Water Department Makes Average Annual Net Profit of $42,000, Records Show

The water department of the city of Cisco made an average annual net profit of $42,828.81 during the 18-month period next preceding October 31, records gone over at the departmental meeting of the department with Water Commissioner George D. Fee revealed yesterday afternoon. During the 18-month period receipts of the department were in excess of $105,000 averaging $70,445.07 for 12 months.

The average annual cost of operation, maintenance and construction during the 18-month period was $27,616.26, which, subtracted from the average annual receipts left an average annual profit of $42,828.81. This represents a net profit of approximately 60 per cent. The basic water rate is only 37 and one-half cents per 1,000 gallons.

The meeting was the first of a series of meetings during which the commissioners and the personnel of their departments will go into details of organization and service rendered with a view not only of thoroughly familiarizing themselves with these details but with the purpose of increasing efficiency where possible and eliminating cost where possible without impairing efficiency.

Need of new equipment for the department, such as a new pump to insure the city against a water shortage in case trouble should develop with some of the present equipment, was discussed.

FIELD OF 50 CANDIDATES IS ENTERED

List of Those Seeking Governorship Swelled to 13

DALLAS, June 3.—A field of 50 candidates has been entered for the democratic nomination for the twelve state offices to be filled by election this year, with one or more names on the way through the mails to the state democratic executive committee.

The deadline for filing was reached last midnight but Dave Welox, Georgetown, state chairman, and Albert Sidney Johnson, Dallas, secretary, will accept applications where the letters show that they were placed in the mails before the closing hour.

The list of candidates for governor was swelled to 13 with the application of Paul Lovin of New Braunfels. Pink Parrish, state senator from Lubbock, has been drafted by his friends and a petition similar to the ones that placed Dan Moody and Lynch Davidson on the ticket was reported on the way. Parrish's name will bring the total seeking the governorship from the democratic ranks to 14.

With Ross Sterling, Houston, and Senator Parrish in the race, two of Governor Moody's staunchest political supporters are lined up against him.

Senator Thomas B. Love and Clint Small, also candidates for Governor, had previously aligned themselves with Moody at various times.

POLICE MOVE TO ROUND UP GANG MEMBERS

CHICAGO, June 3.—Apprehensive lest wholesale massacres follow the flare-up of gang warfare that took seven lives over the weekend, police moved swiftly in a roundup of hoodlums and gunmen, and today Chicago jails were crowded with suspects.

Nearly 200 men, most of them alien Sicilians, were in custody early today, being held for scrutiny by federal immigration authorities, who have been asked to resort to deportation whenever possible in order that Chicago may be rid of undesirable persons.

A fusillade of shots shortly after midnight in a dark northside alley led police to believe that gangsters had taken another victim for a "ride."

Witnesses told of seeing a large car hurrying from the scene of the shooting with the slumped form of a man beside the driver.

The week end gang warfare toll was brought to seven today when Joe Ferrari died in Henrotin hospital. He was shot Sunday with two others in Washington ("Bughouse") square by a band of five hoodlums.

During the night police squads cruised about the city, moving in mass formation against places known to be haunts of gunmen and gang members.

Two of "Scarface Al" Capone's gangsters were run down and captured in a sensational chase shortly after the big drive got under way. They were believed to be on their way to avenge the deaths of the three gangsters who died in a Fox Lake resort hotel Sunday morning as machine gun bullets raked a dining table where they were having a party.

Chestnut and Smith Jones to Be Shot

The Chestnut and Smith C. C. Jones No. 1, located in section 62, H. and T. C. railroad survey, two and one-half miles east of Cisco, will be shot in the Marble Falls formation tomorrow.

Total depth of the well is 3,416 feet. It will be plugged back to the Marble Falls at 3,435 feet. The well has about 100,000 gas in the Marble Falls and a trace of oil.

Ed Keough is drilling the well which is located just east of the Keough Jones No. 1.

The Lone Star Gas company Fee No. 1, north of Cisco three-quarters of a mile, is still trying to pull big pipe and clean out.

The big pipe is stuck and difficulty in pulling has been encountered. Six-inch cannot be lowered on account of a bridge which developed after a shot Saturday night and the tools have not been run since the shot because of the pipe trouble. The well continues to make flows through and around the six-inch.

Two Men Returned to Penitentiary

EASTLAND, June 3.—Deputy Sheriff Steele Hill and George Russell left this morning for the state penitentiary with Marion Graves and John Hardings.

These two men were sent to the penitentiary some time ago and were returned to Eastland county on bench warrants, one to testify before the grand jury and the other to face trial on other charges.

BOGOTA, Columbia, June 3.—The steamship Goenaga was wrecked near Tenerife last night by a blast. The ship turned over and the captain and an undetermined number of passengers were lost. The cause of the explosion was unknown.

Storey Says He Spent 10 Days Seeking Admittance to State Penitentiary

FORT WORTH, June 3.—Yancey Storey spent ten days knocking at the doors of the state penitentiary, and the warden wouldn't take him.

That was the story he told in his cell in the county jail here Tuesday, after having been returned from Huntsville by Texas rangers shortly after midnight.

