TELEGRAM PICTURE LEADS TO FULL IDENTIFICATION OF VICTIMS AND COMPANION

Relative of Jack Bishop says two other men were known as Jesse Wilson and Jim McDaniel — Territory city marshal gives McDaniel's name as McDonald, but identity is apparently the same.

HEARD FROM TWO WEEKS AGO... Testimony of Engineer Moore adds little to story of killing and inquest verdict is still delayed. Manner of two men's death unsolved. All three men seen here shortly before the bodies were found.

By means of the picture published in The Telegram exclusively on the afternoon of Friday, June 15, J. E. Russell, city marshal of Paul's Valley, I. T., has found people who have known the three men in that photograph for several years, and these people are positive in their identification of the three men as the following:

Jack Bishop, Jim McDaniel (or McDaniel), Jesse Wilson.

According to the statement of the letter received Tuesday morning by J. H. Maddox, chief of police of Fort Worth, signed by J. E. Russell, city marshal of Paul's Valley, I. T., Jack Bishop was a resident 15 miles southwest of Paul's valley during the greater portion of his life and was well known to the authorities.

It is believed the man known in the territory as Jim McDaniel was the W. Jackson, one of the two men killed and that "Jesse Wilson" was the man known in Fort Worth and identified by R. B. Bowen and the agent for the Cherryvale Construction Company as Harry Longworth.

THE MARSHAL'S LETTER... The letter from J. E. Russell, city marshal of Paul's Valley, I. T., to J. H. Maddox, chief of police of Fort Worth, received Tuesday morning, is as follows:

Dear Sir: In answer to yours of the 16th inst.—I knew Jack Bishop. He was principally raised in the territory and for the past few years lived at Elmore, about 15 miles southwest of this place.

He had no special occupation. I learned from parties who were well acquainted with him at Elmore, that he left that place in company with one Jim McDaniel and one Jesse Wilson, of that place. I showed these parties the photos taken from the bodies found and they identified the persons in the photo as Jack Bishop, Jim McDaniel and Jesse Wilson.

I think you could find out more by writing the officers at Elmore. However, I will endeavor to find out all possible about the men, and if anything of importance is learned, I will notify you. Very respectfully, (Signed) J. E. RUSSELL, City Marshal.

Further Identification... J. M. Bull of Illinois Bend, Montague county, Texas, has given definite testimony as to the identity of one of the men. Mr. Bull identifies the middle man in the picture published in The Telegram as his brother-in-law, Jack A. Bishop, and the names of the other two men, he says, are Jesse Wilson and James McDaniel, both of Elmore, I. T.

Quarrel Reported... William McBride, the Mohawk hotel barber, said Tuesday morning that the two men known as Bishop and Jackson were at his shop a few days before their bodies were found on the Santa Fe track. The third man, whom he had frequently seen with them, was not in their company at that time, but he saw him the day after they left. The third man wore a brown slouch hat at the time.

GIVES CAUSE FOR FRISCO DISASTER

Lays Earthquake Damage to Faulty Construction

By Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 19.—"Dishonest mortar—a corrupt conglomeration of sand and lime—was responsible for nearly all of the earthquake damage in San Francisco," says Dr. T. Nakamura, professor of architecture of the Imperial University of Tokyo and one of the most distinguished members of the committee dispatched to this city by the Japanese government to investigate the effects of the tremor and fire.

Construction Faulty... "I find," said Dr. Nakamura yesterday, "that much of the damage to San Francisco from the earthquake was due to poor mortar and faulty construction, and the greater portion of the damage to the class A buildings by fire was the result of misjudged use of hollow tile and so-called fire blocks instead of concrete. It is an easy matter, I have found, to design a building that will be not only earthquake proof, but practically fireproof."

Prejudice Against Brick... "There has developed as a result of the earthquake in San Francisco great prejudice against brick buildings. However, they are largely employed in Japan, where earthquakes of greater severity than the one experience in this city are not uncommon. The secret of their success, however, lies in the fact that good mortar is used. The mortar should either be composed of one part cement to two parts of sand and five of sand. The bricks should be thoroughly wet before being laid and when the mortar has set under these conditions a wall becomes practically one stone."

