PEACE LEAGUE THE EFFECT

England, France and Germany in Defensive Alliance

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Oct. 27 .-- A London dispatch published here today claims that a defensive alliance has been made between Great Britain, France and Italy, which is to become operative whenever the triple-alliance between Germany, Austria and Italy shall expire.

This regrouping of the great powers, says the dispatch, is a natural outcome of the destruction of the balance of power in Europe, consequent on paralysis of Russia in the Japanese war.

The compact, it is stated, is an important step in the formation of a league of peace, the great object King Edward has labored to achieve since he succeeded to the throne. Spain and Portugal are said to cordially support it and the further statement is made that there is good reason for believing that it commands the sympathy of the United States.

Vexed Issues Will Go to That Body. Judge Will Not at This Time Recognize Either Faction

Special to The Telegram. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27 .- At the equest of District Attorney W. H. Langdon, Judge Sewall of the superior court yesterday, issued an order temporarily restraining the board of supervisors of city and Abraham Ruef, who Thursday attempted the removal of the district attorney for proceeding in the matter. The order issued yesterday is made returnable before Judge Sewall on Friday Nov. 2. The excitement came with the proceedings yesterday afternoon in the court of Superior Judge Thomas Graham where the nineteenth and final member of the new grand jury was chosen and where it was expected that the court would recognize either Langdon or Ruef as district attorney. Judge Graham declined to pass upon the issue, saying that he would not at that time settle the dispute nor recognize anyone as an officer of the court. He refused to hear any argument on the subject. Judge Graham ordered the jury dismissed until Monday morning, and Heney strongly protested against this order, saying that time would now ne given to bribe certain witnesses and get them out of the country.

During these proceedings a crowd packed the court room and corridors and a big squad of police was summoned to eject them. The police did not use the most gentle methods in performing their task, and several prominent citizens were thrown into the street in damaged conditions.

A throng of 2,000 persons remained on the streets and awaited the result. When Langdon and Heney emerged they were heartily cheered. A few minutes later Ruef appeared and he was hooted and hissed. As he was making his way to his automobile a man who had been ejected from the court room attempted to strike the political leader, but the police seized him.

Special to The Telegram. DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 27.-Sensational incidents marked the testimony before the interstate commerce closed Jan. 31, 1902, and was never recommission here Friday, relative to the fixing of prices for grain by the Des Moines Cereal Club for the members of the State Grain Dealers Association and the pooling of elevator business at many Iowa points. After several members of the Cereal Club had testified that they could not remember that the organization had ever voted to fix prices for grain, R. W. Harper testified that as a guest of the club he had often attended its banquets and meetings and that after discussion of prices a vote was then taken by lifted hands as a basis for quotations for the ensuing week and that the result was furnished to members of the association by Ward G. Chase of this city. Commissioner Lane of the Interstate commerce commission then gave the members of the Cereal Club an opportunity to amend their testimony Secretary Wells on this invitation said that he intended to testify that he had not put motions of this character at every meeting of the club and was about to proceed when Commissioner Lane, leaning quickly over his desk, inquired: "Didn't you try to mislead the commission on that point?" Mr. Wells said that he had not. "Did you not try to create the impression in the commissioners' minds that there was no fixing of prices and that nothing was done to fix prices at these meetings?" Mr. Wells insisted that he had not "Was not that your distinct effort in answer to the questions?" persisted Mr. Lane.

"No, sir," replied Mr. Wells. "Did you not in every way try to evade the questions of Mr. Marble (the commission's lawyer) in regard to fixing prices?" Mr. Wells started to make some explanation when he was dismissed from the stand. Ward G. Case, who was said to furnish the price card to the members of the State Association of Grain Dealers, was interrogated in detail regarding the cards. He was not certain about much of the information he disclosed and denied any arrangement with the Cereal Club. The facts disclosed by the testimony were to the effect that the Grain Dealers Association in making a fight against the farmers' elevator, which is not a member of the association, that extensive pooling arrangements exist in Iowa; that prices of "regular" elevators are governed more or less by a card issued here by Ward G. Case; that this card formerly was the resuit of the weekly discussion of the Cereal Club; that Secretary Wells and the members of the Grain Dealers Association regard this card as the basis for prices to be paid the farmers, and that independent elevators are forced into a pooling arrangement with line elevators on penalty of losing the business by price manipulation.

