Constitutional Democrats May Aid Terrorists in Effort to Overthrow Aristocracy

By Associated Press. ST. PETERSBURG, June 18 .- The constitutional democrats seem almost ready to throw in their lot with the revolutionists. The popular agitation is so great that at a caucus lasting until 3 o'cleek this morning the question of changing the party's statutes and abandoning any further attempt to postpone open rupture with the government was seriously debated. Roditcheff and Nabcukoff, leaders of the constitutional democrats in the lower house, urged the absolute necessity of keeping pace with the revolutionary movement and insisting that unless they moved forward to battle immediately they will be overwhelmed and left stranded. Professor Milukoff M. Winaver and others counseled caution, saying it was not yet time to bend to the storm, but the radicals were in the majority.

Leaders' Plans Secret

The Novoe Vremya today says the constitutional democrats actually resolved to break with the government within a few days, but M. Struve, editor of the Osvobojednie, informed the Associated Press no decision will be undertaken. He admitted, however, the leaders' plans are secret. Many liberals fear the rupture and regard the contemplated order as grave. They claim the constitutional democrats calmot hope to keep step with the adveed radicals, who at meetings held the suburbs of St. Petersburg last ht, not only condemned the lower ase of parliament and characterized constitutional democrats as traitbut even denounced the group

Orators at the meeting glorified the coming dicetatorship of the proletariat and cheered cries of "Down with the Government and the Middle

Bakeries Closed

The bakeries continue closed today. Strikers are threatening to wreck the shops where attempts were made to bake bread. Little hardship, however, has thus far resulted. The lower classes were warned and supplied themselves with black bread in advance. The strike of the bakers is to be followed in a few days by a butchers' strike. News from the interior shows the wave of the strike is spreading. An unusual number of robberies are reported today, emphasizing the growing lawlessness and anarchy in the country. There have been .two murderous train robberies in Caucasus and three stage coaches held in Poland

Trouble at Cronstadt

A case of arms and 5.000 cartridges has been confiscated at Riga on an incoming steamer. The government seems to fear a repetition of the November mutiny at the Cronstadt fortress, where the sailors, marines, soldiers and workmen are reported to be extremely turbulent. Two infantry regiments have been hastily dispatched to Cronstadt from Krasnoye Selo and two batteries of the artillery guard and two machine gun batteries have been sent from Oranlenbaum. The streets of Cronstadt are filled with troops and the well-to-do inhabitants are hurriedly leaving the island on which the town is situated.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18 .- George K. He was a pioneer of California, where he was known as a newspaper publisher and state printer. He was 80 years of age.

BIG PERIODICAL QUITS BUSINESS

The New York Life Publication Leaves the Field

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, June 18 .- It was announced yesterday that the New York News Letter, the bi-monthly periodical of the New York Life Insurance Company, suspends publication with the May-June issue just out of the press. This paper, which had been published by the company for between thirty and forty years, had a large circulation, the editions amounting sometimes to 100,000 copies. It was sent out to the 10,000 agents of the company, who saw that it was distributed in their districts. The expense of the publication and distribution was large. An officer of the company said yesterday that under existing conditions the company believd the paper could be dispensed with. Mutualization Talked

The special meeting of the stockholders of the Equitable to consider approving and authorizing the amended charter of the society will be held today. As Thomas F. Ryan, who owns a majority of the stock, favors the plan for semi-mutualization which makes it necessary to amend the charter, it is believed the plan will be adopted. It provides for the election of twentyeight of the firty-two directors by the policyholders next December. The minority stockholders, represented by Franklin B. Lord, who are opposed to mutualization, will undoubtedly be heard at the stockholders' meeting.

Farmer Attacks Sister-in-Law, Who May Die From Wound

CINCINNATI. June 18. - William Hisey, a farmer living near Aurora, Ind., probably fatally shot his sisterin-law, Mrs. Hisey, wife of a prominent Cincinnati manufacturer, and severely wounded Herbert Craile, also of Cincipaati on his farm late yesterday. Ars. Hisey was summoned from her summer home by a message stating one of her children was ill and not expected to live.

Hurries to Farm

She hurried to the farm and is said to have been attacked at once, Hisey and family being all armed. Hisey, after arrest ,said he shot Mrs. Hisey self defense and declared she had drawn her revolver before he fired. Herbert Crail is the son-in-law of Mrs. Hisey. KNOX FOR LOCK

Meat Inspection Amendment to Be Hurried Through in House Before Adjournment

Special to The Telegram. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18 .- In preparation for the sea level canal bill, which is fixed for next Thursday, the senate will devote much of the time this week prior to that date to the consideration of the bill. Senator Knox is scheduled for a speech Monday or Tuesday in support of a lock canal and he will be followed by other senators for and against the bill as it stands. The adoption of a provision in the sundry appropriation bill by the house in opposition to the sea level type of canal has had the effect of stimulating interest in the senate, and it is probable that this provision will itself be made the subject of discussion. The senate agreement calls for a final vote on the bill before adjournment on Thursday and for beginning the vote on amendments at 3 o'clock on that

It is possible that late in the week the senate may be able to take up the sundry civil appropriation bill or the conference report on the agricultural appropriation bill, the former containing the house prohibition against the expediture of money for a sea level canal and the latter the meat inspec-

Both measures are attracting much attention from senator, but there will be an effort to hold debate down to the minimum dimensions with the hope of preventing the too great postponement of the day of the final adjournment of the session, which the senate leaders are still hopeful of bringing within the present month. It is therefore probable that these matters will rooms than on the floor of the senate. Neither bill will be considered until the Panama bill is disposed of, and it is doubtful whether the sundry civil bill can be prepared for consideration during the present week.

The senate calendar of bills of local character has grown to large dimensions during the last few weeks and as much time as possible will be devoted to it. The Lake Erie and Obio ship. canal bill will also continue to receive

House Plans Speedy Work

There is to be more speed in the lgislation of the national house of representatives this week than in any week during the session if the plans of the leaders determined upon Saturday are carried out. The program contemplates the passage of the meat inspection amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill and the sending of that measure to conference; the passage of the pure food bill under a special rule, and the passage of the immigration bill, also under a special rule.

The last day of the session on which the rules may be suspended and bills passed by a two-thirds vote will occur Monday and the speaker's private list of members to be recognized under this order is rapidly growing to large proportions. Many bills local in their application will be passed under this or-

The meat inspection amendment will be called up Tuesday and disposed of with as great dispatch as possible. The time to be spent on it is estimated at two days. Debate on this bill will be confined to the discussion of the various provisions of the measure and proposed amendments thereto.

Pure Food Bill Debate

The pure food debate will be somewhat political in its nature. For several weeks members who have applied for time to make tariff speeches and to discuss plans generally have been told to wait until the pure food bill came up. The passage of this bill before the adjournment of the session was planned some time ago by Speaker Cannon and Chairman Hepburn of the interstate commerce committee and it was decided then to make it the vehicle for the closing speeches of the ses-The immigration bill, which is to close the week's work, will be given the consideration which time permits. In order to finish the program the leaders have set for the house it may require that body to sit during the evening, as well as carrying out the special order for 11 o'clock sessions each day. The emnibus public building bill and the general deficiency bill will not enter into the legislative consideration this week. The public building bill is to be one of the last taken up at this session. So many members are interested in this bill and therefore remain at the capital while it is pending that putting the bill last on the program makes it easier to maintain a quorum of the house during the windup of the session, when the presence of members is needed to prevent useless delays.

