Disorder Marked Hours of Morning Preceding Opening of Trial

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Jan. 23.-Scenes ap-proaching absolute disorder attended the opening of the trial of Harry K. Thaw, in this city today, on the charge of murdering Stanford White.

Most of the clashes were between reporters and correspondents and the police. Of the newspaper men there-were perhaps 200 and there was a policeman for each. The great squad of bluecoats was commanded by a newspaper writers were finally adinitted, the remainder of the space in the courtroom being reserved for the 200 talesmen summoned on the special jury panel. The trial began before Justice Fitzgerald in part 1 trial of the supreme court and was scheduled for 10:30 o'clock. By that time the rolice lines had been extended from the corridor adjacent to the courtroom, including the entire first floor of the criminal court building. . The public had been warned in advance not to attempt to get into the courtroom and few appeared. The quarrels with the police, which were quelled an hour preceding the trial, were quickly forgotten at 10 o'clock, when Mrs. William Thaw of Pittsburg, mother of the defendant, appeared in the courtroom. She was dressed in her customary black and was veiled.

Following her came Countess of Yarmouth and Mrs. George Lauder Carne-gie, her daughter; Mrs. Evelyn Neubit Thaw, wife of Harry, came next, and was closely followed by May McKen-zie, the actress to whose home Evelyn Thaw fled the night of the tragedy. Expert Doctors in Attendance and biliousness

The liver is a wonderful organ, always at work filtering, purifying and manufacturing ingredients necessary to life. It is the central laboratory of the body. It plays the part of a natural poison antidote. The poison contained in the decomposing food and waste of the body are arrested by it and rendered harmless. The liver is the seat of manufacture of bile, a fluid that keeps sweet the intestines and aids to digest food. Healthy bile is an antiseptic, and when deficient or absent the contents of the bowels become putrid and full of poisonous matter. You can always keep your liver in a healthy condition by using Dr. Edward's Compound Dandelion Tablets or Pills. They act directly upon the liver and produce a healthy flow of bile.

Py Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 23 .- A tumble in the prices of cereal foods all over the world and a vast increase in the crops of farmers in all lands-such is the result foreseen by Chicago experts in agricultural chemistry as the sequel of Professor Sir William Crookes' discovery in London of a method by which to extract nitric acid from the atmosphere. Local authorities declared yesterday that if the cablegrams were correct in saying that the method was sufficiently perfect to be of value commercially then a most important effect would be had on the raising of cereals. It is prophesied that farmers will be enabled to get a far greater yield from their land than has been the case in the past if nitrates are cheapened so that they can be used to a larger extent for fertilizing.

CROOKE'S DISCOVERY

Method of Extracting Nitric Acid from the Atmosphere By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.-When scientists read yesterday the cabled report of Sir William Crookes' discovery of a commercial method of extracting nitric acid from the atmosphere they said there was no longer any fear of scarcity of food from over-population, because the result of the discovery would be a doubling of the world's crops. Nitric acid adds greatly to the productivity of the soil. Nitrate of soda is used for that purpose now and has grown so scarce, it is said, it soon will be exhausted. At present the cost of extracting nitric acid from the air is expensive. Professor Charles F. Chandler, head of the department of chemistry in Columbia University, explained, but said that by the cheapening of electricity which is employed in the process nitric acid manufactured by the new method would be cheaper than nitrate of soda. When a practical working process is perfected," said Professor Chandler, "every waterfall in the country will be available for the production of the atmospheric fertilizer. Scientists have been working on this problem for a hundred years, but real headway has been made only recently."

Van Arsdale is claimed for a dance. A few moments later Mrs. Fairbrother is discovered murdered, and suspicion falls upon Durand. Her gloves are found in Miss Van Ardsdale's bag and Durand states that Mrs. Fairbrother gave them to him altho he did not know that the diamond was within the gloves when he placed them in the bag. Blood on his shirt bosom is also hard to explain. In the meantime Fairbrother is discovered in the mountains in the west, but too sick to even be apprised of the news.

