DEAD TAKEN FROM RUINS

Thousands in South American Cities Are Without Food or Shelter-Every Building in Valparaiso Reported Damaged-Relief Organizations Act With Government to Aid Sufferers.

Thousands are homeless in the earthquake stricken area and are suffering from lack of food. No estimate of dead and of damage has been made. Every building in Valparaiso is reported damaged. Con-* ditions in Santiago, according to the latest dispatches, are better and * * relief committees have been formed. Troops have been ordered to * scour the country for herds of cattle to prevent famine.

Ambulances in the stricken cities are gathering up the dead from ★ beneath the ruins. Difficulty is experienced getting workmen to clear * the streets of debris. Earthquake shocks are reported from the * island of Martinique, but caused no damage.

ANTIAGO, Chile, August 20 .- The situation is becoming clearer. A relief committee was organized here today and the street railroad service has resumed. It is feared Santiago will be plunged in darkness owing to the lack of coal supply for gas works, but officials of the gas company say they have a sufficient supply to last a week.

Carlos Edwards, one of the proprietors of the Mercurie in Valparaiso,

The administration building and Victoria theater have disappeared even to the foundations. The marine arsenal was slightly damaged, but not a private residence is habitable.

Gather Up Dead.

In spite of the desolation perfect order is maintained by troops, which are bivouacked on Grand avenue and Victoria square. Military ambulances are gathering up the wounded and dead. When Mr. Edwards left Valparaiso it was impossible to determine the number of persons killed, but according to his estimate the number of lives lost is small when the extent of the catastrophe is taken into consideration. At one depot he saw fifty bodies. The Main hotel is standing and all guests escaped injury, but Mr. Edwards regards Valparaiso as being uninhabitable for the present.

Medical supplies have been sent from this city to Valparaiso and everything possible is being done to assist the homeless people. No accurate estimate of damage done by the earthquake can yet be made, but it is considered certain that it will run into the hundreds of millions of dollars and it is feared that a commercial crisis will follow the earthquake dis-

Business Slowly Resumed

Business is being slowly resumed here and at Valparaiso. The ministers of war and of the interior, with detachments of volunteers from the army and fire departments, left here this morning for the purpose of re-establishing telegraphic communication with Valparaiso. Contrary to general belief, tunnels were not wrecked and it is hoped that trains will be running regularly tomorrow. The government has authorized provincial governors to spend all money necessary to help the earthquake sufferers

in their distress. 140 Prisoners Killed

When the earthquake first shook the city, prisoners in the penitentiary began singing hymns. There was no loss of life among them so far as known, but as Valparaiso the prison walls fell and crushed 140 prisoners to death. NEW YORK, August 20.-Wafted across North river on a mild wind from the swamps of Jersey there has come to New York a host of silent visitors. They are as noiseless as the gentle breeze that brought them, but they are a vicious, bloodthirsty lot, and they are working night and day, and every hour they work New York smarts and slaps itself and wishes New Jersey were a little further removed from civilization.

These visiting mosquitoes came in nillions, and they were no respectors of persons. They dropped in Fifth avenue for a taste of aristocracy and they bit away on the lower east side. One hungry drove came over the postoffice in such numbers that they formed a veil as they hung above Park Row. Then these visitors from the country swooped down and began to hammer away at a lot of panhand. lers standing at the corner of Beekman street, only to flop on the pavement, dead. SHE TOOK ACID FOR NEW LOVE

Married and Deserted She Again Loved at Fifteen

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, August 20 .- Married at fifteen, abandoned and then so much in love with another man that she tried to kill herself, is the romance of pretty little Mrs. Marie Hartrick, 17 years old, discharged from the Jersey City hospital, where she had been treated for carbolic acid poisoning. Although her first marriage was known to her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Minnon, of 963 Garfield avenue, Jersey City, it was not until today that she told of the reason for her attempt to end her life. Mrs, Hartrick, who is even now only a slip of a girl, was in short dresses with her hair hanging in braids when she met Mortimer Hartrick at a picnic two years ago last spring. It seemed a case of love at first sight, and on Easter Sunday, 1904, they were married. They went to live at her parents' house, and two weeks later Hartrick disappeared.

"I never thought men could be so false," the child-wife said today, with a fuaver in her voice. "It took me a long time before I could feel sure he had left me. Then I hated men so much I vowed I'd never care for any man again. And I didn't, for two whole years.

Little Mrs. Hartrick admitted shyly that when next she loved the object of her affection was Albert Stocker. 26 years old, of 17 Atlantic avenue in the Greenville section, who is employed as a drug clerk in Manhat-

"He had the loveliest little blond mustache," said the child-wife, with a sigh, "and I thought he loved me. He said he did and I believed him until I saw him with another girl when he should have been calling on me. I'd known him for two months then, and when I found he was false to me thought I'd better die.'

She took carbolic acid August 4, but did not swallow much of it, although her lips and mouth were badly burned. She would not tell her parents or the hospital attendants the reason for her act, From time to time she begged them to let her die, moaning:

"I love him so. I love him so." when she was discharged today, and friends of the family said that very likely an attempt will be made to get a divorce from her husband on the ground of desertion.

