NUMBER 23

BAILEY COUNTY COTTON FARMERS RECEIVE $21,198

ORGANIZATION OF SUDAN ASSN. BEING PLANNED

Would include 10 Tex. Counties, Three In New Mexico.

A meeting for participation in the Sudan Growers association organization now in process of completion, is called by J. B. Waide, Jr., to be held in the district court room of the court house in Muleshoe, Saturday afternoon of this week, beginning at two o'clock. All sudan growers of Bailey county are urged to attend.

About 65 farmers of Farmer county met in the district court room at Farwell last Saturday in an initial proposal to organize a Sudan Growers association for the plains area, such organization covering eight counties in Texas and two counties in Eastern New Mexico, the meeting being held under direction of Alex Bateman, Farmer county farm agent.

At this meeting D. K. Roberts and J. O. Ford were elected directors from the Farmer county unit to meet with other county units in presenting the matter of organization, after which still another meeting will be held to form the regional organization. Counties to be included in the list of the proposed association will be Bailey, Castro, Farmer, Sherman, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Cochran, Crosby, Floyd, in Texas, and Curry, Roosevelt and Quay in New Mexico.

12,365 Acres Change Hands In Bailey Co. During Month June

There were 12,365 acres of Bailey county land, also several lots in Muleshoe, that changed hands during the month of June, according to records at the county clerk's office, as follows:

June 1—S. T. Lawrence to Mrs. Nellie D. Lawrence, lot 6, block B, Warren addition to Muleshoe.

June 3—Ely O. Youngblood et al to Thomas A. King, lots 14, 15, 16, 208 Ochiltree county school land, Edgar E. Danforth et ux to R. B. Whitford, lots 23 and 24, block 19, Muleshoe.

June 6—L. R. Biffert et ux to A. J. Nordyk, labor 8, league 212, Uvalde county school land.

June 8—Kenneth Umbrson to Mattie B. Umbrson, SW 1/4 of W 1/4 of SE 1/4 sec. 22, block X, D., and of F. W. Johnson's subdivision.

June 12—Maple Wilson et ux to J. T. Toombs, SW 1/4 of NE 1/4 sec. 23, Hansford county school land.

June 21—C. L. McKinley et ux to Muleshoe Elevator Inc., lot 22, block A, Muleshoe.

June 24—T. S. DeArman et ux to W. T. DeArman, lots 11, 12, 13, 19, 20, 21, 22, league 179, Motley county school land, W. B. Rowland to Dan Gandy, SE 1/4 of block B, Melvin, Blum & Blum survey.

June 26—Erwin C. Ochsner et ux to Bess Rorex, labor 12, league 210, Dent Smith county school land.

PLAN TO ASSIST BOYS WANTING TO ATTEND THE A. M. COLLEGE

A plan is being promoted by officials of A. & M. college whereby worthy boys of various counties desiring further education may be permitted to attend this college at a very nominal expense, 15 or 20 cents from each county, taking their own food with them, being offered such matriculation.

It is understood that Adolph Neutzel and Fere Little have already expressed their desire to be included in this quota while other boys are considering the proposition.

Littlefield To Be 'Oldtimers Host On Monday, July 15th'

Littlefield will be host to a large number of early settlers of that city and section Monday, July 15, at an Old Settlers' reunion and basket picnic under direction of its Chamber of Commerce.

All former citizens of Littlefield and territory living there or in its vicinity from the time the town was started up to and including 1924 are invited, and urged to come to Littlefield for the occasion.

One of the main features of the day will be the basket dinner, which will be served from long tables in picnic style, at the City park. Baskets will be furnished by the citizens of Littlefield including the "Oldtimers," in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce.

The Littlefield Chamber of Commerce is hoping to reach many of the early pioneers of this section who have since moved to other parts, through the courtesy of the press, but invitations have been mailed out to all of whom their addresses are available.

PENALTY NOW DUE ON STATE COUNTY TAXES

Tax Collector Gets A Ruling From The Attorney General.

That it is the policy of the State of Texas and the intent of the Legislature in a bill passed at the last session not to remit any costs, interest or penalties on taxes due after June 30, this year, is the content of a ruling received this week by Tax Collector Jim Cook from C. M. Kennedy, assistant attorney general, Austin. Heretofore there has been some confusion in interpretation of this law, which the recent ruling is intended to clarify.

Following is a table submitted by the assessor-collector to show how penalties and interest accumulate after June 30, with the savings each year if paid now:

Year	Pen-Int.	Saving If Paid
1933	24 1/2 Pct.	14 Pct.
1932	25 Pct.	20 Pct.
1931	31 Pct.	26 Pct.
1930	37 Pct.	32 Pct.
1929	43 Pct.	38 Pct.
1928	49 Pct.	44 Pct.
1927	55 Pct.	50 Pct.
1926	61 Pct.	56 Pct.

Last half payback for 1934 taxes become delinquent July 1, 1935, and bear 10 per cent penalty and 6 per cent interest, it is pointed out.

LUBBOCK FUGITIVE IS CAUGHT

W. E. (Bill) Doupe, escaped prisoner from the Lubbock jail more than a year ago, has been captured at Roseville Beach, Oregon, Sheriff Tom Abel of Lubbock county going after him a few days ago.

Doupe is wanted at Lubbock in connection with the murder of Robert Tharp, son of Rev. and Mrs. Ed Tharp. The father was a former pastor of the Methodist church at Littlefield.

Doupe escaped jail at Lubbock when Ed (Perchmouth) Stanton and others made their get away.

PROGRAM COST $470,000

State relief officials announced today a wind erosion control program recently completed in 44 Panhandle and Plains counties cost the government $470,000.

Fuel for tractors or feed for teams used in listing land to prevent its blowing was made available to 22,000 farmers.

SOIL EROSION BENEFITS

The wind erosion control program, a few weeks ago completed in 44 Panhandle and Plains counties, cost the Federal government approximately $470,000, which total Bailey county received $10,067.50, according to report given out by the Texas Relief Commission.

BUY GIN AT MAPLE

Ray Graham and associates of Plain View, have purchased the cotton gin at Maple, in the southern part of Bailey county, formerly owned by the Thomas Bros., according to current report, at a cost approximating $30,000.

It is stated that it will be enlarged and some new machinery installed.

EXEMPTION CERTIFICATES TOTAL 978,538; WILL BE RETURNED TO THE BAILEY CO. COTTON PRODUCERS

Bailey county cotton producers have received a total of 1097 checks as final payment on Cotton Tax-Exemption certificates placed in the National Cotton Tax-Exemption certificate pool, according to J. B. Waide, Jr., county farm agent. The final payment totals $21,198.10.

At a later date 973,538 pounds of Cotton Tax-Exemption certificates will be returned to the cotton producers of the unsold portion of the 3,996,265 pounds of certificates that were placed in the National pool by Bailey county farmers.

A special pool has been formed, Waide said, "to handle certificates for producers who wish to sell certificates that are being returned. The price will not be less than five cents per pound. Producers will have until July 15th to place the unsold certificates in the special pool.

GOVERNMENT BUYING 6,000 ACRES LAKES IN BAILEY CO. FOR GAME

Only Preserve For Protection of Wild Fowl Established In This Section of State; Will Plant Grain For Their Food.

That the Federal government is now negotiating for the purchase of 6,000 acres of land in Bailey county, most of which is lake formation, and already has an option on about 4,500 acres is the information received here last Saturday, this land to be turned into a game preserve, used largely for the protection of wild ducks and geese and other water fowls.

