SNOW GREETS HEARST

Bad Weather Marks the Closing of His Campaign

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 31.—The last day of William Randolph Hearst's so-called campaign trip to the north with a driving snow and the weather was generally unfavorable for a political meeting. In spite of the weather, when Mr. Hearst left here at 11 a. m. it was the understanding that he was to speak at meetings this afternoon at Nedina, Lockport, Niagara Falls and Batavia. The trip and up-state campaign so far has been successful. A personal party is concerned is expected to end tonight with three meetings in Buffalo, after which he will return to New York city.

BROKE IT AGAIN

Clearing House Goes Thru Regular Month End Performance

A gain of nearly ten million dollars in clearings by Fort Worth banks is made in the month of October just closed as compared with the corresponding period of 1916. The clearing house figures are: 1906, $35,202,815.48, and for 1905, $25,271,000.30, an increase of $9,491,815.18. This is by far the highest record in any one month's business since the establishment of the Fort Worth clearing house and from all indications November's volume will be as large if not larger.

FAIR IS OVER SO CRIME BEGINS

Crooks Return to Fort Worth and Courts Are Busy

Since the close of the Dallas fair it appears that crooks have resumed operations in Fort Worth, and as a result business in the justice's courts has very appreciably increased.

For two weeks prior to Oct. 30 there was not a felony charge made in either Justice Terrell's or Rowland's court, but with the close of the Dallas fair there commenced a revival of criminal business in both courts. Wednesday morning, Oct. 30, the justice's court showed three felony cases, two of theft from the person and the other theft of over $50. Examining trials were held in the two first cases and the defendants sent to jail.

In Justice Rowland's court there was also three felony cases on the docket Wednesday morning, two for theft from the person and one for burglary. In all these cases examining trials were waived and the defendants committed to the custody of the jail.

Officers account for this revival of criminality on the ground that Fort Worth crooks went to Dallas when the fair was in progress, and they are permitted to remain. Local officers fully appreciate the situation and expect, notwithstanding their vigilance and the small police force, more crime in the city than there has been for two weeks past.

Justice Terrell's Court

State vs. Pearl Davis, theft from the person; examining trial waived and bond fixed at $750. State vs. Bady Miller, burglary; examining trial waived and bond fixed at $500. State vs. Ben Bennett, theft; complaint filed and warrant issued.

AN ANTI-BAILEY ADDRESS READY

Announced That It Will Be Circulated Soon

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 31.—It became known last night that as a result of a meeting held here last week an address has been prepared to be read to the voters of Texas, offering arguments against the re-election of Senator Bailey when the legislature meets next January.

A letter accompanying copies of the address which has been sent to different parts of the state, signed by O. P. Bowser, M. M. Crane and J. E. Cockrell. This letter requests the recipient to forward the names of ten voters for signature. Regarding the address, Senator Bowser says: "This address was prepared at a meeting held in this city last week. About thirty men from over the state attended that meeting. We didn't want the papers to get anything about it until we got the whole thing ready and all signed up by people over the state. It is a state paper, gotten up in most excellent style. It was edited by General Crane and Judge Cockrell. No, I don't care to name those who attended the meeting held here last week. They were prominent men."

"No, General Crane is not a candidate for the United States senate. None of those present are candidates. With us it was not a question of promoting the candidacy of any man for the office. The question of a candidate was left entirely with the people. They are to select their candidate when the legislature meets."

"As I have said, if you will read the addresses of General Crane and Judge Cockrell and the arguments that are being used against Senator Bailey in them, you will have the address. That is to say, the ideas these gentlemen used in their speeches are the ideas of this address. The language is not the same. I couldn't say that the ideas and arguments used in Judge F. M. Etheridge's speech at Dallas were used, for the reason that I did not read Judge Etheridge's address and do not remember much about it."

"As to who had a hand in preparing it, every man at the Dallas meeting took part. You might say it was the product of the work of all of them. Then it was edited by General Crane and Judge Cockrell, printed and sent out by mail. It was sent to forty or fifty men in this state. We wanted to get signatures to it."

"The address reviews Senator Bailey's career as an attorney for corporations. It then calls upon the people to take action to instruct their representatives in the matter of selecting his successor when the legislature is convened."

Major K. M. Van Zandt, president of the Fort Worth National bank, spent a few hours at his office Tuesday evening for the first time since his illness of three weeks' duration. He says he is feeling quite well considering the siege which he has undergone, and he is still in the office regularly.

Damon, the 34-year-old colt belonging to J. H. Tiller, died Tuesday morning from lockjaw. The horse was shot the latter part of last week and a nail pierced the animal's mouth, causing blood poison and the colt died despite the efforts to save it. Damon was out of Texas Girl and by Bob Guy and was considered a fine colt and had already developed some speed.

The Kindergarten Association will give a Halloween party at Frazer's hall tonight. All the little children are expected to attend and as many as possible are invited. The entertainment of all will be looked after. There will be various forms of amusement and plenty of good music. The entertainment will begin at 8 o'clock.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Clifton Avenue Baptist church, on Washington street, will give an entertainment at the church Friday night. Mayor Davis of Hillsboro will address the audience, and good music will assist in entertaining the visitors. Ice cream, chili, cake and coffee will be served. The Eastham Quartet will assist in the evening's entertainment. Everybody is invited.

The Tuesday Club held an interesting meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dr. Cleveland. There was a large attendance and the work for several weeks was outlined. The next meeting of the club will be held at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Crenshaw on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 13, at which time the club will do the life and works of Elbert Hubbard.

Sam B. Harrington, who has been in the United States navy the past four years on the Concord, is visiting his brother in Fort Worth. He is a native Texan and likes his work in the navy so well that although honorably discharged he expects to re-enlist when he sees service in Chinese and Japanese waters and has visited many other countries. His home is formerly in Stephenville, Texas.

