treatment, the scalp wound being sewed up, and was then brought to Wichita Falls by Capt. H. M. McFarland.

Friday morning it was ascertained that the man's skull was fractured, but his chances for recovery were considered good.

START MOVEMENT FOR BRIDGE FREE FROM TOLL
BOWIE, March 9.—A meeting was held at Terral, Okla., Wednesday of this week at which representatives from Terral, Ryan, Waurika, Ringold, Bowie and some two or three towns at interest were present, the meeting being of special interest to this part of Texas and Oklahoma.

The object of the meeting was to discuss ways and means of making the Terral bridge a free bridge instead of a toll bridge as now. A movement was put on foot to close up the matter as soon as possible.

Two Fast Games Close City League Season; Battery and C. & L. Win

The bell sounded on the last title on the second half schedule of the City League at the Legion hall Thursday night with Battery D and Collier and Landon winning their games. The two games, the first between Battery D and the Legion and the other between Collier and Landon and Texhoma were two of the best games that have been played in the second half season. The Battery won over the Legion 15 to 30 while Collier and Landon set the Texhoma terrors down with a 25 to 15 count. The two games were much better than either score indicates.

In the first game with the Battery five fighting the Legion, the Battery got away with an early count but the Legion narrowed the margin near the close of the first half, although they never reached the lead. Near the close of the game with the Legion only five counters in the rear the Battery five got down to business and at the end of the game had a ten point lead.

Collier-Landon 35, Texhoma 15. In the second game the Collier and Landon five, composed of basketball players that showed better form and teamwork than the Texhoma terrors, found themselves in a battle soon as the game started. Although the Texhoma crew never rung up a field goal in the first half they gave the Collier and Landon team a run for their money. The first half ended with Buddie Tanner's crew on the big end of a 15 to 5 count. The Texhoma five, although badly beaten in every department of the game did not give up but kept plugging away at the basket, when they could get in shooting distance.

Back and Deems Stars. In picking the two stars of the game the glory will easily go to Buddie for the Battery D five and Deems for Collier and Landon. Both are forwards and their work on the loop was as good as any that has been seen at the Legion hall this season. Back accounted for 24 of the 45 points scored by the Battery. He registered 11 field goals and two free throws. Powell, center for the Legion five also put up a good game, ringing the net from all positions on the court. He got five field goals.

Deems, of high school fame, was the star for the Collier and Landon five. He looped six field goals and sunk five free throws for a total of 17 points. Tyson, another high school star playing with Collier and Landon also played a good game at guard.

Lineup and summary: First Game. Battery—Shaw and Ray, forwards; Powell, center; Markey, Birdwell and Tate, guards. Battery—Beck and Hays, forwards; Thurman, center; Peyton and Harper, guards. Scoring: field goals—Shaw 2, Ray 6, Powell 1, Birdwell 1, Beck 11, Hays 3, Thurman 4, Harper 2. Free throws—Ray 2, Beck 2, Harper 2.

Second Game. Texhoma—Sharp and Klein, forwards; Johnson, center; Penrod and Puffy, guards. Collier and Landon—Deems and Hoffman, forwards; Russell, center; Tate and Tyson, guards. Scoring: field goals—Sharp 1, Klein 2, Johnson 2, Penrod 1, Deems 6, Hoffman 6, Russell 1, Tyson 2. Free throws—Sharp 3, Deems 3. Referee—McClain.

LANDIS APPROVES OF TRANSFER OF BENTON TO CINCINNATI REDS

RUBE BENTON

CINCINNATI, March 9.—Approval of Judge Landis of the transfer of Pitcher Rube Benton from St. Paul to the Cincinnati National League club, was the occasion for much rejoicing among the Red athletes in training at Orlando, Fla. Manager Moran declared he felt confident the club owners of the National League, before whom the matter now goes for approval, would give Benton a clean bill. Judge Landis ruled favorably to the pitcher on a controversy regarding his eligibility, attacked on the grounds that he had prior knowledge of the 1919 world's series scandal. Commissioner Landis said the charges should have been made against the pitcher when the scandal became known and not two years later. He asserted that at no time had charges of dishonest playing been filed against Benton.

GARCIA AND EDDIE ANDERSON IN TEN ROUND GO THURSDAY

CHICAGO, March 9.—Frankie Garcia of Memphis, Tenn., and Eddie Anderson of Moline, Ill., will meet here tonight in a 10-round no-decision boxing match unfettered by the threat of being haled into court for violating the stringent Illinois anti-boxing law because the promoter of their match himself went into court yesterday and obtained an injunction to restrain the law from operating.

