"Remodeling -- A Test of Commitment"

By VANDA ANDERSON CREECH
Editor

For the past few weeks we have been in the process of some remodeling on our home. The first project was to put on a new metal roof. The day we started was the last time we received a little shower out our way. In case, it was cloudy and thundering when they finished the front half.

Thank goodness, the old shingles were underneath so there wasn't a risk for leaking inside. I was apprehensive about the threat of lightning, especially after watching a special on how truly dangerous it is. The fact that it can strike from 10 miles away is amazing.

I just took out cold drinks and prepared the meals during the first phase of the roofing. In the final stage I threw Richard tools and supplies from the ground. I realized that I don't like the tall ladders that well. They sure are shaky or maybe my knees were knocking.

Everything was looking good until we got to the very front of the house. There was a couple of places right above the porch that didn't look complete (to me). That is when I received my title—"Inspector". Richard informed me that he didn't work well under close supervision. If you have ever worked closely with your husband you know what I am talking about.

Then the second step --- spray painting the house. If you have never done this before, you might be surprised that preparation takes longer than spraying itself.

Richard weedeated the grass around the foundation and I applied herbicide to insure it didn't grow back and get in the way.

What do you do about the hundreds of giant grasshoppers flying all over the place and bouncing off the walls of the house? I decided to spray the yard with insecticide and this helped for the first day, but more replaced them. We found they didn't like to be shot with the spray paint and pretty well stayed out of our way.

Masking off the windows was no fun. With the wind blowing your supplies it was a challenge indeed, and very time consuming.

Finally we were ready for the paint. We used a regular house spray gun and it worked great---once we got our act together. First of all the line of the spray gun is not that long so I had to stand on another ladder and hold the paint. We really needed two sets of hands each.

We were making good progress, when "The Inspector" pointed out one too many details. You guessed it, Richard sprayed me with the paint gun. "Inspectors don't get much say when they are getting free labor," Richard remarked. I figured I could keep quiet till we finished the job. Ha! Ha!

Now we had all the sides painted and we were going to hand paint the window shutters. The more we talked about it, we felt confident that we could spray paint them in less time. It only took 1 1/2 hours, including the cleanup time which is lengthy.

The shutters were not square so there is a little residue from the different colored paint, but that should only take a little while to touch up.

Time takes its toll on a body and it sure shows up on a job like this. I fell off the ladder one day and the last evening I went to the emergency room when my heart went into arial fibrillation. We could hardly walk after climbing the ladder, etc..

We were proud of our accomplishment, but nearly half dead. However, we got through without ruining our relationship. Richard teased and said, "Don't you think we are good enough to start contracting paint jobs?" I'm afraid no one could afford my labor costs. My hat is off to all house painters. I was thinking--- next time I will just pay someone to paint the house.

SENIOR CITIZENS CENTER RECEIVE DONATION—Joe Howser and Esther Kerr (pictured), on behalf of the local Chapter of the AARP, presented a check to the Senior Citizens Center to help pay for their new refrigerator and trash compactor. The contribution was to honor Chuck and the late Elva May Woody for their dedication to the AARP and Senior Citizens Center. The Senior Citizens Center was very appreciative of the donation. ## COUNTY ROADS by Ginny Greene

Spot's here...

"Get out of there, Spot!" Brandishing a broom, I yelled again, "Get out of my garden!"

I wished Spot were the size of a dog, or even the size she used to be, but she was growing into a big cow.

One of our first adventures on our Washington state farm was to raise some calves. There were only twenty to thirty head, but they seemed like a feed-lot herd at the time.

Way before they were grown to market size, people driving by would stop to ask about buying a few calves to increase their herd, or an adoptive calf for a nurse cow.

A neighbor on our road purchased one heifer. They named her Pinta, which in Spanish means Spot, and Holsteins have lots of them.

The neighbors lived so close that whenever Pinta got loose she zig-zagged down the hill for a visit, munching the grass clumps on both sides of the road until she got to my newly planted patch of infant fir trees. Yum!!

Pinta gained a certain expertise at escaping her confines, and often made daily visits. The chase became such a familiar exercise that she was soon unphased by our frenzied arm-waving. Her goal was to go directly to her childhood corral. Once inside, she stomped her feet for hay, pawed the water bucket for a refill, kicked at the grain room door until MyKeeper tossed her some grain. Pinta all but spoke the words, "I'm back!"

Her owner haltered her stubborn little muzzle and led her back to their pasture. We all smiled at her instinct driven spirit for "home" and the way things used to be.

Winter came and she was pulled off summer pasture and carted somewhere several miles away for barn feeding.

Then one summer day, Pinta returned. We were in awe. She was so gorgeous. She looked like a prize winning, calendar posing Holstein heifer.

And she was BIG! Her spots were big! She took enormous mouthfuls and dropped huge cow heaps. She left deep hoof prints, and... oops! —"don't let her near my garden!"

