T. A. T. SERVICE TO CISCO IS RESUMED

TWO PLANES TO BE AVAILABLE HERE EACH DAY

Cisco Is First Stop on Line West of Fort Worth

The Texas Air Transport has resumed its service from the Cisco airport. It was announced yesterday, and henceforth passengers who desire to use the airplanes of this company will be able to secure the necessary accommodations at the municipal airfield here, thus saving them the necessity of going to Abilene or some other point on the line.

SCHEDULE

The schedule arrival of T. A. T. planes in Cisco is as follows: Westbound at 12:10 p. m. Eastbound at 4 p. m.

no passengers at present although it is expected that regular stops will be started within a short while. Tickets for the line have been placed on sale at the Elliott Drug company, following arrangements made by Division Traffic Manager E. Leonard Nelson, who was here yesterday making the necessary arrangements. When passage is secured the pilot of the plane on which the passenger desires to travel will be notified. He will stop here.

Court Justices at Bar Meeting

Chief Justice J. E. Hickman, and Associate Justices W. P. Leslie and O. C. Punderburk, of the 11th district court of civil appeals at Eastland, were in Amarillo last week attending the State Bar association convention.

THIRD "TREATY CRUISER" LAUNCHED

While diplomats of the world were discussing naval reduction, the third 10,000-ton "treaty cruiser," the U. S. S. Chester (above), was launched at South Camden, N. J. She is a sister ship of the U. S. S. Pensacola and the Salt Lake City. At the right is Mrs. James Turner Blain, of Chester, Pa., sponsor of the new cruiser, photographer at the christening ceremony.

California Fliers Are Near New World's Record for Endurance Flying; 2:30 p. m. Is Zero Hour

Expect to Return to Cisco to Live S. D. Stone, an old timer of this section but now living at Weslaco, was in Cisco meeting old friends yesterday. He was accompanied by his son, Charley Stone, who lives at Cross Cut. The elder Mr. Stone is much pleased with the growth and development of the modern Cisco and thinks that he would like to return here to live. He states that after the disposal of some property in other sections, it is his intention to move back to Cisco and renew his citizenship here. Mr. Stone recalled the days when he used to come in his wagon to market his farm produce in Cisco and did quite a deal of trading with his old friend, C. H. Fee, who was then in business here.

Fireman Killed in Gas Explosion

DALLAS, July 9.—Andrew Hamilton, 28, city fireman, is dead today and his wife severely injured because someone left a gas jet open. The result was a terrific explosion which not only injured these two persons, but also caused property loss of nearly $3,000. The explosion and resultant fire wrecked the small one-story apartment house, blowing out large sections of brick. An open gas jet was found in the adjoining apartment and firemen expressed the belief that the gas escaped from this jet and was ignited by a gas fire in the Hamilton apartment.

Farm Board to Have Plenty of Help

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Statistics relating to virtually every phase of the agriculture problem and a staff of nearly 1,000 experts are to be made available by the agriculture department to President Hoover's farm board when it convenes here next Monday, it was learned today.

PLANE SHOULD BE NEAR THE SPANISH COAST

Expected to Be Within Sight of Europe at 2 p. m.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Wireless stations along the entire Atlantic seaboard stood today awaiting word of the whereabouts of the American non-stop Pathfinder, presumably nearing the coast of Spain in its attempted trans-Atlantic flight from Old Orchard, Maine, to Rome. In spite of the sharp lookout by dozens of steamers and freighters along the route proposed by the fliers, Roger Q. Williams, pilot, and Lewis A. Yancey, navigator, no word has been received of them since they took off at 7:40 a. m. EST. yesterday and disappeared in a heavy fog which hung over the western portion of the Atlantic. If all had gone well with the fliers during the night, they were racing eastward toward the coast of Spain at 3 a. m. EST. today, approximately 2,000 miles from their starting point after about 19 hours in the air. They expected to be within sight of Europe by 2 p. m. today. The Pathfinder carried 440 gallons of gasoline, with sufficient oil and supplies to permit it to remain in the air 45 hours. The fliers hoped to land at their destination, Rome, Wednesday morning.

