REPORT CUBA PROMISED REBELS CLEMENCY FALSE

Urgent Leaders May Yet Be Meted Out Punishment

RECRUITING ENDS

Expected, However, That Revolutionists Will Soon Lay Down Their Arms

HAVANA, Aug. 28.—Investigation shows the statement made by Senator Dolz, leader of the moderate party at the conclusion of the conference with President Palma at night to the effect that practically all the insurgent leaders of consequence were to be pardoned, is an exaggeration. The impression is very general today among the insurgents with the exception of Pino Guerrera will shortly lay down their arms. It is asserted all recruits have ceased. The pay of the army and rural guards has been raised, officers getting a 20 per cent increase and privates an increase of 50 per cent.

LOVE FEELS SECURE

Dallas Citizen Confident He Will Be Elected Speaker
Special to The Telegram.
AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 28.—Thomas Love of Dallas, candidate for speaker of the next house legislature, is sure today. Relative to an interview with Colonel Feiler printed in the press, he said that he can make no statement that he has not been away from home since the primaries. He declares that notwithstanding what Colonel Feiler claims, he (Love) is assured of being elected speaker on the first ballot. He has assurances from the members of the next house to give him a clear majority. He said he was here looking for rooms to move his family during the next session, which indicates he does not intend to remain in the capital.

UPHOLDS HENDERSON

Corbin Says Candidate Can Withdraw from Race Any Time
Special to The Telegram.
DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 28.—Chairman of the democratic executive committee today ruled in response to a letter from A. J. Harper of Groesbeck, Mo., who is a sympathizer with the law, that a candidate under the law had a right to withdraw from a contest at any time before or after the election has begun. The ruling is based on the contest for congress in the Sixth district, wherein it was held by the chair that E. S. Henderson could withdraw from the race before the ballot was taken.

PETITION TO SELL

Parker-Lowe Trustee Files Request With Referee
W. B. Paddock issued notice to the creditors in the Parker-Lowe Dry Goods Company bankrupt case that George W. Stetson had filed a petition in Referee Paddock's court to sell for cash September 12, unless otherwise ordered, all tangible assets of the bankrupt company. This includes a general stock of dry goods, millinery, notions, fancy goods, etc. Also all furniture and fixtures, all tools and accessories, delivery vans and live stock. The goods will be sold in lots or in bulk as found most advantageous.

HE KISSED PRETTY HEIRESS; SERVES SEVEN DAYS IN JAIL

Special to The Telegram.
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Charles W. Wilson, one of the most prominent persons of Montreal, is serving a sentence of seven days in prison for having kissed the daughter of L. H. Severance, a millionaire mining man, who was at the Waldorf-Astoria, in New York.

REBEL TROOPS MAY DISBAND

Cuban Insurgents to Take Advantage of Immunity Offer

END OF WAR SEEN

Guerrera Alone Believed Will Give Government Trouble. Palma Confident

By Associated Press.
HAVANA, Aug. 28.—The enlistment of volunteers by the government has been suspended temporarily. At the palace conference it was felt that the great body of rebels who have been carried off to the mountains, they were to have a conspicuous part in the overthrow of the Palma administration, will seize the opportunity to return to the lawful parents rather than jeopardize their liberty by further supporting what the government characterizes as a hopeless cause. Senator Dolz, the moderate leader, declared early today that with the exception of Pino Guerrera all the insurgent leaders were prepared to disband their men if assured of immunity. Guerrera still Strong Guerrera is yet to be reckoned with. If seemingly reliable reports can be credited he has with him a firm idea that the body of men will stick to him. His earlier promises to capture Pinar del Rio and then upon Havana followed by a period of inactivity has apparently injured his prestige among the rebels and sympathizers who had expected him to make a bold dash against the government forces.

Palma's Son in Army
President Palma's peace expressions of yesterday have made a good impression, particularly among the men whose interests are seriously threatened by the disturbed condition of affairs. President Palma's son has joined the army and his daughter has become an army nurse. These enlistments have also had a good effect.

HARRIMAN HURRIES

Anxious to Complete New Route to Give Trade to Southern Pacific
By Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—President Harriman notified the San Francisco officers of the Southern Pacific yesterday that work on the extension of the railway from Alamos, Mexico, through to Mazatlan and down to Tepic, and San Marcos, would soon be completed. The extension is being hurried because of the determination on the part of Harriman to open up this country as a freight feeder to the Southern Pacific.

CONSIDER NEW STUDY

Middies May Be Taught the Universal Language
By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Shall naval officers be taught Esperanto, the universal language? The naval academy board is considering a letter from William Baff of Worcester, Mass., who says with a daily lesson of one hour for a period of five months midshipmen at Annapolis can readily acquire a complete knowledge of Esperanto and be able to read, write and speak it fluently. Mr. Baff suggests this to the board only as a supplementary language.

WILL MEET ROOT

SAILS FOR HOME

New Yorker Prominently Mentioned for Opposing Both Higgins and Jerome

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—A cable to a morning paper from Leamington, England, says: "Charles E. Hughes of New York, who was the attorney for the Armstrong insurance investigation committee has been spending several days in the vicinity of this watering place and last night was sufficiently interested in the situation to ask all about the gubernatorial candidates. 'Everybody knows that I am not a candidate,' said Mr. Hughes, 'and I have had no communication with anybody in New York on any political situation since I left home. 'No, I have sent no message of any sort to Benjamin B. Odell, Governor Higgins or anybody else.'"

Declines to Discuss Situation

When pressed to say whether he would be a candidate for the nomination against Higgins or would run against Jerome, Mr. Hughes replied: "I am not going to set up any hypothesis and discuss it." In answer to further questions Mr. Hughes said he had discussed the situation with friends before leaving New York, but did not know who the candidates were and could not intelligently comment on the situation. He intended to look into the matter when he arrived home and make whatever statements he had to make in New York. He repeated: "I have given no assurance of any kind to anybody."

Hughes in Good Health

Mr. Hughes is in vigorous health. "We have been getting a good rest," he said, "have thoroughly enjoyed our vacation and know nothing, whatever the political situation." Mr. Hughes will sail for home today on the steamship Carmina.

17 INCENDIARIES

Boys Start Fires to See the Department Make Runs
Written for The Telegram.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 28.—So far this month there have been seventeen fires, believed to be incendiary in origin, there being two yesterday. It was the intention of the city council to offer a reward of $500 for the arrest of the incendiaries, but Detective Smith arrested a boy, aged 13 years, who told a story about being a member of a gang of boys who started the fires to see the fire department run.

FEAR SEC'Y WILSON

Packers Believe He May Make Drastic Orders
Special to The Telegram.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Agents of the meat packers are worried because of the queer way in which Secretary Wilson is visiting the packing department. Under the law which goes into effect October 1, he has power to force an improvement he may deem wise, and they fear he will make drastic rules and impose conditions that will cost them a great deal of money.

WOMAN FOUND CUT TO PIECES

Body Slashed and Ripped—Relative Arrested

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—A woman known as Mrs. Annie Moore was found murdered early today in a furnished room at Sixty-second street. She had been horribly ripped and slashed. One slash had severed the jugular vein in the left side of the throat, another had almost severed the windpipe, the breast was badly slashed and a deep knife thrust had ripped open the body, dismembering it. No weapon was found and there were few blood marks around the room.

Notified Detectives

James Moore, who had passed as the woman's husband, was held by the police on suspicion. It was he who notified the police of the murder. He ran up to two detectives at Second street and the Bowery at 2 o'clock this morning and told them he had just gone and his home and thought his sister-in-law was dead. The police hurried to the house and began to investigate the crime. Moore told the police he and the woman had been living together for seven years. The woman, he said, was the widow of his brother, who died ten years ago. No one in the house could be found who heard any sounds as if a struggle was taking place. Herman Von Kohlen, who has an adjoining room, was aroused by the police and said he had been in bed since 5 o'clock in the afternoon and had heard no noises whatever. The dead woman was 56 years old.

