GOVERNMENT LACKS CASH TO PAY NATIONAL GUARD

$700,000 Appropriation Less Than Expense Amount

UP TO CONGRESS

Congress May Be Asked to Cover the Deficit, Delaying Payment Many Months

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 22.—After a month's hard work, Assistant Secretary Oliver of the war department concluded he finally made satisfactory adjustment of many difficulties in appropriating the appropriation of $700,000 for the militia maneuvers in different camps throughout the country.

It appears all is satisfactory. The bills have been sent and more of the department and pay department of the army for the purpose of procuring, feeding and paying state troops.

Expense Larger Than Reported

Reports were obtained from different state governors as to the number of troops that would be sent to the encampment, the distance they would travel, and the appropriation made on the basis of the reports received.

Some to Go Unpaid

The pay department of the army decided to pay the troops as long as the funds lasted, those who came last going unpaid. It has been suggested that some adjustment may be made after the camps finished their work, as some camps may not use all the money allowed to them and the funds can be made up to make the deficit elsewhere.

It is possible congress will be asked to make an appropriation to cover the deficit and the state troops will be paid next winter.

NEGRO TROOPS LEAVE STATE

Fort Brown Will Be Abandoned Permanently

PRESIDENT'S ORDER

Retiring Soldiers Sent to Oklahoma, But No White Troops Will Fill Garrison

Special to The Telegram.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The negro federal troops have been ordered out of Texas. Instead of going to Fort Ringgold, which is about 100 miles up the Rio Grande from Fort Brown, the battalion of the Twenty-fifth infantry has been ordered to Fort Reno, O. T.

This action is in accordance with the direction of the President, and also is recommended by General McCaskey, commanding the department of Texas.

By direction of the president, General J. Franklin Bell, chief of staff, will make a thorough investigation of the whole Brownsville affair and report to the President.

Fort Brown is to be abandoned. The company of the Twenty-fifth infantry, which was sent there today, will not stay very long. Its duty is to pack up all the movable government property, which will be shipped to other points where the troops will be ordered away.

The investigation under way will be continued by Major Blocksome, and the war department authorities state that every effort will be made to find out the facts and fix the responsibility for the disturbance and that any soldiers found guilty will be punished.

White Troops Arrive

BROWNVILLE, Texas, Aug. 22.—At last relief has been sent to this harassed city. Company H, Twenty-sixth infantry, fifty-four men and five officers, all well, arrived by special train last evening at 5:45, having been ordered by the acting secretary of war to Fort Brown. The people here are relieved by their arrival. Preparations were afoot to greet the white soldiers with a band of music and a royal reception, but wiser council prevailed, it being feared such a demonstration might irritate the negro troops, and cause further trouble.

The negroes will probably leave tomorrow for Fort Ringgold. They were ordered to march, but the condition of the river roads, owing to overflows from the Rio Grande, makes it impossible to go on foot. The railroad runs within twelve miles of Ringgold.

Captain McDonald of the state rangers and several of his men also arrived from Austin.

Judge Welsh to Investigate

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Aug. 22. Judge Stanley Welsh left for Brownville to investigate the trouble occasioned by the negro troops stationed at Fort Brown.

Neither Denies Nor Affirms He Will Enter Race for Governor.

MONUMENT BEACH, Mass., Aug. 22.—William R. Buchanan, private secretary of William L. Douglas of Brockton, former governor, issued this statement last night.

"Ex-Governor Douglas authorizes me to say that he will neither deny nor affirm the report that he is willing to become the Democratic candidate for Governor provided he did not have to make a contest for the delegates.

"He said he knew nothing of the story until he saw it in a paper and that as two gentlemen are contending for the nomination he would consider it undignified to enter any contest."

New Yorker Buys Home of John A. McCall on Stock Market Earnings

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Abraham White, who is said to have made $2,000,000 last week plunging on the long side of the Harriman stocks, and with part of his winnings bought the late John A. McCall's estate at West End, Long Branch, made another coup today and at once went up town with his wife to spend his winnings.

On Monday White went to the office of his brokers.

Needed Shopping Money.

"Mrs. White needs about $5,000 shopping money," he said, "and there is no reason why I should not get it out of Wall street."

"That will be enough," he said to the broker. "I think I'll get some of that," he said. He took 500 shares at 305 and 500 Northern Pacific at 210.

$12,000 for Linen.

Early in the afternoon Mrs. White arrived at her husband's office prepared to go shopping. White, asking her to wait a few minutes, closed out 500 Great Northern preferred at $22 and 500 Northern Pacific at 215. The Great Northern transaction netted him $8,500 and the Northern Pacific, $4,000, a total of $12,500.

"That will be enough," he said to Mrs. White, "to buy linen and silver for our new home."

BRYAN'S WISH TURNED DOWN

Illinois Democrats Refuse to Repudiate Sullivan

DELEGATES FIGHT

Confusion Reigns in Convention, Both Sides Showing Bitterness in Debate

Special to The Telegram.

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 22.—By a vote of 1,038 to 570 the democratic convention placed upon the table the request of William J. Bryan for the resignation of Roger C. Sullivan from the national committee. Despite the fact that Mr. Bryan had declared that he did not wish to be endorsed unless Sullivan was repudiated, the convention declared him to be the one and only man capable of leading the democratic party to victory in 1908.

The indorsement of Mr. Bryan and the tabling of the motion calling for the resignation of Mr. Sullivan came at the close of a most exciting session of the convention, in which there were several fights and throughout which confusion reigned supreme.

The committee on resolutions declined to report a plank calling for the resignation of Sullivan and the debate followed upon a motion made by Jack Owen Thompson of Jacksonville, calling for Sullivan's resignation. It had been agreed that each side should have forty-five minutes in which to present its side of the case and Judge Thompson was the first to speak on the cause of Mr. Bryan. He allowed his feelings to carry him somewhat to an extreme and aroused the hostility of Sullivan's friends by the unparliamentary manner in which he dwelt on the last democratic conference at Springfield. He strode up and down the platform, his face white with wrath, and his form shaking with the intensity of his feeling. His caustic criticism finally lost him the ear of the convention and he might never have been able to conclude his speech if Sullivan had not personally requested quiet.

Sullivan, who followed Thompson, and who was the first speaker in his own behalf, declared that the ear of Mr. Bryan had been poisoned against him and that the demand for his resignation sprang from personal enmities.

Great Feeling Displayed

Great feeling was displayed on both sides during the debate and at times personalities of a disagreeable character were indulged in by various speakers.

The end came on a motion made by ex-Congressman Kern of Belleville, that the request for the resignation of Sullivan be laid on the table.

Feeling during the roll call on this proposition ran very high.

The votes of several counties were challenged and one delegate from Warren county declared that the vote from the county had been deliberately garbled. When the roll call was over, it had been straightened out the vote was declared to be as given above.

Candidates Named

For state treasurer, N. L. Piotrowski of Chicago.

For superintendent of public instruction, Miss Caroline Groute of Pike county.

For trustees of the University of Illinois, Daniel R. Cameron of Chicago, J. S. Cuno of Chicago, Miss Clara Bourland of Peoria.

