TERRORISTS CAUSE PANIC

Death Dealing Revolutionists to Be Executed First and Tried Afterward

Special to The Telegram.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 12.—The killing of four policemen and the wounding of several others in a raid on a meeting place of terrorists marks a new phase in the revolutionary movement in Russia and one which is giving the authorities no little concern.

Henceforth it has not been the custom of the suspects to resist the police peacefully with arms. In view of the bloody battle of today the terrorists are encouraged, and declare that the police must prepare to die and be killed whenever a raid is made.

Today's tragic occurrence was the result of a plot to kill Count Witte. In some manner the former premier was informed that two men had been designated to kill him and secured pictures of the "executioners."

When he saw the originals of the pictures loitering about his house he notified the police, and a force of policemen were thrown about the house to prevent the escape of any of the inmates.

Accounts differ as to what happened when an attempt was made to force an entrance to the house. One report has it that there were many men in the place and they drove the police away and disappeared before reinforcements could be secured.

The search of their quarters, it is said, was a very revealing one. A list of other notal men were found, all of whom were doomed to death. Papers were also found, it is understood, which will lead to the arrest of a number of active terrorists.

When the firing had ceased it was found that four officers had been killed, three seriously, if not fatally wounded, while several others received slight wounds.

Hardly one of the party about the door passed unscathed, through the bullet holes, and the bodies of the victims left by the terrorists was found to be of the latest automatic pattern and far superior a weapon to the Russian service revolver.

The assassination of Colonel Andrieff has caused a veritable panic in official Russia. No official from the czar's office is permitted to appear in public, and it is believed that the whole empire is covered by the operations of the terrorists.

The panic has caused the czar to issue orders, advised by the czar himself, have been issued that no mercy is to be shown to suspected terrorists. They are to be executed first and tried afterward.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—Athletics in the "Big Nine" will continue on the ultra team basis for another year, at least. At the meeting of the athletic commission of the conference of colleges held at the Auditorium today, all of the new contracts passed at the November meeting of the association were reported and athletics put back on the basis of the present season. The rule to lengthen the football season from five to seven months was rejected by a vote of 12 to 1.

The retroactive feature of the eligibility rule was defeated, the vote being five for and four against, a two-thirds vote being necessary to pass the article. The rule to apply the three-year clause to the major sports was defeated by a similar vote.

COMANCHE, Texas, Jan. 12.—John Bryson of Comanche will at an early date begin the erection of a very fine gin at Blanket, sixteen miles west of Comanche, which he expects to have in operation by the beginning of the next cotton season. About 1,500 bales of cotton were turned away from Blanket, this season on account of the gins not being able to gin them.

THE JUNGLE MAN'S REFORM IDEAS

Upton Sinclair Gives His Platform in Interview

Foremost Socialists

Harriman, Roosevelt and Carnegie Are Most Illustrious Examples of Socialism

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Theodore Roosevelt, Andrew Carnegie and Edward Harriman are the three foremost socialists of the United States, according to Upton Sinclair. The author of "The Jungle" quotes Mr. Harriman in the lead, the President next and Mr. Carnegie third.

Mr. Sinclair made this surprising statement today in "Halcyon Hall," Englewood, N. J., the headquarters of his new socialist colony which now has forty-six members. Mr. Sinclair had been asked for an expression of Mr. Carnegie's ideas of accumulating great fortunes. "I am quite sure Mr. Carnegie does not want the history of his industrial victories put down in black and white. The steel king has written himself down as a great socialist but not the greatest. Mr. Harriman is the greatest and then comes President Roosevelt."

"Mr. Harriman comes first because he is concentrating everything. That is what socialists want, because he is the big fish in the present brutal, ruthless game. As a matter of fact, the big fish gobble the little ones, Harriman is gobbling them all. In this country the American people will not support a man who has written himself down as a great socialist but not the greatest. Mr. Harriman is the greatest and then comes President Roosevelt."

"I see Mr. Carnegie humbly deprecates the claim of the merely wealthy to fame. They have no place with educated men and they occupy a lower plane intellectually, he says. And in the coming day, he says, we shall have above dollars and conduct above both, he says.

"Sometime ago I went to Pittsburgh to study the steel industry. I heard a great deal about Mr. Carnegie. I talked to his workmen, his superintendents and the foremen—the men who knew him when he was gathering his millions. No man, Mr. Carnegie does not want the world to know how he became so rich.

"Some day character will count. You say that the soul counts. Mr. Carnegie's credit for his intelligence and enterprise and if this were not the source of his wealth. My observation has been that the man who has a certain limit, whether in life or in bequeathed in death so that it will be impossible for the owners of enormous fortunes to hand more than a certain amount to their heirs."

"Mr. Carnegie missed the main point—they all do. What will the state do with all this wealth? Mr. Carnegie would force the state to become a competitor and the state would have to swallow the little fish to preserve itself. It would be impossible to fix any amount at which a man must stop. The thing to do is to prevent men from obtaining great fortunes. Why not abolish the tariff, lower the railroad rates, reduce the price of wheat and other things that would pile up in the hands of the already immensely rich."

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 12.—Because the federal government has failed to promptly pay the first $50 per capita due them as a result of the sale of their lands in the ceded portion of the reservation, the Shoshone Indians have sent a delegation to Washington to see the great father about the matter.

The delegation left Lander, Wyo., without the permission of Superintendent Wadsworth or of the bureau of Indian affairs.

Judge Uic, leader of the tribe, demands the President be asked to rescind the order prohibiting the sun dance, a species of frivolity which has been prohibited along with the ghost dance and other similar forms of amusement, believed by the Indian service, to put intellectual crimps in the savage mentality. REWARD FOR W. S. TAYLOR

Socialists Plan to Kidnap Former Kentucky Governor

TO BE TEST CASE

Case of Alleged Conspirators Against Idaho's Governor Said to Be Similar

Special to The Telegram.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 12.—Socialists plan to kidnap Wm. S. Taylor, former governor of Kentucky with the idea of taking him from Indianapolis to Kentucky to be delivered to the Kentucky officials on the charge of murdering the late Wm. Goebel, who was assassinated while making a contest for Governor Taylor's seat in 1900.

The "Appeal to Reason," a socialist newspaper, offers $1,000 reward to any person who will send bag and kidnap Mr. Taylor and take the fugitive politician to Kentucky.

The kidnaping scheme is intended to be carried out as a test of the recent ruling of the superior court of the United States in the Moyer-Haywood case. Moyer, Pettibone, Haywood, and other members of the Western Federation of Miners, in Colorado, were charged with complicity in the murder of Governor Steunberger, who was killed in a contest for the governorship of Colorado, or as the socialists and union men assert, were "kidnaped" to be tried in another state. The United States supreme court ruled that there was no violation of arrest and deportation by force or with connivance and fraud, of these socialistic workmen. It is the purpose of the socialists to put the Taylor case up to the United States supreme court in the same way.

When asked what he thought about the offer of a reward to anyone who would kidnap him, Mr. Taylor said: "Altho I wish to be courteous to the newspapers, I think it would be best for me to make no statement about this matter. My situation is very delicate and it is the best plan, I think, for me to talk as little as possible about my little troubles and to take a philosophical attitude concerning my situation."