Storey has been sought by officers since the court in which he was to be tried in Dallas ordered a forfeiture of his bonds totaling $35,000.

He had been sentenced for five years in the penitentiary in Marlin last year for his part in the robbery of the First State Bank of Krum about five years ago.

Storey in his cell in the county jail here told how ten days ago he took his wife and mother-in-law, Mrs. B. L. Chadwick, and his son Yancey, Jr., in the family auto and went to Huntsville.

Storey said that when he got there and talked with Warden Harrell, the warden said that he did not have any commitment papers for him and he could not receive him. Storey declared that he asked the warden what he should do, that he wanted to start serving the five year sentence.

The warden, according to Storey, advised him to stay around there several days and he would see what he could do about it.

Stayed Around. Storey declared he stayed there eight or ten days, that he would go to the warden's office every morning and that the warden still had not heard anything about the commitment papers from Marlin.

LOBBY BODY CHALLENGED BY CANNON

Bishop Refuses to Answer Questions of Committee

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Claiming he was being persecuted, Bishop James Cannon Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, today flatly declined to answer questions of the senate lobby committee of his anti-Smith activities in the 1928 presidential campaign.

Even after being warned by the committee that he must "take the consequences of his act," Cannon asserted he must decline to answer, thereby opening the issue of possible contempt proceedings similar to those which resulted in Harry F. Sinclair, the oil magnate, going to jail.

CHALLENGES AUTHORITY

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Bishop James Cannon Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, challenged the authority of the senate lobby committee today to inquire into his activities in the anti-Smith presidential campaign of 1928.

While Cannon did not directly refuse to answer, he raised the question of the committee's jurisdiction after he had spent nearly two hours in the witness chair freely answering all other questions about his attempts to influence prohibition and so called moral legislation.

"Concluding, the bishop stated: 'This attempt on the part of the committee to go beyond its powers to investigate my anti-Smith activities is clearly not only political but personal. Because I believe it to be an effort to attack me and in some way to impair my influence as the wets and Roman Catholic press have been doing for nearly two years, I must decline to admit the jurisdiction of this committee over either my political or personal activities.'"

$15,000 Revenue

Cannon told the committee the annual revenue of the board of temperance and social service, which he heads, is about $15,000 or $16,000.

"I am chairman of the board, but I have never received any salary, nor have I received any money for my prohibition work in 30 years," he told Senator Walsh, Dem., Mont., who was acting as chairman in the absence of Senator Caraway, Dem., Ark. "Our annual assessments are

LAST OF GREAT MOUND TRIO GETS RELEASE

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—Grover Cleveland Alexander, last of the mighty pitching triumvirate of Mathewson, Johnson and Alexander, is missing today from the major league roster for the first time since he came out of Nebraska 20 years ago as a gangland youngster with blinding speed.

His major league career ended where it started—in the bandbox ball park of the Philadelphia National league club William F. Baker, president of the Phillies, announced today that Alexander had been made a free agent and that all National league clubs had waived on him.

The passing of the 43-year-old Alexander takes out of the major leagues a man who compiled a record that surpassed that of Christy Mathewson for 732 games won. It also removes a personality that had no parallel in baseball's history.

Experts generally concede that there have been three great pitchers of modern times—Walter Johnson, specialist in speed; Christy Mathewson of the famous "fade-away" and Alexander, who combined speed, change of pace and intimate, cunning Johnson's pitching days are over and he now is manager of the Washington Senators; Mathewson is steady and today Alexander takes the back trail that waits for all ball players when their steely arms turn to lead.

Bobcats Given Big Welcome

SAN ANGELO, June 3.—San Angelo turned out en masse today and gave a rousing welcome to its high school Bobcats who Saturday won the mile relay in the National interscholastic meet at Chicago.

Their time of 3:29.7 set a new record. The team was composed of Henry Orr, T. D. Odum, Ramon Jones (Captain) and Louis Brokers.

A fire truck and band met the team as the station and escorted them through town.

CHARGES EXPECTED

DALLAS, June 3.—Formal charges were expected to be filed today against a man and woman suspected of being implicated in the shooting last week of Charles H. Brown of Houston, according to Detective Chief J. C. Gunning. The woman was arrested in Dallas and the man in Roys City.

DOORS LOCKED AS CITIZENS ARE ALARMED

Fugitives Armed With Crude Weapons From Tableware

IONIA, Mich., June 3.—With eleven madmen, some of them known as killers—all of them desperate—at large after their escape today from the state hospital for the criminal insane here, an alarmed countryside this afternoon locked the doors of its homes, armed itself when possible and eyed all strangers with suspicion.

Armed with crude weapons fashioned from table ware and whetted to a razor-like sharpness, the 11 inmates were believed hiding near Ionia. State troopers, deputy sheriffs, prison and hospital guards and private citizens searched the countryside, but as the hours went by and only two of the original 13 who escaped were recaptured, it was feared some would make good their flight for liberty.

Searchers say the men probably have split into small groups and are trying to remain hidden until night. Then, it is thought, they will seek to make their way out of the immediate vicinity. All roads are guarded, however, and outgoing trains are being checked carefully.

