THICK CROWDS JAM STREETS MULESHOE MONDAY TO ENJOY MONTHLY TRADES DAY EVENT

Ball, Political Speaking, Fireworks, Street Dancing and Many Other Events Are Features of Day of Pleasure.

often that citizens of Texas enjoy two fourths of July in a year; yet that was the pleasure of the month which attended the day in Muleshoe last Monday. The occasion not only being one of business and social importance, but also of its phases of politics and patriotism.

Early in the day people began arriving every highway and country road, and the streets were lined with spectators. A platform, appropriately decorated with flags and bunting had been erected on a leading intersection. Main street equipped with double speakers, radio controlled, and a band drawn alongside furnished background for the orchestra of the day. Buses were in gala attire and big crowds flew from nearly every commercial center in town in celebration of the occasion. It is generally conceded that local estimates that between 2,500 and 3,000 people were here for the occasion, and various social and patriotic attractions of the day.

Early in the afternoon there was a "cuppy baseball game at the local park on the Santa Fe track, played between Muleshoe and Sudan. The top-notch winning teams. It was a masterpiece of the leather sphere and the national game of swat started off in close order, being nip and tuck for a few innings until the Muleshoe team finally attained a lead, the score being 10 to 5 in favor of the local "kickers" representing that one place in West Texas where the headquarters of the male sex is a real scene of a big crowd of fans present to enjoy the game.

Muleshoe Trims Sudan In 10-5 Score Here On Monday Afternoon

Last Sunday the Muleshoe baseball team entered a four club baseball tournament held in Lubbock. The teams entered were Anton, Roseville, Lubbock and Muleshoe. Anton and Roseville played the first game and the scores were nine and 10 in favor of Anton. The Lubbock and Muleshoe game was played next, and at the final wind-up the scores were 10 and three in favor of Lubbock. Before any more games were played the teams were rained out before they could get to the field.

July 4th Was a Quiet Day In Muleshoe As Citizens Went Away

Muleshoe citizens went over a wide area Friday and Saturday of last week to celebrate National Independence day, Fourth of July celebrations being held in a number of nearby towns commemorating that great national day.

HEAVY RAINFALL IN THE SOUTHWEST

There was no observation of that particular day held in Muleshoe, very few fire crackers being fired by the youngsters. However, practically all business concerns in the town, though some permitted their assistants to take off for the day's remembrance. A few local citizens, not from any lesser patriotic motives, but because of Old So's heartiness, have been seen to visit the mountainous regions in nearby New Mexico where climatic conditions were more salubrious, less conducive to perspiration and they could revel in Americanism thoughts with more comfort.

HEAVY RAINFALL IN THE SOUTHWEST

Heavy rainfall in the Southwest last week brought death to at least 25 citizens of Texas when the Gaudoupe and Nueces rivers reached a hitherto unknown high water stage, the towns of Gonzales and Cuero, as well as many other smaller places being flooded to the point people had to vacate their home for higher land.

HEAVY RAINFALL IN THE SOUTHWEST

The following day all parties concerned with the accident were reported recovering nicely, the doctor stating there would probably be serious consequences unless the little one had undergone immediate attention of the doctor.

Digging only with her bare hands she finally released it. Mr. Holt has twin boys who will find great enjoyment from the pony.

Every Great Attempt is Glorious Even if It Fails

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Thou shalt not raise a false report: but this thou shalt do with the wicked, that thou be an unrighteous witness.—Exodus 23:1.

Listen not to a tale-bearer or slanderer for he tells thee nothing out of good will but as the discoverer of the secrets of others so he will of thine in turn.—Socrates.

DIRE DRY THREAT

For many years past it has been known to scientists that tropical plants once grew in flourishing condition where the North pole is now located. It is declared the earth is gradually shifting a few degrees east each year on its axis and that it is only a matter of time until another glacial period will prevail in the area where we now live.

Science has conclusively proven that years ago the Sahara and Gobi deserts were once "Tropic of the Agave" regions, and that many other sections where nature blossomed and flourished have become arid stretches where scarcely a cactus grows.

That the region about Phoenix, Arizona and other adjacent areas was once blessed with sufficient rainfall and abundant crop production has been conclusively proven by government investigators and others.

Now comes Henry A. Wallace, U. S. secretary of agriculture, in an address given at Evanston, Ill., a few nights ago, and suggests the "weather change" which has taken place in various sections of this country during the past three years may eventually change this continent, or at least the United States part of it into arid land.

The long dry spells and otherwise freakish weather, spasmodic and voluminous rainfall over very restricted areas with long dry streaks in between apparently becoming more and more pronounced in its idiosyncrasies during the past seven or eight years, raise the question as to future climatic conditions, he said.