Mr. Taylor did not seem annoyed by the reward offered.

Awful Fate of One of Seventeen Victims of Disaster

Special to The Telegram.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 12.—The last body remaining at the morgue of the victims of the Eliza furnace disaster was identified this afternoon as that of John D. Zuriza. It is now said that every man that was at work at the furnace at the time of the disaster has been accounted for and is either dead or in one of the local hospitals. According to the coroner's report eleven men lost their lives in the explosion. The company officials said that one man jumped into the ladle filled with molten metal and that it was impossible to find even a trace of him. This makes twelve dead. Of those in the hospitals it is said that five cannot live.

PLOTS TO TAMPER WITH GRAND JURY

Efforts to Aid Banker John R. Walsh in Chicago

Special to The Telegram.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 12.—Secret service agents of the government unearthed plots to tamper with the John R. Walsh special grand jury and two private detectives were ejected from the federal building by government officers, who had trapped them. The detectives are using every means in their power to prevent bribery methods from being used to influence the minds of witnesses or jurors. It is declared that the men who are agents of persons having a great interest in Walsh have shadowed witnesses and jurors. They became bold and complaint was made of their attempts to aid the banker.

"Keep away or go to jail," was the positive warning given to the men who thus were shut out from the government building.

For a week the men have hung about the lobby of the federal building. They were not government agents and were suspected at once of aiding Walsh. The men have been tracing witnesses. No juror was made report any irregularities. Detectives, however, are said to have followed a number of the men to their homes in the country. A high federal official says that the men are "We are keeping trace of other men whom we suspect. The men who were discovered today have approached the juror in the lobby and have ordered the lobby kept clear of letterers and everyone is strictly scanned."

The jury will be in session but a short time before it resumes its duties at 11 o'clock Monday.

DUNCAN MADE GOOD SPEECH

Strong Argument in Favor of Investigating Bailey

MADE CONVERTS

Anti-Bailey Men Are Now Claiming to Have Eighty Votes in the House

Special to The Telegram.

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 12.—Judge John M. Duncan of Tyler held the floor of the house almost the entire day, fighting for the Bailey resolution, which demands a sweeping investigation. The Smith county man made an epoch-making speech, bringing argument after argument to the legislators in support of his contentions that Bailey and Davidson both should be given a sweeping investigation. As a result of his speech it is believed new friends have been won for the investigation resolution.

The Bailey forces tonight are admittedly disorganized and the talk of Austin is the speech made by the Tyler man. From 10:30 until 12 o'clock and from 2 until 4 o'clock Judge Duncan held the floor and fought for an investigation. He called attention to the fact that Hogg and Campbell had been investigated and had welcomed it without demurrer or restrictions. His arguments in the main were that no innocent man would resist a full and complete investigation.

Friends of the investigation resolution swarmed into the gallery to hear the famous speech and they were clearly in the majority. Mr. Duncan was frequently interrupted by cheers and was the recipient of flowers at the close of the speech. The house adjourned at 9 o'clock, until Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Hume of Harris county, it is announced, will make the argument for Bailey when it comes time for his side to be heard on the resolution. The house must be given up for the decorators Monday at noon and probably will not convene again before Wednesday.

The senate committee on privileges and elections meets Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and will hear the case of General Davidson and Senator Bailey on the resolution similar to the one introduced in the house. The question now is whether Senator Bailey will consent to meet the committee. The anti-Bailey men claim that they have more than eighty votes in the house for a full investigation, and tonight are confident of victory.

The senate is said to have a majority in favor of investigation. The anti-Bailey men, however, are organized than at the present time and the friends of the junior senator are strengthening for supporters.

During the session today Hamilton of Hunt county rose to a question of personal privilege and denied that he had on the previous day attempted to filibuster by trying to have the house rules adopted. He took exception to an article which appeared in the Houston Chronicle regarding him. He said that he had been informed from a reliable source that he had been named for an attempt to filibuster.

Mr. Duncan in his address said that he did not believe that loyal democrats were being called to support a nominee if he were proven unworthy. That was not his idea of democracy. He told of his fight twenty-eight years ago against an insincere politician. And how he was afterward vindicated. He claimed that political parties could not dictate to officers of the government and that it was contrary to the constitution of the government. Duncan said he had been a loyal supporter of Hogg, opposed Parker, before his nomination, and supported Hearst. He claimed his democracy was on straight. He claimed that the Bailey resolution first resolved that the legislature is estopped from going back and investigating Bailey notwithstanding new facts it is learned that Bailey borrowed money from Platt.

The speaker contended that no expense was too great to conduct the investigation and no journey too far to go to get the facts. He referred to Judge McFall's proposed resolution, which contemplated a full investigation, but which was not adopted by the legislature. He referred to the house journal of a former investigation and said he objected to disclosing his private business and private affairs of his friends, but would do so in defense of his honor and reputation.

MAY OPEN WAY FOR LOSS OF ISLANDS

Mr. Keifer Deplores Failure to Fortify Manila

Special to The Telegram.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—General Warren Keifer of Ohio will issue a warning in the house next week against a policy which he says may open the way for the capture of the Philippine Islands and other possessions of the United States by Japan.

The war department has prepared elaborate plans for the defense of the Philippines at a cost of $23,000,000, but the sub-committee decided to spend only $400,000 in the next fiscal year. The general will tell the case that the time is ripe for the United States will have to give up its islands voluntarily or it will have to be surrendered to the first foe, unless they are fortified.

He favors the construction of modern fortifications at Manila and other places in the Philippines and Honolulu.

THE WEEK'S ATTRACTIONS AT THE OPERA HOUSES

"The Umpire" a Hot Favorite

Baseball and football are the lively games which give zest to "The Umpire," the long-run musical comedy wonder, due at Greenwall's opera house Monday and Tuesday nights, with matinee Tuesday, January 14 and 15. Besides possessing a rational and interesting story of certain dramatic episodes, "The Umpire" is a United States diplomatic agent, a baseball umpire and other interesting persons. It contains amusing reflections on the national games.

The St. Louis Republic said: "Fred Mace, our old acquaintance of Sand-Man fame, came to the Century last night, and did as daring a thing as any umpire that ever made a 'rotten' decision. He played the title part of 'The Umpire' in straight face, which is quite an achievement for a low comedian of the Mace and Foy type, who spend almost entirely on individual comicallies for their success."

Just at this point, before telling something of Mace's special environment, it is well to draw a fair comparison of Mace and Foy. The more famous Foy never dared to play a part that did not borrow plenty of grotesqueness from grotesque paint. Mace accomplished this last night and he scored heavily. His facial contortions were funnier than if they had been helped out by artificial veneer.

By the way, "The Umpire" is a Chicago offering. It made its first impression there and was a winner to the extent that it was taken over by Harry Ashin, of the Windy burg. Will M. Dough, who was partly responsible for "The Land of Nod," has joined with Frank R. Adams in producing the book and the lyrics.

It has to do with the appearance in Morocco of the baseball umpire who made the rank decision of last season between the "Cubs" and the "Reds." He has followed Stenland to that picturesque home of law breakers. A special note reminds one that no extradition treaty had been arranged between that country and Uncle Sam at the moment of this action. Other fugitives fill out the perspective of which Mr. Mace is the brilliant luminary. There is the head of the beef trust, a batch of forgers and the expected arrival of a few burglars.

