PAUL O. STENSLAND

Adams shook hands with O'Connor, but was not introduced to the woman. The entire party left the train upon its arrival here and Adams says he heard the woman whisper something to Stensland. At the time he paid no attention to the occurrence.

Immediately after Mr. Adams gave his information to a reporter, the following telegram was sent to John Collins, chief of Chicago police:

"Henry V. Adams, claiming to be former Chicago broker, declares he saw Stensland on train and here early this morning. Says banker is bound for Mexico. Wire your office."

This message was sent at noon yesterday. Shortly after 4 o'clock Friday afternoon the following reply was received from Chief Collins:

"Director does not show commission broker Henry V. Adams. Whereabouts of Stensland unknown. Wire destination of train and additional information."

Another message was flashed to John C. Fetzer, receiver of the Milwaukee Avenue Bank. Still another wire was sent to Chief Collins and Stensland at an early hour Saturday morning this reply was received:

"I have telegraphed to El Paso, Eagle Pass and Laredo, Texas. Stensland's description." (Description of man.)

STORM BREAKS AUG. RECORD

Three and Half Inches of Rain Is Recorded

DAMAGE FEARED

Believed Unusual Precipitation Will Further Interfere With Railroad Traffic

The total rainfall in Fort Worth between the hours of midnight Friday and Saturday was 3.50 inches. This is the heaviest rain ever recorded here in August in the history of the Fort Worth bureau office and one of the heaviest continued rains ever noted here.

Prospects for the restoration of regular service on the railroads passing through Oklahoma and Indian Territory were not brightened by the unprecedented heavy rain which fell in Fort Worth and northern Texas Saturday morning.

Reports to the headquarters of the railway mail service here indicate that trains will not be able to return to their schedules for some time, as the high waters, which in places cover the tracks, are not going down or if at all but very slowly, and trains are delayed by washouts of tracks and bridges in several places in Indian Territory.

The region over which the heavy rain extended is not great in area, not reaching much out of Tarrant county to the west, but covering the territory north as far as Sherman and Paris. At Sherman the precipitation was heavier than here, being 3.52 inches, while here it was 2.86 inches at 7 o'clock.

The damage done by the storm in Fort Worth falls most heavily on the telephone companies and the laboring people, who had to lay off a day as a result of the rain.

The Trinity river rose rapidly during the morning and at 11 o'clock the water was running about three feet over the old dam, the rise having been four or five feet at the waterworks.

The rain which fell at Fort Worth and vicinity Saturday morning was one of the heaviest of the season. The total precipitation for the day was 3.50 inches, and fully .60 more by noon.

The climax of his trouble was reached when a woman whom he had known for years accused him of being responsible for the failure of the bank.

ENTHUSIASTIC FOR SCURRY CO.

John W. Baker of Snyder, Tells of Range

John W. Baker lives three miles east of Snyder, in Scurry county, and is a successful stock farmer.

"I moved from Llano county several years ago and settled in Scurry county," said he, "and it was the best move I ever made. We have a good country, soil unsurpassed, in Texas, which will produce cotton, corn, sorghum, johnson grass, Bermuda, sorghum, kafir, corn, milo maize, pumpkins, watermelons and any other truck that can be produced in Texas."

"I have bought 320 acres which is only three miles from town and have in this year 135 acres in cotton, I am sure of a half bale to the acre. All of our people are getting along well and are not complaining."

"Grass is fine and cattle could not do much better. Yes, I have been over to Dallas to attend the Farmers' Union, for county work is always mixed up in anything that tends to help them."

"Fort Worth is a great town and for one was in favor of locating the headquarters of the union here. This is the railroad center of north Texas and is more convenient for the most of the farmers to reach and the convenience of the greatest number should control in all such matters. I have read about the auditorium that is to be built for stock show purposes and I can hardly find words to express the idea that I think this will do for Fort Worth in particular and the breeders of stock in the state generally. It is a great thing and I am sure that the money will jump at a chance to take stock."

DALLAS TOO HOT FOR HIM

W. L. Wilson Glad to Start for Jones County

W. L. Wilson lives in Jones county, near Trubey, and he proclaims it the very best in the state and, consequently, in the world.