Bright Young Dream of Wild West Shattered in Texas

LODGED IN JAIL

One of the Pair Charged With Theft of $200,000 Securities from Wall Street Bank

Forty-five hours from Broadway. Oh, what a difference it makes. Wheelock Harvey and Dave Mellville, neither of them yet twenty, waiting in the Fort Worth city jail for officers from New York who will take them back to Gotham, have found the difference. And with the finding has come a shattering of a bright and youthful dream in which figured a roseate vision of the wild and wicked west, gained from assiduous cultivation of the historically correct Twentythird street melodramas, a hazy picture of frontier saloons and drunken men shooting out the lights, cowboys in red flannel shirts, bad men with long hair and guns as nicked as a hall bed room boarding house comb, andincidentally-fortunes lying around loose on the ground to be picked up at odd moments between the spasms of grand, glorious, glittering excitement,

End Came at Springtown The end to David and Meliville's young dream came to an end Sunday at Springtown, quiet old Springtown, which didn't know until Detectives Jim Allen and Sebe Maddox of Fort Worth had spread the news, it had been entertaining unawares two youths, one of whom at least has furnished material for such stuff as feature pages in Sunday newspaper magazines are made of, a boy who faces the charge of stealing $200,000 in securities from the First National Bank of New York: a boy whose daily work in Wall street has given him a chance to rub elbows with the world's financial kings as they say in the same magazine supplements, meet such men as J. Pierp Morgan, Charlie Schwab and even Hen Rogers. Yet from none of these, it seems, did he ever learn

After having been shrewd enough to dodge an army of detectives and get away from New York, the two young men came to Fort Worth in the evident opinion that the Panther City was but a frontier town and the Lone Star state a spot near the edge of the universe, where brigands live by their wits, where machetes and young Gatlin guns are symbolical of liberty and where blood runs and bullets fly on the least provocation.

Detectives Allen and Maddox arrested the two young men Sunday morning without even flashing a single Colt's. Harvey is charged with robbing the First National Bank, No. 2 Wall street, of $230,000 in cash and securities. Mellyille, who doesn't seem to have been known to the New York police, is staying by his companion. Securities and money in the amount above disappeared from the financial institution June 6 and, at the same time, Wheelock Harvey, employed by the bank as messenger, failed to appear to continue his duties. Two days later $200,000 in securities, the papers missing, were returned to the bank through the mail.

When Harvey and his companion were arrested Sunday morning, they had but several hundred dollars between them and say that this is all the money they have had, except what was spent on the trip to the south-

Letter Led to Arrest

The opening of a letter addressed to Dan Martin, Fort Worth, Texas, by mistake, led to the following of the two young men and their arrest by the authorities, after communication had been established concerning them between Fort Worth and New York police authorities. This letter aroused the suspicion of the man who opened it thinking it was meant for himself, Dan Martin, 106 Weatherford street, this city, and the fact that it also contained two newspaper clippings telling of the robbery of the bank, caused Mr. Martin to turn the communication over into the hands of the police, which finally led to the capture of the young men. Melville accompanied Harvey from

New York on his tour of the south and southwest. The former will also accompany the latter on his return trip from the Panther City to the metropolis, The two youths were placed in Fort Worth city jail at 11 o'clock Sunday morning and were held, pending the arrival of New York police.

Harvey's Brief Romance Interwoven with the story of young Harvey's flight from New York is the tale of a boyish romance which the New York World tells as follows: "Harvey was in love with a young lady. She is Miss Jennings of No. 403 Second street. He had been at Miss Jennings' home until midnight Tuesday, and then wanted permission call Wednesday evening, but Mrs. Jen-nings replied: "'No, for Heaven's sake, done make (Continued on Page Five)

One Killed During Battle in Frisco Bay

THREE WOUNDED

Attack Result of the Lockout Existing Between Ship Owners and Union Seamen

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18 .- As the result of a lockout existing between the shipowners and union sailors in this port one union sailor was shot and killed and three were wounded last night. The dead: ANDREW KELLNER. The injured:

John Peterson. Andrew Hansen.

Holgar Borgensen. The shooting occurred when a launch occupied by about fifteen union sai!ors was fired on from the schooner National City as it lay near the Union from works. According to the men who were in the launch, several volleys were fired at them without warning when they were within a few feet of the schooner. It is said that it was the intention of the union sailors to make an attempt to have the non-union crew of the National City desert the vessel, which was scheduled to sail today. As a part of the plan to carry overtures to the non union men, a launch was engaged and filled with volunteers from the sailors' union. The trip was made with the utmost secrecy, but it is evident that the men on the National City were expecting a visit.

Several Völleys Fired

After the launch came up to the National City a rifle was thrust over the side of the schooner and a shot rang out, followed by the cry "Now give it to them, boys." Several vollevs were then fired on the launch in rapid succession and the terrified union men immediately sought the shelter of the small cabin of the launch.

Launch Hurries From Scene

As soon as orders could be given o the engineer of the launch he turned about and steered his boat away from the scene as rapidly as possible. A run of nearly two miles was taken to the harbor emergency hospital, where the men who had been shot were quickly lifted from the boat by their friends. At the hospital it was found that Andrew Kellner had been almost immediately killed. Two bullets had entered his chest and one of them had evidently penetrated the heart. His body was taken to the

REBUILD CHURCHES

Presbyterians Contribute to Restore Edifices Destroyed in Frisco Bu Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 18.-In Presbyterian churches throughout the United States yesterday collections were taken up for a fund for the rebuilding of the edifices of that denomination destroyed or damaged by the San Francisco earthquake and fire. The day was fixed officially by the recent general assembly at Des Moines, Iowa, which asked that at least $300,-000 be raised. In most of the ninetyfour Presbyterian churches of Chicago and vicinity the request of the assembly was observed.

Large Sum Raised

In the first few weeks after the San Francisco disaster more than one-half the amount forwarded from the churches of that denomination in the United States was sent from Chicago. It is believed that the amount that will be sent from here as the result of yesterday's subscriptions will be large.

CHICAGO, June 18 .- Fearing to jump from a trestle on which a train was approaching, Max Moszczynski, 15 years old, lay between the rails on the bridge over the Calumet river at One Hundred and Forty-fifth street, Riverside, yesterday and was crushed to death. His father, Marshal Maszczynski, and Raymond Szulchzewski, confronted by the same alternative, jumped from the bridge and then swam to shore.

Carried Along Ties
After the train crossed the trestle, it was stopped and the crew hurried back over the tracks to where the body had been carried along the ties under the train across the bridge. A few minutes later the boy's father arrived, and on learning that the boy was dead, fell in a swoon.

The engineer saw the danger of the men and the boy, but was unable to stop the train.