Miss Groute is the second woman in Illinois to be nominated for a state office, but the first to be nominated by a great party.

NO COMPROMISE SEEN IN FIGHT ON COUNTY OPTION

Ohio Democrats Cannot Agree on Temperance Clause

BRYAN ENDORSED

Resolution Declares Nebraskan Only Man Qualified to Fill President's Chair

By Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 22.—When the Ohio democratic convention reassembled today it was with the knowledge that a fight on county option in the temperance legislation part of the declaration of principles was assured. A protracted night session of the committee on platform has been insufficient to bring different opinions together and the issue is clearly fixed. Many of the temperance advocates, among them leaders of the Anti-Saloon League, are understood to be willing to accept a compromise, but W. L. Finley had all along maintained that no compromise which left the county option idea at all obscure would be acceptable to him and the delegates are not surprised at the prospect of a minority report.

Home Rule Indorsed

The day is excessively warm and few costs were in evidence when Chairman McCann called the convention to order and asked for a report of the committee on platform. The platform declares the belief in free state home rule. Each town, city and village should be allowed for itself to decide all matters of local policy, especially as between public and private ownership and public utilities. It favors the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

Tribute to Bryan

The platform then pays this remarkable tribute to William J. Bryan: "It is with feelings of pride that the half million democrats of Ohio note the elaborate preparations to receive the most distinguished private citizen of America upon his return from his tour of foreign lands. His intellectual endowments, his purity of morals, his high ideals, his earnestness of conviction and compel admiration of people of all climes.

Bryan Only Candidate

He returns to the United States splendidly equipped to grapple with the great problems of the day. His democracy renews its allegiance to his brilliant and matchless leadership. No other man appeals to the United States for president with such a record of achievement and honor. We cordially indorse our great commoner, William Jennings Bryan, for the democratic nomination for president in 1908 and impatiently await the summons to battle under his banner."

By Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 22.—The committee on resolutions of the democratic state convention came near having an all night session in an attempt to bring on the floor of the convention the differences that kept them so long in session. However, final adjournment was taken just before 2:30 o'clock without having reached an agreement and with the understanding that L. Finley intended to bring in a minority report on county option and endeavor to secure the vote of the convention in his favor.

Arguments have been proffered and pointed and a compromise at one time seemed in sight, but Mr. Finley insisted he stood for Pattison's policies and no compromise was suggested. Rev. Herbert Bigelow of Cincinnati sought to have the matter of county option brought in as part of the initiative and referendum plank, but it is still unacceptable and then the committee adopted all that met with the approval of all members present and left out the plank contention.

This brought Mr. Finley to his feet with a final statement that he regretted the platform meant the affirming in a minority report. There seemed to be nothing further to do and the committee adjourned.

Information Arouses Indignation Among Soldiers—Generals Prepare for Worst

By Associated Press.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 22.—Advices received by the steamer Empress of China, which arrived here yesterday from the Orient, state that the news of the dissolution of Douma has created great excitement in Vladivostok and Siberia. Officials, it is said, are doing everything possible to prevent the dissolution becoming known, but Russian revolutionary papers, published at Nagasaki, Japan, printed a special edition and circulated a number of the papers through Siberia, giving the news.

Decides for Mutiny

The result was that a meeting of soldiers of the first army corps was held, and it decided for mutiny. A meeting of the Russian governors and generals was arranged for Aug. 8, two days before the steamer left Yokohama, to arrange for the mobilization of loyal troops, owing to the situation.

Following the receipt of the news of the dissolution, the Japanese government received a note from the Russian military governor, Primorsk, to the effect that the importation of arms and ammunition for private use or for sale was prohibited.

Two Hamburg-American liners, the Sibiria and the Heredia, arrived at Vladivostok early in August with full cargoes of military materials.

YOUNG FINANCIER
NATIVE OF TEXAS
Abraham White Was Born 43 Years Ago in LaGrange
BOUGHT McCALL PALACE
Has Just Cleaned Up More Than Two Million Dollars in Rise of Union and Southern Pacific Stocks

Special to The Telegram.
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Standing out prominently in the frantic financial doings of the last few days is Abraham White, the original "pusher" of the bond issue. White cleaned up more than $2,000,000 in the rise of Union and Southern Pacific stocks. He did two sensational things. One was to buy the great palace near Long Branch, built by the late John A. McCall, former president of the New York Life Insurance Company, and whose death was hastened by the recent scandals, and the other was to make Samuel Eyerley vice president of a bonding company organized by White. Eyerley is the express clerk who made a small fortune in buying United States bonds on "nerve."
It was just ten years since White invested 44 cents in stamps to send a letter to Secretary of the Treasury John G. Carlisle, bidding on the $900,000 worth of bonds. He got them, and bankers were glad to take them off his hands at $100,000 profit to White.
"I've got a warm spot in my heart for postage stamp bidders," he said, "and I have proved it by making Sam Eyerley an officer in the bonding company. He has shown that he has the business courage and judgment which pushes a man to the front these days."
Speaking of his great winning on the market, White said:
"I came back from St. Louis about six weeks ago, and every house in the street was bearing the name of Wolf Brothers & Co. I had been studying Union Pacific and Southern Pacific for a long time, and felt I could not do both would have a tremendous rise before the end of the year. Of course, I didn't know when they would begin to move, as I am now in the confidence of Mr. Harriman or any of the giants of the street. I am no novice in Wall street matters, having had many ups and some downs in the last dozen years. It wasn't necessary for me to be in the secrets of Mr. Harriman to know that the shares of both his roads would sell higher.
"I watched the market every day, sitting along the tape from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. for ten days before I made a trade. Then I bought my first lot of Union Pacific stock. It had touched bottom on the downward movement. I got the stock at 140. The lowest price it sold at in that movement was 129 1/2, so my calculation wasn't far out.
"I bought it slowly up to 150, and then I began to buy like a mad dog, and bought it right along to 160. I didn't stop buying Thursday afternoon when some people got cold feet and went short because of a dividend announcement was made."
Mr. White had on his desk a stack of slips from various brokerage firms which contained records of hundreds of purchases, ranging all the way from lots of 100 shares to 15,000-share lots. It is doubtful if he knew himself the total of his purchases. He began buying Southern Pacific in the 60s, and bought it all the year around. He did Union Pacific. To all questions regarding his profit he fought shy, but when asked if he would sell his winnings in Union Pacific he purchased the Pacific for $1,000,000 each, he hesitated a moment and then shook his head. His profits are said to have exceeded $2,000,000 at the time the stock exchange closed Saturday noon.
Always a Speculator
The new owner of the McCall place had rather a peculiar start as a financier. He is now 43 years old and came to this city from Texas about twenty years ago. He was born in La Grange, Texas, and started out to support himself when he was 13 years old. He had made considerable money before he was 21, but has always been a speculator, and had many ups and downs in the first year of his business career in this city. After going into many ventures he speculated heavily in upper West Side real estate before that part of the town was extensively built up.
Mr. White had one of his reversals of fortune during the panic year of 1893, and for the next three years he was not selling on a high tide and prosperity. It was in 1896 that he first blossomed out as a financier.
"It was all on account of an editorial that appeared in a newspaper in January or February of 1896. The Cleveland administration was about to make a bond issue to replenish the depleted gold reserves of the national treasury. The Cleveland plan was to make a deal with the Morgan-Belmont syndicate, and to give them a monopoly of the bond issue. The newspapers opposed that plan very vigorously and insisted that the bond issue be put to a popular subscription, claiming that the people of the country were abundantly able to furnish all of the gold the national treasury required.

