

A STATEMENT BY HENRY FORD

I foresee the time when industry shall no longer de-pende the forests which require generations to mature, nor use up the mines which were ages in the making, but shall draw its raw material largely from the annual produce of the fields.

General News Over
Texas And Adjoining
States For The Week

The sum of $331,403.83 for paving 169 blocks in the City of Lubbock has been applied for to FWA.

Tom Smith, veteran railroad man at Tyler, is still driving a 1913 model roadster automobile.

The cotton compress and 4,000 bales of cotton were destroyed at Mexia
Thursday night of last week, by fire.

A million and a half dollars is to be spent improving the Galveston causeway, of which sum $750,000 is FWA grant.

Clovis, N. M., has filed a protest against freight rates charge on grain shipments to various Texas points, claiming them too high.

United States Senator Morris Sheppard, Texarkana, who has two opponents for his re-election to Congress, declares the rumor he will retire is erroneous.

An official check shows that more than 10,000 tourists visited New Mexico during the last week of August.
That state is spending $50,000 to advertise the scenic beauty of various sections.

Truett Smith, Tahoka, former Lynn county attorney, has been appointed by Gov. Alfred as district attorney succeeding G. H. Nelson recently elected senator from this 30th senatorial district.

Texas is now furnishing more than 40 per cent of the current oil production of the United States, that state now having about 20 per cent of the proven oil reserves of the nation, or about 25 per cent of the proven oil reserves of the entire world.

MAPLE CHURCH MEETS ALL CLAIMS, POUNDS PASTOR

Rev. G. R. Fort, Muleshoe Methodist circuit pastor, preached last Sunday at the Methodist church at Maple, having delightful services with the people at that point.

In the business meeting that followed the preaching services, members of that church decided to pay the pastor's salary in full, also to liquidate all claims on the church, thus enabling the pastor to make a "full" report at the forthcoming annual conference of that denomination.

To his great surprise, the pastor also received an old fashioned pounding from members of his congregation, being "knocked down" with 37 cans of food and sprinkled with plenty of coffee, sugar and other eatables, all of which was greatly appreciated by the veteran war-horse of the gospel.

Rev. Fort will preach next Sunday morning at Fairview and at Circle-back at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

What's Happening In Washington And Other Cities Of Importance

A campaign of planting dogwood trees is now on in Atlanta, Ga., with a million to be planted by 1936.

Secretary Ickes, Washington, has declared all PWA projects authorized and not started by Dec. 15 will be cancelled.

Recognizing a state of war existing between Italy and Ethiopia, President Roosevelt has declared an immediate embargo on American shipments of arms, ammunition and implements of war to either nation.

Federal Judge Merrill E. Otis, Kansas City, last Friday ruled that the Agricultural Adjustment Act became constitutional only on August 24, the date it was amended by congress.
About $3,000,000 in processing taxes are involved in his decision.

With the beginning of war between Italy and Ethiopia, the price of macaroni advanced 10 per cent in France, this owing to heavy purchases of the France manufacture by Italy for army use. Wheat in America also took a snappy rise, but later reverted practically to its former price basis of the last few weeks.

Ideal Proportions for Young Man

The Society of Directors of Physical Education set the following standard of measurements of the physically ideal American student of twenty-six:
"With a height of 5 feet 9 inches he carries a weight of 150 pounds. The girth of his neck, knee and calf are the same, with the upper arm 1 1/2 inches less. The girth of his thigh is one-half less than that of his head. His expanded chest is 40 inches, the girth of his waist 30 inches less, his hip girth almost the same as his unexpanded chest, while the breadth of his waist barely exceeds the length of his foot, and the stretch of his arms measures
two inches more than his height."

Nine Out of Ten
Have Tooth Decay
Says State Doctor

Austin, Oct. 7.—About nine out of every ten persons in the United States have something wrong with their teeth.
At least eight of each ten have caries, or dental decay. A long list of other maladies, including the famous "pyo-rrhea," is to be discovered in even a casual examination of the teeth in any community.

Why do so many people suffer the misery of bad teeth? Dental research in recent years has revealed that the real trouble is the diet and other health habits of civilized folk, and not civilization itself. We may be both civilized and have good teeth.

The teeth are living organs, and must be nourished, like any other part of the body. They are composed principally of calcium a mineral found in great abundance in milk. Hence the insistence of dental scientists on the use of greater amounts of milk in the diet.

It is also important to preserve the general bodily health, for dental decay often begins during periods of general ill health. Teeth of mothers are also particularly liable to decay during pregnancy, hence at this time particular attention should be paid to the diet, after consultation with a physician.