Recall Jack the Ripper

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The horrible wounds found on the body of Mrs. Annie Moore, found murdered in a furnished room, No. 6 Second street today, recalled at once to the mind of officials the case of the "Jack the Ripper" murders some years ago. A hurried investigation by the police showed no signs of a struggle and the police concluded the woman had been attacked in her sleep. Moore, who was arrested on suspicion, and who was held on a charge of murder, maintains he is innocent. He told the police he left the house in Second street at 7 o'clock last night and went to a Bowery saloon, where he remained until 1 o'clock this morning. Police inquiries at the saloon developed the information Moore had been there until just before 10 o'clock, when he left. Informers in the Second street house told the police Moore returned home about 10 o'clock and he did not go out again afterward.

RAISE FLOUR RATE

Freight and Storage Charges to Be Increased
By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The flour committee of the produce exchange has received a letter from the trunk line railroads requesting a meeting to discuss a reduction in the time of free storage of flour on their docks in this port from twenty to ten days for the domestic trade and from sixty to ten days for export, and to raise the rate per car from $4 for ten days' storage to $1 per day. This is made necessary, the railroads claim, under the Hepburn law, which goes in force today, as under the present arrangement with the produce exchange it would be a discrimination against other ports, which is forbidden, and in favor of New York.

RATE LAW IN EFFECT

Anti-Pass Provision Not Effective Until Jan. 1
Special to The Telegram.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 28.—The railroad rate law takes effect today, Aug. 28, except the anti-pass provision, which is not effective until Jan. 1. However, the interstate commerce commission learns that most roads will put the pass feature into effect at once and cease all issuance of free passes. They fear prosecution under the anti-discrimination sections of the law.

$55,000,000 PAID ON FRISCO LOSSES

Thirty-five Companies Part With Huge Sum
By Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Thirty-five insurance companies out of 120 involved in the San Francisco disaster have paid in the aggregate $55,000,000, according to their office record to date. Some larger concerns made heavy payments. The Royal of Liverpool is credited with $3,800,000.41, Hartford with $3,013,702, New York Underwriters with $3,456,757, Aetna of Hartford for $3,125,502 and Liverpool and London and Globe for $3,721,258. Six companies paid upwards of two millions apiece, while an equal number exceeded one million.

PACKERS OPTIMISTIC

Sulzberger Confident New Meat Law Will Have Good Effect
By Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 28.—Ferdinand Sulzberger of New York, president of the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger Company, packers, who is visiting Kansas City, said last night: "The investigation of the packing houses and the publicity and adverse criticism that followed had a depressing effect on the business, but will be very short-lived. As soon as the new inspection law goes into effect the demand for meat will become larger than ever. American meats under the new inspection law are the best and choicest on the market, and all the old foreign trade and more, too, will come back."

STIRRING TIMES IN CUBA

Special to The Telegram.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 28.—The acting American minister fails to explain how everything could be quiet in Cuba and how there could be no news, when he states that the revolution is increasing. It is rumored, however, that two warships were offered by this government to be sent to Havana, but that Palma replied that they were not needed.

PLANS COMPLETE

St. Louis Alone Sends 250 Delegates "to Show" Missouri's Enthusiasm

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The town is filling up with Bryan weavers and other excursionists. From now until the day of the reception delegations from all over the country will be arriving almost hourly, and they will bring with them a lot of others. Attorney General M. A. Cunniffingham of Louisiana reported at the Victoria hotel headquarters yesterday that he expected a delegation of about twenty-five from New Orleans next Wednesday, and for whom he is looking up accommodations. The West Virginians have begun to decorate the Hotel Breslin, where they will have headquarters.

Bomb Victims Buried

An extraordinary conference, somewhat similar to that which created the committee of public security after the assassination of Alexander II, has been called to meet at Paterhof during the latter part of the week. The funeral of the victims of the bomb explosion Saturday last, at the residence of Premier Stolypin were held today under military escort.

Troops Ride Home

By Associated Press.
RIGA, Aug. 28.—The police and troops today surrounded the lodging house in Stollva street, where bombs had been discovered. The revolutionists inside fired with rifles from the windows on the attacking party and also threw a bomb, whereupon the troops riddled the house with bullets, killing and wounding all the occupants. Two men and two women were arrested. At another place in the suburbs a Lithuanian student was killed and several wounded while resisting arrest.

ESCAPE BURNING SHIP

Twenty-One Rescued from Death on Lake Huron Vessel
By Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 28.—Twenty-one persons, including the captain's wife and two little children, were rescued early today from the burning steamer Charles A. Eddy by the Detroit and Cleveland line steamer City of Hackinaw, off the port of Searles, in Lake Huron. All of them escaped unhurt and were brought to this city on the City of Hackinaw. The Eddy was destroyed.

COMER IN LEAD FOR GOVERNORSHIP

All Contests in Alabama Are Very Close
By Associated Press.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 28.—Further returns from yesterday's democratic primary held in this state indicate E. Comer's majority for governor will be about 15,000 and 20,000. The unusual length of the ballot impeded the counting of the votes greatly and as a consequence returns are slow coming. The result for lieutenant governor is in doubt, the fight being an open one between Gray, Meador, Hummel and Neal. The race for chief justice of the supreme court is close between Chief Justice Weakley and Associate Justice Tyson, with Weakley leading.

Other Offices

Erandon will probably be nominated for state auditor, Seed for treasurer, Julian for secretary of state, Gunnels for superintendent of education, and Garber for attorney general. The alternate senatorial race is between Johnston, Knox and Bankhead, with the chances favoring Bankhead and Johnston. The leading candidates for railroad commissioner seem to be Harris and Henderson.

Official Vote Determines

It requires the official vote to determine the result for lieutenant governor, alternate senatorships, railroad commissionerships and chief justice of the supreme court. Craig is nominated for congress in the Fourth district, Congressman Burnett in the Seventh and Underwood in the Ninth district is unopposed.

RICHEST BACH TO WED DIVORCEE

Rumor Connects Names of A. M. Smith and Mrs. Stewart

BY CHOLLY KNICKERBOCKER,
Special to The Telegram.
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—New York society is eagerly discussing a most interesting piece of news in connection with the receipt of the news that Mrs. Annie A. M. Stewart has secured her South Dakota divorce from W. K. Stewart.

It is no less than a fact that not a single divorcee soon will be led to the altar again by no less a person than James Henry, better known as "Silent James" A. M. Smith, the Chicago bachelor in America. Mr. Smith's fortune is estimated at not less than $5,000,000, and is believed to be double that figure.

He has a magnificent place here and for several years has been much speculated in who was to be the mistress of it.

The wise ones now are certain it will be Mrs. Stewart. It is recalled that when Mr. Smith purchased the old W. C. Whitney mansion at Fifth avenue and Sixty-seventh street and began to play a prominent part in the doings of the "40s," Mrs. Stewart aided him in many costly entertainments he gave. She managed his dinners and dances and her presence at the final separation of the Stewarts the bachelor and Mrs. Stewart were often together.

Mr. Twain is bought home
Mark Twain has bought the old Noah Sherwood home in West Redding, Conn., and will reconstruct the house at a cost of $200,000. The house is surrounded by 110 acres, and will be ready next June.

Hypnotized Butcher
Michael Resnick will be ready for the next man who attempts to hypnotize him when he gets out of the psychiatric ward in Bellevue. He is there as a result of his amazing experience with one Loney, a student of the neighborhood who was 2,000 years old, he nessed the antics, Loney met Resnick, who is a butcher, on the street, and told him he was 2,000 years old.

Resnick got down on all fours and played Pido to life.
"Now you are a monkey," said Loney, acting as the butcher to follow him. He led him through the hall of a tenement house to the back yard, and told him monkeys did not wear clothes.

