A resider anything above two, A re-port that 75 house members had signed a petition asking the house signed a petition asking the house conferees to accept the senate figure was promptly countered by another petition bearing $4 signatures urging the conferees to refuse anything below three percent. It is probable, however, that if the conferees could get together on two and one-half per cent, it would be accepted at both ends of the capitol.

finte Frison Survey.

There developed in the senate strong opposition to the concurrent resolution originating in the house resolution originating in the house for a survey of the prison system under supervision of the Texas division of the national association of prison reform, although the survey is to be made without cost to the state. It finally was adopted by the senate, towaver, and is now up to the governor. Members of the prison commission and of the citizens' committee working with the legislative committee in finding a solution for the penitentiary problems opposed the resolution problems opposed the resolution and survey, which had the backing not only of the prison reform as-sociation, but of the women and many penological experts of the

A long fight was precipitated Saturday night over a bill to send a commissioner to represent Texas a commissioner to represent Texas in the interstate dispute over the waters of the Pecos river, which has been given over to a commission including representatives from New Mexico, Texas and the federal government. The opposition was predicated on the $5,000 item to pay the Texas commissioners expenses and the work of securing engineering data necessary for presentation and the work of securing engineering data necessary for presentation of Texas' side of the dispute. Robert E. Thomason of El Paso has been appointed to represent Texas.
The bill was engrossed by a subatantial majority which, however, was not sufficient to suspend the

Wallace, in a statement issued today, expresses the belief that it will have a stabilizing effect on industry generally. This statement results from a careful analysis of the bill made by the secretary and he has already takthe secretary and he has already taken steps to put the credit machinery, thereby provided into operation.

Discussing the bill at length Secretary Wallace says:
"On the last day it was in session congress enacted the agricultural credits act. This act is designed to give the farmer the sort of credit he needs to produce efficiently and market in an orderly way the products of the farm. It is an effort by congress to meet a need which has been felt for at least fifty years. The act may not be perfect. Quite possibly experience will show the need of amendments from time to time. But it furnishes the basis for a system.

Divided Into Twe Parts.

The act is divided into two parts.
In the first, it provides government agencies for handling agricultural loans. In the second it authorises the organization of private agencies under overnment supervision for making are to be elected by the borrowent cans on live-stock security and on from the bank and three are to be appointed by the federal farm loan but the federal farm loan bu

Speaks for Property Owners:
Judge A. H. Carrigan, spokesman for the other property owners on the block, took the floor in behalf of the proposed paving. He was followed by J. A. Richolt, A. Zundelowits and other property owners in that section who favored the pavement. It was stated that the majority of the property owners in the 1000 block on Austin had agreed to pake. This assertion removed a portion of Mr. Hodges objection since he argued that the pavement "started nowhere and lead nowhere."

Mr. Hodges spoke at length on his reasons for opposing the paving. He contended that he had not been consulted as to the kind of paving to be taid and that the proposed paving would call for an unsured and an ordinance ordered drawn calling for the appropriations. The charter calls for the appropriation of the budget but the ordinance will not be voted on until the charter calls for the appropriation of the fitter the election, one week after the election, one week after the charter calls for the proval for the appropriation of the fitter the election, or the fitter

In her own words, the history of her case was as follows:

"I was very weak. Was for 3 years no good to myself or anyone else. I just dragged around. It was a sight how thin I got. I had weak trembles all the time. My . . . stopped 3 or 4 months.

"One day I decided I would try Cardul, which I did. I took about 15 bottles right straight along. Now this was in 1919, and I have not had any return of this trouble. I am feeling fine. I gained from 90 to 154 pounds, and I will say a good word for Cardul whenever I can."

A medicine that will relieve such troubles as Mrs. Peltrey had, is surely worth trying by those who suffer as she did. Many other symptoms, due to such troubles, have also been relieved by the use of this well-known remedy. Pull descriptions of many such cases are given in our "Cardui Home Treatment Book", for women, a copy of which we will mail free to any lady, on request. bring a tear here and there as the scenes are sevened; a film that is as a trong a sermon as was ever preached, yet without an altogether religious plot, a leason that will not soon be forgotten by those who witness the production.

