FOR DREYFUS INSULTED; OFFICERS' RIOT FOLLOWS

Commandant Slaps Restored Major During Reception

PREARRANGE DEED

Incident Followed by Fight Between Sympathizers and Enemies of Insulted Soldier

NEW YORK, July 26.—A cable dispatch to the Herald from Paris says: Just after being honored by President Falliers at the Elysee palace yesterday, Major Dreyfus was publicly insulted in the Cercle Militaire Club, one of the most exclusive clubs in Paris, by a commandant, who slapped him in the face. This brought about an immediate clash in the club and will tend to revive disputes over the Dreyfus affair throughout France.

Dreyfus Keeps Calm

It was at a reception at the Cercle Militaire to the Thirtieth regiment of artillery that Major Dreyfus and his Commandant Targe made their first appearance in a military gathering since the recent verdict. As soon as the major came into the salon an officer whose name is not yet known ran up and slapped him in the face. The major did not reply.

Almost a Riot

Instantly there was almost a riot in the club rooms, two groups being formed of sympathizers and opponents of Dreyfus. The pre-arranged and the officer who attacked Dreyfus is said to have declared that he would refuse to fight a duel in order to bring opprobrium on the name of Dreyfus and to retire from active service. Several other disagreeable incidents are said to have occurred in the club rooms last night, but the doors were closed and no one allowed to enter. The porter refused to give any particulars of the commotion.

Major Dreyfus Insulted Denied

By Associated Press.
LONDON, July 26.—An official denial was issued yesterday regarding the rumor that Major Dreyfus had been assaulted yesterday by a brother officer at a military club. The official statement is: "A denial of the most formal kind is authorized concerning the incident which it is rumored occurred last night at a military club during a dinner at which Major Dreyfus was present."

GOLD MINES ROBBED

$5,000,000 Stolen Annually From New Zealand Properties
By Associated Press.
SYDNEY, N. Z., July 26.—In consequence of the circumstantial statement made by the Kalgoolie Gold Mines after a yearly loss of $5,000,000 worth of gold by theft, the minister of mines employed a detective to investigate. He confirms the stories of enormous losses, which amount to some hundreds of thousands of ounces, but says the robberies are smaller than alleged.

Live Like Kings

He adds that certain men who are generally regarded as upright and honorable are living luxuriously on the proceeds of stolen gold, which they receive from the actual stealers, who are mostly officers. A magistrate at the Kalgoolie, of the London officials of the Kalgoolie Company, says the estimate of theft is grossly exaggerated. The total value of gold stolen does not exceed $350,000 yearly. The most vigilance fails to prevent stealing.

TAX FIELD ESTATE NEARLY $3,000,000

Value of Property Assessed Is Placed at $180,000,000
By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Ill., July 26.—The three-cornered controversy between the board of review, the executors of the Marshall Field estate and the city corporation officials came to an end yesterday when the taxing body decided that the Field estate should be taxed a total of $180,000,000 this year, including back taxes. The decision means that the executors of the estate will be compelled to pay the total amount of personal property on which Mr. Field was taxed during the last year of his life. The greater part of this great sum to be paid is to come from the collection of back taxes on which Mr. Field is held by the board to have escaped payment. The members of the board estimated the back taxes without any authentic figures to guide them.

CHICAGO, July 25.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Des Moines, Ia., says: To marry or not to marry was the question which dominated the convention of the bachelors and old maids at Forest city yesterday. The convention closed with the question undecided. Race suicide entered largely into its discussions and the prevailing opinion seemed to be that it were better to have fewer marriages in the face of the records of the divorce courts. President Roosevelt was not endorsed because of his position on race suicide.

NEW YORK, July 26.—A special to the Herald from Bar Harbor, Maine, says: The arrival of the cruiser division of the North Atlantic squadron on Tuesday evening was marked by an incident that had it resulted in a fatality would have plunged the squadron into mourning. As the cruisers swung into their anchorage behind Roddick's Island, the crew of the Cleveland saw a child fall from a row boat some 1,200 feet away and the man who was rowing leaped into the water after the child and immediately put out to rescue, as did another launch in which were W. H. Moore, vice consul of Louisiana, and the child's grandfather, the rear admiral.

HOW THE RECORD WAS "APPROACHED"

Ireland Hampton Tells All of Interview

OFFER MISREPRESENTED
No Attempt Made, He Says, to Influence Paper's Policy for Campaign Purposes

Much public interest in connection with the present county attorney's campaign has been occasioned by an incident which occurred during the speeches made by Candidate Cummings and McLean at the court house Tuesday night.

The incident was the reading of a letter from Clarence Ousley, editor of the Record, to County Attorney Jeff D. McLean. Mr. McLean read the letter and in commenting on it took occasion to say that the Record could not be "bought," implying that an effort had been made to purchase that newspaper's editorial opinions in the present campaign.

Mr. Ousley's Letter
Mr. Ousley's letter, as read by Mr. McLean and published in the Record, is as follows:

FORT WORTH, July 20.—Hon. Jeff D. McLean, City—My Dear Sir: In reply to your favor of this date I do not feel at liberty to use names, but the facts about which you inquire are substantially as follows:

Early last week two gentlemen came to my office and said: "We want the Record to fight left McLean and we have the money to pay for it."

My reply was: "Gentlemen, you need not make the proposition. The influence of the Record is not for sale at any price. Of course, if you want to buy space and print an advertisement so labeled, you are at liberty to do so, but I am frank to say to you that I hope you will not buy space for this purpose because we don't want to earn money that way. Mr. McLean's position is absolutely defensible and the fight you propose making will do more harm than it will help, and will do the whole town an injury by making it appear to the outside world that Fort Worth is trying to punish a man for exercising the law."

There was some further discussion, but as it was none too cordial and as it is not pertinent to your inquiry, I need not relate it. Yours truly,
CLARENCE OUSLEY.

Mr. Hampton's Statement
In order to be able to present both sides of the story regarding the interview The Telegram today interviewed Ireland Hampton, one of the two men referred to in the letter, and the one who presented the proposition which has been represented as "an attempt to buy the Record."

Mr. Hampton said:

"Yes, I have read Mr. Ousley's letter and statement in regard to my attempt to arrange with him for the publication of some articles in the present county attorney's race. I have not thought it necessary to make any reply as I had a perfect right to interest any paper I could to undertake such matter as I desired to have published, but first taking care, however, to know that the policy of the paper was not antagonistic to my own interests, as I would not care to have them using their editorial column to undo what I was paying them to do. I knew of the fact that Judge Harris had paid Mr. Ousley's paper $500 to disseminate his views during his recent canvass for mayor of Fort Worth and did not anticipate that there was anything improper in my going to Mr. Ousley as I did."

"I took with me Mr. Duncan Ross, who is interested in the same matter. 'Yes, I can tell you very briefly what took place.'"

"Mr. Ousley made no direct reply to this but said that I could not buy the policy of his paper for any amount unless I bought the paper itself and that it was not for sale."

"I recalled that he evidently forgot that I had merely asked for his views and had no intention whatever of asking him to violate his own conscience. I did not know what those views were, but that I supposed I had a perfect right to buy issues of his paper in case his policy was favorable."

"He said: 'Yes, but any such matter as you might desire to insert would have to be run as advertising, that the paper was always out for business and would be glad to have this matter as advertising. However, that in his opinion it would do my cause and Tarrant county harm to let it go abroad to the world that we had defeated a candidate because he had done his duty.'"

"Furthermore, that he did not think Mr. McLean could be defeated; that the policy of the paper was not to take any sides in local politics unless there was some issue involved, and he failed to see any in this race. It was merely man against man."

"I replied that while our business interview had ended quite awhile before, that as he had been fit to announce his views I desired to announce mine. I told him I had been led by reading his paper to believe that if there was a moral issue involved he would not hesitate to be heard."

"He said: 'That is true. If you can show it to me, the matter will be different.'"

"I called attention to the fact that the gravity of the offense charged against the defendants involved the state's dignity to such a point as to justify nothing short of indictment or imprisonment; that a Tarrant county grand jury had had, and on Mr. McLean's advice, failed to find an indictment; that before that grand jury had adjourned Mr. McLean was in consultation with the attorney general to the end that the penalty suits might be brought at Austin, notwithstanding his advice to the grand jury. That the object of the attorney general was to have the penalty suits being brought at Austin, and is well known to those who are conversant with the matter."

"That they had not stopped with what appeared to be an effort to obtain a compromise regardless of the right or wrong, but had gone to the extent of depriving the state of $1,875 by means of a ruse in which they had entered up a judgment finding Cassidy-Southwestern Live Stock Commission Company guilty of violating a law that was repealed four months and three days before Cassidy was born by chapter."

"Mr. Ousley's reply to this was: 'I think it was Mr. McLean's duty to assist the attorney general under the statute, whether or not he should indict or become a party to the penalty suits was a mere question of expediency. I see no moral issue in it.'"

"I replied that I thought the citizenship of Tarrant county would fail to make any fine-drawn distinction between expediency and bad morals and was quite sure he would find it so. That what I desired to be done would be done."

"I would be glad to publicly discuss with Mr. Ousley the difference between 'expediency' and morals."

"I am further surprised that a man should violate a business conversation in the manner he has."

