BAILEY CO TO GET $8,798 FROM AUTO LICENSES

There were 625 passenger cars, 71 farm trucks and 49 commercial trucks registered in Bailey county this year up to midnight of January 31, when the time expired for registration without penalty. In auto registrations, the county gets all the fees from license plates up to $175.60, while the state gets all chauffeur's badges, transfers, duplicate plates and duplicate chauffeur's badges. Bailey county will receive this year from automobile licenses the sum of $8,798.53, while the state's part amounts to $784.25.

Notwithstanding a penalty is now in force, car registrations are still straggling in the first of this month. The lowest penalty for this delinquency runs around $1, while the average will run from $1.72 up to $2.00 or a little over.

Judge J. E. Adams For Re-election As Bailey County Judge

Judge J. E. Adams, in this issue of the Journal, makes announcement of his candidacy for re-election as County Judge and Ex-Officio County Superintendent of Schools in Bailey county, subject to action of voters in the coming Democratic primaries.

In seeking re-election at the hands of the franchise holders of this county, Judge Adams says he is doing so "only on the merits of his record as county judge and superintendent because of his interest as the county in the future of this particular political sub-

Judge has served Bailey county the trying times of the depression period, and while these conditions are now somewhat improved, yet he has not forgotten their effect, and he feels indeed a crucial time very best judgment and sagacity needs to be used, and only be given by those who are acquainted with the county's

The Judge declares this is a time for "swapping horses in the middle of a stream," and because success in the past as a public official because of the efficiency of his because he feels better equipped past service and experience better future service to citizens than any untired or untainted person with the duties of an office, and because of his interest as a citizen of this county for these reasons he is coming to the voters of Bailey county duties of a county judge in this county are greater and much more than in many other counties throughout the state," said Judge Bailey is one of eight counties which is operating under a statute created by the State Legislature, giving the County Judge jurisdiction with the Just in all civil matters. The county judge is also ex-officio superintendent, and this latter requires a man who has had both as a teacher in the schools as a general director of all districts. I have had the honor of being in the foreground of my record as a there having been several reversals of decisions. The county judge is a member of the County Board of Supervisors and presides as chairman of the Board of Commissioners' Court, both of which require considerable ability

1375 POLL TAXES PAID IN BAILEY CO. IN 1934

There were 1375 poll taxes paid in Bailey county this year up to January 31 when the time for paying expired. There are also about 466 voters and voters in the county, which doubtless means Bailey county will roll up in the coming primaries and general election the largest number of votes since it was organized.

Last year there were 534 poll tax receipts issued, the normal issuance being a little less than 1,200 per year quently and drastically reduced, the budget of expenses being cut down at all times to the lowest possible minimum. Every contemplated expense has been carefully scrutinized by myself on the basis of its own merits before being recommended to the Court for action.

"Similar care is going to have to be exercised during the coming two years that the resources of the county will be carefully conserved and its business affairs transacted in a very thoughtful and conscientious manner. I am, therefore, confident, because of my past service and because of my intimate acquaintance with all the details of the county's administrative business affairs, that I can serve my constituents ever more acceptably and more efficiently in the future than I have been my pleasure to do in the past, and respectfully solicit the good will, favorable influence and votes of the citizens in my behalf at the coming Democratic primary.

"Thanking you in advance for your favorable considerations, I am, Faithfully yours, J. E. ADAMS.

J. A. White Seeks County Commissioner Office In Precinct 1

J. A. White residing in the Progress school district northwest of Muleshoe, makes announcement of his candidacy for the office of County Commissioner, Precinct No. 1, in this issue of the Journal.

