ATHLETICS ANNEX SECOND GAME 6-1

Federal Officer No-Billed in Dry Shooting Here

NO PUNITIVE ACTION IN DAY KILLING

Grand Jury Recesses After Returning 32 Felony Bills

Johnnie Hamilton, federal dry officer of Abilene, charged with murder by complaint in the fatal shooting of Virgil Day here during a series of dry raids on Wednesday, September 17, was no-billed by the 88th district grand jury at Eastland which recessed late Wednesday afternoon. Day was fatally shot when he got out of his car on the side opposite an officer when ordered to halt. The bullet entered his thigh and ranged upward to penetrate his abdomen. He died Friday afternoon, September 19 at 3:20.

Officer Hamilton and another dry agent from Abilene had been collaborating with county officers in making raids in and near Cisco. During the day they had taken a large still and considerable whiskey making equipment. No county officers were present when Day was stopped by Hamilton in the 100 block on Twenty-second street Wednesday night, it was said.

Day, in a statement made to Constable R. L. Wilson, who filed the charge in the justice court against Hamilton, and Chief of Police W. M. Miller, said he saw no one but Hamilton. He admitted getting out of the wrong side of the car, the officers said.

W. L. Zent of Fort Worth, acting deputy administrator for the northern district of Texas, came here and investigated the case. Zent made no detailed statement of his investigation but said that such information as he could gather showed that the officer believed he was acting in self-defense.

Thirty-two felony indictments were returned by the grand jury in its session closing Wednesday afternoon. It had re-convened Monday and recessed subject to the call of the court.

TIRE STATION AT EASTLAND ROBBED OF $40

EASTLAND, Oct. 2.—Officers this morning were running down clues as to the identity of a well dressed young man who, about 9:30 last night, took $40 from the cash register at the Hall Tire company's station here at White and North Seaman streets.

According to employees they were fixing a tire for a customer at the front of the station and about 15 feet from the door leading into the station. They heard the cash register ring and saw, through the plate glass, the form of a man whom they mistook for the moment as the company manager. On further observation, however, they discovered the man was a stranger. By this time the bandit was walking out of the station and as he reached the driveway he broke into a run. The employees gave chase, but soon lost sight of their quarry.

Examination of the cash register showed that the bandit had pushed the "paid out" key and took the amount of cash in the machine.

A short time ago the Hall Tire company's station at Ranger was robbed. Two men are being held for that job.

REDUCED RATE

AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—A reduced cotton rate from Mineola to Farmington via Longview was authorized by the state railroad commission effective today. The rate is 71 cents a hundred with 18 cents compress allowance.

SUSPENDED

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Piperno and company was suspended from the New York Curb Exchange today following announcement that it was unable to meet its obligations.

Northcott Hanged at 10:15 A. M. Today

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Calif., Oct. 2.—Gordon Stewart Northcott, convicted slayer of three young boys, was hanged in San Quentin prison this morning at 10:15.

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Calif., Oct. 2.—Thwarted in his attempts to escape the noose by both artifice and legal expedients, Gordon Stewart Northcott, convicted murderer of three young boys at his Winesville chicken ranch, was to go to his death today.

Until within a few hours of his approaching execution, the perpetrator of some of the most atrocious crimes in the annals of the state, maintained the spirit of bravado that he assumed just before his transfer to the death cell. Ribald jests and snatches of obscene songs were on his lips throughout the night, even under the very eyes of the guards placed near him to prevent a last minute effort at suicide.

Last night the youthful slayer consented to see in his death cell Mrs. Christine Collins, mother of Walter Collins, believed to have been another victim of his sadistic fury. Northcott had previously told the mother that he knew nothing about her boy.

This time he admitted that Walter had been slain but refused to assume responsibility for the act. When pressed by Warden James B. Holohan and the tearful Mrs. Collins, he replied evasively: "Ask my nephew, Sanford Clark or ask my mother. They know."

Northcott refused to reveal more. In another part of the prison, tossing fitfully on her cot, lay his mother, Mrs. Louise Northcott, convicted with her son, sobbing dry-eyed at the thought that her boy was to drop through a trap to oblivion, almost within earshot, while she was powerless to help him.

Northcott was convicted by a jury of 12 men of the murders of Lewis and Nelson Winslow, 12 and 9 respectively, and of an unidentified Mexican boy.

The excellent condition of its banks, considering the depression complained of generally, was clearly reflected this week in statements published by the institutions following calls of national and state comptrollers as of September 24.

Total deposits in the two banks were in excess of $1,000,000. Loans and discounts outstanding totaled $822,000 approximately.

In the case of the First National bank its statement shows that the bank had on deposit $692,039.35 against total loans and discounts of $365,458.21. The statement further showed that the bank has $294,216.99 in quick assets upon which it can in an emergency fall back upon.

The surplus of the bank equals its capital stock of $50,000 and the undivided profits are being gradually built up to the same figure as a third line of defense against liabilities to stockholders.

The statement of the Cisco Banking company shows a surplus of $25,000 and its capital stock of $100,000 and undivided profits of $12,175.

The excellent condition of its banks is a feature of which Cisco may well be proud under conditions which are declared to be unsatisfactory to the business and commercial world in general. It reveals that money conditions, while they are tight, are at least sound.

Darrow to Defend Poor Bank Clerk

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Clarence Darrow, noted attorney who emerged from retirement to defend two gangsters in a robbery case, has undertaken the defense of another case—this time that of a poor man accused of robbing the bank he worked for.

The man is bank clerk Nicholas Pace, 25, who admitted he took $1,024 from the bank but said he needed the money to support his widowed mother.

Darrow was drawn into the case by chance while in Judge John H. Lyle's court defending two notorious gangsters charged with being vagrants under a strict old law of 1874 which Lyle invoked in his drive to "rid Chicago of crime."

"Now, Mr. Darrow, what would you do in a case like this?" Judge Lyle asked of the attorney as Barrow sat in the rear of the courtroom waiting for the case to be called to him and his own clients called to the stand.

"You know my tendency to leniency, but I don't believe Pace should go to jail," Darrow replied after considering the evidence. "Give me the case and little time and I think we can straighten this out."

The trial was continued until Oct. 8, Darrow's other clients were granted changes of venues.

Buck Forced Down by Motor Trouble

AMARILLO, Oct. 2.—Motor trouble forced Robert Buck, 16, aviator attempting to set a new junior transcontinental flight record, to descend near Glenrio, 70 miles west of here today.

He made a safe landing, and the plane was not damaged, he reported here. A plane left English field here to assist in repairing the motors.

Buck took off for Albuquerque, New Mexico, at 6:30 a. m. today. The exact nature of his difficulty was not revealed in a long distance call.

He expected to resume his flight as soon as the motor was repaired. Buck spent the night here after a hazardous flight from Wichita, Kansas, in a windstorm yesterday.

Half and Half Proposition

ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 2.—The Palace moving picture theatre, which stands on the dividing line between this town and east Orange, with half of its seats in one town and the other half in the other, will preserve the piety of East Orange on future Sundays with a length of rope. Orange is legalizing Sunday moving pictures. But East Orange stands firmly against them, and Mayor Charles H. Martens of East Orange has announced he will repeal off his half of the theater "to protect East Orange from the effects of Sunday movies in Orange."

INDEPENDENTS RENEW FIGHT ON PRORATION

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 2.—In face of victory for the conservation element in Oklahoma, independent oil companies started all over again today in their fight against state enforced oil curtailment. Divergent interpretations were placed on the ultimate result of the action of three federal judges here in denying the Champlin Refining company's suit for injunction against operation of the state corporation commission's proration order.

That the plinon was a "sweeping victory" for the conservation element was claimed by proration proponents and admitted by opponents. The opinion, which in effect upheld the constitutionality of the proration order by recognizing police power vested in the commission over corporation, however, was considered by independents to leave an opening for two lines of attack.

Dismissal of the supreme court case against enforcement of proration by C. C. Julian, Oklahoma City oil operator, took cognizance of the suggestion of one of the judges in the Champlin case, that protesters should exhaust all legal means of obtaining relief from the curb by renewing their case before the corporation commission; then through the supreme court and then, if necessary to the federal courts in a new trial which probably will be set next month.

Disapproval of the federal courts in a new trial which probably will be set next month.

Few Insects Being Found in Cotton

A condition favorable to future cotton crops in this section is reported from Seranton where ginners assert that in the cotton handled very little infestation of boll weevils, spiders or other destructive insects has been found. The hot dry weather of the last summer, while it has cut down the yield of cotton materially, has been hard on the bugs, the ginners say.

For this reason they predict that next year's crop and those of subsequent years, if weather is favorable, will be better than usual because it will require some time for the insect life to develop to a serious point again.

Jealousy Blamed for Murder Rampage

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Oct. 2.—An uncontrollable jealousy was blamed by police for the murder rampage of W. C. Adams, 35, who was captured yesterday after he killed his wife, Flossie, his mother-in-law, Mrs. John Campbell, and Mrs. Adams' aunt, Mrs. Cynthia McGuire, 35, Johnson City, Tenn.

When brought to jail here Adams told County Prosecutor J. Walter Copley he also intended to kill two men whom he suspected of paying attention to his wife.

Adams shot down his wife and Mrs. McGuire when he encountered them crossing a railroad track. Earlier, police said, he had tried to effect a reconciliation with Mrs. Adams from whom he had been estranged.

He then went to the home of Mrs. Campbell and killed her. Mrs. McGuire had been visiting Mrs. Adams.

An inquest was held today.

14 KILLED

WALSALL, STAFFORD, England, Oct. 2.—Explosion in the William Harfisons Grove Cillery at Brown Hills today killed 14 miners.

$17,000 FIRE. DALLAS, Oct. 2.—Fire which gutted a delicatessen shop here today did $17,000 damage, before firemen brought the blaze under control. One fireman was slightly hurt when he was struck by a falling beam.

GENERAL APPROVAL. BONHAM, Oct. 2.—Exhibits at the Pannin county fair are drawing the general approval of patrons. A free football game between Leonard and Bonham was scheduled for today.

RELIES DEPRESSION. KAUFMAN, Oct. 2.—The quality and quantity of exhibits at Kaufman county fair belies the widespread depression arising from the summer drought. Judges pronounced the displays as superior to those of the bumper year of 1929.

4 STUDENTS NARROWLY ESCAPE FIRE

Leap Through Smoke and Flame at Gym Burns

SAN MARCOS, Oct. 2.—Trapped on a second floor and forced to leap through smoke and flames, four students of the Southwest Texas State Teachers' college narrowly escaped death when fire destroyed two gymnasiums early today.

H. A. Nelson discovered the blaze and went to arouse three men he knew to be sleeping in the men's gymnasium. The four barely made their escape. The flames spread to the women's gymnasium nearby, and both large frame structures were razed.

Damage was estimated at $25,000 by college officials. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

No explanation of the origin of the fire was given as officials began an investigation this morning. The blaze was first sighted in the men's gymnasium.

The early morning flames marked the first fire at the San Marcos college in 27 years.

McSwiggan Murder Case Is Revived

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—The famous McSwiggan murder case which resulted in 1926 in the world learning for the first time the extent of Chicago gang power and gang activities in Chicago was revived today by a report from Des Moines that an informer there was ready to explain some mysteries which police here had despaired of ever solving.

The communication regarding the Des Moines man, was received by Chief of Detectives John Norton, who was told that he would be kept informed of developments and that the man could identify the slayer of McSwiggan.

William H. McSwiggan, assistant state's attorney, and two gangsters, Doherty and Duffy, were killed by machine gun fire in front of a Cicero saloon.

FORD PREDICTS UTOPIAN DAY FOR WORKERS

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Henry Ford, in a new book to be published tomorrow, predicts that in 1950 American workmen will receive a minimum wage of $27 a day, the 5-day week will be observed universally, and there will be no unemployment.

Ford foresees a new industrial revolution in the next 20 years out of which the worker will emerge a man of leisure, capable of balancing production and consumption and banishing unemployment. His views are set forth in a volume entitled "My Future," written in collaboration with Samuel Crowther.

The wage prediction is based on the rise in hourly spend since 1910. Twenty years ago Ford was paying an average of 25 cents hourly and now he is paying $1.

If wages have been multiplied by four in 20 years they can be multiplied by more than that during the next 20 years," Ford says.

Ford lays down four principles for American industry to follow: 1.—To make an ever-increasing large quantity of goods of the best possible quality, to make them in the best and most economical fashion, and to force them out on the market.

2.—To strive always for higher quality and lower prices as well as lower costs.

3.—To raise wages gradually but continuously, and to make them in the best and most economical fashion, and to force them out on the market.

4.—To get the goods to the consumer in the most economical manner so that the benefits of low-cost production may reach him.

ERUPTION. NAPLES, Italy, Oct. 2.—Mount Vesuvius was in eruption again today, but without apparent danger of an overflow of lava.

Detroit Seeks Jobs for Unemployed

Mayor Frank Murphy, who promised to try to find jobs for everybody when he was elected in Detroit recently, has started his effort by taking a census of the city's unemployed. Here are job seekers being registered at one of the 26 employment bureaus opened in police stations and schools at his direction.

TWO GANGSTERS SHOT DEAD IN RIVAL BOOTLEG BATTLE

WATERLOO, Ill., Oct. 2.—Two gangsters were shot to death and at least two others wounded in a gun battle between rival bootleg gangs near here today.

Pete McGuire and William Body, members of the notorious Cuckoo gang of St. Louis, were reported by the sheriff's office to have been killed.

Joe Mucci and Sam Therna were wounded seriously. Officers believed others may have been seriously wounded. Therna revealed the fight when he staggered into a St. Louis Hospital with machine gun bullets in both hips.

Officers said the men involved in the fight at Valmeier were rivals seeking to dominate bootlegging in southwestern Illinois. Valmeier is about 30 miles south of East St. Louis.

Therna told police that several men attacked a still he and several other moonshiners were operating. The attackers used machine guns. He was driven off, Therna said, after several minutes fighting.

Guards Seeking Insane Convict

LANSING, Kan., Oct. 2.—Guards from Kansas state prison searched surrounding country today for Gerald Dykes, insane convict who escaped after a companion was wounded and captured.

Dykes and Kenneth Thomas, his cellmate in the ward for insane criminals, used an improvised key to escape from their cell block last night. A ladder fashioned from his bed slats helped them to scale the 16 foot walls.

Thomas was wounded by the wall guards and was captured. Dykes escaped, and was believed hiding on the banks of the Missouri river near here.

