Senator YARBOROUGH'S REPORT

We have all seen and have been concerned about the towns of Texas which prosperity has passed—those communities that are growing smaller instead of larger.

Unfortunately, we have quite a number of little Texas towns where people are having a difficult time making ends meet. Boarded-up store windows and deserted farm homes are mute evidence of a bygone better day for these areas.

The best way of stopping the slow death of these once prosperous communities is to help each town help itself. Since our state is blessed with rich natural resources, many of these communities could build or attract substantial new industries. But it is frequently impossible for a town that has gone downhill to raise necessary funds for surveys, sites, and construction necessary for establishing new industry. Yet, new industry means vital new jobs and new payrolls.

Loan funds needed to help get these towns and areas back on their feet are provided in a bill which I am co-sponsoring called the Depressed Areas Act. The portion of this act applicable to rural redevelopment establishes a $100 million revolving fund from which loans could be made for local industrial development projects.

Under this plan, the town's leaders would decide what type of industry could best be located in the area, and then can apply for a loan to set up or attract such an industry. This bill is especially designed to help these small towns which cannot obtain industrial capital from other sources.

The loan would help create the factory which would create the jobs which would give the city's residents more money to spend with their hometown businesses, thus improving the town and our state.

Please notice I am speaking of loans. There are a few grants for public facilities included in this measure, but primarily the assistance would be provided in the form of loans. These loans must be repaid. This means this is an investment program rather than a spending program.

In my opinion, this bill would be of great benefit to some areas of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bayley of Goldthwaite visited in the Jack McCarty home Sunday night.

Dr. and Mrs. T. R. Havins of Brownwood were Sunday visitors in the home of his sister, Mrs. Henry Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hogan left Sunday for California for a month's visit with relatives. They will visit with Mrs. Hogan's son, Lt. Comdr. A. W. Clifton and family at Monterey, and also with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Pilleotta and children at Riverside, while in California.

"As it Looks From Here"

OMAR BURELSON
Congressman
17th District

Washington, D. C.—Aside from subjects of day to day interest or personal matters on which help is needed, the bulk of my mail at the present concerns the fiscal affairs of our government.

Specifically, people write me about balancing the budget, reducing expenditures and the reduction of taxes.

The President has presented a $77,000,000 budget to the Congress. It is supposed to be a balanced budget. To be a balanced budget, however, many "ifs" are involved.

(1) If the nation's economic trend takes a sharp upturn in order to increase individual and corporate tax payments.

(2) If the Congress grants the President's request to increase the Federal gasoline tax by 1½ cents per gallon.

(3) If the Congress again grants the President's request to raise the price of first class postage stamps from 4 cents to 5 cents.

(4) If some sort of "General Service" tax, mentioned by the President but not spelled out in any detail, is enacted by the Congress.

(5) If the people will ask less—not more—in the way of Federal projects, services and programs from the Federal Government.

To meet the requirements of a $77,000,000 budget with all these "ifs," the President recommends a continuation of present individual income taxes, and extension of corporation profits and excise taxes upon the expiration date of June 30 of this year.

He also recommends a plan for taxing income of life insurance companies, a plan for taxing cooperatives in a different way than at present, and an amendment specifying treatment of the process computing percentage depletion in the case of mineral products.

There are indications that the President may make further tax recommendations to the Congress before very long.

Facing the facts, Congress is very limited in its choice of reducing expenditures of this huge government. This is especially true if we consider it is necessary to devote about 60 per cent of the entire cost of government for national defense. This leaves 40 per cent for all other purposes. Interest on the national debt accounts for another 10½ percent. This leaves 29½ per cent. Veterans' benefits takes 6½ per cent, and we have not yet paid for international affairs, which are equal to almost 3 per cent. Commerce and housing comes to 2.9 per cent, and agriculture 7.8 per cent. Add a 2.2 per cent for natural resources, and a little over 5 per cent for labor and welfare, and we still have not paid for general government expense. This item comes to 2.2 per cent, and an allowance of 0.1 per cent for contingencies finishes the total in costs of government.

This is not to say that all these figures become sacred, even national defense; but such programs as that for veterans, or the public debt, the farm program, and so forth, are fixed obligations for which the Congress must automatically make appropriation.