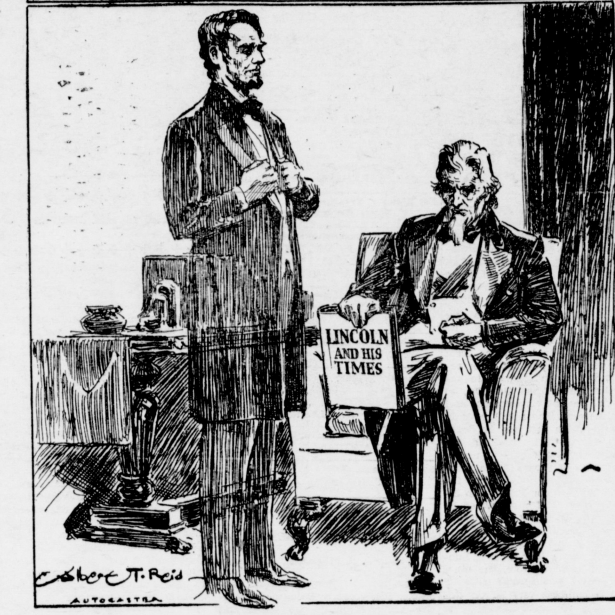

Mr. White states he has resided in Texas practically all his life, and for the past seven years has been a resident of Bailey county. He is a farmer and a property owner in the county. He further states he has been a life member of the Democratic party and he is making an announcement, and while he has never been a politician in any sense of the word, he has always taken considerable interest in governmental affairs.

"I have never before been a candidate for any public office," said Mr. White, "and I am now offering my services to my home county largely because of his interest in the business affairs, and also because of the solicitation of many friends and other citizens who have asked me to submit my name to the voters.

"I have been remarkably successful in my management of my own business affairs, and feel confident of my ability to handle the affairs of this county during the coming years of office. I realize full well the importance of the time of putting in office men who are thoroughly capable of efficiently handling the affairs of these various offices, and your public servant in the capacity of County Commissioner. I wish to assure the voters in advance of my very careful and businesslike consideration of all matters coming before the Commissioners' court.

"I believe our citizens are entitled to good roads, and am confident that under my administration the roads of this particular precinct can and will be considerably improved. I believe in stretching the tax payers dollars just as far as possible in all necessary expenditures, and wish to assure my constituents that I will be very carefully guard against any unnecessary expenditures while I am in office.

A Particularly Inspiring Vision — By Albert T. Reid

J. W. Alford Seeks Co. Commissioner's Office In Precinct 4

In this issue of the Journal J. W. Alford of the Enoch community, makes announcement of his candidacy for the office of County Commissioner in Precinct No. 4.

Mr. Alford states he is a native born Texan and has resided in Bailey county for the past eight years, being also a land owner in this county. He has always been a staunch Democrat and is making the race for this important office under the banner of that particular party and subject to the will of the majority voters in the coming primaries.

"I am sure I have a large number of friends in this particular precinct," said Mr. Alford who are well acquainted with me, know intimately my qualifications for this office and will lend both their moral and legal support to my candidacy, and I have a large acquaintance over the county. Many of my most intimate friends and neighbors have urged me to make the race for this office, feeling I can handle its duties to their satisfaction.

"I have never before been a candidate for any public office," said Mr. Alford, "and am submitting my name to the voters of Bailey county at this time largely because I feel I can efficiently handle the duties of this particular office and because I realize the county at this time and under present conditions needs men who are capable of giving their very best in time and ability for the welfare of the county.

"I am making no unreasonable claims," said Mr. Alford, "but I do assure the voters at this time that I will give of my very best to this important office. No task will be too large nor too small to engage my most serious attention and my service during the tenure of office will be entirely at the disposal of my constituents.

"Thanking you in advance for your favorable influence and vote in the coming Democratic primary, I am, Faithfully yours, J. W. ALFORD.

JOHN WILLIAMS FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER, PRECINCT 2

In this issue of the Journal appears the name of John S. Williams for the office of County Commissioner, Precinct No. 2.

BIG PRIZE WILL BE AWARDED ON NEXT FIRST MON.

The Trades Fair auction held here last Monday was a decided success, according to current report.

There was a large crowd attended and took part in the various events of the occasion which were in charge of R. L. Brown, this city, and Col. Jack Rowan, of Sudan.

There was a large quantity of livestock present, practically everything brought finding buyers, and there were special merchandise offers being made. There was also sold a quantity of farm implements, household goods, harness and harness findings, tools, incubators, and a variety of other stuff. There had been disposed of if present. Aside from the auction and direct sales there was also considerable swapping and trading indulged in by visiting participants.

Practically all merchants and other business men report good business transactions during the day, some special merchandise offers being in vogue by some dealers.

The committee on arrangements is making preparations in a bigger way than ever before for the next Trades Day event which will occur the first Monday in March.

Plans For Next Trades Day

The committee is highly enthused over the plans for this coming event, it being their desire to make it the biggest occasion yet of this kind.

100 Entries Now In Poultry Show Begin Today; More Coming

The first poultry show ever held in Bailey county was begun today with good attendance and a large display of birds, 12 breeds being in the showing by at least 20 breeders and more entries expected before the day closes.