Resnick disrobed and was then ordered to act as a monkey. The butcher, chattering like a monkey, leaped onto the pole and began to shy up, while neighbors crowded the roofs and windows and watched him. When he had gone up fifty feet he paused, awaiting further orders. Then someone shouted, "Here comes a cop," and Loney fled, leaving the butcher in the air.

The police had difficulty in getting him down and taking him to Bellevue.

FALL OUTLOOK FOR CATTLE

The cattlemen of Texas and the southwest are taking a very optimistic view of the fall and winter outlook. Several of the leading ranchmen of the state have been in Fort Worth during the past few days, and they all have the same cheering report of fat cattle and excellent range conditions. They say there is but one thing that spoils the generally rosy view and that is the low prices at all the leading markets. These low prices are having a tendency to prevent marketing the stuff that is now in fine shape to go out, there being such an abundance of grass that the owners feel it is better to hold them back and let them acquire more tallow. The stuff that is now being marketed in considerable quantities is in many instances pushed out by maturing obligations which the ranchmen are compelled to meet. Otherwise, there would be but little stuff going to market now when prices are generally so unsatisfactory.

A leading ranchman of the west Texas country spent several days here this week, and in discussing the general situation remarked that in all the long years of his experience in the cattle business he had never seen the range better or cattle in finer condition. He says the cattle are so fat that they are starting all the ticks in the country. His theory is that the ticks are compelled to have so much blood on which to exist, and the cattle now have so much tallow immediately under their hides that the ticks are unable to reach the blood supply and are slowly but surely starving to death. He says his section, which has heretofore been regarded as something of a tick center, is now shorter in its supply of that article than ever before within his recollection, and he believes another year like the present would virtually put the ticks out of business.

The outlook for the feeder trade is considered very good. It will be several weeks yet before this branch of the business will open up in good and proper shape, but the men who usually feed heavily in the state are already beginning to stir around and make some very cautious investigations. Texas has made a big feed crop this year and there is a world of roughness in the state that will have to be fed to be properly handled. The indications are that a great many cattle will be fed in the state this fall and winter. Last year the number fed was much shorter than usual owing to the high price of all kinds of feed. It is believed that the amount of forage now in sight in the shape of roughness is going to have an appreciable effect in keeping oil mill products down within the bounds of reason and if this is the case, there will be more cattle fed in Texas this season than for several years.

Out on the ranches in the western portion of the state there has been a big feed crop produced and saved this year, and between now and frost there will be another big crop made and saved. Experiments have been made in the matter of feeding stock on this rough feed during past years, and finishing them with a little of the imported feed product. These experiments have been so satisfactory that more of it will be done this fall and winter than ever before, and oil mills at Sweetwater, Colorado City and San Angelo will help greatly in this west Texas feeding business. The mill at Sweetwater has had all the cattle it could handle ever since it was established, and it is expected San Angelo and Colorado City will both develop into great feeding points.

Oklahoma cattlemen here during the week tell the same story of fine range and fat cattle as comes from every portion of Texas. They say their cattle are fat as butter and in fine shape for marketing, but there is no disposition to hurry them to market until prices show a decided disposition to improve. They also report an immense corn crop—the largest and best that country has ever produced—and express the opinion that a great many cattle will go on feed in that section. They take a very hopeful view of the situation, and believe the good times so long anticipated in the cattle business are now just about at hand.

Taking it all in all, it can safely be asserted that live stock conditions in Texas and the southwest were never more favorable than they are just at this time; and there is nothing to bring discomfort except the generally low prices that are prevailing at all the market centers. These low prices will no doubt continue until the run of grass stuff from the ranges is over, and it is calculated to grow worse instead of better if discretion is not exercised in the matter of marketing. A glutted market always puts the producer at the mercy of the buyer, and the stuff should be held back and shoved out in moderation.

ROOSEVELT IS STANDING PAT

The letter carefully prepared by President Roosevelt as a republican congressional campaign document and made public through its address to Congressman Watson of Indiana is a well written document, and is presumed to lay down the most important issues of the campaign. He gives Speaker Cannon the benefit of a full meed of praise, and says under his direction the house has accomplished a phenomenal amount of good work, and expresses the opinion that much more will be accomplished during the coming session. He emphasizes the necessity for organizing the Panama canal, the building up of the navy and the control of corporations, etc., receive close attention, and perhaps the most significant of the President's campaign document is what he says concerning the tariff. It is as follows:

"We stand unequivocally for a protective tariff, and we feel that the phenomenal industrial prosperity which we are now enjoying is not lightly to be jeopardized; for it would be to the last degree foolish to secure here and there a small benefit at the cost of general business depression. But whenever a general revision of the rates and schedules will be undertaken to the nation, because of the changes which go on from year to year in our conditions, and where it is feasible to change this rate or schedule without too much dislocation of the system, it will be done, while a general revision of the rates and schedules will be undertaken whenever it shall appear to the sober business sense of our people that on the whole the benefits to be derived from making such changes will outweigh the disadvantages; that is, when the revision will do more good than harm."

"Let me add one word of caution, however. The question of revising the tariff stands wholly apart from the question of dealing with the so-called trusts—that is, with the control of monopolies and with the supervision of great wealth in business, especially in corporations. The only way in which it is possible to deal with those trusts and monopolies and this great corporate wealth is by action along the lines of the laws enacted by the present congress and its immediate predecessors. The cry that the problem can be met by any changes in the tariff represents, whether consciously or unconsciously, an effort to divert public attention from the only method of taking effective action."

"We stand unequivocally for a protective tariff." Is a pretty bold declaration to be made in the face of pending dissatisfaction with the tariff measure, and while it may have the effect of holding the big manufacturing interests in line, it will certainly have the opposite effect on the consumer. There are millions of people in the United States who believe in the principles of free trade, and there are millions more who stand for reciprocity and liberal tariff revision.

The great trouble with the republican party is that it is so thoroughly committed to the principle of protection that its campaign promises of tariff revision are not received with much credence by the masses. The time when tariff revision can be accomplished without business disturbance in the eyes of the republican leaders never comes around, and the protected manufacturing interests continue to prosper at the expense of the tolling masses.

The common people of America can no longer be deceived by specious campaign promises. They know it will have to be accomplished through the instrumentality of a democratic congress.

It is for this reason that the outlook is considered unusually bright for democratic victories this fall in so many republican congressional districts.

RAILWAYS AGAINST NEPOTISM

Gradually it is dawning upon the heads of all the great business institutions of the country that the practice of nepotism is responsible for the filling of many responsible positions by incompetents, and there is a general disposition to call a halt in the procedure. The railways of the country are taking an interest in the matter, and are giving orders that nepotism must stop. Vice President and General Manager Leroy Trice of the International and Great Northern is the latest railway manager to put his foot down officially on nepotism.

A general order has been promulgated by Manager Trice, which is now in effect, prohibiting the employment of any relative by blood or marriage by the head of any department of the system. The order, however, will not prevent the relatives of the head of one department from being employed by heads of other departments where no relationship exists. It has the effect of placing each applicant for position in a situation where merit counts.

The new order has already resulted in a number of transfers. The clause allowing the retention of the relatives of heads of one department in some other department was adopted in order that some of the more efficient of the employees hampered by the relationship might continue in the service.

If the plan is adhered to along proper lines it ought to result in good both to the railway company and its subordinates. The various departments should no longer be left in the attitude of family spoils, with positions maintained for no other purpose but that of illegitimate gain.

This anti-nepotism order has been in effect on the Southern Pacific, the Aransas Pass and some other Texas lines now for several years and has given complete satisfaction, bringing the matter of the service up to a much higher state of efficiency.

THE TERRELL ELECTION LAW

If Judge Terrell still stands by his election law just as it is he ought to announce the fact, for everything seems to indicate that it has not a staunch friend in the whole state—Denison Herald.

Judge Terrell is out of politics and his election law should be relegated to the same position. One trial of that measure has aroused the people from one end to the other—Fort Worth Telegram.