APPEAL FILED. AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—An appeal was filed in the court of criminal appeals here today from the 99 year sentence given Henry Johnson in Angelina county for killing L. D. Etheridge, manager of a Lufkin Finance concern, who was trying to collect a $6,800 debt. Johnson claimed he acted in self defense.

ERUPTION. NAPLES, Italy, Oct. 2.—Mount Vesuvius was in eruption again today, but without apparent danger of an overflow of lava.

RHEM SENT TO SHOWERS IN FOURTH

Cardinals Collect Lone Tally on Watkin's Homer

SHIBE PARK, Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 2.—George Earnshaw kept the unhappy St. Louis Cardinals popping easy flies this afternoon and the Philadelphia Athletics won the second game of the World Series 6 to 1.

The Athletics opened up early against Phil Rhem, driving him to the showers in the fourth after scoring all their runs. Jim Lindsey and Sylvester Johnson finished for the Cardinals and were effective but too late.

The lone St. Louis run came on a homer by George Watkins in the second inning. Mickey Cochrane led the Athletics' attack with a homer in the first followed by solid hits by Simmons and Fox which added another run and put the game on ice. Simmons scored on Fox's double after he had singled.

In the second inning the Athletics did not score, Watkins slapping the ball over the fence for the Cardinals' lone tally. In the third, however, Cochrane was safe on Frisch's error. Simmons, next up, slammed out a two-bagger scoring Cochrane.

Fox walked and Miller singled, scoring Simmons. Fox took third and Miller scored when Rhem mis-hit Hafey's throw from center field after Miller's single.

Boley singled in the fourth. Earnshaw, fanned, Bishop walked and Dykes drove a terrific liner to left field to drive in the two scores ahead of him. This completed the scoring.

Score by innings: R H E
Cardinals 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 2
Athletics 2 0 2 0 0 0 6 7 2

BOARD TO HEAR COMPLAINTS ON SCHOOL BOOKS

ABILENE, Oct. 2.—The state board of education on October 13 will hear formal complaints of West Texas textbook publishers in connection with charges that have led to recommendations to the west Texas chamber of commerce for filing a million dollar damage suit, claiming that statements contained in geographies being studied by public school students are "scandalous" and "damagingly untrue" in describing the board.

A committee headed by Chas. E. Coombes, president of the regional chamber organization, and including D. A. Bandeen, manager of the chamber and Max Bentley of Abilene, chairman of publicity, will air the question before the board.

On the same day, Coombes and Bandeen will confer with the all-state regional council, composed of presidents and managers of the west Texas, east Texas and south Texas chambers of commerce, of which Coombes is chairman and Bandeen secretary.

Directors of the west Texas chamber still have before them recommendations from its publicity committee asking of damage suits totaling a million dollars against publishing houses whose books picture west Texas as semi-arid land generally unsuited to agriculture.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 2.—The will of Dr. John Thompson Dorrance, founder and head of the Campbell Soup company, who died Sept. 21, disposes of an estate estimated at $100,000,000 or more. It was intimated that Mrs. Dorrance, the widow, will retain control of the soup firm.

DAILY BIBLE READING

2 Timothy 1:3-6

- 3. I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day; 4. Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy; 5. When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother, Lois, and thy mother, Eunice; and I am persuaded that, in thee also. 6. Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.

SPARKS FROM THE TEXAS INDUSTRIAL ANVIL.

William C. Edwards of Dallas continues to furnish the people with his weekly bulletin of building activities. There is plenty doing in the field of development in Texas. Now Texans are told:

That not in many years has there been so much activity among Texas railroads in extensions as now. With the Texas and Pacific seeking permit for a 333 mile extension into the Panhandle, with the Santa Fe's extension to Del Rio soon completed to furnish Texas with direct communication as far into Mexico as Chihuahua now and with Topobolampo on the west coast by the first of the year, the Rock Island is ready to award contract for its Vega-Forest, New Mexico line, has about completed its line from Dalhart to Morse and the Frisco is expected soon to begin work on its line from Vernon to Seymour.

That if the Texas and Pacific gets its permit it will bring the total of new lines authorized in the Panhandle and South Plains area to about 1099 miles, including the 120 mile Denver-Burlington extension from Childress to Pampa.

That the 1090 mile 24 inch natural gas pipeline that will extend from the Texas Panhandle to Northern Illinois and will serve 50 cities will be buried below the cultivation line so that farm work will not be interfered with and the companies interested have seven trillion feet of gas available in Texas and Oklahoma and Kansas.

That development of a new deep-water port at Port Aransas, together with the creation of an industrial center, is the ultimate $10,000,000 objective of a group of Connecticut men who have purchased the $2,000,000 properties of the Aransas Harbor Terminal railway and Aransas Dock and Channel company.

That bids on the 4450-acre $1,500,000 lake which Dallas Power & Light company will build in Mountain Creek Valley, west of Dallas, were received in September and construction will start early in the fall; that a portion of the short line will be used by the city for a park; that the first unit of the power plant on the lake will be built as soon as the demand approaches the capacity of the present $2,500 kw. station in Dallas.

That endowment of $200,000,000 for the University of Texas from its oil royalties and bonuses alone is predicted within 40 years by the land commissioner of Texas and in little more than seven years it has received over $13,000,000 from this source.

That Texas has one and a half times as many farms as any two other states in the union, or 465,646, and, furthermore, Texas has about 14 per cent of the farms in the United States.

That the 6,901,101 citrus trees in the Lower Rio Grande Valley represent with the land they occupy a value of $145,000,000 an increase of $80,000 over that of a year ago and that last year 908,853 new trees were put out in that area.

Are the builders and the developers active in Texas? Why ask? Read the daily newspapers and trade journals and then face about and march with the procession of wealth creators and wealth makers under Texas skies.

CAUGHT, BUT NOT PUNISHED.

The Chicago and Cook County Bankers' association has issued a protest—not, evidently, without some justification—against the unusual delay that has marked the disposal of the cases of three convicted bandits.

In January of 1929 six men invaded a Chicago bank, killed a watchman and got away with $800. Two days later they were captured and they confessed, also implicating themselves in 60 other robberies. In April they were tried and convicted; three were sentenced to life imprisonment and three were sentenced to death.

Then the law's delays began to operate for the condemned men. A score of stays of execution were issued. The supreme court heard the case two times. Interventions were made to the governor. And now, 17 months after their conviction, the three condemned men have been granted a second hearing by the board of pardons and paroles on their plea of clemency.

This chain of events speaks for itself. Hard as it is to catch a hoodlum in Chicago, it seems to be even harder to do anything effective to him after you have caught him.

MARRIAGE TO A GENIUS.

A pen and ink sketch of Virginia Clemm, the girl who became the wife of Edgar Allan Poe, shared misery and hardship with him and finally died of cold, hunger and general impoverishment, has been discovered in the east; and it is given a strange romantic interest by the belief that it was drawn by Poe himself.

There are other sketches with it, all supposedly drawn by Poe; but it is this one that draws people's attention. It shows a face that is calm, peaceful and happy; if Poe himself actually drew it he must have done it before privation came to wreck Virginia Clemm's life—or perhaps, like the genius he was, he looked beyond those things and sketched, not the girl that really existed, but the girl that might have existed if the fates had been a bit kinder.

If this portrait was really the work of Poe, it is an extremely valuable discovery; and this is true, not merely because Poe was a great poet, but also because Virginia Clemm is such a pathetic and appealing figure. How we would like to know more about her! How, indeed, we would like to see, not a portrait of her by Poe, but a portrait of Poe drawn by her!

For Virginia Clemm suffered that strangest of fates that can befall a woman; she married an authentic genius. Such marriages—genius being extremely rare—are not common; and the girl who gets into one of them is apt to find that the world is a place filled with wonder and terror, unpredictable and uncontrollable. But it may be, after all our pity for Virginia Clemm's hard life has been expended, that she did not need quite as much sympathy as the world has given her.

To be sure, she suffered the physical torments of cold and hunger. She was oppressed by poverty throughout her short married life. She died very young. But it may be that it was worth it.

For, after all, she lived with a man who had eyes that could see and a voice that could sing. Gazing into the circumscribed world that was America a century ago, he was able to find beauty and mystery and passion so freely that his songs and his stories are still alive today, and will live for many more generations. What girl would not be willing to go hungry now and then if the man of her heart could create, from the light in her own eyes, a thing like "Annabel Lee"?

Marrying a poet, even a poor one, even a poet who does not know that he is a poet, is a risky business. Marrying a genuinely great poet is a sure road to disaster. But it is not the worst fate conceivable. It may mean sorrow and misery and heartbreak—but it will also, now and then, mean ecstasy.

OTHER OPINIONS

HONEST, WILLING, AMBITIOUS—BOY WANTED

WANTED—An honest young man who isn't afraid to work, even if it be washing windows, polishing brass, or scrubbing a floor. Small wages to start, but a big opportunity for the hustler. That might be a classified advertisement in any newspaper, and carried all the time, for there never are enough of this kind of young men.

A Media merchant came to the editor and wanted his help in finding such a young man. He had lots of applicants, but he was afraid to take a chance on an unrecommended youth, whose honesty had not been proved. "The trouble with these young fellows who hang around the drug stores is they don't want to work," the merchant said. "And then how are you going to know they are honest?"

"I could find a lad with a high school education, or better still with a college or business course, who wasn't afraid to work hard, for a cheap starting wage. I could almost guarantee him a very bright future with responsibility and big pay."

The merchant continued that the youth should be honest first. Then he should be able and willing, yes, anxious to do everything. He didn't want anybody who is too good to wash a window, polish brass or don overalls at any time needed.

In other words he was looking for somebody to manage a store some day and these fellows who pick out the soft jobs go to sleep in them and never get any further.

"You'd be surprised," the merchant continued "how many people take little things from a store. We usually know it, but hate to accuse them. We just have to let them go, and they, perhaps, wonder why it is that some get ahead when they don't."

With all the purported unemployment it does seem strange that it is so hard to find an honest, hard working but ambitious youth.

CRACKS IN THE DOME

By POLITICAL ANALYST

AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—Texas demagogues are quick to see the significance of U. S. Sen. Thomas J. Walsh's definite return to the political spotlight this week. They saw in the long-grade jockeying on the national stage for position in the 1932 presidential race.

Walsh, as a dry democrat from Montana, was in strategic position in 1928, only that the party had decided to nominate Alfred E. Smith and there was no slip-up. In case of a deadlock on Smith, many in Texas regarded Walsh as the inevitable choice.

His personal part in the scorching exposure of republican oil scandals his militant leadership in the drive against corruption in the government, and in his consistent and aggressive democracy, hold Walsh in an impressive position of party prestige.

Not merely one Texas inheritance tax settlement, but half a dozen or more, are under scrutiny of Comp. George H. Sheppard. Mr. Sheppard is trying to find out how, after valuations were made and the state tax paid, the administrators of estates should have been willing to accept a higher valuation imposed by the federal government. He has not tackled the cases as a fire-eater. Rather, he admits that in some cases the administrators probably elected simply to pay the higher amounts to the federal government than to go through litigation over the assessment.

MOTHER LEAVES CHILDREN AND FACES DEATH

Says Farewell Hard, But Recovery Easy Due to Crazy Water

In May, 1929, I was critically ill with Rheumatism; in fact, I was an invalid and had to be helped around. My husband decided to bring me to Mineral Wells, as it looked as if there was no hope for me if I remained at home. But I had no confidence in Mineral Wells; in fact, I did not believe that anything or any place would relieve my suffering. You can imagine how I felt when I told my children "Good-Bye," when I did not expect to see them again.

I arrived in Mineral Wells on May 10th, last year, and in one week of the Crazy Water Treatment, I was able to walk and thirty days from the time I arrived I was well again, only a little weak.

I heartily recommend to everyone suffering from diseases caused by faulty elimination that they spend a few days rest at the Crazy Water Hotel in Mineral Wells, Texas, the home of Crazy Water.

Mrs. F. M. Hilliard, Tulla, Texas.

achievements of his administration. That has been recorded at length in the democratic party platform. But some of the things that have not been done, including particularly the regulation of public utilities thorough consideration of an income tax, the increase of production taxes and reduction of property taxes, are going to be laid before the incoming legislature. Regardless of the wording or of the number and nature of recommendations, the message in effect will say, "the responsibility is yours; here is the situation as I see it, and the solution is a matter for you and the people who elected you."

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By EDSON E. WAITE Shawnee, Oklahoma.

Charles A. Guy, editor of the Lubbock (Texas) Avalanche and Journal, says: "It has often occurred to me that the practice of community building—or rather the practice of engaging in it—has never struck close enough home to that great group of our citizens, covered in the blanket characterization of 'the man in the street.' That occurrence has led me further; has caused me to ponder over the condition in order to reach some direct reason for its existence.

"In every city, village and hamlet in our country we find as bulwarks of the chamber of commerce, commercial club or whatever the civic vehicle happens to be called, the same little group of business men. This same little group bears the burden for the expenditure of effort, times and finances. The 'average citizen,' who profits and whose family profits indirectly from the varied labors of the few, doesn't seem to feel that he, too, is responsible for helping make his town just a little better than it is.

"The cause of the trouble, as I see it, is that the average commercial organization does not realize that, beyond the few merchants who are vitally interested in civic development, there are scores of other men who could and would help—if properly approached and cultivated. Generally speaking, the chambers make little effort to interest in actual cooperation, anyone outside the 'faithful few' and as a result the term, 'chamber of commerce' is foreign to many who reap great gain from its activities.

"Man-power is as valuable in civic development, there are scores of other men who could and would help—if properly approached and cultivated. Generally speaking, the chambers make little effort to interest in actual cooperation, anyone outside the 'faithful few' and as a result the term, 'chamber of commerce' is foreign to many who reap great gain from its activities.

CUBAN GOV'T ACTS TO QUIET HAVANA ROW

HAVANA, Oct. 2.—Suspension of constitutional rights in Havana will be asked by President Gerardo Machado in a message to congress today.

The decision to make the request came at a meeting of the cabinet soon after midnight. The 7 o'clock this afternoon and suspension of constitutional rights will become effective when a decree is published in the official journal, expected at 6 p. m.

In addition to President Machado, those present at the meeting last night included: Dr. Vazquez Bello, speaker of the senate; Dr. Guas Inclan, speaker of the house of representatives; Senator Viriato Gutierrez; Attorney General Vivanco; Secretary of War Gen. Rojas; Secretary of the Interior Gen. Delgado; Chief of Staff Gen. Herrera; Chief of Police Commander Carrera.

