OIL COMPANIES FACE TRUST CHARGES

SUITS FILED IN ALLEGED CONSPIRACY

Seven Majors and Twelve Independents Are Named

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 15.—Alleging an illegal conspiracy to fix and maintain high prices, anti-trust suits against seven major oil companies and twelve independents were brought in federal district court here today.

The actions were filed by George J. Hatfield, United States, District attorney, acting under instructions of William S. Mitchell, attorney general.

The complaints separate the concerns into seven major and 12 independent oil concerns. One defendant, F. R. Long, also is a defendant. The companies are: Standard Oil company of California, Richfield Oil company, General Petroleum Corporation of California, Shell Oil company of California, Union Oil company of California, The Texas Company, Associated Oil company, Marine Refining Corporation, Hancock Oil company, McMillan Petroleum company, Rio Grande Oil company, Seaside Oil company, Chanley Gasoline company, Sunland Refining company, United States Refining company, Edington-Witz Refining company, Vernon Refining company, Western Oil & Refining company.

"Liaison Agent." It was charged in the suit that F. R. Long acted as the liaison agent in the alleged conspiracy through the medium of contracts with all the petroleum firms.

It is claimed the contracts called for Long to purchase all surplus of the independents and dispose of it to the major firms. Slight prices were to be posted outside of each gasoline station under control of the major companies. From which price, the suits state, they had agreed not to deviate.

The government suit asks that the court dissolve the alleged conspiracy and enjoin the corporations from doing from this or any other illegal agreement in restraint of free trade.

The suit asks that each company be subpoenaed to answer the allegations.

Hatfield said the suit was filed on direct order of the Warrenton, Oregon, secret grand jury investigation into the action of the oil companies conducted last month and after this investigation decision was reached not to take criminal action but to proceed with a civil suit.

The concerns named as defendants produce and distribute virtually all of the gasoline on the Pacific coast.

Progressive Cisco Legion Post Has Splendid Home for Activities

The John William Butts post of the American Legion has perhaps the finest legion-owned headquarters of any post in this section of the state.

This cabin, built primarily as a tourist park, was donated to the Legion by the city for a period of five years. It is located across the Texas and Pacific and the Katy railway tracks in the center of a fenced block which offers splendid opportunities for making a beautiful lawn similar to the West Texas Utilities park and increasing the attractiveness of the native-stone cabin surrounded by a wide porch.

The Ladies Auxiliary has furnished the cabin with draperies, chairs, tables, etc., giving it a home-like atmosphere and appearance. Built-in seats along the walls are to be covered and the floors are being fixed now preparatory to being re-painted. A pool and billiard table, which has recently been added, and a combination radio and phonograph offer means of entertainment.

World War Relics

Besides two showers, a ladies rest room, and a men's rest room, the living room is joined by a small room where are kept a number of relics of the World War. These include a machine gun, several army rifles, a canteen, shrapnel, and a German helmet. All of which were picked up from the battle fields and shipped to Texas to be distributed among the Texas posts.

On the wall hangs a French tribute "a la memoire de Jacob M. Taylor, 1st Class, Company G 113, Infantry." There is also an original water-color painting of the Hindenburg line, Bull-court sector, France, November 1917. This picture shows the line

Prairie Regrets Cut in Crude Price

EASTLAND, Feb. 15.—In announcing a reduction in the price of crude oil to meet the prices of competitive purchasers of oil, the Prairie Oil and Gas company issued a statement in which regrets were expressed that they found this action necessary. Also the hope was expressed that mutual cooperation of producers and refiners would bring about a condition that would restore the former price of oil.

NO DATE IS SET FOR NEW SANITY TRIAL

No action has been taken toward setting date for a second sanity hearing for E. V. Allen, condemned Carbon bank robber, whose first trial resulted in a hung jury and dismissal of the panel in the 88th district court at Eastland Friday, according to information from Eastland last night.

Allen, condemned to die for the bloodless robbery of the Carbon bank, was reviewed by Governor Moody until March 14, to permit time for a hearing on allegations that Allen is of unsound mind. A date for a new hearing will probably be set immediately by Judge Elzo Been of the 88th district court in which Allen was found guilty and given the death penalty.

A dollar a ton sulphur tax was voted yesterday by the house. The bill was expected to reach the senate today. Twenty members only were present. This is one short of a quorum. The session ends Tuesday.

PILOT UNHURT IN ACCIDENT AT AIR FIELD

Puff of Wind Throws Ship on Nose While Landing

An American Eagle plane, piloted by T. J. Haire, of 5700 Winton street, Dallas, Texas, crashed at the local airport here about noon Saturday without injuring the pilot. The plane was damaged to the extent of a broken propeller and a smashed undercarriage. The fuselage and wings were unhurt and the ship was left here in the yard of E. B. Isaacks, dean of Randolph college, until Mr. Haire could return to Dallas and bring back parts to repair it.

According to reports the plane was being flown from Dallas for delivery to a physician in El Paso. Mr. Haire had been experiencing motor trouble ever since leaving Ft. Worth and arriving over Cisco he decided to land. Near the ground as he nosed down the motor failed entirely. He was gliding successfully to a landing when a sudden puff of wind caught the ship lifting the tail up and nosing the plane into the ground.

The ship with the aid of an automobile wrecker was conveyed from the airport to the yard at the home of Mr. Isaacks where it was left until repairs could be made and its journey to Mexico resumed.

SHEEP AND GOAT RAISERS ASS'N FORMED

RANGER, Feb. 15.—The Oil Belt Sheep and Goat Raisers association was organized Saturday afternoon at a meeting in the Ranger chamber of commerce office, with 25 members.

Mayor John Thurman of Ranger was elected president and Leslie Hagaman of Ranger was elected secretary-treasurer.

Ranger was chosen as the headquarters.

The president appointed a committee consisting of Grover Jennings, Hayden Neal and J. B. Norton to report on a constitution and by-laws at the next meeting.

Mr. Hagaman will obtain full information on buyers, markets and the best of wool sacks and will report at the meeting, which will be held on March 1 at 2 p. m. in the chamber of commerce office in Ranger. As the raisers start clipping about March 15, it is urged that all interested attend the meeting on March 1.

It is planned to obtain a building, pool the mohair and wool and have the buyers come here.

There was a discussion relative to offering a reward for the arrest and conviction of anyone guilty of depredations on the sheep and goat ranches.

E. H. Varnell, vocational agriculturalist of Cisco, attended the meeting.

Nationally Known Expert Is Coming

A Free Cooking School to be sponsored by the Cisco Daily News will be held February 26, 27, 28, at old Daily News Bldg., across the street from the West Texas Utilities Co. offices.

The Daily News in making this announcement desires its readers to know it is sponsoring a Free Cooking School as a part of a general program of giving full service to this community and as a civic and social event of wide interest to housewives and their families.

