

LAW TREATS ALL ALIKE

Every Family Can Have Its Own Distillery

NO LIMIT AT ALL

A Still May Produce Five Gallons or 500 Gallons Daily Under the New Law

By Associated Press. SUPERIOR, Wis., Jan. 12.—The Telegram today prints a lengthy report by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Yerkes, made at the special request of President Roosevelt, as the result of charges made against Yerkes' department. The paper charged that the department had been working against the law permitting the distilling of denatured alcohol and further charged that the law was no good any way, because it compelled the distiller to produce at least 500 gallons per day.

In his report to the President Mr. Yerkes contradicts both these points. He declares there is absolutely no limit, that a still may produce five gallons or five hundred gallons, that the small distiller is placed under no disadvantage under the law. He declares he never attempted to head off legislation in this respect, but had been supporting the move for four years past.

SEPARATE SUITS FOR INSURANCE

Court Decision Hinged Upon A Punctuation Mark

By Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 12.—The North German Insurance Company of Hamburg, which has been ordered by the German court to pay the claims against it, held risks to the amount of $4,000,000 in the big fire of last April. The company denied all liability on the ground of an earthquake clause in its policies and has paid no claims. The company was sued in the German courts with the result above. It is understood that the decision hinged upon the position of a comma or semicolon in the clause and the interpretation of it in view of the punctuation or error in punctuation.

Many feudists have left town to remain for a week, when the case of Judge James Carnes will be reopened, unless Judge Carnes is permanently enjoined from trying the case. Longmyer of battery A, of Frankfort, has been notified to have his men ready to go to Jackson at the shortest notice. General Roger D. Williams of this city says the troops may not be needed, but he has ordered a local company of militia to be ready.

DUNCAN OPENS BAILEY CASE

Tyler Representative Defends Resolution for Inquiry

GALLERIES FULL

Large Crowd to Hear Beginning of Battle Over Senatorship of Texas

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 12.—Judge Duncan of Smith county occupied the floor of the house this morning and by his eloquence and arguments brought forth storm after storm of applause from both the house and gallery when he touched upon the Bailey investigation resolution. He offered amendments which would even make the proposed investigation more sweeping, showing that the investigators are lined up for a fight to the finish. Duncan spoke from shortly after 10:30 o'clock until after 2 o'clock when he asked for recess until 2 o'clock. His masterful statement of Senator Bailey's case is believed to have won new friends in the house for the investigation resolution. Duncan is to conclude his address this afternoon and Hume of Harris will state the position of Bailey. Bailey's friends who gathered at the house this morning were excluded from the floor and forced to flock to the galleries. Four Hours Each. The hour of 10:30 arriving, the speaker made the announcement that the special order was the house resolution regarding the Bailey matter. Mr. O'Brien introduced a privileged resolution regarding the arrangements for the election of United States senator by the house and senate. Adopted. Judge Duncan speaking to the Bailey resolution asked about the time allowed for each side of the controversy. The speaker announced that he would give each side four hours to present their arguments. Mr. Kenney introduced the substitute resolution which was read by the clerk. Messrs. O'Brien and Hamilton, fighting for time, asked that the original resolution be read again, which was done. While the resolutions were being read the galleries began to rapidly fill, the floor rules being rigidly enforced. A habit of senators entering the house and taking seats to hear the debate. Judge Duncan began his address at 11:05 o'clock. He said the scope of discussion should cover the original resolutions, the substitute and the amendments, of which he will give notice. He claimed right for his side to first offer amendments to perfect the resolution. He asked that the amendment was to add the words, "or a loan if not" to the resolution; second, to provide that the committee of investigation can sit in St. Louis, New York or elsewhere; and third, that the committee be allowed to sit in such cities as may be found necessary.

Judge Duncan said that 150 years was hardly the callow youth of this great nation, and that things that finally destroy men began during youth. In voting on the senatorship he said it was his duty to recognize the official position and of his personal inclination. Judge Duncan read a telegram from Waxahachie, in which five prominent Democrats said they approved his course. The telegram follows: "Waxahachie, Texas, Jan. 12.—We firmly believe a large majority of our voters join in approving your course. (Signed) J. H. Davis, J. W. Singleton, O. K. Dunlap." On motion of Mr. Duncan the house adjourned until 2 o'clock.