REPUBLICANS MEET

Reorganized Wing of the Party Knooks Are Begun

At the reorganized republican rally held in the city hall here Tuesday night

Judge Gibbons, candidate for lieutenant governor; Dr. Jesse Moseley (colored) of Fort Worth and William

Gosensack (Bill) McDonald of Coffman were the only speakers before the assembly of about eighty-five negroes and a dozen white men.

Consistent acrimony was indulged with reference to Cecil Lyon, the regular and also the democratic party and with the audience was quite attentive, greatest enthusiasm was not manifest until Gosensack Bill McDonald responded the second time and loud calls for his name. He had spoken briefly once before the arrival of Judge Gibbons.

All three speakers urged strong campaign work that a large vote may be obtained for the election of their candidates.

A review of the party from its infancy was made and Judge Gibbons declared that about all of the good given to the country has been done by the republican party.

IMPORTED VOTERS?

Serious Charge Lodged Against a Candidate

The last ground floor meeting of the Mystic Knights of Bovinia will be held at chief ranch headquarters over the White Elephant tonight. This will be the last opportunity for membership to be secured without going through the initiation ceremony, and because of that fact there is a big stock of applications on the secretary's desk that will be acted on tonight.

Formal charges have been filed against several candidates nominated at the last meeting for permanent officers and these charges will be investigated at the meeting tonight.

The serious charge is against one of the candidates for chief ranch boss, it is alleged has been importing voters from Dallas, and getting them in bunches of five at cut rates. This is a violation of both the by-laws and constitution and if proven will disqualify the candidate from holding any office in the association.

DEATHS

The following announcement of the death of J. R. Davis is taken from the City of Mexico Herald:

News of the married of John R. Davis, who for fifteen years held the position of manager of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company in this city, until he was incapacitated as a result of an accident, was received in this city yesterday, first thru the Waters-Pierce office and then by means of a telegram sent to the widow of the deceased by their son, who is now making arrangements for the funeral.

Five years ago Mr. Davis fell from a bicycle and received injuries which at the time were not considered serious, but which, two years later, developed into a case of concussion of the spine, from which he suffered to some extent, where he was prevented from performing the duties of his office. As a result of this he suffered from melancholia. The injury also resulted in lameness.

Mr. Davis was fifty years old last June and had he lived would have with his wife celebrated their silver wedding. He was married in Houston on Nov. 24, 1881, to Miss Coralle Files, a daughter of Mrs. Files, who now resides in this city at 818 Avenida Balderas.

He deceased also left three children, John R. Davis Jr., who is studying for the medical profession at Ann Arbor, Mich.; Coralle and Leroc, the latter a child of six years.

Mr. Davis was born in Caldwell county, Texas, near Luling, and began his business career as cashier of the bank in Corsicana, Texas. Later he was cashier and correspondent for the W. D. Cleveland Wholesale Grocer Company in Houston, and then came to Mexico, where he accepted the position of cashier for the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, becoming manager soon afterward. During the years of his prosperity he was one of the most progressive and respected members of the American colony and was identified with every movement which tended to promote the interests of his countrymen. Liberality was one of his predominant characteristics. It was to his initiative that the first charity ball was held in the City of Mexico and became a permanent organization, held every year at Orrin's. He was a director and vice president of a local building and loan association and was president of the American Club, was a member of the board of directors of the American hospital and was president at one time of the City of Mexico grammar school. Mr. Davis also was at one time a director of the Mexican Central Railroad.

ROBBED BLIND MAN

Five Dollar Bill Found on Loma, Who Was Arrested

Wednesday morning about 11 o'clock a blind Mexican, who was also helplessly drunk, was robbed by a fellow countryman, who at the police station gave the name of Martera Loma. The blind man was taken into a narrow passageway between two houses near the corner of Ninth and Jones streets, and about $5 was taken from him. On Loma was found 95 cents in change, a pocket book containing a $5 bill and a vicious-looking knife with a six-inch blade and a razor.

There are two ways for a girl to get a fellow's money. She can either marry him for it or sue him for breach of promise.

ROBBED BY COMPANION

Champagne Taste Led to Arrest of the Suspect

N. Anderson, a railroad man and a stranger in Fort Worth, was robbed of $40 Tuesday night and a man giving his name as Jack Penn, was held by the police, charged with the crime.

Anderson made complaint to Officer Harmon Tuesday evening that he had been robbed of $40. He could not tell anything about the affair and said he remembered taking a few drinks, and after that his mind was a blank.

Harmon suspected the former companion of Anderson and began a search for him, locating him about 8:40 o'clock Wednesday morning at a rooming house at 1816 Main street, where Saunders was registered as Morgan. When he was searched at the police station $35.35 was found in his pockets.

Officer Harmon learned of Morgan, or Saunders, thru a "booster" for the rooming house whom the man had sent out with a $5 bill to purchase some champagne.

SUES FOR $15,000

Arlington Heights and Rosen Heights Lines Defendants

Fred McClaskey of Tom Green county has sued the Arlington Heights Traction Company and the Rosen Heights Street Railroad Company jointly to recover $15,000 alleged damages on account of injuries.

The petition in the case alleges that Oct. 10, 1906, plaintiff was a passenger on an Arlington Heights car that was operated by the latter company. The car in which plaintiff was a passenger left the track at the corner of West Seventh and Penn streets and ran against a telegraph pole with such force that plaintiff was seriously injured, bruising and lacerating his legs, cutting his hands and feet and causing him serious internal injuries, which resulted suddenly in a severe case of diabetes, all of which required plaintiff to be discharged from the hospital, where large doctor bills were incurred.

A number of other suits for damages have grown out of this accident.

COURT IS JURYLESS

Judge Dunklin Has an Easy Time This Week

Notwithstanding the criminal docket has been up in the Forty-eighth district court for two murder cases, but neither of the cases went to trial and Judge Dunklin was up against a hard proposition.

