So persistent have the reports about such a junta become, Tobias Guniga, who was temporarily exiled from Costa Rica about a year ago after being defeated as a lidate for president, today took occasion to deny publicly that he has any connection with the alleged revolutionary movement. His name has been connected with the reports because he is on the point of going to the bluefields in Nicaragua.

Missouri Avenue Residence the Scene of Plucky Battle-He Fails to Get Plunder

Miss Annie Russell is the heroine of the neighborhood in the vicinity of 314 Missouri avenue because of the plucky, although unsuccessful battle she had with a negro burglar in her room early Wednesday.

Miss Russell lives at the home of her sister, Mrs. L. E. Little, at the Missouri avenue address. At the same house there are a number of roomers, including four men and three women. For convenience of the roomers the front door of the Little home is not locked at night and the screen door is merely latched.

Through this screen door a negro burglar easily entered the house at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. He first went into one of the rooms downstairs occupied by three women. His clumsy efforts to find valuables awakened one-and she called to her sister who slep in an adjoining bed. The burglar was frightened and he hurried out of the room. Thinking ha had left the house, the woman who had called did not give any other alarm and soon fell asleep. Instead of leaving the house the negro stood in the hall until he thought it safe, and then he entered the room occupied by Miss Russell, her sister, and a daughter of Mrs. Little, directly across from the room he had first en-

The negro was so frightened he succeeded in jerking his hand away, but he ran out of the room with the quilt over his head. In the hall, he managed to free himself of its folds, and from there ran out into the street.

Before entering the house, he had propped the screen door open with a settee and so assured an easy exit. By the time the men upstairs awakened by Miss Russell's call, got down into the hall and to the street, the negro could not be seen. Police were notified.

It was discovered later that the negro had secured no valuables while in the house. He is described by Miss Russell as short, wearing a dark suit of clothes, bare-headed, and probably not more than 17 years old.

Senator Hurls His Defiance at

Audience and Disorder Reigns Supreme

BOISE, Sept. 5.-The so-called policy of the administration in setting aside large areas in the west for forest reserves," was the subject which precipitated an acrimonious and at times sensational debate at last night's session of the irrigation congress.

Clifford Pinchott, chief of the bureau of forestry, stated that the policy of President Roosevelt was "to give every part of the public lands their very best use." These reserves to a certain extent control the stock business of the west, he said, for the chief summer range is in the reserves. The stockmen could not be kept off entirely at the demand of the irrigationists, he said, neither could the service let them have free run of the reserves.

Attacks Roosevelt

The speaker stated that some reserves were practically without trees and one in Kansas was without a single tree-facts which had been the subject of much criticism-but it was the purpose to put trees there. Senator Heyburn was called to the platform and immediately launched a bitter attack on the administration's forestry policy.

The people were told what was the heory of the administration, he said, but the administration had no right to have any policy except as stated in the statutes. The administration told the people "what we will give you." No one, he said, authorized the administration to give the people anything. The people were sovereign. "Policy," said the Idaho senator, "belongs to monarchs and kingdoms and not to Senator Heyburn said he did not question the President's motives, but that the President had been misled by bad and not disinterested advisers.

When Senator Heyburn asserted with much vehemence that Mr. Pinchott's theory about forests subserving moisture was all nonse, there were cries of "No, no, no," and in all parts of the house there was hissing. Defies Hearers

VERDICT GIVEN FOR $94.25

Partners Declare Money Was Borrowed

to Cover Side Bet Over Amount of Chips Involved

That a poker game had been in regular operation in Fort Worth for several months until at least June of this year, was the interesting evidence presented by Fred Jones and his partner named Collins, during the progress of a civil suit in Justice C. T. Rowland's court Wednesday morning. Jones and Collins said the game had been running at their place of business over a Chinese restaurant.

The testimony was given in a suit brought against J. A. Minor by Fred Minor adjudged by Justice Charles

T. Rowland Wednesday morning to pay Jones $94.25 and costs. Minor, according to the testimony, contested the payment of the $94.25 on the ground that it was a gambling debt, the money, it was claimed, having been lost in a poker game over a Chinese restaurant in Main street. Jones sued Minor for the amount and garnisheed $220 in the hands of the

L. B. Price Mercantile company, said company answering that they were due J A. Minor that amount of money. Minor claimed that the $94.25 was money due Jones for poker chips, which he had bought from said Jones while sitting in a game of poker in a gambling room conducted by Jones, on one 5, and the defense was that the debt was illegal and could not be collected under the law. Jones and his partner Collins were put on the stand and both testified that the money was not due for poker chips, but that it was due for money loaned Minor to pay what he had lost to another man, who sat in the game with him. Both Jones and Collins testifled that Minor had been a regular player at their place for several months and frequently bought chips on credit, but that the money for which this suit was brought was not for chips, but for money borrowed to pay what Minor had lost to another man in the game over and above the chips he put up in betting on his hand. Judgment was given Jones for the full amount sued on.

CITY GETS COAL AT $1.15 A TON

Contract for 1906-07 Supply Is Unusually Favorable

The city of Fort Worth has one of the best contracts for the supply of coal for the use of the water works and electric lighting plants that it has ever had, if not the very best it ever had. The contract is for a year and is with the Dow Coal Company of South McAlester, I. T., a concern which has a number of branch offices in Texas.

The contract agrees to deliver to the city for the water works not less thanfive nor more than twelve carloads of coal a week at the price of $1.15 per ton. This direct contract with the mines saves to the city about $4 per car, and is one of the results of the direct contract with the mines, for the profit of the middleman, the agent's commission, is saved.

Additionally, the company agrees that if there is a reduction in the price of coal at the mines the city shall have the benefit, while on the contrary, if there is a mine advance the city is to still be protected in the contract price, and this latter is one of the most favorable features of the contract, apart from the low price of the coal. The coal is slack, but it is slack which has been run through a screen with an inch and one-eighth mesh, so it is really small nut coal. The quality is the average McAlester coal. When the strike was impending, a few months ago, the Dow Coal Company, which was then supplying the city with coal, shipped in as many carloads of coal as tided the city over the time of the strike say about 200 loads, and thus the city was not compelled to go to the expense of buying coal in the open market, as it might be forced to do at the then prevailing and of course much higher price. The former price for this same coal, before the strike, was $1.10 per ton and the advance is due to the increase

Attendance for First Day of College Breaks Record

The auditorium at Polytechnic College was crowded to the limit Wednesday morning by students and friends of the institution who went to attend and opening program. Nearly twelve hundred people were in attendance, making probably the largest crowd which has ever gathered in the college auditorium. The speakers of the morning. Dr. Je.rome Duncan of Hillsboro and Dr. R. S. Hyer, regent of Southwestern University, were at their best. Dr. Duncan spoke on the subject of "Christian Education." He showed the students the advantages which come from an education in a Christian cellege and pointed out to them the ways by which their college life might be made fruitful of great results. Dr. Hver spoke from no set subject, but gave one of his popular talks to the students, Rev. J. G. Putnam of Waco delivered the invocation. The enroliment of students continued, and by the time the offices are closed tonight the record during the day will have been broken for the first two days on enrollment. All dormitory room on the campus is taken, but plenty of rooms are provided by residents of Polytechnic Heights. Students will continue to come in for several days. All members of the faculty are on hand and class work will begin tomorrow morn-

University Open Sept. 11 The Fort Worth University will open Sept. 11, although the formal opening will not occur until Sept. 12. The speakers of the occasion will be City Superintendent Williams, Dr. Chase of the medical department of the university, and O. S. Lattimore. The new members of the faculty, including the teachers of elocution and physical culture and new preceptress and commandant, are due to arrive this week. The dormitories and the dining department will be open by Monday next. It is expected that the pupils will begin to arrive toward the close of the present week. The medical department of the university will open Oct. 2, at which time the lecture rooms of the new building will be ready for occupancy. It is probable that a great portion of the structure will not be ready for occupancy at that time, but this will not interfere with the work.