"I am on my way from Dallas, where I have been in attendance on the annual meeting of the state Farmers' Union. Our meeting was a pleasant one and there was no trouble among the members or any great orations, as it was too hot in Dallas for such exhibitions. You may be sure that we are all glad to get back home again. Jones county is never in such fine condition as at the present. For several years good crops have been made and the farmers are not cramped as they used to be, and, with this year there is sugar in the ground sure. Every crop we have is good and the kafir and maize are best of all."

"We have had fairly good corn crops for several years, but it is a sure good one this. Besides the railroad that is passing to Anson, the Santa Fe is also building and it will pass just at the bank of my field and when it does you can drop off and pass the time of day with me at most any old time."

FOR FARMERS' UNION

Jones County Man Proposes Use of Auditorium

S. M. Young is a Jones county man who resides at Abbie, and is engaged in stock farming.

"I have been over to Dallas attending the Farmers' Union and am on my way back to my home. Everything seemed to move along smoothly in the union."

"I can only repeat what all Jones county men will tell you, that is, crops, cattle and people are never better and the people are, or ought to be, in a satisfactory frame of mind, if they ever expect to be."

"You Fort Worth people certainly are pushers, and this push you have gotten now will, I am sure, push your city up to the top of the heap as far as cities go. The auditorium and stock show will be a great thing and if you will only fix it so that the Farmers' Union and other large bodies which have annual meetings somewhere, could have a place in which to meet, it will commend itself to the country and, when any of us farmers want a first class breeding hog, sheep or jack, all we will have to do is to come down to the show, look at the one we exhibit and then hunt up the owner and get what we want from his herd at his home. The wives could come along too and hunt up an old speckled hen or dominator and a setting of fine eggs. In fact, there does not seem to be any end to the influence for good that this business will not bring into play."

AN EXPERIENCE MEETING HELD

Member Tells of the Farmers' Union at Dallas

Colonel John W. Childress, who now makes his home in Taylor county, posting his mail at Abilene, was here Friday, on his way from Dallas, where he had been in attendance on the Farmers' Union meeting. The colonel is a former resident of Cooke county, where he resided for some time in the early fifties, and is a brother-in-law to Colonel Ed Gunter, a well known stockman.

"Everything looks all right with us in the Farmers' Union," said he, "and we had a pleasant meeting, and it was something like the old-time experience meetings of the Methodist church, where everybody told what had happened in their communities since the last meeting. The members felt very much uphauled at the success the organization has had so far, and came away hoping for the best and continue in the future."

"As to conditions in our county, why they could not be in much better fix. You never saw such crops of every kind and cattle as good as anyone ought to want them. I have sold part of my farm of 1,100 acres out on the Mulberry creek at good prices, but have enough left."

Abilene is Growing

"The town of Abilene is growing fast and property is increasing in value every day. The increase in town property through the prosperity that has invaded the country is probably in the neighborhood of $40,000. So you can judge what times we are having."

"I lived for nearly fifty years in Cooke county and was successful as a farmer and stock raiser, but I never have seen such a country as around Abilene for producing all kinds of crops. We always raise kafir corn and milo maize, but for the last two or three years we have made fine crops

BELL HOLDS FAST TO SECOND PLACE

SUBURBAN NEWS

Organization is Permanent

North Fort Worth Commercial Club Has 175

Permanent organization of the Commercial Club of North Fort Worth, Texas, was effected at the second meeting held in the city hall Friday night, when over one hundred and eighty-five business men and other citizens called for the reading of other members. It was moved by one member that in view of the fact that the club was at that time totally without funds, all members present should pay the dues for the first month. More than thirty quickly responded at the specified monthly fee of $1.

Mayor W. D. Harris, temporary chairman, was absent from the meeting, having been called to Sherman, Texas, on account of the death of his sister. P. J. Conway, acting as chairman pro tem, called the meeting to order shortly after 8 o'clock and at once called for the reading of the minutes of the last meeting by Temporary Secretary Rochester Haddaway. The minutes were approved as read and the report of the committee on constitution and by-laws was asked for.

