The chief factor that is delaying this emprehensive scheme of reorganization is the suit Mr. Bradford is pressing against the Movgan interests for the payment of defaulted interest on the $3,500,000 collateral trust issued by the Pere Marquette in payment for the stock control of the Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville road, of which Mr. Bradford is president.

Orgy for Blood Unchecked by Officers Who Take in the Massacre

By Associated Press. GRODNO, Russia, June 20.-Owing to the refusal of the censor at Bailystok to permit free telegraphing of the result of the investigation of the massacre of Jews there, the corresspondent of the Associated Press came here. Anti-Jewish rioting at Railystok is now ended. The troops are in full control and in view of the outcry raised it is certain the authorities will not permit a renewal of the horrors recently witnessed at Bialystok. This region is greatly excited owing to fear of the Bailystok massacre is only a signal for general attack on Jews throughout Pale and in Poland, but if any such conspiracy existed it is too late to carry out the plans as most imperative orders to prevent further outbreaks have been issued to governors and governer genrals from St. Petersburg

Mobs Like Animals

When the correspondent arrived at Bailystok Sunday morning the worst was already over, but on all sides there was revolting evidence of savage beastiality on the part of blood drunken mobs which sacked and ourned Jewish houses, shops and stores. For seventy-two hours with slight abatement during the day time a mad orgy of blood and pillage went on unchecked. The inhumanity displayed would have done credit to the Mongol hordes of Genghis Khan in his conquests of China and Central Asia early in the Thirteenth century. At first the police and troops urged the mob, but were dismayed by the bloody deeds accomplished and reluctantly sought to obey the orders of their superiors and put an end to the work of the rapacious bands of roughs who so far are beyond control of the local forces. Regiment after regiment had to be thrown into the city before order could be restored.

Tore Victims to Pieces

During the rioting the Jews were hunted down by ferocious pursuers, who in the majority of cases were not content with killing more victims, but tore them to pieces like wild animals and while this was in progress troops stood idly by or as more frequently the case, fired into the houses where the Jews were concealed, under the pretext that they believed them to be revolutionists, but really to make way for murderers and plunderers, who followed in the soldiers' wake.

While it is impossible to give the exact figures, the visits of the correpondents to hospitals and ceme teries enables them to approxiate the killed at 100 Jews and twenty Christians and wounded at 150 Jews and seven Christians. The question of the origin of the massacre was carefully nvestigated. Although many Jews Jews denied that a bomb was thrown at the Corpus Christi procession Thursday, the fact that a bomb was thrown was established beyond doubt, but the question of who threw the bomb remains unsettled. Accounts of mpartial witnesses, however, demonstrate that the ansulting cry enraged the Jews, who attacked the religious

THINK IT ACCIDENT

Police Inclined to Doubt Murder Theory-Third Man Tells Story to Chief

Thread by thread the mystery in the death of the two men found on the Santa Fe track at the Darlington cut, June 14, is being unraveled by the officers who are at work on the case, and it is quite probable that before the week ends all the facts will be known.

Accident Theory Gaining

There are now two theories in the case, one murder and the other, which has gained much strength in the last forty-e-ight hours, that the death of both men was the result of an accident. The claim that there was a bullet hole in the body of one of the dead bodies was the main cause of the murder theory; but the supposed bullet hole was never probed or the bullet in the body located. It is now said that there was no bullet hole, that the wound supposed to be a bullet hole was made as the body was being dragged along the track by the train. Chief Maddox said to a Telegram reporter Wednesday that he had no faith in the murder theory in the case. "When the whole matter is sifted down and all the facts learned, as I believe they will be soon," he said, "it will be found that there was no murder committed.'

Report Incorrect

The story published in a morning paper that both Jesse Wilson and James McDaniel, two of the three in the picture group published in The Telegram, were in Fort Worth Tuesday and in conference with the officers is incorrect. James McDaniel was in the city in conference with the ofe ficers, but Wilson was not, neither has he been seen by any Fort Worth officer since the bodies were found. It is the belief of Chief Maddox and ther officers that Jesse killed at the same time that Bishop was; there has been no development to the contrary, and the statement that he was in Fort Worth Tuesday, has no foundation whatever. James McDaniel, the man who was here, made statements to Chief Maddox, Detective Jim Ailen, Deputy Sheriff Wren and Deputy United States Marshal Webb of the Indian Territory that are highly important and promise to lead to a complete solution of

When asked he had ever gone by the name of Harry Longworth, McDaniel said be nad not and that he had never worked for the Cherryvale Construction Com-

T., identifies the right hand man in the picture as Jesse Wilson, but there is no proof yet that he ever went by the name of Jackson, the name on a ticket issued by B. B. Bowen, the employment agent is possible, notwithstanding the belief of the officers, that it was not Wilson who was killed when Jack Bishop was.

Hat is Chief Clue

The brown hat found on the track when the bodies were found is now. the center of interest to the officers, and it is believed it will lead to important developments. Chief J. H. ## REPUBLICANS NEED MONEY

Wealthy Refuse to Replenish Campaign Coffers

DEMOCRATS GAIN

Turn of Tide Caused by Scoring of Corporations, Advantage to Democracy

Special to The Telegram.

WASHINGTON, June 20. - More than ordinary difficulty in raising money is certain to be encountered by the republican and democratic congressional campaign committee this year. Chairman James S. Sherman will have to get along with a more slender war chest than did Representative Babcock of Wisconsin, who recently retired as chairman of the committee, in any of the campaigns which he conducted.