The trouble is that by some kind of an oversight there were no jurors in attendance on the court for the week except the two special venire and they were discharged when the cases were summoned for were continued. The jury commissioners had drawn the regular panel for the week, but at that point the end cases, but to have been reached, for no jurors showed up for the regular panel. None had been summoned, and that is why Judge Dunklin is having an easy time of it this week.

A clay pot containing earth and a growing flower was whisked from a window in a building at Fourteenth and Main streets by a strong breeze Tuesday morning and fell on the head of an expressman, who has a severe cut on the right side of his head as a result. Adams was standing under the window at the time he received "the bouquet" and was given a severe jolt, the pot cutting a five-inch gash in his head. When struck Adams doubled up and dropped to the pavement and it was several minutes before he was revived.

The flower was not returned to its owner.

PRICE OF COAL GOES UP AGAIN

City Is Saving $112 Weekly Now on Coal

There has been another jump in the price of certain grades of coal, and the merits of the city's waterworks coal contract are emphasized by the fact that there have been repeated efforts to borrow coal from the waterworks department recently. Waterworks Secretary Calhoun, tho the applications were urgent, did not loan any coal.

The current price is $1.50 per ton in Fort Worth and the coal mine operators will only agree to contract at that price with the reservation that they will not be called on to make any deliveries prior to Dec. 1.

The average price of the city contract is about eight carloads, or 320 tons, a week, on which the saving is, at current price, 35 cents per ton, as the city's contract is at the rate of $1.15. If the amount used is up to the average there is a saving on the city's waterworks coal bill of $112 per week.

That simply means that the city, made by Alderman Lehane, that it was the best coal contract for the city that was ever made.

The city has also recently bought 200 tons of coal for the use of the city hall, fire halls, etc., for heating purpose, the best screened McAlester, at $2.25 per ton, and the city contract for the same grade of coal is $1.75. The authority for the latter statement is Alderman Maddox.

Advance in Assessed Values of Fort Worth Alone Amount to Nearly Two Million Dollars

The Tarrant county assessment rolls, which were compiled by County Tax Assessor Sweet Tuesday, show an increase in taxable values in the county of $3,840,395 over the preceding year.

The rolls rendered in 1905 showed a total valuation of $30,619,540, while the rolls for 1906 make the splendid showing of $34,459,935. The increase of values is the heaviest proportionately made by any county in the state. The increase this year is even greater than 1905, the difference in favor of 1906 being $240,000.

The bulk of the increase is due to the large amount of building in Fort Worth since last year's rendition. The increase in four years has been $12,459,935 and there is not another county in Texas that can make a better showing. The 1906 rolls as completed by Assessor Sweet make the following showing:

Cities rendered—This year, $47,538; last year, $47,368; valuation, this year, $6,821,780; last year, $6,578,870; increase in valuation this year, $342,910.

SKIN ECZEMA IN WORST FORM

Black Spots All Over Face—Produced Severe Itching—Year's Treatment by Physicians Did No Good and Became Despondent—Affected Parts Now Clear as Ever—Alabama Lady's

CURE BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"About four years ago I was afflicted with black spots all over my face and a few covering my body, which produced a severe itching irritation, and which caused me a great deal of annoyance. I was forced to call in two of the leading physicians of my town. After a thorough examination of the dreaded complaint they announced it to be skin eczema in its worst form. They treated me for the same for the length of one year, but the treatment did me no good. Finally I became despondent and decided to discontinue their services. Shortly afterwards, my husband in reading a copy of the famous New York paper saw an advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies. He purchased the entire outfit, and after using the contents of the first bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, then, as his own estimate, he sent me a second bottle of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, the breaking out entirely stopped. I continued the use of the Cuticura Remedies for six months, and after that every spot was entirely gone and the affected parts were left as clear as ever. I have not felt a symptom of the eczema since, which was three years ago. The Cuticura Remedies not only cured me of that dread disease, but of other complicated troubles as well; and I have been the means of others being cured of the same disease by the Cuticura Remedies, and I don't hesitate in saying that the Resolvent is the best blood medicine that the world has ever known." THE OBSERVANCE OF HALLOWEEN

The observance of Halloween on the night of Oct. 31 is quite different now to what it was back among those who originated the custom. In the days of the Celts and their priests the Druids, it was one of the three principal festivals of the year. These ancient Druids maintained through the year immense fires upon stone altars erected upon eminences in honor of the sun god, which they worshipped, and on the night of Oct. 31 they assembled in white robes to extinguish these fires and rekindle new ones. Fire, even among the pagans, was an emblem of immortality, typifying the ascent of the soul into heaven. Among those of the Catholic faith fire was kindled to light souls out of purgatory. In many places in the old countries fires were lighted in every village on Halloween and when they were consumed the ashes were carefully collected in the form of a circle and one stone placed near the circumference for every person in the several families interested. What ever stone was moved out of its place or injured before the next morning the person represented by the stone was doomed to die inside of the coming year. As this Druidic faith faded in the light of Christianity, the heathen festivals lost much of their grandeur and former significance, until in the present age all that seems to remain of the weird ceremonies which once characterized this important celebration are a few fortune telling games.

Shaw, in his history of the province of Moray, seems to consider the festivities of this night as a kind of harvest rejoicing. He says that a solemnity was kept on the eve of November as a thanksgiving for the safe ingathering of the products of the fields. On the Isle of Lewis a sacrifice was made to a sea god called Shony to invoke his blessings on the next season's crops. The inhabitants of the island came to the little church of St. Mulvay, having each man his provisions with him. Every family furnished a peck of malt and this was brewed into ale. One of the number was selected to wade into the sea up to his middle and carrying a cup of ale in his hand, standing still in this position cried out in a loud voice, "Shony, I give you this cup of ale, hoping you will be so kind as to send us plenty of sea ware for enriching our ground the coming year." He then emptied the cup of ale into the sea and returned to the land. Next, all present proceeded to the church, where a candle burned upon the altar. Standing silent for a short time, one of them gave a signal at which the candle was blown out, and then all went into the fields, drank ale and spent the remainder of the night in dancing and singing.

