Clyde 'Pups Blast Mighty Mites Here

Visiting Clyde junior basketball quintet blasted the Cross Plains Mighty Mites 42-19, but the local female sextet managed to save part of the locals' pride with 19-16 victory here Tuesday night.

The loss dropped the local junior quintet to a 2-2 district record, but they are still holding on to a part of second place in the conference chase. The girls' victory also evened their district record at 2-2.

On the home hardwood last Thursday, the locals lost two closely contested tilts to junior teams from Coleman. The boys were nipped 28-24, and the girls were edged 28-22.

Cynthia Hickman paced the local girls Tuesday with eight points, and Becky Baird bucketed 10 points against Coleman. Charles Barr split the nets for 15 points with Coleman.

Mighty Mites hit the road for their next two contests. Tonight, Thursday, Cross Plains invades Putnam in a return match, and Monday, Feb. 15, Baird will entertain the locals in a district encounter. Both games will start at 6:30 p.m.

According to Mac Coppinger, head ward school coach, the Mighty Mites will finish the current cage season with Baird here Thursday, Feb. 18.

Bufs Surprise Clyde 52-38 Here Tuesday

Sweet revenge was the order of the night here Tuesday in Buffalo gymnasium as Cross Plains trampled the Clyde Bulldogs in district 10-A basketball action 52-38.

Cross Plains girls "played a real good game," but were defeated by the visiting sextet 58-47. The Buffs held a slim two-point advantage at the end of the first quarter, during which, "the lead changed hands overtime the ball was brought down court." Cross Plains crept to a 25-17 lead at intermission. Clyde cut the eight point Buff lead to five as the buzzer ended the third stanza. But the local were not to be denied as they poured 19 points through the goal in the final quarter while holding the visitors to 10.

J. L. Cearley led the Buffs to their third district win with 20 points. John Baird was runner-up with 13. Joe South paced Clyde with 17.

Vondean Walters bucketed 34 points for the Buffaloetts, but game scoring honors went to Clyde's Linda Kemper with 40 points.

The Buffalo victory threw the district race into a tie between Clyde and Merkel, both with 4-2 conference records. Merkel was idle Tuesday. Albany holds down third place with a 4-3 mark, and Cross Plains tightened their grasp on fourth with a 3-4 showing. Wylie slid further back in the cellar with a loss to Albany this week, bringing its record to 1-5.

The Clyde Misses lead the league in the girls' division with a 6-0 record, while the Cross Plains sextet district record reads 2-5.

Tuesday's victory evened the Buffs' record with Clyde in district competition, and Cross Plains holds the edge in the three-game Buff-Bulldog series with two wins against one loss.

Two Games Left Only two games are left on the Buffs' cage schedule this season. Cross Plains will end home play Friday night, Feb. 12, in a non-conference game with Putnam. The game will begin at 7.

Commissioners Court Takes Flood District Maintenance

Callahan County Commissioners Court in session Monday voted to assume maintenance and joint-operation of flood prevention structures in this county. It was specified, however, that each commissioner would have financial responsibility for only areas within his precinct.

This relieves local districts, such as the Turkey Creek Conservation District, of raising money by taxation for maintenance after the structures are built and placed in use. Because of this action it is expected that the recently-voted 10 cent special tax may be abandoned after a short time.

Edwin Baum, president of the Turkey Creek Conservation District, said yesterday that progress was deadlocked on the necessary procurement of easements to build retention dams.

Purpose of the program is to prevent land damage, caused by rapid run-off of water following heavy rains, he pointed out.

The district comprises sections of Callahan and Brown counties, however, a local bill passed through the State Legislature merged the two areas into one political subdivision. Voters in the two areas approved creation of the conservation 75 to 40 in an election held last September. It was thought at that time that work would be launched soon, however, delay in securing of easements has brought the program to a virtual standstill.

"Unless something is done soon," Baum said yesterday, "there is danger that federal government approval may be withdrawn and the whole project be lost."

Such action would mean several years of vain effort for scores of local land owners and businessmen, who have devoted much time and personal expense to advancing plans to the present stage.

Baum pointed out yesterday that it would be possible to enter condemnation proceedings under rights of the Eminent Domain, however, he stated that such action was looked upon with much disfavor among officers of the local district.

"We started this thing as a community undertaking, for the good of all, and I, personally, would like to keep it that way," he said.

90 Year Old Retired Blacksmith Is Senior Citizen Of Cross Plains

Few men alive have done more hard work than H. C. Freeman, 90-year-old Cross Plains man, who until his retirement a few years ago had been a blacksmith 65 years.

