Overseas Christmas Gifts Should Be Mailed Soon

The period, Nov. 1 to Nov. 20, has been designated for the mailing of Christmas parcels to members of the Armed Forces overseas, according to Postmaster F. R. Anderson.

The term Armed Forces overseas includes personnel of the Armed Forces, members of their families, and authorized United States civilians employed overseas who receive their mail through an APO, New York, N. Y.; San Francisco, Calif.; or Seattle, Wash., or Fleet Post Office, New York, N. Y.; or San Francisco, Calif., or Navy Post Office, Care of Postmaster, Seattle, Wash.

The Post Office Department gives these suggestions to people planning to mail packages overseas.

Time of mailing: parcels — by surface mails — Nov. 1 to Nov. 20. By air mail — Dec. 1 to Dec. 10.

Size and weight of packages: 70 pounds is the maximum weight except that a limit not to exceed 50 pounds applies to certain overseas destinations.

One hundred inches in length and girth combined is the maximum size except that smaller limitations apply to certain overseas destinations.

All articles for overseas delivery should be packed in boxes of wood, metal, solid fiberboard or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard.

All fiberboard boxes should be securely wrapped in heavy paper, which materially strengthens the package. Each box should be well packed with strong cord. Unless completely packed and tightly filled, boxes are likely to be crushed. Sufficient cushioning materials should be used to prevent any rattling or loosening of articles within the package.

Addresses must be legible and complete, and should be prepared by typewriter or pen and ink.

Greeting cards for the Armed Forces overseas should be mailed within the period designated for parcels if they are to have a reasonable expectation of delivery prior to Christmas.

BRUCellosis Is Serious Threat To State's Livestock Men
An all out effort for the eradication of brucellosis is now underway throughout the United States. Twenty-one states and more than one-half the nation's counties are now modified certified free. Of the 254 counties in Texas, only three—Jeff Davis, Brewster and Presidio are modified certified areas, says Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian.

Cattle infected with brucellosis suffer a 20 per cent reduction in milk production. They calve on the average every one and one-half years rather than yearly. In addition, notes Patterson, the resulting abortions, sterility and difficult breeders increase replacement needs by 30 per cent. A beef cow that loses 20 per cent of her milk production will wean a calf 10 per cent lighter than normal, a substantial loss in these days of high beef prices.

Swine producers also loose from this disease. Infected sows abort or give birth to weak litters. Sows frequently become sterile following abortion. The disease damages the bones of the spine, with resulting paralysis in up to 20 per cent of infected animals.

Brucellosis is the most common cause of fistula of the withers in horses. It frequently is responsible for waterbags forming on knees of both horses and cattle. In humans brucellosis is a lingering disease of the bloodstream, caused by handling livestock or drinking unpasteurized milk. Although seldom fatal, it causes feebleness, nervous disorders and other physical disturbances.

Less tangible losses occur in addition to the ones listed. Loss of markets for Texas breeding and stocker cattle has become a serious problem. The shortage of healthy replacement stock is commanding attention, emphasized the veterinarian. There is a constant threat of this disease becoming established in the sheep and goat flocks of Texas.

Patterson has written a leaflet which discusses the two programs which can be used for brucellosis eradication. Your county agent has copies or write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Ask for L-308.

TAX TIPS

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

When you want information, where do you look for it? Best bet is to seek out a person well informed on the subject, then quiz him for all the facts you can get.

That's why, when we decided to write something about quail hunting, we went direct to Fred Palmer.

Why Fred? Well, in the first place, Fred has spent the major part of his life in the great outdoors. The handsome Houstonite has hunted since he was a mere boy. And he has loved it since his first day out.

In the second place, he is a master of the art of game calling. Not only does he know how, but he knows how to teach other how.

Fred was born in Inverness, Miss., on Nov. 27, 1920. His father was a hunter and a fisherman of some ability. He devoted much time to teaching his boy to hunt and fish.

Being a natural athlete, Fred caught on quickly. During the depression the youngster earned his spending money hunting and trapping. He sold quail, squirrels and rabbits to hotels in Hot Springs, Arkansas, where he was reared.

Because money was scarce, Fred learned to make every shot a kill. With that type of upbringing he trained his eye to be acute and his coordination perfect.

In high school Fred was active in athletics—in football, boxing and track.

His real interest was in boxing. He became a Golden Gloves finalist as a welterweight and won the Golden Gloves championship in Chicago in 1939.