DELAY DECISIONS ON TAX MEASURES

Love, Williams and Kennedy Suits Before Supreme Court

Special to The Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, June 18.—It is now practically certain that none of the three taxation measures passed by the last legislature and which have been assailed by the railroads and other corporations will not be decided by the higher courts at the present term. It was announced some time ago that the Williams intangible asset tax law which is now in the court of city lappeals would not be decided at this term of the court, but it had been generally believed that the validity of the Kennedy and Love gross receipts tax laws would have been decided at this term, but now this is practically impossible in view of the fact that the present term of the higher courts comes to an end the latter part of this month. In fact there are now only two more subn.ission days in the court of civil appeals and the supreme court.

Oil Cases Pending The cases of the state against the oil companies involving the constitutionality of the Kennedy law are stil pending in the court of civil appeals and even if the court should pass on these cases next Wednesday or on the 27th of June, the supreme court would have no opportunity of passing upon these cases at the present term of

Love Tax Law

The Love gross receipts tax law, as is well known, has been declared unpeals and the state has applied to th supreme court for a writ of error and the bottom of a ravine, the court has not yet acted on this application. Even should the supreme court take favorable action on this application next Wednesday, then the cases would have to be set for argument and that would be the last week of the term, and the court with the brief period left would hardly have time in which to prepare an opinion in this case. So it is safe to say that none of these tax measures will be passed upon at the present term of the higher

The letter further stated that while Fort Worth Bishop went under an assumed name. The sister knew the man identified as W. Jackson, but she wrote that that was not his real name. The police are in possession of Jackson's real name and Bishop's alias and will make further investigations. Letter Confirms Rumor

This letter is confirmatory of a report that at one time Bishop was in the employ of a news company running on trains out of Fort Worth under an assumed name and that he was discharged from the company's service. COMMITTEE TO PREPARE TICKET

Order of Candidates Will Be Determined By Lot

The meeting of the Tarrant county democratic executive committee called by County Chairman William Capps, was held in the county court room Monday afternoon. This is one of the many things required to be done by the Terrell election law and the meeting today was to comply with the section of that law relating to primaries.

The law requires that the meeting be called for the third Monday of June; that the meeting be held at the county seat; that the committee determine, by lot, the order in which the names of those who have properly filed their applications for places on the ticket shall come: that the coinmittee decide if the primary shall be a majority or plurality primary, that is, if a majority of the votes cast shall be required to determine who shall have the nomination or the candidate having the highest number of votes shall be the nominee. If the committee ignores the question, as it can legally do, the rule then is that it be a plurality nomination, and the candidate getting the highest number of votes, whether a majority of all cast or not, shall have the nomination. If it is a majority nomination, which is decided on, then the voting must be renewed, in the event that no candidate has a majority, until there is a majority nomination. Finally the committee must also pass on the matter of the expenses of the primary election, making the assessments against each candidate according to the office for which he is a

Boy Shocked by Live Wire About Nest

In an attempt to reach a bird's nest George Handin of Glenwood had a narrow escape from death Saturday and nearly to the box took hold on a cable and pulling himself up, gripped the corner of the box, which position would give him a view into the nest. Has Electric Shock

The little boy forgot the nest and started yelling at the top of his voice for help as the current shocked his body. When he finally loosened himself, with the help of a playmate, he found his fifth finger of the left hand painfully burned. The moral of this story is expressed in George's own words, "Well, that's the last bird's nest I'll ever bother."

GREAT RACE HORSE HAS PASSED AWAY

Sysonby Dies, Mourned By Owner James R. Keene

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, June 18.—Sysonby is dead. Perhaps the greatest race norse this country ever knew, and possibly thy best of all time, fell dead in his box at Sheephead Bay Saturday after-

Courageous to the end, he refused to give up until the last ounce of his strength was expended, and he died as he had lived, a brave-hearted thoroughbred. James R. Kene, the owner of Sysonby, refused to discuss his financial loss. It is remembered, however, that when an offer of $200,000 was made a few months ago Mr. Keene merely replied that money could not buy him. He had faced a starter only fifteen times and yet had earned nearly $200,-

The horse had been ill for a long time with a skin disease. His ailment had necessitated his withdrawal from all of this year's big stakes, including the Brooklyn, Suburban and Brighton Handicaps, in all of which he was the future book favorite. Sysonby's death was sudden and occurred, strangely enough, while Mr. Keene was making his daily visit to his Sheepshead Bay stable. The horse dropped dead while Mr. Keene stood beside him,

Blow to Owner

The death of the noted horse was a severe blow to his owner, and his indisposition this year had been a serious drawback to what had given promise of being a brilliant racing season. As a 2-year-old Mr. Keene was offered and refused $100,000 for his colt, whose only defeat in his racing career was in the Futurity of 1904. Sysonby was the favorite for the event, but was not in the best of condition and was beaten at the finish by Artful and Tradition.

Sysonby made his first appearance as 3-year-old in the Metropolitan Handicap in 1905, when he ran the famous dead heat with Race King over the new course at Belmont Park. From that time on Sysonby went through the racing season without meeting a horse that could make him extend himself. He was the most brilliant performer the American turf has known in years. The colt was sired by the famous English stallion Melton, which was bred o the mare Optime. Mr. Keene bought Optime in foal for $4.200. She was brought to this country and taken to Mr. Keene's Castleton stud in Kentucky where Sysonby was foaled. In his two years' racing Sysonby won more than $184,000 in stakes. The horse will be buried at Sheepshead Bay, but later in the season will be disinterred and shipped to Castleton and buried beside Mr. Keene's other famous horse. Domino.

Keene Mourns Loss

James R Keene owner of Syconhy which died Saturday was deeply put a period to the work of certain grieved at the loss of this great race

He ordered a post-mortem examination and the physicians setlled conclusively that the horse did not die of the skin disease, for which he had been treated for several months. The blood poisoning, which caused death, originated in a badly bruised frog of the Cause of Death

The skin affection had been the remote cause, it is surmised, for the horse had stamped in his stall to express his distaste for the itching of his skin. The frog had been terribly bruised. There is a mesh of small glood vessels there. An abscess formed, and the entire coronet was found to be full of pus. The spleen and liver were found o be greatly enlarged, but the huge lungs and stout heart of the horse were

When Sysonby first showed symptoms of the skin trouble soon after training began this spring, Mr. Keene was dissatisfied with the progress the thoroughbred was making toward recovery and had his own physician attend the horse. Everything possible was done. Sysonby's sufferings were pitiable and during a part of the illness the horse was strapped up to prevent its injuring itself.

