

IMPORTANT QUESTIONS BEFORE VOTERS TUESDAY

ROAD TAX AND LIVESTOCK LAW TO BE DECIDED

Amendments to State Constitution Also on Ballot

Citizens of Eastland county will have an opportunity next Tuesday to decide two matters of importance for the county. One of these is an additional 15-cent road and bridge tax, which the county commissioners court has put forward as a basic essential for the carrying out of its program in the development of lateral roads—roads for the farmer.

The other is an election to decide whether or not Eastland county will enforce a livestock law which will prohibit the presence of loose stock on the county highways and roads where they are regarded as a menace to public safety and to property.

Under the constitution, the commissioners court points out, the court can levy only 15 cents road and bridge tax for the development of lateral roads. But the people can vote an additional 15 cents to augment this sum.

Improvement Demanded

Much improvement in the lateral road system of the county is necessary, county commissioners state, and increasing demands are being made upon the road and bridge fund. The situation indicates that a steady development in the agricultural sections of the county is taking place since the decline of the oil boom. This development is contingent upon the provision of good roads outside of the main traffic arteries, it is pointed out.

The additional tax will be spent for the farmers, drawing him in closer contact with the towns as well as providing him with thoroughfares which will make feasible the consolidation of his schools with the consequent economy and increased efficiency resulting from such consolidation.

Two boxes will be maintained in Cisco for the voters of this precinct. One will be in the K. P. hall over Cooper's cafe, where the voters of the east side of town may go, and the other at the city hall where the voters of the west side may ballot.

C. C. Clifton will be judge of the box at the old K. P. hall and Lee Owen judge at the city hall box.

At the same time citizens will vote upon amendments to the state constitution, one of which would raise the governor's salary from $4,000 to $10,000 annually and the other which would increase the supreme court from three to nine members, doing away with the commission of appeals.

DOTHAN 4-H CLUB PLANS PIE SUPPER

DOTHAN, July 13. — The Dothan 4-H club will give a pie supper Wednesday evening, July 17, for the purpose of defraying expenses of sending representatives to the short course to be held at A. & M. College the latter part of this month. Members of the Cisco chamber of commerce will be present to speak and to cooperate with the club members in every way possible. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The club members are taking great interest in these trips, although it has been difficult for some of the leading members to interest those who were falling behind in their work.

Dothan has been represented at the short course for four years in succession, having the first year six representatives, the past year three, and this year the club is planning to send two.

There were about 40 members in the club this year, most of whom were very enthusiastic and willing to work. The boys have done splendid work in terracing and also in livestock judging. The girls have been busy canning, sewing and cooking.

U. S. MACHINERY IN BRAZIL

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 13. — Brazil is importing more and more American machinery, importation in 1928 showing an increase of 15 per cent over that of the previous year, while British and German exportation of machinery to this country has decreased lately.

Additional Road Tax Essential to Larger Development of Rural Sections Say Leaders

Clyde L. Garrett, County Judge: The commissioners court is now and has been levying as much road and bridge tax as it can constitutionally do without a vote of the people. The law provides that upon a petition signed by 200 or more citizens asking the court to order an election to determine whether or not a 15-cent special road tax will be levied the court must order the election.

The petition presented to the court asking that such an election be called for Tuesday was signed by more than 200 citizens.

The proposition is not in any way in the form of warrants or bonds. It is collected just like other taxes.

The court had in mind apparently the improvement of lateral roads. There have been so many demands from the rural communities with the consolidation and classification of schools that with the present funds the court is absolutely unable to meet the needs and to improve these lateral roads like it wants to do.

This tax will solve that problem and will also aid the county materially in providing the additional right-of-way demanded by the state highway department in its improvement of present highways in the county.

This road tax, if voted can be dispensed with at the end of two years if it has served its purpose. For that reason it is not like a bond tax or warrants. If voted it will provide the county with between $40,000 and $45,000 annually for use on its roads.

Since the petition was presented the commissioners court and the election ordered new legislation has been passed at Austin which materially reduces the money heretofore secured by the county through automobile registration, which makes it all the more necessary that the tax be voted.

Ed S. Pritchard, ex-County Judge: The law authorizes qualified voters to vote a 15-cent road tax in addition to the constitutional road tax of 15 cents. Most of the counties in West Texas, 80 per cent of them, have already voted this additional tax, giving them 30 cents to spend on their roads.

The reason that I am for the additional tax in Eastland county is that all of the money will be spent at home, under the supervision of the commissioners court and because it will all be spent on lateral roads for the benefit of the farmers of the county. It is the farmer who is "making" Eastland county. He did not receive much benefit from the bond issue but he will receive full benefit of this money.

Since three-fourths of the tax will be paid by the corporations of the county I think it is especially to the benefit of the county that it is voted Tuesday.

Mayor J. M. Williamson: In the judgment of the commissioners court this additional road tax is necessary for the development and maintenance of lateral roads in the county. My viewpoint of a road tax is that the building of an adequate system of roads and its maintenance is a measure of economy rather than a burden because of the saving in wear and tear on vehicles and the saving of time in getting produce to market. These savings more than offset the cost of the development.

The leading farmers and business men of Cisco especially are trying to develop the dairy business. One essential is roads from every community to the market.

E. P. Crawford, President of the Chamber of Commerce: A 15-cent additional road tax will hasten the development of the dairy industry in Eastland county because the extra money will make it possible to provide a good system of lateral roads which are essential to the agricultural interests and particularly so the operation of stable cream and milk routes.

The increasing demands that are being made upon the road and bridge fund indicates that the rural sections of Eastland county are developing steadily. Unless good roads are provided and maintained this development will be impeded.

July 31 Is Last Date Upon Which Pupils Wishing to Transfer From One District to Another May Do So

July 31 is the last day during which pupils may transfer from one public school district to another, according to an official announcement by County School Superintendent Miss Beulah Speer.

A child in order to be eligible for transfer must have lawfully enumerated in the district from which it wishes to go. A child can be transferred only one time and the application for transfer must be in writing signed by the parent or guardian. The application must also state that it is the bona fide intention of the parent or guardian to send the child to the school to which the transfer is asked.

ONE OSTRICH DOESN'T HIDE HIS HEAD; HE HIDES HIS RUM

CADIZ, O., July 13. — When an ostrich is scared he hides his head, but when Andy Ostrich received his scare he hid his liquor.

A deputy sheriff searching for the booze found it under a slate pile at a coal mine. A shot had been fired at a ground hog accidentally hid one of the 50 gallon cans of the liquor.

Andy contended that since the liquor was found on the coal company's property he should not be held responsible. Unfortunately for Andy, the judge did not concur in his opinion, and emphasized his point with a $1,000 fine.

C. C. Directors to Meet Tuesday

The directors of the chamber of commerce will hold their regular meeting next Tuesday evening at the chamber of commerce offices.

This meeting was postponed from last Tuesday, the regular meeting date, because of the milk plant audit the army expenditures began to poke their noses into his books.

SPECIAL!!! MID-SUMMER PRICES $5.00

PERMANENT WAVES! For two weeks only, Mid-Summer Prices on Flat Marcel Waves and the Round Curl. Don't fail to get in on these prices.

PHONE 144.

ELITE BEAUTY SHOP

Find "It"

Beginning today and continuing every Sunday, until further notice, you will find $1.00 waiting to be picked up. Won't you oblige, and do it?

In today's paper—and every Sunday from now on—you will find this item:

"Will Miss or Mrs. call at BLANCHE'S and pick up $1.00 in merchandise? Thank you."

Names will be picked at random. Find your name, bring it to our store Monday, and pick out your dollar's worth in a Dress, Hat, Silk Undies or Hose.

Blanche's

"With a Guarantee That Counts"

Adjoining Postoffice.

W. T. U. ANNUAL PARTY HERE ON JULY 26 AND 27

Between 200 and 300 People to Attend Two-Day Event

The annual "picnic-party" of the West Texas Utilities company will be held at Lake Cisco July 26 and 27, it was announced Saturday by R. A. Williams, assistant manager of District B, the Cisco district, and general chairman of the arrangements for the outing.

Between 200 and 300 employees of districts A, Abilene; B, Cisco; C, Stamford; and D, Munday, as well as the superintendents of all districts of the company and the officials of the general office, will be here for the outing. Besides these there will be high officials of the Central Power & Light company, of Dallas.

Prepared for the outing, including boating, fishing, swimming, golfing, dancing and so forth. The visitors will encamp at the lake for the two days. One of the features will be a barbecue. Another will be a dance Friday evening at the lake pavilion.

In addition to the amusement program there will be a business meeting.

The program for the two-day event is:

District superintendents' meeting, 2:30 p. m. to 5 p. m., Friday; Safety League meeting, 7 p. m. to 9 p. m., Friday; Women's meeting, 10 a. m., Saturday; General Meeting, 11 a. m., Saturday; Barbecue at 1 p. m. and 7 p. m., Saturday; Dance, 9 p. m., Saturday.

Comanche Ships Cars of Peaches

COMANCHE, July 14. — The first shipment in car lots of Comanche peaches to go to northern markets was loaded today when the Alex Weldert Co. of Tyler began buying peaches here.

Arrangements were made with this firm last week for growers, wherein six cars of peaches were contracted.

It is thought by representatives of the firm that between 10 and 15 cars of Elberta peaches will be shipped from Comanche this season.

RADIO AGAINST SMUGGLERS

BELGRADE, July 13. — More effectively to cope with smugglers on the Adriatic coast radio will be installed on all coast guard cutters and patrol boats within the near future.

be a barbecue. Another will be a dance Friday evening at the lake pavilion.

In addition to the amusement program there will be a business meeting.

The program for the two-day event is:

District superintendents' meeting, 2:30 p. m. to 5 p. m., Friday; Safety League meeting, 7 p. m. to 9 p. m., Friday; Women's meeting, 10 a. m., Saturday; General Meeting, 11 a. m., Saturday; Barbecue at 1 p. m. and 7 p. m., Saturday; Dance, 9 p. m., Saturday.

Seeks Divorce

Eight months of married life with Robert Bow, father of Clara Bow, is enough for Tai Loraine Bow, screen actress and radio singer. She has announced she will seek a divorce in Los Angeles, giving "I'm 21 and he's more than 45" as sufficient explanation.

"Broadway Babies" was directed by Melvyn LeRoy and Charles DeLaney plays opposite Miss White. Marion Byren and Sally Eilers are seen as the other two hoofers, as Fred Kohler, Louis Natheau, Jocelyn Lee, Bodil Rosing, Tor Dusan and many others make up the supporting cast.

DOLLS FOR COVERLETS

PARIS, July 13. — Mothers as well as their babies must now have dolls if they are to be in fashion in France. The fad is to have beautifully dressed Spanish doll to place on the coverlet of the bed during the day time. Now baby Spanish dolls will do and a senorita at that, with a red rose behind her ear.

Theaters and Night Clubs in Pictures

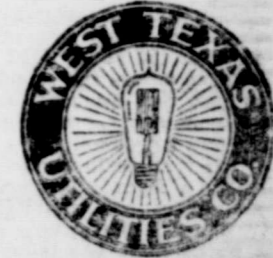

Alice White's singing, talking and dancing picture, "Broadway Babies," which will be shown at the Palace theater beginning today, is a story of Gay Broadway the swings from theaters to night club and into the dens of the racketeers along the Main Stem, while telling the story of three young "hoofers" who are fighting for recognition in the theatrical world of New York.

Large singing and dance choruses were drilled to the "pink" for this gala picture, and a huge cast—one of the largest in recent months—is seen in support of the star.

"Broadway Babies" was directed by Melvyn LeRoy and Charles DeLaney plays opposite Miss White. Marion Byren and Sally Eilers are seen as the other two hoofers, as Fred Kohler, Louis Natheau, Jocelyn Lee, Bodil Rosing, Tor Dusan and many others make up the supporting cast.

"Broadway Babies" is the theme song of the production, and other special musical numbers will be featured, including "Big, Big, Big," and "Wishing and Waiting for Love."

The Silent Salesman

EVERY department of this store is properly illuminated. . . . In the cheerful surroundings goods are easily sold, pleasant clerks work with ease and help patrons select merchandise while proper illumination brings out the true values.

—Abundant lights act as Silent Salesmen. . . . Are they in YOUR store? Our illumination engineer can perhaps suggest some ways in which your lighting can be bettered. . . . When that is done your business will increase.

West Texas Utilities Company

RIVAL WIVES

© 1929 NEA SERVICE INC.

By Anne Austin
Author of
"The Black Pigeon"

Lost! Nan stared at the word. How sore his heart must be! He had counted on winning this case. Lost. Not very many times in his career as a criminal lawyer had John Curtis Morgan been forced to make that confession. Through her tears, Nan saw the very letters of the word grow giant in size. Lost. It was like a cry from her heart to his—not, "I've lost," but "I am lost." Would he not be "lost" indeed, when he came home to find Iris almost in his very house—only the width of a street between her and him? A magnet drawing, drawing, until he was lost indeed.

Nan closed her eyes for a moment, then looked at the message again. "Please meet me." Suddenly exultation swelled in her heart. He wanted her; he needed her. He was sad and discouraged, and he was crying out to her for comfort.

When she met him at the train, his effort to be casual and philosophical over his defeat made Nan want to press his head against her breast and murmur broken little words of love and comfort.

"Well, Nan—that's that," he said, his mouth quivering downward in the smile she knew so well. But there was no smile in his deep-set blue eyes. "Guess we were about due for a tumble. Morgan & Morgan were getting too cocky. But we mustn't slip up on the Blackhull case."

Because there was so much that must be said, and which she could not yet bring herself to utter, Nan was unusually silent on the drive homeward. Morgan, glad to let her have the wheel, relaxed against the cushions and closed his eyes, but not once did he take his arm from about her shoulders.

"Here we are, dear," Nan said, when they were turning into their own driveway. "Sorry to disturb you."

"I was almost asleep," he admitted, as he sprang out to open the garage doors for her.

Two or three minutes later, as they walked arm and arm along the driveway to the front of the house, Morgan exclaimed:

"Well, well! I see the Fanner cottage has been rented. Who are our new neighbors, Nan?"

Nan couldn't tell him—not tonight, when he was so tired and sad. While she was still struggling for words—any words rather than the truth, the necessity for answering was taken out of her hands. For the porch light of the little house across the street came on at just that moment, and out of the door stepped two figures—a man and a woman. Nan recognized the man instantly as Rufus Hubbard, a divorce lawyer.

The woman, of course, was Iris Morgan. Beneath the unusually brilliant porch light her beauty, enhanced by a formal evening gown, was a breath-taking revelation.

Morgan stopped still and stared. Nan felt his arm contract and harden until her own hand, tucked within it, was almost crushed by the pressure. He did not move or speak until Iris had called a gay good-night to her caller and vanished within the house. When Rufus Hubbard's jaunty stride had carried him to the sidewalk, the light flashed off. Then slowly, heavily, Morgan ascended the steps of his own house.