Another important time for teeth health is in infancy and early childhood. Children should have plenty of milk, should receive some Vitamin D food, and should be permitted to play in the sunlight as often as possible.

For dental decay is not a simple disease; it has many causes, and its treatment does not depend on the dentist alone, but on every person who wants to improve the health of his teeth.

Silencing Complaint
"We cannot hope to silence all complaint," said H. H. Ho, the sage of China town. "Even the noise of machinery quiets and rattles if ill managed."

BUCK WHALEY

Miss Jane Buey, daughter of Mrs.
W. C. Buey, this city, was married last Sunday morning at eight o'clock, in the flower garden of her grandmother, Mrs. R. L. Faulkner, to Mr.
Storm Hammond Whaley, of Siloam Springs, Ark.

Rev. L. S. Jenkins, read the ceremony which united the happy couple in wedlock, the ceremony being witnessed by only immediate members of the family, including Mrs. Storm C.
Whaley, mother of the groom, from Sulphur Springs, Ark.

Following the marriage service, a delicious wedding breakfast was served in the home of the bride to the contracting couple and family, at this function the bride wearing a beautiful traveling suit of mustard colored wool lustré puff with brown accessories.

After the breakfast period, the couple left for Roswell, New Mexico.
After also visiting Carlsbad caverns, San Antonio, and other points in New Mexico and Texas, they will go to Siloam Springs, Ark. to make their future home, where Mr. Whaley is manager of radio station KUOA.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of the John Brown university, Siloam Springs, Ark. The bride has lived in Muleshoe most of her life, and has a host of friends here who extend their very best wishes to her and Mr. Whaley for future happiness and prosperity.

Chilled to the marrow?
YOUR CAR'S COLD TOO... SO MAKE SURE YOUR ENGINE stays oiled

And please don't think you are going to read this same sort of thing about a
"whole raft" of winter oils.
The clean-cut difference in favor of Conoco Germ Processed Oil is this: when the thermometer goes down there is a Hidden Quart of Conoco that doesn't. It can't. It stays and stays—becomes a lasting part of every surface in your engine.
The Germ Process... fully patented... makes this alloyed oil blend with metal remarkably, forming your Hidden Quart.
Then no matter how long your car is parked or garaged in the coldest cold, you come out to a well-oiled start... not merely because fine paraffin-base Conoco Germ Processed Oil is free-flowing, but because the Hidden Quart is up on guard before any oil could even begin to flow.
Gone are the warm-ups that chew up your engine. Nor need you fear highest speeds, or hardest winter pulls. That's when Germ Processed Oil puts its high-durability film between you and repair men. It's not only light-bodied enough for winter, but tougher, too.
AND... road tests of cars with conventional habbit bearings, and with the new copper-lead, high-lead, and cadmium-alloy bearings, prove Germ Processed Oil far better than plain mineral oils for all bearings!
Whether you're driving a '35 model or a "veteran," drive it in today for your Conoco man's winter help. Continental

MULESHOE vs. MORTON
Muleshoe met Morton in the first conference game at home last Friday at Cobb park.

First quarter: Morton team scored in the early part of this quarter, being the only score made, the game ending, Morton 6; Muleshoe 0.

Second Quarter: In the latter part of this quarter Muleshoe threatened to score when Ralph Border made a 30-yard run, but a Morton player overtook and tackled him on the five yard line, then the whistle blew for the half.

Third Quarter: Twice within the third quarter Morton got as far as the one yard line, and it looked as though Muleshoe squad was doomed to see other touchdowns made.

Fourth quarter: This quarter was played mostly in the center of the field, neither team getting within scoring distance, but both doing excellent tackling and holding each other for downs.

Ralph Border, a star half-back of last year was back in time for the game. This is the first game Ralph has played this season, but he showed good football material Friday.

Minute Impressions
It is rumored that Houston Hart did something of the art of calling "Check" to confuse the other.

Myron Lambert was seen messager of Morton's plays. Wood "e but loud."

It was found it is not best to scow with the other while in notice by his battered face. Prescott found the feet of players were harder than his own.

escott learned one is in a ce when he is between the n and the ground.

n is proud of their new effort. Myron Bayless football players do not bark. Jennings found they often

Home Economics Club
The second meeting of the Home Economics Club proved it is progressing nicely and has grown considerably since the new members have made their appearance.

Maida Chandler is rapidly developing her ability as president of the club.

The program committee has planned an unusually good program.

Mrs. Copley, the club mother, made a very interesting and amusing talk on comparison of home economics in her day and that of today.

The old members plan to initiate the new ones Thursday night, October 11, and the installation service will also be rendered at that time.