1,600 INSANE ARE NOW AT TERRELL

Dr. Turner Files Biennial Report at Austin

Special to The Telegram.

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 27 .- A synopsis of the biennial report of Superintendant Turner of the North Texas insane asylum, was received here today. It shows there are 1,600 inmates in the institution and Dr. Turner says that just now there is room enough for all purposes, except that about 200 insane negroes are now unprovided for. He recommends the establishment of an asylum exclusively for negroes, thereby removing all negroes from other institutions and locating them at one point. This would provide additional room in all present asylums for white people and would prevent the jails from again being filled up for four years at least. He states that people becoming insane should be treated at once, as uncared for insanity for a period of twelve months becomes incurable. Delay in reporting cases is filling up the county jails.

CREDIT MEN HEAR SENATOR BAILEY

Worth Today

About 75 or 100 of the members of the Texas Credit Men's Association and some of the national association officers and other credit men came from Dallas Saturday morning and the whole party went out to Hermann Fark, where the local entertainment of the visitors was given.

Some of the more prominent visitors were United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas, A. G. Fessenden, president of the national association; C. E. Meek, secretary and treasurer of the national association; L. W. Hutchins of Michigan, and H. H. Nance of Tennessee, directors of the national association; Secretary Shannon of the Nashville Board of Trade and Judge Alexander of Weatherford.

Prior to the barbecue, which was given with all of the Panther Club flavor, Senator Bailey made a brief address. He had an appointment in Dallas at 2 o'clock and so the proceedings were hurried. Colonel Paul Waples introduced him to the visitors as Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas, and to Texans as 'our magnificent friend, Joe Bailey." Mr. Bailey said that he had no intention of making a speech, but he could not forego the pleasure of meeting with the credit men. He paid a high tribute to them as business men who had so much to do with the successful conduct of the business of the Paying a high tribute to the business man the speaker said that he were much more important than the politician, for the business man was essential to the prosperity of the United States, while the man who made politics a trade was not. The producer was necessary to the health, happiness and comfort of the human family and the most necessary man at that. The next most necessary man was the one who helped in the exchange of the products, by exchanging the surplus, so that one is enabled to buy that which he has not and dispose of that which he has but does not need. He thought that the measure of the civilization of the human race-might be measured by its commercial improvement. The student is disposed to measure progress by language, but he believed a deeper study of the whole subject would lead to the measure of the progress of the world by its commercial advancement rather than by its literature. He said that if all others were to strike and cease absolutely from their labors the world would get along some how. That was not true, however, if the producer were

The amplification of that idea was that all rested on the earth and its without sugar, as it takes no part in products and that led him to say that if they would all quit calling the farmers "nesters." "nay seeds," etc., and make friends with him and both the merchant and the farmer make friends as far as possible with the manufacturer, it would be better for all. He was not going to make a free trade speech, but it did seem to him tion of business. This prompted the statement that next to the banker, who provided a supply of good money for the transaction of business, the man next in importance was the man who passed on the credits of the people. This led to some complimentary observations on the Credit Men's Association. The speaker enlarged somewhat on that theme and then paid a high tribute to the commercial honor of Texans, who the statistics proved, pay their debts better than any other peaple in face of the fact that no other state had an exemption so liberal as that of Texas.

He thought there had been a distinct falling off in commercial honor just after the civil war, but he was glad to learn that there had been a great revival of honor in that respect. Referring again to the fact, as he insisted, that Texans pay up better than any others, he concluded: "But understand. I do not recommend that law for general adoption, for the reason that while it might be effective among the honest folks of Texas, it does not follow that it will be just as good everywhere.

There were about 150 or 200 present at the park and of the number fully forty or more were ladies. A. P. Foute, one of the directors of the National Association, will go with the others of the credit men to Nashville Saturday evening to attend the meeting of the Tennessee Association, Hints on Canning Perfectly sound fruit only should be used. Fruits may be canned with or their preservation. Small fruits are best sugared one or two nours before cooking. Large fruits should be thrown into cold water as soon as pared to prevent discoloration. Have jars not and everything ready, fill jars quickly. run a silver spoon handle around jar to break any air bubbles and then screw on tops without delay.

Peach Paring Made Easy This way of paring peaches does not injure quality of fruit in the least. I let my peaches get thoroly ripe, then pour boiling water over them and let stand a minute, then drain. Then the skin will slip off the same as a tomato treated in like manner. Peaches pared in this manner are of superior quality, because all the flavor of a new peach is retained in the fruit.