With the entire countryside in arms, private citizens joined with posses of deputy sheriffs, state troopers and vigilantes in the search for the escaped madmen.

Two of the prisoners, Charles Kenney and Isizan Czordas later were captured.

The men made their escape when they threatened to kill Eugene Owen, superintendent of the hospital, whom they had captured and were holding prisoner.

After capturing Owen and two night guards through a ruse, the 13 unlocked cells in which 131 other prisoners were housed. These men, however, chose to remain behind, passing up their opportunity to break for liberty.

About 3 o'clock one of the inmates of the dormitory in which the men were housed called to U. S. Davis and Bart Hall, night guards, and told them some of the prisoners were sawing the window bars.

"You better come in here and stop them," they advised.

The guards called night superintendent Owen and the three men, Davis and Hall were bound, and their keys taken from them. Then, after locking other cells and inviting other prisoners to join in the break, the thirteen started for the main gate of the reformatory, taking Owen with them.

As the group passed along they cut communication wires. At the gate the men approached the guard. Two held Owen while two others held razors against his throat. The guard was told to open the gate or Owen would be killed. He complied and as the gate swung open the men fled, leaving Owen behind.

Within a short time 100 more men were aiding in the search. Sheriff French ordered out all his deputies and a call was placed for state troopers from east Lansing. Private citizens, fearing their homes were in jeopardy with the desperate killers roaming about armed themselves and aided in the hunt.

Dr. Robinson expressed belief all the men would be recaptured soon.

However, as the forenoon passed with but two of the inmates recaptured, belief was expressed by some of the officers that the 13 might have escaped in a pre-arranged plot which included outside help. All roads have been blocked, but it is said had met the prisoners with automobiles, they could have escaped before the roads were guarded.

VALIDITY OF OKLAHOMA RUN-OFF LAW UPHOLD.

Lawmakers of Oklahoma enacted a statute requiring a successful candidate to receive a majority of all the votes cast even though a runoff be necessary. Those who disliked the statute declared it to be unconstitutional. A test case was filed, and the supreme court of Oklahoma decided the run-off statute constitutional. Now the pee-wee politicians who are candidates for office are up in the air. A majority and not a plurality vote is the order of the day in the state that was once known as the step-daughter of Texas.

A WOMAN CANDIDATE DEMANDS REPEAL OF PRO LAWS.

Mrs. Maria Haller is the candidate for the republican congressional nomination from a sixth Kentucky district. She is very popular and an able campaigner. In outlining her platform, she said the 18th amendment has failed in its ideals and has become a thing of iniquity and sin. Moreover, she said it is far more effective to have temperance workers do their work as they have in the past.

Some people declared this repealer of the 18th amendment, "believed because a woman runs for office, she should be defeated because she is a woman, but it was not sex but ability to handle government business that should decide votes at the polls."

This may be true but ability does not count at all times. There are thousands of voters who forget all about ability on election day. They are governed by their hates. They are governed by their fraternal or clan ties.

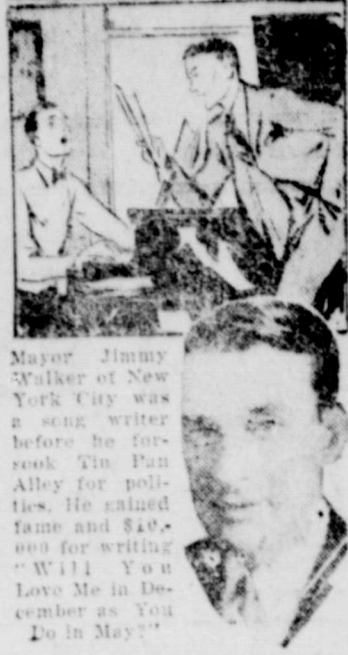

They forget economic issues which call for a solution. Mrs. Haller may discover this before the finish of her campaign for a seat in congress.

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By EDSON R. WAITE Shawnee, Oklahoma.

On my travels I have been asked many times what impressed me most when visiting New York City Hotels. I believe that I am justified in saying that nowhere else can we note so clearly the progress that has been made in the last decade as in a modern hotel. Take for instance a journey through the Hotel Governor Clinton, located opposite the Pennsylvania Station in New York City. Here we see a city in its entirety. A complete self-contained unit. Every facility, every convenience of modern living can be found in the thirty-one stories of this magnificent structure. Starting from the sub-basement revelation after revelation unfolds itself. First an immense boiler room with pressure pumps to supply the entire building with steam and hot and cold water. Then a complete laundry with facilities to solve the washing problems of a small city, and next a huge ice plant. In the uppermost region, a telephone room where twelve operators are kept busy receiving and transmitting calls. On the same floor (the 28th) are located various workshouses such as the Valet Shop, Printing Plant, Carpenter Shop, Upholstering Shop, Paint Shop. On the 29th floor is the various machinery to take care of the venti-

...while on the 30th floor water tanks, elevator machinery and over forty motors controlling same are located.

