A report favoring his being dropped

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.-The recent complaints of local brokerage houses that little interest was taken by the public in cotton speculation during last season's cotton trading and that a large proportion of their accustomed business had been lost, seems to be borne out by a statement by one of the largest brokerage firms since the books have been balanced preparatory to the new year's business. This shows that trading fell off with that particular house from an average of $38,000

monthly last year to less than $5,000 monthly this past season. The bulk of the trading which comes to New York is from out-of-town connections mainly in the south. Decline in profits

F. R. Crawford Made Practically Clean Sweep in Young County

Special to The Telegram. SEYMOUR, Texas, Jan. 11.-The election in the 104th district yesterday of a successor to the late Representative Dimmitt, resulted in the election of F. R. Crawford by some thing like 500 majority over R. M. Condron. The defeated candidate was a straight Bailey man, while Crawford made the winning race on the ground that he would vote for an investigation of Senator Bailey and if the investigation should result favorably to the senator that he would vote for him. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 11.-Representing an industry whose yearly production is valued at $65,000,000. the Morocco Manufacturesr' National Association at its annual meeting here decided to advance the price of glazed kid. The advance is due to the rise in price of raw material, goat skins having undergone an increase of from 15 to-20 per cent, and to increases wages of employes and in the cost of chemicals entering into the manufacture of kid. The association also decided to stand pat on the tariff, believing that any reduction that would affect the Morocco industry would be inimical to its interests. Council Held Meeting Friday Morning

VETO VOTED DOWN

Mayor Harris Declined to Be Present at Special Meeting of Body

The council met in special called segsion at 11 a. m. Friday, all members being present except the mayor and Alderman Maddox of the Sixth ward, the roll call showing the following members present: Aldermen Ward, Waggoman, Cook, Lehane, Lydon, Armstrong and Harrold. In the absence of the mayor, Mayor Pro Tem Alderman Waggoman called the meeting to order and instructed Chief of Police Maddox to notify Mayor Harris that the council was in session ready for business.

Chief Maddox went to the mayor's office and, returning, announced that he had notified Mayor Harris of the meeting and was instructed by the mayor to inform the council that he had been notified of the meeting.

Chief Maddox was then instructed to go to the mayor and request of him for the council's use the veto message which had been taken from the city secretary's office. Later the chief reported that he had made the request for the message and had been told by the mayor that he would return the message to the secretary and the council could get it from him. Secretary Montgomery was then sent for the message and soon returned to the council room with it in his pos-

Mayor Pro Tem Waggoman, before the mayor's veto message was read, addressed the council on the subject of the proposed new charter of the citizens' committee, and the charter amendments as proposed by the charter committee of the council. He said when it was proposed by the citizens committee to absolutely revolutionize the form of the city government placing in the hands of three men absolute power, the people should have a chance to either approve or disapprove of the proposition. He did not believe it right to ignore the people in this matter and would never consent to pass any charter that the people did not have an opportunity to vote on. He was in favor of the voters selecting the heads of departments and not the three commissioners as pro posed by the citizens' committee charter. He was in favor of the commissioners looking after the business affairs of the city, but there their power should end; they should not be permitted to appoint the heads of departments. He did not believe the people would endorse a proposition to substitute $16,000 salaries for $3,000 salaries as is proposed by the citizens

Read Mayor's Veto The mayor's veto was then read section by section and on the conclusion of the reading Alderman Ward moved that the council's action ordering an election, publishing the two charters etc., be rescinded. The motion prevailed by a vote of eight ayes; no noes Alderman Ward then moved that the resolutions that had been vetoed by the mayor be adopted, the mayor's motion was voted on Alderman Cook asked for the opinion of City Attorney Orrick as to the council's legal right in the premises. Unusual Method Taken to Relieve Car Shortage

COSTS ROAD GOOD MONEY

Mr. Harriman Consented to the Expenditure to Relieve Suffering for Want of Fuel

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.-The Record Herald today says:

The management of the Harriman lines is paying $32,500 "freight" on cars in order to get them from the east into the coal fields of Illinois, where they can be loaded with coal for the west.

This extreme and unusual method was adopted by the offcials here after a wire consultation with E. H. Harriman, who gave his consent to the expenditure necessary to relieve the coal shortage in several portions of the west, especially in Kansas and Nebraska.

Added to the loss in paying the freight on the cars, the Harriman system will lose at least $6,000 revenueand possibly three times that amount -which they would have obtained had they permitted their cars to be loaded in the east with merchandise or coal for the territory about Chicago.

As a result of this sacrifice of revenue, 65,000 tons of coal will soon be distributed along the lines of the Union Pacific road in Kansas and Nebraska. More than 250 carloads are on their way there now, and the remainder of 1,300 cars will be forwarded at the rate of fifteen or twenty daily.

The question arose of how to get the cars to the mines without having some road steal them for temporary use en route. The management finally

CARNEGIE'S IDEA OF AN INCOME TAX

Mere Making of Money Is an Ignoble Ambition

B1! Associated Press. LONDON, Jan. 11.—An article by Andrew Carnegie in the Review of Reviews, regarding great fortunes is attracting attention. In it Mr. Carnegie expresses the belief that a millionaire ought to share his wealth with the poor, but with the limitation that his fortune should not be divided before the millionaire's death. Then the community should exact a large

Further discussing the alarmingly unequal distribution of wealth arising from the new industrial conditions of our day, Mr. Carnegie says: "We shall ultimately have to consider the adoption of some such scheme as a progressive tax on all fortunes beyond a certain amount, either given in life or bequeathed at death, so that it will be impossible for the owner of enormous fortunes to hand more than a certain amount to any individual." In the coming day, Mr. Carnegie says brains will stand above dollars and conduct above both. The making of money as an aim will then be treated rather as an ignoble ambition.

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Jan. 11.-Nothing had been heard of the missing steamers Ponce and Maracas up to an early hour today, but paradoxical as it may seem, the continued absence of the Maracas has renewed hope, not only among the owners, but among ship-

Marine men after a study of the situation, held that this theory was untenable. Storms, too, may have driven both ships far to the eastward out of their regular course. the seas for the missing ships.

Little Hope Left By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11,-The hope that the steamer Ponce has been picked up by the steamer Maracas was dispelled early today when the last-named ship came into port and its officers reported they had seen nothing of the Ponce. The Maracas, which was herself five days overdue, was delayed by derangement of its machinery. On New Year's morning about 4 o'clock the circulating pump gave out and the ship had to be stopped for thirty-six hours while repairs were effected. The steamer then under reduced speed proceeded to this port. Fine weather prevailed, so the steamer was never in danger. The arrival of the Maracas without any news of the Ponce has greatly increased anxiety regarding the belated steamer. It happened that the Maracas, which sailed from Trinidad for New York Dec. 29, had come along the same course pursued by the Ponce, which sailed from Porto Rico for New York three days earlier. When the Ponce failed to arrive on time and the Maracas became overdue it was but a natural thought to couple the delay of the last named ship with that of the other. It was thought the Maracas had fallen in with the disabled Ponce and was trying to tow her to port. This hope is now gone and in consequence the gravest anxiety is felt for the missing Porto Rican steamer.

Good Opportunities for Business in Philippines

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Jan. 11 .- Percy M. Moire, judge of the court of first instance in the Philippines, who is on a visit to this country after an absence of five years, said here yesterday in an interview that American merchants were neglecting extraordinary opportunities for business in the archipelago. He declared it lamentable that with the islands entirely pacified, a general system of railroads in course of construction and the rich resources of our far eastern possessions being well developed, the business men of the United States, as a whole, are paying virtually no attention to what will be in the course of time, one of the great industrial markets of the world. 'There are few Americans in the Philippines on business now except those engaged in the railroad work," said Judge Moire. "This project was begun last year and is being rapidly pushed forward, so that it has already given a great impetus to general conditions. The system will connect all the principal islands from Luzon on the north to the Viscayas on the south. "With these lines finished and the proposed agricultural bank established there will be nothing wanting toward the prosperity of the islands and we of the United States will find that we drove a good bargain after all when we took them over." Fatal Explosion in Dublin

Senter of Dallas Introduces Resolution Similar to That

Offered in House

Special to The Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 11.-The Bailey-Davidson investigation matter, althodelayed at the morning session, can come up at any time today in the house. The half hour for resolutions at noon had not been taken up and the resolution has preference because it is the first order on the resolutions passed from the previous day, Judge Duncan shortly before noon intimated to your correspondent that he would push the measure in the house this afternoon. The recognized leaders of the pro-investigation are Senter of the senate and Duncan and Cocke of the house. Barrett and Hanger of the senate and Kennedy of the house are managers of the Bailey forces, Friends of the junior senator are fighting hard for delay until plans of procedure can be arranged. Indications are that every technicality possible will be resorted to in order to keep the inquiry resolution down. Much time was consumed at the morning session of the house and senate in tabulating the result of the election of state officers.

Committee Named

Speaker Love announced his committee on appropriations as follows: O'Neil, chairman; Bryan, Crockett, Clements, Davis of Williamson, O'Bryan, Brown of Harris, Terry, Cobb, Gilmore, Robertson of Travis, Ray, Davis of Brazos, Graham, Jennings, Henderson, Curry, Braley, Mears, Bogard, Savage of Bell, Lane and Geisen. The house took a recess until 1:59 p. m., when it will convene with the senate to tabulate the result of the election of state officers as the first order of business.