HEARD FROM TWO WEEKS AGO... "The last time we heard from Jack was about a week before he was killed. He was then in Henrietta, Texas. His letter stated that he had just gotten out of jail at Henrietta, charged with gambling. He stated that he was going back to Elmore, I. T., and wanted his sister Nell to go with him."

"The other two men in the picture are Jesse Wilson and James McDaniel. I do not know these men personally, but I understand that the three were chums. Jesse Wilson lived at Elmore, I. T., so I understood. James McDaniel also lived there. Jack Bishop was a single man. I suppose he was somewhat wild in his ways, but as I have stated, I have not seen him for six years or more. While in jail at Henrietta he wrote me for money to pay his fine. I don't think he had any money of his own. I fall to see any motive for the killing. I cannot identify his clothing, for I have not seen him for several years."

"I feel certain that he is the identical Jack Bishop who is my brother-in-law, because of the picture and letters from his sisters, and other facts and circumstances that I have learned from the officers at Fort Worth. The first information I had of his death was last Saturday night, when I read about it in a newspaper."

Inquest Not Closed... Justice Charles T. Rowland said: "I do not know when I shall conclude my investigation of the two men killed out on the Santa Fe. The officers of the city and county are working faithfully on the case. Up to date the investigation has failed to show anything of a very certain nature, except the complete identification of Jack A. Bishop. Circumstances up to now have failed to show any motive, but there may not be any motive for the killing. That is the question. When I get all the light possible I will return a verdict."

Barr Bishop and the man Jackson. "I never knew Bishop's last name until it was published in the papers; he was always called Jack. If he ever worked I never heard of it, but he always had money to spend. I have seen him and the man Jackson often, and several occasions here was another fellow they called Harry with them."

NEW YORK, June 19.—Dr. A. H. Doty, health officer of the port of New York, said yesterday that the new quarantine regulations affecting Cuban ports will go into effect Saturday next and will be enforced to the letter. Under these regulations, all passengers on steamships from Havana and other Cuban ports must, on arrival, produce certificates showing that they are immune from yellow fever. Their failure to do so will mean that they will be held for observation until five days have elapsed since their departure from Cuba.

To Protect South... "The new regulations are intended to keep yellow fever out of our southern states," said Dr. Doty. "For instance, a person with the fever in his system may come from Havana in three days, and if allowed to land, can, by taking a fast train, be in New Orleans before the expiration of the five-day limit. Hence the necessity of keeping all but immune under observation for that period. New York is of course in no danger, for there are no yellow fever mosquitoes here. It is different in the south, however. We have got to protect that section of the country and that is exactly what the new regulations are intended to accomplish."

Y. M. C. A. Thousand a Day Canvassing Growing

More interest is being shown daily in the Young Men's Christian Association's "thousand a day" membership canvass, and by the time the first whistle blows on Friday morning, showing that 100 men and boys have applied for membership, the whole town will be watching.

The big clock that will indicate the results of the canvass during the day is being moved and will be placed in position in front of the Board of Trade early Friday morning, and the first returns posted at 9:15 o'clock.

The people who are both men and women, are invited to see the returns, as shown by stereopticon on the north wall of the Burton-Peel store, from 8 to 10 o'clock on Friday night.

Several hundred pictures will be shown also, comprising a great variety of views. Among these will be views of the industrial building and as it appears today.

The directors of the association ask that the women of the city, who know of those who ought to be in the junior department, secure their names as members and telephone them to the Young Men's Christian Association office, to be held in the Junior solicitors are asked to report as large a list as possible, and to report early Friday morning, as the limit of this membership will likely be reached early in the day.

A number of collectors have so far looked over the field that they are confident that they will secure as many as fifty members, while the business men who can give the day Friday can easily secure more.