The story matters very little, since there is really no time to follow it with the Umpire easily dominating every situation. Mace proceeds to make himself very solid on his first entrance, when he recites how he made the decision that nearly cost him his life. It is another baseball classic, quite as much of a hit in its way as "Casey at the Bat." The audience could not get enough of it. Mace's facial eloquence was as vivid as the real thing. He detailed how Murphy fanned and struck out. The bleachers went to praying. Then Donohue went to the plate and smashed a two-bagger that made the fans rise to the occasion. The critical moment had come. Kavanaugh stood to die or save his country. It was two strikes, and the bases on the bleachers went gray with agony. Fatal tensions.

"The Umpire's eye congealed on the 'loveliest' he had ever seen in the grand stand. He went into a trance. The ball was tickling the high atmosphere where Kavanaugh had sent it. All scampers come, with a mile to spare. The Umpire came to when the voice of the catcher shrieked in his ear for a decision. It was 'out.' The remainder was vacuity, oatmeal and rest, then Morocco. It was good enough for the whole evening's entertainment. Mace has struck a popular chord with an old subject done anew.

"All this a vehicle that moves fast. The Umpire has plenty to do and plenty of clever lines that keep the fun hot. There are two or three melodies which will remain with us for a long time, notably: 'You Look Good to Father,' which brought back before the lights for goodness knows how many times, Guelma Baker, a dainty bit of femininity, and the whole chorus. The gallery whistled it with them, which is a pretty fair sample of its contagious hit. By all odds, the best of the musical numbers was: 'I Want a Girl Like You.' Not only is the air charming, but it serves to introduce a singer to be heard of later, in more important work, Miss Katherine Bunn, who has a high and vibrant soprano that is delightful. Other memorable things are 'The Sun That Shines on Dixie Land,' which gives the pleasing tenor of Robert Creston a fine opportunity, and 'The Drums of the Fore and Aft' suggested by Kipling's stirring story.

"The Umpire" possesses the essentials things is the football line-up by a part of the chorus. They have a vigorous greeting in 'The Quarterback.' What will carry the Umpire thru as one of the successful musical comedies of the season is the fact that something is 'doing' all the time the curtain is up."

"The Squaw Man"

No play more full of human life, passion and emotion, and keen interest has been presented on the stage than Edwin Milton Royle's newest effort, "The Squaw Man," which will be given at Greenwall's opera house Wednesday and Thursday nights, with matinee Thursday, January 16 and 17. The play has been so successful that it was retained at Wallack's theater in New York for a period of over six months, and was withdrawn merely to make way for a new production which had been contracted for. It is not too much to say that it has proved one of the big dramatic successes of the season, and in this view the extended press comment throughout the country bears ample witness. There is a bigness about the whole piece that appeals irresistibly to those who witness the performance, and when it is all over, one may safely say that one has seen a real play.

The plot deals with the adventures of a young English army officer, who, for a sentimental reason, saddles himself with a crime committed by his cousin, and makes his way to Wyoming where he takes up cattle ranching. There, in gratitude for saving his life, he marries the daughter of an Indian chief, and at once finds himself occupying the cellar in the Western social scale, for he has become a squaw man. The story details how his cousin dies, and how the family lawyer comes to him and begs him to return at once to England and assume the title and position that are his by right, of the mental struggle he undergoes, and how at last he refuses to desert his Indian wife. It tells further of how he decides to send his 6-year-old son home to be what will transpire there later. The play is superbly mounted and excellently cast.

Hays and Healy, said to be the two funniest men in vaudeville, at the Majestic this week.

"Everybody Works But Father"

The all-important and record-breaking musical comedy triumph, "Everybody Works But Father," is to be presented at Greenwall's opera house Friday and Saturday nights, with Saturday matinee, Jan. 18 and 19. There are many people of the jaded sort who delight in saying that musical farce is on the wane, but judging from the enormous business done in all sections by this special attraction, such is far from being the fact. Never in theatrical history has a comic play with music been accorded the enthusiastic reception tendered "Everybody Works But Father."

Coming Attractions

Lillian Russell has started on one of the most comprehensive tours of the country ever undertaken by a star of the first magnitude. This tour has been arranged by her manager, Joseph Brooks, so as to present the beautiful actress in as many towns as possible where she has never appeared. The first section of this art pilgrimage will embrace all the important towns in the south and middle west, and will take Miss Russell to New Orleans for Mardi Gras week.

Melodious "Holy Toity"

Weber & Fields' wonderful creation, "Holy Toity," has been aptly termed the "Mighty Monarch of Merry Musical Plays." This is not surprising when one considers Weber & Fields' manner of doing things. They never do things in a half way manner; they are after results, and lovers of musical comedy and bright, clean burlesque will admit when they see "Holy Toity" that these men who stand alone in their class, have achieved remarkable results.

atmosphere of the play. In order that this must should be perfect in its way, Mr. Gilmore spent some time last summer at Yale and brought away with him not only the songs themselves, but some of the singers.

When Creston Clarke scored such an immense and instantaneous hit in "Mona Lisa," that he is now declared, "Here unquestionably is the best romantic actor upon the stage today," and when it was announced by Manager Jules Murry that Mr. Clarke would appear this season in a purely modern role, it was the opinion of many that a mistake was being made by this generally astute purveyor of amusements. They had forgotten what Manager Murry evidently must have remembered—that Creston Clarke has played nearly four hundred different roles, ranging from the heaviest tragedy to the lightest comedy.

Walker Whiteside, who will be seen here in his new play, "The Magic Melody," is somewhat of a retiring disposition. He cares little for the social whirl and devotes himself almost entirely to his art. Recently a friend asked him why he did not go about more and meet people. "Why should I go about?" asked Mr. Whiteside. "Because it is a matter of business on an actor's part to mingle with the outside world. It makes him popular," was the argument of the friend. "I do not make new acquaintances," answered Mr. Whiteside, "for the purpose of putting more money into my box office. I rely on my efforts behind the footlights to do that." "But," persisted the friend, "people want to meet you—and—or you would be lionized." Mr. Whiteside thought for a time and then in his most characteristic tone said: "It is much better as it is; I never knew of but one man who was not spoiled by being lionized." Who was that? was asked. "The prophet Daniel," replied the actor.

Jenkins and Jasper, two men and a donkey, will be the headliners, presenting a comedy sketch that made a great hit across the water. The other European act will be that of the Dochemdorf troupe, five young girls from Russia. Mr. and Mrs. Danny Mann will present a rural pathetic skit called "Mandy Hawkins." Memphis Kennedy, an old-time minstrel man, Francis Wood, a hoop roller, and Gil Brown, song and dance artist, will be the other attractions, besides new pictures on the Majesticograph.

Clayton, Jenkins and Jasper "The Darktown Circus" is what Clayton, Jenkins and Jasper call their act, which shows a circus arena and their pet donkey, "Jasper." This is one of the most laughable acts on the stage. A trained donkey has as two masters and the tricks of the animal are far above the ordinary. Clayton and Jenkins are the proprietors of a circus and they have an awful hard time trying to teach the donkey how to act. The animal is stubborn and all sorts of funny situations are brought out. Finally the circus gets going and then comes the presentation of an arena scene that brings one back to the sawdust and tanbark. Clayton burlesques a bareback rider on the donkey to the cracking of the whip by Jenkins, who is the ring master. This trio has appeared in Europe and was summoned by King Edward to appear at the royal palace to present their act.