Senter Offers Resolution

In the senate today Senator Senter introduced a resolution to investigate Senator Bailey and Attorney General Davidson. The resolution is the same that the appropriation of $10,000 is left out. It was referred to the committee on elections. It was signed by Senators Glasscock, Green, Greer, Mayfield, Murray and Stokes.

Twenty bills were introduced in the senate today, among them being one providing that if any district company doing business in Texas shall remove case pending against it in the disrict court to the Federal court it shall forfeit its right to do business in Texas for three years; also a bill to confer power of eminent domain on interurban railways; also a bill giving the right to a person dealing in Tutures or any form of gambling to recover money.

Spark Takes Charge

State Treasurer Sam Sparks took harge of the treasury department today. His bond is $75,000 and is was approved by the governor. His sureties have an aggregated wealth of $3,-Judge Duncan seems anxious to adopt the rules of the house before proceeding with the inquiry resolu-Dogard, of the house, has introduced bill permitting the Santa Fe to purchase the Texas & Gulf and other Thompson, of Hunt, has introduced a bill to have the occupation tax put on express offices where liquor is legally delivered. Cox, of Rockwall, with hompson, of Hunt, has presented a bill to prohibit bucketshops. Fuller, of San Jacinto, introduced a bill prohibiting the delivery of liquor to any one unless such a package is accompanied by an original order.

Routine Proceedings

The house convened at 9:30 o'clock The first business was the report of the committee to count the ballots for governor and lieutenant governor. The committee reported that the senate and house sit in joint session at 11 a. m. to count the ballot and that the new state officials be sworn in next Tuesday at noon in the house of representatives. The report was adopted. Another filibuster resolution was introduced to delay the bringing up of the Bailey natter. Canales of Brownsville wanted a clerk for the sergeant-at-arms. Blanton of Gainesville objected, and anales spoke at length for his resolution and afterwards withdrew the resolution. The chair ruled that without unanimous consent resolutions could not be offered at that time. Kennedy of McLennan moved that no resolutions be heard at that time. During the reading of bills Duncan of Smith moved that the reading of bills be postponed until after standing committees are appointed. Kennedy asked Duncan his reasons and the tart reply was: "I want the reading of bills postponed because I want the reading postponed." The reply caused laughter and applause from pro-Bailey side. Hamilton of Commerce called for the reading of the report of the committee on rules, which caused further delay. Mc-Kenzie of Pecos moved the rules be dispensed with. Kennedy objected and moved that rules be considered sec-tion by section. McKenzie amended and then withdrew his motion. Mc-Kenzie then moved that changes in rules be voted on as read, adopted. McConnell of Palo Pinto moved that rules be deferred until tomorrow morning. McKinney of Huntsville objected. McConnell withdrew his motion. Duncan insisted that the rules be adopted. Gifford of Grayson county insisted that the rules be considered and adopted. He was, apparently, anxious to kill time. Cobb of San Antonio objected to the section of the rules which rohibited expression of opinion of ema ployes on bills or measures pending E. A. Kemp, of Milano, made a speech in which he insisted that the employes of the house be kept from lobbying. Cobb stated that he did not want to be placed in the position of defending lobbyists. Cobb withdrew his amend-

Question of Murder or Suicide Agitating Chicago Police

Special to The Telegram, CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Walter S. Bogle, 28-year-old son of the president of a coal mining company, died at the home of his parents with a bullet hole in the right side of his head. The father says the son committed suicide, while the family were at breakfast and could give no reason for the act. When the police examined the weapon which was found in the room they claimed it was hardly probable that the fatal bullet was fired from that pistol.

DON'T BE HASTY URGES C.M. BROWN

Says People Ought to Get Vote on New City Charter

Editor The Telegram: After waiting patiently for the mayor and citizens committee to call an election, giving the taxpayers the privilege of passing upon the proposed new charter, and commission form of government, the council very properly acted, and ordered such election, and the mayor very promptly vetoes such

It was first advocated by the adherents of the commission government that the whole thing should be submitted to the people under the referendum for their approval or rejection, but the committee, which dfafted the charter, of which the mayor is one. has never suggested an election, and now the mayor vetoes a proposed election, which indicates that he is afraid of the verdict of the people.

It seems to me this is the most unwise veto he ever indicted, and a slap in the people's face. If the taxpayers who have to dance to the tune of the new charter's fiddle have no voice in the matter, then it means they are to have the new charter and the comthis democratic?

Do we want this new form of gov-It provides for the election of a mayat $3,600 per year, and four commissioners at $3,000 each, a total of $15,600 per year. Our mayor now receives $2,000 and all of our nine aldermen a total of about $900. The difference is $12,700 per year in the salaries of our present mayor and council and the proposed new government. What is the commission? Simply a smaller council with an enormous salary. What assurance have we that we shall have a better government? None, for we have yet to elect the commission and its personnel is problematical.

It is anticipated our present mayor intends to make the race under the new government, and naturally expects to be re-elected as mayor. I would like to ask if he would make a better nayor with an additional $1,600 attached to his present salary? Would that additional $1,600 add anything to his business ability, or add any gray natter to his brain? Assuredly not. Taxpayers and voters, if this election s held on the 23d instant, get out and vote on this charter question. If Fort Worth is ready to go into the hands of a receiver vote in the commission and its big salary grab, which, by the way, if said salaries were put into our streets and schools, would redound more to good business principles and

Fort Worth is the best and most prosperous city in the state of Texas today, and every year millions are being invested in our realty, and under our present form of government. All the improvements we now enjoy, in paved streets, bridges, water and schools, came to us thru our present form of government. Do we want to try any new experinents? What is the matter anyway? Looks like there are a few soreheads who want to publish to, the world that we are in a rotten financial condition, are on our last legs, and must heed their advice or go to the demnition bow-wows. Now, our representatives are holding up this charter, waiting for the election, and you need have no fear that they will disobey the wishes of the people expressed at the polls. They are in duty bound to act according to

If the people vote in this miniature council with its big salary, then I shall bow to their dictum. Until they express themselves at the polls, which they have the right to do, I shall raise my voice in their behalf in this respect. The program of exercises covers a period of six weeks, during which time the entire Atlantic fleet will undergo rigid drills and extensive target practice. and, while the building is but a temporary one, it is ample in size and good arrangement, interiorly, so the seventy or more booths in which are the exhibits, have ample room and practically all have good positions so that the main purpose, which is to attract the attention of the visitors promptly, is well served. Those from Fort Worth who have seen the Dallas pure food show say the buildings are large, for there are virtually two of them. One, it is estimated, is about 200x120 and the "L" in which the vaudeville excibitions are given, about 100x120 feet in size. Some of the booth decorations are exceedingly fine, even extravagant, it would seem, but then it must be remembered that the Dallas pure food show is to run thru the meeting of the National Grocers' Association and a part of the display is not merely for the Dallas people, but for the visitors from out of the state and for the benefit of the people of the state who will go to Dallas for the grocers' meeting and who will, naturally, attend the pure food show. Mr. Bergman is the president of the Fort Worth Retail Grocers' and Butchers' Association, and also of the Texas Grocers' Association, Last year in Fort Worth he was the principal manager of the very successful pure food show given at Fort Worth in March, and that success led to the suggestion that, tional Grocers' Association, a chain of pure food shows be started which were to run a course thru about eight or ten of the chief cities of the state, culminating at Fort Worth at the time of the meeting of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association, or the time of the cattlemen's convention and the fat stock show as it is better known. What will be determined by those most concerned in the matter if the chain of shows will be undertaken before the end of the Dallas pure food show, but there is a probability of the plan going the or failing that of a pure food show at Fort Worth during the time of the cattlemen's convention. The Dallas show is convenient to the business part of the city, the location being on Commerce street near the Oriental hotel. The breakfast foods people have some of the finest booths for exhibition purposes of any in the hall and among these, without individual distinction, which may be mentioned, are the exhibits of Egg-O-See and Mapl-

The few visitors to Dallas who went nto the building say they noticed but two Fort Worth concerns preparing for exhibits, and they were the Swift, and the King Candy Co.

OLD MINES IN TEXAS

Nearly every portion of Texas has some rumor or memory of ancient gold and silver mines that were worked by the Spaniards in the days of their occupancy of the country, and a great deal of money has been spent and time lost in seeking for these reputed treasure houses, which are believed to be only waiting to yield up their riches to those who are fortunate enough to again locate them. It makes no difference that previous efforts in this direction have faited to pan out, for men are just as eager today to start out on an effort to locate them as their predecessors were in the days

Among the celebrated old mines of this character is the old silver mine near the old San Saba mission on the San Saba river, which is about to be cpened again after being unworked for more than a century and a half. The old shaft of that mine was sunk in 1747 and much silver ore was taken from it, but its exact location has not Comanche Indians saughtered the Spanish missionaries and their converted Apache friends in that vicinity more than 150 years ago. The Comanches resented the settlement and resented the mining, and it was thought when they murdered the last victim of their treachery on that memorable night, but it is now claimed two Spaniards escaped by running sion court to the river, a short distance away. These Spaniards made their way to Mexico, where they resided until their death.

