Consigned to the flames, I soon return to ashes and from the nether regions from whence I came, I shall write and uphold the tortures of an everlasting because of the trying count has inflicted upon the American during the past three years." an ad he was glad to have annihilating, obliterating, exterminating and exterminating friend of distrust and despair and he hoped the aperties in the obsequies would do efficiently there were no ut they were forever rid of not know when Old Man Depression (Continued on page 2)

Jim Cook Is Out For Sheriff, Collector And Tax Assessor

Jim Cook, sheriff and tax collector of Bailey county makes announcement this week of his candidacy for re-election to this combined office, also for that of tax assessor, which office was last year joined with that of sheriff and tax collector. Mr. Cook was first a deputy under Sheriff Sterling, later appointed by Commissioners' Court as sheriff to succeed Mr. Sterling, and then at the regular election was chosen by the majority of the county voters as their sheriff and tax collector. Mr. Cook states he has had several years successful experience in this office both in Bailey and other counties and is fully acquainted with the duties required of such an officer. He points with pride to his successful tenure of office during his past term and to the fact that the peace and quietude of the county has been constantly maintained, while flagrant lawbreakers have been promptly brought to justice. He states he believes in the reasonable enforcement of the laws, and that it has been his constant aim to enforce them without malice toward any citizen; that in all the performance of his official duties they have been accomplished in a fair and impartial manner, looking toward the upholding of the law and the efficient management of the various duties of his office. "My past experience," said Mr. Cook, "I am confident, enables me to satisfactorily perform the numerous and various duties of this office, and because of my years of previous experience, I am, therefore, better qualified to even more efficiently serve as your sheriff, tax assessor and tax collector. I, therefore, respectfully solicit the votes and favorable influence of all citizens of this county, especially that of the Democratic party, under which banner I make announcement, and of all others who favor law enforcement and good business."

$30,570.59 Is Paid On Various Taxes In Co. During Dec.

There was a total of $30,570.59 in state, county and school taxes collected in Bailey county during the month of December, divided as follows: state taxes $9,154.38; county taxes $9,170.23; school district taxes $12,245.98. Collector Jim Cook declares this is by far the largest payment of taxes occurring in any single month since he has been in office. Most of the collections were of a delinquent nature and prior to the year 1933, and was probably largely occasioned by the fact that January 1 this year delinquent taxes carry a penalty of four per cent until March 1st, when the penalty increased to six per cent. After February 1, this year the penalty on delinquent 1933 taxes reverts to the old system of 10 per cent penalty and six per cent interest on same. The school taxes collected by Mr. Cook last month were paid into the districts in the following amount: Fairview $1,321.96; Circleback $1,426.29; Bayleboro $763.84; Wilson $321.13; Goodland $283.48; Muleshoe $2,327.09; Bulla $2,606.56; Watson $1,363.47; Liberty $1,679.96; West Camp $473.13; Longview $1,851.02; Progress $1,210.37.

