Discovery of Hudson River to Be Celebrated PARADE TO ALBANY Occurs in 1909 When Fulton's Navigation of Stream Will Also Be Remembered

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, June 14.—Plans for the celebration of the three hundredth anniversary of Henry Hudson's exploration of the river which bears his name and the one hundredth anniversary of the first successful navigation of the river by steam by Robert Fulton took tangible shape yesterday at a meeting of the Hudson-Fulton celebration executive committee, presided over by General Stewart Woodford, the chairman. It was decided the celebration should take place the week beginning Sept. 20, 1909, and that instead of a temporary "world's fair," there shall be dedicated monumental works of lasting benefit to the people.

STATE OFFICIALS ESCAPE ARREST

Absence of Judge Calhoun Prevents Commitment

Special to The Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, June 14.—Comptroller Stephens and State Treasurer Robbins did not go to jail this afternoon at 2 o'clock for failure to turn over funds in the treasury to the credit of the Colonial Security Company, Tontine Loan and Trust Company and Southern Mutual Investment Company growing out of the receivership case of J. F. Salisbury against the Colonial Security Company et al. in accordance with the order of Judge Calhoun of the Fifty-third district court, issued yesterday afternoon requiring that these officials be committed to jail until they attend a barbeque. When he returns and finds that the order has not been complied with then the commitments will be issued ordering Stephens and Robbins to appear before the bar of the court and show why they should not be held in contempt.

DEATH COMES TO PRESIDENT'S UNCLE

Robert Roosevelt Dies After Long, Useful Career

By Associated Press. SAYVILLE, N. J., June 14.—Robert B. Roosevelt, uncle of the President, died here early today. He had been ill for several months. Mr. Roosevelt was 76 years of age. He was a lifelong democrat. Educated for law, he practiced his profession in New York City for more than twenty years, retiring in 1871 to devote himself to literature and statesmanship. He was editor of the New York Citizen for several years, alderman for the city of New York, member of congress, 1873-75, chairman of the executive committee of 1870 in the fight against the Tweed ring; United States minister to The Netherlands, 1888-90, and treasurer of the democratic national committee at the time of Cleveland's second election.

BODIES ON TRACK ALL NIGHT

To a Telegram reporter Thursday afternoon, Robert Irwin stated that he had talked with the engineer of the Santa Fe freight train which is supposed to have run over the two men, when the train passed through Fort Worth early Thursday morning. Mr. Irwin says the engineer told him that as the train was coming down the hill he had seen one body on the track, and only one, and that he had not seen the other train in time to prevent passing over it. The theory of the officers, in view of the statement of the engineer, is that both bodies were pushed on the track some time Wednesday night, and that one had been thrown from the track by another train some time during the night.

INSANE FROM DISASTER

Frisco Earthquake Causes Man to Lose His Mind

NEW YORK, June 14.—Application was made in the supreme court, Brooklyn, yesterday, to have Ralph A. Clarke, a victim of the San Francisco disaster, declared insane and a commission appointed for his person. It is asserted that the scenes in San Francisco after the earthquake have affected his mind. He was there in business and his home was destroyed. He is now in the Broadway Central hotel under the care of a physician. He has, it was said, about $50,000 in personal property.

HONEST GRAFT THE BONE OF POLITICS

Mayor McClellan in Address Upholds Jerome

By Associated Press. SCHENECTADY, N. Y., June 14.—Speaking from the topic, "The Profession of Politics," at the commencement exercises at Union College yesterday, Mayor George B. McClellan of New York said that he wished it to be understood by "the profession of politics" he did not mean "the trade of politics." "There was no occupation more ignoble, more sordid, more despicable than the trade of politics. There was none more inspiring, more capable of good than its profession.

Besides the foregoing in the pocket of one of the bodies were several newspaper clippings regarding Logan and Black, the notorious train robbers and highwaymen.

NO INQUEST VERDICT

No verdict has been rendered by Justice Rowland, as he has been unable to get the testimony of the crew of the Santa Fe train supposed to have passed over the bodies as they proceeded on their run to Cleburne. Their evidence will be secured Friday, and it will no doubt throw light on the affair.

"I am satisfied," said Sheriff Honea, "that murder is at the bottom of the whole affair. I have already in my possession evidence that creates this belief, and I am after more, and will be glad to hear from any one who knows the dead men and their associates. The bullet hole in the body of Bishop points to murder and the three hats found near the bodies shows that there were other men at the killing. Who were they, and where are they? That is an important link in the chain of evidence."

UNSKILLED LABOR IN GREAT DEMAND

Employment Agencies Cannot Get Men Enough

FEW FOR WHEAT FIELDS

Harvest Is Big But Unfavorable Rates Are Said to Keep Workmen Away From Fields

There has been no movement of harvest hands to the Panhandle wheat fields so far as the railway ticket sales show, though the demand is great and urgent. Explaining this, the employment bureau people assert that the trouble is due to the fact that the railroads are not making special harvest hand rates this year as they did several years ago. The railroad passenger men say there are abundant reasons why they are not. But the demand for other unskilled labor is great and some of the employment agencies cannot supply the demands on them for extra steel gang men, men to work on yard improvements and the general run of laborers who are needed for railroad improvements and extensions.

While he has no monopoly of the business and is merely quoted as a type, the following figures, furnished by B. B. Bowen, give a fair example of the great demand for labor of this kind. On Wednesday morning, June 8, sixteen negroes to Seymour on the order of Mr. Hawkins, four and a half miles from Seymour, who has a little farm of over 200 acres, where 700 are in cotton and 300 in wheat. The men sent Wednesday were all cotton choppers. Mr. Bowen has also an order for fifty more men from Mr. Hawkins, cotton men and wheat harvesters.

To J. W. Ryan, extra steel gang foreman who is working on the Denning Road track improvements, were shipped fifteen men Wednesday, to Alford, and he wants fifty more. Foreman Ryan is working out lengthening the road, relating the work where necessary and, where the sidings are not double enders, making them double enders so they virtually become passing tracks. His work is from Alford to Texline.

The Frisco has given Mr. Bowen an almost unlimited order. For several days he has been shipping daily from fifteen to twenty men to Sapulpa and other points in Oklahoma and the Indian Territory and the Frisco still wants about 500 more men.

He also sent his bookkeeper down to Houston Wednesday evening to bring to Fort Worth thirty Mexican railroaders to work on the Houston and Texas Central yard improvement at Fort Worth.

There are two other railroad employment agencies in the city and both of them have on their books an un-supplied demand for labor.

There is a negro who is said to scold up men where most needed more negro cotton hands than all of the white agencies combined.

"He is a jewel," says the other agency people, "and he needs a more persuasive tongue woe the colored cotton hand or possible cotton hand to go his way."

It was questioned that there is a great and, it may be said, a very great demand for unskilled labor, especially that which will work on tracks laying and what might be called railroad section work.

BERGMAN HEADS

RETAIL GROCER

Association Elects Fort Worth Man President

Special to The Telegram.

DENISON, Texas, June 14.—The sixth annual convention of the Retail Grocers' Association closed last evening with a grand banquet at Wood-lake Casino. The election of officers took place yesterday afternoon and also the selection of the place of the next meeting.

All the grocery houses closed at noon yesterday. The entertainment at the opera house Tuesday night was pronounced the event of the season. At the Elks' Club a drummer from Chicago was the master of ceremonies at a bodger fight.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, Max Bergman of Fort Worth, unanimous; George L. Smucher, Dallas, first vice president; A. L. Jones, Denison, second vice president; W. G. Giddings, Ennis, third vice president; J. G. Burney, Austin, secretary and treasurer.