Judge Duncan's third amendment proposed that the expenses of the committee be paid out of contingent expenses of the house. Duncan said no one is prepared to prejudice or patronize the charges against Bailey in public speeches and prints. Duncan said he hoped never to see the day when the legislature would refuse to pass upon the full facts of the matter. He referred to the statement that he had been selected to lead the fight against Bailey. He said: "I have been leading no fight against Bailey or Mr. Davy. There is no fight. The term does not belong to the proceeding. Upon the hypothesis that Mr. Bailey is innocent, I am leading the fight for innocent. Upon the hypothesis that Mr. Bailey is guilty you are leading the fight against him. "He who hath his quarrel just is"

MISSOURI MAN TO BE DEMOCRATIC LEADER IN HOUSE

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Washington says: "There is to be a great revolution in the Democratic political camp. Pledges have been given which insure the selection of Champ Clark of Missouri to be Democratic leader in the house of representatives and the party candidate for speaker in place of John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, the present leader. The campaign for the deposition of Williams has been going on quiet for a long time, and now pledges from old members, who have been elected to the Sixtieth congress and from new ones, who will come into the house at the same time, have reached a number sufficient to insure the control of the Democratic caucus in behalf of the Missouri representative. This change is of immense importance, because it involves a great deal in the way of presidential politics, as the Democratic candidate for speaker will not be proposed until just before the opening of the first session of the next congress in December next. From that time on candidates for the presidency will be named in different states and the influence of Democratic representatives in congress will have a good deal to do to electing the nominee. Mr. Williams' friends do not give up the fight yet, but there is every reason to believe the pledges for Clark now constitute a clear majority of the caucus."

CZAR OF RUSSIA EXPECTS DEATH

Web of Terrorists Is Rapidly Drawing Nearer

LIST OF THOSE KILLED

"A Life for a Life" Is the Slogan of Band Which Is Organized to Wipe Out "Enemies of the People"

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The web of terrorists is rapidly drawing nearer the czar and reports from St. Petersburg declare that he is in a state of collapse. "Famagusta" Pavloff's assassin, who, aided by a friend in the emperor's service, calmly walked up to the military procurator and on the pretext of handing him a report, fired seven shots into his body, has struck terror to the hearts of not only the czar himself, but his chief advisers. Convinced that the murderers have accomplished every department of the government, the terrible question that confronts the terror stricken bureaucrats is "who is to be next?" "Famagusta" Pavloff organized to wipe out the "enemies of the people" seemingly will stop at nothing. "A life for a life" is the slogan. Already several members of the terrorists have ended their lives, failing to carry out commissions of death assigned to them. The death roll includes every official who has wielded the slightest influence of his office against the assassins. Twenty-seven persons are on the list. Today Vice Admiral Douboassoff, former governor general of Moscow, and at present a member of the council of the empire, received notification that another attempt would be made on his life. Since last August the following officials have been killed by the terrorists: General Min, commander of the guard; shot by a girl. General Dimitri Treppoff, commander of the imperial palace, slain by poison. General Alexis Ignatieff, shot at Tver. General Von Der Lantitz, prefect of police of St. Petersburg, most powerful man in Russia; shot. General Pavloff, military public procurator, shot. General Andrieff chief of gendarmes at Lodz.

It calls for: "An investigation of the two houses of congress of the relations between organized labor and the railroads, with especial reference to the number of accidents which occur annually. "Consideration of the question whether the government can supervise stock issues such as those recently made by the St. Paul for $100,000,000, the Great Northern for $60,000,000 and as now proposed by the Pennsylvania for $200,000,000. TO CONFER UPON LABOR QUESTION