Iris' name was not mentioned between Nan and her husband that night, but it was a man with sick eyes and deep, new lines in his haggard face that the girl kissed her good-night just outside her own bedroom door.

win this fight by running away from it." And it was what her eyes said that he answered. "Thank you, Nan." Then, not looking at her: "I have given my permission, Nan. Goodbye, dear, and—don't worry." During the week that followed Nan had many occasions to recall his futile advice, "Don't worry." And every time she remembered, her lips twisted in that set, cynical, bitter smile that set so oddly upon their young softness.

CHAPTER XLV
Looking back upon that hideous week, Nan Morgan realized that it was the Blackhull case which made it possible for her to endure the miseries which Iris Morgan inflicted upon her. Hours spent in the office were not so bad, were even almost happy ones, for she was serving the man she loved as no one else could serve him.

There Iris as a rival ceased almost to exist for the man as well as for the second wife. From 10 to five, whether Morgan was in the courtroom or at his desk, the junior and senior partner of the firm of Morgan & Morgan were united by bonds so strong that it seemed absurd that a red-haired, green-eyed woman who cared nothing for the career of the man she had been married to and deserted could dissolve them.

But the longest, most intensely exciting work day inevitably came to an end, and the two who had been one in work had to return to their home and become two tragically divided creatures.

Not that Morgan did not try. His efforts to play the role of devoted husband were even more painful to Nan than the spells of black depression to which he invariably succumbed before the terrible evening was over. The breakfast and dinner hours were the hardest of the day, for it was then that the alarming change in Curtis was most obvious. The child whom Nan in less than a year had transformed into a cheerful, sturdy little boy, reverted with the suddenness of black magic to the whining, obstreperous, sickly Curtis he had been under his mother's care.

Nan knew, and was fiercely wretched that she could not say so to the father, that Iris was deliberately using the child as one of her most powerful weapons in her fight against her successor. She knew, and did not see how Morgan could fail to see, that the child was acting under orders from the woman across the street when he petulantly refused to eat the wholesome vegetables set before him, when he said bitter, ugly, unchildish things to the girl who had been more than a mother to him; when he dragged in his real mother's name at least three times during every meal; when he asked precocious, searching questions as to why his own mother could not come home again to live and be with him nights, as well as afternoons.

"If you don't eat what Nan tells you to, and speak to her with courtesy, you will have to leave the table and go right to bed," was a remark which the harassed, tragic-eyed father was forced to make at least once during every dinner that was served in that miserable home.

"Won't eat spinach! Hate it! Won't drink milk, neither!" Curtis would scream, his pale face going livid with rage. "Won't be nice to Nan! Hate her! She won't let my mother come home!" And Nan, white-lipped nauseated, would have to sit wordless before her own scarcely touched plate and witness the dreadful finale: Curtis' banishment to his own room, howling, kicking.

"Perhaps, under the circumstances, a private school WOULD be better," Morgan said somberly after his return to the table from one such scene.

"Does his mother wish it?" Nan asked coldly.

Quietly, she gave the necessary instructions to Estelle, cut short the maid's sullen protest at being called upon to "wait on that woman," and left for the office in her own car. At one o'clock, just as Nan was leaving for a lonely lunch, since Morgan was staying at the courthouse, Estelle telephoned.

"That woman ain't no more crippled than I am, Mrs. Morgan!" Estelle reported indignantly. "She was dancing to the phonograph all by herself, and because the music was loud she didn't hear me knock, and I—"

"All right, Estelle!" Nan interrupted crisply. "Anything else hard it is for you, darling. Now kiss Nan, and go to sleep."

At dinner that evening Curtis remarked, in the sullen, belligerent voice he had adopted since his mother's return: "Mother's ankle is awful bad. She said she wished you'd come over and stay with her this evening, father. She said she knew you wouldn't, but she wished you would."

"I'm sorry, son, but I'm afraid I can't," Morgan answered gently. "You see, I've got a terrible important case on in court, and I've got to work all evening."

"Looks like mother would be more important than any old case," Curtis protested with sullen vehemence. "She said you wouldn't come, 'cause Nan would not let you—not even if she was dying, she said—"

"Curtis!" "Can't I even say what mother told me to say?" Curtis burst into tears.

"You have delivered your mother's message," Morgan retorted sternly. "Now stop blubbering and eat your dinner."

"Don't want any dinner!" Curtis sobbed. "Not hungry! Sides, I feel sick."

"What did you eat this afternoon, Curtis?" Nan asked quietly.

"Didn't eat nothing but some caviar sandwiches, in some mango pickle," Morgan retorted. "I kicked off his guard. Then he glared at Nan. 'Who wants to know? It's none of YOUR business! I didn't eat nothing—anything, I mean.'"

Almost before the bulb shattered, Morgan was on his way. Nan watched, with curious detachment, as she saw her husband kneel and gather his divorced wife into his arms; watched as he kicked the front door wide and disappeared into the house with his burden. Then, very deliberately, she turned and re-entered her own house, even to ally gossip in the neighborhood could she force herself to cross the street and enter that other house. If Iris was badly hurt and needed more help than her husband could give her, let him telephone for a doctor or a nurse. If the tumble from the ladder had been just a clever bit of acting, and Iris was not really hurt, certainly her—Nan's—interference was the last thing Iris desired.

It was half an hour before Morgan returned, and because it was then almost time for court to open he was in too great a hurry to give Nan more than a few words of explanation.

"She's twisted her ankle—rather badly, I'm afraid, but she wouldn't let me call Dr. Black. I bathed it in hot water, and then bandaged it tightly with liniment. You might send Estelle over with a luncheon tray, dear. Curtis will be there to do little things for her this afternoon. . . . Now I've got to make a dash for the courthouse."

When he had gone, Nan wondered if he had emphasized his need for hurry to excuse his not kissing her goodby.

"Here! Don't try to lift him!" Morgan commanded. "I'll carry him upstairs."

"Want Nan," the child whimpered.

After he had been very sick indeed, with Nan holding his head over the bathroom basin, Curtis weakly urged his father out of the room.

"Want Nan," he repeated. "Want Nan all by herself." When he had his wish, Curtis hid his clammy pale little face against the girl's breast and whispered gaspingly: "I—don't hate you, Nan. Honest—I don't! I'm awful mean—"

"No, no!" Nan soothed him, tears gushing out of her eyes.

"You're just ill, darling—" "No, I'm mean!" Curtis insisted. "Do you hate me, Nan? Do you?"

"No, I love you!" Nan cried fiercely. "But, darling, don't fret now—"

"It's awful to have two mothers," Curtis sobbed on. "And I thought it would be swell, before—before mother came back. Two oughta be twice as good as one, and I guess it would be that way if they didn't hate each other—I don't WANT to be mean to you, Nan, but—"

"I know, I understand just how hard it is for you, darling. Now kiss Nan, and go to sleep."

At midnight the next night her despairing question was answered, in a way, for borne in on the wings of tragedy, Iris Morgan returned to the home she had deserted a year before.

Not realizing that she was already far too late, Nan went directly to her husband where he was at work in the library, his desk cluttered with notes and transcripts of testimony on the Blackhull case. The prosecution had rested at four o'clock, Morgan was to open the defense of David Blackhull, charged with the murder of his father, the next morning—Wednesday.

But it was not the Blackhull case of which Nan had to speak. "John," she said, in a deceptively calm voice, "I think you had better go across the street to see Iris tonight."

The man's startled eyes searched her tightly composed face. "I'm very busy, dear, but certainly I'll go—for a few minutes—if you really wish it. Naturally it distresses me to think of her alone over there, crippled—"

"I'm not thinking of her," Nan interrupted coldly. "I'm thinking of Curtis. I can do nothing. You must realize how my hands are tied." Her voice trembled slightly as she made this first reference to the incredible situation in which Iris had placed her. Then she went on, calmly again: "But I love Curtis—very dearly. I can't stand by and see his health ruined. I want you to exact a promise from Iris not to give him a bite of anything to eat. Otherwise, John, Curtis' visits to his mother MUST be stopped, or—"

The man's face went even paler, more haggard than it had been, under his wife's intense seriousness. Slowly he raised a trembling hand and passed it over his eyes, then he nodded slowly. "You're right, of course. . . . I'll go at once. And thank you, Nan, for having the courage to—"

He broke off abruptly, kissed her awkwardly but tenderly, and turned sharply away.

He was gone less than half an hour. The first thing that Nan's questioning eyes noted was a smudge of white powder on the left lapel of his dark-blue flannel coat.

"Iris—it will be all right, dear," he said with assumed cheerfulness. "Now, are you too tired to go over a few points of the Blackhull defense with me?"

"Of course not," Nan answered. "Did she promise unconditionally, John?" At his stiff nod, she laid an apologetic little hand upon his "I don't mean to pry, dear, but—I'm dreadfully worried. I hope—it isn't too late."

The next morning her terror of the night before seemed a little absurd. Curtis ate a hearty breakfast, and looked almost normal. Later Nan was to reproach herself bitterly for not having suspected the truth. But she says him off to school, almost light-hearted because of the fervor of his goodby hug and kiss. If she had salvaged Curtis' love out of the wreckage, all was not lost.

Whether it was because he was pathetically determined to please Nan or whether he really had an appetite for his dinner that night, Nan never knew, but he ate his vegetables and stewed fruit, drank his milk, and chattered happily, in apparently the best of health and spirits.

Morgan was gravely elated over the re-establishment of an entente cordiale between himself and his son and his wife and his son. It was a jolly, almost boisterous hour, one which Nan was later to try to live again in memory.

There was even a game of anagrams after dinner, in spite of the fact that Morgan was avid to be at his desk. A dozen times later, Morgan groaned, in agony: "Thank God I played that game with him. If I had to remember now that I refused—"

But it was Nan who remembered, with a shudder, that Curtis had triumphantly "stolen" the word, head, with the letter, making it death.

After she had put the child to bed, she returned to her husband, with a worried frown. "His cheeks felt awfully hot, John. Maybe I ought to call Dr. Black—"

"Nonsense!" Morgan retorted. "He just got too excited over winning three games in succession. He's sharp as a razor, isn't he, Nan?"

"He's—wonderful!" Nan agreed with a catch in her voice. "You'll be very proud of Curtis some day."

John." "Morgan, Morgan & Morgan, eh?" the lawyer chuckled, his deep-set black eyes very soft. "But in the meantime, Morgan & Morgan had betted do the best they can for David Blackhull. Now—what do you think? Would you advise putting old Edgars on the stand first thing tomorrow morning? I did not cross-examine him when Brainerd was using him, you know; didn't want to spill the beans prematurely and give the lovely widow, Nina Blackhull, too much warning as to which way the cat will jump."

(To Be Continued)

It keeps your food safe — the temperature is well below 50...always!

For family health... for appealing menus... this is vital

In the General Electric Refrigerator the temperature is kept several degrees below fifty... always! Fifty degrees is accepted by scientists as the "danger point" in the preservation of food. When the temperature rises even a degree or two above that, bacteria multiply, foods become unsafe to eat.

Perhaps you think your own refrigerator is always "cold enough." You cannot be sure unless you actually take your refrigerator's temperature. It is constant cold which is needed.

Countless superiorities give the General Electric Refrigerator its outstanding position... a hermetically sealed, dust-proof mechanism, mounted on top... an accessible temperature control... a new standard of quiet operation... no oiling... no troublesome machinery... simplified installation... no radio interference... an unqualified two-year service guarantee.

The new all-steel cabinets and the hermetically sealed mechanism combine to produce what we believe is the finest refrigerator ever made. More than a quarter of a million homes are enjoying the convenience, economy and health-guarding services of the General Electric Refrigerator. And not one of these owners has ever paid a dollar for repairs or service! This is a record in the industry.

The new all-steel General Electric Refrigerators are priced as low as $215 at the factory. A small payment down places one in your home. Visit our display rooms—see the new models—you'll agree that they offer the greatest values of all.

GENERAL ELECTRIC ALL-STEEL REFRIGERATOR
FORD-GREEN MUSIC CO.
OPEN EVENINGS.

SOUTHWESTERN MOTOR CO.

Storage Washing Greasing Gasoline Oils Wrecking Service Mechanical Service

FIRESTONE

Tires and Tubes.

Phone 487. Corner Ninth at Main.

TULLOCH BROS.

Dyers and Cleaners

Statham's

It is a great comfort to feel that the sick ones at home are getting the best attention that can be given them so that they may soon be well again.

That is the assurance you have when your dependable physician has written that prescription which if properly compounded will soon have them on the way to recovery.

Our prescription department is under the supervision of a registered pharmacist who insists on using only the purest of drugs. We are dependable.

Statham's DRUGS.

WEST TEXAS COACHES

Serving West Texas

MORE MILES FOR YOUR DOLLAR

When you travel by motorcoach, frequent schedules make this the most convenient as well as the cheapest way to go. Seven schedules west, seven east, five south, five north.

Station Phone 500.

Lower Rates Everywhere
Fort Worth	$3.50
Dallas	$4.40
Abilene	$1.50
San Angelo	$4.20
Los Angeles	$32.30

Linen and Nurotex Suits

$1—Laundered and Pressed—$1

Bring us your summer wash suits. Washed, cleaned and pressed, all ready to wear for

$1.00

Have you tried our Family Wash?

Phone 138.

CISCO STEAM LAUNDRY

Repair Service

"Careful Personal Attention"

Let Us Recondition Your Car for Your Summer Vacation

We are equipped to put it in perfect mechanical condition at reasonable prices.