Such is the impression made by "The Little Church Around the Corner," showing, for the first three reays this week. While the producers feature Claire Windsog as the star, and she meets the exacting role in a spiesdid way, the cast contains a quartet of real actors, three others whose work stands out among the high lights of the picture. These are Kenneth Harian as David Graham, the young minister; Hobert, Bosworth as the mine operator and minister; Hobert Bosworth as the mine operator, and Pauline Starke as the dumb girl. All four characters are wonderfully presented, but one cannot but especially admire the great work of Miss Starke in the role in which she is cast.

Firpo Joins List of Title Contenders by K. O. Over Brennan

NEW YORK, March 13.—Luis ability and ring generalship, Firpo Firpo, a giant in fighting mold, was established today in the front rank of heavyweight title contenders. The hig man from the Argen-tine last night hurdled the first obstacte in the path tending to a match with Jack Dempsey, the champion, when he knocked out Bill Brensan, scarred veteran of the ring, in the 12th round of a spectacular 15 Madison Square Garden.

Bewildered by a steady flow of blood from a gash over his left eye, and held at hay by Brennan's crafty defensive ability and ring generalship, the South American staged a furious comehack in the twelfth round to end the bout with dramatic suddenness. A series of sharp right uppercuts, none of which traveled more than mix which traveled more than six inches but landed with smashing force, drove Brennan to cover and two sledge hammer thrusts to the head sprawled him on the canvas for the count of ten.

It was the third time in his long and embattled career that the Chi-

Firpo started impressively, displaying unexpected fast footwork and outfighting Brennan by a substantial margin in the first four rounds. It looked like a quick finish until when Brennan opened a gash over his opponent's left eye that appeared to worry him.

The Chicagoan punished Firps at close quarters in the next few rounds and opened up with a freely eleventh sessions, jabbing Firpe about the head and blocking most of his rival's counter efforts. Us-daunted, however, Firpo came back in the next round to batter his way to victory.

The South American's next esgagement, according to Promoter Tex Rickard, is likely to be against the winner of the Floyd Johnson-Jess Willard, match scheduled to take place at the Yankee stadium 12 with the probability that the winner will meet Dempsey.

MAYOR MOAN

Even styles in mayors are changing.
When national or sectional bowling meets open in a city it is customary for the mayor to don his sille hat, stratt gingerly onto the alleys, and start things by rolling a ball into the gutter.

Diagral receives $10,000 per year, ngton matate he selected Diegel.
Diagel receives $10,000 per year and all expenses while on the road. Since McLean travels widely, Diegel dobant spand much on expenses at home. At present McLean is wintering at Paim Beach, and Diegel of course, is among those present. In addition to his regular salary, Diegal also picks up many extrably taking part in prefessional tournaments. Usually Mr. McLean has a tidy bet down on him, and the agreement is that he gets half of the winnings.

Billy Evans Says

Major league managers now look n the small town for spring training purposes with a great deal more favor than they did five years ago.

Once upon a time most of the major league clubs selected one of the larger cities in the south for maining quarters. Often the selecm was made more for the finan-I possibilities than the training

In the last five years there has been a decided change in the view point of managers and club owners on this question. Several months ge a certain National League clut such a place. I was rather sur-prized because I was familiar with the place and knew it had little than climate to offer.

At the meeting of the National League magnates in New, York I bumped into the manager who had selected the city in question. I him the big reason, after I had told him that entside of climate I didn't know a thing the climate I didn't new a thing the city had to offer

During the first two or three weeks that is all I want—climate. The less society, the less life a town has the better I am satisfied. I don't fret if the place hasn't even a movie show. The players are there to condition themselves, and through the medium of baseball is the only way that it can be accomplished.

Too much ecclety, too much life tends to retard a ball club rather than help it. Give me a town that has no race tracks, no night life, but plenty of real climate and a goo ball park and I am contented. I like the movies and have no objec-tion to the player killing a couple of hours each evening in such a di-

"In the spring training I want my players to live baseball, talk it off the field and play it on the field. Too many clubs forget baseball the ent the game is over.

It has been preved that two big gue clubs after a couple of his conditioning can make much a money by playing games in ig cities on the way north than making some big city mining camp and playing all