The guest rooms are luxuriously furnished, having thick carpets under foot, large soft beds, bed head reading lamps, latest model refrigerators with unique ventilating features, French phones, circulating ice water, full length mirrors, and beautifully tiled combination bathrooms. Many of the rooms on the upper floors open onto terraces, which enable their occupants to gain a marvelous view of city and harbor.

To service the Hotel Governor Clinton it is necessary to maintain a staff of nearly 800 employees—a miniature army. In order to keep this $10,000,000 structure running smoothly it was necessary to find a capable executive. The management of the hotel is under the direction of Mr. Ernest G. Kill, with an exceptional hotel experience and well acquainted throughout the United States and Europe. Under his direction the Governor Clinton has acquired an atmosphere which can hardly be equaled and which has made it New York's most popular hotel, permeated by a true spirit of hospitality. By establishing a personal contact with the guests, either by himself personally, or through his associates, an element which has entered into the management which is in striking contrast to many other metropolitan hotels where so often coolness and aloofness prevails.

Mystery of Human Skeletons Uncovered in Area Is Explained by Del Rio Judge

DEL RIO, June 3.—There is no mystery about the two skeletons found on Devil's River; there are many more where these were found. The men were killed either accidentally or intentionally during the early 80's, said District Judge Joseph Jones, in an interview Del Rio obtained its first rail connection in 1882; and soon after that, construction of the line was under way 12 miles northwest of the city, in the Devil's River area. The skeletons found by workmen near the steam-power plant are, no doubt, those of men who died or were killed at the railway construction camp. It is estimated that from 25 to 30 men lost their lives there. Some of them were shipped away in impressive caskets; others were buried in wooden boxes; and still others were wrapped in their blankets and rolled into their resting places, which had been scooped out in the sand. "Planting 'em" they called it in those days.

A few wooden crosses, an occasional name plate, a pile of rocks, or a mound of gravel were the only markers above these graves. Up until 1914 many of these graves could be seen, but in that year a flood came and obliterated these markers. Now only a few old-timers are able to point out a few of the spots where men were buried. Judge Jones, whose ranch adjoins the property of the Central Power & Light Company on Devil's River, thinks he might be able to point out the places where several men were buried. Judge Jones, in those days, was a State surveyor; and, having surveyed most of this section, he was familiar with the country.

During construction of the rail line, his surveying operations crossed those of the railway engineers; and he remembers having met the railway engineers at an intersection of the surveying lines. He saw the little community, too, which had sprung up to accommodate the workers on the railroad. One of the principal business places in the camp was a saloon, housed in a tent, and next to this saloon was a gambling house, also in a tent. Drunken brawls and quarrels over cards accounted for not a few of the impromptu funerals. Construction accidents accounted for many others. A quarry on the property of the New York & Texas Land Company, now the property of Judge Jones, supplied the rock for the piers of the Devil's River railway bridge. Pressure blasts and other accidents at the quarry added to the death toll, one blast alone having taken three lives.

437,000 Graduate From U. S. Colleges

NEW YORK, June 3.—The army of wage seekers will receive some 437,000 recruits this month from colleges, graduate schools, and professional schools, according to figures of the association of American colleges. About 100,000 will be college graduates, 12,000 from graduate schools, and 23,000 from professional schools. The remainder will leave their books because of their own desires, faculty request, or other circumstances. Directors of employment in three large eastern universities differed in their opinion of the result on the unemployment situation. A. B. Crawford of Yale said as many positions were offered Yale men as in previous years. "Apparently," he said, "the demand for college-trained men is not dependent on temporary fluctuations in business." Nicholas McNight of Columbia said placements this year were about one-third less than 1929. "Many small business houses and corporations have failed to order as many men as heretofore," he said. Lawrence Zimmer of New York university said he had made more placements than last year.

Seletman, president of the institution, said that each graduating engineer had received more than one offer of employment, effective immediately.

$24,000 but we usually collect only two thirds of that." ... Only two members of the committee of five were present, Walsh and Senator Blaine, Repn., Wis., the only wet member. Caraway is in Arkansas, where he is scheduled to make a commencement address, while Senators Robinson, Repn., Ind., and Borah, Repn., Idaho, were attending the executive session of the foreign relations committee.

Bishop Cannon came into the crowded committee chamber using a crutch. When photographers asked for permission to take his picture in the witness chair, he said "I am used to that." He carried a large brief case.

"Our expenditures are wholly for office rent, postage, printing and traveling expenses," Cannon said. "We send letters to congressmen about legislation in which we are interested and circularize the church."

"What legislation are you interested in?" asked Walsh. "Prohibition peace and war, the bill on obscene literature, encouraging the defeat of the Latusanne treaty, industrial relations, marriage and divorce. I think that is all. Prohibition and war and peace are the most important."

When asked about his lobby activities, the bishop said: "I want it understood I am not a lobbyist in the sense of being paid. It has not been my practice to be paid personally very much, even in the years I was legislative superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League before the late Wayne B. Wheeler came to Washington."

"I never saw congressmen very much. I used to send general letters, but not to any one in particular."

"In 1926 a secretary was elected to our board and our assessment was doubled. We decided to hire a secretary. Previously the church board had been active only indirectly, explaining the attitude of the church about various matters of legislation and other things which came up from time to time. I needn't say our activities increased in 1926 but the secretary began to attend the annual conference of the church."