This newspaper is not laboring under a delusion that Cisco and vicinity is lacking in good cooks. Far from it. Every resident knows the delicious cookery that abounds on the groaning tables of this community.

But every housewife, who realizes the value of culinary skill will appreciate the results to be obtained and the benefits to be derived from a scientifically conducted cooking school.

School teachers attend normal and institute. The good doctor goes to a clinic now and then to keep in touch with modern developments.

The Daily News Cooking School will be a clinic for housewives, a sort of normal school post-graduate course in the higher forms of preparing savory dinners and arranging tempting menus.

Nationally Known.
Clara Alden Spence of Kansas City, nationally known cooking and food expert, has been obtained to conduct the school. Miss Spence, a university graduate in home economics, has spent many years in culinary experimentation and is coming to Cisco to give the housewives who take advantage of the opportunity the benefit of her experience and study.

Miss Spence conducts a model kitchen laboratory in Kansas City. That kitchen will be duplicated as nearly as possible on the stage in the Daily News Cooking School.

Cisco Teams Lose to Breckenridge

Both the Lobos and the Lobo Queens lost their games to the Breckenridge teams last night at Breckenridge. The Queens lost 26 to 23 and the Lobos 16 to 15. Both games were fast and furious, that of the boys particularly so. Ray, star Cisco guard was banished in the last quarter after arguments with the referee which resulted in free throws that gave the Breckenridge team their narrow margin of victory.

PASCHALL AND FEE WELLS ARE BOTH DRILLING

Both the Anna Belle Oil company's Mrs. Lula Paschall well in the eastern edge of Cisco and the Lone Star Gas company's Fee well northeast of the city and 1360 feet east of the J. A. Bearman, et al. Kinead well, were drilling Saturday, the former at 960 feet and the latter at 330.

Some trouble with cavings was being experienced by the Lone Star well.

In the case of the Paschall test formations encountered were checked at least 80 feet higher than the same formations encountered in the Kinead well. A great deal of water was found in both tests.

Says He Hasn't Arrested Tourists

The complaint has been made at both Ranger and Cisco that traffic officers are arresting out-of-state tourists on Eastland county highways without proper cause. County Motorcycle officer Bob Hammett said Saturday:

"I have made no arrest of out-of-state tourists for any cause and the statement that unwarranted arrests are being made is unfair to me," Hammett said, "no mention is made of the arresting officer."

FINAL RITES FOR MR. HARRIS SAID FRIDAY

Impressive final rites were said for J. C. Harris, 86, who died at his home here early Wednesday morning, at the First Baptist church Friday morning at 9:30. The entire funeral in its principal features had been arranged by Mr. Harris before his death.

Isham Lamb of Cisco, led the prayer and Dr. C. G. Howard, former pastor of the Cisco Baptist church and now pastor of the church at Canyon, made a brief talk on "It Is Finished" as Mr. Harris has requested him before his death. There was another prayer by Rev. L. L. Kindrick, of Amarillo, son-in-law of the deceased.

Rev. Acker C. Miller, pastor of the Cisco church, then spoke from the subject "Beginning to Live" using the fourteenth chapter of the Gospel of St. John as his text.

Three songs were sung by a quartet composed of Mrs. G. M. Stephenson, Mrs. Bob Key, W. F. Walker and E. Waite. They were: "Rock of Ages"; "Beautiful Land"; and "Shall We Gather at the River."

An abundance of formal offerings were banked about the casket attending the esteem in which the deceased was held in Cisco, where for the past ten years he had made his home.

The T. E. L. Class of the First Baptist church, taught by the daughter of Mr. Harris, Miss Cora Harris, attended the services in a body.

Burial took place in Oakwood cemetery. Pall bearers were A. A. Williams, Lee Owen, B. W. Patterson, Frank Walker, R. B. Kinsey, and W. I. Ghormley.

Raines, of Dallas, agency director, who were here for the first time.

Applications for $115,000 of new insurance were presented to the medical examiner at this session. The meeting was held between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

ORCHESTRA FOR EVENT IS SECURED

"Men's Night With the Boys" Will Be Gala Affair

The Ray Judia orchestra, of Cisco, has been secured to play for the annual Lobo football banquet which will be held at the Laguna hotel Tuesday evening. This orchestra which has become very popular here and over this section generally, will enliven the spirit of the occasion with popular numbers and add very much to the enjoyableness of this "men's night with the boys."

There will also be several songs by quartets and other musical features during the event.

Other numbers on the varied program that has been arranged will be a boxing match; several lively talks by business men boosters of the team, and the election of the new captain by the Lobos. Willard Miller, captain last season, will graduate from the high school at the end of the term.

The steering committee anticipates that at least 200 will attend the event. Tickets are now being sold from all drug stores and a canvass of the business district will be made during the next two days.

J. T. Elliott is chairman of the arrangements committee.

NOBILE FAILED IN DUTY SAYS COMMITTEE

ROME, Feb. 15.—Umberto Nobile "failed in his duty as a general and commander" of the polar dirigible Italia which was wrecked in the Arctic ice fields in the summer of 1928, an official investigating committee reported today.

The official report on the Italia expedition, which cost the lives of eight members of the party and one of the nine rescuers, was devoted principally to a scathing attack on Nobile and a brief defense of two Italian captains — Alberto Mariano and Filippo Zappi — who were rescued after leaving their companion, Capt. Finn Malmgren, in his grave on the ice.

Nobile "proved himself by his conduct to have limited technical ability and to have lacked the ability to command," the report said. He also was severely condemned for having permitted himself to be rescued before his companions for his "conceited and selfish nature," for his lack of gratitude to his companions and his "rescue even those who lost their lives, and for his criticism of associates" on the expedition.

The commission found unanimously that, as commander, he was "specifically responsible" for the composition and handling of the crew and that he was "precisely responsible" for a wrong maneuver in handling the airship.

HORACE BUTLER

Not merely Eastland but Eastland county lost one of its outstanding men in the sudden tragedy of Horace Butler's death.

Mr. Butler went to Eastland in 1922 and the building of the plant of the Arab Gasoline Corporation at that dark time was one of the important factors that marked the turning point after the deflation that followed the ending of the great boom.

The new citizen entered with enthusiasm and energy into civic activities and served faithfully and well. He came of an illustrious family. His father served a greater length of time consecutively in the National House of Representatives than any other congressman in the history of the United States.

General Smedley Butler is a brother of Horace and is one of the greatest fighting men this country has ever had. He visited the county last year and made many firm friends.

Horace Butler was a Quaker—the denomination to which President Hoover belongs. William Penn, the gentle founder of Pennsylvania, Mr. Butler's native state, was a Quaker.