The show is being held in the big warehouse in the rear of Holeman's meat market, and a man is on duty there at all times to watch over the birds and see that they are properly cared for as well as fed and watered during the three days of showing.

Judging will be done Friday by R. B. Galloway, accredited and licensed judge of the American Poultry association.

At conclusion of the show plans are to organize an association of more than county-wide interest for the purpose of holding a still larger exhibit of birds next year.

The Cotton Reduction Acreage Sign-up Held Open Until Feb. 15th

Sign-up for the Federal cotton acreage reduction campaign has been extended until February 15, according to J. B. Waide jr., farm agent for Bailey county, who received a telegram from Washington, D. C., to that effect.

To date the sign-up in Bailey county has been fairly good, or about 60 per cent of what it was last year. Some landholders have been holding up contracts, and apparently some cotton raisers have been holding off signing probably to determine the success of the campaign.

8,362 ACRES OF LAND CHANGED HANDS IN JAN.

Real estate traffic is generally a fairly good barometer of business conditions in a given section, and during the month of January there were 16 town lots and 8,362 acres of land that changed hands in Bailey county, according to records in the county clerk's office.

During the past month real estate dealers have been having a fairly good business. There have been numerous prospective customers come to this county to look over its land, many of them buying, and it is stated a large number of sales are still in escrow to be closed during the month of February.

Warranty deed records for the month of January are as follows: Jan. 2—Mrs. W. C. Bucy to Muleshoe State Bank, lots 14 and 15, block 21, original town of Muleshoe; T. C. Wiseman and wife to Charles W. Wiseman, labor 22, league 208, Ochiltree county school land, N. M. Barfield to James A. Cox, lots 5 and 6, block 8, Warren addition to Muleshoe; James A. Cox to N. M. Barfield, lot 23, block 23, original town of Muleshoe; George Gray to Clint Duty sr., labor 6, league 178, Motley county school land; J. L. Howard and wife to G. J. Garth, W-5 block 3, league 185, Swisher county school land.

Judge Vaughan For Re-election As Justice Of Peace, Precinct 1

Judge J. F. Vaughan makes announcement in this issue of the Journal of his candidacy for re-election as Justice of the Peace in Precinct No. 1. Judge Vaughan is one of the older settlers of Bailey county, having resided in Muleshoe for the past eight years. He was first appointed to this office, and later, because of his satisfactory record as an American citizen, and his ability to uphold the laws in a reasonable manner. During my past terms of office I have endeavored at all times to render judgement in cases coming before me in a fair and equitable manner, giving the evidence full credence, and without fear or favor to any party or parties have given decisions as the evidence and the law provide.

"Present conditions require an official in this particular capacity who is unbiased, familiar with law, knows human nature, and is capable of understanding the various motives, purposes and conditions as they now exist. I believe I am familiar with such, and on the merits of my past tenure of office am respectfully requesting the favorable votes and influence of the citizens of this precinct for my return to this important office in the coming Democratic primaries."—J. F. VAUGHAN.

Bula School District Is Held To Get $5,200.00 Gym-Auditorium Combined

The Bula school district is soon to have a new auditorium and gymnasium according to report received here the first of this week, its authorization coming through the CWA movement.

The total cost of the new building will be about $5,200, according to available information, $4,000 of which is for material and the balance for labor. The federal government is to furnish all labor and 25 per cent of material, while the school district is to furnish the supervision of work and 75 per cent of the material.

OTHER TOWNS SURROUNDING CITY OF LUBBOCK MAY SEEK SELF PROTECTION AGAINST PROPOSED MUNICIPAL PLANT

An Editorial
The Journal holds no brief whatsoever for the "Hub" for any individual, firm or corporation; but it is interested in the general welfare of the South Plains country and it is especially and vitally interested in the welfare of Muleshoe. It believes strongly in the principles of fairness, equity and justice and in the spirit of "live and let live." It has a theory that what is good for one municipality applies more or less to all such municipalities in a given area, and in a similar manner, what is not good for one town will also apply more or less to other towns in the same section. In other words, there is such a thing as a community or section benefit as well as a section bane.

While every citizen of any given town is particularly interested in those things which benefit his town, he should also be interested in those things which also reflect benefit for his particular section, for there is seldom a benefit which affects one town particularly but it also affects other towns generally.

