CEARLEY SAYS HE HAS NO KNOWLEDGE OF PETITION

COMMUTATION FOR HELMS IS NOT SOUGHT

Previous Report Said Petition Circulated in This Country

"If there is any petition being dated in Eastland county asking commutation of the death sentence of Henry Helms to life imprisonment, it is being circulated out of my knowledge," said Judge Cearley, chief defense counsel for Helms and Marshall Rat, who were convicted of the robbery of the First National bank on December 23, 1927, during which two Cisco police officers were killed and given the death penalty.

Dispatched from Dallas Wednesday, Bert Ashby, who was to be a member of the defense, stated that a petition as that mentioned above was circulated in the county. The action was taken by the criminal appeals Wednesday Helms' case when a motion was filed for the rehearing of his trial was overruled. The officers during the raid on the bank in 1927 were Police Chief Bit and Police Officer George Michael.

Attention on the application for Helms to file a second motion for a writ of the case as handed down by Judge Lattimore of the criminal appeals is as follows:

Opinion
Lattimore insists that we erred in our disposition of this case originally upon his motion for rehearing. In certain matters set out in the request for leave to file a second motion, and contends that we did not discuss some of the questions raised. It is true that we did not, but examining those not discussed, we observe that we did not write of some bills which failed to bring forward questions of importance in the particular case, and failure to discuss which in no wise affected the propriety of its disposition, or any question of jurisdiction or practice in this state. Each bill in the record was examined, weighed and its materiality considered in the light of the whole record, its facts and issues. We have again reviewed the propositions stressed in the application, but believe none of them point out any matter of materiality which would incline us to believe that same should have been discussed when the case was regularly before the court. We find no matter which was overlooked which should have been discussed in the opinions heretofore written.

We regret to be compelled to deny appellant's request.

LATTIMORE, Judge.
Delivered June 19, 1929.

A WORD TO THE WISE.
VESTERAAS, Sweden, June 22.—A warning to the public to keep off the streets while a young woman was taking her driver's test appeared recently in a morning paper here. The advertisement read: "The public is requested to leave the streets today between 11:30 and 12:30. Margit is getting her driver's license." The notice was signed with the name and address of Margit's proud parents.

CHARITY TO BURGLARS.
PORTLAND, Me., June 22.—The home of Harold T. Libby, local merchant, seems likely to become a mecca for burglars. When six youths were arraigned in court, charged with having broken into the house, Libby asked that sentence be suspended. Then he announced he would send the young men to a summer camp for a vacation at his expense.

Bryan's Daughter Making Good as Congresswoman From Florida

In Office Only Three Months but Doing a Great Job

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON, June 22.—Between her fifth and her ninth year, little Ruth Bryan used to come onto the floor of the house with her famous father. There are congressmen and capitol employes who remember it.

Just the other day, eight-year-old Helen Rudd Owen, the granddaughter of William Jennings Bryan and daughter of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, made her own first visit to the floor beside her mother who is now formally referred to by other members as "the gentlewoman from Florida."

Bryan stepped from the floor of the house into the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1896. When he came to congress from Nebraska no one expected that he was going to do that. But Mrs. Owen has only been here three months and there are a great many persons, especially in Florida where it counts, who expect that she will at least some day step from the house to the senate.

MRS. RUTH BRYAN OWEN

Making a Good Record
Mrs. Owen is giving a perfectly swell demonstration of how to be a good congresswoman. Instead of making the mistake of plunging into national issues and grabbing limelight, she has been plugging away to get everything the constituents in her district, which covers Miami and the rest of the Florida coast, want and ought to have.

She has introduced two innovations, to-wit:

1. She maintains an office at Vero Beach, midway between the district's north and south extremities, where Walter Buckingham serves as resident secretary and liaison officer between Mrs. Owen and the constituents. When constituents want to talk things over and can't get to Washington they go to Walter.
2. She is about to keep her campaign promise to make reports in each county of her stewardship. It's going to be warm this summer, but Mrs. Owen plans nearly a hundred speeches in fulfillment of the promise.

She can talk lengthily, one finds of what she already has been able to do for Florida's agricultural interests.