Eschbach was in such a stupor that it is not believed he understood, or cared, what was taking place. Infirm from age and his confinement in a cell, he was too weak to walk from the Tombs over the Bridge of Sighs to the court room and two officers partly carried and partly dragged him. When before the railing he sank to the floor and was then picked up and placed in a chair. Apparently he did not know when the clerk called for him to stand up to be sentenced. Officers had to assist him to his feet. The bright light from a side window attracted him more than did the words of the judge. As the sentence, which means imprisonment for the rest of his life, was passed Eschbach evidently did not hear it. Several times the clerk repeated the formal question if he had any reason why sentence should not be passed, and finally, when a bailing jarred him momentarily from his stupor, he said: "I don't care what you do with me." Should Eschbach live to serve out years old. But those who have observed him say he can live only a few months in Sing Sing. Eschbach shot his wife in their home in the Bronx in a quarrel over property on June 8 last. He wanted to transfer a piece of property they owned and could not do so without her consent. She would not give her consent, and in the quarrel he shot her in the abdomen. She died a few days later, and Eschbach was permitted to plead guilty to manslaughter in the first degree.

LOSES CASH, SUICIDES

Man Victimized by Stensland Hangs By Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 20 .- Another suicide was added today to the list caused by the wrecking of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank. Edward Kollereb, 40 years old, who two months ago deposited $250 in the bank, today hanged himself from a pile of lumber in sight of a number of men in boats on the lake. Friends of Kollereb claim the loss of the money so preyed on him that for several days his mind appeared to be unbalanced. Receiver Charles G. Daves closed the Miswaukee Avenue Co-operative Store, the Stensland enterprise, today. Notices were posted on the windows that the store had been closed for the receiver's sale.

OUT OF PRISON

Young Woman and Companions Released in Cuba

Special to The Telegram. HAVANA, Aug. 20 .- The Cuban gov* ernment has at last seen fit to pardon the American girl and the two American men who committed the awful crime of erecting a toy telegraph line in Nueva Gerona, Isle of Pines. The girl is pretty 19-year-old Millie Brown and the men are H. C. Augustine and L. C. Giltner.

Miss Brown's parents keep a boarding house and Giltner, who keeps a general store in the town, boards there. He and Miss Brown are engaged. Giltner understands telegraphy and has taught something of it to his sweetheart. One day he decided it would be a good idea to rig up a telegraph line between the store and the house so that he could quickly communicate sweet nothings to Miss Brown as they occurred to him. The line, which was only 1,800 feet long, ran by way of Augustine's house, and that's where he got in.

Now it seems that in 1902, when General Wood was governor general of Cuba, he issued a miltary order forbidding the erection of telegraph or telephone lines without proper authorization. Under this order Miss. Brown and the two men were arrested and fined $100 and when they failed to pay it, sentenced them each to thirty-three and one-third days in jail.

All the newspapers and all up and as a result the three young people were pardoned.

MAYOR ASKS FOR INFORMATION

Wants to Know What Has Become of Codified Ordinances

Mayor W. D. Harris has filed this message, to be submitted to the city council at the regular meeting, Monday, Aug. 20: FORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 20, 1906.-To the City Council-Gentlemen: I hereby call your attention to the fact that no codification of the city ordinances has been presented to the city council by Theodore Mack. The contract was made with him in November last. In the concluding part of his proposition for this work he states as follows: "I estimate that it will require not less than three nor more than four months to complete the work and

The finance committee, in recommending the acceptance of M1. Mack's bid, places therein the provision that no money should be paid until the work should be completed by Mr. Mack and approved by the city attorney and accepted by the city council.

for the completion of my part of the

In letting the contract, the city council, in its resolution, stated, in effect, it did so with the condition, modifications and provisions stated therein as expressed by Mr. Mack and the report of the finance committee. The contract provides that Mr. Mack should complete the work as early as the month of March. There has been no report of the completed work nor has there been any explanation of the delay made to the city council nor any request for extending the time.

The ordinances of the city have been enacted, amended or repealed in such a manner as that they are in great confusion. It is very necessary that there be a codification by a competent person at the earliest date practicable. suggest that you take some action in this matter at once, unless it so happens that Mr. Mack comes forward at once with his completed work. Yours W. D. HARRIS. Mayor.

The last codification was made in 1900 by Riley & Adams and it was never regarded as acceptable, lacking in accuracy, references being made in such manner that it was necessary to Americans in Cuba took the matter | go back to the originals to understand what was meant, instead of the substance of the ordinance being stated. The new charter was adopted after that date and the changes necessarily made in the ordinances to conform to that charter and the legislation made necessary by changed conditions have combined to make the last codification

TO ASK ORDINANCE

Chief of Police Wants "Move On" Law by Council.