Our Work Is Guaranteed

ACROSS FROM LAGUNA

LEE MOTOR COMPANY

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR VEHICLES
DODGE BROTHERS TRUCKS
CISCO, TEXAS

MAN AT HIS BEST AT 60 SAYS ARTIST

NEW YORK, July 13.—In challenging contradiction to the widely prevalent theory that a man begins to lose his usefulness at the age of George Luks, the famous painter, asserts that a man is at his best at 60 in the August issue of the Red Book Magazine. Mr. Luks, who has passed his sixtieth birthday, declares a man of that age is far more efficient, useful and valuable than a man of 30, in so-called prime. Having weathered the "reefs and whirlpools" of youth, having learned to deal with the problems of life and mastered the tools of his business or craft, he is at 60, if healthy and sound, ready and ripe to put forth what is his mature and worth while. Youth, which is today predominantly in the foreground and whose exertions and accomplishments it is become popular to glorify, is overrated, according to Mr. Luks. Youth, he says, is a period of blundering mistakes, of experiment and folly, and the outcome is always uncertain. Too many influences destroy the power and sense of youth, and often carry admittance from real accomplishment, against the sporadic achievements, "child geniuses" and "child prodigies," whose intellectual bloom is in the hands of an old man, and all art that is solid and enduring is done by those who have struggled for a lifetime to acquire technique. To retire in middle life is an indication of "sordid mediocrity." Only then a new youth begins, says Mr. Luks. Thinks of Life "On his sixtieth birthday, as I understand it, a man ought to think of his approaching end," writes Mr. Luks. "Is that not the acceptance of the insurance salesman and the heartless young?" In theory they may be right, in practice never. The man of 60 thinks of life, and he thinks of it more affectionately and objectively than ever. Turned threescore, he has arrived at his prime usefulness to the world. At last he is free to think high and accomplish nobly. Unless disease or innate frailty have wrecked him, his precious powers are at their full. He is ready to bring forth something of value. He understands this; others do not. He has lived long enough, too, to realize the folly of thinking about death. "Not long ago, when I happened to reach 60, I was rash enough to assure some friends that a man of that age is worth a great deal more than he was at 30. Now, I realize that to make such an assertion is to fly into the face of all authority, to mock the economist and to outrage the statistic. Still, I maintain my ground. "Why is a creative man worth more at 60 than at 30, more valuable near the end of his life than at the so-called prime? Primarily, because a young man is still too great a gambler. He may never live to maturity. Too many accidents may befall him, too many influences destroy his powers, too many cross-currents carry him out of the stream of accomplishment. Passed Reefs "At 60, on the other hand, a man has passed most of the reefs and whirlpools. Excepting only death, he has no enemies left to meet. If he has not been idle in the intervening years and if he has arrived in moderate possession of his health and activity, he can be depended on to put forth some mature and worth while. He has had time to master his craft, time to correct and live down his blunders, some lustrums in which to take a few calm peeps at life and learn some of its secrets. He is, at last, a grown man. "Most of us have the idea that a man's education ought to be completed when he is about 20. As a matter of fact, in all the more difficult callings, those in which sheer luck and low cunning are of least importance, and knowledge, power and experience of the greatest, man is just out of school at 60. "For myself I consider only the two ends of life worth while—childhood and old age. At the beginning of life alone are we certain of joy, and at the termination alone are we certain of ourselves. Both the ends of life are troubled by a noble curiosity. "There is only one way to be an artist or to produce an enduring work of art and that is by long, constant, unflinching and heart-breaking toil. Compared to this toil the work of the galley slave or the worry and anxiety of the man of finance is child's play. It must go on not for weeks or months, but for years—for a whole lifetime, in and out of hours, without holidays and without respite. That is the reason of reasons for saying that one is a better man at 60 than at 30. At 60 one has had time to acquire the technique. "When a man reaches 50 or 60 and feels that he has at least mastered his medium and learned to use his tools, that man has awakened to a new youth, a new love. He is at the beginning of things again. Ergo, he is still young."

AIMEE ENTERS "TALKIE" FIELD FOR PICTURES

HOLLYWOOD, July 13.—Aimee Semple McPherson, the world's best known woman evangelist, has decided to get into the motion picture talkie swim. The famous proprietor of Angelus temple has no intention, however, of entering into competition with the wizards of the film colony. She plans to have screens placed in series of talkie films which will carry her sermons and the pageantry surrounding them to the various branches of her Four Square Gospel. Through the use of talking films she believes she can extend her influence and increase the attendance in the 800 churches which acknowledge her as leader. She plans to have screens placed in all the branches and to have her own texts become a weekly feature in all the organizations affiliated with the mother church, Angelus Temple. On the face of it her talkie experiment should accomplish its every object. Those who have observed her generally have agreed that Mrs. McPherson's personal magnetism is largely responsible for the growth of her entire religious system. Presuming that to be true, Mrs.

McPherson in talkies should be able to jam her branch churches even as she regularly fills her 5,000 capacity Angelus Temple. The idea of having Mrs. McPherson in pictures is not a new one at all. Since the time she returned from the desert with her story of the miracle of her escape from Rosie and Steve, the kidnapers, she has been sought after by Hollywood's producers. All of them have wanted to get Mrs. McPherson's personality and her box office appeal into pictures. In each instance, however, the producers wished to present her as the evangelist in a regular motion picture story while Mrs. McPherson asked that her Four Square Gospel be made the subject of the film. Just as the idea of appearing in a worldly picture never could draw Mrs. McPherson to the klieg, the idea of trying to make a long Broadway run of one of her sermons never appealed to the producers. The screen colony's technicians, cameramen and the like will be utilized by Mrs. McPherson in her talkies. No doubt she herself will do the directing. VICTORIAN MODESTY BACK: BUT ONLY IN FURNITURE LONDON, July 13.—Victorian modesty is having a rebirth in London with the result that table legs again are being draped and the "bare" sides of upright pianos hung with silk. Footstools, pin-cushions and even portieres figure in the renaissance. Victorian jewelry also is being revived, due largely to American girls, who are buying early Victorian brooches and stomachers and having them reset as pendant earrings. Furniture drapes are chosen to harmonize with the color scheme of each room. Only the smallest stumps of table legs are permitted to show beneath their silk or muslin trousers.

TOO MANY GATE CRASHERS RUINOUS TO LEGION RODIO ALLIANCE, Neb., July 13.—Too many One-Eyed Connellys caused the Panhandle Stampede, famous rodeo, to be a financial failure this year, an audit of the show sponsored by the American Legion, revealed. Although the crowds were larger this year than ever before, so many of the spectators sifted into the grounds through the fences, stables and stock gates that the usual amount of receipts was not collected. The night pageant, a beautiful spectacle, was also a financial loss on account of cold nights and wind. Convicted for the 91st time for fighting, Mrs. Mary Walsh of Liverpool maintained that she was "a lady." Seven young women recently sailed from Liverpool to Canada to conduct mission Sunday schools.

AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE

Doesn't heal broken bones or grow new skin, but it will pay for car repair, replace damaged property and protect you from damage suits by injured parties.

No one who can afford a car can afford to be without protection.

We write all kinds of insurance.

E. P. CRAWFORD

PEOPLE'S ICE COMPANY

"HOME GROWN WATERMELONS"

Phone 185.

Cor. Sixth St. at E Avenue.

MOM'N POP.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS.

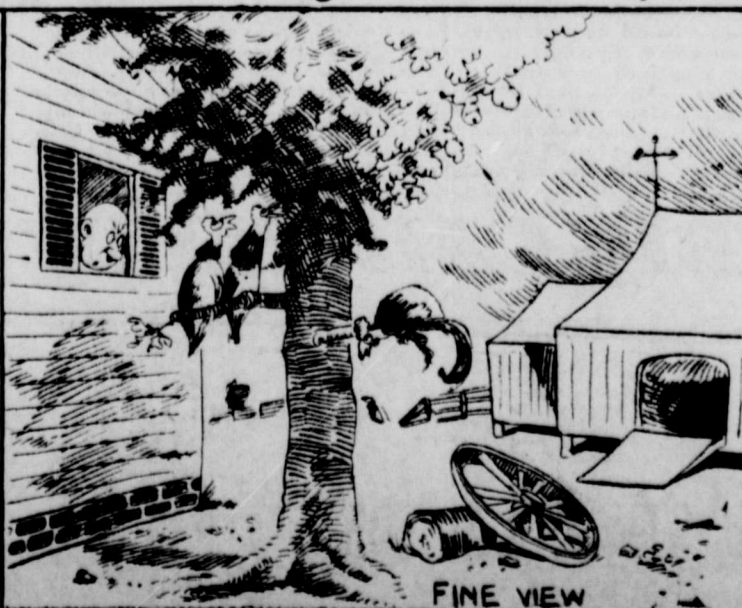

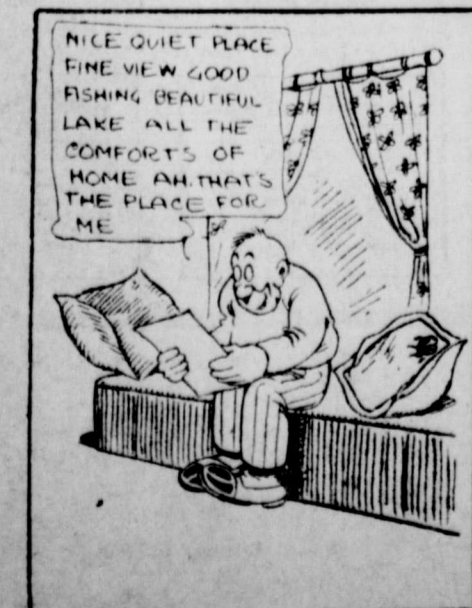

HITT AND RUNN—It Looks as Though Bull Will Fulfill His Prediction of Death by Slow Starvation!

BY HITT

DO YOU KNOW WHY --- Things Are Not What They Seem?

Drawn for this paper By Fisher

"Drake Estate in England for Which Heirs Are Being Sought in U. S. Is Found Absurd Claim"

By HARRY L. PERCY
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 13.—The "Drake Estate," said to be worth sums ranging from $66,000,000 to $330,000,000 is a myth. Attempts to interest Americans in claiming them are fraudulent, records were indicate.

There are no crown jewels, loot of raids on the Spanish Main and valued at more than a million dollars. There is no such sum as $18,000,000 lying hidden in the vaults of the Bank of England. There is no Drake castle in Devonshire. In fact, there is no Drake property anywhere which trusting claimants can claim.

These are the conclusions drawn by the United Press correspondent after extensive search through dusty old files and records dating back many years. Enquiries after the Drake estate among lawyers, realtors, and at banks were ridiculed and met by the unanimous answer: "There is no such thing."

So far as can be ascertained from history, Sir Francis Drake, English sea-dog, quasi-pirate, and hero of the Spanish Armada's defeat, married twice. There were no children of either marriage and what little money Drake had after paying for his numerous expeditions and raids was left to his wife and brother. It amounted to a scant $200,000.

Hartzell Enters the Picture
Yet how a mysterious individual called Oscar Hartzell, said to be living in London, out of whom no trace can be found, claims that he has found the true heir of the so-called Drake estate.

Hartzell says he is representing Col. Dexter Drake, who, because he is rich enough already, has given Hartzell title to the estate. Hartzell claims that the estate is worth $22,500,000,000 and that after it is paid Americans, particularly citizens of southern Minnesota and northern Iowa, where many descendants of Drake are said to be living, who have "donated" to a fund to pay expenses of settlement, will be paid as high as $7,000 for every $1 "donated."

Authorities and experts in this country declare that Hartzell's scheme is just a revival of the "Drake Millions" fraud in which American interest was first stimulated. It is believed, in 1902, and which has bobbed up at intervals ever since.

According to newspaper records of 1902, William R. Angell of Geneva, N. Y., came to England in that year and engaged in historical and archaeological investigation at the British museum.

He returned to America, and by May of the same year wrote an article tracing the descent of the Sir Francis Drake then living from the Armada admiral and also his descent from the twelfth century.

Many Affidavits Filed
The article said that if there are in America those who can prove they descended from John, William or Joseph Drake, they as representatives, would have the right to the property held by the present possessor.

The article was not printed in any magazine, but was sent out in proof sheets to many parts of America where descendants of Drake and distant relatives of those descendants were known to have emigrated.

As a result 146 people in America acknowledged descent from Drake and at the instance of one Elisha Clark Corey filed affidavits of their claims. The next thing they heard was an application for dollars contained in the following curiously worded circular sent by Corey:

London, 18 July.—To all whom it may concern: I hereby certify that I have this 18th day of July turned over to Mr. —, solicitor-at-law, all papers and documents, and placed on file in his office 146 affidavits as you and each of you as claimants.

I will now say that you and each of you sent to him $5 each, which I have agreed to pay him, the sum of $750 for to be used in getting the copies of all the wills, so he may be able to bring this to a suit. I will have to pay the sum of $75 for the printing of the pedigree as it is drawn. It will take as least 60 days after Mr. — receives his $250 to get all the proofs and everything in shape before he can make an acknowledgment of the claim.

I furthermore say to all and each of you that Mr. — and his experts can carry this claim successfully through. All correspondence hereafter from each of you is to pass through his hands.

This was accompanied by another circular purporting to come from the English lawyer mentioned in Corey's letter, which read: "To all whom it may concern: I hereby certify that Elisha Clark Corey, your agent in the Drake estate investigation, has placed on file in my office 146 affidavits and I understand from him that you and each of you as claimants have agreed with me to pay him the sum of $250 for searching for and obtaining copies of wills and other documents, so that I may be able to investigate the affair with a view of commencing proceedings to prove your claim; and I hereby certify that it will take me at least two months to get the wills and other documents, and on payment of the $250 I will at once commence the necessary investigation."

Queries Flood Embassy
So far as is known only $90 was sent to England, at that time, and the promised investigations, either through lack of finance, or other reasons, were delayed and delayed, until finally they mysteriously ceased altogether. Meanwhile Americans bombarded their London representatives for information on the matter. One American lawyer wrote: "There are a large number of Americans, I believe, who are receiving these circulars from Mr. —, together with one signed by E. C. Corey. Any information will be of great value to probably 2,000 to 3,000 American citizens, and may lead to the unearthing of a scheme to fleece them."

The United States embassy in London was also flooded with requests for information. So much so that a circular letter was drawn up for distribution among these anxious inquirers. Finally stating that "there are no large unclaimed estates in Great Britain," this circular continued: "Advertising agencies have no official sanction, are grossly fraudulent—and later, after many years of successful imposition and the plunder of American citizens the promoters of the 'Townley estate' fraud have been sent to goal—where those of the 'Hyde' and other estates may follow them."

You are earnestly warned against all such advertisements relating to alleged estates in England, and are advised to remit no money to such advertisers. This printed circular is made necessary by reason of the great number of enquiries similar to your own, asking information as to mythical inheritance and estates.

Makes Wine

Even in Maine, a state that has been dry for 75 years, there are people who like their wine. And Arthur M. Gould, Jr., above, United States senator, is one of them. A St. Louis grape juice company, as an exhibit in a law suit offered a letter from Gould in which he admitted having obtained "some very fair results" with their products in making wines and beers would be a great improvement over the present prohibition law," Senator Gould says.

EXPORT TRADE UP.

NEW YORK, July 13.—American exports will be close to $3,400,000,000 this year for the fiscal year 1928-29, the highest since 1920, according to the estimate of the National Foreign Trade Council. This means that at the dollar value of 1913 we are shipping more than 40 per cent more goods abroad than before the war. The export balance will be close to a billion dollars or about one-third larger than for the average of the past five years.

Miss Edith Morris of Belfast was sent to prison on a charge of embezzlement a few hours after her wedding.

Elaborate Organization

According to information gathered by the French police, the swindlers' organization was extremely elaborate. In the first place, a stiff sum was charged for the provision of a false passport. After the laborer, dreaming of his golden future had sold up his home and embarked on the train journey to France, a second accomplice got in touch with him and took more money from the victim by pointing out errors in the passport and "rectifying" them.

Those who succeeded in passing the frontier with their faked identity cards found themselves confronted with still another of the gang at the Gare St. Lazare, the Paris rail terminal. He gave service by conducting the immigrants to a colony where they would be beside compatriots and incidentally he took his cut out of the victim's dwindling hoard.

The work of the swindlers is believed to have embraced at least six countries, from all of which come reports of complaint being made to the police by poor workmen whom the gang have robbed. The investigations in France are now in the hands of M. Balmadier, Commissioner of the Mobile Brigade, assisted by inspectors March and Beuf, who are hopeful of laying hands soon on the swindlers.