Some of the major migrations of ancient and medieval history were induced by soil depletion, climatic changes, as well as from social and political distinction, Wallace said, and if the weather of this country is actually undergoing a relatively permanent change, farming, its system, methods and crop nature are going to be vitally affected, becoming another national problem of importance.

Wallace says already 50,000,000 acres of our land has been destroyed by water erosion, millions more have been damaged, some of it nearly permanently by wind erosion, while still another 150,000,000 acres has been seriously damaged by our own carelessness.

Of course, it is entirely too early yet for anyone to make any definite statements regarding any permanent changes of weather conditions in this country, yet it is a subject to well consider, and land owners especially, should be using all their common sense cultivated energy of both brain and brawn, to gether with thrift to conserve their soil, such moisture as they receive, and to look forward to the best methods possible to combat any permanent threat or tendency toward dryness.

Thus, should the suggestion offered by Secretary Wallace turn out to be without foundation, they are that much better off.

ning does the will of God and there will be a bunch of candidates going back home that night disgruntled or disappointed—or both.

It takes considerable self-esteem and confidence to become a candidate for public office, and here and there one sees some aspirants who have a superabundance of that optimistic quality—and much of it without reason. The candidate who is generally successful in pulling down political plums from the nation's orchard trees are invariably the ones who listen to the advice of their friends rather than that of their own. It's always one's friends who elect them, and if they happen to be short on that roster, they simply don't get elected.

July 23 there are going to be plenty of defeated candidates who will blame the voters for their failure at the polls when they really have no one but themselves to blame. In a very, very few instances some may be defeated because of bad judgement, but most of them will take their trip up Salt River because of an excessive amount of exuberant egotism. Some candidates were already defeated when they announced.

The story is told of two Irishmen, walking down the road when they came to a snake one had killed. "It's dead," said Pat, as he looked at it. Then Mike touched its tail with the toes of his shoe and it wiggle. "Faith and sure it's dead!" replied Mike. "But it don't know it!"

With no intention of casting aspersions upon any candidate, this story applies in a political way, for some candidates were dead before the election was ever held—but they didn't know it!

"SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE"

Now that the state is paying folks and $15 a month who are over 65 years of age, why not pay those under five or six years in similar manner. Perhaps give children of that age a little red wagon or a baby doll, made in Texas, or a tin toy, or something of the sort, as of course! What a boon it would be to the wagon and doll industry. The youngsters and the oldsters represent the antipodes of uselessness and helplessness, and should each alike be rewarded for their state of tenderness, toughness or whatever it is. Sic!

Years ago Grover Cleveland said government should be supported by the people by the government; but didn't fishin' Grover is out of date now, and if he would probably be astute politician sufficient to change his tune. When the Good Book years ago recorded the fact, "Ye have the poor with you always," it overlooked the fact of the young and the old folks also being generally present, competing the trivariate of duty imposed upon the rich and middle aged.

Jaunty Journalettes

When something gets the matter with some Muleshoe husbands their families suffer more than they do.

Many a Muleshoe man's baby looks just like its daddy, but the neighbors don't dare say so.

Perhaps the reason Muleshoe folks cry more at weddings than at funerals is because they know weddings are more uncertain.

The reason some Muleshoe families move frequently is not because the landlord raises the rent but because they can't raise it.

Those present at the meeting were Mrs. T. H. Bigham and daughters, Alton and Alpha Lee, Naomi Smith, Eva and Lou Stone, Blaise Waller, Mrs. M. A. Snider, and daughter Wilma Lou, Nora Lee Dotson, Pauline Adair, Flora Lee/Williams, Mrs. E. E. Hughes

Laughs Under the Big Top!

Gay crowds are thronging Dallas for the magnificent Centennial Exposition. And why? Well, one good reason that the Gainesville Community Circus is booked for three shows June 25, 26, and 27, and laughs and thrills will tumble over each other in three big rings of excitement. Juanita Bailey, daring aerialist, is as comely on a dizzy high wire as she is here in the ample arms of Billy Basinger, chief clown, whose specialty is a hula in a grass skirt. The circus, the only enterprise of its kind in the world, is composed entirely of amateurs, drawn from ranks of merchants, waitresses, judges, policemen, Sunday school teachers, and many other classes.

It is said there are a few county candidates who can't make quite a hit at the political speaking by refusing to try to speak.

Some Muleshoe families boast frequently of having a new baby at their house, and occasionally there is a family that boasts of having a new papa at their house.

It is reported some Bailey county candidates are already wondering if the last Thursday in November will really be Thanksgiving day or just the 26th day of the month.