Austin was unanimously chosen for the next place of meeting.

Resolutions of thanks were passed in honor of President James H. Riley of Waco. J. G. Burney of Austin spoke on "Too Great a Desire to Increase the Volume of Business."

Resolutions were passed, first, denouncing the coal and oil law and post check currency; second, denouncing the system of manufacturers fixing a bonus to drummers; third, condemning and denouncing one prominent firm and its manner of advertising, and directed that a copy of the resolutions be sent to that firm; fourth, to support an amendment to the Heyburn bill that all goods be branded what they are; fifth, to express an opinion on the occupation tax law; sixth, that merchants take more care in regard to weights and brands of shipments, and seventh, to express a pure food law to protect both grocer and consumer.

The grocers also resolved to refer to the directors the question of having reported the national convention in Dallas in January. "Pay Day at the Hurry Up Grocery," under direction of A. L. Jones of Denison.

A band concert and banquet was given at Woodlake park in honor of the delegates and visitors. Four hundred plates were laid.

CAMPBELL SCORES

FINING OF TRUSTS

Gubernatorial Candidate Busy Pushing Campaign

Special to The Telegram.

FARMERSVILLE, Texas, June 14.—T. M. Campbell, candidate for governor, addressed a large audience in the city hall Wednesday. The speaker was introduced by Rev. A. J. Fawcett. Mr. Campbell began his speech by saying that he based his hopes of success upon his advocacy of principles and policies that were fundamental, and which, if carried out, would result in good government and inure to the best interests of the people. That he would rather be right and fail, than to be wrong and triumph.

He denounced the "fining" of trusts as a humbug and a fraud, holding that same was, in reality, nothing more than a "license" to do business in the state and that the trusts would immediately raise prices, collect the fine from the people and go on at their business.

Colquitt at Pilot Point

Special to The Telegram.

PILOT POINT, Texas, June 14.—O. B. Colquitt addressed a fair sized audience in the Knights of Pythias hall here Tuesday night. He deplored the lack of interest being manifested by the common people in politics and attributed most of the ills of the body politic to this fact. He then paid his respects to the various opposing candidates, showing especial zeal in his remarks directed toward C. K. Bell to having recovered large sums for the state in his anti-trust suits. His proposed tax law was dwelt upon at length, and he expressed his opposition to corporation trusts, the free pass and nepotism and wound up with a declaration of his opposition to the abruptness of the Houston differential on cotton.

Brooks at Wills Point

Special to The Telegram.

WILLS POINT, Texas, June 14.—M. M. Brooks addressed the citizens of this community Wednesday afternoon in the interest of his candidacy for governor. He endorsed Love and Williams in their efforts to abolish the occupation tax and spoke for enforcement of all law, stating that, if elected, he would use every means to see that all were properly enforced.

BRIDGE REBUILT

Burned Section of Draw at Galveston Repaired with Promptness

Special to The Telegram.

GALVESTON, Texas, June 14.—The burned portion of the Bay bridge was repaired and ready for operation at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning, when the first train was run over the newly repaired section north of the draw. It was a hard day's work for the railroad officials and 150 men, but they did excellent work.

The regular train schedules were resumed and all the outgoing and incoming trains arrived and departed as usual.

The experience has been a costly one for the railroads and no doubt they will profit by it. It demonstrated the danger of coal-burning engines, and while thousands of such engines have crossed this trestle in the course of these many years without ever having fired the bridge, yesterday's accident shows the possibilities and dangers of such a risk. The railroads also realize how helpless they are to combat the flames after they get a start and the unpreparedness for protecting the property from fire.

It is understood that the roads, or strictly speaking the Santa Fe, will make some provision for a closer inspection of the bridge to watch for fires and will provide ample means for fighting fires when discovered.

ALL HAIL PE-RU-NA.

A Case of STOMACH CATARRH.

Miss Mary O'Brien, 806 Myrtle Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "Peruna cured me in five weeks of catarrh of the stomach, after suffering for four years and doctoring without effect. In common with other grateful ones who have been benefited by your discovery, I say, All hail to Peruna."

Mr. H. J. Henneman, Oakland, Neb., writes: "I waited before writing to you about my sickness, catarrh of the stomach, which I had over a year ago. "There were people who told me it would not stay-cured, but I am sure that I am cured, for I do not feel any more ill effects, have a good appetite and am getting fat. "So I am, and will say to all, I am cured for good. "I thank you for your kindness. "Peruna will be our house medicine hereafter."

Catarrh of the stomach is also known in common parlance as dyspepsia, gastritis and indigestion. No medicine will be of any permanent benefit except it removes the catarrh.

A Great Tonic.

Mr. Anstin M. Small, Astoria, Ore., writes: "During the hot weather of the past summer I lost my appetite. I tried Peruna, and found it pleasant to take, a splendid appetizer and a great tonic."

Palestine Aldermen Pass Lie in Riotous Meeting

PALESTINE, Texas, June 14.—The regular monthly meeting of the city council was held Monday night and proved a very warm session.

Various petitions were read from citizens, all claiming grievances. Alderman Caldwell wanted the city to bring suit against the waterworks company to compel it to forfeit its charter for non-compliance with the contract, alleging that the whole body of physicians were in league with the water company to furnish unhealthy water to citizens.

Lie Passed

This precipitated a furious debate, and every councilman was on his feet and pandemonium reigned.

The lie was passed and Mayor Bowers was forced to stand upon the point to arrest some of the aldermen before order could be restored. The council adjourned shortly after midnight.

DOWIE IN COURT

Prophet Tells How He Built Up Big City

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 14.—John Alexander Dowie took the witness stand yesterday before Judge Landis in the suit brought to establish the ownership of Zion City. Dowie's first testimony related to the difficulty experienced in getting expert lace makers from England into the United States. He then recounted the course pursued in securing other industries for Zion City. Dowie's testimony during the afternoon session of the court related chiefly to the establishing of Zion City Bank and to the forming and building up of educational institutions at Zion City. The capital bank of the bank, said Dowie, was everything he had in the world. No one had any interest in the bank except himself, he said, and no one had authority to interfere in the conduct of the affair.

"Tell what you did in building up education," said Attorney Haley.

"Say that I gave my life, efforts, money and everything to it, and you have it," replied Dowie.

"I built up this city and the faculty and I was proud of the faculty. They all were loyal."

The hearing will be continued today.

T. & P. BUSY GRADING

Large Force of Men Cutting Down Manchester Hill

Contractor Briggance is at work with a big force of men and teams cutting down Manchester Hill on the Texas and Pacific near Polytechnic Heights, so as to make the grade conform to the double track grade that now extends from Jimtown or Sycamore creek to Handley, a distance of five miles. From the end of the Texas and Pacific yards to Sycamore creek, it is just one mile, and when that mile is virtually double tracked with sidings, there will be a continuous double track to Arlington, with the exception of a short gap that will soon be filled.

The rails on the new track between Sycamore and Handley have already been laid, but that part of the line is not being used as a double track yet, except for siding purposes, but when the second track is completed west from Sycamore to the Fort Worth yards, there will be something done on a double-track basis.

NEW TRAIN POPULAR

People Along Denver Patronize Quannah Local

The new local train service on the Fort Worth and Denver between Fort Worth and Quannah, which was started Sunday, is working most satisfactorily, and the short train has already become the popular train for local travel, but it is serving to popularize the through train, as it relieves the travel on the line between Fort Worth and Quannah.

The two trains leave the Texas and Pacific passenger station only one hour apart, the through train for Denver leaving at 8:45 a. m. and the Quannah local leaving at 9:45 a. m. Already the business on the local is fully up to what was expected, and the public becomes accustomed to the change, the business is expected to increase when additional coaches will be added as required.