One picture that will always remain in the mind of this writer was the scene in the hall at Eastland when the Stone Mountain memorial half dollar was auctioned. Mr. Butler—a Northerner and a Republican—was the auctioneer of this trophy, which honored the Confederate soldiers, the idols of the Democratic Southland.

From the eloquence and fraternal feeling that fell from his lips with the beauty of flowers that drench a Tennessee hillside with fragrance and color, one would never have known but that the speaker was cradled in the land of the "Lost Cause" where the names of Lee and Jackson are listed with love by the tiniest tots. The scene was another evidence of the unity of this great nation.

Sanity Hearing Rests With Warden

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 15 — Decision on a sanity hearing for Mrs. Eva Duesan, under sentence to hang February 21 for murder, today rested with Warden Lorenzo Wright.

Support of Governor John C. Phillips in behalf of the woman was indicated last night after a meeting with Ruth Hale, vice president of the national society for the abolition of capital punishment, but the executive said he was unable to take direct action.

Mrs. Hale asked the governor to intercede, to insure the action. Both the present prison physician and Dr. Charles W. Brown, who formerly acted in that capacity, have advised Warden Wright that Mrs. Duesan should have such a hearing, Governor Phillips said.

Grandview — New filling station opened on East Criner street.

OUT OUR WAY

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By EDSON R. WAITE Shawnee, Oklahoma.

That a business that isn't worth advertising isn't worth patronizing.

The business man with a vision of a bigger business advertises. The man with no vision need not advertise; he does not remain in business long.

The printed page offers the only effective way of getting the business that the mail order houses and distant cities are getting.

The man who is proud of his business and has the quality goods and services to back it up advertises. Advertising is a great factor in the race for business.

The merchant who uses truthful, consistent advertising wins the race. To "say it with advertising" brings returns.

Enters Race for Tax Collector

Milton Newman of Eastland will make the race for the democratic nomination for county collector, he stated Saturday.

A resident of the county since 1905, Mr. Newman is well and favorably known. He is also well qualified for the position he seeks.

Mr. Newman attended the old Scranton academy at Scranton, Britton's Training school at Cisco and finished his education after he was married by attending night school and graduating from Randolph college at Cisco.

For several years Mr. Newman taught in the rural schools of Eastland, Stephens and Callahan counties. He resided at different times at Cisco, Ranger and Eastland. He is a man of family.

In addition to teaching farming and stockraising Mr. Newman has served as deputy tax collector and has had experience in various clerical work. He has never before asked for nor held public office.

Wife of Justice Hurt in Accident

EASTLAND, Feb. 15.—Mrs. W. P. Leslie of 702 West Moss received a severe cut on the cheek and was shaken up as the result of an automobile accident near Comanche at 3 p. m. Friday, but was reported resting comfortably late yesterday.

Mrs. Leslie was accompanying her husband, an associate justice of the Eastland court of civil appeals on a trip to Austin. It was reported that Judge Leslie drove his car into a ditch to avoid striking a truck on the highway about five miles southeast of Comanche. The truck driver had guided his vehicle to the left side of the road preparatory to making a right turn into a country road. The judge had the alternative of crashing into the truck load of cedar posts or going into the ditch. His machine did not overturn, but the sudden stop threw his wife against the windshield. The impact of the blow broke the glass and cut a small artery in Mrs. Leslie's cheek and caused a heavy loss of blood before medical aid was secured. Both returned to Eastland Friday night. The judge escaped without injury.

The broken windshield was said to be the only damage to the car.

PROTEST CAMPAIGN

MOSCOW, Feb. 15.—Meetings of factory workers have been called here and in other cities to protest against the growing campaign of western churches against the Soviet religious policy. Russian views the foreign attitude as one more indication of international preparations for war against her.

Special Trains Will Take Stock to Show

FORT WORTH, Feb. 15.—Several special trains will be operated to this city bringing livestock for the annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show to be held March 3 to 16. The animals will be assembled at certain points to make up the specials. One probably will come from Oklahoma, another from South Texas and one from West Texas.

Another special train will bring a shipment of rodeo livestock. More than 150 outlaw horses will be brought here for the rodeo, the largest number ever contracted for in one deal, according to Manager John B. Davis.

Considerable interest is being shown, Davis said, in the feeder-breeder exhibits to be held here during the show. These exhibits are intended to encourage the feeding of cattle bred in Texas with Texas raised feedstuffs, rather than shipping them out of the state at certain periods of the year.

Third Political Party Formed in Hidalgo

ALLEN, Feb. 15.—A third political party began operating in Hidalgo county today after being formed last night when 4,000 persons gathered at the high school stadium for a mass meeting of the good government league. The body is known as the good government party.

It was formed so that the league's candidates could be placed on the ticket in regular form.

Mayor D. E. Kirgan, Weslaco league leader, attacked present county officials, declaring "Hidalgo county has seen her last boss."

OIL NEWS OF SOUTHWEST

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Feb. 15.—Leaders in this section of the midcontinent oil fields believed today that steady gains made by independent oil producers in their campaign for a tariff on foreign crude may bring about an understanding with Standard Oil company leaders on oil prices.

"I can't predict what congress will do but I do know that with the progress made the major buyers probably will readjust oil prices," former Senator J. W. Harrell said.

Representatives of the "holdout" companies, Prairie Oil & Gas and Phillips Petroleum will meet in New York next week for what is believed to be a show down on crude oil prices. At the same time final hearings on the tariff question will be held at Washington.

Oklahoma City oil field producers will meet next week to make plans for bringing more pipe lines into the field, it was announced today. They will also arrange for larger tank car facilities, increasing them to 100,000 barrels capacity daily. Efforts will be made to have the Champlin Refining company and other companies enter the field with pipe lines.

Coolidges Spend While in Houston

HOUSTON, Feb. 15.—Former President Calvin Coolidge and his wife spent a half hour in Houston this morning, stopping over here on their way from Florida to the west coast.

He still is "silent Cal" or almost so. "Nothing to say on politics. The business situation?" I've been out of touch with the country as a whole since I left Washington."

Postmaster Roy B. Nichols stepped up, was introduced, and then Coolidge asked: "How's business?" "We've had a 14 per cent increase in the post office," Nichols said. "There you are," answered Coolidge. "That shows how business is here."

of advance made by the battalions of the Irish division in their attack on this line which footnotes explain was a thirty-mile tunnel from 50 to 70 feet in depth furnished with all home comforts including electric lights, and especially protected against invasion by electric mines. The complete capture of this line was effected by this division in 30 minutes on November 11, 1917.

The cabin is open at any time to members of the Legion and Auxiliary, all of whom own private keys. Meeting of both organizations are held here.

The Ladies Auxiliary has lent its enthusiasm and support also to the enterprises of the Legion. Though organized at an early date, they reorganized, naming Mrs. J. H. Moyer, president, Mrs. H. A. Bible, secretary, and Mrs. Henry Benham, treasurer. Mrs. Moyer and Mrs. Bible are serving again this year in the same offices, with Mrs. Chas. Roberts as treasurer.

