Local People Kill 103 Rattlesnakes

Cross Plains celebrated Saint Patrick's Day last week, honoring a man who, some say, ran the snakes out of Ireland.

Some credit should be given local men and boys who are doing their bit to rid this area of the infestation of rattlesnakes. Sixty-three diamond back rattlers were killed Saturday and Sunday by Jimmy Baum and J. L. "Pokey" Bonner and 40 more of the poisonous reptiles were slain over the week end by Jimmy Gilmore and Billy Holt.

Snakes are reported to be coming out of their dens now after a winter of hibernation.

Omar Burleson

Re-Election Asked By Omar Burleson

Congressman Omar Burleson this week authorized The Review to announce his candidacy for reelection. Herewith is published his initial statement to voters.

"On January 11, 1960, application was formally filed by Congressman Omar Burleson for his name to appear on the ballot for the Democratic Primary Election on May 7.

"My bid for reelection to the Congress of the United States is, of course, based on my record of service," Burleson states. "I make no claim of perfection. Doubtless, mistakes have been made, as is usually the case in all human endeavors, but two guiding principles have been constantly followed: First, to know the views of my constituents and reflect their sentiments to the greatest possible degree in my actions in the Congress. Second, to inform and advise as closely as I can on those issues which affect my constituency and our Nation."

"Burleson was born and raised on a farm between Anson and Stamford in Jones County. He attended rural school, graduated from Anson High School, attended Abilene Christian College, Hardin-Simmons University, and graduated from Cumberland Law School, following which he had postgraduate law at the University of Texas. He married Ruth DeWeese, daughter of Reverend R. D. DeWeese, who pastored Baptist Churches in West and South Texas.

"He served as County attorney and County Judge of his home county of Jones. Later he became a Special Agent for the F.B.I. He served three years in the United States Navy in World War II, mostly in the Pacific Ocean Area. After the war he was elected to the 80th Congress and has been reelected to succeeding Congresses. He's now Chairman of the House Administration Committee in the U.S. House of Representatives.

"Burleson points out that many vital issues have had to be faced in the years he has represented the 17th District in the Congress. 'Many more loom before us. With constancy, I have striven to face these problems with the courage and good sense required,' he says.

"As the record will definitely show, on many occasions I have

400 Acres Burned Off Near Atwell Tuesday

A grass fire, believed to have originated on the Leonard Ingram place in the Atwell-Scranton vicinity, burned off approximately 200 acres Tuesday afternoon. The blaze was fanned by a south breeze, however, before it was extinguished, the wind shifted to the north and a 10 minute shower fell.

Answering the alarm were fire departments from Cross Plains, Cisco, Rising Star and Paired.

The alarm was the tenth of the year answered by Cross Plains Volunteer Fire Department. The ninth alarm came earlier in the day Tuesday, shortly before noon, when a grass fire broke out in the northeast part of town. It was confined principally to the F. C. Newton and Lindsey Tyson places.

Of the 200 acres burned off in the Atwell area, it was estimated that about 20 belonged to Bob Blackwell, 80 to Bill Pope and 100 to Leonard Ingram. Bill Pope asked The Review to express thanks of the land owners to all firemen who helped Tuesday afternoon.

"Their valuable help was genuinely appreciated," he said.

Thus far this year, Cross Plains fire department has combated six rural fires and four within the corporate limits.

Late Wednesday afternoon the Cross Plains Fire Department answered a second alarm in the Scranton-Atwell area. Fire had broken out in the same general area as the day before. It is estimated that approximately 200 acres more were burned off in the Wednesday blaze. Places damaged Wednesday were those of Bill Pope, Leonard Ingram, Goldie Lawson and Bob Blackwell.

No departments other than the one from Cross Plains, were on hand to fight the Wednesday outbreak.

Mrs. Martin Neeb Is Honored On Birthday

Mrs. Martin Neeb of this city was honored Sunday by her daughter, Mrs. E. B. Webb, with a surprise birthday party at the Robert Cunningham home. Mrs. Neeb will observe her 75th anniversary March 25.

Mrs. Martin Neeb

Here for the happy occasion were all of Mrs. Neeb's living sisters and brothers as follows: Ed Baum, Jack Baum, Mose Baum, Mamie Cunningham, Rivers Arrowood and Thelma McLean.