The Great Bond Coup
"I spent some time collecting statistics on this particular subject, and found that the savings banks held more than $678,000,000 of the people's money. The general scheme for the bond issue would be a great success, and I determined to put in a bid. After the Morgan-Belmont gold ring was broken, I kept track of the matter very closely and had figured things down to a nicety when the time came to step into the breach.
"In all I bid for about $3,000,000 of the bonds, putting different prices opposite different amounts. I registered the letters which were sent to the treasury department, and the postage stamps cost me 44 cents. That was my total outlay. I was allotted $1,500,000 of the bonds, and later I went to see Russell Sage to get him to help me finance the transactions. Mr. Sage examined into the matter carefully, and found that I had a good thing, and agreed to lend me the money necessary to carry out the transaction. I was required by the government. I think I am about the only man Mr. Sage ever loaned money to without security. He asked me what my resources were, and I frankly told him that my cash investment in the transaction was 44 cents."
Referring to his purchase of the McCall house, Mr. White said:
"We have no children, and I intend to give the house to my wife when she and I are dead. The McCall house will pass to some charity and be used for the benefit of the poor. I have always had a great admiration for John McCall, and believed that he was more sinned against than sinning. The place that he built and furnished shall always be a memorial to him. I intend to erect in some suitable place on the grounds a monument to him, and also the residence of Mr. McCall."
Shortly before the death of Mr. McCall, last February, he sold the Long Branch house to Mr. H. Oppenheim and three associates for a mere fraction of its cost. A month before Mr. McCall died, he had mortgaged the property for $150,000, and with $35,000 which he raised on his life insurance policy paid back to the New York Life Insurance Company $25,000 which he had advanced to Andrew Hamilton, and for which Hamilton had rendered no account. In addition to the mortgage for $150,000, there was a prior mortgage on the place for more than $100,000.
The sum paid by Mr. Oppenheim and his associates was only a trifle above the amount of the two mortgages. The property was sold to Mr. Oppenheim as a speculation and made a good profit on the sale to Mr. White. Mr. McCall spent more than $200,000 on the furnishings of the house, the billiard room cost $50,000. Immense sums were spent on the grounds.

This will be a disappointment to many who expected to get their money at once.
FIGHT OVER RICE
Sunset Lines Want Right to Haul Refined Product
Special to The Telegram.
AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 22.—The railroad commission met Tuesday, it being the regular hearing day.
The first matter considered was the request by the Sunset lines for an order to give the roads that haul rough rice to mill the right to haul the refined product. The rice interests opposed this order. The question was asked under advisement.
The commission next took up the proposition to require the railroads to build a union depot at Donagan. This matter was the occasion of some sharp discussion. It developed that the proposed depot was involved in the proposition, that if money could be issued on the Dallas and Denton line then the money would be forthcoming with which to put in the depot. This matter was also taken under advisement.

COLQUHOUN TO RUN FOR SENATOR?
Austin Report Has It He Will Oppose Bailey

Now that the stress of the state campaign is over and politicians have been given a few days' breathing spell, the political correspondents in various parts of the state have begun a resumption of their work.
Here is the latest example:
AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 22.—A move strongly backed has been started here to bring out Colquhoun for United States senator against Bailey, and it is stated that he will certainly be in the ring, backed by Campbell.
All of Colquhoun's friends claim that he has a strong following in the legislature, while Bailey's Waters-Pierce oil record handicaps him.
If the plans are carried out Bailey is going to have the fight of his life.

WOULD PAVE STREET
Jennings Avenue from Viaduct to Daggett in Plan
A project which is meeting much encouragement has for its purpose the paving of South Jennings avenue. The extent is limited, but it is an important one. The plan is to pave the street from the viaduct to the Daggett bridge, a distance of about 1 1/2 miles. The paving will reach the south line of the high school grounds and, if it is carried out, will give a good driveway to the church on Broadway.
The part of the street to be improved is from the viaduct south to Daggett avenue any way, and it may be extended beyond to Broadway.
The paving will reach the south line of the high school grounds and, if it is carried out, will give a good driveway to the church on Broadway.
Many of the property holders have signed the application for the paving and the city, it is understood, is ready to pave in front of the high school and the distance is about eight hundred feet.

THIEF STYLISH
Burglar Ransacks Houses and Wears Footstep Shoes
Special to The Telegram.
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Aug. 22.—For some time a burglar has been operating in San Antonio, who ransacks every house visited and who wears the style of shoe that in each case he has been the same person. In every instance traces have been found showing that a No. 9 footstep shoe had been worn by the burglar. So far, however, this burglar has made no big haul, although he has never failed to make a thorough search of the premises.
On Sunday afternoon he visited the residence of P. F. Pfeiffer, and also the residence of Mr. Ross. He went through everything, including the stove and refrigerator, but got only $25.00 in cash. Pfeiffer declares that his tenants will not attempt to bring in the first bale, preferring to leave that honor and reward to another.

Woman Could Not Stand Strains Before Breakfast
Special to The Telegram.
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—A phonograph caused the wife of Michael Prill to sue him for a divorce. Little Johnny Prill, Prill's son by his first wife, saved enough money to buy a phonograph. At first he only operated it at night after he arrived home from work. Later he became so taken up with it that he played it in the morning before the rest of the family were up. There was a howl from the neighbors.
Finally Johnny became so enamored with the machine he left his position and played it morning, noon and night, with a couple of matinee performances thrown in. Mrs. Prill said she suffered cotton in her ears, but all to no purpose. Finally she smashed the machine with an ax.

Horrible Suffering From Eczema

Imperial Medicine Co., Houston, Texas. Gentlemen: Six years ago last May my right hand broke out with eczema, which every physician who examined it would claim they could cure. Some pronounced it Dry Eczema, others Dry Tetter, but I am convinced it is what you describe in your pamphlet as Dysidrosia-Pompholy. Of about twenty well known physicians here in Houston and different parts of the state who have tried their skill on my hand, every one failed to even relieve it. My hand would get dry and hot and then crack open. I even went to Marlin, Texas, as a agent for Wells Fargo & Co., in order to take the hot baths, but while they relieved me in a measure, it failed to effect a cure. Two well known physicians at that place tried everything they could think of to cure it, but failed. But after all these years of suffering and pain, to say nothing of the money I have paid physicians and the many salves I was induced by Mr. E. L. Jenkins to try one bottle of your Cure, and I am simply astonished at the results, for the one bottle cured me entirely. Anyone wishing to write me in regard to this matter can do so at my address, and I will furnish you with the names of persons who know that I have suffered and the condition of my hand up to three weeks ago.

Club of North Fort Worth met Tuesday afternoon in regular weekly session and talked over several important matters concerning the advance-ment of their city.