CONSTITUTION LENGTHY

The proposed constitution is a lengthy one and clearly sets forth the purposes and aims of the organization, which, in substance, amount to the promotion of the best interests of the united effort of its citizens. At present much attention will be given prospecting investors and manufacturing industries seeking new locations. Special advantages of North Fort Worth as a desirable location will be shown by the club as the inducement to prospectors.

PROVISIONS OF BY-LAWS

The club shall maintain as officers a president, three vice presidents, a secretary and a treasurer. The secretary shall be the only salaried officer. All officers, with the exception of the president, shall be elected by the board of directors and may be removed at the option of the board. The president shall be ex-officio chairman of the board of directors and shall have the power to appoint the active chairman.

DIRECTORS ELECTED

At the last meeting a committee was appointed to make recommendations for the various offices, but it was at once seen that such a report would conflict with the articles of the adopted constitution. A committee of five was then appointed and instructed by the chair to go at once into executive session and report back their names, from which eleven would be elected by popular ballot. After a deliberation of about ten minutes the committee returned the following names:

- W. H. Grove, I. T. Valentine, Joe McCarthy, W. D. Davis, J. W. Condon, V. S. Wardlaw, T. M. Thannisch, P. H. Hopkins, L. G. Pritchard, D. W. Derr, H. H. Haddaway, J. A. Dryden, B. M. Frazier, John Grant, R. C. Godwin, J. B. Collier, L. B. Curd, J. D. Farmer, D. S. Wolsley, P. J. Conway, J. A. Mulholland, J. L. Moore, J. H. Little, J. T. Marshall, C. M. Galloway, J. R. Franzler, Dr. Eastham, S. M. Lawson, W. A. Arthur and A. M. Cleveland.

CONTEST PROMISED

Brooks Claims One Delegate From Bexar County

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Aug. 11.—There will be a contest from Bexar county before the credential committee of the state democratic convention when it meets at Dallas. R. J. Boyle claims that under the law Judge M. M. Brooks is entitled to one delegate from this county, having received sufficient votes, and that under an agreement entered into before the county convention elected delegates that he was to have been named. He claims that the committee went back on the report and elected a Campbell delegate instead. Although his name was not submitted to the convention to be voted on he will go before the convention and ask to be seated. He left for Dallas tonight.

FINAL RESULT AT DALLAS

Alderman Bill Shaw of Dallas, best known to fame however as Farmer Shaw, has been a firm and consistent supporter of Judge Bell for governor since the beginning of the campaign, and thus summarizes the situation:

"If Bell be fourth in the race, his vote, when he is dropped, will be prettily evenly divided among the other three, with the chances that Brooks will get more of them than either of the other candidates. On the second ballot, whether Colquitt or Brooks is dropped, Campbell will be elected because of evident alignments, would have the necessary majority."

"If, however, Brooks is the first candidate to receive a large majority of that vote would naturally, it seems to me, go to Bell and insure Mr. Colquitt as the drop-out on the second ballot, the race between Campbell and Bell, and I think this would nominate Bell."

"However, while I have been for Bell on the sole ground that he is in every sense the best man for the job, the race, still will have a pretty good governor no matter which candidate lands. Of course, I'd like to see Bell climb to first place when all returns are in, but if he gets to second place he is a sure winner, I think, and if he only stays at third, with the small margin as to second place, he is a mighty fine showing."

Farmer Shaw needs to revise his estimates. In the first place, Judge Bell is not fourth in the race and will not reach that level. The fourth seat in the gubernatorial procession has been reserved for Judge M. M. Brooks, the water wagon candidate for governor, who was favored by the extreme prohibitionists and Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey for first place. The third seat is occupied by Oscar Branch Colquitt, who was treated so badly by Brooks in Kaufman county. Judge Bell is occupying the second seat and is preparing to take possession of the front seat, which has been pre-empted by a gentleman from East Texas.

Brooks will be the first man dropped and Colquitt will be the next sacrifice. There will be a split in the vote of each man as his name is dropped, for the politicians have the situation well in hand and will prolong the agony as long as possible. Then will come the final fight between Bell and Campbell, which will result in the triumphant nomination of Bell.