Conference at Handsome Potter Palmer Mansion

GREAT MANY DELEGATES

Conciliatory Methods to Take Place of Strikes and Lock-outs in the Labor World

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 12.—August Belmont, president of the National Civic Federation, and Seth Low, chairman of the conciliation department, will arrive here today to attend the meeting of employers and employees at the residence of Mrs. Potter Palmer tonight. The meeting will be presided over by Franklin Mac Veagh and promises to be the largest gathering of laboring men and employers that was ever held in Chicago. Up to last night invitations had been accepted by 550 persons. Of the number of acceptances received, between 175 and 200 are from labor union officials. About an equal number of prominent manufacturers have promised to attend and business men have manifested great interest in the meeting. While the chief purpose of the meeting is to explain to employers and employees the aim and objects of the National Civic Federation with a view to establishing a branch in Chicago, it is not expected one will be organized immediately. The date for opening a branch will be determined largely by the result of tonight's meeting and the attitude of employers toward the project. Little or no opposition is expected from the labor unions. The latter declare they are always ready to meet with employers in a friendly spirit and if anything can be launched that will substitute conciliation for strikes and lockouts they are ready to welcome it. The objects of the federation, it is asserted, have been misunderstood by employers and labor unions alike. The federation does not attempt to act as an arbitration board to settle labor disputes. The policy of the federation is to bring the parties in interest to settle their differences between themselves, but it frequently happens in a strike that one side refuses to meet the representatives of the other and the strike continues. The federation in such cases aims to conciliate the employing side thru the labor unions. CALLS TEDDY A LYNCHER

Tillman Talks in Senate on the Brownsville Incident

VIOLENT ADDRESS

Fiery Southern Senator Brandishes His Pitchfork and Defies "Big Stick"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Senator Tillman spoke on the Brownsville incident in the senate today. He characterized the President's action in the matter "as nothing more nor less than lynching." He challenged any one to produce in the army regulations or the articles of war any foundation for the charge of conspiracy of silence, mutiny and treason made against the soldiers, altho he declared there was no doubt but that soldiers were responsible for the "outrage at Brownsville." Mr. Tillman held that it was contrary to English and American liberty under English and American law that the innocent should suffer because of the sins of the guilty, also he declared that a man shall be considered innocent until he is proved guilty. In this case, he said, 167 men have been punished while not more than twenty have been charged with participation in the crime. Mr. Tillman maintained that the negro troops should not have been sent to Texas. They were sent there, he said, against the protest of one of the Texas senators and the congressman from that district. They were sent there, he continued, by a wholly inadequate number of officers, as there were only five officers for three companies. "This was done," Mr. Tillman exclaimed, "without any thought of care on the part of the President or the secretary of war as to the results. The first fault has been committed by the President and the secretary of war. It is my duty to protect the negroes and punish the citizens by abandoning the fort. "Especially Major Penrose and Captain Macklin. Mr. Tillman said he had shown to have acted with gross negligence and incompetency. "All the soldiers who got in trouble were from Macklin's company," said Mr. Tillman, who added that Macklin did not believe that a negro had seized Mrs. Evans by the hair and that he made no employees of the soldiers. This, it is believed, raised the question as to whether Captain Macklin was in sympathy with the men in their scheme of desertion. Turning his attention to Senator Foraker, Mr. Tillman declared the Ohio senator had belittled himself by explaining tonight by Mr. Belmont, the work of the federation will be explained tonight by Mr. Belmont to the employers, while W. D. Mahon, Daniel J. Keefe and W. S. Stone will speak from the labor standpoint and Mr. Low will show the interests of the general public in averting industrial conflicts.

CHILD TESTIFIES AGAINST FATHER

"My Papa Shot My Mamma," Says 5-Year-Old Girl

JOPLIN, Mo., Jan. 12.—"My papa shot my mamma," declared 5-year-old Pototia Troy, whose father, Fred W. Troy, will be given a preliminary trial today on a charge of murdering his young wife, whom he accused of unfaithfulness. The little girl was the only witness of the crime and will be the chief witness against her father. Troy, who is a portrait painter, will undoubtedly be held to answer to a charge of murder in the first degree. Troy shot his wife on New Year's day, inflicting wounds in the head and breast from which she died two hours later. Directly afterward the assassin shot and seriously wounded Ralph Guinn, whom he accused of having had improper relations with his wife. The Troys came here from Denver. The artist is said to have been intensely jealous and his wife had lived in deadly fear of him for years. Ralph Guinn, who was shot by Troy, denies the allegations of the latter, and declares that he had barely a speaking acquaintance with Mrs. Troy.

MONEY MARKET

Events of Week Chilled Confidence in Early Relaxation

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Speculative sentiment on the stock exchange has been depressed by the course of the interstate commerce commission's inquiry into the Harriman railroads and by evidence of hostile measures against corporations by some of the state governments. The growing volume of capital requirements has also had a potent effect on sentiment, which culminated in the unexpected announcement of the intended increase of $100,000,000 each of stocks and bonds by the Pennsylvania railroad. These huge requirements ahead of the money market and the retention of the bank of England discount rate chilled the confidence in an early relaxation in the money market.