Censorship
The government established censorship over the Spanish language newspapers El Pais, the newspaper announced. There was no censorship on out-going press dispatches, cable companies said.

President Machado issued a statement vigorously condemning the instigations of the student disorders Tuesday, in which several students and one policeman were injured seriously when students protested against the government's decision to keep the university of Havana closed until after the elections.

The president attributed the disturbances directly to the agitation of communists and nationalists. He accused the opposition press of distorting the events and picturing the rioters as students who were innocent victims of the police, while in reality they were communists and nationalists seeking perturbation of the peace and disruption of the country's economic life.

Kidnaped Banker Returns Unharmd

CONWAY, Kas., Oct. 2.—After being held as a hostage by two bandits who wounded his wife and robbed his bank of $1,000 here last night, R. C. Webb, president of the Conway State bank, came back home today unharmd by his captors who escaped.

Webb walked into McPherson, Kas., near here, at 2:30 a. m. to day and revealed his escape while posing as a patrolman who used the capture from a shield to cover up their retreat from gunfire from vigilantes.

The two robbers first intimidated Webb and his wife at their home, near the bank by firing a shot at Mrs. Webb as she stepped to the door. She stepped back, suffering a flesh wound below the elbow of her arm. She was not wounded seriously.

Webb quoted one of the bandits as apologizing for wounding Mrs. Webb. "My God, I'd rather shoot myself than shoot a woman," the robber avowed. The pair released Webb when they had fled afoot to a safe distance.

T. P. Rate Hearing In Austin Soon

DALLAS, Oct. 2.—Hearing of the application of the Texas & Pacific Railway to lower the passenger fare to 2c a mile between Fort Worth and Big Spring will be held in Austin within two weeks.

A ruling that motor bus representatives had not been given proper notice caused postponement of the case, scheduled for hearing before the Railroad commission here yesterday.

A charge that the T. & P. is seeking to lower the passenger rate in an attempt to destroy motor transportation in Texas was lodged by J. C. Duval of Fort Worth, bus company attorney.

What They Do at Brown's Sanatorium

September 12, 1930.
On July the first my four-year-old daughter was stricken with Infantile Paralysis. After two weeks of illness she was unable to use her self. Her legs were useless and her tongue was partially paralyzed.

Then I carried her to Dr. Brown's Drugless Sanatorium. On the ninth day that I was there she was able to walk around the bed. In four weeks I brought her home walking and talking even plainer than she did before she was stricken with infantile paralysis.

I feel as if I could never show my appreciation to Dr. Brown for his work in curing my daughter.

"THE SERIOUSNESS

OF GUARDING THE DELICATE NOSE AND THROAT MEMBRANES"

Says

BRIG. GENERAL WALTER C. MONTGOMERY

Graduate of Columbia University, College of Physicians and Surgeons, Instructor and Assistant Professor Department of Nose and Throat, Cornell Medical School, Cornell University, for 28 years. Sanitary Inspector, with rank of Colonel, and later Divisional Surgeon in the 27th Division in the World War in France. Awarded Distinguished Service Medal (U.S.) and Croix de Guerre with Palms (Belgium) and other medals for war service in France.

"The greatest triumphs of medicine will be in the direction of public education on the importance of preventive measures. And in this connection I cannot lay enough emphasis on the seriousness of guarding the delicate nose and throat membranes and accessory sinuses. Your use of the Ultra Violet Ray in the 'Toasting' of the LUCKY STRIKE tobaccos, I regard as a laudable effort on your part to give the great army of American smokers the benefit of recent scientific conclusions."

Walter C. Montgomery

LUCKY STRIKE—the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so TOASTING removes harmful irritants that cause throat irritation and coughing. No wonder 20,679 physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating! Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why TOASTING includes the use of the Ultra Violet Ray.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough

Consistent with its policy of laying the facts before the public, The American Tobacco Company has invited Brig. Gen. Walter C. Montgomery to review the reports of the distinguished men who have witnessed LUCKY STRIKE'S famous Toasting Process. The statement of Brig. Gen. Montgomery appears on this page.

Brand New Thrills in Gibson Picture

Hoot Gibson cuts loose with a new set of thrills in "Roaring Ranch" sizzling Universal all-talking western drama which opens at the Ideal theatre today.

It's old Hoot in a bigger and better picture than ever. "Roaring Ranch" is sure fire entertainment. It has never-failing speed and excitement. It is rich in action, comedy and romance. And it has a plot that never allows interest to flag.

"Roaring Ranch" deals with the effects of two young men, a rancher and a geologist to win the hand of a beautiful school teacher. The conflict in love is intensified by a secret oil discovery. With love and wealth both at stake, black villainy enters...with the result that the suspense is terrific up to and through the smashing conclusion.

Hoot again demonstrates his versatility in "Roaring Ranch". Aside from his straight acting, he goes in for some terrific fistie combat and exhibits his marvelous riding ability. And he is better than ever in putting over the famous Gibson brand of western comedy.

SOX DEFEAT CUBS.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Fred (Sherriff) Blake was nominated by Manager Rogers Hornsby of the Chicago Cubs today for the attempt to even the city series competition between the National league runners-up and the Chicago White Sox.

The Sox, who were able to finish no better than seventh in their own league, were jubilant over their 5 to 1 victory over the Cubs in the series opener yesterday, and counted on Pat Caraway, Rookie southpaw, to make it two straight today.

Fat Girls! Here's A Tip For You

All over the world Kruschen Salts is appealing to girls and women who strive for an attractive, trim waist line figure that cannot fail to win admiration.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat" — Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gasses are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts are carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

Get an 83c bottle of Kruschen Salts at any drug store (lasts 4 weeks) with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.

Heart Hungry

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Celia Mitchell, 17, faces a new life when she leaves the home in Baltimore where she has lived with her seamstress mother, Margaret Rogers, to join her father, John Mitchell, and her grandmother in a stately New York dwelling.

The girl had not even known her father was living until the day he came to the Baltimore apartment. Celia had supposed Bob Rogers, her mother's second husband, to be her father. Mitchell offers Celia a life of wealth, and immediately everything changes. She leaves her mother, unaware that Margaret Rogers is seriously ill, and she leaves Barney Shields, young newspaper photographer, who swears that some day he and Celia will be married.

The girl is lonely and ill at ease in New York. Her aristocratic grandmother criticizes her and one evening Mitchell finds her in tears. He calls on Mrs. Evelyn Parsons, a beautiful widow whose husband had been Mitchell's close friend. Mrs. Parsons agrees eagerly to introduce Celia to the right set of young people but her interest is clearly in Mitchell himself and not in the girl.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
"ER XVI
You wish, her come, won't you?" Mrs. Parsons leaned forward, smiling eagerly as she spoke. She was sitting in one of the gilt and brocade chairs in the drawing room of the Mitchell home facing Mrs. Thomas Worthington Mitchell. It was the afternoon following Mitchell's visit at Evelyn Parsons' apartment. The two women were alone in the vast room, and the youthful looking widow had just stated the object of her call.

Long Island for the week-end. Nether has a mission board meeting tomorrow, and Mrs. Parsons kindly offered to take you on a tour of the shops. Buy up a few things you'll need in the country.

"Oh, I'm sure I will," Celia said quickly. "Mrs. Parsons seems to be very nice." "Evelyn," said John Mitchell thoughtfully, "is a wonderful woman." Celia darted a swift glance at her father. After that she ate in silence. The shopping trip Friday morning was a revelation to young Celia Mitchell. In the first place she and Mrs. Parsons rode in a limousine behind a liveried chauffeur. Never had Celia felt so important. Secondly she had to watch herself closely to keep from showing amazement at the places they visited.

In a thickly carpeted salon with beautiful furniture where one or two attractive young women loitered, Celia was astounded to hear Mrs. Parsons ask to be shown sport clothes. It was inconceivable until she saw it was true—that garments were for sale here. There were others to follow like this first experience. And after Celia had become accustomed to the uncommercial aspect of the shops she was enraptured with the purchases Mrs. Parsons made. They were to buy "just a few things," the woman had said when they set out. It was three o'clock in the afternoon when Celia reached home amid boxes and bundles. Within the packages was a brief tennis dress, beach pajamas—vivid green splashed with orange—a green jersey swimming suit, a printed afternoon frock and two billowing party dresses. There were shoes to match everything, gloves, little felt hats, a beret and broad-brimmed straw. There were other accessories, too.

Jinx Threatens to Bar Clark Again

ABILENE, Oct. 2.—Swampy Clark, veteran halfback for the Simmons University Cowboys is beginning to get superstitious. For the past two years, although he has played as a regular for most of the seasons, he has not got into the T. C. U. game at Breckenridge. "Something will happen to me," Swampy told a team mate Tuesday. "Just see if something don't happen to keep me out of that T. C. U. game. I've been here two years and haven't played a down against T. C. U. yet."

Tuesday afternoon in punting practice, an end made a bulldog tackle of Clark who was receiving the ball and when the little halfback came up after the fall he had an ugly cut on his cheek. He was rushed to the doctor's office where five stitches were necessary to sew up the wound. "What did I tell you," Clark told the same team mate that night at supper. Coach Leslie Cranfill hopes the doughy halfback will be ready to play Saturday, in spite of his injury, however. At that, the Simmons coach has worries aplenty with his backfield, with Davenport entirely out, Marshall suffering from a bad shoulder and two of his reserves limping on bad ankles.

Loboes Play Last "A" Game at Home in Weeks Friday

NEXT WILL BE WITH RANGER NOVEMBER 11

Big Spring and Breckenridge to Be Met on Foreign Soil

The Cisco Loboes play their last class A game at home before meeting the Ranger Bulldogs here November 11, when they engage the Brownwood high school Lions under the floodlights at Chesley field Friday evening. The game will begin at 8 o'clock.

Predicting the outcome of a football game is like predicting rain in Texas. One never knows just what is going to happen. On the basis of hope the Loboes should slaughter the Lions here Friday but looking back over the records of last season we are admonished once more that Old Man Dope is a fickle authority.

For instance it will be remembered that Brownwood walloped the Ranger Bulldogs right smartly at the outset of the season. The Loboes then kicked the lights out of Brownwood. The local boys were on the long end of the score by several touchdowns. But then, as irony would have it, the Loboes turned right around and lost to the Ranger Bulldogs. What is to be said about the game with the Lions Friday evening upon such records as that?

Nevertheless, not to disappoint the Lobo supporters, we freely predict a Cisco victory Friday night and invite you to be present and see our prediction come true. The secret? It will be posted on the bulletin board at the field progressively.

BLANTON IS TEXAS' GOAL KICKING ACE

AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—The lost art of field goal kicking, noticeable for its long absence in the Southwest conference, seems due for a revival this year, as far as the Texas Longhorns are concerned, if practices kicking by "Ox" Blanton, 220 pound tackle of Cisco, is a true indication. Blanton has tried for extra points after touchdowns five times in the first two encounters of the Longhorns, and each time had sent perfect tries through the goal posts. In practice, he has been making tries good from the 20 and 25-yard lines.

Last Saturday, against the School of Mines team, Blanton missed his first attempt for a field goal when he barely sent a poor kick over the goal line from the 2-yard line, but few moments later he came back and made good two extra-point kicks. At another time in the game the Longhorns backed the Miners against their own goal line, and when the Miner punter kicked out, the kick was short. Elkins, Steer safety man, signaled for a fair catch, so that Blanton might have opportunity for a free kick but the ball came to the 3-yard line and the attempt was not made. Blanton socked all of the kicking-off for the Steers at the start of games, and after touchdowns, as long as he is in the lineup. With one exception he has sent high, slow kicks to between the 10-yard line and the goal line.

BIG DAM CHATTER

Satisfactory arrangements have at last been made whereby the Loboes will meet the Brownwood Lions at night. Until yesterday afternoon it was certain that the game would not take place under the floodlights, the two schools not being able to agree upon terms. Brownwood wanted a 50-50 split of the receipts under any circumstance but Cisco felt that the local school was entitled to consideration because of the heavy expense incurred in installing the lighting equipment, and because the game at Brownwood next year will not return a commensurate sum. Eastland made an agreement with the Cisco association for their game with the Loboes here at night which returned them a much more satisfactory settlement than a 50-50 division of the receipts from an afternoon game would have done. The Mavericks' treasury was enriched by about $500. Had the game taken place in the afternoon $800 would probably have covered the entire receipts.

Unless October 10, an open date on the Loboes schedule is filled with a game here, Friday night will be the last chance for Ciscoans to see their team in action on domestic soil until November 11, when Ranger comes here. At any rate it will be the last class A game at Cisco until November 11.

The Loboes go to Big Spring October 17 for their next class A game following the tilt with Brownwood here and the following Friday they will be entertained by the Breckenridge Buckaroos at Breckenridge.

There are no games of outstanding interest in the oil belt this week and the interest of grid fans will center upon collegiate gridirons, following the three representatives of the Southwestern conference as they carry the guidons of Texas football into the realms of the high and mighty. The outstanding contest on this week's bill is the S. M. U. Mustang's game with the Notre Dame Ramblers at South Bend, Indiana, Saturday. This contest will formally open the Irish's big stadium. A deep sigh of relief swept over the Ponies' camp today as Weldon Mason, star offensive cog of the Mustang machine, was declared eligible after his right to play this season was questioned.

On the same train with the S. M. U. team are the Baylor Bears who will meet the Purdue Boiler-makers last year Big Ten champions, at Lafayette, Indiana, Saturday also.

The third Southwestern conference eleven to go abroad for hostilities Saturday is the Texas Aggies. The Farmers will meet the Nebraska Cornhuskers on the Nebraska gridiron Saturday afternoon. The meeting will bring together once more two coaches who waged a bitter rivalry as mentors of Southwestern conference eleven, Dana Bible, coach of the Nebraska team, was formerly the Texas Aggie coach while Matty Bell, the present Aggie instructor, was the T. C. U. mentor.

Less we forget, the oil belt will be offered a spicy collegiate gridiron dish of its own Saturday also. The T. C. U. Horned Frogs, 1929 Southwestern conference champions, will meet the Simmons university Cowboys at Breckenridge Saturday afternoon. This will be the third meeting of the

American League Champions Win 13 Out of 14 Games With National League Winners

By GEORGE KIRKSEY United Press Staff Correspondent PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—The old question of the American league's superiority over the National league was raised again today as the two world series contenders prepared for their second engagement.