The fact that Judge Bell has second place ought to cause the Farmer to issue an immediate revision. There has apparently been a very determined effort to keep him out of his rightful position as long as possible, but the official figures cannot be juggled with. When the vote of all the counties has been counted and officially protared it will be found that The Telegram has been correct from the very beginning of the period of uncertainty when it has insisted that Judge Bell had second place. And The Telegram will again be vindicated in Judge Bell's nomination.

state and some of the more sensible politicians are pointing to the evils of frequent overturning in office of showing the benefits that would follow doubling the length of every official term in the state, increasing the salaries of the officers and providing for a condition that will make interference with business and established order less frequent than it is now. This matter has been talked over and over, and the arguments in favor of longer terms of office is valid, but the legislature must first take up the thing and prepare the way for its submission to a constitutional convention. The coming legislature should provide for a constitutional convention at the earliest possible moment, for it is something that Texas needs infinitely more than she does a primary election to make ducks and drakes out of her people and provide for the most unequal measure of selecting a candidate that was ever inflicted upon an innocent and unprepared people. The whole country is growing toward the acceptance of the need of longer terms of office as really essential to the best government of the several states and the municipalities as well. In many of the state and county offices there should be double the present term as to length, a reasonable increase in salary, no fees attached to any office, no second terms and no eligibility to any office for a certain period after the expiration of the term of office held. With these provisions there would be cut off at the head of the column at one stroke more than 60 per cent of all the present evils of office seeking. Make these provisions a part of a primary election in which every voter could vote for any man he chose and the person receiving the highest number of votes the nominee, without any nomination contest and matters could be reasonably well understood.

The Telegram believes it is a great mistake to have the state undergo the turmoil of a biennial election, when in the majority of instances it is customary to give each public official the second term. Elect them for four years and be done with it, saving the state the expense of the double election and the people the worry of two campaigns. That is a business way of looking at the situation, and the proposition would find great favor with the people if properly brought to their attention.

And while we are about it, why not make the salary of the governor of the greatest state in the union commensurate with the dignity of the position and the grandeur of Texas? If we can afford to pay the railroad commissioners and higher judiciary $4,000 per annum, why not raise the position of governor to a more exalted level and pay the executive $10,000 per annum? The Telegram is unqualifiedly in favor of both propositions, and hopes that some strong and influential members of the next state legislature will take hold of the situation and make a proper fight to have both ideas engraved into law.

HARD ROAD TO TRAVEL The republican state convention will be held in El Paso at the same time the democratic forces are in session at Dallas. Or, at least, Chairman Cecil Lyon and his coterie of friends, will hold a little gathering out there, where all the proceedings will be harmonious and in good order. The action of Chairman Lyon in calling the convention at El Paso has been severely criticized by his enemies and opponents, on the ground that it was done in order to obliterate opposition by preventing attendance by the poor negro members of the party who seem to be opposed to him. The El Paso Herald, a republican newspaper, has the following concerning the impending convention:

There will be a meeting of republicans in the county court house tonight to make arrangements for taking the republican state convention when it meets here next week. Many lists of delegates are arriving here and it is expected that a large crowd will be present. J. A. Smith has been in Dallas from many prominent men in the state, asking him to reserve rooms for them during the convention, and he believes there will be an excellent attendance.

Few negroes will be here, as the great majority of the lists of delegates show that all are white and in the few instances where colored delegates have been named, they are not willing for funds to enable them to attend.

One colored county chairman, one of the very few left in the state, writes the "two to not vote to pull anybody's leg, but we need funds to get to the convention! That is just our fix."

It is needless to say that the funds are not being forwarded. The negro members of the republican party in Texas may well groan at the advent of the time when they can no longer indulge in the usual leg pulling. But Chairman Lyon is doing his level best to make his party as respectable as possible, and one of the prerequisites in that direction has been to stop leg pulling.

any client, other than the party which Mr. Andrews has served, for a large outlay in legal fees. The task of getting election returns alone has been a tremendous one. It was necessary to design and have printed an immense number of blanks for the accurate and speedy handling of returns. Every particle of these blanks had to be sent to the 250 county chairmen of the state, together with self-addressed envelopes.

