Lane's Views Definite

W. F. Lane, who will be one of the representatives of Tarrant county in the next legislature, has some pronounced views on the matter of fixing the proposed new city charter.

It seems to be the general opinion that the charter will be amended and the point is how is that best to be done.

Some there are who favor strongly the amendment of the city charter on such broad lines that the Fort Worth city charter shall provide for a commission form of government, such as has operated so successfully in the city of Galveston, even though they recognize the fact that there was a great emergency which called the Galveston commission into being and it being a matter of actual salvation, called to the government of that city under the commission some of the best type of men who remained steadfast in their faith in the possibilities of the rehabilitation of that stricken city and proved their faith by their works.

But, say these, unless we can get the very best of men for those positions, the difficulties under the commission may be increased, instead of lessened. The character of the men who fill such commission positions must be above reproach or even suspicion.

Others favor the amendment of the present charter so that the more objectionable features may be eliminated.

Mr. Lane says that he has given study to the charter question.

Right of Prior Review

With reference to the referendum grants of franchises he thinks that there is a way to protect the interests of the city. That is for the council or commission to review the application for all franchises and if they are not sufficiently rigid in guarding the city's interests, a conference should be had with the applicants for the franchises and the defects pointed out. If the applicants should be unwilling to make the proper concessions, then the reviewing power should have the right to submit to the people at the same time to be voted on, the amended application, protecting the city as well as making reasonable grants to the corporation or individuals applying for the franchise.

Mr. Lane says that the applications for the franchises are carefully drawn up by the agents of those who apply for them and they are so worded as to fully provide for what the corporations want, with but little if any reference to the rights of the citizens.

Mr. Lane thinks with such a provision, the city's rights being protected, the will of the citizens should be final. It is the public's fault if they have the right to correct a threatened evil, and do not.

Favors Charter Convention

Mr. Lane, in this authorized interview, states his views on some of the questions which will come up in this connection.

"I believe in democracy in its fullest and broadest sense. I believe that every qualified voter should have a voice in determining the laws that shall govern the community in which he lives. For that reason I am a strong believer in and advocate of the referendum. A charter for any municipality is the fundamental law governing that community, or, in other words, this new charter will be Fort Worth's constitution, and as it affects the welfare, so should it deeply interest every man, woman and child who live within her corporate limits. While I have some well-defined opinions in regard to this new charter and especially its provisions, yet I prefer to express them in common with my fellow citizens. The fact is, I am in favor of our mayor, with the consent of the present council, setting apart a day and calling a charter convention for the purpose of formulating the kind of charter Fort Worth people will have for their future government.

Prior to the assembling of this convention I would like to see every ward in the city call a meeting at such time and place as would best suit the convenience and at these various ward meetings let the citizens discuss the kind of charter they would like to have and the provisions they would like it to contain, and appoint delegates to a general convention, who will represent their views. When this general convention comes together in the city hall let the delegates present the views as expressed by their fellow citizens at the various ward meetings and after a free, full and frank discussion let a committee be appointed consisting of one member from each ward. This committee shall draft this new charter for Fort Worth and present same to an adjourned meeting of the convention for its adoption.

If adopted by a majority of the convention, then let it be submitted to the people in a general election for their approval or rejection, and if approved by a majority of them, will promise to advocate its adoption by the legislature without the dotting of an 'i' or the crossing of a 't'. If some think like the crude ideas I have set forth could be followed out I believe that it would be possible for the people of Fort Worth to secure just the kind of government they desire and we would not be under the necessity of calling upon every session of the legislature to change or amend our charter. I believe that the people of every municipality should make their own charter and the legislature should have nothing to do with the matter except to see that none of its provisions are in conflict with or in violation of the state constitution."

ST. PAULS TO HAVE REVIVAL

Hart and Magann, the Evangelists, Coming Sept. 23

St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, corner Seventh and Lamar streets, will be the scene of a great revival effort in a few days. Hart and Magann are coming. These men are known from ocean to ocean as evangelists of exceptional success and Dr. Boyce, pastor of St. Paul's, is overjoyed at having secured them, a task he has engaged in for nearly two years. Hart is the preacher, Magann is the sweet singer. Of Rev. Hart a leading paper in St. Louis gives the testimony in and advocates of the characteristics that made Moody such a power. He is a minister of ability, and his eloquence and intense earnestness leave but few hearts untouched. He is said to be a very rapid talker, and holds his audience spell-bound, and has the reputation of being an impassioned speaker, handling his subjects without fear or favor.

Mr. Magann, who has been a co-worker with Rev. Hart for fifteen years, is a soloist of rare ability. He has a rich baritone voice, which possesses great sympathetic quality and sweetness and is well trained. His singing is said to remind one of Sankey's, and he literally sings the sacred songs into the hearts of his hearers.

Wherever these two men have conducted meetings, they have had overflowing houses. At Bloomington, Ill., they had 250 converts, at Camden over 500, at Troy, Ohio, 420. Men have thronged their Sunday afternoon meetings at every place visited and at Camden, N. J., 1,500 gathered to hear them. They are both young men, scarcely past 35, but conduct their work like the veterans they really are.

Cottage prayer meetings are now being held in different parts of the city, preparatory to the opening of the services. A large chorus choir is also being trained and will be under the direction of Mr. Magann throughout the meetings.

Restores Vigor in Old Age

MRS. ELIZA SCHEIRER, 76 YEARS OLD

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

If you wish to keep strong and vigorous and have on your cheeks the glow of perfect health, take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey regularly, according to directions, and take no other medicine. It is dangerous to fill your system with drugs, they poison the body and depress the heart while Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey tones and strengthens the heart and purifies the entire system. It is the only whiskey that is recognized as a medicine and contains no fusel oil. This is a guarantee. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has stood severe tests for fifty years and has always been found absolutely pure and to contain great medicinal properties.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist or grocer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's the only absolutely pure medicinal whiskey and is sold only in sealed bottles—never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00. Medical booklet and doctor's advice free. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Mrs. Eliza Scheirer, who lives at Macungie, Pa., and who has passed a very strenuous life, found at the age of 76 some of the old time vigor and energy lacking. She felt that she needed something to give her strength in her declining years. For over a year she he has used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as a tonic-medicine and has found in it the very thing needed for one at her time of life.