The enrollment last year was larger than at any other medical institution in the state, and the enrollment this year is expected to be still larger.

Plans for Annual Meeting Will Be Dis-The monthly meeting of the Factory

FACTORY CLUB TO MEET

Club directorate will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the office of A. N. Evans, secretary. At this meeting the time for the annual meeting, which all members are expected to attend, will be decided. Parties were in the city yesterday looking with Secretary Evans for a house available for use by a wholesale butchers and barbers' supply house. They had given Mr. Evans assurance that if a suitable house could be found this would be made a distributing point. The site for the location of a glass factory was practically decided on Tuesday by Mr. Evans and William Linden, representing the glass makers. It is the ground formerly occupied by the Armstrong Shoe and Leather Company and lies just outside the city limits of North Fort Worth to the northeast. It is adjacent to the crossing of the Denver and the Cotton Belt roads. There is a large building on the site, which is now used by the Panther City Creamery Company. Much of the material in this building could be used in the construction of rough buildings for the glass plant. Another advantage in this site is its proximity to the source of sand which the company would probably use. - The purchase price will be $8,500 for this ground and improvements.

MAJESTIC LIST PARTLY READY

Very Few of First Season's Offerings to Be Repeated

Partial list of bookings for the Majestic theater in Fort Worth have been received from E. F. Carruthers, general manager of the Interstate Amusement Company. As first told in The Telegram, the Majestic opens the 1906-07 season in Fort- Worth Oct. 8. Bookinsg for the year are sent from the office of the Western Vaudeville Managers' Association, which controls bookings for from one to four theaters in each of the following cities: Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Indianapo. lis, Louisville, Memphis, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Minneapolis, New Orleans, Omaha, Kansas City, Denver, St. Paul, Salt Lake City, Winnipeg, Hot Springs, Birmingham, Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Little Rock and Evansville, Ind. Announcement of the manager for the Majestic this season has not yet been made. Some insight as to the scope attained by the vaudeville stage in the United States may be gained from the announcements that in this year's bookings the only attractions here last year which will be returned are Pete Baker, monologist: Mr. and Mrs. Kelcey: Myles McCarthy and Jane Courthope and company. It may be further stated, although not officially, that the list of attractions now handled by the Interstate Amusement Company is so large that it requires three years for each one to make the circuit, assuring complete yearly changes of bills for at least the next two years. When it is remembered that on the so-called legitimate stage as many as 70 per cent of the attractions are returned each year, an idea of the vast army of vaudeville performers can be gained.

Some of the New Ones Here are some of the strongest of the new attractions for this season at the Majestic:

Francillias, strong man, who lifts with one hand an automobile while it is being driven by a woman chauffeur. Bedouin Arab acrobats, a feature first seen last year in this country at the New York Hippodrome. Madame Slapoffski, the most famous singer who has ever gone on the vaude-

John Glenarm, a roving young enneer, is willed an estate near Annandale, Ind., by his grandfather, on condition that he live there a year, else it will revert to Marian Devereux of New York, niece of the elder Glenarm's friend. I saw nothing of Morgan—he had gone to Chicago on some errand, so Bates reported-but I continued to walk abroad every day, and often at night, alert for a reopening of hostilities. Twice I had seen the red tam-o'-shanter far through the wood, and once I had passed my young acquaintance with another girl, a dark, laughing youngster, walking in the highway, and she had bowed to me coldly. Even the ghost in the wall proved inconstant, but I had twice heard the steps without being able to account for

Memory kept plucking my sleeve with reminders of my grandfather. I was touched at finding constantly his marginal notes in the books he had collected with so much intelligence and loving care. It occurred to me that some memorial, a tablet attached to the outerwall, or perhaps, more properly placed in the chapel, would e fitting; and I experimented with designs for it, covering many sheets of drawing paper in an effort to set forth in a few words some hint of his character. On this gray morning I pro-

Bates had not mentioned Morgan or referred even remotely to the pistol shot of my first night, and he had certainly conducted himself as a model servant. I had given no thought to Sister Theresa since coming to Glenarm. She had derived her knowledge of me from my grandfather, and, such being the case, she would naturally look upon me as a blackguard and a menace to the peace of the neighborhood. I had. therefore, kept rigidly to my own side of the stone wall. A suspicion crossed my mind, marshaling a host of doubts ment; but the house was bare and and questions that had lurked there since my first night at Glenarm,

I went back to the library and planned a cathedral in seven styles of architecture, all unrelated and impossible and when this began to bore me I designed a crypt in which the wicked should be buried standing on their heads and only the very good might lie and sleep in peace. These diversions and several black cigars won me to a more amiable mood. I felt better, on the whole, for having announced myself to the delectable Bates, who gave me for luncheon a brace of quails, done in a manner that stripped criticism of all weapons. We did not exchange a word, and after knocking about in the library for several hours I went out for a tramp. Winter had indeed come and possessed the earth, and it had given me a new landscape. The snow continued to fall in great, heavy flakes and the ground was whitening fast.

Promoting Plan to Increase Texas Population have for its purpose the securing of a population of 5,000,000 for the state of Texas by the census of 1910 is now being urged by John H. Kirby, the wellknown lumberman and capitalist. Outline of the plan is given in a letter which Mr. Kirby has written to G. A. Levi, a banker of Victoria, as follows:

Dear Sir-Now that the heat and insanity of the primary election is behind us and we have opportunity to consider ways and means of advancing the material interest of our great commonwealth, let us take up for consideration a program to be acted upon at the reunion of our Chicago bunca proposed for Dallas during the State

What we need in Texas we can get by hustling for it, but not otherwise.

I have been discussing the matter with some home friends and with some active brains outside the state. I wish, therefore, to suggest that when we meet in Dallas we organize the Texas 5,000,000 Club, the object of the club being to show a population of 5,-000,000 in the census of 1910 and also to show that thrift, activity, commercial progress and material advancement which can nownere be so successfully achieved or so luxuriously enjoyed as within the limits of our great state. The club should be regularly chartered under the laws of the state, and the meeting of our party at Dallas at the time indicated will be an opportune occasion for launching the enterprise. We can there fix the membership fees, dues, basis of membership, plan of organization and provide for the executive and business management.

To make the plan a success we shall be compelled to advertise. I have been looking over a plan suggested by Geo. L. Rockwall and I think it ideal. We cannot only get the plan, but the man, if we place the proper organization be-

If we place the Texas 5.000,000 Club in the field advertising our resources not only in the cities of the north and west, but at all the state and county fairs, in an appropriate manner, and we are organized at home for the purpose of taking care of the men and the money which come to us through such advertisement, we will easily have a population of 5,000,000 in 1910.