As emcee, Foster Bond presented highlights of the Bond, Baum, Lamar and Neeb family history. His message, in part, was: "We believe that this Universe is planned for good. On every side we find beauty and excellence held in the balance of things. We know that work is a blessing, that winter is as necessary as summer, that night is as useful as day, that death is a manifestation of life, and just as good. We believe in a power within ourselves that makes for righteousness."

"I extend congratulations for passing the silver age, the golden age, and for having reached the diamond age of life and hope that the gems thus far acquired will never lose their brilliance, and that as you complete this little life's journey down the sunny slope toward the setting sun, you will continue to hear the birds sing in the branches of the tree of age."

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Baum of McAdoo, Mrs. T. A. Arrowood and Mrs. Thelma McLean of Corpus Christi, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Browning of Brownwood, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Huchingson and Miss Jacqueline Webb of Abilene, Cliff Browning of Lubbock, Mrs. E. B. Webb and Wayne Webb of Burkett, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Baum, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Payne, J. C. Baum, Edwin Neeb, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Baum, Miss Aubrey Littleton, Mrs. Mary Wagner and S. F. Bond, all of this city.

Statement In Race Is Made By Souder

Theodore (Ted) Souder, life-long resident of Cross Plains, this week authorized The Review to announce his candidacy for Mayor, subject to action of the April 5 municipal election. Hereunder he gives a brief biographical sketch of his background and candidacy.

"After thinking the matter over for more than a year, I have placed my name on the ballot for the office of Mayor of Cross Plains. This is my home, I love the people here and our town. I believe in the growth possibilities of the town, and I want to grow and mature with it.

"I was, and am, aware there would be opposition to me and it is for that reason I make this statement.

"I am opposed by some because I am a bachelor. I am 26 years old, with still plenty of time to become a family man when I meet the person I would like to go through life with. However, Texas' Congressman Sam Rayburn has been an able figure in Washington for more than 30 years and is still a bachelor.

"I am opposed by some who hold it against me because I do not own real estate. Eisenhower did not own property when elected President. I expect to own property here before many more years, the Lord willing. For those who have not known me all my life, let me say I began providing personally for myself when I was 12 years old. After high school, I entered military service for four years and have been among you since discharged.

"I am opposed by some who say I will only be Mayor by proxy, that someone else will do my thinking for me. Should I not be tried before convicted? I challenge the inference that I am not my own master, and that decisions made by me will not be mine.

"Of course, I will need the advice and support of you, the people, whom I will represent; and shall expect to call on you from time to time, as it will be your business that your city council and mayor will be conducting.

"I stand for conservative progress, but against foolhardy spending. I like to realize my money's worth in my personal spending, and will expect the same for our town. I believe in government of the people, by the people, for the greatest good to the greatest number, and with your help, we'll move steadily forward.

"I will appreciate your vote and influence on Tuesday, April 5, in the light of your knowledge of my life among you. May I so conduct myself that my life can remain an open book before you. Give me a try!"

"Sincerely,
Theodore (Ted) Souder."

Concession Men At Old Time Picnics Were Wily

No form of public gathering was more celebrated than the old-time country picnics, which most every community held a couple of generations ago.

Dr. T. R. Havins, professor of history at Howard Payne College, recently authored an interesting account of one of the early-day Cross Plains picnic concessionaires, excerpts of which are reprinted hereunder:

"Confederate reunions and picnics often ran for as many as three days. Nearly every community staged a picnic during the summer. These meetings called for great quantities of soda-water.

"Community leaders attempted to provide mass entertainment for the crowds. Election years furnished a crop of candidates whose speeches were free. But other attractions cost.

"Local committees used a plan of selling concession rights for various types of goods to be sold on the announced days. One man might buy the concession for pop corn, while another paid relatively more for a drink concession stand. With charges thus collected the committee had funds with which to hire entertainers.

"Often the concessionaires made money but sometimes they lost. Some men adopted novel means of attracting buyers for what they had to sell.

"W. Q. (Quimby) Cross, father of W. J. and Tom Cross of Cross Plains, who was reared in Brown County but later moved to Calahan County, was justice of the peace at Cross Plains. His earnings from the office depended upon fees. In 1904, lawing in Squire Cross' court was at a low ebb. He needed to make some extra money. To augment his earnings he decided to sell soft drinks at the annual picnic. Fifteen dollars went to the local committee in advance. The judge made a trip to Brownwood for ice and pop.