There were times when Babcock had much trouble collecting funds; but on at least three occasions when a new house of representatives was to be elected he received material assistance from the late Senator M. A. Hanna, chairman of the national committee. In the fall of 1898 Mr. Hanna went to the rescue of the congressional chairman after the latter had exhausted all efforts to raise money. In that year the senator went to New York to solicit subscriptions at the urgent request of President McKinley. Previously he had been importuned by Mr. Babcock to help him,

Refuse Contributions

Definite and trustworthy information has just been received in this city to the effect that the usual contributions to campaign funds are decidedly averse to giving money this year. A large number of men who are relied upon to supply the sinews of war have already expressed a determination to give nothing whatever. A dozen prominent men, who may be named were it not violative of confidence to do so, are usually good for contributions of from $5,000 to $15,000 each; but they have said that not a dollar of their money will go toward the creation of a fund to be used in promoting the interests of the republican party. It is not to be inferred however that it is their purpose to subscribe to the democratic committee, for they do not see that anything can be gained by such a course. The temper of this class of citizens has become known to the men who will conduct the fight for the control of the next house of representatives, and is causing them considerable disquietude. Where Cash Came From

There are several reasons for this resolution disinclination to contribute to the republican committee, but perhaps the simplest way of explaining their attitude is to repeat what one of them said last night. These are literal quotations from him:

"During the last ten years the bulk of the money that has been raised by republican campaign managers, both congressional and national, has come from New York. Rich men have given freely because they felt it was to their personal and material advantage to keep the republican party in power at Washington. They counted upon conservatism in legislation and in the administration of the laws. "But during the present session of congress they have witnessed evidences of radicalism which they did not even anticipate under a democratic administration. A republican congress has passed laws which have tempted to upset financial circles in New York, while a republican President has been

"The consequence of this has been that the men who have been accustomed to contribute to republican committees are seriously displeased with the republican party. They are angered because congress and the President have shown less consideration for their interests than they thought they had reason to expect. They say a democratic congress and President could not have caused them more mental anguish or upset their business calculations to such an extent, and therefore, since politics is business to them, they see no reason

proved a disappointment to them. Favor Democrats

for helping out the party that has

"It is immaterial to them whether the republicans or the democratis carry the next house. I believe they would prefer to see the democrats win, because then, in their judgment, there would be less chance of further radical legislation. The senate would continue republican and be a check on the house, and vice versa. With both branches republican and inspired by the same spirit that actuates the present congress, they apprehend even more drastic legislation than has been enacted at this session. Therefore, they argue, what is the use of contributing at all, and especially to the republican committee?

"Then there is another potent reason why they will not contribute. That is the prospect of the early passage of a law by congress prohibiting corporations, or officers and directors thereof, from subscribing to political committees. Such a bill passed the senate yesterday, and no doubt it will be put through the house before the end of the session. Most of the money that has been raised for campaign purposes has come from corporations and their officers and directors, and even though they were inclined to contribute this year, they would hesitate on account of the heavy penalty that is provided in the bill that is already half a law. Moreover, many corporations have been berated viciously for having contributed in the past, and some of them are already in serious disrepute on that account. You can put it down as a dead certainty that Chairman Sherman of the republican committee will find it mighty poor picking in New York this fall. and so will Chairman Griggs of the democratic committee, for all that.

Gives Democrats Advantage "The anticipated paucity of funds is quite certain to embarrass the repubican committee, especially since the congressional campaign is going to be a hotly contested one. The republicans carried a large number of districts two years ago because of the tremendous popularity of President Roosevelt and of the corresponding weakness of Judge Parker, the democratic nominee. There is no doubt that many of these districts will be regained by the democrats this year. and without funds to devote to even legitimate needs of a political contest, the republican losses are likely to be greater than they otherwise would be. Many shrewd and observing republican leaders in congress have already expressed apprehension over the result of the fall elections, and more than one of them has stated privately that he expects the republicans to lose the house.

$50,000 on Hand "The republican congressional committee cannot figure on getting much if any, assistance from the national mained between $95,000 and $100,000 in the hands of Treasurer Bliss, and during the last two years fully half of this sum has been expended in the maintenance of headquarters here and in keeping the organization together. The balance now on hand will be needed during the next two years, and therefore, virtually no aid can be looked for from that source.

Takes 8 Days To Make Perfect Malt

Malt Made This Way Is Richest in Food Value and Makes the Best Beer

You know if you plant a grain of wheat or oats or corn in midsummer where the ground is moist and warm it will sprout and grow up very quick and rank and with a sickly colornot strong and tough and a healthy bright green as the stalks do when the grain is planted in the spring. This is because the heat and moisture sprout and grow it so fast in midsummer that it does not have time to develop the vital elements of the grain, while in the spring it is cooler, and thus slower in sprouting and growing, giving time for the grain to develop all of its nourishing, vital food elements. These same considerations are true in making barley malt from which to brew beer. The usual method of making malt for brewing beer is the quick four-day process which compares with the growth of grain planted in midsummer and produces a malt that lacks the nutritious food elements of the barley. Pabst, the master brewer, found by steady sprouting for eight days to get all of the nutrition-all of the life-giving, strength-sustaining food elements -out of the barley and into the malt. and it is the exclusive eight-day method of making malt that makes Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer the richest and most wholesome as well as the best flavored and most mellow beer on the market Pabst scrupulously cleanly method of brewing with Pabst exclusive eightday malt makes Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer the superior of all others. Doctors recommend it because they appreciate that it is absolutely clean and the richest in food value. As one well known Chicago doctor put it, "I prescribe Pabst Blue Ribbon and drink it myself because it is the beer that is never touched by human hands and never comes in contact with anything but sterilized air from brew to glass.'

TO ABOLISH TEXAS MILITARY CAMPS

Plan Afloat to Form Giant . . Military Camp

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 20.-If the administration's plan for the establishment of great military posts throughout the country is carried out there is strong probabilities that the ten military posts in Texas and others in the same military departments, namely, Forts Travis, San Jacinto, Bliss, Brown, Sam Houston, San Antonio, Ringgold, Clark, McIntosh and Crockett will be abandoned. At least the older of these posts are sure of being deserted.

Plan Big Post In their places there will arise one great post large enough to accommodate 5,000 or more men ar three regiments of infantry, one regiment of cavalry and four batteries of artillery. It is not yet definitely known when the new policy will be put into effect, the purpose of which is to give the American army officers opportunity to handle and manage large bodies of men. The new posts will remain, but the older posts are bound to go within a very short time.

The Texas congressional delegation hopes to have one of these giant permanent military camps located in Texas and Representative Slayden, as a member of the house committee on military affairs, will work hard to bring about that result, however, it is too early to predict with any degree of accuracy as to where the new posts will be located.