TEMPLE TO CELEBRATE

Twenty-fifth Anniversary of Town Will Be Observed With Picnic

TEMPLE, Texas, June 14.—A meeting was held last night of the joint committee representing the various fraternal organizations of the city, the object being to perfect arrangements for the monster picnic to be given in Temple on June 28, in commemoration of the city's twenty-fifth anniversary. The committee decided itself determined to prepare a celebration that would put all previous efforts in the shade.

Various committees were appointed to look after the details of the work, and much progress was reported by committees already at work. A barbecue, baseball game, music by several bands, firemen's contests, athletic exhibitions of all kinds, political speaking and every conceivable form of amusement will be provided.

Dr. Gillette Given Permission to Inspect Own Testimony

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Dr. Walter R. Gillette, one of the former vice presidents of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, who was indicted recently, applied yesterday through counsel to inspect the minutes of the special insurance grand jury in connection with the investigation leading up to the indictments against him.

District Attorney Jerome, following a precedent set by Supreme Court Justice Kennefick in the Hummel case, went before Justice Scott in the criminal branch of the supreme court and said that he did not object to Dr. Gillette's being permitted to inspect the record of his own testimony before the special grand jury. Justice Scott so ordered, and added that this should not in any way interfere with the right of the defendant to renew his motion for an inspection of the grand jury minutes as a whole. Each of the six indictments found against Dr. Gillette gives the defendant as one of the witnesses.

Henry Jones Arrested in June, 1905, and June, 1906

After chasing a negro man between eight and nine blocks from the furniture store at 110 Houston street Thursday afternoon, W. M. Hubbard, assisted by several young men and boys, tied the negro with a rope and held him until the arrival of the patrol wagon, which conveyed the man to police headquarters.

Henry Jones, a negro man giving his age as 23 years, was placed in the city prison on the charge of theft.

In 1905, Henry Jones was arrested by Policeman Tom Snow, charged with theft. He was transferred to the Tarrant county authorities and given a year on the county road and $100 fine. He has been off of the county road only a short time when arrested Thursday afternoon.

ANNUAL OFFICIAL REPORT IS READ
Calanthe Order Session at Colored I. O. O. F. Hall

Following is the official report of the session of the Independent Order of Calanthe, which is holding its convention at the Colored Old Fellows' hall, Thirteenth street and Jennings street.

Fort Worth, Texas, June 12, 1906.

The Grand Court of Calanthe opened its second day's session in ritualistic form with the G. W. C., Mrs. A. D. Key, presiding.

The minutes were read and with corrections received. Roll was called and forty-two representatives were present.

After some discussion, the committee bearing greetings from the grand lodge Knights of Calanthe was received and ordered read upon the minutes.

The G. W. C. read his annual report, a part of which is as follows:

Fourth Annual Report of G. W. C. W. D. D. G. W. C. Grand Officers, Representatives and Members of the Grand Court of the I. O. O. F. in the Jurisdiction of Texas and under the Supreme Jurisdiction of N. A., S. A., A. A. and A. Greeting:

I hardly deem it necessary to point out the picture in words of the joy and gladness which fills my heart in being permitted to meet with the dear sisters and brothers of our noble order, and delivering your report, for, in your report for this moment, you have said you can plainly see the picture there. Although some who are with us this year have never met us before, yet I feel that wherever there is a true Calanthe sister or brother, there I have a friend, whether near or old in the order.

My heart abounds with unparadonable pride when I look back and see that only a few brief days our order has been in existence, and to swell the number as it has been.

You will pardon our vanity if we would intimate that our order is one of the best and most prosperous organizations that exist in the broad domain of secret organizations. Well, we feel proud when we have some of the best, most Christian-like, intelligent, amiable, moral ladies and gentlemen with us that can be found in any order. Just think, only about forty years ago, I might say our race lay dormant in the light that we could never anticipate being anything except a mass of wood and drawers of water.

However, we may now turn back one leaf in the page of history and see from whence we came and whither we have thus far gone. Have not we been faithful to the most omniscient, potent Saviour who has shown us His merciful mercy, thrown off the shackles of slavery and degradation, to where we now stand in this august assembly of enlightenment where we would not be ashamed for any race or people to come to our contact?

Words are inadequate for me to express my love and pride in my heart for you, my dear Calanthe, and I would one thousand tongues I could say more than is shown in my report, that I sincerely trust you may be able to prove yourselves worthy of the trust reposed in you, and may watch word ever be, Grand Old Calanthe, Virtue, Truth and Love.

Yours in F. H. and L.
 A. D. KEY, G. W. C.

After which the G. W. L. Mrs. Key read a good report which was quite similar to that of the broad report from the G. R. of Dallas. Mrs. P. E. Davis, reporting 146 total receipts, $2,170.93, total disbursements $1,103.45, balance on hand $1,067.48.

R. of Deposits then read her report which tallied exactly with the grand recorder of funds.

The secretary and treasurer, Dr. R. Merrill, read an excellent report, showing as a total receipts for the enrollment department $6,763.33, total disbursements $4,550, or making a balance of $2,213.33, with a total number of 15,000 members in Texas, after which the meeting adjourned.

 City Engineer Hawley Says Lecture Will Prove Instructive

Concerning the appearance of J. Horace McFarland, who, it is announced, will lecture at the city hall auditorium Thursday night, his subject being "Civics," City Engineer John B. Hawley said Thursday morning:

"I earnestly trust that all of our people who are interested in beautifying the city will attend the lecture tonight at the city hall auditorium.

"Although I never have personally met Mr. McFarland, I am familiar with his work and am sure that his lecture will be as entertaining as instructive."

SHERMAN RATE CREATES STIR
 Railroad Men Declare It Impossible to Pass Resolution

The Sherman resolution for a general reduction of interstate passenger fares excites much discussion in Chicago, now the headquarters of some of the most important railway systems of the United States.

The railroad fare bill, which provides for a universal 2c fare and the issuance of mileage books in denominations of from 1,000 to 5,000 miles at 2c a mile, introduced by Congressman Sherman of Ohio in the house of representatives Tuesday was the subject of serious discussion in many of the railroad offices today. The bill is viewed by the railroad officials as an indication that the wave of reform which is now sweeping the country knows no depth or bounds. Many refuse to consider it, contending that it would be impossible to pass such a measure.

Officials expect more harm to result from agitation that the measure may arouse than from the possibility of its adoption. It is contended that the traveling public is deceived by the discussion of such bills, and that the officials contend that certain roads could not maintain the excellent service demanded by the traveling public if they were compelled to operate under such regulations.

TEN BONDS ISSUED
 Ten Million to Be Spent in St. Louis by Wabash

George J. Gould and his associates in control of the Wabash, press dispatches relate, have perfected plans for the complete financial reorganization of the Wabash system by issuing bonds to the amount of $200,000,000.

The proceeds of these bonds will be used in some instances in a virtual rebuilding of the road, and one of the greatest beneficiaries will be St. Louis, where the sum of $10,000,000, or as much of that as may be needed, is to be expended in the improvement of the terminals of the Wabash in that city.

The new issue of bonds will be 4 per cent, fifty-year bonds. Outstanding debenture "A" bonds, amounting to $2,500,000, will be exchanged for the new bonds at par. The "B" bonds, amounting to $26,500,000, will be exchanged on the basis of 70 per cent.

An underwriting syndicate, including firms as Blair & Co., long the New York financial agents of Fort Worth, and William A. Read & Co., has been formed to dispose of the new issue of these desirable railway securities.