WORLD'S RECORD

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The present world's record for distance flight is held by two Italians, Arturo Ferrarin and Carlo Del Prete who, in July, 1928, flew 4,466 miles from Rome to Poutoux, Brazil. The American long distance mark was achieved by Clarence Chamberlain in June, 1927, when he covered the 3,911 miles between New York and Laleban, Germany, in a nonstop flight.

AWAIT WORD FROM FLIERS

NEW YORK, July 9.—Only a wildly barking little fox terrier answered the doorbell at the green shingled farm house in Richmond Hill, Queens, where the wife and mother of Roger Q. Williams waited today for some word of his progress toward Rome in the Pathfinder. The flier's wife, prostrated by excitement and worry, would not talk with reporters. She promised to talk with them later in the day if she felt better. The elder Mrs. Williams answered the constantly ringing telephone in the hope that it would bring her news.

Former Ciscoan Is Visitor Here

Mrs. Gomer Williams, accompanied her friends, Mrs. E. Carlin, three daughters and grandson, on their return to Tulsa, Oklahoma, recently. Mrs. Williams will visit her sister, Mrs. R. M. Hurt, in Dallas. Mrs. Carlin was born and raised here and left Cisco about 26 years ago. She was found in her praise of Lake Cisco, which she visited on the Fourth. She could locate but few of the old landmarks here. Her father, a brother and a sister were killed in the tornado that struck Cisco in April, 1893.

Cisco Is Starting Right in Its Plan to Sound Out Possibilities for Milk Plant, Says T. & P. Expert

Both the agricultural agents for the M. K. and T. M. Reese, and for the T. and P. C. M. Evans, have arrived in Cisco for the milk plant meeting which is scheduled to take place this evening at 7:30 on the roof garden of the Laguna hotel. Both expressed their interest and the interest of their roads in the movement. "You are starting out exactly right," said Mr. Evans this morning. "The sensible way to go about a thing of this character is to find out first what can be done and then determine whether or not to undertake the project."

WINK THANKS CISCO FOR ITS HOSPITALITY

The thanks of the Wink chamber of commerce for the hospitable entertainment of the Wink entrant and representatives at the recent Fourth of July Bathing Revue and Celebration, has been written by Archie James, secretary of the Wink chamber. Miss Nadine Hughes was the Wink entrant in the revue. Her chaperon and escort were Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Reiders. "They commended your chamber of commerce as well as the citizens of Cisco very highly and report a wonderful time while in your city," said Mr. James.

TEXANS WILL GO TO POLLS TODAY WEEK

AUSTIN, July 9.—One week from today Texas voters will ballot on two proposed amendments to the state constitution. One will raise the governor's salary from $4,000 a year to $10,000. The other will add six judges to the state supreme court. Opponents of the amendments charge that the election was purposely called for a day when there likely will be a light vote. Saturday is the usual day for state balloting. The governor's salary is now just what it was in 1876 when the last constitution was adopted. It is more, however, than several other constitutional officers' here paid. The state land commissioner, state treasurer and state comptroller get $2,500 a year. The secretary of state is paid $2,000. No residence is furnished for them in Austin, as is for the governor. If the supreme court is increased to nine members, the six judges now serving as members of two commissions of appeals to aid the court, will end their services.

Prussian Diet Approves Concordat

BERLIN, July 9.—The Prussian diet at the end of an uproarious debate, punctuated with anti-religious shouts of communist members, today approved the concordat with the Holy See by a vote of 243 to 172. Ernest Stendel, leader of Gustav Stresemann's folks party in the diet, bitterly opposed the concordat and demanded that Prussia simultaneously conclude a treaty with the Protestant church.

WONT BE PRESSED

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Charges against W. W. Thomason, federal prohibition officer, accused of an accessory in the fatal shooting last week of James Harris, an Oklahoma farmer, will not be pressed, in the opinion of Assistant Treasury Secretary Seymour Lowman, it was learned today.

BANDIT GETS $47,000 DURING BANK HOLDUP

DOLORES, COLO., July 9.—Ignoring a pile of silver on the counter before him, a bandit held up the office of J. J. Harris & Co. here today, and escaped with about $47,000 in currency and securities valued at $30,000. He entered the back door of the building and waited until A. P. Harris, vice president of the institution, arrived. When Harris said he did not know the combination of the safe, the robber forced him to sit upon a stool until C. H. Webb, assistant cashier, came in. Webb opened the safe at the point of a gun. After taking the money and securities, the robber locked them both in the bank's vault and left in a small roadster.