Seek Third Man in Trunk Robbery

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Feb. 15.—A third man believed to have been involved in the robbery of a trunk containing diamonds valued at $150,000 at a hotel dock, was being hunted today by police.

The diamonds belonged to J. Crohn, salesman for the Hugo Oppenheim & Straus company, New York jewelers. A satchel that had contained the gems was found last night near a bridge ten miles east of here. Officers believed that two men that had been seen driving a new truck had taken the trunk from the hotel dock and had fled to the Seminole oil fields for refuge.

Nine deputies were assigned to search the city for a third man believed to have had "inside" information.

$15,000 reward has been posted by the diamond insurance agency.

MOTHER SURE HER SON WILL BE RELEASED

HUNTINGTON PARK, Calif., Feb. 15.—While a death sentence hangs over her 17-year-old son, Ted Cole, Mrs. Esther Cole lives here on time borrowed from the future, when she believes, her son will be free.

Ted Cole didn't commit a murder—for which death has long been a penalty. Instead, he allowed a lady to lead him to commit a robbery with firearms in violation of a recent Oklahoma law providing the death penalty for such an offense.

Mrs. Cole was happier today than in months, she said. She intimated that she had been assured that Gov. Holloway would commute Ted's sentence in event it is upheld by the criminal court of appeals.

She rides the street cars to and from the Los Angeles store where she works, and dreams of the day when Ted will be with her again.

She told of the long months of weary waiting ever since she learned that her son, who had left here and gone to Tulsa, Okla., had been arrested and charged with robbing a bottling factory.

"I thought first of the jail and the kind of treatment he would receive," she said.

After that she hoped his friends with whom he had attended school here would not hear of it—even then, visioning the return home of her boy.

But the case attracted attention, when Judge Saul Yager, who heard the lad's plea of guilty imposed the death sentence and spoke of him as "an example."

Her son was taken to death row to await execution, set for December 31, 1929. Execution was stayed when an appeal was filed, and Governor Johnston ordered the boy removed from the death row.

Henry Ford Sees Great Changes in Process for World Generally and United States in Particular

Editor's note: Henry Ford, in the following interview granted to Morris de Haven Tracy, tells of great changes which are affecting America and all the world. The originator of mass production on a huge scale, he denies that widespread use of automatic machinery results in any permanent unemployment. People "learned a lesson" from the stock market crash, Ford believes. And he wishes they would "stop talking" about prohibition. "Of course it can be enforced," he says.

By MORRIS DE HAVEN TRACY, United Press Staff Correspondent. Copyright, 1930, in all countries, by the United Press.

FORD MYERS, Fla., Feb. 15.—Henry Ford sees great changes in process for the people of the world in general and of the United States in particular.

First, he believes the increased use of automatic machinery instead of causing unemployment, will raise the standard of labor.

Second, he feels that many people have learned a great lesson in the era of stock market speculation. He believes it created fictitious values, only to have them crumble. Sounder business conduct will follow.

Third, he is confident that prohibition will be increasingly enforced and alcohol will become an industrial commodity only, eliminating what he considers a curse to all people.

Fourth, he sees in the adjustment of European wage scales to American standards a movement he is pioneering through his foreign factories—an eventual readjustment of foreign exchange values on an actual instead of an artificial basis and better standards the world over.

Talks With Correspondent.

Ford discussed these and other things with the United Press correspondent as we sat in his modest workshop and office at his winter home here.

"What is all this discussion about automatic machinery and who is it throwing out of work?" Ford queried. "It is just something to talk about and it is not throwing people out of work."

"To begin with not everything can be done with automatic machinery. In our factory there are many, many processes that cannot be done that way."

"Then, this is what happens. When an automatic machine is planned it requires men to design it and many more to build it. It requires others to keep it in repair. And they, in turn, are the fellows who see how to improve it and so more men are required to make the improvements."

"What automatic machinery does is to replace operators of machines but, in turn, it creates a demand for minimum wage for that country. Our wage paid abroad has no relation whatever to the exchange rates which the bankers use. Those rates are entirely artificial and will be torn down. The basis of value is what can a man buy with the money he gets for his day's work and it is on that basis that we pay him. That is the real measure of the American dollar in the currency of another country."

Certain Advantages

"We find certain advantages in manufacturing tractors in Ireland," he said, "and so we have been building them there and have shipped many of them to this country for sale."

In concluding Ford philosophized a bit upon some of the developments of the future.

"With facilities for the distribution of power and with inexpensive and rapid transportation," he said, "cities will spread out more and more, working men can have more ground around their homes they won't be so cramped up."

"Cities better stop piling up their sky scrapers anyway. Everybody knows the interior of the earth is plastic. It's possible to get too much weight upon the surface. It's bound to make a dent. Maybe it will be only half an inch, but it might be serious."

"But the trend is to the suburbs and it will continue to spread out the cities farther and farther. Already we live at Dearborn's main working for us who live 20 and 30 miles away and they can drive to work in half an hour. It used to take them three quarters of an hour on the street cars. So they save half an hour a day and that time is their own to do with as they please."

Booker — Meetings to be held during February at high school to discuss poultry industry.

People should stop talking about it and the papers ought to stop agitating about it. People want prohibition. Our president has made it clear where he stands on the matter. It is time to quit talking so much.

No Drinking

"In our factories, both here and abroad, we do not stand for men drinking. In this country if a man is found drinking we even go so far as to discover where he gets his liquor and lay the matter before the enforcement authorities. We have their complete cooperation and they go after the seller."

"Of course, employing as many men as we do, we have some trouble, but it is negligible."

"In our factories abroad, even though liquor is sold legally in those countries, we demand non-drinking men. And we get them."

It was then that the conversation turned to European wage scales and allied subjects.

"We try to determine," said Ford, "what pay in the money of another country equals in purchasing power the seven-dollar-a-day minimum wage scale we have in this country. When we have determined that, it becomes our

Presbyterian Circle Gives Tea

About forty-five guests attended the Valentine tea given Thursday afternoon by Circle 3 of the Presbyterian Auxiliary at the home of Mrs. W. W. Wallace in Humboldt.

The rooms were brightly decorated in the Valentine color scheme of red and white. Refreshments of heart shaped sandwiches, cake, candy and tea were served by Mesdames R. C. Hayes, E. J. Anderson and Ed Caffrey from the dining table which was centered by a silver basket of red carnations.

An entertaining program consisting of vocal, piano, and orchestra numbers, readings and a dance was presented during the afternoon.

