Panic on Boats

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—A telephone message from Tivoli says the steamer Adirondack collided with the steamer Saratoga during the night. The Saratoga was damaged, but it is not known how seriously. The steamer was unable to continue the trip and anchored about a mile below Tivoli. Three persons are reported killed and four or five injured. The Adirondack was able to proceed after the collision and resumed her trip. The Saratoga belongs to a Troy line and runs between New York and Troy. The Adirondack runs between Albany and New York and belongs to the People's line. Both are handsome appointed steamers and make what is known as the night run on the Hudson.

Both Boats Valuable

The Saratoga is an old boat, having been built in 1877. The vessel is 300 feet long and has accommodations for 150 passengers and is valued at $550,000. The Adirondack was launched in 1899 at a cost of $1,000,000 and is one of the best boats on the Hudson. She is 412 feet long and has five decks, in which are 350 staterooms. The boat is modern in all her appointments. Fireman Sherman, on the Saratoga, was killed and George Horton, clerk on the Adirondack, is missing. The collision occurred in a dense fog which prevented the pilots of either boat from seeing each other.

Side Torn Off

Both are thought to have missed their bearings. The Adirondack tore off the port side of the Saratoga, which lifted to port and the boiler was sent overboard and sank. Many passengers on the Saratoga were knocked down by the force of the collision, but the crews of both boats assisted in rescuing them and the bodies were transferred to the City of Troy and landed at Tivoli and sent to New York by train. The passengers on both boats became panic-stricken and the boiler was sent overboard and sank. Special to The Telegram. ENNIS, Tex., Oct. 13.—There was a living, breathing curiosity on exhibition at the Union depot this morning and all the people at the station went thru the car and looked and wondered at the monster. It was the largest man ever seen in this part of the country. He is a negro. He occupied all one seat in the coach. He says his name is Jim Simmons, that he is 19 years old and weighs 752 pounds. His legs and arms are almost as large as the body of a medium sized man.

ELLIS COUNTY HEARS BAILEY

Senator Explains Trust Connections to Large Audience

REFERS TO SHAW

Declares It His Ambition to Own the Finest Farm and Herd in Texas

Special to The Telegram. WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Oct. 13.—Senator Bailey spoke here yesterday afternoon to one of the largest crowds that has assembled in Waxahachie for political purposes in a long time. Fifty or seventy-five men, headed by Representative Jack Beal, and all wearing Bailey badges, met the senator at the train.

The speaking began at 2 o'clock in the district court room. There were a few vacant seats in the gallery when Senator Bailey arrived, but these were occupied when he began to speak, and within five minutes there was little standing room left anywhere. The audience was made up largely of women.

Senator Bailey was introduced in a very few words by Mr. Beal. After speaking of the greatness of Ellis county and its people, Senator Bailey alluded to the petition that had been circulated here last spring asking Mr. Crane to become a candidate against him.

"But," he added, "it is fair to say of even those here who are not my friends that they were somewhat more honest in respect to my services than other places, because they did attempt before the primaries to organize an opposition to my return to the senate. When that attempt was made and had failed it seemed to me that good democrats they should have kept their peace until in the course of time the democrats of Texas are again called on to elect me to my services. I have no complaint to make against any set of men who think that Texas has a citizen more worthy than I am to serve them in the highest assembly on the earth. I have no complaint to make against any man who dislikes me."

Notices Mr. Shaw

"Here's a man, one William A. Shaw, who made a speech at that Dallas meeting last night. He is one of those farmers who work the farmers instead of the land. In this speech many of the farmers in congress had no right to take any kind of private employment. Well, my countrymen, if you are not going to let a man follow an honest occupation because he happens to serve you in a public way, then you will have to get your servants from three classes—the professional politicians, the very rich men and the soundest herd of heads on earth. I have no complaint to make against any set of men who think that Texas has a citizen more worthy than I am to serve them in the highest assembly on the earth. I have no complaint to make against any man who dislikes me."

Denied by Cable Company

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—At the office of the French Cable Company it is stated there has been no fresh eruption of the volcano of Mont Pelee on the island of Martinique. The reports of such eruption came from Guadeloupe and St. Thomas in the West Indies. A statement issued by the French Cable Company reads as follows: "We deny the information printed in yesterday's papers concerning a fresh eruption of Mont Pelee, such being incorrect, nor was anything of this nature reported by the French Cable Company or the United States Hayti Cable Company. Telegraphic communication with Martinique by these routes is in perfect working order."

