Fire Department Offers Services To Citizens Needing Weeds Burned

The Cross Plains Volunteer Fire Department is offering its services to residents of this community who have weeds and grass on their premises which pose a fire hazard. Fire Cheif V. C. Walker stated this week that a crew of firemen will man one of the city fire trucks on a designated day and burn off these lots if residents will notify him or Assistant Chief S. N. Foster.

Since this is strictly a volunteer effort from the firemen, it will be one of the chiefs before Thursday, January 19.

A date will be set later when conditions are right for burning, Chief Walker said.

Washington, D. C .- With the op-Congress, this column will again be written each week.

It is the intent to write matters of interest in Congress and in Washington. An effort will be made to discuss these things which do not appear in the daily newspapers, but at the same time to call attention to legislation and discussions under consideration.

time to time it has been urged that people write their Congressman on matters in which they have an interest and on which they wish to express their views. You are as close to your Congressman as a hree-cent stamp, and can be assured your opinions will be apprelated and respected.

At the opening of this Session of the Congress, the Texas Lelegation. including our two Senators, bestowed upon me the honor of being Chairman of our group for 1956. Always in an election year there is more tension in the Congress and the lines are more tightly drawn than usual. This promises to be no different. There are numerous issues to be dealt with in this Session and no doubt it will be strenious. The foremost problem facing the Congress is what to do about the farm situation. Something should have been done about it last year which would have brought about better conditions for 1956. It is now likely that whatever is done will not be applicable to this crop year, but will apply to 1957. This likely means that the farmer is not going to be any better off this year insofar as production and prices are concerned.

A Highway Bill is almost certain in this session, but it will be a long. drawn-out proposition. There are many ideas as to how it should be done, and particularly as to how the cost will be paid.

The President has outlined a long list of recommendations to the Congress. If all the matters which he has mentioned in his Message are dealt with, it means that hard work lies ahead and the Congress must not waste time if it is to adjourn before the elections. About the best remark I have heard on the President's Message came from a colleague, who said it was "about everything you were for and everything you were a-

BUSINESS GIRLS' SORORITY TO AID POLIO VICTIMS OF STATE THIS YEAR

The thousands of Texans fighting NAVY OFFERS NEW FIELD to regain as nearly as possible normal lives after the ravages of police will get a big boost this winter from an organization of Lone Star State

Epsilon Sigma Alpha, business sorority with chapters throughout the state, has adopted as its state-wide project for the coming year a program aimed at providing self-help devices for Texans who have been left partially paralyzed by the disease.

'After polio, some are totally paralyzed; one can move only his neck; others, few fingers of one hand," declared Mrs. Jean Beasley, Austin, ESA state president.

ESA will call on the imagination and ingenuity of its membership to aid in dialing numbers on the telephone and turning pages of books. In additional to schools there is a to feed himself. Thousands of such devices are catalogued, and new ones are being designed daily.

"Epsilon Sigma Alpha's new program will render an outstanding and valuable service in supplementing the patient care program of the National Foundation," declared Mrs. R. O. Pearson, Abilene, the Foundation's volunteer state women's advisor for Texas. The program was worked out by Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Beasley and Mrs. Wilma Shahan, Port Neches, ESA state projects director. It was adopted unanimously at the November meeting of the organization's state board at Lubbock. ESA chapters will conduct various activities during the coming winter months to raise funds for their new state project. Next spring, at the outset of the polio program, the sorority leaders will confer with National Foundation experts to determine the greatest need for selfhelp devices.

As has been their policy for several years, ESA will suspend work on the state project during January to participate in the community March of Dimes campaigns throughout the state, Mrs. Beasley said.

"Epsilon Sigma Alpha has been a valuable part of the fight against polio for years, and with this expanded state program in the offing, their activities will mean much to those Texans struck down by the disease. The National Foundation wishes to express its heartfelt thanks on behalf of the many polio patients in the state of Texas to whom the work of Epsilon Sigma Alpha has meant so much," Mrs Pearson said.

And maybe you've felt sorry for the child because after all, he was just a child, and maybe it was Jim-

There are all too many adults who have never grown past the 'It was Jimmy's fault" stage of their development. They still try to pass their woes on to "Jimmy

Any traffic court judge could tell you about countless cases in which the defendant whines, 'But judge it wasn't my fault." And whose fault was it? Well, the fault might have been anyone's from the weatherman's to the bad roads' to the fact that his wife picked a fight just before he left home.

And try as we may, we cannot find it in our hearts to condone any of these excuses insofar as keeping out of traffic accidents is concerned. If you are involved in a winter accident, and are maimed or killed-or worse yet, if you maim or kill someone else-it doesn't help one to say, "it wasn't my fault."

We think it's high time that you as a driver realize that it's Your Responsibility to know all the facts about the hazards of winter driving. and to know how to drive safely in spite of them. If you don't know these facts, and can't or won't take time and effort necessary to learn them then we think it's up to you to stay out of your car in winter weather. Winter weather driving takes a completely different set of driving skills and driving attitudes, and it's your responsibility to learn

The old adage about the Lord helping them who helpes themselves applies especially to safe winter

The Texas Safety Association Ross Newton of Cross Cut attended recommends these six tips for safe

1. Accept your responsibility for staying out of a traffic accident. 2. Use good tires and reinforced tire chains when driving on icy

3. Keep your windshield and win-

4. Get the "feel" of the road by trying yaur brakes while driving slowly and away from traffic. Follow at a safe distance. 6. Pump your brakes to stop. Never jam them on. It's your responsibility to do all in your power to drive without having a traffic accident. If you winterize your car and your driving attitudes, we think you can do Most of us need no convincing that winter driving is pretty unpleasant. But that's no reason it has to be deadly. Let electric servants take over the job. Your automatic electric range cooks without watching - leaves you free to play with the kids or attend a meeting.

All over the house, electric servants are ready to help at the flick of a switch; they give you time for other things. And whether it's washing the dishes, doing the laundry, or cleaning a rug, electric servants do the job in half the time.

Electricity works for such low wages that it's today's biggest bargain. And your electric service company is constantly working to keep it that way.

Dear Triends

The people in the picture in this advertisement are Humble researchers on their way to work in Humble's Houston Research Center.

They are important people in your life, because their studies and their constant experimentation have only one purpose: to supply your increasing needs for oil and natural gas.

At the Houston Research Center, they pool their efforts to make the finding and production of oil and natural gas more efficient. And since they are top people in their different fields, their work has met with notable success.

It has helped to make the Humble Company not only the largest but also one of the most efficient producing companies in the country.

The new ideas, new methods and new practices developed by Humble researchers have resulted in the discovery of new reservoirs of a valuable natural resource; in making these reservoirs more productive; and in prolonging their life for your future benefit.