During the past the City of Lubbock, the largest and perhaps the oldest town of the South Plains area, has invariably manifested the spirit of community or sectional interest. While looking after its own specific interest it has also manifested a considerable interest in the welfare of its neighboring and surrounding towns. It has proceeded on the theory that it is impossible for Lubbock to obtain everything, and that other and surrounding towns have certain things which it cannot benefit and opportunities to which they are entitled, and whatever may benefit some of these towns in a major way Lubbock will also get some minor benefit from it, thus the entire area of the South Plains country goes forward in a wholesome and co-operative manner.

Recently, however, Lubbock appears to have lost this ideal, especially as to respect. A short time ago that city made application to the Public Works Association for $1,000,000 which to build a gas pipeline from New Mexico oil fields and to establish a gas distributing system within its own corporate limits. In taking this action the Journal is constrained to believe it does not represent the total consensus of opinion of its citizenry. Perhaps only a few large consumers of the more or less influential type, may be back of the movement and are interested in it because of selfish interests, forgetting or caring little if anything of its effect upon surrounding towns which are more or less contributory to Lubbock's commercial welfare. We doubt very much if Lubbock's organized commercial body endorses such action, for it is our candid opinion that the gentleman who heads that organization is too fair minded, and has had too much valuable experience in the past, and realizes too well the beneficial influence of such action to participate in it, and this statement is doubtless true of many of its members. Apparently the idea was born in the mind of selfish interests who, in turn, have pressed it upon the members of Lubbock's City Commission, which proceeded to put it into action regardless of its contemporary and derogatory influence upon the section at large.

Such action is disappointing to numerous citizens in the towns surrounding Lubbock, for these towns have looked upon Lubbock as their "mother town" and for a mother to deliberately turn down her children and discuss the welfare of her own offspring does not set well with them.

The West Texas Gas Co., with headquarters in Lubbock is now serving 40 or more towns in this section, and it is a well known fact that from 20 to 25 per cent of that company's total business is derived from the City of Lubbock, should Lubbock be permitted by the Federal government to establish its own municipal plant which, according to law, can not serve any other town or community, it would certainly be working a distinct hardship upon the other towns surrounding it and which are receiving service from this

ROAD EFFICIENCY

Considerable comment, not all favorable, has recently been made relative to condition of the North and South road now under construction from Muleshoe to the south Bailey county line.

The Journal does not believe any particular one or group of persons is responsible for that road's present impassable condition, but rather those in charge, while endeavoring to use their very best judgment are more or less victims of circumstances.

When construction was started it was not then known how much funds nor how long such funds would be available, and the road committee was very anxious to get as much of the grade thrown up as possible while funds were still coming in.

Following the first stretch of construction near the Pool seed farm, there was considerable delay in securing right-of-way through some of the Warren land, the committee deeming it advisable to keep work going on and because men were needing employment relief to begin work on an interrelated strip, and as soon as the questionable right-of-way was secured, work on that strip was then begun.

Another delay has been caused in the fact that when work was begun shifts of 48 men were employed. This was later cut down to shifts of 30 men each, and now is only 15 men each shift. Furthermore, those in charge could not foresee the fact there would be no rainfall this winter, and which fact is largely responsible for the present discouraging condition of this road. With a good rain very little time would be needed to put the road in good condition for travel.

IT ISN'T A NOVELTY

Speaking before an audience in New York City recently a well-known eastern man said he had found a new way to happiness. He said he had recently learned that the surest way to get joy out of life is by being of service to others, by doing something for the other fellow. And he actually declared it to be a new discovery.

A LITTLE PRECAUTION

If a few simple precautions are taken, what will not be the epidemic of colds that usually sweeps over Muleshoe and surrounding territory along about this time of year.

First on the list of causes is the inclination to live or work in overheated houses. Besides watching to see that the house temperature is kept around 72, make it a rule to always button up your overcoat when you go out on a chill, windy day.

Irregular eating and unbalanced diets tend to lower your resistance, and then you catch cold.

Try your very best to avoid others who are suffering from one, for doctors declare colds are highly contagious. Watch the direct drafts, too. They may not cause you any trouble the first or second time, but they will cause colds. Get plenty of exercise.

And, above all, be sure there is plenty of fresh air coming into the bedroom at night.

HERE IS THE ANSWER

There are many reasons why advertised goods sell best.

In speaking of nationally advertised goods, for example, travelers are able to purchase the same brands of crackers in the east as in the west, in the north as well as in the south. And the same principle applies to all goods made or sold locally.