There is so much music in the new college play "At Yale," in which Paul Gilmore will be seen here shortly, the play might almost be called a college opera. College songs, sung by eight picked voices, are heard in the intermission between the first and second acts; appropriate music is sung during the wait between the second and third, and, in each one of the acts, bits of college songs are introduced to heighten the effect of the college atmosphere.

Dallas Famous Hot Mineral Water is Unsurpassed in Curative Properties

The new Gill Well Bath House, Dallas' pioneer bathing institution, is one of the largest and best equipped bath houses in the south. It is located at 349 Maple avenue, a convenient point near the famous Gill well and one hundred yards from the Lake Avenue pier.

Relief may reasonably be expected at this institution in the following conditions: Rheumatism in its various forms, Gout, Dyspepsia, Onset of Bright's Disease, Chronic Malaria, Neuralgia, Catarrhal Affections, Eczema, Psoriasis, Acne and Blood Disorders of a chronic character. The water is laxative and tonic in effect. Bathing in it will open the pores and channels for the expulsion of matters injurious to health. The vigorous and sluggish secretions, stimulate the circulation, the muscles, the skin, the nerves, the internal organs and purify the blood, remove all aches and pains, restore the exhausted, revive the debilitated and help to build up and renew the entire system.

five young women from the realm of the czar, who will interpret to the strains of stirring music the military marches and maneuvers of the imperial army of Russia. The girls will be attired in the typical costumes of Russian soldiers and will execute every movement of the Russian infantryman. The act is not alone confined to military work, but the girls will give musical exhibitions and fancy drill work.

There is a laugh every minute assured from Memphis Kennedy, while he holds the stage. He has been with many minstrel organizations and he stands high as an entertainer in story telling and monologue work.

"Mandy Hawkins" is the title of a rural comedy that Mr. and Mrs. Danny Mann will present. This team carries its own scenery for one of the prettiest sketches introduced on the vaudeville stage. Mandy Hawkins is a wait and Uncle Hank is one of the old "Way Down East" stock.

A novelty is to be presented by Mr. Wood in hoop rolling. He rolls ordinary barrel hoops about his neck and at his back and can throw them in a big horn, which he has an awful time with before he gets it strapped around his neck.

Some novelties in dancing are promised by Gil Brown, a Texas boy, who has just finished the high school of eastern cities. His repertoire includes some songs and a few jokes to keep the audience in a jovial mood.

WEST TEXAS GROWING WITH PROSPEROUS TIMES

Good Crops in Abilene. ABILENE, Texas, Jan. 12.—In 1900, six years ago, E. E. Sadtler came to this county and bought 450 acres of land on Elm, seven miles southwest of town, at $4.50 per acre. He has made fairly good crops since putting it into cultivation, but last year he made a record-breaker. He had ninety-four acres in cotton, and from twenty-four acres measured, he gathered twenty-nine bales, bringing him an average of $70 per acre. From fifty acres he gathered fifty bales and from twenty acres of late cotton he got only three bales. Mr. Sadtler has refused $25 an acre for his land.

Good Stock Sold. WEATHERFORD, Texas, Jan. 12.—As evidence of the high-grade stock and superior breed of mules in this section, a 7-month-old mule colt was sold here Monday afternoon for $100 and within ten minutes the purchaser refused $10 for his bargain. J. W. Hubbard, whose home is near Dennis, in this county, drove a medium-sized mare to town, followed by a mule colt, not quite 7 months old. This colt is perfectly made, and not a blemish upon him. He had not been here long when his splendid qualities were noticed by a stock dealer, who casually asked, "What is the least you would take for that colt?" Mr. Hubbard, not thinking of making a sale, said, "One hundred dollars, and before he could 'back down' the stock dealer had counted out the money and handed it over. Within a very few minutes he was offered $110 for the colt.

Two Compresses Coming. BRADY, Texas, Jan. 12.—H. D. Williams, a Brownwood cotton dealer, has purchased an acre of ground just north of S. W. Hughes' residence, for the purpose of erecting a cotton compress thereon. The railroad has agreed and made preparations to run a switch into this place. This means that there will be a compress here. Mr. Williams and this company say they are coming, and Tommie Beal, who is coming, says they are sure of coming. This will make some lively competition in this line.

Big Coil of Rope. BROWNWOOD, Texas, Jan. 12.—Captain C. M. Gearing, who is having an oil well sunk on the Sellman ranch, near Rochelle, has received the largest coil of rope ever shipped to this territory. The coil contains 2,000 feet of rope and will be sent immediately to the well on the Sellman ranch. This well has already been bored to a depth of 1,000 feet and will be sunk to 2,500 feet unless oil struck sooner. The oil company with whom Captain Gearing is connected has a lease on 45,000 acres in that section, and will do some extensive prospecting.

Fine Pecan Orchard. SAN SABA, Texas, Jan. 12.—W. J. Millett of Bend (Gimels) has bought the old Moody place from T. B. Tomlinson for $4,000. The place contains only about eighty acres of land, but in it in the country. Fifty dollars an acre for this land looks high, but when it is remembered that the pecans alone on this place for one year brought $1,200 its price will not seem any too high.

Good Telephone Equipment. COLORADO, Texas, Jan. 12.—The West Texas Telephone Company has completed the erection of its line across town. The company has its headquarters at Big Springs, there running east and west. The work it is doing is of the most substantial character, many of the poles costing as much as $20.

Many Immigrants Arrive. HASKELL, Texas, Jan. 12.—G. E. Langford, local agent of the Wichita Valley railroad, says his road is delivering daily five or six immigrants to this place. The people are nearly all farmers who have rented or purchased land or farms in this country, and most of them are bringing their household effects, farm implements and work stock, so that they are ready to get to work promptly when they reach their new homes.