The efforts of the club can be rounded out in, say, 1911, with a great local fair, to be called the Texas Diamond Jubilee, being the seventy-fifth anniversary of the independence of Texas. We can hold this at some suitable place in the state, advertise it throughout the north, east and west and bring thousands upon thousands of visitors and homeseekers to investigate our resources, our agricultural, horticultural, stock-raising, manufacturing, mining and other business opportunities, and thus give the settlement of Texas such an impetus that by 1920 we shall easily have 10,000,000 of thrifty ,prosperous and happy people. If you agree with me in these views, kindly talk the matter up among your neighbors; but whether you do or do not agree with me, let me have your views on this proposition by return mail. I regard it as a matter of great consequence to our imperial commonwealth and am disposed to devote a certain portion of my time, energy and money to its achievement should the proposition be received with favor by our friends. Awaiting your advices, I am your friend, JOHN H. KIRBY.

SELLING THEIR OWN STEERS

The stockmen of the southwest seem to be thoroughly in earnest in the matter of putting up a lively fight against the commission firms doing business at the various market centers, by organizing a commission company of their own, which is to be charged with the duty of selling the live stock of all members backing the organization at an agreed price. This commission company backed by the cattlemen is said to have branches at the different market centers, and the first or parent house has just been opened up at Kansas City. Murdo MacKenzie, former president of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas, and present president of the American National Live Stock Association, went to Kansas City to superintend the opening of the new concern, which he is backing with all the strength of his sturdy Scotch nature. Speaking of the affairs of the new enterprise, President Mackenzie

"We are not organized to fight anybody, to try to run anybody out of business. I am very sorry that the occasion arose where ranchmen, farmers and producers of live stock had to organize the Co-operative - Live Stock Commission company and run independently of the exchanges. We are not on the aggressive: we are on the defensive. Our action was made absolutely necessary by the concerted action of commission men in all the markets whereby they arbitrarily raised the prices for handling our produce.

"We have organized our Co-operative Commission company to protect ourselves against this action. We do not expect to attack; we expect only to defend our rights. We will buy and sell live stock at the same prices and under the same conditions that the exchanges handled them before the edict was issued from a national meeting of the live stock men in Buffalo that the commission charges should be uniformly advanced at all the markets. It has been suggested that the packers would not buy from us, but this is an error. The packers will buy wherever they find the live stock. If we had not believed the packers would not discriminate, the organization of the co-operative company would not have been deemed practicable." It is reported that as soon as the Kansas City house is in good working order the Fort Worth branch will next be set up, and there will soon be a branch of the undertaking at work at all the different markets. Members of the Kansas City Live Stock exchange are very resentful of the appearance of the new concern upon the scene, and have taken all the steps possible to hamper its operations. There has been nothing said or done in Fort Worth to indicate what action will be taken here, but it is not believed the new organization will receive a very cordial welcome.

THE NEXT STATE LEGISLATURE

The revenue measures passed during the last session have not proved the revnue producers that its promoters and advocates believed, and they will have to he so changed that they will provide enough money with which to run the state government. There is no question but that if the state legislature gets in an ugly humor and is disposed to rebel against the crack of the executive whip, the Campbell administration is going to be seriously handicapped from its very inception, and the result will be that the people of the state will be disappointed in the enactment of laws they believe to be necessary for the general welfare. In the interest of the masses of the people it is to be hoped that there will be no widening of the breach that is already slightly in existence. Governor-to-be Campbell and the next state legislature should proceed at as once to harmonize their differences .- Fort Worth Telegram. The News feels quite sure that they will harmonize all right. It will be observed that only a few of the candidates for the legislature have seen fit to critimodify his assertion, albeit it is based upon an express request in the platform. Even if he does not, there are probably some standing for the legislature who will be pleased to have him make good his "threat" if the next legislature is composed as other bodies have been composed. To keep some members at Austin all the time would be like throwing the rabbit in the brier patch. That is where they live,-Dallas News.

The next legislature is going to have problems enough confronting it to engross all its time and attention without engaging in any kind of a mill with the executive. And the executive is going to have enough on hand to keep him busy without crossing swords with the lawmakers.

The people of the state have been grievously disappointed in the last state legislature, and they are looking forward to the next one in the fond hope that it will make good some of the shortcomings of its predecessor. There are many things that must come before the legislative body at its January meeting of the utmost importance to the people of this state, and it is earnestly hoped the body will be wise enough to avoid friction with the executive over matters that pertain more to a political campaign than to the lawmaking body of the state government.

Colonel Campbell may have been sincere in the threat he made with reference to the next legislature, but it does not look reasonable to suppose that he would thus deliberately invite conflict where harmony is so essential and so much to be desired. And when It comes to holding the legislature in Austin, he may after a short experience with that body be content to follow in the wake of some of his predecessors and command the body in very terse language to "skidoo."

THE CUBAN REVOLUTION

That conditions in Cuba are far from being settled, is evidenced by the latest move on the part of President Palma, who has just sent a commission to this city to negotiate the purchase of 2,000 Texas horses to be used in mounting the Cuban rural guards. The fact that these horses are to be purchased is significant, in that it means the mounted guard is to be increased from 3,000 to 5,000 men, and it is not customary to increase a body of fighting men when the prospects for peace are considered very promising. Dr. Lane, who is at the head of the commission to purchase these horses, says:

"The President of Cuba has selected us to come to Texas to purchase 2,000 strongly built but small and wiry horses for the equipment of the 2,000 additional men for the rural guard service in Cuba. Wherever there are suitable horses to be found we will purchase them. We want the cheapest and best animals to be had. We do not desire a heavy horse, such as in use in the cavalry of the United States army. We want a good forager, one that combined with his rider and equipment will weigh less than 1,000 pounds and still be serviceable. I think that for the campaign work there will be no need to have anything but good, sturdy little animals, such as are generally used in the ranch country of the west and southwest."

It can thus be set down as an existing fact that the real conditions of the existing revolt in Cuba are not fully known in this country. If there was a possibility of peace at an early date the Cuban government would not have a commission here in Texas negotiating for a mount for its cavalry service. The fact that this service is to be increased is ample evidence of the seriousness of the situation, for the government would not go to this extra expense were it not convinced of the fact that the revolutionists mean business and there is much actual fighting to be expected in the near future.

The United States government was forced to intervene in order to put an end to former strife on the island, and the indications are that it is going to be but another case of history repeating itself.

But the Cuban government is to be congratulated on its knowledge in knowing where to come for the horses it needs in its business. The range bred Texas pony, such as can be easily found on the Fort Worth market, can be depended upon to answer all the real requirements of the situation.

TO ABOLISH NEGRO TROOPS

The Brownsville incident has at least served one useful purpose, and that is in opening the eyes of the entire country to the fact that there is no crying necessity for the organization of negro troops. It seems certain that a bill will be introduced in the next congress providing for the disbanding of those now in service and prohibiting the enlisting of any more. The agitation in this direction has begun in the north and east for the repeal of the law providing for four negro regiments, and it seems to be spreading all over the country. A Washington dispatch says:

In the demand today for the repeal of the statute. the north stands in dread of having these black soldiers foisted upon its cities, and the experience of Des Moines a few years ago is not desired elsewhere in

It was first contemplated to station this negro regiment, a battalion of which got into the muss in Brownsville, at various Montana posts, but the quiet tip reached the war department from that state that the blacks would not find a cordial welcome.