She writes the following and cordially recommends Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey to both young and old:

"I would say that I am now in my seventy-sixth year. Have always lived an active life. About a year ago I began using DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY as a restorative, and I can heartily recommend it as a very valuable preservative for young and old." Mrs. ELIZA SCHEIRER, May 6, '06.

PREDICTS FLOOD GETS NEGRO CASE

"Lucky Bags" of Dirt Sold for $1.00 Each

Special to The Telegram.

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Sept. 14.—A smooth negro showed up here a few days ago from Waco and predicted that another flood would come before Monday night that would sweep San Angelo off the face of the earth. He managed to work up a great deal of apprehension among the colored population, which he afterward allayed by the sale of lucky bags at $1 each. These bags, which were filled with dirt, were wanted to protect the possessor from flood and other dangers.

Sunday morning came and there was no flood, and it began to dawn on the negroes they had been duped. They set about looking for the lucky bag artist, but he had decamped. Indignation was so high the fellow would probably have been lynched if he had been caught.

FAMILY UPSET BOY'S LEG BROKEN

Buggy Goes Over at Bridge While Making Turn

George Hollingsworth, wife and four children were thrown from their buggy at the slough bridge near the Cottage Belt and Frisco crossings between Fort Worth and North Fort Worth Friday morning, when their team became frightened at a street car, ran away and upset the buggy while making a sharp turn.

A small son of Mr. and Mrs. Hollingsworth received a broken leg, Mrs. Hollingsworth was painfully bruised and the other members of the family were more or less shaken up.

The Hollingsworths live ten miles north of Fort Worth. They were driving to the city when the accident happened. The injured boy was taken to the office of a North Fort Worth physician, where his broken leg was dressed.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation, which may appear in the columns of The Telegram will be gladly corrected upon due notice of same being given at the office, Eighth and Throckmorton streets, Fort Worth, Texas.

TO TRAVELING TEXANS:

The Telegram is on sale at: Chicago, Ill.—Palmer House News Stand; Denver, Colo.—Julius Black, News Agent, Sixteenth and Curtis streets; H. P. Hansen News Stand, Hot Springs, Ark.—Cooper & Wyatt, 620 Central Avenue.

This their example is worthy of imitation.—Denton Record and Chronicle.

The Denton paper has seized upon the wrong incident to illustrate the point it desires to bring before its readers and places Fort Worth in an altogether false position.

According to the city charter under which all the municipal affairs of this city are conducted, the granting of franchises must be done under the referendum system. The power of granting these franchises being taken out of the hands of the city council and vested in the legally qualified voters of the city, who say whether or not the franchise shall be granted.

In the election referred to there was no mossback opposition and no lack of appreciation of proper enterprise. The issue involved in the election was whether or not the franchise should be granted to the street car company without compensation, or that corporation be required to pay the city something like value for what it received.

There is a sentiment forming in Fort Worth to the effect that the city has passed the period where it should grant any more valuable franchises without cost to those who seek them, and it is a very proper sentiment. The city has to pay for what it gets from the average corporation, and there is no sane reason why the situation should be reversed.

And again, there are the school children. Let the parents leave the affairs of the universe to the mills of destiny a brief interval and let their presence grace the room where boys and girls are being converted into men and women.

There was never a fire kindled with kerosene oil that did not involve great danger. And the people who thus kindle their fires fully appreciate the danger, but are content to take the chances. Under such circumstances the usual accidents must necessarily continue.

Senator Bailey says that Bryan can be the nominee of the democratic party, but that he cannot dictate the platform, too. Bailey evidently thinks that Bryan cannot work the party in national affairs like some candidates do that same party in state conventions.—Denton Record and Chronicle.

We saw a man sell a sucking mule colt from about a $40 mare for $40 one day this week. This beats raising cotton so far that a man who will raise cotton instead of mule colts needs a guardian.—Athens Review.

When property reaches the point in valuation where ownership is prohibited there always comes a painful reaction. Inflated values seem to seriously threaten an important enterprise that has been projected south of the city, and it is very unfortunate that such a situation should have arisen.

The Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas through its executive committee has given an unqualified endorsement to the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show enterprise, and it is to be hoped that the members will proceed to make good by quickly subscribing for the amount of stock that now remains untaken.

That's so. The trusts will make the public pay the toll. Poor public. But it don't matter, the public is only the people after all and a little thing like robbing the public makes no great difference. Protect the trusts by all means.

Governor Folk of Missouri does not swallow Bryan's pet theory very gracefully, but Governor Folk is a thorough democrat. He will be found in the front of the procession when the time comes round to play the democratic march.

The way of the transgressor is hard. So was the heart of Stensland. And flint demands flint as a running mate. Stensland should be compelled to take his medicine as does the offender who is without resource or friends.

Leon Embley of Trenton, Ga., has postponed his wedding. Wise boy. His father was going to extend his congratulations in the shape of a spanking. Thus perish the hopes of youth.

A bunch of cattle died a day or two ago in Missouri, and the statement appeared in the press that they died of Texas fever. It looks like when splenic fever develops in Missouri it ought to be called Missouri fever.

"Somebody should hand Uncle Joe Cannon's boom a cigar stump," says the Commercial-Appeal, "and let it smoke up." There's where the trouble lies. The boom's up a stump.

Simplified spelling. Yes, there's Russia. "Czar" should by all means be respelled. It should read "Jar" of Russia.

President Palma is on the road to wealth. Presidency pays in Cuba. But we'll wait awhile before we ratify the statement. A possible suicide may teach us better.

Fort Worth is setting an illustrious example which her sister cities would do well to emulate. Let there be more factories.

More short tellers hiking out of the world. The only pity is that they don't hike before they shorten some poor man's bank account.

