BANKERS CALL DROUTH RELIEF MEET

Cruiser May Be Sent to Protect Americans in Brazil

PENSACOLA ORDERED TO GO TO CUBA

The function will be the protection of Nationals

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The U. S. Navy today ordered the Pensacola to proceed to Cuba, and await orders to proceed to Brazil to protect American lives which may be endangered by the revolution, it was learned at the state department today.

It was made clear at the state department that the sole function of the cruiser would be to take off Americans whose lives might be endangered. There are no other American naval vessels in Brazilian waters and the Pensacola is the only one being ordered to stand by for duty, it was explained.

The reason for the order, it was learned, is that Guantanamo is less than 100 miles from the coast of Brazil than is Norfolk where the ship is stationed at present. Although the orders thus far issued will send the Pensacola only to Guantanamo, it was learned from an authoritative source that when the ship reaches the Cuban port it undoubtedly will be ordered to Brazil.

Although diplomatic reports indicate that no American lives have been endangered, the state department felt it was prudent to have a ship near the scene of disturbance in case it could rescue endangered Americans and take any action necessary to protect their lives.

The navy department's order to Pensacola followed by less than 24 hours press reports received here that Great Britain was ordering the cruiser Delhi to proceed to Trinidad and wait orders to sail for Pernambuco to protect British lives. The cruiser is under command of Capt. A. G. Howe and carries about 1,000 men.

BELLS CONVERGE AT CENTERS

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil, Oct. 11.—Three columns of rebel forces converged on Rio de Janeiro and Paulo today, revolutionary headquarters announced. The rebels claimed to have captured two cities in the state of Rio de Janeiro in their march on the state capital. They were Carnalim, near Campos (Campos is 40 miles northeast of Rio de Janeiro) and Itaperuna, near the border of Minas Gerais.

The revolutionists claimed complete control of the state of Maranhão in northern Brazil. If the report was true, the rebel strength had been solidified in all the northern coastal states.

It was reported here that Gen. Hudson, federal officer captured by rebels in Uruguayana, had telephoned President Washington in Luisburg and to resign and end the conflict.

By C. A. POWELL. United Press Staff Correspondent. RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 11.—The ministry of justice announced today that federal troops in Santa Catharina and Rio Grande do Sul states are fighting heroically against the advance of revolutionary forces from the south. The ministry also announced that revolutionists had been defeated at Uru, capital of Para state, in the north.

Colonel Celso de Souza has defeated revolutionists at Behel, capital of Para, and is reorganizing his troops, the announcement said. All federal units in Minas Gerais are central region, when troops are sent to the north.

Textbook Stakes Go Into Final Round

By GORDON K. SHEARER. United Press Staff Correspondent. AUSTIN, Oct. 11.—The $1,250,000 text book stakes will go into the final round here Monday when the State Board of Education meets to make six-year selections. All this week a committee appointed by the board has listened to presentation of merits of books as told by their publishers' agents and their demerits as told by rivals. This committee is selecting three books offered in each of the courses to be filled. From these three the board itself will select the text in each course.

A primer to be used in all public schools six grade school readers, five language books for different grades, six drawing books, physiology and hygiene texts are to be chosen. More than a score of books agents have been showing their wares to the committee since Monday. Today this committee is considering its recommendations to the board. Many criticisms have been voiced in the sharp competition for the state contracts. One reader is held up to ridicule for the absurd reference to white rabbits running wild on the plains of Texas. "What confidence would west Texas school children have in a book that so described the familiar brown cottontails?" is one question put to the committee. Protests are not limited to the books that are under consideration for selection. A committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is scheduled to appear Monday with a complaint that the state now in use do injustice to their section. The matter has gone as far as threats of million dollar litigation.

Judge Stops Elevator Fight

AUSTIN, Oct. 11.—Elevator boys at the state capitol started a fight in one of the elevators, ran the car to the top floor, stopped it there and resumed their altercation. Both were on the floor hammering and hitting when Judge J. B. Bough of the third court of civil appeals emerged from the court room and stopped the fray. Neither boy was much hurt.