Chas. H. Dean Of Dimmitt Announces For Dist Attorney

Chas. H. Dean, Dimmitt, makes formal announcement in this issue of the Journal of his candidacy for the office of District Attorney for the 64th Judicial district, composed of Bailey, Hale, Lamb, Swisher and Castro counties. In making this announcement Mr. Dean states his qualifications for this office as follows: "During the campaign of 1932, I made announcement for this office late in the season, making the race in an introductory manner and largely for the purpose of getting acquainted with the voters of this district. This year I am making the race in real earnest, and considering the large complimentary vote given me in the previous campaign plus the increased votes I shall obtain this year, I feel confident my numerous friends and supporters in the various counties comprising this district will do their very best toward my election to this important office. "I am a native Texan, now 35 years of age; have practiced law in all parts of Texas for the past nine years, having received my license to practice law upon my graduation from the law school of State University of Texas, and have since served two successful terms as county attorney of Castro county. "I am thoroughly conscious of the duties and obligations of the office I seek, and feel that my previous law experience, both in private practice and as a county attorney, has given me an experience whereby I can fill the office with credit both to myself and to my constituents, and I herewith pledge myself to enforce the criminal laws fearlessly and impartially without regard to class or influence of the law violators or their friends. "There are more than 12,000 voters in this district, and while I am going to do my very best to contact as many of them as possible, and verily believe I shall be able to see and speak to the most of them, yet I know it is going to be virtually impossible for me to have personal contact with each and every citizen, so I am taking this opportunity in my initial announcement to ask all voters of this district to give my candidacy and qualifications their very serious and favorable consideration, speaking to their friends in my behalf and using their personal acquaintance and good favors for me. Thanking you in advance for your courtesies and assuring you of my sincere appreciation for your votes in the coming Democratic primaries, I am, respectfully, "CHAS. H. DEAN."

SLIGHT FIRE TUESDAY

Following the blizzard that struck Muleshoe, Tuesday evening about dark the fire alarm blew and a run was made to the Edwards fire. It was found the strong wind was blowing burning hulls from the incinerator which in turn was putting fire some of the trash lying around on the ground, thus endangering the fire. Prompt action of the fire department quickly annulled the danger with no loss at all.

WATERWORKS APPLICATION GIVEN FEDERAL APPROVAL

Just before going to press the Journal was advised by a telegram received from Washington, D. C., from Cong. Marvin Jones stating the application made by Muleshoe several months ago for funds with which to extend the municipal system had been granted. It is understood that application had been made for $8,000 for construction purposes, 30 per cent of which will be in the form of a grant and will not have to be paid back to the federal government.

J. B. Burkhead Asks Re-election As County And District Clerk

"Early in the political campaign year I am taking this opportunity of announcing to the voters of Bailey county my candidacy for re-election to the office of County and District clerk. It is the custom, under Democratic rules, for one to ask for a second term in office where their past services have been efficient, honest and faithful, all of which I am confident has been the case in this particular instance. Keeping county records is a seriously important business, and I have given the task my personal and diligent attention every day since election and induction into office. "For the benefit of the newer voters of this county permit me to say that I am a native Texan, having lived in the state all my life. I was reared on a farm, and for some time after moving to Muleshoe, engaging in the itinerant mercantile business. It was my pleasure to serve the people all over this county in a very satisfactory manner. "My re-election as your County and District clerk I had never before held public office of any kind. During the time I have been in the office my one aim has been to handle the affairs of this office in a businesslike manner and with all courtesy to the citizens who have business in my office. "With my past experience as your clerk I am confident I can and will give even more efficient service during the coming term. Experience counts for much in this office and I am now fully acquainted with all the details of handling the business of this department. I take this opportunity of again assuring the citizens that during another term my whole soul and most genuine efforts will be given them as their trusted public servant. "Soliciting your hearty influence and favorable votes in my behalf in the coming Democratic primary, I am, "Very truly yours, "J. B. BURKHEAD."

MULESHOE BANK TAKES ON GOV. INSURANCE PLAN

Deposits in Local Bank Up to $2,500 Is Safe By Federal Plan.

That the Muleshoe State Bank, city will participate in the Federal government plan of guaranteeing deposits was confirmed last Tuesday following application when Jess Osborn, cashier, received a telegram from Walter J. Cummings of the Government Banking department, Washington, D. C., to the effect that their application for participation in this guarantee plan had been officially accepted. The deposit insurance plan became effective last Tuesday and from then until July 1 all deposits to a maximum of $2,500 will be guaranteed in full by a fund made up of assessments upon the banks with a sum of $150,000,000 added by the federal government. After July 1 deposits to a maximum of $10,000 will be insured in full, from $10,000 to $50,000 will be guaranteed 75 per cent and above that sum there will be a 50 per cent guarantee. The Muleshoe State Bank is in excellent condition as is shown by its statement published in the Journal this week. During the "bank holiday" period last summer it was one of the first banks to be authorized for reopening when that period had elapsed, and since that time its statements have all shown a good financial condition with deposits constantly increasing.

