Buffaloes To Tangle With Baird Bears In First Game Of Season Friday Night

40 Boys Report For Ward School Gridiron

Coaches Billy Mac Coppinger and Jack Watkins announced this week that a total of 40 boys, including 11 lettermen from last year's team, reported for grid practice with the Junior High team here Tuesday of this week.

The coaches stated that practice sessions will be held daily and a schedule of games will be announced as soon as the line-up is completed.

Lettermen reporting for duty again this year were: Paul Whitton, Jr., Clarence Gardner, David Goble, Aubrey Childers, James Harris, Dennis Beeler, Alvin and Elvin Hutchins, George Jennings, Donald Hargrove and Lonnie Switzer.

With two weeks of practice and two scrimmage sessions against Gorman and Clyde under their belts, the Cross Plains Buffaloes will journey to Baird next Friday night to clash with their rivals of long standing, the Class B Baird Bears, in the first game of the season.

While the Bears are known to have suffered the loss of several of their starters at graduation last year, they still possess plenty of speed and power to give any Class A team in this area trouble and fans can rest assured that an excellent grid battle awaits all who attend this game.

Coaches James Alexander and Ferrell Newton, state that the Buff squad looks pretty good, but they pointed out that the boys are going to have to give their best if they win their first game.

Injuries already received in practice have taken their toll in the squad as two players are already sidelined with severe injuries. They are Harold Merrill and Sidney Shirley. Merrill is suffering from a knee injury and Shirley suffered a dislocated shoulder that will likely keep him on the sidelines for most of the season, it was said.

Philosopher Worried Over Idea of Science's Bringing Out An Atomic-Powered Tractor

Editor's note: The Bayou Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on the Bayou may be going out of his way to find something to worry about, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

According to an article I read in yesterday's paper, well it wasn't yesterday's paper according to the date, which was about a week old, but any paper I read yesterday, if I haven't seen it before, is yesterday's paper as far as I'm concerned, scientists are predicting they'll have an atom-powered airplane ready to fly in a couple of years.

They said they based this on the fact the atom-powered submarine, which has now traveled 50,000 miles without refueling, is such a great success.

And furthermore, they said, after the atom-powered airplane will come atom-powered automobiles.

Now I don't know what this will do to filling station operators, there won't be much for them to do if they can fill up your car with atomic energy and you won't have to come back until fifty or seventy-five thousand miles later, sounds like the hours would be fine though the pay might be low, but I guess they'll think of something, maybe join the small family-size farmer as a politi-

Special producers will be set up for the issuance of social security account number cards to members of the armed forces, making it unnecessary for them to contact social security district offices to apply for their cards. Instructions as to their procedures will be furnished them through their service units, as soon as it is necessary to insure proper actions.

Active service on or after January 1, 1957, may carry with it the former gratuitous $160 per month wage credits for military service performed any time in the 1950-1956 period even if that same service is creditable towards a retirement payment from the service department. There are some special provisions regarding women on active duty in the forces will be brought under the provisions of the Social Security Act on a permanent, contributory basis on January 1, 1957. This is from the Servicemen's and Survivors Benefit Act which was signed into law on August 1, 1956, by President Eisenhower.

Motorists Urged To Fit Driving to Traffic Pattern

Remember the Old Maxim "Cut your pattern to your cloth?" E. C. McFadden of Dallas, President of the Texas Safety Association, gave it a new twist today when he advised motorists to fit their driving to the traffic pattern.

He offered this advice in the interest of the Share the Road program sponsored by Texas Safety Association and the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council. This program is being conducted in cooperation with the Slow Down and Live program of the National Conference of State Safety Coordinators.

"Many of us do a good deal of driving during the summer months," he said. "Sometimes we have to change from quiet rural roads to superhighways to congested city streets—all in the same trip, and at such times our safety depends on how quickly we can adapt to changing traffic conditions."

"Getting into step with the new traffic pattern immediately is of prime importance," he said. This calls for great adaptability and "living" skill.

"The driver who is skillful and versatile develops what might be called a 'sixth sense,'" McFadden said. "He gets the 'feel' of the new traffic pattern immediately and he adapts his own pace to it without delay."

"Once he has fitted his own car into this pattern he avoids doing anything that will endanger his own safety or the safety of the drivers around him," he said. He takes only his share of the road, and in the proper place. He drives at a safe distance from the car ahead. He keeps in his proper lane, passing only when he has ample time and space. He signals all turns and lane changes.