When the Philadelphia Athletics won the opening game yesterday from the St. Louis Cardinals, five to two, it was the 13th victory for the American league champions in their last 14 games played against the National league's pennant winners.

Comparison of the standing of the two league champions in world series competition since 1927

when the New York Yankees won four straight from the Pittsburgh Pirates, reveals a percentage supremacy overwhelmingly for the American league.

	W.	L.	Pct.
American league	13	1	.929

The only game won by the National league since the Cardinals, under Rogers Hornsby, beat the Yankees in the final game of the 1926 series was won by the Chicago Cubs over the Athletics in the third game last year.

The Cardinals were not badly outclassed yesterday. They scarcely were outplayed, but they were outsmarted.

two teams at Breckenridge. There is not the slightest necessity to recommend this engagement. Jake Sanderfer Jr., ardent Simmons fan, and Milton Daniels, equally ardent T. C. U. supporter, both of Breckenridge, are the promoters of these engagements. They get quite a kick out of it.

Don't forget that the Loboes need support if they are to get anywhere this fall. The game Friday evening with Brownwood here may be the last chance you will have of seeing the boys play again until November 11. If you want the boys to win give them your support.

SPORT SHOTS

PORT WORTH, Oct. 2.—The football thermometer today showed a high pressure area out around Coach Francis Schmidt's headquarters at Texas Christian university. The same jinx that has stirred up trouble at the Baylor Bruin camp seems to have invaded the Horned Frog rendezvous. Coach Schmidt is having trouble with his lineup.

The Frog master has decreed that things are going to have to be different from the style employed against the Austin Kangaroos last Saturday if his charges are to make any headway in the conference race. Every conceivable combination from four quarterbacks, nine halfbacks, and four fullbacks is being tried out, with no possible prediction as to the starting lineup Saturday against Simmons.

PAVVETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 2.—The Razorbacks' hope for a victory over the Tulans took a sudden drop today with the announcement that three of Arkansas' best men would be kept from the lineup.

Holes is scheduled to sit on a sickbed because of injuries to his shoulder in the college of Ozark's game. Uptowner, counted on to bark signals, is down with the fever, while illness has likewise claimed Dale. Thus only Kyle and Lebetter will be left of what was to have been a veteran backfield to face the Tulans.

AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—Field goal kicking, almost a lost art in the southwest conference, is due for a revival this year on the toe of "Ox"

Blanton, 220 pound tackle on the Texas Longhorn squad. In the last two games the herd has played. Blanton has tried for extra points after touchdowns five times, and each time the oval sailed a true course between the goal posts. In practice sessions, he repeats his performance from the 20 and 25 yard lines.

SCUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 2.—Notre Dame's football squad will take its final stiff workout today in preparation for Saturday's opening game against Southern Methodist university. Coach Rockne was dissatisfied with the varsity's showing in yesterday's scrimmage.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 2.—Minor injuries among the Nebraska Cornhusker squad were not considered serious today and the team will enter the game with the Texas Aggies Saturday in excellent physical condition.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 2.—With Paul Calvert, veteran end, on the sidelines with an injured shoulder, Coach Noble Kizer was faced with the necessity of developing the Spohmores Moss and Bateman to fill the vacancy in Purdue's game with Baylor Saturday.

BROWNWOOD, Oct. 2.—With a crippled Yellow Jacket lineup worked over Howard Payne today was ready for their annual clash with the Teachers of San Marcos. Nig McCarver is not expected to be in Saturday's starting lineup. Hoet Masur, fullback, is also expected to take a rest during the Hcbet game.

Haskell — Rerouting of highway No. 13 being considered.

GLAMOR AND FIRE LACKING IN BIG GAME

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 2.—Unless St. Louis can stir up something, it will have to be recorded that a lot of the color and glamor has departed from that typical American institution known as the world's series.

More than 32,000 fans sat through nine innings of the first game of the series here yesterday, saw Philadelphia, the home team, win 5 to 2; witnessed the flight of two home runs over the right field fence gazed upon the president of the United States who was there with cabinet officers and others of high place; and they didn't utter a full-throated roar the entire afternoon.

There was no rooting section. A few people did break down now and then and clap their hands delicately. There was no brass band, instead music came from phonograph records played over an amplifier. Even "Hall to the Chief," played when Mr. Hoover entered, and the "Star Spangled Banner" which brought all those thousands of people to their feet, heads bare, were ground out by a talking machine.

The poo boys didn't shout their wares, but talked in low tones as if they were intruding on some one's quiet. There wasn't a fist fight anywhere; not even when a foul ball went into the stands and a dozen fans scrambled for it. Some of the fans even failed to inspire a scaram.

The old pennant raising ceremony was missing. When it came time to raise the pennant some ground keeper just went out and ran it up the flag pole. No one cheered.

Not half the people in the park knew anything was happening when President Hoover tossed out the first ball. Most of them saw it bounding across the field and thought it just another ball rolling around. Mr. Hoover smiled and seemed to do his best to live things up but not even the president could do it.

Yanks May Name McCarthy Shortly

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—The fact that Joe McCarthy, former manager of the Chicago Cubs, has turned down offers from the Boston Red Sox, Pittsburgh Pirates and Brooklyn Robins, tended to indicate today that he soon will be officially announced as the new manager of the New York Yankees.

Although officials of the Yankees have made half hearted denials it is reported that the completion of the deal will take place when McCarthy reaches New York on Friday.

Cotton Acreage Reduction Defended as Constitutional

CONSTITUTIONAL TO BE HEARD BY GOVERNOR

Question Involves the Right to Employ One's Property

By GORDON K. SHEARER, United Press Staff Correspondent. AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—Proposed acreage reduction of cotton acreage is logical as promotion of production, reduction advocates justly claim that cotton reduction by law is unconstitutional. This contention will be placed before Governor Dan Moody by a reduction committee which has been organized to see today or tomorrow.

The "leading case" on the question is that of Spann vs. City of Dallas, in which the state supreme court held in effect that a man has the right to use his property as he wishes provided such use does not become a nuisance.

Oil proration orders of the Texas Railroad commission so far have been carefully based on the declaration that the orders are conservation ones and issued to prevent actual waste as distinguished from economic waste.

The distinction exists between conservation and all that the amount of oil that another farmer can use in oil fields the close proximity of wells makes it necessary for all to operate at the same rate to prevent a well on one man's land draining out the oil under the land of another.

J. E. McDonald, of Waxahatchie, a moderate nominee for state agricultural commissioner and author of the cotton acreage reduction bill that failed to pass the last legislature, recognizes the need of something more than a bare limitation on the amount of cotton that may be planted.

His bill proposed that only certain percentages of a farmer's land might be put in cotton. If water percentages were planted, he contended, it could not be used properly to prevent root and other cotton pests likely to spread to the lands of other farmers.

Absolute prohibition against cotton in some places has been ordered in the past to prevent spread of pink boll worm. This is said to give a precedent for the measure now proposed.

Other Difficulties. Both the demand for oil proration and for cotton acreage reduction are alike in having become announced when economic conditions made reductions desirable. If the legal difficulties are met, McDonald contends, by the declaration that cotton acreage reduction is a pest defense measure, the most practical difficulty is to get all the cotton states to reduce. Difficulty to get all farmers in the state to reduce has been experienced. Selfish ones sought to profit by the reduction of others, the same danger is feared as among the states. If Texas should reduce and not others, Texas farmers would be sacrificing for others.

This situation was recognized locally last September when a communication was directed to Earl Williams of the federal farm board urging the board to take lead in a move for concerted action by the cotton states.

The Ellis county Agricultural club, sponsoring the McDonald bill, propose to get concerted action by urging Governor Moody to call on the governors of all other cotton states to unite with him in calling special sessions of their legislatures to enact a uniform cotton acreage reduction law.

Notables to See Drake-Oregon Game

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Many football notables will be present tonight for the intersectional game between Drake university of Des Moines, Iowa, and the University of Oregon at Soldiers field. Attracted by the opportunity to see an important game under this four times stronger than the one used on any other football baseball field, the following notables have made reservations: Nate Rockne, Notre Dame; Tug Wilson, Northwestern; Coach A. A. Sage, Chicago; Bennie Bierman, Lane and Ma; John L. Griffith, commissioner of the Big Ten conference.

Needs Another Hit to Establish Record

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 2.—Frank Frisch's next hit will establish a new world series record for hits by one player.

Frisch had 42 hits today as a result of making two off Lefty Grove yesterday, and needed only one more to surpass Eddie Collins' record of the same number made in six world series in 1910, 1911, 1913, 1914, 1917, and 1919.

Frisch is now playing in his fifth world series. He played with the Cards in 1928 and Giants in 1921, 1922, 1923 and 1924.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—The official attendance and receipts for the first game of the world series follow:

Attendance: 32,295; total receipts $152,735; players' share $77,894.65; each club's share $12,482.48; each league's share $12,482.48; commissioner's share $22,910.25.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 2.—Victory snatched their grasp in the final inning yesterday, the Rochester Redwings, International league champions met today the Louisville Colonels, American association flag-winners, in the 21st game of the "Little World Series."

With five victories needed to capture the series, the count now stands four games for Rochester and three for Louisville.

Louisville won 6 to 5 yesterday by scoring two runs in the ninth inning.

SOUTHWESTERN TEAMS SPEED NORTH TODAY

DALLAS, Oct. 2.—The Mustangs of E. M. U. and the Bears of Baylor university, winners of the southwest conference, were somewhere in the middle west today, speeding on to inter-sectional games with undefeated champions of 1929. Only a pause in St. Louis where light workouts were given the gridmen, marked the trip to foreign awards.

The Mustangs were poised to make a good start in the first important grid battle of the season for a few hours after their special train pulled out, the southwest conference appeals board, meeting here in a long night session, gave Weidon Masch a clean bill of health. The Pony ace is the sparking in the Mustang machine, and his loss would have seriously handicapped the Texans in their scrap with the Irish Saturday.

As the Bruins went north Baylor had one cause for regret. Pat Parker, sophomore sensation in the backfield, was not traveling with the Bears. Severe injuries suffered during a practice session will prevent Pat from leading the speedy little Jake Wilson on running plays in Saturday's game with Purdue at Lafayette.

This afternoon Anglieland was sent forth its ambassadors into the football world of the north. A special Aggie train will carry the maroon and white warriors to Lincoln Nebraska for a Saturday clash with the Bible-coached Cornhuskers of Nebraska, 1929 champions.

Several lineup changes are contemplated for the melee with the Ponies, some because of the improvement by players who heretofore have been on the reserve list and others because of injuries to regulars. Big Flipps, Johnny Airey and Fells are some of the youngsters developing rapidly. All weigh in the neighborhood of 185, and if they become useful enough to take first string positions, they will add to the quality of weight that has been lacking.

Flippo may go in the backfield Saturday, and Airey who worked at fullback against Big Spring, is a possibility for an end berth in the tussle with Sweetwater. Gordon Ramsey is another of the eligibles for an extremity.

Wilson Groszclose still is hampered by the bad ankle, which he had left over from the Colorado game, and the coach likely will let him sit out a large portion of Saturday's activities. Falls is due a starting call

Hillsboro Man Is Killed in Crash

WACO, Oct. 2.—R. C. Blount, 27, of Hillsboro, was killed and his body burned to a crisp when the car in which he was riding side-swiped another machine and upset on the highway seven miles north of here last night.

The gasoline tank exploded and set fire to the wreckage before

Blount's body could be extracted. The steering wheel of the machine was driven through his heart, indicating that death occurred before fire enveloped his body.

J. C. Hawkins, whose home is in Dallas, was with Blount at the time of the accident but was unable to help his companion. Hawkins suffered minor injuries in the crash. Both men were employees of the Texas Power & Light company, working out of the Dallas office and were en route from Hillsboro to Waco.

Blount's body was taken to Hillsboro. He is survived by his wife and one child.

MAYHEW IS ENCOURAGED OVER TEAM

ABILENE, Oct. 2.—Encouraged over the showing of his athletes in practice yesterday afternoon Coach Dewey Mayhew announced that he may yet have a good ball club, which is the first official statement of the kind heard from the camp of the Abilene Eagles this fall.

The high schoolers scrimmaged yesterday. They likely won't today or tomorrow, for on Saturday they will tackle the Sweetwater Mustangs, their second assignment of the week at the West Texas fair.

Several lineup changes are contemplated for the melee with the Ponies, some because of the improvement by players who heretofore have been on the reserve list and others because of injuries to regulars. Big Flipps, Johnny Airey and Fells are some of the youngsters developing rapidly. COTTON BURRS DECLARED TO BE FINE FEED

The following bit of information supplied by the Daily News' Putnam correspondent is pertinent:

The News has taken the liberty of affixing it from the Putnam weekly letter and giving it the prominence of a separate heading:

In every bale of bolls that is hauled to the cotton gin there are 500 or 600 pounds of burrs that are wasted or hauled away and burned that can be utilized by grinding for feed and it is reported that cows eat them readily.

There have recently been a number of requests going in to the department of agriculture to analyze these burrs and find out what the food value would be after they have been ground into feed. The following is the report: The feeding value of the cotton burr is less than that of prairie hay, but somewhat more than the feed value of cotton seed hulls, apparently about 25 per cent greater.

These burrs can be loaded and hauled to your local feed mill in your home town and the grinding will not cost more than 25 cents per hundred pounds and one will have a better feed for $4 per ton than cotton seed hulls costing about $10 per ton.

The cotton burrs thus utilized will aid the local feed mill and economize the cost of the feed bill for the farmer or stockman. Mr. Bloodworth of the department of agriculture, urges the people to try out this feed.

at tackle, and if his performance is satisfactory, the large one will spend most of the afternoon there.

OIL NEWS OF SOUTHWEST

HENDERSON, Oct. 2.—Final test on the Joiner No. 3 wildcat, was expected to be made today as crowds packed the highways of Henderson and Rank county anticipating the blowing in of the big well.

Oil men from all sections of the country watched the crew bail out the hole and start drilling a cement plug set in the bottom of the hole 10 days ago following a drill stem test of Sept. 5, when a clear showing of oil testing 35 degrees gravity was made.