The manner in which Mr. Andrews has been able to procure, to tabulate and to provide the returns is a matter of admiration to the newspaper men who have for the last several days been calling at headquarters for information. The press gang, at least, Mr. Andrews has been up against. The public never will know exactly because the reader sees only the complete tables and cannot know of the millions of figures that had to be tabulated, added, multiplied, subtracted and divided in order to furnish them the information.

Chairman Andrews has made the party a faithful and efficient officer, and the announcement that he will not be a candidate for re-election is a great disappointment to his friends. Nothing can be said in his disparagement, but there is no question but that his railway connections have militated against his usefulness as the head of the democratic party in Texas, from the fact it has given critics an opportunity to declare the party was dominated by the Southern Pacific railway. Those who know Frank Andrews as he really is have attached no importance to this allegation, for they know full well that with him democracy is paramount to every other interest.

Every progressive citizen of Fort Worth should take an interest in the new plan evolved for the upbuilding and maintenance of the great fat stock show. Those who are able should take at least one share of stock in the new corporation, and make the labor of the soliciting committee as light as possible. But a short time remains for the raising of the required subscription, and Fort Worth must come up promptly in this matter.

Fort Worth is growing very fast, and that fact is amply demonstrated by the losing of a Santa Fe passenger train in this city a day or two ago, which found itself on the Katy tracks about four miles out of the city. Santa Fe engineers should be reminded of the rapid growth of the city, and cautioned to keep a close watch on future developments.

Fort Worth does not desire to see any more cotton hauled through the streets of this city to be sold at Arlington. Let the promoters of the Fort Worth cotton market proceed to bestir themselves and get in readiness for the fall campaign.

There should be a good sized purse made up for the first bale of new cotton brought to Fort Worth, and those interested in the upbuilding of the local cotton market should proceed to get busy.

Information comes from New York that Alton B. Parker has just paid a visit to David B. Hill. Are the democratic dead in the Empire State beginning to rise and walk? If so, it is a good omen for the future.

Democrats who visit Dallas next week will remember the location and pleasant association in Fort Worth. And it is only about one hour's ride from Dallas to the metropolises of Texas.

Colonel Dick Wynne of Fort Worth would make a first-class chairman of the state democratic executive committee.

Dirt is flying on that proposed interurban road to Mineral Wells, but it is an enterprise that seems to move slowly.

The situation seems to be shaping itself very nicely for the nomination of Judge Bell at Dallas Tuesday.

Pointed Paragraphs Don't criticize your neighbor, set him an example. One of the things you can't buy on credit is experience. An otherwise truthful man sometimes talks about himself. Most real estate investors draw the line at cemetery grounds. Even a wise man and his money are soon parted by the undertaker. Many prayers would be more effective if they were blue penciled. It isn't necessary for women to be voters in order to become rulers. The persistent man accomplishes a lot of things that are not worth while. In union there is strength—as many a married man has learned to his sorrow. Most men are qualified to occupy apartments in a lunatic asylum—and they can prove it. It used to be a popular fallacy that sense came with age and wisdom with experience. And it is so easy for a woman to have a headache when she can't think of any other excuse. Love making of the kind usually found in romantic novels makes the real thing look like 23 cents. About the best any woman can do when she attempts to make a fool of a man is to act as nature's assistant.—Chicago News.

Gleanings From The Exchanges

The state democratic convention will be called to order in Dallas next Tuesday and from present appearances all the delegates will be in their seats when the gavel falls. In fact it looks as though they will be there long before the convention hall ever opens in order to be on hand early.—San Antonio Express.

There were no trouble about including delegates to attend the state democratic convention at Dallas. More men want to be present than the law will permit, and it is probable the number of outside rosters will considerably exceed the actual delegates in attendance.

It appears that Fort Worth is to take steps to put the "masher" out of business in that city. Best way to do it is to cart him out to the farm and allow him to commune with sweet nature for a spell.—Alvarado Bulletin.

The Panthers took their third straight game from the Cleburne Railroaders Friday afternoon in a ten-inning game with a score of 3 to 2. "A miss is as good as a mile." Big Criss was in the box for the visitors and did his best, but one can't expect a pitcher to do all of it, and Criss certainly did his share and then some, only Boles, Erwin, Wilson and Cavender getting hits from him during the contest.