HOW BOUT THAT

of Turkey Creek. The morning was not too hot and the people bought few drinks. Cross had a barrel of lemonade. It had a fair sale. His soda water went begging.

"The dinner hour took everybody away from the drink stand and afternoon came and the people divided themselves into groups that watched a tournament or "guyed" the opposing baseball team, or shouted encouragement to the various riders in a "goose-pulling."

"By four o'clock Judge Cross was desperate. He had cases of untouched soda water. Mounting a box, he began calling the people. They listened a moment then drifted to the Cross drink stand.

Cross entertained his audience with two or three spicy stories. He sang all the stanzas of "Dixie," his audience joining him. He sang "Little Brown Jug," at the same time giving a fine exhibition for a man of his age at dancing a jig.

"Cross was a psychologist. He knew when to strike. He intoned a couple of stanzas of "Hot Times" and then stopped short. The people looked on expectantly. He resumed the tune but improvised the words:

"Please, Oh please, Oh please don't let me drop, I surely need to sell this cussed soda-pop."

"The crowd surged forward and bought the last bottle."

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Gray visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Harris and family in McCamey Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

Charles McCord, a student at North Texas State College, spent the week end here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McCord.

Peanut Soup Might Tune Bad Appetite

George Washington Carver, great Negro scientist, is credited with having added much to the economy of the South by discovering more than 100 new uses for peanuts. A reader of The Review, however, has come up with one that Carver overlooked. It's peanut soup.

The delicacy is not entirely new with the Cross Plains resident, for he admits having lifted it from a cook book published in 1896, but so far as is known no one here has ever prepared the dish.

Because peanuts mean much to the economy of the Cross Plains area, the recipe is published hereunder, and anyone cooking a batch can find ready samplers among the printers and publishers of The Review.

The recipe: "shell a pint of peanuts, remove the red, paper-like covering (first roasting them in their shells). Grind the nuts to a fine powder by rolling. Use the powdered soup, made from a and a pint of water, add a tablespoon of flour, one of butter, and one teaspoon of spoon of white milk, using a and serving with lemon in each cup.

R. M. (Bob) WAGSTAFF
For Congress

COST OF A CAREER CONGRESSMAN

WHEN CONGRESSMAN OMAR BURLESON COMPLETES HIS FOURTEENTH YEAR IN OFFICE, HE WILL HAVE DRAWN FEDERAL FUNDS, AS SALARY, IN THE AMOUNT OF $252,500.00.

In addition, he has had a stationary expense allowance of $1,200 to $1,800 per year; mileage for two trips each session from home to Washington at 20c per mile; expenses of an office in his district; clerk hire of over $30,000.00 per year; airmail and special delivery stamps at $400.00 per session; telephone and telegraph allowance; use of house recording studio; office equipment, automatic typewriter; addressing, recording and dictating machines, and his office is furnished. He will soon be eligible to move into the New House Office Building, whose rooms cost $192,000.00 each, a 3-room suite for each Congressman costing $576,000.00.

All expenses have been carefully taken care of by the government, so that the Congressman's salary is all his, subject only to the income tax and his deductions for Congressional Retirement Pension;

When he reaches the age of 60 HIS CONGRESSIONAL RETIREMENT WILL BE ABOUT $10,500 PER YEAR, to be paid to him annually during his lifetime.

BUT, CONGRESS HAS BEEN COSTING US MORE THAN THE SALARY AND EXPENSES OF THE CONGRESSMEN. THAT'S JUST CHICKEN FEED! HERE IS WHAT CONGRESS HAS COST THE PEOPLE IN THE LAST 14 YEARS — HERE IS THE REAL COST!

1. A public debt which has increased $25,000,000,000.00 in the past 14 years, the present fabulous amount of $290,204,675,870.58.
2. Expenditures of $834,316,000,000.00 in the past 14 years (In the entire 157 years before 1947, the U. S. government spent only $308,000,000,000.00!)
3. A dangerous situation in National Defense.
4. Fourteen years of fumbling with the farm problem, with the farmer's income now the lowest in 15 years, and with half the farmers driven off the farms in that period.
5. An inadequate Old Age Pension, while billions have been spent on Pork Barrel Bills, which pass so easily through Congress each session.
6. Oil production in Texas down to nine days per month, while 1,800,000 barrels of oil is imported daily.
7. A steady rise in the cost of living, continuous throughout the 14 year period, due to unbalanced budgets.