Some months ago the Commercial took the position in the above and was roughly abused by The Telegram. That was when everybody was cheering the Terrell election law. It was popular then to denounce a man who went against a tidal wave of popular clamor. That was before it had been tested. In fact, The Telegram's candidate for governor, Judge C. K. Bell, the low man, expected to win the nomination through the infamous details of the Terrell election law. It is a fraud and a shame, a relic of barbarism and ought to be relegated to the scrap pile. The Commercial has always held this opinion. The Telegram has reformed—Georgetown Commercial.

The Telegram has done nothing of the kind, for there is no necessity for reformation. The Telegram has never been a champion of the Terrell election law, and has consistently opposed it from the very first, regarding it as a measure of an entirely too drastic nature.

The Telegram did object to the attempt made to engraft the blanket primary feature upon the law at the special session of the state legislature, but that objection was based wholly on the ground that such legislation would be illegal, on account of not having been embraced in the governor's call for the special session. If we remember correctly, the Commercial was an ardent advocate of the adoption of the blanket primary at that time, and may have received a gentle cabling down therefor at the hands of this paper. The Telegram does not abuse either men or measures.

The Telegram's candidate for governor did not expect to win the nomination through the provisions of the Terrell election law. He had a right to expect the nomination on account of his merit, ability and long faithful public service.

There are a whole lot of offices yet to be filled in the new state of Oklahoma, and there is a suggestion in the situation for the army of defeated in Texas. It is true men have been camping by the side of the Oklahoma prospects for years, but every man is presumed to have an even break in a new country.

Fort Worth could have raised the entire $30,000 for the new live stock building in connection with the fat stock show, but it was considered best to get the leading cattlemen directly interested. This was the idea of the interests backing the big project, and unquestionably there is wisdom in the idea.

The city council of Oklahoma City has passed an ordinance requiring the drivers of ice wagons to weigh the ice sold in the presence of the consumer, and failure to do so is punished by a fine of $100 or a term in the city jail. Here is suggestion for the Fort Worth city council.

So long as the people of the city take no interest in the bestowal of franchises asked for by various corporations, just so long will the referendum idea prove a farce and a delusion.

When Fort Worth goes after a thing she always makes a landing. The new fat stock show building is now a certainty.

Every franchise that Fort Worth has to bestow has a real and not a fancied value.

The fat stock show building and auditorium is one of the things Fort Worth cannot afford to pass up.

That Cuban revolution seems to be steadily growing. What is the matter with the Big Stick?

THE HINDSIGHT OF POLITICS

Judge Bell may have been correct when he said that "Governor S. W. T. Lammam is one of the grandest men in Texas," but it may not be impertinent in passing to state that Parker county, Governor Lammam's home, climbed up and took a comfortable seat in front of the Campbell's hump—Houston Post.

And the esteemed Post may have thought it was dealing in facts when it said Colquitt would certainly carry his home county, but that did not keep Kaufman county from declaring its fondness for babbling Brooks and placing itself squarely in the Brooks column. Political prognosticating is a very unsafe avocation.—Fort Worth Telegram.

There are some things which it is downright mean to refer to, no matter how they are. No man ought ever to refer to the fact that Parker county failed to endorse the defender of Lammam's administration, who also happened to be one of the counties ex-congressmen besides. And no man ought to refer to the manner Colquitt was repudiated in Kaufman, the county of his home. No lawyer in the "Second Supreme Judicial" can ever afford to even dream of what a close race A. M. Carter ran "your Uncle Isaac" in Parker county, where the children, the dogs and the male horses are supposed to be named after the Weatherford jurist, Judge Stephens—Graham Leader.

PROHIBITION VIEW OF HENDERSON

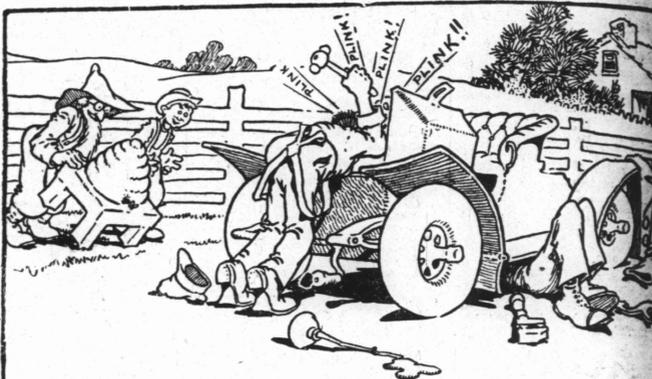

Judge Henderson will be re-nominated for his present position on the court of criminal appeals, and this is a fitting tribute to the thorough manner in which he has attended to the duties of his position.—Fort Worth Telegram.

One of the things that is hard to understand is the vote Judge Henderson received in some north Texas counties. No man in the state has done more than Judge Henderson to destroy the laws passed for the control or suppression of the liquor traffic. His decisions have been in favor of the brewers, the distillers and the barkeepers whenever there was even a pretext for such a decision. Yet in the face of this, counties in north Texas that favor the suppression of the liquor traffic gave Henderson a majority over a much abler man.—Bonham News.

"THY KINGDOM COME"

Our guide through one of these great breakers was Sidney Bolinsky. He is eighteen years old and has been working in the mines and breakers since he was twelve. He is a fair type of the fittest of those who survive the dwarfing effects of this environment. The meagerness of his life is the goal toward which the majority of the breaker-boys are hastening. He knew the meaning of "jigs" and "spires" and "bony." "Nip-in" and "spraggin" were familiar words, but this technical knowledge was the limit of his education. On his coat were two badges—one the picture of President John Mitchell, the other a small cross. He had seen the famous labor leader and adored him. The cross he "got off one of de sisters." Under Mr. Mitchell's picture were the words "Labor's Best Friend." On the cross was written "Thy Kingdom Come." He was absolutely unable to read either expression. When the words "Thy Kingdom Come" were read to him the blackness of his countenance betrayed his utter failure to comprehend their meaning. When he was told these words were a prayer that right and justice may come; that a man by honest labor may be able to feed and clothe his family; that every boy may learn to read and may not have to go into the breakers when he is ten or eleven years old, and that everybody may be kind to his neighbor—his slow eyes kindled, and he answered, "Is that it? That's what I want!"—Owen R. Lovejoy in the Woman's Home Companion for September.

VERIFIED THAT RING

A Fort Worth man has already organized what is claimed to be the first Taft club in the United States. The republican gentleman who is taking care of the mail matter in our neighboring city had better keep a sharp lookout on the political horizon and if the Taft clouds begin to gather put another nail or two in his job, and snuggle a little closer to the Hon. Cecil A., Denton News.

The Fort Worth man can be depended upon to develop ability to take care of himself. That is a characteristic possessed by the entire citizenship of this live and progressive city.

The defeat of William D. Williams for railroad commissioner is the one place in the state ticket where the people lost. In every other race the plain people were victorious and they would have been in this, but that they had so many interests to cover they relaxed a little bit of their energy here. Williams is a born reformer and made his race for the railroad commission on the proposition of reform. His defeat is the sore spot in the general victory, but it is the only one, and it will be healed next time.—Cleburn Enterprise.

Judge Williams has nothing to be ashamed of in connection with his campaign for railroad commissioner, and he has made friends who will see that history does not repeat itself.

There is now hardly any doubt in those who observe railway construction that the Texas and Pacific people are going to extend the Weatherford, Mineral Wells and Northwestern up Cedar creek in Stephens county, via Jean and on to the Clear Fork valley.—Graham Leader.

The Texas and Pacific people are going to extend the Mineral Wells road to Roswell, N. M., where it will connect with another Gould property building through New Mexico, and become another great trunk line to the Pacific coast.

There is food for thought in the platform of the democratic party of Texas. Study it over carefully and see if you cannot agree to all the policies set forth therein. It is the crystallization of the public sentiment of Texas. The next legislature will probably be impressed with the fact that platforms are not adopted merely as a pastime.—Brownwood Bulletin.