LEADERS CLASH WITH PRESIDENT

Political Arena Will Witness Stirring Scenes Soon

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, June 18 .- A special to the Herald from Washington says:

There has been a modification of the 'big stick" proverb. Beginning with his inauguration as governor of New York, Mr. Roosevelt followed the policy laid down in the adage, "Speak softly and carry a big stick and you will go far." But he has departed from that. His method is, "Speak harshly and use the big stick and you will go farther.' In consequence of adopting the clubbing method of dealing with congress, President Roosevelt has accomplished

He has probably insured the success of a meat inspection law, which will contain exactly the provisions he demands, and which will fix him more firmly in the affections of the public. But he has aroused resentment against himself in the popular branch of congress that will probably outlast his occupancy in the White House. The extreme lengths to which Mr. Roosevelt has gone are likely to have far-reaching effect in American politics. Pot Boiling

Added to the personal hostility of a majority of the senators is now the personal hostility of a majority of the representatives. It is inevitable that an explosion shall come sooner or later which will place the entire congress of the United States quite as openly against the President as it was against Jackson in his first administration and against Johnson in the last three years he served as President.

Speaker Cannon is said to feel that the President has been guilty of unfair conduct in impugning the honesty of members of the agriculture committee of the house, in ascribing to him improper motives and in generally writing them down as servants of the beef

The President has alienated members of his own party in the house, not by dozens or scores, but literally by hundreds. He has lost the respect of many men, and he has aroused the hostility of many more. Many of the President's best friends believe that the methods he is now employing, if persisted in, will split his party wide open before the next national election No vivid imagination is needed to foresee stirring times near at hand in American politics, for Mr. Roosevelt has armays been hasty to appeal to the

Colorado State Auditor Issues Strict Order

DENVER, Col., June 18 .- Insurance men of the country will be interested and perhaps surprised to hear that State Auditor A. E. Bent has sent worl to A. M. Sweeney, president of the State Life Insurance Company of Indianapolis, Ind., that the Life Underwriters' Agency of Denver shall cease offering or selling directly or indirectly any special contract or stock in connection with the issuance of policies in this state. The order, if obeyed, will practically put the agency out of

Far Reaching Effect

The Life Underwriters' Agency of Denver is the agent of the State Life of Indianapolis. Last year the amount of new business written for the company was $3,233,541, showing a tremendous increas over the previous year, when only $570,000 was written. An investigation was started some months ago by State Deputy Superintendent of Insurance E. E. Rittenhouse. He submitted his findings to Auditor Bent. The latter wired Mr. Sweeney telling him to put a stop to the work of the agency in this city, and also addressed a letter, stating his reasons therefor. The ruling of Auditor Bent. as superintendent of insurance for Colorado, upon the matter will have a far reaching effect. It is understood that Utah, Wyoming and New-Mexico are to follow Auditor Bent's lead, and

MADISON, Wis., June 18.-Sheepishly, quietly and shamefacedly 1,500 residents of Madison came back to their homes last night, after having spent twenty-four hours in waiting to hear that Madison had sunk and been engulfed by the inrush of the waters of the surrounding lakes. The prophecy of a negro religious exhorter, which created much talk and consternation among certain residents, did not come to pass. He declared that the lakes surrounding the city would rise up and engulf it. The local newspapers took the matter up, and hundreds of persons last night left the city. As a matter of fact there was no disturbance here Sunday. The people generally went to summer parks, baseball games and other amusements as

WHY BELL SHOULD BE ELECTED

Jonathan Lane of Houston, one of the best-known lawyers in the state and a man of much influence in that portion of Texas, is an ardent supporter of Judge Charles K. Bell for governor. Judge Lane gives the following convincing reasons why Bell should be our next governor: 1. He is honest. This no man who knows him and who is himself honest will question or dispute. 2. He is learned and capable, all infermed persons will admit this. 23. He is courageous, and will ably contend for what he believes to be right. His every act proves this. 4. He is modest and unassuming, has a high regard for the opinion of others and is therefore approachable and enable to reason. 5. He is conservative, cautious and pareful, and never without thorough investigation adopts new schemes, is dways practical, never visionary. 6. He has confidence in his fellowmen, and believes that other people are possessed of wisdom and goodness; has no such egotism as causes him believe that he has monopolized se two great virtues. 7. He is experienced in statesmanship and has served his country well in of the three cardinal branches 4 of government-legislative, judicial and executive.

8. He is and at all times has been a constant, working and useful democrat, and believes in and practices mocratic doctrines, but at all times tolerant and fair in his estimation of the ability, virtue and integrity of opposing parties.

9. He advocates and believes in faithful public service, and an economic use of all public funds, consistent with the strict enforcement of law.

10. He advocates honesty in all things, but does not believe nor insinuate that our past wise, patriotic and honest governors, Coke, Hubbard, Roberts, Ireland, Ross, Hogg, Culberson, Sayers and Lanham, nor either of them, were dishonest, nor that they kept "unclean stables" that require cleaning out, nor would make such insinuations, nor entertain such belief even if to do so would cause him to be made governor of this state. He thinks the books of these illustrious statesmen are all right and require no inspection. He is not an "unclean"

11. He would not permit any kind of dishonesty under his administration, where it was possible to avoid it, and his books would be kept always ready for inspecticit.

12. If he were governor he would enforce the law to the extent that the law authorizes him to do so, but he would not usurp or assume authority not granted by law. 13. He would be the governor of all the people, he would know no class, every honest man would stand upon the same plane with him. 14. He would guard well the poor man's rights and liberties, and the rich man's wealth, and see that all are protected under the law. 15. While in office he would not shape his course with the hope and for the purpose of securing further political preferment, Every official act would be based upon his own good judgment as to what would be best for the people. 16. All sections of the state would be alike to him, each receiving just and fair consideration.

17. Class legislation embodying unjust discrimination would be opposed by him with all his strength. 18. Dishonest designers, frauds, selfish schemers and demagogues would be easily recognized by and their schemes understoou, and they and the propositions be dismissed in short order.

19. The humblest citizen, like the proudest and wealthiest, could ap-proper subjects, but no living man could approach him on an improper

20. He would improve and enlarge the splendid eleemosynary institutions the state now has, which have been built and maintained by the magnificent administrations which have pre-

21. He would extend the free school term to the constitutional requirement of not less than six months annually, and would otherwise improve this splendid public service.

22. He would maintain the nigh and humane standard of our penal institutions, and would improve them to the fullest extent possible, with the means at his command, and would prevent convict labor from coming in competition with free labor, as far as possible, with due regard to the people who bear the burdens of taxation.

23. He would improve and enforce the criminal laws to the end that the guilty would be apprehended and punished and the innocent protected and acquitted, regardless of the public sen-

24. He would oppose state prohibition, but would maintain the right of local option, subject to the will of the majority in every community. 25. He would oppose the distribution of free passes by railroad companies, upon the theory that it was a discrim-

26. He favors just and reasonable regulation of railroad corporations by means of the commission, and just and proper regulation by law of all private properties devoted to public

27. He favors - equal and uniform taxation, just to all interests, the same to be assessed and collected in some safe and sensible manner, but he opposes wild, untried and visionary schemes, ordinarily suggested to deceive the unthoughtful and secure their suffrage, frequently suggested on account of inherent weakness of the man who proposed them.