Another Moody

Another candidate by the name of Moody—C. C. Moody of Fort Worth, a laundry wagon driver—filed late Monday. In this application friends of Gov. Moody saw an effort to take votes away from the governor through the similarity of names and to further embarrass Moody if he decides to run.

Sterling P. Strong, Dallas, said today he had mailed his application as a candidate for lieutenant governor to Wilcox May 31. J. D. Parnell, Wichita Falls, also filed late Monday. He ran for this place in 1928. There are seven candidates for lieutenant governor.

Each of the fifty candidates for record have sent in the $100 necessary for filing, making the fund $5,000.

J. R. Ball of Bonham has sent in his application as a candidate for state treasurer. Four are in the race for state treasurer, to succeed W. Gregory Hatcher who is running for railroad commissioner. Rep. John E. Davis of Mesquite is one of the quartet.

Fred Mally of New Braunfels has been drafted by his friends as a candidate for commissioner of agriculture making six in this race.

No Opposition

S. M. N. Marrs, superintendent of public instruction, remained today as the only candidate without opposition in the July Primaries.

Lynch Davidsons' name was presented as a candidate for governor by four petitions. The first was from Hunt county and the latest from San Antonio, received by Secretary Johnson today. Others were from Uvalde and Groesbeck.

An interesting contest within the republican party for the gubernatorial nomination and the honor of meeting the democratic nominee in the November election was forecast with the filing of the name of Orville Bullington, Wichita Falls, as a candidate.

His name was sent in by petition from a group of Dallas friends. He is vice chairman of the state republican committee.

Others already in the race for the republican nomination are Dr. George C. Butte, Austin, H. E. Exum, Amarillo, John Pollard Gaines, Wichita Falls, and Jack Elin, San Antonio.

Doran John Haesley, Dallas, filed as a candidate for the United States senate on the republican ticket late Monday, making three seeking this nomination.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

GEORGETOWN, June 3.—In addition to the filings with Secretary Johnson of the state democratic executive committee at Dallas, state Democratic Chairman D. W. Wilcox here has another candidate for governor—Paul Loven of New Braunfels.

Twenty five citizens sent him the name of Fred Mally of New Braunfels as a candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture, Chairman Wilcox also received the application of J. R. Ball of Bonham as a candidate for state treasurer, duplicating this filing at Dallas.

Chairman Wilcox said he will consider as properly filed any applications that he receives today by registered mail showing that they were in the post office yesterday.

Will Seek to Place Blame for Riot

CHICKASHA, Okla., June 3.—An attempt to place blame for the riots here last weekend will be made tomorrow in an inquest into the death of Henry Argo, negro killed by the mob because he allegedly assaulted a white woman.

Officials representing Grady county, the state of Oklahoma and the federal government were to present evidence in the coroner's inquest. Arrests of approximately 20 alleged ring leaders in the rioting were expected following the hearing. More than 100 witnesses were to be called.

Graf Zeppelin Speeding Home

NAVAL AIR STATION Lakehurst, N. J., June 3.—The Graf Zeppelin read a tail wind into the dawn today en route to Seville, Spain, and its home station, Friedrichshafen. It is due in Seville Thursday.

Dr. Hugo Eckener lifted his graft from the field here at 9:12 p. m. (E. S. T.) last night after a stop of two days and a half.

The veteran commander said his experience had proved commercial airship routes would not be feasible south of Pernambuco, and that he expected to start regular trans-Atlantic service from Europe to the United States in September, 1931, in his new ship which is to be called Friedrichshafen. His second new ship will be called the Lakehurst in honor of the naval air station here.

Eckener said the American airport for his trans-Atlantic service probably would be between Baltimore and Washington.

Twenty-two passengers were aboard when the Zeppelin sailed and more than 1,000 waved farewell as it rose into the sky to fly over New York, along Long Island and out to sea. It carried 91,000 pieces of mail.

Hoover Firm in Veto Opinion

WASHINGTON, June 3.—President Hoover, commenting today on the action of congress in over-riding his veto of the Spanish-American war veterans pension bill, said he had not changed his view that the legislation was "ill advised."

Mr. Hoover declared at his noon press conference that he felt Spanish war veteran pensions should be liberalized and thought the matter should be worked out in such a way that rich men should not draw pensions from the government. He also criticized that the part of the bill permitting disability allowances to men whose health had been undermined by "vicious habits" resulting in such conditions as chronic alcoholism or social diseases.

One Alleged Bandit Is Taken

MANCELONA, Mich., June 3.—One alleged member of the gang which yesterday afternoon held up and robbed the Mancelona State bank was captured early this morning by state police as he attempted to leave his hiding place in a swamp six miles north of here. He surrendered without a fight and gave his name as Sylvester Elliott of Kalamazoo.

He was captured by state police officers who were patrolling the highway, according to Capt. Lyons of the state police.