Nuts have been so thoroughly associated with this festival that it has been sometimes called "Nut Crack Night," and one of the tests of the Fates, a custom universal in all old-time Halloween celebrations, was the burning of nuts, which were named and placed upon a long handle above in the fire. As they burned brightly, burst black or burst with a loud report, prosperity, misfortune or early death was indicated. Burns says that the passion of prying into futurity forms a striking part of the history of human nature. In the reign of Charles I. of England the gentlemen of the "Middle Temple" were accustomed to consider this season as the beginning of Christmas, and among the Romanists it was really only the beginning of All Saints Day (Nov. 1), a day set apart for solemn services for the repose of the dead. With other sects, it was the day dedicated to the angel presiding over fruits, seeds and the like. All Saints Day was originally May 13, but somehow, somewhere, in the dim and misty past, it was changed to Nov. 1, altho no reason seems to have been assigned for it. In Germany, Walpurgis Night, which corresponds in significance to All Hallows Eve, is still celebrated on the eve of May 1.

TEXAS AT THE INTERNATIONAL

Entries for the great international live stock show at Chicago close on Nov. 1 and Texas will be represented there this time more than ever before. Many of the old exhibitors and a number of new ones will be on hand.

A Texas steer will be among the entries this year for the grand championship sweepstakes prize, which is the most coveted of all the premiums offered at the exposition. The Texan will be entered by Claus Krambeck of Marna, Iowa, and took first honors in the competition for fat cattle at last year's show. It is a product of the famous "S. M. S." ranch of the Swenson brothers, near Stamford, Jones county, and Frank Hastings, manager for the Swensons, who has had entries in every show from the first, which was given in 1900, will be here to look on. He also will bring along several lots of fine breeders for the car load championship competition, in which S. M. S. cattle have more than once carried off first honors.

Two years ago Swenson cattle took the grand championship prize for car load lots of fat cattle, two first prizes and one second. Last year the Swenson car lot, Hereford display, was rated second, but the judges admitted the decision was close.

S. B. (Burke) Burnett, who made his maiden appearance as a competitor at last year's show with a car load lot of 3-year-old Shorthorn steers of his famous 6666 brand, took second prize after his cattle had been transported from below the line to the show pens. He announced that he would be back this year prepared to carry off first honors.

J. E. Boog-Scott is another Texas ranchman whose cattle always figure among the winners. His ranch is in Coleman county and its product is fed and exhibited by a number of Ohio, Illinois and Iowa feeders and breeders.

In this connection it may be noted that a large lot of Herefords from the Boog-Scott ranch are to be sold at auction at the farm of John G. Imboden, near Decatur, Ill., Nov. 13. In the lot are listed 500 early Hereford steer calves, 400 heifer calves, 250 yearling steers and 900 calves. Edward Stephens' ranch, near Albany, Texas, will furnish 150 early Hereford steer calves for the same sale, and Nov. 15 there will be sold at Tallula, Ill., 1,000 yearlings and calves from the famous Bert Simpson ranch, Monahan, Texas.

Colonel C. C. Slaughter of Dallas and his son will also be prominent exhibitors, but their cattle will be listed from New Mexico, where the vast Slaughter ranch is located.

Others who will show fat cattle shipped from Texas ranches and fed and seasoned in the north are: Frank Brothers, Bloomington, Ill.; Claus Krambeck of Marna, Iowa, who is partial to S. M. S. cattle; Fowler & Todd, Maple Hill, Kan.; D. W. Black, Lyndon, Ohio, one of the most successful competitors who has shown cattle here; C. C. Judy, Tallula, Ill.; John G. Imboden, Decatur, Ill., and J. D. Waters, Dawson, Ill.

KEEPING THE RECORD STRAIGHT

The Houston Chronicle prints a list of Texas newspapers which it places in the anti-Bailey ranks, and this list promises to be about as reliable as the roster of the "Good Government Club," as published in the Chronicle.—Cuero Record.

As the Record has remarked before, no paper is so partisan as the boastful non-partisan paper when it sets itself for or against a cause. The fact is that we are all of the same human clay, and whether we are democrats, republicans or independents, we are unconsciously biased in our judgment. The best way that any of us can do is to keep the facts straight in our news columns and be decent in our comments.—Fort Worth Record.

Don't you think, Mr. Fort Worth Record, that you might show the independents how to be fair? You printed that criticism from the Cuero Record, but failed to print the Chronicle's reply. That reply contained a list of eighty-three papers in Texas that are opposing Senator Bailey.

You have printed every coarse remark Senator Bailey has made about this paper, without reproducing one word we have written in reply. Is that fair? Have you ever seen one word in the Chronicle in reference to the fact that Senator Bailey owns stock in your paper?

Have we said the Record is a Standard Oil organ merely because Senator Bailey has a big block of stock in your corporation? No, because that would be a false insinuation.

The Chronicle knows that Mr. Bailey's investment in your paper does not influence your views. We believe you are defending him from principle, not for self.

Why can't you treat others with the same courtesy and consideration? Keep the facts straight. Tote fair.—Houston Chronicle.

That is the way to talk it. There is nothing like keeping the RECORD straight.

NO MAN CAN SERVE TWO MASTERS

William J. Bryan, the acknowledged leader of the democratic party of this nation, is at it again, and must be included in that Texas list of "infernal scoundrels" who insist that no man can serve two masters. In a public address at Des Moines Monday, Colonel Bryan said:

"If there is a member of the state committee who occupies the position that Mr. Sullivan occupies, I will insist that he ought to resign from the committee. Mr. Sullivan is an official in a franchise-holding company that is constantly seeking favors at the hands of the city and state. If there is any member of the democratic state committee in Iowa who occupies the same position; I will say of him as I said of Mr. Sullivan, that no man can serve two masters and that no man ought to be a member of the democratic organization who is connected with a favor-seeking corporation, for such a one cannot be just to the public and to his corporation at the same time.