Superintendent Sweeney of the French Cable Company's office said: "I have this moment received the following from Martinique: Stories of fresh eruption of Mont Pelee false; volcano is calm."

LIGHT THROWN ON KAISER'S ACTIONS

France Aroused Over Revelations About Bismarck

PARIS, Oct. 13.—The revelations resulting from the publication in Germany of the late Chancellor Von Bismarck's "Recollections," continue to make a great stir in France of account of the slights thrown on the German policy toward this republic, and today in connection with the centennial tomorrow of the battle of Jena, which opened the gates of Berlin to the victorious French army, newspapers here are filled with articles on the subject. The general verdict is that Emperor William's action in dismissing Prince Bismarck for counsel-giving infidelity to Germany's ally, Austria, was highly honorable to the emperor, but nevertheless entailed grave consequences.

Kaiser More in Light

The Republic Française points out that Bismarck's object was to repair the bad effects of his policy at the Berlin congress by insisting on a renewal of the secret "reinsurance" agreement with Russia, previously Emperor William, the paper adds, threw Russia into the arms of France, thus becoming responsible for the diplomatic situation of which he vainly attempted to modify by his bold stroke of policy at Tangier.

SLAVERY CHARGED

Northerners Are Accused of Holding Whites and Blacks in Peonage

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Fresh allegations of the existence of slavery in southern Florida, below Tampa, have been made to the department of justice, and it is alleged that hundreds of men in the state, both white and negroes, are held in virtual slavery.

It is declared that those responsible for this condition of affairs are mostly northern men and companies engaged in the turpentine and lumber business and in mining phosphate rock. It is further alleged that the sheriffs in various counties in the southern part of the state are said to be parties to the enslaving of negroes in the phosphate mines, turpentine farms and lumber mills. The department's informant, who is a woman, is to have an interview with Attorney General Moody, after which the department will decide upon the course it will pursue.

MURDER CASE UP TO EXPERTS

Doctor on Trial for Killing Wife to Testify

POISON DISCUSSED

Court Hears Argument on Mixture of Fatal Dose—Defense Confluent

By Associated Press. TOMS RIVER, N. J., Oct. 13.—There will be only a morning session of the court today in the trial of Dr. Frank Brouwer, charged with poisoning his wife. Court will adjourn at noon until Monday. During the morning session, Dr. J. J. Marshall, the county physician of Pennsylvania, will again take the stand and will give further expert testimony. He will continue his demonstration, begun yesterday, to show that the mixture of strychnine in a nutrient containing milk, whiskey and egg will not cause curdling.

It has been claimed by the prosecution that such nutriments was left by Dr. Brouwer with Miss Dudley, a nurse, to be administered to his wife. When this was administered, it is alleged, it caused the strychnine poisoning that resulted in tetanic convulsions. Miss Dudley testified that she made one of those nutriments herself and that it was entirely different from that made by Dr. Brouwer. Dr. Marshall's experiments in court are to disprove this testimony.

Undertaker Testifies

The defense got well started on its case yesterday. Besides Dr. Marshall, Edward J. W. Westfall, the undertaker who embalmed Mrs. Brouwer's body, testified. He said there was no arsenic in the embalming fluid he used, but that he had previously embalmed another body with the same ingredients used on Mrs. Brouwer's body, and with fluid that was arsenical. He did not clean his instruments in the interim.

Dr. Marshall, who followed, pressed the important point for the defense by stating that if an arsenical fluid had passed thru tubes used afterward to embalm another body, it is likely that arsenic would be carried into that body.

There is a possibility that Dr. Brouwer may take the stand today to testify in his own behalf, but it will depend upon the length of time occupied by Prof. Marshall. The general expectation is that Brouwer will testify Monday.

KILLS FAMILY AND SUICIDES

Farmer Takes Lives of Wife, Four Children and Self

BELIEVED INSANE

Two More Will Die From Injuries—Ax Was Used in Wholesale Murder

By Associated Press. KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 13.—A special to the Sentinel from Newport, Tenn., says: Chabern Mantooth, aged 50 years, and one of the most prominent farmers of Cooke county, this morning murdered his wife and four children, fatally injuring two other children and then committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear. This terrible tragedy was enacted at the Mantooth home about 8 o'clock. It is believed another motive can be conceived of why he wantonly destroyed the family. An ax was the weapon used with such deadly effect.

Brains Exposed

His wife and children were brained and death must have been instantaneous. Two children who are still alive at 10 o'clock this morning cannot possibly recover, their skulls having been crushed and the brains exposed. It is regarded as miraculous they, too, did not die instantly. An inquest will likely be held this afternoon and the funeral of the dead will probably occur tomorrow.