Many years after this a man who had gotten into some kinw or trouble in lilinois located in Mexico and formed the acquaintance of these Spaniards, and when they died they gave him a complete diagram of the ground around the old San Saba mission, showing the exact location of this rich old silver mine. This Illinois man could not come to Texas to prosecute the work of opening the mine, but he sent the diagram to a friend who lived near Austin about twenty years before the late civil war. The man who received this valuable document was the father of Mack Hayes, an old gentleman who now lives in the vicinity of Austin. When his father died Mack Hayes came into possession of the diagram and made an effort to locate the mine just before the war, but was met by a band of Comanche Indians and a number of the party murdered. He returned home and made no further effort to locate the mine. New that Mack Haves has become old and decrepit, he has placed the matter in the hands of some wealthy citizens of Austin, who have undertaken the matter of locating the lost mine. They made a trip to the old mission a few weeks ago and found matters almost exactly as represented on the diagram, and they are now again en route to the scene thoroly prepared to make an extensive search for the lost mine. These men are very enthusiastic over the situation and believe they will soon be in posttion to show to the world that there is some virtue in the story that the Apache Indians of that section did really use silver bullets in their guns. A New York firm has offered a fabulous price for the diagram, but these men steadfastly refuse to sell it at

This in brief is the story of the lost San Saba mine, and it has many counterparts in other, portions of Texas, where it is believed there is rich mineral. A few years ago a man appeared upon the scene at Colorado City, Texas, to work a reputed gold mine that had been worked by the Spaniards in that vicinity prior to 1829. He found the exact location, which was marked by a big stone pillar set in cement, with evidence of ancient mining considerably in existence, and he went to work with a vim. large shaft was sunk to a depth of fully 100 feet, but no evidence of a mine or of gold bearing formations was found. This man sunk a considerable sum of money in his enterprise, and it was money he had earned by digging in the mines of Mexico. When his last dellar had been expended he drew a long breath and remarked "I missed the old shaft and consequently missed stake before I can develop this mine," and back to Mexico he went.

His theory was that this old mine had been successfully worked by the Spaniards until Mexico threw off the Spanish yoke, and that when they fled from the country they filled up the mine and set up the stone pillar to mark its hiding place, intending to return at some more propitious time and resume operations. But they never returned, and the mine must remain a sealed mystery until this determined American now wielding a pick in the mines of Mexico again makes a stake and returns to uncover what he sincerely believes is fabulous wealth. There is unquestionably a great deal yet to be learned concerning the valuable metals that are hidden in Texas, and it is believed the time is not far distant when the earth will begin to yield up a more abundant treasure. .

FORT WORTH A GROWING CITY It has been so often remarked that Fort Worth is the fastest growing city in Texas, and the assertion having never been successfully contradicted.

out how Fort Worth does it. There is no secret about the rapid growth and development of Fort Worth, typified by acres of rising brick and mortar to be seen on every side as one passes up or down any of the leading streets of the city. It is but the natural result of that restless energy that has been working overtime here since the foundations were laid by the men who loved Fort Worth and consecrated their lives to her development. It is but the living exemplification of the true Fort Worth spirit-a spirit that has never tired or laid down even in the teeth of stern

Fort Worth is growing so fast today because Fort Worth is prosperous and do from year's end to year's end. The people of Fort Worth have learned the lesson that other Texas towns and cities must learn, and that is no large population can be sustained until there is employment afforded. The great packing houses and other manufacturing industries in Fort Worth are finishing the work that was begun by the advent of so many railways. The railways back in the old days were brought here whether they wanted to come or not, and the right of way of many of them was almost paved with Fort Worth gold. But the builders of Fort Worth knew just exactly what they were doing. They knew that there must first be railway facilities in order to induce manufacturing

The stately buildings that are now being erected upon all our principal thorofares are but additional monuments to the men who made the present Fort Worth possible. Many of these have passed off the scene of action, but their work lives after them, end willing hands have been found to take up the work where they left off. There will be no failure in the great work of future development-the men now behind the

The name of Fort Worth will continue to be used to conjure men to do their plain duty in other places. THE EGOTISM OF MANKIND

Man is the most egotistical animal that walks upon hind legs, and few of the species is free from the affliction. There are plenty of men resident in every community who believe they are the real things and cannot understand how anyone can have the temerity to dispute their sway. There are men who have been successful in business, in politics, and even in a horse trade, who imagine that the sun of their greatness and genius is more resplendent than that of any of their associates, and are filled with disappointment that all do not bow as they

There are some men who dote with such pride on their ancestry that they believe that all other men should crook the pliant hinges of the knee at their passing, and affect a station superior to all those who cannot trace a descent directly from some marauding English earl or Scotch cow thief. But the funniest specimen of the whole lot is the individual who is raised from obscurity to some exalted political position by the support of the people, and becomes so inflated with the idea of his own importance as to proclaim from one end of the state to the other that the very party that has honored him will fall to pieces and suffer complete wreck if he should happen to be relegated to the walks of private life. When a man reaches the period in his career that he is so foolish as to believe that the individual or party cannot dispense with his services, right then he is a fit subject for retirement Just as the business man can arrange to get along without the services of the best man in his employ, so can the people find a worthy successor to the man who has either outlived or outgrown his usefulness. Roger Q. Mills thought he had outgrown the people of Texas when he reached the goal of his ambition and entered the United States senate. And Roger Q. Mills was compelled to walk the plank and descend from his high pedestal, just as other great men have been compelled to do before him, and many others must do after him.

Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey is one of the public men in Texas who has grown too fast for his party and his people, and who is too much inflated with the contemplation of his own im-

CAPTAIN LYTLE DEAD

The death of Captain John T. Lytle secretary and general manager of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas, in San Antonio Thursday evening, is sincerely mourned in Fort Worth, where he was so well known and so genuinely appreciated. While he had been quite ill for a long time and his close friends realized that the Angel of Death was hovering close about his pillow, the announcement of his death came as a great shock and has caused a feeling of profound gloom thruout

Captain Lytle was one of the best known cattlemen of Texas and the Southwest, and had been closely identified with the live stock industry pracically all his life. He was a successful cattle raiser and an indefatigable worker for the advancement of the live stock industry at all times. His work in this respect was sufficient to attract attention and when the lamented Jim Loving died after giving the best years of his life to the Cattle Raisers' his successor, moving to this city from San Antonio to assume the dutles of his position. During all the time of his incumbency of the position of secretary and general manager of the great association with which he was identified, Captain Lytle handled the work with so much energy and so much care and good judgment that new records were established and the association has grown and prospered as it never did before. Thoroly devoted to the great work in which he was engaged, he taxed his strength beyond the power of human endurance ped in such a manner that his health was undermined and then followed the inevitable result. And it may be truly said that John T. Lytle gave his life for the great cause that was so dear to his warm and impulsive heart.

Captain Lytle was born in Pennsylvania, but came of a good old Maryland family. He came to Texas at an early age and settled near San Anonio, where he made his home until his removal to this city. During the war he was a gallant Confederate soldier, and at its close resumed the work of stockraising. His ranch and cattle interests were located in Mexico.

In the death of Captain Lytle Fort and honored citizens, and the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas one of its most faithful and useful members. He was a man whose place it will be exceedingly difficult to fill his death will be mourned thruout Texas and the

Advices from Austin indicate that the practice of nepotism is going to have very rough sledding under the new administration, and if that is a fact a great reform has already been accomplished. This thing of making public office a family snap has played

The senate at Washington is threatening to expose the centralization ideas of the President, and hold up to public view the manner in which he has overridden the laws of the country. And the funny part of the situation is that it is a Republican expedient.

Captain Bill McDonald, the gallant Texas ranger, has not yet forded the Mississippi river, for the purpose of meeting Senator Firecracker, of Ohio, but the doughty captain still insists he is a good swimmer,

There is one effect of the abrogation of free passes by the railways that should not be lost sight of. It enables the average legislator to draw his mileage with a much cleaner conscience than usual.