"I shall ask the city council to direct the city attorney to draft a proper 'move on' ordinance tonight," said Police Chief Maddox Monday morning. Chief Maddox declares that the move on" law must be had. He says that the town contains some worthless men and boys, who do nothing save stand on the corners, loaf around hotels and cigar stands and try to catch the eye of every woman and girl that

Since the story appeared exclusively in The Telegram regarding curbstone flirts, Chief Maddox says that he has had at least 100 telephone calls from persons in the city, congratulating him on the stand taken. The majority of the calls were from young women who have been subjected to insults time after time from the greatest menace to the morals of the city -the man who has lost all respect for

That the "move on" law will be passed there is little doubt. It is understood that several councilmen have already declared themselves in favor of it, and it is known that the better class of citizenship of the city wants

Measure Regulating Running of Machines Ready

In addition to the papers already filed for submission to the city council, at the meeting Monday eevning, and heretofore named in the columns of The Telegram, these documents will

An ordinance regulating the running of automobiles within the city limits. In addition to the requirements about numbering each one, so the number can be plainly seen, the machine is required to be provided with two lights, of such power that they are plainly visible for a distance of at least one-quarter of a mile. A gong or horn must be used that can be plainly heard when sounded, at a distance of not less than 600 feet. The speed limit, which must not be exceeded, is seven miles an hour. The formal report on the street sprinkling bid of J. C. Rushing is made and will be acted on. Charlie Allen and Richard Boggs present an application for $100 each as damages because the city scavenger "after he had been duly notified," suffered a dead dog to lie in front of their premises from the time it was killed Saturday morning to this

A new ordinance has been prepared which is designed to prevent sidewalk obstructions by piling or placing thereon lumber, boxes or anything else which will obstruct the proper use of the footway, and also to prevent riding or driving on or over the sidewalks. It is also so worded as to cure the

RAILROAD DROPS OIL FOR COAL

Houston & Texas Central Goes Back to Old Fuel

After using crude oil for fuel for several years the Houston & Texas Central finds that the coal burners are cheaper at the present price of oil and they have ordered the re-arrangement of the locomotives for coal burning. The change will be a gradual one and if there are new deposits of oil discovered or the price is brought down to a reasonable one so that the oil can be used on the same basis of economy as coal the use of oil will be continued, otherwise it will be definitely abandoned, until certainty of supply and economy of cost is assured, for a term of years.

There is a possibility that there will be a call issued for some date in the coming week for a meeting of those who may be interested in the building of a line of railway from Fort Worth to Georgetown, the call, if issued, being at the instance of the promoters of the line proposed. The meeting if held will be in Fort Worth.

The tracks of the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico railway are under water in the Colorado river section. At the danger point the railway company has just completed a fine bridge and it is hoped that will not suffer the fate which befell the Brazos river bridge of this company, which was destroyed almost as soon as finished. A dispatch from Pueblo, Colo., says that Vice President and General Man-ager Sweeney of the Trinity and

Brazos Valley has placed an order for large amount of rails in that city. BURNED IN EXPLOSION

COMPLAINS TO MRS. ROOSEVELT OVER GIFT OF MISFIT SHOES

Woman Objects to Receiving Large Size Footwear—Sends Bundle to White House

Special to The Telegram. WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 20 .- Indignant over the misfit of the clothing handed to her, a San Francisco woman signing herself in green ink as "Ella Clements" has dashed the entire bundle at the White House and written in bitter words to the President of the poor treatment she has received and has made a heart-touching appeal to Mrs. Roosevelt. The letter follows:

"Today this package was left for me. I send it to you to see the 'relief.' But Shoes Were Large

The rejected package, which arrived a day or so later, contained pairs of new No. 8 tan stockings, a pair of tan shoes that appeared to be larger than No. 3, showing considerable wear: half dozen handkerchiefs, five of them being old but freshly laundered, all good linen and some with hemstitched borders; a blue calico waist with white dots, the skirt apparently having been retained; a rough made night gown that had not been used.

The package has been sent to the Red Cross headquarters and Secretary McGee is puzzled to know what disposition should be made of the contents.

WOMAN SOUGHT TO KILL BANKER

Led Mob to Stensland's Bank Demanding Money

Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO, Aug. 20.-Flourishing revolver and declaring she would kill Paul O. Stensland if she could find him, a woman led a crowd 200 strong in a charge on the doors of the wrecked Milwaukee Avenue State bank today. The crowd was made up of depositors, who had been led to believe, through the order of Judge Brentano, that 20 per cent payment be made immediately. that they would get their money at once. Frenzied at the efforts of those in charge to prevent their entrance to the bank, and failing to understand that affidavits of deposit must be approved, the crowd refused to disperse. Police Arrive on Scene Denouncing Stensland and all concerned with the bank, the crowd responded to the cries of the woman, as she elbowed her way to the doors of the bank. Swinging the revolver around her head, she called on the officials to open the doors and pay her the money she had deposited. Balked in her effort to enter she turned and delivered a harangue to the crowd. Excited by her words, other depositors pressed close to the door and were fast reaching a point where at a signal they might have stormed the bank, when the police arrived.

GEORGIAN FAILS TO FIND FIANCEE

Comes Across Three States on Fruitless Mission

Bruce Douglas, 48 years old, and ust from Georgia, arrived in Fort Worth Sunday evening over the Cotton Belt for the purpose of meeting the woman who had promised in more than one letter to be his "dear and It all happened thus: Douglas, who operates a large farm a few miles from Fitzgerald, Ga., read one day in matrimonial paper published in an Ohio city about a "beautiful blueeyed young woman of Fort Worth, Texas, who wanted an honest southern soil-tiller for a husband." The advertisement also stated that the young ady had been left $50,000 by her father, who was a prominent western ranchman, and was touched off by stating that the fair damsel hunting for a hubby had no mother or any relatives to cause any family ruptures. According to his own confession, the Georgian bit immediately, in fact, he could hardly wait for an answer to his letter. When it did come, however, t was the juicest kind of reading. Douglas was called "dearest," "my good fellow" and enough endearing names to go around to all the men who had not written the "western beauty."