BANK WILL MOVE TO THE NEW QUARTERS THIS WEEK

Building on Houston Street is Completed

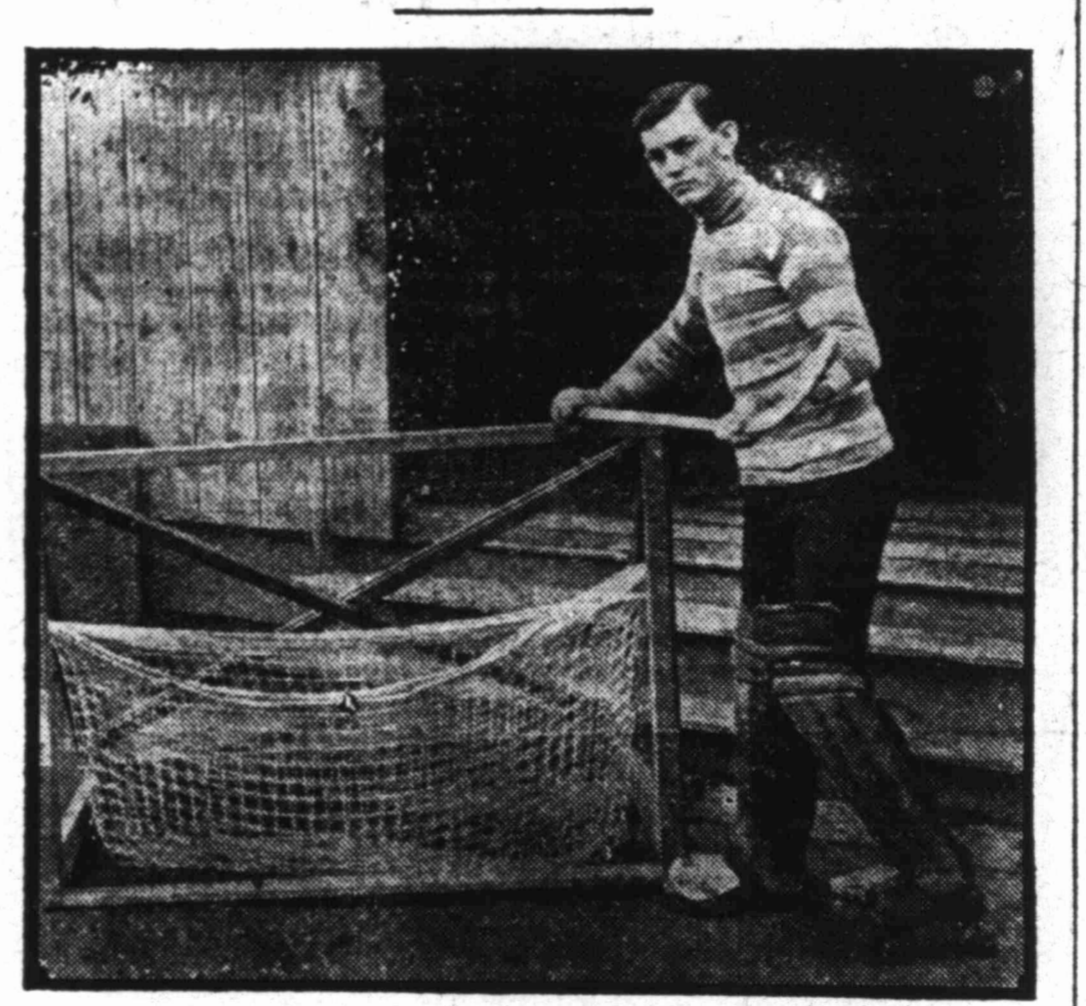

The Western National bank will move during the coming week from the present location, on the corner of Tenth and Main streets, to the handsome new building, which is almost finished, on the corner of Eighth and Houston streets. The new Western National bank building is one of the largest buildings in the city, as far as number of rooms is concerned, as there are 150 rooms available for office purposes in the new building. The building is one of the finest structures in the city and state. It has been equipped in a modern finish in every particular. The building was first started by J. M. Shelton, who had the basement excavated. He then sold the property to James Moore, who sold it back to the bank.

Electric fan equipment will also be furnished for each room. In the hall there will be a mail shoot, dropping mail to the box on the bottom floor. A large water tank, containing 15,000 gallons, will be located on the roof, and a hose connection will be located on each floor with hose attached.

ROLLER POLO A POPULAR NEW GAME IN FORT WORTH

CAPTAIN KENNARD OF THE FORT WORTH TEAM

Roller polo, the most exhausting and yet the most exciting indoor athletic sport, has been granted a secure foothold among the sport loving fans of Fort Worth, and the announcement that other northern stars of Captain Kennard's caliber will soon appear in Texas rinks has served to increase the interest wonderfully.

The game, when played in strict compliance with the rules, requires 50 x 100 feet floor space, with solid walls, which permits of accurate banking of the solid rubber ball. Each team is composed of a first and second rush, center, halfback and goal tender, and the game is usually played in three periods of fifteen minutes each, allowing a two-minute intermission between each period.

The duty of the rushers is to work the ball by team play to the opponent's goal or near enough for a driver while the center, whose duty it is to "feed" the rushers, or pass the ball to them, often works with the highest order, what is popularly known as a three-rush game. The halfback, well protected by pads and presumably fearless, endeavors to block the oncoming rushers and stop the drives which are directed toward the "hammock" behind him, the goal tender.

STOCK MARKET CLOSED STRONG CITY TEACHERS DISCUSS READING

Southern Pacific is Leading in a General Advance

(BY THOS. C. SHOTWELL.) Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Under the influence of an advance in Southern Pacific the stock market closed today strong, active and cheerful, the prevailing in all departments. A bank statement showing a large increase in surplus reserves was partly responsible, but the chief influence was the evident determination of the large interests to advance the list. A visit of Secretary Shaw to the sub-treasury was said to have been a success in the early trading. St. Paul was the feature and advanced two points without resistance. Those participating in the movement said it had only begun and that big things are under way. The announcement of the huge volume of unfilled orders in New York on the steel trust caused a steady market for those stocks.

After the bank statement had appeared some attempts were made at profit-taking, but these were quickly abandoned when the reports in Southern Pacific discovered they could not cover. The result was that all selling of importance stopped and what little business was transacted was on the part of the shorts, who sought in vain to cover their contracts. The market goes into the new week with a large short interest outstanding. On the curb there was a good demand for mining shares under influence of the settlement of the strike in Nevada. Coffee and cotton were both weak in New York. In London American shares closed at the top prices. The foreigners scooped in considerable Canadian Pacific as a result of a raid made in the stock in New York Friday. While those bankers who were sure of currency negotiations two weeks ago are beginning to waver, they believe that Secretary Shaw will discover that there is power enough under the present laws to deposit all the customs receipts in the banks and that such deposits will be made a rule with the administration. The idea of renegeting to make it hard to sell the Panama bonds that was issued soon. President Roosevelt is planning to win fresh glory by taking the issue and making it popular, selling them directly to the people.

RATE REDUCTION Important Decision by Federal Judge in Georgia

Special to The Telegram. ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 12.—In a decision handed down today by Judge Newman, of the right of the railroad commission of the state to advance the Southern railway from Class C to Class B, which means a reduction in freight rates of 10 percent of $3,000 on that system, was sustained. Technically Judge Newman sustains the demand for the reduction, but the commission against the Central, but that has not yet been decided by Judge Newman, altho it is probable since the two cases are precisely alike that his decision will be the same. The demurrer was sustained, or the right to put it plainly, of the commission to make the reduction, was sustained because, according to the court, the Southern railway had failed to explain to the court in its bill that it (the road) was charging the maximum rates allowed by the commission, that it would not prevent the new rates from going into effect, unless it should obtain a supersedeas from Judge Newman. Whether he will grant it is a matter within his discretion. It is conceded that this decision, which is specifically in the case of the Southern, applies to the other two roads also.