"If there is a person on the state committee who is opposed to railroad rate regulation, who tried to defeat the bill proposed by the President for rate regulation, he ought to resign from the committee, for the democratic party cannot afford to have any one connected with its party organization who takes the side of the railroads against the people on the proposition."

One man out in west Texas bought a section of school land less than two years ago at an actual cash outlay of $535. He has just contracted to sell that section of land for a little more than $8,000, and expresses the opinion that he is letting it go too soon, for it is well worth $25 per acre. And the funny part of the situation is that the land is located 110 miles from a railroad. There is such a procedure as overdoing the thing, and our west Texas friends should be satisfied with a liberal portion of the earth and not covet the whole universe.

Attorney General Hadley says the state of Missouri is sure to win its case against the Standard Oil Company, and here's hoping the attorney general of Texas will be able to do the same thing for the Waters-Pierce branch of that institution in Texas.

The Standard Oil company got off with a fine of $7,000 in Ohio, and that is not enough to make it good one hour in the day. The majesty of the law must seek cheap vindication in the Buckeye state.

TEXAS PRESS

Why should the people of Texas more than double the pay of the members of the legislature in consideration of their giving up the free pass? Section 34, article 2, as proposed to be amended by vote of the people on Nov. 6, contains this proposition in a nutshell.—Anson Reporter.

The people of Texas will do nothing of that kind. They will resent the insult offered to their intelligence by snatching that legislative salary grab under so deeply it will never be resurrected.

Judge John M. Duncan of Tyler, who will represent Smith and Gregg counties in the next legislature, is reported to be at work drafting a new election bill, by which he hopes to rid the law as it now stands of its defective features and cumbersome provisions in many places, at the same time retaining all its good and wholesome qualities. This is a move in the right direction and such a bill, after having been passed upon and perfected by the proper committee, should pass the legislature without amendment. What is needed is to have a law that guarantees a free and pure ballot and a fair and honest count, yet written in the simplest language and stated in the shortest terms.—Panola Watchman.

That states the proposition fairly and covers every point of the situation. The people of Texas are very much dissatisfied with the Terrell law and are demanding the proper amount of protection with a lesser degree of ponderosity.

Down in Fort Worth the chief of police has asked the city council to make the colored "washladies" take out permits to solicit business in the laundry line before they will be allowed to ask for laundry. The request was caused by the growing practice of going out and soliciting laundry and then never returning it. Them Fort Worth coons are dead slow. Up here in Denton they bring the clothes back all right, but charge their full value for the wash act. No use being accused of stealing when you know how to charge.—Denton Record and Chronicle.

And they know how to charge in Fort Worth all right, in some instances seeming willing to ask one dollar for even looking at the clothes. There is nothing slow about the Fort Worth washerwoman in that respect.

The chairman of the New York state democratic executive committee says Hearst will have a plurality of from 150,000 to 200,000 in the gubernatorial race. In that case there would be a great flocking of politicians to the Hearst Presidential standard.—San Antonio Express.

Hearst is putting up a game fight in New York and the indications are that he has the victory won. The New York republicans are pretty smooth artists, however, and many things may happen before the final count.

There are a few members of the legislature who are worth more than $5 per day, but they are very few. If the membership was cut down about 50 per cent and the salaries increased 100 per cent, the state would fare better than it now does.—Gainesville Messenger.

All the members of the state legislature should be worth more than $5 per day, and until we get that class of men in that body, it will not measure up to the real requirements. The animus must be patriotism and not a desire for pecuniary gain.

Among the bills that are to come before the state legislature this winter will be one prohibiting a retiring member of the railroad commission from becoming a candidate for any other office within two years of the expiration of his service as a commissioner. Such a bill was introduced by Representative Cobb from this city in the last legislature, but it did not reach consideration. It is a measure that commends itself to the approval of the state.—San Antonio Light.

There is an urgent demand for the enactment of a law of this kind in order that the railroad commission of this state may be removed from politics. And the law should also be made to include the higher judiciary.

WHAT REMINDS ME

A SHORT SERMON

An old Scotch woman once said to her pastor: "Dear me! Ministers mak' muckle ado about their hard work, but what's two bits of sermons in the week tae mak' up? I could do't myself."

"Weel, Janet," replied the minister, good humoredly, "let's hear you try it."

"Come awa' w' a text, then," quoth she.

He repeated with emphasis: "It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop than with a brawling woman and in a wide house."

Janet fired up instantly, "What's that ye say, sir? De ye intend onything personal?"

"Stop! Stop!" broke in her pastor; "you would never do for a minister, Janet; you come over soon to the application."

SAVING HIS MONEY

An Irishman passing thru the wood in a lonely part of the country was accosted by a highwayman, who, thrusting a revolver in his face, said: "Your money or your life?"

The Irishman, trembling with fear, replied: "Take me loffe! Take me loffe! I'm saving me money fer me old age."

THEN THE POLICE CAME

A porter from a nearby store rushed into a restaurant after the dinner hour a few days ago.

"Say, Pat," he called, "give me 5 cents' worth of dog meat."

"Do you want to eat it here or take it with you?" inquired Pat without a smile.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

In a divorce court there are many parting scenes. At church weddings love should always go out with the tied.

Our alphabet has endured for ages, tho used only for a spell.

Many of the patrons of a spectacular show view it thru spectacles.

Tell a plump girl she is getting fat and she will have no further use for you.

Sometimes the popularity of a fad depends upon the amount of foolishness there is back of it.

If you know how selfish other people are you are in a position to realize how selfish you are.