28. He is opposed to all trusts and monopolies in restraint of commerce and trade, believes in free competition and has developed and written the strongest anti-trust, anti-monopoly law which I have ever read, which is now the law of Texas on that subject. 29. He is opposed to the encroachment of corporate authority into fields and branches of business which should be left free and open for the occupation and energy of individuals. 30. He insists that foreign insurance companies should invest a fair portion of their earnings in Texas, when permitted to do business in this state. 31. He favors proper provision for the maintenance of the National Guard.

32. He favors the establishment, im-

34. Realizing his own honesty, he has faith in the honesty of others, and is more inclined to attribute any error to mistake rather than wilful wrong. He does not suspect dishonesty in the heads of the various departments of the government, selected by his own party, who have preceded him, and hurls no such charges and insinuations at them.

For these reasons and many others favor the nomination of Judge Bell, and these things I have said after a close personal acquaintance for the last nineteen years with him, and notwithstanding the fact that we have differed in our views in many important political matters.

TEXAS SHOULD ENCOURAGE IM-MIGRATION

It may be true that the great state of Texas is today developing faster than any other state in the union, and thousands of industrious people are annually finding homes within her borders. But when we come to think of it, there is so much of Texas yet remaining to be settled and developed that the annual immigration into the state is as but a drop of rain in a bucket of water. There is room here for millions more people. In fact, Texas could reasonably provide for the entire present population of the United States and still not feel uncomfortably

What the state needs is organized and intelligent effort along the line of attracting desirable immigrants. During the past year more than 1,000,000 immigrants have entered the ports of the United States from foreign countries, and these people are finding homes somewhere in the union, generally going where there is organized effort being made to receive them. Many of the leading railways of the country have regularly organized departments of immigration, with representatives in foreign countries, who see and ticket these people through to their destination, and by the time they get to this country Texas has no chance at them.

There is no reason in the world why

Galveston should not be made a great port of entry for immigrants, and no valid reason why they should not spread out from that point and cover every portion of Texas. It may be true that many of these foreign peoples are undesirable, and they may be something of a menace. But there is a method of separating the good from the bad, and when the immigration laws are properly enforced the situation is greatly relieved of this objectionable feature. Texas needs more people and must have more people if she is to attain the acme of her predestined greatness, and there should be an organized effort made at once to get in line with the source of supply. F. P. Sargent, commissioner general of immigration, while in Galveston recently, gave out some valuable suggestions along this line. He says: "During the last two years I have been advocating the diversion of immigration to the west and southwest. because I realize that for the immigrants the best possible opportunities exist in this section of the country and I have heertofore said that Galveston will make the ideal port. It has splendid harbor facilities and unexcelled railroad transportation facilities. The latter run up into the country, where there are immense land openings which should prove attractive to the newcomers, and offer the best possible encouragement to the immigrants. For the last two years I have brought the matter out in my annual reports, urging the opening up and developing of these opportunities along the gulf coast. I thought that if this could be done it would relieve the congestion in large something will be done in that di-"If the state of Texas, in my judgment, will take this matter up as a state and establish a state immigration bureau and spend a little money in advertising under the auspices of the state bureau the advantages that Texas offers to settlers, both at home and abroad, it would be but a little time until we would have a substantial increase of immigration this way. and if the steamers are running direct from the ocean ports to Galveston the people in Europe will know that they can come to Galveston and arrive within a very few hours' ride of where

Gleanings From The Exchanges

Senator Culberson got rid of the obnoxious feature in the quarantine bill. The federal government was seeking to oust the state from the control of its health concerns, and the house, democrats helping, actually passed such a measure. But Senator Culberson, backed by the Texas delegation, fought the proposition to a finish over on his side and won a signal victory. -Waco Times-Herald.

The Texas delegation fought the objectionable quarantine provision entirely unaided and alone. The fact that it was completely knocked out is a tribute to their fighting qualities that will long be remembered.

. . . The announcement by the Houston Post of the fact that the selection of Dallas as the convelion site by the state executive committee was a direct slap in the face of Judge C. K. Bell will probably go down in history as one of the best campaign jokes of this memorable year.-Austin Statesman.

The Post is the joker of the campaign. Its support of Colquitt is going to turn out the greatest joke of the season for in due time the Post will have to fall in line for Bell. 0 0 0

Senator Money of Mississippi told his colleagues some plain truths yesterday. There should have been two stars added to the flag-the state of Jefferson and the state of Oklahoma. Senator Bailey is a loud talker for the principles of Jefferson, but Jefferson was the champion of local selfgovernment. Why should outsiders dictate to the citizens of the proposed new state a constitution? Senator Money was right when he condemned "that Pharisaical cant and hypocrisy which leads some to scrutinize with great care the sins of others, while totally oblivious of their own." Democratic senators should have voted down the joint statehood bill.-Dallas Times-Herald.

Two states will be made out of the new state of Oklahoma in due time. The republican party cannot always continue in position to wrong those good people, and there will be two states and four more democratic United States senators.

 \diamond \diamond \diamond It seems likely that one result of the meat inspection scandal will be the retirement of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson from the cabinet. It is deemed certain that some of the blame for bad inspection service lies at the door of the department of agriculture. Mr. Wilson has had serious charges laid at his door in the matter of the leakage of cotton statistics. So it is said the President will let him retire from the cabinet within a few months and will appoint Gifford Pinchot, now chief of the forestry service, in 513 place. -Decatur Messenger.

The retirement of Secretary Wilson is very improbable. He is a man who has done much for the agriculture and live stock interests of the country, and it would be difficult to fill his place. Wilson may have made some errors, but the man's intentions are always

Washington Letter

WASHINGTON, June 18 .- The proposition to forbid the issuance of free transportation to the railroad men and their families has stirred up congressmen who have a large number of railroad men in their districts. As a result some neat compliments have been tossed in the direction of the engindriver, the front brakeman and the flagman. None did it in neater fashion than Representative Lilley of Pennsylvania, who in the course of a few remarks said that he did not know how the no-pass amendment got into the bill, but that the man who had put it in there if he was in good faith forgot "the engineer leaning far out of the cab with his eye on the rail all night, with the passenger asleep because he knows that that man is

"He forgot the rear brakeman who often stands out in the storm with the thermometer below zero guarding the rear of the train, while the passenger sleeps because he knows the man is there. I would be glad if we could put the scal of our deep disapproval upon that clause now. I find no fault with the leadership which says that this is not the proper time, but I shail find fault and I shall not vote for the bill if that clause is not eliminated. Fully one-fourth of the people in my district are directly affected by this bill and I ask you now, I ask my friends on this side of the house, while I am here upon the Cherokee strip on the democratic side, I ask you not to place us in the position of going home to our constituents with having even to vote upon such a proposition and I ask the conferees when it gets back to them to see to it that it is taken out." A sadly disappointed bunch of Cherokee Indians came away from the White house a few days ago. They had just seen the great white father and he did not come up to their expectations in a physical sense. These Cherokees have an idol in the person of Colonel "Bill" Zevely, assistant Indian commissioner under Cleveland. He has them hypnotized as much by his manly beauty as by his legal attainments. He is the standard of physical elegance, tall and built in proportion. After the braves had seen Roosevelt some one asked them what they thought. "Wagh," exclaimed one chief with contempt in his tone, "him not like Bill Zevely. Him not much good."