Within three weeks after the Mediterranean fruit fly was discovered back home, Mrs. Owen and Congressman Drane had arranged for an appropriation of $4,500,000 to fight it.

A marble quarry has been opened at Alpine. At Marble Falls a granite polishing plant is being erected in connection with the pink granite quarry that has been in operation for many years. Shipments of helium gas from the Federal plant near Amarillo are being made in cars especially built for the U. S. Army air corps.

Aided Florida Farmers
Farmers stricken in the Florida storm area, facing seed and fertilizer costs of $25 and more per acre, were only to be loaned up to $3 an acre from government funds until Mrs. Owen got busy. Now they're going to get $25 an acre.

Until now there hasn't been any real census showing Florida's actual productivity, because agricultural census forms have applied to temperate zone products and not sub-tropical products. But Mrs. Owen has helped that, too. There will be separate forms after this.

At the next session Mrs. Owen has a campaign mapped out for flood control around Lake Okeechobee, where storms have caused tremendous life and property damage. The water in this huge lake has been kept at a high level by tributary streams and, says Mrs. Owen, something must be done.

Your correspondent asked Mrs. Owen whether anything in particular had occurred to her about congress in the last three months.

"Sometimes during the campaign," she answered, "people wondered whether a woman might not strike difficulties here. They had the idea that an atmosphere existed in congressional committees which might cause a woman not to want to appear before them; that committees, in fact, were accustomed to drinking, smoking and playing cards."

Very Well-Behaved

SAYS WACO IS INTERESTED IN THIS SECTION

Traffic Man Pays First Visit to Big Dam Town

Waco's interest in the development of this section of the state was attested Saturday by the visit of L. M. Sheppardson, traffic manager of the Waco chamber of commerce, to Cisco. Mr. Sheppardson was making his first visit to this city and declared himself as deeply impressed with the spirit of the city and with the improvements that are being carried forward here.

"Anything that helps you is interesting to Waco," he said. "We want you to prosper because we feel that we have a mutual interest in your prosperity."

Speaking of highways, a subject in which he is particularly interested, Mr. Sheppardson said that Waco's concern with the "Indian Trail" is primarily one of getting the most direct route from Central

Randolph College Starts Movement to Cultivate Immediate Territory; Benefits of Home Institution Shown

Cultivation of the territory within a 50-mile radius of Cisco which should properly be served by Randolph college of this city is the aim of a campaign which will shortly be undertaken by the Cisco co-education institution, according to a statement by Dr. T. T. Roberts, president. The campaign would be carried out by a series of visits to towns and communities situated within this area by means of which the advantages of Randolph both as to proximity and as to cultural standards would be explained and movements set on foot to bring a larger percentage of college students from these towns and communities to the local school.

A part of the plan as contemplated will be to induce business men, clubs, institutions of various kinds and private citizens to offer scholarships in the college.

The method is not new. On the contrary it has proven largely beneficial in numerous instances where schools have set about the intensive cultivation of their contiguous territories. The saving in expense is an important factor. Educational advantages differ but little between accredited schools and the student who selects a home institution has much the advantage in the point of expenses over the student who enters a distant school, it is pointed out.