Available information is to the effect that 2,200 acres have already been purchased of Wilson Bros., in the east central part of this county at $6.10 per acre; 1,539 acres bought of I. C. Enochs, at $5.09 per acre, and about 700 acres contracted for from George Robinson at $20 per acre. Negotiations are said to be in progress with the Paul Bros., for a considerable acreage on which there is located a large lake.

It is understood that the government owned land surrounding these lakes will be planted to grain sorghums of various kinds as feed for the birds attracted to this refuge, and guards will be employed as further protection to the fowls.

BAILEY COUNTY FARMERS TO ENTER A. & M. $2,500.00 CONTEST FOR THE STATE BEAUTIFICATION FARM HONOR

College Station, July 2—Any Texas farm family living on a farm or ranch or in a town of not more than 2,500 people on a designated state or federal highway is eligible to enter the Centennial farm and home demonstration contest the working plans for which have been announced by Director O. B. Martin of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service which will direct the contest. The contest has as its purpose the recognition of improvement in agricultural and the improvement and beautification of rural homes. Various business firms and others have already pledged cash prizes amounting to $2,500 for district and state winners.

County farm and home demonstration agents will provide registration cards and receive applications of those who desire to enter the contest. Registration cards will be received until September 1.

County, district and state winners will be announced by a judging committee which will include three members, one appointed by the county agent, one by the home demonstration agent and the other appointed jointly. District agricultural and home demonstration agents will select district winners immediately after June 1, 1936. State winners will be selected by the director of the Extension Service, the vice director and state agent and the state home demonstration agent, or by a committee appointed by them.

Scoring will be on a basis of 10,000 points. Perfect scores will be on the following basis: Building and equipment 2,500 points, grounds 1,000 points, stock 1,500 points, crops 1,500 points, livestock 2,000 points, food supply and other resources 1,500 points.

Prizes will be awarded district winners in each of the nine Extension districts of the state and to the state winners.

TAX BOARD MEETS JULY 22

The State Tax Board, often referred to as the automatic tax board, will meet July 22 to determine the state ad valorem tax rate, which at present is 77 cents on the $100 valuation.

County tax assessors report by July 15, and based upon this information the state board takes action.

Not much change in the total valuations are expected. The 1933-34 increase was $8,000,000 out of total of nearly $4,000,000,000, so a similar increase this year could effect little change in the tax rate. Homesteads are exempt to the extent of $3,000 valuation from the state tax.

Tax rates in Bailey county will be set following meeting of the State Tax board.

SECOND ALFALFA CUTTING ON

Alfalfa is proving a profitable crop in the Blackwater valley around Muleshoe, at least 130 acres in various tracts of from three to 15 now being grown under irrigation.

The second cutting is now in process, all yielding at least a ton or more per acre, and selling at from $16 to $18 per ton on the local market. This 100 acres is thus yielding its owners about $1,900 per cutting, of which there will be five cuttings this year, or a total of $8,500 for the season's growth.

Bailey Co. Schools To Get $20275 Of State Funds In 1936

Bailey county public schools will receive a total of $20,275 state per capita money the coming school year, according to J. E. Adams, county superintendent of schools.

Judge Adams bases his statement on the increase of $1.00 per capita made last week by the State Board of Education. This year schools are receiving $16.50 per capita, $3.00 of which is still due; but the payment for next year has been set at the constitutional limit of $17.50 per pupil.

The total sum to be received this year is $18,545.00; but next year that total will be increased $1.00 per pupil, or $1,730, that being the total scholastic census for Bailey county.

TO HAVE RODEO AT OLTON

Olton, county seat of Lamb, is to have its fifth annual rodeo August 1, 2 and 3, the usual features of bronco riding, trick riding, cattle stunts, etc., being on the program.

MULESHOE WINS 2 OF 3 GAMES IN PAST WEEK

Sunshiners Win Then Clovis and Needmore Lose to Locals.

The past week brought both defeat and victory to the Muleshoe baseball team; but since it came on a two to one basis favoring victory the lads and fans are not feeling so badly over it, and are girding up their loins for still greater achievements in future games.

Friday afternoon of last week the local Mule-punchers met defeat at the hands of the Clovis, N. M., Sunshiners, 9 to 3, which team they had previously beaten, hanging their scalps on their belt in a satisfactory score. The local lads are not offering any alibi for the knock down, other than the fact that all their regular players were not present, and the further statement that "even the New York Giants could not have beat that situation."

Sunday afternoon the local swatters played a double-header here with the Clovis team and a team from Needmore in the central part of the county. Both games were tough and tight, characterizing by snappy plays, excellent pitching and good field work throughout.

Friday's team here, July 14 a return game will be played at Bula, and July 21 the Amarillo team comes to Muleshoe to have its measurement taken.

RELIEF CASE LAD IS CUT

The trend for a lighter relief burden in Texas is being continued, according to Pat R. Bobo, Bailey county relief director, who states that the case load in this county has now been reduced to a total of 208 families, 134 of which are on general relief, while 75 families have been classed in the rural rehabilitation division.

Relief cases all over the state are being similarly cut down, it is said.

AGAINST NEGRO CCC CAMPS

Information is that the CCC camps authorized for Lamesa and Littlefield are to be populated with negro members and citizens of those two towns are up in arms against such procedure.

It is declared that negro camps of this type should be located in central Texas where negroes now live where whites are accustomed to their presence, rather than in West Texas where there are very few negroes and their presence is not desired.

WEST CAMP LADIES DINNER

Members of the women's home demonstration club of West Camp served dinner here last Monday noon at the American Legion hall, it being patronized by a large number of business men in Muleshoe.

The proceeds go toward paying expenses of a delegate being sent to the 6 & M Short Course. A very appetizing menu was served by the ladies.

THE RURAL REHABILITATION SEPARATED FROM STATE RELIEF

That the Rural Rehabilitation program is divorced from that of the Texas State relief commission, effective June 29, is the information received this week from Austin by Pat R. Bobo, Bailey county relief director. All accounts, funds and other properties of the RR are being transferred to Texas Rural Communities for future direction.

Beginning last Monday, Mr. Bobo nor none of his assistants or representatives had any authority to transact any business with clients under the Rural Rehabilitation administration. The order was so imperative, said Mr. Bobo, that directors violating same would have their licenses taken up for correction or financial reimbursement, as the case may be.

$40 GIVEN AWAY HERE MONDAY

TRADES DAY

Musical Concert And Street Dance Are Features.

The Trades Day, which was held here last Monday was a real pre-Fourth of July jollification, hundreds of people from miles around laying aside their labors and attending the day of pleasure and profit. Early in the morning they began coming in, but it was during the afternoon that the large crowd arrived. In the merchants' drawing, there was $40 was given away to Muleshoe patrons, Mrs. Finis Jennings, of the Lazbue community, with ticket No. 495288, received $25; Mrs. R. D. Precure, living about four miles north of Pleasant Valley community, in Parker county, holding ticket No. 480137, received $10; Mrs. Johnnie Williams, of the West Camp community, Bailey county, holding ticket No. 539983, received $5. O. D. Stevenson, of Farwell, received the beautiful quilt given away by ladies of the West Camp home demonstration club. Mrs. Nina Mae Pruitt, of West Camp community, lifted the tickets from the big squirrel cage which made the recipients glad.

In the evening there was a musical concert enjoyed by all attending, given by "Smoot and His Campfire Pals" orchestra, of Clovis, N. M., following which was a street dance, as many as 60 couples tripping the light fantastic on Main street pavement at one time.

The dance is reported to have been one of the most enjoyable yet held here. Under full flood of the street lights, young and old from various surrounding towns and communities, inspired by the soulful music of the occasion, joined in the terpsichorean occasion with great delight. There was nothing to mar the pleasure of the evening, as has always been the case of these street dances, everything being carried on with as much decorum, gentleness and good will as the social fableness as if under the auspices of some highly ethical association.

