SPRING CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN UNDERWAY; CITIZENS URGED TO COOPERATE IN EFFORT

The annual Spring Clean-up campaign got underway in Cross Plains, Monday of this week. Residents of the city are reported to be joining in the movement wholeheartedly and city crews are working feverishly to haul off the rubbish gathered up by residents.

Mayor W. D. Smith proclaimed the week as "Spring Clean-up Week" and urges everyone to join in the effort to make Cross Plains a more attractive and healthy place in which to live.

If you haven't started your clean-up program, do it today as tomorrow (Friday) is the last day city workers will be available to haul off your debris, free of charge. Place your rubbish in "throw-away" containers, at a vantage point near the street or in the alley and the city truck will haul it to the dump ground.

Do your part—clean your premises this week!

Sickness Strikes Bryan Family Again This Week; Daughter Has Surgery

Mrs. Lloyd Bryan had just returned from the Rising Star Hospital, Tuesday evening of this week where she had been visiting with Lloyd, who is recovering from a heart attack suffered some four weeks ago, when she received a call to go to Abilene immediately to be with their daughter, Gay Nell, a student at Abilene Christian College, who had been carried to Hendrick Memorial Hospital and was to undergo an emergency appendectomy.

Mrs. Bryan left immediately for Abilene and reported Wednesday morning that Gay Nell stood the operation fine and attendants believed now that she will be released from the hospital this week end.

Lloyd, too, is getting along fine and was expected home from the hospital today (Thursday). However, his trip home will probably be delayed for a few days until his daughter is able to leave the hospital, so Mrs. Bryan can have the two under the same roof to care for.

Mr. Powell will receive his degree from Howard Payne College, Brownwood in May and will attend a nine-weeks training school in Dallas beginning in July, before taking over his new duties.

At least $50 million more is needed, not only for teachers salaries, but for increased state services now pending for solution before the Legislature," the TSTA spokesman maintained.

"This is a problem not for school teachers alone," Williams pointed out. "It is a problem for parents."

"These emergency teachers are attempting to teach 100,000 Texas boys and girls today," he added. "If the Legislature does not provide increased teachers salaries, the situation will become even worse, and tens of thousands of additional Texas youth will be directly affected. It is a time for parents to become alarmed."

Teacher Head Warns That Teacher Shortage Acute

Austin.—More than 100,000 Texas school children are in classrooms without a qualified teacher, Dana Williams, Texas State Teachers Association president, said this week.

Williams pointed out that the Texas Education Agency this school year has issued 3,062 emergency teaching certificates to persons who could not qualify for a regular certificate.

"The education agency is now issuing 'teaching permits' at the rate of more than 125 each week," Williams said. These are granted to persons who are "the best available," and many have only a high school diploma.

"I think the people of Texas ought to have this information," the TSTA leader said, "because it is an alarming situation."

Now pending before the 55th Legislature is an emergency teacher pay raise bill which would help solve the problem by keeping experienced teachers in the classroom and attracting new, qualified ones, he explained. It would provide $399 increase to $3,204 in the state base minimum, plus $180 in increments.

"It now appears that only $200 per teacher will be available for increased teachers salaries, if all the money remaining after the General Appropriations Bill is used for this purpose. This will not do the job; this will not solve the problem."

"More money must be provided by the Legislature if Texas citizens are to keep qualified teachers for Texas boys and girls," Williams declared.

At least $50 million more is needed, not only for teachers salaries, but for increased state services now pending for solution before the Legislature," the TSTA spokesman maintained.

"This is a problem not for school teachers alone," Williams pointed out. "It is a problem for parents."

"These emergency teachers are attempting to teach 100,000 Texas boys and girls today," he added. "If the Legislature does not provide increased teachers salaries, the situation will become even worse, and tens of thousands of additional Texas youth will be directly affected. It is a time for parents to become alarmed."

