TERRORSTRICKEN BY THE SEA'S WILDNESS

Six Hundred People Lose All Self-Restraint

ALL ARE RESCUED

From Storm-Driven Vessel—

Strong Men Trample Weak Women

Special to The Telegram.

QUEBEC, Nov. 14.—The 600 passengers on the Dominion trans-Atlantic liner Kensington were rescued today from the boat, which is still fast upon the rocks along the treacherous Quebec shore at Matane. She was blown ashore in the thick of a driving snow yesterday.

The rockets sent up from the doomed steamer were seen by the villagers and fishermen on shore and at dawn, at the peril of their lives, the rescuers launched a dozen small boats, made their way thru the snow and blinding sea fog and began the hazardous work of taking off the passengers.

When the small boats, flung about like cockleshells, reached the side of the ship, the officers and crew, it was with levithan plunges, men, women and children huddled upon the upper deck, clinging frantically to rails and stanchions.

As ropes were thrown to the boats panic seized the terror-stricken passengers. But it was a panic of self-preservation. There was a rush to get down the ropes into the boats. Men pushed and trampled women and fought themselves until driven back by the ship's officers and crew. It was with the utmost difficulty that the passengers were taken off.

The sight of the boats coming from the land had been a gleam of hope after a wild night during which the conviction of doom had finally settled upon all on board. The Kensington was making her way along slowly, driven hither and thither by the tearing wind and flung about by huge comber after comber, when suddenly she struck.

Captain Morie ordered the engines reversed, but the Kensington did not budge. The people rushed on deck from staterooms and cabins and swarmed over the ship. Captain Morie mustered his crew, tried to reassure the terrified passengers, and, when they tried to launch the lifeboats themselves, drove them back into the bow, where they were kept until the rescuers were sighted.

Soon after the small boats began to take off the passengers the steamers Ford Strathcona and Montreal with barges and wreckers arrived from Quebec. Word had been received here that the Kensington probably will be a total loss. The vessel was one of the finest in the Dominion trans-Atlantic service between Quebec and Montreal and Liverpool.

JAIL BREAKER ARRESTED

Would Still Be at Liberty But He Beat His Wife

Special to The Telegram.

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Nov. 14.—A man giving his name as Charley Edgar was arrested Sunday afternoon on a complaint by his wife, alleging abuse and mistreatment. After the man had been placed in jail the fact developed that his right name was Charley Moss and that he was wanted at Mangum, Okla., for breaking jail in October.

MEETING AT WACO

Gathering of Passenger Agents to Be Important

Special to The Telegram.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 14.—A quarterly meeting of the Texas Traveling Passenger Agents Association, which will be held in Waco Nov. 15, will be unusually important because of the presence of Colonel E. C. Pope, president of the association, who will deliver an address. The traveling passenger agents who have headquarters in San Antonio will attend.

BAPTISTS GONE

Convention Comes to a Close in Waco Town

Special to The Telegram.

WACO, Texas, Nov. 14.—The last of the Baptists hosts left Waco yesterday and the remainder of the fifty-eighth session of the Baptist general convention of Texas disappeared. It was in many respects one of the most remarkable yet held, as the enthusiasm and missionary and educational effort reached high tide. The Baptists and Methodists are making close running mates in Texas on the question of missions and education.

WILL HELP THE PROUD

Mrs. Russell Sage Has Made Declaration

AND THE CHURCHES

That Really Need It—No One Who Begs Will Receive One Penny

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Mrs. Russell Sage today made a definite statement as to the manner in which she would dispose of the millions left by the great financier. She said that her time was short and the task she had undertaken was a gigantic one.

"No one except myself knows what disposal I shall make of the millions Mr. Sage left to me, and as yet have no settled plans as to how much I shall give away, or to whom I shall give."

"I do not as a rule believe in endowments. I look upon churches and other endowed institutions as absolutely dead. Their very endowments put them beyond the necessity for work, thus making them indifferent and negligent along the lines where Christian institutions should do the most good."

"Young churches, with poor congregations struggling to meet their payments and institutions of any sort for the care of the ill and needy appeal to me, and I am going to do all I can for such as these."

"My desire, however, is to help individuals rather than institutions or associations, and that is what I shall do. Not those who beg, not those whom I have never seen or heard of and who have no more delicate or sense of propriety than to write me the most impudent demands for money. Oh, no, not that class of individuals, but the men or women in the lower or higher walks of life who for no fault of their own are so unfortunate as to need assistance and to whom I can do some such I deem it a sacred duty to assist."

ANNA GOULD IS NOW FREE

She Has Secured Divorce From Count Castellane

A BLOW TO BONI

He Had Figured on Handling More of Gould Money. Famous Case

Special to The Telegram.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—The famous Castellane divorce case, which for the last few months has attracted people in all parts of the world, was closed here today when the countess, formerly Anna Gould, was granted an absolute divorce and given the custody of her children. However, the children cannot be taken from the republic of France without the consent of their father, Count Boni Castellane.

The granting of the divorce was a blow to Count Boni, as he had figured on again being in position to handle more of the Gould millions. His lawyers made an excellent fight to protect the count in every way and to provide, if possible, a way for him to receive an allowance from the countess. Notwithstanding the fact that they argued well they lost all. The count will have to pay court costs.

Countess Castellane was told of her intention to continue allowing Boni's father 25,000 francs a year. It is understood that some of this money will fall into Boni's hands after all.

In the last few weeks Count Castellane has grown quite gray and haggard and looks as if he had been thru a spell of sickness.

The Castellane case is the most famous of all that have ever been before the French courts and has been the talk of the entire country for months. Large sums were expended in getting evidence and hearing the case and it is understood that the lawyers on both sides received handsome fees.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14.—Howard Gould, brother of the Countess de Castellane, who is in this city, when informed by the Associated Press that his sister had been granted a divorce from the count, said while he was no comment to make upon it. The decree of the court with respect to the children, not leaving France without the consent of their father, he said, was rather to be expected, as it is in accordance with the French custom.

GRIEF FOR WIFE PROMPTED DEATH

Prominent Physician Destroys Himself Over Sorrow

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Dr. Harry H. Rodman, who committed suicide in Buffalo last night, lived and practiced here until a few weeks ago. His friends believe that grief for his wife, who died some time ago, prompted his suicide.

Dr. Rodman first came to notice when he became attached to the hospital ship Maine, which was sent to South Africa during the Boer war. When Dr. Rodman returned his health was poor. He went to Virginia, became worse and sent for Miss Edith Wyman, a nurse he had known in the Presbyterian hospital in this city.

July 14, 1902, he was thought to be dying and at his request he was married to his nurse. Dr. Rodman recovered and came back to New York with his bride. Six months later she was taken seriously ill and went to the Presbyterian hospital. She died there in her husband's arms.

DAN SULLY HAS A FAT BUSINESS

Former Cotton King Is Dealing in Tallow

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Daniel J. Sully, once known as the "cotton king," has abandoned the field in which he made his spectacular coupe and has gone into soap and tallow. He has become the head of a soap corporation, which has $1,200,000 capital. The plant is in Brooklyn.

Sully, it was stated yesterday, was behind the recent movement in the tallow market, which has forced that commodity up 25 per cent within the last few weeks.

Sully said last night he was not trying to corner the tallow market. "In went into the soap business some little time ago," he continued, "and since Sept. 1 we have been accumulating a year's supply ahead. That's all. We've got it, and now I expect to see the price of tallow slump off some. We have no idea of forming or entering an American soap trust. Trusts are not popular just now."

CHILDREN DIE BEFORE FLAMES

Fire in New Jersey Causes Three Deaths

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Three lives were lost in New Brunswick, N. J., as a result of a fire which destroyed several tenements occupied by negroes. Two children, Frank and Susan Doran, who had been locked their home by their parents, were burned to death. It is believed they started the fire while playing with matches.

William Seng, a business man with interests in the vicinity where the fire occurred, ran to the scene and soon after died of heart disease brought on by his exertion.

An Airy Little Chat With Santos Dumont

CLOUDFLYERS WILL

Take the Place of Bicycles—

So He Predicts, Time Not Far Off

Special to The Telegram.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—Santos Dumont since the successful flight of his aeroplane, "the Bird of Prey," talks enthusiastically of the early approach of the day when all mankind will be sailing the air and when flying machines will be more common than automobiles. Indeed, he thinks that the flying machine will be in time the poor man's automobile and be safer, faster and cheaper.

In an interview yesterday he said: "The machine I am experimenting with is very large, having a surface of 800 square meters, but the practical aeroplane which will be for the air what the democratic bicycle is for the earth, will be much smaller. With the ordinary flying machine it is necessary to increase the size in order to increase the power. With the aeroplane, on the contrary, speed will be increased in direct proportion to the diminution of the resistance surface. My present aeroplane was intentionally built very large to overcome obstacles and not with regard to principles. But with increased power, which means speed, the size can be reduced. At the same time increased speed adds to the safety as a powerful motor is more easily manipulated. We can therefore look to the aeroplane which can be comfortably housed in every home. From the standpoint of maintenance the cost of both petroleum and repairs, the aeroplanes will be much less expensive than an automobile car. There will be no expensive tires to burst and no bad roads to jolt them to pieces, but they will be no collisions. Next year people will be able to go to the seashore on their aeroplanes. It will become the fad and the common mode of a new industry."

"What of the danger?" "The only danger would be the risk of a broken rudder, and I cannot see that a rudder could break itself. The aeroplane is immobility itself. The swerving which made me descend October 25 can be easily rectified by a second rudder to counteract any tendency in that direction. The practical difficulty, while the matter remains in the experimental stage, would consist in how to control the supplementary rudders while the hands are otherwise engaged. My intention is to attach the yoke rudder and maintain the equilibrium by the instinctive movement of the head. Later this primitive arrangement will be replaced by an automatic mechanical apparatus. When the automobile was first introduced, the man in the street treated those who had the temerity to operate them as madmen, never anticipating the day when the fashionable throngs of every big city would be crowded with automobiles filled with nurses and newly born children."