Peaches and Pears Pare and place in cold water. Remove and put in a porcerain lined kettle, cover with boiling water, and stand where they will scarcely simmer until tender. Make a syrup from one pound sugar and one quart water, stir until sugar is dissolved, and boil for three minutes. Lift peaches carefully from water, put them in syrup, bring to boiling point and can as directed.

County Officers Say Less Crime Because People Are Not Here County officers report a remarkable condition so far as violations of the criminal law as to crimes of the high grade is concerned, the very best order obtaining all over the county, the city included. There has not been a felony charge made in any court in the county for six days, the last charge being made Oct. 22 against a woman for theft from the person. In Justice John L. Terrell's court there has not been a felony case filed for nine days and in Justice Charles T. Rowland's court there has not been a felony case for six days. In the county court a few charges of theft under $50 have been filed, but even there a dearth of even crimes of this character is noted.

Officers attribute this lull in crimi-nality to the Dallas fair, to which the crooks have flocked from other towns. When the fair closes the crooks, it is expected, will return to their usual haunts and the Fort Worth officers expect there will be something doing before a great while.

The resolutions set forth that it is the belief of the couneil that such schedules are false and fraudulent. The council requests congress to cause an investigation of such sales.

A plano solo by Miss Annie Davis was the next number on the program. Grand Master Joiner of Dallas was next introduced, and spoke entertainingly of the work now being done by the order thruout the country, and especially in Texas and dwelt with emphasis upon the results being accomplished by the home at Corsicana, where the widows and orphans of deceased Odd Fellows are cared for. He congratulated the lodge on having a home practically paid for. He spoke warmly of the interest manifested in the order by the auxiliary organization, the Rebekahs, and gave them much praise for their earnest work. Mrs. F. N. He opened with a tribute to the Rebekahs, touching on the marvelous growth of that auxiliary, and its relation to the parent order. "Odd Fellowship grows because it founded upon the central idea of 'there is a God,' and because it is practical." Mr. Lewis said that it is the greatest order in the world, having now nearly 2,000,000 members. "There must be something remarkable, something lasting, in the principles upon which such an order is founded, else it could not flourish so.' He also touched broadly upon the splendid work of the Corsicana home, showing by concrete examples how the demonstrated.

The concluding number of the program was a very enjoyable vocal duet by Mrs. K. M. Wasser and Mrs. F. N. Graves of Cleburne.

are made of steel and cast iron. Such ranges are fuel-wasters, because when steel is riveted to steel, or steel is bolted to cast iron, it is practically impossible to make tight joints, without the use of stove putty.

Such a stove may work well until the bolts become loose, or the seams open between the rivets. The putty contracts, hardens and falls out. Then outside air leaks in through every seam and joint-through imperfectly closed openings at the oven door, the draft door, the ash-pan door, etc., and it takes twice as much fuel to keep up the fire.

The crack of the pistol and they're off. Who hits the tape first? "A fool question," you say. "The best runner, of course." To be sure; to be sure. But who is the best runner?

Condition and speed are prime requisites, certainly; but how many fast runners in the pink of condition have been doomed to oblivion because they were slow in starting.

"Keep your eye on the man who hits his stride on the crack of the gunwho never fouls and who is never slow," the old trainer tells you.

"Watch the man who is on his job every second of the time," says the old business man.

They both mean to convey the same idea. They both refer to the man who has, by conscientious training, worked his natural talents into such perfect trim that he can be relied upon to show his best form on an instant's notice-"The Crack of the Gun!"

Kernville, a little California mining town, was the scene not long since of a double killing. The Walkers and the Rankins had for years carried on a bloody family feud. The sons of both families were hardy mountaineers-hot of blood, strong of body and cool of

The afternoon sun was low behind the Sierras when "Newt" Walker rode down from the mines to the little store at Kernville. As he entered the store, he stood face to face with the oldest of the "Rankin boys."

A few hot words passed. Walker strode from the store. As he mounted his pony Rankin and a friend came out upon the porch. Rankin hurled an insulting epithet at Walker, and at the same instant both men on the little porch reached for their holsters.

Five shots split the quiet of the little village. Rankin and his friend were dead. Walker dismounted and gave himself up. The autopsy showed that three bullets had entered Rankin's heart and two that of the other man.

The second secon We do not defend Walker's action.