Walter Cowley of Keighley, Eng., kissed a young woman three times without her consent and was fined $500.

CHANNEL TUBE IS BASIS FOR NEW SWINDLE

PARIS, July 13.—The gangs of international criminals who roam and comb the countries of Europe year in and year out are nothing if not ingenious.

Moreover, they believe in keeping abreast of the times, as shown by the very latest wholesale swindle which is occupying the attention of the French Scotland Yard and the police of several other countries. They are seeking a gang who have made a small fortune out of something which does not exist—the Channel Tunnel.

Suspicious were aroused after a number of recent round-ups of foreigners in the streets of Paris. Among the arrested in various parts of the city were 40 laborers from Central Europe all possessing forged identity cards which seemed to be the work of one person. Interrogated at police headquarters, the men replied: "We came to work on the channel tunnel!"

But there was no work on the channel tunnel, said the police. "Yes," responded the unhappy immigrants, "but we didn't know that when we paid our money."

Then the plot was unfolded. A band of well-dressed crooks set out on a mission to various continental countries to recruit dupes and dollars. Working the agricultural and industrial districts, they found their plausible yarn readily accepted. They graphically told of the great work which had begun in France on the biggest engineering job of the age—the construction of the channel tunnel. Labor was short. There were millionaires to be made. Why not emigrate? As agents for the contractors, they could give labor contracts.

According to information gathered by the French police, the swindlers' organization was extremely elaborate. In the first

Cross Plains Plans Vocational Teacher

CROSS PLAINS, July 13.—The Lions club made plans at their regular meeting Tuesday by which it is hoped, through the cooperation of the local school board, vocational agriculture may be added to the high school curriculum next year. If it is possible to add this work next year it will mean much to the community, agricultural interests.

According to the proposed plan, the vocational agriculture teacher will spend the morning at the high school with his classes, and the afternoon with the rural people of this section, showing them how and helping them to cull their poultry, terrace their land, and other things that go with successful farming.

SPEECH RESTORED.
BOSTON, July 13.—Shots which ended the life of Fred M. Urquhart, murder victim, restored the power of speech to 12-year-old Theresa Gallagher. The girl, who had been mute for four months following an illness, regained her voice during the excitement attending the murder, which was committed in the house where she lives.

MORE PILOTS THAN PLANES. CHICAGO, July 13.—California has more licensed pilots than it has airplanes, according to a report just published by the American Air Transport association, which shows that while native sons own planes, 1,129 have passed the government tests and may pilot craft.

Try a Daily News classified

Featuring! American Watches
New Smartness in Wrist Watches
American Made

AMERICAN watchmakers have just given to the world of fashion a new note in style... To see these new watch creations—to try them on—is a thrilling experience. Dainty wrist watches so thin and shapely they appear more like beautiful jewels. Yet inside is the sturdy accuracy which has made American timepieces a "watchword" throughout the world. Done in platinum, white gold and green gold, many set with gems. We invite you to see this display, of which every American should be proud. Even these newest styles are available at a convenient range of prices.

Our expert watch repairmen can give you quick guaranteed service

Dean Drug and Jewelry Co. HAS IT!

I WAS JUST WONDERING

If I could have anything done with this little old half faded out picture, which means so much to me. If it was only larger and plainer.

Every day we have just such pictures come to our studio, and when we have made the copy and finished print they are agreeably surprised. We are equipped, and make a specialty of this work.

Walton's Studio Art & Gift Shop

"Portraits That Please." Border Kofak Finishing.

He Who Knows

And knows that he knows, is wise. You know that you will get service, accuracy and full value in buying your drug store needs from

RED FRONT DRUG STORE

The Friendly Drug Store. Phone 2.

CONDITION APPEARANCE PRICE

The condition of our Used Cars is good. If they are not good we recondition them. Be assured that you will not find junk in our stock of O. K. Used cars. For the quality you get, the price is comparatively the lowest possible.

VACATION SPECIALS REDUCED PRICES

Have your railroad fare invested in Transportation on return from your vacation. Visit our used car showrooms for bargains.

Our cars have been reconditioned to stand the strain of thousands of miles of service. Refinished in attractive colors with genuine Du Pont Duco.

You will find the car you have been looking for, if not, we will get it for you.

It will pay you to buy your used car from a Dependable Authorized Dealer. One of our Used Cars is now on display in our New Car Showroom, come in and look it over.

SPANN CHEVROLET CO., INC.

PONTIAC BIG 6

PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

OUTPERFORMS ALL OTHER LOW-PRICED SIXES

The Pontiac Big Six is the fastest, snappiest, most powerful six of its price in America. The "fifth wheel," the most accurate speed measuring device known to automotive engineers, has proved that Pontiac has the highest top speed and the fastest acceleration available in any low-priced six. As for power, Pontiac is the most powerful of all low-priced sixes, a fact which can be proved by the dynamometer, a scientist's measuring stick for brake horsepower.

TRY TO MATCH THESE BIG CAR FEATURES OFFERED AT NO INCREASE IN PRICE—

- BIG CAR ENGINE
The largest power plant used in any low-priced six. 200 cu. in. piston displacement. 60 brake horsepower at 3,000 r. p. m. The G-M-R cylinder head for high compression performance with ordinary gasoline.
- BIG CAR FUEL FEED
Latest type mechanical gasoline pump and filter, first introduced by Oakland, in place of the ordinary vacuum tank. Positive under all conditions. Eliminates "starving" on long hills or hard pulls of any kind.
- BIG CAR LUBRICATING SYSTEM
A lubricating system without equal in the low-priced field. Adjustable pressure feed lubrication to all main bearings and connecting rod bearings. Pressure-vacuum ventilation of the crankcase to maintain the quality of the oil.
- BIG CAR BRAKES
The finest and the costliest brakes to be found on any car in Pontiac's field. Two braking systems, each entirely independent of the other. Mechanical internal-expanding four-wheel service brakes—silent, protected against rain or dirt, highly efficient in any weather and requiring minimum attention.
- BIG CAR FUEL COOLING SYSTEM
Automatic control of operating temperatures. Assures peak engine efficiency at all times. Water temperature governed by a thermostat which eliminates the inconvenience of hand-operated radiator shutters and heat indicators.
- AND THESE BIG CAR ADVANCEMENTS
The Harmonic Balancer which eliminates crankshaft vibration. Exclusive expansion-fit piston pins (patent applied for) which assure quiet operation over a long period of time. A counter-weighted crankshaft, airplane type interchangeable bronze-backed main bearings. Semi-steel pistons in matched and balanced sets.

$745

J. O. Pontiac, Michigan
Five-Passenger 2-Door Sedan
Body by Fisher

The Pontiac Big Six was introduced at prices ranging as low as $745, f. o. b. Pontiac. And in spite of the fact that it offers every desirable big car quality—in spite of the fact that it is now available in a wide variety of popular colors—in spite of the fact that it represents the greatest value offered in the low-priced field... it continues to sell at no increase in price. Small down payment. Balance only a few dollars per month. A liberal price for your present car.

CONSIDER the delivery price as well as the list price when comparing automobile values. Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices include only reasonable charges for handling and fee financing when the Time Payment Plan is used.

PONTIAC Big Six, $745 f. o. b. Pontiac, Mich., plus delivery charges. Bumpers, spring covers and leather shock absorbers regular equipment at slight extra cost. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

BIG CAR VALUE

CISCO MOTOR COMPANY

CISCO DAILY NEWS

CISCO—Pop. 13,569; 1,614 feet above the sea; 5 lakes; water; 5 rail exits; 6 paved highway exits; 127 blocks of brick streets; good hotels; A-1 public schools and Randolph College; no mosquitoes; no malaria or typhoid.

VOLUME X.

ON "BROADWAY OF AMERICA"

CISCO, TEXAS SUNDAY, JULY 14, 1929.

TEN PAGES IN TWO SECTIONS SECTION ONE

NUMBER 107.

PLANES RACE OVER ATLANTIC TO U. S.

Bar Endorses Amendment for 9-Member Supreme Court

HUTCHINSON IS UNDER MARTIAL LAW

WORST FLOOD EXPERIENCED IN 26 YEARS

Two Lives Already Lost and Third Fatality Feared

HUTCHINSON, Kan., July 13.—Hutchinson was under martial law with the 130th field artillery rolling more than 2,000 homes inundated by the worst flood this city has experienced in 26 years. Hutchin角度n's situation was serious today and property loss was enormous. Already the flood claimed the lives of two persons, and fear was expressed that a third injured would not recover. Traffic was at a standstill as a mile an hour current, waist deep some of the main streets, swept through the city.

French, Hutchinson politician, was missing today and was feared he had been drowned. He attempted to cross flooded creek whose waters are sweeping the city.

Robert Orange, 11, was drowned Wednesday while wading in shallow flood water.

Injured as Stone Explodes. Betty Rangler was not expected to recover from injuries suffered when an improvised gas mine exploded. Her home was inundated and she was preparing for her family in a temporary shelter.

Hundreds of homes have been forced to residents who were forced to leave their homes. Live stock, even ahead of many refugees in nearby farms roam the streets and get touched by the flood.

Every available boat has been used into service. The two daily publications of the two daily papers were suspended today when it was found it would be impossible to deliver them because of the water. The basement and pressroom of the News was inundated. The publishers of the News were endeavoring to dry out a job press order that they might issue a daily paper.

IS BELIEVED TO BE FAST.

WYON, Kans., July 13.—The flood situation in Rice county has eased the crisis, it was believed today. No more damaging storm nor heavy waters have been recorded since the settlement of the county in 1871.

Bridges damaged alone will cost to over $100,000, Samuel Newberry, county engineer, estimated today. Crops, livestock and building losses will aggregate hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Phphan Girl Is Drowned in Pool

HILLSBORO, July 13.—Gloom spread over the Files Valley Presbyterian home and school for children today as a result of the drowning of Viola Davis, 18, while swimming in the home amusement pool last night. She was drowned in the swimming pool of the institution.

Efforts of the girl's companions to rescue her were unavailing as the hour and half effort at resuscitation by the Boy Scouts.

RADIO

TODAY'S FIVE BEST RADIO FEATURES

Bright, 1929, by United Press. WJZ network, noon CST—Roxxy Symphony Concert.

WOR network, 6:30 CST—Lewi-WOR Stadium Concert.

WEAP network, 7:15 CST—Alouis Willis, barytone.

WABC network, 7 CST—Theater of the Air.

WJZ network, 8:15 CST—National Light Opera Co.

Cisco Stone Plant Roars With Industry

By LOUISE TRAMMEL
Boom! Buzz-z-z. Crash! Bang! From this side of the railroad tracks it sounds like the rumbling of Vesuvius, but there within that immense building, a sign language would prove more satisfactory unless one was training to be a yell leader. Such groans and shrieks that burst from the huge machines and saws in the Bedford-Carthage Stone plant!

F. B. Martin, superintendent, pointed out the huge slabs of limestone. "These are hewn from the quarry at Leuders, in blocks approximately twelve by four feet, and shipped to us directly. They are first placed in the gang saws where the several blades are adjusted according to the desired thickness and, swinging on great arms, move back and forth as a mixture of water and sand flows over the limestone, cutting from four to twelve inches per hour.

The slabs are then placed in the diamond tooth saw—a circular saw of a sixty-inch diameter, with teeth set with from three to five diamonds about the size of the end of the lead in a pencil. The stones are not polished but are of the same hardness as those used in jewelry. This saw is able to cut as much rock as can be piled up to the center of the disc, a distance of thirty inches. Water pours continually over the blade to insure coolness for the automatic feed carries a speed of from three inches to thirteen feet per minute.

Planning Machine. Now the stone is placed on a planning machine where it is dressed and smoothed up to a shape corresponding exactly to a pattern. This pattern is made according to a ticket which is drawn by one of the two draftsmen, N. P. Field and W. J. Hennessy. Taken from the blue print of an architect who specifies by his drawing the kinds of materials used, the draftsman makes a setting plan showing only the stone portions and giving in detail the exact measurements, etc., of each stone. When this has been approved by the architect, a ticket showing the pattern, the measurements, and denoting by a number its special place in the construction of the building, is made for each piece of stone. For all ornamental work, a life-size print is made. These tickets are sent with each stone to insure the correct making. By the carbide saw, also circular with teeth of carborundum, the ashlers are cut to the specified lengths, and marked with the number on the corresponding ticket. In case of a column, the stone is placed in a turning lathe. For ornamental parts, the slabs are turned over to the stone-cutters, where the work is done entirely by hand. After first marking off the design, the stonecutter proceeds to chisel off the rough exterior with an etching tool and hammer. The more intricate designs are done by an air hammer run on compressed air. Sanitized by a good rubbing with a small piece of limestone, we see the smooth, glistening designs for church windows, exteriors, and crosses.

Placed on Cars. With the aid of a tram-car that runs on a pulley overhead, the stone is loaded on a flat car first sprinkled with stone dust, and another layer of dust poured over it. The refuse material is utilized in the rock crusher on the outside of the building. Here the rock is crushed until it can pass through a two-inch screen.

Twenty men are employed with part of them working on the night shift. The site of the only other stone plant owned by the Bedford-Carthage corporation is located at Houston. R. M. Amrine is the assistant manager of the Cisco plant. F. P. Martin, plant superintendent, and Miss Marie Glenn, secretary. At present they are at work on nine contracts: a church at San Angelo, auditorium at Abilene Christian College, hospital at Slaton, dining hall at Abilene Christian college, residence at Memphis, school at Hedley, school at Lockney, dormitory at Terrell, and an auditorium at Oklahoma.

IMPROVEMENTS BEING MADE IN RURAL SCHOOLS

A four-teacher school at Alameda is seen for the next school year, as construction of a fourth room to the school building at that community is planned to begin tomorrow. Heretofore the school board there has employed three teachers.

A new school bus, the second to be used by the school, has been purchased, and a total of 15 miles will be covered daily during the school year by the busses in carrying pupils of the Alameda district to school.

Cross Roads district is planning, upon the purchase of a new bus, to carry all pupils of its district to Desdemona each day for attendance at the Desdemona school next season.

Lee Hensley, state rural school inspector, was at the office of Miss Beulah Spear, Eastland county school superintendent last week to inspect the amounts involved in high school tuitions of schools in Eastland county.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 13.—The airplane Southern Star completed at 5:10 p. m. last night the flight to Santiago it began at Tampa, Fla., on June 30.

RESOLUTION IS PASSED BY ASSOCIATION

Will Speed Up Justice County Lawyers Point Out

The Eastland County Bar association is unequivocally in favor of the proposed amendment to the state constitution which would provide for a supreme court of nine judges, doing away with the commission of appeals, according to a resolution passed by the association recently.

The resolution of the association reads: "We, the undersigned members of the bar of Eastland county, join in this appeal to the people of the county to turn out in full force on July 16th and vote for the proposed amendment to the constitution to increase the supreme court from a membership of three to nine judges. This change can be effected with practically no increased expense to the taxpayers. By the amendment the court will be in continuous session, whereas now it is in vacation three months in each year. The amendment abolishes the present commission of appeals, the practical effort being to create no new offices. The great majority of the lawyers and judges of the state, including every member of the supreme court, recognize the imperative need for relief of the supreme court. We heartily favor the amendment and regard it as a very forward movement for the benefit of litigants; it will speed up the final disposition of law suits."