RATES NOT CHANGED
 Clerks Cannot Alter Tariff Schedule Before September

The talk is now that the Mayfield-Colquitt reduction of the Houston and Texas Central passenger fares will not go into effect until Aug. 1, and maybe not until Sept. 1, the date originally favored by Commissioner Colquitt.

The rate clerks of the railways of the state have done nothing yet towards changing the passenger tariffs to the 2 1/2 cents per mile basis, for the reason that it was and is a physical impossibility to make the change in the spring of the year. If the time is extended by a majority of the commission it will take one of the weapons of opposition to the change from the hands of the railways, and that is the plea that it was impossible to revise the tariff in the time given.

Big Transfer Boat
 The Southern Pacific is having plans made for the building of one of the largest transfer boats in the country. It is to be of steel and with a capacity of fifteen passenger coaches. The transfer will be at Avondale, across the Mississippi river. Thornwell Fay, vice president and general manager of the Southern Pacific, says that the boat will be, when constructed, the second largest car transfer boat in the world. This planned boat could handle with one ferryage a longer passenger train than the Southern Pacific ever runs.

Charge of Burglary Placed Against Watchman for Local Produce Company

When James Pinto, manager of the National Fruit and Produce Company, 1609 Main street, left his place of business Tuesday night by mistake he left the day combination on the safe, in which there was $195, and he also left $9 in the cash register. When he went to the store Wednesday morning the safe was open and the $195 gone and the $9 in the cash register had also disappeared.

The man who had been employed as night watchman at the place was also missing, and putting the facts together, Pinto concluded to find the night watchman. He was not long in learning that his night watchman, in company with another person, left Fort Worth at 9 a. m. Wednesday on the Interurban car and Pinto took the first car he could get for Dallas. From the conductor he learned that the two men he was after had gone to Dallas on car No. 16, stopping first at Handley.

At Dallas Pinto put himself in connection with the police and offered a reward for the arrest of his man, and with an officer made a search of the town, but they failed to get on the track of the man.

In hoping to get more information, Pinto boarded a 1 o'clock car at Dallas for Fort Worth to meet car 16 to have a talk with the conductor.

When the car was on hand reached the court house square in Dallas he saw his night watchman on the street. He jumped from the car and started in pursuit and the watchman made a run for it toward the red light district and led Pinto a hard chase for over a mile. The streets were full of people and by crying out, "Stop thief! Five dollars reward!" a number of negroes were induced to take part in the chase and finally the fugitive was run into a house, which was surrounded by Pinto and the negroes and the man captured.

Pinto took his prisoner to the sheriff's office in Dallas and turned him over to the authorities, who communicated with the sheriff's office in Fort Worth and in the afternoon Deputy Sheriff Tom Meacham went to Dallas and returned with the prisoner, whose name is George Moore. He was lodged in jail and a charge of burglary entered against him in Justice Charles T. Rowland's court.

W. J. BRYAN VISITS RUSS. PARLIAMENT
 Has Talks With Leaders on Present Problems

By Associated Press.
 ST. PETERSBURG, June 14.—William J. Bryan was an interested spectator of the proceedings in the lower house of parliament today during the agrarian debate, which continued throughout the morning session. He occupied a seat in the diplomatic box as the guest of Ambassador Meyer and during recess Mr. Bryan discussed the situation with some leaders of the house, who appeared anxious to explain their views to the distinguished American. Among others Mr. Bryan talked with M. Alladin, leader of the peasant workmen group, which now dominates the group of toll and is the most radical element of the parliament group. The group of toll and is the cry the fight against the decision of the district court in the case of M. Ulianoff, who has been indicted, although a member of parliament, and therefore exempt from political prosecution to floor of the house.

RESERVE OPENED
 3,800 Acres of Wichita Forest Ready for Homestead Entry

Special to The Telegram.
 LAWTON, O. T., June 14.—President Roosevelt issued a proclamation on May 19, enlarging the area of the Wichita forest reserve in the Wichita mountains. About 3,800 acres are included in the tract, attached to the original body of 52,000 acres. Three months ago the President ordered the register and receiver of the Lawton land office to give notice that about 26,000 acres of public land adjacent to the reserve be withheld from homestead entry in order that a portion of the land might later be attached to the reserve. The remainder of the 26,000 acres, the 3,800 acres be subtracted, is again open to entry. The lands selected are covered with heavy timber.

AMUSEMENTS
 At Lake Erie
 The Woodmen of the World have set aside Tuesday, June 21, as the date for their monster picnic and barbecue and have designated Lake Erie as the place of meeting.

As is well known, the Fort Worth lodge is one of the largest in the United States and its members and their families alone would form an immense gathering, but in addition to this invitations have been extended to all neighboring lodges to join in the festivities, so it is safe to say that this will be one of the largest attended picnics so far held at Lake Erie.

Preparations are already being made by the management of the Palace rink and the other attractions to take care of the crowd and see that they have an enjoyable outing.

The Northern Texas Traction Company will put on extra car service in addition to the big open summer cars which are run regularly.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

MANY HAPPY RETURNS

BY ARTHUR E. SUDDAR.

It was the evening of Nov. 5, 1902. Frank Lorimer stood in front of his study fire, watching his private bonfire burn.

In his right hand he held a bundle of letters. There were nine, and each letter bore the same signature—"Beatrice."

Each letter represented a year of his life. More, it was the symbol of a year's pain and suffering.

PHYLLIS OF THE FARM

BY CHARLES J. BAYNE.

"You on a farm, Phyllis? You? Why, your name is the only thing about you that is adapted to country life."

Geoffrey's broad shoulders fairly shook with laughter, and when the excess of his mirth subsided a smile of incredulity still parted his lips.

"How many cottolions have you missed this season? The bride trophies in your boudoir must give it the aspect of an Oriental bazaar.

"A very pretty wit you have, Geoffrey, truly. Your vein of sarcasm is rich enough for all practical purposes.

"It was not so far away, to be sure, this quiet little retreat among the woods and fields and hills, which the busy solicitor had been afraid to confess to himself how dear she had become to him.

Geoffrey found himself reflecting how easy it had been and how often he had availed himself of the privilege.

"You will be packing for a week, I take it?" he suggested hopefully.

"On the contrary, my dear Geoffrey, we are going in for all the complexity of the simple life. The shack of a house on the farm is fairly furnished.

But, he mused, if he was to be philosophical, this was the time to begin.

So accordingly he went. He had not greatly overdrawn the picture. It was not an earthly paradise—except for those who have delusions about getting close to nature's these seeming trifles that greater issues depend.

He rejoiced in his freedom. Tonight, therefore, he burned the symbols of his newly lost pain.

The door of his room was opened so quietly that he did not see a woman enter, nor was he aware of her presence until she touched him on the shoulder.

"No, Frank, let me make full confession before I receive absolution." A glorious wave of color dyed her pale face.

"No, Frank, let me make full confession before I receive absolution." A glorious wave of color dyed her pale face.

"Good-by," she said. "Don't"—she put out her hand—"some promises are sweeter in the making than in the keeping"—and she had gone.

"Now here am I in Arden," he began, as the more or less broad acres of what he had been pleased to call the experiment station unfolded before him.

"You would have done well to wear your motley instead of those ably tailored trousers—which will be mottled soon enough, however. Now, stand here, Geoffrey. The cattle upon a thousand hills!"

"Appear to be chiefly chickens. Am I expected to show urban stupidity and ask which cow gives butter milk."

There was no denying that in the simple garb she had assumed Phyllis looked infinitely more charming than in the conventional attire which city life made imperative.

"These vague hints of yours that the muffins are of your own manufacture may develop the answer, but I have seen black Chloe's inscrutable face through the kitchen door."