The proposition to repeal this negro regulars act will come up in congress, but there is some politics in it, and it is considered questionable whether it will

In the meantime it may be possible that the war department, in view of the fact that the disposition of the negro troops keeps the department in hot water, will contrive some way to get around the enforcement

It is believed that if the troops are permanently stationed in the More country, which is in a state of nerpetual rebellious ebullition, it will become difficult to recruit the regiments up to their full strength, and that in the course of a few years they will have passed out of the army organization.

The suggestion of sending the existing negro troops to the Philippines is a good one, and would doubtless have the effect of cooling military ardor of the race to a very appreciable extent. It would certainly be much better than trying to foist them on the people of Texas, who have long ago had more than a sufficience of such procedure.

Railroad Commissioner Colquitt was given a big reception at Mineral Wells a few days ago and delivered an address to the teeming multitude. This renewed activity on the part of Commissioner Colquitt has prompted some wag to suggest that the next legislature proceed to change his name from O. B. Colguitt to O. B. Still.

Every bale of cotton that can be brought to Fort Worth this season insures just that much additional business for Fort Worth. The men who sell cotton are usually in the market for various kinds of supplies, and Fort Worth always has those things for Monday's rain came at a very inopportune time for the Labor day celebration, but it did not dampen the ardor of organized labor, which made the usual highly creditable display.

The south Texas politicians do not approve of the blanket primary. No wonder. A primary vote in south Texas counts for twice as much as in north Texas and to balance the account will give the northern part of the state the representation to which it is entitled and which has long been denied.-Denton News,

When the state legislature was convened in special session at Austin south Texas was urgent in its demand for a blanket primary, declaring that under existing conditions that section was but a vassal politioaily of north Texas. Now, when the blanket primary is made a democratic platform demand that section finds it is not what is wanted.

And they do say that Colonel Thomas Campbell will get him a new broom about the time January is ready to slip into the lap of February, and make a clean sweep in the appointive offices down Austin way. Let us hope for the present administration and the democratic party also, that he will not find any great gobs of offensive smelling matter in the Augean stables when he gets to them. Should he, however, we want him to tell it, as the people want to know the worst .- Bonham Herald.

Colonel Campbell will find no Augean stables spoiling for the cleaning at Austin. All state offices in Texas are filled by honest men and democrats, and it is foolish to talk about the necessity of turning the rascals out. There may be incompetents at Austin, but they are honest men. 0 0 0 0

The condition of things in the republican party of Texas fully brings out the folly and illegality of the Terrell election law. There are two divisions of the party and according to the ruling of the attorney general's office the names of the candidates of but one wing can be put on the official ballot. law had been in force at the time of Hogg-Clark campaign, would there not have been a vigorous protest. We are coming to a pretty pass in Texas when any number of citizens are deprived of the right to nominate men for office and have their names voted on in the election.-Athens Review.

The Terrell election law is constantly being assailed from one end of Texas to the other, and with the opposition that has developed to that measure, it is strange that it was ever permitted to become a law.

The correspondence between Ranger Captain Mc-Donald and Major C. W. Penrose of the Twenty-fifth infantry, U. S. A., throws some new light on the Brownsville affair. It shows that Major Penrose was as indifferent in the matter of investigating the conduct of the troops who raided Brownsville as he was lax in maintaining discipline. "After a most careful investigation," he wrote, "I am unable to find any one or party in any way connected with the crime of which you speak." In his report to the war department he mentions having heard the shots, but he delayed his investigation until the ruffians had gained the cover of the fort, when he might have captured every one of them by taking the proper measures the moment he heard the shoting .- Houston Post. The actions of Major Penrose at Brownsville appeared to indicate a desire to shield the negro troops as much as possible. But it is possible he may have felt such action was absolutely necessary in order to protect the lives of the negroes until the courts had declared them guilty.

. . . . The prospect is that the republican fight in Texas this fall will be interesting. E. H. R. Green, president and owner of the Texas Midland railroad, is the nominee of the black-and-tan faction, and it is said will spend some money in the effort to poll a larger vote than the Lyon faction. 'Taft is booked for some speeches in Texas this fall, as is also Senator Beveridge of Indiana.-Strawn Enterprise.

Prospects for a hot republican fight in Texas are very flattering if Colonel Green is permitted to bring his big guns into action. But the Terrell election law seems to stand between him and his target.

. . . . Why pay the highest executive officer of our state the beggarly sum of $4,000 when in honor to our governor, our state and its citizenship he should receive not less than $10,000? There are a whole lot of democrats who do not indorse Bryan's government ownership of railway ideas and they are just as much entitled to an opinion as Bryan. It is not believed the national democratic party will subscribe to the Bryan view.

There is no occasion for trouble between Colonel Campbell and the next state legislature. It is the duty of the legislature to give due attention to the demands of the state democratic platform.

In view of the increasing popularity of beer, it is interesting to note what the really eminent modern scientists say of it. There has been, and still is in certain quarters, a prejudice against beer, but this prejudice, like many prejudices, is based on ignorance. Beer is not a "liquor," as it is frequently called by uninformed people, and it is not an intoxicant. Of course it is possible to drink too much beer, just as it is possible to eat too much meat, but the proper use of beer is declared by eminent doctors to be beneficial to

Dr. E. Struve of Berlin, a wellknown scientist, says: "The specific characteristic of beer is not in its alcoholic property. Modern technics in beer brewing have a tendency to reduce the amount of alcohol in beer and to correspondingly increase the proportions of extracts. Owing to the small amount of alcohol in beer, the same cannot properly be called an alcoholic beverage."

Pabst, for sixty years, has been the leader in all scientific developments in the art of brewing and today Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is the recognized superior of all beers, richest in the extracts (food elements) of which Dr. Struve speaks, absolutely pure and clean and low in its percentage of al-

TRINITY LINE ALMOST READY

An Eminent Scientist Says It Cannot Hope to Have Trains From Ft. Worth to Houston Oct. 1

> The Trinity and Brazos Valley, with the construction of thirty-two miles more of road, will have its own line into Houston, and it is the hope of the company that the Brazos Valley will be running over its own tracks into Houston by Oct. 1. With the view of helping this final rush of construction which, if completed by that time, will be early enough for the road to handle a big share of the cotton business along its line, all of the construction camps have been moved in on the last thirty-two miles. The grade is in that advanced condition that the laying of ties can begin Thursday morning.

Just as hurried work is being done on the belt line at Houston, by which the Brazos Valley is to reach the Santa Fe depot at Houston. All of the connections will be made by that time, so trains can run from Fort Worth to Houston direct, the route from Fort Worth to Cleburne being over the Santa Fe.

Railroads Will Present Claim to Com-

The demand for cargoes which may be large by reason of the presence of an unusual number of ocean going steamers in port, the export rate on cotton may vary from day to day.