Secretary Haddaway stated Wednesday that there still seems to be some misunderstanding regarding the membership fee at the time of joining the Commercial Club. There is no mem-ber-ship fee whatever, simply a monthly due of $1. Secretary Haddaway is receiving new names for membership daily and the two hundred mark will soon have been reached. A vigorous campaign of advertising is to be started immediately in way of letters and newspaper space.

ROSEN HEIGHTS

There is a voting box at the Red drug store on the Rosen Heights (Drug Store.)

Mrs. Riden and Mrs. H. H. Brooks of Market avenue, Rosen Heights, are relatives in South Texas with friends and relatives.

There is a voting box at the Red drug store, in which ballots may be cast for Miss Cortia Burke of North Fort Worth, who is a candidate for queen of the Labor Day celebration.

Dr. Hughes of Galesburg, Ill., has government quarantine work at this made by Dr. Hughes fills the vacancy made by the recent transfer of Dr. Lamb to Cleveland, Ohio.

J. L. Sloan of the Rosen Heights concrete factory, stated Wednesday that he has several orders ahead for material for new houses on the heights. Many houses are now under construction throughout the residence section and it is noticeable that concrete block is a favorite material for dwellings.

Word is received in Riverside to the effect that Mrs. R. Embry, who has been at Mineral Wells for a number of weeks past, is in a critical condition.

Mrs. W. H. Myers and two sons of Riverside have gone to Jackson, Tenn., for a six weeks' visit to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Coley.

Citizens of Riverside are still complaining of the unsanitary condition of vacant lots at the next meeting of the regular meeting of the board of health. Weeds are high, harboring damp places, in which germs are bound to breed, and attention is again called to the condition of this section of the city of Fort Worth.

Charles Holt and wife of Maidstone street, Glenwood, have returned home from a brief visit to Mineral Wells.

L. W. Jackson of Bessie street made a business trip to Dallas on Wednesday.

GREY-LED WATER PUMPED PAID FOR

Records Show Only 35,000,000 Gallons Through Meters

Responsive to an endeavor to get the total amount of water pumped by the city waterworks and the total amount paid for by the consumers of water in the city who draw from the city supply, figures have been compiled by the waterworks department and the totals are in round numbers about $5 million pumped during the month of July and the total paid for about $9 million, or but little more than one-third.

Accounting for the difference attention may be directed to these facts: The city streets are sprinkled; fires are fought; streets are cleaned; all of the city departments use the water and no record is made of the amount used; various franchises and licenses are made to charitable institutions, churches, etc., and no record is made of the amounts so given. The sum of all of these may reach the difference between the total amount paid for and the total amount pumped.

FOR THE HONOR OF TEXAS

James S. Hogg gave to the people of Texas the best and most active years of his life. It may be true that in return he could have had any honor he desired at the hands of the people, but the honors of that kind do not satisfy the butcher and the grocer. During all the time Hogg was governor he was a constant borrower of money, and all because the state of Texas did not pay its executive, who was a poor man, sufficient salary to enable him to live in accordance with his surroundings. If the idea is to sell the office of governor to the highest bidder and limit the holding of that position to men with fat bank accounts, then the present method is the proper procedure. But if the idea is to always call to the gubernatorial chair men of unquestioned ability, lofty patriotism and thorough devotion to the best interests of the masses, then it must be borne in mind that the laborer is worthy of his hire and the state should fix the financial emoluments in conformity with the real demands of the situation. The governor of Texas should be paid an official salary of not less than $10,000 per annum.—Fort Worth Telegram.

It is the testimony of those who have of recent years held the governorship of Texas that they went out of office poorer than they went into it. When one reflects that under a fee system some of the sheriffs of the larger counties make from $15,000 to $20,000 a year, the absurdity of paying the chief executive but $4,600 a year is apparent. A man of sufficient ability to be governor of Texas can easily earn $15,000 to $20,000 a year; hence, a salary of $10,000 would be a modest return.—San Antonio Express.

It is a great honor to any man to serve as governor of the imperial state of Texas, but honor is but scant compensation for the great responsibilities and large amount of work actually involved. Honor does not reimburse men for the large amount of money they are compelled to expend in a political campaign, and it does not satisfy the men or institutions who may happen to have financial claims upon the state's chief executive.

If Texas was a small state and her people were not able to pay a man what his services are actually worth, it would be different. But Texas is as large as four average states, her people are prosperous and accustomed to do things on a broad and liberal scale. There is nothing small or parsimonious about the citizenship of Texas, and the fact that the governor's salary has been permitted to remain at the paltry figure of $4,600 per annum is doubtless largely due to the fact that no special effort has ever been made to properly increase it.

The Telegram contends that for the honor and glory of the greatest of all the states the time has come when the gubernatorial salary should be made at least $10,000 per annum, and it further believes the term should be lengthened to four years and stop right there. Pay the governors of this great and glorious state the sum of $10,000 for four years and make them ineligible for re-election. That step would be the proper thing to do and should be attended to during the session of the next state legislature.

THE TERRELL ELECTION LAW There is one demand of the state democratic platform which the next state legislature will cheerfully comply with, and that is the thorough revision of the Terrell election law. The experience with that law in the recent state primaries will still be sufficiently fresh in the minds of the lawmakers when they assemble in Austin next January to insure that the existing measure will have the necessary attention, and Governor Campbell will not have to pen the legislators and keep them in durance ville in order to have them do their plain duty.

The demand for the revision of the Terrell law is backed up by the people of all Texas. There is nothing sectional in it, as was the case when an abortive attempt was made to open the entire question at the last special session called by Governor Lanham. At that time there was a hue and cry raised that the law as it stands discriminates against the southern portion of the state to the extent that it threatened to reduce that section to a condition of political vassalage. The blanket primary was urged then, as it was endorsed by the state democratic convention, and the blanket primary idea will be applied. Commenting on the law as it is, the Austin Statesman says: It is beyond the ability of two-thirds of the voters of the state to thoroughly appreciate and understand the present law by reason of the fact that they simply haven't time to flounder through its many complications. Of the other third who dabble in politics most all the time there are many who have simply a smattering of its many provisions and would gladly see it set aside entirely.

It was the intention of the law to purify politics. At least that was the claim made for it. If this be its mission then it has done right well, but if it is to be a part and parcel of the election laws of Texas then it must be simplified to the point of general understanding. No law that deals with the interest of the people should be so muddled as to be confusing. The demand of the democratic convention that the law be changed, and above all simplified, is a demand that must not pass unheeded.

The demand that the blanket primary clause be inserted for future elections is also a good idea if we are to adhere to the primary policy of election at all. Once the law is up for simplification and revision there are dozens of things to be corrected and numerous changes to be made. The legislature should therefore give the law careful attention when it meets and in the meantime be various members should see to exactly what is best in the way of modifications and abridgements.

STILL FIGHTING FREE SEEDS

According to advices from Washington, the next session of congress is going to witness a renewal of the fight against free seeds, and a campaign of education is already being mapped out, led by the big seed growers of the country. Henry W. Wood of Richmond, president of the American Seed Trade Association, in an open letter to the public, says the association opposes the practice because it is an unjust interference with a legitimate industry as well as a waste of public money. President Wood, points out that the total seed trade of the country amounts to 129,000,000 packets, of which the government gives away 40,000,000 and the dealers sell $9,000,000.