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation. The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But combined with Ergosterin, Senna, Silyberin Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Eryna, etc. this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A soothing Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories, from this innocuous and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Billousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Bilious Constipation, etc. is indeed prompt and satisfying. No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box. THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL. Few People Know How Useful It is in Preserving Health and Beauty. Costs Nothing to Try. Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is a most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose. Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug, but a natural and most efficient purifier of the stomach and intestines and carries them of the system. Charcoal sweetens the breath, after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectively clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic. It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh. All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, which are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form, or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey. The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of the skin. No possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit. A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all persons suffering from gas in the stomach and bowels and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and also in some cases a patent preparation, yet I believe a better and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than any of the ordinary charcoal tablets." SAMPLE OF RED TAPE

No Duster for Land Office After Much Writing

Special to The Telegram. OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 12.—After an official correspondence lasting several weeks and the unwinding of several hundred yards of governmental red tape, it has at last been decided that the Olympia land office is not to have a new feather duster. Some time ago a careless clerk overturned a bottle of ink on the old duster, and a requisition was made on the general land office for a new one. Particulars were requested by the Washington officials, and the local register wrote a letter containing three typewritten pages explaining his desire. In a letter nearly as long the Washington commissioner informed the register that he would have to get along without a duster for awhile.

MOST STARTLING SERIES OF EVENTS

Proposition to Condemn Chicago Street Railways

Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 12.—The most startling series of developments of years in Chicago's traction problem came today with the Referendum League circulation of a petition, the purpose of which is to reject all pending settlement plans and to return to the late Judge Tuley's program for condemnation and seizure of the street railway properties.

Mayor Dunne, who had been quoted in the morning papers today as approving this new referendum petition, absolutely this afternoon that he favored the Referendum League.

Messrs. McGreggor, Hume and Brown of Harris were the movers of eminent domain extended to electric railroads.

McGreggor and Brown of Harris want a severe penalty placed upon wife desertion.

Representative Terrell of Cherokee wants a lower passenger rate on Texas railroads. The two legislators believe the rate should be reduced to 2 1/2 cents.

LIVELY IN KANSAS

Prospects for Interesting Session of the State Legislature

Special to The Telegram. TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 12.—The present session of the Kansas legislature is likely to be the liveliest in recent years. Among the legislative measures to be considered are a maximum freight rate law, a law reducing passenger fares and a new regulation measure, a primary election law and a bill to prevent car shortage.

Measures for the strengthening of the present prohibition laws are now being introduced. It is expected that the legislature will also be brought to the attention of the legislature.

A novel feature of the present session will be the "pure food" law arranged by Dr. S. J. Crumline, secretary of the state board of health, adulterated foodstuffs sold in the state, the purpose being to show the legislators the necessity for a state pure food law.

KENTUCKY POLITICS

Republicans Amuse Themselves by Talking of Carrying State

Special to The Telegram. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 12.—Numerous Republicans are now saying that former Governor Bradley will follow the track taken by Associate Justice John M. Harlan, commissioner of internal revenue, John W. Yerkes and Appellate Judge E. F. Korea and declare that he will not accept the party nomination for governor of the state.

Governor Bradley's friends there saying that he is not willing to accept as high as Mr. Yerkes has set his, and that nothing but a seat in the United States senate will be acceptable to the governor. They say that Mr. Bradley is the strongest and ablest champion of the Republican party that could be put on the stump and if after a hard and bitter campaign he should succeed in taking the state from the Democrats, it would not be fair treatment for the United States senatorship to be given to Mr. Yerkes, Judge Orear, or some one else who is not willing now to make a sacrifice and go thru a hard campaign at the head of the Republican state ticket.

TO SUBMERGE TOWN

Preparations for Big $5,000,000 Irrigation Plans Being Made

Special to The Telegram. CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 12.—Deeds for the transfer of the entire town of Marquette, one of the oldest in the northern part of the state, have been executed, and the site, together with the farms in the valley west of it for a distance of ten miles, will shortly be submerged under 100 feet of water. The purchase of the town was made necessary by the plans for the huge $5,000,000 irrigation plant that the government will build in that section. With the completion of the big dam on the Stink Water river the waters will be backed up for a distance of twelve miles and the site of Marquette and the rich farming country adjoining will become a gigantic reservoir. The plans contemplate the greatest irrigation project ever attempted by the government and will render productive a half million acres in northern Wyoming, near the Crow reservation. Work on the plant has been in progress for two years and it will probably be three years longer before the project is completed.

VALIANT WORK OF TELEPHONE GIRLS

Two Operators Save Town From Being Burned

Special to The Telegram. MARIETTA, O., two telephone girls, Maude Williamson and Nellie Gray, the town of Lowell, ten miles from Marietta, would have been wiped off the map early this morning. Fire broke out in the Mattern block and the entire structure was in flames when discovered. From the telephone exchange next door, the operators sounded the alarm, awakened all the subscribers in the town. When the fire fighters arrived the girls had to be removed from the building, the rest of which was shut off by the flames. They were overcome by the smoke and heat when rescued.

These deeds have been prepared by the commissioner to the five tribes and are 5,700 in number, being the homestead and surplus allotment of the Seminole Indians. FACTS ABOUT THE BLOCKADE

Pacific Coast Trains Stalled on Western Prairies

GREAT BLIZZARD

Full Storm Reports Cannot Be Received Because Wire Service Is Crippled

Special to The Telegram. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 12.—Pacific coast trains are stalled on the western prairies. Many of them are indefinitely delayed. Wire trouble prevents the securing of exact information.

A blizzard is the cause of the trouble. Ten Pacific coast trains, carrying at least 1,000 persons, are stalled in snow drifts on the prairies at stations of the west tonight. This is about all the information regarding the great blizzard, which swept over the northwestern prairies and is able to get out very little information. The storm has played havoc with the wires and all the railway officials know is that the trains are stalled at stations in the northwest this morning hundreds of anxious persons received little satisfaction in response to their inquiries as to the welfare of their friends. Even the weather bureau of this city can say little as to the extent of the storm and its intensity. The gravity of the situation may be understood from the following:

The "S. O. O." road has three late trains, No. 106, due Friday evening. The railroad is unable to get out passengers who will reach the city as best they may.

No. 106, due Friday morning, was heard from in the upper Michigan district this morning and may pull into Minneapolis late tonight. The "S. O. O." train, due at 10 o'clock today, was reported this morning and may probably not reach here until late tonight.

On the Great Northern it is impossible to locate trains. The trains of Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, known as No. 2, have been abandoned. Where the passengers are and what is either of their questions the road cannot answer.

Northern Pacific officials declared they had track of all trains on their road today. The coast trains, too, due Friday, have not yet arrived. The railroad officials declare there is no danger for passengers. The cars are outfitted with fuel and food to withstand long storm sieges.

Officials at the Great Northern office today declared that all towns where shortage of coal had been reported, have been supplied within the past few days and that there need be no fear of suffering from lack of fuel during the storm.

It is not probable that full storm reports can be secured before early next week owing to wire troubles and difficulty in reaching the scene of the storm.

STORMY SESSION OF CITY COUNCIL

Mayor Sends Message to City Council

The special meeting of the city council called by the mayor for Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock was held with all of the aldermen present, and it was brief, but of intense interest.

The answer was that it was called at the request of the city council, as set forth in the message of the mayor to the city council, which was read.

Text of Message To the City Council of the City of Fort Worth: Gentlemen: The city charter says, "All elections by popular vote shall be ordered by the city council and when any such election shall have been ordered the council shall cause twenty days' notice thereof to be given in one or more newspapers."