"At a meeting at Abilene on July 8th the Bar of the Eleventh District, which includes this county, unanimously endorsed the amendment."

Signed by Attorneys. It is signed by H. P. Brelsford, R. N. Grisham, J. J. Butts, O. C. Funderburk, John D. McRae, Earl Conner, John W. Turner, V. T. Seabury, Carl P. Springer, Elzo Beem, Frank Sparks, Milburn, Nacarty, Harry Brelsford, Scott W. Key, J. E. Hickman, Cyrus B. Frost, W. P. Leslie, Hamilton E. McRae, Forrest Wright, J. S. Grisham, I. E. Richardson, W. D. R. Owen, Charles C. Robey, N. N. Rosenquist, Thomas Jefferson Pitts, Mrs. Charles C. Robey, Clayton I. Orr, J. D. Barker, Ghent Sanderford, W. Patterson, Perry Sayles, B. L. Rust, Frank Jenkins, Geo. L. Davenport, L. R. Pearson, L. H. Flewelin, W. T. Adamson, Jake Alfred, G. G. Hazel, W. B. Collier, Joe H. Jones and Grady Owen.

H. P. Brelsford, president of the Eastland county association in a statement favoring the amendment said: "The lawyers of the state have long recognized that there is much truth in the oft repeated assertion that justice is becoming too costly for the average citizen because of the law's delay. In sponsoring the constitutional amendment to be voted on this coming Tuesday to increase the membership of the supreme court, and to provide for full twelve months' session of the court, they are urging upon the people a great constructive step toward remedying the condition so often complained of and every one who has criticized the delay of law ought to support the amendment whole-heartedly."

Funderburk's Statement. Judge O. C. Funderburk, association justice of the eleventh circuit of civil appeals made the following statement: "Most questions have two sides; not so this. The argument is all one way. The adoption of this amendment is the only answer necessary to the hue and cry about the law's delay and its uncertainties and confusion. No more important question has been before the people for a decade."

Records Show That This County Compares Favorably With Others in Texas in Matter of Rainfall

In view of the present period of dry weather which this section of the state is experiencing it is interesting to note that the average annual rainfall in Eastland county over the period of 10 years just past was about 39 inches. Of that decade the year 1921 was the driest. Only 17.45 inches of rain fell then. It is a coincidence that practically one-third of all the rain during 1921 came in June, whereas June of this year failed to register as much as one-tenth of an inch.

The year 1923 records the highest amount of rain with a total of 55.51 inches, one and one-half inches of which came in June.

The average rainfall for the first six months of this year, as compared with the 1923 figures, has fallen during the first six months of this year.

The Texas Almanac gives the county an average of about 43 inches. Newton county is listed as having the highest average rainfall with a little over 59 inches. The comparison does not discredit this county but shows it to compare favorably with other sections of Texas in the matter of moisture.

Average by Months. January usually averages about 2.2 inches, February, 3.2, March, 2.4, April, 4.8, May, 3.9, June, 1.3, July, 2.1, August, 1.7, September, 2.8, October, 3.1, November, 2, and December, 1.3. So far the monthly averages for 1929 have been below these figures except that of May which shows a total of 4.9 inches.

Annual rainfall for 1918 was 22.91; for 1919, 28.91; for 1920, 34.13; for 1921, 17.45; for 1922, 34.37; for 1923, 55.51; for 1924, 19.82; for 1925, 22.74; for 1926, 32.29; and for 1927, 32.81.

Of the past ten years, four have registered above 30 inches annually and six below.

Rainfall during February of this year was 1.7 inches. During March, 1.3, April, 2.5, May 4.9 and June 0.

PATHFINDER FLIERS GET DECORATIONS

ROME, July 13.—King Victor Emanuel of Italy today decorated Roger Q. Williams and Captain Lewis A. Yancey, the two American fliers who made a record flight to Rome with only one stop.

The aviators were received as no Americans ever have been received in the Eternal City. Their stay in Rome since their landing has been a constant round of hospitalities and honors from the highest officials of the government.

The medals bestowed upon the Americans by the king were of gold, and was the first of the kind ever given to foreigners.

MOODY SENDS MESSAGE TO LEGISLATURE

AUSTIN, July 13.—Governor Moody sent a new message to the Texas legislature asking immediate passage of laws to take public school and university land off the market. About 1,500,000 acres was to have been thrown open to bids on Sept. 1.

The land to which the governor refers is distinct from that which was withdrawn by an emergency act last January. It consists of school land previously sold and forfeited back to the state. Vacancies that may be discovered in a survey of university lands should also be guarded, Governor Moody says.

He suggests either laws reserving mineral rights in these lands or an emergency act to withdraw them from market temporarily. By doing so he predicts millions will be saved to the University and the permanent school fund.

Pretty Sponsor

It's just an old southern custom, this having sponsors for various college activities at Dixie institutions. Inasmuch as the sponsors are picked for beauty, it doesn't seem such a bad tradition at that. Here we have Miss Laura Harrell, of Raleigh, N. C., who was sponsor for the North Carolina State College Glee Club this year.

35 STUDENTS OF RANDOLPH NOW TEACHERS

Thirty-five students of Randolph college have accepted positions as teachers in the public schools for next year, it was announced Saturday by Dr. T. T. Roberts, president of the institution. The education department of the school, Dean Buford Isaacs states, is one of the largest in the school. Students may secure teachers' certificates on work done at the college. The following are those who have secured contracts as teachers for next year after having obtained their certificates through the Cisco institution:

Annie Mae Hale, Lou Dell Perry, Ruby Mansfield, Esther Kopp, Maurine Hartia, Mary Grace Phillips, Garland Franks, Loellen Weaver, Elizabeth Wylie, Ruby Latorn, Beulah Williams, Nellie Anglin, Berta Anglin, Maile Lee Piron, J. M. McCroskey, A. W. Patterson, Mrs. H. J. Patterson, Laura Fay Wilson, Abel Allen, Maymie Ratliff, Jessie McPailis, Melvin McPailis, Inez Eubanks, J. L. Blsbee, Dona Matthews, Minnie Bell Chism, Aldine Mellon, Fay Powell, Mildred Greath, A. H. Sell, Mrs. H. H. Self, Mrs. M. L. Hill, Mrs. G. B. Lundy, Edith Toombs, Anna Godfrey.

Motorists Face 4-Cent Gasoline Tax Monday

AUSTIN, July 13.—Texas motorists will face a four cents a gallon gasoline tax Monday, in all probability.

The governor is expected to sign the bill providing for the two-cent increase between now and Monday morning. It becomes effective when signed.

PASSES COUNTERFEIT.

FREMONT, Neb., July 13.—Try this on your neighborhood store. A Fremont banker with the aid of the police department, also its consent, passed a counterfeit $5 bill at seven different stores without the bill being noticed once. The test was made to see if persons receiving money were careful observers.

CONSOLIDATION ANNOUNCED.

FORT WORTH, July 13.—Consolidation of the Mistletoe Creameries with the Borden Dairy company was announced here by T. W. Robinson, vice president of the Mistletoe Creameries, Inc., the Mistletoe company has extensive holdings in the south.

FRENCH AND POLISH SHIPS SPEED WEST

Take Off From Le Bourget Field Early Saturday

PARIS, July 13.—Two sturdy airplanes, one French and one Polish, apparently were winging their way over Atlantic wastes, well on their way toward New York this afternoon.

The French plane Question Mark bearing Dieudonne Coste and Aurice Bellonte had been sighted at longitude 29 west half way between the Spanish coast and the Azores at 7:15 p. m., EST, and was going strong, according to advice received by the French air ministry.

The Polish plane, piloted by Louis Idzikowski and Casimir Kubala, was believed to have been sighted over the Bay of Biscay by a Greek steamer which conveyed the information to the French air ministry here. It was taken to indicate that the intrepid Poles had scorned the sheltering protection of land and had put out to sea directly for a point near the Azores before heading for New York.

The Greek steamer reported it had sighted a plane that looked white in the early morning at longitude 46:25 north, longitude 9:08 west flying at an altitude of about 1,999 feet speeding westward.

Between the Spanish coast and the Azores at 7:15 p. m., EST, and was going strong, according to advice received by the French air ministry.

The Polish plane, piloted by Louis Idzikowski and Casimir Kubala, was believed to have been sighted over the Bay of Biscay by a Greek steamer which conveyed the information to the French air ministry here. It was taken to indicate that the intrepid Poles had scorned the sheltering protection of land and had put out to sea directly for a point near the Azores before heading for New York.

The Greek steamer reported it had sighted a plane that looked white in the early morning at longitude 46:25 north, longitude 9:08 west flying at an altitude of about 1,999 feet speeding westward.

PLANES TAKE OFF AT DAWN.

PARIS, July 13.—Two airplanes took off from Le Bourget field at dawn today for a race across the Atlantic to the United States. Eight hours later the French crew of Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte was well on its way toward the open ocean. The other plane, manned by a Polish crew, had not been reported at noon.

Wireless messages from Coste and Bellonte were coming in regularly, giving word that all was well aboard their monoplane Question Mark.

The Marshall Pilsudski, in which Louis Idzikowski and Casimir Kubala were making a second attempt to cross the Atlantic, was not equipped with radio.

THE WEATHER

West Texas—Partly cloudy today; local thunder showers extreme western portions.
East Texas—Generally fair today; probably thunder showers in southeast portions.
Arkansas—Generally fair and continued warm today.

THE CISCO DAILY NEWS

Published By THE CISCO PRINTING & PUBLISHING CO. 204-206 D Avenue, Cisco, Texas. MEMBER UNITED PRESS MEMBER ADVERTISING BUREAU TEXAS DAILY PRESS LEAGUE

W. H. LA ROQUE, Business Manager. H. D. LOCKE, (Phone 7523) Circulation Manager

Subscription Rates: Per month (delivered in Cisco) 75c. If paid in advance: Three months, $2.00 six months, $4.00; twelve months, $7.50

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of this paper will be glad to be corrected upon being brought to the attention of the editor.

KEEP HARPING. I wish they would quit this harping business, complains one Daily News reader. I'm getting sick of reading so much about it in the papers.

The plaint exemplifies the abhorrence of monotony which is characteristic of most people. We hate sameness. We want our lives plentifully seasoned with the spice of variety.

But in our hate of monotony as regards the present cry of record-breaking flight attempts we neglect to properly evaluate that order. We forget that this multitude of endurance flights, these strivings of men and machines to establish supremacy over Newton's mighty law, nourishes a demand for perfected planes, perfected motors, a perfected transportation industry.

Meanwhile news of air achievements becomes stale and we wish for something new, something different. And in that connection here is a thought: A newspaperman from another city once said to me: "Cisco has the right idea about its Big Dam. People in Cisco and the Oil Belt get tired of hearing so much about it. I know, but the louder and the more persistently it is played up by Cisco people, the farther the sound of it will travel. People elsewhere in the world are not tired of it."

It is up to us to keep harping on what we have here, our Big Dam, our lake, our various other institutions, and if we get sick of it to take a little mental reprieve and go at the subject again. And while we are harping on what we have we might go after something else, too. For instance a milk plant.

POT SHOTS - AT - POLITICS - By - Col. Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, AUSTIN

Harry Wurzback's Challenge Former Congressman Harry M. Wurzback of Guadalupe appeared before the Brookhart committee in Austin in San Antonio. He is anti-foreigner all along the line. This was the challenge he flung in the teeth of the investigator: "I say at the risk of being called a quitter and I am not - that after these matters are prosecuted in Washington if the republican party does not repudiate this state organization, I will not permit my name to be on the republican ticket for congress next year. This does not mean that I will quit my fight to build up the republican party in Texas," and Wurzback smiled.

Milling for Rural Aid. Lawmakers have voted without a law by which the counties returning high valuations will be given minimum benefits and the counties

OUT OUR WAY

INFECTION. BY WILLIAMS. TRADE BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

And I could not help recording that it is because of this fact that a newspaper is so human, so responsive to the people's will. Hearst's initial venture in the field of journalism. The paper was established in 1880 by the late Senator George Hearst, father of "W. R." In 1887 William Randolph Hearst was permitted by his father to publish the paper for one year with the understanding that if successful he could keep it as his own property. But that's all another story. The present publisher is George Hearst, grandson of California's first senator, and a gentleman who has inherited and developed distinct newspaper publishing capacity. My host piloted me through the whole busy place. Efficiency predominated. After viewing a newspaper in the making such as The Examiner, I came to the conclusion that the public which is bound so close to a newspaper, is yet ignorant of the vast intricate machinery, human and mechanical, which go to make possible the delivery of its newspaper. Our tour started late this afternoon. It ended just after the battery of five Hoe presses began to grind out their 400,000 copies of newspapers. I saw it all. While excitement was rampant in the local room with big news stories breaking, with the reporters and photographers rushing to and from assignments, and the general noise in the battery of automatic telegraph machines pounding in their lines of copy from every section of the globe, the editors—cool and calmly displaying nerve strain, appeared at all times masters of the situation. With all the apparent confusion there appeared an underlying general order of things, which is so perplexing to a lay person. This is because of the marvelous organization—a body of highly trained men, who specialized in their work, all fit into the cogs of the human machine. They form the life blood of a newspaper. While the huge tour I was conducted through every department of this big Pacific Coast newspaper, and I may as well state here that the San Francisco Examiner was William Randolph

Did You Ever Stop to Think? BY EDSON R. WAITE Shawnee, Oklahoma. They speak of newspaper establishments as "plants" but that is an error. Harder, a modern newspaper is an institution. I say this after an extensive tour of the San Francisco Examiner.

MOTHER NATURE'S GURIO SHOP. ONE OF THE FINEST AND MOST GRACEFUL OF FLIERS IS THE TURKEY BUZZARD. ALL DAY LONG HE CAN FLOAT IN THE SKY WITH APPARENTLY NO EFFORT AT ALL. BUT LET DEATH COME TO SOME BEAST DOWN UPON THE EARTH BELOW AND DOWN HE COMES WITH ALL HIS UNSEEN COMPANIONS TO THE FEAST. FATHER, SON REUNITED. NELSON, Neb., July 12. — After a separation of 18 years, Jim Williamson, long time resident, and his son, Glenn, have been reunited. The youth was only seven when last seen by his father. For the past seven years he had served in the navy. The two learned that they had been in the same vicinity several times during the last 18 years without knowing of each others presence. REVOLVER OUT OF PRACTICE BERFORD, Ind., July 12. — Sheriff John Tyree, if called upon to do any shooting, will use a 17-year-old revolver. It was brought to the office by William Sider who started a term as sheriff in 1912. A. J. Lee, who became sheriff next town by the same means it successfully became the property of William Owen, Harry Gordon and Tyree. It has never been used in shooting to kill.