Practically all business concerns report good trade patronage, many of them offering special price inducements to their customers.

Agreement Reached To Hold No More Street Dances Here

Remonstrance of some citizens not in favor of dancing was heard at the meeting of the local Kiwanis club Friday of last week, the matter being brought to a vote of the membership present. There were 15 votes cast in favor of the street dance held here last Monday night as a Trades Day feature, one vote against holding the dance, while three present did not vote.

Sunday afternoon a meeting is said to have been held at one of the local churches making further remonstrance against the street tripping, it being declared by some attending that such procedure led to immoral results.

Monday afternoon a delegation of objectors is said to have gone to Plainview and interested Judge R. C. Joiner, district judge in an injunction withholding the dance to be held that night, the Judge suggesting it to be the province of the county attorney to prepare such injunction. Later a meeting was held in the county attorney's office, being attended by two objecting ministers, and members of the city commission whereby an agreement was arranged to permit the dance Monday night with the understanding that the streets would not be used again for such purpose during the present city administration.

OVER TWO MILLION

Over two million Ford V-8 cars and trucks have been built—over a million within the last year. You see them everywhere. Owners are enthusiastic about the all-round value and economy of the car.

THE REASON

The Ford has made it possible for the average purchaser to have the kind of car that used to be beyond his reach. Fine car performance, comfort, safety, beauty and convenience are now available to all.

Preachers Of Bailey And Lamb Counties To Launch Campaign

The Ministerial Alliance of Lamb and Bailey counties met in regular session in the Methodist church at Amherst last Monday morning.

Rev. H. F. Cole led the devotional service reading the first division of the Psalms, and offering some helpful suggestions on the teaching of scripture.

There were 10 alliance members present, two visiting ministers and one layman, the visiting ministers being Rev. Evans, Albuquerque, N. M., father of Rev. John Evans of Amherst, and Rev. Wm. Beacham, pastor of the Methodist church at Hart. The layman was E. F. Hunsacker, editor of the Amherst Argus.

The alliance welcomes the laymen in their meetings. There is always an open session in which we would appreciate suggestions from them.

Reports from the field showed last Sunday evening in the interest of the prohibition campaign, one with the First Baptist church, Littlefield, with Bishop H. A. Boaz as speaker, and one in the Methodist church at Amherst with Rev. Jim Parton as speaker.

The Alliance will make the prohibition issue their task until after August 24. Union services will be held in churches, speeches will be made on streets and in school houses throughout the counties.

Rev. Wm. Beacham was our inspirational speaker at eleven-thirty, reading the first chapter of Second Timothy. Rev. Beacham reminded us anew of the fact that the world needed more than all else the blood of Jesus and that as men came under the blood, crime and chaos would banish. The next session will be held in the Baptist church, Sudan, Monday morning, July 15—Reporter.

Law of Economics

It is a law of economics that the higher the value of money, the fewer the money payments; the quicker the circulation, the less money will be needed, and vice versa.

McCORMICK-DEERING— the ONLY Cream Separator with STAINLESS STEEL DISCS with Electrically Welded Stainless Steel Spacers

Stainless Steel Discs—this amazing improvement in cream separators is another triumph for McCormick-Deering. Here is a cream separator that brings to your milk room the same positive assurance of cleanliness, sanitation, and safety that you demand of kitchen equipment.

Stainless Steel Discs are absolutely rustproof. They are made of tough, strong, closely grained metal that will stay the same for years—there is no soft coating to wear away. As a result, the bowl in the McCormick-Deering will remain in balance a great deal longer than one having ordinary tinned carbon-steel discs.

Call on us for a demonstration—see this latest and greatest achievement in McCormick-Deering Cream Separators.

Silage, Hay Cutter Found Labor-Saver

Dual-Purpose Machine Is Best Plan to Hold Down Farm Expenses.

By R. H. Reed, Agricultural Engineer, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois—WVS Service

There never has been a year when it has been more important that farmers make the best use of every bit of their farms, and for this reason thousands of producers are turning to both upright and trench silos as a means of conserving their drought and chinch-bug damaged corn crop this fall.

While most farmers, who are planning to harvest at least a part of their corn in the form of silage, hope to use their own old silage cutters, or to hire cutters from neighbors, many may be forced to purchase new machines. To such farmers, it is suggested that they consider the purchase of a machine that will cut and elevate hay as well as silage.

Ordinary silage cutters will not cut and elevate hay satisfactorily, but most hay choppers will cut and elevate silage. By purchasing a dual-purpose cutter, the farmer will hold down his machinery investment and reduce the unit cost required in operating two machines. In fact, one of the principal objections to farm machines in the past has been that many of them could be used for only one operation and their usefulness was thereby limited to a few days or a few weeks each year. The newer cutters that will make silage as well as cut and elevate hay into the barn tend to eliminate this former criticism.

Returns on a recent questionnaire sent to farmers indicate the growing practice of chopping and storing hay. The practice eliminates the need for work in the hot, dusty mud at hay-making time and makes for more rapid, quiet, and less strenuous work. It is less barn space, is easier to handle when fed and is not wasted as much by the live stock as in the case of long hay.

Wheat Smut Widespread; Use Hot Water Treatment

Wheat smut is so widespread this year that special control measures should be employed to control the disease, according to R. C. Thomas of the State Experiment Station. It is readily spread by threshing machines.

Loose smut is controlled by hot water treatment, which requires that seed wheat be soaked at room temperature for six hours in loose bags containing about a peck of grain. After draining, the bags are immersed in water at 120 degrees F. for two minutes and then transferred to a second wash bath at 120 degrees for ten minutes. After this the grain is spread to dry.

Stinking smut, or bunt, causes greater loss in loose smut but is easier to control, Thomas says. With each bushel of seed wheat is mixed three ounces of copper carbonate dust. In order that each grain will become coated with the dust the wheat is placed in a discarded churn or barrel and the "churned" over several times. This treatment may be made at any convenient time in advance of seeding without injury to the grain.

Use Corn Stover for Feed

When the Supply Is Short

Because of the nationwide shortage of roughage, farmers can save surplus feed such as corn stover for profit to themselves, whether they expect to need it or not. Leafy corn stover of good color has approximately the same feeding value as oat straw, according to Arthur T. Semple, forage and pasture investigator in the United States Department of Agriculture. If properly cured and partially if shredded, it can be baled and shipped or stored.

An acre of good corn will produce about a ton of leaves and stalks. Left in the field an acre of stalks will do well to furnish roughage for one cow for one month. But if cut and shocked and fed from a manger the waste is so much less that the same ton of corn stover will keep a cow in roughage from three to four months.

Handle Ice Carefully

Ice on the farm is used in small amounts frequently during the summer. This means that the tank in the ice house is constantly opened to remove cakes and the top layer of insulating material is being worked over constantly. This results in fairly rapid melting. To reduce such losses to a minimum, the cakes should be removed in regular order and an entire tier should be used before beginning on the one below. The insulating material should be disturbed as little as possible and always put back in place after ice has been removed. A good practice, also, is to press down the sawdust thoroughly around the edges at least once a week.

Rust-Resisting Wheat

Two or three strains of wheat which will resist the disease of rust will be available within two years, according to a recent statement of the National Research Council of Canada. For some years scientists have been pitting their wits against rust, which attacks the growing plant and under certain conditions results in heavy loss. The problem has been not only to produce a type of wheat that would resist rust but to embody qualities responsible for the high standards.

Grazing Woodlands Harms Trees, Cows

3- to 5-Year Experiment Shows Practice Far From the Best Judgment.

