249 ACRES SOLD $50,000 THE PRICE

Another Big Deal in Suburban Property Following The Telegram's exclusive announcement Wednesday of the sale of the Terrell tract of land adjoining the city on the south, The Telegram is able to announce Thursday another sale of valuable suburban property in the same vicinity.

A deed was filed today transferring 249 acres of land in the old L. W. Warwick survey from the Fort Worth Land Improvement Company to the South Park Company. The consideration was $50,000, making the price per acre approximately $200. Of the purchase price about $21,000 is paid in cash and the balance in notes. The purchasing company, of which Drew Fruit and Ed Otto are leading members, will put the land on the market at once and to this end they will file in the county recorder's office Thursday, showing the division of the property into suitable residence lots. It will be known as the Terrell tract.

It is said that before the sale was completed several persons had expressed their intention of buying lots as soon as they were ready. One of the lots about one-half mile south of the St. Joseph's infirmary beyond the end of South Main street, is being offered by the city limits by a strip of the Ellis survey. The price paid for this property is $75 per acre less than was paid for the same acre of the Terrell tract. The Terrell tract, the sale of which to J. C. Ryan was completed Wednesday, The Terrell tract lies to the west of the Terrell tract and is adjacent to the site of the Pease shops.

Horsemasters Pay Well Breed in Monahan County is Sturdy and Long Minded Bert Simpson, a well known cattle raiser from the Monahan country, was in the city yesterday, and was smiling over the wet condition of his section. He has his business here, but he is not alone in our vicinity, but all along the country west to the Pease. It has fallen west of that river, but not in the country. It is the best of the river. Of course grass is fine and cattle are accordingly in good condition. The grass is practically nothing, mottled with the north, and no disease of any kind has so far shown up. The calf crop is a large one, much above average, and the calves are a large and healthy lot.

Horses Doing Splendidly "Yes, we are to be congratulated for the good condition of things on the range at least. Some horses are raised to the extent that they were. Horses do splendidly and are a sturdy, long-lived breed. Prices are very high now and the business pays well to those who have held out in the business. "A very hard hail storm fell at Barstow and vicinity, which destroyed the fruit. The apricots were absolutely stripped from the trees. It was unfortunate that it occurred just where it did, for had it happened a few miles away no damage to any extent would have happened."

A California Doctor With Forty Years' Experience. "In my 40 years' experience as a teacher and practitioner among hygienic diets," says a Los Angeles physician, "I have never found a food to compare with Grape-Nuts for the benefit of the general health of all classes of people. I have recommended Grape-Nuts for a number of years to patients with the greatest success and every year's experience makes me more enthusiastic regarding its use. "I make it a rule to always recommend Grape-Nuts and Postum Food Coffee in place of coffee when giving my patients instructions as to diet, for I know both Grape-Nuts and Postum can be digested by anyone. "As for myself, when engaged in much mental work my diet twice a day consists of Grape-Nuts and rich cream. And I find it just the thing to build up gray matter and keep the brain in good working order. "In addition to its wonderful effects as a brain and nerve food Grape-Nuts always keeps the digestive organs in perfect, healthy tone. I carry it with me when I travel, otherwise I am not certain to have trouble with my stomach." Names given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

STOCKMEN WANT COWAN.

The cattlemen of Texas and the entire southwest want Judge Sam H. Cowan of this city appointed as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission when the President makes the additional appointments required under the new law.

It is well known that Judge Cowan possesses both the friendship and confidence of President Roosevelt. That fact was attested when the railway rate regulation bill was to be framed and again when the meat inspection bill was brought forward.

It is known, however, that the senator proceeded to take the matter of the Cowan appointment up with the President and even now it is under favorable consideration, although hampered by some adverse influences.

Those who have watched the drift of affairs connected with the workings of the Interstate Commerce Commission say the President is apprehensive that something of a mistake was made in the appointment of Senator Cockrell, whose age is against him in the proper exercise of the duties of his new position.