Captain Lyons later said Elliott had confessed he was a member of the gang which robbed the bank. He is said to have stated that four men instead of five participated in the robbery. Arrest of the other three was expected momentarily as troopers, deputy sheriffs and citizens beat through the swamp and brush near where Elliott surrendered.

Canadian Forest Lands Aflame

WINNIPEG, Man., June 3.—With a wall of flames sweeping across hundreds of miles of forest lands in northern Ontario today, the city of Port Arthur was reported threatened and smaller communities were being evacuated before the fire.

Every home in Dymont, Ont., was abandoned when the flames threatened to wipe it out. Women and children hastily gathered up whatever belonging they could carry or pile into a special train which left last night to rush them out of the danger zone.

ART BUYING IS IN SLUMP AFTER EXPOSE

By RICHARD D. McMILLAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS, June 3.—A slump in buying in the world of art has set in following on the revelations in five recent cases of alleged art frauds, including that of Jean Millet, grandson of the famous painter. Not only do Paris art dealers complain of falling off in trade, but some of them say it is time when they sold pictures during the past five years now wish the dealers to buy them back.

At the same time as art gallery subscribers are closely examining under the microscope their most prized paintings, private collectors are holding their pictures up to the light, wondering the while how to tell if the thousands of dollars they paid was not so much wasted money.

With the fact, well-known that the art market of the world has been flooded in recent years with fakes Milletts, Cortets, Picassos and other works, private buyers naturally hesitate to spend their money until they can have an assurance they are not going to be swindled. And such assurance is hard to obtain, since even recognized authorities confess they have been duped and are unable to distinguish between many of the recent fakes and original works by the real artists.

All this has repercussions, in turn, upon the artists colony of Montparnasse. Painters say the dealers are now holding back from buying any works whatever, until clients begin again to pay big prices for masters, thus restoring general confidence in the market.

The Millet case, in which the painter's grandson and a companion are still under arrest on charges of faking many pictures, makes the fifth sensational affair of the same nature on the Continent recently. First there was the affair at Lille which still has its repercussions. In this case the Luvre bought two supposed Watteaus for a million and a half francs, but the works have now been shown to be by Quillard, one of Watteau's pupils.

The Lille police have called in experts to examine other pictures found in a garret where, it is alleged, faked pictures were produced in a large scale. Three other art fraud cases are now before the French courts. In one of these affairs a French countess is involved. It is charged that she was an accomplice in picture frauds by means of which she was able to maintain the high social life to which she had always been accustomed, but which had become impossible owing to financial reverses.

Big Tire Attracts Much Attention
The Blease Motor company was exhibiting today the biggest pneumatic tire the world has ever seen. The casing is 12 feet high and four feet wide and weighs several thousand pounds. So big is it that it is rolled behind a bus to which it is fixed in a special trailer.

The tire, requiring three months to build, was constructed by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, of Akron, Ohio. It is a replica of the Goodyear all-weather tread cord tire and the measurement are in exact ratio to the measurements of the regular size tire. The only item of standard size about the tire is the valve and through this valve it requires about three quarters of an hour to inflate the monster to a pressure of three pounds.

On the streets here today it attracted wide attention. It reached Cisco at 10:30 o'clock and was taken about the business districts rolling in its special trailer behind the bus in which the party accompanying it travels.

CHILD DROWNS
FORT WORTH, June 3.—While wading with several companions in a pool here Monday, 8-year-old Harvey Hampton Henson, Jr., stepped into water over his head and was drowned. Attempts to revive the child failed. Harvey was the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Henson.

The Husband Hunter

© 1930 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Natalie Converse, jealous of her husband's friendship with Bernadine Lamont, leaves him. Alan seeks consolation with his secretary, Phillipa West, who has cleverly managed to become engaged to him.

Natalie returns, but because of Alan's entanglement with Phillipa she does not propose a reconciliation to her. He goes to Phillipa and asks her to release him but she refuses and makes an effective appeal to his pit.

Natalie's sister, Florence, fakes an illness to bring him back to his home, but Phillipa still stands between them. Florence departs, hoping they will get along better if left to themselves. Natalie makes a visit to Alan's office and meets Bernadine, who is seeking business advice. Natalie old jealousy flares up again and she quarrels bitterly with Alan.

Alan goes to Phillipa's apartment for dinner, afterward spending the night at a hotel. The next day Natalie comes to the office to plead for forgiveness, but Alan is out. He telephones and Phillipa does not tell him that Natalie is there.

Phillipa is afraid Alan's anger will not endure. Natalie leaves in despair. Phillipa uses a letter from Bernadine in a plot to discredit Natalie by changing the name of a stock Bernadine wants to buy to one that is worthless. Bernadine comes to the office after the order has gone through and learns that, instead of having won a tidy little fortune, she has lost a sum she could ill afford to part with. Alan is aghast when she tells him he has bought the wrong stock. He is certain he followed her instructions, and asks Phillipa to get her letter to prove it.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXVIII
Phillipa did not return to Alan's office with the letter in any degree of haste. She wished him to grow excited with suspense, for it was her intention to make him as furious as she could.