"Men will drive aeroplanes as they now drive automobiles. There will be a short apprenticeship, but it will be done on terra firma. In brief, the day is not far distant when the aeroplane as a means of locomotion, will replace in the air the bicycle on the earth."

TRAIN WRECKED

Collides With Wagon and One Man Is Killed

By Associated Press.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Nov. 14.—A fast train on the Pittsburg & Lake Erie Railroad was wrecked late last night by colliding with a wagon loaded with logs. Fireman Keorn was killed and Lem Holloway, engineer, and William Noel, baggage master, were fatally injured. The wagon got stuck on the tracks and the driver escaped by jumping. The train bound for Pittsburg crashed into it and carried it along completely wrecking it. Several passengers were more or less injured.

ENTIRE TRAIN BURNS

Seventeen Loaded Cars Are Destroyed by Fire at Temple

Special to The Telegram.

HOUSTON, Texas, Nov. 14.—An entire freight train, excepting the engine and tender, burned on the Santa Fe road yesterday evening, four miles north of Brenham. The fire started in a car of cotton, and spread rapidly. Fifteen cars of cotton, one of meat and one of grain were consumed. The train was cut when the fire was discovered, but both sections burned. The fire was intensely hot and the ties burned out for nearly a thousand feet. All traffic was delayed and trains are being detoured over the Missouri, Kansas and Texas road.

Do it Now! Don't Wait Until It's Too Late!

KEEP your body clean!

Most people are very neat and clean in their outward appearance, but how about the inside?

Are you clean inside?

And if not, how can you face the world with clean thoughts, clear intelligence, a fair, just bright mind and get your full share of capacity for work and enjoyment?

Neglect of exercise, rich over-feeding and carelessness about stools, often lead to the delicate internal mechanism in a nasty mess.

The small intestine is compelled to absorb the poison of decaying matter instead of wholesome nourishment.

The liver gets inactive; the bile doesn't "work off"; the eyes get yellow; the skin gets dead like putty and pale like dough, disfigured with boils, pimples, blackheads and liver-spots.

There's only one solution to the problem: Keep clean inside all the time. That's the answer.

If you can not diet, or keep your mechanism going by proper exercise, take Cascarets, the sweet, fragrant, harmless little vegetable tablets, that "act like exercise" on your bowels, and gently but powerfully clean out and disinfect the whole digestive canal.

A Cascaret every night before going to bed will "work while you sleep" and make you "feel fine in the morning."

If you have been neglecting yourself for some time, take a Cascaret night and morning and break up the "constipated habit" without acquiring a "cathartic habit."

Cascarets are sold by all druggists, 10c, 25c and 50c. The 10c size trial box is a neat fit for the vest pocket or lady's purse.

Be sure to get the genuine with the "cog-tailed C" on the box and the letters "COC" on each tablet. They are never sold in bulk.

SECRETARY TAFT HERE AN HOUR

Made Short Speech From Depot Balcony

For one hour Tuesday night William H. Taft, secretary of war, was the guest of Fort Worth, while on his way to San Antonio from Fort Hill. The secretary arrived at 7 o'clock over the Rock Island and departed at 8 o'clock for San Antonio over the Missouri, Kansas and Texas.

The members of the Roosevelt Republican Club began preparations several weeks ago for the entertainment of the distinguished visitor and sent him an invitation to stop in Fort Worth. As they had not received a reply from him Tuesday morning they decided to co-operate with the Board of Trade and send him an informal reception at the time of his arrival.

Dr. J. L. Cooper, S. B. Hovey and L. M. Barkley met the secretary's train, which was a special section of the regular train, at Saginaw, and accompanied the party to the station, where he was received by a reception committee, which was composed of the following: J. N. Winters, chairman of the Roosevelt Central Republic Club; Dr. J. L. Cooper, president of the Board of Trade; Mayor W. D. Harris, S. B. Hovey, L. M. Barkley, G. W. Burroughs, Dr. C. P. Brewer, S. M. Gaines, Frank B. Stanley, E. E. Baldridge, Mr. West, Mr. Elliott, Mr. Beckham, Mike Henley, N. A. Dodge, G. W. Barnhart, M. C. Hurley, J. P. Carter, H. W. Nye, W. M. McKee, S. E. Starn, J. C. Martin and N. B. Moore.

Before the arrival of the train someone asked Secretary Taft to wear a badge of the Roosevelt Republican Club, the organization which initiated plans for his entertainment, but he refused, saying his visit had no political significance and was of a purely business nature. He made the same excuse when asked to make a speech, at first finally refusing to do so. The committee was persistent, however, and he finally consented to a brief address, which he delivered from the second floor balcony to a crowd of several hundred which had gathered on the first floor.

After being introduced by Dr. Cooper, Secretary Taft said:

"Ladies and Gentlemen of Texas: This trip is not a speaking trip. It is a trip that I am taking on the business of the war department. It has been a very educating and instructive trip, because it has brought home to me with great emphasis the wonderful growth and enterprise of the south-west country. It has been very difficult for us in making changes and taking trains from one point to another, to find seats, which indicates that every man has money to travel upon and to buy tickets for his wife and children. And as we came along we saw many freight trains, indicating prosperity, which occasions congratulation. If four years more of our present party greets you, I expect to find at the end of that time Fort Worth a city of three or four times its present population and, if possible, three or four times as large in energy, altho I hardly think that last is possible."

The party then took dinner in the depot dining room.

The members of Secretary Taft's party, which is on an official trip of inspection of forts and military reservations, is:

General T. H. Terry of the general staff, Captain Groves, Captain Hutchison, General Humphreys, quartermaster general of the army, and W. W. Mischler, private secretary of Secretary Taft.

TERRIBLE ITCHING SCALP HUMOR

Badly Affected With Sores and Crusts—Extended Down Behind the Ears—Some Years Later Painful and Itching Pustules Broke Out on Lower Part of Body—Son Also Affected.

A TRIPLE CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"About ten years ago my scalp became badly affected with sore and itching humors, crusts, etc., and extending down behind the ears. My hair came out in places also. I was greatly troubled; understood it was eczema. Tried various remedies, so called, without effect. Saw your Cuticura advertisement, and got them at once. Applied them as to directions, etc., and after two weeks, I think, of use, was clear as a whistle.

"I have to state also that late last fall, October and November, 1904, I was suddenly afflicted with a bad eruption, painful and itching pustules over the lower part of the body. I suffered dreadfully. In two months, under the skillful treatment of my doctor, combined with Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, I found myself cured.

"Six years ago my son was laid up with a severe cold, hard cough, and finally painful eruption all over the body. I procured the Cuticura Remedies as soon as possible, and after his faithful use of same was as well as ever in two weeks, as well as I can recall. He has never had a return of the illness, so far as I know.

"I have always been pleased to commend the Cuticura Remedies, and testify as to their efficacy. I am a veteran of the late Civil War, '61-'65, between seventy and eighty years of age. You are truly, H. M. F. Weiss, Rosemond, Christian Co., Ill., Aug. 31, 1905."

BRANDING BEE TONIGHT

Twelve or Fifteen Mavericks Will Be Initiated

The first branding bee of the Mystic Knights of Bovina, which was postponed at the last regular rounds, will take place at the chief ranch house, over the White Elephant, tonight. All irons, bucking pony, flying eagle, the grassed pole and inclined planes, in good working order, and tonight twelve or fifteen fresh mavericks will be given a touch of high life that will qualify them for full membership in the mystic order. Chief Ranch Boss W. D. Davis says the work on hand tonight will require a full herd of bovines and he requests a full attendance and promises good returns to all members who report promptly.

HAT PIN PIERCES A MAN'S HEART

Victim Refuses to Tell Who Did It

Special to The Telegram.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 14.—Even on his death bed Thomas Dougherty refused to name the girl who had stabbed him with a hatpin. Just before he passed away in the hospital he said:

"It was in the wrong and I will say no more."

The weapon had been plunging between the man's ribs and had pierced the region of the heart.

The police cannot discover where Dougherty had spent his time before a physician was summoned to convey him to the hospital. Detectives have been assigned to run down the woman.

J. H. Battles Has Serious Charge Registered Against Him

Special to The Telegram.

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Nov. 14.—In the district court yesterday afternoon the case of J. H. Battles, charged with criminal assault, was continued. The motion for a continuance was based on the absence of one or two of the defendant's witnesses. A special venire of eighty men was drawn from which to select a jury.

The prosecutor in the case is Ida Dutton, who is claimed to be under 15 years old and who is a niece of Battles' wife.

ROCKEFELLER GIVES ADVICE

Talks Cold Feet, Hard Work and Golf

He divided his discourse into three heads, respectively, cold feet, hard work and golf and here is what he had to say on these timely topics:

Cold feet—There is no fear of catching cold so long as you protect your feet. I like to go out in a drizzling rain if I am prepared for it.

Hard work—Hard work will not hurt you. And if you cannot get the exact kind of work you think you are suited for, take whatever turns up and do it well. There is no labor will prepare you for something better. It's work to a great extent that makes the man and the fellow who is afraid of it is the one who always remains just where he is and never advances.

Golf—This weather is nothing for a golfer. More than once I have tramped over the golf links and have been and felt none the worse for it. But you must keep in motion—play the game you know, and drive hard.

Mr. Rockefeller also spoke wisely on "real friendship," "potato digging" and other subjects of interest.

Incidentally he expressed dislike for a "class of people who seek friend for what they can obtain from them."

CONVENTION COMES TO CLOSE

Immigration Association Holds Last Session

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 14.—The southern quarantine and immigration convention, which is today's session assumed its new title of Southern Immigration and Industrial Association, concluded its business last night.