There is one thing certain—if the budget is to remain in any sort of near balance, the Congress certainly can not launch out on more huge spending programs. There are already proposals in the mail for expenditures of between 4 and 5 billion dollars not included in the budget to pay for such programs. This will mean one of two things. Either taxes will have to be increased or more deficit financing. As everyone knows, the tax burden is already heavy, and deficit financing contributes to more inflation.

In a way, the answer is simple, but putting it into effect is something else. As individuals, most of us pretty nearly live within our means. It is common sense that the government should do the same. It could be done if we had the will to discipline ourselves to it.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin—With committee hearings going full tilt, the Legislature has reached the rough and tumble stage.

Committee hearings give everyone who has anything to say about a proposed measure a chance to come and speak up. It brings people to Austin in droves. And many speak up—very bluntly.

This year's lawmakers, particularly in the House, seem to be falling into an early pattern of much work, little play. In part, the shortage of sociability is attributed to the hard-fought speaker's race. It divided the House into two camps, those attributed for the most part, stayed aloof from each other during early weeks.

A second sobering factor is attributed to the new lobby control law. Actually, the lobby registration requirement has probably done more than any one thing in recent years to make lobbying seem common-place, respectable. A total registration of some 700 indicated that just about everybody and his brother has a lobbyist.

But the law also requires that each lobbyist make a monthly report on the amount spent influencing legislation. Herein comes the reason for caution in entertainment. No one particularly minds being identified as a lobbyist, but large expenses might incur the risk of being tagged a "rich lobbyist."

Rough Road—Toughest sledding continues to be over the money problem.

Gov. Price Daniel let go with both barrels at critics of his plan for clearing the state deficit and raising additional money for future state services.

Daniel's principal target is Rep. Prates Seelgson of San Antonio, whose 18 months' work with the State Tax Study Commission convinced him Texas taking had to branch out, partly through a 1.5 per cent sales tax.

Daniel's money program is based primarily on a natural gas severance tax and increases in a number of other taxes. He warned he'd stick for this program to the last ditch, even into a third term, if necessary.

Matter of Math—First official consideration of a part of the governor's money program brought a real set-to.

It was a hearing on "the book-keeping bill" by the House Revenue and Taxation Committee. This is a proposal, sponsored by Rep. James E. Bates of Edinburg, to credit to the general fund revenue fund $18,000,000 from the omnibus tax fund. Since the general revenue fund is expected to be $65,000,000 in the red by August 31, this would help to ease the pain in that area.

Just What The MD Ordered

Time was—in your great grandmother's day, maybe, around 1870 or so—when the doctor traveled to his patients by horseback and mixed his own medicines, probably measuring ingredients by eye from the point of a penknife.

What he lacked in scientific controls or technical equipment he tried to compensate for by seasoned judgment, patience, charm, and benevolence. It was hit or miss, surely enough, but it was all he had.

Today, your modern prescription pharmacist puts at your doctor's hand the vast complex technical setup of modern drug manufacture. Careful assays, controls, and the skills and knowledge of trained chemists, physicists, biologists, stand behind the materials your pharmacist receives.

When your druggist fills a prescription for you, all the ingredients demanded for your benefit have been carefully measured, tested, purified. Hit or miss is out. Uniformity and accuracy are the rule.

This means that, when your pharmacist fills a prescription from your doctor, he gives you just what the doctor ordered—no more, no less. His Rx is as good as his bond.

Bring your next prescription to us with confidence that it will be filled with pure, fresh drugs and exactly as your doctor has ordered. Or, when you need medicine in a hurry your doctor can . . .

RILEY FALKNERS PARENTS OF SON BORN JANUARY 26

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Falkner of Farmington, N. M., are announcing the birth of a seven pound, six ounce baby boy, born January 26. The baby has been named Rickey Lynn.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Falkner of this city are the paternal grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Newton were here from College Station the past week end visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Newton and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McQuin and Jay.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Payne returned to their home here Friday night of last week after spending a week in San Angelo with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Van Campbell, following Mr. Payne's release from the Rising Star Hospital.

COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE CALLED THE PLAN UNSOUND

declared such juggling around would just be "legalizing a false statement." Legislative critics labeling it "check kitting."

But members of the governor's office defended it stoutly as a means of giving a "true picture of financial condition."

Parkhouse Vs. Labor—More heat was generated when representatives of organized labor came up to protest Sen. George Parkhouse's union reporting bill.