Mr. Biffkins told me more of the FUNNIEST stories! I like to of killed my fool self laughing. They were all about the diddoes they cut up in Smoky City high life. Of course, I seen 'em all in the papers INSIDE. Mr. Biffkins is SUCH a cut up.

THE TELEGRAM AND THE TEXAS PRESS

SAN ANTONIO LOOKING UP

The San Antonio lady who was thoughtful enough to pray in a street car and passenger train collision must be but a temporary sojourner in that wicked city. The average citizen of San Antonio would not take such an occasion as a call to prayer. He would be in too much haste to reach something to steady his nerves after the accident.—Fort Worth Telegram.

Guess again, brother. San Antonio has its share of wickedness, but it has no bigger share than Fort Worth or any other Texas city in proportion to its size. We have more churches and schools than Fort Worth ever will have and we appreciate their value to the community. We are not perfect, and possibly some of us do not pray as often as we should, but we are looking up and doing our best.—San Antonio Gazette.

LAND GETTING TOO HIGH

The Telegram has repeatedly called the attention of homeseekers to the fact that the day of cheap land in Texas is rapidly drawing to a close. It is a well known fact that in all the history of Texas there has never been such rapid enhancement as has been witnessed during the past two years. And this enhancement is not confined to any portion of Texas, but extends even to what has been considered the arid portion of the state.

The cattleman out in west Texas who has contended for twenty-five years that the land of that section could never be worth more than $2 per acre and was only fit for grazing purposes, is now parting with his holdings at prices ranging from $5 to $20 per acre. One big cattleman down in the San Antonio country has just succeeded in selling the last of his holdings at a clear profit of $500,000, and feels that he is able to get out of the live stock business in pretty good shape. The buyers of that land realized that they had already waited too long, and when it was placed on the market they did not lose much time in taking every acre of it.—Fort Worth Telegram.

While it is true that lands in Texas will probably never be cheaper than they are at present, a tendency to lay on a heavier profit than the market justifies is beginning to be discernible in certain quarters. The effort to hog the lion's share of anything ends in failure in the long run.—San Antonio Express.

ROOSEVELT AS A POLITICIAN

They say President Roosevelt is not a politician. He has named Oscar B. Strauss, a Cleveland democrat, for a place in his cabinet, and thus has the honor of giving the first Jewish-American a cabinet portfolio. The signs of the times point to the re-nomination of the President by the republican party in 1908.—Dallas Times-Herald.

President Roosevelt is a very smooth politician, as well as a "milding good" democrat. The signs of the times all point to his re-nomination by the republican party.—Fort Worth Telegram.

That depends. Should the results be close in the states of New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts then President Roosevelt will be compelled to mount the elephant in 1908. Should these states roll up large republican majorities the Rough Rider will be given a resting spell by the machine leaders of the republican party.—Dallas Times-Herald.

PRESENT STATUS OF THE CASE

The Dallas Times-Herald and Fort Worth Telegram have been "fooling" long enough. The Register extends one more invitation for them to get into the democratic ranks and speak a word for the nominees before election day.—Sherman Register.

The Telegram has spoken for the democratic nominees referred to in no uncertain tones. It has clearly pointed out to him the duty he owes to the democratic masses.—Fort Worth Telegram.

Yes, and the Times-Herald has the nominee lariatd—hitchee to one of the granite pillars of its platform. His conversion to Jeffersonian principles is about the biggest political victory ever scored by a Texas newspaper.—Dallas Times-Herald.

VERDICT THAT RING

SUNSHINE OF YOU

I have plodded the ways of this grimy old world. 'Mid the hives and the marts of the millions hurried. I have tasted its sweets; I have supped its gall. And I've lingered and dreamed where the rose petals fall.

I have bent to its hopes—and many have failed— But what do they matter, lost hopes and the rue. So long as the heart knows the sunshine of you?

It matters but little what skies may look down, Or whether the hopes, long cherished, have flown; No matters how gloomy the mantle today. There will come, sure as Fate, a rift in the way. Where the sunbeams will filter and splash on the road. And a song will come lilted to lighten the load. On the long rugged steps whatever I go thru I go with the dream of the sunshine of you.

I shall go thru the years till the sun sinks to rest. 'Neath the gold-burnished skies in the desolate west. Where the floodgates open wide to the River of Sleep. Where there never is wailing and eyes never weep. I shall go with a song ever rife in my heart. 'Tis rat flows with the freedom of waters that start. From earth's purest spring. Like a mariner's star You shall guide me forever—wherever you are! —Milwaukee Sentinel.

DRIFT OF POLITICS

MILLIONAIRES DOMINATE COLORADO ELECTION

The state election in Colorado next month will be an interesting affair. Behind the selection of governor is a fight for United States senator in which Guggenheim, the Smelter King, and three other multimillionaires are pitted against each other. The case here is like Rhode Island. Everybody wants to go to the legislature so as to get enough money to clear the mortgage on his home. The politicians have not recovered from the labor troubles of a year ago, and the mere mention of the opposition of organized labor to a candidate about the same effect on the leaders as a locomotive shriek on a skittish horse. After having been refused by five men who objected to a certain candidate on the ticket, the Republican nomination for governor was accepted by a Methodist preacher, the Rev. Dr. Henry A. Buchtel, formerly a missionary to Bulgaria, later pastor of several churches in Indiana and now chancellor of the University of Denver. The candidate whom the five previous nominees objected is William H. Gabbert, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, who is a candidate for re-election. Their objection to him is based on the allegation that he favors corporations in his decisions and was against the miners in the troubles. The Democrats have nominated Alva Adams, twice governor and three times previously the party nominee. He asserts that he was counted out two years ago, and now seeks election as a vindication. He is a strong man, and is expected to make a good showing. The independents have named Benjamin B. Lindsey, who framed the Juvenile Court law, and who is judge of that court. Judge Lindsey is well known in Philadelphia, where he was a recent visitor, and made an address. The Socialists have named for governor William D. Hayward, secretary of the Western District of Miners, now confined in the Idaho State Penitentiary charged with the murder of Ex-Governor Steunbeger of that state. He was a prisoner when he was nominated. The courts of Colorado are probably criticized more freely than those of any other state. On more than one occasion even justices of the supreme court have been hanged in effigy. The Republicans at first nominated Philip B. Stewart, a young banker and friend of President Roosevelt, for governor, but he refused to remain on the ticket with Gabbert. Roosevelt had 34,000 majority in 1904, and McDonald, Republican, was elected governor. Just who will be elected in November will depend on the millionaires.