BELL CLUB TO VISIT WACO

Excursion Will Leave Over I. & G. N. Road

Not content with having converted some hundreds of voters from the standard of Messrs. Campbell, Brooks and Colquitt on the Denton trip, Fort Worth supporters of Fort Worth's candidate for governor will run another special "ringing train" for Judge K. Bell—this time to Waco. That "there is something doing" may be learned from Captain B. B. Paddock. He gives out the following:

"Because of the fact that the opponents of the Bell Club have industriously circulating the report all over the state that Fort Worth is not supporting his candidacy with enthusiasm, the Bell Club has decided to go to Waco Friday afternoon."

"Let it be understood, and let it be emphasized that the statement circulated by the opponents of Judge Bell that the railway are furnishing trains for these excursions is a campaign slander."

"The Bell Club is putting up the money, and is required to pay the cash in advance."

"The railway gives the club an excursion rate, as they are to baseball games and other gatherings, requiring the club to guarantee a certain number of passengers. No concession is made to the Bell Club that is not made to any other organization under similar conditions."

"The train will go over the International and Great Northern railway at half past two o'clock for the Texas and Pacific station. It will not be an all-night trip, but the train will leave Waco at an early hour and arrive at Fort Worth not later than midnight."

"As the club has a limited amount of money only 100 hundred and fifty tickets have been purchased and only that number of passengers can be taken at the expense of the club."

"The names of all persons will be received on a receipt, and the tickets delivered to the applicants at the station."

"Come with us and let the people know that Fort Worth is for Judge Bell for governor."

"If you will go, phone No. 778 during business hours and 223 after 6 o'clock and have your name enrolled."

SEND FOR CHARTER
Texas Cider Company to Have $10,000 Capital

The charter for the Texas Cider company was mailed to Austin Thursday morning by A. N. Evans, secretary of the company. The charter states that the capital stock of the company is to be $10,000 and that it is organized for the purpose of manufacturing cider, vinegar and grocers' sundries, and for the purchase and sale of such goods, wares and merchandise as are used for the manufacture of the above products.

The incorporators are W. H. Hodge, W. R. Booth and E. W. Collins. Mr. Hodge has had twenty years experience in the sale and manufacture of vinegar, pickles and cider, and will be in charge of the plant, which will be operated in the city of Fort Worth.

Mr. Evans is in communication with a wholesale produce man having branches in several cities of the state who would come to Fort Worth with a view to doing a general business could be obtained to hold his house. It is very probable that a building will be built to suit the needs of the firm and it is expected that the building will be completed in a few days to consult with the owner of the property about the kind of building needed.

ANOTHER PLAYHOUSE?
W. H. Rice Looking Over Theatrical Possibilities of Fort Worth

W. H. Rice, one of the most prominent theater managers in the country, is in Fort Worth today. He is here on a visit to see the city over the field and to decide whether or not the investment would be a safe one to erect a modern theater in this city.

Mr. Rice, it is reported, has been in the city for several days and at that time made the statement that he would some day build a play house that all Fort Worth folk would be proud of.

It is stated that the plan of the company that thoroughly modern theater would be a paying proposition here. However, he declared he will have to look "things over" before he could possibly decide.

He will be in the city several days.

BOUNTY FOR RATTLESNAKES

The proposition advanced by Representative Claud Hudspeth, who is a candidate for the state senate in his district, and who in the event of his election proposes to introduce a measure appropriating the sum of $100,000 for the extermination of wolves, is attracting considerable attention among Texas cattlemen. J. W. Gray, a prominent ranchman of Durham, Borden county, has some well defined views on the subject, which he presents in characteristic fashion. Mr. Gray says:

"It is stated the farmers of north and east Texas are in favor of the Hudspeth idea in order to get rid of the wolves, but this is a mistake. I lived some forty years in northeast Texas, in Lamar and Delta counties, and have always owned a good pack of hounds of the best breeds, and have with these hounds run down and caught as many wolves, wildcats and foxes as any man in the state. And I will not except the so-called champion wolf hunter of Oklahoma, Mr. Abernathy. I can say from my own personal knowledge that there are but very few timber wolves in northeast Texas, and not a single lobo or coyote in that whole region, unless such animal has been shipped in as a pet.

"I now live in Borden county, right under the cap rock of the lower plains, and am engaged in stock farming on a small scale. I own a few thousand acres of land and a few hundred head of cattle, together with a small remnant of a pack of wolf dogs that I brought to that county, the most and more valuable of my dogs having succumbed to that worthless, one-galled crowd that strolls through our country with steel traps and a bottle of strychnine, breaking our fences, frequently setting fire to our grass and killing all kinds of game that carries a fifteen cent pelt on its back, regardless of any game law that is upon our statutes.

"With what few dogs that one-galled crowd has left me, I chase coyotes for sport only, never having sold a pelt in my life. I have trailed the coyote thousands of miles and I have never yet trailed him to the carcass of a calf or a colt that he had slain himself. It is true he will occasionally kill a sheep or rob a hen house, but the sheep raiser can protect himself with two good Collie dogs, and the housewife her poultry by keeping a bob-tailed yellow dog of any old breed.

"The coyote is not half so destructive to poultry as the fox. And if the state of Texas was to offer a bounty for the scalp or brush of that noble animal the Texas Fox Hunters' association and every other man who has the love of the chase in his soul would bury that member of the legislature who offered such a bill so deep that he could not thereafter be elected lude inspector of his home precinct. The only good quality of the fox is his running quality, and the coyote is his equal in that respect and also a benefactor to mankind. Our wisest men have always concluded that he who makes two blades of grass grow where only one grew before is a benefactor to the human family. The prairie dog is the natural food of the coyote, he puts in his time day and night in the dogtowns and devours millions of the dogs annually. And for every prairie dog that he kills not only two but thousands of blades of grass will grow where but one grew before.

"If we are going to exterminate something, why not turn our attention to that deadly serpent, the rattler? We have him in large quantities from Red river to the gulf. I, myself, have lost several head of valuable stock in the past few months from his bite, and I know of three human beings within twenty-five miles of my home who have succumbed to his deadly fangs within the past few months. There are others, also, who have been bitten and suffered untold agonies, but finally recovered. Every man, woman and child in Texas is interested in the rattler and would rejoice to see him exterminated.

"I will say to Mr. Hudspeth that if he is still in the notion of doing something for suffering humanity when he gets to Austin, to by all means offer a good stiff bounty on the rattler, and if thought best, the bounty could be cut up into a dozen grades in proportion to the number of rattles his snakeship carries. Do this, Mr. Hudspeth, and every man, woman and child in Texas will rise up and call you blessed. "Beside this, such action would insure profitable employment for the large crowd of one-galled fellows we now have in stock besides enabling us to give immediate employment to and retain in our state a large number of the scum of the earth that will be landed at Galveston within the next year or so. A steel trap to maim and poison or kill our stock cannot be used in this industry. My experience with these fellows is that they had rather kill the best horse or steer on your range than to miss getting a shot at anything with a pelt on its back worth 20 cents."

W. D. WILLIAMS' CANDIDACY

Sharing with Judge Bell in the good wishes of Fort Worth and Tarrant county voters is W. D. Williams of this city, candidate for the office of railroad commissioner. Mr. Williams seeks from Texas voters next Saturday the nomination to one of the most important offices within their power to give, an office which is so important too much care cannot be exercised in selecting the man for it.

The Texas railroad commission is recognized as the leading organization of its kind in the United States. Other states have modeled their commissions after it. Its rulings are regarded as of almost as much weight, and probably sometimes in popular minds with more weight, than the opinions of the highest courts. The two-fold reason for this is the power with which the Texas commission is clothed and the intimate relations between developing Texas and the railroads within her borders. In no state of the union does the general public take so much interest in the affairs of railroads, the regulation of rates, the freight and passenger service, the issuance of bonds and all other matters of business in which the public believes in has interests at stake.

In Mr. Williams, Texas has offered a man of large enough caliber to honorably and efficiently fill the office he seeks. He is a man, like Judge Bell, who has worked himself up from the prairie, and who in the process has acquired the keenness of thought and directness of manner which comes from being continually compelled with advancing years to grapple with more and more important problems and broader issues. As an incisive thinker, a logical reasoner and a man of unimpeachable integrity, Mr. Williams' reputation is solidly established. Such men are needed on a body which is compelled continually to wrestle with the most plausible arguments and specious logic of skilled lawyers seeking to secure out of any situation the most possible for their clients, without always a regard for absolute justice.

Mr. Williams is a Kentuckian and came to Texas in 1872 when only 18 years old. He married while still a youth and settled on a farm near Lockhart. He soon outgrew the farm and after preliminary studies, began the practice of law in Austin with John W. Robertson, brother of the late Governor Hogg's partner. He came to Fort Worth in 1889. He was elected city attorney of Fort Worth in 1897 and served in that office six years. His record as city attorney is one of the best ever made in Fort Worth. Part of his work during that time was re-drawing the city charter. His advice during the unsettled times when the question of restoring the city credit was paramount, was one of the valuable assets of the administration in which he served.

From the city attorney's office Mr. Williams went to the legislature. In the two terms he served he managed to get through his famous intangible assets bill. Judge Bell in his campaign addresses has continually referred to it as "a long step in the direction of solving Texas' taxation problems." The bill passed the house intact, but was crippled in the senate after it left Mr. Williams' hands by amendments defeating part of its purpose. Nevertheless it remains as one of the state's surest hopes in wiping out the present deficit and restoring the treasury to a cash basis.

Since the completion of his last term in the legislature Mr. Williams has devoted himself to his candidacy for railroad commissioner.