Origin of Great Ice Age The origin of the glacial period is not definitely known. Some attribute it to a temporary elevation of the parts of the earth over which it spread; others to astronomical causes. The most probable hypothesis is that great changes in climate are the result of changes in the constitution of the atmosphere, as, for instance, of carbon dioxide. A decrease in the amount of carbon dioxide would lower the temperature.

McCormick-Deering 12 x 10-inch double-run feed, single-disk semi-deep furrow drill, equipped with a large capacity, all-steel, rust-resisting non-warping hopper; steel wheels; and tractor hitch.

THE McCormick-Deering semi-deep furrow grain drill is an outstanding achievement in drill design and construction. It answers the need of wheat growers for a drill that plants winter wheat at the proper depth where the seed has more than an even chance for quick germination and rapid growth. The feed is the double-run type. The all-steel, rust-resisting hopper combines with the steel bridge-type main frame to hold the feeding mechanism in proper alignment for long drill life. Axle boxes, gear yoke bearings, and disk bearings are equipped with Alcomite hydraulic lubrication fittings. Two sizes available—12 and 16 disks with 10-inch spacings. See us about this new type. McCormick-Deering drill before you do your seeding.

Eradicate Rats To Curb Typhus Fever Says. St. Health Dr.

Austin, July 7.—Typhus fever or "Fourteen Day Fever" continues to make its appearance in various counties in Texas. Like typhoid most of the cases occur in the hot months of summer and early fall, according to records of the State Health department.
"The symptoms of typhus fever are similar to those of typhoid fever, except the course of typhus is generally two weeks while typhoid fever may extend over many weeks," said Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer.
"Although there are two types of typhus fever, it is the endemic type, (known as Brill's Disease) which presents itself in Texas."
"The onset of typhus fever is usually sudden and accompanied by chills, fever, headache and general body pains. Nausea and vomiting may be present. Headache is an outstanding symptom, and often persists to such a degree that it does not readily yield to drugs or local applications."
"The fever rises rapidly, often reaching a maximum of 103 degrees in the fifth to eighth day, and generally declining about the tenth to fourteenth day. A reddish mottling of the skin also appears which may subside soon or continue through the crisis. A hacking cough is often present."
"The mode of transmission of typhus fever is known to be from the rat-flea and the disease could be prevented by the eradication of rats and mice. A campaign to rid your community of rodents would also be of great economic value as rats and mice destroy millions of dollars worth of food every year."

HARDENS ENTERTAIN

Monday evening a social was given for a group of young people at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Good Harden.

Among those attending were Walter Moeller Lester Garth, Alvin Farrell, Spencer Beavers, Cecil Spence, Allyn Gwyn, Lamar Witte, Misses Twila Farrell, Hazel Nelson, Janette Watkins, Eva Harpe, Sibyl Coker, Mary Holt, Jamie Lee Watkins, and Rev. R. S. Watkins.

SUDAN GRASS NOW CLASSIFIED AS SOIL DEPLETING CROP IN BAILEY AND OTHER COUNTIES IN THIS

The County Agricultural Conservation committee of Bailey county has on several occasions requested the State committee and the Southern Division of the AAA for changes in the general 1936 Agricultural Conservation program so farmers in the county may fit the new program into their farming set-up in a practical way that they may carry out the aims to control erosion and conserve the soils of Bailey county.

These changes have been approved and are as follows, according to Fred Elliott, assistant county adjustment agent.

The new ruling is to the effect that Sudan grass when harvested for seed or feed is now classified as a soil depleting crop. This crop leaves the land in poor condition and since the price of Sudan seed has gone down and it is not economical or practical for farmers to continue to plant large acreage. If it were a soil conserving crop producers would have to continue to plant large acreages of Sudan grass to comply.

Alternate strips of sorghum and fallow, planted on diverted or "rented acres" if the sorghums are planted in 1936 either in strips not less than approximately 2 rods nor more than 12 rods in width and such strips are more than 12 rods apart or in single or double rows not less than 10 or more than 16 feet apart, and if the stalks are left on the land as a protection against wind erosion, shall be considered a soil-conserving practice which may be substituted acre for acre in lieu of a soil-conserving crop. If any soil-depleting crop is harvested from such strips or rows shall be considered soil-conserving.

Seeding of any sweet sorghum in 1936 if the crop is left on the land shall be considered a soil-conserving practice which may be substituted acre for acre in lieu of a soil-conserving crop.

Division of soil conserving payment on acres rented or diverted from the general feed soil depleting base will be according to the way the crop is divided between landlord and tenant.