Judge Cowan is a conscientious man and loyal to the people he is serving as attorney. He has made the necessary arrangements already for the case now pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission in behalf of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas.

prompts him to desire to carry the fight on to the point where complete victory is established. Under a former ruling of the commission existing freight rates on interstate shipments to market have been held to be too high, to the extent of about three cents per hundred pounds.

And Cowan is not the railroad hater that has been pictured by many of the leading railway managers of the country. He does not believe in confiscating railway property or compelling roads to be operated at a loss.

It is a knowledge of these facts that has brought about the very ardent desire on the part of the livestock producers of Texas and the southwest that Sam Cowan should be a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

But it may be frankly stated that Cowan does not want the position. It is true it pays the very nice salary of $10,000 per annum, but Cowan has come to the point in his professional career when a few fees will exceed an annual salary of that size.

THE BLOODY FOURTH.

Yesterday the great American eagle screamed himself hoarse from one end of the great republic to the other. It was a day of hurrahs, of patriotism, of burning powder and sky-scraping oratory and other things that legitimately pertain to patriotic celebration.

We are a great people—the greatest nation today on the face of the globe, and during the years that have waned since we achieved our independence we have started the world with the rapidity of our growth and development.

Following the Fourth of July in 1903 there were 465 dead, 415 cases of tetanus, commonly called lockjaw, and 3,983 people injured. In 1904 it was 132 dead, 195 cases of tetanus and 3,988 people injured.

Congress adjourned just in time for its members to get home prepared to take part in Fourth of July celebrations, and all over the union they will proceed to make the welkin ring in the usual manner.

"Uncle Isaac" Stephens, the dean of the Fort Worth court of civil appeals, has an opponent this time and an able one in the person of A. M. Carter of Fort Worth.

The broader minded ministers of the Presbyterian Church will be pleased at the issue of the Jersey trial carried up from the church at Fort Worth to the general assembly at Greenville.

Governor Folk of Missouri is being importuned to commute the death sentence given Mrs. Myers, who has been convicted for killing her husband.

Every state in the union should follow the lead of Kentucky and declare that no woman shall hang a conviction of crime. Life imprisonment is a sufficiently severe penalty for womankind.

One of the laws that is needed at the present time is a pure food law—a law that provides for the rigid inspection of all meats.

Texas has a pure food law for the benefit of her live stock. Human life is held too cheaply in Texas yet for our lawmakers to pay much attention to the matter of pure food for the human family.

Fort Worth has just completed the stupendous task of rebuilding and adding to her sewer system, nearly forty miles of pipe, varying in size from six to fifteen inches, having been put down in less than five months, at a cost of $115,000.

That is the Fort Worth way. The things that are worth doing are always done well in this city. Fort Worth continues to set the pace in all things.

Judge Garwood, general attorney for the Houston and Texas Central railroad, and a supporter of Bell for governor, has had the Texas railroad commission enjoined from forcing that road to haul passengers for 2 1/2 cents a mile.

And according to the Tyler paper's narrow view, Judge Bell must necessarily be responsible for the injunction suit. That line of argument is about on a par with some of the other allegations of the campaign.

The Fort Worth Telegram is running a series of funny pictures about June brides. In the last it says that "any crowd that will throw old shoes, vegetables, etc., at a couple is not their friends, but a crowd of fools."

After our Bryanian Bryan, the administration and its friends will go into the next campaign prepared to convince the voters that Bryan and his friends are dangerous visionaries.—Cleveland Tribune.

Roosevelt has appropriated all of Bryan's platform he could get his hands on, and in spite of that fact will be put forward as the only man who can beat Bryan.

The Sunday Fort Worth Telegram is a superb paper. Fort Worth people ought to be, and doubtless are, proud of it. The Telegram is doing much for the city.—Austin Tribune.

Senator Hanger of Tarrant county doesn't seem to be a hanger-on. He is to quit the senatorial race for the benefit of Candidate Alexander.—Sherman Register.