STRAWS POINT TO NEBRASKAN

Bryan Presidential Boom Gets Good Send-off

NEW ERA COMING

Standing of Affairs Within Power of Popular Statesman to Change

Special to The Telegram.

WASHINGTON, June 20.-Things certainly are coming Mr. Bryan's way. The Nebraska leader has been receiving a veritable shower of remarkable testimonials of the approval and loyalty of his own party. They come in large measures from the elements that have been opposed to him heretofore; but they are by no means frightening away the loyal old Bryan-first-andlast contingent.

In the last ten days the voice of demand for Bryan has been raised in every quarter of the country. In Missouri the democrats in state convention adopted a resolution demanding him for president; and Missouri, as further evidence that no favorite-son business is to lead it from the fold, will send its Governor Folk to preside at the Bryan reception in New York.

Francis for Bryan

All of which, if it means anything, that the most promising man in the party with whom to take support away from Bryan-always excepting Hearst, of course-is out of it, and that Bryan has his state. David R. Francis is out for Bryan, and he was a sound money leader from the Cleveland cabition at Indianapolis, are going to endorse Bryan, the conservative being right radical about it.

The Indiana democrats, in conven-

Arkansas Victory Down in Arkansas the Hearst people tried desperately to head off an endorsement for Bryan for 1908, but it was no go. The Bryan enthusiasm was of the regular old "cross-of-gold" sort, everything else was swept before it. The resolution went through like a whirlwind. South Dakota democrats tossed in the inevitable apple of discord yesterday from their convention at Yankton. They declared for Bryan in the most enthusiastic terms, but, as Mr. Justice Brown said in his famous opinion that decided the insular cases, "for entirely different reasons." The South Dakota democrats evidently had not heard of the desirability of forgetting old scores in the interest of harmony. They declared for Bryan, government ownership of railroads, telegraphs and telephones.

Then there is Harvey Garber, the orphan democratic congressman from Ohio, and the gentleman who predicted Patterson's majority in that state within one thousand last fall. by acclamation, and elected as sure as He says that Bryan will be nominated election day gets here.

Depends Upon Bryan

These are just a few of the recent symptoms, but they are straws indicating the direction of the wind, and they are giving heart to democratic politicians who feel hopeful as they have not felt for ten years. If. Mr. Bryan manages it right in his speech when he comes home and receives plaudits of what he once called the enemy's country, he will have proved himself a great statesman. It will be no easy task to manage that speech. There will be a small opportunity to consult as to what he shall say. It will have to be an inspiration, an outpouring of frank conviction.

The Baltimore News, which used to be as bitterly opposed to Bryan as any paper, now declares that if Mr. Bryan had sufficient humor, he could laugh away the ghostly remains of the silver issue with perfect ease. But, anyhow, the News says nobody cares about the silver issue now.

Second Speech Necessary

Mr. Bryan has it in him to make another speech as great as that at the Chicago convention, which made him the dictator of his party. If he shall do it, and do it with harmony and party interest in view, he will have made national political landscape take on a new aspect, and a new era will probably dawn upon the American public. An era unlike any that has ever visited our shores.

Assault Came Without Warning and Leader of Band Meets Death

By Associated Press.

MANILA, June 20 .- A band of 300 Pulijanes unde Caesario Pastor attacked the town of Burauen on the island of Leyte yesterday, June 19. They killed five policemen, wounded five and captured the remainder of the force except the lieutenant who was in command. Pastor, the Pulijane leader, was killed during the encounter. The attack occurred at an early hour n the morning. The police were caught unawares and the sentinel was pushed from his post. Bandits then entered the tribunal and a hand to hand fight took place. Fight Desperate.

The police fought despeately, but were overcome by superior numbers The loss of the Pulijanes is believed to have been great, but it cannot be estimated as they carried off the dead and wounded after the fight. Municipal records taken from the tribunal were piled in the streets and burned. The destruction of these papers is one of the most serious phases of the raid, as they included deeds, licenses, receipts, Safe Undisturbed.

A safe containing the town funds was not disturbed. The bandits carried away arms of the police and a quantity of ammunition. A detachment of constabulary under Lieutenant Johnson immediately started in pursuit of the Pulijanes. At the time of the raid the provincial governor was in another part of the island, securing evidence wanted by the pardon commission to obtain the release of prisoners in the Belbid penitentiary.

Change m Assessment of Candates for Superintendent presided. The chair appointed the primary committee, which committee is to have charge of all of the primary election work. The committee is composed of Theodore Mack, Ed Hall of Manchester, Dr. Davis of Arlington, Jack Bratton of Mansfield and James Threasher of Fort Worth. The eport of the committee to fix the order in which the names are, to be printed on the ticket, to fix and make he assessments, etc., submitted its report and it was approved. The only changes from the printed copies of the report was that the assessment for the superintendent of public instruction (county) was made $15, and that for all of the county commissioners, without regard to the precinct, made

$15 each. There were no applications filed for he office of justice of the peace in precincts 6 and 7, nor any for constable in precincts 2, 4 and 7. All moneys to liquidate the assessments is to be under the law payable to William Capps, chairman, and the checks should be so drawn and the preference is for the payments to be made by check. E. B. Randle, who has served ac-ceptably several times as the agent

Expect to Make Good Showing at State Encampment The Fort Worth Fencibles expect to make a better showing at the annual encampment, as to numbers at least, than they have ever done before. Much or all of the same discipline is maintained now, as has been the rule for several years past, and the result of that, and the faithful drilling, has been to secure favorable reports on the company and its work, at the annual state militia camps, and the maneuvers in conjunction with the regulars. It is felt that a similar result will reward the "boys" for the work they are now doing and will continue to do up to the time they camp out at The camp will last two weeks this year and the officers and men will draw full pay, on the same basis as do the United States regulars. While the commission of the new captain. H. Hendricks, has been received and the company is in charge of that officer, the resignation of Captain Carter, who resigned to make the Northern Louisiana. The Gould lines are in active competition with the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific systems for the traffic of the western and northern parts of Louisiana and the southeastern part of Texas. They have determined on a line which by connections with their Texas Pacific and New Orleans lines will give them a route through the very heart of a country, virgin as to railways and open up a large traffic in lumber, oil rice and the multitudinous agricultural products of that fertile part of the United States.