"It was wonderful how the tang of the pines and the scent of the hay got into his veins. It was not long before the cynic of the city was delivering himself of such observations as—

"Really, I have been wondering if such versatility as yours could ever adapt itself to still another kind of life."

"I have never tried prison, for instance." "Yes, dear Phyllis, but the ties that bind in another sense, don't you know."

"Suppose I were to tell you that I had decided to come out here and live in the experiment station all the days of my years?"

"Then make mine the same lodge in this vast wilderness and I shall come into me for happiness."

RIDING IN THE BAND WAGON

The Houston Post is one of the truly great newspapers of Texas, and its editor is the Texas member of the national democratic executive committee.

Then William J. Bryan appeared upon the scene of disaster and began to tenderly gather up the mutilated remains. Gradually he got enough of the fragments together to make a little showing.

The Post, as one of Mr. Bryan's devoted supporters in two campaigns, beholds in democracy's united desire for his nomination a political opportunity for the party fraught with consequences of immeasurable good to the nation.

It is well enough, therefore, that even two years in advance of the national convention the democracy of the states gives eloquent expression to democratic purpose.

It is a great pity that at the time the great democratic leader needed help and sympathy the great Texas newspaper did not lend him the encouragement and sympathy he deserved.

today than he was two years ago, and no more capable of leadership. He is today what he has always been—one of the grandest characters we have in public life, and a man whose great heart continually throbs with sympathy for the masses.

And Texas democracy has never faltered in its allegiance to Bryan. At the August convention there will be action taken that will amply justify the suggestion made by the Post, which, however, was entirely unnecessary. Texas democracy knows its duty.

THE STATE CONVENTION

The coming of the state democratic convention to Dallas this year is paraded by the Houston Post as a slap in the face of Judge Bell, the leading candidate for governor.

For more than a month the Bell people have passed the word along the line that "under no conditions must the convention be held at Dallas."

Two weeks ago certain Bell men began to make an effort to prevent the convention's going to Dallas and to induce the committee to select either Austin or Waco as the place of the convention.

At the last moment the Bell men determined to throw their strength to Waco, saying that Bell was strong in McLennan county, and local sentiment in Waco would be helpful to them.

The Dallas people had no headquarters here, but were nevertheless silently and effectively at work. The lines were sharply drawn in the committee between Bell men on the one hand and those opposed on the other.

When Frank Andrews, the chairman, announced that Dallas had polled her full strength, said an enthusiastic Bell man. "We will win on the next ballot."

At a debate between Monta J. Moore, O. B. Colquitt and Judge C. K. Moore one night last week the two former named attempted to knock Bell out by mud-slinging, but the Judge built a breastwork of the misrepresentations of these two men and won on the first charge.

As a matter of fact, the friends and supporters of Judge Bell did not care a rap for the location of the state democratic convention, except as a matter of convenience to the members of the democratic party in Texas.

The numbers and personnel of the Bell campaign club in the city of Dallas is ample refutation of the charge that Bell has no friends in that country. The assertion that he has a limited following in the black land counties is also a most violent assumption.

The supporters of Judge Bell did not desire that the convention should go to Austin, in order that it might be packed with administration rascals. The present state administration could have no effect on the great state democratic convention if it were held in the republican's office.

And if, as the Post says, the test came on the vote for Waco, which resulted in 19 for that city against 12 for Dallas, it was not such a bad showing after all. Accepting the Post's own figures, it demonstrates the Bell sentiment was nearly equal to that of all the others combined.

And the things the Colquitt men are going to do at the polls will be but the same kind of a windy. The Post knows that Colquitt has no more chance to receive the democratic nomination for governor than Monta J. Moore, who has given up the effort. It knows that Bell is the real choice of the people of Texas, and Tom Campbell will be second choice.

When Colonel Cecil Lyon sizes up the personnel of the small crowd that assembled in this city a few days ago for the avowed purpose of taking his scalp it will cause no thrill of apprehension to caper up and down his spinal column. It will require something more than this first effort to cause the Sherman man any uneasiness.

When the cattlemen's convention was held in Dallas last March the attendants found the solace and comfort they sought in Fort Worth. The hot and thirsty democrats in attendance upon the state convention next August can do the self-same thing.

The sentiment existing in Texas toward the Terrell election law was well illustrated at the meeting of the state democratic executive committee at Austin. It was only a matter of expediency that prevented a demand for the unconditional repeal of that measure.

Down in southwest Texas no rain has fallen in several months, and that is one great fault with Texas. The state is so long and so broad that the weatherman is never able to do the situation full justice.

The manner in which salaries of Texas postmasters are steadily being increased shows that progress and development is rampant throughout the state.

Fort Worth did not get the state convention this year, but there is a whole lot of satisfaction in realizing that she will furnish the next governor.

THE TEXAS PRESS

And the Post makes bold to say that however the distribution of the vote may go, the time will come in the convention when the supporters of Campbell, Colquitt and Brooks will be found practically united against the gentleman in whose behalf Judge Terrell has launched his remarkable statement.—Houston Post.

An animal that can go eight days without a drink should be easily able to lead the gubernatorial caravan across the burning sands of Texas' political desert and into the bright oasis of the chief executive's chair at Austin. Even the name Campbell stands for a winner.—Cleburne Enterprise.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Fort Worth Telegram, asks: "Will it be Brooks or Colquitt next in order of withdrawal? Necessity for such action is as great with one as the other."

Yes, Colquitt and Brooks are too busy to withdraw but the trouble is they are not busy in the right direction. The people of Texas would be pleased to see them get busy in an effort to earn their respective salaries.

William R. Hearst says he likes Bryan, but does not like some of the company he keeps; or rather he does not like some of the fellows who have jumped on the Bryan band wagon. You can't keep the band wagon perfectly clean all the time.—Galvestone Messenger.

Bryan is not responsible for the frantic efforts being made by the conservative crowd to get in out of the wet. He should not be blamed for the load his band wagon is compelled to carry.

At a debate between Monta J. Moore, O. B. Colquitt and Judge C. K. Moore one night last week the two former named attempted to knock Bell out by mud-slinging, but the Judge built a breastwork of the misrepresentations of these two men and won on the first charge.

Not only is it unfair to the people who are paying the salaries of those officers and have a right to expect them to perform their full duty, but it is unfair to their opponents who cannot draw salaries from the state while they are making their campaigns. Judge Brooks and Mr. Colquitt ought to resign.—San Antonio Gazette.

Resign? Not on your life. Neither Colquitt or Brooks will resign, for they have nothing to lose in the campaign. Each is already provided with an office that pays him as much as the governorship, and the people of Texas are paying them to make the campaign for governor. No danger of Colquitt and Brooks resigning. They are not built that way.

In the recent political debate at Moody between Bell and Colquitt, Colquitt exclaimed, "I have a better office than that of governor now." Some fellow in the crowd fired the question at him. "Why don't you keep it then?" but Mr. Colquitt ignored the inquiry.—Palestine Herald.

The question was wholly superfluous, for keeping that office is just exactly what Colquitt is doing and what he intends to do. He is smart enough to compel the people of Texas to pay the bulk of his campaign expenses and he is risking nothing in the campaign.

There are two candidates in the race for governor who are now holding down "good jobs," positions of honor and trust. The people of Texas elected them for a stated period of years, one of whom, Colonel Colquitt, will retire from the position to which he was elected in the year 1909, the other, Judge Brooks, yet, we find them candidates for governor, and must be neglecting their respective duties to a great or less extent, while they are seeking to impress the voters with the necessity of honoring them with a more honorable or rather, we should say, exalted, position.—Denton News.

