ANES AND HIPS SEARCH OR AVIATORS

Source of False Rumors Sought by Spanish Gov't.

By United Press.

The Spanish government, aided by Portugal, exerted every resource at its command today to locate Commander Ramon Franco and his three aides in the seaplane Dornier No. 16, believed to have been lost some where between Portugal and the Azores. The British embassy at Madrid was solicited to lend the aid of an airplane carrier, if one is available at Gibraltar, to aid in the search of the area in which it is believed the Dornier 16 was forced down.

Coincidentally with the devoting Spanish government opened an inquiry as to the means by which the Spanish people were hoaxed Saturday by unconfirmed and baseless rumors that the fliers had safely landed at San Miguel Island, at the easterly extreme of

Finds Light Bulb Caused Clinic Hospital Tragedy

By NEA Service.
CLEVELAND, June 24.—The direct heat of a 100-watt electric light bulb and not the indirect heat of steam under 65 pounds pressure caused the Xray films in the Cleveland Clinic to ignite and through deadly gases given off take a toll of 126 lives.

That's the opinion that R D. MacLaurin, commissioner of trade waste, has handed to the coroner as evidence collected through investigation as one of a committee of three appointed by City Manager Hopkins to investigate the cause of one of the most horrible disasters of years.

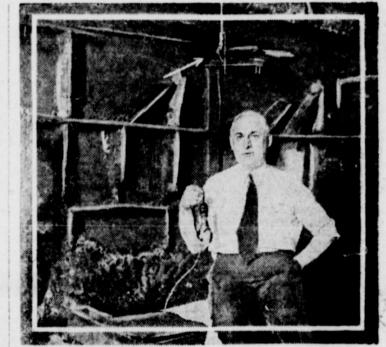

Two days after catastrophe MacLaurin and Val Hausman, electricl engineer, started their investigation. In the film room of the hospital they found ample evidence to convince them that the bulb, and not the steam, caused the explosion. Bulb Was Turned On

In a heap of debric, entirely buried, they found the bulb. Investigation proved that the light was turned on at the time of the explosion, that the twoway socket above was on and that current at the switch was operating.

"The outstanding evidence that the bulb caused the trouble is the fact that a residue baked thereon could only be deposited by the fusion of the bulb with the film." MacLaurin says.

"The spposition is that some one laid the glowing bulb against the film and the heat generated caused the ignition of the nitro-cellulose substance in the film. There is not the slightest possibility that steam

"Laboratory tests with the light bulb determined the following conclusions: That the explosion happened and was over in ten minutes; that the direct heat generated by a 100-watt bulb was more than enough to ignite the film; and hat the hydro-cyanic gas sulting from the films' ignition was in such a quantity that if the 350,000 square feet of floor

In the upper photo R. D. MacLaurin, expert who investigated the Cleveland Clinic fire, is shown in the X-ray film room where the blaze started when an electric light bulb caused the films to ignite. The arrow points to the socket in which the bulb was hanging. Below is the bulb itself, discolored in a way that proved to MacLaurin that it was responsible for the catastrophe,

Investigation disclosed that three gases were present in the air immediately after the explosion. They were hydrocyanic, carbon monoxide and nitrogen dioxide. These were the X-ray room is located in-to the upper floors by the force

They Pay You

Advertisements pay you to read them. They pay you in time. From the advertisements in this newspaper you can learn where to get what you want, instead of searching around. You can know the merits of each article offered for sale.

They pay you in money. Advertisements help you to get full value for your dollars. Goods which are consistently advertised are of consistently high quality for their prices.

They pay you in satisfaction. Manufacturers and merchants will not undertake an advertising campaign until they are sure their product is right. It would be ruincus to advertise an unworthy product, for that would simply call added attention to its deficiencies.

They pay you in information. Advertisements tell of new products, of new designs, new materials, better workmanship. Well-informed people always read the advertisements to keep posted.

Reading the advertisements is an investment that pays big returns.