The buyer knows that a local advertiser is ready to stand behind his product because his advertising is proof of his confidence. The advertiser is known and has pledged himself to stand back of his merchandise. He has given his printed word to the general public and must keep it.

Jaunty Journalettes

We've seen some Muleshoe citizens who haven't a car and they talk as though the only reason for the auto is that some people were too lazy to hitch up a horse.

Perhaps it's their own fault if some of Muleshoe folks are accused of being dumb. We should learn to keep our mouths shut.

Another thing, you never heard of Muleshoe man suffering a hangover thrown up as possible while funds were still coming in.

Some Muleshoe women's idea of intelligent driving is to stick a hand out of each side of the car so she can turn either way she wishes.

Now that chorus girls have had a raise, teachers and preachers in and around Muleshoe are beginning to have hopes.

An old-timer is any Muleshoe citizen who can remember when bologna was food and not a political implement. At that, it may be plentiful this year.

A Muleshoe wife is a person who thinks it right to open any letter on which she recognizes the handwriting.

One thing radi, deserves credit for that it makes the average Muleshoe daughter.

A Chicago man has been restrained from hypnotizing his wife, which reminds us that most Muleshoe men know when the honeymoon is over.

The only sound money that interests Muleshoe people is the kind that rings true when you plunk it down on the counter.

It's funny how many people (and there may be some in Muleshoe) who are willing to go to town for their children—but not to church.

How many Muleshoe people ever think they would live to see the time when the government would come along and stick a shovel in the hands of the fellow who said the world owed him a living!

Pavement Pickups

Bob Canfield says he lost much of his interest in politics when they cut out the clubs and torch light processions they used to hold when he was a kid.

They're telling a pretty good one on Dr. Lewis, local dentist, this week. According to the story, it seems the dentist was drilling out a patient's tooth preparatory to filling it when he discovered flecks of gold on the drill.

"Has this tooth ever been filled before," he queried. "No," replied the patient. "Well, it seems there are flecks of gold on the drill I used. You had better not let any of these gold prospectors or a government man learn about it." Then the dentist discovered he had drilled on through into the patient's collar button.

One of Ty Young's customers, a young bride, who recently married and moved to the country, came in the other day and reported all her baby chicks she recently bought of him were dying. "What kind of feed are you giving them?" asked the hatcheryman. "Feed," exclaimed the young woman. "Why, I supposed the old hen gave plenty of milk for them."

Sam Lawrence says if the average Muleshoe man swears, it's a pretty good sign his wife has won the argument; but if the wife cries, then it's possible but not positive the husband may have won.

Elmo Head, local produce dealer, has been buying some furs and hides this winter. The other day a lad came in with a batch of furs, and Elmo asked him what animal was noted for its fur. "The skunk," promptly replied the lad. "The more fur you get away from him the better it is fur you."

We have often heard preachers when speaking in general of being accused of taking rap at some particular person in their congregation, but last week that accusation fell upon the editor of the Journal. We were busy writing one of our celebrated bromansons when a big husky six footer weighing more than 200 pounds popped into the office with glowing eyebrows, a red face and fists doubled up for action.

"What do you mean by libeling me in your dirty sheet?" he yelled at us. We declared innocence and put on our most humble look. "Here it is, I'll read it to you," he said. Here is what he read: "If somebody offered prizes for the three meanest men in the United States there's a man in Muleshoe who would take all three of them." "But," we insisted, "that article didn't mention your name did it?" "No!" exploded the big fellow, "you didn't mention my name, but who else is there in Muleshoe that answers that description." Then we had to smile right out loud.

What Can Be Done With Land Rented To Federal Gov't

"What can be done with the land rented to the government?" is a question foremost in the minds of farmers who sign the cotton contract. The contract provides the following uses for the land taken out of cotton production: Soil-improving crops; erosion-preventing crops; food crops for consumption by the producer of this farm; feed crops for the production of livestock or livestock products for consumption or use by the producer on this farm; following; or such other uses as may be permitted by the secretary or his authorized agent.

The farmer can not grow any crop on contracted acres for sale, directly or indirectly. Erosion, or soil washing, removes about 20 times as much soil fertility per acre as crops take out each year. Wherever the soil is not held by freezing, the loss of plant food from erosion in winter is serious. Out of the 15,000,000 acres of land to be removed from cotton production, much will be badly damaged in 1934 from erosion if it is not properly terraced.