The Young Men's Association has never before had the equipment to do a modern work, but now that the business men of the city have given $1,000 to secure the necessary equipment, the young men are going to show their appreciation by making good use of the privileges.

EMANCIPATION FESTIVAL HERE

Colored School Teachers Join in the Celebration

Emancipation day celebration served as too great a temptation to be resisted by the colored school teachers of Tarrant county and they risked the renewal of their certificates to join in the festivities Tuesday.

Tuesday is the day set for the opening of the normal for colored teachers of the county, but Superintendent George D. Ramsey said this afternoon that but a very few of the teachers had appeared to enroll for the work. Mr. Ramsey was surprised at the small number present this morning, as the law requires that every teacher be present at the sessions twenty days, exclusive of three examination days.

As there are but five weeks given to the work, including the present week, it is easily seen that the teachers will have to attend the normal every day from now on, and the superintendent is anxious to see that the teachers are present at the sessions twenty days, exclusive of three examination days.

The colored citizens of the city are enjoying the celebration of the forty-first anniversary of the issuance of the proclamation which brought freedom to the slaves. The celebration started at Douglas park, north of the Trinity river, in Main street, and these the celebration was continued with the following program: Reading of the declaration, by H. C. Houston, Jr., followed by speeches by Dr. J. M. Moseley, Attorney Charles McBeth, Dr. Hughes, Walter Jones and others.

A feature of the occasion were the speeches by ex-slaves. An address was delivered by A. Cavel on "The Authority of General Grant."

An excursion from Denison came in on the Frisco at noon, bringing 150 colored people, who were escorted to the park by a band of music. The celebration there during the afternoon. A free barbecue picnic dinner was served at noon and in the afternoon games and sports were held as an outlet for the enthusiasm of the celebrators. Tuesday night the day's fun will end with a grand ball, at which Senator Josh Pyles will officiate as floor manager.

TOMATO CROP SHORT

Fort Worth Supply Comes From South and East Texas.

One of the most extensive gardeners in Tarrant county said Tuesday morning that the local crop of early tomatoes will be very light. They are now selling for 6 cents a pound wholesale and the supply is not equal to the demand. Most of the tomatoes sold in Fort Worth now are shipped from south and east Texas points. They retail at 10 cents per pound and the dealers in the local market are coming into the local market in large quantities now from the gardeners at Riverside and other nearby truck regions. The crop of this vegetable is fast going, but the weather and the ravages of insects. The fruit supply holds up well, although the quality of the crop is not so good as Tuesday morning is not equal to that of last week's supply. Kansas currants are arriving in large amounts.

WHEAT EXCELLENT

Politician Unable to Attend Meeting of Committee—Thrashing

One of the members of the Tarrant county democratic executive committee, said Monday that he was unable to attend the meeting of the committee, which was held at the way in J. McKinnon of Crowley, who was too busy thrashing to come in to the city to attend the meeting.

Mr. McKinnon was just fairly started into his wheat harvest and the grain is described as being of excellent quality, bright, plump and seemingly much better than the crop of last year. Much wheat there was to be thrashed, but as wagons were delivering at the time mentioned a car load, Mr. McKinnon's wheat is not so good as Tuesday morning is not equal to that of last week's supply. Kansas currants are arriving in large amounts.

Purity Talcum Powder "Willow"

We are introducing a new Talcum Powder made by "Willow" in Boston, and sold under Burton-Peel D. G. Co. label. This powder is proven chemically pure borated and in every way fit for the nursery and toilet. In accepting the sale of this powder under our signature, we first considered the purity and true worth of this Powder. There are many different kinds of Talcum Powder, some are irritating, others will roughen the skin and close up the pores, it isn't pure nor fit for use and yet thousands of mothers punish the helpless infant by using these cheap powders that don't cost as much to produce as sifted sand. "Willow" Talcum is "absolutely pure" analyzed to our satisfaction before we allowed our name to go with each bottle. We received the first 50 gross shipment, which we will sell at 10c. But the article is manufactured to sell at 25c. Glass jars with perforated screw tops. Delicately perfumed odors—lilac, violet, heliotrope, jockey and La Trefle. This seems a Clean Food Era