The action of the state health officer in stopping the importation of human bones from Mexico into this state to be manufactured into fertilizer meets with general approval. If the Mexicans have no more pride than to sell the bones of their ancestors they should be taught a few lessons in that direction.

The Campbell people have wasted a whole lot of hot air already in Tarrant county, but they seem to have plenty and to spare. They are doing no harm and may serve to keep them away from places where they could hoodwink the people.

That $375,000 received from the national government stopped the hole in the Texas state treasury temporarily, but within the next two months it will be in evidence just as before.

That trip to Denison by Judge Bell's Fort Worth friends and supporters was a pretty direct answer to the charge that Fort Worth is disloyal to her talented son.

The Campbell boomers are putting up a last despairing effort during the last few days of the campaign, but it's no use. The voice of the people is for Judge Charles K. Bell.

The first of August is near at hand, and it is about time the promoters of the Mineral Wells Interurban were beginning to show their hand. Work on this great enterprise should already be in progress.

Judge Brooks proposes to give Candidate and Commissioner Colquitt a fine suit of clothes if Kaufman county is not found in the Brooks column after the Saturday primaries. This will probably suit Colquitt.

Colquitt says he will be first or second in every north Texas county, and he evidently means from the bottom.

The earthquake shocks experienced in New Mexico are believed to be but the protests of nature against the forced union with Arizona.

That was an enthusiastic bunch of Bell ringers that invaded Denison Monday, and they made many friends for the Fort Worth statesman.

The congressional candidates are doing some lively stunts in these closing days of the campaign, and Gillespie seems to have the rest of the bunch guessing.

The Telegram extends condolence in advance to the stricken Houston Post.

Today from Fort Worth goes a special train to Denison, where Judge Bell speaks. And it was announced by the Bell boomers that "All who want to go may ride free." Well, well, what do the plain people think of that?—Dallas Times-Herald.

The plain people are impressed with the belief that it was a fitting manner for the home people of Judge Bell to show their love and loyalty for their great chief. Let the heathen rage.

The Fort Worth papers are condemning Senator Bailey because he declares for Judge Brooks, and gives as his reason that Judge Brooks supported him. We believe that no man should let personal reasons swerve him, but has not Senator Bailey as much license to support Judge Brooks for the reason given as the Fort Worth papers have to support Judge Bell simply because he is a citizen of Fort Worth?—Mineral Wells Index.

The Fort Worth papers are supporting Judge Bell because he is the best qualified man in the race for governor, in addition to the fact that he is a home man. Judge Brooks is not a home man with Senator Bailey, and Bailey has confessed that he is supporting Brooks to pay a political debt.

The Dallas correspondent of the Houston Post says the Brooks following is flocking to Colquitt. Could there be a more ridiculous statement? The Brooks supporters, for the most part, strenuous prohibitionists, while Colquitt is the only pronounced "anti" in the race.—Waco Times-Herald.

The allegations made by the correspondent referred to are about on a par with those made by the Houston Post generally concerning the strength of Colquitt. The Post is a most cheerful misrepresenter.

This is an amusing word. The Houston Post informs us that Colquitt will be nominated; the Fort Worth Telegram is sure it will be Bell. Dr. Rankin is positive that Brooks is the man, and the Palestine Herald insists that Campbell is a lead-pipe cinch. And that is the way it goes. We shall know next Sunday morning who has the lead in the primaries.—Sherman Register.

The Telegram has much the safest proposition. The indications all clearly denote the Judge Bell will be the winner in the state primaries Saturday.

A member of the legislature who violates the laws of the state ought not to ask the people to endorse him. The doing so, however, is what is the matter with the state now, and is one of the reasons for an empty treasury.—Tyler Courier.

The Courier is to be congratulated on the fact that it is progressing. Heretofore it has stoutly and persistently contended that Governor Lammam was personally responsible for the hole in the state treasury.

The government has the whip hand of the packers. The government seal is indispensable in restoring public confidence and the seal will mean hereafter that our meat supply is all right, or it will not be affixed.—Galveston Tribune.

The government's fight on the packers has greatly injured the meat producers of the country, but it is probable that when the new inspection system is in good working order it will result in a greater demand for meat. Confidence on the part of the consumer will be restored.

Texarkana has set an example that every town in Texas might follow with profit. Texarkana is going after German immigrants. The German immigrant is one of the best that ever comes our way, and he will make a mighty good citizen. We need German immigrants in Texas, and we could use them in this section.—Sherman Register.

The thrifty German has made of himself a valuable citizen in every portion of Texas, and has proven just about the most desirable of all the immigrants that come to this state. Texas needs all the Germans she can induce to locate within her borders.

Mr. Bailey once was very much opposed to Mr. Bryan. He is now in favor of him. Wonder what caused all this change? Mr. Bryan's strongest opponents before are the first and loudest of his supporters now. What a change time does bring!—Austin Tribune.

There are a lot of people who once opposed Bryan and are now found riding in the band wagon. No doubt the growth of Bryan sentiment among the masses of late has had much to do with the changed policy of many democratic leaders.

DRIFT OF POLITICS

ALL OVER BUT THE SHOUTING: It's all over but the shouting. One by one the friends and supporters of the other candidates concede the election of Judge C. K. Bell as governor. Of course there wasn't a ghost of a show for the other fellows at any stage of the game, but some people are not satisfied with a few bricks, but wait until the whole block falls on them. "His sad."—Limestone County Press.

THE ONE THING LACKING: Judge Brooks favors a minimum school term of six months. So does every man who goes to the state legislature.

Judge Brooks would enlarge the State University and the Agricultural and Mechanical College. Every member of the legislature would be only too glad to do the same thing.

Judge Brooks would enlarge and improve all of the state's institutions. But Judge Brooks overlooks one point—a point that is vital—which is: The wherewith. It takes money to do all the things which Judge Brooks proposes. But the distinguished gentleman did not in his Waco address, undertake to tell us how he would make tongue and buckle meet.

Right here in Waco, for illustration, we needed enlarged school buildings, and the only way we could get them was to borrow the money, with bonds for security. We need a park system, but we haven't the money to provide same.

Just so in state affairs; it takes money to provide the facilities which would delight our hearts. And this is why Judge Bell doesn't go as far as Judge Brooks concerning occupation taxes. Judge Brooks says to cut them off instantly. But Judge Bell says we can't do that until we find some source of revenue to take their place; the state needs that money.

It is to be regretted that Judge Brooks did not undertake to show how he would realize his ambitious program.—Waco Times-Herald.

ANOTHER SUGGESTION: We note to do it, but it seems to be up to somebody to suggest that the packers who dislike to let anything go to waste might make sausage casings out of the bark.—Washington Post.

What the surgeons make on the Fourth of July the insurance companies lose.

In addition to its ball team, Brooklyn is noted for its deep religious spirit. How it retains the latter with the newspapers printing the scores every day is a mystery. The picture shows a scene in the tough district.

THAT REMINDS ME

HIS TURN NEXT: A physician, upon opening the door of his consulting room, said, "Next patient, please. Who has been waiting the longest?"

A tailor, who had called to present his bill, arose and said: "I have, doctor, I delivered your clothes to you three years ago."

AMBIGUOUS: "Yes, Mr. Sharp," said Dumly, "you certainly have a very fine country place. I—er—sometimes get out in that direction on a Sunday afternoon."

"Do you," said Sharp, in hearty tones, "Well, if you ever find yourself within a mile of our place just stop!"

And now the other is wondering whether to take Sharp's remarks as an insult or an invitation to call.

THE CHEF'S ENGLISH: Mr. Brown, with newly acquired wealth, found that his chef always sent up the menu written in his own language, French, to which the master of the house was a stranger.

"I should like to know what I am eating for once, M. Alfonso," said Mr. Brown to his chef on one occasion. "Let me have the menu in English today."

"Oui, Monsieur," was the reply, "it es ver' difficile, but I veel do it, so if you veel gif me ze dictionnaire."

A small but select party came to dinner that evening and was met with the following bill of fare: Soups at the fall of the calf.

Salmon in curl papers. Chest of mutton to the little peas. Potatoes jumped. Buck savage at sharp sauce. Charlotte at the apples. Turkey at the devil. Fruits variegated.

The Browns agreed afterward that they had never presided over a more hilarious dinner party.

AN OFFICIAL HINT: The police department of Springfield publishes a "daily paper," 7 by 9 inches, in which matters of interest to the members are briefly noted. It is called Lookouts.

The other day when a citizen asked the police to keep a watchful eye on his residence, which had to be temporarily in charge of a female servant, Lookouts noted the fact in this way:

"Mr. — and family have left town for a short time. The house is in charge of the maid, who is lonesome and timid. Officers on the beat please call there as often as possible."

BUT SHE DIDN'T: "A woman can't keep a secret," declared the mere man.

"Oh, I don't know," retorted the fluttery lady. "I've kept my age a secret since I was 24."

"Yes; but one of these days you will give it away. In time you will simply have to tell it."

"Well, I think that when a woman has kept a secret for twenty years she comes pretty near knowing how to keep it."

CAUTIOUS: She was one of those fussy old women.

"Ain't you rather young to be left in charge of the drug store?" she began.

"Perhaps; what can I do for you?" answered the mite of a "qualified assistant."

"Do your employers know it's dangerous to have a mere boy like you in charge of such a place?"

"I am competent to serve you, madam, if you will state your wants."

VERIES THAT RING

THE TRIUMPH OF A "STAY AT HOME": When all my neighbors went away This summer to the sea And left our street alone and dull, I ralled at poverty.