We pass no judgment on the act in itself. But we do admire, and so d) you-the healthy, powerful nerves that acted almost quicker than thought, Walker would be a dead man now had he not had those delicately balnced nerves, that power for quick thought and action to rely upon. Many another man is dead so far as the world takes notice of his life, because form on the crack of the gun-the man who shoots quick and lands.

Are you one of these men? If dissipation and lack of interest in the game of life have "put you out of condition," go into hard training at once. Your chances are as good as the next man's. Don't be a has-been or a neverwas. Be a winner!

A WORD ABOUT "WORK"

"When you are told to go out and bring in criminals-the pickpocket, the hold-up man, the burglar-how do you go about it to find him?"

A man of an inquiring nature asked this question of a detective the other day, one whose hair had turned gray in service.

As the detective meditated, the inquisitive man, by way of suggestion, "Do you visit factories where a large number of men are employed and study their faces?" "No," answered the officer. "I would no more think of looking in a factory for a criminal than I would a church. "I would pass the workingman, no matter how shabby he was, and stop the well-dressed man with the reputation of always being out of work."

Gustave Marx, one of the notorious car barn bandits, uttered a few words few days before his execution in Chicago that were a whole sermon, and a good sermon in themselves, altho he, perhaps, didn't realize it.

"It wasn't drink that caused my downfall," he said. "Nor cigarettes, nor bad companions, either.

"It was just idleness. Idleness led me first to cigarettes, then to drink, then to bad companions-then to the gallows.

"And I blame my folks. If they would have made me remain at work. work would have kept me too busy to have planned robbery and murder."

. When you meet a man who can get along without working, shun him. No man can be a real good man uniess he does work, either with his brain or muscles.

And the harder he works, up to a reasonable limit, the less fear you need to have of hearing him command "Hands vo."

Work is a better prescription for that "out of sorts" feeling than any cathartic ever compounded. "Work would cure one-half of the illness of all my patients," declared a physician who treats many of New York's "400."

Work keeps away the blues, keeps men from becoming anarchists, feeds and clothes wife and children and makes men clean-minded, besides giving them whopping appetites.

And the Sage of Esopus is out with ticket opposing the ticket of the regular Democracy of New York! This is about what you could expect from the man who took the lie, with thanks, from the President, when he knew he was speaking the truth and the President was lying. The Courier can taste the "Parker" dose in its mouth to this good day. It wishes it had a crack at Parker's reform ticket.—Texarkana Courier.

Over here in Shelby county chinquapins are plentiful, hickory nuts are beginning to fall, haws are ripe and persimmons are luscious and tempting These are some of the blessings nature in her wild state is bestowing on East Texas citizens. People have nothing to do but just partake of them.-Timpson Times,

There ought to be a law prohibiting newspapers from publishing such items as the above, for they make the average man too discontented with his lot. It puts the smell of the autumn woods in his nostrils, the beauty of the falling autumn leaves before his vision, the strange hunger for wild fruits in his mind and makes him sigh again for the days of childhood that can never be recalled.

To make a noise like a man building a sidewalk is good, but to really build a sidewatk is even better still. Paper is very useful in many different ways, but up to the present time it has never been successfully used in the construction of sidewalks and good roads .- Terrell Transcript. Paper is not sufficiently substantial to be used as building material, but that fact does not prevent its use in thousands of enterprises which never get beyond the paper stage. Texas needs something more substantial than paper in all her building enter-

The true test of the reorganized Republicans is going to come on the 6th day of November. Fort Worth will have her fat stock show pavilion. At that city last week members of the National Breeders and Feeders Fair Association and Stanton Palmer of Chicago, who represents the stockyards company's interest, held a meeting on the matter of securing the additional ninety-two names needed to complete the list of 500 names required. Jury Returned Verdict in the Case Friday Night

After being out four hours and ten minutes, the jury in the Forty-eighth district court, in the case of State vs. John Kaiser, charged with theft of $385 from the safe of Sheriff John T. Honea, returned a verdict of not guilty Friday night at 8:40 o'clock, and the defendant was discharged.