Miss Helen Jones Announces For Co. Treasurer's Office

"Since candidates are now making their announcements for election for state and district offices, I think it is none too early for me to announce my candidacy for county treasurer, so early in the campaign year of 1934 I am making announcement of my candidacy for the office of County Treasurer in Bailey county. "During the last political campaign I was a candidate for this office, my candidacy being largely for the purpose of getting better acquainted with the voters and citizens generally of this county, with the view of making a real race for this important office this year. However, I received a very complimentary vote from the citizens and also feel quite sure of election this year with the further support of these previous friends and the others who will be added to the list. "I feel I am well qualified for handling the duties of this important office. I am a single woman with no home duties nor cares to hinder me in giving full service to the people. I am already familiar with much of the duties required of this office, and am confident I can discharge all responsibilities incumbent upon me as your county treasurer. "I am making announcement under the banner of the Democratic party, subject to action of its primaries to be held during this year, and take this opportunity of heartily thanking you in advance for your favorable support."—MISS HELEN JONES.

MARRIAGE LICENSE TAKE JUMP WHEN GIN LAW GOT A REPEAL

Sale of marriage license in Bailey county took a considerable jump following action of the Texas legislature when it rescinded the "gin marriage law" requiring three days notice of intent to marry before the act could be committed. The bill passed early in the spring did not become effective until August 10 then, because of home industries in this particular respect began. Previous to that time, most wedding license and marriage had been performed in Clovis, N. M. The records in the county clerk office show there were only 11 marriage licenses issued during 1932, and up to August 10, 1933, there had been only nine issued, after that date to the close of the year, there were 27 more issued, or a total of 33 for the year 1933. One fallen preacher gets more advertising than 50 other preachers.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

During the past two years the Journal management has been very busy with some of its subscribers. Many of them have wanted to continue taking their home county paper but did not have the money to pay up their subscription at that time, declaring they would do so in full, if we would keep the paper going to them. We did this. Some have let up their subscriptions, but others have not. Beginning with 1934 the Journal goes on a cash paid in advance basis as to subscriptions. Past economic conditions, the operations of A. increased prices of paper stock, type, ink, and other items composing the paper have advanced from 15 to 30 per cent. Subscribers will receive a notice two weeks before expiration of their subscription, and a notice when same expires, and if renewal is not made within two weeks following last notice, the subscription will be cancelled. During the past year or so the Journal has faced the economic depression the same as have others. Nevertheless, it has done its part in asking folks to continue their subscriptions. The Journal has taken checks, coins, beans, meat, peanuts, canned goods and numerous other articles payment of subscriptions. Everyone living in Bailey county should be a subscriber to the Muleshoe Journal. It is the official newspaper of this county, carrying the local news and community news, important district, state and national happenings. A WINTER DANGER Older Muleshoe residents who remember the time when typhoid fever was considered a fatal disease will be interested in learning that today it is considered by physicians a minor cause of death. Medical science has learned to combat it. Like smallpox, it is no longer considered a fatal malady, or one from which there is little chance of recovery.

This does not mean, however, that it is a disease to be treated lightly, and for that reason special precaution should be taken to guard against it. The fall and winter months have witnessed a general shortage of moisture all over the country. It is during such dry spells that typhoid germs thrive. No community boasts pure drinking water than this one and yet there is no positive assurance against an epidemic of typhoid if even one well becomes contaminated. A single case can easily spread the disease for a distance of several miles.

The belief that typhoid fever is wholly a hot weather disease is erroneous. They point out that seeping snow can easily carry typhoid germs into the source of a family water supply, and that long dry spells are just as dangerous in winter as in summer. They point out that the best way to combat typhoid fever is to prevent it. To prevent it, they advise that you be sure that sanitary conditions are perfect around wells, cisterns and springs from which water is being taken for drinking purposes.