As the particular phrasen in the club song says, "We're to help our home and town," it is the desire of each girl to live up to this statement, and they need the cooperation of all Muleshoe welfare workers.

Debating In Civics Class
A heated debate was carried on this week between a girl team, Pauline Matthews, Crystal Kennedy, and a boy's team, Roy Jr., Elrod and Odin Rollins, of the Civics class.

The question was: "Resolved that the Adoption of the Constitution was a Secession and Revolution."

The amateur debaters argued their subjects well, according to their ability. Still there was doubt in the minds of both the class and the debaters when the last speaker was seated.

They are hoping to be more experienced and convincing debaters when Miss Fort, the instructor, has taught them further along this line.

A group of students has begun to study the material on the debate topic for the Interscholastic League meet this year. The question is: "Resolved that the Government Should Have Control Over the Cotton Production."

What-Nots
In an English class Tuesday, while the class was studying a story named "Ivanhoe," one student spoke up and said, "This sounds like Greek to me." Miss Fort—"You never studied Greek did you?"

Luther Burham—"That's the reason she can't read or understand it."

Wanda Farrell reports the cause of her hoarse voice due to yelling so loud when Ralph Border made his 30-yard run.

Morton was well represented at the game last Friday by a Pep squad of about 15 girls, who tried to out yell Muleshoe, but did not succeed.

Wonder why Mr. Morton gave all the responsibility of getting up the news this week to the editor-in-chief and the reporters.

School turned out Monday afternoon for the Bailey County fair, and the circus seemed to hold the majority of classes that afternoon, as most of the students were there.

Friday is the first six weeks examination day, which is greatly looked forward to by all the student body.

SOUTH PLAINS ODD FELLOWS AND REBEKAHS HOLD MEETING
Thursday of last week an all day meeting of the South Plains Odd Fellows association was held in Littlefield at the First Baptist church auditorium. Richard Rocky was the only representative of the Sudan lodge to attend from Muleshoe.

At 9:30 a. m. the meeting was called to order by the president. A very interesting and entertaining program was rendered and in the evening excellent degree work was shown, with the Littlefield Odd Fellows and the Lubock Rebekahs winning first places, several teams participating.

New officers who were elected are as follows:

H. E. Sims, Brownfield, president; Richard Rocky, Muleshoe, vice-president; Roy Wade, Littlefield, secretary-treasurer; Miss Edith Ishmael, Littlefield, chaplain.

At the noon hour a delicious lunch was served in the basement of the church.

Representatives from Brownfield, Sudan, Amherst and Lubock were present.

The next meeting will be at Brownfield, on or about April 26, 1936.

Torrey Botanical Club
Torrey Botanical club is a scientific society in New York city, incorporated in 1871 and now one of the six associated societies forming the Scientific Alliance. It has a valuable herbarium of several thousand specimens, illustrating the flora within 100 miles of New York, which is exhibited at the New York Botanical garden, home of the club.

Unauthorized Aids Get Fees For Faking Pensions, Declared

It appears from newspaper reports that unscrupulous persons in several sections of the State have been posing as Old Age Pension agents and have been attempting to collect fees for assisting in securing pensions for old people, according to Orville S. Carpenter, state auditor.

"The people of this state are warned against paying money to anyone who offers to help them secure an Old Age Pension or to put their name on the rolls or do anything else in this connection for pay," Carpenter said.

Numerous requests are received daily by the Office of the State Auditor. These letters come from all parts of the State from persons interested in old age pensions. These people ask for application blanks and for the names of the proper persons in their districts to whom applications should be made for pensions.

It is suggested that the people watch the newspapers for facts on pension procedure and wait until the proper agency has been designated to which applications may be made. They should remember that at this time no one is authorized to receive applications for old age pensions.

The Legislature is now working on the problem of enacting legislation to carry out the provisions of the Old Age Pension amendment, but at this time no legislation has been enacted and there is, therefore, at present no agency to whom applications may be made.

MISS BUCY, SUNDAY'S BRIDE IS HONORED BY MANY FRIENDS

Mrs. W. C. Buey, W. H. Kistler and Miss J. M. Glasscock were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous bridal shower given Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mardis in honor of Miss Jane Buey, who was married Sunday morning to Storm Hammond Whaley, of Sulphur Springs, Arkansas.

The many lovely and useful gifts were heaped upon a serving table and rolled into the presence of the honoree, who unwrapped and passed them around for each guest to view.