Crisis brought in the first run of the game in the fourth when he hit for a two-bagger and scored on Poindexter's single to left, Cavender juggling the ball long enough to allow the run. The visitors' last run was scored in the seventh when Moran singled past third and stole second. Whiteman sacrificed him to second. Poindexter hit into Boles and the latter made a perfect throw to the plate, but the ball went through Rodgers' hands and the Cleburne catcher was safe.

Three errors came in rapid succession in the eighth inning, which netted the Panthers a brace of runs. It seemed like the team had gone to pieces. Cleburne got her two runs on the errors that the Panthers made. While Fort Worth only made two errors, they both were costly.

In the tenth inning Boles opened the session with a two-bagger and was sacrificed to third by Groener. Carlin then hit to the infield, but Boles beat the throw out after a hard run and a pretty slide. There was a little dispute over the decision at the plate, but it did not last long.

Joseph McClure of Fort Worth, whom it has been decided is the oldest living settler of Alvarado, was in attendance at the recent Pioneer Reunion here, and when asked by the Bulletin as to when and how and by whom Alvarado was named, stated that he was born in Alvarado, now the name Alvarado was suggested in the year 1853, 1854 or 1855 by Abe Honstatt, who lived here, and that it was taken in honor of old Don Alvarado, who assisted the Mexican forces in the Mexican war.—Alvarado Bulletin.

It makes no real difference as to for whom Alvarado was named. It is one of the best little cities in this section of the state, and the home of some live and progressive people.

Fitzhugh Hill of Denton and William D. Williams of Tarrant should have these words inscribed on their monuments: "Died from an overdose of Terrell Election Law."—Dallas Times-Herald.

And if those two very worthy gentlemen are defeated, it is but an additional argument for the repeal of the Terrell monstrosity.

Messrs. Bailey and Culberson are great men, no doubt, but neither is big enough to boss the untried of Texas. Poor old Brooks, the senatorial trust was too many for him.—Texarkana Courier.

Judge Brooks is said to be very angry over the result of the state primary. The contemplation of that departed $12,000 is enough to fill his very soul with anguish.

Tom Watson of Georgia has returned to the democratic fold and is welcomed as an honest voter are. With the return of Watson to the fold, reforms on an unwilling congress, there is no need for a third party. There are thousands of Tom Watsons in every state who have doubts and that he is the same conclusion that he has, that it is the duty of all reformers to array themselves under the democratic banner and aid in the overthrow of the party whose only slogan is "standpat and pass the hat."—Austin Statesman.

The return of Watson to the democratic party marks the final passing of populism. For several years he has constituted all that remained of a once dangerous organization, and he has finally come to realize that it is within the ranks of democracy only that true reforms can be accomplished.

Three hundred or five persons in Kaufman county it seems are guilty of the same mistake in that they scratched Joe Bailey's name in the primary election at Athens.

Kaufman county went for Brooks in the primary election, as Bailey wanted it to do. The men who scratched that gentleman from their tickets must have been Colquitt people.

W. D. Williams, candidate for railroad commissioner, says he is calmly awaiting the final result, and that he is determined to have the nomination if a majority of the popular vote was cast in his favor. The law has provided, however, that the winning convention vote shall tell the tale.—Sherman Register.

If the butcher, wrapping up my steak, Should say: "You know that croch was so vast, And feed so cheap, we're able to make a slight reduction in the price last!"

If he should tell me that he had cut the price long and well, I wonder if the shock—why spare the time to build such castles in the air?

Should say: "The world will be a cheaply fed, since there is a large wheel in the land!"

Yes, and if Tom Campbell, the people's candidate for governor, is elected out of the nomination by the state, there will be much condemnation of the Athens Review.

PURE FOOD SHOW NEEDS MORE ROOM... Talk of Circuit in Texas and Change to Fall Meeting... Discussing the vast importance of a fat stock show exposition hall to the city, the state and the live stock industry of the southwest, J. C. Martin, secretary of the Retail Grocers and Butchers' Association of Texas, said he was sorry that it was not proposed that the fat stock show hall should be located in Fort Worth proper, for they wanted a building with at least 600 square feet of floor space to be used for the pure food shows of the local association, which would this year be on a more important scale than was the show at Dallas in March of this year. "That, he said, was a selfish way of looking at the matter, for no one could have a higher appreciation of the value of the fat stock show to the city than he had."