Eleventh District Favors Amendment

ABILENE, July 9.—As far as the attorneys representing the 21 counties in the eleventh supreme court judicial district are concerned, the constitutional amendment, which, if passed, will increase the supreme court from three to nine members, is all right with them. This group gave its whole-hearted endorsement to the change in a meeting here yesterday. The proposed election is to come up July 16.

$10,000,000 CUT IS PROPOSED BY GOVERNOR

Sharp Comment Is Caused in Senate by Message AUSTIN, July 9.—A message of economy was sent by Governor Moody to the Texas legislature today. He proposed a ten million dollar cut in the $55,000,000 appropriations already made by the 41st legislature most of which he has vetoed. In asking for reduced appropriation bills, Governor Moody pointed out that the legislature has the power to reduce the amounts appropriated for specific purposes. When the bills come to him, he can only approve an item for the full amount or strike it out entirely.

Personally I do not think that the appropriations ought to be placed so high that they would force the levy of the highest rate of taxation allowed by the constitution," the governor said. "I do not believe that adequate support of the government requires it at this time. I believe the state departments and institutions can be adequately supported for the next two years by the appropriation of not exceeding $45,000,000. Although it is within your power to make appropriations that will require a levy of the maximum rate of taxation (35 cents on $100 valuation) I hope you will not consider that necessary. Wrong Fashion. "It seems to be the purpose of some to ascertain the maximum amount of money that can be collected under the highest rates of taxation, and then proceed to appropriate that sum. It doesn't seem to me that the matter should be approached in that fashion. I think the effort should be to ascertain what amount of appropriations are reasonably necessary to adequately support the government. If that attitude is taken I feel certain that you will not find it necessary to appropriate sums of money requiring the levy of the maximum rate of taxation. "If you take the other attitude, of course the maximum rate of taxation will be the result. It will be possible by the use of the veto power to reduce the total sum, but it is evident that this power cannot be used to strike enough from the bills to have much effect on the tax rate. A detailed outline of the message and also the announcement that the governor proposes to limit topics of the session to appropriations, and a correction in the state school per capita law, were made.

Sharp Comment

Governor Moody's message caused some sharp comment in the senate which promptly repassed the same $5,060,465 judiciary appropriation which the governor had vetoed. A rural school aid appropriation was reduced from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 and passed. The house referred its appropriation bills to committee. A house resolution was adopted asking the governor not to submit anything but the appropriations at this session. A house resolution creating a committee to draft tax laws to submit to the next regular session was referred to the house committee on state affairs. If the resolution is adopted the members of the committee will be: Representatives Victor Gilbert of Baird; John T. Wallace of Teague; Cecil Storey of Vernon; C. H. Waddell of Rosenberg, State Tax Commissioner P. C. Weinert of Seuin; James A. King of Travis county and John G. Willacy of San Antonio, state tax commissioners, and Dr. E. T. Miller, tax expert of the University of Texas.

Why a State Income Tax? This is the title of a very readable article by Peter Molyneux in the Texas Monthly for June. Peter Molyneux is the editor of the Texas Monthly. First he asked the question and then answered it, giving about a hundred reasons why a state income tax should not be enacted.

Long before the appearance of the monthly the state income tax measure had been put to sleep by a close vote in committee. Gov. Moody is for a state income tax. He would discard the state ad valorem tax. This proposal mustered surprising strength. It is certain to be up again. There will be a special session held in the winter months for consideration of the report to be submitted by a special commission on a site for a new prison reformatory plant. At the same time the proposal for public utility control will be up again.

A recent visit to the Hotel McAlpine, New York City, proved a revelation to me as to the great construction feats that are possible to man. Not since the Hotel Savoy in London was raised four feet from its foundation has such a monster building program been accomplished.

British Sub Sunk in Collision in St. George's Channel

TWO MEMBERS OF THE CREW ARE RESCUED

Disaster Occurs When Two Undersea Boats Crash

LONDON, July 9.—The crash of two submarines in St. George's channel at the lower end of the Irish sea off Pembroke district in Wales early today is feared here to have cost the lives of nearly a score of persons.

The H-47 submarine of the British navy, whose normal complement is 23 officers and men, sank. Two of those aboard were rescued. The L-12 with which the H-47 collided was a complement of about 30 officers and men. One of its crew is missing and another is in a critical condition.