TOO MUCH FARM BINK
Few things tire the average Muleshoe man more these days than to pick up a daily paper or a magazine and find it literally filled with bunk dished up by writers who claim to know the solution to the farm problems. In about nine cases out of ten the fellows who are writing this stuff have never tread on a farm, and have no practical knowledge of what actually confronts those who depend upon the soil for a livelihood. The government too, is guilty, since it issues reports of publicity—and put cost on the back head and we can't help thinking that even a cold is better than nothing.

As a general rule, when a Muleshoe man knocks matrimony it is equivalent to a confession that he was too dumb to pick the right sort of wife.

Give the devil his dues. The depression has also deprived a good many Muleshoe citizens of a lot of things they were better off without.

We notice that the Muleshoe man who prattles during July about his love for the good old-fashioned winter usually yelps loudest when a cold snap comes along.

When the youngster has been ill and begins to show signs of improvement, ain't that a grand and glorious feeling to the average Muleshoe mother!

It's said Hollywood is a place where one can't even die without being accused of doing it just to get their name in the newspapers. Why not move to Muleshoe where they would be safe?

Most Muleshoe folks are now hoping that at least the goose that lays the golden eggs will not have to work shorter hours.

Paleness used to indicate that a Muleshoe girl was about to faint, but now it just means she forgot to bring along her makeup box.

In the olden days that slapping noise one heard coming from a Muleshoe porch swing sometimes indicated reproof instead of mosquitoes.

Somebody said that invariably good cooking makes good husbands. Well, we know some Muleshoe husbands who seem to have improved after a good roasting.

It won't be long now until Muleshoe citizens will find out that the weather man hasn't got off the cold standard.

Pavement Pickups

The Palace theatre, always up to the minute in its picture programs, is going to show "Hoppla" in the near future. But since Clara Bow the famous carrot headed actress, will not be able to appear in that picture in Muleshoe, it is reported that Mrs. Moeller, who has recently developed a considerable physical likeness to this popular star of the silver sheet.

J. L. Bradley says the skunk crotch here seems to be rather large this year, and he is thinking of suggesting to Gen. Johnson that every third skunk should be plowed under.

Clay Beavers says he has been noticing during the past year and a half of depression there hasn't been so much whoopee cough as there was before.

"The question now before the house," said J. E. Aldridge last Friday as the Kiwanians gathered at Mrs. Rice's dining room, "is whether we are going to have deflation, reflation, subflation or superflation." It proved to be superflation because of an exceptionally good dinner.

"The always noticed," declares E. R. Hart, that every time the country goes to the devil it manages to come back and resume business at the same old stand."

C. C. Mard's observes there are plenty of Muleshoe men who never worked a cross word puzzle, but he knows a few who married one.

Curtis Taylor, who has a yen for ambiguous locuquacy, was walking down the street the other day talking to himself. "What's the big idea," queried an approaching friend. "Well," replied Curtis, "I like to hear a smart man talk and I like to talk to a smart man."

Now that winter has arrived, the Muleshoe Coffee shop is reported to be serving anti-nude lunches. Such things as spuds with their jacks' on, eggs with their shells on, bananas with their peelings on, etc.

Bob Canfield suggests that the way a lot of folks talk about the coming session of Congress would lead one to believe it was composed entirely of Huey Long.

O. W. Curry, well known local music composer, has invented what he calls the "whistle bottom shoe." When worn it whistles every time the wearer steps on it. He is putting in this week trying to sell a pair of them to Nightwatchman Bartley.

Bill Mattleson thinks that after all the theories have been plowed up that farming may again become profitable.

SNAP SHOTS

Statements are people who brilliantly untangle messes that probably wouldn't exist if there were no statements.