The closing session was devoted to the reading of several papers on pertinent topics. The report of the committee on quarantines, which was adopted during the day, advocated that the convention take no action in advising the transfer of maritime quarantines to the Federal government by the states that have not already made transfers, it being the sense of the committee that each should be left at liberty to act as it sees fit.

With the matter of quarantine eliminated, the conference devoted its time almost entirely to a discussion of the immigration problem. Under this head the race question early took prominence and did not receive its quietus until the convention adjourned tonight. The sentiment of the delegates is entirely in favor of welcoming a desirable class of white immigrants, without regard to nationality, yet there appeared at times some desire to keep the black man, with all his faults, where he is. Possibly the most distinctive feature of the convention toward the securing of a proper proportion of the arriving immigrants from the southern states was the resolution that the convention urge the governors of all southern states be requested to urge the immediate establishment of bureaus of immigration.

The following are the new officers of the association: President, Governor D. C. Heyward, Columbia, S. C.; secretary-treasurer, Dr. J. H. McMillen, Gadsden, Ala.; vice president, Alabama, Frank L. Anderson, Birmingham; Arkansas, G. B. Hucker, Little Rock; North Carolina, Dr. A. Thompson, Charlotte; Virginia, W. Ruffin, Danville; Florida, Edmund Brobst, Jacksonville; Louisiana, Dr. C. H. McPherson, New Orleans; Maryland, Charles E. Redeker, Odenton; South Carolina, J. C. Hemphill, Georgia, H. Tift, Hampton; Tennessee, Orlando H. Williams, Nashville; Texas, William Vogt; Texas, T. J. Anderson, Houston; Oklahoma, Jesse Dunn, Oklahoma City; Mississippi, A. S. Kyles, Batesville; Missouri, Columbia, M. V. Richards, Washington.

THROWS BRICKS AT ELECTRIC CAB

Striking Chauffeurs the Cause of Much Trouble

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—An electric cab in which William H. Palmer, secretary of the New York Transportation Company, whose chauffeurs are on a strike, was riding thru Forty-ninth street, near Sixth avenue, at 1 o'clock this morning, was bombarded with bricks and stones by a gang of striking chauffeurs. The cab was smashed and Mr. Palmer was bruised about the body. Detective Harrigan arrested Vanine and charged him with being the ringleader. Harrigan had to draw his revolver to keep the crowd from rescuing his prisoner.

Immigrants on Their Way to California

A cargo of nearly 100 Italian immigrants were temporarily dumped at the Texas and Pacific union passenger station Wednesday morning, all of them being ticketed to Los Angeles, Cal. They arrived at Galveston Monday on the steamship Mesalasia and were forwarded from Galveston the day following.

There was not a woman in the party, but there were a number of boys, several of them being under ten years of age. The personnel of the immigrants was about an average of those who come to America from that country.

Negro Desperado Shoots Down Three Men

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 14.—Patrolmen Charles Blackstock and William Bailey were shot to death on South Main street last night by a negro who proclaimed himself to be Will Harris of Charlotte, a desperado for whom a large reward has been standing for some time. Prior to the killing of the two officers Ben Allison, a negro restaurant keeper, was killed by Harris, who shot him with a rifle without provocation. Another negro, named Tom Nell, lies mortally wounded, he, too, being shot before the officers took a hand in the melee.

Harris started out on his death-dealing tour from a negro house on Valley street. He fired into two houses as he made his way to South Main street, one of the principal streets of the city. As he reached Eagle street he fired at and wounded Allison. The negro then encountered Tom Nell and fired at him. The shooting quickly brought Police Captain Page and Officers Bailey and Blackstock to the scene. Captain Page met the negro in the center of Main street and received a bullet in the arm. The wounded captain called upon Blackstock to fire, but before the officer could do so he felt dead with a bullet in the chest. Harris then started for the square, where Patrolman Bailey was waiting for him. Bailey fired twice, but missed the desperado, turning his rifle on the officer, sent a bullet through the latter's brain.

The negro then ran down South Main street and at midnight was still at large.

The greatest excitement followed the killing of the officers, and a general fire alarm was turned in by Chief of Police Bernard for the purpose of calling out the military companies and several posses quickly formed to take up the pursuit. THROWS BRICKS AT ELECTRIC CAB

Striking Chauffeurs the Cause of Much Trouble

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—An electric cab in which William H. Palmer, secretary of the New York Transportation Company, whose chauffeurs are on a strike, was riding thru Forty-ninth street, near Sixth avenue, at 1 o'clock this morning, was bombarded with bricks and stones by a gang of striking chauffeurs. The cab was smashed and Mr. Palmer was bruised about the body. Detective Harrigan arrested Vanine and charged him with being the ringleader. Harrigan had to draw his revolver to keep the crowd from rescuing his prisoner.

Immigrants on Their Way to California

A cargo of nearly 100 Italian immigrants were temporarily dumped at the Texas and Pacific union passenger station Wednesday morning, all of them being ticketed to Los Angeles, Cal. They arrived at Galveston Monday on the steamship Mesalasia and were forwarded from Galveston the day following.

There was not a woman in the party, but there were a number of boys, several of them being under ten years of age. The personnel of the immigrants was about an average of those who come to America from that country.

Cure For The Blues

ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED

Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained.

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way: "She has been feeling 'out of sorts' for some time; head has ached and back aches; she has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy and heart beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her periods she is exceedingly despondent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: 'Cheer up; you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon.'"

But she doesn't get "all right," and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Mrs. Rosa Adams, of 219 12th Street, Louisville, Ky., niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C.S.A. She writes:

"I cannot tell you with pen and ink what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered with female troubles, extreme lassitude, 'the blues,' nervousness and that all-around feeling. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it not only cured my female derangement, but it has restored me to perfect health and strength. The buoyancy of my younger days has returned, and I do not suffer any longer with despondency, as I did before. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a boon to sick and suffering women."

If you have some derangement of the female organs, write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

REMARKABLE DEMAND FOR COOPER MEDICINES

The Phenomenal Sale of L. T. Cooper's New Preparations Proves the Many Reports of their Marvelous Curative Properties

The demand for Cooper's New Discovery and Quick Relief, which have effected such remarkable cures of such trouble, rheumatism, deafness and catarrh, has become enormous. Newspapers in every city have commented upon the curative powers and on the unprecedented demand of their remedies. Thousands of letters come every day to Mr. Cooper describing some of the most remarkable recoveries from the ravages of disease that have been brought to the attention of the public in recent years. A most remarkable letter was recently received from Mr. H. Jordan, a well known restaurant proprietor of Scanton, who writes Mr. Cooper as follows:

"I have suffered for the past three years with a severe case of stomach trouble. I could eat next to nothing and suffered untold agonies from indigestion. My food would sour after eating and I would have sick headaches and dizzy spells. I lost forty pounds in weight and grew weak and nervous. I doctored with many different physicians and tried a number of so-called remedies, but received no relief. Reading of the remarkable cures of stomach trouble effected by Cooper's New Medicines, I decided to give them a trial. I secured a bottle of the New Discovery and received almost immediate relief. My appetite has returned and I do not experience any difficulty in digesting anything I eat. All pain and nervousness have disappeared and I am rapidly gaining strength and weight. I desire to thank you for the good these remarkable remedies have done for me." Signed, MR. HENRY JORDAN, 136 Penn Ave., Scranton, Pa.

Nearly all diseases originate in the stomach. Cooper's New Discovery acts directly on the stomach and digestive organs. It increases the gastric juices, which are an all-important factor in the proper digestion of food.

Cooper's New Discovery and Cooper's Quick Relief are the preparations with which L. T. Cooper effected his remarkable cures in St. Louis, New Orleans and other large cities, and results have amply proven that they can be used in the home with as much success as though administered personally by Mr. Cooper or his physicians.

Cooper's New Discovery costs $1.00 per bottle; six for $5.00. Cooper's Quick Relief costs 50c. You can get them of

DEATH OF PECOS BILL SHAFTER

General William R. Shafter, well known in Texas, where he acquired the title of "Pecos Bill," is dead at Bakersfield, Cal., where he had made his home since his retirement from the United States army. When General Shafter was serving as a colonel on the Texas frontier he gained a reputation both for fighting and stubbornness. And it was in this connection that he acquired his pet name of "Pecos Bill." When he was on the treeless staked plains a question arose as to the nearest way to the Pecos river, on the border of New Mexico. Shafter differed with the scouts in his command, who were born plainsmen and as accustomed to the region as the native jack rabbits. The bull-headed colonel did not care a rap for their opinion, he followed his own idea of direction and led his troops directly to the Pecos river, and his name became indelibly associated with that wild desert stream. From Texas he was transferred to Arizona, where he hunted down the ferocious Apaches, and herded them on their reservation like so many cattle.

General Shafter was one of the leaders of the army of the United States recruited from civil life. He was born in Michigan in 1835. Soon after the civil war had set the country on fire William and his brother John enlisted in a volunteer regiment and were off to the war. They were sons of a Michigan farmer. William entered the volunteer army with a first lieutenant's commission in the Seventh Michigan Infantry under date of Aug. 22, 1861. Sept. 25 of the same year he was made a major of the Nineteenth Michigan, which regiment of infantry he helped to organize. June 5, 1862, he was promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel and about a year later he was made colonel of the Seventeenth United States negro infantry. Just before the close of the war he was given the brevet rank of brigadier general. He received special mention for bravery at Malvern Hill.

When peace was declared William Shafter returned to his father's farm in Michigan. He had become fascinated with the game of war and work on the farm was a very prosaic substitute. He applied to the government for a commission in the regular army. Weary months rolled by and life on the farm was becoming an almost unbearable burden when notice one day was received from the secretary of war ordering him to St. Louis to be examined for a commission in the regular army. He was engaged in chopping cordwood when the notice came. In St. Louis he passed an excellent examination.