Before the inquest the diamond found in the gloves is pronounced to be a good imitation. The coroner's jury does not fix the blame of the murder and yet does not acquit Durand. At the close of the inquest Durand is arrested by the police.

"Well, well," said he, "we shall have to be patient. A day may make all the difference possible in our outlook. If we can lay hands on either of these men_

He seemed to realize he had said a word too much, for he instantly changed the subject by asking if I had succeeded in getting a sample of Miss Grey's writing. I was forced to say no; that everything had been very carefully put away. "But I do not know what moment I may come upon it," I added. "I do not forget its importance in this investigation. "Very good. Those lines handed up to Mrs. Fairbrother from the walk outside are the second most valuable clew we possess.

I did not ask him what the first was. knew. It was the stiletto. "Strange that no one has testified to that hand-writing," I remarked, He looked at me in surprise. "Fifty persons have sent in samples of writing which they think fike it," he observed. "Often of persons who never heard of the Fairbrothers. We have been bothered greatly with the business. You know little of the difficulties the police labor under." "I know too much," I sighed.

He smiled and patted me on the hand.

"Go back to your patient," he said Forget every other duty but that of your calling until you get some definite word from me. I shall not keep you in suspense one minute longer than is absolutely necessary." He had risen. I rose too. But I was

Sears' possible connection with the crime cannot eliminate Mr. Grey's very positive one; nor can the fact that Wellgood's hand came in contact with Mr. Grey's at or near the time of the exchange of the false stone with the real, make it any less evident who was the guilty author of this exchange?" The inspector's hand was on the door-knob, but he dropped it at this, and surveying me very quietly said: "I thought that a few days spent at the bedside of Miss Grey in the society of so renowned and cultured a gentleman as her father would disabuse you of these damaging suspicions." "I don't wonder that you thought so," I burst out. "You would think so all the more, if you knew how kind he can be and what solicitude he shows, for all about him. But I cannot get over the facts. They all point, seems to me, straight in one direction." "All? You heard what was said in this room-I saw it in your eye-how the man, who surprised the steward in his own room last night, heard him talking of love and death in connection with Mrs. Fairbrother, 'To kiss what I hate! It is almost as bad as to kill what I love'-he said something like that.

that he had been her actual slayer? Could you convict him on those words?"

to Wellgood's part in the little business you choose to consider that it took place at the time the stone fell from Mr. Grey's hand. What proof have you that the substitution you believe in was not made by him? He could easily have done it while crossing the room to Mr. Grey's side.

"Inspector!" Then hotly, as the absufdity of the suggestion struck me with full force: "He do this! A waiter, or as you think, Mr. Fairbrother's steward, to be provided with so hardto-come-by an article as this counterpart of a great stone? Isn't that almost as incredible a supposition as any I have myself presumed to advance?" "Possibly, but the affair is full of incredibilities, the greatest of which, to my mind, is the persistence with which you, a kind-hearted enough little woman, persevere in ascribing the deepest guilt to one you profess to admire and certainly would be glad to find innocent of any complicity with a great crime.'

I felt that I must justify myself. "Mr. Durand has had no such consideration shown him," said I.

"I know my child, I know; but the cases differ. Wouldn't it be well for you to see this and be satisfied with the turn which things have taken, without continuing to insist upon involving Mr. Grey in your suspicions?" A smile took off the edge of this rebuke, yet I felt it keenly; and only change in Mr. Grey's interests and not his own. But I don't believe he had anything to do with it. I think everything goes to show that the exchange was made by Mr. Grey himself.' "A second Daniel," muttered the inspector lightly. "Go on, little lawyer!"