Two thousand people milled about the well this morning, as another two thousand jammed the street of this little town. Leases and royalties were being traded at fancy figures.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 2.—Consideration of the Permian basin, 11 tests for oil were completed last week, six of which were rated producers at 1,992 barrels daily. The remainder were dry holes.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES OF THE CITY'S LEADING INDUSTRIES

M. D. PASCHALL & SONS

Insurance --- Real Estate --- Loans

M. D. Paschall, Sr.—Crigler Paschall—M. D. Paschall, Jr.

This firm is one that shows the results of teamwork and cooperation. While these men's names appear at the head of their business, yet they admit that their wives are big factors in whatever success they may have attained. The help, and encouragement given have made them true help-mates indeed.

M. D. Paschall, Sr., has long been a citizen of Cisco. He has watched it grow from a little muddy village to the present clean, paved-streeted town that it is today—and his own son has had a large share in working this magic. The sons, Crigler and M. D., Jr., have been reared and educated in Cisco schools. They have become a part of Cisco life, both social and commercial.

Crigler has been street commissioner for several years and has supervised street building, paving and maintenance—thus having had a share in making Cisco a clean and sanitary city.

The firm conducts an insurance business that is more than county wide—their extensive acquaintance bringing them business from adjoining counties. They also deal in real estate and represent loan companies that have had a big part in the building and improving of properties in Cisco. All of their efforts are for their community interests.

They make their money in Cisco and spend it here. The family has been tied in with all community activities so long that they could not quit if they desired—and certainly that would not occur to them. They are substantial and a part of the commercial life—they are payroll builders.

Three Killed When Building Collapses

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—A four-story rooming house in Greenwich village, believed to have been undermined by wrecking operations next door, collapsed today, killing five men and women and injuring seven, two of whom are not expected to live.

The dead: Mrs. Victoria Courtarde, 48; Marguarite Courtarde, 17, her daughter; Frank Bourdon, 35; Carlo Tournaghi, 29; one unidentified man.

Lodgers told officials the building had been shaking for days. After a preliminary investigation, District Attorney Crain ordered arrest of members of the Fein Wrecking Corporation.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Three men were killed, four others injured and as many more may be missing in a building collapse today.

The structure was on a street where subway construction was under way and it was thought a cave in of the foundation due to digging nearby caused the collapse.

24-Hour Transcontinental Mail and Passenger Service to Be Inaugurated

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—An all-airplane transcontinental service carrying mail, passengers and express on a 24-hour schedule between New York and California, with intermediary stops, will result from award of an airmail contract to the Western Air express and Trans-Continental Air transport, officials of the companies revealed today.

The announcement was made by Harris M. Hanshue, president and general manager of Western Air express; Daniel M. Sheaffer, chairman of the executive committee, and J. D. Maddux, president of T. A. T. They said that continuation of present services, with extensions to fulfill requirements of the contract awarded by the post-office department yesterday, will begin as a unified service October 15.

The schedule to be followed for the present embraces 13-hour daily passenger service of Western Air express between Los Angeles and Kansas City, and a similar service between Kansas City and New York. Thus making the Transcontinental trip possible in two-day-light flights with overnight hotel stops at either Kansas City or St. Louis.

24-Hour Service

The all-airplane, 24-hour service will be inaugurated as soon as facilities for night flying have been installed throughout the route, the announcement said. The route contemplated is via Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, Columbus, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City, Amarillo and Albuquerque.

The contract provides for an alternative cut-off route from St. Louis to Amarillo via Tulsa and Oklahoma City.

Postmaster General Brown was informed, with submission of the bids, that a jointly owned operating unit will be created. In it will be pooled flying equipment, airway facilities and airports now used by the two companies along more than 60 per cent of the route. Western Air express and T. A. T. will have equal holdings in the operating company. It was said while a substantial minority interest will be held by the Pittsburgh aviation industries corporation.

It was pointed out that the program does not call for merger of such of their lines needed for a transcontinental service.

Different Ollie Plays New Role

HOUSTON, Oct. 2.—Ollie Debow, whose tapping heels and rollicking voice took him into the hearts of Texas theatergoers a few scant years ago, played a more sombre role here today.

But it wasn't the same Ollie. His big shoe slapstick and rapid fire monologue that always was a hit, had disappeared.

Yesterday he returned to the spotlight. It was in federal court. He was found guilty of the sale of narcotics.

His aching lips, knitted brow, nervous twitching bespoke use of drugs. There was no smile on his face, no laughter in the hearts of his strange audience as he shuffled out of the courtroom. A different Ollie and a different audience.

He will be sentenced, Saturday.

Federal Officer No-Billed in Dry Shooting Here

NO PUNITIVE ACTION IN DAY KILLING

Grand Jury Recesses After Returning 32 Felony Bills

Johnnie Hamilton, federal dry officer of Abilene, charged with murder by complaint in the fatal shooting of Virgil Day here during a series of dry raids on Wednesday, September 17, was not bailed by the 28th district grand jury at Eastland which recessed late Wednesday afternoon. Day was fatally shot when he got out of his car on the side opposite an officer when ordered to halt. The bullet entered his thigh and ranged upward to penetrate his abdomen. He died Friday afternoon, September 19 at 3:20.

Officer Hamilton and another dry agent from Abilene had been collaborating with county officers in making raids on saloons. During the day they had taken a large still and considerable whiskey-making equipment. No county officers were present when Day was stopped by Hamilton in the 100 block on Twenty-second street Wednesday night, it was said.

Day's statement made to Constable R. L. Wilson, who filed the charge in the justice court against Hamilton and Chief of Police W. M. Miller, said he saw no one but Hamilton. He admitted getting out of the wrong side of the car, the officers said.

W. L. Zent of Fort Worth, acting deputy administrator for the northern district of Texas, came here and investigated the case. Zent made no detailed statement of his investigation but said that such information as he could gather showed that the officer believed he was acting in self-defense.

Thirty-two felony indictments were returned by the grand jury at its session closing Wednesday afternoon. It had reconvened Monday and recessed subject to the call of the court.

CISCO BANKS IN EXCELLENT CONDITION

The excellent condition of Cisco banks, considering the depression complained of generally, was clearly reflected this week in statements published by the institutions following calls of national and state comptrollers as of September 24.

Total deposits in the two banks were in excess of $1,000,000. Loans and discounts outstanding totaled $822,000 approximately.

In the case of the First National bank the statement shows that the bank had a deposit of $602,039.33 against total loans and discounts of $365,435.21. The statement further showed that the bank has $294,216.96 in quick assets upon which it can in an emergency fall back upon.

The surplus of the bank equals its capital stock of $50,000 and the undivided profits are being gradually built up to the same figure as a third line of defense against liabilities to stockholders.

The statement of the Cisco Banking company shows a surplus of $25,000 over its capital stock of $109,000 and undivided profits of $12,175.

The excellent condition of its banks is a feature of which Cisco may well be proud under conditions which are declared to be unsatisfactory to the business and commercial world in general. It reveals that money conditions, while they are tight, are at least sound.

Darrow to Defend Poor Bank Clerk

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Clarence Darrow, noted attorney who engaged in the retirement to defend two gangsters from vagrancy charges, has undertaken the defense of another case—this time that of a poor man accused of robbing a bank clerk.

The man is bank clerk Nicholas Pace, 25, who admitted he took $1,024 from the bank but said he needed the money to support his wife and mother.

Darrow was drawn into the case by chance while in Judge John H. Lyle's court defending two notorious gangsters charged with being vagrants under a strict old law of 1874 which Lyle invoked in his drive to "rid Chicago of crime."

"Now, Mr. Darrow, what would you do in a case like this?" Judge Lyle asked of the attorney as Darrow sat in the rear of the courtroom waiting for the Pace case to be concluded and his own clients called to the stand.

"You know my tendency to leniency, but I don't believe Pace should go to jail," Darrow replied after considering the evidence. "Give me the case and little time and I think we can straighten this out."

The trial was continued until Oct. 8. Darrow's other clients were granted changes of venues.

Buck Forced Down by Motor Trouble

AMARILLO, Oct. 2.—Motor trouble forced Robert Buck, 16, aviator attempting to set a new junior transcontinental flight record, to descend near Glenrio, 70 miles west of here today.

He made a safe landing, and the plane was not damaged, he reported here. A plane left English field here to assist in repairing the motor.

Buck took off for Albuquerque, New Mexico, at 6:30 a. m. today.

The exact nature of his difficulty was not revealed in a long distance call.

He expected to resume his flight as soon as the motor was repaired.

Buck spent the night here after a hazardous flight from Wichita, Kansas, in a windstorm yesterday.

Half and Half Proposition

ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 2.—The Palace movie picture theatre, which stands on the dividing line between this town and east Orange, with half of its seats in one town and the other half in the other, will preserve the piety of East Orange on future Sundays with a length of rope.

Orange is legalizing Sunday movie pictures. But East Orange stands firmly against them, and Mayor Charles H. Martens of East Orange has announced he will rope off his half of the theatre to protect East Orange from the effects of Sunday movies in Orange.

INDEPENDENTS RENEW FIGHT ON PRORATION

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 2.—In face of victory for the conservation element in Oklahoma, independent oil companies started all over again today in their fight against state enforced oil curtailment.

Divergent interpretations were placed on the ultimate result of the action of three federal judges here in denying the Champlin Refining company's suit for injunction against operation of the state corporation commission's proration.

That the pining was a "sweeping victory" for the conservation element was claimed by proration proponents and admitted by opponents. The opinion, which in effect upheld the constitutionality of the proration order by recognizing police power vested in the commission over corporation, however, was considered by independents to leave an opening for two lines of attack.

Dismissal of the supreme court case against enforcement of proration by C. C. Julian, Oklahoma City oil operator, took cognizance of the suggestion of one of the judges in the Champlin case, that protestors should exhaust all legal means of obtaining relief from the curb by independent means before the corporation commission, then through the supreme court and then, if necessary to the federal courts in a new trial which probably will be set next month.

Rotarians Hear Game Over Radio

A radio report of the World Series game between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Philadelphia Athletics today made up the program of entertainment at the Cisco Rotary club. The program was made possible through the courtesy of Rotarian Henry Drumwright, of the John H. Garner's department store, who furnished an Atwater Kent radio to receive the broadcast.

Leon Maner was in charge of the program.

A number of visitors were present for the meeting. They were: Walter Murray; W. A. French, Abilene; E. C. Powers, Abilene; Joe Blankenship, Abilene; Mrs. Avery, Fort Worth; Wayne Jones, Eastland; and J. B. Johnson, Eastland.

Maples Listless as Jury Is Picked

HOUSTON, Oct. 2.—Jess D. Maple, world war veteran of the "Rattlesnake" division, listlessly watched the picking today of the jury to try him for the murder of Motorcycle Officer E. D. Fitzgerald.

Without once speaking to his attorney, F. O. Fuller, after he had refused to aid the lawyer in picking the jury, Maple saw eleven of the twelve jurors, whom he expected to send him to the electric chair, seated in the jury box.

He said that he expects "the cap" and wants it.

Fitzgerald and W. B. Phares, his fellow officer, were slain when they attempted to arrest Maple on a charge of holding up a furniture store.

4 STUDENTS NARROWLY ESCAPE FIRE

Leap Through Smoke and Flames at Gym

SAN MARCOS, Oct. 2.—Trapped on a second floor and forced to leap through smoke and flames, four students of the Southwest Texas State Teachers' college narrowly escaped death when fire destroyed two gymnasiums early today.

H. A. Nelson discovered the blaze and went to arouse three men he knew to be sleeping in the men's gymnasium. The four barely made their escape. The flames spread to the women's gymnasium nearby, and both large frame structures were razed.

Damage was estimated at $25,000 by college officials. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

No explanation of the origin of the fire was given as officials began an investigation this morning. The blaze was first sighted in the men's gymnasium.

The first morning flames marked the fire at the San Marcos college in 27 years.

McSwiggin Murder Case Is Revived

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—The famous McSwiggin murder case which revived in 1926 in the world learning for the first time the extent of gang power and gang activities in Chicago was revived today by a report from Des Moines that an informer there was ready to explain some mysteries which police here had despaired of ever solving.

The communication regarding the Des Moines man, was received by Chief of Detectives John Norton, who was told that he would be kept informed of developments and that the man could identify the slayer of McSwiggin.

William H. McSwiggin, assistant state's attorney, and two gangsters, Doherty and Duffy, were killed by machine gun fire in front of a Cicero saloon.

FORD PREDICTS UTOPIAN DAY FOR WORKERS

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Henry Ford, in a new book to be published tomorrow, predicts that in 1950 American workmen will receive a minimum wage of $27 a day, the 5-day week will be observed universally, and there will be no unemployment.

Ford foresees a new industrial revolution in the next 20 years out of which the worker will emerge a man of leisure, capable of balancing production and consumption and banishing unemployment. His views are set forth in a volume entitled "Moving Forward," written in collaboration with Samuel Crowther.

The wage prediction is based on the rise in hourly stipend since 1910. Twenty years ago Ford was paying an average of 25 cents hourly and now he is paying $1.

"If wages have been multiplied by four in 20 years they can be multiplied by more than that during the next 20 years," Ford says.

Ford lays down four principles for American industry to follow:

- 1.—To make an ever-increasing large quantity of goods of the best possible quality, to make them in the best and most economical fashion, and to force them out on the market.
- 2.—To strive always for higher quality and lower prices as well as lower costs.
- 3.—To raise wages gradually but continuously, and never to cut them.
- 4.—To get the goods to the consumer in the most economical manner so that the benefits of low-cost production may reach him.

Detroit Seeks Jobs for Unemployed

Mayor Frank Murphy, who promised to try to find jobs for everybody when he was elected in Detroit recently, has started his effort by taking a census of the city's unemployed. Here are job seekers being registered at one of the 26 employment bureaus opened in police stations and schools at his direction.

TWO GANGSTERS SHOT DEAD IN RIVAL BOOTLEG BATTLE

WATERLOO, Ill., Oct. 2.—Two gangsters were shot to death and at least two others wounded in a gun battle between rival bootlegging gangs near here today.

Pete McTigue and William Boddy, members of the notorious Cuckoo gang of St. Louis, were reported by the sheriff's office to have been killed.

Joe Mocer and Sam Therna were wounded seriously. Officers believed others may have been less seriously wounded. Therna revealed the fight when he staggered into a St. Louis Hospital with machine gun bullets in both hips.

Officers said the men involved in the fight at Valmeyer were rivals seeking to dominate bootlegging in southwestern Illinois. Valmeyer is about 30 miles south of East St. Louis.