The commanding officer of the H-47, Lieut. R. J. Gardner, and radio telegrapher Sydney Cleburne were the two saved from the sunken submarine. Chief Signaller Charles Bull is missing from the L-12 and Able Seaman Arthur Sampson of the L-12 is in a critical condition from injuries suffered as a result of the collision.

It is recalled that the H-47 collided with the H-32 Dec. 7, 1926, during maneuvers off Portland but both returned safely to the harbor.

LONDON, July 9.—The British submarine H-47 was sunk in collision with the submarine L-12 in St. George's channel off St. David's head, the admiralty announced today.

Two members of the H-47's crew were rescued, the admiralty's announcement said, while one man is missing from the L-12.

The admiralty announced the receipt of the following signal: "Submarine H-47 sunk by submarine L-12. Position 52.04 north 32 west."

The H-47 was commanded by Lieut. Commander E. S. Felton and belonged to the sixth submarine flotilla. The admiralty informed the United Press that the H-47 was a fairly old type of submarine and that it believed only a few men were aboard at the moment of disaster.

No details were available as to what the submarines were doing when the accident took place.

The usual complement of the H-47 is 23 men.

The crash occurred about 12 miles northwest of St. David's head, off the Pembroke coast, east of Fishguard.

The surface displacement of the H-47 is 440 tons. It carried one small gun and four torpedo tubes. Its speed was 13 knots on the surface and 10 1-2 knots submerged.

SHE BELIEVES ORGATONE WAS HER LIFE SAVER

Danger Housewife Declares Medicine That Will Do What Orgatone Did for Her, Deserves Praise.

"By the help of Orgatone I have overcome troubles I had begun to fear would end my life," said Mrs. E. E. Gallagher, who resides at 720 Foch St., Ranger, Texas, recently.

"My stomach has been troubling me for twenty years," she continued. "And I had gotten to where I couldn't eat even the lightest of diet without suffering afterwards. At times my stomach was so gassy and upset, that I couldn't retain a thing. The doctors told me I would have to have all of my teeth pulled out which I did but this did not help my condition one bit and I steadily grew worse. I was so nervous and miserable I could hardly sleep at all and could do no house work without feeling completely exhausted. I was badly constipated, and would often get so dizzy I had to lie down."

"I took nearly every medicine I ever heard of and tried in vain for so long without getting anything to help me that I had begun to think I couldn't get well. Then I commenced to hear so much about Orgatone and while I never got much relief from my first bottle, the second got me to eating heartily and sleeping fine. I now have such a big appetite that I can hardly get enough to eat and my stomach trouble is gone. So now I can eat what I want, sleep like a child and am praising Orgatone for my wonderful recovery. I firmly believe it has saved my life and such a medicine is worth praising."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment sold in Cisco exclusively by the Deane Drug Co., under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's hero: Larry Benton, who held the Cincinnati Reds to three hits and opened the way for New York's 3 to 0 triumph over the tall enders, at New York.

Burleigh Grimes turned in another triumph when Pittsburgh defeated the Robins, at Brooklyn, 8 to 4. Grimes allowed nine hits but his mates hit well behind him, giving him a margin of safety from the second inning.

Carlson returned to the mound for Chicago and the Cubs won at Boston, 11 to 3. Carlson allowed only five hits and the Cubs pounded two Boston pitchers for 15.

The St. Louis Cardinals' winning streak of one game was snapped when they lost at Philadelphia 7 to 5. The Cards outhit the Phils but without effect.

George Piggas pitched a four hit game at St. Louis to enable the New York Yanks to win, 10 to 3, and the Yanks are off on another streak. Home runs by Dickey, Gehrig and Meusel were among the Yankee 16 hits.

Philadelphia returned to the winning column after two defeats, beating the White Sox, 2 to 2. Lefty Grove allowed the Sox six hits, one a home run by Willie Kamm. Mule Haas hit a homer for the A's.

Washington went 10 innings to beat the tigers, 5 to 4, in the first game of a double header at Detroit. It required only the regulation nine, however, for the Tigers to even the score with a 16 to 6 triumph in the second. George Uhle lost a pitching duel to Sam Jones in the first game, both allowing 11 hits. Emil Yde allowed 14 hits but won the second.

