FIFTY-SEVENTH YEAR

Escape Artists Flee Callahan Jail

Some peace officers from Callahan County converged on Callahan Wednesday night to aid in a search for two alleged drug handlers, who were taken to jail at Baird. The pair was thrown about 100 miles from town and all attempts at transportation were watched. Through the night, slipped Weldon Ray Waters, 23, and Thomas Wesley Murry, 45, of Birmingham, Ala., both of whom Sheriff Price said had long histories of jail-breaking. Officers following "cold" trails of the fugitives left no clues of their destination. FBI In Hunt

Callahan officers were convinced late Tuesday that Waters and Murry have left Texas. If so, the break becomes a violation of federal statutes — unlawful flight across state lines — and would bring the FBI in to the search. "All points" bulletins had already been broadcast to other law enforcement agencies, together with complete descriptions of the fugitives and their modes of operation.

Waters and Murry are under sentences of 40 and 35 years each after having been convicted of transporting narcotics. They were being held at Baird pending appeal.

The pair escaped after passing through three locked doors at the jail. Deputy Sheriff N. L. Long, Jr. said they used pipe-fitters, a mirror and a broom to crack the cell block locks. The last locked door, at the foot of stairs leading down stairs from the jailroom, was pried. Trusty Innocent

A trusty reported the escape at 9 p.m. believed to have been about 45 minutes after the break. He passed a lie-detector test in Austin Thursday clearing him of having aided the pair and said that he had been afraid to sound the alarm earlier under threat of death. The trusty is an East Texan, who is serving a drunk driving sentence.

Third Recent Break
Last week's jailbreak was the third since June 25, 1961, at the Baird jail. A six-foot-six-inch prisoner, being held in the jail run-around, crawled through a second floor window and lowered himself to the ground. He was later recaptured. Then shortly thereafter a Mesquite youth broke out, stole an automobile and visited Clyde and Coleman, before being later apprehended near his home in Dallas County.

Jesse Flippin, 65, Dies Here Monday

Jesse William Flippin, 65, long-time resident of the Cross Plains area, died at his home near Pioneer Monday at 6:30 p.m.

He had been in declining health for some time but seriously ill only the past three weeks. He was brought home from a Houston hospital Saturday night in a local ambulance and was thought at that time to be substantially improved.

Funeral services were incomplete as the Review went to Press, pending word from a daughter and grandchildren in California. Services, though, will be held from the First Baptist Church in Cross Plains with the Rev. Dan Applin and the Rev. Ben Neel, both of Cross Plains, officiating. Burial is scheduled in Pioneer Cemetery under direction of Higginbotham Funeral Home.

Mr. Flippin was born Nov. 19, 1899, at Pioneer. He married Miss Phenia Mae Tabor at Coolidge, Texas, May 22, 1921. The couple made their home in this area many years and enjoyed a large circle of friends.

Survivors include: the widow; three daughters, Mrs. Leona Hitt of Cisco, Mrs. Lee Reddick of Pecos and Mrs. N. C. Larsen of Stockton, Calif. and 11 grandchildren.

$550.50 In Fund For Pioneer Feed

Hugh McDermott, chairman of the barbecue committee, said yesterday that a number of livestockmen had donated goats to be used with the beef to be barbecued for old settlers.

"I will appreciate it if all these donors will let me know immediately when we can pick up these goats," he said, "for we need to have them slaughtered; butchering will be done Tuesday, Aug. 2."

Names of all donors of goats will be published in next week's issue of the Review.

Recreational Project Awaiting Final Plans

Release of a $112,000 Farmers Home Administration loan and start of construction on the proposed Lakewood Recreational Center near Pioneer is still awaiting final plans by engineers.

R. D. (Bob) Needham, president of the board of directors, said yesterday that he hoped that plans would be finished in the near future so that the construction could begin. Yeatts & Decker, Abilene engineers, are drawing up final plans for the 60-acre site. Needham said that he was hopeful of beginning the project late this Summer or early this Fall.

"We think a solution has been found on the question concerning irrigation from the lake," Needham stated. "It has been holding up work on plans," he continued. Greens and fairways of the proposed rebuilt golf course there are to be irrigated but a permit was required by the Texas State Water Board before this could be possible.

More than 200 citizens of Cross Plains, Rising Star and other surrounding communities were asked to show support for the project before final FHA approval was given. To prove their backing, each was asked to deposit $20 of the first year's dues of $60. According to Needham, "No more dues will be collected until after construction is completed. Balance of the $5 monthly membership fees will be collected beginning of the fifth month of operation."

He was rushed to a local physician for initial treatment where the burns were classified as first and second degree. He was later transferred to Over-all-Morris Memorial Hospital in Coleman.

Reports reaching here Tuesday were that primary concern now is for his eyesight. According to Mrs. Ed McAnaily, mother of the victim, attending physicians thought that no permanent damage was done to his eyes, but reports were inconclusive yesterday.

The accident occurred at the new W. F. Lilley house near Sabanno as McAnaily and Verner Rose, owner of the local butane firm, were adjusting kitchen appliances.

RAYMOND DeBUSK AT HENDRICK HOSPITAL

Raymond DeBusk, well-known Callahan County cattlemen, was admitted to Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene over the week end. Extent of his illness was not immediately learned.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

Time passes. The vivid and beautiful memories of our beloved parents will forever remain in our hearts. Also remembered and cherished, are the friends and professional advisors who gave their concern and deeds of compassion during the long periods of Cora and W. B. Baldwin's declining health and ultimately their passing. "Helping hands" were ever, lovingly, extended.

No day or night now passes that our thoughts do not see your faces as they would be gently graced with a soft smile that spoke for itself — and told our hearts "you cared."

The "sunset hour" came for mother and daddy. By your goodness reflected surely life's sunshine will be overflowing in your days.