A lieutenant colonel's commission was his lot. He was ordered to the Forty-first infantry and was placed in command of men who had been his lineal superiors in the war and who had commanded operations of far more importance than had ever been entrusted to him. By a sort of blind compensation he lived to see his juniors made brigadier generals while he remained a colonel.

General Shafter's first service in the regular army was on the Texas frontier. He engaged in numerous fights against Indians and took the first troops across the Staked plains. He was appointed colonel of the First United States Infantry March 4, 1873, and brigadier general May 3, 1877. Oct. 16, 1879, he was retired, by operation of the law, as brigadier general of the United States army, but was retained in service as major general of volunteers until June 30, 1901, when he was retired as a major general.

As colonel of the First Infantry he was sent with his regiment to suppress the outbreak of the Indians at the Pine Ridge agency, South Dakota, in 1890 and 1891. He commanded that regiment and the department of California from 1885 until 1893. Upon the breaking out of the war with Spain, General Shafter was placed in charge of the troops selected for the expedition to Cuba. He left the United States with the command June 14, 1898. This expedition was the largest armed force to leave the country.

General Shafter fought the affair of La Guastimas, the battles of San Juan, El Caney and that before the city of Santiago, July 1 and 2, 1898. He received the surrender of the Fourth army corps of Spain July 14, 1898, and the city of Santiago and all the troops in the eastern part of Cuba.

After his retirement from the army General Shafter went to California to make his home. He owned a large ranch near Bakersfield, Cal., and was a director in a number of banks and mining companies. It is said that his property is worth more than a million dollars.

General Shafter took an active interest in G. A. R. affairs and served as commander of the department of California and Nevada in that organization. He also was president of the Society of the Army of Santiago.

The town of Shafter, in Presidio county, was named for General Shafter.

FORT WORTH TRADE EXCURSION

The preparations that are being made for an excursion into Fort Worth trade territory by Fort Worth business men is a most timely movement and should have the hearty support and co-operation of the business interests of the city generally. Its personnel should be a complete representation of the business interests of this city, and care should be exercised to see that every line is properly represented.

The excursion should also be a representative one so far as the territory visited is concerned. West Texas and the Panhandle should be visited and Oklahoma should not be neglected. It may be true that the busy season of the year is now at hand and the average business man is up to his eyes in business, but he can find time, if he is a citizen of Fort Worth, to go on this excursion and get in closer touch with the people with whom he is doing business. And if he is a citizen of the territory visited he can well afford to lay aside business engagements and cares for the short time necessary to meet the members of the Fort Worth trade excursion and get in closer touch with the live men at this end of the line.

There is an idea in the minds of some people that these trade excursions amount to nothing but an opportunity to get out and indulge in a big burrah and enjoy cheap railway travel, but this is a mistaken idea. The business men in Fort Worth's trade territory often come to this city, and when they realize that their business is sufficiently appreciated by the Fort Worth business men to cause them to leave off their business and visit them at their homes, it begets a friendly feeling and cements the business ties that are already in existence.

Fort Worth should send on this excursion a sufficient number of real business men to insure that it will be a business undertaking from start to finish. The men who simply desire to get out and have the time of their lives should be kept at home, and the excursion held down to the matter of business, the cultivation of closer business relations and better acquaintance all around.

It should not be forgotten that Dallas has been sending trade excursions into Fort Worth trade territory, and the fact that these excursions are kept up by our sister city is conclusive evidence that they are answering an admirable purpose.

Send live business men on that trade excursion, whose chief object will be the promotion of the best interests of Fort Worth along with those of the cities and towns of our trade territory.

WANTS LEGALIZED PARTY BOSSES

In an interview published in Baltimore a few days ago, Secretary Bonaparte of the navy, who is soon to be attorney general of the United States, suggests a legalized party boss for each political party in all the states of the union. The duty of the boss being to select the candidates for the various elective offices, thereby doing away with nominating conventions. As this shows the drift of the republican mind, which is constantly in the direction of centralized government, with the people entirely under the direction of bosses, the proposition is well worth careful consideration. Secretary Bonaparte said:

It is hard, indeed, very hard, often impossible, to get the men who are fit for public office to become candidates. Until candidates can be secured by the bushel, but public life in this country involves such grave sacrifices of both inclination and interest for men of character, ability and high standing in the community that they have to be driven into it by a sort of compulsion, thru appeals to their sense of public duty, in some cases of party loyalty.

Now, by a "legalized boss" I mean an individual authorized on behalf of one of our parties to choose all candidates of that party for elective offices within a designated territory—to do intelligently, deliberately and carefully the work which is supposed to be done by nominating conventions or "Crawford county" primaries, but which is done usually, in fact, by the local "boss" or ring in secret.

Of course, every facility should be offered for making "independent" nominations, whether within the organized parties or without, so that all citizens who may be dissatisfied for whatever reason with the "regular" nominations may be able to vote effectively according to their convictions.

The reporter asked how Mr. Bonaparte would choose his proposed "legalized boss." The secretary replied: He ought to be elected annually by the legal voters of his party, at and at which only this one office, or rather position, should be filled. Each voter would have only to say whom he considered the best man in the party to constitute a nominating convention of one for all elective offices within the state, city or county, as the case might be. I think it probable that no one of the case might be. I think it probable that no one of the persons who have been known as "bosses" since I have known something about politics would have been elected at such a primary.

Perhaps it might be wise to provide that the "nominator" or "legalized boss" I have suggested should be himself disqualified to hold public office, but of this I am not sure.

The secretary was then asked whether he expected to get up an agitation in favor of establishing "legalized bosses." He replied in the negative, but added that if somebody with half his years and four times his leisure would take these ideas up seriously, he might, perhaps, work out something of benefit to the public.

Ohio republicans are protesting against the action of the President in summarily dismissing the negro troops from the army, on account of the Brownsville episode, and want congress to relieve him of such arbitrary power. Perhaps if those troops had committed the crimes with which they are charged in Ohio, the good people of the Buckeye state would feel quite differently toward the President.

The taxable values of the state of Texas show an increase of about $30,000,000 for the past year, and about $31,000,000 of that amount was brought to the surface by the Williams intangible assets law. This much by way of explanation for the benefit of those who think so lightly of the Williams measure.

abandon that idea of continually controlling the cattle markets of the country. The fact that the indictments against them are not to be pushed does not signify a willingness on the part of the live stock industry of the country to stand for the contemplated domination.

Mrs. Hetty Green predicts a revolution as a result of the continued oppression of the people by the trusts, and thinks the streets of Boston and other cities may run as rivers of blood. Thinking people have long been of the opinion that a revolution was in prospect, but they satisfy themselves by believing it will happen at the ballot box.

Count Boni de Castellane will miss the Gould millions, as he will miss the patient little woman who so long submitted to his abuse. The experience of Anna Gould will not be lost on other American girls, however. They are rapidly coming to a realization of the fact that there is no title so great after all as that of an American housewife.

The West Texas fair out at Abilene was a success this year, enabling its directors to pay off all its standing indebtedness but about $2,000. It is believed another successful season will put this undertaking entirely out of debt and lift the burden from the shoulders that have borne it so long and so patiently.

Republican leaders are taking a cue from the recent state and congressional elections and are beginning to talk tariff revision. And such talk is all done for political effect. The country well knows that the last thing the Republican party will undertake to do is to revise the tariff.

Again the cry is going up for Theodore Roosevelt as the republican candidate for the Presidency, with Uncle Joe Cannon a strong second choice. A race between Roosevelt and Bryan would be one of the most interesting this country has ever witnessed.

It is said that Boss Murphy is going after the so-called democrats who knifed William R. Hearst in New York, and proposes to make them feel his displeasure in the most emphatic manner.

There is a report in circulation at Washington to the effect that Reed Smoot will be awarded his seat in the senate at the December session of congress.

THE TEXAS PRESS

Hearst has twelve newspapers and five million daily readers. It is now said he will invade the fields of Kansas City, Pittsburg, New Orleans, Washington, St. Louis and many other places of lesser importance.—Sierman Democrat.

Mr. Hearst has a right to enter any newspaper field he covets, but he is going to find a number of them pretty well occupied.

A society girl of Temple knocked out a negro with a rolling pin, just as he was in the act of attacking the negro cook with a knife. This young lady, of course, did a brave deed, but a man contemplating matrimony should think twice before he forms an alliance with one so handy with the rolling pin.—Terrell Transcript.

The Temple young lady may be a society leader all right, but developments indicate she knows full well how to use a rolling pin and that is an accomplishment that belongs to good housekeeping.

The Mexicans say we stole the Brownsville country. Whatever is the truth of the matter, we certainly got a trouble factory when we acquired that part of the "peaceful domain."—Bonham Herald.

Perhaps the Mexicans think the alleged steal justifies them in terrorizing the lower Rio Grande country, and they are going to find themselves mistaken. The state rangers have a method of making good Mexicans out of very troublesome characters.

The socialists are claiming that their's is the only political party in the country that did not have a falling off in the vote, since they polled more votes than ever. It appears to have been a case where it either had to gain or quit business altogether, since there was barely enough of them to maintain a name anyway.—Denton News.

The socialists as yet have very little strength in Texas, but the day is coming when socialism will make itself felt unless the two great political parties in this country are truer to the interests of the masses.

The price of bacon continues to go higher. This reminds us that every person who can should keep a hog or two to eat up the waste of the kitchen. Every farmer should raise his own meat and have some to sell, if possible.—Merkel Telegram.

There is no reason why every farmer in Texas should not only raise his own meat, but a surplus of hogs to sell to the great packing houses located in this city. There is a ready market here for all the hogs that can be produced in Texas.

One of the many amendments that ought to be made to the Terrell election law is one changing the basis of representation from the vote cast for governor the preceding election to the vote cast in the primary election. The sentiment is pretty strong for that thruout the state, as the present law works a hardship in that where there is a contest in a general election in the state that county has undue advantage in after conventions.—Abilene News.