Neither Colquitt or Brooks has anything to lose in the campaign each is making for governor, except the confidence and esteem of the public. The people of Texas are rapidly coming to the conclusion if they neglect their duties in one respect they will do so in another.

The Telegram has led in the Bell fight from the very beginning of the campaign, and the Telegram and Bell are always winners.

In the democratic national convention in 1904, D. R. Francis of Missouri says the conservative element asked to be allowed to name the candidate and write the platform and the request was granted. Defeat followed. "Now," said Mr. Francis, "the conservative element is ready to follow the other wing of the party."—San Antonio Gazette.

In other words, the caudal appendage will no longer seek to wag the democratic canine. And it is a sensible procedure.

Senator Culbertson takes the place on the committee of interocanal canals, made vacant by the death of Senator Gorman of Maryland. That is a good selection. Senator Culbertson is a man of the people, and he knows something about the canal question, and has a desire to serve the public interests. Had the been that committee all along, the country would have been better off.—Sherman Register.

Judge Bell's every official act in every position he has held evidences that if it is in his power he will control trusts, corporations and combines, and his platform as announced is all that can be desired yet he does not have to rely on promises of what he will do, but he can point to "Here is what I have done" as an official, and no man can pick a flaw in his public life, nor show but that his every vote and act was in the best interest of Texas and all her people.—Mexico Enterprise.

Judge Bell and his platform are all right. They appeal to the people of Texas with a force that there is no questioning. No man in public life has been truer to the interest of the masses.

THE BARNYARD OF THE FUTURE

THE HEFT OF MONTA'S KINDNESS

The amount of political strength delivered to Colonel Tom Campbell by Monta J. Moore is too small to be intelligently and accurately computed. It is believed, however, to not greatly exceed the personal vote of the gentleman from Milam county.—Fort Worth Telegram.

HOG AND HOMINY IN TEXAS

The indications are that Texas will make a bumper corn crop this year, and a bumper corn crop generally means a bumper hog crop. Fort Worth furnishes a ready and waiting market for all the hogs that can be produced in Texas, and the Fort Worth Stock Yards company is offering some premiums for hog production well worth competing for.—Fort Worth Telegram.

BECAUSE THE PRECEDENT IS WRONG

The court of criminal appeals is badly behind with its work, and important cases are being held up that should be promptly decided. Judge Brooks is trying to persuade the people of Texas to make him their next governor.—Fort Worth Telegram.

James S. Hogg was an attorney general of the state when he made his winning race for governor; Charles A. Culbertson was attorney general when he made a winning race for governor against Dr. Lanham and the late John H. Reagan. John H. Reagan canvassed the state and he was a railroad commissioner at the time. Hon. Josefa Weldon Bailey was a member of congress when he made the race for senator against Hon. Horace Chilton. Dr. Lanham was a member of congress when he made his campaign for governor and Hon. Charles K. Bell, for twenty-eight years campaigned for one office while holding another. Then why condemn Colquitt and Brooks for practicing the precepts and imitating the practices of these bell-wethers of democracy, living and dead?—Dallas Times-Herald.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

Some boys that go to college can't even learn to play golf. When the cook has a good temper it's a sign she can't cook. There's a certain kind of fellow that is proud to be run over by a millionaire's automobile. A woman has such natural faith she can believe a thing she wants to though she knows she doesn't. There is hardly anything as uncomfortable as to meet a summer girl you were engaged to and not be able to remember her name.—New York Press.

CONFORMING TO CONDITIONS

The word obey is omitted from the form of marriage service in the new Presbyterian book of worship. The compilers evidently sought to bring the service into closer conformity with the actual conditions of married life.—New York Tribune.

INCREASING RAILROAD SPEED

The latest railroad record between San Francisco and Omaha is 42 hours and 12 minutes, and it is estimated that the continent can be crossed in 71 hours. In the light of what has been achieved it would be vain to guess when the limit will be reached.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"CLEAN BACKS"

There is a proposition that the $5 greenbacks will soon be reinforced by goldbacks of the same denomination. When these are supplemented by clean backs for all paper currency there will be cause for general congratulation.—New York Tribune.

An actor seldom retires until he is played out. Any man possesses the ability to be as big a fool as he pleases.

The scorn of egotism is as harmless as the slurs of ignorance. But the coat doesn't make the man—not even a coat of tar and feathers.

VERDICT THAT RING

Oh, heart of mine, through all those perfect days, Whether of white Decembers or green Mays, There runs a dark thought like a creeping snake, Or like a black thread, which, by some mistake, Life has strung through the pearls of happy years, A thought which borders all my joys with tears.

THAT DAY

Some day, some day, or you, or I alone Must look upon the scenes we two have known; Must tread the self-same paths we two have trod, And cry in vain to one who is with God, To lean down from the silent realms and say, "I love you," in the old, familiar way.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

Men are as brave as their convictions. Life's chief compensations do not come in pay envelopes. Every selfish man is the center of his universe and he's it. A political pull is the only thing that keeps some men out of jail. You may feed a man brain food but you cannot supply the brains. Crawl out of your shell occasionally and look on the bright side of things. Even bargains sometimes come to those who wait at bargain counters. It takes something stronger than water to extinguish the toper's burning thirst. An ounce of contentment is more beneficial to a woman's complexion than a pound of cosmetics. If all tombstone inscriptions were literally true his stanic majesty would have a lonesome time of it. How weak and helpless a man is when a bold and aggressive widow makes up her mind to marry him! It keeps the average man so busy trying to cure his past that he hasn't much time to boast of his future. No woman ever misses an opportunity to laugh at any old joke for a few weeks after getting her own store teeth. A woman isn't very deeply interested in a man if she doesn't read each letter she receives from him more than three times.—Chicago News.

IMPERTINENT

Kansas is complaining of a small potato crop. Is the reference to politics or agriculture?—Chattanooga News.

SCORCHERS

Our automobile scorchers will soon have competition from Old Sol, but the latter has the advantage in eluding the police court fines.—Omaha Bee.

A man never realizes how unpopular he is until he begins to acquire fame.

An evil doer is one who believes in doing others wrong before they attempt to do him.

Of course, the man who thinks as highly of himself as you do of yourself is conchited.

THE MEN BLOWN TO ATOMS BY EXPLOSION

Fatal Accident Occurred on Big Liner Haverford

Forty Injured

Remored That Horror Was Caused by Infernal Machine Placed in Steamer

LIVERPOOL, June 14.—Nine men were instantly killed and forty others wounded following a terrific explosion on board the British steamer Haverford this morning. Some of the injured, it is believed, will die. The cause of the explosion is yet undetermined, but there are rumors it was caused by an infernal machine. The Haverford with passengers arrived here yesterday from Philadelphia. The vessel is owned by the International Navigation Company. The Haverford landed its passengers yesterday.

Bodies Dismembered

Stereos were in the act of loosening the steamer hatches when sudden and most violent explosion occurred and blew off the hatches, rent the decks and hurled dead and wounded men in all directions. Several bodies were dismembered and the deck resembled the floor of a charnal house. The explosion, which was heard for many miles, was apparently caused by igniting a barrel of dynamite. The cause of an outbreak of fire, the cargo consisting of lined oil cake, was soon blazing fiercely.

Remove Injured

Firemen and police hurried to the spot and the injured were quickly taken to a neighboring hospital, while the work of searching for further possible casualties proceeded with vigor. After two hours' hard fighting the firemen obtained mastery of the flames. It is believed a number of men taken to the hospital will succumb to their injuries. The cause of the disaster has not been ascertained.