When she did come in, both he and Bernadine were waiting in a strain that in itself showed the man that she was not to be trifled with. Bernadine asked about the stock she intended him to buy for her. Alan knew, without the necessity of referring to figures, that it had soared 50 points before the market closed. Its rise had been the outstanding market feature of the day.

Bernadine gasped, when he told her what had happened to it. Without bothering to sum up the gain that would have been hers, had the stock been bought for her, she knew that she had lost a tidy little fortune.

Alan knew it too, but his thoughts went beyond Bernadine's. She accepted the loss as hers, but it was a blow—she had counted heavily on the money—and her pale, drawn features revealed what it meant to her.

Alan did not accept the loss as hers. She should be right, and they had bought the wrong stock for her account—a stock which already had fallen several points since morning—he would make good the loss. And the paper loss as well.

Curiously, in her lack of fair-mindedness, Phillipa had not thought of this contingency. She had realized Alan would repay Bernadine for any actual loss she had suffered, but that might not be serious. It was the fact that Bernadine might have made money and was deprived of the opportunity that had given her so much satisfaction.

agreed, and Alan pressed the button. Phillipa, prepared for the summons, was outwardly calm when she entered the office. She knew that as long as the guilt had not been fastened upon any one person, she as well as all the others, must come in for a share of suspicion.

She felt she could go through with it safely. For an instant or two, when Bernadine stood at the window with the letter, she had been afraid her work was so clever Alan would not believe Bernadine's statement that she had not written it as it was.

She was glad to have that point cleared up, and Alan started on the investigation that must naturally follow.

"Miss West," he began abruptly. "There is something wrong with Mrs. Lamont's letter. I must know who could have handled it after it arrived at this office."

"Why, I had it, Mr. Converse," Phillipa replied levelly. "It was brought to me, and I left it in here, in your desk."

"Was it taken out again?" "I don't think so."

"Well, then. Was anyone in here?"

THREE-STATE CONFERENCE AT CADDO LAKE

AUSTIN, June 3.—A Texas motorcade will start June 19 over the oldest highway in Texas, the "King's Trail" Old San Antonio road, or Camino Real, over which St. Dennis 216 years ago blazed the way from the present Mexican border through what is now Austin to old Nacogdoches.

Gov. Dan Moody will accompany the motorcade, if business engagements of his office do not prevent, he announced.

The party will be made up of state officials, members of the highway commission, members of the state parks board, board of control, state water board and others.

June 13, the Texas group will meet Gov. Parnell and similar state officers of Arkansas, a representative of Gov. Huey P. Long of Louisiana and a group of Louisiana state officials, on the shores of Caddo Lake, to launch there a three-state program for making the great fresh-water lake a national park.

D. E. Colp, chairman of the Texas parks board, has announced the Old San Antonio Road motorcade will start out June 10. Members will follow it up from the border to San Antonio. Augmented to about 30 cars, the motorcade group will leave San Antonio for Austin, and will thence go to Giddings, Brenham, Navasota, Huntsville, Madisonville, Trinity and Crockett. Thence the trip will be by way of Nacogdoches end of the Old San Antonio road so far as Texas is concerned, to Center, Carthage and Marshall. The joint celebration will be held at Caddo Lake June 13. The motorcade will return to Loneview for a meeting the same night, and then will visit Tyler and Jacksonville June 14, disbanding at the latter point.

HALF WORLD'S TELEPHONES IN UNITED STATES

There are more telephones in the United States than in all the other nations of the world combined, according to official statistics just released by the American Telephone and Telegraph company in the booklet entitled, "Telephone and Telegraph Statistics of the World, January 1, 1929."
The report shows that 59 per cent of the world total are located in this country, which is a drop of 1 per cent during 1928 due to unusual growth shown in the foreign countries. The total gain during 1928 in the United States was 818,528, compared to 776,599 in 1927.
Germany with its government owned communication system, ranks second in the world, having slightly over 9 per cent of the world total, whereas Great Britain and Northern Ireland occupied third place with slightly more than five per cent.
The figures also reveal a further telephone development in the United States, there being 16.3 telephones to each 100 in population, compared with 15.8 the previous year. Canada runs a close second with 13.7 while New Zealand is surprisingly well equipped with 10.2 to every 100 in population. Germany has but 4.6 per hundred while Great Britain and Northern Ireland, with only 3.8, ranks very low among the larger nations.
On January 1, 1929 there were 32,712,234 telephones in the world or 1,726,908 more than on January 1 of the preceding year. Of the total world telephones, 19,341,295 were operated in the United States, and 2,950,430 in Germany, Great Britain and Northern Ireland had 1,759,686 while Canada had 1,334,534.
Paraguay, small South American country, had only 1,063 telephones, yet its increase has been remarkable, the January 1, 1929 report having shown a total of 413.
China, with its 400,000,000 population, had only 155,000 telephones, while India, ranking second in world population, had but 53,685. India, with only one telephone to every 5,000 persons, had a lower telephone development than any other country in the world, not excluding such remote countries as South Africa, Egypt and Siberia.
New York City continued to lead all cities of the world in the number of instruments with 1,702,839. Chicago being second with 942,013 London, with 629,714, ranks third while Berlin takes fourth place with 472,013.
San Francisco leads all the larger cities in the number of telephones per hundred persons, having a mark of 33.6 while Stockholm, Sweden, is second with 29.8. Chicago and Washington, D. C. are less than one per cent under Stockholm's mark.