BAYOU PHILOSOPHER SEES POSSIBILITIES IN IDEA, PUT OUT BY POSTMASTER GENERAL

Editor's Note: The Bayou Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on the Bayou, has heard about the post office controversy, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor: I have always figured that two of the fundamental rights of every American was to occasionally get mad at the post office and what brings this to mind is not anything that The Review or Postmaster F. R. Anderson have done lately, but the controversy brought on by Postmaster General Summerfield over the need for more money to keep the post office department functioning up to standard.

As I understand it, the Postmaster General threatened to close all the post offices on Saturday, including rural free delivery, and to cut out some other post office functions if Congress didn't give the department 47 million dollars more money.

Mr. Summerfield said the post office was going in the red and the only choice was to get more money from Congress or curtail some of its services.

Now, this is a new idea in government, and while I would hate to see the mail carrier fail to show up at my neighbor's mailbox on Saturdays, I'd like to say it has great possibilities.

For example, take foreign aid. Everybody knows it's costing us tax payers a lot of money to keep the rest of the world happy, and if Sec. Dulles could come over to Postmaster General Summerfield's way of thinking, he could threaten to cut down on this aid unless Congress not make the rest of the world happy, but think what it would do to you and me.

Or take any other department of the government. Any time it goes in the red, all it'd have to do is cut down on some of its operations, even to the point of letting some men off. I'll admit this is contrary to our way of life, that any time a country or a family is living beyond its income the thing to do isn't to cut down on spending but to borrow more and drag out the time payments longer, but it's something to toy with.

However, it could be carried too far. Take farming. It wouldn't work there. When a farmer finds he isn't making enough, he doesn't cut down on his services. He plows longer and tries to multiply em.

Maybe the post office department can cut down on its services when it's going in the hole, but you apply that to a farmer and the grocery shelves in town would soon be bare.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

BRIEF HISTORY OF A. A. ORGANIZATION

Editor's Note: This is a second of a series of six background articles to be published on Alcoholics Anonymous.

On a warm Spring evening in May, 1935, a lanky, dejected businessman from New York paced the lobby of a hotel in Akron, Ohio. An important business deal upon which he had been working for many months had just collapsed. The man felt like taking a drink. He took a step toward the inviting bar, then hesitated.

For six months he had not had a drink. But he knew instinctively that if he surrendered to impulse now, he would not be content with one or two highballs. For this man was an alcoholic. He knew he could not handle liquor. He remembered that less than a year before he had been declared a hopeless alcoholic, doomed to a drunkard's early death. He remembered, too, that during the past six months of "miraculous" sobriety, he had often tried to help other alcoholics stop drinking and had never had a desire to drink during these contacts.

If he could only find another drunk to talk to now! But this was Akron, not his home city, and his circle of acquaintances was limited. Still, there must be some one in a city this size with whom he could share his drinking story and thus ease the tension that made him think of taking a drink. Suddenly a directory of churches caught his eye. He stepped to a lobby phone both and called a minister. A series of calls to various other people followed, ending with a date to meet a local doctor "who seems to be having a lot of trouble with his drinking."

The meeting with this doctor the following day marked the beginning of the society now known as Alcoholics Anonymous, whose program of recovery from alcoholism is helping more than 200,000 men and women throughout the world to achieve a continuing sobriety they once thought could never be attained.

Locally, Alcoholics Anonymous is represented by a group that meets regularly and anyone seeking help with his own drinking problem, or that of a friend or relative, is invited to contact this newspaper for details.

Together, sharing their experiences as problem drinkers, the New York businessman and the Akron doctor found that the compulsion to drink disappeared. The New Yorker had to remain in the Ohio city for several months and the two non-drinking alcoholics began to work with other problem drinkers. One sobered up immediately but progress generally was slow.

Back in New York in the Fall of 1935, Bill W., the businessman, continued to try to help others who still drank as uncontrollably as he once had. Only a handful of drunks were impressed deeply enough to follow his example and be able to abstain completely from alcohol. During this early period, these few recovered alcoholics were in close association with the Oxford Group but this relationship ended in 1937. Henceforth the tiny fellowship was to be completely independent, working only for the recovery of alcoholics who still suffered.