Several letters passed between the young woman and Mr. Douglas and "she" requested that he come and get her. This he consented to do. He wrote and told her he would leave Atlanta Thursday evening and get here on Sunday evening. She was to meet him and they were to be married at once. The train that Douglas was due here on was almost three hours late and did not arrive until after 9 o'clock Sunday evening. The man from the south searched the union station but failed to find his was-to-be-spouse. When approached by a reporter Douglas was only too glad to tell his tale of woe to some one with sympathy. The girl he was to have met was scheduled to have light hair, blue eyes; was to weigh not over 150 pounds and "always dressed in the best of style."

The man from Georgia paid $2 to the publishers of the matrimonial paper for the correct name of the young Texas woman and all correspondence

JEWS OBSERVE A DAY OF PRAYER

Reports of massacre of Hebrews for the past twelve months in the land of the czar of Russia having shown that a larger number of Jewish citizens have been murdered, a larger number of homes desecrated than for the entire period since the beginning 100 years ago of persecution of the Jews, Jewish papers published a circular calling for the observance of Monday, Aug. 20 as a day of fasting and prayer by their people throughout

This circular was issued after consultation and advising between all'the more prominent rabbis in the United States and Europe and the address is signed by these fathers in Israel, calling to mind the prayer of David as ecorded in Psalm 59:

"Deliver me from mine enemies, O, my God; defend me from them that ise up against me. "Deliver me from the workers of niquity, and save me from bloody

"For, lo, they lie in wait for my soul: the mighty are gathered against me; not for my transgression, nor for my sin, O. Lord. "They run and prepare themselves without my fault; awake to help me

"Thou, therefore, O, Lord God of hosts, the God of Israel, awake to visit all the heathen; be not merciful to any wicked transgressors." In the larger cities of Europe and the eastern part of America, thousands of Jews gathered together in special services of prayer and followed the ancient Jewish customs regarding fasting. Those who do not abstain from food during the day are expected to donate to charities out In Fort Worth there was no special service held at the synagogue, but many Orthodox Jewish people observed the fasting part of the program and made special prayers in their homes

"The psoriasis first made its appearance in red spots, generally forming a circle, leaving in the center aspot about the size of a silver dollar of sound flesh. In a short time the affected circle would form a heavy dry scale of a white drop off. To remove the entire scales by bathing or using oil to soften them the flesh would be perfectly raw, and a light discharge of bloody substance would ooze out. That scaly crust would form again in twenty-four hours. It was worse on my arms and limbs, although it was in spots all over my body, also on my scalp. If I let the scales remain too long without removing by bath or otherwise, the skin would crack and bleed. I suffered intense itching worse at nights after getting warm in bed, or blood warm by exercise, when it would be almost unbearable. "To sum it all up, I would not go through such another ordeal of affliction for thirty-five years for the State of Kansas. (signed) W M. Chidester, Hutchinson, Kan., April 20, 1905."

The Tobacco That Made Chewing Popular

Man's fondness for chewing tobacco is created and popularized by the tobacco produced in the famous Piedmont tobacco belt. Only choice selections of this well matured, thoroughly cured leaf are used in making SCHNAPPS. That's why SCHNAPPS requires and takes a smaller amount of sweetening than any other kind -and that's why SCHNAPPS has a wholesome, stimulating and satisfying effect on chewers.

There are many imitations of SCHNAPPS claiming to be "just as good," but without the flavor or quality that has made SCHNAPPS sales more than all similar tobaccos.

It is made in the Reynolds factories, famous for producing the best chewing tobaccos, by clean, sanitary processes, under the same direction, since 1875, of men who have made the business a life study. They are the largest and best equipped flat plug factories in the world and are situated in the very center of the world's greatest chewing tobacco district.

If you've never chewed SCHNAPPS, now is the time to get acquainted with the cleanest, most healthful, stimulating, satisfying and wholesome form in which tobacco can be used. Do not accept imitations.

FORT WORTH DUMPING GROUNDS According to stories in local express circles it appears that Fort Worth is the dumping grounds for all lost expressage from South Texas. Of the hundreds of claims for lost packages from South Texas that were destined beyond that point 99 per cent of them are traceable to Fort Worth.

When a person presents a package to any express company offices in Galveston the company accepts it gladly and collects the charges even more gladly. But if the package fails to reach its destination and is lost or stolen the soulless corporation becomes very chesty and says that untortunately the package had to be transferred to another express company at Fort Worth and was lost after it got to that other company. Had It disappeared from "our line we would gladly have paid the claim long ago. but having been lost by the other fellow we have to wait till the other fellow traces the claim from this to the next world and perhaps beyond," all of which is great consolation to the person who expressed the package. It is rumored that a general meeting of all the small claimants is to be held if a hall large enough to accommodate the multitude can be found.-Galveston Tribune.

And lost expressage is not the only article that comes to Fort Worth as the dumping ground for much of Texas. It seems that when almost any town in the state has a cripple, a mendicant or generally undesirable character it desires to be rid of a ticket is furnished to Fort Worth, and the colonies in those lines existing here are constantly being replenished.