Boston outhit the Indians at Cleveland but lost a 5 to 2 decision. The Red Sox could make only two runs out of 11 hits while the winners converted eight hits into five runs and victories.

WACO CLIMBS TO LEADERSHIP OF TEXAS LOOP

Takes Close Contest Yesterday From Houston Buffs

By United Press.

Waco slid up to the Texas league leadership yesterday by taking a close contest from Houston, 5 to 4. In the eighth inning the score was tied, 3 to 3, but an onslaught by the Cubs was too much for the Buffs who had hardly been able to keep up with the Waco nine anyway.

Dallas opened the third game series with Wichita Falls there with a victory, 11 to 3. Blankenship, who had been on the suspended list for a month with an injury, hurled the Steers to the win.

Fort Worth didn't have enough pitchers yesterday to stop Shreveport who won, 12 to 5. The Cats used three hurlers but none could stop the Louisiana team.

San Antonio and Beaumont battled closely through their contest yesterday and only after the ninth, did the crowd feel sure of who was the winner. The Indians scored three runs in the third and Beaumont grabbed two in the eighth. There was no more scoring, and the Indians had the game, 3 to 2. Games today (all double headers):

Dallas at Wichita Falls. Shreveport at Fort Worth. Beaumont at San Antonio. Waco at Houston.

ATWATER KENT SCREEN-GRID RADIO

It's really a thrill, this new Atwater Kent Screen-Grid Radio. The dial lights up to let you know the set is on — for there is no hum or operating noise to tell you. You turn the station selector knob — and how the stations speak up! Here's music, touching the velvet depths and crystal heights of tone. Here's a man talking, just as if he stood beside you. Yet he is hundreds of miles away!

The Atwater Kent Screen-Grid has done away with distance. It brings you many stations, each separately and clearly. Such performance is the outcome of 27 years' experience, of thousandth-of-an-inch Atwater Kent accuracy, yet you enjoy it for a moderate sum here — because so many people want it.

Let us demonstrate this wonderful new set today!

"Wouldn't you like to write a note to your mother at the hospital and thank her for her gift?" Nan suggested. In her new happiness, she could afford to be generous, had an urgent need to be generous toward that other woman, who, it seemed, was to be vanquished. "For my dear wife—" her heart sang, over and over.

"Huh? At the hospital?" Curtis repeated, with childish scorn for Nan's ignorance. "She ain't means, isn't at the hospital any more. She went to the Wellington Arms yesterday. Father and I took her. She's got a swell room. At a hotel. Why don't they say Wellington hotel, Nan? Silly, calling a hotel an arm!" He lay back upon his pillows, looking suddenly resort to low tricks to catch them in lies and deceit?

At 5 Dr. Black came. When he had completed his examination of the sick child, he drew Nan with him out into the hall. As the door closed his jovial grin faded instantly, and was replaced by a grave frown.

"Is it anything serious, doctor?" Nan asked in a terrified whisper, as they descended the stairs.

The doctor did not answer until they reached the front hall. "I can't be sure. Children are pesky patients. Scare you to death one day, and provoke you into spanking them the next by their high spirits. To be frank, Nan, it looks a little like appendicitis. . . . Hey, hold on to yourself, girl! Nothing to hit the ceiling about if it is. And it may not be, of course, or, at worst, a very mild attack which may never be repeated, if you watch his diet. . . . That woman! That woman!" he added savagely.

"I have been very careful, Dr. Black," Nan said bleakly. Not for her to utter accusations against the boy's mother.

"Don't I know that?" Dr. Black blustered. "Believe me, I gave Iris Morgan a piece of my mind today."

"You saw her?" Nan cried.

"But Curtis told me she had left the hospital—"

"Right! But the hotel manager called me this afternoon. All excited. Said Mrs. Morgan was in a terrible state. I went, of course, though I was pretty sure what ailed her. Having hysterics because John and the boy hadn't come to see her on Christmas day."

"Then—" Nan's hand went to her throat, for she felt that her heart was leaping from it with joy—"and he didn't go? He didn't see her today?"