I didn't ask to go abroad, I simply longed to roam On shore or mountain—anywhere—"Would be a change from home!"

My days went by, unhappy quite. Alas! that Fate perverse Should grant me such a lack of funds And fill my neighbor's purse!

As if but once I might enjoy A few weeks by the sea, Or breathe my fill of highland air, How happy I should be!

My friends all kindly wrote to me, The "poor thing left in town," And then I realized my luck Did not deserve a frown;

For Mrs. Smith was "starved to death," Miss Gadder's lot was worse—"This sea breeze quite refused to blow," Even for her well stuffed purse!

"No fishing—not a single bite—" (Except mosquitoes bled.) And they from early morn till night Did not relax their hold!

The beds were hard, the weather hot, The golfers criticised, The links, it seemed that things were not Just what were advertised!

'Twas then I found that happier far Than those who yearly roam Are they who change of air have not, But board and bed AT HOME!

—Maie Virginia Caruthers.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS: Love makes the parlor dark and the heart light. The older a man becomes the fewer fool friends he has.

Don't expect an umbrella mender to recover your lost umbrella. Some people pray as if they thought the Lord would ed their advice.

Any man who imitates others admits that he has an original success. Many a woman who doesn't know her own name gives her husband a piece of it.

Of making books there is no end—otherwise there would be fewer rare tracks. Did you ever see a free show that didn't have some kind of collection attached to it?

Speaking of women, attractive simpletons are popular with men than intellectual bores. The man who contends that the world is growing worse always goes about armed with a muck rake.

It's easy to name the winner of an argument which a man's words are pitted against a woman's tears. A word to the wise is said to be sufficient, you ever notice how many words people use in giving you advice?

Some of our neighbors are permitted to live here. It takes all kinds of people to make a world, but the answer.

Rather than make an effort to reach the top, many men prefer to remain at the bottom for the purpose of helping pull others down.—Chicago News.

QUAKER REFLECTIONS: The secret of happiness is to let the other do the worrying. It's the fellow who is in the wrong that wants to fight.

The difference between right and wrong is largely upon your lawyer. Many a girl would go through fire and water, or even through his bank account.

In religion, as well as in medicine, there is a tendency toward homeopathic doctrine. The glutton is always thinking of what he has to eat, the dyspeptic of what he has just eaten.

Some callow youths would wear auto goggles, thought it would give the impression of being a woman's idea of economy is to fix over a hat for fifteen dollars so it will look as good as Philadelphia Record.

POLYTECHNIC HEIGHTS
Polytechnic Masons, Lodge No. 925, met Tuesday night in called session for the purpose of considering ways and means for securing a larger and better lodge home, a proposition demanding attention of its members at this time in view of recent damage done the old building by wind storm. A proposition was expected by the lodge from S. S. Dillow by which, in consideration of a long time lease with the lodge, he will add a second story to his new brick building, work on which will soon start. A contract for a three-story room, one-story building in Avenue F, and that he will also entertain a lease proposition from the Masons by which he will add a second story. Mr. Price and Mr. Dillow each requested a longer time in which to consider the feasibility of renting in preference of selling outright to the lodge. Dr. Leeman, Professor Sigler and Dr. Davidson were appointed a committee to make satisfactory arrangement with one or the other, and to report at the next regular meeting.

At a called meeting Thursday night in the chapel of Polytechnic college the taxpayers of Mansfield and Polytechnic Heights will consider the petition from Jamestown for cessation from the Mansfield independent school district. As it is today school children of these three communities attend the Mansfield schools, but Jamestown citizens are now anxious to retain their own school funds and incorporate their own property for school purposes.

BIG ROAD GOES TO HARRIMAN

Reported Port Arthur Route Acquired by Magnate EDSON MAY QUIT

Knott Said to Be Slated for President of Line When Change Occurs
Special to The Telegram.
AUSTIN, Texas, July 26.—It was learned yesterday at the state house that the great Harriman system is about to acquire control of the Kansas City Southern railway and that line will soon cease to be an independent line. It is generally known that a deal has been pending for some time for the sale of the Port Arthur route. Whether the deal has been actually consummated and the road placed under the control of the Harriman interests has not as yet been ascertained, but those who are in a position to know declare that the deal is understood and has been reached, and while probably an official transfer has not as yet been made, there will be no more advertising operations between the road and the Harriman lines.

Edson May Retire
It is stated that J. A. Edson, president of the Kansas City Southern, will soon retire from the head of the line, which will be succeeded by Stuart R. Knott, who held the position of president when the road was known as the Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf. This report has not, however, been verified.

Land Owners Oxorbitant
Another thing which lends considerable color to the report that the Harriman interests have absorbed the Kansas City Southern is that there has been a cessation of operations on the proposed new line of the latter company from Leesville, La., into New Orleans. The reason given for abandoning operations through the rice and sugar belt on this proposed new line is that the road is being held up by land owners in the vicinity of Leesville for the purpose of securing a change in the northern end of the survey would be made.

Grading Work Abandoned
The fact remains that all work of grading in the section where the line would have paralleled the Southern Pacific has been abandoned. The reported sale of the Kansas City Southern to the Harriman interests, if consummated, make it a sister road of the Southern Pacific, and will prove quite an event in railroad circles in the state.

RIVERSIDE
H. M. Hightower, residing near Smithfield, who was dangerously injured Wednesday by a six-ton boiler rolling onto his body, breaking several bones and inflicting internal injuries, is reported Thursday as being in a very critical condition at his home. H. Hightower of Riverside is an uncle to the young man.

TO PRIMARY VOTERS
The report has been published that it is a difficult matter to handle as many votes as will be cast in North Fort Worth next Saturday at one voting box by eight men. The fact is that we will have a corps of fifteen men and two voting boxes and we hope that with this number we can handle the strength of the entire north side vote, if voters will come to the polling places, especially those outside of the packing houses, and avoid the rush which would naturally occur when these plants turn loose to vote.

GLENWOOD
Mrs. J. W. Adams of Edwards street, Glenwood, is visiting in Stephenville, Texas, this week with her parents.

Mrs. W. R. Crawford of Palestine, Texas, is a guest of friends at Dr. W. R. Love's home, 123 Luxton street, Glenwood.

Mrs. Jennie Burton of Arlington and Miss Lily Pace of Grandview, Texas, are visiting Miss Maud Love of Luxton street this week.

Miss Josephine Kleibold leaves Thursday for her home at Pearl, Texas, after a visit with S. O. Loveloy and family, 2323 Chestnut street, Rosen Heights. Miss Kleibold is en route from Denton, Texas, where she attended the normal last term.

The Misses Hannah and Minnie Morris of Taylor and Miss Jimmie Adams of Cleburne are guests of Dr. J. O. Crenshaw of Rosen Heights.

The Rosen Heights L. T. L. will start a membership contest next Sunday. The winner will receive a valuable prize. The contest will run for a month.

Sam Simon has just started the erection of a six-room frame residence in Loving street, Rosen Heights.

POLYTECHNIC HEIGHTS
Polytechnic Masons, Lodge No. 925, met Tuesday night in called session for the purpose of considering ways and means for securing a larger and better lodge home, a proposition demanding attention of its members at this time in view of recent damage done the old building by wind storm. A proposition was expected by the lodge from S. S. Dillow by which, in consideration of a long time lease with the lodge, he will add a second story to his new brick building, work on which will soon start. A contract for a three-story room, one-story building in Avenue F, and that he will also entertain a lease proposition from the Masons by which he will add a second story. Mr. Price and Mr. Dillow each requested a longer time in which to consider the feasibility of renting in preference of selling outright to the lodge. Dr. Leeman, Professor Sigler and Dr. Davidson were appointed a committee to make satisfactory arrangement with one or the other, and to report at the next regular meeting.

At a called meeting Thursday night in the chapel of Polytechnic college the taxpayers of Mansfield and Polytechnic Heights will consider the petition from Jamestown for cessation from the Mansfield independent school district. As it is today school children of these three communities attend the Mansfield schools, but Jamestown citizens are now anxious to retain their own school funds and incorporate their own property for school purposes.

Professor W. F. Myster of Polytechnic college left Wednesday for a vacation trip to Eureka Springs, Ark., where he will be several weeks. Professor Myster has been connected with the college a number of years, but has decided to take a rest of one year and will not be one of the instructors the coming term.

J. H. Price and wife went to Mineral Wells last Sunday, where Mrs. Price will remain about two weeks. Mr. Price returned to this city Monday night.

CANTALOUPE CROP BIG

Shipments Will Be Made in Carload Lots Near Vernon

Special to The Telegram.
VERNON, Texas, July 25.—It has been raining hard every day this week and the grain thrashers and cantaloupe raisers are having a hard time of it. The rains have been local in some parts of the county, so all the thrashers have not been stopped. Cantaloupes are moving in car lots, and by next week will be going out at the rate of ten or twelve cars per day. The ice and rains have damaged the crop considerably.

THE MAN WHO DOES THINGS

PRIMARY RULES FOR THE VOTER

On this page today The Telegram presents the claims of some of the candidates who are seeking democratic support at the primaries to be held Saturday, July 28. Together with their claims is presented a brief summary of the Terrill election law for the guidance of voters. A complete list of polling places will be printed in Friday's Telegram.