By F. W. Dean, Extension Specialist in Forestry, WVS Service

Not only does the woodland suffer but the cows suffer, too, when woods are pastured. This is a conclusion reached after three years of experimentation in Indiana.

When two-four, or even six acres of woodland pasture were allowed each annual unit, and no outside range provided, the cows in the experiment lost weight rapidly and had to be moved to other range.

Effects noted upon the woodland were destruction of the young trees, damage to the foliage of the older trees, hard-packing of the soil, and disappearance of moisture-conserving layers of leaf mold. Many farmers have served these effects and have fenced their woods apart from their pasture.

According to the last census, however, over 70 per cent of the farm woods in the State are being grazed. Of the total pasture acreage in the state, eight million acres, fully two million acres are woodlands.

Wide-spread and intensive utilization of a half million acres of crop land, through the adjustment programs, that amount of land is available for grazing, resulting in a loss of over one million acres from serving double duty as woodland and pasture.

Buckwheat Is Not Good Feed for Fattening Hogs

Unless buckwheat should become much cheaper than the price of corn, it cannot be the feed of choice for farmers as a fattening feed for hogs, says W. E. Carroll, chief in swine husbandry at the College of Agriculture, Ames, Iowa.

If, however, the market price of buckwheat should fall materially below that of corn, it might be fed in limited quantities, but even more than one-fourth to one-third of the hogs' ration. Such a reduction in the price of buckwheat is considered quite improbable, and farmers with this small grain in their granaries will generally find it more profitable to sell the buckwheat and buy corn for their hogs. In fact, there has been less than 60,000 bushels of buckwheat produced annually in Illinois during the past three years.

In comparison buckwheat resembles oats more closely than it does any of the other more common grains, explains Carroll. This fact alone suggests that buckwheat is also created tentatively as a hog feed unless it is cheaper pound for pound than corn. Likewise, because it contains more fiber, it is not as digestible as corn. It is also more extensive use will tend to produce slower gains and in the end will add to the production cost of the hogs. Heavy feeding of buckwheat is also credited with producing pork of poor quality, although if used in moderation this difficulty should not be encountered.

How to Inoculate Land for Growing Alfalfa

A good crop of sweet clover, Burr clover or black noddy growing in the past three to five years is sufficient inoculation for most soils, says an authority at the North Carolina State college. Where these crops have not been grown, soil from a field that has been planted to them may be used.

From 200 to 400 pounds of this soil should be applied to each acre of land seeded to alfalfa. Dampen the seed with a mixture of equal parts of water and molasses and sift on a small quantity of the soil from the inoculated field. Stir the seed until they are well coated with the soil. Commercial inoculating materials may also be used if inoculated soil is not available.

Denmark, Butter Country

In the Nineteenth century the Dunes excelled in the art of butter-making, though history relates they imported their dairy muffs from the Netherlands. Danish butter has long occupied a foremost place. Denmark is the leading butter-exporting country of the world. And, too, in the United States the production of butter has made rapid growth since the introduction of the creamery system. It exceeds over two billion pounds a year.

Make Woodlands Pay

Farmers and others who have a "woodlot" will find it worth while to treat it just as they would treat other land and make it pay its way as far as possible. Any amount of work can be put on woodlands, in trimming the poor trees out and giving the good ones a chance to develop, burning the brush and undergrowth at the proper time, keeping out fires that will destroy the timber and otherwise caring for it.

The Wheat Supply

The experts of the bureau of agricultural economics have concluded that the drought has not endangered the food supply in a normal year the people of the United States eat, or feed to animals, and save for seed for the next year's crop, 625,000,000 bushels of wheat. With a carry-over of some 290,000,000 bushels and a production which certainly cannot fall below 520,000,000 bushels, there will be enough of wheat for normal consumption.

STATE OF TEXAS HAS BEEN UNDER SEVEN FLAGS INSTEAD OF SIX, IS STATEMENT OF INDIAN AUTHORITY

Austin, July 2.—"Among the flags that were over Texas have never been mentioned the standard of the sun and the blood-red banner of the Comancheria," Mrs. Mary Jordan Atkinson, author of a volume of Texas Indians which is soon to be released by the Naylor Publishing company, writes. In delving into misty archives and ancient Spanish Government records in the University of Texas library, she has brought to light the fact that Texas has been under the flags of seven ruling nations instead of six as heretofore recorded in history. She has found that the Comanches who rose to control over a large part of what is now embraced in the area of this State had their own flag which was an important factor in their lives. She writes, "preceded by the banner of the Comanches who rose to control over a large part of what is now embraced in the area of this State had their own flag which was an important factor in their lives. She writes, "preceded by the banner of the Comanches who rose to control over a large part of what is now embraced in the area of this State had their own flag which was an important factor in their lives."

The Indians of Texas were sun worshippers. The glaring orb of day was the sacred fire—servant of the sun. Even the fierce Apache fighting out of the Mexican mountains, struggling for control of the buffalo range, enemy of the Karankawa and the Tonkewa, of the Aznal and the Caddo—even he, worshipped the sun.

"The Tonkewa, clad in a breech-cloth, a feather, and a pair of moccasins, slipping 'over the chalk-hills' after the deer, worshipped the sun, and his women tattooed their breasts in its image for the sake of magic—the civilized Mound Builder—the Caddo and the Aznal—living in straw houses said by astounded explorers to have been a hundred feet high, built temples in the pine woods to house the sacred fire—servant of the sun. Even the fierce Apache fighting out of the Mexican mountains, struggling for control of the buffalo range, enemy of the Karankawa and the Tonkewa, of the Aznal and the Caddo—even he, worshipped the sun.

others of my organization through whose hands your money order passed in order to get back into the account of the Federal Emergency Relief administration. It is an assurance to us that the spirit, pride and ambition of our forefathers still live in the mind and heart of at least one Texan."

Johnson said this sentiment was a very happy change from the bombardment his office is continually receiving from the many "bigger and better relief" men.

Fort Worth Woman Returns $9.55 In Relief Funds Given

That all people going on government relief are not primarily charity cases and that many of them still have maintained their high regard of self respect is now being proven all over the nation, as a few of them who have been rehabilitated and got back onto their own feet, obtaining work of various kinds, have reimbursed the government for the assistance furnished them during the past unfortunate period.

The first case of this kind in Texas came to light last week when Adam R. Johnson, state relief director, received a money order from Mrs. Blanche Perkins, of Fort Worth, of what she termed a loan from the Tarrant county relief office in April, 1934.

Replying to the remittance, Johnson wrote her: "I am herewith enclosing receipt in full for post office money order for $9.55 as repayment for assistance given you on your application for relief in April, 1934, made with the Tarrant County Relief Board. As the relief you received was not extended on a loan basis, you have done a most exceptional thing in repaying the government for the aid extended to you. I can not express my commendations for the splendid thing you have done, and I want you to know it has had a really inspiring effect upon me and

RAIN LAST THURSDAY NIGHT

Another half-inch of rain falling in this vicinity and throughout the county generally, boosted the total for this area to date much heavier than it was last year.

Several surrounding towns and communities report from one-half to an inch of precipitation, and practically all farmers and stockmen are now enjoying sufficient moisture for crop and pasture growing.

Lois Picks Cotton From a Tree

Picking cotton from a tree might be something new to cotton growers in this country. But it's nothing new to pretty Lois Smith, who is shown picking real cotton from a tree in Miami, Fla. This cotton tree is one of the few left in south Florida. It is a native of tropical America and was introduced into the state by the Calusa Indians in the days before Columbus. The tree grows to a height of 30 feet.