Therna told police that several men attacked a still he and several other moonshiners were operating. The attackers used machine guns but were driven off, Therna said, after several minutes fighting.

GUARDS SEEKING INSANE CONVICT

LANSING, Kan., Oct. 2.—Guards from Kansas state prison searched surrounding country today for Gerald Dykes, insane convict who escaped after a companion was wounded and captured.

Dykes and Kenneth Thomas, his cellmate in the ward for insane criminals, used an improvised key to escape from their cell block last night. A ladder fashioned from his bed slats helped them to scale the 16 foot walls.

Thomas was wounded by the wall guards and was captured. Dykes escaped, and was believed hiding on the banks of the Missouri river near here.

APPEAL FILED
AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—An appeal was filed in the court of criminal appeals here today from the 99 year sentence given Henry Johnson in Angelina county for killing L. D. Etheridge, manager of a Lufkin Finance concern, who was trying to collect a $680 debt. Johnson claimed he acted in self defense.

RHEM SENT TO SHOWERS IN FOURTH

Cardinals Collect Lone Homer

SHIBE PAIK, Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 2.—George Earnshaw kept the unhappy St. Louis Cardinals popping easy flies this afternoon and the Philadelphia Athletics won the second game of the World Series 6 to 1.

The Athletics opened up early against Flint Rhem, driving him to the showers in the fourth after scoring all their runs. Jim Lindsey and Sylvester Johnson finished for the Cardinals and were effective but too late.

The lone St. Louis run came on a homer by George Watkins in the second inning. Mickey Cochrane led the Athletics' attack with a homer in the first followed by solid hits by Simmons and Fox which added another run and put the game on ice. Simmons scored on Fox's double after he had singled.

In the second inning the Athletics did not score, Watkins slapping the ball over the fence for the Cardinals' lone tally. In the third, however, Cochrane was safe on Frisch's error. Simmons, next up, slugged out a two-bagger scoring Cochrane. Fox walked and Miller singled. Frisch's Sumner Fox took third and Miller second when Rhem missed Hafey's throw from center field after Miller's single.

Boley singled in the fourth. Earnshaw, fanned. Bishop walked and Dykes drove a terrific liner to left field to drive in the two scores ahead of him. This completed the scoring.

BOARD TO HEAR COMPLAINTS ON SCHOOL BOOKS

ABILENE, Oct. 2.—The state board of education on October 13 will hear formal complaints of West Texas textbook publishers in connection with charges that have led to recommendations to the west Texas chamber of commerce for filing a million dollar damage suit, claiming that statements contained in geographies being studied by public school students are "scandalous" and damagingly untrue in describing this part of the state.

A committee headed by Chas. E. Coombes, president of the regional chamber organization, and including D. A. Bandeen, president of the chamber and Max Bentley of Abilene, chairman of publicity, will air the question before the board.

On the same day, Coombes and Bandeen will confer with the all-state regional council, composed of presidents and managers of the Texas chambers of commerce, of which Coombes is chairman and Bandeen secretary.

Directors of the west Texas chamber still have before them recommendations from its publicity committee asking for damage suits totaling a million dollars against publishing houses whose books picture west Texas as semi-arid land generally unsuited to agriculture.

TIMES NOT SO BAD SAY WTU SALES FORCE

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 2.—The will of Dr. John Thompson, Dorchester, S. C., who owned the Campbell Soup company, chided Sept. 21, disposes of an estate estimated at $100,000,000 or more.

It was intimated that Mrs. Dorrance, the widow, will retain control of the soup firm.

WEATHER

DAILY BIBLE READING

Timothy 1:3-6

- I thank God, when I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day.
- Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy.
- When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother, Lois, and thy mother, Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also.
- Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.

SPARKS FROM THE TEXAS INDUSTRIAL ANVIL.

William C. Edwards of Dallas continues to furnish the people with his weekly bulletin of building activities. There is plenty doing in the field of development in Texas. Now Texans are told:

That not in many years has there been so much activity among Texas railroads in extensions as now. With the Texas and Pacific seeking permit for a 333 mile extension into the Panhandle, with the Santa Fe's extension to Del Rio soon completed to furnish Texas with direct communication as far into Mexico as Chihuahua now and with Topobolampo on the west coast by the first of the year, the Rock Island is ready to award contract for its Vega-Forest, New Mexico line, has about completed its line from Dalhart to Morse and the Frisco is expected soon to begin work on its line from Vernon to Seymour.

That if the Texas and Pacific gets its permit it will bring the total of new lines authorized in the Panhandle and South Plains area to about 1000 miles, including the 120 mile Denver-Burlington extension from Childress to Pampa.

That the 1000 mile 21 inch natural gas pipe line that will extend from the Texas Panhandle to Northern Illinois and will serve 50 cities will be buried below the cultivation line so that farm work will not be interfered with and the companies interested have seven trillion feet of gas available in Texas and Oklahoma and Kansas.

That development of a new deep-water port at Port Aransas, together with the creation of an industrial center, is the ultimate $10,000,000 objective of a group of Connecticut men who have purchased the $2,000,000 properties of the Aransas Harbor Terminal railway and Aransas Dock and Channel company.

That bids on the 450-acre $1,500,000 lake which Dallas Power & Light company will build in Mountain Creek Valley, west of Dallas, were received in September and construction will start early in the fall; that a portion of the short line will be used by the city for a park; that the first unit of the power plant on the lake will be built as soon as the demand approaches the capacity of the present 82,500 kw. station in Dallas.

That endowment of $200,000,000 for the University of Texas from its oil royalties and bonuses alone is predicted within 40 years by the land commissioner of Texas and in little more than seven years it has received over $13,000,000 from this source.

That Texas has one and a half times as many farms as any two other states in the union, or 465,646, and, furthermore, Texas has about 14 per cent of the farms in the United States.

That the 6,001,101 citrus trees in the Lower Rio Grande Valley represent with the land they occupy a value of $143,000,000 an increase of $80,000 over that of a year ago and that last year 908,853 new trees were put out in that area.

Are the builders and the developers active in Texas? Why ask? Read the daily newspapers and trade journals and then face about and march with the procession of wealth creators and wealth makers under Texas skies.

CAUGHT, BUT NOT PUNISHED.

The Chicago and Cook County Bankers' association has issued a protest—not, evidently, without some justification—against the unusual delay that has marked the disposal of the cases of three convicted bandits.

In January of 1929 six men invaded a Chicago bank, killed a watchman and got away with $800. Two days later they were captured and they confessed, also implicating themselves in 60 other robberies. In April they were tried and convicted; three were sentenced to life imprisonment and three were sentenced to death.

Then the law's delays began to operate for the condemned men. A score of stays of execution were issued. The supreme court heard the case two times. Intercessions were made to the governor. And now, 17 months after their conviction, the three condemned men have been granted a second hearing by the board of pardons and paroles on their plea of clemency.

This chain of events speaks for itself. Hard as it is to catch a hoodlum in Chicago, it seems to be even harder to do anything effective to him after you have caught him.

MARRIAGE TO A GENIUS.

A pen and ink sketch of Virginia Clemm, the girl who became the wife of Edgar Allen Poe, shared misery and hardship with him and finally died of cold, hunger and general impoverishment, has been discovered in the east; and it is given a strange romantic interest by the belief that it was drawn by Poe himself.

There are other sketches with it, all supposedly drawn by Poe; but it is this one that draws people's attention. It shows a face that is calm, peaceful and happy; if Poe himself actually drew it he must have done it before privation came to wreck Virginia Clemm's life—or perhaps, like the genius he was, he looked beyond those things and sketched, not the girl that really existed, but the girl that might have existed if the fates had been a bit kinder.

If this portrait was really the work of Poe, it is an extremely valuable discovery; and this is true, not merely because Poe was a great poet, but also because Virginia Clemm is such a pathetic and appealing figure. How we would like to know more about her! How, indeed, we would like to see, not a portrait of her by Poe, but a portrait of Poe drawn by her!

For Virginia Clemm suffered that strangest of fates that can befall a woman; she married an authentic genius. Such marriages—genius being extremely rare—are not common; and the girl who gets into one of them is apt to find that the world is a place filled with wonder and terror, unpredictable and uncontrollable. But it may be, after all our pity for Virginia Clemm's hard life has been expended, that she did not quite die as much sympathy as the world has given her.

To be sure, she suffered the physical torments of cold and hunger. She was oppressed by poverty throughout her short married life. She died very young. But it may be that it was worth it.

For, after all, she lived with a man who had eyes that could see and a voice that could sing. Gazing into the circumscribed world that was America a century ago, he was able to find beauty and mystery and passion so freely that his songs and his stories are still alive today, and will live for many more generations. What girl would not be willing to go hungry now and then if the man of her heart could create, from the light in her own eyes, a thing like "Annabel Lee"? Marrying a poet, even a poor one, even a poet who does not know that he is a poet, is risky business. Marrying a genuinely great poet is a sure road to disaster. But it is not the worst fate conceivable. It may mean sorrow and misery and heartbreak—but it will also, now and then, mean ecstasy.

achievements of his administration. That has been recorded at length in the democratic party platform. But some of the things that have not been done, including particularly the regulation of public utilities through consideration of an income tax, the increase of production taxes and reduction of property taxes, are going to be laid before the incoming legislature. Regardless of the wording or of the number and nature of recommendations, the message in effect will say, "The responsibility is yours; here is the situation as I see it and the solution is a matter for you and the people who elected you."

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By EDSON R. WAITE
Shawnee, Oklahoma.

Charles A. Guy, editor of the Lubbock (Texas) Avalanche and Journal, says: "It has often occurred to me that the practice of community building—or rather the practice of engaging in it—has never struck close enough home to that great group of our citizens covered in the blanket characterization of the man in the street."

"That occurrence has led me further; has caused me to ponder over the condition in order to reach some direct reason for its existence. In every city, village and hamlet in our country we find as bulwarks of the chamber of commerce, commercial club or whatever the civic vehicle happens to be called, the same little group of business men. This same little group bears the burden for the whole of the community in the expenditure of effort, times and finances. The average citizen, who profits and whose family profits indirectly from the varied labors of the few, doesn't seem to feel that he, too, is responsible for helping make his town just a little better than it is."

"The cause of the trouble, as I see it, is that the average commercial organization does not realize that, beyond the few merchants who are vitally interested in civic development, there are scores of other men who could and would help—if properly approached and cultivated. Generally speaking, the chambers make little effort to interest in actual co-operation, anyone outside the 'faithful few' and as a result the term, 'chamber of commerce' is foreign to many who reap great gain from its activities."

"Man-power is as valuable in civic endeavor as it is anywhere else. From the psychological point alone, it is priceless in welding community thought—in the making of that intangible treasure, 'public opinion.' If our chambers of commerce will see the light, make a little room for the 'average citizen' and give him an occasional opportunity to be heard, the individual, the city and the chamber itself will be broadened until all are vital parts of the community in which they flourish."

HONEST, WILLING, AMBITIOUS BOY WANTED

WANTED—An honest young man who isn't afraid to work, even if it be washing windows, polishing brass, or scrubbing a floor. Small wages to start, but a big opportunity for the hustler.

"The trouble with these young fellows who hang around the drug stores is they don't want to work; they want to be paid. And then you are going to know they are honest?"

"If I could find a lad with a high school education, or better still with a college or business course, who wasn't afraid to work"

CRACKS IN THE DOME

By POLITICAL ANALYST

AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—Texas democrats were quick to see the significance of U. S. Sen. Thomas J. Walsh's definite return to the political spotlight this week. They saw in the long-grade jockeying on the national stage for position in the 1932 presidential race.

Walsh, as a cry democrat from Montana, was in strategic position in 1928, only that the party had decided to nominate Alfred E. Smith and there was no slip-up. In case of a deadlock on Smith, many in Texas regarded Walsh as the inevitable choice.

His personal part in the scorching exposure of republican oil scandals his militant leadership in the drive against corruption in the government, and in his consistent and aggressive democracy, hold Walsh in an impressive position of party prestige.

Not merely one Texas inheritance tax settlement, but half a dozen or more are under scrutiny. "Comp." George H. Sheppard, Mr. Sheppard is trying to find out how, after valuations were made and the state tax paid, the administrators of estates should have been willing to accept a higher valuation imposed by the federal government. He has not tackled the cases as a fire-eater. Rather, he points that in some cases the administrators probably elected simply to pay the higher amounts to the federal government than to go through litigation over the assessments.

MOTHER LEAVES CHILDREN AND FACES DEATH

Says Farewell Hard, But Recovery Easy Due to Crazy Water

In May, 1929, I was critically ill with Rheumatism; in fact, I was an invalid and had to be helped around. My husband decided to bring me to Mineral Wells, as it looked as if there was no hope for me if I remained at home. But I had no confidence in Mineral Wells; in fact, I did not believe that anything or any place would relieve my suffering. You can imagine how I felt when I told my children "Good-Bye" when I did not expect to see them again.

I arrived in Mineral Wells on May 10th, last year, and in one week of the Crazy Water Treatment, I was able to walk and thirty days from the time I arrived I was well again, only a little weak.

I heartily recommend to everyone suffering from diseases caused by faulty elimination that they spend a few days rest at the Crazy Water Hotel in Mineral Wells, Texas, the home of Crazy water.

Mrs. F. M. Hilliard, Tulsa, Texas.

Accused Maintains Identity Wrong
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2.—A man who claims he is not Robert Atchison will be taken to Stafford, Okla., to face punishment for a murder which Atchison was convicted of 22 years ago.
The man, identified as Atchison by Mrs. Leonette Dowden, widow of the man Atchison was convicted of killing, claims he is Joseph R. Adkins, has lived in California years and known nothing of the crime.
"I am positive he is the man," said Mrs. Dowden, who came here from Springfield, Mo., to testify at Adkins' hearing in federal court. "During his trial in 1897 I studied his face closely and never could forget it."
Atchison was convicted of killing John Counts, Mrs. Dowden's first husband. He escaped from jail after the conviction.

URBAN GOVT ACTS TO QUIET HAVANA ROW

HAVANA, Oct. 2.—Suspension of constitutional rights in Havana is asked by President Gerardo Machado in a message to congress.

The decision to make the request came at a meeting of the cabinet after midnight. The senate in the house will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon and suspension of constitutional rights will become effective when a decree is published in the official journal, expected at 6 p. m.

The suspension of constitutional rights is aimed to restore peace to the capital, where student demonstrations, political unrest and financial uncertainty have combined to create a troublesome situation. The government did not indicate how long the suspension would continue.