The afternoon was spent enjoying various games, after which dainty refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Tom Davis, Cliff Davis, C. F. Moeller, Claude Farrell, R. L. Faulkner, Connie Gipton, Arnold Morris, Louis Rice, R. P. Melendy, J. L. Alsup, A. J. Gardner, A. W. Coker, Alex Paul, O. N. Robinson, A. P. Jones, W. C. Buey, Dudley Buzard, R. L. James, W. H. Kistler, C. C. Mardis, Misses Alma Stewart, Lucy Robinson, Marie Buey, Lola Lipscomb, Elizabeth Harden, Henrietta Burns, Juna Glasscock and the honoree.

A number of friends who were invited and unable to attend, sent lovely gifts.

Progress News

School dismissed here Monday at noon and the school children went to the fair and circus at Muleshoe.

Miss Blanche Boone visited her brother, Fred Boone in the Y. L. community Sunday.

Jess Murrah and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith, Mrs. L. R. Hogan and children, A. L. Swanson and Ira Mae Hollis, visited friends and relatives in Canyon, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson, of Lehman, visited her mother, Mrs. M. V. Stovall, Friday evening of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney visited Rev. and Mrs. Pickens in the Y. L. community Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dilard Chitwood visited Rev. and Mrs. and wife of Friona, Sunday.

The attendance at Sunday school Sunday was very small.

Rev. Axel of Muleshoe will lecture on the Holy Land next Sunday morning at the eleven o'clock hour and will be with the young people during the league services in the evening.

The Triple T club will meet at the school house next Tuesday afternoon and will elect officers for the next year. Now as the fairs are over let's begin planning for the fair next year.—Reporter.

Watson News Items

Everyone in this community is very busy with the harvest.

The Watson P-T, which was organized two weeks ago, gave the first program last Saturday night. A good crowd was present and after the program most of them remained for a spelling match. These spelling matches are affording much amusement as well as instruction. Everyone is cordially invited to come and be with us.

The W. M. U.'s met with Mrs. George Fine, Thursday afternoon. A good attendance and a very interesting study course were reported.

R. W. Souder and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Morris visited her parents in New Mexico last weekend.

Some of those attending the fair in Muleshoe Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Lemons and daughters, Mrs. George Fine and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Key, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Henderson, Mrs. H. E. Hollister and daughter, Mrs. Clara Munger, Mrs. Andrew Wilmer, Mrs. David Sr., Miss Thelma Jo Cook and Frances Stewart.

Rev. Jimmy Bass preached at three o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Schaum and son of Herford have been visiting her brother, A. E. Cook and family.

Watson won eleven places at the county fair. R. W. Souder won second on a pumpkin, Mrs. Day Sr. came first on pimientos and pickles, second on carrots and watermelon preserves; Mrs. W. L. Key first on peach preserves and Mrs. Clara Munger second; Mrs. Katherine Wittner first on pear preserves and Mrs. L. A. Harless third; Miss Thelma Jo Cook second place on beans, and Mrs. A. E. Cook third on pickled beets. Several others had lovely products entered which deserved special notice at least. Mrs. J. V. Lemons and Mrs. N. O. Sullivan had delicious looking peaches and Mrs. Porter White had some good looking dried beans. We are planning to carry off many more prizes next year.

There was a large crowd out to Sunday school and church Sunday. Rev. Brewer of near Muleshoe delivered an inspiring message. Rev. Bass preached in the afternoon.

Rev. Clyde Coffman and family who are going to school at Ft. Worth, visited in our community, Saturday night. School will close at the end of this week for cotton picking.

Everyone come to Sunday school next Sunday.—Reporter

Newfoundland Dogs

The history of the Newfoundland dog would probably be clearer if the breed had originated in a country where dogs were raised carefully to advance the breed. In the early days Newfoundland was a wilderness and the dogs were, in most instances, more than half wild, depending on their own ability to get their food. When they were taken up and developed the shaggy coated dogs were the most attractive in appearance and their type soon became standard.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

And spake unto him, saying, tell us by what authority thou dost these things? Or who he that gave thee this authority?—St. Luke 20:2.
 Nothing is more gratifying to the mind of man than power or dominion.—Addison.

WHO PAYS THE

It has been tritely said that the American Constitution was ordained to protect the people from the politicians, and when it is realized what these politicians are now doing to the people and would do still more if they dared, such statement is not difficult to believe.

For instance, they are spending a tremendous lot of the people's money, expends say a total of twenty-four billion dollars during 1934-35, which is as much as was spent during all the combined administration from Washington to Wm. Howard Taft—as much as was spent during the 124 years between 1789 and 1913. Who paying it?

Well, you saw one fellow who was paying part of it when you looked into the mirror this morning as you were shaving. When you gathered your family about the breakfast table you saw some more who were paying it, and even your youngsters will doubtless carry part of this load before it is all paid.
 Some of these clever politicians would have us believe the average citizen goes practically free of tax-paying and it is the rich that are being asked; but eventually the "ultimate consumer," meaning you and me, are the goats that dig down into our purses for the dinero that wipes off the tax debts.