NORTH FT. WORTH ROSEN HEIGHTS

North Fort Worth and Marine office of The Telegram, 1410 Rusk street, W. G. Holladay, circulation. Classified advertisements and subscriptions received there.

J. W. Fincher of Batson, Texas, arrived in North Fort Worth Wednesday night and is the guest of his brother, Professor A. B. Fincher, at Rosen Inn. Professor Fincher is principal of the North side public schools. As was announced some time ago J. W. Fincher and Miss Pearl Norred, 1801 Hempstead street, Fort Worth, will be married Thursday evening in the Missouri avenue Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. R. C. Armstrong of Polytechnic college will officiate at the ceremony at 6 o'clock. Last Monday night a bridal party was given in honor of the couple at the home of H. W. Lusher, 1330 Sixth avenue in Fort Worth.

A most enjoyable time was had by the picknickers of the North Fort Worth Church, Wednesday in the private park of Dr. J. M. Massie on Sycamore creek near Polytechnic college. The party were permitted to make themselves at home anywhere in the grounds, even to the doctor's blackberry patch. Many well filled baskets were taken by the different families and good things to eat were not lacking. About forty in all went and went the day.

T. H. Davis of Gilmore, Texas, left for his home Wednesday after a few days' visit with T. B. Littlepage and family in Central avenue, North Fort Worth. Mr. Davis is located in the furniture and hardware business at Gilmore and has been prospecting for a location in North Fort Worth.

J. G. Alexander of the North Fort Worth bottling works suffered a very painful sprain of the right ankle last Tuesday morning. Mr. Alexander in jumping from his wagon at Main street and Central avenue turned the joint causing it to become badly swollen and sore. He has had no use of the foot since.

Mrs. E. L. Ledbetter returned to San Francisco Thursday morning. Mrs. Ledbetter has been visiting in her old home with her sister, Mrs. J. Knapp since the recent Frisco disaster, at which time they suffered the loss of their home property. Mrs. Ledbetter has announced that she will make their home in the future at Oakland, Cal.

The 4-year-old son of J. W. Johns, Central avenue and Grove streets, North Fort Worth had a hundred-pound cake of ice fall on him Wednesday evening, catching the lower parts of his body. The boy was standing at the rear of the ice wagon, stopped in front of Anderson's grocery, and he was not holding the cake until it was too late. Fortunately no bones were broken and on Thursday he was reported some better.

W. M. Smith, who lives in Diamond Hill, while working with a chopping machine at the Swift plant Wednesday, suffered the loss of two fingers of the right hand. He went to his home and a physician dressed the hand; but it will take some time for the wound to heal.

D. T. McGowan and wife, 1313 Clinton street, North Fort Worth, went to Mineral Wells Wednesday, where they will spend the next three weeks.

E. B. Haywood will start work on a new residence in west Central avenue within the next few days.

Grand Jury Makes Serious Charge Against Telegraph Companies

By Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 14.—The grand jury adopted the report of the subcommittee, which finds the Western Union and Postal both violate the law by accepting during the catastrophe money for messages for transmission by wire which were sent in plain dollars and cents. The committee recommends indictments and advises evidence to be taken from Roosevelt and presented to the federal grand jury.

Big Increase in Business Expected on Opening of Public Land

LAWTON, O. T., June 14.—In preparation for the expected increase of business resulting from the opening of public lands in this county within the next few months, the Topeka and El Reno Telephone Company have sent men here to increase the efficiency of the system and to attend to the demands. A new switch board is soon to be installed and all the telephones are to be tested. M. D. Lowe, superintendent of construction, is here supervising the work.

DISPATCHERS TO MEET

Texas Officials Go to Buffalo to Attend Convention

PALESTINE, Texas, June 14.—W. B. Reeder of San Antonio, T. J. Arnold of Taylor and L. D. Fretwell of Mart, train dispatchers of the International and Great Northern Railroad Company, met here last night and proceeded to Buffalo, N. Y., where they will attend the convention of the T. J. D. which convenes in that city June 101 24. The three men go as delegates representing the train dispatchers of the International and Great Northern Railroad Company.

KEEP OLD STANDS

People Willing Saloons Remain in Vicinity of Their Property

Special to The Telegram. WACO, Texas, June 14.—A short time ago an ordinance was passed by the city council, under a charter amendment, fixing the saloon limits of Waco and narrowing same down to a section but little larger than the actual business section. A provision in the ordinance provided that if the people of the city were willing to continue this business in all parts of the city where property owners for a few hundred feet each way were willing that the business should go on. It was at first thought by the prohibitionists that the sale of liquor would be very largely curtailed, or at least that the limits would be cut down. It now appears that the contrary is true, and only a few places will have to discontinue business or move. People, for various reasons, are not signing petitions asking for removal of the beer joints and most of them will continue at the old stands. The results will not be what the prohibitionists and others wanting to get rid of the joints wanted, but in most cases the trouble is with the people themselves.

SUPPORT DAVIDSON

Dewitt County Club for Senator as Lieutenant Governor

Special to The Telegram. CUERO, Texas, June 14.—"The Dewitt County A. B. Davidson Democratic Club" is the name of the latest political organization formed in this vicinity. Its object, as will be seen from the name chosen, is the support of State Senator A. B. Davidson of this county in his candidacy for the democratic nomination for the office of lieutenant governor of the state of Texas and the club has issued an address to voters of the state giving a list of names of members of the club, including references to his public service in office.

The feature of the address is the reference to the fact that, while senator, Mr. Davidson introduced the "Poll Tax Amendment to the Constitution, which is now a part of the organic law of the land."

Asa Deklage has been chosen chief of the Apache Indians to succeed Geromino, who is falling rapidly in health. He is a graduate of Carlisle. The Apaches have been prisoners of war for twenty years next August. There are 257 in the tribe.

SPEAKER TO URGE CITY BEAUTIFUL
J. Horace McFarland Will Deliver Address at City Hall

Prospects are good for a large attendance at the lecture to be given in the city hall Thursday night by J. Horace McFarland, president of the American Civic Federation. Mrs. J. F. Swayne, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Fort Worth, who has been instrumental in securing the presence of Mr. McFarland here, said Thursday morning that a number of persons had attended to her their intention of the local federation are desirous of having a large attendance of representative citizens and property owners in the hope the lecturer may arouse the interest of these in the subject of civic improvement. It is said there are many places in the city and in the very vicinity of it where heaps of rubbish, uncut weeds and kitchen waste, to say nothing of glaring billboards, seriously mar the appearance of the city and which are an eyesore to many of its inhabitants and an offense to the visitor in the city.

Will Cite Views
Mr. McFarland will show stereoscopic views presented to him by the city and contrast with these views of the same places after the owners have been stirred by their sense of pride in the city. The American Civic Federation of Women's Clubs has taken up this work of civic improvement because it is not regularly organized in the city. The business men of the city have been doing a great deal of work for civic improvement but this work was effected last February and the present federation includes eleven women's clubs with a total membership of about three hundred. Committees have been appointed to carry on the work of the city and Mrs. Swayne expressed the hope that some improvements may be brought about through the agency of these.

Two Wards Organized
In two wards of the city civic improvement leagues have been organized to further the work in these wards. George Nies is president of the Third Ward Civic League. This organization has discussed and made plans for the improvement of conditions in the ward, among other things the establishment of a public park, and definite has been accomplished. In the Third ward there is a similar organization, but thus far its efforts have been chiefly in securing better street car facilities for the ward. In the Eighth ward a civic league was organized several months ago, but after the excitement preceding the democratic primaries last winter had died down the organization was apparently dropped.