Monthly Output Doubled During Past Year

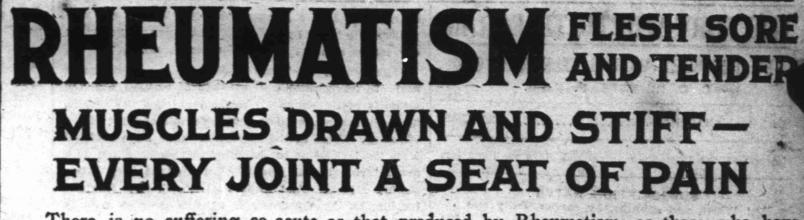

Output of North Texas oil for 1906 was 1.124,301 barrels, making a total of 6,276,727 up to date. In 1905 North Texas was credited with 546.381 barrels, showing an increase of 577,920 barrels during the last year. The bulk of the increase came from Navarro county, east of Corsicana, being accredited with 675,842 barrels, as against 132,866 for 1905.

The year opened with a market of 86 cents for Corsicana light oil and 50 cents for Powell heavy oil and closed with a quotations of $1 for Corsicana oil and 60 cents for Powell. Average monthly production of the North Texas districts was 93,692 barrels, as against 45,506 barrels in 1905. Average dail; production was 3.080 barrels, as against 1,583 for 1905. Corsicana produced 335,387 barrels in 1906, an increase of 24,833 over the

There is no suffering so acute as that produced by Rheumatism, as those who have experienced its cutting pains, throbbing muscles and aching bones will testify.

Rheumatism is the result of a sour condition of the blood brought on through absorbing into this vital fluid the acids and poisons left in the system by poor bowel action, weak kidneys, stomach troubles, etc. The refuse or waste matter of the body, which nature intends shall be carried off, sours and forms uric acid and other irritating poisons, which the blood distributes to the different muscles, nerves, sinews and bones, and Rheumatism, a demon of pain, takes possession of the system. The disease does not affect all alike. Some have it in the inflammatory form, manifested by a red, feverish condition of the skin, while the flesh becomes puffy, sore and tender to the slightest touch. With others the disease is muscular, the muscles becoming drawn and stiff, and while the pain is not so constant as that produced by the inflammatory form, the disease is really deeper seated, and because of the stiffened condition of the muscles and ligaments, is very inconvenient to the sufferer. But the worst form of the disease is known as Articular Rheumatism. The years ago, I have never been troubled since. 209 Liberty Street, Hopkinsville, Ky. C. E. For over two years I suffered excruciating pains in the shoulders, caused by muscular rheumatism. I kept using liniments all the time, but the pains continued to increase. Finally I decided to try S. Although this was twelve poison is allowed to remain the joints become coated with chalk-like deposits, and as the disease progresses they often become locked and useless.

When Rheumatism becomes intrenched in the system it so completely dominates it that the sufferer's life is almost literally controlled by the disease. Cold and dampness being exciting causes they must govern their every action with regard to the condition of the weather, confining themselves to the house, knowing that the least exposure will bring on an attack. Indigestion is another predisposing cause, and fearing the pain and discomfor sufferers often try to avoid it by depriving themselves of those articles of diet of which they are most fond. A great many people have an idea that because sudden changes in the weather or imprudence of the appetite bring on an attack of Rheumatism that it is a disease which is easily controlled. So when a spell comes on they begin to use plasters, liniments, lotions, etc., expecting to drive out the pain and inflammation, and thus cure the diseaso-This treatment is all right to ease the pain and make the sufferer more comfortable, but can never cure Rheumatism, nor prevent its return, because it does not reach the real cause of the trouble, which is in the blood.