What industry could survive if the government gave away free half as much as those engaged in the industry sold? he asks. He suggests that it is time for congress to change off and give away axes, saws, pocket knives and looking glasses and give the poor seed merchants a rest. The American Seed Trade Association is composed of growers, wholesalers and retailers and is thoroughly in earnest in its opposition to government interference in its business. The Wholesale Seedmen's League is also out against it. Between them they are in touch with about 19,000 persons engaged in growing and selling seeds, and with at least 50,000 storekeepers who carry seeds in stock. As some of the larger seed merchants have more than 100,000 customers who purchase seeds in small lots, it is expected that they will have been in communication with hundreds of thousands of people before next session.

It is said that an analysis of the vote in the last congress by which the present methods were perpetuated shows Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia cast seventy-eight votes for free seeds and eight only against them, and the democratic party is really responsible for the appropriation being made.

MANUFACTURERS TO BE HEARD

The department of agriculture at Washington is going to give the food manufacturers of the country a chance to be heard before it promulgates the rules and regulations under which the national pure food law is going to be put into effect. Hearings will be held at the department from Sept. 17 to 25, inclusive, at which time the manufacturers will be invited to appear.

This procedure is not obligatory under the law, but is an act of courtesy and fairness to the manufacturers which the three departments interested have decided to extend. Representatives from the department of commerce and labor, from the department of agriculture and from the treasury department will be present at the hearings, and it is believed that subject will be divided into groups so as to simplify the situation. Among the questions to come up will be a number of important problems relating to the collection, examination and identification of samples, the constituents of original packages, the difference between what is considered to constitute an import and export package, the flavoring and coloring of vegetables, and of animal matter, and the use of adulterants.

Proprietary and breakfast foods of all sorts will come up for discussion, as well as the best methods of protecting trade formulae. Patent medicines will be among the matters discussed, and fair opportunity will be afforded for all interested to be heard. And in the meantime, the consumers of the country are hoping the new law will bring them relief from a situation that has grown almost intolerable.

THE WORK OF REV. I. Z. T. MORRIS

Sunday's Fort Worth Telegram devotes a page to the work done by one of its citizens, Rev. I. Z. T. Morris, whose life work is finding homes for orphan children. He has placed more than 500 children, and so far has not made a mistake by putting children where they will not be properly raised and educated. Rev. Morris is engaged in a noble work, and should have the co-operation of all good citizens.—Sherman Register.

The Telegram has often alluded to the great work being done in this city by this man who has consecrated his time to doing the work that is shunned by others resting under just as much obligation as himself. He is a factor for great good, not only in Fort Worth, but over all Texas, and no one but the Master he serves knows the full amount of good that he is actually accomplishing.

And the great pity of it is, he is so sadly hampered from a lack of funds that the way often seems dark and discouraging. If his work was known and appreciated for what it really is there would certainly be a lifting of much of the burden he is compelled to carry. The people of Fort Worth and all Texas should unite in giving this man of God the help and support he so truly deserves.

TRIBUTE TO JUDGE BELL

Colonel A. R. McCollum, editor of the Waco Tribune, and chairman of the Campbell campaign club of McLennan county, is one of the fairest and best newspaper men in Texas. He did valiant service for Campbell in his county, and when it declared for Bell he did not lose his temper. Later, when the Campbell star rose to its meridian in Dallas and his chieftain captured the gubernatorial nomination, Colonel McCollum, with his true gentlemanly nature instead of rubbing it into the defeated aspirants, pays the following magnificent tribute to Judge Charles K. Bell:

More than once able and worthy men, who aspired to high office, have been halted with the negative of their party and retired to private life. Of those who have met such fate we do not recall a more admirable man than Charles K. Bell. Pure in private life, with a record of public service that does him lasting credit, he steps aside for the time with the respect and esteem of those who opposed him in the contest just ended. A man of eminent ability, shall it be said, his public career is ended? There may come a time when public opinion will declare Bell the man for the emergency, as it declared Campbell this year. Mr. Campbell aspired four years ago. He saw that the powers that were were able to thwart his purposes and he waited, and the psychological moment came. No man could have beaten Campbell this year. There is more than one Cincinnati in Texas when the time comes that the state needs him. Martin M. Crain is one of the number and Charles K. Bell is another. Good-day for the president, Judge Bell; you step out with dignity, honored for your true worth by Texas people.

The Telegram in common with other friends of Judge Bell, greatly appreciates this manly expression. Editor McCollum can draw on Fort Worth at any time for anything he desires. He is made out of the right kind of material.

The people of west Texas are demanding another passenger train, claiming that the present facilities afforded by the Texas and Pacific are entirely inadequate. And if west Texas can furnish the business for more passenger trains they should be promptly furnished.

Speaker Cannon is modest in the matter of his Presidential aspirations and not making much noise over the situation, but The Telegram is very much impressed with the belief that he will be the next republican nominee.

This wet weather is playing havoc with the cotton crop all over North Texas, as it is affording the boll worm ample opportunity to get in his deadly and effective work. The farmers are becoming greatly discouraged in many localities.

There are lots of men in Texas who were disappointed in the recent state primaries, but that is always the result of too many candidates. All the good men cannot be nominated for office.

Those offending negro troops have been moved from Brownsville, and it is to be presumed that white-winded peace is again hovering on the banks of the Rio Grande.

If eastern New Mexico desires to become a portion of the great state of Texas our friends out there will find no barrier in the way that has been erected by Texas hands.

Every factory induced to locate in Fort Worth is but another nail driven in the hope of other Texas towns and cities that they will become the manufacturing center of the southwest.

THE TEXAS PRESS

About eighteen home-comings are being worked up in as many states for the coming autumn. It is a sorrowful effort to drain Texas, but it will not work. The autumn is busy time in Texas.—Houston Post.

There is nothing to carry Texans back to these states but old memories. There is everything imaginable to bring them back after a short visit and make them better citizens than they were before.

Senator Bailey would have made a great actor. He knows just how to work up to a climax. "The Siege of Lucknow" incident will live in Texas political history in all the years to come.—Dallas Times-Herald.

Thought that climax was accidental. The daily papers have been filled with explanations since it occurred that Senator Bailey did not mean anything.

The Greenville Banner congratulates itself that Judge Brooks is still on the bench and adds "supposing he had resigned, where would we have been?" The "we" of course refers to the prohibitionists.—Denison Herald.

Judge Brooks was too wise to turn loose the bird in the hand for another fluttering in the bush. And it will take many long weary months to earn back those big campaign expenses.

Tom Watson has agreed to remain in the democratic party for two or three years—if the party will behave itself nicely. Now for a quiet and orderly convention.—Clarksville Times.

The democratic party had made its arrangements to get along without Tom Watson and his return will not occasion any readjustment of democratic principles. Tom will have to adjust himself to the party.

The mysterious Mr. Stensland, whose banking methods seem to have been strange and devious, will doubtless continue to appear in various Texas towns as long as the excitement over the failure of that Chicago bank is fresh. It is a blessed gift of a large percentage of the human kind that they can see what they want to see.—San Antonio Express.