JIMMY MURPHY, SPEED CHAMP, WILL DRIVE AS INDIVIDUAL IN FUTURE

LOS ANGELES, March 9.—Jimmy Murphy, 1922 national speed champion, announced he had quit the Cliff Durant automobile racing team and in future races would drive as an individual.

Speaking of "Wonder Coaches" Iowa Isn't Complaining About Coach Sam Barry

BURGITT, Center.

IOWA CITY, March 9.—For a basketball coach to turn out a runner-up, aggregation in his first year is considered a remarkable showing. But for such a coach to turn out a title winner—that's something more.

Sam Barry has done this for Iowa, the team winning the Big Ten championship with 11 victories and no defeats. And when you add to this fact that he had only one veteran on his squad, it's easy to explain why Sam Barry is an idol at Iowa University.

Burgitt, center, and Hicks, captain and guard, are the only men Barry had available from last year's varsity. Laude and Janne have developed into effective scorers. Burgitt, one of the Big Ten's best centers, is in far better form. The work of Hicks and Funk, guards, has been brought to near perfection by Barry—all within one season.

Basketball has become a real major sport at Iowa as a result of the great coaching being made. Attendance has reached the point where the big war armory, which in 1920 was too big to house the basketball team, was the scene of their home games.

This is Barry's first Big Ten team, but not his first basketball team, showing an athletic director at LAUDE, Forward. SAM BARRY, Coach. CAIT, Hicks, Guard.

Knox College he gave the Galois, a large enough team to play in several branches of sport.

BABE RUTH IN GOOD SHAPE, WILL DON UNIFORM THURSDAY

NEW ORLEANS, March 9.—"Babe" Ruth, king of swatters, was declared today to be in great shape by Colonel T. L. Houston, part owner of the New York Yankees, notwithstanding his recent attack of influenza, at Hot Springs.

"Ruth will take things easy for a while," declared the Yankee owner, "and then will get down to real work." The big bantam will probably don a uniform today and go through the limbering up procedure jogging around the baseball park a number of times.

WHITE SOX AND GIANTS ARE AT TRAINING CAMPS

SAN ANTONIO, March 9.—Cloudy weather but sunnier-like warmth greeted the arrival of the Chicago White Sox at their Elgin, Texas, camp today from Meritt, similar weather prevailed when the New York Giants, here in San Antonio, began the field for morning practice.

Only semi-pro ball. Pat says that he has the best arm he ever saw on a catcher, and that's saying a lot for Pat, who has played in several leagues.

Bob Blecher, the husky outfielder, went through a workout with Al White early in the afternoon. Both seem to be in the best of shape. New men are drifting into camp every day and Walter Salm expects to have a large enough team to start spring training in full swing by Monday.

It was announced last night that Paul Mueser, pitcher from Wichita, in the Western League, would not wear a Spudder uniform this season. Salm said that the deal for the big twirler did not go through and negotiations have been called off.

All-Conference Team Picked by "The Battalion"

A. D. Carlton, sporting editor of the Texas A. & M. student publication, "The Battalion," has offered his selection for the 1923 all-conference basketball team, selecting three teams. Carlton has seen all of the conference teams in action this year and his selections have matched up well with the experts in the past. His selections are:

First Team. Dean (Oklahoma A. & M.) forward. Darby (Texas A. & M.) forward. Lyons (Baylor) center. Hull (Texas A. & M.) guard. Robertson (Texas) guard.

Second Team. Peyton (Texas) forward. Jones (M. U.) forward. Keen (Texas A. & M.) center. Washburn (Texas A. & M.) guard. Brooks (S. M. U.) guard.

Third Team. Swartz (Rice) forward. Megarity (Texas A. & M.) forward. Settegast (Texas) center. Matthews (S. M. U.) guard. Williamson (Baylor) guard.

Washington, March 9.—Trimming Detroit will probably be the most interesting thing in the life of Manager Donie Bush of the Washington club this summer. It is a well-known fact that there is no love lost between the former Tiger shortstop and the present Detroit manager. The bad feeling was probably made itself manifest on the ball field this season.

It was Coach who asked for Walter Don Bush. Had it not been for the refusal of the Washington club to waive it is possible that Bush would now be doing service in the minors.

Washington needed a veteran utility infielder, and Bush was secured to fill any gaps that might occur in the infield. Now fate has decreed that he be manager of the club.

Coach has pennant aspirations this year and his club looks to have a chance. Washington doesn't count on a pennant contender but so don't Bush will take great pleasure in seeing his team play its best against the Tigers.