Recovery seems to be the magic word that apparently justifies everybody in charging you 10 per cent more.

As we remember, Mr. Hoover didn't have to go all the way to Georgia to get in hot water.

This is not a hit, you understand. We're just idly wondering why the tax collectors never go on a strike.

An equitable distribution of wealth will be possible when, and only when we have a more equitable distribution of brains.

The way she refuses to pay her bills one wouldn't think Europe once furnished us with such early settlers.

Be patient the worst may be yet to come. America hasn't yet been forced to eating spinach and carrots.

Horses are coming back. It costs less for a horse or mule to eat its head off than to keep a tax on its gasoline.

Wool prices are so low that it's a poor wolf that can't afford to appear in sheep's clothing.

American coal owners, during the World War, made as high as 2,000 per cent. They wish now they had saved some of those profits.

It is reported there is danger of Niagara Falls running dry, which will be sad news to honey-mooners.

One has to expect strikes now. Men just can't settle down to regular work until they get the habit again.

That worry is futile and foolish is generally understood by everybody who has nothing to worry about.

After all it can't be a very bad world in which the only programs man has are the ones he makes himself.

Bonds of matrimony are a good deal like other bonds. Keeping up the interest is what makes them valuable.

Some people are so anxious to make the most of things they even stretch the truth.

Under our form of government man has the right to live, the right to work, the right to marry and the right to be wrong.

There is going to have to be a lot of prosperity in this country before some of our new depression loafers are ashamed with unemployment.

Anyway the dollar will still buy a hundred cents worth of tax receipts.

Forest workers cannot smoke but they may chew, and presume the idea is to avoid starting fires but to be ready to put one out.

One can never judge a man's worth by the elevation of his wife's nose at a summer resort.

True friends don't survive every-thing except a forgotten loan and frank advice.

During the days of prosperity a mistake was made in not building larger prisons throughout the country.

Saving the cat is like saving a drowning man. Sometimes it is necessary to sock him on the jaw.

$7,500 JUDGEMENTS AGAINST GASTON PATTERSON ARE GIVEN

Judgements aggregating $7,500 were returned in the 64th District court at Muleshoe last week against Gaston Patterson and the American Surety Co. of New York.

Petitions filed in the suit alleged that Patterson was due Lamb county and the State of Texas monies collected for taxes.

The judgement was for $1,555.55 in favor of Lamb county and $5,944.32 for the State of Texas.

Action for such was taken upon recommendation of the Kiwanis club which recently appointed a committee to investigate such matter and make recommendation to the City Commission.

The city clerk has been instructed to negotiate with the Fairbanks Morse Co. as to costs of such an installation, also with Harry N. Roberts, civil engineer.

RED OR YELLOW? TRY THIS

"RED and yellow! Catch a fellow!" When Sweet Sixteen stepped out in a yellow dress and wearing perhaps a red flower, from somewhere down the block, observing small boys used to take up the refrain. Red is a popular color, and so is yellow. They are both cheerful colors, but in clothes they seem to have no inclination to blend.

In foods, people like cheerful colors. They like the red of tomato juice and the yellow of orange juice. These cheerful colors will even blend in foods and you can mix your orange and tomato juice in the proper proportions and have a colorful as well as delicately tasty drink. Yet most people stand on one side of the fence or the other—they prefer their orange juice.

Both are so healthful and good, why not see which is the most popular? Serve some of the following colorful and satisfying summer drinks and see which of your friends are "reds" and which are "yellows"—both being complimentary terms in this case.

BABY FOODS

"CONSULT your physician" are the three words that we hear most often in the study of baby welfare. So important is this advice that one of New York's most prominent baby specialists has printed on every diet list issued from his office these words: "This diet is for your child at this time, and for no other child at any time."

All of which means that babies are individualists. Mothers have come to recognize this fact, and because there are free clinics as well as expensive baby specialists, babies everywhere are getting their individual rights.