Surveyors are row in the field running a line from below Houston to a connection with the Texas & Pacific at or near Mansfield, La., which will open up a large part of the region indicated and which is now largely without railway facilities. It gives upper and western Louisiana a short and direct route to the Gulf of Mexico, via s crossed at Kountze and the Southern Pacific at Leesville.

I crawled, flew and limped back to my husband as best I coul. "The old fool has broken my leg."

Purity Talcum Powder "Willow"

We are introducing a new Talcum Powder made by "Willow" in Boston, and sold under Burton-Peel D. G. Co. label. This powder is proven chemically pure borated and in every way fit for the nursery and toilet. In accepting the sale of this powder under our signature, we first considered the purity and true worth of this Powder. There are many different kinds of Talcum Powder, some are irritating, others will roughen the skin and close up the pores, it isn't pure nor fit for use and yet thousands of mothers punish the helpless infant by using these cheap Powders that don't cost as much to produce as sifted sand. "Willow" Talcum is "absolutely pure" analyzed to our satisfaction before we allowed our name to go with each bottle. We received the first 50 gross shipment. which we will sell at 10c. But the article is manufactured to sell at 25c. Glass jars with perforated screw tons Delicately perfumed odors-lilac, violet. heliotrope. jickey and La Trefle. This 50 gross lot as an introductory

Suit Brought and Injunction Asked For in Petition

COMPLAIN OF DUST

Daizy-Moore Grain Company Defendant in Suit Brought By R. J. Hawthorne and C. L. Branham

R. J. Hawthorne and C. L. Branham have filed suit in the district court against the Dazy-Moore Grain Company to recover alleged damages aggregating $5,175. They also ask for an injunction to restrain the defendant from operating its elevator in this city, charging that the manner in which it is run is a nuisance, menacing and endangering the health of their families and threatening the destruction of their property. The suits were filed through their attorneys,

Air "BeFogged"

The petitions charge among other things that about Sept. 1, 1905, the defendant grain company began operting its elevator located on the Santa tracks in the southern portion of the ity, which discharged great quantities of dust, chaff, clippings and other oran-like substances, which befogged the air about plaintiff's home, and when said stuff settled it lighted on plaintiff's houses and damaged their urniture, clothing and other things. That on account of the accumulation of the refuse on defendants' premises. which had rotted and become putrid, a horrible stench and odor arose from the same and flies and other insects by the millions gathered and settled on plaintiffs' premises and befouled same. That on account of the wrongs complained of plaintiffs' premises were no longer fit to be used as dwelling places and that the market value of same had greatly deteriorated. Other Damages Asked

Plaintiffs also claim punitive damages for $2.000, alleging that the nuisance complained of could be abated, but that defendant wilfully, intentionally and maliciously continued to do the things complained of after having promised to remedy same. The application for the injunctions will be heard Saturday morning at 10 o'clock and if same is granted the elevator will be restrained and enjoined from operating.

Burlington Objects to Statute in Missouri

The last general assembly of the state of Missouri passed a maximum freight rate bill and the railways of the state have united in an effort to prevent by legal means the railroad commission of the state from putting that new law into effect, on the plea that it would so greatly reluce their earnings that the very operations of the roads would be affected injuri-

Mortgage to Be Issued

A blanket mortgage of the Wabash-Pittsburg lines is about ready to be issued and it will give the financial power to make a consolidation of now independent lines operated by or in close conjunction with the Wabash, into the Wabash System. The mortgage is for $200,000,000. The lines to be consolidated are the Wabash proper. Wabash-Pittsburg Terminal, West Side Belt, Pittsburg Terminal and Coal Company, and the Wheeling and Lake The Uniontown and Wheeling Short Line will also be absorbed. The new arrangement assures the entrance of the Wabash into the Carnegie and other steel plants region of the Monongehala Valley, and to the great coke ovens and coal fields near Pittsburg and will give the Wabash an energious tonnage which cannot fail to very favorably increase the earnings of the system.

LIVE TOWNS ARE NEVER FINISHED.

There are some people who think when a city or town has reached a certain point in development that its citizenship can afford to sit down and await the natural consequences and not labor with the same zeal as when the situation was different. Out in the live and progressive little city of Abilene conditions of this kind have arisen, and the Reporter says:

requiring money are coming mighty fast, we want to say that they are going to come fast as long as Abilene is a live town. When this town dies you will no fenger be called upon to help swing anything this way. We want to leave before these calls quit coming, for we have no desire to live in a dead town. The people of Dallas and Fort Worth are still raising money for making cities bigger and better. They are paying out more money to get more industries to make more money to give for more enterprises to make more up into small farming tracts every day in Texas and money-Well, right there you get into a circle of money making, with no end. If that is not what you want to get into, what do you want? Colleges, factories new railroads will make a city in the desert of Sahara, to say nothing of this garden spot of nature's

And the Reporter is right. No progressive town or city should weary in well doing. Just because the way seems a little bit hard and the burden a little bit heavy is no reason why there should be a disposition engendered to pause in the work of pushing forward. This is a day of push and restless energy. The individual or the city or town that is content to sit down and wait for golden plums to fall for the mere matter of wishing will continually experience the keenest disappointment, Abilene is a fine case in point. That city has dreamed of converting herself into a metropolis for the past twenty years. The most progressive of her citizenship have spent money like water to advance the common interest. No public enterprise has been proposed that has not caused the people to go down in their jeans and come up with a liberal offering. The result has been that Abilene has grown and prospered in the face of many disadvantages and continues to grow and presper. It is today recognized as one of the leading cities of its class in Texas and its very name has become synonymous with push and progress.

But Abilene cannot afford to rest on her laurels. There are a number of other West Texas towns and cities that also desire to become the metropolis of the west. They have just as live and enterprising citizens, retire. and they are spending money just as freely as ever Abilene did. The fact of the business is that Abilene may now regard herself as at the most crucial period in all her career. If she writes the word "finished" and placards it upon her outer gates, then she may well expect all the labor and expense of the past to amount to nothing. She may expect grass and weeds to grow in her principal streets and her business edifices to be transformed into bat houses.