Briefly, the Parkhouse bill would prohibit use of union dues for political purposes, and require unions to file financial statements audited by a certified public accountant. Labor officials protested that some phrasing in the bill was so broad as to limit union members from expressing opinions and, hence, free speech. They also said the CPA requirement would be too heavy an expense for small unions.

Parkhouse said many union members had asked him to sponsor such a bill so they could get an accounting of what goes with union funds. Some, he said, complained their dues money was used for purposes with which they did not agree.

SCHOOL BILLS—COMMITTEE HEARINGS ON HIGHER EDUCATION APPROPRIATIONS BROUGHT VARIED, BUT CAUTIOUS, EXPRESSIONS ON HOW THESE INCREASING COSTS MIGHT BE MET.

Before the House Appropriations panel, A. M. Muldrow, Higher Education Commission chairman, said that the commission was studying the question of asking for higher college tuition rates. State college tuition was doubled, from $50 to $100 a year, last session.

Before the Senate Finance Committee, most of a group of 18 junior college presidents said they would approve a general sales tax "if necessary."

By The Dozens—More and more bills being poured into the legislative mill daily. Among recent ones are those measures which would:

Protect Public Records by providing a three to seven year prison term for unlawful removal, by Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford.

Create A New Commission to regulate telephone, gas and electric power companies statewide, by Rep. Bill Kilgarriff of Houston.

Keep Passenger Trains running longer after revenue declines, by Rep. Clyde Miller of Houston. Railroads cannot now be required to operate passenger service at a loss.

Increase Franchise Tax on corporations by 60 cents on each $1,000 capital, by Rep. J. E. Winfree of Houston. Part of the Daniel tax program, it would raise an estimated $14,000,000 this year, $15,000,000 next year, then expire.

Raise State Employee pay 5 to 20 per cent on salaries under $4,000, by Travis County legislators.

Permit Flexible Rates on automobile insurance, varying according to good and bad records of drivers, by Sen. Jarrard Serest of Temple. This is a highly controversial bill which was defeated last session.

Tax Trading Stamps by 10 per cent, by Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs.

Regulate Boxing and Wrestling by a new commission created for that purpose, by Rep. Will Smith of Benumont.

Abolish Aeronautics Board by Rep. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline. He called it a "needless waste" of state money with the CAA serving all useful aviation functions. He said he is considering a similar bill to end the Good Neighbor Commission.

Mrs. J. C. Claborn visited in Fort Worth last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McMillan, and daughter. Mr. Claborn spent the week end in Fort Worth and Mrs. Claborn accompanied him home Sunday.

Mrs. Ned Clark has returned to Cross Plains from San Diego, Calif., to stay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Y. Woody, and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Clark, while her husband is stationed in Germany with the U. S. Army.

Fred Pries and two children of Seagraves visited here for a short while Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cox, enroute to their home in Seagraves from Galveston where they visited during the week end with Mrs. Priest and Wendell. Wendell is a patient in John Seely Hospital where he is undergoing treatment for burns suffered three weeks ago, and was reported to be slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Renfro of Abilene visited her mother, Mrs. J. H. McElroy, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Anderson and baby of Albany visited Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Anderson Saturday.

They have spent the past days in Abilene at the home of Mrs. Rich's granddaughter, Ann Walker, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walker. Seymour, who was a patient at the Crick Memorial Hospital, was carried to Baylor Hospital, Dallas Sunday where she is under the care of a blood specialist.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

VERN SANFORD is so much to be learned, so much thrill to be had. This refuge is located near Austin, south of Victoria and Refugio. It is coastal land, facing on San Antonio Bay and it abounds in all kinds of wildlife. There are visiting hours so that persons may drive through parts of the area in their cars. Wild deer and turkey often are seen, along with all types of water birds.

In fact, the Texas Ornithological Society holds frequent pilgrimages there. On the backside of the refuge there is a lookout tower, something like an oil derrick, where you may climb to the top and watch the wildlife through powerful glasses.

Occasionally you can see the big whoopers and observe them as they move about the marshes, or fly overhead.

No firearms or dogs are allowed in the refuge. There is an agreement with the Game & Fish Commission which permits the state to trap wild deer for transplanting in other areas and you'll see these deer traps scattered widely over the place.

The shore line of the refuge is very interesting, with enticing fishing waters in the bay. Boats will be working in these waters with their nets.