We are inclined to believe that some magazine writers in their anxiety to attract attention to themselves have overstated the case against the meat packers. We do not sell meat but believe in fair play, and also in a complete knowledge, by the people, of exactly what they are eating. We have always printed on each and every pkg. of exactly what it is made of and the scores of visitors who pass through our works every day find the Pure Food Factories as clean and sweet as a maiden's fresh white apron. The food is thoroughly cooked in these factories from the choicest white wheat and barley, the sweet offering of the fields.

No food on earth gives the same sustaining power from meal to meal as Grape-Nuts.

BECAUSE--- The starchy parts of the wheat and barley are changed by moisture and heat to a form of sugar required by the human system and almost immediately absorbed without stress to the digestive machinery. And again, the certain elements in these grains are incorporated to insure rebuilding of the soft gray matter in the brain and nerve centers to fit one for the wearing work of the day. A dish of Grape-Nuts and Cream at each meal supplies the GO and you can feel it in a way that leaves no question. It is not stimulation but simply scientific feeding.

WHERE IS THE GUILT?

TEXAS FARM AND RANCH IS ONE OF THE MOST CONSERVATIVE PAPERS IN TEXAS, AND IS IN FAVOR OF EQUAL AND EXACT JUSTICE TO ALL INTERESTS. Commenting on the penalty suits recently instituted by the state of Texas against Fort Worth institutions, Farm and Ranch says:
"Seventeen million dollars in fines have been assessed against the Fort Worth Live Stock exchange members by the Texas attorney general's office for alleged violations of the Texas anti-trust laws. Either the firms complained of are guilty as charged or the prosecuting officials are guilty of a crime against the industry, the peace and dignity of Texas. This is no time to 'play with fire,' no time to 'make political capital' at the expense of legitimate industries. The exchange people are guilty or the attorney general, with the state administration, are guilty.
"On which horn of the dilemma shall these cases hang? Who is guilty?
"Unless the state officials possessed undisputable proof of the guilt of the Live Stock exchange members, it was a crime against the Texas live stock interests to bring the charges made in this case. We note that one of the defendant companies has plead guilty and paid a small fine. Whether this plea of 'guilty' was merely technical and made for the purpose of escaping from expensive and hurtful litigation, we are not prepared to say, but in view of the small amount for which the case was compromised ($7,500, while the $50 penalty for each day of the two years amounts to $36,500 in each suit), it suggests most strongly that the Godair-Crowley company desired merely to shake off a troublesome suit. This is probable.
"Now note this most serious objection to the present Texas law, which provides that when the attorney general wills it, anti-trust suits may be brought by lawyers other than those employed in the attorney general's office through the district court of Travis county, and such outside legal talent shall receive 25 per cent of all fines collected from suits so brought. This is dangerous to our organized business interests. The fearful weight of the state of Texas may be thrown in the balance against any suspected business association or organization. Large penalties may be sued for. Forfeiture of charter may be demanded, etc. In case such suits fail and the state fails to make good its case, the thoughtful citizen will wonder if this was not an unsuccessful attempt to blackmail the defendants—force a few thousand dollars from them under a technical plea of guilty, rather than to fight the suits under the very heavy bonds required?
"Should the present suits, brought for $17,000,000 in penalties, simmer down finally to a forty or fifty thousand dollar basis, the public will conclude that the companies were merely 'held up' for this sum.
"What political purposes may these suits possibly serve? We can understand why a district attorney should want a share in the $17,000,000 penalties demanded in such large suits. Can we fathom the matter of political interests to be served by instituting these or similar suits? Is it possibly a diversion? Politics has its subtleties. A dust is sometimes raised in one quarter to obscure the view. Houses in another portion of a burning village are often fired to divert attention and to more safely rob the houses first fired. The people need to keep both eyes open to prevent political steals as well as commercial graft.
"Will the attorney general be able to substantiate his charges for violations against the Texas anti-trust laws? If he does not, he deserves a coat of tar and feathers administered at the gentle hands of Texas stockmen. If the members of the exchange are guilty, they are totally guilty. Let there be no hair-splitting differences made as to 'guilty' and 'technically guilty.' There is no difference between the two and there should be no compromises or winking at violations of the law. Ignorance of the law is no excuse with man or corporation.