SMUGGLING CANNOT BE OVERLOOKED

Direct Challenge to U. S. Integrity, Says Lowman

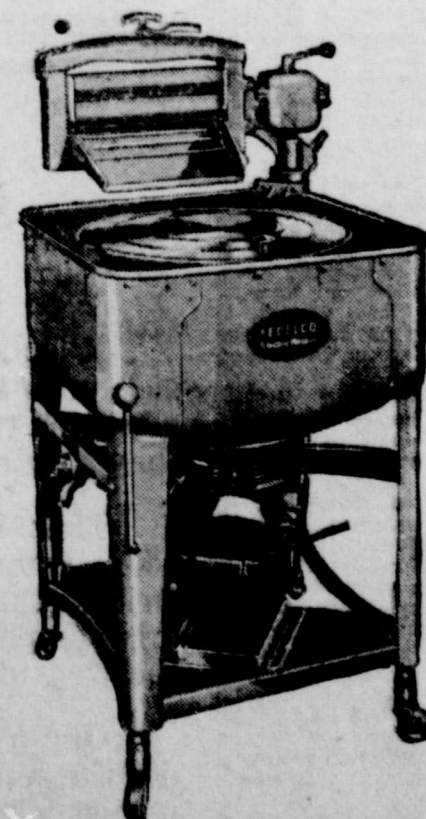

By CECIL OWEN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 22.—Extensive smuggling of liquor into this country across the Canadian border line by "international criminals" constitutes a direct challenge to this government's integrity which the United States cannot overlook, Assistant Treasury Secretary Seymour Lowman said today. Defiance of the United States government, and not the amount of liquor brought in under cover of darkness by rum runners, is the real reason for the administration's present anti-smuggling drive in the Detroit sector, he said.

Police Department Has Splendid Record for This Year

362 CASES ARE HANDLED OVER PAST 5 MONTHS

Credit Balance of Almost $3,000 Shown by Records

The record of the police department of the city of Cisco for the first five months of 1929 is no doubt the most outstanding of all records in previous years. This record represents the attainment of an end that has been in the mind of the municipal government ever since the present administration, headed by Mayor J. M. Williamson, has held office, that end being the operation of the department on a "pay its own way" basis. This theory is not confined to police department but is a guiding factor in the policies which are being put in force in the various other departments of the city which render a distinctive service, such as the water department, the sanitary department and so forth.

The total amount of fines collected by the police department for five months just past is $6,100, representing 362 cases turned into the municipal court that period. Of this amount, $7,000 represents fines that worked out at the camp.

Total Revenue
The total revenue of the convict camp for the five months, exclusive of the fines, worked out from this figure leaves $2,347.93 credit from the camp to police department. Added to the $6,017.20 this gives $8,365.13 as the total revenue of the department for the five months.

The cost of operating the department for the five months, exclusive of the operation of the convict camp was $4,121.60. The cost of operating the convict camp for the period was $1,844.13. Adding the two figures the total cost of operating the department and the camp was $5,965.73.

Deducting the total cost of operating the camp and the department from the total revenue—$5,965.73 from $8,365.13—leaves a credit of $2,399.40 to the police department after all expenses are paid.

SUNDAY "ABOLISHED" BY INSTITUTIONS IN SOVIET

LENINGRAD, June 22.—Sunday has been "abolished" here by the Pskovsky Pedagogical Technicum, the Ostrovsky School and other institutions, which have adopted Wednesday as the weekly day of rest instead.

A movement to turn Sunday into an ordinary working day was started recently by schools in Tomsk, Siberia, and has spread to other parts of the Soviet Union.

The Bolshevik resolution was accomplished on a Wednesday, which therefore holds first place among the days of the week as a substitute for the former free day.

Tuxedo and Rocking Chair Are Needed for Fishing Here

Fishing de lux! That's the brand of fishing you'll experience if you're lucky enough to be the guest of R. A. Williams, commercial manager of District B, Cisco.

We have often times dreamed of catching fish just as fast as we threw the hook and line in the water, and each time while reeling in such angler's luck we were rudely awakened by the persistent ringing of Big Ben. But dreams sometimes come true.

Recently we accepted Ray's invitation to go fishing. When we arrived at Lake Cisco a mighty deluge of rain greeted us. Another hope shattered. Ray only grinned and led us to the water's edge. He unlocked a door to the boat house and there in neat piles were hooks, lines and sinkers of every kind and description. Not a drop of rain touched us and immediately at our feet flitting through the clear water were hundreds of the elite of the fish family.

Sitting upon cushions we cast our lines in the water. Down went the cork and a second later two wiggling perch were taken from our hooks. From there on out it was just a question of how many do we want. One hour and five minutes later we had 43 fine ones. A tuxedo and a rocking chair would have completed a perfect picture of fishing de lux.

Thanks, we'll try it again some day soon. — W. T. U. News.

WINS ON 60-TO-1 SHOT BUT MONEY GOES TO STATE

LINCOLN, Neb., June 22. — Attorney General C. A. Sorensen in his fight against gambling at an Omaha race track sent Philip M. Klutznick to the track to get evidence.

Klutznick, armed with a $2 bill provided for the occasion, picked a "longshot."