Some of these taxes they call "hidden" or painless, and while they may not produce any acute pain, yet the slow, incessant, unending power they continue indefinitely. New and hidden, if not entirely painless taxes have been woven into every garment worn, plastered onto every purchase, and while the dinner bucket may not be any heavier it is much more expensive to keep filled than it was a few years ago.

Hidden taxes assail Mr. Average Citizen from every nook and corner. No matter where he may be they are liable to jump out at him. They hitchhike in your auto, intrude in your home, gnaw at your insurance, nibble at your bank account; if fortunate to have one, choke the productive values of your farm, chisel down your pay check, put mortgages onto your property, and sometimes even crowd you out of your job or business. Apparently there is no escape from them unless there is some way whereby the people can get the very end of the Compe situation, rule out the operation of these wily politicians and cut down reckless expenditures and appropriations.

Politicians have the power over the people. People generally run business intelligently and economically; but politicians don't even want to run the government that way. Perhaps, like eating Grape Nuts, "there's a reason."

CITY OF THE DEAD

"A City of the Dead" is a silent municipality necessary to every community, and, according to the inexorable law of nature, people living in and around Muleshoe are no exception. They must have a place to bury the bodies of the expired friends and loved ones until time merges into eternity.

Cities, towns and communities are often judged by their graveyards. If people are thrifty, their graveyards are good morals and lofty ideals, they invariably are possessed of a well laid out and beautifully improved cemetery. If they are not, their graveyard is a mess of spasmodically placed graves, overgrown with weeds and grass, mounds not carefully kept up, biers obliterated, and the entire plot a hodge podge of carelessness. The writer has seen just such kinds of graveyards, and without exception, they were a correct index to the careless and unattractive character of the people composing that community. Towns and cities may point with considerable pride to their paved streets, municipal improvements, fine church and school buildings; but the highest tribute possible to any community would be pointing with pride to its City of the Dead.

 A cemetery is a sacred place. It's quiet, orderly repose becomes a place revered in the minds of intelligent, sincere moral people. If folks are of the quality type citizens they should know it is their sincere desire that this last resting place of friends and loved ones shall be as pleasant in its appointments and surroundings as possible.

Members of the American Legion post in Muleshoe are to be highly commended for their interest in taking over the care and beautifying of the local cemetery, and should receive the heartiest possible assistance and cooperation of citizens of this community in carrying out their laudable task.
 Let's all join with them toward making our cemetery a plot to which we may point with pride, thus showing to the world our appreciation of our expired loved ones lying silently within our bounds as well as proving to all our high degree of civic mindedness.

A TIMELY MOVE

Provisions of the new Motor Car Act place the government's restraining hand on the truck industry of the country, which has hitherto operated free of federal interference.

Every Muleshoe citizen who has taken time to consider the rapid development of truck transportation in this country has wondered how long it would be before Uncle Sam would have to step in and regulate its regulation. He has seen it encroach upon the business of the railroads until that great system of transportation has been literally paralyzed. He has also seen the truck operators take an unfair advantage of taxpayers through out the entire nation by failing to pay a fair share of road improvement revenues. No one doubts for a moment the value of truck transportation; however, trucks should assume their share of the financial responsibility of transportation costs. Trucks are especially inclined in short hauls; but we are yet inclined to doubt their superior, valuable service over railroads for the long distance hauls. Railroad property is lost in open view where it can be readily examined by tax assessors and collectors. Railroads pay their part of state, county and school taxes; many trucks do not, but they should.

Everyone admits that trucks are essential to the nation's welfare and prosperity; but when the truck companies, linked into one great association, maintaining a powerful lobby at Washington, with money enough to dictate to highway departments in every state becomes as powerful as it now is, nothing short of federal legislation will protect the interests of the people.
 Dictating where roads shall be shortened, grades abandoned or entire new ones built so they can save gasoline and time would be alright if they were paying for it out of their own pockets. Such changes, however, are costly, and must be paid for by the taxpayers, and they get no direct benefits. Building or changing roads to enable trucking companies to still further destroy rail transportation isn't good business, as the average taxpayer views it. That is why he will learn with interest that Uncle Sam is now going to have something to say about it.