Baptists Conclude Associational Rally of Two Weeks With Gathering Here Friday Attended by Over 300

The largest and most enthusiastic associational gathering that the Cisco association of the Baptist church has ever held took place here Friday as the closing feature of a two-weeks rally aimed at the promotion of the missionary program of the church throughout the association. At least 300 people, the majority of them from out of town, representing the 46 churches in the three counties of Eastland, Stephens and Shackelford embraced by the association, attended the sessions which began shortly after 10 o'clock Friday morning and continued 3:30 in the afternoon.

Luncheon was served in the banquet room of the church by the circles of the W. M. U. of which Mrs. F. J. Poe is president.

The next meeting of the association, it was decided in the concluding moments of the session, will take place at Eastland on Tuesday, March 11. Feature Address—The feature address of the day was that delivered by Dr. W. R. White, of Dallas, newly elected secretary of the Baptist state missionary work. He spoke at 11:30 Friday morning on the progress of the Baptist work in the state. In the afternoon at 2:15 he conducted a sort of open forum explaining features of the missionary program of the church and answering questions relative to that work asked him by associational members.

The conference was opened Friday morning with a devotional led by Rev. E. M. Raymond, of Albany. A three-part discussion of the "Missionary Message of the Book of Acts" by Rev. W. R. Underwood, of Albany; Rev. J. I. Roden, of Gorman, and Rev. P. Neil Greer, of Rising Star, each of whom discussed certain chapters of the book, occupying the period between 10:30 and 11:30.

A guest by Earl King, of Albany, and Rev. H. D. Blair, of Cisco, preceded a brief conference on the missionary budget promotion for the association, led by Rev. Ross R. Smith, of Breckenridge.

Luncheon served—Dr. White's address followed and after that lunch was served. Two meetings took place simultaneously in the afternoon, the associational board, consisting of the pastor and one lay member from each of the 46 churches, meeting in one part of the church to discuss finances, and the Women's Missionary Union occupying the auditorium for a session which lasted from 1:30 until 3 o'clock.

Addresses at the women's meeting were made by Mrs. Ben Morrison, of Cisco; Mrs. S. J. Osborne, of Breckenridge, and Mrs. Ralph Wright, Mrs. Ulliam, of Cisco, sang.

At three o'clock both meetings came together for a brief business session and to select a place for the next meeting of the association.

The conference was concluded with the open forum discussion of the missionary program of the church in Texas led by Dr. White.

A laymen's meeting was held at Eastland Friday evening, Dr. White addressing this gathering.

Back From Standard Training School
Dr. and Mrs. F. P. Culver, presiding elder of the Cisco district of the Methodist church; Rev. J. D. Knoy, of Parks, and Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Tammey, of Rising Star, returned to Cisco Saturday afternoon by motor from Dallas where they attended the standard training school of the Central Texas conference held at the Central Methodist church, of which Rev. C. O. Shupart, formerly presiding elder of this district, is pastor. They had gone to Fort Worth Monday.

One of the 19 instructors in this school was Rev. F. E. Singleton, pastor of the First Methodist church here, who returned Friday night. Over 400 attended the school and more than 350 credits were issued, Mr. Singleton stated.

Court Orders Honeymoon

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—By court order, the Enslen's are going to spend a belated honeymoon at Hot Springs, Ark., although William the husband, is a retired, businessman and Amelia, the wife, is 65.

Mrs. Enslen petitioned Judge Joseph Sabath to increase her $10 a week temporary alimony, explaining that she had been separated from her husband for three years.

"He used to be a clerk," she said. "I economized even did his ironing, until we amassed $65,000."

William countered with the assertion that his wife never had spent more than $3 a week, and her allowance was sufficient.

Judge Sabath said he thought the idea of making money had warped the minds of both until they did not know how to enjoy what they had.

"I sentence you to live together again," the judge said. "Furthermore, you must go on a honeymoon together for a month. Where do you want to go?"

"California," said Ensler. "Florida," answered the wife. "Hot Springs," said the judge, as a compromise.

Canon City Convict Climbs to Freedom

CANON CITY, Colo., Feb. 15.—Within the range of vision of hundreds of convicts and guards, Leo McGenty, 26, escaped today from the Colorado penitentiary by scaling the south wall with the aid of a rope suspended from a hook on top of the wall.

The rope was discovered, presumably within an hour after the daring daylight escape. A check of prisoners revealed McGenty the only missing convict. He was known as a desperate character, and was suspected at one time of having conceived the bloody mutiny at the penitentiary last October. He was absolved of that suspicion, however, by the commission which investigated the insurrection for Governor Adams.

Officer Dies of Auto Injuries
MT. CLEMENS, Mich., Feb. 15.—Capt. Cleerton H. Reynolds, 41, commanding officer of the 15th observation squad at Selfridge Field, died today from injuries received last night when his automobile crashed into a concrete culvert after he lost control of it. His wife, a former Washington actress, and Lieut. Bert P. Meyn, 34, whose home is in Omaha, were injured.

TEST OF BUYER GUILT SECTION OF LAW BEGUN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The government decided today to proceed with the prosecution of John Wayland Clarendon, Va., on a charge of purchasing liquor, thereby making a test case of section 6 of the Volstead act. This section, Assistant District Attorney David A. Hart contends, provides that buying of illicit liquor is a misdemeanor punishable by six months' imprisonment or a fine of $300.

The case, the second of its kind ever to be tried, may decide the future of capital liquor purchasers. If the government is upheld, observers say it would make unnecessary enactment of the Sheppard bill to make liquor purchasers equally guilty with bootleggers.

BOY KILLED.
LUFKIN, Feb. 15.—Max Menifee, 14, son of J. L. Menifee, was killed today when struck by an automobile driven by Prof. K. P. Glass. His skull was crushed.

PLANES BURNED.
LANSING, Mich., Feb. 15.—Fire today destroyed a hangar and ten airplanes at the capital city airport. The three miles from Lansing. Loss was estimated at $100,000. Two explosions preceded the fire, it was said.

Jury Deliberates in Convicts' Trials

ATLANTA, N. Y., Feb. 15.—A jury today continued deliberations in the trial of six convicts for whom conviction means death and for whom acquittal means a return to prison.

The six are accused of killing Henry Sullivan, another convict, in the riot at Auburn prison in December. They are Claude Ud-wile, Frank Leagan, Jesse Thomas, Leo Lewis, Albert Cassidy and William Force.

The jury received the case at 4:35 p. m. yesterday, but after several hours they were unable to reach a verdict and were ordered retired for the night. Just before they reentered the jury room today it was reported that no ballots had yet been taken.

Hoover Party Bids Farewell to Florida

LONG BEACH, Fla., Feb. 15.—President Hoover bids farewell to Florida's fishing grounds today with an expedition to surf stream waters in search of the king of all the salt-water, favorite quarry of local sportsmen.

While Mr. Hoover and his guests sailed the clear waters in small motorboats, trailing with electric lights, preparations were made for a departure for Washington tonight. According to the schedule, the president will arrive in Washington Monday in time to put in a full day at his desk.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JESUS MEETING HUMAN NEEDS

And he entered into a ship, and passed over, and came into his own city.

And, behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed; and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee.

And, behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth.

And Jesus knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts?

For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk?

But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go into thine house.

And he arose, and departed to his house.

But when the multitudes saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had given such power unto men.

Matthew, sitting at the receipt of custom, said he saith unto him, And as Jesus passed forth from thence, he saw a man, named Matthew, sitting at the receipt of custom; and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

And it came to pass, as Jesus sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat down with him and his disciples.

And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, Why eateth your master with publicans and sinners?

But when Jesus heard that, he said unto them, They that are whole need not a physician, but they that are sick.

But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice; for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Feb. 16, Jesus Meeting Human Needs, Matt. 9:1-13.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of The Congregationalist.

The general lesson title is "Jesus Healing and Helping." Regarding the healing of Jesus we have not full records, and the whole subject is one of much complexity and difficulty, emphasized by the conflicting evidences and opinions of modern times.

The recent happenings at a cemetery in Malden, Mass., where on some days as many as a hundred thousand people visited the tomb of a young priest, over 40 years dead, at which shrine certain remarkable cures were reported to have taken place, illustrates what we have in mind. The actual descriptions of the scene at that tomb were exceedingly pitiful, both in their representation of human suffering with its intense quest of hope and relief, and in the evidences of the lack of any real cure. The conventional investigation and following up of certain conspicuous cases reported as miraculous turned out to be rather negative and very disappointing.

Denial Not Call for Help That, in general, is the evidence in connection with many faith cure movements, though it should never be forgotten that not only is there great power inherent in mind over matter but, as most sane physicians would recognize, there is also a wholesome, helpful and restorative tendency and power in right spiritual attitudes and in constructive faith. The subject is one on which we ought not to dogmatize without the very greatest care and the appreciation of all factors involved.

If there could be any one from whose presence and influence we would expect healthful and healing effects to result, surely it would be Jesus of Nazareth. There can be little doubt that in his earthly presence he did bring remarkable new life and health to many, and that it was not for nothing that his mighty works became associated with the records of his teaching.

It is important also to remember, however, that Jesus never exaggerated the place of any such ministry of outward works. He emphatically disparaged the miracles in laying superior stress upon his teaching and upon his spiritual mission, and though the number of instances of miraculous healing and even of raising from the dead is notable, it gives one cause to realize how few these incidents would be in relation to the whole number of people suffering from disease and various forms of physical limitation and affliction.

As editor of The Congregationalist, I had the privilege not long ago of publishing an article by a man who has been all his life seriously crippled. Under the title "If Jesus Christ Should Meet Me" this cripple, Mr. Maurice Johnson, of Claremont, Calif., suggested with noble Christian faith that his handicap had been the real means of his service.

Sustained by a profound faith, embracing a remarkable spirit, Mr. Johnson refused to become the victim of his limitations. With inventive genius he developed a chair that made it possible for him to get about and to help himself, and in this way, along with his poetry—for he is a poet of no mean ability—he has given profound help and encouragement not only to innumerable people handicapped like himself but to many who are sound and well but who, none the less, experience life's temptations toward discouragement.

The great point of Mr. Johnson's article was that he looked to Jesus not for a miracle curing him from his terribly crippled condition, but Jesus sitting on a bench, surrounded by people, including a man in a wheelchair.

Boney to Begin Revival Monday

The Rev. B. C. Boney will begin a series of revival meetings at Weatherford, Texas, Monday morning. He will preach in his own pulpit at the First Presbyterian church at both services today. A fifteen minute inspirational music program will be presented by the Ely orchestra at the First Presbyterian church beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Some time ago I read an interesting story concerning a distinguished Englishman; I think it was Sir Bartle Frere. Some one was going to meet him at a railway station who had never seen him before and was inquiring from a mutual friend how he was to be recognized. The friend gave a general description but added as the distinctive thing, "You'll find him helping somebody." Sure enough, the description proved correct. When the man who had gone to the station to meet Sir Bartle found a distinguished-looking man assisting an old lady from the train, he knew that he had his man.

That is the spirit that Jesus indicated in his teaching and in his example. He stands in the world as the Great Helper, and the essence of his gospel is that God our Father is a great helper, that his love is mighty to redeem and to uphold and strengthen us. So Jesus comes through our earthly life today, as the Call that came at Midnight

An icy gust of February wind eddied down the dark stairway, rustled the pages of the telephone book on the landing, and sent its chill breath easily through Robert McBain's thin pajamas.

McBain glared angrily into the telephone, shivered, sneezed.

"Listen!" he interrupted impatiently, "there's really not much we can do about it until morning, is there? Suppose you see me then!"

He rattled the receiver on the hook and plodded back upstairs to the bedroom.

"Calling me at midnight!" he snapped. "That's nerve for you. And... and now..."

Warning twitches assailed his nostrils and again... he sneezed!

"...and now," he finished wearily, "I guess I'll nurse a cold for the rest of the winter."

Beneath comfortable covers, his wife stirred sympathetically.

"I've always said," she began drowsily "that we needed a..."

"Yes, I know!" broke in her husband. "An extension telephone in here. And mark my word, tomorrow we'll have one, right beside this bed!"

He rattled the receiver on the hook...

Rash Romance

By LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Judith Cameron, New York typist, marries Arthur Knight, executive of the publishing house in which she is employed. Knight is a widower with a daughter, Tony, 12, in Paris, and a son, Junior, 16, at school. When Tony returns she denounces Judith as a gold digger.

Tony is secretly continuing a flirtation with Mickey Mortimer, wealthy and married. When Junior comes home for the Christmas holidays he also treats Judith coldly.

Andy Craig, whom Knight has helped through college, takes a position with the publishing firm. He has been in love with Tony for a long while. Tony tries to convince her father that Andy and Judith are carrying on an affair. Knight denies this but Tony tricks the pair into a compromising situation.

Knight becomes seriously ill with pneumonia. After a long period of danger during which Junior is summoned home, Knight begins to recover. Before the boy returns to school he admits to Judith he has misjudged her. Arthur Knight's recuperation is slow and Judith is resentful because he seems to prefer Tony's company to hers. A letter from Judith comes to the house and Tony takes it. Later both drive into the city. Tony gets out of the car but follows in a taxicab to see where Judith goes.

Now go on with the story CHAPTER XXXVII

The car ahead swerved. Tony braced herself, clutching at the door of the taxi to keep from slipping as the cab veered crazily after.

"Not so fast!" she gasped, leaning forward with her face close to the half-open glass partition between driver and passenger. "I don't want to get near!"

"Gotta keep moving in this traffic!" the chauffeur retorted jauntily. "Can't stand still!"