The primary election must be held the last Saturday in July, which is July 28. The voter must have paid his poll tax for 1905 before Feb. 1, 1906. If he lives in an incorporated town he must have also paid his city poll. He must present his city and county poll tax receipt at the polls. In the event, however, that he leaves it at home, loses or misplaces it, he can make affidavit to that fact before the election officer, and vote anyway. The polls shall open at 8 o'clock and close at 7 o'clock, instead of 6 o'clock as heretofore. No loitering or electioneering shall be allowed within 100 feet of the polls, under a penalty of $100 fine. It is a violation of law to convey voters to polls in vehicles unless they be infirm, sick or disabled. The presiding officer shall provide a sufficient number of tables, booths or places where voters can make out their tickets secretly. Only one voter shall be allowed at a table or booth at one time. The manager should see that no one can see the ballot the voter is preparing. No officer of election is allowed to suggest how a voter shall vote under heavy penalty. If the voter cannot read or write or cannot see, he may get two of the officers of election to assist him make out his ticket, but the officers cannot suggest to him to vote for any candidate. The law does not specify what kind of booths or tables shall be provided; the main thing is to insure secrecy. Every ballot must be accounted for, all mutilated or defective ballots being placed in a box to themselves. No ballots shall be given to any one but the voter at the time he presents himself to vote. The presiding officer must write his name on the back of every ballot before it is given to the voter. The voter must fold his own ballot before presenting it. If from any reason the official printed ballots shall fail to reach any voting place, or in case the supply becomes exhausted, the voters may write their own ballots on white paper. The package of official ballots shall not be opened till the morning of the election. No one who holds any office, state, city or national, excepting only notary public, can serve as an officer of election. Such officer must have paid his poll tax before he can serve. The counting of ballots must begin at 9 o'clock a. m. and continue through the day. On every tax receipt when presented one of the judges shall write "voted July 28, 1906." No election officer must be given by the election officers as to how the vote is going. If the presiding officer fails to appear at the polling place at 8 o'clock the voters present shall elect from their number a presiding officer who shall take charge of such election. Returns of the election must be made within four days after the election to County Democratic Chairman William Jim Swayne.

JUDGE BELL'S SPLENDID RECORD

Tried in the court of public inquiry by the testimony of his neighbors and by his record in official places the verdict is that Judge C. K. Bell of Tarrant county is fitted by excellence of citizenship and the test of official service to aspire without apology to the exalted position of governor of Texas.

Before he had attained man's estate he knew and met the responsibilities of life in the care of a devoted mother, widowed by the fiat civil war. Destiny does not try youth by a severer degree than to impose upon it the exacting burden of a man's work. Charles K. Bell, the boy, met that decree with unflinching courage, and accepted its burden with unshrinking shoulders. From that struggle, begun as a day laborer, has emerged the trusted neighbor, exalted citizen and faithful public official represented in the subsequent public life and career of Hon. C. K. Bell, the man of today.

COUNTY ATTORNEY BELL did not quarrel with the law but contributed to its enforcement, acknowledging no limitations upon his honorable efforts save those imposed by the leniency of juries or the technicalities of courts.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY BELL knew no monitor but his oath of office and no guide to duty but the law.

STATE SENATOR BELL was a lawmaker who did not follow in a beaten track or dodge issues of doubtful popularity. On the contrary he led and constructed. He originated and passed to enactment a number of the most important laws today on the statutes. The anti-trust law is admitted to be the perfected product of his statesmanship.

DISTRICT JUDGE BELL changed the law to the grand jury and made their duty clear as noonday, while to the petit juries he pointed the way of the law to justice without infringing upon the petit juries' legal province as exclusive judges of the facts.

CONGRESSMAN BELL kept his faith with his district, his state and the nation. In defeating the proposition of the house committee on Pacific railroads to refund the debts of that system, amounting to $110,000,000, he built a monument to his skill and watchfulness as a legislator which no carping critic can destroy.

AS CHAIRMAN OF THE DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE he conducted the party to conspicuous victory and left it no legacy of folly or indiscretion.

ATTORNEY GENERAL BELL construed the laws within the limitations of the constitution, and no bill about which his opinion was sought and accepted by the legislature was ever successfully assailed in the courts. Moreover, in the active and vigilant enforcement of the laws of the state he forfeited, for non-compliance with the law, more charters and permits of corporations, foreign and domestic, than were forfeited by any precedent attorney general, while in the enforcement of the anti-trust law which has been made the test of official activity and watchfulness in the attorney general's department, it is a matter of record that Judge Bell collected more penalties from corporations defying that law than were collected by all of his distinguished predecessors combined.

To the office of GOVERNOR, JUDGE BELL will bring an official experience without the suggestion of incompetency, an official faithfulness upon which there is no taint of infidelity, an official vigilance in which there is no leave of negligence, and a comprehension of official duty in which there is neither the hesitancy of ignorance nor the cowardice of the time server.—Houston Chronicle.

tickets secretly. Only one voter shall be allowed at a table or booth at one time. The manager should see that no one can see the ballot the voter is preparing.

No officer of election is allowed to suggest how a voter shall vote under heavy penalty. If the voter cannot read or write or cannot see, he may get two of the officers of election to assist him make out his ticket, but the officers cannot suggest to him to vote for any candidate.

The law does not specify what kind of booths or tables shall be provided; the main thing is to insure secrecy. Every ballot must be accounted for, all mutilated or defective ballots being placed in a box to themselves. No ballots shall be given to any one but the voter at the time he presents himself to vote.

The presiding officer must write his name on the back of every ballot before it is given to the voter. The voter must fold his own ballot before presenting it.

If from any reason the official printed ballots shall fail to reach any voting place, or in case the supply becomes exhausted, the voters may write their own ballots on white paper. The package of official ballots shall not be opened till the morning of the election.

No one who holds any office, state, city or national, excepting only notary public, can serve as an officer of election. Such officer must have paid his poll tax before he can serve. The counting of ballots must begin at 9 o'clock a. m. and continue through the day.

On every tax receipt when presented one of the judges shall write "voted July 28, 1906."

No election officer must be given by the election officers as to how the vote is going. If the presiding officer fails to appear at the polling place at 8 o'clock the voters present shall elect from their number a presiding officer who shall take charge of such election.

Returns of the election must be made within four days after the election to County Democratic Chairman William Jim Swayne.

The presiding officer shall select an associate judge and two clerks to hold the election. At no time must the ballot boxes be left alone or with only one man, until the count is completed.

Men who were before Jan. 1, 1905, are not requested to have a poll tax receipt. Persons with hand or foot severed from body and those permanently disabled are exempt from poll tax. A boy who will be 21 before the general election in November but who is under 21 on July 28, cannot vote in the primaries.

The residence of a single man is where he usually sleeps; that of a married man where his wife lives if they are not separated. You must vote in the election precinct of your present residence. A residence of one year in the state and six months in the county before July 28 is required. No term of precinct residence is required. A person may have moved a dozen times to different parts of the county but if he has been in the county six months he can vote.

Sunday Blue Laws in Mississippi Carried to the Limit

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 26.—The climax of the Mississippi Sunday law enforcement was reached at Biloxi, when over one hundred persons were fined 10 cents each for violations of the law. Some had milked cows after midnight Saturday; others rode in hacks from trains after midnight, and one person was fined for putting on a bathing suit. The cases were appealed.

BELL GAINING IN EAST TEXAS

Campbell's Home County Likes Fort Worth Candidate

The following letter was received Wednesday at headquarters of Judge C. K. Bell in Fort Worth, from E. C. Dickinson, a lawyer of Rusk, Texas. Rusk is in Cherokee county, the former home county of Colonel Tom Campbell.

"The outlook for Mr. Bell since his tour through east Texas is decidedly favorable. At many of his appointments he received an ovation on his arrival, and hearty cheers greeted his every deliverance. The people of this section warm up to a big, rugged, solid character like Mr. Bell. His splendid record in public life and his whole career, legislative and executive, mark him as a statesman of the first order. The very presence of such a man inspires trust and confidence in the people. Campbell, Brooks and Colquitt men in this section now, with few exceptions, say Bell is their second choice. The late attacks on Mr. Campbell and his friends, at the same time Mr. Campbell gave out his letters explaining his acts as railroad receiver and offering to submit his election to a blanket primary, his hearers from this county in alarm are scurrying to his relief. L. D. Gunn of this city, chairman of the senatorial district, is off to south Texas; C. E. Emanuel, chairman of the democratic executive committee of this county, has gone to north Texas, and Judge B. B. Perkins is touring the counties in east Texas. In fact, the Campbell men here are really alarmed over the situation, judging from their solicitude. Mr. Campbell's offer to the other candidates to submit to a blanket primary is received here with surprise and distrust, and aside from the illegality of the proposition and possibility of a small plurality candidate become the nominee of the party, is interpreted as the song of the dying swan, and as the ship in the distress at sea, seeks any port in a storm. Men who heretofore been reluctant to declare their preference are now boldly proclaiming themselves as Bell men, and follow him in the train to his appointments. Evidently Mr. Bell is growing daily in popularity with our people and is the coming man for governor."

JAMES W. SWAYNE

A Loyal Democrat and Progressive Citizen a Candidate for Congress

James W. Swayne of Fort Worth, one of the most loyal democrats and most energetic and progressive citizens Fort Worth ever had, is a candidate for congress in the Fort Worth district, and he asks the voters for their support.

Mr. Swayne needs no introduction to the people of Fort Worth; they all know him, and from one end of the town to the other he is known and respected, not only for his unflinching loyalty to democratic principles, but his sterling qualities as a man.