Golf Champion Makes His Debut As Movie Actor

WALTER HAGEN

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., March 9.—Like all champions, Walter Hagen, golfer extraordinary, has gone into the movies.

For the past month Hagen has given up the golf game as a business for that of movie actor. It is generally believed that Hagen's debut into filmdom was to be of an educational nature. The impression prevailed that he would merely show the proper way to make various shots, also the incorrect way, and that the picture would be shown up so that every golf enthusiast would have a chance to help his game.

College coaches in football and boxing have found the movies a great aid in perfecting form. Show motion pictures are made of the game in action, and then the faults pointed out by the pictures are shown on the screen.

There is no reason why such a stunt wouldn't work in golf, particularly with Hagen doing the act. However, it is said that Hagen has been playing the lead in a regular feature picture in which golf plays only a minor part.

CLEVELAND, March 9.—Glenn Myatt, Cleveland's $50,000 catcher, who is suffering with an attack of pneumonia, was added to watch his teammates practice yesterday but will not be able to don a uniform for several days, according to advisers from the training camp at Lakeland, Fla., today.

CLEVELAND CATCHER IMPROVING, ARE TO WATCH PRACTICE NOW

CLEVELAND, March 9.—Glenn Myatt, Cleveland's $50,000 catcher, who is suffering with an attack of pneumonia, was added to watch his teammates practice yesterday but will not be able to don a uniform for several days, according to advisers from the training camp at Lakeland, Fla., today.

DALLAS, March 9.—The Wichita Falls High School tennis team left Thursday night for Waco after taking three defeats at the hands of the Oak Cliff High School team. Rayer in the first match defeated Powers, the Wichita Falls star, in two straight sets, 6-3, 6-2. Haynes, Powers' teammate, lost to May in the second singles match, 6-0, 7-6, 6-3.

In the doubles match the Spudder team started out strong, taking the first set 6-4. The Leopards copied the remaining sets, 6-3, 6-2, however. A high wind hampered the play.

The Wichita Falls team will take on the championship team at Waco Friday and will return here for another series Saturday.

Here's What Country Life Did for Big Babe

Babe Ruth—"As Was" (left) and "As Is."

How about George Herman Ruth? Will Big Babe don the ball all over the American League this season like he did in 1920-21, or will he make a poor showing like he did last season? Will his threatened "tin" attack pull him down? If early condition counts for anything, it looks as though the feathered slugger will again be in shape to reign as "Sultan of Swat." The two pictures of Babe shown above were taken at Hot Springs, Ark., in March—one in 1922 and the other this year. Notice the difference.

Looks like the quiet winter on the farm communing with the kine and poultry has it all over Babe's 1921-22 winter, with the bright lights of vaudeville as his guideposts. And don't think, when you recall Babe Ruth's 118 hitting average in the last world series, it's not being barnstorming and hasn't the big suspension bandage of last year to agree with before he goes out to beat his 1921 record of 29 home runs.

Jap Kids Never Tire Of Playing Baseball; Game Lasts All Day

By WAITE HOYT
New York American Pitcher and World Series Hero

The thing that interested me most on the entire trip were the Japanese youngsters. I was much interested in seeing the attitude they took toward the game. The kids are for it strong.

The Jap youngsters seem tireless. They start playing early in the morning and keep going until dark. At Yokohama there is a big recreation park for the youngsters, where baseball gets a great play. About 10 one morning I dropped by and watched a kid game for a half hour or so. Several of the youngsters had certain styles that impressed me and one chap was a bit of a clown.

Late in the afternoon I again passed by, and the game was still in progress. The runs were well up in the hundreds. That sort of spirit speaks well for the future of baseball in Japan.

The popularity and growth of baseball rests with the youngsters. That being the case, Japan is certain to prosper.

The Japs are progressive. They combine educational features with their baseball.

The youngsters play with a ball similar to our tennis ball, only a trifle larger. On every ball is an educational feature. Some of the balls have a map of the world in color printed on the cover, others have the alphabet, and so on. A series of educational features go with every ball game.

While our trip abroad proved the Japs still had a long way to go to reach our standard of play, still it must be admitted they are making rapid progress.

The youngsters watched our every move on the field closely, and the next day we could see some of the kids copying to imitate some outstanding characteristics of the American players.

HO, HUM, THAT SIX DAY BIKE RACE IS NEARING FINAL LAP

NEW YORK, March 9.—The six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden neared its final stage today with seven teams in a pack for the lead.

Shortly after midnight the long deadlock was broken and six teams broke away from the field, gaining a full lap. Before dawn the Baynes brothers, aggregation, which had been left behind, started a hot sprint and regained lost ground, riding on even terms with the leaders.