BANKER AIDED CUBAN REBELS

Silveira Said to Have Financed Late Revolution

ENEMY OF PALMA

Fugitive Accused of Embezzling $1,000,000 Believed to Be in Venezuela

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Manuel Silveira, the Cuban banker whose alleged embezzlement of $1,000,000 belonging to J. M. Ceballos & Co. caused that firm's failure, financed the recent revolt in Cuba, according to Havana advices to the New York Times. Part of the money, it is stated, was spent in the purchase of arms.

Silveira's activity in the revolution is declared to have been due to a quarrel with President Palma. They had been together in some large cattle deals, Silveira supplying stock for Palma's estate in Havana. While these deals were proceeding Silveira became interested in the Tacon theater deal, which involved a sale to the government at $200,000 above the purchase price. Mr. Ceballos said he knew nothing about Silveira's work for the revolutionists.

Ceballos Not Concerned in Fight

John S. Flske, a member of the Ceballos banking firm, again last night in his opinion, Silveira had nothing to do with the revolt. He declared positively also that Mr. Ceballos certainly had no share in any business of that sort. "Silveira must have been crazy," said Mr. Flske. "I can think of no other explanation for what he has done."

Whereabouts Unknown

Meanwhile, no word of Silveira's whereabouts has been received. All South American ports are being watched, but so far nothing has been heard of Silveira or the cattle-carrying steamship in which he fled from Havana a week ago last Tuesday.

Believe He Is in Venezuela

A member of the firm of J. M. Ceballos & Co. reiterated the belief yesterday that Silveira had gone to Venezuela and would stay there. He said a brother of Silveira's, who is a partner in the Venezuelan fuel trade monopoly and Silveira was a close friend of President Castro. It would have been an easy matter, he said, for Silveira to ship small amounts of gold to Venezuela, shipping by trusted messengers, on his cattle boats. By doing this in small amounts, he would not have attracted the attention of banking houses in Havana. There was no treaty between Cuba and Venezuela and it would be almost an impossible task to get Silveira.

Beginning of Plot

William Nelson Cromwell, counsel of the assignee, said that while this deal was pending Palma found that he had been badly beaten in a cattle deal and thereupon frustrated the theater transaction.

Silveira at that moment became Palma's enemy and began plotting revolution. Then he employed Jose Miguel Gomez as the manager of his sugar estate. The government openly persecuted Gomez, sending him to prison and forcing him to flee the country. It was the government's policy to force the people near the estate to refuse to deal with Gomez or Silveira. The result was the dismissal of Gomez, who went to New York, where he was arrested and held in custody. It was the government's policy to force the people near the estate to refuse to deal with Gomez or Silveira. The result was the dismissal of Gomez, who went to New York, where he was arrested and held in custody.

The government learned of Silveira's conspiracy and had prepared to arrest him, when he purchased freedom by the ostensible gift of 500 horses and the betrayal of Quantin Bandera. Invention by the United States brought about a situation where Silveira's treachery to both sides was bound to appear, with consequent danger to his life. He thereupon apparently laid hands on what cash was available and fled.

This is the story from Havana. Reports have been received from New York from the first that it would be found that Silveira was concerned in the Cuban revolution and Juan Ceballos of the bankrupt firm declared that in his opinion the reports were wrong. If they were true and if it was found Silveira was in Venezuela he did not believe that Ceballos & Co. would spend much money to get him extradited.

Company Forced to Wait

The Seville Packing Company of this city, importers and packers of olive oil and olives, is the first concern forced to the wall as a result of the suspension of J. M. Ceballos & Co. Mr. Ceballos is the heaviest stockholder and his two partners are officers of the company. A petition in bankruptcy was filed yesterday against it by attorneys for five small creditors and Harlan F. Stone was appointed receiver.

It was intimated that the liabilities were less than $200,000. In the application for the receiver it was stated that the assets are more than $50,000.

WOMAN TO MEET SENATOR BAILEY?

Mrs. Laura B. Payne a Possible Debater for Socialists

The possibility of Mrs. Laura B. Payne of Fort Worth as a debater against Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey, is suggested by a challenge just issued to the senator by the executive board of the Socialist party in Texas.