Again, where an election on a general question or proposition, such as a body has been considered, may be legally held and the time of notice is prescribed, it has time and again been held that a less time of notice is not sufficient and the election is void.

Now, if the election proposed by you—about the two drafts of the charter is one you can order, it must be because of charter authority. Well, where in our city charter will any lawyer place his finger upon the authority if you have no authority do you want to pretend to have and encumber your records with an account of such proceedings? Do you want the expense if it is a nullity?

Notice Not Given But suppose your lawyer finds the authority in the charter for the call of such election, will it not be an election by popular vote? Well, so your charter says all elections by popular vote shall be given notice of, for twenty days in a newspaper, etc. This being so, did you want to and do you want to ignore that requirement? Would you be willing to boldly and deliberately ignore and run over and trample under your feet provisions of law relating to so sacred a matter as the exercise of the right of suffrage? Would you? The loud proclamation of your voice that you want to protect the people in their right of casting their ballot on all questions that may affect their lives, you ruthlessly cast aside and ignore those regulations and rules of law that have been to protect and safeguard the elections, presents an inconsistency exceedingly glaring.

1. ISABEL: "Oh, Alonzo, look! See, the Duke of Giltrucks comes again to force his suit upon me. Oh, can't you get rid of him before he has a chance to make his proposal?"
ALONZO: "By my faith, I will. How I do not know, but my love for thee will find a way."

2. DUKE OF GILTROCKS: "Ho, within there! Warder, halberdier, varlets, open the gate to admit the valiant and courtly Duke of Giltrucks, suitor to the hand of thy mistress, fair Isabel!"
ALONZO: "By Venus! Methinks I see a method that will settle him."

3. DUKE OF GILTROCKS: "Ho, ho, ho, HO! Dost not hear me within? By my halidome, thy tardiness and neglect I will this day report unto your master, the Earl. Open the gates, I say!"
ALONZO (aside): "This paint will not do a thing when the horse swishes his tail at a fly."

4. ALONZO: "We beg your Grace's patience. My fair mistress cometh, but she requests that you remain upon your beautiful charger, so that she may admire the noble beast and your dignified mien and bearing."
DUKE OF GILTROCKS: "Gadzooks! I believe I win her at last!"