"No. That was the trouble. He telephoned her at the Wellington Arms that Curtis was not able to go out and that, of course, he couldn't see her, either. John's no fool, Nan. He's not entirely superior to convention. No man in the public eye, like John Curtis Morgan, can afford to be. With the kid along as a chaperon and as an excuse for the call, a re-married man may call on his divorced wife without creating a scandal, but without that excuse—Well, Iris simply had a fit. Darned little sympathy she got from me, I can tell you. Of course you know she accuses you of having vamped, trapped and abducted her husband!" —(To be continued.)

SET YOUR SPEEDOMETER for extra miles

Today at Conoco Service Stations—or wherever you see the Conoco sign—you can get a tankful of gasoline that is literally packed with extra miles.

Following its custom of recent years, the Continental Oil Company is now supplying under the Conoco name a grade of gasoline refined especially for summer driving. That means that it is made to produce maximum mileage—but without in any way sacrificing the other essentials of a good motor fuel—quick starting and rapid acceleration—so important for traffic driving.

If you used Conoco Gasoline last summer, you'll appreciate the importance of this announcement.

If you kept a mileage record, you know just what to expect from Conoco—extra miles.

The open road is calling. Enjoy your car this summer more than ever before with the happy assurance that with Conoco in the tank you'll not only reach your destination, but that you'll get there at less cost.

And always remember to fit only at the sign of the Continental Soldier.

NEWS OF SOUTHWEST

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., July 9.—Land, pioneer oil city, has completed 25 years of active production and now has two good wells. No. 1—Scully of the John & Refining company has yielded the well four times the Hominy sand and No. 2—Deal of the Prairie Oil & company showed about 15 when swabbed.

Portion of the Mid-Kansas was the source of disappointment to Oklahoma oil men, well, expected to come in Saturday or Sunday, failed. No. 2—Portson, is producing about 6,000 barrels daily.

Oklahoma oil men have discovered a new oil producing status—Farmers said. Oil veterans gained that a bit had never been the Farmers said. They, however, that such a formation exists.

When a dry hole is drilled on a farm, the farmer always insists that "pay" would have been had had the driller gone just ten feet. Hence, the farmers' sand.

Oklahoma City's seventh project, No. 1—Button of the Indian Illuminating Oil company, Monday was flowing about ten barrels of oil and 5,000,000 feet of gas. Workers were attempting to remove a bridge formed when the well blew.

The state corporation commission today resumed hearing on the Gas & Gasoline well of Blair and Amerada. Operators have been cited to show why they should not be compelled to shut in the well.

The well has been making more than 1,500 barrels of gasoline daily with millions of feet of gas.

Nine new locations were announced Monday by the I. T. I. O. in the Oklahoma City field.

WICHITA, Kas., July 9.—McPherson's 10,000 barrel wildcat rusher, Washabaugh's No. 1 Voshel, which came in Saturday was practically shut down Monday morning while the drilling crew fished for lost tools. The drillers were trying to swedge out a crooked bit of pipe Sunday when the tools were lost.

The Voshel Saturday and part of Sunday was flowing around 75 barrels an hour, despite the fact that the bailer was wedged in the hole and there were many cave-ins. Oil men figured the flow at better than 10,000 barrels a day if the hole was cleaned out.

HOUSTON, July 9.—The average daily output of crude oil in the Gulf coast, including the fields of southern Louisiana, last week was estimated at 157,191 barrels, an increase of 2,427 over that of the week before.

During the first six months of 1929 the fields of the Gulf coast, including southern Louisiana, produced an estimated total of 28,209,169 barrels of crude. This represents an increase of 5,698,204 barrels over the corresponding period in 1928. In the event production should continue at the same rate for the remainder of the year, it will probably exceed that of the second year of 1929 by more than 4,000,000 barrels, when the total for the year reached 53,135,385 barrels.

Tanker shipments of refined oils from the Gulf Refining company's plant at Port Arthur during June consisted of 2,871,557.54 barrels of refined oils for coast-wise movement and exports of 100,455 barrels. This compares with 2,830,368.19 and 104,616.85 barrels respectively in May. The Gulf had no tanker shipments of crude in either May or June.

Vessel shipments of the Texas refinery from its Port Arthur refinery last month amounted to 1,392,189 barrels of refined oils moved coastwise and 636,244 barrels exported, as against 1,507,732 and 475,405 barrels respectively in May.