Plant a few roses in your yard. They will be sweet—to the anarchist who picks them from the street.

Money talks. That's the reason the grub consumers maintain such a heavy silence.

Time to cut the grass.

A NEGLECTED PRECAUTION A Cleveland woman is suing for divorce because her 15-year-old husband smokes cigarettes. She ought to have made him show his fingers before she married him.—Chicago Record-Herald.

HIS NAME Juror Glustin (nee Giustinianovitch) doesn't really care what happens as a result of the slight legal controversy of his citizenship, so long as the court doesn't decide to restore his maiden name.—Oregonian.

THE TEXAS PRESS

Government ownership of railroads may be nearer at hand than we think, if it be true that the railroad companies can never pay the fines that will be assessed against them under the new law except by turning over their property to the government.—San Antonio Express.

The railways will find it much better to obey the law than to incur the penalties that accrue from its violation. And if the railways submit to the operation of the new law there will never be any occasion for government ownership.

The city of Fort Worth has closed a contract with a territory coal company for its supply of coal at $1.15 per ton. The ordinary citizen in Fort Worth will pay $6 per ton. All right for the city; but why the discrimination?—Mineral Wells Index.

The city of Fort Worth contracted its coal direct from the mines. The average citizen purchases direct from the average corporation, and there is no sane reason why the situation should be reversed.

Another Texas girl was burned to death by lighting a fire with kerosene. Experience is a slow teacher to some. In such cases, however, the victims are successful, according to the statement of Josh Billings, who says that success don't consist in not makin' no mistakes, but it consists in not makin' the same mistake two times.—Gainesville Messenger.

There was never a fire kindled with kerosene oil that did not involve great danger. And the people who thus kindle their fires fully appreciate the danger, but are content to take the chances. Under such circumstances the usual accidents must necessarily continue.

Senator Bailey says that Bryan can be the nominee of the democratic party, but that he cannot dictate the platform, too. Bailey evidently thinks that Bryan cannot work the party in national affairs like some candidates do that same party in state conventions.—Denton Record and Chronicle.

Bryan may be the party nominee, but that fact has grown very doubtful since his return from his trip abroad. It is morally certain, however, that if he is made the democratic nominee he will not be permitted to make the platform. There are some Bryan ideas democracy will not stand for.

We saw a man sell a sucking mule colt from about a $40 mare for $40 one day this week. This beats raising cotton so far that a man who will raise cotton instead of mule colts needs a guardian.—Athens Review.

There are men apparently engaged in farming in Texas who would plant a big cotton crop if they knew every stalk of it would yield nothing but boll worms and boll weevils. They do not believe in any form of diversification and prefer to move along in the old ruts. One season of genuine prosperity would cause them to die of sheer surprise.

The greatest question which will confront the next state administration is that of taxation. There is a universal demand that the state be put on a cash basis and at once. Experiments are being made with tax laws which the authors believed would cure the trouble, but these laws are yet to be tried and to run the gauntlet of the courts. While measures to equalize the distribution of the taxation equitably and make all property bear its just burden are to be commended, it would seem that the best remedy for an administration and legislature to have the nerve to raise the present state rate to an amount which will clear off the deficit and then experiment.—Denton News.

The people of Texas have had enough of experimental tax legislation and the hole in the state treasury is still in existence. There is but one way in which the deficiency can be permanently overcome and that is to require the taxable values of the state to yield the required revenue.

Tom Campbell's threat to hold the legislators' noses to the grindstone till they made all the platform demands into laws, is a pretty big threat to begin with, and the Journal doubts his ability to accomplish it. The platform declares against free asses and nepotism, same as it has done for years, and yet it is doubtful if the legislature will enact either into a sensible law.—Arlington Journal.

It does not seem to have occurred to Colonel Campbell that members of the state legislature might seriously object to furnishing noses for the grindstone performance. The average legislator has a very tender feeling for his proboscis.

The lumber trust appears to be getting in its work here in Texas. The price of lumber is about as high as before the day of railroads.—Austin Tribune.

Why not tell your troubles to the attorney general of Texas? He maintains an office in Austin, and it is his sworn duty to aid in the enforcement of the laws of this state.

THEY ARE ALL DEAD

Some of our state exchanges have been remarking upon the death of the populist party. What had it to live for, since the republicans stole all its voters and the democrats all its "demands"?—El Paso Times.

The populist party has been dead for several years. Since the last national election Tom Watson has been the only living populist, and Tom is showing signs of being a wolf in sheep's clothing.—Fort Worth Telegram.

The El Paso Times makes a strong stroke in "stole all its voters and demands." The Telegram says Tom Watson is the only living populist. What are the others doing?—Bonham Herald.

THE TELEGRAM AND THE TEXAS PRESS

LET COLQUITT TALK

Railroad Commissioner Colquitt was given a big reception at Mineral Wells a few days ago and delivered an address to the teeming multitude. The renewed activity on the part of Commissioner Colquitt has prompted some wag to suggest that the next legislature proceed to change his name from O. B. Colquitt to O. B. Still.—Fort Worth Telegram.

That O. B. Still "hit" was rather clever when the Houston Chronicle first got it off, but it is somewhat musty now. Besides O. B. Colquitt is a freeborn Texan with as inalienable a right to express his opinions as any other Texan in this great commonwealth. Let him talk if he wants to. Besides, The Telegram ought to have gumption enough to know that a man who has always got his mouth open is sure to put his foot in it sooner or later, and so should, in pure animosity to Mr. Colquitt, be willing to let him talk unmolested.—San Antonio Express.

THOSE PLATFORM DEMANDS

In a speech at Galveston Monday, Colonel Tom Campbell again assured the people of Texas that all platform demands of the democratic party in this state shall be carried out. And when the legislature gets through with them it may be necessary to carry some of them out on a stretcher. At least that is the way the lawmakers usually attend to platform demands.—Fort Worth Telegram.

Colonel Campbell says he does not believe there is a platform jumper in the entire list. If that is so no stretchers will be needed. There is truth in the statement that in the past a political Red Cross society has been necessary for platform demands, but it will not happen when the legislators know that conventions in future are barred.—Houston Post.