Again we ask, 'who is guilty?'
The Farm and Ranch is in error in saying the Godair-Crowley Commission company had pleaded guilty and paid a fine in the penalty suits. The action taken in that respect was by the Cassidy-Southwestern Commission company, composed of some of the largest cattlemen in the state.

THE WEEKLY PRESS OF TEXAS.

TEXAS OWES MORE TO ITS COUNTRY PRESS THAN IT CAN HOPE TO PAY. There is no other agency in the state that works so zealously for the commonwealth and reaps so little from its efforts. Texas can never discharge the debt that is due the country press for its labors—Fort Worth Telegram.
Texas has the best weekly or country press of any state in the union. That is admitted by all who know anything about the matter, and especially is the fact known to printers' supply houses. But The Telegram goes pretty far when it says that Texas owes more to her country press than she can ever hope to pay. For Texas is paying that press, as well as the daily press, fairly well. The people have come to realize what the press has done and is doing for the state and their patronage to it is greater than that of any other state them are incorporated and are paying handsome dividends a paper may be found that lags behind because of lack of support, but the rule is that every paper in the state which deserves support is getting it. At the late press meeting at Corpus Christi State Press talked to many of the editors of the weekly papers and in every instance the reports from them were to the effect that they were making money. Many of them in the union, when population is considered. Here and there, Patronage is one way in which the people can express their friendship and appreciation of the work done by the papers, and it is the only way the square editor would have the appreciation expressed. The cause of the prosperous condition of the press and the reason why the people appreciate that press is simply that it has got away from personal politics and devoted itself to the material improvement of the state. As long as newspapers did nothing but quarrel among themselves as to whether this or that politician should be given an office, so long it was worthless in the way of developing the state. It is a good day for the newspapers and it is a better day for the people.—Dallas-Galveston News.
The News is wrong in the assumption that the brief period of prosperity that has apparently come to the weekly press of Texas is ample compensation for the long years the great majority of them have spent in standing up for the material advancement of their respective communities. There are many publishers of weekly papers in Texas who have grown gray in the service of their people. They have seen the towns in which they are located grow from small beginnings to pretentious and promising towns and cities. Nearly every institution that has contributed to this splendid development has been purchased with a trifling expenditure of editorial labor. The town has been boomed and continually referred to as the best in all Texas many times when the publisher did not know where his next square meal was coming from. These men have done their duty under the most trying circumstances. Many of them have invested all their plants have earned for years in betterments and improvements in the determination to keep their papers just a little bit in advance of their towns. They have located printing plants in small Texas towns that would be a credit to any city in the state, and in the majority of instances, work that should be done in their plants is sent to the larger cities and towns under the delusion that it can be done better and cheaper.
These are some of the things The Telegram had in mind when it said the state of Texas owes more to its country press than it can hope to pay. And still another feature of the situation quite galling to the conscientious country publisher is that too often the recognition extended is given too much in the guise of charity. There are too many business men in Texas who take a too narrow view of newspaper patronage. They do not look upon it as a legitimate business investment when they spend money for advertising, but feel they are being touched for just that much for the maintenance of a necessary local institution. The recipient of these favors is made to feel the full force of the situation.
It may be true, as the News says, that there are many country papers in Texas now that are making a little money and some of them paying good interest on the investment, but this is the exception and not the general rule. As a matter of right and justice, if the proper recognition was extended to the weekly press of this state every country publisher would be carrying a fat bank account and stand perfectly independent. Perhaps this will be the case some day, but at this time the state of Texas still owes its country press a debt of gratitude that it will be a long time paying.
The country press is continually improving, and its members learning good business sense. That within itself is one of the most encouraging signs of the times.