DAY'S WORK AT POLICE STATION

Indifferent, almost morose before she fidant, from among all those with came upon the scene, he brightened to surprising extent the moment he found himself in her presence. Not of this magnitude, first, because he because she was a beautiful woman, had been present at the most tragic for he scarcely honored her face or even her superb figure with a look. All his glances were centered on her thetic bond between us which would large fan, which, in swaying to and fro, alternately hid and revealed the plendor on her breast; and when by chance it hung suspended for a monent in her forgetful hand and he aught a full glimpse of the great gem perceived such a change in his face hat, if nothing more had occurred that night to give prominence to this woman and her diamond, I should have carried home the conviction that interests of no common import lay ebhind a feeling so extraordinarily displayed. into which he was thrown by his first view of its size and splendor, confirm in my mind the evidence which he gave on oath (and he is a well-known diamond expert, you know, and must have been very well aware that he would injure rather than help his cause by this admission), that at the time he believed the stone to be real and of immense value. Wearing such a gem, then, she entered the fatal alcove, and, with a smile on her face, prepared to employ her fascinations on whoever chanced to come within her reach. But now something happened Please let me tell it my own way. A shout from the driveway, or a bit of snow thrown against the window, drew her attention to a man standing below, holding up a note fastened to the end of a whip-handle. I do not know whether or not you have found that man. If you have-" The inspector made no sign. "I judge that you have not, so I may go on with my suppositions. Mrs. Fairbrother took in this note. She may have expected it and for this reason chose the alcove to sit in, or it may have been a surprise to her. Probably we shall never know the whole truth about it; but what we can know and do, if you are still holding to our compact and viewing this crime in the light of Mr. Durand's explanations, is that it made a change in her and made her anxious to rid herself of the diamond. It has been decided that the hurried scrawl should read, 'Take warning. He means to be at the ball. Expect trouble if you do not give him the diamond, or something to that effect. But why was t passed up to her unfinished? Way the haste too great? I hardly thin so. I believe in another explanation which points with startling directness to the possibility that the person referred to in this broken communica tion was not Mr. Durand, but one reason you have failed to find the messenger, of whose appearance you have received definite information, is that you have not looked among the servants of a certain distingu visitor in town. Oh." I burst forth with feverish volubility, as I saw the inspector's lips open in what could not fail to be a sarcastic utterance, "I know what you feel tempted to reply. Why should a servant deliver a warning against his own master? If you will be patient with me you will soon see; but first I wish to make it clear that Mrs. Fairbrother, having received this warning just before Dr. Durand appeared in the alcove-reckless cheming woman that she was-sough to rid herself of the object against which it was directed in the way we have temporarily accepted as true. TEXAS INTERURBAN LINE PROGRESSING

Local Notes of Interest to the Fort Worth Railroader

Contracts have been let by the Texas of a sixty-five-mile electric road between Dallas and Sherman. The new line will parallel the existing steam road between the two cities and will be one of the longest electric roads in the state. While the apparatus is standard direct-current thruout, the equipment, in some respects, presents several features of interest

The country thru which the new line is laid out is flat and rolling, there being no grades exceeding one per cent and a maximum curvature of but three degrees. In order to have a clear heading for operating cars, a priby the company, so that the run between Dallas and Sherman will be made in two hours and thirty minutes. This schedule includes a fifteenminute run within the city limits of Dallas, where the cars must necessarily be operated at lower speeds. While the main traffic will be of an express nature, stops have been provided for about every two miles to take care of the local travel.

Fifteen car equipments will be vided to maintain the initial schedule. These will be of the standard interurban type, each fifty feet long and equipped with four standard directcurrent motors, equipped with the Sprague General Electric type M system of multiple unit control. Each car will be further provided with General Electric airbrakes and compressors. Power for the new road will be generated by steam at McKinney, a town located about midway between Dallas and Sherman. One of the special features of interest in the new road lies in the rotary convertive equipment. Six sub-stations will be provided, including one at the main station, and a portable equipment, consisting of a special car containing a 300 k. w. rotary converter, air blast transformers and suitable switching apparatus for wherever necessary. The portable substations render unnecessary the duplication of rotary converters at the fixed sub-stations, for the portable equipment can be shifted to various parts of the line and used as an emergency station or auxiliary in case of

The sub-stations will be interconnected by high tension transmission lines, operated initially at 19,100 volts, eventually, however, a transmission potential of 33,000 volts being probably used, and for this purpose taps will be provided for Y connection of the transformers. With the few exceptions oney. The workers on city papers | noted the new line follows, in general of the General Electric Company.

At present the Rogers engines are the neaviest in use on this end of the line. altho the Atlantic types are in use between Marshall and Texarkana. General Master Mechanic of Motor Power Addis of Marshall has been recently quoted as saying that the Texas & Pacific tracks would soon be placed in condition for the installation of the Atlantic engines.

Day Force Hustling

During December the force in the freight house of the Texas & Pacific was doubled and required to keep going straight thru the twenty-four hours, but since dispensing with the night feature, the day force finds it no little proposition to keep up with the work. The business is holding up wonderfully well and Foreman Adams finds every moment valuable in discharging his duties.

Electric Headlights The employes at the Frisco roundhouse have been assigned a task which is not only a new feature in their department, but one of which they are quite proud. The work consists of installing electric headlights on the passenger engines of the Rio Grande division, two of which have already been completed, and two more are yet to be installed.

WEST TEXAS GROWING WITH PROSPEROUS TIMES

Sinking an Oll Well? Special to The Telegram.

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Jan. 11 .-Much interest has been created in San Angelo over a report from Miles to the effect that the Santa Fe is sinking an oil shaft at that place. Messrs, Simon Poll and William Becker, two substantial citizens of San Angelo, visited Miles Friday and returned with the information that the railroad system was making all preliminary preparations and erecting a huge derrick near Miles for the purpose of drilling for water. A fact that throws more light upon the matter is that a twothousand foot well will be drilled and that the Santa Fe has already all the water needed at Miles. The derrick is between sixty and eighty feet high and is a regular oil well structure. All the work connected with the putting down of this deep hole and the building of the derricks, etc., will cost the road in the neighborhood of $10,000 to $12,000, far above any amount that would be judicially expended simply for engine water by any railroad.

An Automobile Line

Special to The Telegram. ALPINE, Texas, Jan. 11.-A Mr. Glass of Pecos, who was here last week, said the people of his town were working up an automobile line from that place to Fort Stockton and that it will perhaps be extended to Marathon. It was the intention at first to come to Alpine, but the change to Marathon was made because of the prospect of getting the oil mail route from Stockton to that place re-established. No effort was made to interest Alpine in the scheme. After the experience with automobiles that some Alpine people have had it would be difficult to do so.

Federation of Clubs

Special to The Telegram. ABILENE, Texas, Jan. 11.-There is a proposition being considered by the business interests along the Texas & Pacific railroad from Weatherford to Big Springs, covering a distance of about 240 miles, and taking in the towns 25 to 35 miles north and south on the Texas & Pacific, looking to the federation of all clubs of a commercial character in this territory in the one association. While all of the plans bearing on this matter have not been matured, enough is known to say that the real object sought would be to take such measures whereby this particular section will be properly advertised abroad. It has been suggested that descriptive literature giving in a brief way the most salient features of this entire section, be prepared for distribution, that some good, active, energetic man be employed for his entire time and stationed at Fort Worth, to meet people coming in there on the different roads and place before ther in a general way advantages of this immense section.

Demand for Mules Special to The Telegram. SAN ANGELO, Texas, Jan. 11.-Doc Moss has sold to Lee Williams, who in turn sold to T. F. Johnson, 35 head of fine suckling mule colts at close to $55 around. Mr. Johnson will ship the mules to Granbury. There is a good demand at the present time for mules and the supply is limited. Mule men say that the market price will go skyward with a jump in a short time from present indications. One cause of a great demand for mules is the prospective work on railroad building in the south this year. Many large grading contracts are to be let and this means that mules will be used to a

Many Immigrants Arrive

Special to The Telegram. BROWNWOOD, Texas, Jan. 11.-The volume of immigration to this section of the country during the past few months is something remarkable. Never before in the history of West Texas or any other section of country. has there been such a steady strea n of homeseekers pouring in. The books of the local Santa Fe office here show that during the month of December there were 289 solid carloads of immigrants' goods received in the yards here. Much of the goods passed on thru to the Ballinger and San Angelo country, but the largest portion of it was unloaded here. This does not include the hundreds of cars of local goods, where only a part of a car was used. In some instances solid trains of twenty and twenty-five cars have arrived. Nearly all the immigrants are well-to-do farmers and are leaving the boll weevil district of Texas and Louisiana.

Buys Large Tract

Special to The Telegram. SAN ANGELO, Texas, Jan. 11.-E. Blanchard, San Angelo's postmaster, has purchased almost a thousand acres of land of Joseph Tweedy, the Knickerbocker merchant and weather sage. Mr. Blanchard expects to use this large tract of land for the establishment of a vineyard and chicken farm. He has owned land near Knickerbocker for some time and on this land he has experimented in grape cuiture. Now that he has secured a large tract he proposes to get in the game on a larger scale.

Large Sales of Land

Special to The Telegram. BARSTOW, Tex, Jan. 11.-So rapid has been the sale of school lands and railroad lands in Ward and adjoining counties during the past four months that now there is hardly an acre of public land that is available for sale today. Of course the greater part of the first sales were made to speculators, but they have in turn sold again, and according to old land men, this country is filling up with actual settlers much more rapidly than usual. Tme numerous rains and snows of the winter have practically assured a crop on the hill lands next summer without irrigation, and everywhere one goes there is the mark of the plow on the virgin prairie where a year ago one could travel all day without see. ing a house. Besides all this, there are large irrigation improvements on foot which will make the irrigable land of this valley three times what it is now. These improvements are now beginning to be carried out and will be pushed to completion.

Sugar Cane Profitable

Special to The Telegram, SAN SABA, Tex., Jan. 11.-William Oglesby of Big Valley, Mills county, was in San Saba a few days before Christmas marketing ribbon cane syrup which he made on his trrigated farm. He disposed of his entire crop at 50c per gallon and made three hundred gallons to the acre. He and his partner, Dawson, had in five acres and he says that the expense would not amount to over $20 per acre. This leaves $130 per acre profit. The sale of pure ribbon cane molasses is only limited by the quantity raised, and it seems that if more of our farmers on the river would plant a few acres i druggists everywhere.

in ribbon cane it would pay them handsomely.