Senator Hanger has withdrawn from the race to the great regret of his home people. He is a man who has been faithful and conscientious in the discharge of every public duty.

The Fort Worth Telegram says Bell is "Safe, Conservative, Inevitable." Sounds pretty much like that "Safe and Sound" gag we heard of about the time one Parker ran for the Presidency.—Indress Post.

Distance is always said to lend enchantment to the view.

THE TELEGRAM AND THE TEXAS PRESS

Managing Editor A. W. Grant of the Fort Worth Daily Telegram is among the newspaper men in attendance upon the carnival today.

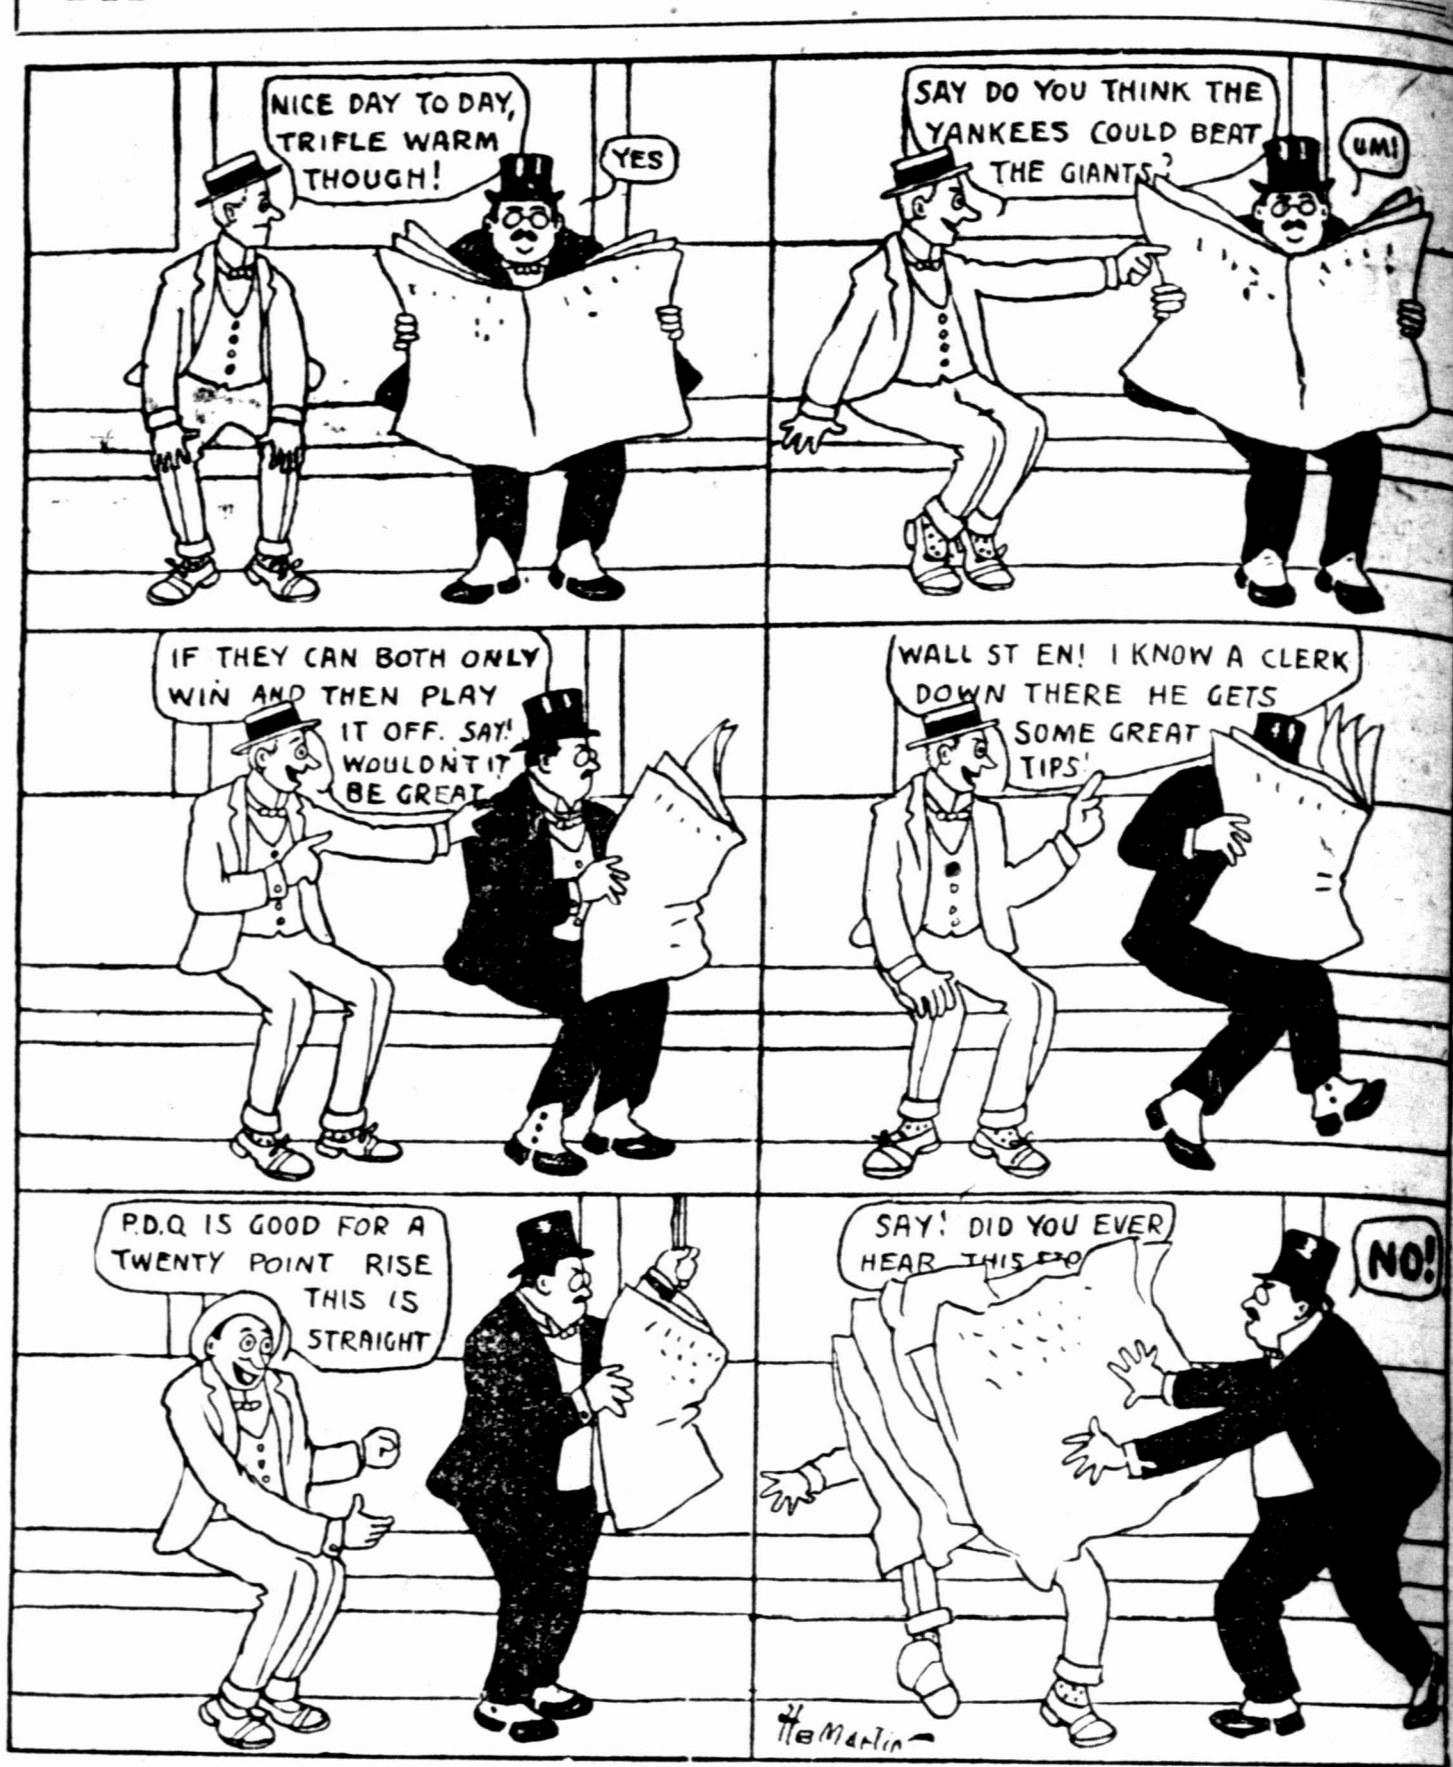

Candidate Colquitt's opponents in the gubernatorial race must be awfully inhuman men, for they seem to take pleasure in "sousing the gaffs" in what they are pleased to term the cadaver that once was the sprightly Colonel Colquitt.

There may be a big hole in the general revenue of the state, but it is gratifying to note it does not reach the public school fund. There is now in the state treasury more than $1,000,000 of the children's money that has not been invested.

The Fort Worth Telegram turns from the somewhat gloomy picture of the state being unable to pay what it owes in cash to the school fund and remarks:

It is a wise college that knows its own L. L. Ds.—New York Sun.

THE FOOLISH LIFE BY R. W. TAYLOR