AUTOMATIC TRAIN STOP

Planned to Throw on Airbrake by Semaphore Attachment

The World's Work for October, in an article on "Why Preventable Railroad Accidents Happen," says: "To eliminate one kind of danger there has been adopted by the more progressive roads what is nown as an automatic safety stop, a device for stopping a train that may have run by a signal. It consists of a short iron arm which, when the semaphore blade is against a train, projects above the rail some four or five inches, and high enough to trip a valve in the air pipe of the leading car, automatically setting the air brakes on the entire train. This arm is operated by a track circuit in somewhat the same manner as the automatic signals before referred to, and acts in conjunction with the semaphore. When the blade is down, showing a clear track, the arm lies parallel to the rail, allowing free passage to a train."

It is so constructed that after light articles have been placed within, the top may be closed and it may be hung up, out of the way. It is sufficiently strong to bear the weight of several different articles and is of sufficient capacity to contain many of the usual belongings of women travelers. They are of attractive appearance and when not in use may be folded up into the corner of an ordinary hand bag. They may be used several times before they are worn out, and are of very serviceable quaity. Mr. Cleland has arranged to have them distributed free on all their Pullman cars.-Railway spectacular first part and a new musical comedy afterpiece, the "Dandy Dixie" Minstrels will be at Greenwall's opera house Thursday matinee and night, Sept. 6. The entertainment begins in the "Royal Palm Grotto," where Messrs. Voelckel and Nolan's company of clever colored performers, headed by John Rucker, the Alabama Blossom, will be seen in a twentieth century first part. The olio comprises a host of novelties which were the special features at the New York theater roof garden last summer. Concluding with the farce, "A Fowl Deed," and the famous "Cotton Pickers' Band" of sola musicians, the "Dandy Dixie" Minstrels offer the best available talent in any minstrel organization of the decade. Among the all-star performers besides the Alabama Blossom are James Crosby, "the elongated comedian, six feet six inches," with dancing muscles from toe to crown; "Three Spiller Musical Bumpers," Williams and Stevens. comic impersonators, the Toney trio, dare-devil acrobats; Benny Jones, the 'Texas Teaser:" Mack Allen, the deathdefying slender steel thread walker; H. Big Tent Theater

Tonight at the big tent theater, corner of Fifth, Taylor and Throckmorton street, H. D. Rucker's famous Korak Wonder Company will be seen in Mme. Sarah Bernhardt's version of Alexander Dumas Fils' world-famous masterpiece, "Camille." Enough has been said about this wonderful piece of dramatic work that it has been played in every hamlet of Europe and America and it has never as yet failed to please the audience. It will be given tonight by this company in its entirety. Thursday the great war drama, "The Deserter;" Friday night, Derney's masterpiece, "The Two Orphans;" Saturday night, "Jesse James." Free Skating The management of the Palace rink, Lake Erie, sprung a surprise on the big audience present last night when they announced that on every week day night up to and including next Monday, Sept. 10, every lady visiting their rink would be admitted and furnished skates free of charge. This, nowever, will not include morning and afternoon sessions, nor on Sundays. When interviewed on this subject last night the manager stated that the regular Monday session, free to ladies, which has been running for several weeks, had proved so successful and had induced so many skaters to visit the rink that it had been decided to run a full week of these free nights. 'On our previous Monday night sessions," he said, "we have entertained hundreds of ladies from Fort Worth, Arlington and Dallas, and we now extend an invitation to all to come and enjoy a cool, pleasant skate on the finest skates and floor in the south. and we wish to impress upon them the fact that they will receive the same advantages and courteous treatment as though each one had paid for skating. We will continue to present races and other high-class attractions in the future as in the past, and no extra charge will be made for witnessing them. On tonight (Wednesday) we will have a one-mile race between Hugh Rattan, the fastest boy racer in the south, and Ed Chrisman, who ran such a remarkable race for our gold medal. These boys have met twice before and each has won one race, so this race should prove most interesting. They are fast, game little racers, and always give the public a fine exhibition. Another important feature of our rink will be the advent on next Sunday of our new band. This band is without doubt one of the best union bands ever gotten together in the south, and we believe that the improvement in our music will prove of great benefit to us."

POOR CONCRETE COMPLAINT CAUSE

Specimens of Careless Work Apparent in City

To go no farther back than the Roman times, when the use of concrete was common and tangible evidence today proves of a quality that is as enduring as the living rock, the value of concrete in construction has been recognized. There was a time later when other materials replaced it and yet experience has demonstrated that there are but few building materials which admit of so diversified uses and, if honestly made, which give sucn promise of endurance as a properly made concrete with the proportions of cement to the other material so fixed that the best results can be obtained. Concrete aqueducts of Roman construction are doing service in many parts of the countries of Europe where the conquering Romans had their sway, and are as good as ever, after 2,000 years or more of actual use.

The use of concrete construction was common in Spain, and when the Spaniards came to America and conquered a part of the country some of the concrete work they did 500 years ago yet remains, and in serviceable condition. As witness the great aqueduct at the City of Mexico, carrying water from Chepultepec to the city. All of the old churches and missions have at least a protection of concrete, and many of them are unimpaired by the ravages of the time which has passed over them. The conclusion is that the use of concrete is desirable; it has a value which has been demonstrated and, that being granted, the further conclusion is that it is entitled to fair treatment. The binding quality of the cement should not be nullified, as it is by the careless or the indifferently honest workman who contracts to build a concrete construction and who uses so little cement that the purpose is defeated, or who adds that to the mixture which neutralizes the adhesive quality of the concrete.

A recently built house in Fort Worth was rejected by the one for whom the house was erected for the reason that the concrete work was so defective, by reason of the use of too little cement, that one of the walls fell and all of the plastering, which was to be in part at least cement, dropped from the walls and ceiling.

At Eighth Ward School

Serious complaint has been made of the condition of the walls of the basement of the Eighth ward school, this complaint taking official form before the school board, that the concrete is so defective in quality that a lead pencil point can be thrust into the cement or concrete, while by this time it should be as hard as stone.

Some recent repairs made to Main street sidewalks show the same disand one case can be cited, located on one of the most used parts of the street, in a block which is in the very heart of the business part of the city, where the repair work really left the sidewalk in worse condition than before. Where the repairs were made, the place is almost like loose sand now and that part useless as a sidewalk. A system of railway so important as the Frisco has after long and exhaustive tests adopted the use of concrete in the construction of culverts and bridges where they are not too large, bridge piers and for all other uses to which it is adapted. Fort Worth has one of the best examples of the bridge value of concrete, if an object lesson on the subject is needed, in the Penn street viaduct over the Texas and Pacific and Rio Grande railway tracks, in the western part of the city. The county has used concrete in several instances in the building of county road bridges. The use of concrete for the foundations of houses is so common that it has almost supplanted any other material, even for the most important buildings. But it needs no statements to direct that attention of the observer to the almost general use of this valuable ma-

MUST PAY WATER AT CITY HALL

No More Collectors Will Be Sent to Subscribers

A postal card to water consumers, which was sent out Tuesday, gives notice that the much complained of practice of the water works department of favoring certain of the citizens by sending a collector to them to get the water rent, while the general public is compelled to pay at the office, is to be stopped ab of lely. There being but little if any use for water ins ector, he was set to collecting accounts due the water wors, and did a great amount of work in that way. Since the use of meters has become so general in the city, there is not that flagrant abuse of the water using privilege for yard sprinkling, etc. which made the need for the water in spector so imperative and lately his position has been something of a sinecure. In fact there is so little need for the inspector that Mayor Harris suggested that the officer be dispensed with, but as it is a charter office and the inspector is employed by the year that cannot be done in any summary

The reading of the postal card mailed out Tuesday afternoon follows: Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 4, 1906.