There are few counties in Texas that cast as many votes in the regular election as in the primaries, and as a result there will be a heavy falling off in the next democratic conventions.

It is said that nearly all the society women of New York carry revolvers. Down here in Texas they find an ordinary man carrying one of those things he gets one hundred plunks and some on the county road, but then this is not New York and the folks who carry guns down here are not called "society belles."—Denton Record and Chronicle.

There ought to be a law passed permitting all white women to carry a gun for their own protection. And the men who indulge in the pastime should continue to receive the limit of the law.

Twelve years ago long leaf yellow pine land in this section could be purchased in large bodies at from $3 to $4 per acre. Twenty dollars per acre is not regarded an unreasonable price now. There are forests of hardwoods in east and southeast Texas which are considered of little value at present and the man who purchases now will find himself rich within a few years.—Beaumont Journal.

Timber is getting scarcer all the time all over the country, and building material is so high as to be almost prohibitive. There is some consolation, however, in knowledge of the fact that the land owner is getting the benefit of some of the rise in values. East Texas timber lands are enhancing in value right along with those located in the agricultural districts.

There is a lot of head work done in a pin factory.

FROM DIANA'S DIARY or, How Lovelorn Diana Dillpickles Found Romantic Stock Star to Citrus

"OH, WHAT A THRILL WENT THRU ME AS HE PASSED." My ROMANCE with Tremayne Marblebro, the eminent leading man of the Olyric stock company, is speeding onward with the swiftness of a cash carrier at Taffeta & Balbriggan's. I have met him FACE to FACE. I did not go to the matinee today, but got thru at the store in time to mingle with the bevy of other girls who were simply dying to get a CLOSER look at Tremayne, as they hurried round to the stage door. There we stood breathless and EXPECTANT, until finally Tremayne in the loveliest of costumes with a fur collar came out. There was a flutter of applause by daintily gloved hands, and he MAJESTICALLY raised his hat to us as he went by. And, oh, what a THRILL went thru me as he passed, for his sleeve actually brushed MINE. Oh, I hope it was intentional. Ah, this has been a happy day! (To Be Continued.)

TEXAS NEEDS PURE FOOD LAW

All Texas needs a pure food law, and the next state legislature should promptly enact such a measure. The adulteration and preservatives that are being placed in the most common articles of food today are slowly but surely ruining the stomachs of thousands of Texas people. It is time to call a very abrupt halt.—Fort Worth Telegram.

The packers have declared that the production of pure food is "up to the government." It is likewise "up to the people" to notice the labels on cans and bottles to see just what they are eating. On the cheaper grades of ketchup is now printed, "Antiseptic used; harmless coloring." The higher grade reads, "Free from artificial coloring; 1-10 of 1 per cent benzoate of soda," which is a poison, but the small quantity in a bottle is harmless, a much larger proportion being prescribed by physicians as a medicine. The new canned goods, meat, mincemeat, etc., bear the inspection label of the 1906 law. It is well enough to be careful to notice these labels; but after all we must take it all by faith, and "as for me and my house," we will stick to our own kitchen as closely as possible.—Timpson Times.

THE MAJESTY OF THE LAW

The attorney general of Texas will please take notice that no compromise will be acceptable to the people of this state in the Waters-Pierce Oil Company cases. That company is either guilty of a flagrant disregard of Texas laws and should be punished according to the enormity of its offense, or the proceedings against it are "scandalous," and it should have proper vindication. Let the majesty of the law be vindicated one way or the other.—Fort Worth Telegram.

The letter of the attorney general, which appeared in the press, shows that he is thoroly capable of looking after the affairs of his office. He knows what the law is, and what he has to prove in order to make out his case, consequently he should be left to settle any way he sees proper. In this litigation the attorney general is going against some of the very best legal talent in the land, and a victory under these conditions would be a victory sure enough. While the attorneys for the corporation assert that the petition is scandalous in some of its allegations, perhaps the workings of the corporation demand just such terms as the attorney used. Strong and pointed language may be required.—Houston Chronicle.

TEXAS NEEDS MORE POPULATION

There is no reason why Texas should not have 5,000,000 population by the next census, says The Fort Worth Telegram. The Telegram is correct. Failure to secure that population in the time mentioned will be the fault of Texans who should be interested in developing the state in not giving proper encouragement to the movement inaugurated by Capt. John H. Kirby of Houston. The people are to be obtained and Captain Kirby will get them if the proper co-operation be given his plans by those citizens who would profit most from the influx of immigration.—Beaumont Journal.

THE ETERNAL QUESTION

"Will the President succeed himself?" is the question which agitates a great many minds. Some exchanges which come to our desk believe he will again be a candidate in 1908. But it seems hardly likely that he will. No one who is familiar with the President and understands him thoroly believes him to act on impulses alone. He is quick to make up his mind on great and grave questions but he is not wavering and does not reserve himself. When he announced on election night that he would not be a candidate he made the announcement after mature judgment. His mind was made up and nothing has been able to change it. He has reiterated the statement again and again. It is very doubtful if he is a candidate again for President in 1908. What other campaigns may develop is problematical.—Arkansas City Traveler.

VERGES THAT RING

"IT IS MORE BLESSED"

Give! as the morning flows out of heaven; Give! as the waves when their channel is riven; Give! as the free air and sunshine are given; Lavishly, utterly, carelessly give. Not the waste drops of thy cup overflowing, Not the faint sparks of thy hearth ever glowing, Not a pale bud from the June rose's blowing; Give! as He gave thee, who gave thee to live.

Four out thy love like the rush of a river Wasting its waters forever and ever, Thru the burnt sands that reward not the giver; Silent or songful, thou nearest the sea, Scatter thy life as the summer shower's pouring! What if no bird thru the peart rain is soaring? What if no blossom looks upward adoring? Look to the life that was lavished for thee!

Give, tho thy heart may be wasted and weary, Laid on an altar all ashen and dreary; Tho from its pulses a faint misereere Beats to thy soul the sad pregame of fate, Bind it with cords of unshrinking devotion; Smile at the song of its restless emotion; 'Tis the stern hymn of eternity's ocean; Hear! and in silence thy future await.

So the wild wind stores its perfumed caresses, Evil and thankless the desert it blesses, Bitter the wave that its soft pinion presses, Never it ceaseth to whisper and sing. What if the hard heart gives thorns for thy roses? What if on rocks thy tired bosom reposes? Sweeter is music with minor-keyed closes, Fairest the vines that on ruins will cling.

Alone the day of thy giving is over; Ere from the grass dies the bee-haunted clover, Thou wilt have vanished from friend and from lover. What shall thy longing avail in the grave? Give as the heart gives whose fetters are breaking, Life, love and hope, all thy dreams and thy waking, Soon, heaven's river thy soul-fever slaking, Thou shalt know God and the gift that He gave. Rose Terry Cooke.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

Many shady reputations are due to the casting of reflections. Some men work overtime trying to quench a burning thirst. Nothing ever takes a harder fall out of worry than hard work.

You could save a lot of carfare by letting your thoughts travel for you. It goes without saying that the less said about some things the better.

Few men are able to keep within hailing distance of their good intentions. If a woman is in a position to support a husband she can afford to do without one.

It takes a woman to carry on a conversation with a man in a tone that savors of a scolding. Probably half the pleasure a woman gets out of her life is due to her ability to change her mind and complexion at will.

Vanity isn't on the official list of virtues, yet unless a man has a good opinion of himself he will never amount to much.—Chicago News.

SAVED ENEMY BUT DISLIKES HIM STILL

Here's Kentucky Story Stronger Than Fiction

RISKS HIS OWN LIFE Blacksmith Jumps Into Deadly Pit to Rescue Political Rival. Almost Loses Own Life

By JESSIE M. PARTLON. Special to The Telegram. MIDWAY, Ky., Nov. 14.—"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." This passage of scripture has been held to contain the supreme sacrifice that a man might make. Here in Midway, Ky., a quaint little village in the blue grass country, there lives a man who transcended even the teaching of St. John, the evangelist. He is Rufus K. Combs, a well-to-do retired blacksmith. He laid down his life for his bitterest enemy. That he was saved from the jaws of death after his enemy had been rescued in no whit detracts from the sacrifice. He gave himself—his life for all he knew—without grudging, fully, freely and completely.

Today he is the hero of his town, and the recipient of a silver medal and $1,500 from the Carnegie fund. Richard Godson, attorney, who was saved from certain death, and his enemy, Rufus K. Combs, retired blacksmith, live two squares apart, on Brunen street, in Midway. Just at twilight on the second day of last April a scream of anguish, heart-breaking in its agony, brought the people pouring from the houses in wild excitement.

The screams came from Mrs. Kate Poynter, the kind-hearted woman who had reared Richard Godson from a child. Richard, Godson, was a boy of 10 with no roof but that provided by public charity to shelter him. Coming out on the lawn to tell her adopted son supper was ready, she found him unconscious at the bottom of a pit containing a gas machine, his face buried in the mud.

In Midway many of the homes are furnished with these gas machines. A pit about eight feet deep and possibly three or four feet across a vessel filled with gasoline is kept and this piped into the cellar of the house. Richard Godson had filled the tank but the lights did not burn. He said afterward that he lifted the cover of the pit, which was full of gas. Rufus Combs, two blocks away, was playing croquet with his children, when he heard Mrs. Poynter's cries. He dropped his croquet and ran to the pit. He found Godson, barely breathing, with an excited crowd around. There were friends of the family in the throng, but all shrank away from descending into the pit.