The result of this policy has been to stock Fort Worth with a large and varied assortment of people of this class, and while our people have been remarkably patient under very trying and exasperating circumstances the general sentiment is that the practice has been considerably overworked and hereafter Fort Worth will insist on not receiving any more consignments of this character. This city has enough to do to provide for its own unfortunate. Fort Worth respectfully serves notice on the balance of Texas that the city will no longer serve as a dumping ground for refuse of this character. Other Texas cities and towns must take care of their own unfortunate, even as this city is com-

THE RELIGION OF HUMANITY

In England, as in this country, there has been much worry and discussion over the decrease in church worship, and the conclusion has been reached that humanity is becoming less religious.

In this connection, a statement of Basil Wilberforce, archdeacon of Westminster, based on keen observation and a thorough belief in the increasing goodness of the world, is well worth reading. He says:

"There may be a certain mental revolt against narrow, conventional and rudimentary conceptions of religionwhich word in its highest meaning signifies the ligament that binds the soul to God-and this may possibly account for less church-going; but I contend that a marked characteristic of the age is a genuine hunger for a high, noble and rational conception of the next four years, but the idea of the Infinite Originator called God, who existence under these finite conditions. and where this hunger is satisfied the churches are not empty.

"Moreover, side by side with this spiritual hunger, there is a strenuous and ever-increasing activity on the part of the wealthier classes to ameliorate the condition of those less well off than themselves which has never been equalled in any previous generation.

"I deny that true Christianity is deelining." That is true optimism. Not a word in extenuation of non-church-going, but faith in humanity, whether worship is done in a pew or in good

There are some fine people in this world who believe that every time a man has a good thought, does a kind and merciful act; helps somebody or something; sacrifices himself for the good of another or of the community, he is practicing the highest religion that can enter a human life.

She could with considerable benefit take a few lessons from that place where the pantner laid down just west of her borders .- Denton Record and Chronicle. Judging from the expressions from many delegates it will be some time before Dallas will obtain another state democratic convention. There is universal complaint among those who spent some miserable days in that city attending the last state convention.

Senator Culberson says the democratic party must prevent the consolidation of competitive corporations. That is the law now, senator; a law written by C. K. Bell. As to its enforcement-well, we have no complaint. These things being true, was the senator in this utterance living up to his accustomed accuracy?-Waco Times-

Perhaps it was an oversight. There was such determination to defeat Judge Bell among the politicians at Dallas that little things like this did not receive consideration. 0 0 0

Texas will have a homecoming the ast of this month and the first of next that will make all of the others sink into insignificance in comparison with it. SEVEN KILLED IN WRECK

Freight Crashes Into Work Train During Blinding Rain Storm Special to The Telegram.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 20-Plunging through a blinding rain storm at the rate of forty-five miles an hour early Sunday, a fast freight train on the Pennsylvania Railroad crashed into' a slowly moving work train at Sang Hollow, killing seven and seriously injuring seven others of the work train crew. Three of the latter will probably die. Engineer Woods was the only member of the crew of the freight train who was injured.

The work train had stopped at a water plug near Sang Hollow to take water. A Fort Wayne freight was following and because of the rain the engineer was unable to see the work train until just before the crash. The engineer of the freight jumped and was fatally hurt. The fireman remained on the engine and was uninjured. When the freight engine crashed into the work train it plowed its way through the cars. All of the laborers and others of the work train crew were asleep and those that were killed probably never knew they were

According to reports. Engineer S. N. Woods of the freight train had increased the speed of his train just before the crash, that he might take water in the water pans along the track and in so doing is said to have exceeded his orders. When news of the wreck reached this city two wreck crews were sent out.

The conditions as described by members of these crews upon their arrival were appalling. Dead and dying were lying on the tracks, while some of the injured were hanging out of the windows of the "cabin" car, crying for help and begging to be saved from fire that had started in the wreck.

Special to The Telegram, NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The strange, lurid haze hanging over Broadway last night was due to the reappearance in town of Wilson Mizner of California, who attached Mrs. Charles T. Yerkes unto himself.

"Oh, heavens! will this awful notoriety never cease?" cried Mr. Mizner, despairingly, when asked if he had ceased quarreling with his wife. "It is such an awful thing to be harassed this way," continue Mr. Mizner. "Why can't the public let us alone, I love my wife devotedly and she loves me dearly. Ours is a case of true love, if ever there was one, and it is simply frightful to be misunderstood and to have my motives impugned. Such an Awful Thing

"It is not true that I was thrown out of my wife's house in Chicago. It is true there has been some slight trouble with her lawyers, but it will come right in time. Mrs. Yerkes-I mean Mrs. Mizner-is getting better rapidly, and within ten days will be able to join me here, and then we will build a little home down in Bensonhurst and go there to live in seclusion and away from the noise and clatter of Broad-

Mr. Mizner said he was doing well in San Francisco, where he is a contractor. "But I wish to insist," he continued, "that my wife and I are on the best of terms. She was ill and needed my care and attention, and I went to Chi-