HIGHBINDER BUSY

Four Chinamen Wounded in a General Fusillade That Followed Killing

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 12.—One Chinaman was killed and four wounded in a highbinder outbreak in Chinatown last night. The trouble opened with the assassination of Lee Book Dong, a capitalist. Dong was shot while he was seated at the supper table in his home. Two Chinese were admitted to the room where Dong was eating and each fired one shot from a revolver and disappeared. Both bullets struck Dong and he died almost instantly. A short time later a fusillade was commenced in the Chinese quarters. The killing of Dong seemed to have been the signal for a general fight. Before the shooting ceased four Chinese had been shot and more or less seriously wounded. The Hop Sing and Ping Hongs were involved in the outbreak. A police report is due to a quarrel among the Chinese over Ah Koo, a girl who lives at Dong's house.

JAPS HAVE SECRET STORE OF YEARS FOOD SUPPLY

which the authorities report, is also noteworthy, especially in view of the recent arrivals of Japanese troops in the guise of coolies. So secret have the methods of the accumulation of rice been kept that even Chinese dealers are ignorant of the real situation and claim that the importation of Japanese rice has ceased because of the increase in the demand of Hawaiian-grown rice. Inquiry shows that in 1905 about 5,600,000 pounds of rice was brought over, while in 1906 there were 26,600,000 pounds imported. Despite this the market continues unchanged. This commodity is not the only kind of foodstuff that has been brought in and secured. The customs receipts for the last six months show an astonishing increase.

FIRE AT KENNEDALE

Forty-Three Bales of Cotton Destroyed. Loss $2,500.

KENNEDALE, Texas, Jan. 12.—Forty-three bales of cotton standing near the station platform at Kennedale were completely consumed by fire Friday night at 11 o'clock. Loss was between $2,500 and $3,000. The fire was thought to have been started by a passing train.

The cotton burned was sold by J. M. Eates to J. M. Knight of Mansfield and shipped to Waxahatchie, and the bill of lading for it had just been received Friday afternoon. The cotton was standing near the freight platform, which was itself filled with other cotton, all of which was however saved. There were about fifty bales on the platform and these were rolled away from the scene of the conflagration.

Altho starting before midnight, the fire continued to burn all night, and on Saturday morning the remains of the cotton were still blazing, leaving nothing but charred remains.

NEW MATERIAL HERE

Telegram Plant Equipment Being Replaced.

The Telegram is glad to be able to announce to its readers in this issue that material for its press damaged by the recent fire has finally been secured from St. Louis, and that with this on hand a great part of the obstacles which have delayed the printing of the paper have been removed.

Several hundred pounds of equipment was received by express from St. Louis Saturday and more is to follow. It is costing a great deal of money to get these shipments by express, but the Telegram believes its readers are entitled to the best service as quickly as possible regardless of cost.

Here's a word of further encouragement for patient waiters during the past week. The Telegram is now at work on a combination of better ink and paper by means of which, within a short time it hopes to turn out the best printed newspaper in Texas.

EXPERIENCE OF STEAMER PONCE

Passengers Had Good Time When Assured of Safety

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Dispatches from Hamilton, Bermuda, narrating the experience of the New York and Porto Rico steamer Ponce, which was washed and towed to this port yesterday by the German steamer Elisabeth Rickmers, say the Ponce had an unenviable voyage. The Ponce left Porto Rico the day after Christmas with a full cargo of general merchandise. In the middle of the afternoon, Dec. 28, on a heavy sea, she was due at New York, the tall end of her shaft broke. Thru a stiff gale that was blowing, the Ponce was blown and during the night, the wind and after much difficulty secured what was left of the shaft and thus prevented what might have been a disaster. While the ship was thus adrift, when only about 250 miles from New York, the storm grew in violence and she was soon borne far out of her course. This drifting lasted about a week and during that time another storm was encountered. Thanks, however, to the seamanship and courage of the officers, the Ponce escaped damage. Easterly and southerly winds prevailing drove the crippled little lines backward on a zigzag course to the southeastward, but southerly winds would change and set her again on her home port course. Captain Harvey called attention to the fact that the vessel was in sore straits, and told them not to worry, but to enjoy themselves. It would be a matter of a few days, he said, before the Ponce would be picked up. The passengers, by and large, were very cheerful. The Ponce was well provisioned and this fact, with various amusements which they got up, kept the passengers from anxiety. The Ponce flew a signal of distress daily and manifested its troubles by lights nightly for more than a week. The Ponce was friendly and on the night of Jan. 7, when tossed and hampered, the Ponce was close on to 400 miles from Bermuda, she Rickmers' ship. She turned her maiden voyage to the far east, from Philadelphia, "picked up" by an American light vessel in a gale in the Ponce. The sea was heavy, but the Rickmers signaled her to stand by until morning. She did to the accompaniment of a cheer and with gratitude from the reeling decks of the Ponce.