The Texas democratic platform is a very sensible document and represents the real sentiment of the people. The plank against trusts was brought in at the eleventh hour, after attention had been called to its omission, but the necessary correction was made and the platform received the proper finishing touches.

EXPLAINED

—On an ocean steamer, bound for Europe, one of the passengers came up deck when the boat was several days out with what unmistakably was a "black eye." "Hello, Robinson," exclaimed an acquaintance, "What's the matter with your eye?" "Matter with my eye?" repeated Robinson. "Nothing, I guess. Only a birthmark." "A birthmark! I hadn't noticed it." "Of course you hadn't. Only got it last night. I tumbled out of my berth."

"ROCK OF AGES"

"Rock of ages, cleft for me," "Thoughtlessly the maiden sung; Fell the words unconsciously From her girlish gleeful tongue; Sang as little children sing; Sang as sing the birds in June; Fell the words like light leaves down On the current of the tune—" "Rock of ages, cleft for me, Let me hide myself in thee."

"Let me hide myself in thee."— "Felt her soul no need to hide— Sweet the song as song could be, And she had no thought beside; All the words unheedingly Fell from lips unthought by care, Dreaming not that they might be, On some other lips a prayer—" "Rock of ages, cleft for me, Let me hide myself in thee."

"Rock of ages, cleft for me,"— "Twas a woman sung them now, Pleadingly and prayerfully, Every word her heart did know. Rose the song as stormtossed bird Beats with weary wings the air, Every note with sorrow stirred, Every syllable a prayer—" "Rock of ages, cleft for me, Let me hide myself in thee."

"Rock of ages, cleft for me,"— "Lips grown aged sing the hymn; Trustingly and tenderly, Voice grown weak and eyes grown dim "Let me hide myself in thee." Trembling though the voice and low, Ran the sweet strain peacefully, Like a river in its flow; Sang as only they can sing, Who life's thorny path has prest; Sang as only they can sing "Who behold the promised rest—" "Rock of ages, cleft for me, Let me hide myself in thee."

"Rock of ages, cleft for me,"— "Sung above a coffin lid; Underneath, all restfully, All life's joys and sorrows hid; Nevermore, O, storm-tossed soul; Nevermore from wind or tide, Nevermore from billow's roll, Will thou need thyself to feed. Could the sightless, sunken eyes, Closed beneath the soft gray hair, Could the mute and stiffened lips Move again in pleading prayer, Still, ay, still, the words would be—" "Let me hide myself in thee."

HOUSES TO RENT IN BIG DEMAND

Annual Search for Rooms Now Going on All Over City

"Have you got a house for rent? Don't say you haven't, for I have tramped all over the city and I'm just simply getting desperate."

This is a sample of hundreds of queries and the renter's tales that are handed the patient real estate man daily. The renting season is on in full blast and from now until Oct. 1 will be a rush for houses and the renter's notes will be busier than ever before in their lives.

In Fort Worth, by universal custom, the tenants notify their landlords on Aug. 15 of each year, whether or not they will keep the house in which they are living for another year. If they announce an intention of remaining, new notes are at once drawn up and the deal is closed for another twelve months. Should they decide not to remain then the agent at once posts the house for rent. Its former tenant begins a search for a new house and prospective tenants begin to tour the house and ask a million and three questions regarding it.

The demand for houses this fall will probably be heavier than ever before known. Some real estate firms report applicants to one house in the downtown property, convenient for business men, seems particularly in demand, also for residences further out. The demand for down town boarding houses is also greater this year than ever before. This is occasioned by the fact that Fort Worth has not enough hotels to care for her visitors, and to the further fact that many big residences formerly used for boarding houses have been turned into business houses and doctors' offices.

Most of the agents report the heaviest demand for residences that rent from $25 to $35 per month, but it is stated that prices asked for renting property are unprecedented. This is due to the fact that Fort Worth is a growing city and values are keeping pace with the forward growth.

And then, too, wherever there is a demand that exceeds the supply, prices naturally climb upward.

Most of the houses are remaining in their houses, and, comparatively speaking, there are not very many good houses to rent just at this period. As fast as they are posted, they are gobbled up quickly. Many new people are continually pouring into Fort Worth. Some of these have been brought here by reason of being unable to secure a desirable dwelling. All the while, however, they have been planning to go housekeeping, and after making their arrangements to furnish a home they are busy finding a location.

Suburban Sites in Demand

But down town property is not the only kind being sought after by the anxious renter. There are two classes of business men. Those who by necessity of their business have to be in the center of the city, and others who can arrange to have suburban homes, purer air and additional room afforded by less cramped quarters. Many houses are being rented in the suburbs and away from the noise of the business portion, but there are some flats on prices of same. However, quite a number of desirable apartment houses are being offered for quite reasonable money.

The demand for cheap flats is something enormous, real estate people having many calls daily. Many of the agents express the belief that such flat buildings, no matter how many flats they would contain, would prove a good investment for some one in Fort Worth.

All in all the renting season this year in Fort Worth promises to be the busiest ever experienced by local real estate men.

Fancy Matinee 5409

The fancy matinee is always in demand but especially so during the warm months when every form of negligee is much to be desired. This one is graceful, attractive and becoming and can be made either from plain material or from ribbon held by bands of insertion. As shown white lawn is simply trimmed with Valenciennes lace but both the Pompadour and striped ribbons make exceedingly charming effects and the model is so designed that they can be used with perfect success.

In addition to serving for the always needed breakfast jacket, the matinee becomes a most desirable garment for wear in one's own room and for the slipping on between the changes of toilette that so often occur.

The jacket is made with the fronts, backs and the sleeves and is simplicity itself, the fitting being accomplished by means of shoulder and underarm seams only.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 2 1/2 yards 21, 2 1/2 yards 27 or 1 1/2 yards 44 inches wide; or, 9 yards of ribbon 4 inches wide with 15 yards of insertion and 9 yards of edging.

The pattern 5409 is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40 inch bust measure.

WANT SIDEWALKS AROUND SCHOOLS

Members of Board to Learn Cost of Improvements

Financial ability on the part of the school board is always accompanied by improvement in the schools.

One of the latest phases of the desirable improvements which is taking definite shape is the matter of constructing sidewalks around all of the city school buildings, where they do not now exist.

Consideration should be and doubtless will be given to the necessities of the various cases. It is plainly apparent that there exists a greater need for sidewalks about the school grounds where the sites are in the black lands than where the grounds are rocky, as at or near the First and Second ward schools.

New school buildings are badly needed in both of those wards, and especially is that true of the First ward. That necessity may be recognized later and the required school house erected. And yet it is a fact that there is not that same urgency for the making of a sidewalk at No. 1 as there is at some of the other schools. Some of them are set in the midst of black land and, in one or two instances, straight black waxy land. When it rains a great deal of there is freezing weather followed by rain the surrounding grounds are a lake of, at times, semi-liquid and at all times very adhesive mud.

To Seek Proposals

About those grounds, it is the contention of the school board that there should be sidewalks and the committee on school houses and school property is instructed to ascertain the cost of laying such sidewalks. Mayor Harris as ex-officio chairman of the board, has suggested that the better plan will be to invite proposals for all of that kind of work which may be needed and by entering into a contract for all at the one time it is probable a better price and more advantageous terms for the city can be secured.

Then, if the board finds it can afford the cost, it will only be a matter of time. It is the judgment of some of the trustees that the work should be done before school begins, but that is impossible now. The best thing, they say, is to have it done as quickly as possible, if it is to be kind of covering for the grounds themselves. Members of the school board wish to encourage the idea of the growth of grass on the school grounds that may become lawns, but in practice it has been found that the children tramping over the grounds wears the grass down to the bare earth where the size of the school grounds is limited.

There is yet another motive in the desire of the school board to have the school grounds surrounded by sidewalks, and that is to invite proposals for the owners of the neighboring property to lay sidewalks along or around their own property and thus gradually extend the same kind of improvement until all of the city shares in the benefit.