The horse won. It paid $112.50 for the $2.

"Well, the state made money," Sorensen grimly commented.

Texas to Northwest Texas. He pointed out that the condition of Highway No. 67, which the Indian Trail follows, stands in need of considerable improvement between Meridian and Waco. Much of the points mentioned is tortuous and in need of being straightened out, while the condition of the road is such that a rain makes it no road at all.

"The time has passed," he said, "when the theory that a highway should pass through a city no matter how many extra miles were added. That idea has proven economically unsound. It means a loss of money all the way around—a loss of money to the business man who is in a hurry to get somewhere and must waste time with city traffic; a loss in money to the taxpayers who must build the road, and a loss in time over which the road passes. The only sensible doctrine of highway building is to carry it through from beginning to end by the most direct route."

DID WISCONSIN SECEDE FROM UNION IN '57?

By WILLARD R. SMITH
United Press Staff Correspondent.

MADISON, Wis., June 22.—Historians hasten to the archives here to establish whether Wisconsin, with its unique ideas about prohibition enforcement, still is in the Union.

Senator Bernhard Gettleman, Milwaukee, who would put the state into the liquor business, said he had been informed Wisconsin formally seceded from the Union in 1857 over the fugitive slave question and never had recinded that action.

When repeal of the state dry law was proposed a few months ago, Wisconsin W. C. T. U. officers set up the cry of "secession." The senator is of the opinion the "secession" came long ago.

Shelves of the state historical library were searched for light on the subject of Wisconsin's quitting the Union over the slave law as Gettleman compared that issue to the prohibition question, and pointed to the possibility of another "seceding" from present enforcement methods.

The Milwaukee senator has sponsored two novel legislative proposals concerning prohibition, one actually introduced and the other in preparation. The one now pending seeks to amend the state constitution to permit manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor by the state.

Today he began work on a proposal to create a state medical liquor commission with the idea of letting every man write his own prescription.

Gettleman offers constitutional amendment to prove neither proposition contravenes the eighteenth amendment.

BIG GORILLA DIES IN FIRE LIKE A BABY

PORT WORTH, June 22.—A pile of dark brown ashes, one claw, and a jaw bone told the story of the death of "Big Boy," 300-pound gorilla, who died in the Casino fire here.

"Big Boy's" animal instinct told him at once that he was in danger and the distress cry of his world brought help from human friends, but in vain. When he saw he was doomed, the fierce roars that had made thousands keep at a safe distance from his cage turned to whines and whimpers as he cowered in his corner.

He died like a baby.

"Big Boy's" cage was about half way down the board walk and about 25 or 30 feet from where the fire started. As soon as he smelled the smoke, he expanded his chest and started beating it with his huge paws. The sound was similar to that of a muffled drum.

At the same time he raised his voice in guttural roars which could be heard above the crackle of the flames sweeping through the structure in which he was caged. While fire-fighters tried to check the flames, a few turned to trying to save the animal.

About 20 men seized the rear of the cage and started to pull it toward Big Boy's truck. The animal kept up his chest-beating and pacing about, not once trying to harm the men close to the cage.

Because of the weight of the cage it could not be moved the 60 feet toward the truck in time. It was not safe to move the truck toward the cage because of the gas tank.

The steel bars of the cage, heated by the nearby flames, burned the hands of several men. Finally, the cage was abandoned as the men fled for their lives. It was half way to the motor vehicle, which was moved barely in time to prevent its destruction.

When "Big Boy" saw his friends depart, he ceased beating his breast and giving his distress cry. Instead, he slumped down into one corner and began whining like a beaten puppy.

The last glimpse the world had of him, he was crouched in the front end of his cage attempting to cover his mouth and nose with his hairy hands. His huge frame was almost totally cremated.

Onions valued at $800,000 were shipped out of the Laredo territory this spring, the 1,536 cars representing the crop from about 4,000 acres.

HOUSTON, June 22.—The Moody-Seagraves Co. has acquired 80 per cent of the Cody Petroleum Co., operating in the Oregon basin area.

The Cody company is drilling three wildcat wells in the Oregon basin at this time and contemplates starting two more at an early date.