Will Work Negroes

Special to The Telegram. GOLDTHWAITE, Tex., Jan. 11-It is now a certainty that Goldthwaite is to have an oil mill as soon as it can be built. The charter has already been issued and the company will be organized at once and work will begin. C. . Bencini of Brownwood, manager of Winfield Scott's oil mill interests, was here last Saturday and a mass meeting of citizens was held to discuss the proposition and decide whether or not negroes would be allowed to come here and work in the mill. Mr. Bencini stated that his company would not undertake to establish a mill here unless they were allowed to work eight or ten negroes in the oil room. He stated that fifty or sixty men would be employed in the mill and that the work to be done by the eight or ten negroes was of the kind that white men would not want to do. He agreed to place houses for the negroes within the ground belonging to the mill company and assured the people that the negroes would not be allowed to visit the town without the consent of the citizens. Everybody present at the meeting appeared to be willing to the arrangement and most of them gave personal assurances that the plan would be acceptable and pledged themselves to assist in affording the negroes protection as long as there was no infraction of the agreement.

Two Large Hogs

Special to The Telegram. GAIL, Tex., Jan. 11 -W. S. Marley, of this county, killed two hogs last week, one of which weighed 462 and the other 500 pounds, and they yielded 86 pounds of lard. They were only 15 months old, but had been fed on prepared stock food which had made them very hearty.

HANGMAN'S DAY IN OLD MISSOURI

for Their Climes

ANXIOUS TO BE HANGED

William E. Church Had Murdered His Foster Parents-William Spaugh Jr. Helped Kill a Sheriff

Special to The Telegram. ST. LOUIS, Jan. 11.-For murdering his foster parents, Henry Yeater and wife, by cutting their throats with a razor whie they were asleep, William E. Church was hanged at Warrenton, fifty miles west of here, yesterday. The murder occurred Aug. 30, 1903, the victims being pioneer settlers of Warren county, who had reared young Church and in their will left him all the property they possessed. Church fled the country and was later arrested in Philadelphia, where he was stationed in the marine crops, having enlisted shortly after committing the brutal crime. He claimed at the trial in 1904 that he had been paid $500 to do the deed. He was convicted and the sentence of death affirmed by the supreme court, Judge Burgess declaring the crime to be without parallel in fiendish atrocity in the criminal records of the state and without a shadow of mitigating circumstances. Church declared yesterday that he was anxious to be hanged and that the only favor he wanted was "A chance to cut the heart out of John Young of Warrenton." He refused to explain his enmity for Young, who was formerly one of his friends, Many people believed that Church was mentally deranged. Special to The Telegram. CENTERVILLE, Mo., Jan. 11 .-William Spaugh Jr. was hanged here. yesterday for the murder of Sheriff John W. Polk of Iron county, in May, 1905. The case was tried here on a change of venue, and condemned man convicted of murder in the first degree. His brother, Arthur Spaugh, is now serving a 55 year sentence in the state penitentiary for, his complicity in the crime. Mary T. Spaugh, mother of the two boys, was jointly indicted with them for the murder of Sheriff Polk, but was granted a severance. Later she was convicted of complicity and sentenced to ten years in prison. A new trial was granted by the circuit court and the case is still pending.

CURE YOURSELF AT HOME Most persons who are afflicted with Contagious Blood Poison hesitate to go to a physician for several reasons. In the first place the expense is heavy, and they know that the inevitable treatment will be mercury and potash, strong minerals that act with disastrous effects on the delicate parts of the system, and which do not, after all, really cure the disease. What they want is a safe, reliable treatment that can be taken at home and a perfect cure made of this loathsome disorder without unnecessary exposure or expense. Such a remedy is S. S. S .- it is the only medicine that goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and drives out the last trace of the poison so that there are never any signs of its return. It does not contain a particle of mineral in any form, and after removing the disease from the circulation builds up every part of the system by its fine vegetable tonic properties S. S. S. attacks the trouble at its head and

COL. VERA TALKS OF OIL OCTOPUS

Visitor in Fort Worth Has Dealt With Monster

The above sentence was a logical and fitting conclusion of an interesting interview granted to a representative of The Telegram Monday evening by Colonel J. A. Vera, who is now visiting in the city as the guest of his son, the junior partner of the firm of Brown & Vera, and daughter, Mrs. C. B. Brown, in Travis avenue. It was Colonel Vera, who, in 1874, while addressing an audience composed of independent oil producers at a meeting held in Oil City, Pa., compared the Standard Oil Company to the octopus, a sea serpent. "In the fall of '65," said Colonel Vera, "I made my first investments in the oil business in properties adjoining Oil Creek and from the first was very successful, Seven years later, when prospects seemed exceedingly bright, the Standard first put in an appearance in the persons of John D. Rockefeller and James Andrews, who came with a proposition to purchase 1,000 barrels of oil, which was then selling at $4.10 per barrel.

"We knew of them and their Cleveland refineries and of course refused to sell, but you may readily surmise that it was not long until their wishes were gratified.

"Gradually the independent producers felt their hold slipping and for a short while a strong union was organized, which held the winning hand until the crushing blow fell. That blow was the inauguration of the rebate system which the Standard arranged with the Pennsylvania railway and later with the New York Central. "You know the result as well as I do, for the deplorable truth is, no independent man today can make a living in the community wherein a trust, is operated unless he be subservient

"Yes, during my oil experiences-I

-I was associated in business with Frank Tarbell, whose daughter, Miss Ida, has written so many deserving criticisms against the Standard in Mc-

Clure's magazine. "Bear in mind, that to my personal knowledge, during the time the Standard has operated in Pennsylvania, $100,000,000 has been usurped by the octopus which rightfully belongs to the independent producers. The profits are enormous, for while in the '70s the daily production was 50,000 bar-rels, today the figures reach 150,000. and only the Standard reaps the re-

He will visit Temple, Waco and Cleburne on his way north and will report prozress at the league meeting, which will take place in Dallas Sunday. Whether there will be a six or eightclub league depends a great deal upon President Robbie's trip. If he succeeds in getting either Cleburne or Temple to take up the proposition, Waco will come in with the other team and thus make an eight-club league. Waco is ready at the present moment, according to reports from there, to become a member of the league and it will take the eighth member to allow Waco to come in as seventh, an even number of teams being necessary.

PURITY PRODUCT

When Cascarets Candy Cathartic were invented in 1896, and the formula was perfected after much experimental labor by highly scientific chemists, it was our aim not only to produce a perfect combination of EFFECTIVE CONSTITUENTS, but to have every ingredient the very best in point of PURITY and

QUALITY that could be obtained. We established a standard of PURITY and QUALITY and MEDICINAL STRENGTH, that has been maintained for all these years, and every Cascaret tablet has been as harmiess, pure, gentle and effective as every other one. The substances that enter into a medicinal formula, to produce the desired effect, to be SAFE and ever TRUSTWORTHY. MUST be clean, fresh, carefully selected and compounded with painstaking supervision.

The eternal vigilance necessary to secure the ingredients of Cascarets in the most PERFECT CONDITION, so as to get the best effect without any danger from intruding substances. has never been relaxed.

What is the result?

There has never been a disappointment, never a complaint. The people of America are today buying over ONE MILLION BOXES a month of Cascarets Candy Cathartic, a recognition of their dependable qualities to do what is claimed for them, as the best medicine FOR THE BOWELS as yet discovered.

Our patrons are all our friends, loyal and more than satisfied of the stead-fast, honest, reliable MERIT of our preparation. It is today the greatest FAMILY MEDICINE in the world. We attribute Casearets great success to PURITY, QUALITY and MEDICINAL EFFICIENCY, backed by Truth and Honesty in our dealings.

The Congress of the United States, on June 30, 1906, passed a PURE FOOD AND DRUGS ACT to protect the Health of the People against adulteration, misstatement and careless processes. This law went into effect January 1, 1907, and will help to banish all questionable practices and preparations. We endorse the law.

The essence of this law was anticipated by the makers of Cascarets when the first box was made ten years ago, and every precaution was taken to establish Cascarets as the standard, reliable and responsible Bowel medicine for the American People.

We shall continue in our purpose to produce the best product possible, and are proud of the confidence of our friends, a commercial confidence which will never be betrayed. All druggists, 10c, 25c, 50c. Try a little 10c box TODAY. 756

MAYOR VETOES ELECTION CALL

Sends Lengthy Message to the City Council

Mayor Harris, as forecast by The Telegram, filed with City Secretary John T. Montgomery Thursday evening his message to the city council, vetoing the council action in submitting to the voters of the city the matter of a new charter for Fort Worth, to be decided at an election called for

The council was not unprepared for the veto and soon after it was filed Thursday evening several aldermen met in caucus at the city hall, at which the mayor's action was discussed and later several members requested the mayor to call a special meeting of the council, but he gave no definite answer as to what he would do in the matter. Following this failure on the part of the mayor to indicate what he would do, it was stated that if the mayor should refuse to call the meeting as requested that five aldermen would themselves call a meeting and turn down the mayor's veto message, it being said that all who voted for the action which the mayor vetoed would vote to pass the resolution ordering the submission of the charter matter to the voters over the veto. This action will be necessary at once, as, if action is deferred until the next meeting of the council, it will then be too late to hold the election and give the proper

The veto message is quite lengthy, and would make two and a half columns of The Telegram. It recites at length the resolutions adopted by the council calling the election on the charter, and then disapproves of them all. The first resolution adopted by the council and referring to the report of the charter committee of the counil, the mayor says:

"First. I disapprove of your action dopting the report of the charter committee and the first resolution ecommending and resolving the question as to whether the people desire the charter proposed by the citizens' committee or desire the present charter with the amendments suggested because it is not my opinion that the city council has any legal authority to call an election for such purpose, nor to pay the expenses of any such election out of the public funds of the

In his message the mayor argues the point of the councir's right to call an election for the purpose mentioned in the call and denies that it has any such right; and that such an election would not settle anything; that the call for the election does not comply with charter provisions, which requires twenty days' notice.