Nevertheless, he slackened speed. When the limousine in which Judith was riding stopped to wait for the red signal lights to flash into green the cab halted at a discreet distance.

Tony moved impatiently. She sat at the very edge of her seat, crumpling and re-crumpling the gray envelope in her hand. Her eyes were glued on the big maroon car. Seconds seemed hours. Tony's lips were pressed into a cruel line. She was like a cat watching prey.

Suddenly, with an almost instantaneous jolt, both cars sprang forward.

They were on Sixth avenue now, heading southward. Past Forty-fifth street, Forty-fourth street, Forty-third. A turn into the madstream of Times Square.

"Stop here! Drive up to the curb!" Tony issued her commands sharply.

The taxi driver gave her a glance over his shoulder. "Can't do it, lady."

Miraculously the traffic lights turned at that instant. Tony had seen her father's car move close to the sidewalk, pause long enough for Judith to step out, then pull off and disappear.

Sunk back against the leather upholstery Tony watched her stepmother, Judith, seemed to waver uncertainly in the tides of traffic.

ly answered immediately. From out the shadows of the doorway a figure stepped. Tony Knight was so excited a little gap escaped her lip. The man was slim, built with square shoulders but rather sparse lines. He looked youthful. He was pulling a cap down over his head and he wore a dark top-coat.

Tony saw Judith step back, saw her suddenly clutch at both of the man's hands and raise her head. Swiftly Judith's lips met the stranger's.

Whatever Judith Knight was saying to the man was earnest and intent. The girl who watched, crunched in her hiding place, could not make out the man's expression. Her heart pumping violently, Tony Knight waited.

They were coming down the steps now together. Should they turn, Tony asked herself, would she dare—?

They had turned. They were coming toward the orange-hued taxicab.

Tony Knight jerked at her hat, lowering its brim over her eyes. Fascinated, entirely forgetful of danger, she waited.

Judith was talking, her face toward the man. He was rather good looking, Tony decided. She could not make out his features distinctly but he carried himself well. He was attentive as Judith talked.

Now they were almost beside her!

The couple passed the taxicab. In those fleet seconds Tony Knight took in the appearance of Judith's companion. She assured herself she could identify him anywhere.

Dark eyes. Straight nose. Broad mouth and above it a small, dark mustache. Was he 25 years old? Certainly no older. He was well dressed, almost dapper. And his eyes not for one instant left Judith's face.

Tony in her absorption with the man forgot to look at Judith.

They had passed without even a glance at the cab.

"Turn around!" Tony told her driver excitedly. "Drive back up the street."

Turning was not so simple. By the time the taxicab had whirled about and headed back whence it had come the couple had turned a corner. And when Tony's cab reached that corner and prepared to follow the pair were out of sight.

The girl gave instructions to drive slowly to the street. It was right but her quarry had disappeared.

Tony Knight's crimson lips pouted. "Pennsylvania Station," she told the driver shortly.

Arriving at the station, she left the cab, paid a $5 taxi bill and added a generous tip. Then she bought a ticket and took the interurban train home.

"The little sneak!" Tony Knight whispered under her breath. "Oh, the sneaking little cheat!"

Tony was nearly bursting with the excitement of her discovery. She knew a little now. She would find out more and piece the whole together.

Instinct cautioned the girl quite suddenly to turn about and scan her neighbors. No, there was no one who knew her in the car.

The turn and twisted bit of paper still lay in her hand. Tony Knight glanced at it smoothly and straightened it out. She drew forth the crumpled pages.

"Dear Judy," the letter began. "Sorry to be late in answering your note. There's no word from the Chief though I've been expecting it daily. No news in this case, I guess, is good news."

"I know what you're up against—or at any rate I know enough to wish I could help. Can't you get over soon? It's been a long while. Long, that is, for me!"

"There's more I want to tell you but it will have to wait for a private visit. How about a little dinner next week? You set the night. There's a plan in my head, dear, that may mean a lot for both of us. Maybe you can guess part of it."

"If there's anything from the Chief within the next day or two I'll drop it in the mail. This is one of the lonesome nights. Why aren't you here? No use starting that all over again, I suppose. Remember I'm counting on you for next week! Always—Dan."

The signature had been added with a conspicuous flourish. Tony studied this signature carefully.

Now she had seen Dan (of course it must have been he!) and the whole letter had acquired added interest. Dan was good-looking and young and in love with Judith. Dan and Judith evidently had secrets. They had been meeting together and evidently plotted further meetings. Both received messages from someone known as the "Chief."

Why—it was an outrageous intrigue!

There was more to this mystery than was apparent. Yes, certainly, Tony meant to know it all.

She arrived at the house before Judith did, rushed to her room and 20 minutes later joined Arthur Knight in the living room. It was a cool evening even though it was April. Low flames flickered on the hearth and gave the room a cheering warmth.

Knights smiled down at her, patted her dark curls—then looked up abruptly.

Judith Knight had entered the house and stood in the hallway.

"Well, Judith," said her husband rather stiffly, "you're late!"

"I know. And I'm so sorry!" Judith said with the car.

"No—oh, no, it wasn't anything like that. I—my watch stopped. I thought it was an hour earlier. Is dinner waiting?"

They told her that Harriet had announced the meal was ready.

Judith pulled off her hat and coat, gave her hair a pat and said they should go into the dining room at once.

The bouillon was hot and inviting. The rest of the dinner was up to Cora's high standard. Judith tasted the food with relish because she was hungry.

Gradually she became aware that something was wrong. Something was wrong with herself or with Tony or Arthur. What had happened?

On the surface everything was just as it had been but the room's atmosphere was quickened. A storm lay ahead.

It was not to come that night however. The disaster broke next day.

KONJOLA AGAIN TRIUMPHS OVER STUBBORN CASE

My Experience With New Medicine Was Amazing. Says Farmer, Aged 68.

MR. JOHN OELRICHS.

"For years rheumatism in my legs and hips made it practically impossible for me to get about," said Mr. John Oelrichs, a farmer, residing on Route No. 2, Mora, near Sedalia. "The pains and swelling in my limbs and joints were frightful at times. My kidneys, too, were badly and I was subjected to frequent night risings. My nerves were shaky and my general health was gradually becoming undermined. I tried many medicines without result until I used Konjola. My experience with this great medicine was amazing. My nerves improved from the very beginning and my kidneys soon began functioning properly. The pains and swelling from rheumatism grew less and less, finally disappearing altogether. Today I am free of all my ills, and although 68 years of age, get about less trouble than many younger men."

Konjola is sold in Cisco at Moore Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Newton Back in Hays County Jail

SAN MARCOS, Feb. 15.—Joe Newton was back in the Hays county jail today to face felony charges filed against him in 1924. The charges grew out of the robbery of the State Bank Trust company here in January 1924. A gang of men blasted the safe vault and escaped with $42,000. Before Newton's case could be brought to trial, he was taken to Illinois to face charges in two mail robbery cases.