The chairman of the board of school trustees will call a special meeting of the board as soon as the committee has any exact information or even data that will give a close approximation to the cost to report to the board.

DIED SUDDENLY OF HEART DISEASE.

How frequently does a head line similar to the above greet us in the newspapers. The rash, push and strenuousness of the American people has a strong tendency to lead up to valvular and other affections of the heart, attended by irregular action, palpitation, dizziness, smothered sensations and other distressing symptoms.

Three of the prominent ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made are recommended by some of the leading writers on Materia Medica for the cure of just such cases. Golden Seal root, for instance, is said by the United States Dispensatory, a standard authority, "to impart tone and increased power to the heart's action." Numerous other leading authorities represent Golden Seal as an unsurpassed tonic for the muscular system in general, and as the heart is almost wholly composed of muscular tissue, it naturally follows that it must be greatly strengthened by this superbly good tonic. Probably the most important ingredient of "Golden Medical Discovery," so far as its marvelous cures of valvular and other affections of the heart are concerned, is Stone root, or Collinsonia Can. Prof. Wm. Paine, author of Paine's Epitome of Medicine, says of it: "It not long since had a patient who was so much oppressed with valvular disease that he was obliged to carry him up-stairs. He, however, gradually recovered under the use of this medicinal principle extracted from Stone root, and is now attending to his usual avocations."

Physicians have long known of the remedy for the removal of so distressing and so dangerous a condition of the heart as ailerment, and it was not until recently that the world and the people were made aware of the fact that it was not following in the footsteps of Christ, Mr. Houser accepted the verdict and resigned his telephone and his place in the community are waiting to see who will be the next Dunkard to purchase telephone connection.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

MRS. CORDER'S CODE WORD

Natives in raiment of brilliant hues thronged the pier and there was much chattering and great confusion as Gordon Corder escorted his wife and child aboard the P. and O. mail steamer at Stenaghore. They were going to visit the old home in England. Corder hoped to follow in a year. It might be three. He was a junior partner of a large London firm and one of the shrewdest merchants in the town, but business had been dull. The full partnership for which he was working seemed far in the future.

"Be sure and telegraph the moment you reach London," Corder told her at the moment of parting.

"That I have arrived safely and my health."

"No, no, think of the cable talk," he said. "A code word that we will know tells your good health and your safe arrival. Just a word."

"Very well, let's make it Marienbad. I shall stop there on the way to London."

Next day the disconsolate Corder started for a three-week stay at a comfortable boarding house on the railroad and telegraph.

During his absence there came to his assistant at Stenaghore, from London, the message, "Patmos, Stenaghore, Marienbad."

Mrs. Corder had addressed it to the firm's cable address, but she had not seen the message. Finally, in a list of special code words, he found it. "Patmos" was the name of the definition.

Corder's orders to his assistant had been to make no special arrangements but such an order from the London headquarters was not to be ignored. In three days all the tin in the town along the coast had been bought for Corder.

"That individual on the way home from his vacation was started by the good business, for from the London tin. He ground his teeth and cursed his luck for being away at a time when there had been a tremendous bulge in tin. He ground his teeth and cursed his luck for being away at a time when there had been a tremendous bulge in tin. He ground his teeth and cursed his luck for being away at a time when there had been a tremendous bulge in tin."

"Excited business," exclaimed the tremendous tin. "I don't order to buy tin. I've got it all. Here is the message."

"Marienbad," read Gordon, and almost collapsed. "What would they think at headquarters of his action in starting a corner in tin without consultation?"

While he pondered there came a message from the firm. "Butterfish is the word. 'Rise in tin expected. Use discretion,' was the translation."

Brokers began to besiege him with offers to buy. The price kept soaring. Corder waited two days to give time for the carrying out of an apparent transaction and then cabled the firm that he had exercised his discretion by buying all the tin in sight.

While the size of the deal may have startled headquarters, it was, at least, satisfactory. Congratulations and, better still, a full partnership came in an answering cable to Corder.

He went home by the next mail steamer. Almost the first question his wife was asked was, "Did you get my message?"

"Yes, bless you, darling," he replied,

LA BELLE ELISIE

La Belle Elsie, she called her, but that was before Jean went blind and they moved from Paris into a small village in the country. She did not know. He was blind, and to him she was still La Belle Elsie, with rippling curls, eyes like the sun, and a smile that grew in the wheat, round from throat, dimpled arms and trim, slender figure.

But Jean was blind, and there were many things he did not know. How could he know when he was eating a savory ragout that his wife portioned out a crust of bread? How could he know that the terrible struggle for his comfort had sadly changed pretty Elsie?

One morning a letter came for Elsie. An old uncle had died and left her 5,000 francs. There was joy in the heart of the faithful little woman. Now Jean could have everything. What a glorious surprise it would be for him. She said to her friends, "The Duke of France, where the uncle had lived, leaving Jean in the care of good Mere Choppin."

"Two weeks later she returned, the little fortune in good gold of the republic in a little bag. On the outside of the bag, she had written, 'The Duke of France, where the uncle had lived, leaving Jean in the care of good Mere Choppin.'"

"Cured," she said, "cured. Then he will see this ugly face of mine. He will turn to me and say, 'La Belle Elsie.' And something seemed to clasp her heart in an icy grip."

But she turned and fringed towards the great chateau. As she approached she saw the doctor and Jean.

"And you can see plainly," the doctor was saying.

"Oh, the happiness of coming out of eleven years of darkness into this glorious day. But who is this woman?"

"I am your wife," she answered simply.

"My wife," said Jean with surprise. "But Belle Elsie had had blue eyes, golden hair, rounded, dimpled cheeks. He looked at the silencing hair, the dull eyes, the sunken cheeks, the dusty, shabby dress."

"No, no, my poor woman, you are mistaken. I do not know you," and he turned to walk away.

She watched him with dry, tearless eyes.

"Doctor," she cried in agony, "why did you do it. We were happy when he was blind, and now—he does not know me. His eyes have been opened. God, in his mercy, close mine."

With a moan of agony she fell at his feet. The gold from the open satchel was scattered over her dusty dress and tumbled hair. It was a mocking pall for La Belle Elsie.

GAVE UP CHURCH TO KEEP PHONE

Centropolis, Kas., is the center of a settlement of Dunkards of the non-progressive type. It is also the home town of John Brown, Miss Mary Landis, daughter of D. S. Landis, of the local weather bureau station, returned Saturday night from a visit at the home of her grandparents near Centropolis and she tells of an amusing incident which has just occurred at Centropolis so distant from the peacefulness of the community. John W. Houser is a prosperous farmer and faithful member of the Dunkard church. Mr. Houser is an old acquaintance of Mr. Landis, who taught school in the neighborhood years ago and had Mr. Houser's children for pupils. Mr. Houser concluded a short time ago to have a telephone placed in his house so that he might be more easily communicate with his friends and neighbors. Telephones are as common among the farmers of Kansas now as they are in many towns, and Mr. Houser thought that the line should not run past his farm and he have no connection. But his opinion regarding the propriety of telephones were not the opinions of his brother, Dumkards, for when the elders of the church learned what Brother Houser had done they solemnly shook their heads and began to counsel together over his spiritual condition. They were shocked to think that a member of the church should do such a thing as connect the line of the devil and place one in his own home to pollute it. A meeting of the membership was speedily called and it was decided to allow Mr. Houser to repent or undergo a church trial. The farmer could not see the evil of the "phone" consequently he was brought up for trial and after lengthy deliberations the verdict of expulsion was announced. The verdict stated that he was having his telephone and his place in the community are waiting to see who will be the next Dunkard to purchase telephone connection.