At Humble, south Texas production's No. 6 Morris on the south flank of the field, in the deep sand area, is flowing 800 barrels from a depth of 4,920 feet. The Marland Oil company's No. 1 Cezeneaux, brought in last week, has the bailer hung up. It is spraying around 100 barrels. However, the well never has cleaned itself due to a shortage of water when washing.

Humble completed No. 4 Camp on the De Witt structure near Sugar land at 3,640 feet, flowing 990 barrels and No. 4 Hammer good for 400 barrels at 3,580 feet.

Talking Movies Receive Praise

A kind word for talking pictures in general, and for the screen voice of O. P. Heggie in particular, was expressed recently by the distinguished English dramatist, Frederick Lonsdale, in an article in The London Mail.

Heggie plays one of the principal roles in "The Letter," Paramount's latest all-talking picture, in which the famous stage and screen star, Jeanne Eagels, has the leading role. The picture will open at the Palace theater today.

Lonsdale's article says in part: "People in this country who regard 'talkies' as a wild dream or an ingenious toy are blinding themselves to what is already accomplished facts. This was proved to me beyond all shadow of doubt by one simple experiment."

I was shown in New York a film half of which was accompanied by dialogue and appropriate sounds. The second half was silent. Its flatness and dullness by contrast was positively ludicrous.

"It is a mistake, too, to suppose that the dialog is necessarily shrill, mechanical or scratchy. One of the actors whom I saw and heard in a film was O. P. Heggie and nothing could have been more impressive than the dialog as he spoke it. The reproduction was marvelous, perfect—it was exactly like listening to the man in an ordinary theater or, better still, in one's drawing room."

Besides Miss Eagels and Heggie other stage players are included in the cast. Reginald Owen and Herbert Marshall have the more important roles. Jean de Lumur directed.

in better health than I ever thought I would be again.

"My health began to fail six years ago and my weight dropped from 145 to 123 pounds. My digestive organs were all out of order, and often after meals I had to use a rubber tube down my throat to get rid of undigested food. I couldn't eat any kind of solid food without suffering and I almost had to live on milk. I was told that I had gall bladder trouble, and my whole system was so poisoned that my throat was actually yellow inside and so sore that I could hardly swallow. My physician suggested that I have my teeth extracted and I did, but still got no better. I suffered with severe pains in my back and through my body, my circulation was poor, my color was bad, and I was run down, weak and nervous.

"I have not had a minutes trouble with my stomach or digestive organs since I began taking Sargon. I can now sit down and enjoy a steak or anything else I want. My nerves are steady, I sleep fine and my strength and energy have returned. My circulation is good and I feel better than I have felt in years.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills cleansed my system of poisons. My throat is normal again, my color is good and I am like a different man in every way."

The above statement was made by Dan J. Thompson, principal of the Reinheart public school, who lives at 903 Waverly Ave., Dallas. Sargon may be obtained in Cisco at Elliott Drug Store and Corner Drug Store.—Adv.

Schoolma'ams May Smoke But Not in Front of Pupils

By ELWOOD SQUIRES, United Press Staff Correspondent. SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 9.—If the modern California "school ma'am" wants to inhale her favorite cigarette after a hard day in the classroom—it's perfectly all right, says Verling Kersey, state director of education.

But she must do it within the confines of her own home, away from any influence it might have on the schoolchildren, added Kersey.

Laying down the dictum that once a teacher, man or woman, is outside any influence they might cast on their pupils, their actions regarding use of tobacco need only be governed by their wishes, Kersey has started educational circles in California.

With many school district warnings that they will dismiss woman teachers who smoke, Kersey's statement has aroused considerable interest throughout the state.

"No question but what there is more smoking among women, both

Hypnotism Ends in Pistol Shot

PARIS, July 9.—Keep your eyes for tricks for parties is the title of a trial just ended at the Assizes.

Louis Duc, a market employee, was in company in a cafe dining with two men friends, one of them a lady. One of the friends, named Duc, who seems to be the amateur hypnotist, agreed. The amateur hypnotist tried hard, but with no success. Then Duc grew angry. He left the cafe, ran all the way to his home, seized a revolver, returned to the cafe and bang, bang, they took the would-be hypnotist to hospital and Duc to jail.

But all's well that ends well. The wound was not serious and the judge and jury were friends again, so the hearted judge handed out years' suspended sentence, Duc being free at once.