A FARM DICTIONARY

How many Muleshoe citizens who have never actually lived on a farm know what a "gang plow" is? How many could define a "bundle wagon" or describe "wild hay"? Such terms are Greek to the average town and city resident, so as to be better acquainted with farm terms a Topeka man has compiled a "farm dictionary." It will tell the "city smartie" that a "gang plow" is not a gangster implement, a "sod-buster" is not a maul of some kind, but a walking plow for breaking virgin soil. "Wild hay" means na-time stands of grass. Then there is a "lane way" which is simply wild grass taken from its native habitats and introduced into new surroundings.

 "Listing" a farm does not mean putting it up for sale or putting it on a set of account books. It is a farm operation in which a lister is used, a lister being equipped with right and left moldboards and shares, throwing dirt each way and leaving a furrow as it passes through the land. Then, how many city folks know what a "go-devil" is?

Of course, all this sounds somewhat silly to folks living in and around the City of Muleshoe who know what these and numerous other similar terms mean; but it is a fact that there are multiplied thousands of folks in larger towns and cities who have no more clear conception of these familiar to us farm terms than had the city lad who didn't know from which end of the cow the milk came.

THE OLD HYMNS

There is nothing more inspiring than to sit quietly and listen to the melodies of the grand old hymns that have come down to us Muleshoe folks through the years gone by. Around them cluster some of the sweetest memories of days gone by, and of friends who are now singing them in a better land.
 No one can lift one out of the materialism which threatens to smother life as an old hymn. They bring back some of the happy visions which came to us along the way or maybe we see in the church, listening to the hymns, the wood where the soul had its awakening to better things and where life took on new meaning and a new purpose. Possibly these hymns have done more to maintain humanity's spiritual pulse than any other agencies.

WAR AND COTTON

With every indication of a war between Italy and Ethiopia, which has just even begun, and with the editorial in this paper, many citizens are looking for higher prices to be paid for cotton because of that conflict. However, the Journal believes this is a bit of fallacious sophistry that will not become a fact. On the other hand, it may mean a decrease in cotton consumption.

Statistics do not show there was any increased cotton consumption during the World War. For the five years preceding the World War, consumption of cotton amounted to a little over 195,000 bales per year; but during the next five years, which included the war period, the world consumption was around 98,000,000 bales or an average of less than 21,600,000 bales per year. Also, during these same periods the consumption of cotton in the U. S. ran nearly 2,000,000 bales per annum.
 It appears to be an erroneous idea that war produces increased demands for various commodities, but rather a decrease. Perhaps many Muleshoe people have not yet realized it; but many of the causes for present economic depression may be traceable to their origin during the World War. Any future war is not likely to change those conditions for the better.

WHY WORRY

Everybody in Muleshoe knows that worry is useless, and yet they go right on worrying. We tell others not to worry, that everything will come out all right; but we seldom take our own advice.
 The fact of the matter is, there are only two reasons for worry. Your health is either good or you are sick. If your health is good there is nothing to worry about. If you are sick there are only two things to worry about—you are either going to get well or you are going to die. If you are going to get well there is nothing to worry about. If you are going to die there are only two things to worry about—you either are going to heaven or you are not going there. If you are going to heaven there is nothing to worry about. If you are going to the other place you will be so busy shaking hands with your old friends that you won't have time to worry.
 So why worry?

SNAP SHOTS

Bugs used to be the enemies of politicians; but now it looks like it will soon be the A.A.A.
 One measure of a man is the amount of money required to make him feel bigger than the law.
 Perhaps the turkey gobblers around Muleshoe wouldn't be strutting so big now if they realized how near Thanksgiving day is.
 One fellow whom I found his life helping others get up in the world is the fellow who makes step-ladders.
 If the average doctor knew what kind of life his patient had been living he could probably diagnose the case easier.

TAKING IT ON THE CHIN

If there is any particular class of taxpayers who can take it on the chin and come back smiling it is the automobile owners of the country. State gasoline taxes last year totaled $56,000,000 Federal gas and oil taxes were $195,000,000; while other federal automobile taxes totaled $67,000,000. Motor car license fees paid to the various states took $305,000,000 in taxes, while in those states requiring fees for drivers' licenses another $11,000,000 was collected.
 Thus the total taxes paid by motorists during 1934 reached the staggering sum of $1,150,000, and the estimates are that another $150,000,000 will be added to this bill during the present year if we reckon the number of motor car owners in this country at 20,000,000. It means that each must pay an average of $65 a year taxation, and there's something for Muleshoe motorists to ponder over.
 Some day the easy-going motorists are going to tire of this tax racket. They are going to become better organized and begin shooting the props out

Take Measures

TAKE measures to improve your cooking with the following table of cans by cupfuls. A measuring cup is a magician when you treat him right. He is all of the difference between the perfect dish, and the so-so—or even the failure.
 To make the best use of canned foods—both from the standpoint of taste, and of thrift—clip this useful little table.