PANTHERS WIN IN CLOSE GAME

Three Runs Secured Off Four Hits—Dupree Effective

With a large crowd of Cleburne fans in the grand stand and a game that was hotly contested from the opening of the first inning until the last man was out in the first half of the ninth, the Railroaders lost Sunday afternoon to the Panthers by a final score of 2 to 1. Speaker went into the box for the visitors, being later relieved by Moran, the first pitcher walking four and the second three men. The amateur, Speaker, struck out two men, Moran one and Dupree fanned six. The score

BETTER WARM NOW THAN HEREAFTER

Pastor Urges Christians to Work During Summer

Rev. George S. Slover, paster of the Mulkey Memorial Methodist Episcopal church, south, in a sermon at that church Sunday night, made a personal appeal to the people of the congregation, especially the younger ones, to be useful in their day and generation. Rather than one text from which to base his remarks, Rev. Slover quoted any number of texts of Scripture during the course of the sermon, presenting a most logical argument portraying the necessity of people performing some sort of useful labor, whether they be in business, engaged in a professional career or working at a trade This was especially true of Christians, according to Rev. Slover. He said in

Positive Work Needed

"Positive work for Christ is demanded of every worker, and, if you are not a worker, you can but expect to gradually become indifferent, gradually get more and more removed from the church and God and drift out in the world of sin and worldly care. This is easy in Fort Worth, especially is it easy for the younger people. At a recent meeting of the Pastors' Association one of our leading preachers said that he had more trouble now to cause his congregation to remain forceful than he had in former times, to hold a successful revival and cause scores to be added to God and the church.

Better Warm Now "Warm? of course it's warm. I'm warm myself, standing up here preaching tonight. No man can expect to do any work this kind of weather and not become heated from labor; but, as the bulletin issued today and now in your hands indicates, wouldn't it be better to be warm and working here in this life than to have a more uncomfortable abiding place in the life to Despite the warmth of the weather

CHRISTIAN WOMEN URGED TO WORK

National Sescertary for Young People Speaks at Tabernacle

"Christian women are at ease in Zion," is the phrase used by Mrs. Mattie Pounds Sunday morning at the Tabernacle Christian church, in discussing the responsibilities of women in a Christian land. Miss Pounds is national secretary for young people's work of the board of missions of the Christian church, with headquarters at Cincinnati. She addressed the congregation at the Tabernacle church

Sunday morning in the place of the pastor, Rev. E. A. Dubber. Miss Pounds declared that the prophecies of the old testament regarding women have come to pass in Christian lands and that woman is now the equal of her brother and enjoys the same privileges as he. This is ont the case, however, in lands where Christ is unknown, and our ideas of man with his Christian chivalry are far beyond the fondest dreams of heathen woman. Instances were cited of the extreme cruelty with which heathen man treats his wife and revolting scenes of abuse de-

More Interest Urged

The speaker plead for a deeper interest among women in the work of the church. "My sisters," she said, "it is the religion of Jesus Christ and that only, that has made your life and mine worth the living. And yet, women, and Christian women-women for whom Jesus Christ suffered and died -are at ease in Zion. I ask you what would not the Christian women of this land do if they were alive with zeal?" She spoke of the duty of women to their children and their neighbors' children and of their duty to themselves, declaring that "We are too content with doing some little good instead of attaining our highest asperations and doing our best. "The good is the enemy of the best,"

she said. In speaking of the influence of work upon character Miss Pounds said: "If you will take the most degraded sinner in your city and convert him to the religion of Jesus Christ, then put him to work in Christian work for tenor even five years, you will not at the end of that time take him for the same

NEW T. P. ENGINE PROVES SUCCESS

No. 339 Can Do Better Than a Mile a Minute

Nearly a month ago a new engine was turned out of the Texas & Pacific shops at Marshall, Atlantic type, numbered 339. It has been subjected to many tests, and all of them have but confirmed the judgment of the late John P. Callagan, who made the plans. On a recent trial run between Marshall and Texarkana it was demonstrated that less than a minute to the mile was no task for the No. 339.

Many engines have been so rebuilt at the Marshall shops they were practically new, and others, of a much lighter type, have been built from the wheels up. But No. the 399 type is the first of her class and when placed on the road will be one of the largest and most powerful engines in use in the state. She was built for the Fort Worth-Marshall "Cannon Ball" run. Too Big for Scales

As the scales at Marshall were not large enough to weigh the new engine at Texarkana No. 339 was weighed. and her weight was 204,000 pounds: that of the tender 133,500, a total of 337,500, or 1681/2 tons. This locomotive was built from the ground up in the Marshall shops, and is beyond a doubt one of the finest locomotives ever built in the south. The locomotive was built under the direction of John W. Addis, superintendent of motive power and rolling stock of the company, from plans drawn by John P. Calligan, who died before the machine was completed.

The cylinders of No. 339 are 20x28 inches and the boiler is built for steam pressure of 225 pounds. The four drivers are 79 inches high: trailer wheel, 51 inches: front wheels on engine, 36 inches: tender, 33 inches, all steel tired, and the total wheel base is 55 feet 6 inches. Every wheel has an automatic brake shoe, which gives splendid control. There are many new features to No. 339 that other Atlantic type engines do not possess, but the most important features are the solid steel frame and the double spring over the trailer. There are two heavy springs there, one on the inside and the other on the outside of the frame which gives an equal distribution of the weight on the journals, which have a fourteen-inch bearing. The trailer journal is ten inches across The engine is lighted by electricity throughout and is thoroughly modern and up to date in every particular. Engine Cost $17,500

The tender was built in proporition to the locomotive and carries 6,500 gallons of water, upward of fifteen tons of coal and all things necessary for service. It has a vestibule on the rear end, as on a Pullman car. The locomotive is tastefully painted in black with silver letters, is strong, good steamer, speedy, and a compari son with other Atlantic type locomotives will demonstrate that she is the handsomest of her type in the United States and a credit to home industry The locomotive cost $17,500. No. 339 will remain at Marshall and await the completion of a sister engine, No. 340, and both will then be put into serv ice between Marshall and Fort Worth, pulling the "Cannon Ball."

FORT BEND COUNTRY DRY Live Stock and Farm Crops Suffer as Result J. H. P. Davis, a large cattle raiser

and citizen of Fort Bend county, and a member of the executive committee of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas, has been in attendance on the meeting of the committee in this city. He reported that it was dry down his way, no rain of account having fallen for some time. In consequence of this dearth of the necessary water for stock purposes grass was bad or rather not up to what it ought to be at this time of the year, and necessary cattle were not doing quite so well as they ought to. Outside of this there was nothing troubling the stock, that is in the nature of disease. It has been so dry that the corn crop has suffered materially and will be exceptionally short this year. Cotton is doing fairly well as it can stand more hot weather than most any other crop. The cattle industry in South Texas is in condition • to do well should a good rain fall at

He said, however, that the Concho had been running pretty full, and this of course would indicate that they had had plenty of water out west. Grass was in excellent condition, and of a verity cattle were picking up fat as a cow man loved to see them. The town now has a population of 1,500 people, new additions to it are being plotted and improved and a number of new buildings are being erected. New people are coming in every day and business is good. There are no houses for rent in the town and as fast as a new one is built there is a tenant waiting to get in it. Haskell will no doubt have a population of 3,000 in two years. It is in a good country for both farming and stock raising."