STATE FAIR OPENS UPON 1930 SEASON

DALLAS, Oct. 11.—Gates to the state fair grounds were opened on the 44th annual exposition here today. The old familiar show phrase of "bigger and better than ever" was embraced in the promise of its officials and exhibitors. Compact but not immediately threatening clouds overhung the grounds at the opening hour. The directors predicted 100,000 persons would pass through the turnstiles on the opening day, but promise of rain was a damper on their hopes. With a view to the safety of patrons, a branch emergency hospital and fire station were set up on the grounds, and an extra detail of policemen was posted. Midway tents were in place, implement row was demonstrating the latest creations in machinery, the livestock arena was filled with prize animals, and finishing touches were being put on the major attractions, the battle of Gettysburg, Cyclorama and the musical comedy "Sons O' Guns."

Today was press day and sacred harp singers day. Hundreds of editors from every part of the state were guests of the fair association. Special railroad fare is in effect all over the state for the fair. Hotels reported capacity crowds on hand for the exposition.

Tulsa Exposition Closes Saturday

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 11.—Gates of the $13,000,000 seventh International Petroleum Exposition and Congress, will close tonight after a week of record breaking attendance and exhibits. The exposition will be adjourned until the spring of 1932 when representatives of foreign countries and oil leaders of the world again will gather to discuss their problems and view the pageant of the world's second largest industry. While thousands streamed thru the gates for final inspection of the 600 exhibits today, delegations of visitors met with exposition officials to plan for the next meeting. The Mexican delegation told W. B. Way, exposition manager, that their government was planning to install the largest exhibit for the 1932 fair.

Big Spring Game to Be Played Here

The conference game between the Lobos and the Big Spring Steers, scheduled to be played at Big Spring next Friday, has been transferred to Cisco by agreement of the school officials. The game will be played here Friday night. The benefits of a larger attendance at Cisco caused the transfer.

FIVE-DOLLAR BILLS STILL GOING AROUND

Meeting Monday Will Check Results of New Campaign

Five-dollar bills with slips of paper attached and bearing the names of Cisco citizens who have handled the bills, are circulating freely about the city now. Considerable interest has been aroused in this latest move to start a buying wave here and dispell the feeling of depression which has troubled business and general conditions in this section for the past year or more.

Some thirty bills were started in circulation Friday and many of these are still making the rounds although few reports of the routes followed by them have been turned in to the Daily News. Other bills are to be put into circulation Monday after a meeting called for 1:45 at the chamber of commerce. This meeting is open to all merchants and citizens. Leon Maner, chairman of the organization will be in charge. Saturday morning three of the bills were received by John H. Garners and promptly started out again. A bill started by George Boyd was received by the West Texas Utilities company. The company paid this bill out and another started by itself to the postoffice. The Farling Studio received another five-dollar bill which was paid to the A. and P. store.

Tullos Bros. also received one of the bills Saturday morning and kept it going. Those who have these five-dollar bills Monday morning are urged to phone the Daily News before 9 o'clock and tell what has been done with them.

There is prospect too that advocates of books that fail to be selected may attack the eligibility of a member of the committee—Burl Bryant of Wichita Falls. Bryant was county superintendent of Wichita county. He has resigned that post which is now filled by Mrs. Bryant. He has been appointed rural school supervisor of the state department of education to take office October 20.

G. O. P. FACES HARD FIGHT FOR MAJORITY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Pessimistic reports from campaigns in various sections of the country convinced republican leaders today they face a desperate struggle to retain present majorities in congress. It developed at a meeting of party chieftains at Republican National headquarters here yesterday, that the party's majority of more than 50 seats in the house was seriously menaced and that a few seats might be lost in the senate.

Campaign managers working for the ensuing election in the various fields report that business depression was hurting their candidates and that even republicans generally were pessimistic about supporting the Hoover administration. One of the conferees reported that an immediate election would defeat Roscoe C. McCulloch, the republican senatorial candidate in Ohio, by 100,000 votes. Robert J. Bulkeley, an anti-prohibitionist, is the democratic candidate. It also was regarded as possible that Senator John M. Robinson might be defeated in Kentucky and Senator W. B. Pine in Oklahoma.

A Chevrolet coach, 1928 model, belonging to L. L. Easterling, of DeLeon, was stolen from Broadway Friday night while Mr. Easterling was attending the show.