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Senator Bulkley of Connecticut was trying to jolly Senator Penrose about the democratic convention in Pennsylvania.

"I see they had a convention over in your state," he said, "but I can't make out from the accounts whether it was a straight republican or a straight democratic convention."

"It was a mixture," said Penrose in his somnolent drawl. "You might call it a cocktail."

One of the Pennsylvanians here relates that the republican state committee in Pennsylvania paid a portion of the traveling expenses of all the delegates to the republican state convention at Harrisburg.

"Unless they are paid in full," the letter concluded, "I shall hold myself free to vote according to the dictates of my conscience."

Law rules the world, but love is a law unto itself. A man isn't beaten as long as he isn't discouraged.

Only those who marry for money can afford to repent at leisure.

There is no hope for a deaf man who is unable to hear money talk.

Some people seem to think that nothing succeeds like a successful failure.

There is hope for any man as long as his dog doesn't cut his acquaintance.

Yes, you may draw the salary, but your wife earns half the money; don't forget that.

Fortunate is the woman who can travel down life's highway at the expense of a husband.

The easier a man makes his money the easier it is for other people to separate him from it.

Did you ever hear of a man's getting married for the purpose of having some one to read poetry to him?

A good neighbor is one who has confidence in your judgment.

Seaside hotels cause more men to go broke than do the breakers.

Nothing irritates a woman so much as a man who keeps his temper.

Some men enjoy a show so much that they smile between the acts.

But the pessimist is pleased only when he encounters something displeasing.

It is painful for the young men to discover that his best girl's father is on a war footing.

There is a tide in the affairs of men that leads on to fortune—or to the free lunch counter.

It is almost self-evident that the man who boasts of loving his neighbor as himself may have a grudge against himself.

Time works wonders. Even life doesn't look the same to a woman of 36 as it did when she was sweet sixteen.

VERIFIED THAT RING

Steadily, steadily, step by step, Up the venturesome builders go, Carefully placing stone on stone— Thus the loftiest temples grow.

Patience, patience, day by day, The artist toils at his task away, Touching it here and tinting it there, Giving it over, with infinite care, A line more soft or a hue more fair, Till, little by little, the picture grows, And at last the dull canvas glows, With life and beauty and forms of grace, That evermore in the world have place.