H. C. FREEMAN

Believed to be this city's oldest citizen, the former smithy lives alone at his home on the corner of 11th Street and Avenue D. His wife died in 1953.

He is a native Texan and first brought his family to the Cross Plains area in 1909, settling on a farm near Pioneer, however, then and long before he did blacksmithing for himself and neighbors.

Although he taught most of his sons the trade, only one follows in his dad's footsteps. He is Herbert, who continues the business on South Main Street here. Other children are: C. W. Freeman, Abilene; R. P. Freeman, Azle; Mrs. Kate Powell, Cross Plains; Oliver Freeman, who lives on a farm southwest of town; Henry Freeman, Corsicana, and Riley Freeman of Abilene.

The former smithy is a pleasant, well-read man, and one wonders if the subject of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's "Village Blacksmith" was not just such an individual.

For the poet's line: "toiling, re-joicing, onward through life he goes," seems descriptive of Cross Plains' oldest citizen.

Mrs. Roy Arrowood was in Coleman Monday where she visited in the home of her mother, Mrs. Tom Colvin.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Starkey of Dallas were visitors here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Westerman last Wednesday and Thursday.

Ray Alderman, of the Callahan County Farmers Co-op, announced this week that the cooperative had purchased the Club calf raised and shown in the area livestock shows by a Callahan County boy, Richard Windham, Jr.

The Co-op, which serves Callahan County, is happy to have a part in this club animal, which is so definitely an example of what can be accomplished when a community works together.

The Windham prize winning calf is a happy combination of "home county" factions working in harmony. The breeder of the calf is a local rancher, Ernest Windham, and it is out of pedigreed stock on his Callahan County ranch. The calf was fed out and cared for by Richard Windham Jr., under direction and guidance of Glen Green, 4-H supervisor and county agricultural agent. Feed used in this project was from the complete and nutritionally balanced feed from the Callahan County Farmers Cooperative. Purchase of the premium animal was made by the co-op, in conjunction with N. H. Patterson of Patterson's Cafe in Baird, where the club calf will be a feature on his menu. Lee Ivey, cattle buyer and owner of the Ivey Meat Processing Plant in Baird, will prepare the beef.

From breeder, stockman, processor, buyer, to the finished product, this calf is a completely "home grown" and a fine example of a truly local product.

Missionary Writes Friends Here To Thank Them For Refrigerator

Cross Plains friends will be interested in the following letter received this week from Rev. Paul Smith, former local man who is now a missionary with an Indian tribe in Mexico. The letter is reproduced in its entirety hereunder:

Dear Friends:

Words cannot express our gratitude for your generous gift for our refrigerator. To be remembered by one's friends in such a way is truly a heart warming experience. The Lord said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive," but receiving is also a blessing, although a lesser one. We trust that your gift to us will enable us to give more of ourselves to the Indians as a result of better health through better nutrition.

We are now living in Puebla, which is at a high altitude, with a much more comfortable climate than the one described in the Review article. We moved here to concentrate on the job of translating the Chinantec New Testament, because of the many interruptions involved in living in an Indian village. Also I am much less bothered with asthma here.

We shall write personally to each donor whose name and address we have. In the meantime, please accept this as a public "thank you" to all these and also to the anonymous givers. Also a special thanks to the Cross Plains Review for its part.

We have never, and shall never consider ourselves "poor missionaries." We are extremely rich—not in material things, but in those things which count more—peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, and true friends like you. May God bless you all with these riches which shall never perish.

Yours sincerely,
The Paul Smith family

was formerly own- Corporation and is present site by is nothing fancy."

Coburn reported, "but it serves the purpose."

The building, L-shaped, has a game room, television room, office-kitchen combination, and a stage. The building is open Thursday through Saturday from 4-6 and 7-10:30 p.m. "Of course on Friday and Saturday nights we stay open until about midnight if there is anyone around," Coburn added.

In the gameroom is a ping-pong table, two pool tables and a shuffleboard table. The television room, with easy chairs, was equipped about a year ago by the county in the director's office.

"We have an extra room used primarily as a kitchen but no one ever uses it. We decided I could move my office in the kitchen and we could use the other as a television room," Coburn said.

Coburn has been with the youth center since it was opened. He has a master's degree in physical education and was a teacher for three years at Justin in Denton County. He was a former football player with West Texas College and also the U. S. Navy. He was elected to the All-Navy team for two years in a row.

He is married and has one daughter, Teri, 3. Cross Plains, Texas is called home by Coburn.

"The game room received the most use," Coburn said. "It is the room we most need to expand, too." Coburn said the board governing the building, appointed by the County Commissioners, has spoken of expanding.