Fort Worth has undergone the same experience that is now the lot of Abilene. There are men in this city who long ago would have written that word "finished" and hung it on our outer walls. But there was too much life and enterprise here for that. The Old Guard has ever been on duty, and the result is that Fort Worth is reaching for every kind of enterprise today just as determinedly as in the days when they were more essential to rapid development. The success that has come from those already established is a constant incentive to go out for more, and Fort Worth sustains an organization for the express purpose of promoting custry. And Fort Worth is today growing faster than ty with her monopoly of candidates does not seem able any other town in Texas.

The time will never come when progress and development will be permitted to go to seed in Fort Worth. There is too much life and vitality here for that. There is too much determination on the pert of the southwest. And the day is not far distant when | themselves complete failures.

that event will be safely accomplished. But even with that the word "finished" will never be hung on Fort Worth walls. This city will continue to grow until it has distanced every other city in Texas and the south-

THE RANGE CATTLE INDUSTRY.

The range cattle industry of the west has undergone a wonderful evolution and the process of that evolution is still in progress. What the ultimate result will be it is difficult to foresee, but it is morally certain that Texas will never again witness a return to the old conditions that prevailed so many years in this state. Commenting on the changes that have occurred in the great cattle industry the Denver Field and Farm says::

"A few shipments of Texas cattle come straggling up the iron trail these days as a little reminder of the good old times when the cowboys drove up hundreds of thousands of cattle every summer. Owing to the partially narrowing of the range of Colorado and Wyoming by reason of the great acreage taken up for agricultural and irrigation purposes, most of the cattle this year are going to the Indian reservations in South Dakota and Montana. But a few years ago hundreds of thousands of head of southern cattle each spring were shipped to northern ranges to be grazed during the summer and sent to market in fall and the small shipments received this year indicate the great evolution the business is undergoing. No longer thousands of square miles of open range exist as in the past and every year more fences are built and great tracts are devoted to agricultural pursuits.

It has been but a few years since hundreds of thousands of Texas steers were annually taken to populate what was at that time the unbroken ranges of the northwest. Grass was free in that section in those days, just as it was one fair day in Texas. The northwestern range country was parcelled out for the convenience of the big ranching outfits, who used the grass without money and without price. They found it much better to come down into the great Texas breeding ground and purchase the steers they needed to harvest their grass crop than to undertake to raise them in that section. And the business was so profitable that it assumed large proportions. But the tide of homeseekers from the east spied out the advantages of this great range country from a distance and swooped down upon it. The land was government property and could be acquired on very favorable terms. Soon the choice locations along the streams and watercourses were all taken and the range men began to feel themselves crowded. Year by year this crowding was increased until the range country has become but a memory in comparison with its former magnitude, and the demand constantly witnessed. The tean with the hoe has crowded the man with the branding iron until there is but little unoccarled sod left for his weary feet. The man with the hoe has called himself a stock farmer, appropriating to himself a part of the title of the men who have wielded the branding iron, and they have made such an impress on the west that it is clear they have come to stay. The range cattle business in Texas is annually growing smaller, for the range country is annually being reduced. Where it will end no one is prepared to say and it is largely a matter of speculation. There is a portion of the state that can never be anything else but a cattle range, but it cannot support the number of range cattle Texas has boasted in the past.

Improved breeds and improved methods are doing much to simplify the situation and work out the problem along natural lines. But there have developed many discouragements. The situation is not so roseate that men are falling over themselves in an effort to engage in the cattle business. The more general For the "encouragement" of those who think things | trend seems to be in the direction of getting out of the business. It is true that many of the leading cattlemen of the range country have fortified themselves by purchasing outright the land they felt they needed to keep their business going. But there is little of this land that will not go on the market to the actual the views of the owner. Big ranches are being cut every one of these so treated is but a marker of the passing of the great range cattle industry.

The range cattle industry of Texas for the future is an interesting problem, but it will be worked out in a satisfactory manner in the future. There is too much gray matter employed in the cattle business to permit the great industry to die of inanition.

Dr. Lanham was a member of congress when he made his campaign for governor and Charles K. Bell, for twenty-eight years campaigned for one office while holding another. Then why condemn Colquitt and Brooks for practicing the precepts and imitating the practices of these bell-wethers of democracy, living and dead?-Dallas Times-Herald.

Unless Brooks and Colquitt are up with their work they should be busy attending to it. Judge Brooks says he has been burning midnight oil for weeks to keep up with the work assumed or shared with his associates on the bench and is not neglecting his work. Yet the cases of Brooks and Colquitt are unlike some of the others mentioned in the Times-Herald. Hogg and Culberson would have had no job at election time had they failed to win, for their terms of office expired with said elections or shortly after at inauguration day. Brooks and Colquitt are under contract for several years' service after the July preliminaries. That is the difference. Neither will be laid on the shelf by defeat.-Sherman Democrat.

Nothing applied externally can change the condition of the blood or prevent the outflow of Poisons and acids; only constitutional treatment can do this. The countless washes, salves, lotions, etc., that are used cannot reach the humor-laden blood and are, therefore, useless, except for the temporary comfort and cleanliness they afford. Claims Young Bather Leo Brown, son of F. S. Brown, a fireman in the employ of the Frisco living at Ballinger and Jarvis streets, was drowned Tuesday afternoon in the Trinity river near the old stove foundry west of the city. The boy, who was 9 years old, went | Territory Man Says Outlook Is Exwith a number of companions to a swimming hole known as the "Rock hole," where the water is in places of considerable depth. He waded out beyond his depth and before he could be rescued life was extinct. The body was taken to Gause's undertaking establishment. The hole in which the boy was drowned Tuesday is a deep and treacherous one and a number of persons have been drowned there in years past. The step off is sharp and boys in bathing and unable to swim often find themselves beyond their depth before danger is realized. Inquest Held Justice Charles T. Rowland held an inquest and returned a verdict of death by drowning. At the inquest Carl Denison testified that himself, Leo Brown, Art Brown, George Pemberton and Horace Smezzer were bathing in the pool, and that Leo, who could not swim, waded out in deep water and was sinking the second time when he, Denison, caught him but could not pull him out. The drowning boy threw his arms around the Denison boy's neck and they both went down together. In order to save his own life Denison pushed Leo Brown from him and the boy sank the third time. Art Brown, who was trying to save his brother, was sinking when Denison caught him and pulled him to shallow water, sav-

The Famous Cooper Remedies continue their marvelous work. No remedies have ever accomplished the stupendous results or caused such vast relief as We continue to receive hundreds of testimonials of this fact daily.