LOCAL OPTION

Oklahoma Prohibitionists Count on Women's Votes.

SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM. OKLAHOMA, Jan. 12.—Robert L. Owens of Muskogee, democratic candidate for the United States senate, claims to have the pledges of fifty-seven delegates to the national convention for women's suffrage, or enough to insert such a provision. He should say that the publication adopted many prohibitionists are ready to adopt the Texas county local option plan, feeling that they can make the counties dry with the women's votes.

"I am doubly armed," he continued, and demanded an investigation as broad and as deep as truth.

His flight of oratory and points scored on the opposition brought forth applause from the house and gallery. He commented upon Senator Bailey's denials and his attitude toward the investigation, and demanded a full investigation and compared that attitude with the willingness of the common people to be investigated. Duncan fought the Kennedy resolution on the ground that it restricted investigation and said that he proposed to do otherwise.

Duncan told the story of a man who suspected another man of having something stolen concealed in his house. He looked over the man's shoulders under sofa chairs and then discovered the door to a room he had not looked into. I started to knock in and along the wall were rushes to me and says, "It's not in there; you can't go in that room."

Cheers and applause greeted the telling of this story.

Critics Senate

The speaker said the senate was originally intended to be check upon the house of representatives, but now it has proven to be a check upon the people of the country.

"Where is the secret of that power?" he asked. "It is in Wall street and in the millionaire clubs. It is the money and the money power of the country and the purpose of this body, saying that it meant the gradual subversion of the common people. He told of the different groups of money kings in America and criticized Senator Clark of Montana. "If it be treason, to make the most of the money of the country, then it is treason to the people."

Judge Duncan told of Clark's fight to get into the senate and drew from it the clever means devised to secure votes of legislators. He asked the question: "When a democrat wakes up from his slumber and finds over his head a rotten corpse, should he put that corpse back in the place it had honored?"

He said the opposition did not even want the voter to smell the corpse to see if it were dead or alive. The speaker asked if Senator Bailey's official conduct but of his private acts. Do they want an investigation? If so let them make specific charges and name the witnesses and if think they can get one. Do they want it?"

Both Invited

Senator J. W. Bailey and Attorney General Davidson have both been invited to appear before the senate committee on privileges and elections next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock to address that committee relative to the resolution introduced by Senator Senter yesterday in the senate and signed by several other members thereof, providing for an investigation of the charges against Senator Bailey and the charges against Attorney General Davidson. The committee has set that time in which to consider this resolution.

COKE BEHIND DUNCAN

The fight so far over the Bailey question is a parliamentary one and the wit and wisdom of those who represent both sides of the controversy is called forth. During the running debate Representative Coke stands beside Judge Duncan and quietly makes charges pending against Mr. Bailey and many speeches, nor has he been recognized frequently by the chair. He preferred to make charges against Mr. Bailey, the floor fighting over to an expert and is devoting his time to the organization of the pro-investigation forces. Coke admitted that he has made an excellent start and his efforts in the house, of course, supplement the charges that he has made upon the Baileyites by surprise.

Investigation Caucus

A largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of the pro-investigation forces last night the senatorial controversy was gone over quite thoroughly and the conclusion thereof the following address to the public was adopted:

The result of the test ballot today showed that an overwhelming majority of the members of the house favor a thorough and complete investigation of the charges pending against Mr. Bailey and also shows the desperate straits to which the opposition has been reduced. American light vessels have been ordered in view of the suggestion that the senate may be in doubt. It is proper to advise the public that the compromise or the decision to pending matters, held under advisement.