When neglected or improperly treated Rheumatism always becomes chronic and does not depend upon climatic conditions to bring on an attack, but remains a constant and unwelcome companion. The proper treatment for Rheumatism is S. S. S. This great remedy cleanses the circulation of all acids and irritating poisons, builds up thin, sour blood and permanently cures this painful and distressing disease. S. S. S. possesses solvent prop erties which dissolve and filter out the salts and deposits, and so enriches the blood that a fresh, healthy stream is carried to all parts of the body. Then the pains and aches cease, the flesh becomes firm and loses that tender, sensitive feeling, the joints all work smoothly again, and complete health is restored. S. S. S. is the treatment for Rheumatism in every form, for whether your case is acute or chronic the cure must come through the blood. DENVER, Colo., Jan. 23 .- Stockmen in attendance at the annual convention of the American National Live Stock Association, which began its second day's session today, are almost unanimous in their demand for reciprocal tariff treaties with Germany and other nations of continental Europe. Such action is absolutely necessary for the protection of the live stock interests of the country, declare the cattlemen, and unless an immediate change is made in the tariff which will allow of an outlet abroad for surplus live stock products the cattle raising industry of this country will be killed. The tariff question is a live issue with the stockmen and overshadows all other matters discussed at the convention. According to one prominent western cattleman who has made a study of the tariff question, the sugar trust is the chief enemy of the stock grower and the greatest obstacle to his prosperity. When America placed a prohibitive tax on German sugar, the German government retallated by raising the tariff on meats from the United States. The sugar trust will oppose any tariff agreement which will reduce the tak on German sugar. and a test of strength between the sugar magnates and the cattlemen is imminent. A definite plan of action will be agreed upon today and an attempt will be made to bring the matter before congress during the present session Murdo Mackenzie of Trinidad, Colo., will be reelected president of the association, and nearly all of the other officers will be retained.

MEMBERS PLAN WOODMAN PARK

Log Rolling Association Was Organized

Pursuant to a call by Lone Star camp No. 2, W. O. W., of Fort Worth, a meeting was held in Lone Star camp hall Saturday evening, at which the Tarrant County Log Rolling Association was formed and decisive steps were taken for the formation of the Woodmen's Park Association. A log rolling association is one formed for the general advancement of the interests of Woodcraft, especially along social lines.

There is now in existence in Texas such an association, known as the Central Texas Log Rolling Association and the importance of such organizations may be inferred from the statement that at the three days' camp or picnic, held by the Central Texas Association at Hillsboro last summer, there were about 10,000 people in attendance.

There were delegates from about a dozen of the camps of the county present at the Saturday meeting and they organized the association by the election of Dr. J. E. Bobo, of Bedford, as president: J. W. Rider, of Arlington, vice president, and Dr. C. H. Hickman, of North Fort Worth, as secretary and treasurer.

A board of managers was elected consisting of John A. Kee, of Fort Worth: I. T. Valentine, of North Fort Worth, and L. P. Boatwright, of Arlington. A committee on constitution and by-laws was named: J. A. Todd, of Fort Worth; E. T. Pumel, of Arlington; I. T. Valentine, of North Fort Worth

Mr. Kee's explanation of the park project is that the tender is unreservedly made except as specified herein: that the plan will be to form a chartered company under the laws of the state; issue stock to the members of the order and any others who may wish it; and improve the park grounds The site is, Mr. Kee says, a beautiful one for the purpose and can be, at a reasonable expense, improved until it It is hoped that the building will be finished in time for the next will be admirably adapted to the pro-

It has been stated that the log rolling association is one formed for social purposes largely, but it is also the intention to have the influence of the association extended to the increase in membership and general improvement in the working of the order and so there is provision made for drill teams, etc. At the next meeting of the association, Saturday two weeks from now the matter of extending an invitation to the camps for the adjacent counties which are near to Fort Worth as to facilities for travel, will come up for

Fort Worth will make no mistake by continuing to encourage and develop the poultry business revel over the evidence that a very progressive newspaper man has endeavored to develop some new facts in connection with the Waters-Pierce matter. But the fact remains that Hearst had no more to do with the "persecution" of Bailey than the man in the moon. That he would take some interest in a fight of national importance and improve the opportunity to even some old scores should have been naturally expected.

This thing of electing a man and then investigating the serious charges under which he is resting is a new procedure, but as this is a progressive age, it should occasion no comment. After a while we will progress to the point where we will perhaps hang no murderer until after he is legally and entirely dead. This thing of hanging a man when he is still alive must be such an unpleasant experience for the man who ought to be hung.

Analyze the vote in the Twenty-eighth senatorial district, which was so overwhelmingly for Bailey, and t will sustain The Telegram's contentions that the town cliques are the ones who are doing all the yelling. The girl lifted the loaf from the shelf, wrapped it in paper, and handed it to him. As he took it he looked at her with an agonized expression. "Would you please tell me, mum, where the nearest hospital is?" he gasped, "Why, are you ill?" queried the girl, compassionately. "I believe I am. They have been having the diphtheria where I live, and I nust be getting it." "Get out of this place!" shrieked the frightened girl. "How dare you come in here? Here, take your dirty money !!" "All right, mum," said the tramp, submissively, shambling out, with a hand clutching his throat. At the nearest corner a brother tramp awaited him. "Did it work, Bill?" he asked. WORK OF THE LEGISLATURE

Viewed only superficially and without taking time for a careful analysis, the first important act of the Thirtieth legislature in re-electing to the United States senate Joseph Weldon Bailey does not seem to reflect much personal triumph to that statesman or much credit to the lawmakers whom the people of Texas have sent to Austin in the hope that they might correct some of the mistakes their immediate predecessors made.

And such a half-baked brand of legislative effort as was turned out from the Austin oven Tuesday does not reflect much credit on the state of Texas either.

Many of the members of both houses seemed afraid to vote at all, others frankly said they voted against their honest convictions because they had not been instructed to vote the way they believed right, and some were apparently glad of the opportunity lack of instructions from their constituents gave them for crawling into the bandwagon and taking refuge behind the party shelving boards.

Leaving the effect of the result out of the question, the spectacle of a legislature's proceeding with the election of a senator when nearly half of its own members demanded delay out of fairness to both sides, is not an edifying exhibition.

The party lash should not be held in higher regard than honest individual opinion and more especially not when the man who is wielding the whip advocates a brand of politics that seems a long cry from genuine democracy.

It is a natural expectation that the investigation of Senator Bailey now in progress at Austin will not amount to anything. in spite of the fact that there are honest and able men on both sides of the controversy.

It would seem from Tuesday's vote that there were men both for and against Senator Bailey who voted as they honestly believed was right. There seem to have been others who voted as they honestly believed was right-when it would not hurt their own political ambitions

Texas people would not be amiss in adding to their litany: "Lord, give us men with convictions."

DEVELOPMENT OF POULTRY BUSINESS

There was a time in the not very remote past when the people of Texas looked upon the poultry business as too small and trivial an occupation to receive attention at their hands, but during the last two years a decided change has come over the spirit of their dreams and the poultry business in Texas is fairly booming. stantially to their bank accounts.

REVIVAL OF VARDEMAN IDEA During the previous session of the state legislature there was an attempt made to introduce the Vardeman idea of dealing with the negro in this state in the matter of education, but it was sat upon so hard that it died early and easy. There are evidences, however, that the matter is to be pushed with more force during the present session, and has acquired more strength in all her territory.

than it possessed before. A press dispatch from Austin says The bill introduced by Senator Chambers providing for a separation of revenue for the support of white and negro schools in proportion to the taxes paid by those of the two races, has found some advocates. It has been shown that since the civil war the southern states have paid out more than $150,000,000 in an attempt to educate the negro race. In Texas the expense is said to have exceeded $16,000,000. The fact that the negro race as a race pays no more than one-fourteenth of the taxes collected for the purposes of education has been asserted and statistics are available.

The gross misconduct of negro trustees in negro school districts has been made the subject for allegation and the fact that in many instances colored teachers with few if any qualifications have worked under circumstances that give the African a salary of $65 month and the Caucasion $40 has been cited as an illustration. Now the matter is before the legislators. How to equalize the burden and call upon the blacks to bear their full share of expense represents a constitutional problem that the lawmakers seek to solve. The bill drafted by Senator Chambers was so framed as not to affect the general fund as created in school lands and properties. He believes that by such a means the constitutional obstacle may be removed.

The bill was taken up before the committee on education in the senate and discussed. The circumstances were such as to cause a delay in action while the constitutional provisions may be studied by a special committee consisting of Chairman Barrett, Meachum and Kellie.

At the same time the condition with relation to the alleged misconduct of negro trustees received attention. A bill by Senator Barrett was offered by which it is sought to provide for the apportionment of funds by a general board and thus relieve the negroes of the opportunity for the handling of funds as they may choose

The bill was favorably reported and the measure will be recommended for passage upon the floor of the upper house. The committee on education will likewise recommend the passage of a measure doing away with the "community" system and calling for the invariable establishment of districts. A bill providing for the office of county superintendent in many counties where the duties now fall to the county judge has received favorable action.

There are doubtless conditions in connection with the proper handling of the funds for negro schools that need attention and prompt remedy, but the people of Texas will not consent to the adoption of the Var-

The Hon, C. S. Rolls, the English aeronaut and motorist, was talking in New York about the Daily Mail aeroplane prize of $50,000. "I think the Wrights will win this prize," he said, "Santos-Dumont is ingenious, but the Wrights are more ingenious still. They are as ingenious as-as a betting friend of mine."

Mr. Rolls smiled and resumed: "My friend, Captain Bragge, bet an athlete that he could not hop up a certain long flight of steps two at a time. The athlete took the bet and made the trial. But there were fortyone steps to the flight and therefore, after making twenty hops, the man found that he had lost. He paid up, but accused Captain Bragge of sharp practice.

"'Sharp practice!' said Bragge indignantly. 'Well, 'll make the same bet with you-that I can do it."

"The other, expecting to win his money back, assented

"Captain Bragge then hopped up forty steps in the wenty hops, and, hopping back one, finished in the prescribed manner and won the bet."

. . . . HIS DELAYED MESSAGE

The tenant faced the landlord with a determined look. "That man you let into the vacant suite last week," he said, "plays the flute."

"Does he play much?" "No, he only plays a little. He plays a great deal of the time, but he only plays a little."

"You mean that he's a poor player."

"I mean that he's a player with poor taste. Any flutist that gets up at 2 o'clock in the morning and tootles out scales and things isn't much on taste to my way of thinking."

"I'll have a talk with him," said the landlord, "It's no use," sighed the tenant. "He won't listen to vou."

"We'll soon find out about that," said the landlord, as he reached for his hat.

"It's no use, I tell you," repeated the tenant, "Him and me had a fight last night an' I broke his flute, an' he moved out this morning. That's what I came in to tell you."

It also adds that they feel confident that the bill will never pass the house of representatives .-Brownwood Bulletin.

The Farmers' Union of the state is behind the fight that is being made against the cotton speculators, and members of that organization fully appreciate what they are up against. That "Adamless Eden" has caused quite a flutter thruout the county, and developments are being awaited with keen interest. as played or won off the stage and the 'realism,' so called, of the picture, is attained by a judicious amount of noise on and off the stage, with a wild set of people on the stage, making the audience believe that they are seeing something they are not seeing. In our nw play, 'At Yale,' we give the race on the stage. The eight men enter their boats and actually row in the electrical contrivances provided for them across the stage, but slowly enough to allow the entire course to pass before the eyes of the onlookers."

Georgia Minstrels

Twenty-eight years ago is a long time for one company to be on the road, and making nearly the same territory season after season, but this is the record of Richards & Pringle's Famous Georgia Minstrels, who appear at Greenwall's opera house Thursday, matinee and night, Jan. 24.

Maude Fealy

Ferry's work is one of the novelties of the season. He twists his body into all sorts of shapes while attired in a green costume representing a frog. One of his greatest specialties is twisting his head backward between his knees and walking about the stage in that shape.

Other attractions on the bill this week are Hayes and Healy, the "long and short" comedians, the Merritt sisters, in fancy dancing work; Miss Louise Adams, violinist; "Porkchops" Evers, blackface comedian, and Ann Hamilton and company of three in a Mexican play, "Beggars."

Catarrh of the Stomach

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effectual Cure for It

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, Inflamed condistinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared. According to Dr. Harlanson, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy

Why should this be the case ?

Because they have neglected them-selves, as every one of these patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in those dragging sensations, pains at left or right of abdomen, backaches, nervous exhaustion, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, and other organic weaknesses.

Miss Margaret Tierney, of No. 328 All of these symptoms are indica-tions of an unhealthy condition of the W. 25th Street, New York, writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:female system and if not heeded the "When only eighteen years of age our physician decided that an operation was penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation. residence. The passing away of the modest little home, built when Fort Worth did not have 10,000 population, recalls to mind one of the gamest officers who ever faced bad men and gun fighters in Texas. There are many in Fort Worth yet who remember Abe Woody, a man who died before he met a man he feared. For many years he was a member of the Fort Worth police force, during a time when it required men of iron nerve to hold down that job any length of time. Abe Woody held down the job and held in check the wild and woolly element in Fort Worth until he occupied a position as train guard for the Santa Fe and he died while holding that position. It was while acting as train guard that an attempt was made by a band of men to rob the train out in Bosque county. A desperate fight ensued, Woody on one side and the robbers on the others, resulting in the robbers being driven off. People on the train when the fight was on described Woody's stunts as being one of the finest exhibitions of nerve, coolness and true gameness in the history of Texas. The man didn't know the meaning of the word fear. Woody died of consumption in Fort Worth fifteen years ago.

FELL FROM VIADUCT

Joe Battle of Handley Has a Number of Severe Bruises

Joe Battle, laborer, of Handley, fell while he was doing some work under the Texas & Pacific viaduct, over Front street, Tuesday afternoon, and has a fractured wrist, several broken fingers and a number of severe bruises about the shoulders and face. An eye witness says that Battle was sitting on the railing of the viaduct when he suddenly toppled over and fell to the ground, landing on his face and chest.

To noon Wednesday no report of the accident had been made at the Northern Texas Traction Company's

WILL SUCCEED TURNER

Dr. C. L. Gregory for Superintendent of Asylum

Special to The Telegram. TERRELL, Texas, Jan. 23.-It is now a foregone conclusion here that Dr. C. L. Gregory of Gilmer will be appointed superintendent of the North Texas Insane Asylum in this city. While his official appointment has not been made public, private information indicates beyond much doubt that he will succeed Dr. J. S. Turner, who retired voluntarily to open a private sanitarium near Fort Worth.

OWNS OLD WATCH

Probably an Heirloom in Some English Family Special to The Telegram.

TULSA, I. T., Jan. 23 .- Philo Lockwood, a well known oil man, is in possession of an heirloom, probably badly wanted in some English family whose ancestry dates back as far as the era of Cromwell. The heirloom is a watch, which Lockwood won in a raffle at Beamont, Texas, several years ago. It is worth at least $500, the case being of solid gold, weighing about half a pound, studded with diamonds and costly stones. It is of quaint old English manufacture.

TO RELIEVE FAMINE

Free Gathering of Wood For Fuel on Forest Reserves Permitted

Special to The Telegram.

BUTTE, Mont., Jan. 23 .- A special to the Miner from Twin Bridges, states that the forest rangers have received advices to permit the free gathering of wood on the forest reserves for the purposes of fuel. This move is taken by the department of forestry as a measure to relieve the fuel famine existing in various sections of Montana.

For this reason Chief Ranch Boss W. D. Davis urges every bull to be on hand. It is expected that $7,000 will be available to entertain the cattlemen and that insures a royal time and a world of fun for the visitors.

DAMAGE BY GREEN BUGS

Report from Major Van Zandt's Ranch North of Town

Late reports from farmers in Tara strike or a lockout. rant county are to the effect that the green bug which has been doing so much damage in other parts of the state has reached here and is doing some damage to wheat and oats. Robert Duringer, living ten miles south of Fort Worth, says he has never before seen so many green bugs in the oats as he has noted this year and that the oats are worse infested than the wheat. Major K. M. Van Zandt receives daily reports from his ranch, almost due north of town and late reports from there are to the effect that the pests are increasing in number. In some places the fields are reported as being as brown as if scorched by summer heat. It is not improbable that a smaller crop of spring oats will be sown this spring owing to the presence of the green bugs.