The case created more interest than any criminal case that has been tried in the Fort Worth courts for a long time, not because of the character of the crime itself, but because of the long official connection of the defendant and his activity in local politics for several years, he having been candidate for district clerk during two deputy under Sheriff Honea, and for nany years serving as deputy district clerk. The case was stubbornly fought on both sides and Kaiser's acquittal gave the greatest pleasure to a large number of people who are his personal

Former Fort Worth Ball Player Converts Many in Colorado Special to The Telegram

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 27.—One of the most successful religious revivals ever held in Colorado has just closed at Salida. It was conducted by Billy Sunday, the reformed professional baseball player, who is well known all over the country. He was once conplayed in the Fort Worth team, under the management of W. H. Ward. Sunday preached every night for four weeks at Salida, services being held in a monster tent, with its seating capacity of 2,500 exhausted nightly. At the lose of the evangelist's work at Salida there were 600 conversions. At the conclusion of Sunday night's meeting the congregation presented Evangelist Sunday with $1,400. The ex-ball player, with his corps of assistants, left Colorado for Kewanee, Ill., where he begins a revival meeting.

PREVENTS FLARE-BACKS

Claim Made for Breech Attachments for Big Guns

Special to The Telegram. DENVER, Colo., Oct. 27.-William D. Smith, a Denver inventor, has gone to Sandy Hook, where an official government test of his new breech attachment for heavy guns will be made this week. It is claimed by those who are interested in Smith's invention that by its use the danger from flare-backs is prevented by injecting compressed air. water and oil into the breechlock of the gun after each discharge of a projectile. For years this secondary explosion has been the dread of officers and men in charge of the heavier guns of the service, and if it can be prevented by the new invention it will be one of the most important additions to offensive warfare of recent years.

IN THE LIMELIGHT

CRT WORTH TELEGRAM

FROM DOCK RAT TO CAPITALIST From dockwalloper to capitalist, newspaper proprietor, owner of steam yachts and automobiles all in comparatively short time-such is the story of the rise in life of William James Conners of Buffalo, who has been elected chairman of the New York state Democratic committee. Conners' life has been divided into two parts: The accumulation of money, which means power, and the search after respectability.

He had a good deal of his money before he turned his longing eyes toward a home in the fashionable Delaware avenue, and he had his business affairs so arranged that his income would be permanent in a way. Then he started out to forget the past. His election to the chairmanship of the Democratic state committee is but a part of his campaign.

He is a man of great native ability as a money getter, and it has been his proudest boast that he did get money, no matter how, and that he has it. In the old days he liked to make ostentatious display of his wealth. He would buy more wine than anybody else and order it in a voice that could be heard for two blocks. As soon as fortune began to smile on him he loaded himself down with diamonds. He had massive rings, diamonds in his watch chain, in his sleeve buttons, on his suspender buttons, and for shirt buttons. He looked like the front window of a jewelry store and it was his great delight to stand at the end of the cigar counter in the Iroquois hotel, where the light would strike him, and sparkle for the benefit of his admirers.

His friends called him Jim. One of them went to him one day and said: "Jim, you are making a fool of yourself with all this display of diamonds. Take them off. They are vulgar. A ring may be all right, or a stud, but you've got this junk all over you. Take it

Conners pondered. "I've heard that before," he said. "I have been told that diamonds is vulgar, but, be Gawd, I notice them that has 'em wears

It was not long before he took off the diamonds, tho, and discarded the fancy waistcoats and plaid shirts. Those were merely the signs of his early development. He learned that his search for respectability did not prosper in such harness and he retreated to modest clothes and forsook all his diamonds but one. That was an enormous ring. He couldn't get himself to give that up.

Conners is a creation of the lake front in Buffalo, where all the enormous tonnage of the Great Lakes is discharged. He was born in the old. First ward in Buffalo. The men of the ward were 'longshoremen, stevedores, sailors and grain scoopers. They were and are big, burly primitive creatures, employed in the most exhausting labor and none too well paid. They worked under a boss system that kept them in debt most of the time and they lived in hard conditions. Many of the leading men in Buffalo come from the water-front wards. William F. Sheehan, now of New York, was born there, and so was Archbishop Quigley of Chicago, and Daniel J. Kenefick, a supreme court judge, nd others who have attained prominence in various lines. Most of the families were and are yet made up of hard-working, law-abiding people, but they lived under a boss system that was as iniquitous as it was oppressive, and that brought about the rise of men like Conners, who had the native ability to take hold of affairs and the brute force to put their plans thru.

FARWELL, Texas, Oct. 27.-Walter Farwell, formerly of Chicago and who has been making his home at Channing, is preparing to permanently settle here. Mr. Farwell is now having erected on the X I T farm, just south of town, an elegant home, which is destined to be one of the most magnificent country seats in the Panhandle. The home is being built in the old Spanish style of architecture, with courts, fountains and flower yards. The farm is already a show place of this section, and now with the addition of the lovely home it will be made doubly attractive.