Oil Attention on Cross Plains. CROSS PLAINS, July 13. — The attention of oil men in this section is greater than usual and being centered on the West Cross Plains field and the Echo field in Coleman county. The past week has witnessed a number of good producers in the two fields, resulting in quite an extension of proven territory, and it is expected that other new discoveries will develop rapidly. A number of the recently completed wells in the Echo field rank high in the gusher class, attaining a production of over 2,000 barrels per day. Jesse McAdams of Cross Plains completed the first of this week, a good shallow producer in the Santa Anna field.

Attractive Cisco Homes. Set back in a spacious lawn shaded by many large oaks and maples is the yellow brick English style cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Connie Davis, 500 West Fifth. At the front beneath the two window boxes of geraniums, begonia, fern and coleus, the bed is scarlet with verbenas. In the center of the lawn on the west is a square bed of roses and peonias surrounding a trellis of climbing roses, with chrysanthemums and zinnias along the front, shasta daisies on the east and phlox on the north and west. A bed at the rear near the servant's house holds roses, and phlox with several fig trees. Climbing ivy covers the back corner of the house and gives a beautiful background for the white blooms of an althea bush. In the back yard, carrots, loaded tomato vines, okra, a strawberry patch, a large grape arbor and, in between, huge dandelion zinnias and several peach trees. On the east is another square flower bed of zinnias bordered by gladiolus, ferns, lamtana, and geraniums. Banked against the house are innumerable pots of different species of fern, begonia, geraniums, and wandering jew. Triangular beds in the east and west corners of the parking hold roses, phlox, zinnias, bridal wreath and eunymous.

TULLOS BROS. Dyers and Cleaners. FLOWERS AND FRUIT IN ALL STAGES OF DEVELOPMENT ARE FOUND UPON AN ORANGE TREE THROUGHOUT THE YEAR.

QUICK REFERENCE CLASSIFIED ADS

There is a Place for Everything and Everything in Its Place. —These inexpensive advertisements are a "Clearing House" for most everything, such as Buying, Selling, Renting, Restoring Lost articles, Finding Help or Employment and Securing New Patronage for your business.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING RATES AND REGULATIONS. ALL CLASSIFIED advertising is payable in advance, but copy MAY be telephoned to the Cisco Daily News office and paid for as soon as collector calls. RATES: Two cents per word for one time; four cents per word for three times; eight cents per word for six times. CLOSING HOUR: Copy received up to 10:00 a. m. will be published the same day. TELEPHONE 80 and place your copy with understanding that payment will be made once, collector will call the same day or day following. Copy is received any hour from 8:00 a. m. until 5:00 p. m.

OIL NEWS OF SOUTHWEST. Daily average oil production for Texas during the week ending July 6 as compared with the preceding week was: Panhandle District: Carson county 7,550 7,650; Gray county 32,950 51,300; Hutchinson county 25,750 25,550; Wheeler county 950 800; Others 1,200 1,250; Total 68,400 86,550.

EMPLOYMENT FEMALE HELP WANTED. WOMEN—Earn Big Money Sewing Aprons, Children's Dresses; Opportunity for beginners. Easy work. Materials cut. Instructions furnished. Melhart Mfg. Corp., 2340 Belmont Ave., New York City.

BAKERIES PAY BIG PROFITS; clear cash business; we specialize in equipping bakeries; easy terms. Balance monthly. Elektrik Maid Bake Shop, 248 E. 4th St., St. Paul, Minn.

WANTED — By young man, office or bookkeeping work for all or part time; experienced. Address "J" care of Daily News.

WICHITA, Kas., July 13. — Mars Oil company (Hartman & Skaer) No. 1 Miller, in northeastern Sedgewick county, went on the gauge Friday. The Miller, which extends the Lygriessie pool one and one-half miles east, struck pay in the chat at 2,800 feet late Thursday and was shut off awaiting Thursday. Oil men believe the well to be around 1,000 barrels daily, as the oil flowed when the chat was penetrated. The Lygriessie pool is nine miles northeast of Wichita.

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 13. — No. 1 Watters of the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company which blew in Thursday with an estimated flow of 109,000 cubic feet of gas and 2,000 barrels of gasoline has been shut in awaiting arrival of separators. With eight of the ten pools in the greater Seminole area showing slight increase, total production increased 3,706 barrels Thursday to 381,683 barrels from 1981 wells. The St. Louis pool produced 75,915 barrels from 375 wells. Capitalists of eastern Oklahoma and northern Arkansas have formed the North Arkansas Oil & Gas association for the purpose of developing oil prospects in that section of the state.

HOUSTON, July 13. — The Humble Oil & Refining company has acquired a half interest in the leases and feeholdings of the Ryedale Oil corporation at Bayou Bouillon, St. Martin's parish, Louisiana. There are three small producing wells on the structure. Under the terms of the deal the Humble is to supply funds for development until that amount equals the investment of the Ryedale, which so far has approximated $1,250,000 acre and drilling. The Humble Oil & Refining company's No. 4 Nelson at Sugarland is flowing 800 barrels from a depth of 3,762 feet.

COLEMAN, Okla., July 13. — Cheney-Continental Overall's No. 7-A in the Eastland Oil pool northeast of here has completed for a producer making approximately 350 barrels a day. No. 5 in the Continental-Overall area is making 300 barrels.

PALESTINE, July 13. — Drilling will be started in the Anderson county lease of the Magnis Petroleum company as soon as machinery can be installed. A lease suit among a number of landhold-

OUR CLEARANCE SALE. Will continue one more week, with THREE NEW SPECIAL BARGAINS. SLIPPER SHOP.

RENTALS APARTMENTS FOR RENT... 27 FOR RENT—Two or three room apartment, 305 West Broadway. FOR RENT—Furnished apartments, 1000 West Eleventh street. FOR RENT—New furnished apartment, garage, 405 West Eleventh street.

FOR SALE MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE... 25 FOR SALE, CHEAP — 20 foot white marble Liquid Fountain and all equipment, tables, chairs, wall cases, cigar and cigarette wall case, drink mixers, fruit extractor. Will save you money. W. F. Walker, Spencer building, Cisco, Texas.

ELBERTA PEACHES—Headquarters for 19 years; ripe Monday, July 15th, at Busy Bee Farm, De Leon, Route No. 4, H. F. Short, Proprietor.

LEGAL NOTICE Whereas, on the 15th day of June, A. D. 1929, there was presented to the Commissioners' Court of Eastland county, Texas, a petition signed by two hundred qualified voters and property tax payers of Eastland county requesting said court to order an election to determine whether said court shall levy upon the property within said Eastland county a road tax not to exceed fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars worth of property as provided for by the law relating to "special road tax" and the court after considering said above mentioned petition passed an order ordering that such an election be held on July 16th, 1929, at each and every voting box in said Eastland county, Texas, for the purpose hereinabove mentioned and as petitioned for.

PLUMBING AND ELECTRICAL CONTRACTOR. Gas Ranges, Wind Mills, etc. Plumbing and Electrical. JNO. C. SHERMAN, Cisco's Oldest Dealer. Phone 70. 216 W. Broadway.

Real Estate CONNIE DAVIS Real Estate RENTS, LOANS AND INSURANCE 700 1-2 D. Gray Building

Insurance J. M. WILLIAMSON & CO. General Insurance City Hall Bldg.

Announcements I. O. O. F. No. 281, meets Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. I. O. O. F. Hall, Visitors welcome. E. L. Wisdom, N. G., J. A. Sen, Secretary.

Rotary The Rotary meets every Wednesday day at Laguna Roof Garden, 12:15. Visiting members always welcome. C. BONEY, President; DUB LEE, Secretary.

Cisco Chapter No. 1015 A. M. meets on Thursday evening of each month at 7 p. m. in the Masonic Hall. I. N. WITTEN, W. M.; JOHN P. PATTERSON, Sec'y.

Cisco Chapter No. 556, A. M. meets on Thursday, 8 p. m. in the Masonic Hall. I. N. WITTEN, W. M.; JOHN P. PATTERSON, Secretary.

Cisco Chapter No. 1015 meets every third Monday of each month in the Masonic Hall. I. N. WITTEN, W. M.; JOHN P. PATTERSON, Recorder.

Cisco Chapter No. 1015 meets first and Tuesday nights each month. Visiting members cordially invited. MAYE WESTERFELDT, M.; BEULAH WITTEN, Secretary.

Cisco Lodge, O. E. No. 1015 meets first and Monday at 8 p. m. in the Judia Bldg. Eds cordially invited. HUGH W. EXALTED, R. CHARLES KING, Secretary.

Train Schedule RAILROAD TIME TABLE Texas and Pacific No. 16, East (Texas) ... 10:10; No. 4, East ... 3:20; No. 6, East ... 4:00; No. 10, East ... 11:00; No. 1, West (Sunshine) ... 5:20; No. 3, West ... 12:00; No. 5, West ... 12:00; No. 9, West ... 3:30.

Lawyers BLANTON, BLANTON & BLANTON LAWYERS Suite 710 Alexander Building, Abilene. Albany Office: Albany National Building. Practice in All Courts. Thos. L. Blanton, Matthew B. Thomas L. Blanton, Jr.

Plumbing JACK WINSTON Guarantee Plumbing and Fitting at a reasonable price. We figure your work. No job small and we have the cash for the largest. Phone 112. 711 West Ninth.

Golf Professional for Cisco Country Club Is Secured

BANY PROS ENGAGED BY CISCOANS

Wis Matthews Takes up Duties Here on Friday

Wis Matthews, golf professional of the Albany Country club for the past year and one-half, has been engaged by the Cisco Country club with which he will be permanently located. Mr. Matthews will take up his new duties Friday. He will give lessons to members and will be found at the club at all times to assist those with assistance in perfecting their game.

The Cisco club has had under consideration for a long while the position of securing a professional to make his headquarters and to develop from the ranks of the club members a golf team which would bear comparison with the best in the smaller cities. Mr. Matthews' work at Albany has been outstanding. During the past year he has developed perhaps the leading golf team in the Albany area. He is expected to give even better results at Cisco. He has had long experience as a professional.

Man Holds Five World Swim Titles

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 13.—The Norelius, former women's Olympic swimming champion who took the amateur ranks for the professional world, held five world professional records today, the result of the first appearance of the mermaid.

She swam 500 yards against the clock yesterday and was clocked at 10:15. She swam 1000 yards in 21:00. At the end of the swim she announced that she had broken new marks for professional women, at 200 meters, 220 yards, 400 meters, 440 yards and 500 yards.

Most of the records were slower than her amateur records for the distances.

Boxing Commissioner to Have Job Similar to Landis' in Baseball Will Be Appointed in Near Future

By FRANK GETTY
United Press Sports Editor.
(Copyright 1929 by United Press)

NEW YORK, July 13.—Boxing commissioner, to have supreme authority over the fistie industry similar to that exercised over baseball by Judge Kendsaw M. Landis, will be appointed before the end of the present year.

The New York state athletic commission, which controls boxing in this state, is sending out feelers to commissioners in other states where boxing is conducted on a large scale, and there is little doubt that agreement will be reached upon the appointment of a ruler of the cauliflower profession.

Rockne To Be With S.M.U. Coach School for His Third Year

Knute Rockne, head coach and athletic director of the University of Notre Dame, and noted athletic authority, will begin his third year on the faculty of the S. M. U. Coaching School which begins in Dallas on August 19 and continues through August 31.

This year Rockne will be associated with Glen (Pop) Warner of Stanford University as co-heads of the S. M. U. school. This combination is one of the strongest ever presented in a school of this kind.

The Notre Dame mentor has made himself world famous through the records that his fighting Irish have made, and his coaching schools.

Croquet Marathoners Find Calculation Is Delay to Progress

NAVASOTA, July 13.—Barber C. G. Hart paused in the center of the road near here today and mumbled staggering figures that he had long ago deserted in the haircutting business at Rule, Texas.

"We are 10 miles from our starting place," he told Taylor L. Rose, who is collaborating with his fellow townsman in a little proposition born of their moments of constructive thinking while citizens of Rule are involving the knocking of croquet balls all the way from Galveston to the sanctum of Mayor James Walker of New York.

"I have forgotten my geography but it must be 1,500 miles to Broadway, now, we have been on the road almost a week," the barber continued, "meanwhile distributing the dust with a vicious wallop of mallet against ball. And 100 goes into 1,500 fifteen times doesn't it. Come to about Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. Walker, way I calculate."

Taylor Rose had rolled his ball into a thicket beside the road, and Taylor Rose wasted no time in getting on his feet. He was thinking of "fried bacon" at Anderson, Texas, tonight, he said, and Anderson was 15 miles away and he didn't want to hear any more about 1,500 miles. The tailor said that reckoning was as the crow flies but they were going as the snake crawls and would wear red flannels long before they got to New York.

AIR EXPRESS SERVICE NEW T.A.T. FEATURE

FORT WORTH, July 13.—Hereafter a debutante living in El Paso can wire one morning to one of the exclusive stores in Dallas or Fort Worth for a new dress and get it in time to wear to tea the same afternoon, although Fort Worth and El Paso are nearly 600 miles apart.

Air express, which will be inaugurated Monday, July 15, over all the air mail and passenger lines of Southern Air Transport, Inc., is the explanation.

This means air express will be flown 5,862 miles every day, as Southern Air Transport, Inc., through its various subsidiaries, now flies 3,128 miles with the mail daily and 2,734 miles with passengers, making it the third largest air transportation company in the United States, explained Robert J. Smith, general traffic manager.

"Air express will be inaugurated because of the insistent and consistent demand for it throughout the South," Mr. Smith said. "We have had such widespread and insistent calls for it for sometime that we feel we can not afford to delay starting it longer."

In addition to carrying the express by air, the company offers pick-up and delivery service at terminal and junction points throughout the South. Mr. Smith said. These points include Atlanta, Birmingham, Ala.; New Orleans, La.; Houston, Waco, San Antonio, Brownsville, Dallas, Fort Worth and El Paso.

"Besides giving full pick-up and delivery service at each of these points," Mr. Smith said, "we shall be glad to accept packages for delivery to all other points on our lines at the sender's risk, provided his agent will be at the field of destination to receive them."

The tariff will be based on a zoning system that employed by the parcel post service, Mr. Smith said. The rate will be 8 cents per pound per 100 miles, with a minimum charge of 25 cents. In addition, there will be a pick-up and delivery charge of 50 cents additional on each package, regardless of its weight or the distance carried. A complete tariff is available at every point on the Southern Air Transport, Inc., lines and at the general offices in Fort Worth, the general traffic manager said.

DEER ALMOST COLLIDES WITH WISCONSIN STEAMER

ASHLAND, Wis., July 13.—A large buck deer narrowly escaped collision with the J. C. Morse, one steamer as the boat entered Chequamegon Bay near here recently. The buck, frightened by the approach of the steamer, floundered about for a time but soon swam around the boat and continued its progress. Captain Edward Johnston, of the steamer, said that the buck was swimming from the Ashland mainland to Houghton Point, across the bay, a distance of seven miles.