"Good God! Why don't you get him out!" his enemy, Combs, exclaimed, gazing around on them. "He's still breathing—it might be possible to save his life." Men looked each other in the face fearfully. This one plead physical weakness, that one a wife and family to be saved. But no one looked to Combs—he was Godson's enemy; the whole town knew it. Then Combs had a delicate, nervous wife and five growing children, four of them boys, who needed his guidance. "If nobody else will go, I'll have to," he said, and jumped down beside the man whose very existence had been in doubt. There were cheers that quickly gave way to cries of horror. Combs lifted up Godson's body, and the fumes were strong and the rescuer stumbled and fell. He struggled up, face purple and eyes bulging from their sockets. With his great blacksmith strength he raised the unconscious man above his own tall head to within a foot or two of the pit's mouth and then the watchers seized the heavy, willing hands also drew Combs up just as he lost consciousness. Long into the night physicians labored over the two men and finally brought them around. Since that eventful day, when Combs ventured into the gas to save his enemy, both men have made heroic efforts to live down their enmity—but with small success. "Danged if I like him any better than I did before," his genial Rufus Combs said, sheepishly, "even if I did save his life." "It was like this, we had some difference in politics about two years ago during a campaign. We always spoke when we met on the street, but anyone him. He is impulsive, warm-hearted and generous. I really never considered him as an enemy, we just didn't like each other, that's all." Both men are Democrats and are active in politics. Combs was a member of the town council for fourteen years. Last year he ran for and lost by a vote of twenty votes; the year before he ran for mayor and lost by five votes. Since he was awarded the Carnegie medal for bravery Oct. 17 delegations of his fellow citizens have urged him to run for congress. But "Miss Ella" objects and that ends it. Friends of the two men tell stories showing how bitter was the fight between Combs and Godson. One tale is of a political meeting in which Combs and Godson appeared with a whole battery of firearms and their followers were laden down with "shoot-in" irons. Each side spoke carefully that night and the word "liar" wasn't heard once. At another political bonfire, when Combs and Godson were speaking for different candidates on the same platform, Godson made some statement about what would happen to Combs and his candidate after the election. "Never mind, little Richard," Combs retorted, rising to stretch his long legs and arms. "I'm no fool, rabbit to be scared by a little rustlin' in the grass." The $1,500 given with the Carnegie medal will go into a livery business. Combs intends to start next spring in order to give his boys employment during the summer vacation. In the list of awards made out by the Carnegie commission, Combs is mentioned as a cripple. Several years ago a heavy vehicle struck him in the back, permanently injuring one of his kidneys.

OPPOSE THE PLANS FOR MARKET HOUSE

Meeting of Grocers and Butchers Tuesday Evening. The Fort Worth Retail Grocers and Butchers' Association met Tuesday evening at the association rooms and devoted most of the time to informal discussion, the proposed market house being one of the topics which was considered. The general committee which is to see to the entertainment of the National Grocers' Association, which is to meet in Dallas Jan. 22 and 23, was "prodded up a little" in the graphic language of the president and told to "get busy." The sentiment of the association at this time is for a ride over the city and a barbecue at the stock yards for the national delegates. The National Association will be in Dallas two days and a half and for the afternoon of the last day will be the guests of the Fort Worth Association. The delegates will arrive here about 2 o'clock and after a ride over the city will be taken to the stock yards for a packing house inspection and the story of his work at East Aurora, N. Y. BANKERS TO MEET

Texas Financiers to Gather at Austin Soon
Special to The Telegram.
AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 14.—The state bankers of Texas will hold an important meeting next Thursday at Houston for the purpose of discussing matters pertaining to the welfare of these institutions. The announcement was made yesterday afternoon by General W. R. Hamby, president of the Citizens Bank and Trust Company of this city. It is likely that an organization will be perfected. The question of legislation at the next session of the legislature will also come up for consideration.
A novel feeling of leaping, bounding impulses goes through your body. You feel young, act young and are young after taking Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Tea or Tablets, 35 cents. J. P. Brashear.

BAD BLOOD THE SOURCE OF ALL DISEASE

Every part of the body is dependent on the blood for nourishment and strength. When this life stream is flowing through the system in a state of purity and richness we are assured of perfect and uninterrupted health; because pure blood is nature's safe-guard against disease. When, however, the body is fed on weak, impure or polluted blood, the system is deprived of its strength, disease germs collect, and the trouble is manifested in various ways. Pustular eruptions, pimples, rashes and the different skin affections show that the blood is in a feverish and diseased condition as a result of too much acid or the presence of some irritating humor. Sores and Ulcers are the result of morbid, unhealthy matter in the blood, and Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are all deep-seated blood disorders that will continue to grow worse as long as the poison remains. These impurities and poisons find their way into the blood in various ways. Often a sluggish, inactive condition of the system, and torpid state of the avenues of bodily waste, leaves the refuse and waste matters to sour and form uric and other acids, which are taken up by the blood and distributed throughout the circulation. Coming in contact with contagious diseases is another cause for the poisoning of the blood; we also breathe the germs and microbes of Malaria into our lungs, and when these get into the blood in sufficient quantity it becomes a carrier of disease instead of health. Some are so unfortunate as to inherit bad blood, perhaps the dregs of some old constitutional disease of ancestors is handed down to them and they are constantly annoyed and troubled with it. Bad blood is the source of all disease, and until this vital fluid is cleansed and purified the body is sure to suffer in some way. For blood troubles of any character S. S. S. is the best remedy ever discovered. It goes down into the circulation and removes any and all poisons, supplies the healthful properties it needs, and completely and permanently cures blood diseases of every kind. The action of S. S. S. is so thorough that hereditary taints are removed and weak, diseased blood made strong and healthy so that disease cannot remain. It cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., and does not leave the slightest trace of the trouble for future outbreaks. The whole volume of blood is renewed and cleansed after a course of S. S. S. It is also nature's greatest tonic, made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and is absolutely harmless to any part of the system. S. S. S. is for sale at all first class drug stores. Book on the blood and any medical advice free to all who write.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

DAILY KNITTING CHATS

BY LAURA LA RUE.

CROCHETED BREAKFAST SHAWL.

There are two kinds of shawls that women knit—the ornamental and the practical. Of the latter I want to speak more particularly, because I have here one of the loveliest shawls of that class. It is made in the crossed shell, a new stitch that has a very close weave, with a delightfully thick, bumpy surface.

When I made this shawl I planned to have one that would sit very nicely about the back of the neck, and so I worked it diagonally across the center, instead of straight. It is that which makes it sit so so closely and comfortably.

The border of the shawl gives it a smart and dressy air. In this border the crossed shell is combined with the knot stitch, so that in spite of its laciness it has strong wearing qualities, and will even stand visits to the wash tub.

The shawl is made of pompadour wool, and if one wants a really elegant wrap this is the material to use. For more homely wear three-fold Saxony may be substituted, or the center of the shawl may be of Saxony and the border of Saxony and pompadour combined. With either material, I know the shawl will please you as nothing else.

I will mail full directions for making this shawl, free of charge, to any of my readers who are interested. Kindly address Laura La Rue, Knitting Editor, Evening Telegram.

Albert Welch breakfasted alone next morning. When he came home to dinner that night he found a note from Winifred saying that she and Jenny, their little daughter, and maid had gone to Broadway a few days, as the child seemed to be ailing.

This information caused him to change color. The idea that she would go without consulting him caused him to be a little plumped, however, he thought, it was just as well to have Winifred away that evening. In that case nobody could take exception to his joining the women's party at the opera. With this idea consoling him he went to dress.

As he crossed the street on the way from the house a little black figure darted across the street and there the wife watched them until they returned to the Hooper home and Albert Welch turned to go.

Two days after this Welch received a letter from his wife asking him to spend Sunday with her and Jenny in the country.

Early Saturday morning he lighted from a Jersey train at the door of a tawdry looking house presided over by a blowy-looking woman.

"What could have possessed Winifred to choose such a place?" was Welch's mental inquiry. "Is Mrs. Welch here?" he asked aloud.

"Yes, she has walked out to the woods yonder. You're Mr. Welch, I suppose?"

Albert bowed. There was something familiar in her face. "I am Mrs. Voysey. My daughter, Laura, has told me about you," the woman volunteered.

"Your daughter? Laura?"

There was Laura coming across the porch now, in a trailing, dirty calico gown her hair tumbling about her neck, could it be the girl he had met at home.

"I am so glad," the woman continued, "that Laura made such good friends in the town as you and Mrs. Welch. She always had a good deal of capacity, but her misfortune is spoiling her manners."

"What was her misfortune?" inquired Albert politely, but meekly.

"Why, her husband left her, but she does not like to talk about it," her mother added quickly.

Welch hurried out of the house and down the road, where he found Winifred in a cool-looking dress, with Jenny, making a pretty picture. Mrs. Welch had meant it should be so. She had "set the stage" for herself, if not for Laura.

"I have come to bring you home," he said, clasping his wife in his arms. "Won't you go let remain in the Voysey house, dear?" inquired his wife.

"I have had enough of the Voysey house," he said with an oath.

"Come, Winifred, let's go home."