Plaintiff will show to the court that he and defendant were lawfully married in the year 1888, in the city of Fort Worth, Tarrant county, Texas, and lived together as husband and wife until the 1st day of January, 1901, when the defendant left the plaintiff and removed with all her property and effects to the state of Tennessee, and that he has never seen her since she left; plaintiff represents to the court that during the time they lived together as husband and wife he always treated her well and kindly, cared for her properly in all things, cared for her well and was truly devoted to her at all times; but a long time before defendant left plaintiff she showed that she had no affection for him.

The House of a Thousand Camoules

By MEREDITH NICHOLSON
Author of "The Main Chance," etc.
The Bobbly-Merrill Co.

Synopsis of Previous Instalments

John Glenarm, a roving young engineer, is visited an estate near Annandale, Ind., by his grandfather, on condition that he live there a year, else it will revert to Marian Devereux of New York, niece of the elder Glenarm's friend. Young Glenarm, returning to New York from Africa, is informed of the terms of his grandfather's arrival, a halloo, whizzing by his former schoolmate, whom he greatly dislikes.

He accepts the term of his grandfather's will and, by his grandfather's accident, accidentally meeting his chum, Laura Donovan. The two dine at Sherry's, and see there Pickering, accompanied by a young woman whose face impresses Glenarm.

While Glenarm is seated in his grandfather's house, the first evening of his arrival, a halloo, whizzing by his head and flattens itself against the wall.

He searches for the person who fired the shot, but is foiled and returns to the house.

My spirits quickly responded to the cheering influence of the great library. I stirred the fire on the hearth into life and sat down before it, tired from my tramp. I was mystified and perplexed by the incident that had already marked my coming. It was possible, to be sure, that the bullet which narrowly missed my head in the little dining room had been a wild shot that carried no evil intent. I dismissed at once the idea that it might have been fired from the lake; it had crashed through the glass with too much force to have come so far, and, moreover, I could hardly imagine even a rifle ball's finding an unimpeded right of way through a dense strip of wood.

I found it difficult to get rid of the idea that some one had taken a pot-shot at me.

The woman's mocking voice from the lake added to my perplexity. It was not, I reflected, such a voice as one might expect to hear from a country girl, nor could I imagine any errand that would excuse a woman's presence aboard on an October night whose cool air inspired first confidences with fire and lamp. There was something haunting in that last cry across the water; it kept repeating itself over and over in my ears. It was a voice of quality, of meaning and charm.

"Good night, merry gentlemen!"

In Indiana, I reflected, rustics, young or old, men or women, were probably not greatly given to salutations of just this temper.

Bates now appeared. "Beg pardon, sir, but your room's ready whenever you wish to retire."

I looked about in search of a clock. "There are no timepieces in the house, Mr. Glenarm. Your grandfather was quite opposed to them. He had a theory, sir, that they were conducive, as he said, to idleness. He considered that a man should work by his own science, sir, and not by the clock—the one being more exacting than the other."

I smiled as I drew out my watch— as much as Bates' solemn tones and grim lean visage as at his quotation from my grandfathers. But this fellow puzzled and annoyed me. His unobtrusive black clothes, his smoothly-brushed hair, his shaven face, awakened an antagonism in me.

"Bates, if you didn't fire that shot through the window, who did—will you answer me that?"

"Yes, sir, if I didn't do it, it's quite a large question who did. I'll grant you that, sir."

I stared at him. He met my gaze directly without flinching or fear. He gave nothing insolent in his tone or attitude. He continued:

"I didn't do it, sir. I was in the pantry when I heard the crash in the room."

Plenty of Moisture for Remainder of Season

Captain William Gibbons of Brownwood has been in the city on business relative to his stock interests. "We have all the grass that we can handle for the rest of the year down with us," said he, "and if the market won't respond to our stock and pay our prices we are in condition to keep them on the ranches. With a little good grassy weather next month the situation will be all right. It beats that hay for wintering cattle on. I have been in Texas since 1871 and have had a lot to do with catties and range conditions, but this year takes the whole cheese. Of course, we had a little drought in the early summer and things began to look blue for a while, but as usual, Texas fooled all the kickers and came out with flying colors. All our stock is in shape and we can market some good fat stuff whenever buyers come to the conclusion that they have held off long enough."

How Much "Dead Wood" Have You in Your Advertising?

The "dead wood"—unprofitable mediums—in lists used by advertisers who have transferred their accounts to Lord & Thomas in the past year, has proved to be as high as 33 per cent in the light of the Lord & Thomas Record of Results.

THIS 33 per cent of "dead wood" was counter-acting or offsetting profitable results from another 33 per cent of the list, leaving the campaign limping along on the remaining 34 per cent of publications.

Even so, in many cases, the advertising had been considered successful.

But WE do not consider an advertising campaign successful until it has reached the greatest possible measure of success.

We do not consider a list of advertising mediums safe to use for our clients until each publication has been "MEASURED" by the actual results tabulated in the Lord & Thomas Record of Results.

This Record of Results is a compilation of weekly confidential reports on returns from all good newspapers and other media sent us by those of our clients who have a direct check on their advertising.

By comparing what each medium IS accomplishing, we can foretell what it WILL accomplish on similar propositions.

So you see we have practically eliminated the element of chance in advertising, by making it unnecessary to experiment (with consequent waste) in questionable copy and mediums.

We ask an opportunity to explain to you, personally, and in detail, what the Largest Advertising Agency in America—with all its experience—is ready to do to earn advertising success for you, rather than to win it on a speculation with your money.

One of our representatives is in your city every few days looking after the interests of some of our present clients. That is why we are advertising in this newspaper—to you—NOW. Will you write, granting us an interview in your office?

Your letter will not obligate you in any way.

We are issuing a series of small books (cloth bound) covering advertising in all its phases, which we send free to interested advertisers.

Sunday School Superintendents Discuss Census Plans

The subject for discussion at the monthly meeting of the Sunday School Superintendents' Union of the City Sunday afternoon was, "A Sunday School Census of the City and How to Take It."

The meeting was held at the First Baptist church, a full attendance of members being recorded. H. B. Cerveny, president of the union, presided over the meeting.

It is desired to move one of the switches on Rusk street further north and change the location of the switch at the Belknap street market, to near Belknap and Throckmorton, but on Throckmorton street. That suggests change in the location of the switch at that point.

Other switches will be required outside of the corporation limits, to work the cars the way the company contemplates.

The line has simply outgrown its business and to take care of that business it is necessary to run the cars on a shorter schedule. The cars shall run on a twelve-minute schedule and the demands of the patrons of the line make it imperative that the cars shall run about twice as often.

ROSEN LINE TO BUILD SWITCHES

Growth of Business Necessitates Additional Tracks

The Rosen Heights Street Car Company has in contemplation some important improvements, which will greatly aid the company in the operation of the line, and yet the improvements are slight as to extent and cost. When the line was built there was but little business, its construction was financially a venture any way and all reasonable economy was used in the building of the line.

There are times when the use of "double-headers" is necessary, that is two cars are run on the same schedule as the schedule of a single car. At the short switches, when that is done, the cars have to see-saw around one another and if they are crowded, as they are at times, then it is necessary to make those who may be standing on the sidewalks of the street to take steps, get off at the switches and walk around the other cars, to avoid the possibility of accidents.

Recently when the Traction Company broke down, about 5 o'clock or so in the evening and there was the crowd of people to be moved in the stock yards or North Fort Worth, there were delays at the switches and at the one on Throckmorton street near Fifth street, it was deemed prudent to adopt the extreme precaution of having all of the passengers who were not safely inside of the cars get off until the cars had passed. That has been done at other switches also. That service may be improved generally and that such announcements as the one just specified may be omitted the Rosen Heights line wishes to put in some new switches and will do so as quickly as possible.

The switch on Throckmorton street is to be lengthened, and the city be that the south end of the switch will be extended to about Seventh street, or in other words, the switch will be made 200 or 300 feet long.

It is desired to move one of the switches on Rusk street further north and change the location of the switch at the Belknap street market, to near Belknap and Throckmorton, but on Throckmorton street. That suggests change in the location of the switch at that point.