Many cotton farmers fail to provide for a family living from the farm because of the low yields received from the land set aside for production of home supplies. The cotton contract permits the production of food and feed on the rented acres, for use on the farm. Where there is a necessity, the object can be attained along with soil improvement by increasing permanent pastures and legume crops for feed.

Any farmer whose land produces less than one-half bale of cotton per acre make a serious mistake if he does not plant the contracted acres in cowpeas, soybeans, field peas, sweet clover, or other legume crops.

Y L WALLPAPER PRESS IN A CLOSE GAME LAST FRIDAY

Y. L. boys were victors in a hotly contested battle in playground baseball over Progress last Friday afternoon at Y. L. At the end of the ninth inning the score was a tie, six to six. A tenth inning was played in which resulted a second tie of seven to seven. Two more innings were necessary before the Y. L. boys forged ahead one extra point to win the game. Much enthusiasm and excitement was exhibited by Y. L. rooters throughout the game.

Mack Wilson (The Service Station Owner) Tells... "MY CUSTOMERS TALK ABOUT 'GAS' AND GAS" MACK WILSON, the service station owner, discovers what about people in his daily contact with motorists, but one thing he can't understand is the difference in attitude toward the price of natural gas and the price of gasoline. He says that over the period of a few months the price of gasoline will fluctuate several cents, and there is never a surmise from his customers, in spite of the fact that gasoline is the only fuel that operates the common automobile. He couldn't understand it because there are several ways that people can learn to get general household supplies. Mack took the trouble to find out why they continue to use gas. He discovered that they would use gas if it cost several times the amount asked because it still would be the best bargain in use. He found, also, that people with automobiles paid more for gasoline than they do for gas for cooking and water heating. You need not be a dealer in gasoline to appreciate Mack Wilson's attitude on gas. Consider gas its value and you will recognize it for the bargain it is. Vest Texas Gas Co. ACCEPTED!.....By The Public. New "Knee-Action" Chevrolet Gives Passengers Ride Like a Glide. We are pleased with the favorable response at our first showing last week. Automobile buyers showed their interest in the new 1934 Chevrolets by close observation and by trying the mechanism. They expressed surprise at the ease with which the car takes the rough places. THE KNEE-ACTION WHEELS GIVE ONE THE SENSATION OF GLIDING ALONG ON SMOOTH SURFACES. We invite you to come in and see for yourself the ease with which the car drives, and feel the power of the 80 horsepower motor. It also has increased speed, longer wheel-base, faster pick up, greater economy and increased smoothness and quietness, and all at typically low Chevrolet prices. Be sure to see and drive this wonderful new car. VALLEY MOTOR COMPANY. Chevrolet Sales and Service. MULESHOE, TEXAS

Hard And Close Type Playing Is Anticipated In B. B. Tournament

By the Grumbler

Everything has been threshed out for the Big County Basketball tournament, which is to be held at Goodland, where there is a good, regulation gymnasium, modern in all respects. The officials have decided on a round robin tournament. The Muleshoe girls and Balleboro girls teams will start the racket in the girls contest. The Balleboro girls have been improving rapidly and promise to give the locals a tussle. The first to start for the boys will be the Goodland and the Balleboro teams. These teams may furnish an interesting contest, as Goodland's team is all six feet and over, while Balleboro hasn't a man over six feet tall. If Goodland boys go to hitting the basket they are going to be hard to beat. The main thing that can be said for Balleboro boys is that they have that bulldog tenacity that holds on to the end. This club is small but they are never beat until the last whistle.

Muleshoe boys always play consistent ball and will be fighting the game all of the way through. They are going to have to fight against Bula because Bula has advanced more rapidly than any team in the county. This last week they turned in one of the best ball games of the Spade tournament. A large crowd is anticipated at the tournament as next Friday and through Saturday will be the time to see the local talent in action.

KNOW YOUR INITIALS?