Chapter I THE WILL OF JOHN MARSHALL GLENARM. Pickering's letter bringing news of my grandfather's death found me at Naples early in October. John Marshall Glenarm had died in June. He had left a will which gave me his property conditionally, Pickering wrote, and it was necessary for me to return immediately to qualify as legatee. It was the merest luck that the letter came to my hands at all, for it had been sent to Constantinople, in care of the consul general, instead of my banker there. It was not Pickering's fault that the consul was a friend of mine who kept track of my wanderings and was able to hurry the executor's letter after me to Italy, where I had gone to meet an English financier who had, I was advised, unlimited money to spend on African railways. I am an engineer, a graduate of an American institution familiarly known as "Tech," and as my funds were running low, I naturaly turned to my profession for employment. But this letter changed my plans, and the following day I cabled Pickering of my departure and was outbound on a steamer for New York. Fourteen days later I sat in Pickering's office in the Alexis building and listened intently while he read, with much ponderous emphasis, the provisions of my grandfather's will. When he concluded, I laughed. Pickering was a serious man, and I was glad to see that my levity pained him. I had, for that matter, always been a source of annoyance to him, and his look of disgust and rebuke did not trouble me in the least.

I reached across the table for the paper, and he gave me the sealed and. beribboned copy of John Marshall Glenarm's will into my hands. I read it through for myself, feeling conscious meanwhile that Pickering's cool gaze was bent inquiringly upon me. These are the paragraphs that interested me

I should learn through him of my grandfather's wishes with respect to myself. Pickering and I had grown up in the same town in Vermont; we had attended the same preparatory school, but there had been from boyhood a certain antagonism between us. He had always succeeded where I had failed, which is to say, I must admit, that he had succeeded pretty frequently. When I refused to settle down to my profession, but chose to see something of the world first, Pickering gave himself seriously to the law, and there was, I knew from the beginning, no manner of chance that he would

Negro Who Attacked 7-Year-Old Girl May Be Lynched. Special to The Telegram

CHARLESTON, S. C., August 20 .-A special to the News and Courier from Saluda says that a negro youth 18 years of age, living in the Sandy Creek section of Batesburg county, attempted to assault a little white girl years of age, the daughter of a farmer named West. The child was badly injured and will probably die. The negro escaped to a swamp which is surrounded by a hundred armed men. A message sent from the governor's office to the sheriff urged him to protect the man if caught, but it is feared that the negro will be lynched as soon as captured. IN SELF DEFENSE. GLASS SAND A-PLENTY

Abundant Deposits to Be Found in

Tarrant County The examination of the glass-making sands of Tarrant county by experts, connected with glass manufacturing companies, proved conclusively that the sand is here, in unlimited quantities, and of the best quality. There is a ridge of hills east of Fort Worth, running entirely through the county, that is a strange geological formation and not inaptly may be called a geological freak. Some of the best of the sand is found in that Bedford region, to use as a designation the deposits nearest to the city, and the sand there has the advantage of being near to a line of railway, which is a matter of importance when it comes to the shipment of fuel and the manufactured product. Probably the limestone which abounds throughout all of the prairie country can be used as a flux for some of the coarser glass, though if brought here the imported chemicals which may be needed will have the advantage of the cheapest possible freight rates to Galveston by water and then comes the shortest haul by rail to Fort Worth of any similarly good glass-making location in Texas. There are several deposits known to exist in the county and the Bedford region is referred to because of the strange combination of rocks and soils which are there found and because it is one of the most eligible as to location and not because it is proved to be the best or the only deposit in the There is a coarser sand nearer the city and the promoters of the enterprise talk of establishing a plant near

then bringing the finer sands in from a more distant locality. HUNTS MATERIAL TO MAKE BRICK

Dr. R. J. Schimper in Search of

Magnesium Chloride

In the hope that he will find supplies of chloride of magnesium in quantity sufficient to warrant commercial application, Dr. Rudolph J. Schimper, a chemist and mineralogist of New York, is now in Texas. He came to Fort Worth Friday, remaining here until Monday morning, when he took an early interurban car to Dallas. He expects to return to this city Thursday. Dr. Schimper is a German chemist of wide reputation in the inlustrial world as well as among scientific men, being a member of the Paris Academy. He has done much work in industrial chemistry and is now in search of material for use in the manufacture of a new kind of brick. This brick is the invention of German chemists and it is said to be far superior to the brick now in use. It is made by subjecting the molded material to a pressure of 75 tons to the square inch for a period of six hours and the brick thus obtained is as hard as adamant and rings like a piece of steel when struck. The material used is largely sand, in fact the bricks are called sand bricks, this material being cemented together by lime and magnesia. Chloride of magnesium is essential for the process and if Dr. Schimper is successful in his quest. a plant will probably be established in the state for the manufacture of the sand brick. Such plants are being established in connection with glass factories as the sand which is unfit for use in making the glass is utilized for brick making. Will Visit Salt Wells

The brine remaining after the recovery of most of the salt in the manufacture of table salt, sometimes contains a considerable percentage of magnesium chloride and Dr. Schimper will visit some of the salt works of Texas to determine whether sufficient quantities of this material may not be obtained there. There are extensive salt works at Colorado City, Grand Saline and Salt City Junction. In Kent and Stonewall counties there are salt lakes along the shores of which salt may be scooped up in paying quantities. The Salt Fork of the Brazos river flows through this re-

Dr. Schimper is also keeping a lookout for indications of coal and oil in his travels over the state and he will give some time to these investiga-