Mr. J. R. Smock, Cicero, Ind., writes as follows: "I have suffered for thirteen years untold misery from stomach and bowel trouble; my food would sour after eating and I would have sick headaches and dizzy spells. My appetite was poor; what food I did eat did not digest properly. I grew weak and nervous and my back and kidneys began hurting me and I suffered constantly. I have taken everything imaginable for relief, but nothing seemed to benefit or reach my case. My ailment was diagnosed by six different physicians, receiving six different opinions. After taking the first dose of the Famous Cooper's New Discovery I obtained instant relief. I have taken several bottles, gaining 10 pounds in weight in the last three weeks. I regard this remedy a God-send to humanity. I now feel more like a man; my headaches and dizziness have disapepared, and I am entirely free from weakness and pain in my back and kidneys. My appetite has returned and I am able to digest my food properly, causing renewed strength. I can now perform my work with ease, which before, in all my misery, it was a tedious task. ## BURNET COUNTY RALLIES TO BELL

Fort Worth Candidate's Dignified Speech Wins Votes

Special to The Telegram. BURNET, Texas, June 20 .- The past two weeks have been significant in Burnet county for the reason that two candidates for governor have addressed the people on the political issues of the day, and Robert A. John, candidate for judge of the court of criminal appeals, was here last week in the interest of his race. D. L. Graham, candidate for representative, was in town looking after his race against the present incumbent, and T. S. Garrison, candidate for state treasurer, was here. Issues have begun to take shape in this county and while over a month remains until the primaries are held, it is easy to see that the gubernatorial race will overshadow all other measures before July 28. Judge Bell's strong, dignified and manly speech here in contrast to the speech delivered by Mr. Colquitt, has continue to make votes for Judge Bell and since his complete annihilation of both Mr. Colquitt and Mr. Moore at

Moody the votes are falling into the Bell column from every point of the compass. One of the most influential farmers and stock raisers in Burnet county analyzed the situation when he said to a circle of friends: "Boys,I have known Charley Bell almost twenty years. His strong, gentlemanly discussion of public issues as delivered here is characteristic of the man. The mere fact that he had always refrained from criticising the personal record of his opponents must not create the impression that he is not always armed for battle, however pitched or waged. "When Colquitt and Moore attacked Judge Bell's personal record as an official, it took him just thirty minutes to knock Moore entirely out of the race and to cripple Colquitt so that he will never recover from the knockout blow received. Judge Bell will NEW COLLEGE MAY when they attempt to wage a personal warfare against him he will always be found with the proof to offset any unjust charge."

The large amount of July for sale at the opening prevented a full response to the foreign strength and opening prices were 2 points higher for July and unchanged for other options. A good many stop orders were reached during the first few minutes, but very soon buying by prominent operators as well as commission houses rallied the market and on the second call July was quoted 11 points above the lowest, while before noon a further 5-point advance occurred.

Weather news was generally favorable except from the drouth section of Texas, where there has been no relief. Prices for new crop months lost a few points early but rallied with the summer months and during the afternoon touched a level 11 to 1 points above the lowest. Summer positions also worked up rapidly and July eventually sold at a gain of 18 points. The market closed steady with prices near the Beef steers were in the same liberal proportion as on yesterday, a good top end showing, but not as weighty as on Tuesday. Cake and grass steers were in very liberal supply and the straight grass contingent was somewhat increased over that shown on Monday or Tuesday. A broad demand prevailed for the most of the good cattle, and the market was generally steady. Top steers made $4.30, with some sales of not quite so good cattle at $4.15. Ware & Leland.

FORT WORTH, June 20-The New Orleans cotton market displayed wonderful strength today when crop reports were taken into consideration. Bullish reports were almost wholly lacking and farmers seemed to vie with one another in sending in the most optimistic crop accounts ever seen at this time of the year. Yet, with all the news that came in, prices held up well and even advanced above the level of yesterday's closing.

In the early hours the trade was inclined to hammer, but this hammering only added to the already large short interest in the market, as those who had a mind to take profits soon discovered. If it were not for the large short interests and the wholesome fear that the trade has of manipulation for a rise in July, the market long ago would have been sold down to much lower levels than now

The talent is bearish and there is little reason for them to be otherwise, with so much optimism coming in from the belt. Long ago it was said that the farmer believed the price of cotton could not go much below ten cents, no matter how large the crip. The indications are that this belief still obtains among the producers. Liverpool was inclined to be bullish. Futures were better than expected and spot sales amount to 12,000 bales.

Vivion Commission Company FORT WORTH, Texas, June 20 .-Cotton for July declining in New York sold at 10.23 during the early trading today, this being a drop of 10 points from the opening figures. But after reaching this level shorts were active bidders and a healthy rally was soon underway, prices on the recovery reaching a level 18 points above the

There was nothing in the day's news to cause the early slump, as Liverpool advices were very favorable, contracts refusing to follow our decline and closing about unchanged when they were due 5 points lower on the opening, while conditions in the spot market were excellent, the turnover aggregating 12,000 bales, with all but 300 American, at a drop of points in price, middling American being quoted at 6.05d. But the large amount of July for sale on the opening forced prices off.

Private cables stated that spinners were good buyers in Liverpool and it was stated that foreigners bought spots in New York. The semi-weekly statement favored the bulls. Spot cotton market ruled quiet with prices unchanged. Sales, 300 bales. C. T. VIVION.