During the Spring of 1938, plans were made for a campaign to raise funds among people who, it was thought, would be interested in the new movement. It was also decided to publish a textbook incorporating the experience and thinking of the men and women who had already found sobriety. A non-profit, unincorporated charitable organization, The Alcoholics Foundation, now known as The General Service Board of Alcoholics Anonymous was organized to supervise this and other activities during the Summer of 1938. The 66 ex-drunks in Akron, Cleveland and New York had high hopes—but no funds, no public standing and no name.

The fund-raising campaign failed. Except for a token gift from John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who had become interested in the new group through friends, the budding movement might never have survived the winter of 1938.

Finally the group decided to publish a book themselves, through an organization they named Works Publishing, Inc. (now Alcoholics Anonymous Publishing, Inc.) Forty-nine persons bought shares. In addition, a loan was obtained from the proprietor of the hospital where Bill W. had emerged from his last binge. By April, 1939, the manuscript of the book, tentatively titled "The Way Out," was complete. Spirits soared. Then came two setbacks. It was discovered that 12 other books had already been titled "The Way Out," and the national magazine that had "promised" to publicize the book changed its editorial mind.

Selection of a new title, "Alcoholics Anonymous," solved the first problem and gave the group the name by which it has since been

Atwell News

By Mrs. Alton Tatom

There was a large crowd at the Primitive Baptist Church, Sunday. Some of the visitors were Elder Robertson and wife and daughter, of Wichita Falls; Jess Harris of Cisco, and Arvin Brashear and daughter of Abilene.

Mrs. Robert Bearden and children of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Chick of Bangs, attended church at the Missionary Baptist Church, Sunday. Mrs. Bearden is a sister of Rev. Chick, the pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Loveady visited Grandmother Lovelady in Brownwood Sunday afternoon. Mr. Loveady also visited Leon Sykes.

Mr. and Mrs. Wrinkle and Leola went to Fort Worth last week end and brought Pat home. He is feeling a lot better.

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Morgan and children spent the week end in San Antonio with June and family.

Nona Lawson visited with Mrs. Nathan Foster, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Tatom, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Brashear, Mrs. Wrinkle and Pat and Leola attended the Eastland County Singing Convention in Rising Star, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morgan and sons of Odessa visited Mr. and Mrs. known. The second disappointment was more acute; the magazine article had been anticipated as the chief stimulant for sales of the new book.

The fledgling authors and publishers were left with 5,000 copies of a book nobody seemed to want. The printer's bill was less than half paid. The 45 subscribers were not exactly happy. The loan remained unpaid.

During this gloomy period, the group used a small business office in Newark, N. J. They kept the office open by the narrowest of margins. On one occasion a deputy sheriff actually appeared with a dispossess notice. One of the original group even mortgaged his own business to raise a loan that kept things going.

Then followed two fortunate turns of fate. Liberty magazine published an article about "The New Way Out." Shortly thereafter, the Cleveland Plain Dealer published a series of stories. The movement began to grow, particularly in Cleveland. And in March 1940, Mr. Rockefeller sponsored a dinner for A.A.

The Rockefeller dinner did more than yield desperately-needed funds at a critical period. It also provided favorable public recognition for the work of the group. News of the dinner was reported throughout the country. Almost immediately inquiries began to pour into a newly-established New York service headquarters.

Membership reached about 2,000 in a few months. The movement spread from the Cleveland-Akron area to Chicago, Detroit and Little Rock in the Midwest; to Philadelphia and Baltimore in the East and to Houston, Los Angeles and San Francisco in the West.

While the movement grew rapidly in 1940, it caught fire and swept the country in 1941 with the publication, in the Saturday Evening Post, of a feature article by Jack Alexander. The first Canadian group was formed in the same year. The growth of A.A. has continued to accelerate. Today, it is estimated that there are about 7,000 local groups (or lone members) in more than 70 countries. Hundreds of persons continue to turn hopefully to A.A. each week.

Abilene Couple Announce Birth of Son, March 29

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Carey of Abilene are announcing the arrival of a son, Larry Burt, March 29, at 12:05 in Hendrick Memorial Hospital. The baby weighed seven pounds, 8 1-2 ounces.