HONEST MEN AT AUSTIN

Colonel Campbell will find no Augean stables spoiling for the cleaning at Austin. All state offices in Texas are filled by honest men and democrats, and it is foolish to talk about the necessity of turning the rascals out. There may be incompetents at Austin, but they are honest men.—Fort Worth Telegram.

So far as we know, they are honest, and we said nothing to the contrary. Should he find them otherwise, however, out with them.—Bonham Herald.

HARD ON THE FAITHFUL

Colonel Tom Campbell will consider no applications for office until he has been elected governor. That is very hard on the faithful.—Fort Worth Telegram.

It seems to us there is a provision in the Terrell election law against such a course.—Bonham Herald.

THE TERRELL ELECTION LAW

The men who attribute their defeat for office to the Terrell election law are hard pressed for a very simple explanation. But they must have some salve for their wounded vanity, and the Terrell election law has so few defenders it answers the purpose admirably.—Fort Worth Telegram.

There are but few who like the law in its present cumbersome condition, but when the politicians get through with it the probability is that they will give us something much worse. Most of the men who will have a whack at the law are those who agreed to attend the last session free of charge, and their violation of that promise shows that confidence cannot be put in them when they begin tampering with laws.—Gainesville Messenger.

VERIFIED THAT RING

BILL BRYAN ON THE FARM

Unmindful of the shouts and cries And promises of votes, Down to the hog lot William hies To gaze upon his shoats. "How much d'ye reckon that they'll weigh?" "About a hundred pounds I'd say." "By George, them swine are doing fine. Ain't no one's hogs a-doing mine."

Then on the pigs he turns his back And threads the stubble field To where his wheat stands in the stack And estimates the yield. "Bout forty bushels, more or less, 'Twill make, or else I lose my guess." The hired man says, "Yes, it will. How soon d'ye spect to thrash it, Bill?"

"'Til thrashin's soon now as I can. Last night I spoke to Hiram Green. He'll furnish me a team and man—I'm going to get Ban Smith's machine. I've got to get 'bout five more men. More sacks and wagon beds, and then hire some gal-tolerable good lookin'—To help Mrs. Bryan with the cookin'!"

Thus farmer Bill, he makes the rounds And puts the farm to rights, He weans the calves and feeds the pigs, And milks the cows o' nights, And when he doffs his old straw hat And wipes his boots upon the mat He rests within his family fold A-dreaming of the cross of gold.

—Kansas City Times.

WOMEN'S AND MEN'S APPAREL

Figure to yourself a busy man walking down street this afternoon. He has on his neck a stiff linen collar on his back a buttoned-up shirt, on his shoulders an opaque and airproof coat and on his face a coat of perspiration and a word of woe. He meets a woman. Her shirt waist is of the finest material the loom can weave—nay, furthermore, its warp and weft are interrupted ever and anon by holes through which gleams the cool and ventilated epidermis. The sleeves thereof terminate at the elbows, the only collar of which is non-existent. Why are these things thus? Why is it decreed more modest for the more modest man to wear the more "immodest," the more comfortable clothes?—Cleveland Leader.

GIRL RANCHERS ON THE WESTERN PLAINS

Think of 125 human roses blooming upon the prairies of South Dakota! With their pretty hands reddened and roughened by toil and their fair complexions exposed daily to the tanning winds, that number of real society girls from Des Moines and other Iowa cities are leading the strenuous life of the pioneer upon what was formerly the Rosebud Indian reservation.

It is true that many of the Iowa girls already had comfortable—in some cases luxurious—homes, with fathers possessing ample means sufficient to meet all their needs. What girl in this progressive age, however, is content to be entirely dependent upon others?

Perplexed by the Law And that is why 125 of Iowa's most charming specimens of femininity are now wearing short skirts, starchy and freckled faces as they "hold down" the claims they were fortunate enough to secure in the distribution of farms on the Rosebud.

Secure those homesteads, however, they would. When some of the bolder spirits announced that they proposed to become actual settlers in the new country—a thrill of approval ran through other breasts.

LITTLE BABY'S AWFUL HUMOR

Thin Skin Formed Over Body and Under it Was Watery Blood—When Washed it Would Burst and Break—Suffered for Weeks—Now Sound and Well—

CURED IN ONE WEEK BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"When my little girl baby was one week old she had a skin disease. A thin skin formed over her body and under it was watery blood, and when she was washed it would burst and break. She was in that condition for weeks, and I tried everything I could think of, but nothing did her any good. When she was three months old I took her to San Antonio to see a doctor, but the doctor we wanted to see was not at home, so my sister gave me a cake of Cuticura Soap and half a box of Cuticura Ointment, and told me to use them, which I did in time. I used them three times, and the humor began to fade, and in one week she was sound and well, and it has never returned since. I think every mother should keep the Cuticura Remedies in the house. Yours truly, Mrs. H. Aarou, Benton, Texas, July 3, 1905."

WEEPING ECZEMA

"I have used the Cuticura Remedies for some years past. The Cuticura Soap we are never without, and the Ointment is the finest in the world. It has done wonders in curing my little girl of weeping eczema. Respectfully, Mrs. E. Mersdorff, 310 W. 3rd St., Madison, Ind., June 27, 1905."

SLEEP FOR BABIES

Rest for mothers, instant relief and refreshing sleep for skin-tortured babies, in warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure, and purest of emollients.

ing homes for themselves upon the prairie. Among them are women of social position and wealthy families as well as former school teachers, stenographers, bookkeepers and other business girls.

Among their neighbors—neighbors, in this sense, meaning other settlers within half a hundred miles—are a number of single men who also seized the opportunity to acquire good farms at the hands of a generous government.

Several "matches" have been made through the agency of the claim agents, and more than one Iowa youth has learned, when too late, that "abence makes the heart grow fonder"—but not always that they are picked up.

Happening to draw a homestead in a community almost entirely composed of bachelors, Miss Rogers had not been in the territory long when she had received several proposals of marriage. Now, it is said, her victims number more than one hundred.