"The wise driver sees himself in true relation to the whole traffic picture," McFadden said. "He adapts his driving to the driving of the others around him. Courteously and realistically, he shares the road with them."

ing use of the gratuitous period or periods by either the civil service retirement system or the social security system, but not both.

Also, beginning with January 1957, applications for survivor benefits filed with either the Social Security Administration or the Veterans Administration by survivors of servicemen will constitute applications for benefits from both agencies, with proofs submitted to one agency being made available to the other.

An informative leaflet on these provisions will soon be available, and members of the armed forces desiring a copy should write the Social Security Administration, District Office, Abilene, Texas, giving their names and mailing addresses. Copies will be mailed to them as soon as a supply is received by the Abilene office.

Plans for fall seeding of Blue panic and planting of vetch and peas on the side of the bed as Clinton Harbor does are being made. Trial of fall root plowing in pasture has improved greatly the prospects of the Soil Conservation Service assisting the District are ready to help land owners with the planning of application of these or other conservation practices. Officers assisting the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District are located in the basement of the Brown County Court House, on the second floor of the Mills County Court House, and across the road from the High School in Rising Star.

Supervisors of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District—G. G. Goss, Rising Star; F. Scott Lanford, Blanket; J. H. Priddy; David Watters, Goldthwaite, and Anson Oden, Brooksmith are meeting in a special called meeting this afternoon. The meeting was called by Chairman, David Watters to study the use being made by cooperators of district owned equipment. use, while equipment in other locations are seldom used. This meeting has been called to relocate district owned equipment where the most use will be made of it during this fall planting season.

Football Broadcast And TV Schedule

This season Texans will be able to see and hear more Southwest Conference football than ever before.

That fact was brought out at a school held last week for the Humble Company's football announcers.

Nearly 30 play-by-play announcers and broadcast and television supervisors attended the school held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Southwest Football Officials' Association in Houston. As a part of the school the announcers attended sessions of the officials meeting to hear first hand about the rule changes for 1956.

Heading the staff at the announcers' school were Jess Neely, Rice Athletic director and head coach, and Kern Tips, popular Southwest Conference football announcer. Attending were announcers from all over Texas including such veterans as Dave Russell of Beaumont, Eddie Baker, Ves Box and Jerry Doggett of Dallas and Bob Walker of Wichita Falls.

Coach Neely explained the various plays and formations that will probably show up in conference play this season. While explaining the plays he made careful diagram to show the announcers how to accurately recognize formations.

Tips, known as "Mr. Football" to hundreds of thousands of Texas followers of the game, told announcers that penetration for broadcasts is most important. "Know the teams, their records, the signals and, above, all respect the officials," he said.

"And always remember that team play is what counts. Good runs are season made without good play by other members of a team."

Included in the comprehensive football coverage this year will be telecasts of six Conference games over a network of 24 TV stations and broadcasts of 61 games including the entire Texas Western schedule. On some weeks more than 100 radio stations will be used.

The six regional telecasts will be described by Kern Tips, a veteran of more than 20 years in Conference broadcast circles. The game to be telecast were selected by the Southwest Conference under a policy of the NCAA. Under Conference rules, telecast are blacked out in areas where they might hurt attendance at the telecast game. Thus, the opening regional telecast, Baylor vs. Texas Tech, in Waco September 29, will be blacked out in Temple and Waco unless the game is a sell-out.

Other Southwest Conference games to be telecast include Texas-Nebraska, October 13; Rice-SMU, October 20; Texas A&M-Arkansas, November 3; TCU-Texas, November 10; and Texas-A&M, November 29.

Radio and TV crews will travel more than 150,000 miles and use many thousands of miles of leased wire to bring the games to all parts of Texas. Broadcasts will be brought from such places as Berkeley, Calif.; Lincoln, Nebraska; Gainesville, Fla.; and College Park, Md.

Supplementing the live coverage of games will be Humble's popular TV program, Texas in Review, shown each week over a network of 22 Texas TV stations. A large part of the program will be devoted to highlights and interesting plays of Southwest Conference games played the previous Saturday.