At 8:46 a. m., the 164th hour, 1523 miles and six laps had been pedaled by the leaders. The record for the 164th hour is 2651 miles and five laps.

Helen Wills Next National Champion Richards Says; Crowd-Shy Her Only Fault

HELEN WILLS

BY VINCENT RICHARDS
Helen Wills, diminutive California miss, looms up upon the tennis scene as the favorite to win the world's title-holder, Miss Lenglen, in the next two or three years.

Her matches last summer against our own national champion, Mrs. Mallory, proved beyond a doubt that the little girl from the far west has the makings of a coming world's champion.

I will never forget the match that Helen played against the famous Molla at Boston last summer in the final round of the Massachusetts state championship.

Miss Wills won the first set from the invincible Molla with little or no effort and was well on her way to her first victory over the Norwegian girl when the latter staged one of her famous rallies and after a heart-breaking game captured the set.

Molla's experience stood her in good stead during this match for she was outplayed in every stage of the game by the little coast marvel.

The great fighting qualities that the national champion has always been noted for, finally won her the third and deciding set.

Miss Wills played Mrs. Mallory three times during the past season, and although she failed to register one victory out of the three attempts, she nevertheless had won a set from the champion in every one of the matches that they have played.

As yet Helen Wills is "crowd-shy." This simple little statement is what is holding the California girl from being the national champion.

How long she will take to lose this handicap is of course problematical. It may be a year or it may be five, but when she does lose it she will be supreme on the courts for a long spell.

Her strokes at the present time are far above any of the other female players. They are even better than Miss Lenglen's, who perhaps is considered the greatest stylist in the game today. Her court strategy is unique for one so young. She has the tennis instinct of the genius.

This is why I predict with absolute confidence that Miss Helen Wills will be the national champion within two years.

Collier-Landon Plays Archer City Hi Here Saturday

One of the fastest basketball bantams that has been on the program here since the Coyotes ended their season, is billed for Saturday night at the Legion hall when the Collier and Landon team will take on the Archer City basketball five. The game will start at 8:00 p. m.

Buddie Tanner, coach of the Collier and Landon crew, arranged the trip in order to have his five in the best of trim for the City League play-off next week.

LADY ASTOR URGES PROHIBITION BILL HOUSE COMMONS

WOULD PROHIBIT SALE TO YOUTHS UNDER 18 YEARS OF AGE.

INCREASE AGE LIMIT, FOURTEEN YEARS NOW

Address, Repeals, With Writings, Which Frequently Amuse the House.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, March 9.—Lady Astor, moving in the house of commons today the second reading of her bill prohibiting the sale of intoxicants to youths under 18 for consumption on the premises, delivered an address replete with witticisms to an attentive and frequently amused house.

"The bill, she declared, was designed to protect adolescents—their health, self-control and powers of resistance—and remove boys and girls from the environs of the public house. It was already illegal, she pointed out, to sell liquor to those under 14, and her bill merely changed the age limit because it was generally recognized that people were still youths at 14."

"A boy is a child up to 14," she declared. "You men are children, and we women love you because you are children."

She declared the bill was not in any sense her bill as Lord Bryce had introduced it two years ago. It was supported by teachers and behind them were all organized women, the heads of the great schools, the chief medical authorities and the churches. The medical men of all countries, she said, were agreed as to the danger of alcohol during the period of adolescence.

Regarding the suggestion that the act should apply to only one sex, Lady Astor declared her discrimination in this subject should not be tolerated. She wanted to give "the spirit and not the spirit's chance."

"A great deal has been heard about what America has done," remarked Lady Astor. "But I never heard much about the dominions, all of which had such measures as this. If they could do this, England ought not to lag behind. There also were similar measures in Sweden, Norway and Poland and she thought in France."

If the bill was a little hard on the few, added its proponent, so was all legislation. The people of this country were used to rationing and it only was necessary to put a high price on them."

Lady Astor ended her speech with a succinct danger to the bill be passed for the benefit of "our glorious, adventurous youth, which who mightily led and guided, is most inspiring, but when wrongly led is most harmful."

Walter Greaves-Lord, conservative member for the North Devon division of Lambeth, moved the rejection of the bill, declaring it was merely an entering wedge for absolute prohibition.

Colonel Martin Archer-Shee, a conservative, in opposing the bill declared it was his belief that the movement was largely supported by American money. This brought murmurs of dissent from the house. He also asserted that crime had increased enormously in the United States since prohibition was put into effect.

WACO, March 9.—That there is a conflict between the United States internal revenue law and the Volstead act was the effect of a ruling this morning by Judge Duval West in the United States district court here.