Y. M. C. A. EXPECTS TO PASS LIMIT

Directors Think 1,600 Will Be Membership

One of the things which makes the Y. M. C. A. membership canvass, to take place on Friday of this week, so interesting is that no association in any city in the world has ever attempted getting one thousand members in a day: Two of the associations in Texas that are now located in good buildings and in the larger cities of the state have after several years' work only about five hundred members and are considered to be doing good work.

Only two cities of Texas today have over one thousand members in their association, and they have had the work open for several years. The management of the Fort Worth association, knowing the people of this city, have planned the canvass for membership expecting that the young men and business men will respond so that the announcement can be made that Fort Worth has accomplished something never done before, that is, getting a thousand members in a day for a Young Men's Christian Association, and also that the Fort Worth Association will have the largest membership in the state. To accomplish the latter, the thousand must be passed considerably, for Palestine lately announced that their membership had reached the thousand mark.

Childress Has Nearly 600 The up-to-date little association in Childress, Texas, announces a membership of nearly six hundred ,and this in a town supposed to have only about two thousand people.

Cleburne has a membership list of nearly one thousand all the time and, with this record in a near by city only one-fifth the size of Fort Worth, the directors believe that he men and boys here will apply for membership so that not only the thousand will be reached, but that the limit of the building, 1600, will be the only stopping point.

The traveling men are asked to send in their applications and to remember that their ticket issued here will be honored for full privileges in almost any association in the world . No class of men know more today of the advantages of the association than the railroad men, and the management of this association gives them a special invitation to join, assuring them a hearty welcome, whether they are office, train, or shop men. The city association is for every class of men and wants one just as much as the other. The announcement is made that every man who has been asked to make the canvass in a certain shop or place of business is depended on to do this, and that the success of the movement depends on the faithfulness of each

Fe Mystery. Section Foreman Ferguson of the Santa Fe brought to Justice Rowland's office Wednesday the cylinder of the pistol that was found near the bodies of the two dead men. The cylinder was empty, not a chamber being liaded and no cartridges could be found where it was picked up by Ferguson, There was nothing about the cylinder to indicate

There is some satisfaction these hot days in looking over the weather map and finding that at some places. at least, the weather is bearable; and one forgets momentarily the discomforts of the heart while dreaming of the cool breezes, which are blowing over the northern states. Tuesday the thermometer at the office of the weather bureau reached 94 degrees and during the night fell as low as 72 degrees.

At Waco, Blanco, Beeville, Houston and Lampasas it registered 100, and at Cuero 102. It was farm at Phoenix, Ariz., also, the maximum there being 108 degrees. The great northwest is enjoying cool weather, while rain is still falling in the central states. The cotton belt is warm, with but scat-on," says Charlie Hickman, of Washington, "is the one that comes low down on the outside of the plate, but the fast, high inside ball brings its ladle of trouble to the batters, too. Sometime the batsman is fooled by himself, i...lead of the pitcher. This happens when the batsman makes up his mind to hit the next ball pitched. That takes place once in a while with the best of them. When the batter gets the idea that he will hit the next ball, it is almost impossible to get it out of his mind, and the result is that he drives away at the next ball whether it is high or low, in or out, and the chances are he will strike out,

"The hardest ball to hit, in my opinhitting any ball until he sees it coming toward him, and he is impressed that it will be a fair ball unless he hits it. Many players claim that when it is three and two on a pitcher, the advantage is with the batter, but for me I had rather have the call two and two. Pitchers are getting foxy. They are not putting them squarely over these days without trying to fool you by taking the corners, and there are a number of pitchers who will try to curve the ball over even with the count three to two. The percentage of probability of making a hit is greater than when they are not. At such time. the pitcher is more careful and the fielders more alert, but such a situa tion nerves up the batsman and brings "A batsman should never figure on out the best there is in him."

The work fell on all batters of both teams and a more laughable exhibition of slugging has never been seen on the local professional baseball field. GREENVILLE, Texas, June 20-Sad was the tale of woe told by the official scorer of the game played here yesterday and, although he won his game, sad also was Adams, for did not the Greenville sluggers land on his best directed curves and "impossible spitball" with frequent and heartrending regularity, making a total of four hits? "Didn't Cleburne rap Stovall for 18 hits," you ask. Of course they did all of that and also did some neat base running, but, what's the odds. ## Only Four Members Present at Called Meeting

WARRANT PROVIDED FOR

SPECIAL SESSION

City Marshal Ordered to Serve Notice on Absent Members to Appear

Saturday Night

The attempt to hold an adjourned meeting of the city council Tuesday evening was a failure and the only outcome of the effort was the adoption of a resolution authorizing the issuance of a warrant to protect the city's interest in payment on bonded indebtedness which would have become due before the transmission of the founds could be made, if there had been longer delay; and the passage of a resolution, offered by Alderman Cook, directing the mayor and city secretary to issue to the city marshal an order to have the aldermen who left the council chamber without permission and who still remained away from the meetings of the city council, brought before that body at the time of the next meeting.

The orders were issued. After a motion to adjourn was before the council for action Mayor Harris made an explanation of the situation from his point of view and the council then adjourned to Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. When the roll was ordered called at 8:25 o'clock the mayor, all of the officers of the city required to be present and four aldermen, Cook, Lydon, Maddox and Harrold, answered "here."

Only Four Present

"Four aldermen present, your honr," said Secretary Montgomery. Alderman Cook handed in a typewritten copy of a resolution which he had signed, reciting that four of the aldermen of the city had deserted the council chamber Monday evening without warrant, and that they had still remained absent, to-wit, Aldermen Ward, Waggoman, Lehane and Armstrong, and therefore it was directed that the mayor and city secretary issue such orders, directed to the city marshal, as will enforce the attendance of the absent aldermen at the next meeting of the city council. Alderman Lydon moved to lay the resolution on the table, but it was not seconded, and the Cook resolution was being one vote in the negative. Alderman Maddox asked the city attorney if the council, as then constituted, could order the issuance of a warrant for the payment of the inmust be attended to or the city would be in default, and he thought that a blow to the city's credit should be avoided if possible. Mr. Orrick said he would give an opinion, not on strict and technical grounds, but on the broad grounds of common sense, having a due, and he, hoped, a proper regard for the welfare of the city and under that view he was of the opinion that the warrant could be issued, and t was so ordered. He had consulted about all of the absent aldermen and they agreed that the warrant should be issued.

adopted by a yea and nay vote, there

Marshal Given Orders The mayor then read his order for the city marshal to enforce the presence of the four aldermen named in the Cook resolution, and the city marshal wanted to know if he should arrest the four aldermen, lock them up in jail, or place them under bond, or what. He would like to ask the city attorney what his authority would be under the order made under the Cook resolution. No answer. City Marshal Maddox then appealed to the mayor. and Mayor Harris told him the difficulties that might arise would be met at the time they arose. They would not anticipate.