HOME DEMONSTRATION NEWS

By MISS ALMA STEWART Home Demonstration Agent Bailey County

Salad Demonstration

"Spinach salad is a good way to serve our young leafy vegetables if your family doesn't care for cooked spinach," said the Bailey county home demonstration agent at the salad school held in the Home Economics department Muleshoe High school last Monday.

The agent prepared and served four kinds of salads: leafy vegetable, spinach salad, starchy vegetable, potato, meat, salmon, fruit, prunes stuffed with cottage cheese.

"Since goiters are increasing in number we should include sea foods in our diet. It is necessary that each person have one serving each week," said Miss Stewart.

Twelve of the 14 home demonstrations were represented. Each delegate is expected to put on this demonstration in her club.

Those present were: Mesdames J. H. Stone, Johnny Williams, and H. W. Foster of West Camp; W. B. Hasler, J. C. Stovall, of Progress; Roy Schrimsher of Joyland; C. W. Vanlandingham, of New Bula; J. W. Malone, Bill Starkey of Balleystown; T. G. Miller of Watson; J. P. Carter of Maple; V. E. Garner, John K. Milam, of Circleback; N. O. Sullivan, of Watson; Alton Epting, C. M. Black, of Longview; J. T. Green, of Knocht; H. W. Tyson, of Muleshoe; J. P. Tarleton, of Godland; Miss Lois Garner, of Circleback.

"I bury half of a wooden barrel and put a sack of rotted manure in it, then plant my cucumbers around this barrel. I turn the hose in the barrel and after being fertilized it waters the cucumbers," said Mrs. Oscar McCrary, farm food supply demonstrator of the Balleystown home demonstration club.

"I have found a way to make my cucumbers strong enough to resist bugs and to make nearly all the blooms produce cucumbers," said Mrs. T. G. Miller, copartner of the Watson home demonstration club. Mrs. Miller takes one gallon of well rotted barnyard manure and adds 10 gallons of water. She lets this set overnight, then uses about a gallon of this liquid manure on each hill of cucumbers.

TO SERVE DINNER SATURDAY

Members of the Progress home demonstration club will serve dinner Saturday noon of this week in the American Legion hall in Muleshoe.

They invite Muleshoe people to come and eat good country cooking served family style in a country way.

PETITION FOR SEWER SYSTEM

A petition for sewer system, containing names of about 60 residence holders and 15 business concerns, together with other needed data, was this week sent to PWA headquarters, Fort Worth, looking toward construction of such a system in Muleshoe.

MULESHOE BOY SCOUT TROOP GETTING OFF ON GOOD START

At the regular meeting of the Boy Scout troop held in the American Legion hall Thursday evening of last week, 16 bright eyed and alert chaps were present for roll call, and snapped into the work with commendable enthusiasm.

The second patrol was organized by Scoutmaster Alexander and both patrols informed that beginning at the next meeting date a series of patrol contests would be started for the purpose of selecting the best patrol to present at some future date to the troop sponsors, the Kiwanis club, and the American Legion post.

Membership in the two patrols is as follows:

L. S. Barron, Jr., patrol leader, Charles Alsop, Welton Winn, Kenneth Jennings, Jack Aldridge, John Smith, D. L. Smith, Alwyn Chitwood.

Scoutmaster Alexander further informed the boys that all offices in the troops, other than that of assistant scoutmaster, would be held open to be filled later by those showing the greatest degree of proficiency in their work.

MULESHOE H. D. CLUB MEET

"To make your food more attractive looking garnish with various colors, such as grated cheese, grated hard boiled eggs, parsley, or pimientos," said Miss Alma Stewart to the members of the Good Cheer home demonstration club that met with Mrs. C. C. Mardis for the vegetable cooking demonstration, June 27.

There were 22 members, Miss Stewart and nine visitors present, six of the visitors present, making 42 members in the club.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. R. W. Tyson, July 11. The demonstration will be on making vegetable salads.

As Mrs. C. C. Mardis could not go to the Short Course in July, Mrs. John Gaede was elected to go in her stead.

As the pledge in the year book is more for the H. D. club girls, a motion was made and carried that we use Ephesians 4-31:32 for our pledge, by adding "we will" at the beginning and substituting the word us for you and dropping ye in the last verse—Reporter.

Conoco Bureau Of Travel Predicts A Big Tourist Travel

"Muleshoe merchants who are on their toes" and looking for their share of this summer's tourist dollar should reap a rich harvest. Reason: There will be twice as many tourists on the road as there were last summer."

Such is the surprising prediction just released by the Conoco Travel Bureau, America's largest free travel service, maintained by Continental Oil Company, Denver, Colorado.

In a bulletin addressed to the merchants of "Main Street" in all parts of the United States, the Bureau advises them to prepare for the greatest tourist trade in years.

"Dust storms have spent their fury, leaving a new top soil, and flood waters have receded," says Joe H. Thompson, director of the Bureau. "As a result of heavy rainfall, America's highways, and particularly the mountain areas, are green in vegetation, and wild flowers are more beautiful than ever."

"During the first five and a half months of this year the Conoco Travel Bureau received 115 per cent more trip service applications than during the same period in 1934. At present, more than 250 carefully trained employees are working day and night shifts in the Bureau's Denver offices.

"The Conoco Travel Bureau was founded five and one-half years ago in response to the demands of motor vacationists and everyday travelers anxious to secure accurate, up-to-the-minute information regarding North American highways, scenic regions and travel costs. Each motorist applying for Travel Bureau assistance receives a generous assortment of maps, booklets, cottage camp and hotel guides, and special instructions covering every phase of his journey. Even temporary highway detours and choice fishing and hunting areas are indicated. More than 22,000 Conoco dealer stations, including Muleshoe, in 42 states act as branches of the Bureau and are equipped to render additional tourist assistance of a more localized nature."

Readers of this newspaper may secure individualized trip services without spending a cent—even for postage—merely by writing the Conoco Travel Bureau, Continental Oil Building, Denver, Colorado, stating where and when they wish to go.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH

Another glorious Fourth of July has come and gone. Practically all Muleshoe business concerns were closed tight and their proprietors and assistants went somewhere else to participate in its celebration, as no such event was scheduled here. Whether our citizens wanted to shoot firecrackers or shoot those who did make no difference, they all still recognized this as our greatest holiday and were glad they belonged to this magnificent nation.

Some of us may have lost sight of the old constitution in some respects, we may have been living a little faster or a little different than our forefathers anticipated we would and should, there may have been ways in which our general conditions could have been improved which we didn't think about or didn't employ, but we put all that aside in realization that ours is still the greatest nation on top side of this old globe and went out today to celebrate that fact.

The Fourth of July is one day that young America won't let mature America forget, even though it may want to after the seige we've been through during the past five or six years. Young America, as has always been the case, was still up on its toes and shouting for the old flag. There were a dozen places around Muleshoe where big gatherings were assembled for this particular recognition and justification, and these were attended by both young and old.

Pies of loyalty, patriotism and fidelity to country still burn in the breasts of Americans this year just as they have in all the years gone by. The fact we've gone through hard times" has not diminished that one whit. The Fourth of July meant as much this year as it ever did in the past, and will, in all probabilities, mean as much next year as it did this one. Who knows—with all the war talk floating out in the atmosphere now—it may mean more! We should all be thankful that we live in a country that has never alive. It may come in handy again some time.

WORK RELIEF EFFECT

Much has been said about the decreasing morale of American citizens caused by acceptance of government relief during this period of depression, it being frequently declared many relief clients have refused work and are deliberately remaining as government clients because it is easier to obtain a living that way than to get out and work for it. There are a few instances on record where offered work has been deliberately refused, where some living in the country have given up farms or jobs on farms and moved to town that they may be more susceptible to government assistance.

est of communist ideas, feel the "government owes me" and in the future will do all they can to collect that living without work.