KOO'S HOME A MEMORIAL

PEPING, July 13.—Although Dr. Wellington Koo, former premier of China, is living in exile abroad, his beautiful home in Peping is to be turned into a memorial to the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen. The action has been taken without consulting Dr. Koo, as it is felt his property can be confiscated as that of a rebel, because he worked for the Chang Tso-lin government.

WHEN YOU TAKE YOUR FAMILY ON VACATION, TAKE MINE, TOO— AND DON'T FORGET THE CAT

It's lots of fun keeping up with one family on vacation, but when two families are along—well, it's more fun. And you can get double joy from our vacation if you will take Mom 'n' Pop and Amy and Chuck and Ooglesons (the cat) with you. Just telephone the circulation department and The Daily News with the Mom 'n' Pop comic strip, other features and all the home town news will be sent to your vacation address.

Equals World's Sprint Record

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 13.—Percy Williams, Vancouver sprinting star, equaled the world's record for the 100 yard dash, when he made the distance in 9.3-5 seconds in the international invitational track meet here.

Williams raced neck and neck with Frank Wyckoff, California sprinter, for the first fifty yards and then gradually forged ahead to win by a scant yard.

POLICE ARMS STOLEN

BERLIN, July 13.—Some days ago the small town of Osterburg was thrown into a furor because its police department had been stripped of its weapons. It so happens that the town hall of Osterburg is being rebuilt. Investigation developed that one of the workers employed on this job, a person of a political faith which has not that of the police administration, had stolen all the revolvers belonging to the department. They were later found buried in his garden and as a result of which he and a companion have been arrested.

Better TRACTION ---Longer WEAR

The trend of the Goodyear All-Weather Balloon Tire is semi-flat and scientifically designed to give maximum traction and resistance to skidding. Another big advantage is long, slow, even tread wear. "Cupping" and uneven tread wear, so common to many Balloon Tires, is eliminated. Come in and see this wonderful Tire.

Blease Motor Co., Inc.

Service Station

HOOKS AND SLIDES Henry L. Farrell

th for Pitchers?
VERY time a pitcher goes into the box these days he has his life into his hands," was testimony offered the other day by one of the leading pitchers of the National League.

Only hope the ball manufacturer won't wait until one of us is killed before they take that Italian wool they've been pulling over our eyes so long, out of ball."

her pitchers have plenty to about the liveliness of the ball this year. It seems even resilient than last season. Years ago the best of pitchers used something like two red runs per nine inning game. The topnotchers are giving 4 per game.

he pitcher quoted above says when he broke into the big leagues the fielders were supposed to do a little work. Now the bad ones the pitchers come back at the infield bullets, and curve balls go over the wall.

eham's Views
ARLES A. STONEHAM, president of the Giants, substantiates what the pitcher says. Stoneham regrets the passing of the old battles when one runs out everything and teams used scheme, bunt, steal, hit-and-squeeze to get that tally.

ohn J. McGraw concurs. He it looks like a rubber ball 're bouncing around out there."

Larkspur's Boy
ACK GARNER, who brought Blue Larkspur in the Belmont and the Withers recently, the mount is as gentle as a lamb, and a bearcat for speed andness.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

THE Yankees think Walberg is harder to hit than Lefty Grove. Lou Gehrig is one of the hardest workers in the game. He dreams about base knocks. Wally Schang says "there ain't no science" involved in slugging that spheroid. The idea is to smack it squarely. Jim Corbett decides comparisons of Maxie and the Mauler. Max has a right, says Jim, but Dempsey has (or had) a left and a right that could come to you from any one of 11 directions. In Jim's day only suckers were supposed to get hit with rights. Jim says Max has many glaring defensive faults, too. Little Jockey Eddie Watt's mount was knocked down at the start of a race at Belmont the other day and the boy swallowed his tongue. He was purple when a quick thinker reached his paw into his mouth and pulled out his tongue. Holding your tongue doesn't pay that way.

on going to the front and staying there and others want to follow to dash along like furries. Garner believes in hand-riding more than whipping a horse. "The lash makes them sverve," he says, "and that costs ground. I like to let them go along with a fairly loose rein. The difference between a tight and loose hold is the same as running in light togs or a dress suit."

The Athletic's Confidence
ONE of the chief reasons why the Athletics are so far ahead this year, while the team is practically the same as it was during 1928, is the old confidence, if you'll believe Eddie Collins. Eddie says the boys were good last year but weren't quite sure about it. Now you can't tell them anything different. Eddie says that aside from the Yankees, the Tigers are the only team he can see.

Well, That's a Horse on Us

BUFFALO, July 13.—It has been reported without authority during the last few years that Old Dobbin, most willing of beasts of burden, is gradually becoming extinct in this country; but the recent assertion of Wayne Dinsmore, secretary of the Horse Association of America, seems to shatter any such belief.

According to Dinsmore, the equine population in this country today exceeds 20,500,000, with the prospects of multiplying instead of decreasing. This, Dinsmore, said, will not force the future generation to go to a museum to gain some idea of what "Old Dobbin" once looked like.

Association records show that 1,500,000 horses are in the cities of the United States. The remaining "hay burners" are on farms where their usefulness is greatly appreciated—and needed. Dinsmore declared that breeding has been revived, with the United States having more and better horses than any other nation. With only the finest grade horses being bred, Dinsmore said, breeding is now on a better basis than ever. Iowa leading the other states in that respect.

"A horse is not an extinct mammal," Dinsmore said. "They're here and here to stay. When the 'hay burners' start to pass out of the picture, we'll be the first to know it. That's something we are not worrying about the slightest bit."

Raymond Reynolds of Cudahy, Wis., was sentenced to 30 days in the house of correction for tearing down and trampling upon several American flags.

STRAWS and PANAMAS

1-2 PRICE

Make your selection from NATIONALLY ADVERTISED LINES. We feature the better straws and Panamas, such as, DOBBS, BRIGHAM-HOPKINS and WATSON LEVINE.

Buy that Suit Now!

All Clothing
Fall Suits, Summer Suits

Reduced 20%

You will have high quality suits at special prices. Buy such as, SOCIETY BRAND, AEL-STERN, MIDDIS, HASPEL BROTHERS.

MILLER-LAUDERDALE'S

"—The Man's Store"

OF A SOCIAL NATURE

TELEPHONE 535 OR 80

CIRCLE 5 OF BAPTIST W. M. S. MEETS

Circle No. 5 of the Baptist W. M. S. met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Pratt, 1100 West Sixteenth street, with the president, Mrs. O. J. Russell, presiding.

After prayer, a short business session was held and plans were made for sending a box to the Baptist hospital at Abilene. The devotional was led by Mrs. C. P. Cole, who in the absence of Mrs. G. M. Stephenson, also led the discussion of the lesson, "The Plan of Salvation."

The meeting was dismissed with sentence prayer. The hostess served ice cream and fruit cake to seven members and a visitor.

CIRCLE NO. 4 MEETS

Circle No. 4 of the Methodist W. M. S. met at the home of Mrs. J. J. Little, 506 West Seventh street, with Mrs. Charles Yates as hostess.

The devotional was led by Mrs. William Reagan and followed by a prayer by Mrs. Sullivan. A report of all the committees showed a total of 29 visits, 39 trays, 11 bouquets of flowers, 48 magazines, and 35 worth of garments. Mrs. P. J. Connally gave a report on the Rebecca Sparks Inn at Waco, and Mrs. L. E. Vaughn on the Jerome Duncan Wesley Home in Fort Worth. A fruit shower for the Rebecca Sparks Inn brought $5 worth of fruit. The hostess served a salad plate to 13 members and the guests, Mrs. Sullivan and Mrs. Tom Potter.

CELEBRATES FOURTH BIRTHDAY

Miss Bettie June Montgomery celebrated her fourth birthday Thursday with a party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Montgomery.

Games and music were enjoyed until late in the afternoon when a large pink birthday cake was cut and served to the following: May Rose Cook, Louise Graves, Easter Hannah, Edna Reames, Harry Lee Williams, Billie Bob Montgomery, Doris Jean Graves, Clyde Lavern Graves, James Cloud, Cleda Swink, John Cloud, Jauline Looney, and Bettie Lou and Joe Goodwin of Waco. Mrs. Montgomery was assisted by Mrs. C. W. Graves and Mrs. Harry Williams.

SLEUMBER PARTY AND BREAKFAST

Miss Evelyn Clements entertained Friday night with a slumber party. The guests assembled about 7 o'clock and played games until a late hour when refreshments were served. Saturday morning they had breakfast at Lake Cisco. Those present were: Misses Alberta Webb, Betty Cross, Pauline Runner, Irene Arnold, Dorothy Jean Walker, Jo Ann Kimball, Marjorie Hoyt, Jean Parsons and Betty Jo Farmer.

BRIDGE AT HUMBLETOWN

Mrs. Reggie Henderson and Mrs. W. C. McDaniels were joint hostesses to 15 tables of bridge Friday at the Recreation Hall in Humbletown. The room was decorated with a profusion of cut flowers. Mrs. J. A. Bearman made high score, Mrs. Williams, second high, Mrs. Charles Gober, cut, and Mrs. William Herr, low.

Refreshments of ice cream molded in the shape of sunflowers with cake and candy were served.

Out of town guests were: Mrs. Blake Bryant of Eastland, Mrs. Harry Breckford of Eastland, and Mrs. Mamie Eker of Portland, Oregon.

LEAGUE MEETING AT RISING STAR

The meeting of all leagues in the Cisco district at Rising Star Friday night was well attended by members of the Cisco Epworth League. Those who went were: Mrs. Juan Mason, Rev. F. E. Singleton, Hampton Singleton, Calhoun Anderson, and Misses Mary Latch, Louise Pylon, Laura Faye Wilson, Mildred Thomas of Breckenridge, Eileen Wilson, and Frances Marcia of Fort Worth.

INSTALLATION OF REBEKAH OFFICERS

Mrs. Alice Meadows was installed as Noble Grand and Miss Bertie Threst as Vice Grand at the meeting of the Good Will Rebekah lodge Thursday. Mrs. May Kleiner, district deputy president, acted as installation officer, assisted by Mrs. Leota Bea Grand Marchal, Mrs. Nannie Roberts of Abilene, Grand Warden, Mrs. E. O. Handricks, Grand Warden, Mrs. L. A. Brown, Grand Chaplain. After the meeting ice cream and cake were served to the members.

DELTA ETA ENTERTAINED

Clark Corey, your agent in the Drake estate investigation, has placed on file in my office 146 affidavits and I understand from him that you and each of you as claimants have agreed with me to pay him the sum of $250 for searching for and obtaining copies of wills and other documents, so that I may be able to investigate the affairs with a view of commencing proceedings to prove your claim; and I hereby certify that it will take me at least two months to get the wills and other documents, and on payment of the $250 I will at once commence the

HONORED BY LAWN PARTY

Complimenting Miss Ethel Emerson of Sweetwater, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Daniels entertained with a lawn party at their home, 302 East Twentieth street. Forty-two was Ward, and Misses Irene White, Blanche, Louise and Ardie Smith of Austin.

BRIDGE HONORS GUESTS

Honoring her guests, Mrs. June Clark and Miss Jewel Prince of Corsicana, Mrs. Rice Foreman entertained with nine tables of bridge Wednesday afternoon at her home in Humbletown.

A high score was made by Mrs. J. A. Bearman, low score by Mrs. W. C. McDaniels, and guest prizes were presented to Mrs. Clark and Miss Prince.

A color scheme of yellow and green was carried out, with marigolds predominating in the masses of cut flowers which decorated the rooms.

Out of town guests were Mesdames Gene Bell of Breckenridge, William Bell of Fort Arthur, H. M. Hancey of Dallas, McCulley, and Miss Esther Holyfield of Weatherford.

SWIM AND WATERMELON FEAST

Miss Ethel Emerson was honored again Thursday evening when Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McClelland entertained with a swimming party and watermelon feast at Lake Cisco. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Henderson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Daniels and children, Mrs. Jasper Daniels and children, Mrs. Ellen Lindsey, Mrs. Addie Cooper and children, and V. O. Osborn.

PIVOT CLUB ENTERTAINED

Mrs. J. H. Moyer won high score at the meeting of the Pivot club Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. Charles Brown, 1011 West Sixth. The house was decorated with gladiolus and other cut flowers.

Members and guests were: Mesdames J. H. Bruce, K. H. Pittard, Duncan, Pittard of Hopkinsville, Ky.; Ralph Reed, A. H. Richardson, Kenny, E. S. Wilkinson, J. H. Moyer, J. A. Bearman, Charles Trammell and L. H. McCrea.

TREY BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

Mrs. J. C. Burnam was hostess to the Trey Bridge club Wednesday at her home, 40 West Eighteenth street. The house was decorated with bouquets of zinnias and daisies. Mrs. W. C. McDaniels won high club prize, Mrs. J. A. Bearman high guest, and Mrs. Ted Mullinix, cut. A salad plate was served to the following: Mesdames A. H. Richardson, J. A. Bearman, W. W. Wallace, Jack Carpenter, J. W. Love, Ted Mullinix, A. C. Eiter, W. W. Moore, Haynie P. R. Warwick, Hugh Waymover, H. B. Hackleman, Aaron Robinson, R. L. Pender, W. C. McDaniels and J. M. Carter.

MR. AND MRS. GLENN HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Glenn were honored with a picnic given by the Eastern Star Chapter at the West Texas Utilities park. After various games, lunch was spread and Mrs. J. D. Barker in the name of the Eastern Star presented Mr. and Mrs. Glenn with a beautiful rose-marie console set.

MERRY WIVES ENTERTAINED

Mrs. J. E. Spencer was hostess to the Merry Wives "42" club Friday afternoon at her home, 510 West Broadway.

An ice course was served to the following: Mesdames J. R. Burnett, Joe Wilson, W. P. Lee, D. Ball, L. A. White, J. E. Spencer, J. W. Trillitt, J. J. Butts, Gus

BARON STIEGEL GRAVE THOUGHT FOUND IN LAWN

Boiling Springs, Pa., July 13.—Two weathered stone grave markers, on the lawn of the home of J. C. Bucher here, mark the last resting place of Baron Henry Siegel, who founded Mannheim, Pa., and manufactured the now famous glassware which bears his name.

Specimens of Siegel glassware bring thousands of dollars as antiques. The Bucher home, a fine specimen of Colonial architecture in a good state of preservation is believed to have been the last home of the baron who died almost pen-iless, Baron Siegel is now believed to have died within the walls of the building, which was then the home of Michael Edse.

Mrs. John Robertson, of Mechanicsburg, Pa., said to be the last living descendant of the baron, located the graves through records in an old family Bible.

The story is that Baron Siegel, hounded by misfortune and penniless, went to the Edge home for refuge and in the dead of winter died. Heavy snow necessitated the burial on the lawn, but it was planned to remove the body to Mannheim in the spring. For some reason this plan was never carried out.

Although the old family Bible carried the tale for some reason it was never allowed to become public.

Mrs. Robertson, as the only living descendant of the famed Baron, receives from the congregation of the Zion Lutheran church annually one red rose.