"Why, that is the only place to live," she declared the other day. "I grow lonely sometimes, but I am too busy to get homesick. The work is rather hard, too, but I've got used to it now and I don't know what I should do without it. I have a good time, and I like it. I have a good time, and I like it. I have a good time, and I like it."

When she was allotted a claim and reached the Rosebud country she found that her farm was back in the foothills, five miles from the nearest railroad station.

LOCAL LIVE STOCK NEWS. CAUSE FOR CONTENT. Jack County Cowman Says Conditions Are Roxy. H. Kapp, who has a ranch in Jack county, but who does a cow business all over the territories as well, and who is to well known to need an introduction to any cowman, was found sitting in the enjoyment of a good smoke in front of the Metropolitan hotel and was in a consequent receptive mood and willingly answered such questions as were fired at him.

WOMAN EXPECTS TO SPEND $100,000 IN UNUSUAL MANNER. NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—New York has been left $100,000 by an aunt who died in Germany. Mrs. Philip Hafner of this city, said today that the first thing she would do would be to buy all the ice cream she wanted. "It is more money than I dreamed of having. In all my life I have never been rich enough to buy as much ice cream as I would like. I shall eat all the ice cream I want and I receive my legacy."

DOCTOR DESPAIRED. Anemic Woman Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Anemia is just the doctor's name for bloodlessness. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure anemia as food cures hunger. They cured Mrs. Thomas J. McMan, of 17 Lincoln Place, Plainfield, N. J., who says: "In the spring of 1903 I did my usual house cleaning and soon afterward I began to have the most terrible headaches. My heart would beat so irregularly that it was painful and there came a morning when I could not get up. My doctor said I had anemia and he gave me a prescription of iron and cod liver oil, but nothing pleased them better than have ticks and shivery weather at the same time. It keeps a man humping to round up and doctor his stock under present conditions. However, this is an old business with stockmen and is looked upon as part of the business. Cotton is doing well, I am told, and there is not much talk of worms. It still continues to rain and I must say that I never saw as much moisture fall in any year that I can remember and be distributed over as great a length of time. We are getting to be quite a wet country."

WHERE RAIN IS NEEDED. Graham County Man Reports Injury to Cattle. Frank Lindsey, an Addington, I. T. stockman, was in company with H. Kapp and confirmed everything the latter said relative to the condition of things in the territory. Every interest seems to be all right up our way and in addition to what Kapp has said I can also add that we have about as big a crop of hay put up as any one country ever had. You see, the rains just forced it to keep on growing and as it does not take sage grass hay long to grow we were enabled to get between spells to cut, cure and stack in safety. While this hay will not fatten, still it will fill up and give the other class of feeds a chance to get in quicker work. Cotton is all right with us and very few worms."

EVERY SUIT "THE STORE AHEAD" SELLS IS A TYPE OF GOOD QUALITY CLOTHING

More care, more positive instructions, brings us yet nearer perfection in clothing. We don't aim to sell clothing that's simply "good" enough to sell, and the cheaper the better; that isn't at all the idea of this house—we could not grow on these lines. We take the other road—the sure road to lasting success. We secure the best that is possible to give you; there is no skimping in cloth, quality, workmanship or finish. We've men with brains who study how good they can produce clothing for The Store Ahead. The result is you get the best values American tailors can produce.

This fall's leading style clothing is piled high; there isn't an approved shape or color of Men's, Youths and Boys' Suits or Top Coats omitted. They're all here, and there are salesmen here glad to see you—willing to give you the proper time and attention required to properly fit you up. We solicit a call of inspection; you're more than welcome, even though you don't buy.

Fall Headwear

All that's new are now ready. Takes a salesman who knows what to show you, and a big stock to back him to assure you getting the hat best suited to you, and we have both the salesman and the stock. You'll find it satisfactory to come to us for headwear.

Boys' Clothing

Proper clothing, well made. As suppliers of boys' dress needs "The Store Ahead" stands pre-eminently first in Fort Worth; simply because we carry large stocks, sell at modest prices and handle the best. Hundreds of boys have been fitted up here for school. Let us clothe your boy.

FETE FOR ITALY'S FAMOUS ACTRESS

Twenty-five Years on Stage and Leads Quiet Life

Special to The Telegram.
ROME, Sept. 14.—Italy's greatest actress Eleanora Duse, will soon have completed twenty-five years on the stage and her admirers propose to celebrate the event by feasting the famous tragedienne. Signora Duse, however, has declined with thanks to have her jubilee signalled by any fetes, because she hates publicity.

In this the Italian actress differs from the great majority in her profession. She has never been interviewed, is hardly ever photographed and never seeks advertisement in any of the sensational ways familiar in stageland. She employs no press agent.

Even on the stage she does not "make up" and always wears her own hair, which is going gray. On leaving the stage door she makes her way home as unostentatiously as the "humblest super."

Texarkana Seeks Removal of Property From Front Street

Special to The Telegram.
TEXARKANA, Texas, Sept. 14.—Suit has been entered by the city of Texarkana, Texas, against the Cotton Belt Railway Company to enforce the removal of its passenger station and all related properties, such as baggage room, freight room, platforms, etc., from Front street, where they are now located, and where they have been tolerated for years past.

The city further asks that the road be enjoined perpetually from placing any obstruction, except trackage, in the said street.
The city has endeavored for a long time to get the company to improve the street, nearly two blocks of which are practically closed up by station facilities, but nothing has ever been done, though the street is one of the most important in the city. The passenger station is a small box structure.

Wife of Oil Magnate Has Charity Gift Turned Down

Special to The Telegram.
NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—A curious story comes from Newport to the effect that Mrs. H. H. Rogers has had returned to her as "tainted" a check which she recently sent to a charity to which her attention had been called. The secretary, a woman, returned the check with the emphatic note of disapproval.