To Consumers of City Water: You are respectfully notified that the ordinance requiring water rents to be paid at the office of the city water vorks on or before the 10th day of the month, will, in future, be rigidly enforced, and any consumer failing to pay his water bill by the 10th of the nonth will be cut off without notice. Please govern yourself accordingly, as there will be no exceptions to this order, which the mayor and water works committee have instructed me

Mr. Calhoun says that notification is be construed in the most literal rents must be paid at the office" means that the money for the water rent will not be accepted at any other place. If the water consumer is delinquent and the cut-off wagon goes out, the consumer cannot save himself by paying the money at the house, for the employes of the water works department have orders to obey the ordinance, which provides only for the payment of the water rent at the water works office in the city hall. The dethe ordinance were made for convennot as readily get to the office as with the old saying of "give an inch | accident happened at the time of the and take an ell." It grew to an abuse I business men's excursion to the coast and a discrimination in favor of some of the citizens until the water works department was exposed to criticism. But be that as it may. Now it is "you must pay at the office," under all circumstances, and that applies to all of the consumers of the city water, without respect to the individual.

HARD RAIN AT CORPUS

Nearly Three and a Half Inches, the Record for Twenty-Four Hours Corpus Christi holds the palm for heavy rain Tuesday, getting 3.38 inches during the day. Nearly all Texas stations report rain, but most of them had less than an inch. At Fort Worth there was but .05 of an inch after 7 o'clock in the morning. Outside the state rainfall was light, Nashville getting the most, 1.68 of an inch. Temperatures are generally low over the entire country, light frosts occurring in several places. The cotton belt is partly cloudy to cloudy and Texas was cloudy in the greater portion this morning. At Fort Worth the highest temperature Tuesday was 77 degrees and the lowest Wednesday morning 70 degrees.

South Hemphill street having decided in favor of paving that thoroughfare, it is quite probable that the movement will extend on North Hemphill to Railroad avenue. I believe a majority of the property owners on Hemphill will be in favor of this work. Hemphill is the longest street on the south side and is the most popular thoroughfare in that part of the city. Postmaster Barkley received one from Washington this morning to replace the old one which has floated so often from the flagstaff of Uncle Sam that it has become tattered and ragged and solled from the smoke that drifts over the building. The new flag is 61/2x12 feet in

SOAKED IN THE RAIN Excursionists Forced to March

Through Storm Several Fort Worth people who took advantage of the low rates to Galveston last Saturday were treated to a genuine ducking yesterday by the Santa Fe on the return trip. As the train neared Temple it ran into a soaking rainstorm and the rain was falling with unabated fury when Temple was reached. It was necessary for those bound to this city to change cars there, moving into a car ahead on the same train. In spite of the downpour the brakeman locked the car between the one which the Fort Worth people were leaving and the one they were to enter so that all had to leave the train and make their way He was almost famished for food and through the rain. RATE BILL LIKE TERRELL LAW

Hepburn Measure Needs Heaps of Interpretation

BY GILSON GARDNER. Special to The Telegram. WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 5 .- The new rate law is in effect; but the stupendous task of making it effective has just begun. The first thing is to find what the law means, and that is what has interrupted the summer vacations of the lawyers and traffic experts of the railroads and caused these meetings at Chicago, New York, tlantic City and at Washington with the interstate commerce commissioners. The commission is dealing with the railroads in groups. First came the western and southwestern railways, then the southern roads came in, and after them came the New England and the central trunk line roads. What is the commission trying to do? And what do the railways want? In the first place, it appears that the interstate commerce commission is extending the olive branch to the railways after having won in a bitter fight in which its very existence was involved.

The commission was under no obligations to help the railroads to interpret the law, but the chairman suggested a friendly and informal conference to talk over the meaning of some complicated points. Further, the commissioners intimated a desire to mitigate features of the law which appear needlessly harsh.

At first the traffic officials were suspicious and wary, but finally the discussion took on a very friendly tone. "I find the railroads willing and anxlous to abide by the provisions of the new law," said Chairman Knapp. "They are anxious to co-operate with us, so that it will produce results for the shipping and carrying public, such as congress intended.' To the same effect Commissioner Clements said: What is there so puzzling about the new rate law? Is it not simple to stop rebates and to quit giving passes? "Yes," say the railways, "but here is a thing not so simple. Answer this: "How can a railroad compile and print two million separate rates in sixy days. And how can such a compilation be posted in duplicate in every station on its road?" But that is what the law demands.

And again: "How can a railway print and post as part of its rate the terminal charge of a different road a thousand miles away, over which it has no control? "How can a railroad publish a joint through rate over another road which does not care to make a joint rate? "How shall a railway publish rates on private cars which it does not own, and for which it does not even collect the "How can export and import rates be adjusted to varying ocean rates, if the thirty-day notice is to apply to them?

"How can railway tariffs be made The commissioners admit that these questions are rather puzzling, and they want to help clear them up, Another provision of the law is that calling for a uniform system of accounting by railways. It will be August, 1907, before that provision goes into effect. Professor Henry C. Adams of Michigan University has been hired at $10,000 a year to figure out a uniform system of bookkeeping. He has taken a house in Washington and expects to work a year at the task. He will work with the National Association of Railway Accountants. In the meantime the roads will be allowed to

Stiff Money Rates Makes Caution a

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.-The monetary situation eclipsed all other influences in Wall street today. Yesterday's sharp flurry in call loan rates imbued stock exchange traders with a spirit of caution, which was manifested to a considerable extent during the day's trading, with the result that the enthusiasm which has marked recent sessions was considerably diminished.

Upon the whole, however, the tone was good and the bull crowd seemed to be well equipped with facilities for controlling the market, despite the fact that money rates were again relatively stiff, the initial rate of 15 per cent for call loans being succeeded by a rise to 24 per cent before noon. Bullish confidence was based on the situation abroad, for despite the stringency here.

NEW YORK STOCKS NEW YORK COTTON

Foreign Slump Reflected on Opening, But Demand Good at Decline and Market Steadies

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Sept. 5 .- The cotton market was not near so active as on yesterday, and an easier tone prevailed most of the time, although the undercurrent of sentiment was bullish, or at least not bearish, and after the opening there was but little effort to depress values, on the contrary most of the crowd worked for a reaction, and were to a small extent compensated for their efforts, being enabled to push prices up before mid-day quite a bit from the opening figures, which in sympathy with a sharp decline in Liverpool where prices were expected some 4 to 5 points higher, were 12 to 14 points below finals of the previous session. Cables attributed the foreign slump to the reselling of large lines bought by American operators yesterday, if this theory was the true one, the action of local traders did not bear it out, as they bought at the outset, and checked the downward movement in its infancy.

Although for a time the demand was excellent and leading shorts were among the best buyers, the market turned rather dull during the afternoon and the recovery never reached very large proportions, the close being steady with prices at a net loss of 6 to 7 points.