Wife of Grimes Seeks Divorce

CANTON, Ohio, Oct. 11.—Charging that he had conspired about her in her home town of Minerva, Ohio, Mrs. Buriel Grimes, wife of the St. Louis Cardinals baseball pitcher, filed suit for divorce today in common pleas court. She also charged extreme cruelty. Her suit, in denying charges filed by the Cardinals pitcher in a previous divorce action that she had made him unpopular with other ball players, charged that his "wiscracking" reparte both on and off the diamond were responsible for his unpopularity. She asked alimony and a share of their property in Minerva. There are no children.

Cleveland's Welcome to the President.

Streamers of ticket tape and cheering thousands of citizens marked Cleveland's welcome to President Hoover when the chief executive visited the Ohio city to address the convention of the American Bankers' association. President Hoover (indicated by the arrow) is shown here passing down Euclid avenue.

MAY ADVISE BUSINESS LAW RELAXATION

By PAUL R. MALLON. United Press Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Relaxing of the stringent regulatory laws which the government has clamped down on business may be recommended by President Hoover to congress when it convenes here in December.

The executive now is planning to devote a portion of his annual message at the opening of the congressional session to an analysis of how the anti-trust, railroad, and other laws have worked against the advancement of the oil, bituminous coal, railroad and other industries, the United Press was informed today.

The recommendation probably will take the form of a request that the various committees of the house and senate investigate the workings of these laws with a view to correcting any possible effects, without, of course, repealing the protection afforded the people against unfair or unjust trade practices.

It will follow the hints dropped in his recent speeches that he was not satisfied with the way the transportation act has prevented railroads from expanding their construction program during the current depression as well as his suggestion that the anti-trust laws might be responsible for creating destructive competition in the bituminous coal industry. He did not mention the oil industry although he is understood to have it in mind.

The president's friends say he believes these defects may be corrected without in any way interfering generally with the structure of the laws which prevent clandestine agreements among corporations to restrain trade and boost prices. His thought has not yet, however, taken such definite lines that he is prepared to recommend a specific way in which his idea is to be accomplished, so he will leave the detailed working out of the project to congress.

Two Killed When Locomotive Wrecks

REYNOLDS, Neb., Oct. 11.—Two trainmen were instantly killed early today when the engine of a Burlington passenger train overturned near here after striking an automobile stalled on the tracks. The dead were H. H. Longist, engineer, and W. R. Hanamer, fireman. Both were from Wymore, Neb. The bodies were taken from beneath the overturned locomotive. The remainder of the train was not wrecked.

Bar Association Head Dies Suddenly

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 11.—Josiah H. Marvel, president of the American Bar association, died suddenly at his home near here early today. Marvel was elected president of the American association at its meeting in Chicago a few months ago. Death was attributed to a heart attack. Marvel was a candidate for the democratic senatorial nomination at the state democratic convention here last month. He was defeated by former Senator Thomas Bayard. He was 60 years old.

RANGER TEAM SMOTHERS SAN ANGELO CATS

With the elusive McCarty leading the parade the Ranger Bulldogs swamped the San Angelo Bobcats at Ranger Saturday afternoon by a score of 32 to 6. Bird had a part in the victory but McCarty was the youngster who flashed above the rest of his fellows in a contest that was spectacular despite its evident one-sidedness. Twice the speedy Ranger backfield accosted the visitors of scores when he outran the swift Cobb, Bobcat back, and hauled him down in an open field after Cobb had taken passes and appeared headed inevitably for touchdowns. San Angelo scored late in the last quarter on a pass after the Ranger second team had gone into the fray.

BUCKAROOS LOOK WEAK IN VICTORY.

BIG SPRING, Oct. 11.—The Breckenridge Buckaroos showed a poor form here this afternoon in downing the Big Spring Steers 19 to 6. The Buckaroos scored in the first quarter when Stapp took Magnus pass for 31 yards and a touchdown. Mim, Big Spring back, missed his tackle when he tried to block Stapp on the 10-yard line. The Steers held the last year state champions scoreless until the final period when Magnus carried the ball over from the 10-yard line. Mim again missed his tackle. Bill Flowers, Steer back furnished the sensation of the game when he took Magnus punt and ran it 82 yards through a back-field for a touchdown. The Buckaroos closed the quarter with another touchdown after working the ball down the field on consistent gains. A slight sprinkle of rain fell during the afternoon but not enough to make the field muddy. ENNIS, Oct. 11.—The second day at the Ellis county fair brought an attendance unusually satisfactory when all school children of the county left their books to inspect the displays.