PANAMA CANAL
BIDS ARE OPENED

Letting Contract for World's Greatest Project
DECISION IS RESERVED
Bids Said to Average About $100,000,000—All May Be Rejected and Competition Extended

Special to The Telegram.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—At the office of the Panama canal commission at noon today sealed bids were opened for the construction of the isthmian canal, the greatest project of modern times. It is stated that all the bids average about $100,000,000. The commission will probably require some time for consideration of the proposals before arriving at a decision. It is possible that all bids will be rejected, and in that case the commission will either throw the competition open to foreign bidders or the government will itself undertake the work. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a bond of $2,000,000 in case the work is not carried out satisfactorily the contractor will be liable to the loss of percentage and premiums and $3,000,000 in addition. The contractor will not be held responsible for the use of defective materials, provided same have been approved by the government's chief engineer in charge of construction. The agreement also provides for a possible change in the estimated cost and time of construction in case material alterations are made in the plans and specifications, or if it shall be found that estimates were based on erroneous data, or in case of any great catastrophe for which the contractor is not responsible.

Under the terms of the contract the government will supply all the permanent plants and will furnish most of the material. The successful bidder will be required to furnish only the men and the minor machinery and tools and to do the work within an estimated time and at an agreed cost. Premiums will be given in case the work is performed in less time or at a lesser cost than provided in the contract, while heavy penalties will attach for a violation of the contract in regard to time and price without adequate reason. The act of congress providing for the building of the canal authorizes the expenditure of $145,000,000 for that purpose. According to the estimate of the international board of consulting engineers, the three-lock, eighty-five foot level canal will cost for construction about $130,000,000. In addition to this, millions of dollars will necessarily be spent in the administration and sanitation of the canal zone, in addition to many other smaller expenses aside from the actual construction work. Many engineers who have investigated the subject declare that the original appropriation will be inadequate and that many millions of dollars more will be required before the work is completed.

Up to date there have been expended for all purposes connected with the canal about $30,000,000, including $40,000,000 for the franchise and Panama railroad, $10,000,000 paid the Colombian government, $10,000,000 for a permanent plant, $5,000,000 for actual construction work, $4,000,000 for material supplies, $2,500,000 for sanitation, $2,000,000 for waterworks, sewerage and railroad equipment, $1,000,000 for administration purposes, and $500,000 for engineering and surveying expenses. Of this sum only about $15,000,000 are charged to the actual canal work, to be paid out of the $145,000,000 appropriated by congress.

All of the bidders are corporations formed by several contracting companies, including those who have worked at dredging, excavating, dry earth, heavy concrete construction and dam building. No single contracting firm in this country has ever undertaken to do all the various kinds of work involved in the building of the canal, and few if any have sufficient capital to undertake such a contract. The government, for convenience in making the contract, has required these groups to be incorporated as a single concern with sufficient capital to undertake the work, but each company will do its work practically independent of the others and will be entitled to an agreed percentage upon the entire cost of the work. Should any penalties attach for failure to properly perform any portion of the contract, however, the government will hold all the contractors organized as a corporation, responsible for the loss. It was the original intention of the government to perform the work, but the commission soon discovered that all the best and most experienced engineers were in the employ of private contractors and that their aid would be necessary to a successful completion of the undertaking. Nearly all great modern construction works have been done by contract, including such gigantic projects as the Suez canal, the Pennsylvania railroad tunnels, the Chicago drainage canal and the Manchester ship canal.

To Vote on Railroad Bill
Special to The Telegram.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The bill introduced by Senator LaFollette, limiting the hours of continuous employment of railroad men in service to six hours, will be voted on today. The measure has received the enthusiastic support of Edward A. Mosely of the interstate commerce commission, whose figures in relation to accidents on railroads during the last year have shown the necessity for such a law. The railroad men are fighting the bill and hope to defeat its effectiveness with amendments.

TAFT FAMILY IS NOW INTERESTED

Secretary of War Contemplating Trip to Texas

Special to The Telegram.
SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, Jan. 12.—It is stated that Arthur E. Stillwell has succeeded in interesting the Taft family, including the secretary of war, Charles F. Taft, and Charles Taft of Cincinnati, in the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad, and especially in the proposed extension from San Antonio to Spofford and from there thru Cotulla to Sinton on the San Antonio and Aransas Pass. The extension would practically bisect the great Taft ranch of 100,000 acres and make it readily available for colonization by farmers from the north. The Tafts will visit Texas some time in February to personally look after the project. It was only a few weeks ago that Mrs. Taft, wife of Secretary of War Taft, gave the bonus which insured the building of a road from Cotulla on the International and Great Northern to Carrizo Springs, the heart of the onion belt. The Tafts are also to establish at Sinton a great cotton mill and expect to raise on the portion of the 100,000 acres of land which is to be put in