Mrs. Carey will be remembered here as the former Jackie Goble.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Carey of Abilene and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Goble of Cottonwood.

The baby also has four great-grandparents living. They are Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Goble of Cross Plains, Mrs. J. P. Mitchell of Cottonwood and Mrs. May Walker of Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Bayless, owners of the City Drug Store here, attended the West Texas Druggists convention held in Abilene Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week.

Ebb Rouse over the week end.

Edgar Sessions of Odessa stopped by to see his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Sessions, enroute to Dallas to attend a National Guard meeting. Mrs. Sessions was ill and the cold spell came while he was here, so he spent the week end with his parents.

Harris also began seeding on his farm about four acres of Rowden, this week.

Bob Meador, who farms north of Pioneer, is planting of King Ranch blues on cropland placed in Conservation Reserve portion of Anderson County Soil Bank Program. He has another 44-acre field program that he probably planted because of the shortage.

Edwards is using a Soil Conservation Service two-row planter to grass in 38-inch rows. The grass is clean and firm and he cultivates the grass until established. He is getting field owned by his son plant Blackwell switchgrass. This field is also in the program and he plans to grass in 38-inch rows and it until it is also well established.

Edwards has been successful in grass on cropland and of the forage the reseeded has produced. An 80-acre field planted to a bluestem in 1949. He got an excellent and has been wintering on the field ever since. Management has been responsible keeping a good stand of throughout the drought.

Edwards who are planning to grass this year under the Conservation Reserve feature of the program are reminded that time is here. A reseeded alternative under this program is to plant sudan or maize for dead cover next year.

Alternative is approved by the committee with cost-share.

Farmers who already have grass seed and are ready to use the grass seed drills owned by their Soil Conservation districts. At Rising Star, a Chapter and can be used small "per acre" rental fee is offered in selecting grasses by the Upper Leon Conservation District through the Soil Conservation office. SCS personnel help in planting the grass. Conservation District Superintendent urging all farmers in the district to have good stands of native grasses to manage stands for possible seed this fall. The demand for seed has increased many-fold through the Soil Bank program and consequently the operation and consequently of most grass seed is being all parts of the country.

Hope for Cerebral Victims Expected

West Texas Rehabilitation in Abilene announced new speech handicapped ceremony victims. This hope comes result of experiments now carried on with the purchase of Seals.

Use of the Monaghan portopneator—the type often used in treatment—has aided a therapist at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center here to achieve in six months what previously had taken two years toward speech deficiencies of victims of cerebral palsy.

Last September, Miss Mary Letterson, speech therapist, carried out this unique experiment under direction of the staff of the Center.

Present the experiment is the one of its kind in this area and the only one in the United States.

West Texas Rehabilitation is the Eastern Seal Agency in Abilene and offers physical, occupational and speech therapy to children.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. McDaniel of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Baum of this city left Tuesday of this week for Corpus Christi where they will spend the Easter holidays with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Klutts and family returned to their home at Old Ocean Friday after a few days visit here with his mother, Mrs. Jessie Klutts and other relatives.

Among those attending the Eastland County Singing Convention at Rising Star Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Burchfield, Mrs. W. A. Strickland, Mrs. Exal McMullan, Billie Sam Schaffner and Willie Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Baker and son of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Grady Ramey and family of San Angelo were visiting here the past week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thompson. The Baker family also visited at Burkett with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Baker.

Austin.—"Sine die" is the magic phrase around the Capitol nowadays. It's the phrase traditionally applied to the final adjournment time agreed on by both houses of the Legislature.

Only three weeks remain of the 120 days recommended in the Constitution for sessions. After that (May 17) lawmakers' pay stops.

Sentiment appears strong for a sine die resolution set on or very near that deadline. It's been a rough session, say many members. Investigations, bribery charges, counter-charges and threat or more have frayed nerves, provoked hot words, deep rifts.

They've made it harder to plough through the usual hundreds of measures requiring study, debate and some sort of agreement. Many are still backed up in discouraging stacks.

Even so, say members, they hope to shove through the "musts" and go home on time. But likely differences of opinion on what constitutes "musts" promise even more tension and temper for the final weeks.