Thus with the post-hour after hour, He listens to catch the fairy chimes, That ring in his soul; then, with magic power, He weaves their melody into rymes; Slowly, carefully, word by word, Line by line and thought by thought, He fashions the golden tissue of song— And thus are immortal anthems wrought.

Every wise observer knows — Every watchful gazer sees, Nothing grand or beautiful grows, Save by gradual, slow degrees, Ye who toil with purpose high, And fondly the proud result await, Murmur not, as the hours go by, That the season is long and the harvest late, Remember that brotherhood, strong and true, Builders and artists and bards sublime, Who lived in the past and worked like you Worked and waited a wearisome time, Dark and cheerless and long their night, Yet they patiently toiled at the task begun, Till, through the clouds broke the morning light, Which shines on the soul when success is won —George F. Butler.

There isn't room in the gas meter to register all the leaks.

Even the sunny side of life is not always what it seems.

When a fellow is dead in love with a girl it's his own funeral.

All a man has to do to make a woman happy is to sit and listen.

The fellow who doesn't get the best of it can at least make the best of it.

The foreigner with an air of distinction is generally after an hour's distinction.

The worst thing about spending your money before you get it is that sometimes you don't get it.—Philadelphia Record.

One way to be good is to be sick abed.

When a girl has a beau she talks about it as if he were fifty.

A man who won't lie to his wife about his bad habits is a brute.

There is more fun in being sick abed than visiting your wife's relatives.

Marriage wouldn't be so serious if it didn't last so long.—New York Press.

A movement has started in New York to keep children out of the parks because they litter the grass. They should also be excluded from the schools because they mar the furniture.—Detroit News.

TOY PISTOLS ARE STRANGELY ABSENT

Fourth Passes Noisily Without Fatal Accident AT THE COUNTRY CLUB
Barbecue is Greatly Enjoyed by Club Members and Their Many Guests of the Day

Fourth of July in Fort Worth passed with a superabundance of noise, more than usual, by long odds, and happily, with but one serious accident reported by which a boy named Kirkman may lose an eye.

Probably this relative immunity was due to the fact that the dangerous toy pistol was but little in use in Fort Worth, the small boy and his large congeners venting his enthusiasm in the less dangerous and equally effective methods of noise making.

Cannon crackers were used, of course, but with caution. Roman candles and sky rockets were favorites at night, as were small pieces, such as pin wheels, golden fountains, bombs, and so on through the category.

Boys and young men had their fun in the evening by placing small torpedoes on the street car tracks and the resultant explosions, as the cars whirled struck them, reminded one of the rattle of musketry in a sham battle.

They were harmless, and after the first experience, not even starting to the street car passengers.

The Telegram stated Wednesday that the Fourth in Fort Worth was a pleasurable day, and the indications of the early afternoon were more than borne out by the increase of the late afternoon and evening.

The popular resorts were crowded. Lakes, Erick and White City, and the numbers who went to these places went well up in thousands.

Unless, as is believed, the early morning fire at the old Jesse Jones store, corner Main and Weatherford streets, was due to careless use of fireworks, not another fire from the pyrotechnic future of the Fourth of July celebration occurred in Fort Worth.

Crowd at Country Club
One of the special celebrations of the day was that at the Country Club. The home of the club was gaily decorated with the national red, white and blue, and these bright colors and the attractive costumes of the ladies, large and small, made a beautiful picture.

The main event of the day was the golf tournament, reported elsewhere. There was an old-fashioned barbecue at noon, a dinner in the evening, followed by a dance, and at night a lavish display of fireworks gave a fitting finale to the Fourth of July of the Fort Worth Country Club.

REVIVALS VIE WITH THE FOURTH

Evening Services Draw Many People Indoors

Revival meetings are still in progress at several churches in the city and suburbs, and the fact that yesterday was the Fourth of July and most folks were tired last night after a day of celebration did not prevent good crowds attending the evening services.