The mayor in his message indicated that it was his belief that the legislature did not need any expression from the people on the charter questionthat the members had all the information as to what Fort Worth wanted without any election being held. The mayor said:

"Of course it is apparent that the real difference between the city council's charter committee and the citizens' charter committee is mainly upon the question as to whether we should have a commission form of government with the en'arged powers proposed by the charter committee or shall have a city council as we now have. with the same charter powers as now, enlarged as suggested by the four amendments proposed.

"I take it for granted that the legislators are satisfied as to what is the wish of the majority of our people on this question, and, if any of our people do not think that our legislators are sufficiently informed as to their wishes they can easily address them personally or by petition at less expenditure of time and cost than it would take to attend an election to express their wishes. Of course, no one can say just how many of our people advocate and how many oppose a commission form of government.

"The legislators have had for the last twelve months much evidence that there was a popular desire for a commission form of government. There has been much discussion in the public press and many interviews given to the press, and at different times, different organizations have expressed their sentiments apon this matter," The mayor goes further and claims that the call for an election Jan. 23 does not give proper notice. "A further reason for not endeavoging to carry out the instructions of the city council as to the calling of an election is that said instructions enjoin that the election be called for Jan. 23. 1907, that date being only sixteen days after the date of the filing and passage of said resolution. Our city charter provides in section 9 as follows: 'All elections by popular vote shall be ordered by the city council and when any such elections shall have been ordered, the council shall cause twenty days' notice thereof to be given in one or more of the newspapers published in

Will Meet Saturday Night

A request signed by three members of the city council for a special meeting of the council was presented to Mayor Harris Friday morning whereupon the following was filed with the city secretary.

Mr. John T. Montgomery, City Secre-Dear Sir-Having just received a written request signed by three aldermen of the city of Fort Worth to call a special session of the city council for the purpose as they say, of considering a veto message filed by the mayor Jan. 10, 1907, I hereby call said special session, to be held at the council chamber at the city hall in Fort Worth at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, January 12,

You will therefore issue written notices to each member of the city council informing them of said meeting, and the time and place thereof, have the same served on the several aldermen as required by the charter in W. D. HARRIS.

GREWSOME LIVES OF UNDERTAKERS

Local Undertaker Tells of His Experiences

Despite the fact that for the most part the undertaker's life is more or less grewsome and sordid, there glides into the sober and sable life incidents wifich serve to form a contrast such as only he can appreciate.

It is not to be supposed that the man engaged in the undertaking business becomes immune to everything foreign to the atmosphere of caskets and dead bodies, for, on the contrary, he is usually of a jovial and jolly disposition when not clothed in his official robes.

Most noticeable in such a profession s the fact that nowhere may there be found more proficient students of human nature, the most mystifying feature being that it requires but a single glance for the dealer in caskets to judge his customer.

Should the patron indulge in tears thruout the course of the sale, refrain from inquiries as to prices and terms and declare that the best is hardly good enough then the dealer becomes dubious and begins to figure on unsatisfactory collections and pay-

On the other hand the customer displaying self-composure and a sensible interest in prices or terms establishes within the proprietor a feeling of confidence and the comfortable conviction that the money or payments will be forthcoming as promised.

The inevitable bright spot in the life of an undertaker is when the inexperienced youth begins his duties with the determination that he too, may soon learn the art of administering embalming fuid and the proper care of the deceased.

The feeling of misgiving on the part of the novice often gives way to gen-uine feelings of fright and terror and wee be unto him who has gained the ill-will of his employer while struggling in his efforts to discard those uncomfortable chills which skate so roughly over one's vertabrae.

The young man who was recently employed by a prominent Fort Worth undertaker and left to oversee the estatlishment while his employer made a six hours' business trip out of the city will, in all probability, gladly testify to the fact that misery loves company, the possibly note the inanimate remains of a human,

Imagination may have been a strong factor, but this particular youth backed up his opinion that when moans and greans come from an unoccupied cooling board it is high time for the superstitious to vacate, and he did so completely as far as anyone in Fort Worth knowing of his whereabouts is con humiliating experience for the underhis duties by some hasty member of the family or sympathetic friend who "reekons that death will arrive before the undertaker does." The rather rare, there have been known cases wherein the sufferer continued the battle for life for as much as twenty-four hours after the notice received by the undertaker, and in such cases explanations and apologies are as much out of place as a oress suit at breakfast. All in all, it is a disagreeable duty at the most and as one of the Fort Worth undertakers expressed it, "I've been in the business for the last twen-ty-six years and I don't find it pleasant to this day."

LOVING CUP GIVEN COL. S. B. HOVEY

Expression of Esteen by Business Associates

A beautiful and massive solid silver oving cup and a fine gold Swiss split econd stop watch with heavy solid gold chain were the gifts made by employes of the Chicago, Rock Island & Gulf to Colonel S. B. Hovey, the retiring president of the company at Hotel Worth Thursday evening in attestation of the loving respect in which he is held by the men, some of whom were reared, officially, by him. The loving cup is about two feet high, and except as to the base, handles and rim plain, the three panels between the handles being utilized for emblems or inscriptions. One of the noticeable adornments is the monogram "S. B. H." done in a rather broad ribbon design of exceptional beauty, the letters being fully an eighth of an inch thick and of solid gold. This emblem fills one of the panels. "Presented to S. B. Hovey by the officials and employes of the Chicago, Rock Island & Gulf Railway, Company, Jan. 1, 1907" flils another and on the third is the Texas star so engraved that at any angle it is viewed it seems to be mbossed.' H. Lassiter, was introduced by Phil H. Auer, general passenger agent of the company and briefly, feelingly, with voice choked with emotion at times, Mr. Lassiter essayed to tell something of the intimate relations which existed between the men and the retiring vice president.

Act of Appreciation

He said it was an act of loving appreciation for them to effer Colonel Hovey the gifts they did, for they bore witness to the high esteem the men felt for him for his kindness, his loyalty to the men, his perfect fairness, his sterling honesty and his devotion to the best interests of the company. The men felt a debt of gratitude for the invariable consideration and kindness he had shown for them and, while withholding none of their friendly loyalty and devotion to his interests. they wanted to pay that debt of gratitude, as far as may be and thence the fice itself pays out more money than gifts of loving esteem. But the parted in the business sense, there was still a bond of union, one of the strongest and most sacred the hand of friendship and that will last until time shall

Surprised and scarcely able to speak at times, Colonel Hovey returned thanks to the men. He said that the very atmosphere of the room thrilled with the spirit of true fraternity even the the shadow of parting rested on

CHURCH PAPER INVESTIGATES

The editor of the California Christian Advocate was asked to name some ministers in the California conference. in to thoroughly investigate the claims that chronic Bright's Disease is now curable and report the findings to that paper. He appointed the Rev. W. S. Urmy of Berkeley, one of the most thoroughly respected and widely known ministers in the California conference, He went at the matter with energy and earnestness. Following is the full report of his investigation. It will be of profound interest to nephrities and To the Editor of the California Christian Advocate: Dear Sir: I investigated the matter of the Fulton Compound to find whether or not it was what its friends asserted it to be-a real cure for Bright's Disease and Diabetes. I called on about a dozen persons and came fato possession of facts which are little short of miraculous. It is well known that the medical books and living authorities unite in asserting 'that Bright's Disease is incurable, and that Diabetes, when fastcurable, and that Diabetes, when fastened on the system, is also an incurable malady. My astonishment was intense when I heard from the lips of perfectly reliable people that they had been entirely and permanently cured by the faithful use of the remedy alluded to, accompanied by proper diet-

A druggist of San Francisco, whom I have known by reputation for fifty years' told me that several physicians had declared his case incurable (Bright's Disease), and gave him only ninety days to live, advising him to close up his affairs in view of speedy death. He is now in good health, attending daily to his business, and tooks as if he might live twenty years. He was cured four years ago.

A lady of San Francisco, who is related to one of the Chief Justices of the United States, averred in my presence that she had Diabetes in its worst form. Dropsy set in and every part of her body became badly swollen. Her finger nails dropped off, and one of her fingers had no nail for fifteen months. She was entirely cured eight years ago and had had no return of the disease nor its symptoms. She eats what she chooses. A prominent insurance man of strict integrity related to me the case of his sop, who was far gone with Bright's Disease, so that he expected to die within a few weeks. His body was immensely bloated with dropsy. so that he could hardly see. He commenced taking the remedy. His dropsy disappeared. He was a mere skeleton, but began to regain flesh. He now weighs 180 pounds and is completely well, attending regularly to his busi-

I have seen parties connected with three of the papers of San Francisco and their statements are similar. They assert that they, or their friends, have been thoroughly cured and that they have fullest faith in the remedy being entirely efficacious.