Pinta would not be diverted. She broke down fencing, scared the goats, the new crop of calves, the chickens, and the rabbits in their hutches. We couldn't keep her from the garden. She crushed my tender spring garden sprouts, and forever ended my forest of fir seedlings at their two-foot stage.

Pinta wanted to get to "her" pen, and she dodged our every effort to keep her from destroying everything in the way.

At the end of a path of total destruction, MyKeeper opened the gate and Pinta danced inside. We made a desperate call to her owner. "We're glad she's doing so well," we said, "and she is beautiful, but Spot will have to stay home from now on. She's grown way too big to play in our yard."

We continued to sell our started calves, but only to distant farms. © Ginny Greene 2001

COTTONWOOD NEWS

By WALLACE BENNETT

How Big is Cottonwood?

According to Parker Coppinger, "...it's so big they just have one city limit sign, and it's painted "City Limit" on both sides."

That little bit of information was copied word for word from a newspaper column, written by Bill Whitaker, and published in the Abilene Reporter-News, August 15, 1994.

Author Whitaker had evidently attended a Callahan County Pioneer Reunion in the company of Blance Freeland, formerly of Cottonwood, and heard some good stories from Parker Coppinger and other Cottonwood folks.

One good thing about posing as a writer, people send you some good stuff. The above column was sent to me by Granvel Pierce, of Dallas, formerly of Cross Plains, who never did live in Cottonwood, but who fortunately, seems to keep a copy of almost everything he reads.

The Pierces are well-known county-wide in Callahan County. J.C., Stanley, Duke, Granvel, Adelle and Frances, are children of the late Joe and Addie Pierce, formerly of Cross Plains. Joe Pierce served as a Deputy Callahan County Sheriff in Cross Plains, then as Callahan County Sheriff for a number of years. Some day soon, I'll tell you a story about my first meeting of the Pierce Gang.

Personal Notes

Gary Bennett of Flagstaff, Arizona, visited his parents, Wallace and Carol Bennett, in Cottonwood last week. Gary is employed in the air conditioning/heating industry and is working on the side in the movie (independent film) industry. So, let's all smile. We may be on a candid camera some day.

Cottonwood Calendar

Cottonwood Quilting Club: will meet August 7, 14, 23 and 30. The club has completed its Rehab Quilt, donated annually to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene. It will be auctioned off to the highest bidder this winter on the Rehab Center's annual television benefit show.

Cottonwood August Musical: sponsored by the Quilting Club, will take place next week, August 17, and will be their annual Rehab Benefit Supper. Proceeds will go to the West Texas Rehab Center. The menu will feature spaghetti, salad, garlic bread and strawberry shortcake. So mark your calendar, show up for some good eats and fine music. Food begins at 5:30 p.m. Music begins at 6:00 p.m. at the Cottonwood Community Center.

Cottonwood Volunteer Fire Control: will meet Tuesday evening, August 21, at 7:00 p.m. at the fire station. It will be a training meeting and all volunteers are requested to attend. Citizens are reminded that there is a fire ban in effect for Callahan County. The Cottonwood volunteers responded to six fires in July and more volunteers are needed.

The Cottonwood volunteers will sponsor a fund-raising booth on September 1, at the Cross Plains Barbarian Festival. Snow cones and Frito pie will be on the menu and all Cottonwood citizens are requested to come by the booth and support the Cottonwood Volunteers.

(Please report all Cottonwood news and personal items to Wallace Bennett (254) 725-7474.)

QUIPS, CLIPS & COMMENTS

By KAY MOSLEY

It's just so nice since we moved here from the city, to take things at a little slower pace. We've gotten used to it now. We find it so soothing to sit and watch the world go by. The farmers on their way to the store, the barber, the banker on their way to work. The birds, bees and butterflies dashing through the air, on their way to life in a slightly slower lane than the FAST LANE!

"In the Olden Days"

Instead of sleeping I've been laying here reminiscing and ruminating.... And in my r & r, it just occurred to me, no wonder folks stayed so slim and trim back in the good, old days.

Just think of all the exercise they got, bending up and down, and up and down, pumping air into all those tires; when they'd experience a flat out on the road. Then re-crank, re-crank the car!

Likely then, when they got home, they still had to chop some wood.... More exercise! Shoot, they were never still long enough to gain any weight, much less get fat.

Remember when-----back in the 1940's, in Cross Plains everybody just burned their trash out back, but--just far enough from the back of the house to be safe. One time my old tattered, worn out, holey Teddy bear was euthanized back there while I was at school. Seems mama decided to recycle my teddy bear into ashes, since it was too worn out to play with anymore.

We used to sit in the road and play in the sand all morning. Wasn't any traffic and if a car did come along you could hear it when it was plenty far away and you had ample time to get out of the street. It was just so quiet, and the speed of autos then was double-slow, maybe 10 miles an hour in residential areas. I can still feel that white sand now; running oh-so-cool through my fingers and toes. It made good mud pies and tunnels, too.