Congregational
At the new Congregational church the pastor, Dr. George W. Day, preached from the text, "Our citizenship is in heaven, from whence we look for a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall change the body of our humiliation that it may be conformed to the body of His glory." The theme of his sermon was the relation of the life upon earth to the life beyond and he said that he was a foreigner by birth, having been born from above; a foreigner by residence, being a pilgrim and a sojourner here; and that his headquarters were on the other side, he being an ambassador here for God. He likened this ambassadorship to the ambassadorship of our government, in that each case protection, access and support are assured. He said he was waiting for the King to come and take possession of the government, in that each case protection, access and support are assured. He said he was waiting for the King to come and take possession of the government, in that each case protection, access and support are assured.

The beautiful singing of Professor Stout was a feature of the service, as it has been on former nights. At the service Thursday night he will sing "When Our Ship Comes Sailing Home," and other songs. Rev. Mr. Day will preach from the subject, "A Short Man Made Himself Tall Enough to See Jesus and What He Received for His Pains."

Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock there will be a mass meeting for men only at the Congregational church. Rev. Mr. Day will take as his subject, "The Climax of a Noble Life," and Professor Stout will sing "I'll Look for You," "The Bird With the Broken

Girl of Eight Falls From Tree While Playing

MAY ADD COACH

Texas and Pacific Passenger Traffic Fast Increasing
The Texas and Pacific Mineral Wells train is the best paying passenger train on that road, and the traffic on it is increasing at such a rapid rate that it is quite probable another coach will have to be added. It comes into Fort Worth from Dallas every day fairly well loaded with people, but it is at Fort Worth that the train gets its heaviest crowd. This is the concentration point of Mineral Wells travel, and when the iron gates at the passenger station are thrown open the arrival of the train from the east, the crowd that rushes out to get seats reminds one of a swarm of bees pouring out of their hive on a hot day in July. About 100 people all bound for the great Texas health resort boarded the Mineral Wells train at Fort Worth and Depot Master Fulford said: "It is just the ordinary every day travel."

Cannon Avenue

At the Cannon Avenue Presbyterian church Wednesday night Rev. Mr. Spooner preached on the subject, "Coming to Jesus." Thursday night his subject was "The Serpent of the Grass," and special music will be furnished by the male quartet and Miss Alice Goodner. The meetings at this church are being well attended and the results are gratifying to the pastor, Rev. R. E. Chandler.

Rev. Spooner had been quite ill during the week ending at the close of Wednesday, but this fact could not have been discovered from the vigorous manner in which he handled his subject last night. The sermon was composed of answers to the questions: Who may come? When? How? What if one fails to come? What if he comes? Why not come?

Special services are continuing at the First Christian and the Baptist churches in North Fort Worth.

WILL RETURN TO NEW YORK

Wheelock Harvey to Start Home Thursday Night

Sergeant Joseph O'Connor of the New York police department will leave Fort Worth Thursday night bound for Galveston and having in custody Wheelock N. Harvey, the young man arrested by Detectives Allen and Maddox near Springtown, Texas, on the charge of making way with funds of the First National bank of New York city and who was detained by the local police until the arrival of the New York officer. The sergeant and his prisoner will sail from Galveston at noon Saturday, passage having been secured on the Mallory line steamer Alamo.

Young Harvey today requested that the following be made public: Fort Worth, Texas, July 2, 1908.—To The Telegram: It is with natural regret that I am leaving Fort Worth. This is not because I fear to return to New York city, for I want to go back now and at once, for what I can honestly say is my first mistake of such a serious nature. My reason for regretting leaving this city is the kindness that has been shown me since I have been detained here.

Through The Telegram I want to publicly express my thanks to Detective Allen and Maddox and to that prince of good fellows, Capt. Maddox, who is one of the kindest men I have ever met.

It is my intention to return to Texas as to Fort Worth, which I hope to prove that my experience has been but a lesson that will help me to be a man and a good citizen.

I want to say that the newspaper boys have shown me every courtesy and I appreciate the treatment received from everybody with whom I have come in contact while here.

WHEELLOCK N. HARVEY.