In addition to President Machado, those present at the meeting last night included: Dr. Vasquez Bello, speaker of the senate; Dr. Guas Inclan, speaker of the house of representatives; Attorney Viriato Gutierrez; Attorney General Vivanco; Secretary of War, Gen. Rojas; Secretary of the Interior, Gen. Delgado; Chief of Staff, Gen. Herrera; Chief of Police, Commander Carrera.

Censorship
The government established censorship over the Spanish language newspapers El Pais, the newspaper announced. There was no censorship on out-going press dispatches, the companies said.

President Machado issued a statement vigorously condemning the agitators of the student disorders yesterday, in which several students and one policeman were injured. He stated that when students protested against the government's decision to close the university of Havana closed until after the elections.

The president attributed the disturbances directly to the agitation of communists and nationalists. He censured the opposition press of distorting the events and picturing innocent victims of the police, while in reality they were communists and nationalists seeking perturbation of the peace and disruption of the country's economic life.

Kidnaped Banker Returns Unharmed

CONWAY, Kas., Oct. 2.—After being held as a hostage by two bandits who wounded his wife and robbed his bank of $1,000 here last night, R. C. Webb, president of the Conway State bank, came home today unharmed by his captors who escaped.

Webb walked into McPherson, Kas., near here, at 2:30 a. m. today and revealed his escape while the police were patrolling the county. Webb captured the bandits who used him as a shield to cover up their retreat from gunfire from soldiers.

The two robbers first intimidated Webb and his wife at their home, near the bank, by firing a shot at Mrs. Webb as she stepped to the door. She stepped back, suffering a flesh wound below the elbow of her arm. She was not wounded seriously.

Webb quoted one of the bandits as apologizing for wounding Mrs. Webb. "My God, I'd rather shoot myself than shoot a woman," the robber avowed. The pair released Webb when they had fled about a safe distance.

T. P. Rate Hearing In Austin Soon

DALLAS, Oct. 2.—Hearing of the application of the Texas & Pacific railway to lower the passenger rate to 2c a mile between Fort Worth and Big Spring will be held in Austin within two weeks.

A ruling that motor bus representatives had not been given proper notice caused postponement of the case, scheduled for hearing before the Railroad commission here yesterday.

A charge that the T. & P. is seeking to lower the passenger rate in an attempt to destroy motor transportation in Texas was lodged by J. C. Duval of Fort Worth, bus company attorney.

What They Do at Brown's Sanatorium

September 12, 1930.

On July the first my four-year-old daughter was stricken with Infantile Paralysis. After two weeks of illness she was unable to use her self. Her legs were useless and her tongue was partially paralyzed.

Then I carried her to Dr. Brown's Drugless Sanatorium. On the ninth day that I was there she was able to walk around the bed. In four weeks I brought her home walking and talking even plain than she did before she was stricken with infantile paralysis.

I feel as if I could never show my appreciation to Dr. Brown for his work in curing my daughter.

"THE SERIOUSNESS

OF GUARDING THE DELICATE NOSE AND THROAT MEMBRANES"

Says
BRIG. GENERAL WALTER C. MONTGOMERY

Graduate of Columbia University, College of Physicians and Surgeons, Instructor and Assistant Professor Department of Nose and Throat, Cornell Medical School, Cornell University, for 28 years. Sanitary Inspector, with rank of Colonel, and later Divisional Surgeon in the 27th Division in the World War in France. Awarded Distinguished Service Medal (U.S.) and Croix de Guerre with Palms (Belgium) and other medals for war service in France.

"The greatest triumphs of medicine will be in the direction of public education on the importance of preventive measures. And in this connection I cannot lay enough emphasis on the seriousness of guarding the delicate nose and throat membranes and accessory sinuses. Your use of the Ultra Violet Ray in the 'Toasting' of the LUCKY STRIKE tobaccos, I regard as a laudable effort on your part to give the great army of American smokers the benefit of recent scientific conclusions."

Walter C. Montgomery

LUCKY STRIKE—the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED."

Everyone knows that heat purifies and so TOASTING removes harmful irritants that cause throat irritation and coughing. No wonder 20,679 physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating! Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why TOASTING includes the use of the Ultra Violet Ray.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough

Consistent with its policy of laying the facts before the public, The American Tobacco Company has invited Brig. Gen. Walter C. Montgomery to review the reports of the distinguished men who have witnessed LUCKY STRIKE'S famous Toasting Process. The statement of Brig. Gen. Montgomery appears on this page.

Fat Girls! Here's A Tip For You

All over the world Kruschen Salts is appealing to girls and women who strive for an attractive, free from fat figure that cannot fail to win admiration.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat" — Don't miss a morning.

The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gasses are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts are carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

Get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts at any drug store (lasts 4 weeks) with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.

Brand New Thrills in Gibson Picture

Hoot Gibson cuts loose with a new set of thrills in "Roaring Ranch" sizzling Universal all-talking western drama which opens at the Ideal theatre today.

It's old Hoot in a bigger and better picture than ever. "Roaring Ranch" is sure fire entertainment. It has never-failing speed and excitement. It is rich in action, comedy and romance. And it has a plot that never allows interest to flag.

"Roaring Ranch" deals with the efforts of two young men, a rancher and a geologist to win the hand of a beautiful school teacher. The conflict in love is intensified by a secret oil discovery. With love and wealth both at stake, black villainy enters. With the result that the suspense is terrific up to and through the smashing conclusion.

Hoot again demonstrates his versatility in "Roaring Ranch". Aside from his straight acting, he goes in for some terrific fistic combat and exhibits his marvelous riding ability. And he is better than ever in putting over the famous Gibson brand of western comedy.

SOX DEFEAT CUBS

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Fred (Sherry) Blake was nominated by Manager Rogers Hornsby of the Chicago Cubs today for the attempt to even the city series competition between the national league runners-up and the Chicago White Sox.

The Sox, who were able to finish 7 better than seventh in their own league, were jubilant over their 5 to 1 victory over the Cubs in the series.

PAYROLL BUILDERS of CISCO INTIMATE GLIMPSES OF THE CITY'S LEADING INDUSTRIES PEOPLE'S ICE CO. G. H. Coyle --- H. H. Bettis The People's Ice Co. opened for business May 25, 1929. Their modern ice plant of 25-ton capacity is one of the most complete in every detail of any plant in Texas. "Refrigeration" a magazine published in Atlanta, Ga., in the interest of refrigeration and cold storage, says that it is one of three thoroughly modern plants established recently in Texas. This magazine devotes two and one-half pages to a description of this particular plant, and goes into the technical construction of every modern detail. On the opening day, this magazine goes on to say, the People's Ice Co., gave away 50-tons of ice to its guests and sold 500 ice books. Mr. Bettis says that the plant has been running full capacity since March of this year and they have been unable to keep up with the demand with their present capacity of 25-tons per day. Besides their platform sales which keep from one to two men busy all day, trucks run regularly over the city routes, bringing their service to the resident homes. As another mark of their desire to serve the community, they have recently arranged with the doctors of the city to supply free ice to sick patients who are not financially able to buy it. Loboes Play Last "A" Game at Home in Weeks Friday

BIG DAM CHATTER

Satisfactory arrangements have at last been made whereby the Loboes will meet the Brownwood Lions at night. Until yesterday afternoon it was certain that the game would not take place under the floodlights, the two schools not being able to agree upon terms. Brownwood wanted a 50-50 split of the receipts under any circumstance but Cisco felt that the local school was entitled to consideration because of the heavy expense incurred in installing the lighting equipment, and because the game at Brownwood next year will not return a commensurate sum. Eastland made an agreement with the Cisco association for their game with the Loboes here at night which returned them a much more satisfactory settlement than a 50-50 division of the receipts from an afternoon game would have done. The Mavericks' treasury was enriched by about $300. Had the game taken place in the afternoon $500 would probably have covered the entire receipts.

Big Spring and Breckenridge to Be Met on Foreign Soil

The Cisco Loboes play their last class A game at home before meeting the Ranger Bulldogs here November 11, when they engage the Brownwood high school Lions under the floodlights at Chesley field Friday evening. The game will begin at 8 o'clock.

Predicting the outcome of a football game is like predicting rain in Texas. One never knows just what is going to happen. On the basis of the Loboes should slaughter the Lions here Friday but looking back over the records of last season we are admonished once more that Old Man Depe is a fickle authority.

For instance: It will be remembered that Brownwood walked the Ranger Bulldogs right smartly at the outset of the season. The Loboes then kicked the lights out of Brownwood. The local boys were on the long end of the score by several touchdowns. But then, as irony would have it, the Loboes turned right around and let to the Ranger Bulldogs. What is to be said about the game with the Lions Friday evening upon such records as these?

Nevertheless, not to disappoint the Lobo supporters, we freely predict a Cisco victory Friday night and invite you to be present and see our prediction come true. The score? It will be posted on the bulletin board at the field progressively.

BLANTON IS TEXAS' GOAL KICKING ACE

AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—The best art of field goal kicking, noticeable for its long absence in the Southwest conference, seems due for a revival this year, as far as the Texas Longhorns are concerned, if practice kicking by "Ox" Blanton, 229 pound tackle of Cisco, is a true indication.

Blanton has tried for extra points after touchdowns five times in the first two encounters of the Longhorns, and each time has sent perfect tries through the goal posts. In practice, he has been making tries good from the 20 and 25-yard lines.

Last Saturday, against the School of Mines team, Blanton missed his first attempt for a field goal when he barely sent a poor kick over the goal line from the 2-yard line, but a few moments later he came back and made good two extra-point kicks. At another time in the game the Longhorns backed the Mines against their own goal line, and when the Miner punter kicked out, the kick was short. Elkins, Steer safety man, signaled for a fair catch, so that Blanton might have opportunity for a free kick, but the ball came to the 2-yard line and the attempt was not made.

Blanton does all of the kicking-off in the Steer's start of games, and after touchdowns, as long as he is in the lineup. With one exception he has sent high, slow kicks to between the 10-yard line and the goal line.

Unless October 10, an open date on the Loboes schedule is filled with a game here, Friday night will be the last chance for Ciscons to see their team in action on domestic soil until November 11, when Ranger comes here. At any rate it will be the last class A game at Cisco until November 11.

The Loboes go to Big Spring October 17 for their next class A game following the tilt with Brownwood here and the following Friday they will be entertained by the Breckenridge Buckaroos at Breckenridge.

There are no games of outstanding interest in the oil belt this week and the interest of grid fans will center upon collegiate gridirons, following the three representatives of the Southwestern conference as they carry the gladiators of Texas football into the realms of the high and mighty.

The outstanding contest on this week's bill is the S. M. U. Mustangs' game with the Notre Dame Ramblers at South Bend, Indiana, Saturday. This contest will formally open the Irish's big stadium.

A deep sigh of relief swept over the Ponies' camp today as Weldon Mason, star offensive cog of the Mustang machine, was declared eligible after his right to play this season was questioned.

On the same train with the S. M. U. team are the Baylor Bears, who will meet the Purdue Boilermakers, last year Big Ten champions, at Lafayette, Indiana, Saturday also.

The third Southwestern conference eleven to go abroad for hostilities Saturday is the Texas Aggies. The Farmers will meet the Nebraska Cornhuskers on the Nebraska gridiron Saturday afternoon. The meeting will bring together once more two coaches who waged a bitter rivalry as mentors of Southwestern conference elevens. Dana Bible, coach of the Nebraska team, was formerly the Texas Aggie coach while Matty Bell, the present Aggie instructor, was the T. C. U. mentor.

Less we forget, the oil belt will be offered a spicy collegiate gridiron dish of its own Saturday also. The T. C. U. Horned Frogs, 1929 Southwestern conference champions, will meet the Simms University Cowboys at Breckenridge Saturday afternoon. This will be the third meeting of the

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—The old question of the American league's superiority over the National league was raised again today as the two world series contenders prepared for their second engagement.

When the Philadelphia Athletics won the opening game yesterday from the St. Louis Cardinals, five to two, it was the 13th victory for the American league champions in their last 14 games played against the National league's pennant winners.

Comparison of the standing of the two league champions in world series competition since 1927

	W.	L.	Pct.
American league	13	1	.929
National league	1	13	.071

The only game won by the National league since the Cardinals, under Rogers Hornsby, beat the Yankees in the final game of the 1926 series was won by the Chicago Cubs over the Athletics in the third game last year.

The Cardinals were not badly outclassed yesterday. They scarcely were outplayed, but they were outsmarted.

two teams at Breckenridge. There is not the slightest necessity to recommend this engagement. Jake Sandefer Jr., ardent Simmons fan, and Milton Daniels, equally ardent T. C. U. supporter, both of Breckenridge, are the promoters of these engagements. They get quite a kick out of it.

Don't forget that the Loboes need support if they are to get anywhere this fall. The game Friday evening with Brownwood here may be the last chance you will have of seeing the boys play again until November 11. If you want the boys to win give them your support.

BLANTON, 229 pound tackle on the Texas Longhorn squad. In the last two games the herd has played. Blanton has tried for extra points after touchdowns five times, and each time the oval sailed a true course between the goal posts. In practice sessions, he repeats his performance from the 20 and 25 yard lines.

SCUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 2.—Mette Dame's football squad will take its final stiff workout today in preparation for Saturday's opening game against Southern Methodist university. Coach Rockne was dissatisfied with the varsity's showing in yesterday's scrimmage.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 2.—Minor injuries among the Nebraska Cornhusker squad were not considered serious today and the team will enter the game with the Texas Aggies Saturday in excellent physical condition.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 2.—With Paul Calvert, veteran end, on the sidelines with an injured shoulder, Coach Noble Klizer was faced with the necessity of developing the Spohners Moss and Bateman to fill the vacancy in Purdue's game with Baylor Saturday.

SPORT SHOTS

FOOT WORTH, Oct. 2.—The football barometer today showed a high pressure area out around Coach Francis Schmidt's headquarters at Texas Christian university. The same jinx that has stirred up trouble at the Baylor Bruin camp seems to have invaded the Horned Frog rendezvous. Coach Schmidt is having trouble with his lineup.

The Frog mentor has decreed that things are going to have to be different from the style employed against the Austin Kangaroos last Saturday if his charges are to make any headway in the conference race. Every conceivable combination from four quarterbacks, nine halfbacks, and four fullbacks is being tried out, with no possible prediction as to the starting line-up Saturday against Simmons.