During his addresses over the state Senator Bailey has referred frequently to the socialists and not always in kindly terms. W. J. Bell, state secretary of the party, has written an open letter to Senator Bailey concluding with the following challenge: "And now, Mr. Bailey, you can not consistently deny to the Socialist party the privilege of meeting you in public discussion. To claim that we are too insignificant a factor to be recognized will not go down with the public. To deny this privilege to a factor significant enough to attract your venom from a public rostrum would be cowardly."

"We, therefore, challenge you to a public discussion of the merits of the representative of the Socialist party who will be selected by the state executive board of the Socialist party of Texas, in which discussion you are to prove any or all of the assertions you have publicly made against socialism and socialists. To disprove any or all of the counter assertions herein embodied, to defend your acts as a public servant. To disprove the justice, practicability and claims of socialism, or to defend competition, capitalism or the Democratic party. Such discussion to take place not later than the 27th instant."

Whether or not Mrs. Payne is considered as a possible debater in event this challenge is accepted, cannot be learned here. Mrs. Payne is candidate for congress from the Twelfth Texas district, the first woman in the South to make such a political race. She is regarded as one of the strongest speakers for socialism in Texas. She is now making a tour of this congressional district.

"I received no notification of having been dismissed by the Mexican government. The charges contained in the dispatch are ridiculous. The only grievance the Mexican government officials could possibly have against me is that I may not have been active enough in suppressing the publication of the dispatch. I don't know who they are."

HIS PROPHECY IS FULFILLED

John W. Springer Visits His Former Home. John W. Springer, a national banker of Denver, Colo., a politician, but, as he says, not of "the hair pulling sort, actively interested in the affairs of the National Livestock Association because he is also a cattleman, a former resident of Texas, is back again for a visit to Fort Worth, the first time since he made the principal address at the laying of the cornerstones of the packing houses, about four years ago.

Mr. Springer is in excellent health and is delighted with what he has already seen of the improvement in Texas. He could see but little of the city on his trip up from the station, for his train was late, but today he will go over the city pretty thoroughly, for it is one of the children of his affections.

He noted the great development in the Panhandle country as he came down the Denver, and was vastly pleased thereat, for that is one of the things that he has been thinking of when the turning point in the future of Fort Worth was reached, at the time of the beginning of the packing houses and big stockyards at Fort Worth.

Helped Get Packing Houses

When those enterprises hung in the balance the aid of Mr. Springer was invoked by the great cattle markets of the good that was to follow their inception. He helped materially in raising the final thousands of the subsidy, which appeared in the matter, and, as he said, Friday night, talking of the time and on the subject, was roundly "cussed" by some of his friends for leading them astray, and, when he was condemned him that his foresight was the equal of wisdom of the trustee kind, for all that he then said of the benefits to accrue and more, have come to pass. The influence of that address was far-reaching and it was potent in fixing some of the plans for the improvement of Fort Worth and the Denver Railroad.

Has Chance for the Senate

Mr. Springer thinks his chances for election to the position of United States senator, representing Colorado, are as good as those of the other man, while he says, most emphatically, he is not in politics to scramble over anything.

TOILET ROOM CASE DECIDED

Court of Civil Appeals Rules Against Railroad. The first case, involving the constitutionality of the "toilet room law," enacted at the last session of the Texas legislature, to reach the appellate court was decided in the court of civil appeals in this city Saturday against the railroad.

The appeal is by the Fort Worth and Rio Grande Railroad Company and is from a judgment against it in favor of the state in the sum of $900 rendered by the district court of Comanche county.

Under this act of the legislature railroads are requested to provide suitable and separate toilet rooms for male and female patrons within or in connection with their depots or passenger stations, and a penalty of $100 a week is imposed against any railroad failing, neglecting or refusing to comply with the act.

The penalty prescribed by the act has been construed differently by a number of trial courts and the validity of the law was assailed, among other grounds, because it being a penal law, must be strictly construed, and since the penalty named in the law is indefinite, it is contended that the law is inoperative and void for uncertainty.

Other grounds are being urged on the appeal, among which are that all depots in the western district are in favor of the defendant; and since there is such an ambiguity in the act under review as to leave reasonable doubt of its meaning, the penalty cannot be inflicted.

AGE SHOWS IN PAVING

Many Depressions on Main Street Alone REPAIRS NEEDED

Traction Company Is Doing Its Part—Will Be Acted On by City Council

The condition of the brick paving on Main street has caused some comment more with reference to the condition of the pavement immediately adjacent to the street car tracks of the Northern Texas Traction Company, who there are other places where the pavement has worn to some extent.

From the court house to the Texas and Pacific station adjoining the street car tracks there are depressions in many places so deep that narrow tired vehicles may catch in the depressions and against the street.