CROMWELL STREET OPENING URGED
Citizens of Glenwood Hope the County Will Act Soon

A committee of Glenwood citizens met Wednesday with George Thompson, attorney for the Texas and Pacific Railway Company, at the intersection of the Texas and Pacific tracks and Cromwell street, in East Glenwood, for the purpose of again discussing the petitioned extension of Cromwell street north across the city to the right-of-way of the Texas and Pacific tracks. B. J. Boulden, J. E. Stewart, T. H. Eggleston, T. J. Kincaid and T. B. Smith. As soon as the statement can be made showing the cost and work necessary to the extension it will be submitted to the county, after which time the county commissioners will confer with the local authorities to arrange for the joint work.

GOING TO MILWAUKEE
John A. Comer Will Attend Meeting of Millers
The National Millers' Association will begin its annual session at Milwaukee, Wis., Wednesday, June 20, and the session will continue for three days, probably the only one to go from Fort Worth, and possibly from Texas, will be John A. Comer, in the commission business, who will leave Friday evening. Mr. Comer said Thursday morning that he has the meeting been two weeks earlier he was confident that from thirty to forty of the Texas grain dealers or millers would have been present. As it is in the midst of the grain harvest and milling season and the time cannot be taken without detriment to their interests at the moment, however, Mr. Comer thought some of the territory people interested in milling or grain would go to the Milwaukee meeting.

POLYTECHNIC HEIGHTS
There is quite a little building now going on in Polytchnic Heights. Judge W. S. Essex is finishing a two-story concrete residence on Spycamore hill. Adjoining Judge Essex's two-story frame dwelling, Professor W. F. Miskel of Polytchnic College has just started work on his new dwelling, a two-story frame. A new frame house owned by Mrs. F. Merrell will be completed within the next few days. Property owners in Main street, Polytchnic Heights, will start work in a few days on a concrete sidewalk on the south side of the street from the postoffice to Owen & Son's grocery. First loads of concrete gravel were unloaded Wednesday afternoon, and no doubt will be a starter for similar action in other streets in the near future.

Y. M. C. A. WILL PLAN CANVASS
Arrangements for Membership Campaign to Be Completed

Friday night at the Delaware cafe the committee of young men who are to make the "thousand in a day membership" canvass for the Y. M. C. A., will take luncheon together and follow with a discussion of the plans for the canvass, which is to take place Friday, June 22. The business men have been given several luncheons during the present association building movement, but this affair is given by the directors of the association to the young men. The business men will be asked to assist in the canvass and many of the workers who have helped in the building campaign will give the day to this membership canvass, which is expected to be the biggest thing in membership ever accomplished by any association in any city in the world.

The one-day canvass on June 22 will have its headquarters at the Board of Trade rooms. The big clock which is now results will be placed up early in the morning and at 9:15 o'clock in the morning and every fifteen minutes thereafter during the day the total membership will be posted. At 10 o'clock sharp the last posting will be made. It is expected that the record will show at least one thousand members during the day and many now believe that the total number that the canvass can take will be reached. This number is sixteen hundred, 1,250 regular members, 250 boys and 100 in the business men's club. Should this number be reached during the day it will be impossible for the association to take any more members except on a waiting list. The big whistle will blow for every hundred members.

FORT WORTH GETS NEXT CONVENTION
City Marshals and Chiefs of Police Coming Here

Sheriff Smith of Comanche county was in Fort Worth Wednesday afternoon, on his way home from the City Marshals' and Sheriff's Association annual meeting at Amarillo, and said that the meeting was quite interesting from an official point of view. The next meeting of the convention will be held in Fort Worth in 1907. "There was about 100 sheriffs, chiefs of police, marshals and constables at the meeting, and we were all hospitably entertained by the people of the pushing Panhandle city. Fort Worth was the presidency with hands down. J. H. Maddox being elected on the first ballot. The only other names mentioned for the honor was City Marshal John Dollops of Waco, but Maddox won in a walk. "The Panhandle country is in fine condition and the people appear to be exceptionally prosperous. Land is rapidly advancing in value in that section, and the people tell me that crop season have been getting better of late years because of an increase of rainfall. "On my way up to Amarillo, on the Denver, I was reminded of twenty-five years ago, by what I saw where the little town of Rhome now is. I lived at that point twenty-five years ago and cultivated a farm there. I planted a bolt's d'arc hedge on my place, but afterwards sold out to a man named Huff and went west. This was my first trip to the old place since I left it twenty-five years ago, and I found it here still remained on the land portions of the bolt's d'arc hedge I planted years ago. From hedge bushes the bolt's d'arc had grown into big trees, Denver being elected on the first ballot. I lived at that point twenty-five years ago and cultivated a farm there. I planted a bolt's d'arc hedge on my place, but afterwards sold out to a man named Huff and went west. This was my first trip to the old place since I left it twenty-five years ago, and I found it here still remained on the land portions of the bolt's d'arc hedge I planted years ago. From hedge bushes the bolt's d'arc had grown into big trees, Denver being elected on the first ballot. The only other names mentioned for the honor was City Marshal John Dollops of Waco, but Maddox won in a walk. The Truth about the Mutual Life
THIS is a matter of great interest to the public, and of still greater interest to thousands of individuals. People with the fairest minds—and that means most people—have been disturbed and unsettled by the developments and denunciations of the past few months.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company was organized in 1843, the first of its kind in America. In 24 years it had become the largest in the world. For 39 years, in spite of the keenest competition, it has held the lead, passing unharmed through panics, failures, strikes and wars; meeting with promptness its every obligation and having 460 millions of assets to-day.

The amount paid policy holders is $9,608,436.50, an increase of $1,070,835.26. The receipts for premiums were $15,082,484.57, a decrease of $857,995.29 for the period. This is a shrinkage of less than 5 1/2 per cent. The amount paid for expenses was $2,925,552.44, a reduction of $1,547,279.36.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York
Insurance Company of New York
New York
The Mutual Life has devised and placed on the market at a notably low rate, a policy which provides protection more far-reaching than an ordinary contract.

REBUILDING SALE!

Crowds attending our sale goes to prove the truth-telling of advertisement. Not a single item but what can be seen in our store without a hint of misrepresentation. The goods are here to sell as advertised—that's why the Store Ahead is daily crowded. We have been giving the local merchandising world a pretty surprising shakeup. No store ever before reduced prices so liberally in season. It's a bold stroke—a big strike. A very profitable stroke for the community—and though it entails a large present sacrifice to us, it will ultimately bring its reward. We would be sure to lose a great deal of goods through dust damage if they stayed on the shelves any length of time. We think it far better to keep everything moving so quickly that dust gets no chance to settle.

The builders have taken a slice off our selling space on each floor. We have taken a big slice off the selling price of everything in the store. So you may continue to come every day—buy anything you like in the store at a reduced price.

EMPLOYERS MAKE READY FOR FIGHT

New York Contractors Demand for Open Shop

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, June 15.—Action taken at a meeting yesterday by five associations in the Building Employers' Association, whose members employ carpenters, which is a declaration of open shop.

Gaynor's Decision Dislike

The action followed the announcement of the result of a referendum of the 17,000 members of the Brotherhood of Carpenters on the subject of accepting the decision of Judge in the case of the Brooklyn Carpenters who are on strike. The members of the Employers' Association, they asked an advance of $4.00 to $4.50. Justice Gaynor ruled that the workmen were in the right. The carpenters voted more than one against acceptance of the decision. The active trade association of employers then decided to accept the decision.

Lewis Harding, president of the Brooklyn Carpenters' Association, a master carpenter would make a deal with any competent men who work on Monday.

"We have no dealings with the Brotherhood of Carpenters," he said.