The reward of $5,000 offered for Stensland is causing people to have strange visions in many Texas towns and cities.

Mr. Bryan has been censured by some of the newspapers for taking a whack at Sullivan and bossism in the Illinois democracy. He reiterates his defiance of the monopolistic methods in Illinois and says: "The party must purge itself of such leadership," etc., and says further: "It is immaterial to me whether Illinois endorses me or not."—Sherman Democrat.

Colonel Bryan seems to be thoroughly in earnest in the matter of purging democracy of some of its objectionable barnacles, and it is surprising that as yet he has not discovered the necessity for selecting a new national chairman.

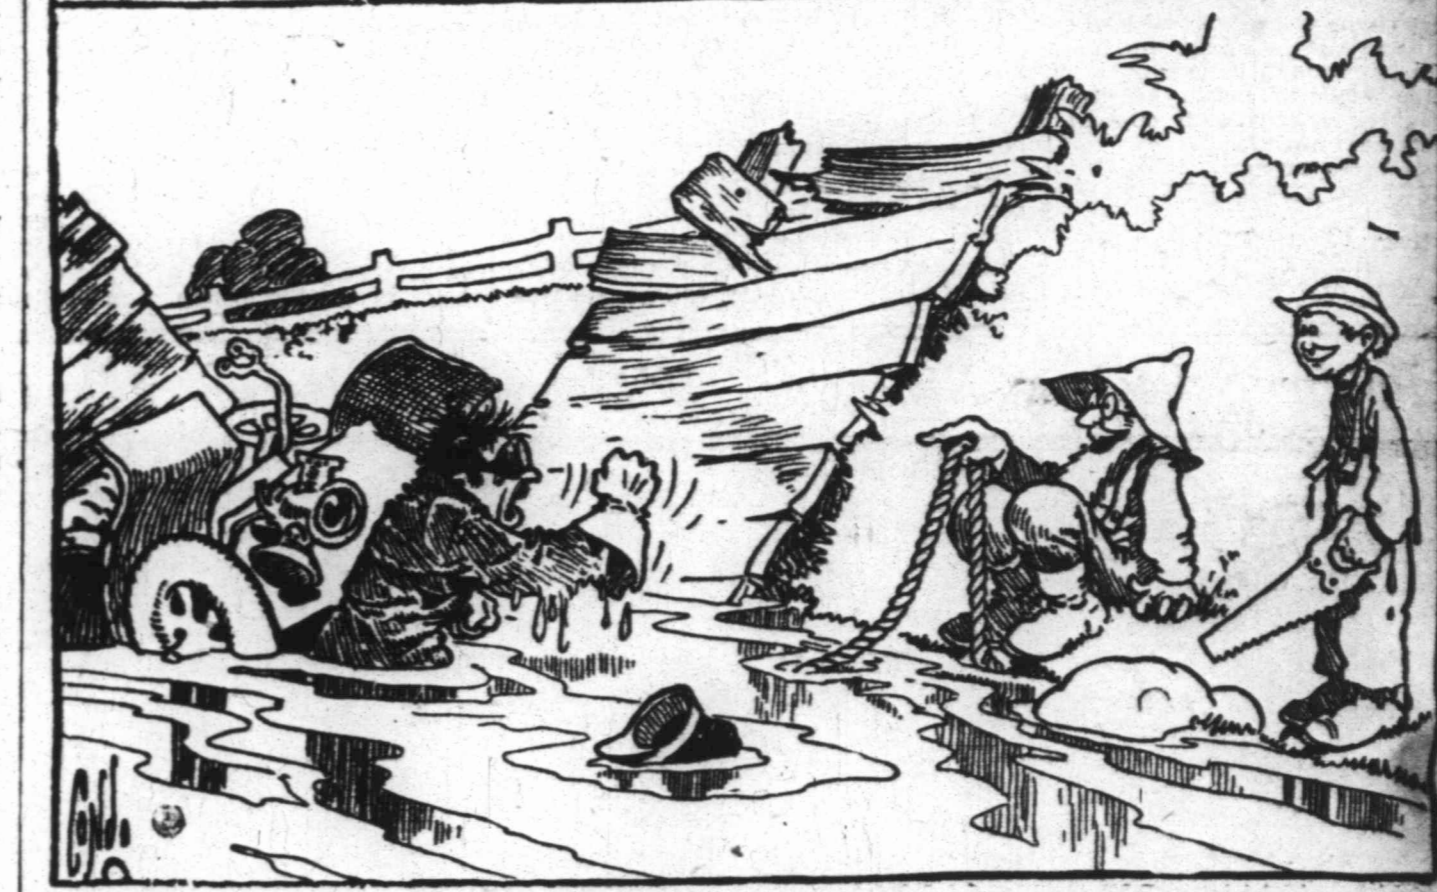

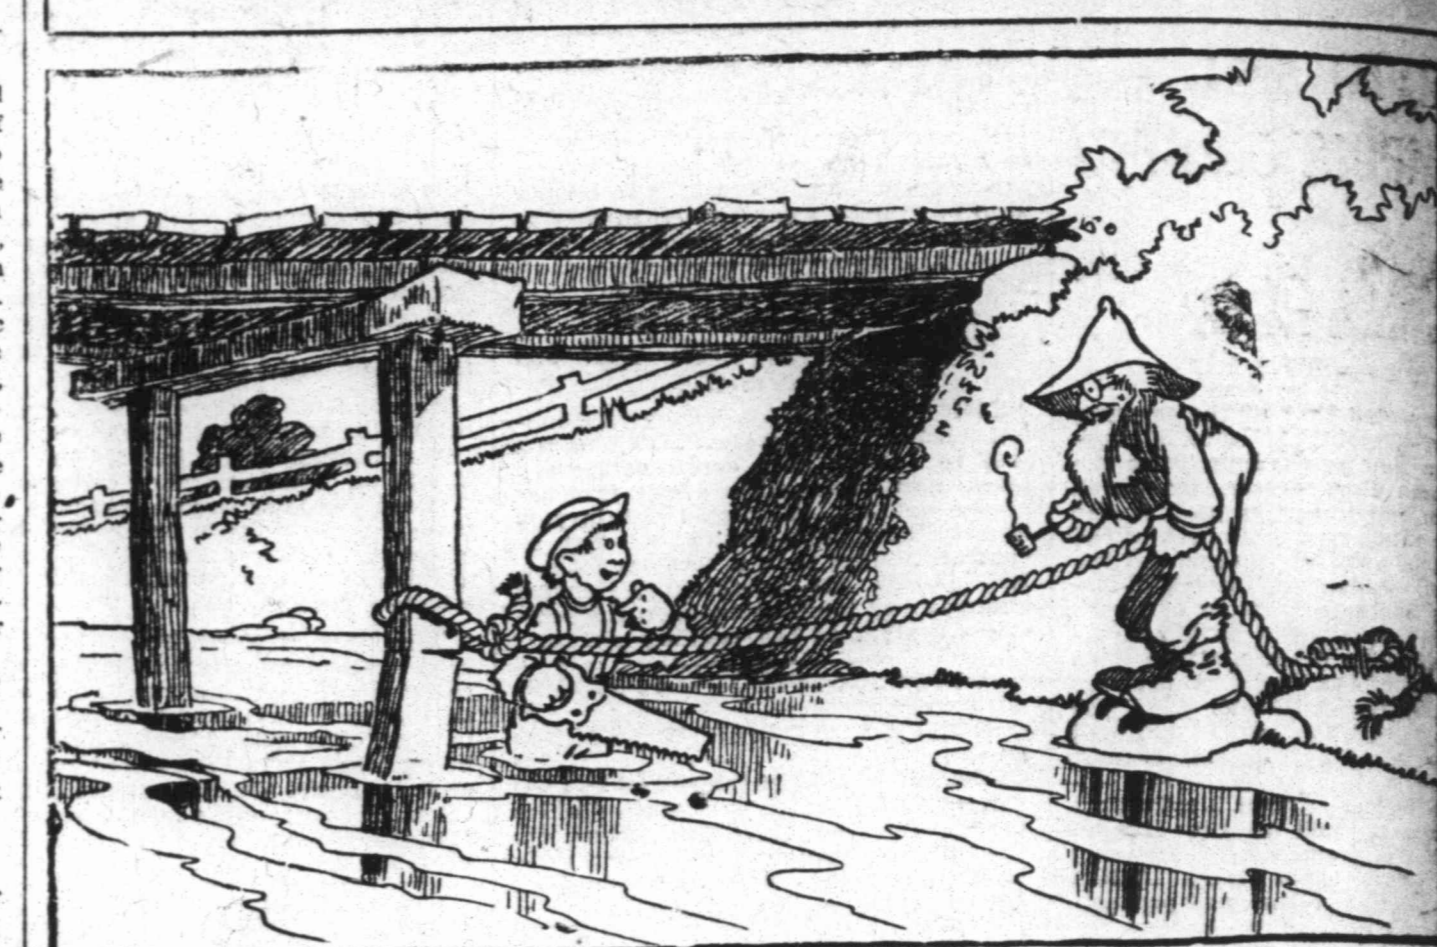

The Terrell election law is giving more dissatisfaction than any other law Texas has ever had. We have our first man to meet who approves of it, and believe there will never be another election held under it.—Crowell News.

From every section of the state there comes up a cry against the Terrell election law. The people seem to know when they have had enough.

The Courier despises the officer who seeks notoriety in the discharge of a sworn duty. "I will enforce the laws of the state of Texas," swears the Texas officer with uplifted hand. What else should he need to force him to enforce the laws of the state of Texas? He is a poor officer, who needs more.—Texarkana Courier.

The faithful officer does not seek to make capital out of the discharge of his sworn duty. It is the demagogue who resorts to this expedient, and such an officer is a very unsafe proposition. Duty should always be performed for duty's sake.

Hi's Crusade Against the Autos—No. 2

OUR DEPARTED GREAT MEN

There was one thing very noticeable at the Dallas convention of democracy this week, and that was the absence of two of the greatest characters that have ever taken part in party deliberations. John H. Reagan and James S. Hogg left a void in the democratic party in this state when they died that will long be painfully apparent.—Fort Worth Telegram.

There is something sublimely respectful in the above sentiment. The man or woman in Texas who casts a single slur at either of these intellectual giants, men who helped make Texas history, does not know how to appreciate the great.—Bonham Herald.

DEVELOPING WEST TEXAS

Reports from west Texas indicate the Santa Fe is preparing to do some building through that section. Propositions have been submitted to build to both Abilene and Anson for the simple right of way through the counties and depot grounds. Stillwell's Orient line is stirring up the liveliest kind of competition in the territory it is traversing.—Fort Worth Telegram.

The Orient railroad will undoubtedly do wonders for that great section of west Texas, which has been hitherto untapped by a railroad. Agriculture has been found to be as well adapted to west Texas as to other sections of the state, and it is only a question of time when the man with the hoe will invade the unbroken pastures of the west and make them yield a hundred fold greater returns.—San Antonio Express.