WALLACE DUE TO BE NAMED UPON BOARD

AUSTIN, Oct. 11.—John F. Wallace of Teague will be the new member of the state board of control, receiving the last major appointment at the disposal of Governor Dan Moody, the state capital became convinced today. This belief is based on the announcement that Wallace has declined the democratic nomination for re-election as representative in the state legislature from Freestone county. If he had been re-elected he would have become ineligible for appointment.

Wallace frequently has been mentioned as a likely choice for the place, but heretofore his house membership has been in the way. It still bars him until January but Governor Moody has already announced that he will not make the appointment until R. B. Walthall, whose term has expired, shall have completed the state budget to present to the next legislature. Governor Moody has admitted that he has selected the board member but had declined to name him in advance of that time.

Wallace was chairman of the house appropriations committee of the last legislature. This chairman, ship though familiarized him with the state institutions which the board directs. Claude Teer was appointed to the board after similar house service.

PLAN TO BE WORKED OUT WEDNESDAY

Representatives From Numerous Counties Are Summoned

Bankers and legislators from over an area roughly described by the cities of Spur, Stamford, Throckmorton, Breckenridge, Ranger, De Leon Brown, Coleman, Winters and Sweetwater have been called to meet in Eastland next Wednesday afternoon in the district court room at 3 o'clock to consider a workable plan for the relief of drouth stricken farmers in the section. The meeting was called by the Eastland County Bankers' association of "Uncle Guy Dabney, of the Cisco Banking company, is president. Some concrete and original ideas for providing this relief have been advanced and were discussed in a preliminary meeting held here Friday night. Out of this discussion a plan has been evolved which will be presented to the general meeting next Wednesday.

Mr. Dabney said that the details of the plan are being withheld from publication until it is presented to the bankers and legislators and definitely acted upon. He indicated, however, that it represents a departure from the idea of the state making appropriations directly to the farmers and assuming responsibility for the distribution and supervision of the relief. Governor Moody, Ross Sterling, democratic nominee for governor, the legislators from the counties included in the section and the county commissioners court of this county are invited to attend the meeting Wednesday. Victor B. Gilbert, state representative from Eastland and Callahan counties, was delegated to issue invitations to the governors, Mr. Sterling and the legislators. Mr. Dabney is sending invitations to the bankers of the section. In view of the fact that the plan is a novel one, and one commended by the bankers who have heard it, a meeting is expected to occasion considerable interest and to draw a large representation from the district.

Farmers over the afflicted district are in need of immediate relief, properly supervised, it was stated and the plan now under consideration should take care of the emergency in good shape.

DAILY BIBLE READING

Psalms 67:3-6

- 3. Let the people praise thee, O God; let all the people praise thee. 4. O let the nations be glad and sing for joy: for thou shalt judge the people righteously, and govern the nations upon earth. 5. Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee. 6. Then shall the earth yield her increase; and God, even our own God, shall bless us.

NEW DROUTH RELIEF MOVE.

Bankers and legislators of a wide area in this part of Texas are scheduled to meet in Eastland next Wednesday evening for the purpose of evolving some tangible and workable plan for the relief of farm conditions made serious by the prolonged drouth in this section.

Fundamentally the plan differs from the paternalistic remedies which have been suggested in that it contemplates that the various sections shall help themselves. It has been customary from time immemorial to look to legislative action as a panacea for economic ills.

It is to be hoped that the meeting here next Wednesday will be successful in commanding the interest of financial and legislative authorities to the extent that some concrete measures may be undertaken.

HOBO INFLUX.

Complaints from several sources against the custom of the railroads in dumping groups of transients from freight trains in Cisco and vicinity have been heard. To be sure the railroads are faced with a serious problem in the handling of those who deadhead on their trains, but at the same time it is unfair to small towns, which have serious enough problems of their own in dealing with this same element, to have to contend with this additional problem.

GATHERING SPEED.