HINTS BY MAY MANTON

HINTS FOR THE HOME

- Smoked Shoulder
Select a nice clean looking shoulder weighing six or seven pounds and wash it thoroughly in warm water. Put not on, have water at boiling point, then put in a tablespoon of vinegar. After it has started to boil well set pot back from front part of stove, but where it will still be at boiling point. It will take at least three hours. When done, take up, skin, the place in large baking pan and put in oven. After removing skin, cover the fat part with cracker crumbs or dried bread crumbs and let remain in oven thirty minutes. Crumbs will be nicely browned and meat will be juicy and surplus fat will be extracted.
- Southern Pop-Overs
Two eggs, two cups flour, one cup milk, one-half cup water, one tablespoon sugar, four tablespoons melted butter. Very hot.
- Apple Sauce Cake
Cream together one cup sugar and half cup of shortening. Add one saltspoon of salt, one teaspoon cloves, one teaspoon cinnamon, a little nutmeg and one cup raisins. Dissolve one teaspoon soda in a little warm water, and then stir into the mixture. Add one cup apple sauce, letting it foam over the ingredients in the bowl. Beat all thoroughly and add 13-4 cups sifted flour. Bake in a loaf tin forty-five minutes. Very rich, moist, delicious and cheap. No eggs, milk nor water.
- Flour Griddlecakes
Sift one teaspoon salt, three heaping teaspoons baking powder, and one dessert spoon of sugar in one quart of flour. Add milk to make batter proper consistency, then one tablespoon shortening and two well beaten eggs. Fry immediately. If you wish, use sour cream. Add milk to make batter proper consistency, then one tablespoon shortening and two well beaten eggs. Fry immediately. If you wish, use sour cream. Add milk to make batter proper consistency, then one tablespoon shortening and two well beaten eggs. Fry immediately. If you wish, use sour cream.
- Corn Cake
Mix two-thirds of a cup of butter with one cup of sugar. In another bowl beat the yolk of three eggs with two cups of milk; add this to the butter and sugar. Then put in two and a half cups of yellow cornmeal and one and a half cups of flour, with four teaspoons of cream of tartar and one teaspoon of baking soda. Lastly add the whites of the three eggs beaten to a stiff froth. Bake for half an hour in flat pan to make a cake which can be cut in squares or in regular muffin tins. Be sure to have the pans hot and well greased with lard.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

JOHN WELCH'S WIFE

Mrs. Welch had shut herself up for the evening. She had suggested going to a church social at her friend, Mrs. Jackson's, but her husband did not take kindly to the idea, and with a few moments deliberation after his wife's figure had disappeared upstairs, he went out.

Mrs. Welch had been troubled somewhat about her husband lately, not that there was anything definitely the matter, just a suspicion that all was not right.

Almost immediately after her husband had gone Mrs. Welch received a note from a neighbor, Mrs. Maxwell, who asked for the pattern of a new centerpiece which she had admired at

"What a delightful creature you are to allow your husband to be so good a friend to Miss Voysey, who has been visiting here. I saw them going out on one of their excursions for autumn leaves this morning and thought, 'Why isn't Winnie in the party?' But you, good little housewife, were busy at home, no doubt. Do not carry your self-denial too far, too, dear. Go with them to the opera tomorrow night."

Winifred let the paper fall in horror. "My husband! Opera—with a woman! It's a lie."

She picked up the note and tore it to shreds. Then she sat down, according to her habit, to "think it over quietly."

LABOR TROUBLES

Increase Offered by Pennsylvania Will Be Rejected
An agreement seems to have been reached in New York between the engineers and firemen and the officials of the New York Central group of railroads, except as to the status of the firemen when detailed for duty on the electric locomotives. A full agreement is expected and Grand Chief Engineer Stone has returned to Cleveland.

From Pittsburgh comes the story that the demand of the trainmen and the firemen for higher wages will be resisted in that the Pennsylvania offer of a 10 per cent increase will not be accepted.

President Ripley of the Santa Fe, who is now in Los Angeles, is quoted as saying there will be a raise in the wages of the employees of the Southern Pacific, the Salt Lake, or Gould Pacific line, and the Santa Fe, and that the officials are now in conference looking to an agreement. A conference is in session at Scranton, Pa., between the switchmen, firemen, trainmen and conductors and the Lackawanna officials at which several serious differences are to be considered. The engineers were also involved in this conference, and the Pennsylvania officials and others and their grievances are adjusted.

GRANTED REBATES

Indictment Returned by Federal Grand Jury
The federal grand jury at Kansas City has returned indictments against D. H. Hartley, of Kansas City, a freight broker, and W. M. McVey, an agent in Kansas City of the Chicago, St. Louis and New York Railway Company, for conspiracy to grant concessions on a shipment of flour to Bristol, England, and against H. S. Hartley of the same place, charged with accepting commissions and rebates on cotton seed shipments from the Indian Territory to Missouri points.

TRANSIT PRIVILEGES

Texas Railroad Commission Makes Orders
The Texas railroad commission has ordered that these privileges shall apply:
The Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Company will allow transit privileges at Texas points intermediate between origin and final destination on cotton seed oil and cake originating on the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe railway, Fort Worth and Rio Grande railway, Texas Central railroad, Texas Midland railroad and Trinity and Brazos Valley Railway, when moving into transit point over Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe railway, product from transit point being destined to Galveston or Houston.
The transit privilege will be allowed at Fort Worth, Cleburne, Dallas, Alvarado and Fort Worth and Rio Grande and Trinity and Brazos Valley points.

RELIEVE CONGESTION

No More Cotton Trains for Galveston or Houston
Because of the blockaded condition of the yards at Houston and Galveston the Santa Fe has ordered that no more Santa Fe cotton trains be made up for those stations. One effect of that order will be to transfer the congestion from Houston and Galveston to the sidings and station tracks along the line.
Goes to the Southern John F. Penn of Dallas, for many years the special agent or secret service agent of the Katy in Texas, has resigned to go to a much larger sphere of usefulness with the Southern Railway, in a similar capacity, and with headquarters at Washington, D. C.

NO MORE SIDE TRIPS

No Special Privileges to Be Allowed Homeseekers
The state railroad commission has laid an embargo on homeseekers making side trips. In the order it says that it is the approved practice of the railroad companies to sell homeseekers round trip excursion tickets open to all of the public. They also sell another class of homeseekers' tickets known as the homeseekers' side trip tickets and the privilege accorded to the holders of those tickets from interstate points is that on arrival, say at first named destination, upon the exhibit of the ticket another ticket is greatly reduced rate, can be had, and that the commission holds, is a discrimination which cannot be sanctioned.

COL. PRYOR IS INTERVIEWED HERE

Boll Weevil Not So Bad as Formerly

The T. Pryor of San Antonio was in Fort Worth Tuesday night en route to Kansas City, where he goes as a delegate from his city to the trans-Mississippi congress. He is on the program for an address to the congress, his subject being "Livestock."

"I am a strong believer in good results from the work of the trans-Mississippi congress and I believe that the meeting this year will be the most important since the congress first met," he said. "The prosperous condition of the whole country is creating demands for new measures and these will no doubt be handled by the congress in a way that the national congress cannot afford to ignore. As you know, the trans-Mississippi congress is a non-political body, organized to promote the best interests of the trans-Mississippi or western section of the United States.
The members of the congress are all representative men, and while it sometimes happens that a politician is appointed as a delegate, the business element rules at all the sessions. I expect that much good will result from the Kansas City session.

Southwest Texas is in splendid shape and San Antonio has just closed one of the most successful fairs ever held in the southwest. The attendance was large from the opening to the closing day and the exhibits, especially in the livestock department, were all high class. The success of the fair can be attributed chiefly to the general prosperity of the country.

"Southwest Texas is not so badly afflicted with boll weevil this year as in former years and the cotton yield per acre is better than it has been since the weevil first made its appearance. It seems that the pest is moving north and east. It came into Southwest Texas from Mexico and reached its most devastating stage in the eastern cotton that should have made a bale to ten acres. Since that year the pest has been decreasing in our section and Southwest Texas is now all right."

Sheriff Honea Prepares for His Successor

The office force of Sheriff John T.
Honea is busily at work making up the final accounts of the retiring sheriff, who at noon Saturday will turn his office over to his successor, Sheriff-Elect Tom M. Wood.

"When Sheriff Wood takes charge of the office to which the people have elected him," said Sheriff Honea, "he will find it in good condition—as good at least, to modestly put it, as it was when I took charge of it four years ago.

"When I entered upon the discharge of the duties of sheriff four years ago there were thirty-seven public gambling houses in Fort Worth. When I retire from the office next Saturday
there will not be a public gambling house in the county, or private ones, either, for that matter, so far as I know, and I sincerely hope the same conditions will exist when Sheriff
Wood retires from the office."

Old Telephone Building Will Be Re- modeled

The latest sale of real estate property in the city is that of the telephone building, which is now being vacated by the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone Company. The purchaser of the property which is located on Throckmorton and Eighth streets, opposite the Telephone building, are George Simon, W. G. Newby and G. H. Colvin.

Terms of the sale are reported to be private, but it is known that the Southwestern Telephone company has been asking $20,000 for the building, and put it on the market at that figure. This was the price reported on the streets Wednesday morning. The sale was made Tuesday afternoon thru

IT LOOKS SERIOUS

For Standard Oil Company. Stock Is Hammered Way Down—Many Alarmed

Special to The Telegram.
NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The attack of the government on the Standard Oil Company has caused market values to shrink $125,000,000 within the past year. The stock today sold for the lowest point reached in years and the slump caused Rockefeller's pile to withstand $65,000,000. Wall street fears that on account of the attack on the Standard all stocks will be hammered.
Small Standard stockholders are selling, fearing that the government's blow will cause a dissolution of the Standard Oil Company.

The stock today sold at 57½, against 600 last January. Each drop of a point causes Rockefeller to lose $600,000.

RATHER COSTLY FOR VISITORS

English Colonel Leaves Very Unique Will

Special to The Telegram.
LONDON, Nov. 14.—To discourage guests who overstay their welcome, Colonel Mark Bell made a curious clause in his will. He directed that in order to enable his wife to enjoy her home life in comfort, without the burdens of entertaining visitors too long, any visitor, excepting a child, or a grandchild, staying at her house more than thirty days in any one year shall be considered a "paying guest" and shall pay $6 a day.

Mrs. Bell is to receive one-third of this money and the rest to go to Colonel Bell's executors.

MOTHER AND BABES BURN TO DEATH

Horrible Thing Happens Near Coldwater, Mich.