Rev. Dr. Monk Announces the Sermon for Next Sunday

CONDEMNS "RESORTS"

Declares People of Fort Worth Guilty of Grossly Violating Laws of Religion and Morality

"Sunday Resorts" was the subject of few passing remarks by Rev. Dr. Alonzo Monk, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, south, previous to the announcing of his text at that church Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service. In connection with the usual announcements of services for the afternoon and evening, as well as the remainder of the week, Dr. Monk took occasion to refer to Handley, White City and Lake Como as "Sunday resorts," and said that the patronage of these places on Sunday was a very gross violation of the Christian Sabbath, as set out both by civil and divine law. According to Dr. Monk, none can be a patron of such places without infringing on the laws of decent citizenship and upon the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the

The speaker averred that, of late, a arge proportion of the citizenship of the city of Fort Worth is giving itself to such gross violations of the holy Sabbath day as to bring both disgrace and discredit on our citizenship, and said that, if such a state of affairs is to obtain, "of the two it would have been better for Fort Worth to have had the sad and awful experiences of San Francisco's earthquake or the Galveston flood." Dr. Monk said that unless some relief was brought that at an early day "we need not be surprised if some such awful fate shall befall

"Even if the earth itself should open up and swallow us down to hell, neither refined citizenship on earth nor God in Heaven can long tolerate such a state of things."

Dr. Monk Monday morning made the statement that he will deliver a sermon next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, his subject at that time to be the Sabbath ERECT HUGE TANK

At Lake Como

One of the largest crowds of the season attended Lake Como Sunday afternoon and night. This is another bit of evidence showing how popular Lake Como is becoming. Professor Cox and his famous concert band played some excellent selections. His cornet solo was especially well received.

This afternoon Don Carlos and his trained dog and lion show will entertain the visitors at Lake Como. This show is especially very entertaining for the little ones. Performance will be given free-no charge whatever. The Houston Chronicle says: "Don Carlos has the king pin of all dog and lion acts. His pets do more intelligent things than many human beings. The dogs are but four in number, but they dance and perform all sorts of athletic feats, greatly to the delight of the audience. . Don Carlos' lion is a handsome beast of puma or jaguar type. The trainer does not content himself with merely appearing in the cage with the beast, but handles and fondles him upon several occasions." This performance will be given every night and Monday, Wednesday and Saturday maturday matinees. The Arlington Heights Traction Company has received six more cars from St. Louis, which will be placed in service as soon as possible. With new cars in operation the company will be in a position to maintain a fiveminute service between Fort Worth and Lake Como. A slight accident at the Citizens'

This is one of the strongest summer theatrical organizations ever seen in Fort Worth and it pleased large audiences both Sunday afternoon and evening. The leading parts are taken by actors who have won notice with some of the leading theatrical organizations in the country.

The Figure Eight and miniature raliway again proved attractions for a large part of the throngs of visitors and the numerous other amusement attractions were well patronized.

SCALY ECZEMA ALL OVER BODY

Eruptions Appeared on Chest, and Face and Neck Were All Broken Out - Scales and Crusts Formed - Iowa Lady Has Great Faith in Cuticura Remedies for Skin

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"I had an eruption appear on my chest and body and extend upwards and downwards, so that my neck and face were all broken out; also my arms and the lower limbs as far as the knees. I at first thought it was prickly heat. But soon scales or crusts formed where the breaking out was. Instead of going to a physician, I purchased a complete treatment of the Cuticura Remedies, in which I had great faith, and all was satisfactory. A year or two later the eruption appeared again, only a little lower; but before it had time to spread I procured another supply of the Cuticura Remedies, and continued their use until the cure was complete. It is now five years since the last attack, and have not seen any signs of a return. I have taken about three bottles of the Cuticura Resolvent, and do not know how much of the Soap or Ointment, as I always keep them with me; probably nne half dozen of each.

"I decided to give the Cuticura Remedies a trial after I had seen the results of their treatment of eczema on an infant belonging to one of our neighbors. The parent took the child to the nearest physician, but his treatment did no good. So they procured the Cuticura Remedies and cured her with them. When they began using Cuticura Remedies her face was terribly disfigured with sores, but she was entirely cured, for I saw the same child at the age of five years, and her mother told me the eczema had never broken out since. I have more faith in Cuticura Remedies for skin diseases than anything I know of. I am, respectfully yours, Emma E Wilson, Liscomb, Iowa, Oct. 1, 1905." Bulls Effect a Rally-Better Crop Outlook Sends Shorts to Cover. Prices Advance

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, June 18 .- Wall street was inclined to take a more cheerful view of the situation today, owing to the better crop prospects, as the result of beneficial rains throughout those sections of the grain belt from which pumerous complaints of dry weather have heretofore been received and while the Russian news was unfavorable it was not a factor in the proceedings as London ignored the same and sent reports of a firm and higher market for American securities. The execution of selling orders which had accomulated over the holiday caused a lower opening, losses in most instances being fractional, although Anaconda on the first call sold 21/2 points below Saturday's final figures. Reading was one of the few issues which opened higher and attracted attention during the first few minutes on account of a quick drop of one point, carrying the price 1/2 point below the low of Saturday.

The volume of trading during the first hour was larger than for some time past and active covering by shorts was a feature. Buyers for new account were not lacking and the market soon rallied, prices for the teneral list working up substantially before the noon call, the strength of Baltimore and Ohio being the most conspicuous feature, this stock crossing 115. It is known that earnings of the road are more than sufficient to justify the rumored increase in dividend and the good buying which was in evidence today as well as the first few days is attributable to that fact.

Shorts gathered their forces and after midday again raided the market, putting the timid longs to flight and sending prices tumbling downward rapidly, the movement reaching its height in the last hour, when all early gains were dissipated and many of the issues, among them Pennsylvania, touched new low levels. Pennsylvania lost 3 points, breaking through 1291/2. Sales to 11 a. m., 350,700 shares; to noon, 653,000; to 1 p. m., 691,900. Rates for call money ranged from 31/2 to 4 per cent. Quotations

CHICAGO, Ill., June 18.—Beneficial dation by longs in the July option was rains which fell last night throughout the feature of today's session of the Kansas, Nebraska and western Iowa, Cotton Exchange and the dominating relieving the drouth which has prevailed in that section, was the basis of a selling movement which weakened prices for the ntire grain belt today, and none is predicted by the official bringing to an abrupt termination the weather map, while from Georgia and reign of the bulls. Wheat prices were South Carolina there were many re-%c to %c below Saturday's finals on ports of damage from the excessive the first call, the slump being due to the heavy volume of liquidating orders vorable Liverpool advices (contracts which had accumulated. Good Steers Slow But Steady-Cows 10c Lower-Calves 25c Lower-Hogs and Sheep Steady