The Moody-Seagraves company is interested in gas trunk pipe lines and the recovery, transportation and distribution of natural gas in north Louisiana and east and south Texas fields and is the owner of much prospective acreage in south Texas.

The Refugio field has furnished two new gas wells. The Sun Oil company's number one REA has been completed at 3,655 feet with a rock pressure of 1,200 pounds while the Corona Oil company's No. 1 Rillely down 3,688 feet deep has a rock pressure of 800 pounds

Between 6 and 7 o'clock Friday morning the well produced 100 barrels. No. 2 Stamper will be drilled deeper, officials of the Sinclair company said today.

HOUSTON, June 22.—The Humble Oil and Refining company No. 4 Hammer, on the Dewall structure near Sugarland in Fort Bend county was completed Thursday flowing 1,600 barrels from a depth of 3,552 feet. This makes the second thousand-barrel well completed so far this week, No. 2 having been brought in from a depth of 3,090 feet. Indications are that by the close of the week the Humble will have completed another well, the No. 6 Brazos, which Friday was showing oil at 3,456 feet.

The Yount-Lee Oil company has completed No. 4 Chambers County Agriculturalist at Barber's Hill with an initial flow of 1,700 barrels from a depth of around 5,400 feet.

SAN ANGELO, June 22.—Pecos county's fourth oil pool was definitely opening Friday 18 miles west of the Yates field with Taylor Link Oil company's No. 1 University yielding 200 barrels daily by heads at two to three hours' intervals from 1,625 feet.

A pipe line outlet soon will be constructed by the Humble company, C. V. Lee, San Angelo, vice president and production superintendent, announced today. Humble meanwhile is erecting a 5,000 barrel tank to receive the oil, testing 30.7 gravity. An offset by Taylor Link is planned immediately.

NO NEWS OF FOUR SPANISH FLIERS

PLANE DUE TO TAKE FUEL AT HORTA, AZORES

Belief Expressed that Fliers Continued to North America

LISBON, Portugal, June 22.—The Portuguese military wireless tonight reported that it had been unable throughout the day to obtain any authentic news regarding the whereabouts of the four Spanish fliers, led by Commander Ramon Franco, in the refueled hydroplane, Dornier 16.

REPORTS OF LANDING UNCONFIRMED.

MADRID, June 22.—Unconfirmed wireless reports received from Horta, Azores Islands, stated unofficially that Commander Ramon Franco and his three companions aboard the hydroplane Dornier No. 16 arrived in the Azores at 8 a. m. (5 a. m. EST.) the reports did not note the place of landing or the source of the purported information.

Reports later developed that neither Fundal, in the Madeira Islands nor Horta in the Azores had any news concerning the fliers' whereabouts. Italian warships which arrived at Lisbon tonight of being greeted by Franco last night from the vicinity of Cadiz. He radioed them his intention of continuing to the United States, they reported, but this was taken to include the stop at the Azores for refueling inasmuch as he had not sufficient fuel aboard to bring him all the way to New York.

Some thought he might have landed at St. Johns, N. F., or Halifax, N. S.

ARREST OF FLIER IS REQUESTED.

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—A short time after Lieut. Lee Schoenhar left here today on a proposed record-breaking non-stop flight to New York and return, a telegram was received from Fresno asking his arrest on a bad check charge.

Aged Visitor to Cisco Was Ranger

By LOUIS TRAMMELL.
Mr. and Mrs. George B. Ely of Fort Worth, who have been visiting their son, J. B. Ely, are among the old-timers who were witnesses of early Texas history. Moving to Texas in the late 50's or early 60's, Mr. Ely, now aged 89, was a Texas Ranger and also a Confederate soldier in the Civil war.

"You know I've fixed clocks for almost fifty years," he told me. "I had a black-smithing shop during the Civil war and along with horse-shoeing, and black-smithing, I worked on clocks, too."

FARMER AVOIDS HIGH COST OF GETTING WIFE

SWEETWATER, June 22.—A young farmer living near Sweetwater is believed to have found the latest way to avoid the high cost of marrying under Texas' new "sin marriage" law.