These highlights are filmed, flown to Dallas, sometimes by chartered plane, for quick processing, and edited for presentation on the program the following Monday. Kern Tips will narrate the highlights.

This will be the 23rd consecutive year Humble has brought Southwest Conference football into the living rooms of Texas.

DELINQUENTS: PARENTS OR CHILDREN?
By
Col. Homer Garrison, Jr.
Director Texas Department of Public Safety

The problem of juvenile delinquency is one that has troubled us since the beginning of civilization. It will be here tomorrow, and the day after. It is beyond the realm of reason to believe that someone will one day develop a panacea that will stamp out juvenile delinquency.

On the other hand, it has always been my contention that there is no such thing as a delinquent juvenile, but instead there are only delinquent parents.

The thing we call juvenile delinquency is a product resulting from a multitude of causes or contributing factors, such as broken homes, bad companions, lack of religious training and education, and a scarcity of recreational facilities. Probably the number one contributing factor is the lack of home supervision.

Even through trite, the term adult delinquency has considerable truth. Parents have the basic responsibility of teaching their children to be good citizens. Parents know the child best—his interests, desires and weaknesses. And it is the parent's responsibility to see that the child learns to obey the laws and to respect the rights of others.

It is unfortunate, but nevertheless, it is true that too many parents have abdicated this responsibility. This too is one of the greatest tragedies of modern society. Too often the home has become merely a place to sleep, eat and change clothes. The home is no longer a center of living and learning.

Instead of sympathetic bonds of companionship between parents and their children, there is merely little with contributions from industry.

Short Snorts
University of Texas will have its final admission tests for the fall semester at the main campus Sept. 10. Total students tested before school's opening will be about 4,500, officials estimated. Texas Department of Public Safety cancelled leaves and days-off to put every available man on the highways during the holidays. Their goal: to beat the odds that 32 would be killed in week end accidents. State inheritance taxes on stocks are based on the number of shares owned, times the quoted value of stock on the date of the holder's death. This method of taxation is being contested by the executrix for the estate of Calvert Smith, wealthy Houstonian, who died in 1952. Involved is 31,350 shares of Humble Oil & Refining Co. stock on which a tax of $181,410 was paid under protest. Executrix contends that if that amount of stock was dumped on the market at one time the value would drop. District Judge Jack Roberts ruled against the state. Notice of appeal to the Supreme Court was given by the state.

Demo Nominees Invited to Texas
Democrats will make a real fight to regain Texas in the November election, says U. S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson.

He has invited both nominees to speak in Texas this fall. Vice-presidential Candidate Kefauver was specifically urged to attend the Heart of Texas Fair in Waco to be held Sept. 29-Oct. 5.

School Bells Ring Out
For millions of Texans the political clamor is almost drowned out this week by the ringing of school bells.

As usual, a "biggest ever" public school enrollment is expected. Texas Education Agency estimates enrollment at 1,754,833, compared to 1,840,784 last year.

No official reports or estimates were available on how many additional schools will be integrated this year. TEA officials, always carefully aloof on the subject, said they had "heard of only a few."

Only known trouble spot was Mansfield (Tarrant County) where white citizens patrolled the school to prevent registration of Negroes.

A more common problem is shortage of teachers. Some 6,000 additional teachers are needed, says the Texas State Teachers Association.

Business Record Still Expected
Despite a summer slump and farm troubles, forecasters expect Texas' total business volume to set another record in 1955.

According to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, business activity declined two per cent in July. But the index was still two per cent above July, 1955.

"Plight of the drought-stricken Texas farmers continues to be the most serious aspect of the state's business situation," said the report. "Farmers not only face falling prices, but have very little to sell."

Texas farm prices have fallen 36 per cent since 1951, livestock prices 48 per cent in the same period.

Demo Nominees Invited to Texas
Democrats will make a real fight to regain Texas in the November election, says U. S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson.

He has invited both nominees to speak in Texas this fall. Vice-presidential Candidate Kefauver was specifically urged to attend the Heart of Texas Fair in Waco to be held Sept. 29-Oct. 5.

School Bells Ring Out
For millions of Texans the political clamor is almost drowned out this week by the ringing of school bells.

As usual, a "biggest ever" public school enrollment is expected. Texas Education Agency estimates enrollment at 1,754,833, compared to 1,840,784 last year.

