IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

"CONFLICTING INTERESTS"

Bill Jones had been in an automobile accident and felt that he should be able to recover damages from the driver of the other car. He went to see Lawyer Smith, and in the course of telling Smith his story, it developed that the driver of the other car was insured by a company represented by Smith.

As soon as Smith learned this fact, he stopped Bill from telling him any more about the case and explained that he could not represent him. Smith pointed out that the "conflicting interest" resulting from his representation of the insurance company prevented him from representing Marvin. He said he owed it to Bill not to hear anything from him which he might use against him if the matter were taken to court.

The situation outlined above illustrates one of the basic principles in the ethics of a lawyer, namely, that he cannot represent "conflicting interests." Basically, this is but the lawyer's way of phrasing an old axiom that a man cannot serve two masters. A lawyer's duty is to give his full and complete efforts to his client and he cannot do that if there is a conflict between the interests of two of them. The reasoning behind this rule is that a lawyer should not appear in court representing both sides of a controversy.

If both Bill and the insurance company are regular clients of Smith, then it is Smith's duty to refuse to represent either of them in case of altercation between the two.

If attorney Smith is one of a group of lawyers practicing together as a partnership, then he must be careful not only of avoiding a conflict of interest between the clients he is personally serving, but between his clients and other clients of the partnership as well.

As far as Smith is concerned in determining whether there is a conflict of interests, any client of his partners is his client and vice versa.

There are, of course, cases where a lawyer may represent more than one of the parties to the same transaction without violating the rule of professional conduct against serving interests which conflict. Such a situation might develop where two old clients of the same lawyer were purchasing and selling a piece of property. If both clients so desired and understood, the lawyer might, with complete propriety look after the interests of both in such a transaction.

Generally, however, the lawyer will be very careful to scrutinize such situations. Therefore, if a lawyer should tell you that he cannot represent you because he already represents "conflicting interests," remember that he is only seeking to protect your interests.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Friends of Mrs. Norma Saunders will be happy to learn that she has returned to Texas from Arizona, where she made her home for several weeks, and is now employed in Santa Anna.

Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

Tex.—56th Legislature is being held in a snowfall—and spending committees are working through their schedules. But new bills are swirling into their path, whatever direction they are constantly pelted with.

The 120-day session nearing its end, each passing day has the possibility that it will be the last day of the session under the plan—Rep. Frates Seeley's proposal to extend the session to the May 12 quinquagesimal session.

The plan is a long-needed measure, and it is hoped that it will be passed before the session adjourns.

It is believed that the plan will be passed before the session adjourns.

Daniel—to take over abandoned property for the state and to make a bookkeeping transfer of $18,000,000.

But unlike the governor, Seeligson is frankly pulling for a general sales tax.

Other new tax ideas are to increase the levy on beer from $4.30 to $10 a barrel, by Rep. Leon Thurman of Anson.

Rep. W. T. Oliver of Fort Arthur has introduced a five per cent gross receipt tax on hotels, motels, rooming house rentals and airline passenger business. Oliver also proposed a five cents a gallon tax on soft drink syrup and a three per cent levy on pop sales.

Gals At It Again—That hardy repeater from many past sessions, the women's equal rights amendment, is back again.

Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas is sponsor of the proposed constitutional amendment which would remove legal restrictions on women.

Representatives of the Federated Business and Professional Women told the Senate Committee that some Texas laws classify women with "infants, imbeciles and lunatics." They pointed to the statute that prevents a married woman's selling, without her husband's permission, property she acquired on her own hook.

As usual, no one opposed the women. But the proposal was packed off to the attorney general for a "full appraisal of what effect it would have."

Of Church and State—Religion and politics got mixed—with explosive results—when four legislators announced they'd heard atheism was being taught in state colleges.

A bill to require all faculty members in state schools to take an oath they believed in a supreme being was introduced by the four. They are Reps. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs, Ben Lewis of Dallas and W. T. Dungan of McKinney.

College officials and university pastors joined in calling the charge "ridiculous." Several University of Texas spokesmen, both educators and ministers, said they had never known a time when there was more sincere interest in religion among both faculty and students than at present.

Why Vaccinate? —Sen. Floyd Bradshaw of Weatherford and the medical profession are at odds as to the value of smallpox vaccinations.