In America, under the New Deal, one has to know his initials. The so-called New Deal, begun by NRA has spread to all other departments and it isn't customary any more to refer to any federal agency by its full name. In fact, if you should say "Home Owners Loan Corporation," instead of HOLC, real estate men won't know what you're talking about. Anyway, for the benefit of those who may have missed some daily lesson, here's the important list up-to-date: NRA—National Recovery Administration. AAA—Agricultural Adjustment Administration. NRC—National Emergency Council. NIRA—National Industrial Recovery Act, as distinguished from NRA. PWA—Public Works Administration. TVA—Tennessee Valley Authority. CWA—Civil Works Administration. FERA—Federal Emergency Relief Administration. NLR—National Labor Board. FACA—Federal Alcohol Control Administration. Now for a breathing spell and then we'll start again, after mentioning a duplication that may set some people mixed. That's the CCC. It means Citizens' Conservation Corps, and also Community Credits Corporation, the latter being part of the AAA. So we go on: PRA—President's Re-employment Administration. CSB—Central Statistical Board. FDIC—Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. EC—Executive Council. FHLB—Federal Home Loan Board. FCA—Farm Credit Administration. FHOLC—Federal Home Owners' Loan Corporation. PAB—Petroleum Administrative Board. FEHC—Federal Emergency Housing Corporation. EHPA—Electric Home and Farm Authority. PTC—Federal Transportation Coordinator and his office. SAB—Science Advisory Board. CAB—Consumers' Advisory Board of NRA. CCO—Consumers' Counsel Office of AAA. Of course, one also should list the ICC, which has always been known as the ICC since the Interstate Commerce Commission was created. The same goes for RPO, the Hoover-created Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which has been taken over and used extensively for New Deal purposes. Then there's the case of the Federal Trade Commission. Nobody ever used to call it the "FTC." But that's the way it's known now. WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO AVERAGE MAN'S DOLLAR SINCE GOLD IN IT HAS BEEN REDUCED BY GOVMT The devaluation will mean considerable profit to the government, but immediately it will not mean any loss to the man who has government currency in his pocket. Eventually it may, for the commodities will go up higher in price and it will take more dollars to buy the same amount. When the devaluation takes place a 90-cent dollar will keep on buying 100 cents worth of goods. The dollar

Representative Ben Cathy told the Texas legislature members last week that the antipoll tax law was being flagrantly violated in this state, thirty-three and one-third of the employees of the Highway department having relatives working there, while another department showed 60 per cent. In one instance, 11 members of one family were on the state's pay rolls, he said.

bill will not shrink any in size. It will still measure six by two and one-half inches, be just as green and have as many silk threads running across it as it did before, but it will take more dollars to buy a bale of cotton or a quantity of wheat. This will mean the farmer will get more dollars for what he has to sell and that right now is the principal idea of the president's right now—to help the farmer.

NEW GROVEERY COMING HERE

L. A. Porter, former groceryman at Littlefield, and later at Clovis, N. M., has engaged the part of the Hagemeier building occupied by O. N. Robinson with a second hand store and is expected to move a stock of groceries into it sometime during the coming week. The other half of the building is occupied by Holeman's meat market. Mr. Porter is an experienced grocer, having resided in this section for several years and is well known by several Muleshoe citizens.

The Muleshoe basketball girls won another game over Sudan, Friday night, January 26. The scores were 39 and 24 in Muleshoe's favor. Before the first half ended, it looked as though the game might be tight; but the last half turned the tide. The Muleshoe forwards began "clicking," and wow!

The High school boys' team won over the Muleshoe "Outlaws" the same night. Thursday, February 1, the Muleshoe football boys and pep squad girls gave the newly weds, Betty and Jim Burthead, a miscellaneous shower. They received many useful gifts and great bundles of love from their old classmates and friends. The shower was given at the school building. Several other high school girls and boys are contemplating marriage, after seeing all the gifts that were spread before Betty and Jim. But the class hopes it will not lose any more of the seniors.

General assembly was called Tuesday morning for the purpose of "fussing," as Professor Cox calls it. New rules are being established in school on account of so many low grades the first semester. All are hoping the paddle won't be used much.

Virginia Ruth Robertson, prominent member of the senior class, has missed four days this week with the measles. This is the first time Virginia has ever missed a day since she started to school. The class hopes she will be back soon.

Junior News

Monday morning when until several o'clock bell did not ring until several minutes past nine, the students wondered what calamity was about to befall them, for the teachers seemed to be having an early morning conference. These conferences among teachers are often dangerous to the student who desires to do as he pleases.

Tuesday morning in general assembly the members of the Muleshoe High school were told of some new rules which the teachers had made the morning before. The taresparrers of these rules were to be sent to a study hall at twelve thirty, which was to be known as a detention hall. If one is sent there three times for the same offense by the same teacher in six weeks—well, it is rumored that there may be a "wailing and gnashing of teeth." One might also add that the study halls for some unknown reason have quieted remarkably.