On the part of Main street beginning at Seventh street and extending southward the street car company has begun the repairs of that part of the street; in fact, relaying the entire space for which it is liable, that is to say, the space between the tracks and for eighteen inches on each side of the rails.

The company has been delayed by an inability to get the bricks necessary for the work of relaying or repairing, where the latter will suffice.

There are other places in the pavement of Main street which are not in perfect condition and a careful examination of all of that work shows the following defects:

Depression at intersection of Front and Main near curb fourteen feet by two.

Depressions in front of McCord-Collins building.

Depressions in front of W. Henry & R. E. Bell store.

Water connection in front of Nash hardware store.

Low place in front of 1501 Main street.

MARRYING MARY LIKES "BLINDFOLDED"

"I've read 'Blindfolded' twice," says Marie Cahill, the star in "Marrying Mary," at Daly's. "The first time I rushed thru it to see how it would end. A woman usually looks at the ending of a story first, and reads backward. But I had been warned not to do it, and so used all my will power to keep from peeping at the last pages while I was in the early chapters. I used to close the book and try to guess how it was going to turn out. I always gave it up, tho. It's the most absorbing thing."

For a narrative of adventure fit to make one sit stark, staring awake till cockcrow, for a tale of tantalizing and labyrinthine mystery, read "Blindfolded," by Earle Ashley Walcott. The puzzle is presented at the jump, and as it unravels it appears to grow constantly more complex. For mastery of mystery it would be hard to surpass this unusual story.

A young man finds himself taken for a cousin, whom he strongly resembles, and whom he has just seen murdered without traveling reason. He is compelled by a force of circumstances to impersonate the murdered man and take up his hazardous and subterranean mission without having the slightest idea what that mission is.

He essays a triple task—to find out what he is trying to do, to do it, and to escape assassination. All three prove to be extremely difficult. It is in reality a detective story of the very highest order without any detective in it. Seldom has there been written a more genuinely interesting tale of adventure.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

FAST MILE IN A HEAVY WIND

Thousands See the World's Famous Pacer

Nearly 10,000 people saw Dan Patch, the world's fastest horse, pace a mile in the face of a heavy south wind in 2:02 1/2 Friday afternoon at the track of the Fort Worth Fair Association.

While some expected the great horse to make better time than this the majority were prepared for a slow mile in that Starter Newton called the attention of the crowd to what effect the wind would have on Dan in his race against time and requested that this be recorded.

The bookies were offering bets that Dan would not do the mile in 2:04. They knew the strong wind would prevent his doing it, and that he would be covered.

When Dan made his appearance on the track the multitude cheered and the gallant pacer knew that he was the center of attraction, for no horse of royal blood ever stepped with more pride and dignified deliberation than did he.

He then at last actually looked as if he was smiling and when he passed from under the wire on a hurtling foot of the course in the effort to lower his record he paced with ease, showing but little signs of what he intended to do when the last quarter was reached.

In the first quarter Dan traveled like a storm. His pacemakers, galloping for all they were worth, could hardly keep up with him, and when the home stretch was entered they fell behind.

It was in the first quarter of the last half mile that Dan commenced to pick up and forge forward in a manner most thrilling. Around the track he flew with the rapidity of a frightened bird's flight.

His driver, Harry Hershey, bent low and with whip poised above the neck of the great pacer, urged the horse onward. The pacemakers were running for dear life, flying under whip in order to keep in the going. Now to the third quarter! Dan is propelling his legs madly. One can almost hear the thud, thud, thud of the animal's hoofs as they come in rapid contact with the hard earth.

With mane flying and the multitude breathless with excitement, the glorious and gallant Dan hurtles into the fourth and final quarter. On the home stretch he flies and with neck outstretched and body swaying he starts on the straight drive for home.

With eyes flashing like fiery opals and froth falling from a firm set mouth the great pacer rushes like a whirlwind under the wire, with the pacemakers following.

Had it not been for the heavy breeze Dan Patch would undoubtedly have lowered his record for pacing on half mile tracks. As it is Fort Worth today has the honor of being the third city in the United States where Dan has made anything like a record on a half-mile track.

Dan's race against time at the local track told in fractions is as follows: First quarter, 30 seconds; second quarter, 30 1/2 seconds; third quarter, 30 1/2 seconds and the half mile in 1:06 1/2 and the mile in 2:02 1/2.

There were five other events on the program, but each was very tame. In the free-for-all pace in which Castlewood, Nona Audubon, Stranger O and Ed Patch entered, there was cause for some of fiercest criticism.