FAKE CONTESTS

Since the chain-letter caused such a furore in the country, and died off as suddenly as it was born, inventors of fake contests have been working overtime. The result is a warning from the postal department well worthy of the attention of everyone in Muleshoe. It is to the effect that never before were fake contests, usually promoted by mail-order concerns and over the radio, as numerous as they are at the present time.

Apparently the chain-letter only served to whet the appetites of those who are looking for something for nothing, and contests of every kind are now being promoted. In some instances the offers are tempting enough to catch the very ones who fell for the old chain-letter scheme. But in all cases the promoters are the ones who "get the gravy."

ONE PRIZE BABY

Writing in a national magazine Marie Darrah says: "Depression has had one prize baby. When cities were going broke for the third time, the small towns were floating like a cork on the waves of adversity. Not that America's small towns haven't had their buffeting from calamity, their loud-mouthed boosters of prosperity and their fancy mortgages, for they have. But in the small town personal relationships and a fellow-feeling not known in the large cities has served to keep the small towns from bucking under the strain."

There's a lot of food for thought in that, and those Muleshoe citizens who will study it a bit will realize its truthfulness. That old neighborly spirit for which the small towns of America are famous was a mighty valuable asset when clouds hung heaviest above the land.

Now that they are lifting it would be well to keep that fact in mind and to continue to keep that same spirit alive. It may come in handy again some time.

STILL SELLING CARS

Breaking all records for the sale of autos since 1929, makers are expressing satisfaction over the way the second half of the year started out. The let-down in sales they anticipated along in early June did not materialize. Instead, sales in many sections, continue as good as during any summer season in history.

THE BROOMCORN CROP

Every report from autoland nowadays is encouraging, for so long as this great basic industry is forging ahead and getting back to normal then all other lines of business are certain to follow in its wake.

URG E SIGNING OF CONTRACTS

The closing date of making Bankhead allotments in Bailey County has been set for July 15, according to J. B. Waide Jr., farm agent.

ROY DAVIS SPEAKS TO THE BAILEYBORO FARMERS' TUESDAY

A meeting of the Baileyboro Farm association was held Tuesday night. Roy Davis, Plainview, head of the Plains Co-operative, being the principal speaker. There were about 75 farmers from that community present, also M. C. Bass, J. B. Waide Jr., Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Holey and Miss Alma Stewart, from Muleshoe attended. J. F. Starkey, president of the organization, was in charge of the meeting.

Mr. Dav's stressed the tendency toward and value of co-operative organizations of any kind, stating the cause of many failures was due largely to huge structures of such organizations becoming too heavy, and that smaller units were generally more successful. He urged farmers to support their co-operatives in a hearty manner for a mutual benefit, stating that success of any such organization depended chiefly upon the loyalty of its members toward it.

Other speakers were V. B. Mays, W. O. McCreary, Mrs. W. O. McCreary and Levi B. Churchill.

IN JUSTICE COURT

Judge J. F. Vaughan, had a busy first of the week in Justice court, his decisions being of monetary value to the county in fines collected.

Sunday night the Sheriff's department arrested five people, claiming Litchfield as their home and giving the names of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Touchstone, B. F. Devoe, R. W. Shirley and E. M. McGlothling, each pleading guilty to a charge of drunkenness, according to statement of the county attorney, and being assessed fines each of $14.00, including costs.

Monday parties giving the names of Capt. P. Kennedy, W. C. Carter, R. C. White and R. E. Duprest also fell under the weight of the law, and in Justice court were handed charges alleging drunkenness. White and Carter accepted Justice fines of $14.00 each, including costs and paid off, while Duprest was assessed fine and costs totaling $14.00, and Kennedy was given a fine and costs totaling $38.00, neither of whom had paid off late Tuesday evening.

BAILEYBORO CIRCLE MEETING

The Sunshine Circle of the Woodman circle, Baileyboro, met June 28 at the hall.

A new candidate, Mrs. Jessie Barnett was initiated.

The District Manager, Mrs. Jennie Lindbloom, of Amarillo, presided. Mrs. Lindbloom will meet with the Baileyboro group again July 10.

After the business meeting sandwiches, and orange ade was served to the following:

Sift together one cup flour, one-half teaspoon salt, two teaspoons baking powder, and add. Add one tablespoon melted butter. Fry in small cakes on a hot griddle. Serve with pork sausage and gravy or with maple syrup.

SOUTH COUNTY FRUIT MYSTERY

Tuesday morning when the Journal editor got in his car left parked on Main street he found a small sack of fine big peaches in the seat, also a note reminding him for boosting north Bailey county fruit and saying nothing of that grown in other sections of this political subdivision, and advising this sack of fruit was raised on the T. C. Wiseman farm, presumably not in the northern part of the county, though the missive did not say.

At any rate congratulations are due Mr. Wiseman for the sample of delicious peaches, some of them more than three inches in diameter, and raised without irrigation in a "dry" country from whence Harry Hopkins wanted to move all the citizens.

Middle-West Not Yet a Wilderness

In spite of the warning by H. H. Bennet, director of soil erosion for the United States Department of the Interior, that great areas in the dust storm belt of the west may be turned into deserts, and the prediction of Huxford G. Tugwell, Under-Secretary of Agriculture, that unless the Administration's land program were carried out the Middle West would become as barren as the interior of China, the middle western farmers do not seem to have taken alarm.

When the latter made his meaning clear by an imaginary story of an explorer of 2333 A.D. who finds the Mississippi Valley a dusty, uninhabited desert, William Allen White, the Kansas philosopher, expressed the farmers' state of mind when he said: "Prophecy is always a major blunder in politics and it is even a greater blunder to match facility with folly. So let Tugwell have it his own way—for neither of us will be here to laugh at the other's blunders."

Corn in Great Demand

Because of its importance as an energy food, and the danger of a repetition of the damage wrought by drought to last year's crops, corn is now in great demand. Last year's plentiful crop of corn will make it possible, however, for housewives to stock up so they will have an adequate supply on hand.

Canned corn can be used in a variety of ways besides being served as a vegetable. It makes very delicious corn fritters and the cream-styled corn is well adapted to corn puddings, to soups and to many kinds of corn breads. Try these:

Use of Title "Junior" According to Emily Post's Etiquette, "Junior" always means the son or grandson of a man of the same name and "Second" means the nephew or cousin of a man of the same name. The son of a "Junior" of the same name is called "Third." It is improper for a man to continue adding "Junior" to his name after the death of his father, or to call a boy "Third" if either the "Senior" or "Junior" has died.

In Military Court According to the Articles of War (Article 17), an accused person has the right to be represented in his defense before the court by counsel of his selection—civil counsel, if he so provides, or military, if such counsel be reasonably available. When a defense counsel is appointed by the authority appointing the court, he is usually an officer in the army.

Have No State Universities Federal government says that certain states in the Union have very large private institutions of higher education and adopted the policy early in their history to establish state universities. Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania and Rhode Island have no state universities.

Cotton Prices Weak Despite Government Control, Prof. Says

Austin, July 2.—The results of the two-year cotton production restriction program inaugurated in 1933 by the Federal government as an emergency measure to solve the economic problems of the industry clearly indicate that the restrictive policy has failed to accomplish its purpose, it is declared by Dr. A. E. Cox, director of the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas and internationally known agricultural economist. Cotton prices are weak in spite of another drastic cotton acreage restriction program for 1935-36. Dr. Cox said, "Few realize that the world gold price of cotton is actually lower now than it was in 1933, he pointed out. "It is now proposed to make the emergency measures clothe the Federal with additional powers. "According to the United Department of Agriculture, cotton production averaged 13,000 bales during the five year depression, and foreign prices that same time average 10 cents. During the two year cotton restriction program, U. S. production has been 22,816, 7,853,000 bales less than per average production; and production has been 27,057,000 4,669,000 bales more than the depression average. "In spite of another drastic acreage restriction program cotton prices are weak. Few in the world gold price of cotton is lower now than it was the South, through experience, lost a large part of its market for cotton. These markets cannot be ten back without relatively very prices and systematic improver the quality of the crop. Unless man can be found for from 14 to 15 bales of American cotton, there be a tremendous shift in occup, in the cotton-growing South."