Teacher Raise—One of the biggest issues still gathering steam in the Legislature is the teacher pay raise. Despite strong backing, the drive has been beset with stumbling blocks.

Public school teachers want a $368-a-year boost. Total cost for the biennium is variously estimated from $45,000,000 to $70,000,000.

Sponsors have become increasingly impatient of delays. Bill was stymied by House rule which prohibits consideration of any other pending bill until the general appropriations bill is finally approved. This is in conference committee.

Then the attorney general ruled the teachers' bill was not an appropriation bill. This seemingly opened the door to quicker action. But budget-watchers intervened. They said passage of the teacher bill first would leave the treasury $20,000,000 short of enough to cover the general appropriation bill.

This focused attention on Rep. Tom Joseph's "just in case it's needed" tax bill. It would tax dedicated natural gas reserves, produce an estimated $35,000,000 in two years. Gov. Price Daniel had recommended a levy of this sort should more revenue be needed.

But this one, by some slip, was introduced without an enacting clause. Joseph sought the neces-Sary two-thirds House vote to permit a correction. Vote was 68-10-66 against.

Ethics Bill Zips Out.—After weeks of haggling in the House, the code of ethics bill whizzed through the Senate in one day.

It goes to the governor's desk with 29-0 Senate approval.

Bill provides that no legislator, state official or employe shall engage in any outside activity "in substantial conflict with the public interest." Penalty is expulsion or dismissal.

Narcotics Bill Passed.—A possible death penalty for dope peddlers seems almost certain to become law. House and Senate have passed the bill which was recommended by Gov. Price Daniel. It would permit juries to assess the death penalty on second conviction for sale of any narcotic drug to a minor.

Auto Registration Tax.—State car taxing system would be overhauled under a measure which won preliminary House approval.

If passed, the constitutional amendment would abolish the property tax on motor vehicles. Legislature would be given authority to increase registration fees by one-third. Revenue would be divided between school districts and city or county.

Meanwhile, Texas Research League released a study suggesting further revision of the registration laws. License fees based on weight result in inequities, said the League. It proposed a flat fee for all size cars.

Farm Bill Shelved.—A bill to replace Commissioner of Agriculture John White's office with a 21-member board went to House subcommittee.

White declared the bill was dead. Hearing brought prolonged and heated testimony. Proponents of the measure contended lack of state and federal cooperation has resulted in inadequate crop inspection.

Opponents declared the 21-member board would be unwieldy and cost the state more in travel expense.

Segregation Bill Okayed.—A bill regarded as the cornerstone of a program to maintain school segregation won its second-round House vote.

It would allow local boards to assign pupils to schools on basis of "qualifications, aptitudes," etc. An amendment also gives the boards authority to exempt a child from compulsory attendance at an integrated school.

Senate Confirms.—Joe P. Gibbs will serve on the Board of Insurance Commissioners until Sept. 1. Measures now before the Legislature would abolish the present board and substitute a new set-up between now and September.

Senate quickly confirmed Gibbs' appointment and that of Brady Gentry of Tyler to the Highway Commission. Both were made by Gov. Price Daniel.

Also confirmed, after long debate, was the appointment of R. M. Dixon as a member of the State Board of Water Engineers. This appointment kept unbroken the record that none of the recess appointees of Gov. Allan Shivers has been removed from office by Senate rejection. Other Shivers appointees confirmed by the upper house were R. F. Newman of Borger to the Employment Commission, and nine other interim appointments made by the former governor.

Short Snorts.—Board of Insurance Commissioners granted a second delay in the show cause hearing on Physicians Life and Accident Insurance Co. because the firm's president, Former Gov. Coke Stevenson was ill. But hearing will be held April 22, said Commission Chairman John Osorio, regardless.

What Texas needs is an anti-wire tapping law, said U. S. Sen. elect Ralph Yarborough. He claimed his campaign headquarters telephone lines had had uninvited listeners. . . Both House and Senate gave final passage to a bill which would allow a farmer to use his pick-up or other vehicle with farm license plates for family and household errands.