BROWNWOOD, Oct. 2.—With a crippled Yellow Jacket lineup worked over, Howard Payne today was ready for their annual clash with the Teachers of San Marcos. Nig McCarver is not expected to be in Saturday's starting lineup. Hoot Masur, fullback, is also expected to take a rest during the Bobcat game.

PAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 2.—The Razorbacks' hope for a victory over the Tulians took a sudden drop today with the announcement that three of Arkansas' best men would be kept from the line-up. Holes is scheduled to sit on a sideline because of injuries to his shoulder in the college of Ozarks game. Uptmoor, counted on to bark signals, is down with the fever, while illness has likewise claimed Dale. Thus only Kyle and Leebetter will be left of what was to have been a veteran backfield to face the Tulians.

AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—Field goal kicking, almost a lost art in the southwest conference, is due for a revival this year on the toe of "Ox"

GLAMOR AND FIRE LACKING IN BIG GAME

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 2.—Unless St. Louis can stir up something, it will have to be recorded that a lot of the color and glamor has departed from that typical American institution known as the world's series.

More than 32,000 fans sat through nine innings of the first game of the series here yesterday, saw Philadelphia, the home team, win 5 to 2; witnessed the flight of two home runs over the right field fence gazed upon the president of the United States who was there with cabinet officers and others of high placed; and they didn't utter a full-throated roar the entire afternoon.

There was no rooting section. A few people did break down now and then and clap their hands delicately. There was no brass band, instead music came from phonograph records played over an amplifier. Even "Hail to the Chief," played when Mr. Hoover entered, and the "Star Spangled Banner" which brought all those thousands of people to their feet, heads bare, were ground out by a talking machine.

The pop boys didn't shout their wares, but talked in low tones as if they were intruding on some one's quiet. There wasn't a fist fight anywhere; not even when a foul ball went into the stands and a dozen fans scrambled for it. Some of the fouls even failed to inspire a scramble.

The old pennant raising ceremony was missing. When it came time to raise the pennant some ground keeper just went out and ran it up the flag-pole. No one cheered.

Not half the people in the park knew anything was happening when President Hoover tossed out the first ball. Most of them saw it bounding across the field and thought it just another ball rolling around. Mr. Hoover smiled and seemed to do his best to liven things up but not even the president could do it.

Cotton Acreage Reduction Defended as Constitutional

ATTENTION TO BE HEARD BY GOVERNOR

Attention Involves the Right to Employ One's Property

GORDON K. SHEARER, Staff Correspondent

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—Proposed reduction of cotton acreage as a logical result of the reduction of cotton acreage is unconstitutional, it is contended by a committee headed by Governor Dan Moody by a committee which has been set up today or tomorrow.

"leading case" on the question of Spanna vs. City of St. Louis, in which the state supreme court held that a man has the right to use his property as he wishes provided such use does not become a nuisance. The proposition of the Texas cotton commission so far has been based on the declaration that the orders are constitutional and issued to prevent actual waste as distinguished from economic waste.

The distinction between the two exists between the amount of land that another farmer can use in the close proximity of wells makes it necessary to operate at the same time to prevent a well on one land draining out the oil under the land of another.

E. McDonald of Waxahachie, a state nominee for state agricultural commissioner and author of the cotton acreage reduction bill that failed to pass the legislature, recognizes the need of something more than a bare limitation on the amount of cotton that may be planted.

Other difficulties with the demand for oil production and for cotton acreage reduction are alike in having become combined when economic conditions made reductions desirable.

The legal difficulties are met, McDonald contends, by the proposition that cotton acreage reduction is a post defense measure, the next practical difficulty is to all cotton states to reduce.

Difficulty to get all farmers in the state to reduce has been explained. Selfish ones sought to be reduced by the reduction of others, the same danger is feared as in the states. If Texas should reduce and not others, Texas farmers would be sacrificing for others.

Probable to See Drake-Oregon Game

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Many football fans will be present tonight for the intercollegiate game between Drake university of Moines, Iowa, and the University of Oregon at Soldiers field, attracted by the opportunity to see an important game under circumstances four times stronger than used on any other football field.

Reservations have been made for Rockne, Notre Dame; Tugson, Northwestern; Coach A. A. Z. Chicago; Bennie Bierman, and Maj. John L. Griffith, commissioner of the Big Ten conference.

Needs Another Hit to Establish Record

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 2.—Frank Frisch's next hit will establish a new world series record for hits by one player.

Frisch had 42 hits today as a result of making two off Lefty Grove yesterday, and needed only one more to surpass Eddie Collins' record of the same number made in six world series in 1910, 1911, 1913, 1914, 1917, and 1919.

Frisch is now playing in his sixth world series. He played with the Cards in 1928 and Giants in 1921, 1922, 1923 and 1924.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—The official attendance and receipts for the first game of the world series follow:

Attendance: 32,295; total receipts $152,735; players' share $77,894.63; each club's share $12,482.48; each league's share $12,482.48; commissioner's share $22,910.25.

Redwings Need One More Game

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 2.—Victory snatched their grasp in the final inning yesterday, the Rochester Redwings, International league champions met today the Louisville Colonels, American association flag-winners, in the 8th game of the "Little World Series."

With five victories needed to capture the series, the count now stands four games for Rochester and three for Louisville.

Louisville won 6 to 5 yesterday by scoring two runs in the ninth inning.

DALLAS, Oct. 2.—Application of the Southern Pacific to acquire the Gulf & West Texas railroad, projected from Fredericksburg to San Angelo, was considered at a hearing before Examiner J. P. Sullivan of the Interstate Commerce commission here Wednesday.

The line would give north Texas line-line rates since the area is served by the Southern Pacific.

SOUTHWESTERN TEAMS SPEED NORTH TODAY

DALLAS, Oct. 2.—The Mustangs of S. M. U. and the Bears of Baylor university, envoys of the southwest conference, were somewhere in the middle west today, speeding on to inter-sectional games with undefeated champions of 1929. Only a pause in St. Louis where light workouts were given the gridmen, marked the trip to foreign awards.

The Mustangs were poised to make a good start in the first important grid battle of the season, for a few hours after their special train pulled out, the southwest conference appeals board, meeting here in a long night session, gave Weldon Mascu a clean bill of health. The pony ace is the sparkplug in the Mustang machine, and his loss would have seriously handicapped the Texans in their scrap with the Irish Saturday.

As the Bruins went north Baylor had one cause for regret. Pat Parker sophomore sensation in the backfield, was not traveling with the Bears. Severe injuries suffered during a practice session will prevent Pat from leading the speedy little Jake Wilson on running plays in Saturday's game with Purdue at Lafayette.

This afternoon Aggie land was to send forth its ambassadors into the football world of the north. A special Aggie train will carry the maroon and white warriors to Lincoln Nebraska for a Saturday clash with the Bible-coached Cornhuskers of Nebraska, 1929 champions.

Hillsboro Man Is Killed in Crash

WACO, Oct. 2.—R. C. Blount, 27, of Hillsboro, was killed and his body burned to a crisp when the car in which he was riding sideswiped another machine and upset on the highway seven miles north of here last night.

The gasoline tank exploded and set fire to the wreckage before Blount's body could be extracted.

COTTON BURRS DECLARED TO BE FINE FEED

The following bit of information supplied by the Daily News' Putnam correspondent is pertinent: The News has taken the liberty of lifting it from the Putnam weekly letter and giving it the prominence of a separate heading:

In every bale of bolls that is hauled to the cotton gin there are 500 or 600 pounds of burrs that are wasted or hauled away and burned that can be utilized by grinding for feed and it is reported that cows eat them readily.

There have recently been a number of requests going in to the department of agriculture to analyze these burrs and find out what the food value would be after they have been ground into feed. The following is the report: The feeding value of the cotton burr is less than that of prairie hay, but somewhat more than the feed value of cotton seed hulls, apparently about 25 per cent greater.

These burrs can be loaded and hauled to your local feed mill in your home town and the grinding will not cost more than 25 cents per hundred pounds and one will have a better feed for $4 per ton than cotton seed hulls costing about $10 per ton.

The cotton burrs thus utilized will aid the local feed mill and economize the cost of the feed bill for the farmer or stockman. Mr. Bloodworth of the department of agriculture, urges the people to try out this feed.

at tackle, and if his performance is satisfactory, the large one will spend most of the afternoon there.

MAYHEW IS ENCOURAGED OVER TEAM

ABILENE, Oct. 2.—Encouraged over the showing of his athletes in practice yesterday afternoon, Coach Dewey Mayhew announced that he may yet have a good ball club, which is the first official statement of the kind heard from the camp of the Abilene Eagles this fall.

The high schoolers scrimmaged yesterday. They likely won't today or tomorrow, for on Saturday they will tackle the Sweetwater Mustangs, their second assignment of the week at the West Texas fair.

Several lineup changes are contemplated for the meke with the Ponks, some because of the improvement by players who heretofore have been on the reserve list and others because of injuries to regulars. Big Flipper, Layton Airey and Falls are some of the youngsters developing rapidly. All weigh in the neighborhood of 185, and if they become useful enough to take first string positions, they will add to the quality of weight that has been lacking.

Flippo may go in the backfield Saturday, and Airey, who worked at fullback against Big Spitz, is a possibility for an end berth in the tussle with Sweetwater. Gordon Ramsey is another of the eligibles for an extremity.

Wilson Groseclose still is hampered by the bad ankle, which he had left over from the Colorado game, and the coach likely will let him sit out a large portion of Saturday's activities. Falls is due a starting call

OIL NEWS OF SOUTHWEST

HENDERSON, Oct. 2.—Final test on the Joiner No. 3 wildcard, was expected to be made today as crowds packed the highways of Henderson and Rusk county anticipating the blowing in of the big well.

Oil men from all sections of the country watched the crew bail out the hole and start drilling a cement plug set in the bottom of the hole 10 days ago, following a drill stem test of Sept. 5, when a clear showing of oil testing 38 degrees gravity was made.

Two thousand people milled about the well this morning, as another two thousand jammed the street of this little town. Leases and royalties were being traded at fancy figures.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 2.—Considerable interest was aroused here when the Frio county wildcard test of Wray and Dunbar made a gas strike. The hole bridged over after a blowout at 2,368 feet. There were no indications of oil. Workmen were attempting to drill out the bridge today.

M. D. PASCHALL & SONS

Insurance --- Real Estate --- Loans

M. D. Paschall, Sr.—Crigler Paschall—M. D. Paschall, Jr.

This firm is one that shows the results of teamwork and cooperation. While these men's names appear at the head of their business, yet they admit that their wives are big factors in whatever success they may have attained. The help, and encouragement given have made them true help-mates indeed.

M. D. Paschall, Sr., has long been a citizen of Cisco. He has watched it grow from a little muddy village to the present clean, paved-streeted town that it is today—and his own son has had a large share in working this magic. The sons, Crigler and M. D., Jr., have been reared and educated in Cisco schools. They have become a part of Cisco life, both social and commercial.

Crigler has been street commissioner for several years and has supervised street building, paving and maintenance—thus having had a share in making Cisco a clean and sanitary city.

The firm conducts an insurance business that is more than county wide—their extensive acquaintance bringing them business from adjoining counties. They also deal in real estate and represent loan companies that have had a big part in the building and improving of properties in Cisco. All of their efforts are for their community interests.

They make their money in Cisco and spend it here. The family has been tied in with all community activities so long that they could not quit if they desired—and certainly that would not occur to them. They are substantial and a part of the commercial life—they are payroll builders.

Three Killed When Building Collapses

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—A four-story building in Greenwich village, believed to have been undermined by wrecking operations next door, collapsed today, killing five men and women and injuring seven, two of whom are not expected to live.

The dead: Mrs. Victorina Courtard, 48; Marguerite Courtard, 17, her daughter; Frank Bourdon, 35; Carlo Tornaghi, 29; one unidentified man.

Lodgers told officials the building had been shaking for days. After a preliminary investigation, District Attorney Grain ordered arrest of members of the Fein Wrecking Corporation.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Three men were killed, four others injured and as many more may be missing in a building collapse today.

The structure was on a street where subway construction was under way and it was thought a cave in of the foundation due to digging nearby caused the collapse.

24-Hour Transcontinental Mail and Passenger Service to Be Inaugurated

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—An all-airplane transcontinental service carrying mail, passengers and express on a 24-hour schedule between New York and California, with intermediary stops, will result from award of an airmail contract to the Western Air express and Trans-Continental Air transport, officials of the companies revealed today.

The announcement was made by Harris M. Henshaw, president and general manager of Western Air express; Daniel M. Sheaffer, chairman of the executive committee, and J. D. Maddux, president of T. A. T. They said that continuation of present services, with extensions to fulfill requirements of the contract awarded by the post-office department yesterday, will begin as a unified service October 15.

The schedule to be followed for the present embraces 13-hour daily passenger service of Western Air express between Los Angeles and Kansas City, and a similar service between Kansas City and New York. Thus making the Transcontinental trip possible in two daylight flights with overnight hotel stops at either Kansas City or St. Louis.

24-Hour Service

The all-airplane, 24-hour service will be inaugurated as soon as facilities for night flying have been installed throughout the route, the announcement said. The route contemplated is via Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, Columbus, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City, Amarillo and Albuquerque.

The contract provides for an alternative out-of-route from St. Louis to Amarillo via Tulsa and Oklahoma City.

Postmaster General Brown was informed, with submission of the bids, that a jointly owned operating unit will be created. In it will be pooled flying equipment, airway facilities and airports now used by the two companies along more than 60 per cent of the route. Western Air express and T. A. T. will have equal holdings in the operating company, it was said while a substantial minority interest will be held by the Pittsburgh aviation industries corporation.

It was pointed out that the program does not call for merger of such of their lines needed for a transcontinental service.

Different Ollie Plays New Role

HOUSTON, Oct. 2.—Ollie DeBrow, whose tapping heels and rollicking voice took him into the hearts of Texas theatergoers a few scant years ago, played a more sombre role here today.

But it wasn't the same Ollie. His big shoe slapstick and rapid fire monologue that always was a hit, had disappeared.

Yesterday he returned to the spotlight. It was in federal court. He was found guilty of the sale of narcotics.

His ashen lips, knitted brow, nervous twitching bespoke use of drugs. There was no smile on his face, no laughter in the hearts of his strange audience as he shuffled out of the courtroom. A different Ollie and a different audience.

He will be sentenced Saturday.
