Bids for Pump House and Curb Construction Are Let

LOCAL LABOR WILL BE EMPLOYED

Co. Is Awarded Contract at Lake Cisco

Contract for the construction of pump house to replace the ten-year-old one now in use at Lake Cisco was let by the city commission yesterday afternoon to the construction company of J. H. Lattson on a bid of $3,667.60. The bid was the lowest of four bids received. At the same time the commission let contract for the construction of new curbing and sidewalk along Sixth and 11th streets to J. H. Lattson on a bid of 70 per cent for curbing and 15 per cent for the sidewalk. His bid was lowest of two submitted, J. H. Lattson bidding 75 cents on curb and 16 on the sidewalk. Other bids submitted on the pump house were: J. H. Lattson, $3,717. W. R. Simmons $4,360.31. Joe Clements $4,685.06. Local labor will be used in the construction of the two projects. The commission was occupied only with routine matters outside of letting of the two bids. Construction upon the pump house will begin as soon as acceptable bond is furnished by the contractor. It is to be completed within 60 working days. Plans and specifications for the pump house call for a two-building, 20 by 24 feet. The main room, or lower story will be constructed of solid reinforced concrete. The upper story will be living quarters of the pumper and will be of concrete veneered native brown sandstone. The structure will be on concrete and steel with no woodwork. Pumping units will be installed. This to be done by Mr. Lattson and his water department.

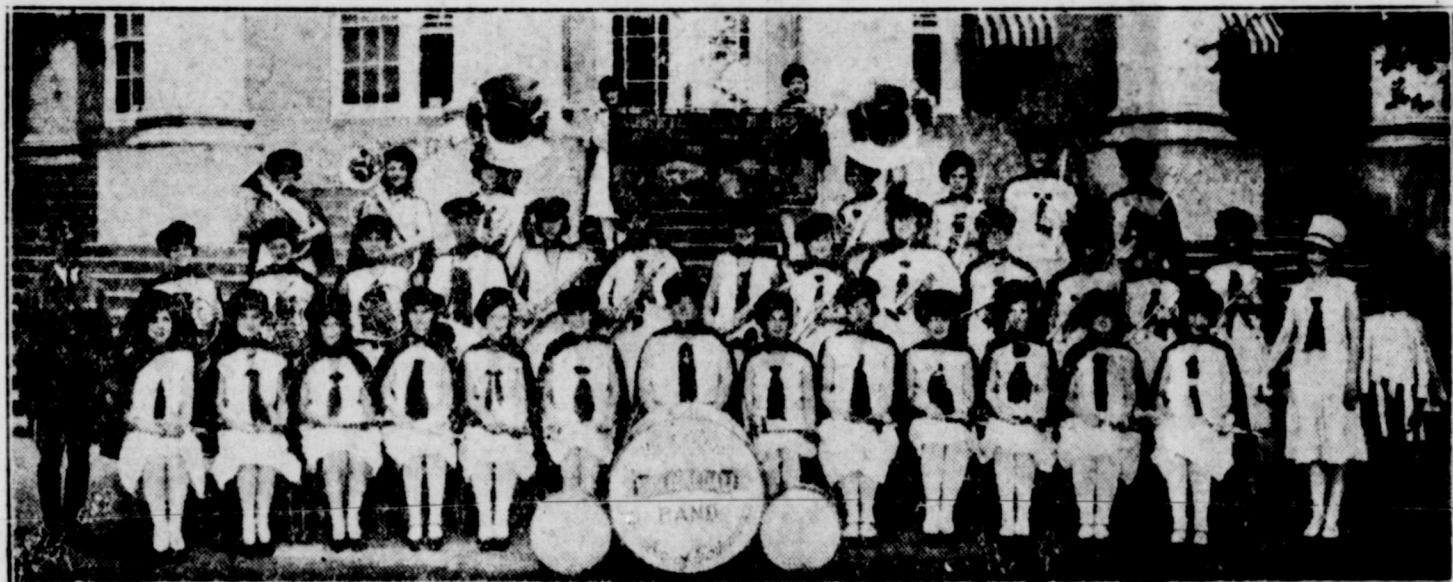

FORMER DRY OFFICERS FACE BRIBE COUNTS

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 28.—Alfred Moore, an Abilene youth $5,000 to escape a 30-day sentence for violation of the prohibition law. Moore was contained in bribery incidents returned in Amarillo by J. G. Tyson and W. R. Lattson, former dry officers now $5,000 bond at Ft. Worth. Moore and his hearing held before Commissioner L. Newman. Moore is charged with accepting bribes and will be tried at the federal district court term here which opens November 17. Moore, assistant united district attorney at Amarillo, said to the alleged bribery took place a year ago in Wichita Falls. Moore of the accused men have quit of service since that time. Moore said the Abilene boy was arrested at the jail sentence and set aside. The indictment sets forth that the accused youth first negotiated with Moore and later paid the $500 to Moore. Moore left the service following bribery charge brought here two months ago by Mrs. Rickey Ketchum. Moore was acquitted of the charge in Amarillo several months ago.