In spite of the fact that some unconcern has been encountered, the movement to start a prosperity campaign here through the obligatory circulation of five-dollar bills, appeared Saturday to be gaining headway.

Reports on the progress of the various bills, however, were not coming into the Daily News as generally as expected. For instance a bill which started out Friday afternoon appeared to have fallen into numerous hands before it was reported at a particular place.

OTHER OPINIONS

THE NEW HIGHWAY COMMISSION

Chairman Sterling's resignation from the state highway commission has cleared up a situation that has been much discussed since the August primary election and a reorganization of the commission has been effected in a manner that indicates no further changes in that body will be made until the end of the first Sterling administration as governor.

elective, the Sterling administration might find itself associated with a highway board completely out of harmony with administrative policies and composed of commissioners who could not even agree among themselves as to the best policies to pursue.

COLUMBIA ARRIVES AT DESTINATION

CROYDON AIRDROME, England, Oct. 11.—The Columbia, veteran of two flights across the north Atlantic ocean, arrived at Croydon Airdrome at 3:55 p. m. (10:55 a. m. E. S. T.) today after a 300 mile flight from the rocky little Isle of Tresco, in the scilly group off the southwestern tip of England.

The sturdy plane, piloted by Capt. J. Erol Boyd of Canada, and navigated by Lieut. Harry P. Connor of the United States naval reserve, completed the flight from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, in two days to climax a notable aviation record.

With the same engine which carried Clarence Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine from New York to Germany in 1927 the Columbia made her second successful crossing of the ocean, but for the second time fell short of the actual goal.

The Columbia's old motor performed almost perfectly on the flight, but the pilots were forced to fly blind for some ten hours, getting somewhat south of their schedule course.

EASTLAND AND SWEETWATER TIE ON NAUGHT

EASTLAND, Oct. 11.—Battling the Sweetwater Mustangs to a standstill throughout the game before a small and unenthusiastic crowd but falling when only a few yards were needed to make a touchdown, the Eastland Mavericks played their first conference game at home Friday afternoon against the Sweetwater Mustangs which ended in a scoreless tie.

Three times the Mavericks were within only a few yards of the goal line. Twice they were stopped in their tracks by the visitors and once they literally tossed away their chance of scoring when they passed across the punt line on the first down with only ten yards to go.

During the first half the Mavericks showed up well, making nine first downs to Sweetwater's one, but were unable to gain yardage when it was needed most. Allen, Foster and Reesor were constant ground gainers in mid-field and had little trouble in carrying the ball down to the ten yard line. Here, however, the Mustang line held and the ball went over, only to be worked back to scoring position again after Sweetwater punted out of danger.

During the last few minutes of play the local fans were given two thrills. One came when Clark, playing with his right arm heavily bandaged, misjudged a punt and let it go over his head and dribble to the one yard line before he picked it up and dashed back 35 yards before he was forced out of bounds. The second came when Pentecost intercepted a Sweetwater pass on the 50 yard line and raced to the Mavericks ten yard line before he was downed.

It was after this spectacular run that the Mavericks threw away their last chance to score. With the ball on the ten yard line they attempted a pass on the first down, throwing the ball over the goal line and the Mustangs were given the ball on the 20 yard marker.

Grimsley and Simms, the two big Sweetwater tackles, played a good defensive game for not keeping the Mavericks from going through the line and smearing play after play for losses when the backs attempted end runs.

The starting line-ups: Mavericks—L. E. Van Geem; L. T. McGee; L. G. Manck; C. Pentecost; R. G. Smith; B. R. Daniel; R. E. Foster; G. Jones; L. H. Taylor; R. H. Reesor; F. Allen; Mustangs—L. E. Bledsoe; L. T. Grimsley; L. G. Watson; C. Brooks; R. G. Eriedman.

Cisco Downs Stubborn Spur Team 20 to 0 in Hard Game

RAIN SLOWS OFFENSE OF BOTH TEAMS

Spur Shows Class But Lobe Machine Is Too Powerful

Playing on a wet, slippery field which hampered the offense of both teams, the Cisco Lobes met the hardest competition they have faced this season in the Spur Bulldogs last night but emerged from the fray with a victory of 20 to 0. The visitors, a fast, heavy outfit, threatened seriously two or three times but lacked the punch to put the ball over from within the 20 yard line.