AMUSEMENTS... At the Palace Rink... The second appearance of Miss Adelaide E. D'Vorak, champion lady racer and fancy skater, at the Palace rink, Lake Erie, last night drew an even larger number of spectators than viewed her first performance. Her program last night was entirely different from the previous one and her many feats of skill were applauded vigorously. One of her faintest and most charming numbers is her waltz step on skates, in which she gives an exact imitation of dancing with the dreamy, swaying motion of the waltz. Another beauty of her performance is that she accomplishes every one of her feats without the slightest suggestion of hesitancy or effort.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Market Finishes Weak Firm—Grangers in Good Demand—Business Fair for Saturday

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The stock market closed the week firm, with prices as a rule near the best level of the day, and above yesterday's finish. Although in most instances, gains were of fractional proportions.

For Saturday the trading was on a fairly liberal scale, with the exception of a short period of depression around the call, when under long evening-up transactions, prices for the better class of securities dropped 1/4 to 1/2 from the previous closing level, the extreme decline being in Reading, which was under considerable pressure all day, the undertone was excellent and under covering of shorts at the decline an upward movement was started, which continued until the close, being unobscured by a very poor bank statement.

As a result of the Jamestown incidents, the market for Pennsylvania shares was rather quiet, with a few closing losses noted being in this issue. It was of slight proportions, however, as after dropping 1/4 early in the session a rally was effected under short covering.

NEW YORK COTTON

Liverpool's Excellent Showing Furnishes Incentive for Short Covering but Local Response Slight

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Cotton shorts were willing to take profits today, owing to the fear of unfavorable developments over Sunday, the inclination being fostered by the extremely favorable character of the Liverpool cables, and to this fact alone probably reacted to the slight upward which occurred, although unconfirmed rumors of damage to the Texas crop were in circulation and no doubt some weight with the talent.

At that, difficulty was experienced in keeping prices above tide water, and the initial uptick of 6 to 9 points which was not a full response to the foreign advance, proved to be the culmination of the reaction, as the rally attracted fresh selling to the market, which more than balanced the short covering purchase.

Oats trading was in larger volume than that in the other pits, and covering shorts in response to yesterday's bullish report and strength of the corn market imparted a firm tone, which continued until the close, at which time prices were fractionally under the best at a net gain of 1/4 to 1/2.

NEWS ON THE MARKET

Vivion Commission Company FORT WORTH, Aug. 11.—There was more strength in today's cotton market than displayed for several days, but those who were willing for a record on the delivery sort of support, Liverpool was better than expected, reflecting trade demand and covering by shorts, but private information from the west was that the advance would not hold.

The weather was not altogether good, heavy rains falling in portions of Texas, Alabama and South Carolina, with showers in other sections. Temperatures were generally about the same, being very high in the eastern belt. As they are not having rains in some sections, the high temperatures are likely to produce shedding to some extent.

The Chronicle summary was favorable as a rule, though it said deterioration had taken place in part of Texas on account of too much rain. The higher opening attracted some selling orders, for sentiment is still bearish for the long pull and prices gradually receded, though a market at slight gains over last night. The movement of new cotton continues free and is having depressing effect on those who would give the market support.

RAIN FATAL TO BIRDS

Hundreds of Sparrows Perish in Heavy Storm. Saturday's rain brought mourning to hundreds of bird families in Fort Worth and throughout the day the disconsolate cries of bereaved parents could be heard in every section of the city.

It happened that the rain came when whole flocks of fledglings were just beginning to fly and many had forsaken their nests.

When the rain came they were in the trees and on the ground, and the branches under the continued beating of the storm, fell to the ground below where they were drowned.

It is estimated that fully 1,000 young birds were killed, although a few escaped by crawling under the boards near fences, where they fell.

Probably no storm in Fort Worth in recent years, not even the destructive hail storm a few weeks ago, has been so fatal to birds.