One gentleman keeping a highly respectable rooming house of San Francisco, detailed his case to me. He was so weak that he could not walk block without resting. He is now strong and hearty. His cure was effected fourteen years ago and he has had no return of the disease or its symptoms

Two noted attorneys of the city gave heir testimony to the curative powers of the remedy. One I saw who was in an extremely bad condition. He is now well and hearty. The other says that three friends of his who were hopelessly ill (two with Bright's Disease and the other with Diabetes) were completely cured and that he has no more doubt of the curability of these diseases than that he is living. These men are prominent in the legal fraternity. I might give other instances, but hese will suffice. It is not a recent discovery. The cures I have investigated run from one year to fourteen. My own deliberate opinion is that a perfect cure for Bright's Disease and Diabetes has been at last discovered, and that while there are some failures, the cures effected are eighty-seven per cent of the persons afflicted. I believe it to be the duty of every lover of his kind to spread this good news and thus help save from death some of the thousands who yearly perish from these diseases. I have no financial interest in the matter. W. S. URMY. Berkeley, July 6, 1905. If any one having knowledge of a case of Bright's Disease or Diabetes will send the name and address, we will see that they are sent full literature concerning this remarkable dis-

"The Boston Belles"

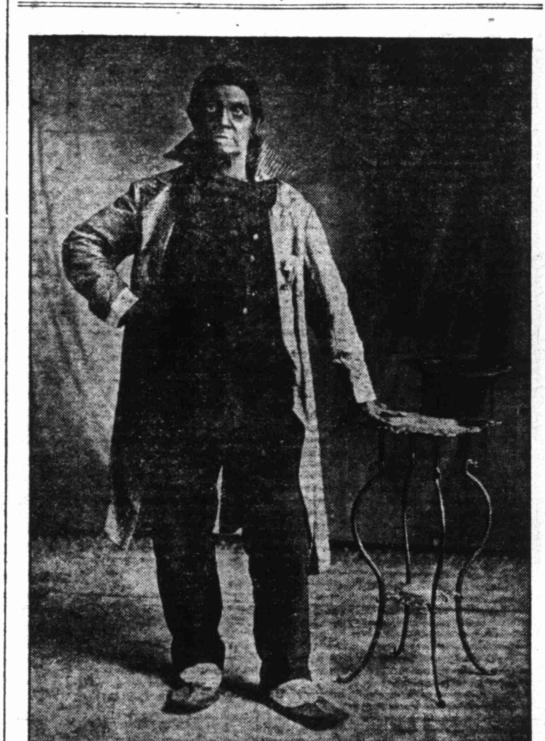

"The Boston Belles," at Greenwall's opera house tonight for performance. The Galveston Tribune had the following to say:

"The Boston Belles' were seen at the Grand last evening in 'Patsy Bolivar's Vacation' and other sketches. A pretty large house was present and but few productions witnessed upon the local stage during the present season have offered a better vehicle for sidesplitting fun and amusement. True, as a burlesque show nothing very elevating could be expected, and the production was of a nature best calculated to 'fill a long felt want.' If any person felt embarrassed while witnessDallas wins it will be good enough, The game tonight will be called at 9:30 o'clock promptly and will all be over by 10:30 p. m.

CUBS WON THE GAME

"The Rogers Brothers in Ireland" The famous "Rogers Brothers in Ireland will be at Greenwall's opera house Saturday matinee and night, Jan. 12. This most successful organization numbers 100 people and promises to mount the same equipment used at the Liberty Theater, New York city. Altho the piece, in a general way, s different from anything the Rogers Brothers have previously presented, musical features will be conspicuous for novelty and excellence. There will be fourteen big specialties introduced by principals and chorus in very elaborate costuming. There will also be several novelties introduced in each act in such a way as to add to the general attractiveness of the play.

"The Umpire"

"The Umpire," the musical comedy to be seen at Greenwall's opera house Monday and Tuesday night, matinee Tuesday, Jan. 14 and 15, is the most ambitious product of the LaSaile Theater, Chicago. It is a satire on baseball well sustained and furnishing an evening's entertainment of bright and wholesome fun set with a background of music that for catchiness and sweetness is not excelled in musical comedy. Every song in the piece has scored an instantaneous hit and may be found upon the piano rack and is included in the repertoire of every band and orchestra. Fred Mace, late comedian of "Piff Paff Pout," and one of the best comedians of the present day, will be seen in the title rote, a part in which he is more at home than in any other heretofore assumed by him.

At the Majestic

Orville Pitcher, the black face comedian, is making patrons of the Majestic theater laugh this week and laugh loud and long. When he comes strolling on the stage the laughter begins and never subsides until the time allotted to him is up. His stump oration on what the country needs is one of the funniest conglomerations of literature ever put together. In addition to this he tells some amusing stories and picks a banjo. He is a great favorite with the children, as was attested at yesterday's matinee, when the little ones almost cried with de-

There are several other funny performers on the bill this week. They include that happy and jovial pair, Mollie Fuller and Fred Hallen, who are presenting "Election Bets;" Gilroy, Haynes and Montgomery in a comedy "The Good Ship Nancy Lee;" Sanderon and Bowman in "Two Theater Tickets:" Mons. The boys are all in the best condition for a hard game," and the play will be fast and furlous. FORT WORTH MAN IS TO TESTIFY

Lived in Brownsville During Soldiers' Riot

L. W. Evans of Fort Worth but more recently a resident of Brownsville, Texas, where he was a quarantine guard under State Health Officer Tabor, has been served with a request to be at San Antonio Feb. 4 to serve as a witness for the prosecution in the general court martial of Major Chas. W. Penrose of the Twenty-fifth United States infantry, the negro regiment, a battalion of which is held responsible for murder and the deadly assault on some of the citizens of Brownsville the night of Aug. 13, 1906. Mr. Dvans talks freely of the incidents which led up to the tragedy and the reasonable deduction from his statement is that the negroes went to Brownsville hunting for trouble and with the determination to make the occasion for a row if it did not arise naturally.

It is the practice, at Brownsville, followed by all of the four saloons there, to serve the better class of Mexicans at the same bars frequented by the Americans. When the negroes came they drank pretty freely and separate bars were provided for them marked for "colored people." The distinction made between them and the Mexicans seemed to be an especial cause for offense.

There were a number of minor incidents which accentuated the ill feeling between the townspeople and the negroes and what was taken to be the intentionally rude jostling of white women on the streets, or even off the sidewalks, by passing negro soldiers, raised the bad blood to the fever point.

Soldiers Intoxicated One of the typical incidents told by Mr. Evans related the facts which led to some one knocking a negro soldier off the footway at the custom house, supposed to have been done by Mr. Tate, the the soldiers blamed Mr. Baker. Much else was said, all tending to indicate that with an fil start, going to Brownsville in a bad spirit, the negroes of the Twenty-fifth infantry were ripe for wrong doing and needed but little incentive to precipitate the deplorable tragedy which forced the removal of the negro troops to other posts and ultimately to their discharge from the army.

REAL ESTATE BARGAINS

IF YOU WANT A HOME in Mexico, read what the Cow Punchers of Texas have to say. We have 30,000 acres of the very richest lands, located on the Mexican Central railroad, at Los Esteros, thirty-three miles northwest of Tampico. It being a very short distrance from the gulf, we have an elegant gulf breeze, which makes the climate perfect and very healthful. This is where we are locating the La Palma Colony, which means in English the American Colony. The climate cannot be beaten on earth; it is never cold in winter or hot in summer. There is no such thing known as catarrh, asthma or any other throat or lung trouble, and no malaria. For health it cannot be beaten. Many truck farmers make as high as from $200 to $300 per acre on tomatoes and an orange grove three years old will produce fruit worth from $200 to $300 per acre. For further information address H. E. Diehl, owner, 9081/2 Main street, room 2, with the Bob Pyron Land Company, Fort Worth, Texas.

The funeral of Captain Lytle will not be attended by any of the officers of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association or by any of the prominent cattlemen from Fort Worth and vicinity, as they are almost all of them out of the city and could not be reached in time to get to San Antonio.

The message announcing the death of Captain Lytle was not received in this city until 9 o'clock Thursday night, too late to catch the night trains for San Antonio, while the morning trains were too late for the funeral.

Officers of the association were aff prevented from being present at the funeral, Colonel I. T. Pryor of San Antonio, president of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association, is in St. Louis at the present time. A telegram was sent to him Thursday night from the Cattle Raisers' Association office in this city and up to a late hour Friday afternoon nothing had been heard from Captain S. B. Burnett of this city, treasurer of the association, is at home ill and consequently could not attend the funeral. The members of the executive committee from this city are also absent from the city. George D. Reynolds is on his ranch in Pecos county and D. B. Gardner is also out of the city.

At the last meeting of the executive committee in this city in December resolutions were drawn up and passed expressing regret that Captain Lytle was unable to be present at the meeting of the association. At that time it was thought that he would recover within a short time.