Sen. Bradshaw refused to send his four children to Austin schools, which require vaccinations, and is teaching them himself in his office. He also introduced a bill which would prohibit local school boards from requiring that children be vaccinated before they can attend school.

Quoting from a 34-year-old medical article, Bradshaw told the Senate Public Health Committee, "the bedbug is the sole conveyor of smallpox."

But medical spokesmen credited vaccinations with eliminating the scourge that once killed thousands every year. Dr. J. M. Coleman of Austin told the committee that allowing children to come to school unvaccinated had the same "potential for destruction" as allowing them to bring "pistols and switchblade knives."

Four Alarm Hearing—Committee discussion of bills on city firemen's and policemen's hours brought more spectators than a first class fire.

City officials and the firemen's and policemen's associations are in a head-on clash over the old issue. A bill by Rep. Robert Johnson of Dallas would set maximum hours, increase overtime pay for fire and police work in cities over 10,000. A rival bill by Rep. Ben Sudderth of Comanche would give the cities control over these matters.

City officials declare the people who have to foot the bill ought to be able to make the decisions. Spokesmen for the associations said, in effect, that they have to come to the legislature because they can't get any help from their cities.

How Much Cream?—Milk producers and milk sellers are squabbling as to whether the law should require that milk be labeled as to butterfat content.

House Health Committee sent the labeling bill to a sub-panel. Retailers opposed the bill, said the procedure would be costly. They said, too, that there would be competition to provide richer milk which a calorie-conscious public doesn't want. Present law requires 3.25 per cent butterfat content for whole milk.

Producers said they thought the public ought to know what they're buying.

Short Shorts —Texas Capitol grounds of the 1980s will extend almost to the University of Texas campus, if plans materialize. A proposed master plan, unveiled by Governor Daniel and the State Building Commission, aims at continuing present expansion northward by four blocks and in a four-block-wide strip.

National Safety Council sent congratulations to Governor Daniel for Texas' eight per cent drop in traffic deaths for 1958. Latest reports show 2,336 killed last year as compared to 2,539 the year before.

Mrs. J. L. Bonner, Mrs. Howard Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Boyles and son and Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Scott and Don and Granvel, Mrs. Chester Glover and Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Whitton were among Cross Plains residents attending the Stage Band Festival in Brownwood Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Newton of Bryan are visiting this week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Newton at Cross Cut and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McCuin and Jay of this city. Weldon will leave Saturday for six months training with the U. S. Army and will go to Fort Chaffee, Ark., for his basic training. Mrs. Newton will remain here for the present time.

EASTERN STAR LADIES TO ENTERTAIN MASON'S MAR. 14

Mrs. Pat McNeil Jr., worthy matron of the local order of the Eastern Star, has this week announced that the ladies of the order will entertain members of the Masonic Lodge Saturday evening, March 14, with a buffet supper in the school cafeteria, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The supper will consist of sandwiches with all the trimmings and drinks, and all members of the Masonic Lodge and their families and all members of the Eastern Star and their families are urged to attend.

Following the supper games of "42" and various other games will be enjoyed.

CHEERFUL BLUEBIRD NEWS

The Cheerful Bluebirds met Wednesday, Feb. 25, at the Home Economics Cottage for their regular meeting.

After roll call and collecting the dues, the group enjoyed making cookies. As soon as the cookies were baked those attending enjoyed cookies, Coca-Cola and Dr. Pepper.

All members and the leaders were present for the meeting.

Mrs. Homer Robison of Grand Prairie was here during the week end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Parrish, and other relatives. Mrs. Robison is continuing to make her home in Grand Prairie while Homer is stationed at Fort Chaffee, Ark.

ROBERT EUBANK TO SPEAK IN BIG SPRING THIS WEEK

Robert Brooks Eubank, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Eubank, a middle class junior student in Big Spring Senior High School, has been selected to speak before the Kiwanis Club in that city this week, during Texas Public Schools Week.

Robert attended Cross Plains High School before enrolling in Big Spring schools in September of the past year, where his mother is a member of the school faculty.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Ringhoffer and children returned to their home at Post Tuesday after spending the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ringhoffer and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Montgomery.