And it would be well for the friends of Bryan to keep an eye on the indicator and not be misled by the developments of the present situation. The leaders within the Democratic party who have always fought Bryan so openly and persistently have not suddenly become converted to the Bryan manner of looking at things. They feel the same way deep down in their hearts that they have always felt, and the allegations they are making to the effect that they consider the Nebraskan a bigger and broader man than during the two previous campaigns may be well taken with a moderate amount of salt.—Fort Worth Telegram.

Same in Henderson county. We don't think the candidates ought to ask the farmers to cease their work one day in each voting precinct to go to hear the candidates speak. From some quarters come expressions of surprise that Railroad Commissioner Colquitt should have been a prohibitionist, then an anti, a local optionist and then an anti. But why the surprise? Since the gubernatorial bee began buzzing in the railroad commissioner's bonnet he has been on both sides of every important question which involved politics and his every act as railroad commissioner has been carefully studied as to the effect it would have on his campaign for governor. Of the four candidates for governor, Colquitt is really the only dangerous man in the bunch, and the people are rapidly becoming apprised of the fact.—Beaumont Journal.

Candidate Colquitt is a politician of much versatility. In fact, he is the only candidate in the field that has been able with his other accomplishments to make a statement and stick to it in the face of its exposed falsity.

In Mexico they raise beggars like we would bull pups. The children are taught that it is right to beg, and to that end they are frequently crippled in order to carry out the scheme. We would call this graft.—Bonham Herald.

Mendicancy is rapidly becoming a profession. Just like medicine, the law and other useful occupations. Children are being raised up and educated to become beggars and are given a thorough schooling in all the essentials. And Mexico is not the only country in which the practice prevails. We are raising lots of beggars of a professional nature in the United States.

Some men, after being married a few years, imagine that all a wife needs is a home and three meals a day, with now and then some new clothes. And yet during the process of winning the love of that wife he told her he could not live without her. What is more, he believed it at that time.—Brownwood Bulletin.

The ideally happy home is the one in which the husband never forgets the role of the devoted lover. Those little attentions so dear to the feminine heart are just as sweet and potent when the temples have been frosted with silver as when the girlish heart first yielded to its captor.

O. S. Lattimore has submitted a proposition to Senator Anger for both to withdraw from the race for state senator, in view of the fact that Judge Alexander of Parker county has entered the list. Hanger has not yet given a decision, but Chairman Curtis says Hanger will not withdraw.—Granbury Democrat.

The prevailing impression is that Parker county waited too long in the matter of producing a candidate for the state senate. The Tarrant county incumbent doubtless feels a natural aversion to being crowded out of the race after the eleventh hour.

CITY IN DEBT; NO PROVISION

Sudden Turn in Council Affairs Presents Serious Problem

QUORUM IS QUESTIONED

Right of Part to Enforce Attendance of All Disputed—Provisory Ordinance Lacking

The denouement of the Monday night meeting of the city council of Fort Worth, at which the National Ward, Waggoner, Lehane and Armstrong left the council chamber at the city hall, following the calling of the roll on a motion by Alderman Lehane to adjourn, has been the subject of discussion at the adjourned meeting of the council fixed for Tuesday at 8 o'clock.

With the question, will there be a quorum present at this meeting? also comes the question, will the note of $10,000 maturing at the Farmers and Mechanics' National Bank Wednesday be renewed or will it go to protest?

Will the bond interest, supposed to be forwarded to the National Ward, Bank, New York City, the 20th day of each month, reach that city in time for payment on the presentation of the coupons July 1, the amount being $21,070, or will default of payment ensue?

The local note held by the Farmers and Mechanics' bank is in part payment of the bond interest on the bond of the Eighth ward school building and was originally made payable to the Darnell Lumber Company. This company, it is stated, is in financial straits, and the bond interest will probably be arranged, but there remains the financial institution in Gotham to be satisfied with the amount in question, amounting to more than $20,000.