The ginners' report will be issued Sept. 10 at 2 p. m. and the condition figures will be published the same day, but the hour is not known at present. Spot cotton prices were unchanged

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 5 .- Opening easy with prices 8 to 13 points below yesterday's finals in sympathy with an unexpected sharp slump in Liverpool prices, the cotton market developed a steady tone on a rather good demand probably as the result of the expectation of a bullish report, which, according to a Washington dispatch, will be issued Sept. 10, and prices recovered a good portion of the loss before noon. Trading, however, became dull on the advance.

Trading was light during the afternoon but the market closed steady with prices near the best, showing a net loss of 6 to 7 points. Spot cotton prices are 1-16c lower at 9%c for middling. Sales, 700 spot

Liverpool Cotton Cable Special to The Telegram. LIVERPOOL, Sept. 5 .- The cotton market experienced a decided reversal of form today, mainly as the result of re-selling by many of yesterday's buyers. Americans taking quite a large hand in the game, which fact caused the local talent to modify their views regarding the damage supposed to have been sustained. There was also a good deal of selling against actual holdings. In response to yesterday's American advance, opening prices should have been unchanged for September and 41/2 to 5 points higher for distant options, instead of which they were unchanged for the list, and the market exhibited an easy tone. Eventually a net loss of 41/2 to 5 points was sustained. But some covering during the final trading engendered a partial reaction and the market closed quiet with prices at a net loss of 3 points. The spot market ruled steady, prices advancing 2 points to 5.38d for American middling. Sales, 5,000 bales, including 4,300 American. Exports, 500 bales. Imports, 5,000 bales.

Wheat Prices Sag Without Great Pressure-Corn and Oats Trad-

JHE TELEGRAM'S DAILY FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL REPORT

ing Light Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 5.—The wheat market was quiet today and prices sagged off without undue influence. A large buying order came on the market early in the day and the crowd followed the leader and bought, but prices never got more than %c above yesterday's finals and when the order had been filled the market was without support and weakened with its own weight, early buyers finding it hard to dispose of their holdings. News from the northwest was bearish, wires from Minneapolis reporting lower prices for cash wheat, and a decline of 2c in the price of December, with prospects of a heavy movement should the present weather continue. The monthstatement showed a decrease of 194,-000 bushels in the total stocks while contracts have increased 239,000 bush-above the amount at the same period last year. Future prices eventually reached a level 1/2c to 1/8c below yesterday's finals, and closing figures were near the lowest.

Corn stocks increased 710,000 bushels during the past month, but the amount of contract grade is 82,000 bushels less than on Aug. 1, the total being infinitesimal as compared with that on hand at the same date last

Trading in the future market was extremely quiet, and an easy tone prevailed all day, finals being at a net loss of %c. Local receipts 498 cars, as compared with 661 this day last year.

Oats prices weakened early in the day on general selling, but the loss was of small proportions and the market ruled steady at the decline. Closing figures indicated a net loss of %c. Local receipts 290 cars as compared with 309 this day last year.

Provisions Provisions were influenced at first by a lower hog market, but although trading was only moderate the market firmed up before the close.

U. S. Flag Takes Place of Red Banner at Globe, Ariz. Special to The Telegram.

EL PASO, Texas, Sept. 5 .- Out at Globe, Ariz., a mining camp full of foreigners, the Labor Day parade was headed by the sheriff and a deputy with the United States flag and an A. F. of L. flag inscribed, "If You Dont Like Our Flag Stay Out." This was cheered all along the parade. The flag and inscription were carried on account of the red flag of anarchy being waved in May last.

The Pulse of the City's Life The classified advertisements in a newspaper are interesting to philosophers as well as to about all other sorts of folks. But for a peculiar reason. The majority of people are interested in classified ads because they personally want some of the things advertised, or because these little "sprigs of publicity" have repeatedly ACCOM-PLISHED THINGS for them. But your philosopher would look upon them as a barometer of the day's activities, plans, aspirations-of the people's unrest. Emerson expressed this idea when he wrote: "People wish to be settled, but only so far as they are unsettled is there any hope for them." So, to act upon this truth, a large volume of classified ads, indicating an increasing state of "unsettledness." to build a five-room dwelling on lot should indicate a full measure of "hope 1, block 33, Jennings south addition, to for the people."

Eight Feet, Tip to Tip Special to The Telegram. WACO, Texas, Sept. 5 .- Yesterday while Frank Lockwood of this city was out on the Fort farm hunting he saw an unusually large bird flying and fired at the feathered glant. The bird fell to the ground dead. Lockwood discovered that he had killed a pelican of huge dimensions. It measured eight feet four inches from tip to tip. The bird was brought to the city and given to the Y. M. C. A., where it will be properly stuffed and put in the exhibition room. 53 ARRESTS THIS WEEK

Enough to Keep Police Busy During Hot Weather

The city police have made fiftythree arrests since business opened Monday morning and that was about 1:15 o'clock. This is not as many arrests as were made during the last few days of the long summer heated term, when for several days the average was rather more than one an hour or say about twenty-six or twenty-seven a day. Most of the offenders are charged in this week's arrest with drunkenness or vagrancy, though several affrays or assaults, a fast driving case or two and abusive language cases help to make up the total.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE LARGER Better Weather Brings Out Better

Numbers A much larger number of pupils presented themselves to the teachers in the various schools of the city this morning than were on hand Tuesday. The clear weather brought out many who thought it unnecessary to attend the first day and, although totals could not be obtained, it is safe to say that more than 1,000 additional children went to the schools Wednes-

Superints dent W. D. Williams said Wednesday morning that he did not expect to be able to get at the total enrollment until Friday night. By that time many more will have appeared for registration.

THINKS MEXICAN PLAN WILL COME

Hico Stockman Believes Packers Will Send Out Buyers

F. W. Hudson of Hico was in Fort Worth this week. He is in the stock farming business and from his talk he, for a young man, has the future of the cattle situation pretty well figured

"Cattle are in good shape down our way. I mean by this that grass is good also. I brought in some grass fat cattle, cattle that had no feed but the native grass. They averaged 907 pounds and sold for $3.00, being classed as feeders. That is pretty good and shows that good mesquite grass will make good fat cattle. Sage and mesquite are all the grasses we have," said he, "but with sage for spring grazing and mesquite for this time of the year and during the winter the best results are produced, in my view. There do not seem to be many cattle in the country now but the market is so poor that not many of the cowmen will sell at the present prices. Many of them have fixed upon a price and will hold for it and if they don't get it will hold their stock over. The people are in better shape this year than they usually are, and they, with the before them don't have to sell. With good grass and winter conditions all right cattle can be held another year with no loss and the people or some of them are determined to have some of the profit that accrues from breeding stock. I know of an instance where a friend of mine took an option on some steers at $25 per head and refused all offers until a day before I left home he sold for $27.50 per head. "It will be necessary in time for the stockman to so arrange his business that he can say to the packer and other buyers: "Come out to my place and buy my cattle; you can have them delivered at the cars for so much.' This is the Mexico plan, and it relieves the breeder of a lot of trouble and vexation which now attaches itself to the business. Let some other fellow have the fight with the railroad, etc. A cowman is in rather a hole when he has to transport his own cattle to the market, paying for all delays and every thing incident to the business as it is now conducted, and then be placed in a condition where he has to take what is offered for his property or lose more. The stockman, like the farmer who has gone through the mill, is now experiencing the same conditions that forced the farmer to scale down his expenses to the lowest notch, live as economically as possible, and gradually get out of debt, and be his own man at last. "No man belongs to himself who is in debt to another. When the farmer was in debt all the time, he was forced to pay enormous interests and the prices charged him were made with a view of getting all that the traffic would bear, and, in addition to this, the mortgages and note were made to fall due at a particular time, October generally, and he was forced to sell his stuff whether the market was good or not. He is about out of that line of business now, and is able to say 'What will you give me for my cotton,' or if he can't get what he wants can haul it back home and tumble it out in the yard. He does not have to sell any particular amount and can get rid of enough to pay for his living and other necessary articles and let the rest remain until another day. When the cowman gets his business into this fix he will feel a deal gette than he does now and can say to the buyer, 'Here is my stock on the ral b, they are worth so much, take them leave them, you will not get the any cheaper and I will deliver then) you