"What we need is to take the multi-purpose room and make it into the game room and build a new multi-purpose room. Of course, all that takes money," Coburn added.

Each youngster is charged a membership fee and only members are allowed into the building. Senior high students are charged $2 a year and junior high students $1 annually. Youngsters may join the center from seventh grade up through 20 years old.

The discipline is handled through councils composed of students with Coburn as their advisor.

"Those kids are pretty darn fair. They are hard, but they are fair," Coburn added. Cases of serious rule infractions go to the council while minor cases are handled by Coburn on the spot.

"The councils also plan activities for their group. They hold ping-pong, pool and shuffleboard tournaments; decide when we ought to have a dance and direct cleanup operations after an affair," Coburn reported.

The Youth Center usually holds a dance after every home athletic affair and when the games are away a dance is held Saturday night.

"When we have a band we charge $1 admission and whatever is collected goes to the band," the director reported. Whenever a band isn't available, records are used for dancing.

The attendance of the center is about equal between boys and girls, Coburn said. "One interesting note is that if there aren't any girls around the boys who come won't hang around very long. But if there are a few girls here, then the crowd begins to gather."

In back of the building are tennis and volleyball courts and during the summer months tournaments are conducted in those sports.

Occasionally the youth center holds a movie and once a play was attempted. "We usually stick to the sports for which we have equipment and the activities we have been holding, because we don't want to interfere with school activities," Coburn explained.

All activities or club meetings at the center are class sponsored. The council officers are elected by the classes at school. "We don't want the center to interfere with school activities, rather to augment them. Therefore, all our activities are second to the school affairs."

Cleaning an ELECTRIC RANGE is child's play

Oven cleaning is truly "child's play" in this smart new 1960 electric range. Some of the models are equipped with pull-out ovens. This mother-daughter team can wipe clean any part of the oven, even the back walls, without stretching or straining. And that's only part of the convenience story. Surface heating units tilt up out of the way and porcelain drip bowls go to the sink for washing. Most switch knobs on the back panel are removable, glass surface can be wiped clean in seconds. Ease of cleaning is just one of the advantages of an Electric Range. You will also like the fully automatic features and the "always the same" heat of the surface units—No flame to go up and down. And so economical—Go see your Electric Appliance Dealer. He'll tell you the change is to Electric Cooking.

Influenza Rages Local Area; Scores Are Sick

A state-wide epidemic of influenza which has raged Texas for weeks loosed its ravages on the Cross Plains area this week.

Local physicians, drug stores and hospitals in nearby cities attest to greater incidence of the malady.

Cross Plains schools have not suffered absences in proportions equal to that of institutions in many other parts of the state, however, attendance has been sub-normal for the past 10 days.

Public schools hard hit by influenza this year will not suffer financially next year because of decreased attendance.

The State Board of Education adopted a formula Saturday adjusting this year's average daily attendance in flu-affected schools on past periods. It will be based on the difference between the percentage of attendance earned during the epidemic reporting period and the average percentage of attendance during the same reporting period in the 1934-1935, 1935-

1936, 1936-1937 school years. The days of attendance during the epidemic period will be increased to reflect the percentage difference between actual attendance earned and that which would have been expected had the epidemic not occurred.

The average daily attendance figure is important because school aid is allocated on that basis.

Some health officers have called the current flu epidemic greater than the disastrous epidemic of 1918.

Former Pioneer Man Tells Of Encounter With Bear

(Editor's Note: Bud Nunn, formerly of Pioneer, writes the following account of a recent hunting experience in Arizona. While the Review can not vouch for its veracity, the communication is reproduced hereunder.)

By BUD NUNN

I have been in Arizona two months and not much has happened. I've gone hunting only once and thought you might like to hear about it. My youngest boy came down from Montana, and we went hunting. Here is an account of what occurred.

We loaded the pick-up and started northeast to Payson, and then on to Pine under the Mongolian Rim. This was the 10th of December. We located an old miner's cabin, and the boy told me to dust things up a bit while he went for a pail of water.

I was cleaning up around the stove when I heard a loud sound

'City Dad' Here Is Former Trooper

A former West Virginia state trooper is serving as gas commissioner on the Cross Plains City Commission. He is Charles H. Dawson, 74.

Dawson came to this area soon after World War I and engaged in the oil business. In World War I he fought at Argonne and St. Mihiel. He was slightly wounded in the foot. For a time he was a state trooper in West Virginia. He saw terrific coal mine strikes and violence that one could hardly "think could happen in the U.S.A.," he said.

Dawson was in a car accident last year that almost snuffed out his life. You'll find him about the City Hall these days after retirement from an active life in oil activities.