It is the opinion of the city auditor that this interest on bonds should reach New York by July 1, the radical action possible, in the event of default of payment, being likely to injure the credit of the city.

Ordinance Lacking

If the aldermen who left the council meeting last Monday evening persist in the course they there mapped out, why the members of the council do? was the question freely asked last night and this morning.

As to what is a quorum of the city council, article 2, section 1, says that a quorum of the council shall consist of a majority of all the aldermen elected, except for called meetings, when two-thirds of all of the aldermen elected shall constitute a quorum.

Under some general and comprehensive provisions embodied in article 4, section 2, of the charter, among other enumerated powers is that on the part of the council of preserving order and enforcing the attendance of absent members. No ordinance has ever been enacted to carry this power into effect and it is therefore held by some that the city council is powerless in the premises.

After the adjournment of the city council last night Alderman Waggoner and the other members of the council were seen in the presence of all the other aldermen who had left the council chamber at the same time the Second ward alderman did, that when the city marshals found them after they left the council meeting they had said to him that they were perfectly willing to go back and attend the necessary business of the city if all disputed matters, and especially that of the street sprinkling contract, had been left over for action at the next regular meeting. To that course they were still willing to agree at any time.

Zurn Is Coming Home

After the adjournment of the city council Monday night a message was sent to Alderman Zurn of the Eighth ward, informing him of the necessity of his presence in the city, and to that message a reply was received today, Tuesday, in which the alderman has been absent from the city on his summer vacation, would be here at 5:45 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, at the time of the arrival of the southbound Denver train.

To the hour of 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon should be in the city and other developments in the matter of the differences which arose at the Monday night meeting of the city council and which led to the resignation of the aldermen from the council chamber and leave the council without a quorum.

WHEAT CROP LARGE

Conditions Near Vernon Reported Flourishing

H. M. Sims of this city returned Monday from Amarillo, where he has been attending to the sale of a bunch of steers from his ranch interests in the Panhandle. He reports on range and weather conditions in parts visited, and says that the crop of wheat is doing very well in the Panhandle this season and grass is fine, in some places it being eighteen inches high. Around Vernon, the crop is the largest wheat crop ever in their experience. Within a week or so cutting of wheat will be finished, and it is expected that farmers south of Vernon already threshing.

COMPANY TICKET LIKELY

Republicans to Have Primary Election July 23

It is possible that the republicans of Tarrant county will put a complete county ticket in the field in opposition to the democratic ticket. It was the general opinion of those at the meeting of the county executive committee of that party, held at the city hall Monday afternoon, that it would probably be the best thing to do. Twelve of the forty-seven precincts of the county were represented by the precinct chairmen. A resolution was adopted in favor of primary conventions for the precincts, to be held June 28, the conventions to be called by the respective precinct chairmen and presided over by them. The basis of representation is to be one delegate for every fifty votes cast for the republican candidate for President in 1904. Their county convention for this county is called for Aug. 4 at 3 p. m.

The secretary of the executive committee was authorized and instructed to send out instructions to the various precinct chairmen as to how to conduct the precinct conventions in strict compliance with the Terrill election law, and also to instruct as to the election of precinct chairman.

SEEKING LOCATION

Presbyterian Publication Secretary on Trip Through South

R. E. Magill, the secretary of the Southern Presbyterian committee of publication, Richmond, Va., was here Monday, the guest of Rev. M. B. Lambdin, pastor of the College Avenue Presbyterian church.

Mr. Magill is on a tour of inspection to report on the most suitable location for the establishment of a branch book depository in the southwest. While in Fort Worth Mr. Magill was in conference with Rev. Julius B. French and Rev. M. B. Lambdin and Rev. J. B. Davis. He left for visits to other Texas cities and will stop at Little Rock and Memphis on his return trip.

The location of the branch here would mean the employment of several clerks, the use of a store room for the books and the convenience of having so readily accessible, the many publications of this society.