Captain Lytle was a member of the San Antonio lodge of Elks and had never transferred his membership to this city. Winfield Scott is at present on his ranch, which is located some distance from the city. He was called up by The Telegram at noon Friday concerning the death of Captain Lytle, this being the first information that he had received on the subject. In speaking of Captain Lytle, Mr. Scott said: A Friend for Thirty-Five Years

STATEMENT BY

VIFWS ON TIVESTOCK

Why He Called Meeting for

In reference to the matter of the special session of the city council, Mayor Harris made this statement: "It was about 10 o'clock when I was called up at my home and notified that it was desired that a special meeting of the city council should be called. I answered, stating to the party phoning to make their request in writing, and leave it with the secretary and I would give it consideration so soon as I came to town this morning. "On my arrival the city secretary handed the request to me, signed by Aldermen Lehane. Cook and Lydon, I at once issued the call, setting the hour of the special meeting for 7:30 p. m.

Saturday

Jan. 12, instead of at 11 a. m. Jan. 11, as requested by the committee. My reason for this change was that I saw no necessity for such exceeding haste and upon telephoning to the home of Alderman Maddox was informed by his wife that he was out of the city, but would probably be back the last of the week. From what she said I thought it very probable that he would be in the city by 7:30 Jan. 12, and thought it entirely proper that there should be this delay to secure his attendance as he is the only alderman advocating the commission form of government, and was the only one who voted against the measures to which the veto related. "Again, I thought that since the three documents considered in the veto had for the first time come to the light after the city council met on Jan. 7 not even being filed with the secretary until after the meeting assembled and the citizens charter committee having never had any opportunity to express their wiews as to when or how or whether an election should be held, to vote upon the indorsement or rejection of their draft of charter and the hastily ordered election coming, as is well known, from the opposition to the charter proposed by the citizens committee, I thought it proper, as said committee also had a meeting called for 7:30 Jan. 12, to give said citizens committee some kind of opportunity to express its views or be consulted as to the time and manner of voting on it, if a vote should be taken. "In calling the special election at 7:30 on the 12th, I was acting within the scope of my discretion in that matter as to fixing the time of the special Meeting Friday Morning The action of Mayor Harris in calling a special session of the council to be held Saturday night, instead of Friday morning, was not satisfactory to a majority of the council, who took the bit in their mouths and decided to have a special session Friday morning, regardless of the mayor.

At the caucus Thursday night it was decided to ask for a meeting Friday morning and the request was made of the mayor, but he did not indicate that he would grant the request; in fact, the mayor's opponents believed he would not make the call as they requested, and to be ready in the event of his refusal a call was drawn up for a meeting at 11 a. m. Friday and signed by Aldermen Lehane, Zurn, Waggoman, Lydon Harrold and Cook, and Friday morning when the mayor made his call for a special session Saturday night served on the aldermen, the aldermanic call for a special session at 11 a. m. Friday was issued and notices served on members of the council by

Chief of Police Maddox. It was questioned by some of the aldermen who signed the call for the meeting at 11 a. m. Friday if the mayor would be present at the meeting. "But it makes no difference," said an alderman. "We can do what wa want to do without him. The session will be a short one-it will be: Act quick and go."

Why Mayor Harris delayed the special session of the council until Saturday night was discussed by aldermen Friday morning, but they all appeared to be at sea on the subject, and none

NEW YORK STOCKS

SUFFER SETBACK

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Jan. 11.-There was an extension in the reaction of stocks that was displayed at yesterday's close, This was reflected in many of the high-priced stocks, some of them makting considerable breaks. This was due particularly, it is thought, to the announcement of the Pennsylvania rafiroad to issue 200,000,000 additional* stock and bonds, which comes as an unpleasant surprise at this time and will probably be followed by renewed liquidation and short selling. This announcement soon caused a break of about $2 a share and the quotations were displaying a downward tendency to near the close. The coming week is expected to develop some important features when the stockholders are called on to ratify the increase of its capital stock. While there has from time to time been an intimation that the Pennsylvania would need a little more money, the present announcement comes as a stunning blow to this stock, while in the London dealings there are prices at 2 points below American parity, and it will not be a surprise i it should sell off to a much lower level. However, many think it will recover all lost ground before a great while, and have unbounded faith in it. A general break in the general market was partly the result of this announcement, but with few exceptions it was of small extent. The money outlook today was encouraging, and on the sharp reactions such stocks as Baltimore and Ohio, Reading, Atchison, Louisville and Nashville, Southern Railway, Missouri, Kansas and Texas, Rock Island, Erie, Steels, Copper Smelter and American Locomotive were cickly taken. The Harriman and Hr! stocks and St. Paul were moving slowiy. The bank statement to be issued tomorrow is expected to be favorable. This brought about conditions for sharp fluctuations in stocks. Total sales to noon were 606,000 shares. Quotations

Pennsylvania Announcement | Futures Slow and Dull-Good Spot Market

> Special to The Telegram. NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 11-The market opened steady and unchanged, with indications of some further depression in New York, trading was dull for some time following the opening. Cotton is piling up at this port, as well as at Galveston, and in spite of the record breaking export movement, it does not look as if cotton should be hard to buy. There is perhaps just enough doubt as to whether the consumption of the world will be able to digest such enormous quantities as are now coming to hand to make many of the professional operators more cautious until more definite information can be had on this point. This accounts to an extent for the bull business in the markets at this time. Futures were well supported around the opening quotations, which was supported by the confidence in the spot situation, but the buying was soon knocked out by the weakness which developed late in the session at New York. The prospects for an unfavorable into sight statement added to the draggy state of the market, tho this was to an extent offset by a builish spinners' takings, which is reported to show up in the statement tonight. NEW YORK COTTON WAS VERY OUIET

Large Receipts Influence Low Prices

Special to The Telegran NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The New York market was a very dull and slow one, and very little activity was shown. | Fe The spot situation seemed to be less animated as a market influence, and it is daily growing more difficult to . reconcile the reports of the difficulty reported to be had in securing cotton. With such enormous port receipts as the figures show from day to day, this is becoming one of the puzzling features of the trade. Unless there is a quick and radical change in the movement lower prices are looked for by the professional traders. Speculation is at a standstill and no revival of the speculative interest is looked for until prices are more attractive to buyers or until the long looked for falling off in the movement is seen. Professionals seem to believe as firmly as ever in the trade conditions, however, and the supply indicated by the ginning figures, but the market is temporarily under the influence of the enormous movement, as well as the absence of speculation. There is little in the present outlook to stimulate the dormant bullish influence and inspire confidence. The weekly crop movement for the present weak, issued today, gives the overland figures at 55,681 compared to 23,966 last year and 32,686 in 1905. Movement since Sept. 1, 641,787 against 471,343 fast year and 583,597 in 1905. LIGHT MOVEMENT

Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO Jan. 11.-The opening of the grain market was about steady, but a stronger market soon developed. Light northwest movement was responsible for the new strength. English cables came in unchanged to %d lower on wheat, and corn unchanged, with the car lot receipts somewhat under the estimate. The weather over the wheat belt was somewhat unsettled, with a little higher temperature thru the West. The conditions brought quite a liberal covering by shorts in all the pits when the offerings were made at the current bids. The stocks of grain are not increasing, and the demand is good. The sentiment in the wheat pit was even more bullish and a good demand was in evidence all thru the session. The light Argentine shipments advanced the bullish sentiment, tho the market eased off some toward the last half of the session, on profit-taking sales, but made a quick rally on an increased demand by commission houses. The milling trade is said to have a seant supply, and is making strong bids for good milling wheat. There was a continuous strong demand for corn, and trading in the pits was quite active. Both commission houses and local shorts were good buyers. The market was steady, and attended by a strong bullish sentiment. Oats maintained a strong undertone, which was influenced by the strength in corn and wheat. The prices remained firm thruout the entire day's

-session. Today's nog movement was very large compared to the movement of the past few weeks, and provisions were some lower as a result. Ribs and lard were sold by the stock yards interests, while representatives of English houses were sellers of pork. Larger packers, who bought yesterday, did not support the market today.

Great Northern Again Postpones Closing of its Books By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan, 11.—Owing too no decision having been handed down by the Minnesota courts in the action by which the attorney general of the state would enjoin the Great Northern Railway Company from issuing its preposed $60,000,000 of new stock, the company is obliged again to postpone closing its books relative to the issue The books were to have been closed yesterday, but they will now be kept open until Jan. 15. The date of the first payment on the new stock has been advanced from Jan. 14 to Jan. 18. The stock exchange issued notice yesterday that the day for settlement of Northern Pacific rights, which was set for today, has been put over until Jan. 14.

CATTLE SUPPLY IS MODERATE

Prices for Grass and Fed Cattle Active

The usual moderate Friday run of cattle came in today. Receipts running close to fifty cars. Supplies of steers fair, including both grass and fed cattle. Trading rules active and fully steady. Butcher stock was in fair supply. Demand good, trading active and steady. Calf receipts were light, quality good, trading unchanged. Tops sell at $5.25.

Hog supply was fairly liberal. Best hogs find active outlet at steady prices; others slow. Tops sell at a moderate supply of cattle in the pens today. Thirty-four cars were in the pens during the early hours, with but few reported back. Steers made up a fair portion of the run, but still receipts were light. The supply included several droves of fairly well finished fed cattle; there was also some fair quality grassers and feeders, but nothing of a strictly toppy nature arrived. Trading opened with an active demand from local packers and feeder buyers, and a clearance was made on the moderate supply at steady prices.