Mrs. Rogers, who is a retiring and unassuming woman and not at all given to controversy, surprised her friends by sending a note to the secretary saying that the check could in no way be confused with tainted money, as it was drawn upon her own private bank and from an income she had before her marriage. It is not said whether or not she returned the check.

Interstate Commission Wrestling With Knotty Question

Special to The Telegram.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Unusual interest attached to the hearing of the interstate commerce commission Thursday on the question of the requirement of the new railroad rate law of thirty days' notice of intended charges in freight rates. Aside from the fact that the testimony and discussions brought out charges and counter charges of endeavoring to restrict competition upon the part of lines east of the Mississippi and those west of the river there was injected into the proceedings something of a sensation. Chairman Knapp read a letter from the party whom he said was a well known president of a western railroad, insinuating, in connection with the question of waiver of the thirty days' provision of the law, that the commission might "wink" while certain railroads might scoop their competitors by inaugurating "instantaneous midnight tariffs."

Man Leaps from Brooklyn Bridge and Is Unhurt

Special to The Telegram.
NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—An unknown man leaped from the center of Brooklyn bridge at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, turned several somersaults in midair and disappeared beneath the water to arise a few seconds later, apparently unhurt, for he swam easily and leisurely to a tug that was evidently waiting for him, was hauled aboard and from the deck waved a handkerchief to the men peering over the railing of the bridge hundreds of feet above him.

San Antonio Hopes to Handle Crops Next Year

Special to The Telegram.
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Sept. 14.—Plans are being put on foot to establish a rice mill in this city in order to handle the rice crop in the territory opened up to this city by the Cuero extension of the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio railroad. I. Marks of Houston, who is at the head of the Standard rice mills of that city, says he has been approached by some very influential men of Cuero, Victoria, Wharton and other cities, asking him to undertake the financing of such a project.

Special to The Telegram.
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 14.—The session of the Negro Women's Home convention was devoted today to addresses on educational matters and reports of committees. Last night the rules were suspended and Rev. E. C. Morris of Helena, Ark., was unanimously re-elected president for another year. He has served as president fifteen years. The Negro Women's Home and Foreign Mission convention, an auxiliary of the National Baptist convention, is also in session. Sadie Layton of Pennsylvania, presiding. Booker T. Washington will address the convention tomorrow evening, when it is expected 25,000 people will be present.

NEGROES AT WHITE SCHOOL

Children Claim They Are White, Not Black

Special to The Telegram.
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Sept. 14.—A small-sized sensation has been caused in this county by the charge made by Thomas J. Bryan that negroes are attending a white school just outside the city limits. The matter has been carried to County Superintendent Stewart and the latter has put on foot an investigation. Nearly all of the white children have withdrawn from the school. The children, which it is charged, are negroes, claim to be white and the question of proving the contrary makes it a very delicate question.

S.S.S. WRITE OUR PHYSICIANS

While we have the utmost confidence in the curative powers of S. S. S. in all blood troubles, yet we realize that in some cases causes unknown to the patient often hinder the best effects of the medicine. For this reason we have maintained for many years a branch to our business known as "Our Consultation Department." This department is composed of regularly graduated and licensed physicians who have made blood and skin diseases their special study, and who are employed solely to advise and help, without charge, those who use S. S. S. Thousands of people have been cured of blood and skin diseases of every kind by the use of S. S. S., and many of those who, perhaps, at first did not find the results entirely satisfactory, wrote our physicians a full statement of their case, and a little advice hastened the cure. We have nothing to sell you, and the only reason for wanting you to write to us is that we may use every effort to see that you get the best result from the medicine. You can then help us by advising your friends to use S. S. S., which you will know from experience is all we claim for it. You can write with the assurance that all correspondence is held in strictest confidence, and that our physicians will give you helpful advice without charge.

The House of a Thousand Candles

By MEREDITH NICHOLSON Author of "The Main Chance," Etc. The Bobbs-Merrill Co.