Contour listing to be a soil building practice. Since soil conservation in this locality involves also conservation of moisture in order to keep a cover crop on the land.

One of Deadliest Poisons

Although the toxin produced by tetanus bacilli, which causes lockjaw, is one of the deadliest poisons known to mankind, lethal amounts vary widely with different animals. As one example, the amount necessary to kill a chicken will fatally poison 100 to 500 horses.—William Hoffman, York city, in Collier's Weekly.

USE OF SPICES HELPS COOKERY

Gives Flavor and Zest to All Kinds of Dishes.

By EDITH M. BARBER

COOKERY as an art has been said—perhaps justly—to have begun with the introduction of spices into it. For thousands of years spices had been highly prized for medicinal uses. They were literally worth their weight in gold and were considered fit gifts for a king.

While salt is not a spice we group it with spices as a condiment—the oldest condiment in the world. Some of the earliest trading between groups of people began with the exchange of other products for salt. In the days of the Romans the soldiers were given a special appropriation for this purpose.

The spices used today in largest proportion are peppers of various types, mustard, cinnamon, ginger, nutmeg and cloves. Among the peppers are black, white, cayenne, paprika and chili. Mustard is used in a number of forms—the dry powdered mustard flour, the whole seed and the soft form.

English mustard is usually strong in flavor and at its best is very good. Indeed, the well-known Bahaman mustard is of the English type. French mustard is more delicate in flavor, as it is usually mixed with wine or vinegar, sometimes flavored with tarragon. Epicures are very particular about the flavor of blended mustard. If you wish to mix your own you may use wine, vinegar, cream or milk.

In this country the mustard pot usually accompanies cold meat, hot corned-beef and sometimes roast beef. A hot mustard sauce is delicious with either meat or fish. Dijon, on account of its famous mustard, has given its name to many French dishes. If you see the word Dijonnaise on the menu you may be sure that mustard will be used as a seasoning.

While mustard is usually used with main dishes, cinnamon has its largest use in combination with sweets.

Nutmeg may be used as a seasoning or as a flavoring. There is much discussion as to whether nutmeg or cinnamon should be used with apples. The nutmeg is the kernel of the fruit of an East Indian tree. Mace comes from the same fruit and is found around the kernels. Grated nutmeg is satisfactory as long as it is fresh. The whole nutmeg, of course, retains its flavor longer.

Ginger is also a tropical product. The roots are used for flavoring. When they are used in their natural form they are known as green ginger or ginger root. The roots are sometimes preserved or crystallized. The great majority, however, are dried and powdered.

Cloves have a long history of warfare over their possession. They come from the so-called Spice Islands, the East Indies, East Africa and the West Indies. Cloves have a varied use in the preparation of meats as well as of desserts and pickles. They are used in their whole form about as much as they are in the more modern powdered flavorings.

Spiced Peaches.

- Cloves
 - 1 can peaches
 - 1 cup peach syrup
 - 1/2 cup vinegar
 - 1 stick cinnamon
 - 1/2 cup sugar
- Strud the drained peaches with cloves. Cook peaches with syrup, vinegar, cinnamon and sugar for three minutes. Chill and serve with meat.

Sour Cream Spice Cake.

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 2 cups brown sugar
- 3 eggs
- 2 cups pastry flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 2 teaspoons cloves
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 2 teaspoons allspice
- 1 cup sour cream

Cream the shortening with sugar until light. Add the beaten egg yolks and beat well. Measure and sift the flour with salt, soda, baking powder and spices. Add to the first mixture alternately with the cream. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a greased cake pan and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees Fahrenheit, for 30 minutes.

Sauerbraten (Sour Beef).

- 4 pounds round
- 1 pint vinegar
- Water
- 4 bay leaves
- 12 peppercorns
- 8 cloves
- 2 tablespoons flour
- Salt, pepper
- Allspice
- 1 bunch carrots
- 12 onions, sliced
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 12 ginger snaps

Select meat with a layer of fat, put into a bowl, add vinegar and enough water to completely cover meat. Add spices and put in refrigerator for three days. Drain, rub meat with flour, salt, pepper and allspice and brown on all sides in hot drippings. Add sliced carrots and onions and two cups of the spiced vinegar. Cover and cook over a low fire about two hours. Crumble ginger snaps and add with the sugar to the liquid around the meat. Cook ten minutes more. Add more salt to the gravy if necessary.

Mustard Sauce.

Mix two teaspoonfuls of dry mustard and a few drops of Worcestershire sauce with two tablespoonfuls of water and add to one-quarter cupful of soft butter. Serve in a sauce boat with meat or fish.