No official reports or estimates were available on how many additional schools will be integrated this year. TEA officials, always carefully aloof on the subject, said they had "heard of only a few."

Only known trouble spot was Mansfield (Tarrant County) where white citizens patrolled the school to prevent registration of Negroes.

A more common problem is shortage of teachers. Some 6,000 additional teachers are needed, says the Texas State Teachers Association.

Business Record Still Expected
Despite a summer slump and farm troubles, forecasters expect Texas' total business volume to set another record in 1955.

According to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, business activity declined two per cent in July. But the index was still two per cent above July, 1955.

"Plight of the drought-stricken Texas farmers continues to be the most serious aspect of the state's business situation," said the report. "Farmers not only face falling prices, but have very little to sell."

Texas farm prices have fallen 36 per cent since 1951, livestock prices 48 per cent in the same period.

New Mental Health Code
Proposals to streamline Texas' mental health code are being drafted by the University of Texas Law School.

Financed by the Hogz Foundation, the project is being conducted with the guidance of the Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools.

more than a nodding acquaintance in the morning and evening. This, as reflected in police records all over the country, is the pathway to juvenile delinquency.

As a result of our modern rapid pace of life, we have failed to maintain family restraint and family discipline and, in doing so, we have not taught the youngsters to develop self-discipline. Beyond this, our sordid juvenile situation has resulted from insufficient spiritual and moral training. Until our youngsters learn to know, respect and obey the teaching of Almighty God, we can never expect them to obey civil laws or the rules of society.

Building good citizenship in our youth of our State must have additional boosts; it is not the sole responsibility of parents. The school, the church, the civic groups and the law enforcement agency all have their roles to play.

These agencies can and are doing much good, but it must be remembered that nothing can fill the void left by the refusal of parents to be interested in their children.

There are no new answers to the question of how to educate parents to accept their responsibility of combating juvenile delinquency. However, legislation, making parents financially responsible for the vandalism of their children, would bring about a decided change in the attitude of many parents.

The State of Michigan has such a law commonly called "The Parental Responsibility Act." In effect the law holds the parents responsible for certain damages wrongfully created by their children. As a result, vandalism reportedly has dropped as much as 50 per cent in many sections of that state.

In passing the law, Michigan has recognized that neither the police, school, nor the social agency can take on the job of raising children. This job and privilege belongs to the parents.

Here in Texas we are not as well equipped—legislatively speaking—to handle juvenile offenders. Under our Texas laws, there are only a few instances in which adequate punishment is provided for juvenile offenders. The main offenses are purjury, drunk driving, reckless driving, speeding and possession of intoxicating beverages. The right kind of law, making parents respon-

Public opinion has done much in helping curb juvenile delinquency, the fact that some news media has begun to publicize the names of delinquents and their parents in the more serious crimes has had a very healthy effect.

Law enforcement officers know from experience that the best defense against juvenile delinquency is prevention. But above all, and certainly the most important, there must be a moral re-awakening throughout America. We must once again hold the brief that God's Law reigns supreme. For once the moral law is disregarded, the individual feels free to do as he wishes.

With God's Law supreme, obeying our Civil laws would be a simple matter of routine.

Cool Eggs For Most Profit

Texas egg producers who sell on a grade basis are finding that on-the-farm egg cooling equipment when used with frequent deliveries to the egg grading station is both economical and profitable. Kermit F. Schlamb, extension poultry marketing specialist, says a 30 dozen case of eggs can be cooled for about 10 cents.

Research done at Texas A&M College, he adds, established this figure and also showed that producer returns could be materially increased. He cites the record of a producer who used adequate cooling facilities and delivered his eggs to the grading station five times plus each week. This producer, according to Schlamb, received 2.39 cents a dozen more than the average producer selling through the same program. That is almost 72 per cent for every case of eggs cooled.

The specialist emphasizes that during hot weather eggs gathered three or more days and then immediately laid is above 105 degrees less it is cooled quickly, the egg, as designed, contains self-digestive enzymes which work rapidly at temperatures above 55 degrees. The egg is broken down by the action of the enzymes.

Quality breakdown can be to a low level by cooling about 30 degrees but the egg comes too great. Three Schlamb, a cooling temperature of 55 degrees or lower is recommended. But, he warns, quick proper holding temperature is a substitute for frequent cooling. The egg's temperature at the time of grading is also a factor in quality.