TRY AGAIN, IF IT SNOWS IN AUGUST

Dick Montgomery has never been known to complain about the weather.

When Tuesday afternoon's sandstorm hit Cross Plains with all its disagreeableness, the Review editor decided the time was ideal to make him break a custom of long standing.

Out into the teeth of the gale, with sand smarting his skin, went the writer to contact Dick.

"How do you like the weather," Montgomery was asked. "Fine, never saw it nicer," came his quick answer.

Back to his desk, with no news to report, went the dejected Review man.

PHILOSOPHER BELIEVES RUSSIA HAS HIT ON RIGHT IDEA FOR IMPROVING ITS FARMING

Editor's note: The Bayou Philosopher on his Johnson Grass farm on the Bayou views the Russian agricultural situation this week. Anything to get the spotlight of his farming.

Dear editor:

Not being a General in the army or an atomic scientist, I'm in no position to say anything important about the missile race and how far Russia is ahead of us in this matter, although that she's ahead of us is pretty obvious, but when it comes to ideas on farming, I'm ready with an answer, and as everybody knows, if America's missile men were as productive as America's farmers, Russia would be the one worrying about the missile lag. You haven't heard of anybody in Washington worrying about where we're going to store guided missiles, have you?

But what brings me to this is an article I read yesterday on an agricultural conference being held in Moscow. As I understand it, Communist leaders from all the provinces throughout Russia are gathering to review the situation and find out why Russian farming is so far behind. Somebody in Russia has woke up to the fact you can't eat guided missiles.

And what interests me about the conference is an idea suggested by Mr. Khrushchev, who toured the United States last year and visited some farms. He's arguing that what's needed is a "cash incentive to make reluctant peasants better collective farmers."

Mr. Khrushchev has put his finger on the source of the trouble. Regardless of how thrilling it is to see your country's satellites chasing each other around through space, regardless of how exciting it is to see a picture of the backside of the moon taken by your own brilliant scientists, there's nothing that's ever been found yet that's a complete substitute for cash in hand.

A cash incentive is one of the most effective tools of agriculture ever invented by the mind of man, and that goes I suspect too for teachers, lawyers, doctors, grocers, editors, blacksmiths, and occasionally a Congressman.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Many More Books Needed At Library

A campaign to enlarge Cross Plains school library was given a brisk start last week. First donor was Rev. Gordon Dennis, local pastor, who contributed 10 volumes. Then Mrs. W. T. McClure contributed 31 volumes of recent publication.

Eleven more books were contributed to the school library Tuesday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Pancake.

Persons having books — of any type — which they have already read and wish to give the school library may leave them at the Review office or at the high school building.

"Greatest need," Says Mrs. D. C. Lee, school librarian, "is for biographical books, however, we need fiction, historical works and most everything."

It is hoped that the local school's library, which has been deficient for some time, can be greatly enlarged by the unburdening of book shelves in homes of the Cross Plains area.

LOOK AT THE LOWER PRICES

List prices as much as $76.05 lower on popular models with popular equipment

- The '60 Chevrolet models most people buy, equipped the way most people want them, are actually priced lower than last year's models. This two-tone Bel Air V8 sedan, for example—with Turboglide, push-button radio and de luxe heater—lists for a whole $76.05 less! Prices are lower for all comparable V8 models throughout the line. Also for all comparable 6-cylinder models with Powerglide. Yet Chevy's loaded with more of the things that put pleasure into owning a car. (Just look at the list!) It's the greatest year yet to get into a Chevy!
- Big brakes for quicker, surer stops. Rivetless bonded linings mean they last longer, too.
- More room to relax in. Chevy sedans offer roomier seating than any car in their class. Lower, narrower transmission tunnel means more foot room.
- Only full wraparound windshield among the leading low-priced cars.
- Electric windshield wipers keep sweeping even when you speed up to pass.
- Vent windows crank open and closed. So much simpler than fighting those tricky little catches.
- Keyless locking of all doors. Quick and easy. The same key opens door, glovebox, trunk and starts the car.
- Economy Turbo-Fire V8. Or how to get up to 10% more miles per gallon of regular and still have lots of "git."
- Thriftest 6 in any full-size car. It's the '60 engine of the engine that got 22.38 miles per gallon in the 1959 Mobilgas Economy Run.
- Widest choice of power teams. 24 engine-transmission teams in all, with output up to 335 h.p.
- A trunk that's made for long trips with up to 22.5% more actual luggage space. Sill's lower for easier loading.
- Fisher Body craftsmanship. Look at the finish, the fabrics, the detail work. You'll see the difference.