The cattle run for the first day of the market week totaled about equal to the average Monday supply, reaching 4.070, with 1,868 calves. Beef sters were slower in sufficient volume for market requirements, the supply embracing two loads strong fed 1,135-pound steers, several loads of cake and grass steers and thirty loads of straight grassers. The good cattle were the subject of much bargaining, the demand for these not coming up to expectations. An outlet was finally found for them at $4.40. Grass steers were readily taken around $3.15, and the cake and grass steers sold from $3.35 to $3.55. Butcher cows were shown in relatively large supply, and this offered a further opportunity to depress the market, which was taken advantage of to the extent of a dime. Pretty good cows sold at $2.10, some better ones made $2.25 and a small bunch of fancy cows brought $2.85. The trade was slow and dull on all classes of she Bulls are getting scarce of late, slow market not being an inducement for free marketing. Calves make an extra large run, the total being nearly 1,700. The free marketing of calves last week led to a lecline of 25c in choice veals and 50c on all others. The heavy run of today caused another let-down, 25c more being taken off all around. The quality was very good; choice calves sold market closed steady with prices at a | at $4.50, and the movement was slow and dull.

FORT WORTH, 14TH AND MAIN, AND DAL burg correspondent of the Morgon Post wires his paper the visit of William J. Bryan to the Russian capital caused a great flury in political cirles. The secret police shadowed Bryan from the moment he crossed the frontier. Political factions endeavored to make use of his presence. The bureaucracy objected to Bryan meeting the members of the progressive parties. The correspondent says Bryan was probably unaware of the stir his visit created. More care is required to not over eed when ground feed is fed than when whole grain is used, and cows EASY PAYMENTS get off their feed easier. J. M. Lary, the Hillsboro shipper, visited the stock yards. C. H. Price had ninety calves loaded in from Odessa. W. F. Wilson loaded eighty-five calves at Stanton, Texas, and unloaded Nelson-Draughon College them on the market here. A. D. Warren was visiting friends and fellow cowmen on the yards. His home is at Bluffdale, Hill county. D. M. Fielder came in from Cresson with a couple of cars of stuff. C. C. Ledbetter had forty-six calves from Mercury, Texas.

Ware & Leland NEW ORLEANS COTTON

The New Orleans cotton market opened for the week with an easy undertone. At times July displayed pronounced weakness and in one break was sent down to 10.97, or 11 points below the level of Saturday's closing. In comparison the new crops were steady, as at their lowest in the early session they were only one and two points lower than last week's closing. This steadiness was probably due to the extensive short interest in them while the weakness of July appeared to be due more to getting out of longs than to the selling of shorts. It is hard to read the July position. Some of the most successful operators believe in a squeeze, while general sentiment is against a squeese. The net stock of cotton here has now fallen down to almost 45,000 bales, which favors the bulls. It may be that their game is to wait until there is slight oportunity for shipments to be hurried to this market and then to put the screws on as they did the year before 18 cent cotton was seen. That the bulls cannot put the market up if they so desire was shown today when, with July at 10.97, the bull leader commenced bidding. They had to buy a very few hundred bales to put the price up to 11.05 and could have put it much higher if they had continued to bid. It seems that the time is not considered ripe for any pronounced aggressiveness on the long following. Shorts show more tenacity than longs. The weather continued favorable except in south Texas, where no relief in the hope of rain was reported. The Picayune's weekly crop summary is bearish in the extreme and its return from Mississippi and Louisiana were very encouraging.

Vivion Commission Company

NORTH FORT WORTH, June 18 .-Cotton, that is, the technical position of the staple, is assuming a more bullish aspect each day, and while it is true that prices are not responding satisfactorily, the surrounding requisites for an advance are available and the lack of outside speculation is the principal reason for the market's steadiness, and it must be admitted that a large short interest has been built up which is likely to start the upward movement at any

The day's news was all of a favorable character from a bullish standpoint, weather conditions, which are of paramount importance, caused uneasiness among the shorts, the drouth in south Texas was not broken over the holiday and the official may does not predict rain tonight or tomorrow, while from Georgia and South Carolina reports of crop damage from the excessive rains are beginning to come in. Fair weather is predicted for these sections tomorrow. The New Orleans Picayune in its summary states that reports of shedding are becoming numerous in the south, although the crop is fruiting very well as a rule. Boll weevil are reported in the northern part of Texas, while the crop in the southern portion cannot go another week without rain.

WHOLE FAMILY ESCAPES

Surrey Is Wrecked, but None of Occunants Are Injured

A most remarkable escape from serious injury was the experience of the family of Mr. Gilnough late Sunday afternoon at the corner of Main and Thirteenth streets.

To accommodate the rush from the ball park after the game Sunday afternoon, there were about thirteen specials in use. Mr. Gilnough, driving a surrey, in which was his wife, son and a little niece, waited at the intersection of the named streets for about ten of the special baseball cars to pass and then, possibly growing impatient, started on his way westward. The oncoming northbound cars stopped for him, but a southbound Interurban, which he did not see, caught the party and jammed all of them and the vehicle against one of the city cars, completely wrecking the surrey, and yet none of the family was injured. The horse was swung around with the surrey and he also escaped practically unscatched, for Mr. Gilnough reported last night, after a careful examination, he could only find a couple of slight scratches on the horse. It was remarkable that no one was in-

WHY PULLMANS

Courts Have Held Company Is Not Common Carrier

It was on the advice of the interstate commerce commission that the Pullman lines were excepted from the operations of the Hepburn rate bill, and for the reason that every court of competent jurisdiction, which had passed on the question, had held that they—the Pullman lines—were no more common carriers than were the hotels. Hence if the rate bill was made applicable to them the law to that extent would not have been constitutional. The United States supreme court has not had this question before it, but five or six state supreme courts have and the decisions are uniform.

This will give the Goulds what they have long coveted, and for which they have spent millions, their own line from the Atlantic to the Pacific, for it is understood that the line from Stockton on

Special to The Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, June 18.—The apportionment for the school children for the month of May was $340,000, which is the highest amount appropriated for any month this year. Successful Year Closed

According to reports received by the state department of education the country schools in Texas for the session just closed have been the most successful in the history of the state. This is due in a great measure to the interest taken in common school matters by the department of education during the past year or two. It was only recently the department issued a pamphlet which contains some valuable advice and suggestions for the guidance of the country superintendents and to teachers in rural districts of the state.

Officers Look For Full List on Membership Canvass

At the Young Men's Christian Association office in the West Side hotel everything and everybody is busy preparing for the "thousand in a day" canvass for memberships to take place next Friday. Considerable interest is being shown in this plan of membership getting and several general secretaries from points in the state will be present to see how the plan works. The directors of the Fort Worth association are agressive in their work and do not mean to wait for things to come their way, but are going after them. The same spirit is to be carried out when the work opens, those in charge expecting to make this the strongest and best association in the southwest. Those who at first thought that a thousand in a day was too big an undertaking now think that the limit of sixteen hundred will be reached by 10 o'clock Friday night. A number of the committeemen who are employed where there are a large