The rose represents the rent on the building housing the church, which originally was constructed by Baron Siegel and presented to the church for rental of one red rose each year.

It was provided by the baron that the oldest descendant receive the "rose rental" following his death.

Members of the congregation of the church and of the Lancaster county historical association are investigating the location of the grave and plan to remove the body to a more suitable grave in Mannheim.

Fried Chicken and Cantaloupe A-la-mode for Sunday dinner at the Gables. Price fifty cents.

Charles Zetzer of Los Angeles sued his wife for divorce because she refused to reduce her weight.

Inertia in Franchise

MACKINAC ISLAND, July 13.—Inheritance or inertia is responsible for the political faith of the majority of women, Miss Lattie E. Stearns, of Milwaukee, Wis., declared in a luncheon address at the annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs here today.

The assertion was made in the course of a verbal tirade against the passive interest displayed by Americans at the polls. Declaring that only 40 per cent of the citizenry of this country exercise the right of suffrage as compared to 70 and 80 per cent in many European countries, she spoke of a "brief visit to election day as a group of candidates about whom we know next to nothing and giving us the virtuous feeling that we again helped to save our country."

In the same category of inertia is Mother's Day—the anniversary of Mother's Day—in the year when we are so scrupulous who gave us the fitting commentary on the neglect of the American people.

Stating that the women of America should be among the foremost in bettering the world, Miss Stearns declared that "the manner of our civilization of the inter-relationship of human ties and obligations another was a test of our humanity and civilization."

Texas has 638 National State banks.

WHITNEY.—West Hill farmers organize.

Man, Sentenced to Prison, Is Injured

TEXARKANA, July 13.—Found lying unconscious beside his automobile which had crashed into a tree, William Day, 50, who was to have been taken to Leavenworth penitentiary today on a liquor conviction, was in a critical condition in a Texarkana hospital here today.

Day was convicted of manufacturing whiskey last winter. A federal court sentenced him to three years in prison. He appealed and the case was confirmed by a higher court last week.

ONE THOUSAND PATTERNS. Wall paper, all new stock, 10c to $3 per bolt. A phone call will deliver to you the exact amount for any room. Estimate on any job gladly given. Painting, papering and decorating. J. C. Porter, Phone 256.

ORGANDY FROCKS

Making room for fall merchandise, we are selling these Frocks at unusually low prices.

A $6 frock for $3.00

While they last

THE SPORT SHOPPE

Remember this SALE CLOSES TUESDAY NIGHT. Be here one of the remaining days.

LADIES DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES' COATS—HALF PRICE LADIES ENSEMBLES—HALF PRICE HOUSE DRESSES—HALF PRICE KIMONAS—HALF PRICE CHILDREN'S DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES HATS—HALF PRICE

Two More Days— MONDAY and TUESDAY

The first two days of this big CLEARANCE SALE has gone beyond our expectations. If you have not attended this GRAND CLEARAWAY OF HIGH GRADE MERCHANDISE be sure to come the next two days.

Remember this SALE CLOSES TUESDAY NIGHT. Be here one of the remaining days.

LADIES DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES' COATS—HALF PRICE LADIES ENSEMBLES—HALF PRICE HOUSE DRESSES—HALF PRICE KIMONAS—HALF PRICE CHILDREN'S DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES HATS—HALF PRICE

Remember this SALE CLOSES TUESDAY NIGHT. Be here one of the remaining days.

LADIES DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES' COATS—HALF PRICE LADIES ENSEMBLES—HALF PRICE HOUSE DRESSES—HALF PRICE KIMONAS—HALF PRICE CHILDREN'S DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES HATS—HALF PRICE

Remember this SALE CLOSES TUESDAY NIGHT. Be here one of the remaining days.

LADIES DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES' COATS—HALF PRICE LADIES ENSEMBLES—HALF PRICE HOUSE DRESSES—HALF PRICE KIMONAS—HALF PRICE CHILDREN'S DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES HATS—HALF PRICE

Remember this SALE CLOSES TUESDAY NIGHT. Be here one of the remaining days.

LADIES DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES' COATS—HALF PRICE LADIES ENSEMBLES—HALF PRICE HOUSE DRESSES—HALF PRICE KIMONAS—HALF PRICE CHILDREN'S DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES HATS—HALF PRICE

Remember this SALE CLOSES TUESDAY NIGHT. Be here one of the remaining days.

LADIES DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES' COATS—HALF PRICE LADIES ENSEMBLES—HALF PRICE HOUSE DRESSES—HALF PRICE KIMONAS—HALF PRICE CHILDREN'S DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES HATS—HALF PRICE

Remember this SALE CLOSES TUESDAY NIGHT. Be here one of the remaining days.

LADIES DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES' COATS—HALF PRICE LADIES ENSEMBLES—HALF PRICE HOUSE DRESSES—HALF PRICE KIMONAS—HALF PRICE CHILDREN'S DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES HATS—HALF PRICE

Remember this SALE CLOSES TUESDAY NIGHT. Be here one of the remaining days.

LADIES DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES' COATS—HALF PRICE LADIES ENSEMBLES—HALF PRICE HOUSE DRESSES—HALF PRICE KIMONAS—HALF PRICE CHILDREN'S DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES HATS—HALF PRICE

Remember this SALE CLOSES TUESDAY NIGHT. Be here one of the remaining days.

LADIES DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES' COATS—HALF PRICE LADIES ENSEMBLES—HALF PRICE HOUSE DRESSES—HALF PRICE KIMONAS—HALF PRICE CHILDREN'S DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES HATS—HALF PRICE

Remember this SALE CLOSES TUESDAY NIGHT. Be here one of the remaining days.

LADIES DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES' COATS—HALF PRICE LADIES ENSEMBLES—HALF PRICE HOUSE DRESSES—HALF PRICE KIMONAS—HALF PRICE CHILDREN'S DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES HATS—HALF PRICE

Remember this SALE CLOSES TUESDAY NIGHT. Be here one of the remaining days.

July Clearance SALE. The first two days of this big CLEARANCE SALE has gone beyond our expectations. If you have not attended this GRAND CLEARAWAY OF HIGH GRADE MERCHANDISE be sure to come the next two days. Two More Days— MONDAY and TUESDAY. Remember this SALE CLOSES TUESDAY NIGHT. Be here one of the remaining days. LADIES DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES' COATS—HALF PRICE LADIES ENSEMBLES—HALF PRICE HOUSE DRESSES—HALF PRICE KIMONAS—HALF PRICE CHILDREN'S DRESSES—HALF PRICE LADIES HATS—HALF PRICE. MENS DEPARTMENT. Be sure to see the wonderful bargains we are offering in our MEN'S STORE. Every thing is on SALE, buy what you are going to need the next few months. HART SCHAFFNER & MARX SUITS MANHATTAN SHIRTS MANSCO UNDERWEAR BOSTONIANS SHOES MUNSING WEAR. SPECIAL CLOSE OUTS 25 SUMMER SUITS—HALF PRICE 50 FALL SUITS—HALF PRICE ALL MEN'S STRAW HATS—HALF PRICE. C. Inc. No. 36. Garner's THE DEPENDABLE STORE. CISCO'S BIG DEPARTMENT STORE.

The Job That Launched A Famous Career

Molly Burnham, just out of college, walked into a Boston newspaper office, asked for a job and got it. In a few years everyone in the country had heard about her. She wrote a play, and then another, and then a famous novel. She seemed always to be in the newspaper headlines. But the world did not know all about Molly Burnham. It did not know that she had lost in love. The story of Molly Burnham, the heartbreak and triumph of her career, in

THE SHINING TALENT

STARTS IN THE DAILY NEWS NEXT WEEK

Cisco Chapter of Masons Grows From Original Membership of 15 to 328; Two Charter Members Alive

Physicians who examined the body said Rice had been dead three hours when found. There were no marks of violence on the body other than the bullet wounds.

KING STANDS OPERATION ON CHEST WELL

LONDON, July 13.—The British king breathed freely again today after a tense period during which his ruler, King George V, underwent his third operation of the chest, when the monarch's physicians and surgeons announced that he had withstood the ordeal remarkably well.

RADIO

WEDNESDAY'S FIVE BEST RADIO FEATURES.

WEAP network, 6:30 CST — "Roads of the Sky."
WEAP and network, 7 CST — Vaudeville Concert.
WABC and network, 7 CST — Williams' Orchestra.
WOR network, 7:30 CST — Last of Lewisohn Stadium Concert.
WABC and network, 8 CST — Mendoza's Orchestra.

Excavation of Burial Mound

INDIANAPOLIS, July 13.—Archaeologists have resumed their search through the valley of the Whitewater river, in southeastern Indiana, for an undisturbed burial mound of one of the prehistoric human families whose only remaining trace apparently is in this region.

The Rome-bound monoplane, through a fog, when the picture escort plane piloted by Lieut. Lewis A. Yancy, navigator of Old Orchard Beach, Me. The by lack of fuel after accompaniment the Pathfinder, below, poised to way from which Pilot Roger V.

TULLOS BROS.

Dyers and Cleaners.

Burnett & Burnett Lawyers

General Practice
Collections a Specialty
Room No. 2
Winston Building.
Telephone 375.

ATTENTION!

We are prepared to do all kinds of Heavy and Oil Field Hauling.

Phone 700
Ever-Ready Transfer & Storage Co.

Rev. J. A. Quail of Stamford, Eng., invited the young people of his congregation to use the church as a courting place.

THE FAMILY PARTY

A nice quiet family party or a friend or two as guests, lacks only a refined and dignified atmosphere to make a perfect setting for a meal.

We provide this quiet dignity with our well trained service to you, and then that other important item—The Food—will be provided by us to your entire satisfaction.

Laguna Hotel Coffee Shop

New Frocks

We have just received direct from New York the latest styles in dresses sizes 14 to 46 and prices $1.00 to $3.95.

See Our Windows.
THE MORRIS SIMON STORE
615 Main Street. Cisco, Texas.

CHEESE PLANT IS OBJECT OF CROSS PLAINS

CROSS PLAINS, July 13.—Public attention has recently been given to the matter of securing a cheese factory for Cross Plains. As a location for a factory of this kind there are few towns in this section of west Texas more suitable for the purpose. The dairy industry throughout this territory is fast increasing to the point where it should not have to depend exclusively on the demand at other places for the marketing of its products. The present supply of milk that is shipped from Cross Plains would be sufficient for the continuous operation of a cheese factory of medium capacity. And judging from the record of other newly established cheese factories in the smaller towns of the state, that supply would be rapidly increased.

The new $15,000 factory at Abernathy opened a few days ago with a record of 4,500 pounds of milk. As an increasing comparison the new factory at Round Rock opened with 950 pounds. Today it is receiving from 20,000 to 24,000 pounds of milk every day.

BRIDE COLLAPSES.

CINCINNATI, O., July 13.—Getting married is, of course, a hazardous proceeding but few take it as seriously as Betty Smedley Thompson of Springfield, O. She fainted immediately after William J. Ranshaw, Covington, Ky., magistrate, had made her the wife of Boyd T. Thompson, 22, also of Springfield. The city health office furnished a bottle of camphor which was used to revive the bride. However, she was unable to leave the city hall for some time following the incident.

A convict threw a Bible at Governor Wilkinson of Barline prison in Glasgow while attending religious services.

Fried Chicken and Cantaloupe A-la-mode for Sunday dinner at the Gables. Price fifty cents.

10, 20, 30 or Even

4

X PAGES TODAY.

NUMBER 108.

saved in used FORD when bought from Blease Motor Co.

Circumstances permit FORD DEALERS to sell USED CARS at a LOWER PRICE than other dealers.

First—There is no PRICE PADD for HIGH trade-in allowances.

Second—The VALUE of the MODEL is SO HIGH and the PRICE so low that excessive trade-in concessions are impossible.

"Play Safe" and Buy Your Used Car from an Authorized Ford Dealer.

Service That Satisfies

BLEASE MOTOR CO., Inc.

Open Evenings Until 9 p. m.

Phones 244-245

Cisco, Texas

Business Methods

Must Follow the Change of Time and Conditions of Co-operative Merchandising!

Our Turn-Over Sale must continue, due to the demand of these conditions. Our stock is marked down to sell at prices that will sell it. Watch for additional extra news in special price and values.

KLEIMAN'S

"Turn Over Sale"

'ROUND ABOUT THE TOWN

LOUISE TRAMMELL, Society Editor. PHONE 535 OR 80. Mrs. Mayer Tomlinson is spending the week end in Ranger...

Churches

FIRST METHODIST. Christ's First and His Greatest Commandment, and "I God Sound Asleep" will be the topics discussed at the First Methodist church today at the morning and evening hour by the pastor, Frank E. Singleton...

WILDCATTERS ARE BUSY IN SHACKELFORD

ALBANY, July 13.—A large number of wildcat wells are being started or are contemplated within the next few weeks. Geo. Callahan No. 8 on J. H. Nail Ranch, Sec. 150 E. T. R. R. land is drilling at 800 feet and is being watched with much interest...

To Our Depositors---

The business of this bank has grown largely through our ability to assist and serve the people of this community. We aim for increased capacity to help in the practical affairs of our patrons.

First National Bank in Cisco, Texas.

DELIVERIES OF WHEAT SWELL TO A NEW HIGH

CHICAGO, July 13.—All deliveries of wheat swelled to new high prices for the present movement on the board of trade today, following a number of sensational reports on the condition of the crop in Canada and the American northwest.

TULLOS BROS. Dyers and Cleaners

Sacred Ritual of Indians Revealed

WASHINGTON, July 13.—One of the most secret and mysterious of all sacred rituals of a strange Indian tribe, the ceremony attending the sacrifice of boiled puppies, jealously guarded for generations, has just been revealed by the Smithsonian Institution.

Bible Class to Study Book of Job

The Bible class of the Lutheran church, Sixteenth street, and F avenue will begin a study of the Book of Job Sunday morning at 9:30. This class meets every Sunday morning at 9:30.

GRACE LUTHERAN

Sixteenth street and F avenue. Two services today—at 10:30 a. m. and 8 p. m. Topic for the morning service, "Sabbath" for the night, "The Taking of Jericho" Sunday school at 9:30.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

Corner Sixth street at H avenue. Quarterly communion at 11 o'clock this morning is a service in memory of the death of the Saviour for the sinner.

Elliott Drug Stores The "San-Tox" Stores Elliott Drug - - Corner Drug "Two Stores to Serve You." Our message to you today brings some very important items—items that are well worth your consideration.

RR PALACE Hear Vitaphone TODAY SEE and HEAR Alice White BROADWAY BABIES See her step to the new dance tunes of "Broadway Baby Dolls," "Wishing and Waiting For Love" and "Jig, Jig Jig."

DEMON ALL W Your New TREATMENT ul bargains we are offering in our on SALE, buy what you are go- ER & MARX SUITS MANSCO UNDERWEAR MUNSING WEAR CLOSE OUTS TS—HALF PRICE S—HALF PRICE HATS—HALF PRICE 7 Victor Features 1. Micro-synchronous...