A. C. Reed, John Scott and Charles Williams were on trial charged with violating the national prohibition act and the internal revenue laws under the Volstead act. The United States district attorney John D. Hartman excepted to the court's ruling and gave notice of appeal to the U. S. circuit court of appeals. The district attorney dismissed all counts in the indictments involving violation of the national prohibition act.

This is said to be the first test case made of the apparent conflict between the internal revenue laws and the Volstead act involving illicit distilling.

POSTPONE HEARING ON MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL SACCO-VENZETTI CASE

DEBHAM, MASS., March 9.—Hearing of motions for a new trial in the case of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, convicted of the killing of a paymaster and his guard three years ago, was postponed today until next Friday at the request of counsel for the defense.

Judge Webster Thayer had refused to rule on the admissibility of an affidavit by John J. McNamee of defense counsel, explaining the court was without adequate information and asked counsel to proceed on other points. The defense attorneys, however, said they were not prepared to go ahead and asked a week's delay.

When Judge Thayer asked for the postponement, he on the request for delay, Vanetti agreed promptly, but Sacco protested. The latter is now on his 33rd day of a hunger strike, which he began by refusing to eat. He was intended to expedite the proceedings. "I want to eat," he explained, Vanetti and defense counsel after a long talk prevailed on him to consent to postponement.

COTTON CONTRACT BASIS OF SET NOW ON TRIAL

Judge E. W. Napier of the 7th District Court was engaged Friday in the trial of the case of George Finberg Co. against J. R. Jamieson on a cotton contract. Judgment is asked in the sum of $12,500. The case was a non-jury one and is being tried before the court.

A. A. U. BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT STARTS AT DALLAS FRIDAY

DALLAS, March 9.—With some of the fastest, independent teams in the state entered, the open A. A. U. basketball championship, southern division, was to be decided on local floors today and tomorrow.

Last year's winner, the Cullem-Boren team, playing this season as the Stickle Lumber Company, is entered with its old combination practically intact. Other favorites include Union Canning Company of Lindale, which twice this season has defeated Stickle. The Good Gulf team from Port Arthur is contended to be one of the strongest contenders by the south Texas contingent.

Today's schedule, first round at 8 p. m. U. m. Union Canning Company vs. Dallas Playgrounds, 4 p. m. Good Gulf of Port Arthur vs. F. H. H. Club, 8 p. m. At North Dallas high: E. M. U. vs. Grubbs at 2:30 p. m. Huey and Phillips vs. Houston Triangles, 5 p. m. At Y. M. C. A. gym: Central Congregational vs. Sun Oil, 3:30 p. m. Central Baptist vs. Trinity Park, 6:30 p. m. At Forest Avenue high: Stickle Lumber vs. Summit Park, 5 p. m. The second round is scheduled to start at 8 p. m. on the various floors.

American Women Reach Semi-Finals Mentone Tourney

MENTONE, March 9.—Mrs. Mollie Burdett Mallory and Miss Blake, the American pair, defeated Miss Evans and Mrs. Foster of England today in the women's doubles of the Mentone lawn tennis tournament, thus reaching the semi-finals in this event.

The score was 6-1, 6-0. Suzanne Lenglen, the French girl who holds the world's title, reached the finals in the women's singles by defeating Mrs. Watterworth of England in two straight sets without losing a game.

In the other singles semi-finals match, Miss Kathleen McKane of England, won from Miss Elizabeth Ryan, formerly of California, after a hard struggle by a score of 7-5, 2-6, 6-2.

Unique Stunt Is Staged to Help "Buy at Home"

In an effort to show that it is wise to "buy at home" because of the importance of knowing with whom one is dealing, an unique demonstration was staged at the business council luncheon at the Kemp Friday, under auspices of the publicity committee of the chamber of commerce.

In the presence of the members, and with the sheriff as onlooker, Reed Fritz prepared two bottles of liquor, put on apparently genuine labels and seals and passed the product around for visual inspection. If any of those present could detect any difference between the bottles and the genuine, it was not disclosed.

This demonstration was staged to show that when you buy at home you know with whom you are dealing. P. A. Rogers, chairman of the publicity committee, said at the close of the experiments. "The point is to know your merchant rather than his label."

Salm in Sherman After Exhibition Game for March 17

Manager Walter Salm of the Spudders was in Sherman Friday in an effort to secure a game for March 17, the first exhibition date of the program.

Salm has tried several clubs to fill this date, but has not been successful so far. It is thought that the Sherman club will accept the invitation to open the Spudders exhibition title.

Salm will be back in Wichita Saturday morning, according to the reports.