High Energy of Gasoline

The general opinion is in autos converts, at best, 25 per cent of the heat energy of the gasoline. Fifteen per cent would be considered a good average figure. At this rate, if 100 per cent efficiency could be obtained, which is, incidentally, impossible, a large, heavy car could easily go 60 miles on a gallon of gasoline and a light car could go about 100 miles on a gallon.

Animals Numerous in Africa

Up to about 30 years ago, before the beginning of the rapid decline of wild animal life throughout the world, the people of South Africa frequently saw several hundred thousand animals at a time trekking across of plains. One such migrating herd of springbok, a small antelope, was estimated to be 15 miles wide and 100 miles long—Collier's Weekly.

Active in Old Age A certain author, when he feels his age of fifty-eight is pressing down, turns to a card tucked under the glass of his desk. It reads: Commodore Vanderbilt added $100,000,000 to his fortune between seventy and eighty-three; Titmore, at seventy-four, painted "Paradise"; Verdi, at eighty-five, composed his "Ave Maria"; Oliver Wendell Holmes, at seventy-nine, wrote "Over the Teacups"; Goethe, at eighty, completed "Faust"; Tennyson, at eighty-three, wrote "Crossing the Bar"; Titus, at ninety-eight, painted his "Battle of Lepanto."

Lighting Recipes

The modern I.E.S. lamps are ideal for reading, sewing or any other eye tasks which require artificial illumination. Indirect lighting is achieved through the use of a glass reflector which directs the light to the ceiling. Then this same reflector also diffuses the light which is directed downward.

There should be a good general illumination for the whole room as well as a good glareless light for a specific visual task. The I.E.S. Better Sight Lamps eliminate sharp contrasts by throwing light up to the ceiling, where it is redirected to other parts of the room.

I.E.S. Lamps of attractive appearance and certified design may be purchased at our local office.

Gay Plaid

Gay plaid sweater, in red, green and yellow over white, fashions a lovable little summer suit which is shown above, by Maureen O'Sullivan. The dress is backless. A white linen purse with red, green and yellow banding, and white accessories complete the ensemble.

Have the guests form a single-file line and have some one twirl the stick

A Supper for Halloween Night Owls

INVITE all of the congenial night owls you know—people who know it's wise not to sleep when you can be having a good time—and plan a supper and games which will make the most solemn owl uproarious.

Send invitations to herald the event—black cardboard owls with a wink, enclosed in an orange colored envelope. Write this verse on the back:

*"I'm winking—not blinking,
So that you will be wise
To our supper and games
Under Halloween's skies."*

Same Old Date Hour

Give each guest a pair of black cardboard ears that fasten around the head with a black elastic, and a pair of ten-cent owlsh glasses. Plan some Halloween games indoors before the supper, and outdoors, later, if the Halloween skies permit.

Amusing Games

"A Bite of Apple or a Bite of Soap" is a good way to get the fun started. Use a stick, one and one-half feet long, and attach an apple to one end of it and a ball of soap to the other end. Swing the stick from a light fixture, so that the stick hangs horizontally, low enough so that the guests can reach it with their heads. Have the guests form a single-file line and have some one twirl the stick rapidly while each one has an opportunity to bite the apple—or the soap.

Set your table to resemble a weird owl house out in a pumpkin field. Design the house of cardboard—black and yellow, and set it in the center of the table which is covered with tan crepe paper. Toy jack-o'-lantern seats, paper crinoid to resemble a field. Make shocks of corn, using bottles of elder as a base and covering them with strips of tan crepe paper. Toy jack-o'-lantern seats, light up the table and look like the pumpkins in the field if you will make some vines to go around them, out of crepe paper and use small green gum drops for the leaves. For a border around the edge of the table paste cut-outs of black owls, and write in white ink some silly advice on each owl. Such things as: "Time and tide wait for no man—but for night owls, that's different." "It's a long road that has no necking." "Late to bed, late to rise—that's what makes the owl so wise," etc.

An outdoor game that is fun to play after the supper is "Follow the Owl." Each person is asked to write on a piece of paper, some possible stunt for someone to do. The papers are all put in a hat, and instead of each one drawing a stunt to do, as one would suppose, they are told that they must follow the owl in "Follow the Leader" fashion, and the owl must take them all through all of the suggested stunts.

Festive Foods

And now about the supper itself. Here is a menu of jolly foods that are jolly good to eat. You won't have any difficulty preparing these dishes, which incidentally are devised to serve eight persons each, because they are all tested.