A New Line of Canned Foods

The most favorable indication of this progress in baby welfare is the fact that reliable food manufacturers no longer turn out a product and label it "good for baby" without medical assurance that it is good. "Consult your physician" is the rule of the conscientious mother. An example of this is the marketing by a well-known manufacturer of good foods, of a new line of baby foods including tomato juice, spinach, carrots, peas, green beans and mixed vegetables. These foods were developed in collaboration with the Mellon Institute of research and the booklets were developed with medical supervision after a thorough examination of the processing of the foods, and they have been granted the seal of acceptance of the American Medical Association.

Because the facts in this booklet are scientifically correct, we are quoting here some of them which will be of interest to mothers:

"If babies are to enjoy health, vigor, even dispositions—and grow to sturdy, active, happy childhood—they need certain body-building foods which contain the various essential vitamins."

"Without vitamin A, resistance to infection diseases is poor. Lacking vitamin B, growth is stunted. Denied vitamin C, scurvy may develop. Furthermore with a partial deficiency of any vitamins malnutrition with less definite symptoms results. Thus, it is of paramount importance that babies diet includes these healthful vitamins."

"As mothers know, these all-important vitamins are found abundantly in certain vegetables, such as spinach, carrots, peas and green beans. Vegetables supply iron greatly needed by the infants. Vegetables are also good sources of calcium and phosphorus, which are the principal building materials of bones and teeth. Moreover they are of such assistance in overcoming constipation of infants whose diet is principally milk."

"Mothers know, too, the hours upon hours of work required to cook these foods properly and to strain the vegetables finely for baby's meals. First, vegetables must be carefully selected and washed. Then cooking must be constantly watched. Cooking utensils must be washed. Moreover time and strength and patience are required in rubbing the vegetables through fine sieves when these foods are prepared at home.

"And fresh vegetables of sufficient high quality, for baby feeding cannot always be secured all the year round."

The new line of strained vegetables are said to be cooked, strained and packed under ideal conditions that will preserve the essential vitamins and nutritive qualities and they are ready for heating and instant use.

And with all of this care in preparing, this manufacturer who prides himself on his reputation advises mothers to "consult your physician or baby specialist." Ask him the best time to start your baby on vegetables, on the manner of serving them—diluted or undiluted—and as to the length of time to continue serving strained foods, depending on the child's general health and tooth development."

Likes Lima Beans

IMA DODO says she likes lima beans because their first name is nearly the same as hers. That's a peculiar reason for liking them, and she would find a better one if she tried the following green vegetable combination:

Lima Beans and Cabbage en Casserole: Boil in salted water two cups of shredded cabbage for about ten minutes or until tender. Drain the water and add the contents of two 8-ounce cans of lima beans. Put alternate layers of the vegetables in a buttered baking dish, and pour over one cup of highly seasoned white sauce. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a moderate oven for fifteen to twenty minutes. Serves six.

Horses Sign of Culture

A general love of horse-ridding in ancient Athens. The veneration of a large stud of horses considered the hallmark of a well-to-do man of culture, the same way that the possessors of horses, hounds and hawks was wont to mark the status of a noble in our times. A man would often named after the class of horse owned: Xanthippus meant "He of horses"; Leontippus, "He of the horses," etc.

Four Counties Are Added To Pink Boll Worm Infected Area

An order of the secretary of agriculture has added four other counties and parts of three others to the pink boll worm quarantine area on the South Plains, according to H. B. Prickett, chief of the field office of the bureau of plant quarantine of the United States department of agriculture.

Gaines county was the original county placed under quarantine in October. Additional counties are Hockley, Yoakum, Terry and Cochran, with parts of Bailey, Lamb and the northwest corner of Dawson. Sections of Bailey said of Lamb south of the sand hills that traverse the section from over in New Mexico to west of Plainview, are those where the pink boll worm was discovered in gin trash. In addition, Lea and Roosevelt counties, New Mexico are included in the territory.