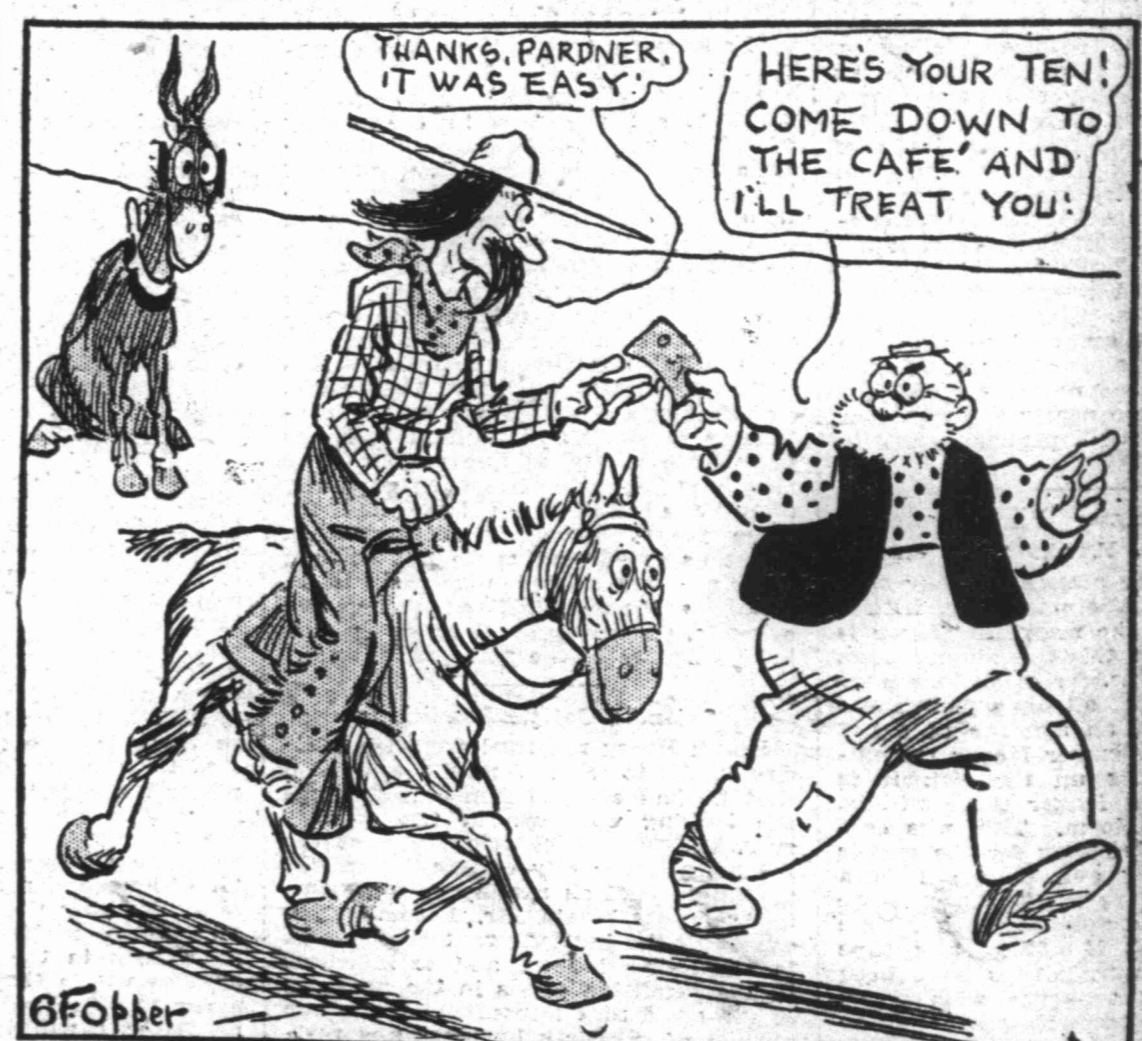

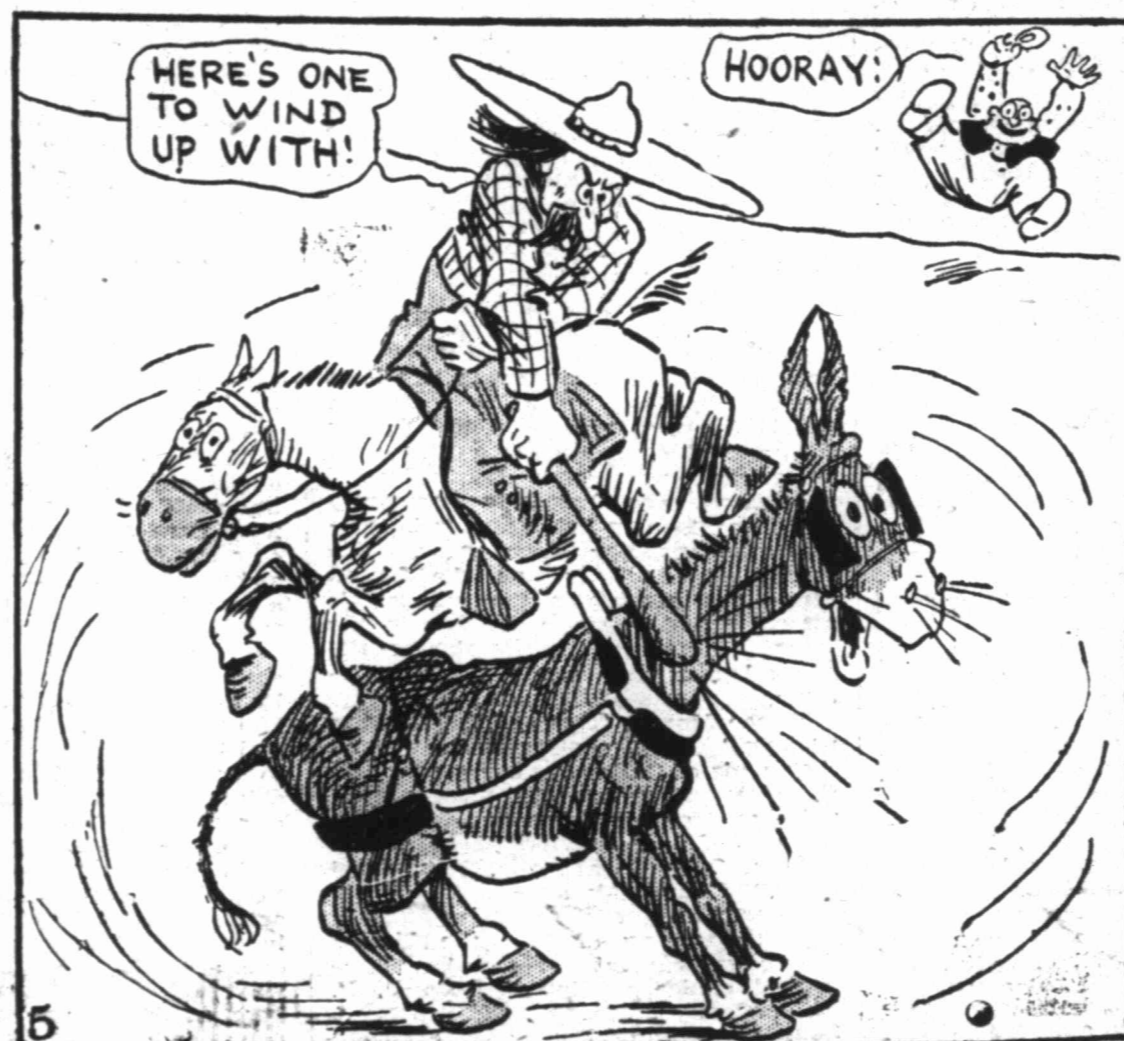

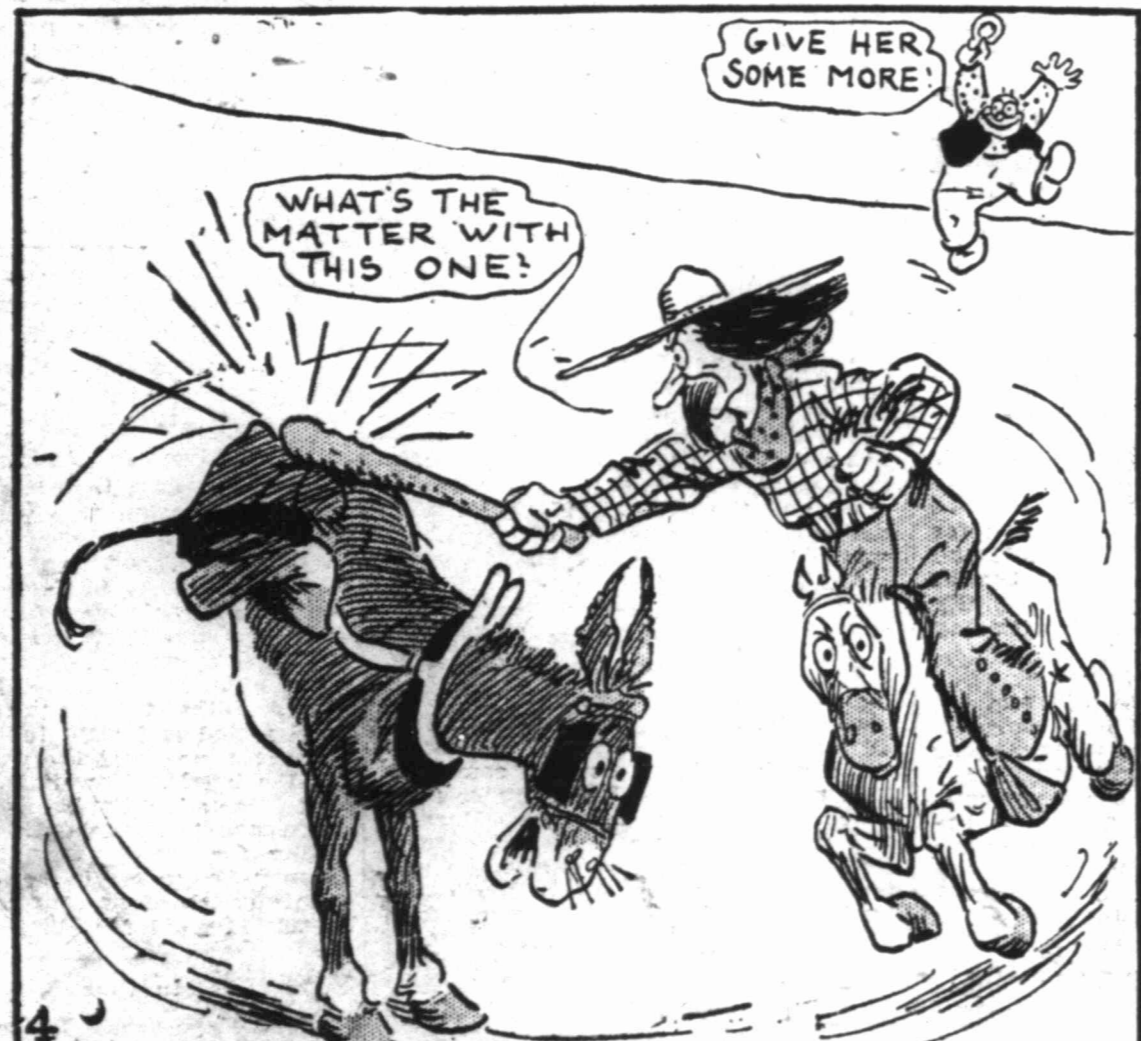

5. THE HORSE: "Darn that fly! SWISH!"
DUKE OF GILTROCKS: "WEOU! The flood has come! Ye gods! I am undone!"
ISABEL: "By my faith, but the Duke carries a peculiar paint brush."

6. ISABEL: "Well, good day, Duke. Thy painting lesson was certainly a novel entertainment."
ALONZO: "Why not tarry, my lord? The Earl would be glad to see thee."
DUKE OF GILTROCKS: "By St. George! I'm bewitched, of a surety! 'Sdeath! If I find out the varlet who putteth these spells upon me!"