"As it Looks From Here"

OMAR BURLISON
Congressman
17th District

Washington, D. C.—Last year at the end of the session, Congress passed a Farm Bill filled with "hope." Few people were really for it, and many of us in the Congress involved in the fight were doubtful then, and still doubtful as to its effects. The fact remained it was the only bill which could be passed and approved by the President. Obviously, something more is needed. Just what we will be able to do in this session remains to be seen.

A few days ago Secretary of Agriculture Benson told the Congress he is ready to toss in the towel and give up the battle to support farm prices and control production. "Why," he asks, "continue a program that is bankrupt?"

It is perfectly good question he asks, but the question as to "who and what got us this way," is also justified, and that question should be directed to Mr. Benson.

The Secretary says the way to correct this situation is to let farm prices seek their law of supply and demand level. "It doesn't make sense," he says, "to pay farmers to produce for the Government."

Both the President's message and Mr. Benson leaves the impression that a large share of the estimated cost of $7½ billion for the Farm Program this year will go to the farmer.

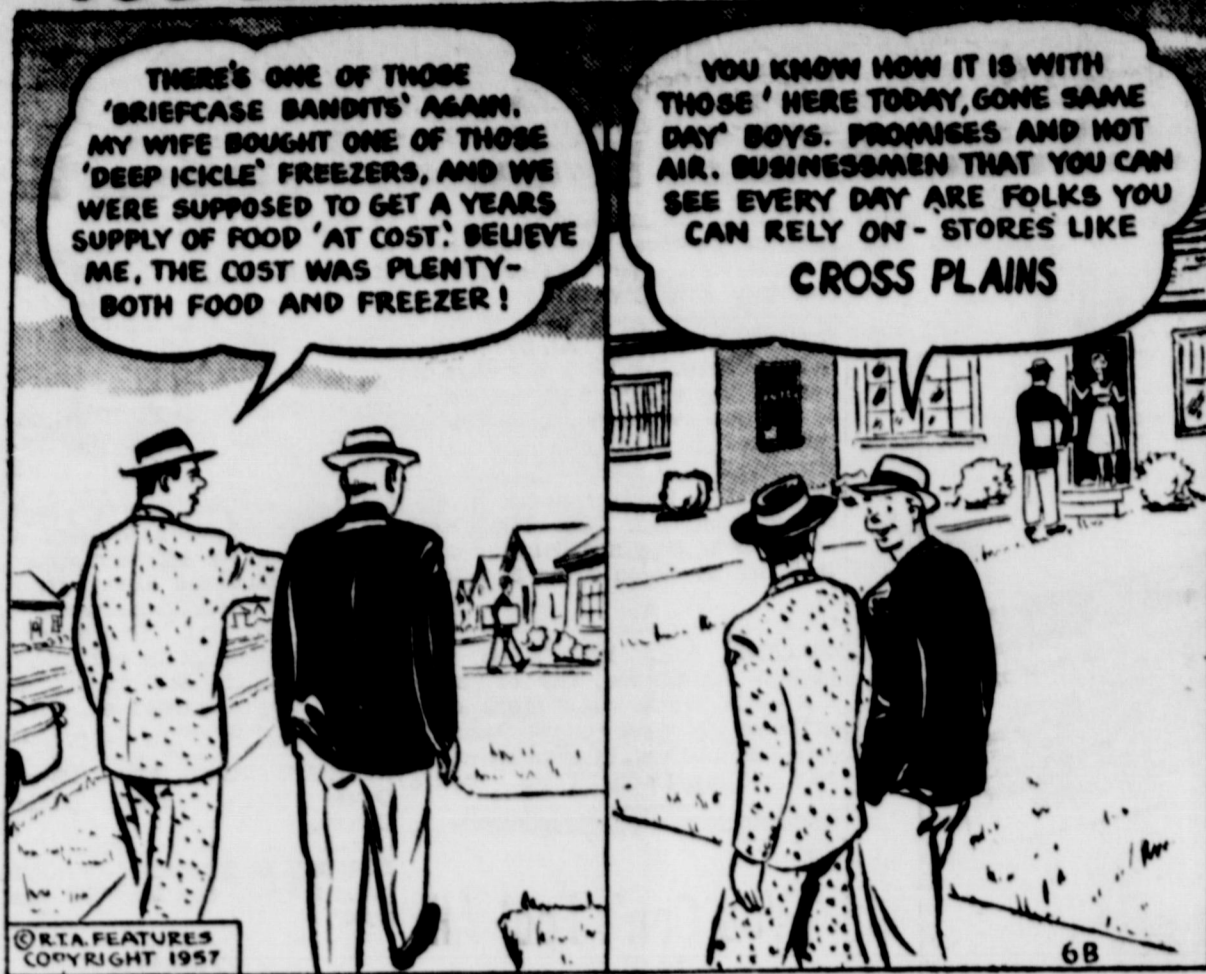

As a matter of fact, if figures mean anything at all, the farmer himself will receive very little of this huge figure.