The city marshal said he would see all of the aldermen, if they were in the city, and notify them of the meet-

Mayor Harris also expressed the pinion that if he had had the opportunity to talk with the members of the council, particularly "those mis-guided ones" who had left the council chamber Monday, he could show them the error of their way and he was sure they would come back to the meetings and transact the city's business. He was sure that they were actuated by the best of motives and probably were doing that which they deemed to be right. It was his earnest wish, he said, that all personal feeling should be laid aside in the discussion, but let her tell the story:

"Two years ago I was thin and sickly and suffered so from indigestion, was very nervous, and could not sleep at night. I was not able physically or mentally to perform my duties and was constantly under the care of our physician. I had tried plain living and all the different remedies recommended by friends but got no better.
"One day my husband brought home two yellow boxes and said, 'The grocer wants us to try this food and report how we like it, he thinks it will help you.' I read all it said on the boxes about Grape-Nuts and I remembered how I laughed at it, for I thought it foolish to think food could help me. But the next meal we all ate some with cream. We liked and enjoyed the deliciously crisp and new flavor. so we kept on using Grape-Nuts, not because we thought it would cure me, but because we liked it.

"At that time we had no idea what the results would be, but now I am anxious to have the world know that today I am a well and strong woman physically and mentally. I gained over 30 pounds, do not suffer from any of the old ails and I know that it is to Grape-Nuts alone that I owe my restored health. They call me 'Grape-Nuts' here in the home and all of my friends have asked me the cause of it all. I have persuaded several of them to use Grape-Nuts and every one of them who has done so has been benefited and I wish it were in my power to induce everyone who is sick to give this wonderful food a trial. We still have Grape-Nuts three times a day and never tire of it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Ten days on this nourishing and completely digestible food will show anyone who is run down from improper feeding a great change, sometimes worth more than a gold mine because it may mean the joy and spring of perfect health in place of the old ails. Trial proves. "There's a truest interests. Mayor Harris then said they did not want to do anything rash, although some of the aldermen did something rash Monday night. The charter, he said, gives the council power to enforce the attendance of absent members and that power would be enforced.

He thought the council should be composed of thoughtful, conservative men, and thus spare the people for some humiliation to which they had been subjected. Some of the exhibitions in the city council had seemed funny to some, but to the true lover of the city's welfare there was more of humiliation He deprecated personalities and hoped that at all times the members of the council would only vote for those things they honestly believed to

The council then adjourned.

NEGROES CELEBRATE

Emancipation Day in Temple Brings Out Immense Crowd

TEMPLE, Texas, June 20 .- The negroes of Temple, Bell county, and surrounding country held a big celebration yesterday in honor of the forty-second anniversary of the signing of the emancipation proclamation. Colored people flocked in from all the vicinity and were well taken care of by their people. A big industrial street parade, in which sixty or more gaily decorated floats and vehicles appeared was a chief feature, the floats representing in a most creditable manner the progress achieved by the race in the lines of education and industry.

Professor Abner Speaks The main celebration occurred at Midway Park in the afternoon, where amusements, speaking and music were furnished. The address of Professor David Abner Jr. of Seguin, president of Guadalupe college, was listened to by a large audience.

Houston A charter for a new line of railway port. Houston & Gulf. to extend from Prestridge, a station on the Cotton Belt in Angelina county, to Houston, about 100 miles. The line of the road lies through Angelina, Polk, Tyler, Liberty, Montgomery and Harris counties. The principal office is at Manning, Angelina county.

Summer Travel Good The passenger end of all of the railways represented in Fort Worth report a good summer travel business. Mr. Fenelon says berths are at a premium on their night trains over the Santa Fe out of Fort Worth and that the morning trains are well filled. This is about the report of the others also. But little of this travel is local, all or nearly all being from South Texas.

Special to The Telegram. ABILENE, Texas, June 20.-The democratic executive committee met yesterday in Abilene in answer to a call by the chairman, L. B. Shook. By a vote of 9 to 3 the committee de cided that all nominations for county and precinct offices be made by a majority vote and a motion was made authorizing the holding of a second primary in August if there be any office for which no candidate received the majority vote in the first. Estimated expense of holding the election amounts to $320. No assessments are to be made upon state and district candidates whose names are to appear on the ticket.

> Special to The Telegram. TULSA, I. T., June 20 .- While poltics in the new Thirtieth recording ciatrict has not yet reached boiling point, it is beginning to warm up and in a few weeks will be sizzing. Politicians now are getting busy over the constitutional convention and would-be delegates are springing up on every hand. When the boundary lines of the delegate districts are announced the race one republican and one democrat far in the lead as it now appears.

Gregg is Popular W. J. Gregg, late delegate to Washington from this city, is very favorably mentioned for this honor by the republicans. To Mr. Gregg probably more than any other agency is due the fact that Tulsa heads a recording district, which assures a county seat, also a federal court under the statehood bill. D. L. Sleeper, formerly speaker of the Ohio house of representatives, is also talked of for delegate.

I. M. Poe has a strong following among the democrats, who will have no dearth of candidates. Mr. Poe was once mayor of Tulsa and probably is as well acquainted with Indian Territory affairs as any other man.

The formation of party organizations will be an interesting event, for some of the politicians in this section are as shrewd and wise to the game as they make them. They have only been waiting the opportunity to demonstrate their ability along this line.