Out of 73 fights as a professional he won 71. In a rematch he won over the two earlier victors. In all of his fighting he was never knocked down or out and he scored 38 knockouts.

The last four years of his fighting Fred spent in Hollywood as a stunt man and actor. He still holds a screen-actors guild card.

Fred has played in "Treasure of Sierra Madre" with Humphrey and Walter Huston. He also was filmed in "Johnny Diamond" with Dick Powell.

As a stunt man he was John L. Sullivan in the film "The Great John L." He was typed in gangster parts, bit parts—and earned 32 screen credits.

Tiring of screen work and longing for the great outdoors, Fred left Hollywood in 1953. He came to Houston to engage in home construction work. Four years later he became associated with Bud Hagner in the game call business. Fred designs the calls and Bud makes the finished product.

To date they have produced three types of Truetone Game Calls. During the next two years they will have six more calls, including domestic, big game calls—for use in Africa to call lions, tigers and other big predator animals.

Their calls are made entirely of anodized aluminum and stainless steel, and therefore are virtually indestructible.

Not content merely to produce a lifetime guaranteed call, Fred made a recording of instructions for the hunter to follow in using each call. Furthermore, he tells how to give the proper inflections—and demonstrates by sounds the exact tones the hunter must endeavor to obtain.

On the other side of his quail call platter Fred discusses the birds and their habits—and their habits.

About quail hunting Fred has this to say: "Anyone who has hunted quail knows that the cheerful bobwhite will freeze you like it does an old pointer on the first covey of the season.

"If you've never been quail hunting, all we can say is that when you do go out, you'll proclaim it the finest of all wing-shooting sports. The quail is the perfect game bird. He is plentiful. He holds well for a dog. He flies fast and straight. And he is unsurpassed on the table. A smoky, crisp Autumn day afield with your favorite gun, a fine dog and friend bobwhite, is one of the rare treats in a sportsman's life."

That Fred is enthused about the pastime, there is no doubt. We asked him about hunting with dogs. To this he replied, "With a good quail call you can hunt very successfully without a dog. But a good pointing dog will find more birds. Furthermore, he'll help you collect all the birds that you shoot. And there will be fewer cripples left to die."

In answer to our question about the bird itself, Fred said: "Quail feed on grain and the seeds of grass or weeds. Overgrown farms are ideal quail habitats. But this fine game bird flourishes in cultivated country too. He may be found around the edges of fields, along brushy fence rows and in light open woods where his food is more abundant.

Coveys roost on the ground at night, usually on high ground. Seldom do they move their roosts very far from night to night.

"Best shooting comes during the early morning and late afternoon hours. The birds are most responsive to your quail calls during these periods of the day and least responsive during the heat of the day."

With Fred's Truetone Quail Call you don't blow through it—you draw air into it.

Fred demonstrated the proper positioning of the mouth, the thumbs and forefingers for giving the lost quail call. "It's the only call you'll need while hunting," said Fred, as he emitted a "chirp, chirp, chirp." His advice was to repeat the call three times, with a slight

INCOME TAX TIPS

Taxpayers writing to the Internal Revenue Service or calling the Internal Revenue Service are advised to be very careful to use the same name that appears on their tax return, by Arthur E. Fogles, Jr., Administrative Officer of the Abilene office.

The Dallas District office deals with more than two million taxpayers in the northern half of Texas. Fogles explained, "there are more than 2000 J. Jones alone who filed an income tax return in the Dallas District during the past year. The chances are good that there are several people with exactly the same name as yours who have filed a tax return. Thousands of taxpayers move each year so the Internal Revenue Service cannot rely upon the address as a method of identification. When taxpayers use an initial, a nickname, or only part of their name, this complicates matters and our problem of identifying the taxpayer becomes greater."

The Dallas District writes thousands of letters each year to taxpayers between each call.

He closed our discussion with a demonstration of the mating call for "springtime prospecting of quail territory, for future hunting."

A most interesting session with Fred Palmer ended with mutual well wishes for "good luck and good hunting for many seasons to come."

Puzzle Answers Appear on Back Page of This Edition

Austin—It is more than a year until the day the next President of the United States will be elected but in Texas, the race is on.

From now until Nov. 8, 1960, may well be a year of the most feverish political activity the state ever has known.