Farming costs—prices paid by farmers for wages, machinery and other necessary production items—are expected to increase this year over 1958 by a billion dollars or more. At the same time, income from farm produce is estimated to decline by about the same amount.

Farm prices have gone down approximately 20 per cent. If farm products had risen by as much as the cost of things the farmer has had to buy since 1952, consumers would be paying at least $10 billion a year more for their food and clothing than they pay at the present time.

Mr. Benson was frank in telling the Congress that, with lower prices, many farmers would quit the farm and seek other means of making a living. If his advice is followed, it would bankrupt at least a million farm families and drive them into the cities where already there are almost five million unemployed. Already there is an exodus to the towns and cities, which calls for more public housing and other Federal Government spending. Figures show that the average farm income is less than one-half that of the average factory worker, and that the average city worker can buy 50 per cent more food now with pay for an hour's work than he could in 1940.

Under the policies practiced during the last six years, the cost of Farm Programs increased from $1½ billion to the present $7½ billion.

The general breakdown of the cost of the present Program makes it certain that the farmer is receiving little of the cost.

A third of the cost goes for export of food and fibers to foreign nations.

Another third is spent for such things as school lunches, distribution of food to needy people in cities, forest preservation, meat inspection, soil conservation, and salaries of more than 18,000 U. S. Department of Agriculture employees. (Employees for the USDA have increased by 25 per cent during the last six years.)

If steel prices take another rise in the late spring, which now appears likely, both wages, farm implements and rolling stock will likewise take a price increase. At the same time, farm products continue to decline.

One thing on which we can agree with the Secretary of Agriculture: If the Farm Program is not going bankrupt, the average-size farmer is. It is time most answers are found to this situation.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH—Fat lamb prices climbed again Monday at Fort Worth and the advances of the past two weeks marked the first definite improvement for lambs since late last Fall. The rise in the market was apparently coming along just in time to make it a happy Easter season for folks with fat lambs.

Old crop fat lambs were strong to 50 cents higher and good and choice kinds sold from $16.50 to $18. New crop milk fat lambs sold at $18 to $19.50 when good and choice. Some fancy clipped lambs scaling 87 pounds drew $18.50.

Feeder lambs ranged from $15.50 to $18. Canner ewes sold for $8.50.

Cattle and calves were very slow and most classes exhibited some weakness. Clearance was incomplete well past the noon hour as salesmen resisted the lower offers.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings ranged from $25 to $26.50, a few higher. Medium and plain butcher yearlings and steers cashed at $17 to $24.50. Fat cows sold from $18 to $19.50, a few young cows above that range. Canners and cutters drew $12 to $18.50. Bulls ranged from $18 to $23.50.

Good and choice slaughter calves cashed at $25 to $28.50, a few higher and heavier weights usually from $27.50 downward. Plain and medium butcher calves sold from $22 to $25, and cull and common sorts drew $17 to $21. Medium and good stocker steer calves cashed at $27 to $33, and heifer calves sold from $30 downward. Stocker yearlings bulked at $28 down, with feeder steers from $25 down.

Hogs were steady to 25 cents higher as choice hogs brought $16.50 and $16.75, heavier hogs sold from $15.50 to $16.25. Sows were unchanged at $13 to $14.

And, as far as access is concern- ed, the number of public areas that contain adequate launching fac- ilities, or even good roads, are still far short of the needs. The same is true of other engineer-built lakes in the state, and they are numer- ous.

This isn't meant as a criticism of the engineers alone. Perhaps the persons who are mostly to blame for the inadequacies of our water facilities are those who still like to yell "we want to do things at a local level."