Synopsis of Previous Instalments John Glenarm, a roving young engineer, is killed at an estate near Annandale, Ind., by his grandfather, on condition that he live there a year, else it will revert to Marian Devereux of New York, niece of the elder Glenarm's friend. Young Glenarm, returning to New York from Africa, is informed of the terms of his grandfather's will by Pickering, a lawyer, his former schoolmate, whom he greatly dislikes. He accepts the term of his grandfather's will and starts for Indiana, accidentally meets his chum Lawrence Donovan. The two dine at Sher-ry's, and see there Pickering, accompanied by a young woman whose face impresses Glenarm. While Glenarm is seated in his grandfather's house, the first evening of his arrival, a bullet whizzes by his head and flattens itself against the wall. He accepts the terms of his grandfather's will and goes to Indiana. On the night of his first stay he is shot at while seated by the fireplace, but fails to discover his mysterious assailant. Next morning he takes a walk to the nearby village and returning across Morgan and the two have a fierce revolver battle. Morgan is wounded and Glenarm learns next day, through Rev. Paul Stoddard, chaplain of St. Agatha's school nearby, that Morgan wishes word of his condition sent to Pickering. (Continued from yesterday.) "Lord bless me, no, sir! There was little enough cash to bury him, with you out of the country and me alone with him." "He was a crank and I suppose he got a lot of satisfaction out of concealing his money. But this hunt for it isn't funny. I supposed, of course, we'd dig it up before Glenarm got here or I shouldn't have taken such a hurry to send for him. But it's over there somewhere, or in the grounds. There must be a plan of the house that would help. I'll give you a thousand dollars the day you wire me you have found any sort of clue." "I don't want thanks. I want the money or securities or whatever it is. I've got to get back to my car now, and you'd better slip home. You needn't tell your young master that I've been here." "I was trying hard to believe, as I stood there with clenched hands outside the chapel porch, that Arthur Pickering's name was written in the list of directors of one of the greatest trust companies in America and that he belonged to the most exclusive clubs in New York. I had run out for a walk with only an innerserv over my dinner jacket, and I was thoroughly chilled by the cold mist. I was experiencing, too, an inner cold as I reflected upon the greed and perfidy of man. "Keep an eye on Morgan," said Pickering. "Certainly, sir." "And be careful what you write or wire." "I'll mind those points, sir. But I'd suggest, if you please, sir." "Well," demanded Pickering impatiently. "That you should call at the house. It would look rather strange to the young gentleman if you'd come here and not see him." "I haven't the slightest errand with him, and besides, I haven't time. If he learns that I've been here you may say that my business was with Sister Theresa, and that I regretted very much not having an opportunity to call on him." The irony of this was not lost on Bates, who chuckled softly. He came out into the open and turned away toward the Glenarm gate. Pickering passed me, so near that I might have put out my hand and touched him, and in a moment I heard the carriage drive off rapidly toward the village. I heard Bates running home over the snow and listened to the clatter of the village hack as it bore Pickering back to Annandale. Then out of the depths of the chapel porch—out of the depths of time and space, it seemed, so dazed I stood—some one came wifitly toward me, some one, light of foot like a woman, ran down the walk a little way into the fog and paused. An exclamation broke from me. "Eavesdropping for two!"—it was the voice of Olivia. "I'll take good care of myself if I were you, Squire Glenarm. Good night!" "Good by!" I faltered, as she sped away into the mist toward the school. Chapter XIV THE GIRL IN GRAY. My first thought was to find the crypt door and return through the tunnel before Bates reached the house. The dark passage, lit by lightning matches I found my way to the map and panel. I slipped through and closed the opening; then ran through the dark passage, and by the aid of the generous builder who had given it a clear floor and an ample roof. In my haste I miscalculated its length and pitched into the trap which was the only human being, except Bates, Morgan and the man who brought up my baggage, who had crossed the threshold since my arrival with my cap emashed down over my eyes. I heard Bates at the rear of the house and knew I had won the race by a scant margin. I was in a moment in which to throw my coat and cap into the divan, slap the dust from my clothes and seat myself at the great table, where the candles blazed tranquilly. Bates' step was as steady as ever—there was not the slightest hint of excitement in it—as he came and stood within the door. "Beg pardon, Mr. Glenarm, did you wish anything, sir?" "Oh, no, thank you, Bates." "I had stepped down to the village, sir, to speak to the grocer. The eggs he sent this morning were not quite up to the mark. I have warned him not to send any of the storage article to this house." "Well, Mr. Glenarm, I folded my arms to hide my hands, which were black from contact with the passage, and faced my man servant. My respect for his fastidiousness, with my cap immensely since he gave me my coffee. A contest with so clever a rogue was worth while. "I'm grateful for your good care of me, Bates. I had expected to perish of discomfort out here, but you are treating me like a lord." "Thank you, Mr. Glenarm. I do what I can, sir." He brought fresh candles for the table and candles, going about with his accustomed air, but I felt a cold chill creep down my spine as he passed behind me on these errands. His transition from the role of com-panion to that of my fiercest servant was almost too abrupt. I dismissed him as quickly as possible, and listened to his step through the door as he went about locking the doors. This was a regular incident, but I was aware tonight that he ex-ecuted it with a particular care. The locking-up process had rather bored me before; tonight the snapping of

ONE ARMED MEN ORGANIZE UNION

Aims to Provide Comfort for All Maimed

Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—The One-Armed Men's Union was founded here last night. Its principles essentially are humanitarian, it being devised for the benefit of all maimed, legless or armless men employed by the railroads in and near Chicago. One of the first things on the program of the new union will be to secure a more "comfortable" existence for the disabled members. The list of demands to be made on the railroad companies embraces "cushioned seats" for members with "stumps," ice water in summer time and awning shades to protect the tenders from the heat of the sun and dampness.

COMING TO TEXAS

Autolet to Pass Through Fort Worth on Way to Mexico Special to The Telegram. BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 14.—Charles J. Glidden, the Boston millionaire, who has girdled the globe twice with his automobile, is completing arrangements for an automobile tour by rail from Boston to the City of Mexico via Texas, starting in November and reaching the City of Mexico by Christmas. With Mrs. Glidden he will go from Boston to Chicago on the highway, 1,800 miles. From Chicago to Fort Worth the party will travel over the Rock Island railroad tracks, their automobile being fitted with specially constructed steel tires. From Fort Worth they will take to the International and Great Northern road, 490 miles, and from there to the City of Mexico they will use the National lines of Mexico tracks. In addition they will make side trips to Arkansas, Tennessee, Louisiana, Mexico, bringing their total mileage up to 6,000. Mr. Glidden is the first autolet to travel around the world with his motor car.

ASLEEP ON TRACKS

Man Instantly Killed and Girl Hit by Engine Special to The Telegram. SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Sept. 14.—As a result of selecting the railroad track as a proper place to take a nap, one fatal and probably another accident that will prove fatal occurred on the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad yesterday. Near Floresville a Pole named Joe Politzer was asleep squarely across the track. He was sighted by the engineer who attempted to stop the train, but did not succeed. Little Girl Hurt The second accident was on the Kerrville branch. A 3-year-old girl of a family who was picking cotton near the track wandered away and fell to

Reuter's Soap A breath of roses is descriptive of the perfume of Reuter's Soap, a delicious odor, light and vague, exquisite without being oppressive. Not the heavy perfume of the drawing room, but a faint breath suggestive of refinement. Its abundant, creamy lather will open and purify your pores. Its antiseptic, soothing properties will soften, and beautify your complexion. At department stores, and druggists. Prove it for yourself by sending a two-cent stamp for a trial cake. Deny Death Story NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Pinner was a daughter of 107 Washington street, Holyoke, Mass. She has been a widow of standing for thirty years. Mrs. Pinner, a sister of the family, speaking for the family, said: "We are satisfied that she died from heart disease. I was when she died. I took her to just outside of Buffalo, for she was suffering from heart and heart trouble. She was when we left Hoboken. She was when I brought the body day. I do not know this you speak of." When told that the cause given on the death certificate was "heart disease," Pinner was certainly a blunder—mistake had been made. Harry Pinner, a brother, "My sister, Edith, was 63 years of age. She first went to E. where her sister lives and remained six weeks. A doctor was recommended. To her home Sunday, and we Wednesday. It was a very for all of us. The cause of given us as blood-poisoning an operation for appendicitis was performed, but she never reveal the name of her doctor." SHE FOUND RELIEF and have not rec'd this: Mrs. Mary E. HE PLAYED WITH LINCOLN'S SLAYER

Aged Actor Declares Booth Monomaniac

Special to The Telegram. DOUGLASSVILLE, Ga., Sept. 14.—A man 70 years of age, giving his name as Lewis F. Barrett, actor and lecturer, created excitement by having an epileptic fit in the main street here today. He says he played with J. Wilkes Booth in "Richard III," and tells many tales which are borne out by press clippings of that time, which he has in his possession.