House speaker Sam Rayburn fired the starting gun by calling for an all-out campaign to win the Democratic presidential nomination for U.S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson. Rayburn called for Johnson-for-President organizations in every county in Texas.

A campaign kick-off by man who has often been called "Mr. Democrat" gave enormous impetus to the activities of the Johnson supporters. Pro-Johnson clubs, rallies and editorials blossomed over the state. Gov. Price Daniel and the state executive committee had previously pledged support.

Speaker Rayburn's sponsorship also makes exceedingly difficult the position of Texas' liberal wing Democrats who have been cool toward the senator since the convention hassles of 1956.

In 1952, Rayburn championed the liberals in their battle against a conservative party leadership working for Eisenhower. But the same group, now the Democrats of Texas Club members, will have to fly in the face of their old friend, Rayburn, if they decide on open opposition to Senator Johnson this year.

Some DOTers have pledged Johnson support. But Mrs. R. D. Randolph, leader, refused to commit herself on grounds the senator has not declared himself a candidate.

Candidate or not, Senator Johnson is whizzing around Texas for personal appearances, scheduled at the rate of more than one a day in the months ahead.

Farewell To Bench—Judge John E. Hickman has announced he will retire in 1960 from his post as chief justice of the State Supreme Court.

Judge Hickman, who became a commissioner on the high court in 1935, has served there longer than any other man in Texas history.

Noting that he was 76, the judge said he felt the time had come "to surrender the duties and responsibilities of my office to someone younger".

Two other Supreme Court justices, Joe Greenhill and Clyde E. Smith, will be up for re-election next year.

Committees Forming—In a surge of appointive activity, Speaker Waggoner Carr named House members to serve on three of the study groups authorized for between-session activity.

Named to the Legislative Council, a permanent organization usually assigned a lengthy list of studies, are Reps. W. T. Oliver of Port Neches, Eligio de la Garza of Mission, H. L. Strickland of San Antonio, R. H. Cory of Victoria, R. A. Bartram of New Braunfels, Tony Koriath of Sherman, Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth, Will Ehrle of Childress, W. W. Glass of Jack-sonville and Richard C. Slack of Pecos.

House members on the Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy will be Reps. Frates Seelington of San Antonio, V. L. Ramsey of Beckville and J. Gordon Bristow of Big Spring.

This group will further the study of the state's fiscal structure begun in 1957-58 by the State Tax Study Commission. Specifically, the new group will consider such problems as whether the property tax should be abandoned or overhauled.

To the Texas Coordinated Commission for State Health and Welfare Services, Carr named Reps. W. N. Woolsey of Corpus Christi, W. E. Shaw of Pomey and Max C. Smith of San Marcos.

Three senators, three private citizens and seven agency heads also are to serve on this panel to study and recommend improvements in health and welfare programs.

Adoption Stymied—Texas Supreme Court ruled in favor of a woman who signed papers to allow her child to be adopted, then changed her mind and sought to re-claim the baby.

Though the court specified it was ruling only on the case at hand, some felt the decision might set precedent of future cases in this emotion-packed area of the law.

In the case at hand, the mother, unwed at the time of the child's birth, wanted to keep the baby. After a doctor and welfare officials talked to her, she changed her mind and signed a waiver.

A juvenile judge declared the child "dependent and neglected" and sent him to another county for adoption. Within a few weeks, however, the mother married the child's father and filed suit for the child.

High court opinion was that the lower court erred in declaring the child "dependent and neglected".

Bus Keeps Permit—In another case the Supreme Court ruled the Railroad Commission could grant a bus line a permit to use a certain route even though the road was not finished.

Southwestern Greyhound Lines received a permit to use Highway 73 between Port Arthur and Houston before that road was completed. Sabine-Neches Trailways sued to have the certificate cancelled.

Court held the Railroad Commission was required only to "know in a general way" about the traffic potentials of a route.

Gas Tax Challenged—First of what will probably be many suits attacking the constitutionality of the severance beneficiary tax on natural gas has been filed in an Austin district court.

Pipeline companies promised to fight the tax in court when it was passed by the Legislature this year.

A tax of 1.5 per cent of the value of the gas is levied on the purchasers, such as a pipeline that contracts to buy it from the producer.

A similar sort of law, the gas gathering tax passed in 1951, was knocked down by the courts.

Governor Daniel worked persistently for the new gas tax, an issue that helped keep the lawmakers at loggerheads for months. He promised to help fight the suits. "Long line gas companies fought hard against accepting any of the tax load," said the governor. Now, he added, some want to escape "scot free."