From start to finish the race looked bad and by order of the judges all bets on the second heat were declared off. Just why this was done would not be discussed.

The race went to Castlewood, one heat to Nona Audubon and one to Stranger O. Nona Audubon was driven badly, staying behind the winner all the way round.

Castlewood was trotting for a purse of $900, which bordered on a fiasco and the runners were the rattiest lot of milk wagon horses ever gathered together. However, everything and anything that pleased the people got more than their money's worth.

All in all the meet was a success. Each day saw good crowds at the track and the men who make up the Fort Worth Fair Association are to be congratulated on furnishing such high-class sport as ruled thruout the meet.

Fort Worth has demonstrated that she loves thoroughbred and likes to see them again when the call of the starter and the pounding of hoofs upon the track is heard.

The harness races were second in interest to Dan Patch's performance. In the first heat of the free-for-all pace, Stranger O was the favorite at 2 to 5 in the first heat. Nona Audubon and Ed Patch were at 3a, while Ed Patch was quoted at 10a.

In the second heat Nona Audubon backed off at even and was immediately backed off the board until a post time was most any odds from 50 up. Nona Audubon was the heat easily with Castlewood second and Stranger O a bad third. The judges immediately declared all bets off on the heat.

The other three heats were won by Castlewood easily, the third heat making a new record for Texas on a half-mile track, the time being 2:09 1/2.

The second race on the card was the 2:18 pace and was won by Lucille Hal with Dan O'Malley second and Cotton Patch third.

The first running race, a five furlong dash for 3-year-olds and up, was won by Jimalong, which was quoted in the betting at 1 to 2. Dutch Carter ran a good race, finishing second.

Keogh, from the stable of C. N. Freeman, won the mile event easily from Flona. Cadillac, the only other starter, was a distant third.

Teddy Brookwood, at the liberal odds of 6 to 1, won the 1000 yard race at six

BLINDFOLDED! BY A BOOK

SAM BERNARD. Sam Bernard Wants Another Walcott Book

"Yes, I caught the 'Blindfolded' fever from Georgia Calne," said Sam Bernard, the famous comedian. "She telephoned me one day to read it. She has such excellent judgment that I obeyed without delay. What is it all about? Why, there's a mysterious child, an old man, money and mystery—especially mystery. From the first lines to the beginning of the last chapter you are led literally 'blindfolded' from place to place. People tell you startling things; you see people killed; you don't know what it's all about; but you're curious to know, and so hurry on to the end. I wish Walcott would hurry up and write some more."

It is not merely the hero, but the reader who is "blindfolded" in Mr. Earle Ashley Walcott's tale. No sooner is the young man landed in San Francisco than he is tumbled from one murderous assault into another, without knowing what it is all about, and he fills up the intervals with speculations on the stock market which are equally blind to him. The reader naturally is kept in equal ignorance. The author's art consists in striking a breathless pace that leaves no room for reflection.—New York Sun.

BLANCHE BATES. "Suspense Until the Last Page—A Book of Absorbing Interest," Says Blanche Bates

"I have enjoyed reading 'Blindfolded.' It is a book of absorbing interest, strong, moving, dramatic. The intricate and ingenious plot is so cleverly developed that the reader is held in suspense until the last page."

What is the mystery in "Blindfolded"? It would not be fair to author or reader to reveal it here. The book is the best source. One thing is certain, the stories are few, indeed, which exhibit so much resource, skill and bewildering inventiveness in concealing the climax as one finds in "Blindfolded." And yet it is so artfully managed, it becomes so much a part of the tale itself and the result of the condition it develops that the reader never senses the rare cleverness displayed until with one sweep of the arm, as it were, the curtain is lifted and the whole mystery, from beginning to end, is revealed. In a word, "Blindfolded" is a story of a very unusual quality.—Brooklyn Eagle.

DAVID WARFIELD.

"Cost Me a Night's Sleep, But Gained a Delightful Experience," Says David Warfield

"I always did enjoy a good detective story. And now, to a list of favorite authors, which includes Anna Katharine Green and A. Conan Doyle, we must add that of the clever young author of 'Blindfolded.'"

"It is a story that enchains the interest from the first page to the last, and is as intense and dramatic as a well-written play. The book cost me a night's sleep, but I gained a delightful experience in story telling."