While in the state the chemist will examine and take samples of the soil and rock deposits in various portions of Tarrant county, his services in this line having been secured by the Factory Club. He will take samples to his laboratory in New York for analysis and report his results to Secretary Evans. The club is having this work done in order that it may have the best of authority for information to inquirers who contemplate the operation of brick, tile or cement plants in the vicinity of Fort Worth.

death of Mrs. M. C. Vandiver, an old and highly respected resident of Temple, occurred yesterday in a rather sudden manner. Mrs. Vandiver was stricken at the Santa Fe depot at an early hour in the morning while waiting for a delayed train. VETERANS' CAMP

OPENS AUGUST 28 Will Be Held at Park and Will

Last Ten Days

The meeting of R. E. Lee camp, U. C. V., Sunday was well attended and full of interest to the members and visitors. A feature of the meeting was an address by A. J. Baskin, member elect to the legislature, who solidified himself with the old soldiers by expressing himself in favor of better treatment of the Confederate veterans on the part of the state. The camp was opened with prayer by Assistant Chaplain J. S. Wright and after the usual routine the membership committee reported favorably on the applications of J. E. Kerr and S. T. Hearman and both were elected to J. A. Clark and W. B. Merrill, who visited the camp, were given seats on the platform.

Letter From Governor Taylor

The following letter from Governor Bob Taylor was read and on motion was ordered framed and hung on the walls of the camp headquarters: Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 15 .- To the Southern Confederacy at Fort Worth. Texas-Patriots, Friends and Countrymen: Too young to have shed blood when blood counted, I am proud to have lived to have shed sweetened wind, and made that wind count in aid of the survivors of as holy a cause as ever called men to battle. As if the mere consciousness of this was not sufficient for my reward, you have intensified my gratification by resolving the most beautifully expressed tablets of thanks that ever befell me, and still not content, you have challenged every grateful impulse of my heart by sending me an inscribed gold-headed ebony cane. If I should pause a thousand years in the hurry of livelihood, as you so kindly expressed it, it were richly worth all the waiting to have received in the end such wonderful recompense. I shall lean upon this cane when declining years render it necessary to my aid, with unspeakable pride; but 1 shall now and always with safer and more sacred reliance lean upon the

Historian C. C. Cummings made a verbal report on the program for the ten days' reunion at Confederate Park. beginning Aug. 28. This ten days' encampment will be a reunion of Confederate veterans and their families, Daughters of the Confederacy and Sons of the Confederacy. On the grounds there will be music, speaking and other entertainment, and a good time is promised by all who attend. A line of hacks will run between the end of the Rosen Heights street car line and the camp ground, ten miles from the city, the fare being $1 for the round trip. There will be special days at the camp, one for the Daughters of the Confederacy, one for the Sons of the Confederacy and many special days of the veterans. Colonel R. M. Wynne, for the veterans, Mrs. Jordan for the Daughters and Congressman Gillespie and Legislators-elect Baskin and Lane will look after the special days for their respective organizations. Sunday, Sept. 2, has been set aside as Memorial Day at the W. P. Lane spoke to the veterans' meeting of the coming reunion and the interest that is being taken in it, and A. J. Baskin discussed the question of Confederate pensions in Texas, and his remarks on the subject were heartily endorsed and greatly appreciated by members of the camp.

Itching, disfiguring eruptions, rashes, boils, etc., as well as pimples, black-heads and rough, scaly skins, show the presence of some irritating humor in the blood. These acids and humors with which the blood is filled are being constantly thrown off through the pores and glands, and the skin is kept in a feverish, diseased and unsightly condition. Nothing applied externally can change the condition of the blood or prevent the outflow of poisons and acids; only constitutional treatment can do this. The countless washes, salves, lotions, etc., that are used cannot reach the humor-laden blood and are, therefore, useless, except for the temporary comfort and cleanliness they afford. The acid poison in the blood, which is the cause of the trouble, must be removed before a cure can be effected. S. S. It completely eradicates every trace of the poison and restores this vital fluid to its natural state of purity S. S. Bulls Boost Atchison-Price Rise 634 Before Noon-Dealings Enormous

and Market Broad

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Aug. 20 .- While the holiday seems to have restored some degree of sanity to the speculative fraternity, the atmosphere of Wall street today was still above normal and surcharged with excitement, ready to break loose upon small provocation. The opening of the stock exchange found the bull movement in full progress, with substantial advances for prices of the leading issues, brought about in part by a strong London market for American securities. Although the Harriman Pacifics were by no means neglected and Southern Pacific established a new high level on the call at % above that of Saturday, they were unloaded by satisfied holders and compelled to play a secondary part in the proceedings, the leading role falling to Atchison, which furnished the real feature of the occasion, selling 1% higher on the first call and increasing the gain to a matter of 6% before midday.