(Although this is addressed to Chevrolet owners, we'd be glad to have you read it, no matter what make you now own or plan to buy. It might well be as interesting and significant to you as to the Chevrolet owner.)

TO THE MORE THAN 16 MILLION PEOPLE WHO OWN CHEVROLETS

The first and the latest—the 1912 and the 1960 Chevrolet. The progress represented here is the result of continuing efforts to make your new Chevrolet always more beautiful, more useful and more valuable in every respect.

You belong to the largest family of owners in the automotive world.

We hope you're proud of that. It must give you great satisfaction to know that your judgment in choosing Chevrolet has been confirmed by so many other people.

We know that we can hold your preference and your loyalty only by meeting our responsibilities to you fully and completely from the day you buy your Chevrolet to the day you trade it in. And so we'd like to talk with you about our responsibilities as we see them, and what we are doing to meet them.

Our first responsibility, we think, is clear: To design and build products that satisfy your needs and your wants to the highest possible degree. To that end, we have done these things for 1960:

Made the 1960 Chevrolet more economical, roomier, more quiet and comfortable, easier to handle and maneuver. Introduced the compact and revolutionary Corvair. Produced a new line of Chevrolet trucks with unprecedented advances in efficiency, cargo handling, driver comfort and ability to get a job done.

But it isn't enough to design and build the kinds of products you want. They must be built right. Solidly. Carefully.

Let us assure you of this: Chevrolet's fine reputation as a solid, well-built, dependable product is being safeguarded by more checks and inspections and tests, than ever before.

Along with your Chevrolet dealer, we want you to have available the finest and most complete service facilities. That is why we: Conduct training schools for Chevrolet dealer mechanics. Study and recommend improved service equipment and techniques. Maintain the industry's most complete parts warehouse system.

Finally, neither Chevrolet nor your Chevrolet dealer has any intention of forgetting you after you buy. To help keep you happy with your Chevrolet, we have established a department new to us, and so far as we know, new to the automobile industry. This is the Chevrolet Department of Owner Relations, whose only job is the coordination of Chevrolet and Chevrolet dealer activities so that you enjoy almost satisfaction during your entire period of ownership. Through this department, and through all the other extraordinary steps we are taking, Chevrolet and your Chevrolet dealer hope to keep you a happy member of the Chevrolet owner family.

It's so inexpensive to cook the modern electric way. The average family served by WTU can cook a complete meal the easy, fast electric way for less than three cents (3¢).

If you're like most homemakers, you'll agree to this: seeing your family sit down to a delicious dinner is one of the biggest thrills any woman can have. But—how often can you really enjoy it, when you're tired out, exhausted, after hours of battling with a balky, old-fashioned stove. Well, if that's your situation, get ready for something wonderful to happen—to you! Just start cooking with a modern, automatic electric range. Here's cooking that's faster, easier, cleaner—a range that does the work for you, turns itself on and off so that you don't even have to watch the food cook. You'll find that you'll enjoy dinner, too, along with the rest of the family. This is really living better—and cooking better—electrically. See the new automatic electric ranges on display today at your electric appliance dealer.

Brown Patch In Your Lawn Can Now Be Controlled

College Station.—Brown patch disease in St. Augustine grass and Bermuda grass is taking a heavy toll in central Texas now and will probably continue until late winter and early spring. This disease can be controlled if proper measures are used, according to Harlan E. Smith, extension plant pathologist.

Pentachloronitrobenzene (PCNB) 75 percent wettable powder can be used for control. One pound mixed with water will cover 1,000 square feet of turf. Enough water should be mixed with the chemical to thoroughly soak the solution throughout the old grass clippings and down to the soil beneath the grass. Smith cautions against applying excess amounts of the chemical. Only two applications a year will give control, and more than this may result in a toxicoty problem.

Where disease is already present, applications are more effective if made during the first 24 hours following a rain or irrigation. If the disease covers a large area at time of application you can expect some results in two to three weeks.

Proper use of fertilizer and water will help prevent the disease, notes the pathologist. Brown patch is apt to occur on lawns that have received excess amounts of water and fertilizer. Grass should not be watered late in the evening. Other hints for preventing brown patch are: fill in with soil and level low spots where water tends to accumulate, avoid letting thick layers of old grass clippings or "thatch" accumulate and mow properly.