The Fullest Benefits From Electric Service Depend on You

Did you ever stop to realize how important you are?
Have you ever considered the fact that the largest benefit from the use of electric service is the increased use of it? Convince yourself that the mere flick of a switch puts at your immediate disposal a supply of dependable energy that means more convenience, more comfort, and more happiness. This depends on you.
This company has the responsibility for furnishing electric service at rates which are reasonable. As consumer needs for added service justified, rate reductions have always been made. One of the most advantageous steps in this direction was made very recently by this company. The introduction of an "ultimate" rate for residential service is of very direct benefit to you in that at no increase in cost a much larger use of electric service is possible. This depends on you.
During this week we commemorate the 159th year of independence in this country. We find ourselves thinking and saying how hard life must have been in 1776. But some day your grandchild will say:
"how hard life must have been in 1935 without the full use of electric service then available!" Pass on to his child that you were independent of so many tasks by the ease with which electric service could be applied.
Emerging from a period filled with numerous difficulties an inventory shows that we have been able to "carry on" in our operation of these properties. We also find that the morale of our organization has, under severe stress and in many cases unwarranted attacks, been able to maintain the vigorous strength that has always characterized it.
We are justly proud of the record for voluntary compliance and support of those agencies which were felt to be necessary during the trying months of uncertainty... It is our crowded industion, as representing a part of the cross section of business in this section, to continue those policies that are truly American and in support of those principles upon which this country was founded.

Washington Boy Held For $200,000 Ransom

TACOMA, Wash. . . . Above, right, is little George Weyerhaeuser, 9, son of the multi-millionaire lumberman J. P. Weyerhaeuser, kidnapped and held for $200,000 ransom, under threat of death. The girl in the picture is his sister Anne, now 13. Federal agents swarmed into Tacoma but refrained from interfering with the family in their attempts to establish contacts.

Smart and Correct

PAS LOS ANGELES . . . You won't go wrong, young lady, if in your summer wardrobe you have a smart flannel skirt, white or pastel shades, a checkered tailored sport jacket and a smart felt and auxiliary Panama, and completed with the smartest of smart two-tone and matching sport shoes. . . . Dolores Del Rio (above), was duplicated thusly in a recent film style review.

Achieve Sensational "Artificial Heart"

NEW YORK . . . The development of an "artificial heart" and a man-made "blood stream" which enables science to keep vital organs of man alive and functioning outside the body, is hailed as the most sensational in the annals of medicine. The two men who achieved this triumph are Col. Charles L. Lindbergh, America's ace airman, above left, who invented the pump and Dr. Alexis Carrel, above right, Nobel Prize Winner, the medical expert.

First for Fall

New NRA Top Men

WASHINGTON . . . Above are the two men who will head the skeletonized NRA until April, 1936, under the appointment of President Roosevelt. They are (above), James L. O'Neill, Vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Co., N. Y., named acting NRA Administrator. Below, George L. Berry, President of the International Pressmen's Union, as assistant to O'Neill representing labor.

Swims and Sings

NEW YORK . . . Virginia Verrill, 18-year-old radio star from California, is not only a good swimmer but has a voice so lovely that she landed the feature-star contract on the new "Sooney Sketchbook" program for her first Eastern appearance over the air.

Would Deport Aliens

WASHINGTON . . . Congressman Martin Dies (D) of Texas (above), would bar all immigration for 50 years and compel admitted aliens to seek citizenship within 12 months, thus paring the country of 6,000,000 deportables. He claims there are 3,500,000 illegally entered aliens now here and wanting jobs from our own unemployed.

After "Chain" Fortune

TRENTON, N. J. . . . A "common informer" gets one-half the penalties when the accused is found guilty in this state. Above is W. F. Zeirner who has brought suit against the Western Union Telegraph Co., for $3,500,000 on the ground it violated gambling laws by sending chain telegrams.

You Can Picnic Today With The Greatest Of Ease

And Have Time to Swing High on the Flying Trapeze

MODERN picnics are planned. Old-fashioned picnics were improvised. "Picniced" sounds much easier, doesn't it? And it is easier. If you can recall picnic days when you were a child you will remember a kitchen full of food covering every bit of available table-space. "I'll devil the eggs, over here," someone said, "and give you room to make the sandwiches." And high on shelves were cakes and tarts and good things baked the day before, ready to be wrapped and packed. Over the whole scene was an aroma of freshly squeezed lemons.

Let's Go! It sounds like rather fun, you say, remembering how you came into the kitchen in time to get a sandwich that wouldn't fit in, and out the thing that had fallen on the sides of the cake plate. Well, it was fun for everybody but the ones who spent a day — so preparing for the picnic. Proof of this fact is that there weren't picnics quite so often. One couldn't just wake up any fine day and see the sun shining and say, "Let's eat somewhere out in the open today." More often, with hampers packed you sat in doors watching gray clouds scurrying across the sky and wondering if the nice picnic lunch had to be eaten at home.

Today, if you plan your picnic properly, you'll find the grocer has it practically prepared for you. Just stop by and get it. Of course if you have a delicious home-made cake, you'll take it along, and your picnic will be that much merrier. But for a nice picnic "with the greatest of ease," do plan it in some such way as this:

- PICNIC MENU Peeled and Wrapped Cucumber Wedges Latticed Potato Chips Canned Whole Chicken or Ham Assorted Sandwiches Crab Meat with Lemon Juice on Rye Veal Loaf and Bermuda Onion Boston Brown Bread with Snappy Cheese Cakes Canned Fruits for Salad in Patty Shells Coffee Pineapple Juice

Let's see how easy, for example, this menu is to pick up on short notice. Your grocer can provide the first five items—cucumbers, radishes, pickles, crisp potato chips and a can of either delicious chicken or ham. Sandwiches on the Spot As for the assorted sandwiches—they can all be made on the spot. A can of crab meat goes right into the picnic hamper, along with a lemon, and this can be quickly spread on sliced rye bread and taste much better than if it had been packed around in ready-made sandwiches. The same goes for the veal loaf, which comes in cans, and a big Bermuda onion—sliced on the spot. Boston brown bread comes in cans—you know that—if you open a can of this delicious bread and spread it with snappy cheese right from the jar, you're going to like it. Then we come to your home-made cake—do bake one for it's rather fun if you think of it the day before. If not, there are plenty of appetizing cookies which come fresh—and if you open a can of this delicious bread and spread it with snappy cheese right from the jar, you're going to like it. Your baker will supply you with light, flaky patty shells, and you'll be surprised to find what a delicious picnic dessert these are if you fill them with fruits for salad—right from the cans—well drained. As for the juice—drink it. Drink also a freshly opened can of Hawaiian pineapple juice, unsweetened. It can be bought in the No. 3 can, now, at many retail stores.

A GLORIOUS FOURTH

IF you haven't had a real glorious Fourth since the days when you got up at sunrise to shoot off the first firecracker and stayed up till all hours to shoot off that last sky-rocket—why not plan a Fourth-of-July picnic supper and a large evening to follow? The recipe for this sort of party is something like this: take along sufficient people to mix well, add one picnic basket heaping with good food, sit in a generous supply of fireworks, pack all into three or four cars, and step on the gas.