Judge C. H. Jenkins Favors Fort Worth Candidate
Special to The Telegram.
COMANCHE, Texas, July 5.—At the Fourth of July celebration, Judge C. H. Jenkins was orator of the day and spoke as follows in favor of the candidacy of Judge C. K. Bell for the governorship:
"I think Texas is to be congratulated on the fact that the four candidates for governor are capable and honest men, but it occurs to me that there are sufficient reasons why two of them should not be considered by the voters of Texas, in making up their decision. Mr. Colquitt is a railroad commissioner—an office of importance to the people of Texas; an office to fill which Judge Reagan resigned his position as United States senator. If Mr. Colquitt is making a good railroad commissioner he ought to comply with his contract with the people and serve out his term. If he is not making a good railroad commissioner, it is likely that he would make a good governor. Four years of Judge Brooks' term as a judge of the court of criminal appeals is yet unexpired. Why should he not also serve out his term? It occurs to me that this view of the matter has been taken by the people of Texas and that neither of these gentlemen are to be seriously considered as candidates for the office of governor."
Bell's High Character
"Why should the people of this country of this section or of this state vote for Colonel Campbell in preference to Judge Bell? Judge Bell's private character is above suspicion and in every office to which he has been

Letter to Mayor Says Will Drown Self

MAN STILL MISSING

Family at Knox City Has News Since Departure Wednesday

Old Bud Anderson of Knox Texas, write the letter received Mayor Harrie Thursday night which his name was signed and stated directly that the man in drowning himself, was the letter ten by some practical joker knowing that Anderson would be railway train when the letter was received thought to have a quiet humor by himself or did Anderson himself write the letter and lead country? This is the question raised by the receipt of the letter. Mrs. Anderson with her five children at Knox City, Texas; Jim Newman friend of Anderson, at Sweetwater, the First National bank of Knox are all interested in its solution. The letter was written on the station of the Richelieu hotel, but the name of the hotel was not on the letter. He stopped there did not receive his right name. It was considered that if he stopped there, he would be stopped there.

Nothing Known Yet.
At a late hour Friday afternoon developments that would lead to knowledge as to whether the intention of the letter had been followed had arisen, and the man who had written the letter simply left the country.

Following the receipt of the chief of police Friday morning telegraphed to the First National bank of Knox City, Texas, asking that be give information as to Anderson's reply came as follows:
"Message received, Knox City, well. His family here. Wire you you know of his whereabouts?"

The Letter.
The letter received by the chief of police Friday morning telegraphed to the First National bank of Knox City, Texas, asking that be give information as to Anderson's reply came as follows:
"Message received, Knox City, well. His family here. Wire you you know of his whereabouts?"

Communication with Mr. Couch the First National bank at Knox Friday morning by The Telegram was the fact that there is knowledge of the whereabouts of the man by the name of Bud Anderson that place. Mr. Couch said that he about 84 years of age, had a wife five children, had been in the furniture and painting business there and indebted to the probable amount $400.

Mr. Couch stated that Anderson left Knox City Wednesday of this week and that it was understood he was coming from that place to Fort Worth. He has not been seen since that time by any one at Knox City nor has family received any knowledge of whereabouts or his plans.

Just before noon Friday Chief Mox received a second telegram from the First National bank of Knox asking if the body had been found, the man located, if alive. To this chief replied that there had been no further developments.

A message was also received from Jim Newman at Sweetwater, who had been Anderson and asked for information which might lead to ascertaining the whereabouts of the slaying man.

New Zealand Has Odd Method for Killing Octopus

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 6.—Sir Joseph Ward, premier of New Zealand, with his wife and daughter is on way home from Europe, was expected in the course of an extended interview what action would be taken in New Zealand if an ice cream increased the price of the commodity to consumers to obtain more the reasonable profit. He said:
"How Trusts Are Killed.
"The solution of that problem is simple. If any man or company sell buy up all the ice plants, control supply of ice on hand and then up the price to consumers, we will immediately build ice plants and sell the people all the ice they want at a small price and a fair profit. In the coal industry and we put it down."