Bubble Bursts for Ex-Waitress

MAYWOOD, Ill., Feb. 15.—The bubble of splendor had burst today for the girl who rose meteorically from restaurant waitress to telephone operator in the People's State bank, to its cashier and then to a romantic relationship with the bank president that brought her a $40,000 home and two automobiles.

Miss Laverne Lindgren was at liberty today, but only because her mother had posted $10,000 bond after the 25 year old missing cashier had given herself up to authorities last night on charges of embezzling bank funds.

Loss to the bank will amount to $250,000 or more, auditors announced.

Three Children Are Burned to Death

RACINE, Wis., Feb. 15.—Three children were burned to death today when a coal stove exploded in the Oas Christensen home.

Christensen, seriously burned, fought his way through the blaze and saved one child and his wife.

The three children who were trapped and burned to death were Bonnie, 5; Phyllis, 2; and Edna, 1. The injured father carried Irene, 6, from the blazing house.

HIGH CLASS SERVICE AIM OF MANAGER

P. A. Willis, new manager of the City Chevrolet company, comes to Cisco from Fort Worth where for the past two and one-half years he has been manager of the North Side Chevrolet company. In all Mr. Willis has had ten years experience in the automobile business.

He announces that a salient policy of his company will be honest and efficient service and invites Cisco automobile owners to bring their needs to the City Chevrolet company where they will receive the most careful attention.

It is his purpose, also, to cooperate to the fullest extent with the business men of Cisco in civic affairs and to do everything in his power to keep Cisco in the front rank of good towns.

The City Chevrolet company will not be opened on Sunday, he said. Mr. Willis is a member of the First Christian church of Fort Worth. He is also a member of the Tarrant Masonic Lodge No. 942. He has a wife and one child, a son, Kenneth Lee, age 5 years.

VENUE CHANGE IN TRIAL OF BRADY DENIED

AUSTIN, Feb. 15.—The trial of former Appellate Judge John Brady charged with murder of Miss Leitha Highsmith, court stenographer, will remain here. Judge J. D. Moore today over-ruled the state's motion to transfer it to Georgetown.

Judge Moore expressed the belief that a jury can be obtained as readily here in Travis county as in surrounding ones and that the wide publicity given the case would make it of little advantage to go even 100 miles away.

A date for the retrial has not been set. An effort to agree upon one was not successful. District Attorney Henry Brooks suggested that it be set either for the present term of court which lasts until the final Saturday in March or that it be set for the succeeding term which opens in April. He said he wished to consult the court docket before asking for a specific date.

Kept in Custody

Pending the new trial, Judge Brady was ordered retained in custody by Sheriff Coley White.

Defense Attorney Dayton Moores pointed out that the defense had requested the change of venue. This preserves their right to do so later should they deem it desirable.

When the change was first proposed the defense counsel agreed that it might not be possible readily to get another jury in this county.

Judge Moore said his investigations showed that there are between 8,000 and 10,000 available jurors in Travis county and that it was likely one could be selected from the first jury which disagreed in the case. They reported they were 114 conviction.

SUICIDE VERDICT

GOOSE CREEK, Feb. 15.—Virgil Wilburn, 19, was found fatally wounded last night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henry.

Christensen, seriously burned, fought his way through the blaze and saved one child and his wife.

The three children who were trapped and burned to death were Bonnie, 5; Phyllis, 2; and Edna, 1. The injured father carried Irene, 6, from the blazing house.

CHURCH PROTESTS

ATHENS, Greece, Feb. 15.—The synod of the Greek church today forwarded to the League of Nations a protest against alleged religious persecutions by the Soviet government. The synod asks the league to intervene in behalf of religious liberty.

COOKING SCHOOL

Mills Company of Kansas City, millers of Airy Fairy flour. The Larabee company is responsible for Miss Spence's model kitchen laboratory, in Kansas City, in which she conducts her experiments.

The mill will supply the flour used in the cooking experiments.

Grocers.

The following local grocers who handle Airy Fairy flour, will cooperate by giving away sacks of this flour and are expected to run advertising calling attention to other items in their stores and otherwise calling attention to their grocery service:

Clarence Saunders, Piggly Wiggly, J. B. Cate Grocery, M. E. Evans, Norvell & Miller, W. K. Johnston Grocery, D. A. Williams Grocery, W. E. McWhorter, Hyatt & Woods, E. C. McClelland Grocery, Skiles Grocery & Market, O. W. Shepherd, R. A. Richardson, and Sam Wilkins.

Other local firms will cooperate also in the starting of the school and nationally known food manufacturers will send samples here and otherwise participate in the affair.

The Lee Diversified Farms will furnish the infertile eggs for the school and will give a prize each day consisting of some of their products—probably milk fed fryers from their hatcheries and poultry farms.

The Ford-Green Music Co. will have a General Electric refrigerator in the kitchen with the West Texas Utilities Co.'s Frigidair refrigerator. They will also display their pianos, Victrolas and Majestic radios.

The J. C. Penney Co. will provide the table linen and will also have other items on display. These items will be mentioned in detail later. The Acorn Stores will furnish the congoletum rug for the kitchen floor and will have a display of merchandise.

Furniture Displays.

The Cisco Furniture Co. will have a furniture display and have volunteered to furnish whatever items in their line that might be needed in the school not furnished by other furniture concerns in the city. It is likely that all furniture stores will enter as soon as they can be seen.

Jno. H. Garner's department store will have a display of Atwater-Kent radios and will divide time with Ford-Green Music Co. in furnishing entertaining programs before and after the cooking school sessions.

They will have a display of other merchandise from the departments. The Farling Studio will cooperate with the school and will have a display of their work.

The Southwestern Motor Co. will participate and will give a free car wash each day.

The cleaners and dyers of the city will likely have displays and cooperate in the advertising campaign, as will the laundry.

Tullos Bros., dyers, cleaners and pleaters, will have a display of pleating and a booth in the building.

Since milk and eggs and butter are such important items of food, especially as ingredients for cooking, it is very probable that dairies and poultrymen will give their fullest cooperation.

Silverware.

Hardware stores and jewelers will be able to advertise their lines of dishes and silverware to great advantage to the hundreds of ladies who will be in attendance daily; and special effort will be expected to draw them by means of cooking here and the large number of prizes and awards given each day by Miss Spence.

There is no limit to the ways by which every business concern in the city can enter the campaign, and thereby draw attention to their products. The automobile dealer, the tire dealer, the garage, the florist, the hotels, the cafes, the shoe dealer, the hose dealer, the photographer, the drug store with its many articles that interest women—in fact most all buyers are done by women, either directly or indirectly, and it affords a splendid way to get the merits of worthwhile merchandise squarely before those who really buy.