"Blindfolded!" For once the title hits the nail of the story on the head. "Blindfolded" the reader will find himself on the very first pages of Earle Ashley Walcott's story, and the bandage is not removed until the last. It is an exciting game of "Blind Man's Buff" from start to finish. You may think you have your man a dozen times, but a dozen times he will elude you—in short, there is a shiver for every page, a shock and surprise for every chapter ending.

The setting is weird, the seamy side of San Francisco. There are some good characters—old Mother Borton of the lodging house, who befriends the hero, and who might have come out of Dickens, and the mysterious Doddridge Knapp, "king of the street," with the face of a wolf, in whose employ the hero finds himself, with a check book good for millions, to buy or sell at the king's command. The excitement never flags. It is rough house all the time. The story is not advised as a soporific.—New York Globe.

FAST MILE IN A HEAVY WIND

Thousands See the World's Famous Pacer

Nearly 10,000 people saw Dan Patch, the world's fastest horse, pace a mile in the face of a heavy south wind in 2:02 1/2 Friday afternoon at the track of the Fort Worth Fair Association.

While some expected the great horse to make better time than this the majority were prepared for a slow mile in that Starter Newton called the attention of the crowd to what effect the wind would have on Dan in his race against time and requested that this be recorded.

The bookies were offering bets that Dan would not do the mile in 2:04. They knew the strong wind would prevent his doing it, and that he would be covered.

When Dan made his appearance on the track the multitude cheered and the gallant pacer knew that he was the center of attraction, for no horse of royal blood ever stepped with more pride and dignified deliberation than did he.

He then at last actually looked as if he was smiling and when he passed from under the wire on a hurtling foot of the course in the effort to lower his record he paced with ease, showing but little signs of what he intended to do when the last quarter was reached.

In the first quarter Dan traveled like a storm. His pacemakers, galloping for all they were worth, could hardly keep up with him, and when the home stretch was entered they fell behind.

It was in the first quarter of the last half mile that Dan commenced to pick up and forge forward in a manner most thrilling. Around the track he flew with the rapidity of a frightened bird's flight.

His driver, Harry Hershey, bent low and with whip poised above the neck of the great pacer, urged the horse onward. The pacemakers were running for dear life, flying under whip in order to keep in the going. Now to the third quarter! Dan is propelling his legs madly. One can almost hear the thud, thud, thud of the animal's hoofs as they come in rapid contact with the hard earth.

With mane flying and the multitude breathless with excitement, the glorious and gallant Dan hurtles into the fourth and final quarter. On the home stretch he flies and with neck outstretched and body swaying he starts on the straight drive for home.

With eyes flashing like fiery opals and froth falling from a firm set mouth the great pacer rushes like a whirlwind under the wire, with the pacemakers following.

Had it not been for the heavy breeze Dan Patch would undoubtedly have lowered his record for pacing on half mile tracks. As it is Fort Worth today has the honor of being the third city in the United States where Dan has made anything like a record on a half-mile track.

Dan's race against time at the local track told in fractions is as follows: First quarter, 30 seconds; second quarter, 30 1/2 seconds; third quarter, 30 1/2 seconds and the half mile in 1:06 1/2 and the mile in 2:02 1/2.

There were five other events on the program, but each was very tame. In the free-for-all pace in which Castlewood, Nona Audubon, Stranger O and Ed Patch entered, there was cause for some of fiercest criticism.

From start to finish the race looked bad and by order of the judges all bets on the second heat were declared off. Just why this was done would not be discussed.

The race went to Castlewood, one heat to Nona Audubon and one to Stranger O. Nona Audubon was driven badly, staying behind the winner all the way round.

Castlewood was trotting for a purse of $900, which bordered on a fiasco and the runners were the rattiest lot of milk wagon horses ever gathered together. However, everything and anything that pleased the people got more than their money's worth.

All in all the meet was a success. Each day saw good crowds at the track and the men who make up the Fort Worth Fair Association are to be congratulated on furnishing such high-class sport as ruled thruout the meet.

Fort Worth has demonstrated that she loves thoroughbred and likes to see them again when the call of the starter and the pounding of hoofs upon the track is heard.

Texas Attorney General Refuses to Discuss Bailey Affair

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Attorney General R. V. Davidson of Texas, who is here for the purpose of representing the state in a case in the supreme court, did not care to say anything last night for publication regarding the correspondence between Senator Bailey and himself concerning the refusal to avail himself of Senator Bailey's offer of assistance in the case to oust the Waters-Pierce Oil Company from Texas.

"I knew that the correspondence had been published, having been apprised of the fact by telegraph," said Mr. Davidson. "I have nothing to add to that which I said in my letter to the senator, nor have I any comments to make. I have no desire to say anything and feel it would not be proper for me to make a statement even if there was aught which I wished to say."