The first quarter developed into a punting duel with Turknett getting the best of his opponent. The expected break came when Jim Hahn tumbled the ball near the last of the quarter and Jeter recovered on the one yard line. Jeter rode over square for the touchdown in the opening play of the second quarter and Turknett kicked goal.

The Lobes scored again near the middle of the quarter after Turknett Connell and Jeter had taken the ball on spins and reverses to the six yard line from which point Connell sped around left for the score. Turknett missed the goal.

Spur opened up with a smooth passing attack. Puckett to Hahn and alternating this with stabs at the line and reverse plays carried the ball to Cisco's 12-yard line where the ball was lost on a fumble.

In the third quarter Cisco obtained the ball on a fumble on Spur's 38 yard line. Blackburn and Connell took the ball to the 17 yard line. The Lobes lost six yards but Connell took a lateral pass and raced around left to the three yard line. Blackburn carried it over and Jeter kicked goal.

Jim Hahn opened the fourth quarter with a 37-yard dash around Cisco's left end. Rickles made 7 yards but the boys were held on downs. The Cisco second stringers swept the ball down the field on fake punt formations. Turknett was hurt on a long gain when tackled out of the bounds and Little took his place. The Lobes drove continued the 12 yard line where Spur obtained the ball on a fumble. After an interchange of punts Connell swept around left for 35 yards to the 18 yard line where Spur held. Jim Hahn, Spur half, took a pass and ran 60 yards being thrown by Connell out of bounds on Cisco's 17-yard line. Spur tried a passing attack which failed. The game ended a moment later.

Starting Lineups:
Cisco—Massengale, q; Cole, rb; McCall, lg; O. C. Ray, c; Black, rg; Wagoner, rt; Van Horn, re; Turknett, quarter; Bryan, lb; Jeter, rh; Connell, full.
Spur—Barrett, lg; Emmet, rb; Morgan, lg; McCormick, c; Rhodes, rg; Ragsdale, rt; Carr, re; Rickles, qtr; Jim Hahn, lb; Joe Hahn, rh; Puckett, full.

This game looked like a bunch of sard school girls playing their first football game, is the sarcastic comment of a sport writer who covered the Eastland-Swegway scoreless conflict at Eastland Friday afternoon. Continues the caustic scribe: "In mid-field the teams looked terrible and near the goal lines they both looked worse, if possible. Several stupid plays were pulled that were enough to make anyone bit his fingernails. If either of the teams beats anyone except Brownwood, it might as well be written down in the little book as a deep, dark mystery."

That old Brownwood seems like these boys come in for the worst of everything in high school football. Up they spring in the first part of a season to wallopp the worst jinx in the oil belt for Cisco and then down they go like a landslide from the top of the Matterhorn when the Lobes bump them. To tell the truth the Lions weren't such a worse team against the Lobes a few weeks ago. They were too green and light, that is all.

That leads up to some interesting comment by Bruce Francis, sports artist of the Brownwood Bulletin which may occasion comment here: Says Bruce:

"All side-line experts are of one accord in proclaiming Cisco as favorites in the 1936 Oil Belt scramble and that far be it from any in Brownwood to dispute this. After Cisco whipped our boys down under a 78-0 count. But really and truly it looks like the Lobes for the district and state championship, unless perhaps Waco may be a bit better than anticipated."

But Cisco has always been champions as far as Brownwood is concerned, barring one season. Believe it or not, the Lions licked the Lobes once upon a time. Sounds like a Fairy story but the records can't be denied. All of this happened when J. Claude Smith, the

QUALIFYING ROUNDS IN GOLF CLOSE

"We don't recall the exact date of this eventful game but it so happened that Brownwood had a pretty fair team that year. However the Lions were a bit crippled up before the Lobe clash and too rumors were abroad that the Lobes might use some ineligible men against Brownwood. At any rate, J. Claude went over to Daniel Baker and borrowed Roy White, then went over to the Jacket camp and secured the services of "Grape" Turner. And too, we believe he borrowed Shorty Craig from the Billies. At any rate, he borrowed several fairly good football players and to Cisco the Lions went."