He says the week before Booth killed Lincoln they were playing together in Washington. He says that Booth was a monomaniac and while in his dying moments he said, "I died for my country," showing the spirit which actuated Booth. The man says he played "Uncle Tom's Cabin" with one of the first companies that went on the road with that play. He has letters and clippings from almost every country in the world.

Mrs. Lee Cowser of Cleburne Sues Santa Fe for Damages

Mrs. Lee Cowser of Cleburne, Johnson county, has filed suit for herself and children against the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe railroad company for $25,000 damages on account of the death of her husband, William Cowser, who died at the Santa Fe hospital at Temple of injuries alleged to have been received at Cleburne March 9, 1906.

The petition alleges that William Cowser was in the employ of the defendant railroad at Cleburne and it was a part of his duty as inspector to make repairs on air hose on cars, and that while he was so engaged under a string of cars standing on the track an engine backed against the cars, causing them to run over Cowser, causing him injuries from which he died three days later.

THEFT OF PAPER LEADS TO ARREST

Man of 70 Arrested on Charge of Stealing Paper

A. L. Coleman, aged 70 years, a well-known character to the police, was arrested by Officer Bells Friday on a warrant charging theft, and he was taken before Judge Milam of the county court.

Coleman was charged with appropriating a morning newspaper from an office in the Wheat building, and as the loss of papers by subscribers has become quite annoying of late it was decided to make a case against Coleman.

When the old man was arrested and searched a leather pouch containing $729.05 was found in his pocket, $700 of it being in $50 bills. When arraigned before Judge Milam the man said he did not intend to steal the paper; just took it to find out what was going on, and said that everybody knew he was an honest man. He referred to Morgan Jones and George T. Jester, saying:

"They know me and will tell you that I am all right. Why, I used to be an assistant purchasing agent for the Santa Fe railroad and never stole anything."

"You are also charged with taking brass and copper and bottles and selling it to the junk men," said the judge.

"Oh, I go around the alleys and pick up things and sell them to make my street car fare; that's all."

"Do you go around all the time with a lot of money in your pocket?"

"Yes, sir."

"What do you do that for?"

"I was broken up by certain parties once, and I sold what I had left for $500 and have kept it in my pocket to keep them from getting that. My head is sore behind my ear, Judge. Brigham Young touched it thirty-seven years ago and said that would cure it, but it didn't."

"If I let you go this time will you quit tramping around back alleys and taking things that don't belong to you?"

"Yes, sir; yes, sir; and I will swear right here that I will go to the penitentiary if I pick up another bottle or anything else."

Judge Milam discharged the old man, his $729.05 was returned to him by Officer Bells in the presence of the court, a receipt was given for it and the old man left the court room. It is said he has two sons living in the city.

$15,000 TO BE SPENT ON RINK

Fort Worth Rink to Be Still Further Improved

As substantial evidence of their faith in the continuance of the skating enthusiasm, the owners of the Fort Worth Rink are increasing their investment of $15,000. This, perhaps, sounds a bit extravagant, yet the improvements now in progress at the Fort Worth rink at the corner of Rusk and Third streets, would surprise even the most enthusiastic lover of the rollers.

The actual skating surface of the rink has been increased to 13,775 square feet, the new dimensions being 90 by 150 feet, including the rink at the northeast corner of the building. All except four of the posts have been removed and iron trusses put in their stead. The remaining four posts afford a definite space for the trick and fancy skater and also the beginning.

The entrance to the rink has been overhauled and rebuilt so that the patron cannot be admitted to the floor until he has passed through a series of highly polished and finished with the best materials obtainable.

Another marked improvement is the sounding board, back of and over the band platform, thus adding to the attraction of the band of ten pieces. Cox will furnish the music.

The seating capacity of the rink is now two thousand and one thousand skaters can find room upon the floor at the same time. Five hundred pairs of the best Winslow skates have been ordered.

The entire building is amply provided with the latest and over a rest room for the ladies and a smoking room for the gentlemen.

They have the largest rink in Texas now, except the one at Oak Cliff," said R. C. Armstrong, "and we certainly expect to do the business, for we have the location, the name, the conveniences and the best skating floor in the state."

The directors of the Fort Worth Rink are B. C. Armstrong, president; Will Edgington, vice president, and Charles Lord, secretary and treasurer. John Bondurant is manager.

The rink will be open Monday evening, Sept. 17, and every morning, afternoon and night thereafter, except, of course, Sundays.

T. & P. IS USING CLEARFORK WATER

Railroad Falls Back on River for Supply

For about six weeks the Texas and Pacific has been pumping water for its engines at the pumping station, about a mile west of the city, from the Clear Fork. The company has spent a goodly sum trying to get an ample supply of water at that point, and after sinking a big well about the size of a west Texas tank to the river gravel which underlies the river bank at that point, they succeeded, but the water was hard and encrusted the boilers of the engines.

They got a conditional permission from the city to use the river water and extended a suction pipe, six-inch capacity, out into the Clear Fork and draw the water from there. The understanding is that as long as the city has no use for the water, as it has not under the present plan of supplying water for the city consumption entirely from the artesian wells, the railway can use the water, which otherwise runs to waste, and then the quantity the railway uses from the river is so small in quantity as compared with the flow that no one can tell the difference after they pump out all they need.