Cotton in Lubbock County Special to The Telegram.

LUBBOCK, Texas, Oct. 27.-W. G. Nairn, the jovial Scotch farmer living five miles northeast of Lubbock, says that he will gather fully two-thirds of a bale of cotton to the acre this year, and he has seventy acres in the staple. It is opening slowly, but picking is progressing satisfactorily.

Money in Molasses

Special to The Telegram. MEMPHIS, Texas, Oct. 27.-W. A. Lawrence was in town yesterday with a load of fine molasses. He made ,400 gallons on his farm this year and now has less than fifty gallons on hand. He sold the molasses like hot cakes at 50 cents per gallon.

Sale of Eight Thousand Acres

Special to The Telegram. SILVERTON, Texas, Oct. 27.-R. B Braley of this place and B. B. Braley of Leonard have purchased the Eastland county school lands, located in Crosby county. The purchase embodied 8,000 acres and the price paid was $6.26 per acre. It is a fine body of land and takes in a portion of Blanco Canyon, where much -fine fishing abounds.

Panhandle Exhibit Car Special to The Telegram.

AMARILLO, Texas, Oct. 27.-At a called meeting of the Amarillo Panhandle Exhibit Association just, held, it was decided to increase the appropriation already made and keep the exhibit car out until the middle of November, R. H. McAlpine called the meeting to order in the Commercial Club rooms and after hearing the report of the secretary the members present discussed the plans for the car. The car is now on its return trip and is out of the big cities, and it was thought one man would now be sufficient to handle it. Yesterday the car was in Kansas City and from now on it will exhibit at points in western Missouri and eastern Kansas. The dates and places are already advertised. For expenses during the coming month the association voted a small assessment. The car has had a successful trip and while the members feel that the display was not the best that the Panhandle can make, the car has made a satisfactory start toward future exhibits which will adequately show all the possibilities of the Panhandle country.

Cotton on Lower Plains

Special to The Telegram. CANYON CITY, Texas, Oct. 27.lower plains counties beginning at Swisher, just south of us and extending on, have passed the experimental stage with regard to cotton. This staple there for several years back has in yield per acre come well up with, if it has not surpassed, the best land in the central portion of the state And the contention of our people is and has been that Randall and adjacent counties up this way, Deaf Smith and Castro joining us on the west, could also succeed with cotton if the crop was given the proper attention. In proof of this assertion is the case of P. Friemel's crop at Umbarger, for two years in succession. Mr. Friemel's crop panned out three bales from eight acres, which, for the cultivation and condition of the land, is generally considered a very good yield. In the vicinity of Hereford some experiments made this year have turned out even better than this, and these Deaf Smith experiments have resulted so satisfactorily that the indications are that a heavy crop will be planted in that vicinity the next season,

Profit in Hogs

Special to The Telegram. STRATFORD, Texas, Oct. 27.-Henry Watson was in town yesterday with four fine hogs, which he sold to W. G. Harris at 51/2c per pound. The four weighed 1,305 pounds and brought him $68.51. Three of the hogs were only ten months old, and were as fine as ever produced in any country. Mr. Watson says that he thinks that hog raising in the Panhandle is the most profitable industry the farmers can follow. During the month of March he purchased $45 worth of hogs. From this investment he has already sold $153.61 worth of hogs and has $51.36 worth left the way the market is now. making a total of $294.37 sold from his $45 investment in less than eight months. He says they have been fed exclusively on maize and the total cash outlay for feed would fall under $50.

During the Esperantist conference at Geneva, Switzerland, a protestant service was conducted in the new language and the first protestant sermon was preached in Esperanto, in the ancient church near the cathedral of St. Peter's, in the hall where John Knox listened to Calvin's lessons.

LITTLE IRENE WANTED A BABY SO SHE WROTE THE ZOO STORK

Some one asked once what was the | the Stork in the Central Park zoo' most beautiful thing in the world, and one reply was, the faith and innocence of a child.