It is really awful that because of the carelessness and negligence of some people it becomes necessary for others to suffer, also. If everyone (not only in school, but all through life) would think before he does a thing, how it might effect his fellowman, there would be no necessity for rules and laws. Lessons such as this should be learned by every student before he completes his high school education for:

"We are building every day
 In a good or evil way
 And the structure it grows
 Will our inward self disclose
 Do not build your structure with bad habits for its foundation.

Students from the Senior, Junior and Sophomore classes are working on a play called "The Arrival of Kitty." Watch for more about it. Miss Beatty is the director.

Miss Beatty has also decided on the play for the one-act contest. The characters have been chosen for it. Its title is, "Where the Cross is Made."

Freshman News
 This week the Freshmen received their report cards. Some were good, but others were bad. But each member is going to try to do better this semester.

Three of the freshmen, Geneva Kelton and Babe and Mae Sullivan, are reported to have the measles. The latter two are new pupils in this school, both coming from Big Square. The class is sorry to hear of their illness, and sends word to them that they are greatly missed from school. The entire class wishes for their early recovery and return.

Two freshmen, Marjorie and Sybil West, who have been in this school for several years withdrew this week to move to Mountain View, Arkansas, which is in the Ozark mountains. The class wishes them much happiness in their new home and school.

BAILEY CO. GINS MORE COTTON THAN LAST OF PREVIOUS YEARS

There were 19,476 bales of cotton ginned in Bailey county up to January 16, against 11,364 of the same date last year, according to the federal government report made public last Saturday.

Jones county led West Texas ginning with 89,966 bales, while Lubbock county had 79,244 bales. Lamb county adjoining Bailey, had 51,204 bales. Several counties throughout the state showed an increase over 1933 ginnings.

 At this meeting, it was also decided that all other athletic events of the County Interscholastic meet will be held in Muleshoe. Playground ball and tennis will be played here by straight elimination games. Class B schools and rural schools will enter as composite teams. Following the county basketball tournament, the winning girls' team from Bailey county will go to Littlefield for the district two tournament, which has been set to be held March 2 and 3. The boys district tournament dates has not yet been set.

HOW DOES YOUR DOLLAR STAND?

It's a common question in Muleshoe this week for the man on the street to ask other men who have a dollar in their pocket, "How does it stand today?"

For some time past dollars have been acclaimed rather scarce in this section, and with the Presidential dictum last week of its revaluation which cut it to 59.06 of its former gold worth, the question has been increased as to general interest.

President Roosevelt hopes the devaluation will be shown first in the list of commodity prices, that is, the same dollar won't buy quite as much as it did before he took some of the gold value from it.

However, it is not anticipated that the shrinkage in terms of buying power is going to be very sudden in this section. Meanwhile, the man with a dollar in his pocket, if he's somewhat afraid of its intrinsic value, may swap it for 100 pennies, or if the weight bothers him, he can still get 10 dimes for it.

START BULA ROAD WORK

CWA work was begun last Wednesday on the road leading from Goodland, Enoch and Bula to the west Lamb county line, a distance of approximately 30 miles or completely across Bailey county, running east and west.

The proposed road improvement will give employment to approximately 75 men working in shifts of 25 each, also using about 10 teams.

"MORE WINTER" SAYS MR. HOG

Whether the federal Hog Reduction campaign had anything to do with it or not is no one knows, but according to tradition, the proverbial groundhog saw his shadow the first day of February and crawled back into his terra firma den for a while longer.

Tradition has it that if said hog sees his shadow on that day there will be six more weeks of winter weather. It's enough to make one laugh (up their sleeve this winter, for "there just ain't been none." Thursday of last week was warm and sunny, the temperature standing around 75 degrees during the warmest part of the day.

However, the terraplans hog may be partly right, local prognosticators are prophecying cold weather this month.

JANUARY WEATHER DIFFERENT

January weather in this section was different from that of any other for several years past, according to government records kept here.

The temperature of the month was considerably warmer than average Januarys, while the rainfall was much lower than the average, being only .12 of an inch for the entire month. Wheat and winter pastures are getting in dire need of moisture at this time.

February weather started out warm, the first day thermometer went up to 75 during the warmest part of the day, though the nights generally range from 25 to 30 degrees lower. Old timers here are predicting more precipitation and colder weather this month.