- Fruit Cup on Orange
- Jack-O'-Lanterns
- Hot Devil Sandwiches
- Pickles Stuffed Olives
- Orange Ice Covered with Grated Sweet Chocolate
- Ginger Cookies
- Cider
- Coffee

Hot Devil Sandwiches: Spread the contents of one 4 1/2-ounce can of deviled ham between slices of buttered bread cut in individual servings in the shape of pumpkins. Toast on both sides and pour over the following sauce: Make a white sauce of two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour and one cup milk. Heat the contents of one can of tomato soup to boiling and add a few grains of soda. Pour the hot soup slowly into the hot white sauce, stirring constantly. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Garnish the sandwiches, thus made, with pickles cut in fan shapes, watercress and ripe olives.

World Series Leaders and Fan No. 1

DETROIT . . . Above are the baseball leaders who have been master-minding the world series games and Mr. Fan No. 1. On the left is Charlie Grimm, manager of the Chicago Cubs who brought his team with a rush to win the National League pennant. Right, lower, is Mickey Cochran, manager of the Detroit Tigers, two-time American League winner. Inset, above . . . is Bill Cunningham of Kansas City, Kas., who took up his stand at the bleacher box office here on September 20 . . . for seat No. 1.

National President

CHICAGO . . . Mrs. Melville Moulton (above), of this city, is the newly elected president of the American Legion Auxiliary. She was chosen to succeed Mrs. Albin G. Carlson of Wilmar, Minn., at the annual convention held at St. Louis.

"Make War Impossible"

TORONTO . . . V. G. Hen of New York, Sec'y of the American Institute of Steel Construction, in a speech before the Canadian Institute, proposed a world union, of steel industries for mutual welfare and thus gave the way for an industrial internationalism that would make war impossible.

Compressing Water

Water can be compressed only very, very slightly; yet the enormous pressure exerted at great depths, due to the weight of the column of water above, causes the level of an ocean five miles deep to be 500 feet lower than it would be if there were no gravity to give weight to the water.

G.O.P. "Strong Man"

WASHINGTON . . . The aftermath of the meeting of Republican party leaders held here last week, is that the "strong man" today in directing party affairs is Harrison E. Spangler (above), of Iowa, recent grass-roots conference chairman. Some observers are of the opinion that he may be the next Chairman of the National Republican Committee.

The Story of the Constitution

by CALEB JOHNSON

THE GROWTH OF NATIONALISM

For many years, after the ratification of the Constitution, statesmen and men of affairs were divided as to the exact character of the Government set up under it. To one school of thought, of which Thomas Jefferson was the foremost exponent, the Constitution was little more than a treaty between sovereign states. In the eyes of the other group, led by Alexander Hamilton, it was the foundation of a Nation. Ultimately the Hamiltonian point of view was to become generally accepted, though only after a long and bitter struggle.

Hamilton, as Secretary of the Treasury under President Washington, brought about the acceptance by the owners of wealth of his viewpoint of Federal supremacy. Under his leadership, the new Federal Government assumed the debts of the states, thereby taking its stand as something bigger and better than the states. This was followed by other bold and rapid strokes of financial policy, all tending to the same end of national supremacy. He established a tariff on imports, an excise tax and an internal revenue service and, as a crowning stroke, a national bank. It was Hamilton's purpose to establish a government in which wealth should stand at the helm, guiding and steadying the ship of state.

Under the leadership of Thomas Jefferson, whose faith was in the masses rather than in the classes, the doctrine of states' rights, as opposed to Federal rights under the Constitution, began to take shape. As early as 1798 the General Assembly of Virginia adopted resolutions protesting against encroachment upon state rights by the Federal Government and asserting the right of each state to decide for itself the constitutionality of Federal laws affecting state interests. In the same year the new state of Kentucky adopted similar resolutions. Kentucky went further, and implied the right of a state to withdraw from the Union.

Thus were sown the seeds of the political parties which have struggled against each other for 135 years for control of the Federal Government. And the first important amendment to the Constitution, after the Bill of Rights, was one which recognized the existence of the partisan spirit.

The twelfth amendment changed the previous method of electing the President to the method which is still followed. Under the original system, the candidate receiving the largest number of electoral votes became President and the one receiving the

FIVE NEW DEAL LAWS ARE UP FOR SUPREME COURT DECISION

Five law suits involving direct questions of the constitutionality of New Deal laws and activities are awaiting the verdict of the Supreme Court at Washington, D. C.

The validity of the agricultural program in its vital processing taxes, the Bankhead cotton act, the mighty TVA experiment, the housing and slum clearance program and the program to provide loans to established municipally owned utilities are definitely scheduled for the court's consideration.

Most of these probably will be disposed of early in 1936, if not before.