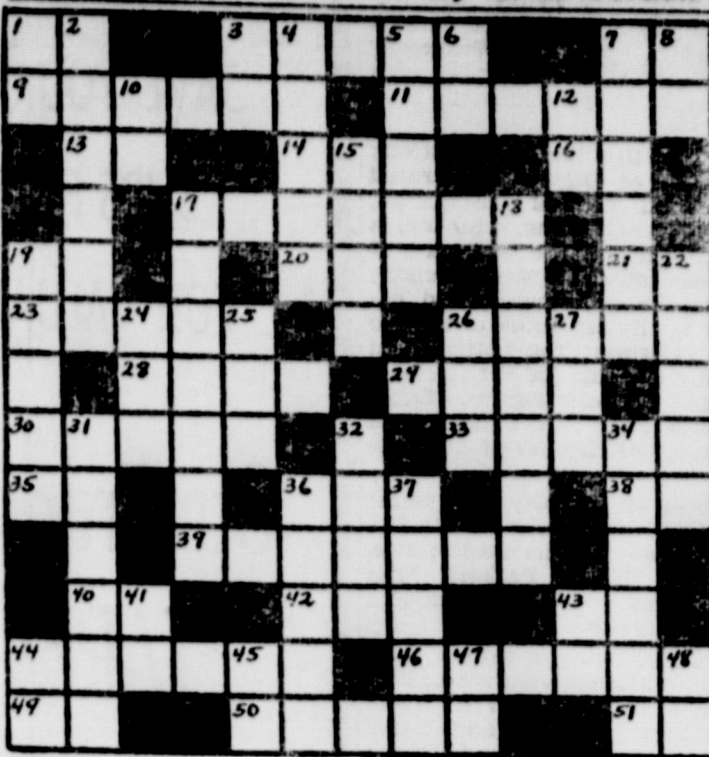

Indeed, the public facilities at locally built lakes, like the High- lands chain on the Colorado in Central Texas, are sadly lacking. A fine example is the inadequacy of facilities to be found even with- in the city of Austin.

We've been too complacent about providing for the needs. As sports- men we've gone about, shoving our boats into the water wherever we find a place. We do a little fuss- ing about it, but that's about all. Since there is no one agency re- sponsible for looking after the pub- lic interest in the recreational use of water, we might want to place this responsibility on some exist- ing group, or organize one for that purpose.

For example, we continue to build bridges over our rivers and cause- ways along the coast, without pro- viding for access to the river banks. Our highway department demands ample right-of-ways everywhere it builds a bridge. It would require very little effort to have a dozer smooth over the surface under the bridge, where boat owners could get to the water.

Another tragic example is in the making at the present time. A fine new causeway is being built across the bay between Aransas Pass and Port Aransas. Unless something is done immediately, it will be finish- ed without a thought as to the pos- sible use of launching areas. There'll be no place for boats to be unloa- ded from the approaches to the causeway. There will be no cat- walks for the convenience of fishermen, who otherwise are greeted with signs that say "No Fishing From This Bridge."

Last November we approved a constitutional amendment which will permit us, after an enabling act, to advertise for tourists. Those who advocated this measure said it would put us on a par with other states using public funds for such purpose.

If we are to follow in the path of other states, we might take a few lessons from the bridge and causeway construction program in the state of Florida, which does a lot of advertising.

Who is to take the initiative? Shall it be the local Chamber of Commerce? Will it be the editor of this newspaper? Or will little voices continue to sing out unheard for years to come, and we still not have the facilities we need?

Who will call on the Corps of Engineers and say we must have these facilities locally? Or do we have a committee to call on the local dam builders and have them write recreation into their speci- fications? How will we get the high- way engineers to draft plans for further utilization of facilities which are available?

Chances are we'll continue to do nothing about it until it will cost a great deal more than doing it right now.

Chevy showed the best brakes of the leading low-priced three in a test of repeated stops at highway speeds conducted and certified by NASCAR*. Chevy also won over the other two in a NASCAR economy run—with the highest gas mileage for 6's and V8's at cruising speeds of just over 55 miles an hour.

Here's a car that knows how to get the most out of a gallon. And it's the only car in its field to bring you hydraulic valve lifters in all popular engines—6 and V8. This means smoother, quieter performance for you.

There are many other advances just as fundamental as the efficiency of Chevrolet's engines and the dependability of its new brakes (with more lining area than any other low-priced car). But why not stop by your dealer's and let Chevy do its own sweet talking!