"All the sections are lightly infected," Mr. Prickett stated. "There is nothing expected to get excited about. The only requirements about cotton is that it be sent from the infected areas to designated compresses. These compresses include the one at Littlefield, Brownfield, Lamesa and some of the ports."

"Seed also is to be sent to designated oil mills where they can be given treatment."

"We had four machines in the field going from gin to gin and testing all gin trash. Machines were located at Farwell, Lubbock and other points. We went to inspect territory well known to co-operation on the part of farmers and gin men in the territory. We will hardly know that the quarantine is being imposed."

"No restriction are being placed on planting of cotton in 1934. No one will have to reduce acreage or quit planting. Prior to the planting season gins in the infected territory will install cooking machines to cook all seed before it is planted. No one will be permitted to plant seed not treated for pink boll worms. It does not hurt the germination of the seed."

Mr. Prickett said he expected the ban would be lifted in about two years unless unexpected serious situations arise.—Lubbock Avalanche.

St. Health Officers Urges Inventory Of Physical Be Taken

Austin, Dec. 28.—The close of the old year, and looking forward to 1934, Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer, reminds Texans that this is an important time and that it is quite as important to "take stock" of one's physical assets and liabilities as it is off one's financial resources.

"We would not think of running our automobiles without having them thoroughly gone over every year and then. But we neglect to have this very important thing done to the wonderful human mechanism we carry around with us in our bodies. We can buy the spare parts for our automobiles—engines, batteries, all the rest of the paraphernalia that goes into making of a serviceable car, but when the heart, the kidneys, the nervous system, or other parts of the human machine show signs of wear and tear, we can't replace them with new ones. But we can find out how to take care of our human machinery so that we can conserve and prolong its usefulness."

"One of the best ways to do this is for each person to go to his or her doctor at stated intervals for a thorough medical inspection of the human machine. If a weak spot has developed in some part of the system, very often the doctor can advise as to ways by which the encroaching weakness or disease can be checked. This will help in prolonging life and prolonging it for healthy usefulness."

"The boys and girls who are growing up today are getting accustomed to these periodical examinations through the regular inspectons they have in school. And every young mother knows that the best way to keep her baby and her other young children well is by having them under regular medical supervision. So, it is the grown-ups who need this advice, and I urge each individual who has not had an examining today to get the New Year started by following the custom of the old all parts of the machine. Then do as wake motorist. Have him check up on he tells you to do."

Cotton Contract Would Protect The Interest Of Tenant

The government is taking steps to prevent the owner or landlord from depriving the managing share-tenant of his share of the rental payments due under the 1934-35 Cotton Acreage Reduction contract, according to rulings received from Washington by County Agent J. B. Waide, Jr. on December 28.

Ruling May Increase Cotton Acreage Out Of Yield In County

New administrative rulings will permit 1934-35 cotton reduction contracts to be signed on much land in Bailey county that was thought to be ineligible for this contract, according to J. B. Waide, Jr., county farm agent.

The new rulings will permit land on which cotton was grown only in 1933 and 1932 and 33 then the base acreage will be the average of these two years. The average yield per acre for land coming under this ruling will be fixed by the county committee, in accordance with the 1928 to 1932 yields of other similar lands in the community.

Waide stated this new ruling would probably increase the acreage signed up in Bailey county by a large figure, and would permit almost everyone who cooperated last year to sign a contract.

trip and visit into Oklahoma and the Eastern part of Texas. Miss Ruby Hawkins, of Antlers, returned with them for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Taylor and son spent the Christmas holidays in Hot Springs, Little Rock and other points in Arkansas visiting friends and relatives. They report a delightful trip with plenty of cotton to eat, and an occasional possum and plenty of sweet taters. Curtis said he had plenty of money to pay cash for his gasoline on the trip, notwithstanding there were plenty of muddy roads.