By Associated Press.
COLD WATER, Mich., Nov. 14.—Mr.
Charles Mowry and her three children,
Homer, aged 6 years; Louise, aged 3 years and a baby 6 months old, were burned to death early today in their home on a farm at Batavia, six miles southwest of this city. Charles Mowry, the husband and father, arose early and built two fires in the house. He then went to the barn to do chores and while there discovered his house afire.
He rushed back, but the flames made such headway that he could not enter the house, and he calls thru the windows to the family brought no response. It is thought the mother and three children suffocated to death.

down all three of his assailants, and one was hit so hard that his skull was crushed on the stone wall. He died three hours later.

The dead man was C. H. Alden, a carpenter of this city.

Huff was arrested on a charge of murder, but is out under bond.

BROTHERS' MEETING

Special to The Telegram.
HANDLEY, Texas, Nov. 14.—An affectionate and interesting family gathering was held here last night at the home of Ed Thomas, when Joe Thomas, his youngest brother, whom he had not seen for twelve years, arrived unexpectedly from Blue Ridge, Va. Joe Thomas is a man of 48 years, while his brother, Ed, of this city is 75 years of age. The brothers had corresponded during the twelve years, but had not met. Last night Joseph Thomas arrived at the home of his brother here and found a number of other relatives from Colorado. A pleasant evening was spent recalling old times in Virginia.
Joseph Thomas will visit at the home of his brother here several days.

Wall Street Bullish in Anticipation of Better Monetary Situation—Opening Market Steady—Expansion in Idea of World's Needs

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The further improvement in stocks today is attributed to the evidenced uneasiness of shorts, whose interests had reached pretty good-sized proportions. The list opened steady this morning at advances sufficient to bespeak the confidence of those in favor of higher prices, and at the same time their aggressiveness to keep within bounds. The sentiment in Wall street is supported by the financial outlook, both here and abroad. Money will soon begin returning from the war in goodly quantities, and the current high rates asked for call and long-time money must, therefore, be of short duration. Call money opened at per cent, but before noon had depreciated to 4 1/2. It is expected by leading lights in Wall street that Thursday's weekly return statement will show a better result in the Bank of England, so that London's influence for the better will tend to clear up the money atmosphere abroad, while certainly sides over here look bright.

Besides there are further manifestations of a better attitude of Europeans for American stocks. Friends of international stocks are accordingly turning upon this as a source of support. Recent good buying here by big folks of Europe is a bull argument. Town Topics opines this morning: "St. Paul, on probable rights, should continue its advance, while the Hill stocks for similar reasons should become more prominent in the market. Union Pacific should grow in favor and prices, while Southern Pacific, Reading, Canadian Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio, Louisville and Nashville, Copper and the Steels as well as the standard shares generally should do much better."

Active stocks were Amalgamated, Baltimore and Ohio, Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Steel common, St. Paul and Brooklyn Rapid Transit. Late advices received here were to the effect that the London settlement had been concluded today. There are reports of a better prospect for a speedy settlement of the Erie labor difficulties. American Cotton Oil justifies a common dividend. There is a good demand for St. Paul and Erie stocks. Rights on Northern Pacific are estimated to exceed $40 per share.

TRADES EXCURSION

St. Louis Business Men Are to Visit Fort Worth. Word has been received from St. Louis by the Frisco offices here that a trades excursion of 100 or more members will probably start for Fort Worth and other Texas cities during December. Definite plans and dates for the excursion have not been made yet. It will be composed of representative business men of that city who will be on the lookout for business in their trip thru this territory and will also combine pleasure with the trip. Stops will be made at all the most important cities in the state and also at cities in Oklahoma and Indian Territories and possibly other places on the way here and back.

The excursion will be in Fort Worth some time about the middle of December and will probably spend a goodly amount of time here as in any other Texas city.

NEW YORK COTTON

Bulls Carry Prices Higher—Gain More Than $1 Per Bale—Expansion in Idea of World's Needs. Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—"Great bodies move slowly" is an old adage of more truth than most. The cotton market is a great body, and the price fluctuates, therefore, according to the immutable law of supply and demand, the relation between which is the final adjuster of the market, should naturally be slow.

Yet when the economic factors are shown, the background, speculation usurps control, and the outside folk stand aloof and await the tide of sentiment, the market, even in crop times, becomes narrow, and the consequence is a temporarily a market dangerously susceptible to speculative influence.

It is quite relevant then at this stage of the cotton drama to call attention to the fact that no economic factor of importance has justified wide fluctuations, except, of course, the increased activity in the market. And right there is probably the explanation of the means, utilizing which the friends of the staple have quite succeeded in wresting victory out of defeat.

The increase in spot demand and especially from abroad has revealed the fact that the cotton market is not so much a market of speculation as it is a market of demand. The friends of the staple have accordingly succeeded in wresting victory out of defeat.

Bears attempted to check the advance of the market, but only in a luke warm fashion. December contracts opened at 9.87, an advance of 13 points, and steadily the advance to 10c mark, a gain of $1.25 per bale over yesterday's close. January shows a similar advance, but the far month options are only 15 or 17 better.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

After Half-Hearted Hammering of Professionals, Futures Readily Able to Advance 25 Points. Special to The Telegram. NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 14.—Professionals who were overtaken by the sudden turn tried their best to check the advance and a few points were lost. However, those attempts were all half-hearted and lacked confidence. Clear selling soon stopped and futures showed an advance of 25 points by 10 o'clock; further covering of professional shorts lines is quite on the cards.

Better conditions supported bullish sentiment by light showers in the central and eastern states. While further light showers are probable in the eastern portion of the belt, no serious interference by weather is indicated and fair weather is promised in the central and western belt tomorrow.

Rain entered with spot people here today, yet there are a number of buyers who report an advance of 1/4 to 3/8c. Selection poor, lots of undesirable cotton, little good stuff. The interior is offering sparingly.

After an advance of 25 points, which brought December to 10.00c, trading paused and the usual setback to a settling point occurred. Future has gone ahead of spot prices and a little adjustment under ordinary circumstances would be in order. Annettes start today, it is hard to say at what moment another short line wants to side-step the census and sports in futures market out of all proportions with spots.

LIVERPOOL COTTON. Liverpool, Bremen and Havre Merchants Short on Commitments. Contracted for on Low Basis. Special to The Telegram. LIVERPOOL, Nov. 14.—Contracts were due 7 to 3/4 higher, but opened steady, 11 to 12 points better, and upon the advance on American markets, prices readily increased during the late afternoon hours, finally showing a betterment over yesterday's established level of 10 to 22 points, the principal premium being bid for 20 points, which was the usual setback to a settling point occurred. Future has gone ahead of spot prices and a little adjustment under ordinary circumstances would be in order. GRAIN

Liverpool Cables 1/4 to 3/8 Higher. Chicago Wheat, Corn and Oats Steady, at Figures 1/2 Lower. Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Wheat—English cables showed an improvement in the wheat market there of 1/4 to 3/8. In sympathy with yesterday's American advance, a better demand for cash wheat was reported at Minneapolis, with No. 1 northern 3/4 over December at St. Louis. The cash market there was unchanged to 1/4 lower, with No. 2 at 1 1/4c to 1 1/2c. Cash business was 340,000 bushels, including 100,000 No. 2 hard. A reduction in the estimate of the wheat crop in the northwest lent some support. The opening quotations were slightly lower than Tuesday's close, but May deliveries were bid up to 78c. Trade settled around 71 1/2c for July, 74c for December and 78 1/2c for May.

Corn—Liverpool corn is 1/4 to 1/2 up, and the market here is steady. There was reflected here to some extent. The trade accepted yesterday's quotations pretty well today. December deliveries active around 71 1/2c. May futures opened at an increase of 1/4, but steadied up after a decline of 1/4. Sales of corn here yesterday aggregated 75,000 bushels. Sea-board sold 85-90 for export.

Oats—Attention is called to the increase in comparative statistics to date through the list gains for pork, lard and ribs being about five points on account of some good orders and the cessation of any pressure against lard. Quotations: Open. High. Low. Close. December 74 74 73 74 1/4. May 78 78 77 78 1/4. July 77 77 76 77 1/4. Corn: December 42 1/2 42 1/2 42 1/2 42 1/2. May 43 1/2 43 1/2 43 1/2 43 1/2. COTTON TIPS

Bullish dope was plentiful. Scalpers trailed the advance. Consumption ideas are expanding. Local traders bought of New York. Liverpool is disposed to do better. Bears hammered prices, but were compelled to stop it. The weather prognosticators' predictions scared unwary shorts. Sleet is reported at Atlanta, Birmingham, Montgomery and Meridian. Carpenter & Baggett were good buyers on opening of New York. Yesterday's medicine to the bears was again administered this morning. Fifteen cars of cotton were burned last night at Phillips, five miles south of Brenham.

There was an avalanche of cotton thrown upon the market this morning, but the offerings were quickly absorbed. E. F. Hutton & Company—The market has proven a purchase on all spots from present prices and we continue to advise buying cotton on breaks.

Marshall, Spader & Company—It will require a continuance of moderate receipts and other evidences in favor of moderate crop estimates to sustain or advance the market.

Good Run of Cattle and Hogs—Selling Steady, With Good Demand. Light Calf Offerings. The run of cattle was good. There were eighty-five cars in and thirty-three reported back at the opening. The hog run was also liberal, there being 2,100 on the early market. There were few steers, and the run of calves was unusually light. The general quality was good and the markets were all active at steady to strong prices.

Table with columns: Cattle, Calves, Sheep, Hogs, Horses and mules. Receipts and Prices.

Butcher Stock—Good butcher stock was on the market in fairly liberal supply. There were hardly any beef steers on the early market, but the offerings were very scarce. There were several loads of beef cows of good quality, and which met an active demand at steady prices. The northern markets reported heavier receipts, with steady to lower prices, but the local market maintained a steady tone to the close, and also a little better tone. The packers met competition from butchers, and were from order buyers, and sales were made in the season. Sales of cattle: No. Ave. Price.