Jim Swayne has been before the people for office before, and never in his life has he been asked for office, nor office he asked for, and he never held an office that he did not discharge the duties of with credit to himself. As city attorney of Fort Worth he made a name for himself as an able and impartial official, and then him the city never had a better attorney.

As state senator he was one of the leaders in the law-making body of Texas, whose worth was recognized and acknowledged by that great Texas governor, James Stephen Hogg, to whom and to whose political principles Mr. Swayne was always loyal. The two men were inseparable friends, and in Mr. Swayne, Hogg had unbounded confidence.

Jim Swayne, when populism threatened to wipe out democracy in Texas, was one of the men who rushed into the hottest part of the battle and saved the republic from the clutches of the populists, and the people of Erath, Brown, Parker and Comanche yet talk of the great work of Jim Swayne in that campaign.

As a business man, Mr. Swayne is a success, and should be elected here to congress, the country would be the better for it, and his ability that has won success for him in Texas.—(Adv.)

Martin For District Clerk

John A. Martin, the present district clerk, is a candidate for re-election, and in support of his claim for the suffrage of the voters of the county he refers to his official record as district clerk. Mr. Martin has the endorsement of the Fort Worth bar for efficiency and he has received the highest compliments from the higher courts on account of the excellence of all transcripts made in his office.

His democracy is beyond question, and without a blemish; to his party he has ever been true and no man ever worked harder for the success of it than he has. His character as a citizen is above reproach and the courtesy with which he treats all who have business at his office has won him hosts of friends. He will have no man in his office who is not courteous and polite, treating all men, the poor as well as the rich, the mighty and the humble alike. In short, Martin is a democrat of the true blue kind and a tip-top public officer.—(Adv.)

William Barr for Assessor

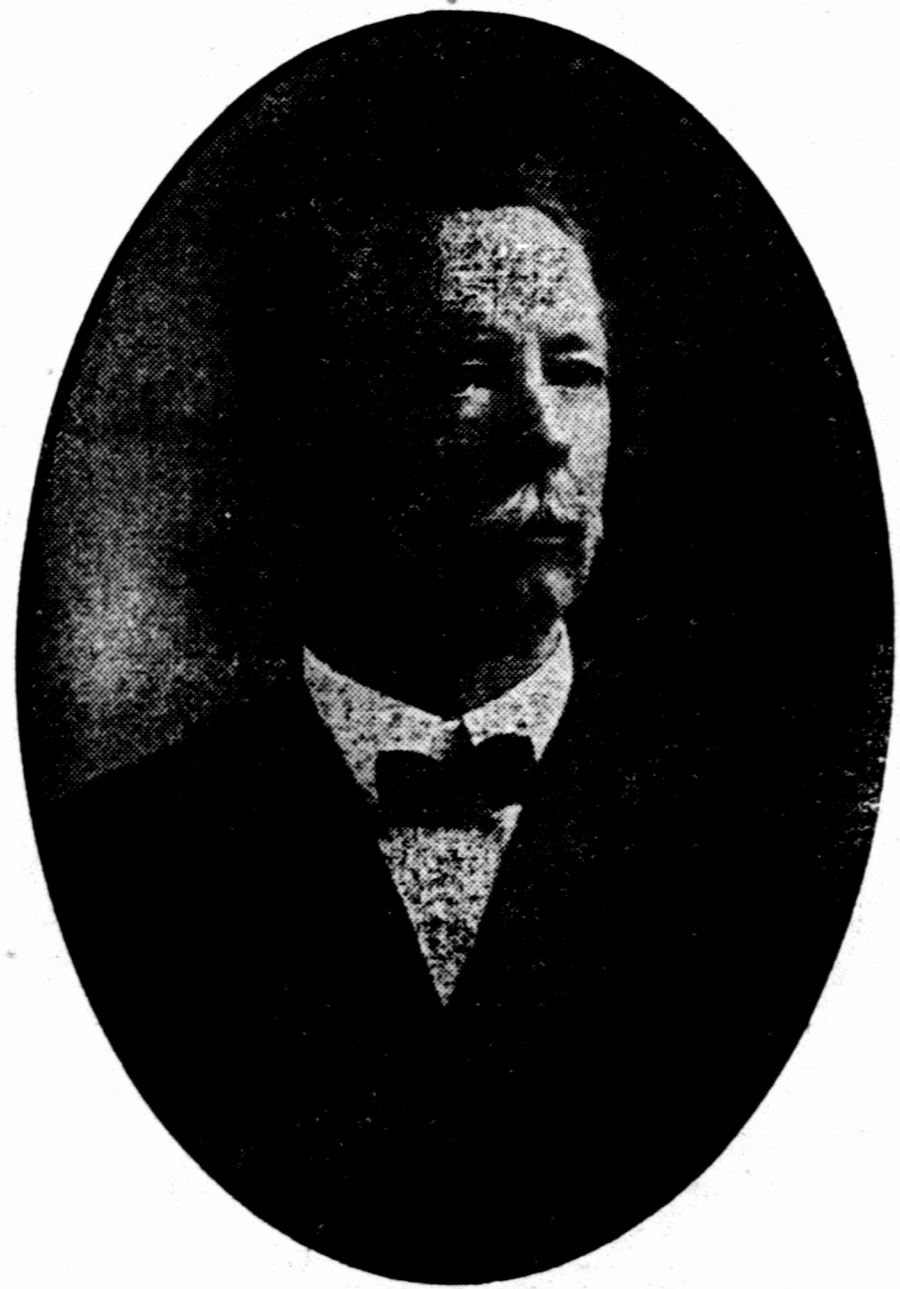

William Barr, one of the old-time citizens of Fort Worth, a democrat of untarnished record and undisputed loyalty, a man whom none stands higher in the estimation of those who know him, is a candidate for county assessor, and in announcing his candidacy he refers to the people to his record as private citizen and as a public official.

Mr. Barr grew up with Fort Worth, and in all his years of residence here, no man has ever fought against in his life that was not in his favor. He served in the city council for years, and was one of the best aldermen Fort Worth ever had. He is a splendid business man, scrupulous in all his dealings with men and his character is the same. He has been identified with the best interests of Fort Worth for years, and has been among those who pushed Fort Worth to the front. His business qualifications fit him for the office he asks for.—(Adv.)

An International Observatory

Professor Edward C. Pickering of the Harvard observatory, proposes to establish an international observatory. His committee is to be composed of the eminent astronomers of the world, who are to raise a sum of money, have a gigantic telescope built and placed on the most suitable spot on earth, and all to go to work.

JNO. T. HONEA

THE CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF Who Has Done His Whole DUTY!

CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION

John Honea's Record

He has impartially enforced the law against gambling and Sunday opening, notwithstanding in doing he cut his fees down one-half.

He is the sheriff who broke up cow stealing in the country and put the thieves in the penitentiary at heavy personal expense.

He has reduced horse stealing in the county to the minimum. The penitentiary holds many thieves captured.

He unearthed the evidence that convicted Rufus Martin of murder.

The packing house strike in 1904 was so handled by him that he was complimented by both sides. In the W. R. Eaves bank defalcation case, in the face of charges that he was negligent in pursuing Eaves to El Paso, he followed the man's trail to New York, caught him and landed him in the penitentiary.

John T. Honea has had much bad charged to him by enemies; his good work has not been told. And he is a Democrat, staunch and true; has never shirked or scratched a ticket and never failed to vote straight.

Special to The Telegram. MARBLE FALLS, TEXAS. John H. Stanley, chairman of the democratic executive committee county, spoke here. His address was somewhat remarkable feature being of part of Colonel T. M. International and Great celebratory record. Mr. in part.

Fellow Citizens: In this campaign I was favored toward the man from Marble Falls. I did not commit myself. Judge Bell until I had the platforms and speed made investigation as records, their services, cratic party, and the hind their candidates. I learned in that view, me, out of love and give and my country to give of the information.

At Bertram last Friday the public record of Campbell. I am going record to you and in disclaim any intention personal attack on Mr. man. Slander and should have no place campaign, but when a self for the high and of governor, it is not mine his public record of place to inquire who for the democratic party had discharged the duties of his position.

What service has the democratic party, that him with the chief magistrates? What remembers T. M. Campbell in the political battles fought by the democracy. Great questions have attention of the people, was the prohibition cause that brought to the fore Mr. Campbell's section. Colonel Herndon, Cone Johnson and others in that campaign. The from, and the people of where they stood. Men enrolled under one banner but who remembers T. as a pro or an anti-voter for prohibition, the people of Texas find it.

A Tangible Basis for Advertising

Very often, advertising is based on nothing more safe, or tangible, or definite than the experience, or opinion, or judgment, or LUCK of some so-called advertising "expert" or organization of "experts."

WHEN the "experts" speculate with the advertiser's money and happen to "pick a winner,"—there's the successful advertiser they tell you about.

When they lose,—there's the business man who says advertising doesn't pay him, and blames the newspapers when he should blame himself.

Then there's the advertiser who doesn't know whether his advertising is really paying him or not, and the business man who for lack of a tangible basis has never been convinced that advertising could be successfully applied to his business.

The largest advertising agency in America is unique in basing its service on a definite, trustworthy guide, viz.: the TABULATED, RECORDED RESULTS of hundreds of successful advertising campaigns for scores of commodities.

We would like a personal talk with you, wherein we can show you what we do to eliminate the waste in advertising due to wrong copy and media—how the Lord & Thomas Record of Results has put advertising on a TANGIBLE basis, and what all this means to you in dollars and cents.