On January 1, 1930, Dallas led Texas in the number of telephones with 72,815. The ratio per 100 population was 26.5. Galveston had 13,178 telephones or 24 per hundred persons, while Fort Worth, with 37,837 telephones, averaged slightly more than 23 to each hundred in population.
Houston's total of 67,800 gave it an average of 23.0 while Austin averaged 22.8 with 12,237 telephones. Beaumont ranked next among the larger cities of the state, its average being 20.7 its number of telephones, 12,070. Its telephone development San Antonio held last place among the leading population center of Texas. It had 46,021 telephones, an average of 19 to the hundred in population.
New York City, America's metropolis, had 27 telephones to each 100 persons, while Berlin had 11.4. London averaged only 8.3. Canton China, city of one million people, had only 3,000 telephones.
Canada, with approximately two-and-one-half billion conversations last year, supplanted the United States as the most talkative nation in the world, its average calls per person for 1928 being slightly more than 241.
The United States, with 27,200,000,000 conversations, far surpassed all other countries in total number, its per capita average being a little less than 231 calls.
Japan ranked second in the number of calls, although it has only about one-fourth as many telephones as Germany which was third. Canada and Great Britain and Northern Ireland follow in the order named.
The report shows that more than 5 million miles of wire were added in the United States during 1928, giving this country a total of 69 million miles. Germany, with 11,504,000 was second in this respect. Paraguay had less than 5,000 miles of wire in its telephone system.

The flyers spent the night in a farm house south of San Angelo after a broken gasoline feed line had forced them to land unexpectedly.
Mechanics labored today to repair the damage done to the under-gear of the Lockheed-Sirius low-winged monoplane in the forced landing.

Fierro is enroute to New York to complete arrangements for a New York-Mexico City good will flight. Later, an air tour is planned to Africa by way of South America.

MISSIONARIES REPORTED DEAD IN UPRISING

PEIPING, China, June 3.—A communist uprising and massacre in which Christian missionaries lost their lives was reported today from Hupen Province in the interior of China.

Advices said communist bands looted and burned Catholic and Protestant missions at Simakow and Hanchuan, on the Han river. Hundreds of persons, including Chinese, Christians and local officials, were slain, the advices said.

An American gunboat was ordered to proceed to Kiu-Kiang, on the Yangtze river in Kiangsi province. A communist army was reported converging on the town, where there are 40 American residents. The Americans were prepared to evacuate if the advancing force approached the city.

Meanwhile, the northern armies from Peiping claimed further advances and victories along the Lunglai and Hankow railways. They said their allies were throwing back the Nanking government troops and advancing on Hankow, where Nelson Johnson, American minister to China, is now visiting.

American and British steamers on the Yangtze were subjected to gunfire by Rebel forces and several Chinese sailors were killed.

Information received here indicated the attack on the missions was one of the most serious of recent communist outbreaks in the interior region which has long been threatened with communistic activities.

The scene of attack in Hupen Province—not far from the center of the present war front between the national government troops and the northern rebel armies—is about 500 miles from Shanghai.

Man Who Attacked Child Is Sought

HOUSTON, June 3.—Police and detectives were staging a city-wide search for a 20-year-old youth who kidnapped and brutally attacked a 4-year-old girl here late yesterday.

Two suspects were arrested and released, and a third was being held for identification.

The child, little Naomi Louise Morris was in a serious condition in a local hospital here today.

She was playing with other children in a vacant house yesterday when the man entered and persuaded her to accompany him, promising to buy her an ice cream cone and a doll.

He took her away in a car, drove to a wooded section of the town and mistreated the child.

When the first two suspects were arrested, a crowd of 150 neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Morris, the child's parents, milled around the police threatening a lynching, but they quieted down when the girl and little brother said they had not seen the men before.

Men Held at Waco Linked With Robbery

WACO, June 3.—Detectives received information from San Jose, Calif., today positively linking two men arrested here as suspects with the holdup and robbery of a theatre there on February 10. Local officers were advised that extradition papers were being prepared today and California officials would come here to take the men into custody.

Defying the detectives' grilling, the couple refused to talk. They had two pistols and a complete set of burglary tools.

Fingerprint identification first connected the pair with the California holdup, and San Jose officials confirmed the identity.

One of the men limped from old gunshot wounds in the leg and body. They made a determined effort to break jail after their arrest last night, and but for the timely discovery of their attempts to pry bars from their cell, would have succeeded.

Mrs. Reed Injured in Auto Accident

Mrs. Ralph Reed suffered two broken ribs and several minor bruises and cuts yesterday when the car in which she was riding with Mr. Reed collided with a gravel truck. The car, a Franklin coupe, was completely demolished.

Mr. Reed, though somewhat shaken up, was not injured. The accident happened yesterday morning between 10 and 11 o'clock on the road between Fort Griffin and Albany.

Mrs. Reed was reported to be resting as well as possible today.