"Well, I've a chance to marry a pretty nice girl, but we haven't the money to pay for my physical examination, license and preacher. It will take about $25, but she has promised to help me chop the cotton if I can get enough money to get married on."

ter I married the Civil war broke out and I joined the First Arkansas Cavalry troops. Our biggest battle was at Oak Hill in Missouri when the Confederates won a victory over the Yankees and the Federal leader, General Lyon, was killed.

"In 1864, Mr. and Mrs. Ely moved into Eastland county. After a trip back to Arkansas in 1867, they have continued to live in Texas moving about until three years ago they moved to Fort Worth.

Chambers, novelist, who has been making a study of the history of that period.

Texas 1928 Exports

Are $802,176,865

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22

Texas exports of merchandise were valued at $802,176,865 in 1928 compared with $647,026,141 in the preceding year, an increase of $155,150,724, according to figures released by the U. S. department of commerce. Raw cotton ranked first in order of value among the commodities sent from the state to foreign markets during 1929 and was valued at $592,519,959 compared with $461,843,295 for 1927. Other leading exports were gasoline, illuminating oil, cottonseed-cake and meal, corn, wheat flour, barley, rice, machinery and parts, crude petroleum, and iron and steel manufactures.

Among diversified commodities exported from Texas during the year were carbon black, benzol, vehicles and parts, petroleum coke, petroleum asphalt, paraffin wax, kaffir and milk, lard edible animals, eggs, hides and skins, leather manufactures, inedible animals, edible vegetable oils and fats, rubber and manufacturers of rubber, inedible vegetable oils and cotton cloth.

The recent entertainment of Mrs. De Priest at a tea given by Mrs. Hoover was alluded to twice in speeches which started the elaborate program. De Priest himself said he had nothing to add to the statement he issued early this week answering those who criticized Mrs. Hoover for receiving his wife.

Weldon Johnson, executive secretary of the N. A. A. C. P., however, spoke at some length on the subject. He said De Priest's statement was the "most dignified" of any of the public pronouncements resulting from the incident.

"When we compare his words with those of some of the blatherskites of the higher legislature they should put the proud Anglo-Saxons to shame," he said.

The Round Rock cheese plant, established in 1928, did a $100,000 business its first year and is paying farmers of that section $10.00 a month for milk. Its output won second prize in the National Dairy Show and with a grade of 93.75 outscored many fine entries from Wisconsin.

Petitions for a $1,500,000 road bond election are being circulated in Hopkins county.

They have reported to the secretary that they will arrive at two o'clock and join in the big sectional parade which is to start from the high school building at 2:30.

AMERICAN IS MAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY

BELFAST, Ireland, June 22. — Virtually a man without a country, an American who fought for Britain in the World War is singing in the streets of Belfast, accompanied by his wife, in a desperate effort to keep body and soul together. He has made two round trips across the Atlantic trying to re-enter the land where he was born. He was turned back at Ellis Island, and the emigration officials at Liverpool sent him back to America again because they thought the American authorities had no right to refuse him permission to land. George Young was born in Rhode Island and has the birth certificate to prove it. At the age of eighteen he decided to see the world. He was in Ireland at the outbreak of the World War and joined the Royal Irish Fusiliers. During months of fighting in France Young was wounded three times and given the Military Medal for bravery under fire. He remained in the army until 1923 when he was given an honorable discharge and started to work on a farm near Belfast. Things went nicely with the soldier of fortune and he received money from his family in America to pay his passage home. He had no difficulty getting aboard a ship when he showed his birth certificate. But it was a different story at Ellis Island. The emigration officials held that the oath of allegiance to the British flag, taken when he joined the Fusiliers, made him an alien and that he would have to await his turn on a quota passport.

The state department upheld the decision of the Ellis Island officials, and Young returned to Liverpool. From there he was shipped to New York once more, and back again. He finally reached Belfast, but has been unable to find work.

"To make things worse," Young said, "all my papers, including my birth certificate, were retained by the steamship company and sent to New York in connection with the charge against the company of bringing me to America without a visa. I can not get a passport until my papers are returned. It seems unfortunate that I can not return to America because I fought for Britain. If I finally get a passport, I will have to wait my turn on the quota. In the meantime I suppose I shall have to keep on singing in the streets."