One of our representatives is in your city every few days looking after the interests of some of our present clients. That is why we are advertising in this newspaper—to you—NOW.

A letter, saying that we may call on you at your office, will imply no obligation on your part. Just say when.

We are issuing a series of small books (cloth bound) covering advertising in all its phases, which we send free to interested advertisers.

SUMMER TOURIST TRAFFIC HEAVY

Union Station Crowded With Pleasure-seekers

These are busy times at the union station. Every incoming and outgoing train is crowded with summer tourists. They are all a happy lot and look as prosperous as you please. Some are bound for resorts in Texas, others for their old homes back in the old states and a large number for the lakes of the north country.

Those who are here from day to day to witness the coming and going of travelers assert that today has been the busiest since the opening of the summer tourist season.

Trans coming in from the far west this morning were fairly loaded to the guards with passengers and all the roads report the heaviest passenger traffic experienced in many a day.

A party of young girls from El Paso—twenty strong—and accompanied by four or five matrons from the far Texas city, stopped here to change cars. They were en route to St. Louis and from there they will go to New York.

Like a lot of magpies they were laughing and chattering in the happiest kind of way. But few had witnessed the bustling activity of Gotham town, so they said, and they were pleased beyond measure at the thought of having such an opportunity.

stating that farmers can now whittle down their wooden boxes to make a rivet small post box in any way they choose. The order of the postmaster general provides exactly the contrary. It alone is made of galvanized sheet iron or sheet steel of certain specified dimensions. Wooden boxes are regarded as being neither secure nor weatherproof within the requirements of the department, and all such boxes now in use will be gradually eliminated from the service.

ABOUT THE CITY

The Board of Trade Receives Many Letters.
Captain B. B. Paddock as secretary of the Board of Trade received an unusually large amount of correspondence Wednesday morning from persons desiring information as to the industrial opportunities in this city. He also received a letter from W. E. Palmer, Chicago, stating that the writer and Stanton Palmer would arrive in Fort Worth Thursday to confer with local stockmen regarding the establishment here of a permanent livestock show and the erection of a splendid livestock pavilion at the fair grounds to house the annual show. Mr. Palmer represents the Armour interests and Mr. Skinner the Union Stockyards of Chicago. Among the inquiries received by the board was one from a Chicago firm which wishes to establish a bag factory here.

Another from St. Louis asked for an analysis of the limestone lying adjacent to this city, the reason not being given. A letter from Mr. Shear, the gentleman who was in the city some time ago looking up matters relative to the operation of a horse shoe factory here, stated that he would let Captain Paddock know the decision of his company as soon as he could have a conference with other members of the firm. The Tradesman, published in Chattanooga, Tenn., wrote asking Captain Paddock for a letter to the editor of Fort Worth for the purpose of stating the experience of the tradesmen of Texas. The letter will be published in the annual edition of the Tradesman. Joseph W. McNeal of Guthrie, president of the Southwestern Industrial and Development Association, asks Captain Paddock to write an article on Fort Worth for a pamphlet which is to be published by the association. After the task of looking over his mail was completed the busy secretary sent a telegram to the grand lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, which is meeting in San Antonio, and invited them to hold their next annual meeting in Fort Worth.

Baby Mine
Every mother feels a great dread of the pain and danger attendant upon the most critical period of her life. Becoming a mother should be a source of joy to all, but the suffering and danger incident to the ordeal makes its anticipation one of misery. Mother's Friend is the only remedy which relieves women of the great pain and danger of maternity; this hour which is dreaded as woman's severest trial is not only made painless, but all the danger is avoided by its use. Those who use this remedy are no longer despondent or gloomy; nervousness, nausea and other distressing conditions are overcome, the system is made ready for the coming event, and the hour are obviated by the use of Mother's Friend. "It is worth its weight in gold," says many who have used it. $1.00 per bottle at drug stores. Book containing valuable information of interest to women, will be sent to any address free upon application to GRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Mother's Friend

TO THE TELEGRAM

Editor Telegram: In the Wednesday Record Mr. Ousley, in his own defense for having voted the republican ticket and supported a republican candidate for congress, takes Mr. Cummings to task and suggests that Mr. Cummings undertake the job of striving to convince the people of Tarrant county that he will enforce the law if elected, concluding that "they (the people) don't believe it now."

Mr. Ousley also says: "Mr. Cummings is vastly mistaken if he thinks the people want open gambling and Sunday saloons."

Mr. Ousley is, I notice, very careful to use the word "open" in referring to gambling. Evidently Mr. Ousley thinks that gambling on the quiet is all right. Mr. Ousley's inference is that Mr. Cummings does not permit Sunday opening. Mr. Ousley seems to be a reader only of his own newspaper, which on Monday morning, July 16, on the back page, carried the bold black headline, "Another Dry Sunday." I noticed a headline in The Evening Telegram of the same date which gave the news of the arrest of no less than fourteen for Sunday opening on the very day that the Record said was so "dry."

I am sure that Mr. Ousley also must have failed to see what the grand jury said so strenuously with reference to the open violation of the Sunday opening law. I also recall the opinion that Mr. Ousley also failed to note that bunch of indictments brought in by the grand jury against those who opened on the day that the Record said was so "dry."

Mr. Ousley was and is county attorney. If the voters of this county are disinclined, as per Mr. Ousley's suggestion, to believe that Mr. Cummings will not keep saloons closed on Sunday, who are the voters to believe of Mr. McLean, who now in office is brought so severely to task by the grand jury for not doing what he represents in another candidate. Mr. Ousley is a common every day politician when he talks as he did in his own paper this morning.

TRAVELING MAN AND SHIPPER

Vs. Railroad Commission of Texas and Politician
James S. Hogg, who rode into the governorship of Texas on the theory of the railroad commission, his ability as a statesman and a confidant of the people of Texas in his discretion as a man endowed with unquestionable confidence in his public speeches. Since the commission has been created questions of controversy have arisen, not only in the commercial world but in the social, to say, in the political arena. We will cite, for instance, the shipper, who is really and in fact the traveling man. Since the creation of the traveling man was selected as the great Dole to unite the north and the south. While we are not professing to be a Day Salts, we have united the "missing link" in the great chain of commerce, from the Atlantic to the Pacific. You can take the congested condition of the great trunk lines of America today, and the traveling man is responsible for the great influx of traffic that is the great ocean—the Atlantic and Pacific.

Prosperity hovers around the great atmosphere of America. The great trusts and corporations which are numerous mentioned in the great dailies of the world, the freight traffic alone is a profession of the traveling man. We ask no favors of the great railroad commission, nor of the railroads, as we have been shut out from the legislature of Texas, as we are deemed "shippers" the men who create business, who give the railroads the service in freight traffic that they enjoy, yet, unlike the 2x4 lawyers who constitute the body of the legislature of the state of Texas, we pay full fare and take the consequences.

When Jim Hogg, the great elephant of Texas, advanced this proposition, no doubt, in his wonderful brain he expected every man to get his full benefit, but the great promoters and supporters of the railroads of Texas had as soon be in the lunatic asylum as to proclaim to the citizens of the United States—the "drummers."

Now, we will take the differential between the great cities of Houston and Galveston, and the great port of Galveston has spent thousands and thousands of dollars of the tax payers' money of Texas to solve this great problem, but if they had called on the men to give their version of the matter it would soon be settled without any further argument. We would all be in favor of the grand and great little city of Galveston, the mother of Texas, where millions of dollars have been spent to make it one of the greatest ports of America, and where the commerce of ten or twelve states should pass through. There is no other object of this nature between the land and the sea, as the great Engineer Eads, whose ability as an engineer is acknowledged not only by Americans but by the world, backed by the millions of the United States congress, appreciated what the entire western hemisphere stands for. Now they wish to place an embargo, a differential between a city situated on a bayou and the great city of Galveston situated on the sea.

We ask the people of Texas, the voters of Texas, independent of the railroad commission, to cast their votes in unison with the experience of the traveling men of the state, who realize from experience, not from political reasons, but to abolish this differential from Houston to Galveston, and put the old mother of Texas, Galveston, in the same category as the great port of New York. Voters of Texas, we ask no favors of you, but we, as commercial men of the great western hemisphere, stand ready to publish our experience, our future, and it will be bound to the credit of the class of goods that pass through the great port of Galveston.

Respectfully,
W. H. CALLOWAY.

AFTER ELECTION CROOKS

Funds Raised to Protect Ballot From Evil Influences.
Special to The Telegram.
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 26.—Subscription lists are being circulated here for raising funds for the prosecution of anybody who may be found using corrupt methods toward soliciting votes in the primary election to be held here Saturday. Rewards will be offered for the arrest of all offenders in which a conviction is had. By this movement it is hoped to protect the ballot from all evil influences and to put everybody on guard toward helping to corrupt methods toward soliciting votes in the primary election. A reward of $500 is to be offered for every misdemeanor case in which a conviction is secured and $1,000 for every felony case in which there is a conviction. It is the purpose of the organizers of this movement to raise a fund of from $5,000 to $10,000 to be used in the prosecution of election fraud cases.

Quality Did It!

The fact that SCHNAPPS is so widely imitated only proves that it is the best chew—the standard flat plug. Other plugs are made to imitate the size and shape and color of SCHNAPPS—other tags are made to look like SCHNAPPS tags—yet there are more pounds of SCHNAPPS chewed annually than all other similar tobaccos.