NEW YORK STOCKS

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The stock market showed slight improvement in strength today, notwithstanding the evident manipulation by professionals, but important interests have a very bullish tendency and stocks are boosted up easier than they go down.

NEW YORK COTTON

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—New York cotton opened from 6 to 10 points up this morning, and held very steady. Orders for outside buying came in from most of the opening, and trading was fair, both on the curb and on the exchanges.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago Grain and Provisions Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 13.—Wheat opened firm and large local operators were in the market for May wheat, and the local talent seemed to have the market to themselves for a time.

CATTLE AND HOGS

Ware & Leland. NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 13.—The market took care of itself very well today much to the surprise of certain bear manipulators who have recently got into the habit of thinking that they were running things.

Union Pacific, St. Paul Southern Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio, Pennsylvania, Reading, Steel and Copper were promptly taken today on every show of weakness, and the general sentiment in these stocks for the next week is very bullish.

Heavy traders were liberal buyers, and took all in prices at the 23 1/2 quote and were advising the purchase of cotton on every soft spot, but as the prices advanced above 11c the market became more nervous and buying was restricted to the most part of the day's session made a gradual advance.

Butcher stock—Cows and heifers composed the bulk of supplies, a few loads of good butcher cows arrived, but the bulk of offerings were canners and medium grades.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 13.—The cotton market today was sensitive to a degree. After yesterday's liquidation and general selling the decline in prices led to enough short covering in Liverpool to earn a heavy profit of 10 points to a net loss of only 4 points for the day.

STREET CAR LINE IS VERY CROOKED

Many Improvements on New Extension

The crookedest line of street railway in the city of Fort Worth is the Third ward extension of the Northern Texas Traction Company line, and, if the entire run of the cars, on that line be taken into consideration, the number of twists and turns in excess of those of any other line is even larger.

The line runs from the pavilion to Harding and Eleventh streets. That line from the pavilion into Main street has a few curves and other irregularities, but the curve of Main street into Front; from Front into Crump and then the devious way of the line is like that of Boston streets, in the older part of the city, where the rule of the surveyors who laid off the streets was to follow the winding paths made by the cows going to and returning from pastures.

Some of the surveys there are on the meridian and other are with the usual thirty degree variation, which is the rule in the old town and some of the other surveys. Then some of the streets are carried from the original direction in such a way that they might not cross the great group of steam railway tracks out there on the east side.

Be cause what it may there are numerous twists and turns and curves before the end of the line is gained, at Eleventh and Harding streets.

The line is so crooked that it is difficult to get them into the street car habit. But with the first spell of bad weather the convenience of the cars will come to all, with full force, and then there may be expected a big jump in the number of those who use the cars.

The line passes directly by Mt. Pleasant Baptist, colored, a chapel where religious services are held Sundays, and the city of the mills, so the workmen from there, can take advantage of the convenience in bad weather and by the use of transfers get to any part of the city where their homes are.

Organization of Episcopal Laymen No Longer Exists

Fort Worth will not be represented at the twenty-first annual convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, to be held in Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 18 to 21.

There is an organization of the laymen of the Protestant Episcopal church for church work, and it has grown since the beginning in 1883 to be one of the important factors in church work and more especially in the spread of the church and its influence.

At the Memphis meeting the anniversary sermon will be preached by Rev. F. G. Sears of Houston, who is the only Texas member on the program of the four days meeting.

There was a chapter of the brotherhood in Fort Worth when St. Andrew's was located at Fifth and Rusk streets, and one of the regulars of the work of the local chapter was the formation and establishment of Trinity parish.

For some reason the chapter passed into desuetude in Fort Worth and its charter is now non-existent.

Organization of Episcopal Laymen No Longer Exists

Fort Worth will not be represented at the twenty-first annual convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, to be held in Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 18 to 21.

There is an organization of the laymen of the Protestant Episcopal church for church work, and it has grown since the beginning in 1883 to be one of the important factors in church work and more especially in the spread of the church and its influence.

At the Memphis meeting the anniversary sermon will be preached by Rev. F. G. Sears of Houston, who is the only Texas member on the program of the four days meeting.

There was a chapter of the brotherhood in Fort Worth when St. Andrew's was located at Fifth and Rusk streets, and one of the regulars of the work of the local chapter was the formation and establishment of Trinity parish.

For some reason the chapter passed into desuetude in Fort Worth and its charter is now non-existent.