Other switches will be required outside of the corporation limits, to work the cars the way the company contemplates.

The line has simply outgrown its business and to take care of that business it is necessary to run the cars on a shorter schedule. The cars shall run on a twelve-minute schedule and the demands of the patrons of the line make it imperative that the cars shall run about twice as often.

THREE FRANCHISES TO BE VOTED NEXT SATURDAY

W. O. Allen and Associates and Northern Texas Traction Company Ask Privilege to Build on Twenty-four City Streets—Two Routes Penetrate South Side Residence District

NEXT Saturday, being the first day of the month of September, and all of the legal requirements having been then complied with, the qualified voters, under the referendum clause of the city charter, provided for such purposes, will be called on to vote on the applications of the Northern Texas Traction Company and the W. O. Allen and Associates, commonly known as the Arlington Heights street car line, for the grant of certain franchises which will give to the two corporations the use of twenty-four of the city streets if a majority of the votes cast at the said election favor the applications.

Arlington Heights Franchise

After some general provisions always used in similar applications the route over which the grants are asked are named, as will be found later.

Section 5 provides for a life of twenty-five years for the franchise. Section 7 provides that the companies, W. O. Allen and Associates being so regarded in this article shall have three months from the date of publication of the proclamation by the city council of the adoption of this ordinance in which to begin the construction of said street car line, and six months from the date of said publication in which to finish and equip said road and commence the operation of same.

No provision is made for the city imposing any charge for the use of the streets asked for nor is there any reserved right to hereafter impose such a charge.

Some agitation has been had on the question of whether or not the city shall or shall not the use of the streets asked for in the several applications.

Those there are who contend that it is but right that it should be done, and therefore, they say, the only way to get the streets, all the regulations and let the matter hold over until such time as the city charter is amended to provide for the franchise tax or the applications come before the people in such amended form that the consent of the applicants is given to the principle of compensation to the city for the grant of a valuable easement.

Those opposed to this idea, not essentially to the principle, but to its application to the pending franchise applications, contend that there is by the gift of rights asked for a reasonable certainty of street railways being built where they are now needed, and relief afforded to many who, because of the places of their residence, suffer in the spirit and the flesh when they have to go to their places of employment through mud and dust when they go from home to work; that outlying property now scarcely on the market will be brought into the market for improvement, instead of merely, as some of it is now, being held on speculation.

Those who are talking on the subject Monday held that the city could well afford to pay a franchise tax to the companies which will build, rather than exact a tax of them, for the building of the lines mean the development of the outlying or suburban property, and the city will receive a benefit made to the taxable values of the city as in themselves amounted to a substantial franchise tax.

On the other side, it is again argued, the grant to the street car companies is one of value, as witness the eagerness with which they are sought.

They have the use of the streets, at times to the detriment of others entitled to the same almost, in many instances, amounting to a monopoly of the use of the street. That is applicable to narrow streets or where there is a turn-out or side street, or where rival car lines have even single tracks on the street.

For the use of the street, it is contended, they should pay more than they do when they pay the part of the cost of laying or maintaining the street. Because some believe this latter position is well taken they will give the gift of rights asked for.

Repeating information several times given that the citizens may have a full understanding of the rights of the applicants, the routes as stated in the advertisements of the applications are again printed:

Arlington Line Route

W. O. Allen's application reads, as to the route over which he asks for the right-of-way:

Commencing on Texas street in said ward of Fort Worth at, in many instances, amounting to a monopoly of the use of the street. That is applicable to narrow streets or where there is a turn-out or side street, or where rival car lines have even single tracks on the street.

For the use of the street, it is contended, they should pay more than they do when they pay the part of the cost of laying or maintaining the street. Because some believe this latter position is well taken they will give the gift of rights asked for.

AMUSEMENTS

All records for Monday night's attendance were broken at the Palace rink, Lake Erie, last night. The occasion was "mad" night, and the big skating floor was literally packed. The cool weather drew out Fort Worth's best skaters, and the rink presented a beautiful sight, with the many-colored costumes of the ladies.

Another new feature at Lake Erie is the "Frees" on the slides. This has been opened free to all, and they may enjoy the pleasures of a swift, cooling slide free of charge on any night.

Broom Polo

The game that is causing so much interest to the skating public at the Madison Square Garden, New York city, will be played for the second time at the Fort Worth rink tonight. This is the first game of a series of three games, and the large and enthusiastic crowd that witnessed the last game is eager to know when the next game will be held, which will be tonight. Fort Worth rink, corner Third and Rusk streets.

DIRTY ALLEYS MUST BE CLEANED

Orders Issued to All Sanitary Officers of City

Orders have been issued to all of the sanitary officers, to see that the alleys of the city are cleaned up regularly, and kept clean.

The general condition of the alleys in the business parts of the city, as a rule, is unsightly rather than unsanitary. It is true, that the rust from the stores is swept into the alleys, and the trash and empty packing cases of barrels, etc., are placed in the alleys, but that merely detracts from the appearance and does not affect the healthfulness of the community.

It is suggested that there is but one way to keep the surroundings of the business part of the city sanitary and that is to provide for the daily removal of the trash accumulated or at least, where that is not necessary, to provide for the removal as frequently as may be proper. That can be done, for there are those who are willing to make the alleys clean, which will provide for the removal as often as may be necessary.

In all large cities provision is made for the daily collection of refuse and trash. It is not to be expected that Fort Worth has attained that dignity, but some improvement can be made on the once-a-week collection of trash, without a burdensome cost to those who have to pay the bills.

It is suggested that the city health officer will make a campaign for clean alleys.

FREE MATINEE GIVEN SATURDAY

Date is Changed Because of Woodmen's Picnic

Conflict in the date of the Woodmen of the World's picnic at the White City, Rosen Heights, has compelled a change in the date of The Telegram's free matinee at the White Rose theater, which originally was announced for Thursday afternoon, Aug. 26.

By this Manager Schwartz has generously consented to change the date of the matinee to Saturday afternoon, but some improvement can be made on the once-a-week collection of trash, without a burdensome cost to those who have to pay the bills.

The Hollingsworth twins have been filling the White Rose theater all week and are making a great hit among Rosen Heights patrons.

GROWTH OF STOCK INDUSTRY SHOWN

Census Bulletin Gives Figures for Texas

Growth of the live stock and packing industry in Texas as evidenced by an increase of more than $11,000,000 in value of products is shown by a recent government census bulletin, mention of which was made in Monday's Telegram.

Slaughtering and Meat Packing Stock raising has long constituted one of the important factors in the growth of Texas, but up to the census of 1905 the slaughtering and meat packing industry was relatively unimportant. In 1905, however, it was one of the leading manufacturing industries, and its increase was more marked than that of any of the twelve principal industries of the state. It ranked sixth in 1900 and fourth in 1905. The number of establishments reporting in 1905 was smaller by three, there were increases of $5,142,476, or more than fourfold in capital, and $11,716,440, or about threefold, in value of products. The average number of wage earners increased 1,603, and the number of employees, or nearly fourfold in each instance.

The cost of beefs slaughtered caused them to be the most important in 1905, the number for that year being an increase of 260,920, or more than tenfold over the number reported at the census of 1900. The increase in importance in 1900, but second in 1905, increased 138,770, or 66.6 per cent, in the number slaughtered. The number of sheep slaughtered increased over sixfold, and the number of calves elevenfold.

The total value of the products increased from $3,904,491 in 1900 to $15,620,932 in 1905. There was a remarkable increase in both the quantity and value of beef products, the quantity having increased over eightfold and the value more than sevenfold. Every class of pork products increased between 1900 and 1905, and the most important of these products in 1905, increased $2,432,371 in value, or more than eightfold.

Other important industries, showing marked increases, were sugar and molasses refining, cotton goods, brick and tile making and men's clothing.

Figures for Texas Cities.

A table of summary for sixteen cities in Texas having a population by the census of 1900 of over 8,000, contains the following figures:
