

AS I SEE IT

By Jack McCarty

According to an announcement made here Monday afternoon of this by School Supt. Paul Whitton, the 1955-56 school year got off to a big start Monday morning and that he was, indeed, happy over the prospects for one of the best years in the history of the local school system.

Speaking of school, it will be good news to citizens of this community to learn that the Board of Trustees let a contract to the B. & W. Construction Co. of Bryan for the construction of a new and modern gymnasium. Work is scheduled to start on the new building by September 15 and the contractor hopes to have it completed by Jan. 15, it was said.

Yea, Buffaloes, let's go! That's right, folks, football season gets underway here Friday night when the Buffalo Herd will meet the Baird Bears on their own pasture, for the first game of the season.

Buffalo Field is in excellent condition this year, thanks to the expert care of Prof. O. B. Edmondson, head of the high school vocational agriculture department.

See ya at the game!

Oil is still in the news hereabouts and drilling seems to be increasing. Exploration is moving closer to town, with local operators working feverishly to find deep oil in the areas north and east of town.

Buffaloes Open Football Season Here Friday Night When They Clash With Baird Bears

The football season will get underway here Friday night when the Cross Plains Buffaloes will be hosts to the Baird Bears in their annual non-conference grid clash. Game time has been set for 8:00 p.m.

Coaches James Alexander and Ferrell Newton stated that they are well pleased with the work-outs of their squad and are looking forward to a very successful season.

Friday night's game should be a thriller since the Bears will be out to avenge their loss last year, when the Buffs won by a score of 12-7. However, little is known about the Baird squad this season.

Head Coach Alexander stated this week that the Buffaloes should be strong in the backfield and faster than they have been in years, but there is some question about the forward wall because of inexperience.

Team captains for the opening game will be Guard Terry Watkins and Center Paul Lane.

Probable Starting Line-Up
Coach Alexander announced that the following boys will make up the probable starting line-up for the Buffaloes:

MOBILE TB X-RAY TO BE IN CROSS PLAINS WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY, SEPT. 7-8

The Callahan County T. B. Association is sponsoring a county wide T. B. X-Ray survey Sept. 7th through Sept. 10th. The State Health Department is furnishing the X-Ray unit for the survey and also their own technician.

The unit will be in Cross Plains Sept. 7th and 8th, and in Clyde September 9th and 10th. Everyone in the county is urged to have an X-Ray at this time and at which ever place and time that is most convenient to him.

Your Association has planned this survey for some time and is just now able to secure the services of the X-Ray unit. We are sorry that the unit will not be able to spend some time in each town or community in the County, but this is not possible, as they have such a full schedule.

We believe that every person in the county will be able to have an X-Ray at one of these two places. The age group for the X-Rays is from 15 years upward.

An X-Ray takes only a few minutes of your time—You don't have to undress, and, of course, you don't even feel it. An X-Ray check-up every year is the best way we can be sure. There usually aren't any signs or symptoms in the early stages of T. B.

So, don't fail to have your X-Ray. Free of Charge, at Cross Plains Sept. 7th and 8th, or at Clyde Sept. 9th and 10th.

Humble TV Program to Show Texas Prison Life

Each year many inmates of the Texas prison system are rehabilitated and become useful citizens of the state. And while in prison their educational work makes the prison system largely self-supporting.

Next week Humble Oil and Refining Company's TV program, Texas in Review, will feature comprehensive films of work done in the prison system. There will be films of the system's crops being grown, cattle and hogs being raised, canning factory, meat processing plant, shoe factory, machine shop, textile mill and, of course, the shop where license plates are made.

Another subject on the program will be films showing how farmers near Hereford switched from raising their usual crops of cotton, wheat and corn, and are now concentrating on onions, potatoes, sugar beets, lettuce and other vegetables. And there will be shots of youth at the Texas Christian Fellowship Work Camp being sponsored by the Youth Department of the Texas Board of Christian Churches to construct the Bella Vista Christian Church in Brownsville.

Monday (Sept. 5) the program appears on KRBC-TV, Abilene, 8:00 p.m.

Senator Johnson Opens Austin Office

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson will maintain a senatorial office in Austin as well as Washington between now and the convening of the next session of Congress, he announced this week.

Senator Johnson, now convalescing at his ranch near Johnson City from the heart attack he suffered on July 2, will be unable to follow his usual custom of traveling over the state during the Congressional recess. He has so organized his office staff as to enable him to give Texans the best possible opportunity to utilize his services and seek his advice.

"The doctors limit the number of visitors I can see," the Senator said. "But I would like to have all the letters my friends want to write. All will be answered."

Senator Johnson's staff will be divided to handle efficiently this correspondence and the problems involved. Heading his Austin office, in the Federal Building, are Jack Hight of San Angelo, one of the Senator's major assistants, and Blynn Stegall, long-time member of the staff from Graham. With them will be Grace Tully, for many years personal secretary to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and George Reedy, who will keep the Senator advised on legislative issues.

In the Washington office during this period will be Walter Jenkins, Senator Johnson's top assistant since 1933; Arthur Perry, formerly an aid to Senators Sheppard and Connally; and Booth Mooney, formerly of Dallas.

"With this set up," Johnson said, "I believe I can handle every request of a Texan during the recess quickly and efficiently. I hope no Texan will hold back any request or suggestion he wants to make simply because I must take it a little easy until I am fully recovered."

PHILOSOPHER SAYS TOURING FARMERS WENT LONG WAY TO GET OUT OF WORK

Dear editor: A bunch of farmers was sitting around out here the other day and the topic of discussion was this:

"For more than a month now a group of Russian farmers, or at least that's what they are called, I think they're mostly experts who have dodged the necessity of farming, having been touring the United States to study agriculture, and at the same time a group of American farmers have been touring Russia for the same purpose.

Now what this group out here wanted to know is: who's been looking after these visiting farmers' farms while they've been away over a month? Who's been feeding the cows? Who's been looking after the harvesting? Who fed the dog? Who cut the grass around the house?"

Supt. Paul Whitton stated this week that officials of the B. & W. Construction Co. stated that they hoped to complete the project by the middle of January.

Supt. Whitton said the building would be modern and spacious. It will be constructed of haydite tile and steel arches and will have an inside measurement of 75x100 feet. Located on the school campus near the south fence of the football field, the new gym will face west with the main entrance near the ticket office of the football field. It will have two practice courts running north and south and a game court running east and west. New-type roll-away steel bleachers will have a seating capacity of approximately 600 people.

Four modern dressing rooms will be located on the north side of the gym; two for boys and two for girls. These will be equipped with showers with hot and cold water, lavatories and commodes. The boys dressing rooms will be used by football teams, also, it was pointed out. The building will also house athletic equipment storage room.

As a further improvement of the local school plant there will be a lobby in the front of the gym building, housing public rest rooms for the convenience of spectators at all athletic events. The lobby will also house a concession booth to be used during basketball games, Supt. Whitton stated.

Ensemble numbers will be furnished by the Buffalo Band under the direction of J. G. (Pop) Stanley. Mrs. Sarah McCowan will show pictures and give a lecture on European countries.

Mrs. Freeman urges all members to come prepared to pay their dues and receive their yearbooks.

Social Security

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: What is a farm operator's responsibility with regard to filing social security report of the wages paid to his farm workers?

ANSWER: Beginning January 1, 1955 the Social Security Law covers farm workers who are paid at least $100 by a farm operator. In these cases, the farm operator will withhold 2 percent social security tax from wages paid to the farm worker. The farm operator will add 2 percent as his share, and will file an annual report with the Internal Revenue Service. The report will show the names of each employee who was paid $100 in cash in the year, his social security number, and the total amount of wages paid. If the total tax liability of the farmer on his hired help totals as much as $100 by April 1, July 1, or October 1, he will deposit that tax money with Internal Revenue but will not report names of employees until time for his annual report. The farm operator will keep a permanent record of the name and social security number of all his employees.

Angus Entries Large For Show September 9.

Interest is working us to fever heat in the September Aberdeen-Angus feeder calf show and sale due on the Stockyards September 9. Secretary Glen Toole, says the largest consignment to date is 160 head from one owner.

Judges Marvin Coucy, San Angelo, and Harris Mullen, Dalhart, will have the largest field of Angus calves to judge that have yet appeared at any of the associations show and sales at the stockyards, on the basis of these announced early intentions.

Upward of 1,000 are expected, and with inquiries ahead of the same time on the earlier sales the number could be well above that figure. Judging starts at 6:30 a.m., and will be concluded and awards made, so selling can start by 8:30 a.m.

Last minute touches in getting the pens and scales groomed for the event are going forward under supervision of Bill Joyce, operations chief, of the market.

Hogs Open Steady To 25c Higher Monday

Top hogs sold for $16.50 to $16.75 at Fort Worth Monday and less attractive weights and kinds sold from $15.50 to $16.25. Sows were steady at $1 to $1.15.

A national publication, out this week, estimates the lowest average for hog prices in the August through January, fall and winter period will be about $15.50 for the United States. They predict November and December will be the low time, when average prices are expected to swing between $14 and $16.

This is an educated guess based on the historic application of numbers of pigs farrowed, disposable consumer income, pork in storage and average July hog prices!

Sheep and Lambs Steady to Strong

Good and choice fat lambs topped at $18.50 at Fort Worth Monday, and feeders sold from $17 downward. Medium and lower grade lambs sold from $10 to $16. Yearling wethers drew $8 to $12. Old slaughter ewes cashed at $4.50 to $5.50.

Prices were steady on all classes, and high grade sorts very scarce.

Wool Promotion Program Reported OK'D

Early and incomplete returns of nation-wide poll of wool producers shows a majority favor wool promotion program. However, it will be some time before tabulation is completed.

Smaller Cattle Numbers Possible Next Year

FORT WORTH—The recent study of the livestock and meat situation released by USDA pointed out that slaughter of cows and heifers had expanded this year, and reports from over the major market circle currently reveal larger numbers of females than a year ago.

If this trend of increased slaughter of cows and heifers is continued through the last quarter of the year some reduction in the estimate of cattle on farms in the United States is indicated.

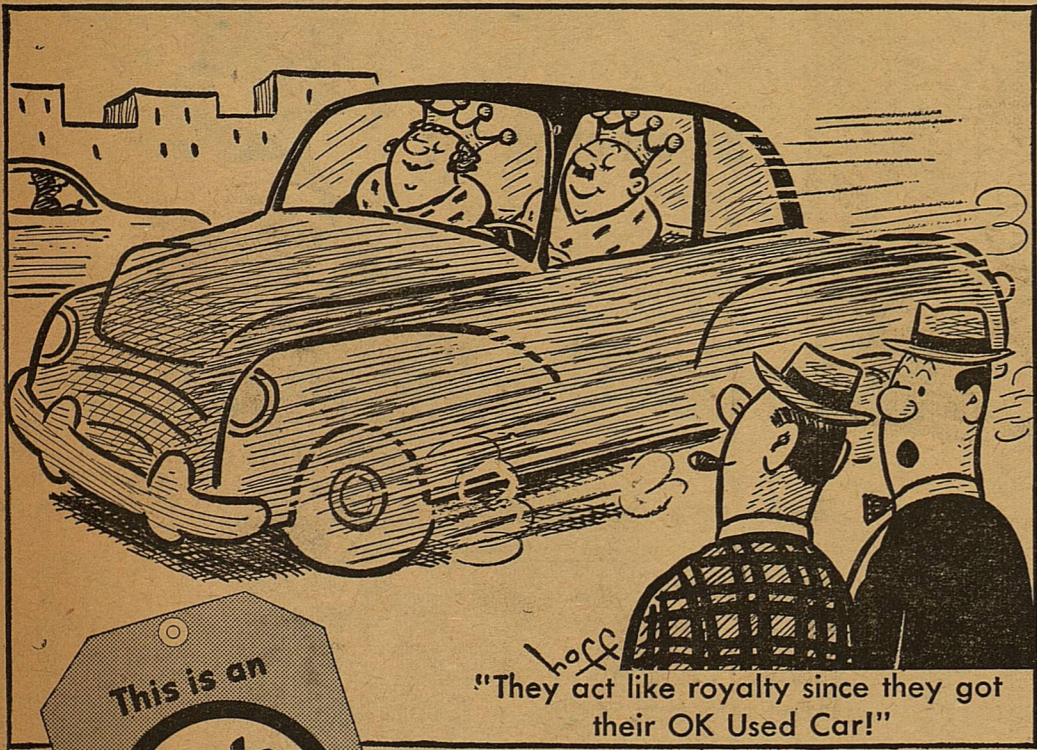

However, expanded swine numbers and the expected large lamb crop in the Southwest next year will likely off set any reduction in total meat animals numbers or tonnage.

Cattle Number Larger Monday At Fort Worth

The offering of cattle and calves was the largest since mid-July at Fort Worth Monday. Drying ranges in many sections of the Southwest and the approach of Fall with the cowmen busy working to shape up herds to go into the winter are credited with the bigger movement.

Most classes showed some weakness. Cows were 50 cents to $1 lower. Steers steady. Bulls unchanged. Slaughter calves and most stockers closed lower.

Science Seeks Answer To House Fly Control

College Station—Scientists are now on the trail of a mysterious substance which may make fly control much easier.

The clue, according to Extension Entomologist F. M. Fuller, was supplied by Army scientists several years ago when they discovered that as flies feed, the material upon which they are feeding becomes more attractive to other flies. Apparently feeding flies deposit some unknown substance which is attractive to other flies.

Now entomologists of the USDA's research laboratory in Orlando, Florida, have actually collected some of the material which they refer to as "fly factor". By dissolving sugar upon which flies have fed in water, acetone or ether and then removing the sugar, "fly factor" was collected.

Fuller says the entomologists, turned detectives, don't know what they have, but it works. Fresh sugar treated with "fly factor" attracted more flies than untreated sugar.

Efforts at isolation of the material will continue and the secret of its chemical makeup studied. If it could be produced artificially, Fuller believes it would greatly increase the effectiveness of present fly-killing insecticides by making them more attractive to flies.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Duncan were here from Fort Worth over the week end visiting his sisters, Mrs. Dick Montgomery and Mrs. A. O. Harris and their husbands.

Hints on Mechanical Harvesting of Cotton

College Station—The grade of mechanically harvested cotton can be improved or lowered by the practices used during the harvesting process says Fred C. Elliott, cotton specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

If strippers are used, Elliott advises producers to get the latest information from the local county agent on defoliation. He also suggests that weeds and especially Johnson grass be cleared from the fields before stripping is commenced. Spot oiling is suggested for this job.

When harvesting is begun, don't strip when the cotton is wet. Most gins, he adds, are equipped to do a good job if the cotton is brought to them in proper condition. One of the more important of these conditions is dryness.

He suggests the use of blowers on the strippers and wire or slatted sides for the trailers. Make the trailer large enough so tramping will not be necessary, he advises. Growers have told him it costs from $5 to $15 a bale to tramp cotton on a trailer. This will soon pay for extra trailers.

When spindle type pickers are used, he again advises seeing the county agent for defoliation information. Pick the cotton only when it is dry and be sure the machine is kept clean. Don't tramp the cotton for trash is ground into the lint and lower grades will result.

In case of custom harvesting, he suggests that a small piece of blackboard be placed on the trailer, it will carry the number of the trailer; the producers name; weight loaded; notation, machine picked and pounds needed to make the desired weight bale and finally the name of picker operator. This information is valuable to the gin as well as the producer.

For those who must put cotton on the ground and load later are advised that plans for a tractor loader (No. 378) are available from the local county agent. Finally, says Elliott, don't overlook any practice which will save or make money, the cost-price squeeze which is growing even tighter on the agricultural producer can best be met with more efficient operation.

Mrs. Melvin Placke and daughters were in Ranger the first of the week with her grandfather, R. L. Hise who is seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walker and children, Lynda, Butch and Julie Ann of Taft, Texas visited with relatives here last week.

The New Mom Is Younger

Look behind most any baby buggy in any Main Street for proof. The statistical fact is that one new mother in four is under 20, and will be the parent of teen-agers in their thirties, and most likely a grandmother in her forties. With people living longer all the time, the prospect is that a lot of young parents today are a cinch to become grandparents someday. —Changing Times

"As It Looks From Here" OMAR BURLESON Congressman 17th District

ANSON, TEXAS—It always feels good to be back home. It will be necessary for me to return to Washington about mid-September. Soon thereafter, however, I shall be back in my Congressional District and hope to see as many of you as possible during the Fall.

A measure introduced in the Congress during the last Session, known as HR3, was not considered. It provides that State Laws in any field will continue to be valid and can be enforced in State Courts except in those instances in which there is a conflict between State and Federal Law, in which event the latter will prevail.

This measure would more clearly establish the principle of "States' Rights." I am a strong supporter of it.

Amid all the talk of peace these days, there remain some headline-making blowups around the world. There is still trouble in Guatemala; the trouble between India and Portugal regarding Goa; France's trouble in Tunisia, Morocco, and Algeria; England's difficulty in Malaya, Singapore, and Cyprus.

These do not include the old sore spots in Korea, Indochina, and Formosa.

"Conformity" has become sort of a bad word. It has become so because it has been used so much in a certain type of propaganda. It has been used in the sense of meaning regimentation, which is not to our liking.

However, in many respects we all conform to certain patterns. We wear clothes which are fairly uniform, and eat a lot of the same breakfast food because it is well advertised.

We stop at red lights, pay taxes, and usually obey the laws which are for our own protection, without too much grumbling.

Most Americans believe there is a Divine Intelligence although we can get into serious arguments as to what He is and how He is to be worshipped.

Most of us believe that ours is a good country to which we are loyal. Again, there are vast and annoying differences of opinion as to how one can be most effectively loyal to his country. The need for loyalty is not denied.

When it comes to our economic system, it seems there is considerable confusion because we live in a kind of mixed socialistic-capitalist system. Two wars and a depression have made economy go a little haywire. Nevertheless, most of us believe in good old-fashioned capitalism, but the trouble is we don't want to give up some of the things that go with a great many Government benefits. This makes it necessary that we "conform" to some things we might not like to if the benefits were not there.

Most Americans believe their Constitution is a great instrument of government, particularly as it protects our liberties. Most of us think we know exactly what the Government should do, what laws the Congress should pass, and how the supreme Court should decide. That is why we are free people. Let no one silence the citizen who wishes to air his views, as long as he keeps himself a free man. In the end, good sense usually prevails, although it sometimes takes longer than it should.

Sports Afield

By Ted Festing

The porcupine has between 20,000 and 30,000 quills, an average of more than 100 a square inch, tucked among his woolly underfur and mass of outer guard hairs. They vary in length from half an inch on the cheeks to a maximum of five inches in the region of the rump.

These quills are of intricate pattern. About a quarter of an inch from the tip, the quill tapers abruptly to a point covered with minute barbs which overlap one another. The other end is attached, hair-trigger fashion, to a layer of muscle under the skin. So complete is the porcupine's control of this ribbon of muscle that he can instantaneously point his quills rigidly upward from a flat and relaxed position. Provided that he wants them to do so, they pull out at the slightest touch.

Once planted in the flesh of an adversary, the barbed ends, expanding as contact with flesh moistens and warms them, refuse to release themselves. Instead, they keep boring inward, often working through the animal's flesh and sometimes causing death.

The mating habits of the porcupine have probably caused more speculation and argument among hunters and woodsmen than the Kinsey report. Many fantastic solutions have been expounded. The disappointing truth of the matter, according to an article in Sports Afield magazine by George Heinold, is that he leads quite a normal sex life, for the female's control of her quills is as complete as his.

Another question about the porcupine which has given humans much food for thought is how are the young born, head first or tail first? If tail first, how does the mother avoid being stabbed to death from rear-directed quills during the delivery? Again we have an unsensational solution. All porcupine babies are born while still packaged in membranous sacs.

Few mothers are less troubled with preparation for their blessed events than those of the porcupine family. The babies, about 12 inches long and weighing around a pound at delivery, are rugged and well prepared to face the world. The mother merely ducks between some exposed roots, into a hollow log, a stump or among tumbled rocks. Shoe-button eyes are already open and the tips of incisor teeth exposed.

The baby's quills, soft to the touch for about an hour, quickly harden and stiffen. If disturbed by

Accidents Rank Fourth In State Death Causes

AUSTIN, June 16 — Accidents rank fourth as a cause of death in Texas. According to Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, 5,372 Texans died last year of this one cause, while thousands more were crippled. There are no figures available on the number of days lost because of accidents, there can be no doubt but that it is tremendous.

Automobiles caused 2,519 deaths or 47 percent of the total, the dangerous curves and intersections on the highways in Texas are well marked and drivers can assist greatly in reducing accidents by carefully observing them.

Many accidents could be avoided if motorists would drive below the legal speed limits when tired, sleepy, in rainy weather and when other hazards exist. One should adhere to the law regarding the dimming of lights for approaching cars. It is an old saying but true, that those who drink should not drive.

Many deaths are caused by accidents in the home. A total of 650 deaths were caused last year by falls. In homes most of these fatal accidents occur on either outside or inside stairways. Of course, there are many other locations in the home where accidents can and do happen.

Orderly housekeeping, poor furniture arrangement, slippery waxed floors, worn floor coverings, unanchored rugs, neglected repairs and dark or obstructed passages are other fall hazards found in many homes. Short cuts and so-called time savers frequently lead to accidents. The time saved is insufficient compared to the cost and time lost from an accident. When everybody develops safety habits, accidents will not be "fourth" as a cause of deaths.

Mrs. Howard Cox and daughter, Carol, visited in Blanket Saturday night and Sunday with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Ritchie.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wood and his sister, Mrs. Trudie Pilcher of De Leon returned home Monday after visiting for a few days with the Wood's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. P. U. Johnette at Atlanta, La. They reported good rains had fallen from Hillsboro into Louisiana.

Seed Laws Aimed At Protecting Farmers

COLLEGE STATION—Read the label or tag which is attached to every sack of planting seed before making a purchase, advises Associate Extension Agronomist Lee C. Coffey. The information carried on the tag is for the protection of the buyer and must list the content of noxious weed if any.

With the small grain planting season at hand, the specialist offers tips which may aid in keeping farm free from weed enemies.

Among the weeds often round in small grains are cheat or chess, jointed goatgrass, wild morning glory, field bindweed, curled dock, Johnson grass and wild oats.

Once a field is infested with primary noxious weeds, the job of cleaning up may require years and considerable expense. Crop damage results from lower yields and perhaps dockage because of the presence of some weed or from soil made unproductive through the use of chemicals for control.

Coffey says much of the trouble can be avoided by planting certified seed. They are not only pure as to variety but must be free of noxious weeds. Under Texas laws every sack of planting seed sold, whether certified or not, must be tagged or labeled. The tag carries information which should be read. The State Department of Agriculture administers the seed laws of the state and make a diligent effort to protect the buyers of seeds.

Planting seed containing nutgrass or field bindweed cannot be sold in Texas. Neither can seed containing more than 100 dodder, curled dock, blueweed, Canada thistle or Johnson grass seed per pound of seed. Seed containing more than 100 Johnson grass seeds per pound can be sold if marked—pasture mixture.

Read the tag before you buy, advises Coffey and especially check for noxious weeds in planting seeds.

Mrs. Earl Horton of Ranger visited here over the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Jones and attended funeral services for Mont Jones, Friday afternoon.