WHAT'S THE ANSWER? — RETIRE A LOT OF THESE CAREER CONGRESSMEN AND SEE WHAT HAPPENS!

PHILOSOPHER BUFFALOED TO DISCOVER KHRUSHCHEV CAN HAVE COMMON COLD

Editor's note: The Bayou Philosopher on his Johnson-grass farm on the Bayou discovers a startling fact, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

There are some things you read in the newspapers that are hard to believe.

For example, I was glancing over a paper last night which I hauled off and bought when I was in town earlier in the day, that's right, I bought it, and read a headline that absolutely buffaloes me.

The headline said: "Khrushchev Postpones Paris Visit Due To Flu."

Well, at first I thought maybe there was an epidemic of flu in Paris and Khrushchev was waiting for it to clear up and grinning at the French for being so backward, but when I read the article, I discovered Khrushchev himself had the flu.

That floored me. You mean to say the Russians have common ailments just like the rest of the human race? I had been led to believe the Russians were immune to all disease, all feeling. All they had to do was tell a bunch of scientists to whip a given problem by the first of next month, and it was automatically whipped. Want a guided missile capable of hitting a pin point 5,000 miles away? All Khrushchev had to say was, Build it, and a month later they had one, which blasted off perfectly the first time it was fired. Need half a million soldiers ready in the morning to "protect" Hungary from the Hungarians? Just order them up, and by sunrise they are there. Need 20,000 more scientists? Just tell the Russian schools to produce them by the end of the semester.

But this idea that the tireless

Khrushchev, who knows everything about everything, can come down with the common flu, the same as you and me, throws me for a loss. It makes a man begin to doubt that Russian science has the answer for everything, and makes him suspect that maybe somewhere back in the dark interior of that big country there are abandoned nose cones and pieces of rockets that fizzled out the first few dozen times they were put on the launching pad.

The idea that a dictator can have the flu is positively ridiculous, but still a little encouraging.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Loans Up $23,881 At Citizens State

Official statement of condition of the Citizens State Bank of Cross Plains, at the close of business March 15, revealed the institution experienced an increase of $23,881.88 in loans and discounts for the first 75 days of 1960. Loans and discounts at the close of business on Jan. 31, 1959, were $705,657.30 as compared with $729,539.18.

Deposits at the local financial institution showed a slight decline as did most all banks of the nation, occasioned by recent income tax payments and an off-season for marketing of agricultural commodities. The decline locally was $23,881.83, a drop of less than one per cent.

Total capital structure of the local bank currently is $258,213.11.

of centralized power in Washington has increased. To this I am opposed, as my actions prove. Big government and high taxes are the result of many activities of the Federal Government which should be reserved to the States. Big government with its far-flung operations has created needless waste and extravagance.

"It has been my purpose to conduct myself at all times in a manner worthy of the trust and confidence which has been placed in me by the people who send me to Congress. To violate that trust in any respect would be unthinkable, and it shall never knowingly be done.

"As Chairman of one of the Standing Committees of the House, Burleson will have to be in Washington at intervals during the campaign. He has opened campaign headquarters in his home town of Anson. He retains his permanent Congressional Service Office in Abilene which is open at all times for official business. He has returned to Washington after spending several days in the District, with the expectation of being back in April to further conduct his campaign and see as many people as possible between now and the Primary Election on the first Saturday in May.

"In the mean time", he says, "I invite your investigation into my past performances, and if you believe I have been faithful to duty and worthy of your continued support, your active participation in my campaign will be greatly appreciated." but have never failed to exercise the right to vote and to do as I thought best. This has especially been true in connection with the needless spending of Federal money. The record will show that at every single session of the Congress I have voted for expenditures below that recommended by the Executive Department, and far below that actually appropriated by Congress. This has been the case in all matters except National Defense. In this instance, I have always voted for those things calculated to make and to keep ours stronger than any other in the world.

"At all times I have tried to represent the very best interest of every segment of the economy in our 17th Congressional District. Many times we do not accomplish all we think should be accomplished, but I believe those who have familiarized themselves with my record will know that I have done the best possible under all the circumstances which must be met.

"In domestic matters, the record will prove my opposition to the encroachment of the Federal Government on State and local affairs. As the Federal Government has grown to its colossal proportions, the threat found myself in the minority,