General Weakening of the Stock Market Pending Outcome of Election in New York. NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The stock market was dull today, opening at a decline, with light trading throughout the day. The uncertainty of the result of the election in New York seems to be the ruling factor in stock operations, and both sides are very cautious. The money situation, while somewhat more hardened today, is still satisfactory. London advices stated that American stock were quiet, and almost below parity. Upon the quarterly statement issued in London, steel declined, and there was a very light demand for stocks in the loan crowd. The net earnings did not come up to expectations in the quarterly report, and the report on the whole was considered favorable and seemed to have a good effect on sentiment with reference to these securities and the market at large, and the directors of the advance dividend rate was accepted as a bearish feature and accompanied with composure by most holders of the stock, who are satisfied that such a development is a matter of only a few months' waiting.

MARKETS

Ten Cent Level Reached—Market Bearish on Crop Yield—Texas Outlook Groves. NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—For the first time for a month the market declined to the ten cent level, and some months below that level. The market was very bearish, despite the efforts of the bull sentiment to carry the values back to the prevailing figures of the past few days. Statements by foreign statisticians, notably that of Neill Bros. of London, estimating an excessive yield of this season's crop, was not without its bearish influence, notwithstanding the reports of killing frosts and freezing temperature in some sections of the cotton belt. Regardless of the weather conditions, Neill Bros. estimate not less than a 13,000,000 bale crop, and this figure, which the figures are placed beyond that. Reports from various sections indicate good crop conditions. The prospect in Texas are unusually bright. Weather, with few exceptions, has been favorable for picking, and the work has progressed with very little interruption. It is estimated that from 60 to 70 per cent of the season's crop in Texas has already been picked. This compares with 73 per cent in 1905, and 88 per cent in 1904. Pickers are insufficient to gather the larger quantities of open cotton which exposes the staple to possible damage by unfavorable weather. Killing frosts in Texas have not been general, but little harm has been done when touched, and ginning is pressed to its full capacity. The next ginner's report will carry the returns for the ginner up to the close of Oct. 30. In the same interval last year there were ginned 1,467,029 bales. There is no record of a report for the period previous to last year. The total ginned to Nov. 1 last year was 6,457,595 bales. Cotton is being marketed fast as ginned and the movement continues heavy. Only the favorable prices on the day's stock exchange, which means much less than ten cents at the interior markets, will check the movement. Farmers are likely to sell heavily at present prices.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

General Decline on Credited Crop Estimates and Fair Weather Reports—Good Spot Demand. NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 31.—There was a general gradual decline in the market today. The general tone, however, was rather nervous. Liverpool was about 6 1/2 better than expected at the opening, and cables were about as expected. The morning's market tapes was the estimate of the crop for the current season, which was generally credited. This was followed by a slight market, and a fair reaction, which was not revived upon favorable weather reports. The weather map showed overcast weather with heavy port receipts yesterday, and the gradual expansion of the crop idea, more than offset Europe's adherence to the bull side of the account, and the prompt sale of the cable offerings of spots were grabbed up exploded the foreign idea of a moderate yield, and brought out the bear crowd in full force. Many a professional was arrayed against the staple because of the monumental movement and large yield estimates. The ginner's report may pay out bearish also from the viewpoint of the spectator. Spots were in strong demand and active. Sellers raised their basis and demanded 45 to 47 in December for November good middling. November delivery.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 31.—Cotton closed steady, middling 10 5/16, against 10 1/4 at yesterday's close. Sales, 2,700 bales; f. o. b. 2,000.

LIVERPOOL COTTON CABLE

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 31.—Futures opened quiet and steady, 9 to 12 down. Spots 12 down on sales of 7,000. Total receipts were 8,900. The market eased off early in the day for large crop reports, but reports of killing frosts caused it to recover later in the day, and the further report of American buying. The closing was easier.

Grain Market About Unchanged with Bullish Sentiment—Hog Production to Advance. CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 31.—There was very little change in the grain market today. The northern receipts, however, played havoc with any decline in wheat. There was much strength displayed at the opening, and the sentiment was very bullish. The car shorts still gives much concern to the dealers. It was rumored that railroads east of Buffalo had decided to move 2,000,000 bushels of grain at once in order to keep exporters at the seaboard to meet their engagements. This, of course, affords some relief. Sales of corn today were 70,000 bushels, and oats 210,000; wheat, 110,000, including 85,000 No. 2 red at 9 1/2 under December in store, and the balance, 25,000, were made on charters, which were made on a basis of 1 1/2 for corn to Buffalo Deliveries on October trades yesterday were 60,000 bushels of corn. Provisions, especially pork products, were higher in sympathy with the advance in hogs.