Schnapps

SCHNAPPS is made of only choice selections of well matured, thoroughly cured leaf, and in factories as clean as the cleanest kitchen, situated in the very heart of the greatest chewing tobacco growing country, by men of life-long experience in tobacco manufacturing, and who have directed the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company since 1875. SCHNAPPS has the pleasing, appetizing aroma which created and popularized the fondness for chewing. Expert tests prove that it requires and takes a smaller amount of sweetening than any other kind—and has a wholesome, stimulating and satisfying effect on chewers.

Internal revenue statistics show that SCHNAPPS and other of the Reynolds brands won enough chewers in one fiscal year to make a net gain of six and a quarter million pounds, or one-third of the entire increased consumption in the United States on chewing and smoking tobacco.

Be sure the letters on the tag and under the tag spell S-C-H-N-A-P-P-S, and you will have the genuine.

Upward Movement Expected—Hour—Russian Cheerful

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Movement which was the close of business change yesterday has impetus from more news from abroad and into the second hour without any intermission.

Although the Bank of Russia situation was not so serious as it was reported, and private cables state operators were friendly side of the local market, this was demonstrated by London action noted on the first call opened firm with prices higher, and transaction large scale, during the hour for that period agreed.

St. Paul, Reading and other early favor strong spots in the market. The price of gold reached a sale the gain reached at 182 1/2 considerable and the price fell back the loss, however, in a under covering by short term again set in and without any price had the best.

Although the price of gold early in the day a good demand at the financing the road's coupon, which would be rights to holders of the this afternoon. However disclosed with the expectation that the dividend dec same as usual, 2 1/2 % annually on common.

Nevertheless the price up above yesterday's steel stocks were in ruled firm all day in engineering ordered by the very favorable statement day. Amalgamated Co. dividend and retained of the dividend during general market closed.

Call money ruled ranging from 3/4 to 2 1/2 %.

POWELL ATTACKS GILLESPIE'S STAND

Congressman Accused of Being Undemocratic

AGAINST SUGAR TRUST

Former Mayor Explains Workings of Combination That Controls Means of Making Things Sweet

Before an audience which fairly well filled the main auditorium of the city hall Wednesday evening, for the first time during this campaign, Tom T. J. Powell, candidate for the democratic nomination for congress from this, the Twelfth district, made an address to the voters and other friends in which he set forth his claims for the nomination.

Mr. Powell, while in good condition, shows the strain of the campaign, but spoke with vigor to the end of his address. He had in the audience a number of ladies and also men of all walks of life who generously applauded his telling points.

He was a little reminiscent at the start and told of his coming to this city twenty-three years ago; what his course of life had been here, and briefly of his public services. Of all that he has done locally, he takes most pride in the supply of artesian water for the city, an accomplished fact that made its present and its greater future possible.

He told of his unsuccessful efforts to hold John DeWitt, Mr. Gillespie, the present congressman, refusing to meet him. He said that he thinks that that would have surely afforded the best chance for the people of the district, where the candidates might speak to learn the merits of the claims of the two men for the place and that the demerits of the refusal of Mr. Gillespie to even notice the letter sent him by Mr. Powell was contrasted with the promptness with which Mr. Swayne agreed to the proposition for joint debates with the speaker.

For Prosperity
Mr. Powell said that if elected, the dearest efforts of his career would be directed to the aid of the commercial interests of the district and of Fort Worth. He believed an essential part of that would be the navigation of the Trinity, that water rates might be secured to Fort Worth for the benefit of the whole district, so much of whose freight affected by such rates, if obtainable, went through the Fort Worth gateway. He said that this was opposed by Mr. Gillespie, though why it should be when it was for the benefit of all of the people of the district, he could not understand.

For Military Post Here
He said he would endeavor if elected to secure the location of one of the great military posts which are to dot the country in the more eligible locations of Fort Worth and with the facilities for getting to any part of the state by rail that is offered by the railroads which are feeders for this city, he said he did not despair of success.

Tariff System
Mr. Powell then took up the general differences between the democrats and republicans of the present day and said there was but one that was pre-eminent and that was the tariff, an almost universal subject of relation to other matters, was the government of the Philippine Islands.

Arraigns Representative
With much earnestness of voice, speaking in a level, even tone, which reached all parts of the big room, Mr. Powell made the first and in his opinion the most important charge in the count against Mr. Gillespie's claims for re-election. He was talking of the vote Mr. Gillespie cast on the proposition to give the Philippines relief from the harsh exactions of the Dingley tariff rates, a matter which was made a party issue in congress. He said: "I charge that upon Mr. Gillespie, that upon the only question I have found in the records this year involving true democracy, he voted with the republicans in opposition to the measure."

Mr. Powell then hastily, and yet clearly reviewed some of the more recent tariff legislation from the time of the Wilson bill to the time when the Dingley bill was foisted on the people of the country, an enactment which, he thought, was the most vicious ever enacted by congress, for it was believed all of the people of the country, which had added so much to the burdens of the people in addition to their cost of living, in permitting the accumulations of capital from the trusts and their exactions.

Mr. Gillespie's Vote
He directed attention to the fact that Mr. Gillespie had been nominated on platforms which declared for a tariff based on the economical needs of the government, platforms which denounced the Dingley tariff bill as the incarnation of all of the evils, incident to the protection of a protective tariff system. One of the most odious trusts of the land, he said, was the sugar trust, and yet, he said, Mr. Gillespie's vote, antagonizing the democratic party measure on this subject, was directed for the sugar trust and against the interests of the people who are sugar users, which practically includes all of the people of the country.

He gave details of the organization of the sugar trust, with its $90,000,000 stock, half preferred and half common. The first had, he said, to secure the real property of the trust, about $18,000,000 or $20,000,000 in value. The latter, which was the working stock of the trust, had to give it value but congressional favor, and just such votes as Mr. Gillespie cast, voting with the republicans against the measure, measure seeking to give some relief, were the foundations of that favor which made the value of the common stock worth $137 per share, while the real, or preferred stock, based on such actual values as the trust had, worth $100 per share.

Quotes Froude on Rome
Mr. Powell argued at some length on the proposition that no country could be composed of subject provinces. He said that the government of the United States, in its present form, is a remnant of the Roman empire, and that the contentions of the United States, in its present form, are a remnant of the Roman empire, and that the contentions of the United States, in its present form, are a remnant of the Roman empire.

The enormous accumulations of wealth of the country in the hands of a few at the expense of many tended, he feared, towards feudalism.

A Factory Era
The era of small factories had gone, he said, to the government of the United States, in its present form, is a remnant of the Roman empire, and that the contentions of the United States, in its present form, are a remnant of the Roman empire.

The transportation rates, made largely for their own benefit by the very men who, in large part at least, were the beneficiaries of the trusts, came in for a share of notice, and the inequalities of the rates and the injustice of the rates, fixed for the benefit of the trusts, were also mentioned.

Against All Rebates
The transportation rates, made largely for their own benefit by the very men who, in large part at least, were the beneficiaries of the trusts, came in for a share of notice, and the inequalities of the rates and the injustice of the rates, fixed for the benefit of the trusts, were also mentioned.

Senator Bailey Praises Both Confederate and Union Soldiers

WACO, Texas, July 26.—The speech of Senator Joseph V. Bailey was the feature of the great Confederate reunion at Gatesville yesterday, and a crowd estimated at from ten to fifteen thousand people heard the address, which was suited to the occasion. It did full credit to the soldier of the south and his brother at the north, and showed that both had their opinions and convictions and were striving to follow them. The effect was wholesome, and the people acquiesced in the views expressed.

A special train from Waco carried several hundred persons, and the reunion was a big success. It will close today.

PARIS, July 27.—According to the Russian authorities in the course of recent sessions of a gigantic plot for a general revolutionary October next, the plans of which have been perfectly prepared. The plot was decided to be carried out by dissolving the republic and thus prevent its becoming a tribune of the people.

The Echo d'Paris states that police intervention at a secret office of the newspaper which was attended by a number of persons, led to the discovery of a plot by the organized Jewish groups of the lower parliament. The government has decided to take the management. Deputy Solomov refused to accede to the demand that he should be removed from his position.

Emperor Pleaded by Dismissal
Special to The Telegram.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 27.—The emperor apparently is convinced that a right course in the present situation is to be found in the employment of members of the ruling personal relations. The emperor, who saw him yesterday, formed the Associated Press that the emperor displayed high spirits. Two weeks ago the emperor was seen to be under great stress over the situation, and he had been seen to be under great stress over the situation, and he had been seen to be under great stress over the situation.

The original plan of a revolutionary council, the emperor had broken down Premier Stolypin, is to form a reorganization containing a non-bureaucratic in which he will be able to the policy of strong-handed government by the government.

Mexican in Abilene Charged With Murder

Special to The Telegram.

ROSWELL, N. M., July 27.—K. E. Woodruff arrived in Roswell from Abilene, Texas, yesterday, and was accompanied by Hernandez, a villainous-looking man, who is wanted for the assassination Feb. 1, 1904, of Ruben, son of Juan Rubio, a stock grower. Woodruff is to be in possession of evidence which would have convicted Hernandez of the murder. It was said to have killed him.

Rubio was shot twelve miles from Roswell and his body was recovered until decomposition. He had been shot through the head, Hernandez was charged with the murder. He was seen by Juan Gutierrez. He was recognized by the man wanted for the murder and turned over to Sheriff