"En route J. Claude halted his team, borrowed a corn field and ran signals for a spell, this being necessary to acquaint Turner, White et al. with plays used by Brownwood. And according to reports, "Grape" and Roy played pretty fair games that day, at least they did well enough to give the Lions a 19-0 victory over the Lobes. In those days Cisco didn't like to be licked, in fact Cisco's fans were so dissatisfied with that particular troupe that they thought the Lions used good judgment in leaving town without taking the customary showers and changing clothes."

"During the game several inebricated oil men of Cisco came on the field and claimed that they had seen Messrs. White and Turner playing college football with Daniel Baker and Howard Payne. But no one pays much attention to what drunk men say hence their information was wasted. Cisco had some "Ringers" in the game also, but it so happened that Brownwood had recruited the best team that day."

"Doc Ettlinger, who is still refereeing ball games in these parts was referee that day and according to reports, Doc also made a quick get away after the game. We are told that during the contest he had his car parked near the gridiron, with instructions to the driver to have the motor running and ready to go when the game ended. These instructions were carried out to the letter and within an hour after the battle ended Doc was in Brownwood. Otherwise, Doc might have ended his career right then and there."

CARL W. LOWERY, Prop.

The history of the Red Front Drug store is closely entwined with that of Cisco, having been built at the same time that the little railroad station, Cisco, was being founded, back in 1881. A perusal of its prescription files would be interesting to those who were acquainted with residents here in the long ago.

Mr. Lowery has been more or less connected with this store for many years, but some three years ago he took over control of the store and had a modern new front put in and certain other improvements made in the interior, which gives it an appearance second to none in this section of the country. It is up-to-date in every department; its prescription department being presided over by a registered pharmacist and its stock of drugs of pure and best quality. They carry a complete line of family medicines and their line of toilet goods are standard, highly advertised products. This line has a large patronage from discerning women, who insist on the best.

For many years, their fountain drinks have carried the stamp of quality, which fact has been a big drawing card in their increase in trade.

A big line of jewelry and novelties carry their shares in the attraction of attention to this establishment.

The Red Front has long been the home of Edison phonographs and radios and they still represent these lines—they need no comment.

Mr. Lowery and his employes take an active interest in all activities of Cisco. They are boosters for the athletic and band organizations and for every civic enterprise that is sponsored by the town. Their money circulates in Cisco and forms a part of the payroll building that has helped Cisco stem the tide of depression in much better condition than many places over the country.

The oldest drug store in Eastland county --- established 1881.

TEXAS' CARE OF DEPENDENTS IS CRITICISED

TEXAS CITY, Oct. 11.—Texas is falling miserably in the care of its mentally afflicted men and women, Representative Helen Moore, who has just returned to her home here after an inspection of five mercy institutions of the state, told the United Press.

Mrs. Moore is chairman of a committee appointed by the 41st legislature to make an inspection of state institutions and report to the next legislature. Others on the committee are Senator W. K. Hopkins, of Gonzales, and Representative Fenrose Metcalf, of San Angelo.

The three have visited the girls school at Gainesville, the Carlisbad and Abilene hospitals and insane institutions at San Antonio and Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Moore said she found fire trap conditions existing in one building where men and women patients lie helpless in crowded, poorly ventilated rooms.

In another institution she saw tubercular women sleeping on the floor because there were no beds for them.

At another place she threatened her way among fifty mental patients forced by the lack of sufficient beds to lie in a hallway.

She walked through crowded, poorly ventilated wards heavy with stagnant air.

900 to 1
She saw one doctor trying to take care of 900 women patients.

In an insane asylum she watched 1500 men and women herded into one large room at meal time and served under conditions that would irritate the nerves of healthy persons.

She saw the criminally insane and the patients from cultured surroundings thrown together with no attempt at segregation.

She returned home blaming the indifference and ignorance of legislators for conditions which she said preclude almost every hope of reclaiming the minds of men and women whose cases are curable and who are sent to state institutions for treatment.

"Incarceration—not hospitalization—is what it amounts to in some of the institutions," she said. "The asylum at San Antonio is one of them. Almost every hope of observation and treatment of individual cases is lost in the confusion of overcrowding."