In the evening it is thrilling to see the ducks and geese that have been feeding in the rice and grain fields of the hinterlands begin their daily trip back to the coastal water. Ducks and geese, flying in formation and coming out of the evening sunset will run a chill down the back of any man.

The winter months really are the best for these coastal trips if you just want to see birds. Usually there are plenty of cabins available in such coastal towns as Fulton Beach, Rockport, Aransas Pass and along the highways at other points.

It is a nice trip for the family, an opportunity to let all the children enjoy the wonders of nature. It is also a good trip for mother and dad, filled with the thrills of winging waterfowl and shore bird watching.

There's even a state park nearby. It carries the name of Goose Island Park. Camping is permitted in this park, and good fishing is close at hand.

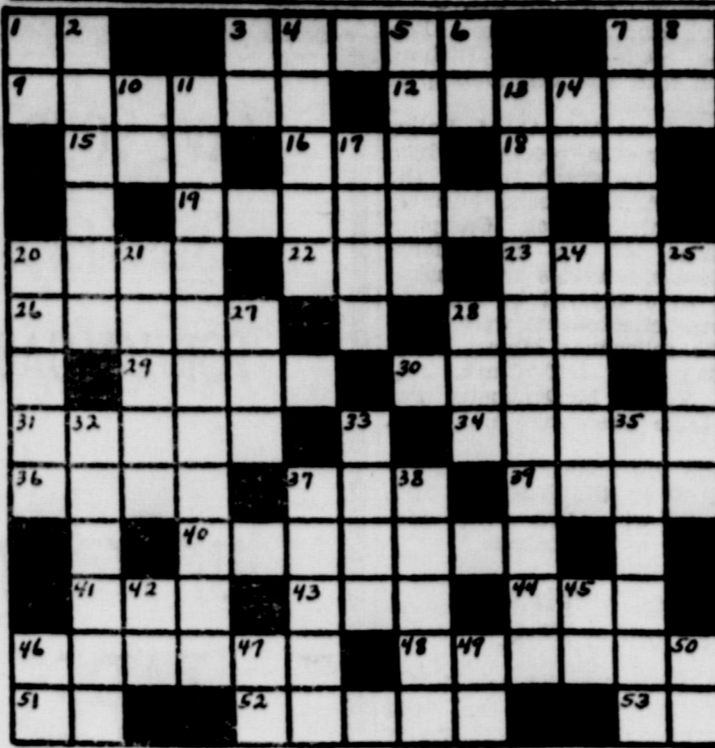

Of course there are other wildlife refuges in Texas. Farther down the coast near the mouth of the Rio Hondo there is the Laguna Atascosa Wildlife Refuge. In the Panhandle there is another refuge near Muleshoe, and in North Texas the Hagerman refuge on Lake Texoma. Any of these refuges are available to the public. They will give a new insight to what is being done to protect wildlife and prevent its extinction.

Visiting one of these refuges can be a dual purpose trip. When you go to the coast, be sure to take your fishing tackle along. There is excellent fishing to be had on coastal waters adjacent to the refuges. The same is true at Lake Texoma. Try it some week end.

Wildlife always knows where it has protection. The same is true on some of the state parks and most certainly in the Big Bend National Park, west of the Pecos. If you are interested in wildlife photography, you can really have a field day around one of these parks.

Incidentally, wildlife photography offers a very interesting hobby for the entire family, too. Outdoor publications are filled with lovely pictures each month. Some of Morning—Chevy panel hustles over causeway to St. Petersburg.

Chevy panel steps lively in Florida...runs day and night, delivers 19.3 miles per gallon!

This '59 Chevy panel is on the go, morning, noon and night; it covers as much as 587 miles a day... runs so constantly that its engine never cools off completely. Yet Mr. Clark Farber, the Tampa Tribune's circulation manager, reports that the truck is delivering 19.3 miles per gallon!

This year, the light-, medium- and heavy-duty trucks of the 1959 Chevrolet Task-Force fleet are out to whip anything that comes their way—and they've got what it takes to do it!

Take the panel pictured above, for example. Powered by the '59 Thriftmaster 6 with new economy-contoured camshaft, it's building a sensational economy record, despite the sizzling pace of its work. That's typical of the way Chevies of all sizes are turning-to on the most challenging jobs in America. The way they're made, with tough-built truck components, they make the hardest hauls look easy!

If you have a job that puts a truck on its mettle, see your Chevrolet dealer!