If that be true, listen to this little story of a child's faith in fairy tales, and of the great and mysterious maternal instinct. Up near New York it was, where even the children have their eyes wide open-the pity of it!-or perhaps

We should say "wide opened," for it is their sorrowful contact with the seamy side that so preternaturally sharpens their childish perceptions. Nine-year-old Irene Blenckstone had dolls but there was no baby in the house. The longing for a baby with which to play, to cuddle, to caress, was strong in the little one. The Stork brought babies, so the fairy books said. Why not write a letter to

And she did. "Dear Mr. Stork," ran the childish scrawl, "I will please ask you to please bring me a baby. You will find a blanket on the safe when you bring it, because I sleep there every night. So kindly bring it before November. I would like a girl, A little girl I know

The first appeal case growing out of the wreck between a Northern Texas Traction Company car and a St. Louis and San Francisco engine on the north side early in 1905 was argued and submitted in the court of cityl appeals Saturday morning. The jury found for the plaintiff against the St. Louis and San Francisco Railway Company and assessed the damages at $10,000, and for the defendant, Northern Texas Traction Company. The defendant, St. Louis and San Francisco Railway Company's motion for a new trial was over-ruled by Judge Mike E. Smith of the Seventeenth district court, from which ruling was excepted to and from which an appeal was taken.

I was suffering for four years with kidney disease, which was pronounced Bright's Disease and chronic inflammation by some physicians, who did me no good, and I suffered terribly. seemed to exert no bullish influence on the prevailing sentiment, and the

Trading Light on Stock Exchange. Market Irregular-Improvement

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 .- There was an rregular movement in the stock market today. The opening reflected to some extent the rally in London, tho the changes were only fractional. There was an improvement in the narket, however, before the close of the short session, and some of the list made decided net gains.

The volume of business was small, however, most of the traders seemed to be satisfied with small returns on each ide, and were willing enough to follow any rally. There seemed to be no public in Wall street operations, and he market was almost entirely in the hands of professionals. The liquidation that took place was no doubt brought about by better financial conlitions, and the favorable bank stateent, which was made public today. The uneasiness existing in political circles is exercising considerable inluence upon the trade. No heavy transactions are expected to take place until after the election. Strong nterests were inclined to support the market on recessions, and apparently did not care for any bear movements. The midday market showed a fair unertone, rallying on better support. The total sales to noon were only $145,000

Advance at Opening on Higher Cables Was an Excited Market at Opening, But Soon Weakened and and Weather Conditions-Light Receipts Closed Lower

Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 27.-The market opened with much higher prices today. This was influenced by the strength of foreign cables, together with the light receipts from the northwest. The selling of December wheat by cash houses and free selling in that month by local longs eased the price. Much of the recent bear news seems to have been discounted, and anything to the contrary easily influences the market. There is a large speculative interest open at present in December, which many believe will be liquified shortly and hesitate about taking hold. Bull influences still continue in the corn market, and were backed by purchases on the part of the investors, who realize the real condition. Cables showed a stronger foreign market and unfavorable weather for curing. Poor husking returns continue to come in, with some corn rotting in the shuck. Cash corn was in good demand, There was a better speculative demand for oats and an advance was made in sympathy with corn and wheat. There was profit-taking in lard and moderate selling by some of the packeries. Otherwise provisions were dull.

New Italian Law Causes a Union of All Companies

Special to The Telegram. ROME, Oct. 27.-A new Italian law enforces a union of all the sulphur mining companies of Sicily and amounts to a practical confiscation of the mines for a period of twelve years and also of the sulphur in stock owned by the different societies and people. This is especially true of about 360,000 tons owned by the Anglo-Sicilian Sulphur Company, whose rights expired uly 1. This, as well as all other sulphur, becomes the property of the obligatory company at the price fixed

Under the new law all the sulphur is refined and sold under supervision of a committee of fifty delegates, a council of thirteen administrators and a director general, the latter being named by the Italian government. The island of Sicily produces 500,000 tons of sulphur annually, or 80 per cent of the world's production.

SHORTAGE OF TALLOW

Peculiar Reason Assigned for Advanced Prices

Special to The Telegram. LEEDS, England, Oct. 27 .- A singular reason for the increased cost of tallow has been assigned by the Leeds Grocers' Association. It is stated that the fried fish dealers use so much suct for making fat that tallow is becoming short in the market. The higher price of tallow has caused an increased cost in the manufacture of soap.