In the afternoon we were permitted to walk down to the end of our road where it dead-ended and look through the fence at Bon Huntington's goats. That was a real treat to us.

Later after we moved to Baird in the early 1950's, we were sometimes allowed to walk down to the railroad tracks and watch the trains go through, while Mama and Daddy were at work. That's why we moved back down here from Lubbock--PEACE AND QUIET! In a little while, we can go sit in the yard and wave to the postman as he drives by, with the mail.

Correction: Two weeks ago in this column I reported the local Garden Club meets September to August, NOT SO, it's September to May.

The Cross Plains Community Center was the setting of the 22nd reunion of the descendants of the late Elzie and Lila Teston.

There was a small crowd but all reported a good time.

There was much conversation about both sad and happy times, that brought back memories of days gone by and helped bind them together as a family and reinforced their hopes for the future.

Those present were Oddie Kivlehen, Judy Harris, Jordan and Justin Harris, Bob and Nancy Braly, all of Abilene; Casey Wasson and Jennifer Bloomer of Lubbock; Bill and Barbra Teston of New Deal; David and Jenny Kivlehen of Arlington; Mark, Shanda, Cody and Hunter of Lake Whitney; Kenneth and Gayle Lowry of Spring; Matt Lowry of Kyle; Kimberly Caldwell of San Antonio; and Linda Pringle and Lessie Baum of Cross Plains.

The quilt made by Oddie Kivlehen, Lessie Baum and Judy Harris was won by Beau Martin of Lubbock. He is the great-grandson of Bill and Barbra Teston and the great-great-grandson of the late Elzie and Lila Teston.

We are into hurricane season again, the most recent one being named "Barry" - actually reaching only "tropical storm" status. He wasn't as dangerous and destructive as they often are-- but he still took his toll.

There are destructive forces that come against our lives that we might liken unto hurricanes or tropical storms. These come against happiness, peace, and successfulness. And following the idea of naming them in line with the alphabet, we might note such "hurricanes" as Anxiety, Bitterness, Cowardice and Defeat. We could go on all the way through the alphabet and think of one or more "hurricanes of life" for each letter.

Webster defines "anxiety" as "a state of being uneasy, apprehensive, or worried about what may happen; misgiving." "Don't be anxious for tomorrow; for tomorrow will be anxious for itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own." Taking His advice is like boarding up against a hurricane, yet going on with living.

Prepare against the storms or hurricanes of life by strengthening your faith-- than go ahead and live, not worrying about tomorrow.

Come join us in faith strengthening times together--Bible classes, periods of worship to God, and fellowship together. We really do care about you, too.....

2001 Property Tax Rates in CALLAHAN COUNTY

This notice concerns 2001 property tax rates for CALLAHAN COUNTY. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

	General Fund	Farm to Market/ Flood Control Fund
Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$869,214	$272,523
Last year's debt taxes	$0	$0
Last year's total taxes	$869,214	$272,523
Last year's tax base	$289,339,676	$281,569,839
Last year's total tax rate	0.300413/$100	0.096787/$100
This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$851,858	$266,688
This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	$300,377,196	$292,708,026
= This year's effective tax rate for each fund	0.283596/$100	0.091110/$100
Total effective tax rate	0.374706/$100
x 1.03=maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	0.385947/$100
This year's rollback tax rate:
Last year's adjusted, operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property and adjusting for any transferred function tax increment financing, state criminal justice mandate, and/or enhanced indigent health care expenditures)	$851,858	$266,688
This year's adjusted tax base	$300,377,196	$292,708,026
= This year's effective operating rate	0.283596/$100	0.091110/$100
x 1/08 = this year's maximum operating rate	0.306283/$100	0.098398/$100
+ This year's debt rate	0.000000/$100	0.000000/$100
= This year's rollback rate for each fund	0.306283/$100	0.098398/$100
This year's total rollback rate	0.404681/$100

Statement of Increase/Decrease
If CALLAHAN COUNTY adopts a 2001 tax rate equal to the effective tax rate of 0.374706 per $100 of value, taxes would increase compared to 2000 taxes by $8,838.

The 2001 Carlile-Frazier Reunion met at the Cottonwood Community Center July 21-22 with 137 relatives and friends in attendance. We had lots of good food and it was great and noisy visiting as usual.

We had games of Bingo for gifts, guess the amount containers and a few card games played inside. Outside there was volley ball, horseshoe pitching and the kids had water balloons and water guns to help keep them cool.

Chances were sold on a "Cousins" quilt made and donated by Cleta Faye Guynes, a beautiful picture album donated by Linda Stricklin, and a singing red bird given by Annie Kitchens. The quilt and album were won by Melba Emerson and the bird by Lorine Green. The proceeds are used to pay reunion expenses.

Great fun was had by all and we thank all who gave gifts for Bingo and door prizes.