f. o. b. at my station. "I think that the market for steers will be better from this on, for there will be a big demand for feeders and as there is plenty of feed in sight, all the small men will join in, so that the demand will be active. A great many feeders did not come to time last year owing to the high price of feed."

SLOW SHIPMENTS

B. R. Cobb of Ryan, I. T., Has Complaint B. R. Cobb is a resident of Indian Territory, soon to become a state and, like his neighbors who live near the postoffice at Ryan, are strong believers in the capabilities of their section when it comes to cattle, hogs and corn. "You may say that if any one should start round a circle whose center was Ryan, and whose circumference was some hundred miles or so from that point and try to discover a better lot of crops and cattle than we have, he would return to us and give it up. He could not find. Corn is certainly about as fine as it ever gets to be, and some say that seventy ears will shell a bushel. Cotton is good, too, although it has rained a little too much the plant making too much weed for getting the best results. I expect that there will be a large demand for feeders in a very short time, and in fact it has already begun, as the huge corn crop of the territory will probably re-Syrup in my family for years-my duce the price of corn from what it children never suffer with coughs." Sold by Covey & Martin.

has been in recent years. "I forgot to say that the cotton in the bottom lands where it has continued damp from the constant rains, is suffering some from the boll worms. but up on the high lands there is no slowness with which the railroads bring stock to market. I can take a team of oxen and make better time. Sixth and Main streets for catalogue.

It is hard on the owner, who loses by shrinkage, but it is also hard on the animals who have to undergo the treatment at the hands of the common carriers, and very common carriers they are. 1 understood that the Live Stock Exchange had some kind of a committee to look after this matter, and that they had selected a man to investigate the matter, but nothing seems to have been done, or if any protest has been made it does not seem to have had any effect upon the common carriers for the time in transit from point of shipment to the yards has increased rather than shortened. I make this moan to your paper because it is the only one that seems to be inclined to take the part of the stockman, at least I have seen nothing in any of the others. C. A. Beavers Believes Maize at 20c a Good Investment C. A. Beavers is another of those territory stock farmers who are ready to set their country up against any other and bet their's is better. "Every thing is good with us and I do not see," said he, "how any thing will be able to effect us from now on unless boll weevil gets in, and they have never shown up in our fields yet. Cattle are doing wonderfully well and with the amount of feed that we are raising there cannot be any falling off in the quality of our marketable stuff during the winter. While there is much speculation as to which is the best feed for steers to bring the most money on the market, there is always a more or less contented look on a man's face when he has plenty of good corn in the crib and is not afraid to put it in the

"Corn is good enough for me, and at 20 cents a bushel a man can afford to buy and feed it. Corn fed stuff always brings good prices and almost always takes the lead. With corn besides cattle, hogs can be run and this helps to cheapen the corn and make the profit in the operation much more apparent."

U. S. Troops Are Ordered to Leave Brownsville

Rpecial to The Telegram. SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Sept. 5.-Fort Brown is abandoned temporarily. While this step by the war department has been expected for some time, the order was not issued until yesterday. Acting upon instructions from the war department, Major Walter L. Finley, military secretary of the department of Texas, this afternoon received an order for the abandonment of the post. While the order calls for the temporary abandonment of the post, it is the opinion among many that it will mean the permanent abandonment of that post and many think this implies that the post will be abandoned and the property sold. This step on the part of the war department has been taken as a result of the recent disturbances at Brownsville by the battalion of the Twenty-fifth infantry, which resulted in their removal to Fort Reno, Okla. Since the movement of the troops to Fort Reno there has been much conjecture as to what would be the final fate of Fort

Both Senators Bailey and Culberson have expressed their disapproval of a step, which was threatened some time ago, and it is thought here that both Texas senators will not allow the matter to rest with the abandonment of the post.

LILY PADS STOP RACE Man and Wife Marooned on Shore of Teddy Causes Panic Among Players at

Special to The Telegram. VACHERIE, La., Sept. 5 .- Hunters last night found a man with his wife and infant practically marooned on the shore of Lake Allemands, lily pads having made it impossible for them to row their boat away from the place. The man refused to give his name, but said he was from Mississippi and bound for Morgan City. He said he had been caught in the lily pads for eighteen days, having made almost no progress at all during that time. The family was living on crabs and wild beans. The hunters supplied them with provisions, but an offer to take them overland to Morgan City was refused.

He was a member of the band that furnished the music for the occasion and to all appearances seemed to enjoy himself as well as any of the guests.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.

You cannot make any mistake by treating the kidneys at once, for it is these small troubles that lead to dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. If there is any doubt in your mind that the kidneys are affected, notice the urine for a few days. If passages are irregular, painful, or too scanty, discolored, or full of sediment, the kidneys need help right away, and there is no other medicine more helpful than Doan's Kidney Pills, a simple remedy for the kidneys, yet so powerful that it quickly cures the cause and so ends all the painful and annoying symptoms. Home testimony proves the unfailing merit of Doan's Kidney Pills.

FORT WORTH TESTIMONY

James H. Armstrong, plumber, living at 1214 St. Louis avenue, Fo:t Worth, Texas, says: "I can indorse the claims made for Doan's Kidney Pills as strongly today as I did three years ago when I first used them. I believe that for backache and other troubles arising from a deranged condition of the kidneys your medicine has no equal. Its use cured me of a lameness in my back that had bothered me for several months after other remedies that I used failed to give me relief." .

know, in order to be mighty uncomfortable. Even a slight indigestion affects the nerves, dulls the mind, and obscures the merry sunshine of Life.

The time to adjust the Bowels is the very minute you suspect they need adjustment. -If your tongue is slightly coated, -If your breath is under suspicion, -If your head feels a trifle heavy or dull,

-If digestion seems even a little slow, -If Heartburn, Belching, Colic or Restlessness begin to show themselves, -That's the time to eat a Cascaret. It acts as pleasantly as it tastes. It is as congenial to your Bowels as it is to your Palate. It stimulates the muscular lining of the Bowels and Intestines, so that they mechani-

Arrangements are being made for tent revival meeting to be held in Rosen Heights starting Friday night, Sept. 7. At this time the place of meeting is not definitely decided.