Talk of a melon-cutting by directors of this road at their next meeting is attracting large buying both in the street and for outside account, as the net earnings of $30,000,000 for the fiscal year lend weight to the rumors while Mr. Harriman has set a precedent which, just at this time, the talent are inclined to accept as the precursor of other favorable developments. In point of activity and also for breadth the early session exceeded either of the two which have elapsed since the Harriman dividend announcements were made, dealings being on an enormous scale. Sales to noon aggregated 1,662,000 shares, while all of the leading issues were well represented in the trading and exhibited phenomenal strength, with Reading a close second to Atchison, with a gain of 51/2, while gains of 1 to 5 points were matters of frequent occurrence. St. Paul rose 4%, Smelting 5%, American Sugar 3, Anaconda 41/2, Amalgamated Copper 21/4, Steels 11/4 and % for preferred and common respectively, while others showed fractional gains. Profit-taking was on an enormous scale during the afternoon and prices for all issues dropped considerably from the best. The market closed excited and strong, Union Pacific, with a drop of 11/2 points, being the only important issue to show a loss. Sales broke all records, being 2,663,100 shares to 2 p. m. Call money rates at one time touched 6 per cent, but eased off later to 4 per cent. Quotations

Prices Still on Down Grade-Shorts Take Profits But Decline Not Checked

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Aug. 20 .- The beginning of the third week since the present campaign in the cotton market was inaugurated, found sentiment still universally bearish, with prices seeking lower levels and nothing to offer solace to the scattered remnants of the once formidable bull crowd or indicate that a stopping point was in sight, except a disposition among shorts to take their profits, which for the moment had power to check the decline, but seemed to be of little significance other than to show that those who have followed the market in its downward course desired to see the color of their money.

Aside from this there was no legitimate reaction factor. Liverpool, at the start, looked as though Saturday's American decline would be ignored, but ere the local market opened cables told of a full response. Press summaries of conditions for the past week were generally favorable, although that of the Atlanta Constitution was not entirely so. The weather map reported rains throughout the belt, but they were generally light.

Opening prices were 6 points lower for September and 1 lower to 1 higher for new crop months. Some of the big shorts were good buyers during the initial trading and prices worked up a few points, losing the gain and touching new low levels, however, before the second cail. The downward movement continued until mid-day and prices eventually touched a net loss of 14 to 17 points, but at the bottom shorts became good purchasers and quite a healthy reaction was effected during the afternoon, extensive purchases by the leading interests being the basis. On the rebound prices touched a level 17 to 22 points above the lowest. The market closed steady with prices at a net gain of 2 to 6 points. Spot cotton market ruled steady, prices being unchanged to 10.10c for middling. Sales, 100 bales.

Opening prices were 2 points lower to a point higher for the list, but a declining Liverpool market caused a quick drop of 7 to 8 points, at which level covering by some of the big shorts stayed the decline for a time. Renewed selling caused another drop of 15 to 17 points from yesterday's finals, but the heavy buying reported from New York was not ignored here and during the afternoon the market rallied sharply on extensive short covering, prices working up 19 to 21 points from the lowest. The market closed steady with prices at the best. The spot market was normal, prices being unchanged at 9 15-16c for middling. Sales, 10 bales on the spot.

Wheat Prices Advance A Cent After Touching New Low Levels. Coarse Markets Firm

Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 20 .- The wheat market after a weak start displayed a reactionary tendency and on a moderate volume of trade ruled firm the greater part of the session. A sharp slump in Liverpool prices caused a sympathetic decline here and on the first call prices were 1/4c to 1/2c below Saturday's finals. Selling during the first half hour increased the loss, sending prices to new levels at 69%c for the September option. At the bottom shorts were good purchasers and prices started upward, the advance being accelerated toward midday by the visible statement, which was bullish, showing an increase for the week of only 266,000 bushels. Best prices were touched during the final hour, at which time a gain of 1c to 1%c had been attained and the market closed strong with prices near the Local receipts 196 cars as compared with 63 this day last year. At Palace Rink

Tonight the Palace Rink, Lake Erle, will have its weekly "ladies' night," on which all ladies are admitted and furnished skates free of charge. This is one of the biggest nights in the week at the Palace and the ladies turn out in large numbers to take advantage of the management's invitation. Tuesday night will see the second meeting of William C. Eaton and Robert Taylor in their series of three races. Taylor won the first heat last Tuesday, after one of the fastest and most interesting races ever run at the Palace, and the men had every person in the big crowd on their feet at the finish, shouting for their favorite. The race tomorrow night promises to be even better than the previous one, as the men are both training hard for the event and are determined to put up the race of their lives. Eaton has old scores to wipe out against Taylor, while the latter feels he must keep up his unique record of never having lost a race at the Palace Rink

SAUCY THINGS TAKE WARNING

"23" and Also Kibosh Hereafter For Feminine Flirts

What's going to happen next? First it was the curbstone flirt that Chief of Police Maddox said he would have to do the transformation scene and disappear and now it is to the woman "starer" that the head of the department is going to direct his at-Hurrah, Ruffles!

Won't there be fun to see a policeman approach a bundle of dainty dimity, lawn, duck or other summer fabric and softly tell it that it must cease in its practice of ogling at "the innocent boys." The very thought is enough to make the cold features of a bronze statue break into a smile. There'll be no chance hereafter of a bewitching somebody in a princess gown to accost the timid man on the street and in a voice like a precious lamb ask: "Would you mind showing me to the nearest hotel?" or "could you be so very kind as to tell me the correct time?"

All that will be a thing of the past. Of course, if the lady knows you and you know her, why then you can talk on the street all you please, but it is the idea of the police department to put a stop to strange women seeking the acquaintance of strange men on the downtown thoroughfares.

Chief Maddox has not as yet outlined his plan, but will do so the latter part of this week. Until then feminine flirts will have to get busy, for after that time the terrible "kibosh" would have been administered.