LANHAM AT THE CONVENTION

It is wonderful that some of the Texas state papers did not protest the attendance of the state democratic convention by Governor Lanham. It must have been an oversight pure and simple.—Fort Worth Telegram.

It might have been the very best thing for him to have staid away under the circumstances. He was invited to address the convention and when he accepted the invitation he was snubbed.—Terrell Transcript.

THE TELEGRAM'S CARTOON

The Fort Worth Telegram had the best cartoon of the convention. It had Campbell, an exact picture of him, too, dressed as a Scotch bag-piper coming into the convention amid the cheering delegates.—Athens Review.

QUAKER REFLECTIONS

Also a lie crushed to earth is pretty sure to rise again. Working the short change—putting on a bathing suit. We don't need a calendar to tell us when the rent is due. Ennui is the complaint of those who have nothing to complain of.

If a fellow saved the money he spent on tobacco it might drive him to drink. Occasionally a man makes his mark by making a mark of some other fellow. A tombstone inscription seldom represents a coupon for a reserved seat in heaven. What a fine thing it would be if all the smart children would grow to have a little common sense.

Mother—It is getting too dark to read. You will ruin your eyes. Daughter—But, mother, this is very light reading. First Ward Leader—Do you have any trouble keeping your voters in line? Second Ward Leader—Oh, no; a word to the guys is sufficient.—Philadelphia Record.

ONE SAFE TRUST

The ice companies in the St. Louis combination are to be fined $71,000 apiece. It begins to look as if the only safe trust these days were trust in the Lord.—Atlanta Journal.

I LOVED YOU BETTER THAN YOU KNEW

'Twas the autumn of the year; The strawberry leaves were red and sear; October airs were fresh and chill, When, pausing on the windy hill— The hill that overlooks the sea— You talked confidingly to me. Me, whom your keen artistic sight Has not yet learned to read aright. Since I have valued my heart from you And loved you better than you knew.

You told me of your toilsome past, Of tardy honors won at last; Of trials borne, of conquests gained, The longed-for boon of fame attained. I knew that every victory That lifted you away from me, That every step of high embrace, But left me lower in your eyes. I watched the distance as it grew, And loved you better than you knew.

You did not see the bitter race Of anguish sweep across my face; You did not hear my proud heart beat, Heavy and slow beneath your feet. You thought of honors yet unwon, Of glorious deeds as yet undone. And I, the while, you talked to me— I watched the gulf flow loneliness, Till lost amid the hungry blue, And loved you better than you knew.

You walk the sunny side of fate, The wise world smiles and calls you great. The golden fruitage of success Drops at your feet in plenteousness. And you have blessings manifold, Renown and power and friends and gold. They build a wall betwixt us twain, Which may not be thrown down again. Alas, for I, the long years through Have loved you better than you knew.