FULL RELIGIOUS FREEDOM TO ALL

Russian Ukase of 1905 Makes for General Good. ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 31.—At noon the special edition of the official Gazette, containing the Imperial ukase granting full religious freedom to the "old believers," was issued, the preamble of which is as follows: "To guarantee to all Russian subjects liberty of faith and public worship, according to the dictates of their consciences, we issued an ukase April 30, 1905. In the continuance of this task of love and peace, we deem it good to establish the rules and regulations governing the International Organization of the Holy Orthodox Church, charging the ministry of the interior at the same time to elaborate similar laws for the subjects issuing from other Christian confessions. With the trust in a beneficent providence, we believe that these measures will serve to strengthen the ties of loyalty by which the Old Believers are bound for centuries to the throne and the fatherland, and enhance the greatness of the general mother, the Holy Orthodox Church. According to the law, any dissident sect numbering fifty persons, whose aims are not immoral, or having tenets providing a refuge to do military service (the Duke Hobors and Standists are illegal), can apply for and shall receive permission to organize churches, conduct services, and schools, and elect clergy, who shall be exempted from military service and be entitled to wear the vestments and perform baptism, marriage and other sacraments and keep religious books, and the deaths of equal authority with the official records of the orthodox priests. The new law introduces important innovations in the field of civil marriage, designed for the sects having no clergy, but of which non-members can take advantage, enabling thousands of persons who, in order to do military service, were obliged to leave their families and the absence of civil ceremonies, have lived together unmarried, to assume the legal tie and legitimize their children. This law is of special importance to the Maravists, the Polish schismatics, from the Roman Catholic church, whose numbers are rapidly growing on the German frontier.

WHARF SWITCHMEN GO ON STRIKE

Switchmen at Galveston Demand Eight-Hour Day. GALVESTON, Oct. 31.—The switchmen employed at the Galveston wharf yards went out on strike last night at 9:30 o'clock. The railroads did not anticipate such action so soon. Members of the union began quitting in the evening, but at 8:30 some returned to work because of some misunderstanding at national headquarters. All later quit work and it is believed that the strike is complete. The members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen are being put to work and switching is going on today without interruption. The switchmen's union is in control of the wharf yards and the railroads have a contract with the union, but they are in control of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and favor putting them in control. The switchmen's union wants eight hours and more pay.

MONEY AS BANDAGE

The national bank depositories have been utilized during the year as a medium thru which the excessive accumulation of money in the treasury was restored to the channels of trade. About April 1 an unusual stringency in the money market was relieved by the temporary increase of public deposits with depository banks to enable them to import gold. Thru this aid more than $49,000,000 in gold was imported. The balance in banks to the credit of the general fund May 5 was $102,708,123, the highest point reached during the fiscal year. "The national bank notes presented for redemption during the year amounted to $296,232,888 as against $308,298,760 in 1905. "The national banks have not issued $5 notes to the limit allowed by law, and thereby have forced upon the treasury the burden of supplying the smaller denominations required by the business interests of the country. How, in response to the appeal of the secretary of the treasury the banks have increased the volume of their $5 notes. "The treasury holdings of gold continue to attract the attention of financiers, both at home and abroad. It is apparent from the continued accumulation of a large share of the product of the gold mines of the world is brought to the United States. The gold in the treasury June 30, 1905, amounted to $705,592,939, and at the close of the fiscal year 1906 it has advanced to $807,651,690. It Oct. 24 it attained a maximum of $877,292,838. "The United States paper currency issued amounted to $259,596,000 and the redemptions were $577,445,100, a net increase in the volume outstanding of $117,859,000. "The pressure from bankers and others for larger and more regular supply of small denominations of currency continues unabated, while the treasury is without resources for the issue of small bills to comply with their urgent requests."

GOLD SHIPPED BY THE TON

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 31.—Five tons of gold, valued at $2,000,000, arrived here today from Buenos Ayres for the banks. Price says: "There is nothing but short cotton being sold in New Orleans today and spinners are buying it in chunks." New York wire: Price says: "After a careful estimate, I am of the opinion that 500,000 bales were sold short in this market alone Monday. About 200,000 bales have been sold by three firms this morning."

NOT ENOUGH BAGGING

Ginners Suffer From Shortage in the Supply. GALVESTON, Texas, Oct. 31.—A bagging shortage is one of the difficulties being encountered in marketing the cotton crop of Texas at the present time, and reports received here from many points indicate that a scarcity of bagging exists generally throughout the state, no particular locality being affected. It is learned that conditions are slowly improving and that the organization has to contend with the demand provided the transportation facilities promptly move the business. It appears that most of the ginners were of the opinion that similar conditions would prevail this season as have existed during previous seasons, and failed to order a sufficient supply of bagging to carry them thru, thinking that the jobbers would be able to furnish them as needed during the season. The jobbers, however, are also getting short or have exhausted their stock on hand entirely, and no more bagging is available at present. At the beginning of the season there were several warehouses filled with the article in Galveston and some other available space was secured to hold it. However, the large supply has been absorbed and demands for every portion of the state for bagging is being received in the city daily. Practically all of the bagging used by the Texas ginners is received from the northern mills via Galveston and just at the present time the Morgan and Mallory steamers are being crowded to handle this and other business. A more or less congested condition prevails at both ends of the line, making it doubly difficult to hasten the movement of any commodity whatever. A strenuous effort is being made to accommodate the ginners, and the steamers are moving a considerable amount on this week's sailings. A large part of the steamer's cargo is cotton, and bagging and a constant stream of it was being taken from the hold of that vessel yesterday and hurried to the cars.

TREASURY REPORT OUT

C. H. Treat Summarizes Conditions for the Past Year. WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Charles H. Treat, treasurer of the United States, submitted his annual report Tuesday to the secretary of the treasury, and in reference to the more notable transactions, said in part: "The net result of the ordinary revenues and expenditures for the fiscal year 1906 was a surplus of $25,849,374. The aggregate of the ordinary revenues for the fiscal year was $1,000,228 for the preceding year. A continuation of these favorable conditions is reflected in the transactions for the first quarter of the fiscal year, in which the revenues were $5,587,314 in excess of the expenditures. "The monetary stock of the country took on a growth during the year. The $188,866,727 of which $118,969,771 was in gold, $5,405,396 in silver and $65,322,554 in national bank notes, while the treasury notes decreased to $2,027,775.