DEATH TAKES ALL FOUR OF HER FIANCES

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., June 22.—Death has four times thwarted Miss Madge Gunner, a governess in this city, of being a wife.

After the death of her fourth fiance, just two days before the wedding day, Miss Gunner forever renounced the idea of marriage.

This succession of love tragedies started during the war when Miss Gunner became engaged to a young officer. On the night he was to have left the front line trenches to come home to her, he was killed by a rifle grenade.

"My next fiance," Miss Gunner said in an interview, "was an airman. He was killed in a crash on the Saturday before the Monday on which we were to have been married.

"Four years later I became engaged to an engineer. Two days before our wedding we had lunch together. He left me at the end of the meal to inspect a building under construction. He was killed by a crane.

Additional sorrows have come into Miss Gunner's life during the past year. Her father and mother, both in Australia, died without her having seen them for years. Her only brother was recently drowned at sea.

CONTRACT FOR CONCHO DAM IS LET FRIDAY

ABILENE, June 22. — Contract for the building of the Nasworthy dam across the Concho river near San Angelo was awarded to the Callahan Construction company of Chicago and Dallas. It was announced from the general office of the West Texas Utilities company here Friday.

Bidders for the contract were: Womack Hemming Construction company, Abilene; Summers Solitt company, San Antonio; Callahan Construction company, Chicago and Dallas; R. E. McKee, San Angelo and El Paso; D. A. Foley Construction company, Fort Worth; and the L. E. Meyers company, Dallas.

The project, which is to be started immediately, includes a 45-foot dam, 6,000 feet in length, top width of 29 feet, bottom width of 225 feet, the reservoir to have an average width of five-tenths miles, and to extend 3.2 miles up the Middle Concho river and 2.3 miles up the South Concho river from the dam, the average depth to be 7.6 feet and the storage capacity to be 16,500 acre feet. The dam is to be six miles southwest of San Angelo.

Rehabilitation of San Angelo's water supply will be complete with this dam. Seven dams on the Concho already belong to the West Texas Utilities company. There will be three dams below the dam proposed, each of which will impound 1,750,000 gallons of water, thus insuring an adequate reserve for industrial and domestic supply for the city. The lake site will obliterate three of the present dams.

Continuance of School Bus Talked

Whether or not the school bus, carrying high school students from Dan Horn to the Scranton school, would be continued through next year was the subject of a community meeting which took place at Scranton Friday evening. Among those present at the meeting from Cisco were Rev. Acker C. Miller, pastor of the First Baptist church, who spoke, and W. F. Walker, business secretary of the public schools of Cisco.

The bus was inaugurated last year but it was pointed out at the meeting that more support by the patrons would be necessary to keep it in operation next year. Sentiment at the meeting was strongly in favor of continuing the service and several substantial subscriptions to the support of the service was made at the meeting.

Her Mother's Photograph

"Please, can't I have mamma's photograph first, before they put me to sleep?"

Never a cry nor a whimper had the fair haired child made since a heavy truck wheel had crushed her little body. She had been playing in the street in front of her home. She was eight years old. Her mamma had died in giving her birth, and Annie knew her face only in her photograph. The doctor saw that there was only a slim chance of saving her. There was quick, desperate work with the knife. Through hours under the anesthetic the little hand never relaxed its hold on the photograph.

When Annie came to herself she gossiped cheerily with the nurse about her mamma, hugging the photograph, as if it were a human thing to her heart. Not a word of complaint from the steadily whitening lips. The little girl was in a happy world of her own—her's and her mamma's.

So little a thing can make the sorrows of the world sink away, ashamed, before a radiant hope!

This is no "made-up" story. It happened just as related. And when Annie's little hand stiffened in death it still held the photograph, which went to the grave with her.

It was a little thing—that mamma's photograph, finger-marked by much tender fondling. But it was enough to create hope that lifted Annie's soul with joy incapable to rout pain and fear, to cheat death of its terrors—enough to turn the stone head-rest of anguish into a downy pillow of peace. Yes it was enough. It was the door through which Annie, smiling, stepped into heaven, where she found her mamma, no longer