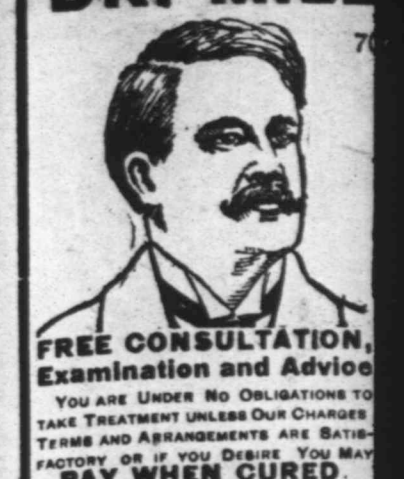

Your life's proud aim, your art's high truth, Have kept the promise of your youth. And while you've won the crown, which now Breaks into bloom upon your brow— My soul cries strongly out to you Across the ocean's yearning blue, Unlorn and unremembered, and afar, I watch you as I watch a star, Through darkness struggling into view, And love you better than you knew.

I used to dream in all these years, Of patient faith and silent tears, That love's strong hand would put aside The barriers of place and pride— Would reach the pathless darkness through, And draw me softly up to you. But that is past—If you should stray Beside my grave some future day, Perchance the violets o'er my dust Would half betray their buried trust, And say—their blue eyes full of dew—"She loved you better than you knew."

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

The surest way to keep money in circulation is to have a family. The borrower always seems to be able to wear better clothes than the lender. A girl has a peculiar habit of being very fond of a fellow when no others are around. A woman thinks she would have a much better figure if she didn't have such dainty feet. A woman has such lively imagination she thinks paying to go to a charity fair that has patronage is being in society.—New York Press.

25th REGIMENT'S RECORD MIXED

Has Been Famous Both for Heroism and Riots WON DAY AT SAN JUAN Got into Wholesale Disturbance at El Paso and Also Left Behind a Record at Salt Lake

The Twenty-fifth United States infantry, which has been the cause of such disorders at Brownsville, that the citizens have been forced to maintain an armed guard since the perpetration of outrages by the negro troops...

Two negro regiments of infantry were recruited some time after the civil war, responding to two demands, one that the negro and white soldiers should be associated in the same regiments and the other that the colored troops who fought so bravely at times should be recognized.

The Twenty-fifth regiment of infantry and two regiments of cavalry were organized and did in the main good service.

The Ninth and Tenth cavalry saw much service in the southwest, and did tours of duty at Sill, Riley and to a more limited extent at Concho and Clark in Texas.

For some reason, or lack of reasoning, the recruits for the Twenty-fifth unit after they joined the regiment became imbued with the white idea, seemingly, as naturally as the Russian, under certain conditions, gravitates to nihilism.

Outbreaks frequent. The visible result has been frequent outbreaks, often between the negroes and the white soldiers of other regiments, who might chance to be stationed in proximity.

The regiment, or a battalion of it, was at that time stationed at Fort Bliss and one day one of the soldiers, under the influence of "mesal," became drunk and was placed under arrest.

In this instance, though, the commanding officer aided the civil authorities in discovering the guilty one and in effecting his arrest.

When the Twenty-fifth last got its orders for Texas posts it was freely stated at Fort Niobrara, Neb. from whence they came, that they were not pleased with the assignment and declared they would make it hot for the civilians with whom they came in contact.

"I want to send a telegram," said a young negro, walking up the relay office of the Texas & Pacific station Monday morning.

"What right have you, I speak to come back in a lot of blanks. The negro went to work preparing his 'telegram' and in about twenty minutes showed the following over to the operator:—

"Miss Susie Jones, Little Rock, Ark.—Dear Miss Susie: I am well and doing well and I hope you is enjoying the same blessing. I arrived in Fort Worth this morning and am feeling quite well and hopes you is the same. I would like to see you and have a good talk about ole times and what I am going to do.

"Give my love to all the folks and keep lots for your folks. Your friend truly, E. H. JOHNSON.

"Say," said the operator, "you don't want to send all this stuff, do you?" "Deed I do."

"At this the negro's eyes popped nearly out of his head. His mouth flew open and after staring at the operator, said: "Good Lord! I can't pay dat."

"What do you want to let Miss Jones control, ma? I hope you is enjoying the same blessing. I arrived in Fort Worth this morning and am feeling quite well and hopes you is the same. I would like to see you and have a good talk about ole times and what I am going to do.

"How much will that cost?" asked the negro. "Fifty cents."

"Wetness I'll send dat," and the message was sent to Miss Susie Jones at Little Rock.

WOMAN CLIMBS HIGH MOUNTAIN

Ascends Height of 23,000 Feet in India Range

Special to The Telegram.
BOMBAY, India, Aug. 23.—Dr. Fanny Bullock Workman, the noted traveler and mountain climber, is camped at a height of 23,000 feet above the sea in the Nunakun mountain range in Kashmir. Her ascent marks a new record for women in mountain climbing.

Fanny Bullock Workman is a daughter of former Governor Bullock of Massachusetts. She was married to Dr. William H. Workman, who was born in Worcester, Mass., but they make their home in London, when not traveling for exploring purposes.

Climbed Mountains Everywhere.—Mrs. Workman has traveled extensively in North Africa, in India, Ceylon, Java, Cochinchina and other countries. She has devoted considerable time to mount climbing and exploring. In 1899 she made three first record ascents for women in the Karakoram mountains.
Dr. William H. Workman, her husband, is also a noted traveler and mountain climber. In 1903 he made the record climb of Mt. Dhaulagiri, Baitan, a dependency of Kashmir.
Even before her marriage, Mrs. Workman had ascended all peaks of the White mountains, and had completed her kindergarten exercises with the conquest of the Jungfrau. Matterhorn and other well known Alpine heights.

First Great Feat.—In 1899 Dr. and Mrs. Workman went to India and spent two years traveling that country.

It was while upon this trip that they determined to conquer the loftiest peaks of the towering and forbidding Himalayas.
The first great feat she ever attained was to conquer the summit of Chogo Lungma, a glacier in the Balistan, India, which is thirty miles long, two or three miles wide and rises to a height of 19,000 feet.

Mr. Poe will extend an invitation to Mr. Bryan from the local Democracy to visit Tulsa when he comes to Indian Territory this fall, which now seems to be a part of the distinguished Nebraskan's plans. Mr. Poe is confident Mr. Bryan will accept the invitation. His appearance in Tulsa will be made the occasion for a great Democratic meeting which party workers from all over the new state will attend.

Special to The Telegram.
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The market relapsed into a state of normal today, and while actions were by no means unimportant, business during the hours fell under a million for the time since Wall street was stricken by the earthquake of the 21st. Conditions were not of the best, but above average. London prices for American securities were of the best, but the decline of 1/4 in English consols called money ruled quite firm. Initial rates were 2 1/2 per cent, yet the crowd was evidently fearful of the bull pool, for the actual selling was not so extensive, was easily absorbed after a somewhat irregular market developed a firm price for the list with few before midday recovered a portion of the loss incurred yesterday. As was to be expected, the market when call money ran down touched 6 per cent. A bullish movement of $5,000,000 rumor engagement of $5,000,000 gold per cent confidence to the price of the stock market, with prices being steady, with prices generally list fractionally yesterday's final. Atchison being notable exception, being up 1/4 and 1/2 points respectively, while the good buying place in the steel stocks resulted in their closing at gains of 1/4, public iron and steel and 1/4 United States common and 1/4 Sales to 2 p. m. 127,800 shares.