Food, Flags and Fun And first, there arises the question of the picnic basket contents. Be sure to select foods which can be prepared at home, or quickly put together on the spot, which will be as inviting as if they were served in your own dining-room. Choose a red, white and blue color-scheme of course, for your picnic accessories—white paper plates, blue napkins and blue paper cups are appropriate—and you can buy large paper table cloths which are patriotic in color and design. If there are woodland flowers to gather for your table centerpiece, so much the better. If not, have on hand a plentiful supply of tiny American flags, and place a cake with white icing in the center of the feast, sticking up a border of these small flags in the top of the cake. "What to do" isn't a heavy problem if your gang is congenial, but in case you feel a dull moment coming on, have some game in mind that is lively fun. For example, Capture the Colors. Take along with you plenty of balloons—red, white and blue ones—and give each player a balloon. Divide the group into two opposing sides and give each side a goal line. The players stand on their goal lines and keep basting their balloons into the air with their hands. At a secret signal from the leader of the opposing side, that side dashes to the other side's goal line and can capture any balloon that is in mid-air. Each side is allowed three attacks on the enemy's colors, and the side which comes out with the largest number of balloons captured—they must be whole balloons—wins the contest.

After the picnic supper, have your fireworks so planned that each one will have a chance to "send off" some of the splendor. And here is a delicious menu of tested recipes which will prove to be a refreshing surprise for a warm evening. Each recipe serves eight persons.

- Deviled Eggs Potato Chips Canned Watermelon Pickles Chicken and Vegetable Salad Sandwiches Nut Bread, Cheese and Fig Sandwiches Melba Mold Cooked Kisses Small Iced Cakes Coffee Fruit Nectar Chicken and Vegetable Salad Sandwiches: Cut up the chicken from a 6-ounce can of chicken, add the contents of one 8-ounce can of peas which have been drained, one-fourth cup chopped celery and one-fourth cup chopped pimiento. Moisten well with mayonnaise. Spread on buttered bread, cover with lettuce leaf and top with second slice of buttered bread. Melba Mold: Bring one-third cup sugar and one-third cup milk to boiling, pour slowly over two slightly-beaten egg yolks and cook over hot water until thick, stirring constantly. Cool. Add one cup beaten cream and two tablespoons sherry flavoured brandy. The contents of one No. 3 can of peach halves and pack one on top of the other in the center of a tall conical can, or a small coffee can. Fill around the peaches with the cream mixture, cover and pack one on each side for four hours. Slice on a platter.

Capitalization The Government Style Manual says that the names of the months and the days of the week should be capitalized, but not the names of the seasons.

It's an Old Diet Whole meat as food has been but recently introduced into the United States, but in Japan it is a standard article of diet.

Fence Around the World The paint consumed annually in the United States would cover a fence 500 feet high and long enough to encircle the globe.

THE SAME COUNTRY

By ROBERT V. FLEMING Vice President, American Bankers Association

There is a growing appreciation, both on the part of the people and the Government, of the earnest and sincere efforts being made by bankers to aid in recovery. It is desirable that we miss no opportunity to bring to the public understanding of the bankers' problems. We are living in an age of complex and upset economic conditions. Our affairs are closely inter-related not only within the confines of our own borders but extend to other countries throughout the world.

The Greatest Difficulty I think the greatest difficulty we have to overcome in America today is due to our impatience with the progress we are making towards recovery.

Our present regional Federal Reserve System under private ownership is infinitely better for this country than would be a government-owned and controlled central bank.

Central banking has been tried twice in the United States, but was finally abolished because the credit control which the central banks exercised became objectionable and unpopular, he goes on to say.

What Andrew Jackson Said "The continued existence of the Second Bank finally became a bitter political issue and President Jackson succeeded in abolishing it."

Mechanical Devices That Impede the Work of Bandits Described by Bankers Association Official

The impediments which the hard working bank robber now meets in plying his trade among small as well as large banks are described by James E. Baum, Deputy Manager, American Bankers Association in charge of its Protective Department, in an article in "Banking" published by his organization.

GOVERNMENT BANK UNSUITED TO U.S.

Would Serve Politics Rather Than Business Needs, Says R. S. Hecht, Citing Previous Experiences.

QUOTES PRESIDENT JACKSON

Extent and Diversity of This Country Presents Different Situation From Europe and Makes Regional Banking Necessary.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A refutation of arguments in favor of a government owned central bank system for the United States is presented in a statement by R. S. Hecht, President of the American Bankers Association, based on exhaustive studies of European central banks.

Our present regional Federal Reserve System under private ownership is infinitely better for this country than would be a government-owned and controlled central bank.

Central banking has been tried twice in the United States, but was finally abolished because the credit control which the central banks exercised became objectionable and unpopular, he goes on to say.

What Andrew Jackson Said "The continued existence of the Second Bank finally became a bitter political issue and President Jackson succeeded in abolishing it."

When the Wilson Administration considered banking reform it carefully kept away from vesting central banking powers in a single institution and instead introduced the regional idea by creating twelve reserve banks located in different economic and geographical sections of the country.

Subservient to Popular Demands "Moreover, history has proven that any banking system entirely owned and dominated by the government usually demonstrates much greater ability in aiding expansion of credit than in limiting it by brakes at the right time to prevent undue inflation by restraining and contracting credit.

On the other hand, it always has been and always will be a difficult task for any government to call a halt in time of apparent prosperity because in the very nature of things the government would be very sensitive to public criticism and would hesitate to take any action which would tend to curtail business activity.

What's Happening In Washington And Other Cities Of Importance

Senator Wm. Borah, of Idaho, senior member of U. S. Congress, was 70 years old Friday of last week.

Last Friday President Roosevelt signed the resolution extending the $500,000,000 in "nuisance" taxes for a two year period.

As the fiscal year nears its end, the Federal government finds itself $28,700,000,000 in debt, it is announced from Washington.

Banking insurance extending guarantee of protection to depositor's accounts up to $5,000 has been extended up to September 1, this year by the President.

Max Baer, pugilism's playful former heavyweight champion, was married last Saturday to Miss Mary Ellen Sullivan, former manager of the Willard coffee shop in Washington.

The United States has mapped plans to spend $807,532,583—a record sum—for its army, navy and marine corps during the next year.

President Roosevelt has announced that owing to the large number of young men out of jobs and drifting about the country, $50,000,000 has been appropriated for their education and job-giving.

A survey just completed by the National Industrial Conference board shows the total cost of administering the NRA and its 578 codes during the two year period of its existence was nearly $94,600,000.

Officials of the AAA at Washington are watching with interest and some apprehension the rapid piling up of suits recovery of processing taxes filed since the Supreme court invalidated NRA.

Secretary Swann, Washington, last Saturday awarded a contract for manufacture of 60 large patrol planes for army and navy use at the cost of $6,500,000, not including engines and propellers which will cost another nearly two million dollars.

Millions of the government's gold will be buried in the middle of Fort Knox, where 1,300 soldiers are on duty. Construction of a huge vault for that purpose is now being made. One idea of locating this gold so far inland is to protect it from the invasion of any foreign nation should war occur.

O. B. Martin Head A & M Extension A Paralysis Victim

O. B. Martin, 64, director of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, and credited with playing a large part in the development of the national extension work program, died last Sunday night at a Bryan hospital after he had suffered a stroke of paralysis.

Martin's love of the soil was instilled in him as a youth in South Carolina, where he worked on a farm before completing his education at Furman university in 1892.

The Extension director, born in South Carolina Nov. 8, 1870, was superintendent of schools in that state from 1903 to 1908, and aided in developing farm demonstration work there.