"One doctor there has charge of 900 women patients. What chance do you suppose he has to study individual cases for methods of treatment that may be the means of reclaiming an afflicted mind?"

At the San Antonio institution she found, she declared, dangerous fire hazards, in the form of old wooden floors that were being treated with an oil solution.

Crowded Rooms
Rooms with only four windows that had fourteen beds crowded into them.

Fifty patients sleeping in a hallway.

Four hundred more beds than the institution could accommodate properly.

Porches with their iron supports rusted away and makeshift timber columns holding them up.

"There are 2,350 patients in that institution," she said. "The superintendent has only six medical assistants."

At the Wichita Falls hospital, Mrs. Moore said she found 27 women sleeping on the floor. Four of them were suffering from tuberculosis.

This condition, she said, will be improved when a new building is completed in several weeks.

"That is the only modern insane hospital that the state has," she said. "The cottage system is used here with 10 to 12 patients occupying a house."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON MARY, THE MOTHER OF JESUS

Text: Luke 2:15-19; John 2:1-5; 10:25-27.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds. But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

And the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there.

And both Jesus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage.

And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus said unto him, They have no wine.

Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.

His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.

Now there stood by the cross of Jesus his mother and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.

When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Behold thy son!

Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother! And from that hour that disciple took her unto his own home.

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Oct. 12, Mary, the Mother of Jesus, Luke 2:15-19; John 2:1-5; 10:25-27.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Concerning Mary, the Mother of Jesus, we do not know a great deal in actual fact and detail, but we can come to very real conclusions from the narrative of the New Testament.

We have, first of all, the circumstances of the birth of Jesus—like the greatest that attaches to Jesus. The wonder of His goodness, and the reality of His power to save, are all associated with the mother who bore Him, who nurtured Him, who taught Him to speak and to pray, who led Him to the treasures of religion, and who followed with Him all the way to His triumphant death that she might share in the world's redemption and in the triumph of His resurrection.

The simple reference is so imbedded in the narrative that probably few people read it with intelligent thought or with any dramatic sense of all that is implied, but in the story of the Crucifixion, in describing those who were present at the last agony of our Lord, we have the simple statement: "There stood by the cross of Jesus His mother."

How much that tells us about Mary! We think of the power of that mother love that gave her strength to follow all the way to the cross that she might be near her son in His sufferings and in His dying hour.

What courage she must have possessed, for a weaker woman would have collapsed under the strain. It may be that she did not realize the meaning of Calvary for the world. It may be that her faith was overwhelmed in that sad hour, but she knew with poignant reality the meaning of Calvary for her.

She experienced what motherhood has again and again suffered, and in that hour of the Crucifixion it is well to remember not only the Christ on the cross but His mother.

Many Responsibilities
If the indications of Scripture, and the assumptions based upon various references, are correct, other children came into the home at Nazareth, and Mary had other responsibilities; but lack of all her motherly experience and beneath all the care of the home, manifest by there was this mystery of the child have perceived and whose place of destiny she must have sensed though she did not know what was going to happen.

Then one can imagine her thoughts and her feelings as Jesus who stood nearby and who bore all the pangs of the cross in her own soul.

Can one think of such an experience even in its sadness without the consciousness of glory—like the greatness that attaches to Jesus. The wonder of His goodness, and the reality of His power to save, are all associated with the mother who bore Him, who nurtured Him, who taught Him to speak and to pray, who led Him to the treasures of religion, and who followed with Him all the way to His triumphant death that she might share in the world's redemption and in the triumph of His resurrection.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
The lesson-sermon subject in all Churches of Christ, Scientist Sunday, October 12, will be "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" The golden text is from Psalms 37:27, "Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell forevermore."

The following passage from the Bible is included in the service (James 5:13): "The prayer of faith shall save the sick and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him."

The following citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be read: "The prayer of faith shall save the sick," says the Scripture. What is this healing prayer? The highest prayer is not one of faith merely; it is demonstration. Such prayer heals sickness, and must destroy sin and death. Only as we rise above all material sensuousness and sin, can we reach the heaven-born aspiration and spiritual consciousness, which is indicated in the Lord's Prayer and which instantaneously heals the sick. Sickness, sin and death, being inharmonious, do not originate in God nor belong to His government."