Cattle supplies were light, even for Saturday run. Receipts amounted to 1,550 head, including 750 head of calves. Trade is unchanged on steers, cows and calves. Eight hundred head of hogs came on the market today. The trade was uneven, with best selling steady and common to medium grades 5c to 10c lower. Tops sold at $6.30. Steers

But few steers were included in the offerings. One bunch of heavy well finished pen-fed cattle were driven in and a few loads of medium fleshy beeves were shipped in. The trade was slow and dull and it was late before many were sold. When cattle started to change hands, however, there as a little or no thange from yesterday's trading. Hereafter paupers will not have such ancient practice of furnishing trans-poration to a class of people who have been in the habit of applying for it.

The Fort Worth and Denver, acting under the provisions of the Hepburn bill, which forbids discrimination on the part of railroads, has notified Mayor Harris that hereafter the road will grant to the city no more half rates on account of paupers who are furnished transportation by the city and it is understood that other roads will take the same stand. As the Hepburn bill applies only to interstate traffic, it is not positively known that this action on the part of the railroads will apply to half fare rates inside the state; if it does it will hit the clergy

"Happy Hooligan," the laughing farce, was at Greenwall's Friday evening and caused as much merriment as it usually does. The play deals with the character so familiar to readers of comic supplements, and brings in about all the different individuals with which Hooligan has ever had anything to do. There is a great deal of go to the show and everyone seemed to have a good time. Quite a number of musical specialties were introduced, which added greatly to the evening's entertainment. The house was crowded above the first floor and rather well filled downstairs.

"Forty-Five Minutes from Broadway" George Cohan is the most remarkable young man in the theatrical world today. Not many years ago he came to Texas with the "Four Cohans," and while that attraction was fairly well liked, no one saw anything particularly promising in George. Now young Cohan is recognized as the best dancer on the legitimate stage, the most successful song writer, a clever dramatist and an unusually shrewd and successful producer. Cohan writes his plays, dialogue, songs, music and all, and he has never yet produced a failure, "Forty-Five Minutes from Broadway" is one of his cleverest, and with Corinne, an old Fort Worth favorite, in the role which Fay Templeton created, a lively entertainment is promised at Greenwall's tonight.

"The County Chairman"

George Ade's best rural play, "The County Chairman," with Maclyn Arbuckle in the role of Jim Hackler.comes to Greenwall's Monday night, Oct. 29. The same production seen here last season was greatly liked by a large Fort Worth audience.

"The Woman in the Case"

Blanch Walsh, whom Fort Worth theater-goers like, altho they have not seen her for several seasons, returns to Greenwall's for a matinee and night Wednesday, Oct. 31, in Clyde Fitch's great play, "The Woman in the Case." In New York the play was seen for 250 nights, the dramatic features of the third act being especially well liked.

At Fort Worth Rink

A fairly large crowd witnessed the amusing game of broom polo played at Fort Worth Skating Rink last night by the Blues and the Grays, captained respectively by Elmer Ball and Gilbert Teague. At the close of the contest the score stood 3 to 3.

Tonight there will be at the Fort Worth Skating Rink the second contest in the serial championship for amateurs, which includes eleven races, one every Saturday night. The winner defends the gold medal until twice victorious, being awarded a bar of honor, which is attached to the medal each week. After winning twice no contestant shall compete until the final race is run to decide the contest. While defending the medal all winners are entitled to all privileges of the rink, gratis, and a winner of two heats is entitled to a season ticket. It is free for all amateurs, and is proving quite an entertaining event to all those interested in fast skating.

TALKS OF PANHANDLE

Anderson Is Newspaper, Stock and Railroad Man

W. P. Anderson, special live stock agent of the Santa Fe at Amarillo, was in Fort Worth Friday and left for Dallas Saturday morning.

Mr. Anderson is one of the old guard of railroad men in Texas, having come to the state from the nobs of Kentucky early in the seventies, and has been in the state long enough to become thoroly Texanized. In his business calling he is a hybrid, being a mixture of railroad man, stockman and newspaper man, his first work in Texas being that of newspaper correspondent for Chicago papers in the interest of that city as a live stock market. Just now Mr. Anderson is a Panhandle enthusiast, and says that part of Texas along the line of the Santa Fe and the Fort Worth and Denver City roads has no superior on earth and that in time it will be the garden spot of the universe. "Conditions in the Panhandle," he said, "are all that could be asked for Cattle are in fine shape. Crops have been bountiful, rains have been seasonable and the farmers and stockmen are flush with money. Land is in big demand and land values are going higher and higher day after day The Panhandle already great is the coming great-country of all the world.