OFFICIAL W. T. C. C. BAND ON AIR OCTOBER 29

PAMPA MAN FOUND DEAD HERE MONDAY

The body of W. A. Duerr, about 35, who was found dead in a Cisco hotel yesterday afternoon, was shipped this afternoon on the 1:10 T. & P. passenger to his home at Pampa. The body was accompanied by A. W. Gould of El Paso, who is connected with Duerr's company, the Cabot Carbon Black company. Duerr's body was found at hotel attached to room over the pump house after they had become alarmed at his failure to make an appearance since registering Saturday night. He was found lying upon his back on the bed, clad in pajamas, a towel wrapped around his right hand as though he had used it to wipe his face. His features were composed and no marks of violence were found upon the body. The room was in order. On the dresser near by was a round box of potassium cyanide broken open, about one-fourth of the contents gone. An empty water glass was found. Near the body was a note directing that authorities notify the Cabot company at Pampa. Physicians who examined the body said that Duerr had been dead at least 12 hours. Justice of the Peace J. H. McDonald returned a verdict of suicide. The body was removed to the Green Funeral Home which notified the company at Pampa and received instructions to hold the remains until further notice, since the members of the family were out of the city. Later instructions to ship the body were sent. A Buick coupe was stored at the B. and H. Motor company by W. A. Duerr Saturday night and was being held today by the garage on instructions from authorities.

SCOUT DRIVE COMMITTEE STARTS WORK

Plans for the Oil Belt Boy Scouts council membership drive in Cisco were completed at a session of the drive committee headed by W. W. Wallace at the chamber of commerce last night. Lists were made out and material for the campaign issued. An effort to carry forward the movement rapidly and close up the Cisco ledger with everything on the credit side is being made. Considerable enthusiasm was shown by the committee over the prospects for a successful campaign and every member expressed eagerness to work in order that Cisco may not be outdone by other cities in the oil belt which have already raised their quotas.

HERE ON TOUR

DALLAS, Oct. 28.—Herbert M. Gibson, chief superintendent of the Manchester Ship Canal company, Manchester, England, arrived here today on a tour of the principal cotton shipping points in the United States.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 28.—

When the women's gold medal band of the West Texas chamber of commerce goes on the air over WBAP Wednesday night, October 29, between 11 o'clock and midnight, the program will be dedicated to District No. 5 of the West Texas chamber of commerce territory. C. M. Caldwell of Abilene is vice president of the West Texas chamber of commerce. E. L. Penick of Stamford is district director and Wayne C. Hickey of Ranger is district secretary. Each Wednesday night at the above hour, a program is broadcast over WBAP by the women's band and is especially dedicated to some district of the chamber. The band is under the direction of Col. Earl D. Irons and is the only ladies band in Texas.

TIRED RESCUERS BURROW INTO SHATTERED MINE FOR VICTIMS

MEALESTER, Okla., Oct. 28.—Wearily men burrowed into the lower levels of Sample coal mine No. 1 here today in search of fellow miners who were entrapped by a powerful explosion shortly after they entered the dark passageways last night. The night shift consisted of 29 men. The bodies of five of them had been recovered. Men who had seen other similar disasters said there was little hope that any of the remaining 24 would be found alive. Bodies of four men were found at 2,000 feet just after daybreak. Their death was caused by poisonous gas. The rescue squad was halted shortly before noon when dense clouds of black damp blocked passage at the 14th level. Debris and wreckage of the blast blocked passageways to lower levels where the main group of miners were trapped. J. G. Putterbaugh, leading the rescue work, said that it was doubtful if the men could be reached before 6 p. m. today. Behind that curtain of deadly gas at the 14th level were the bodies of four men that rescuers had abandoned when the fumes began to make them ill. Somewhere between 500 and 1,000 feet lower were 24 other men, their fate unknown. Rescuers believed they were dead. Every human effort possible was made to reach them. A crowd of 2,000 anxious men, women and children remained at the shattered maw of the pit.

RESCUERS DIG INTO DEBRIS

MEALESTER, Okla., Oct. 28.—Working in relays and protected by cumbersome gas masks, volunteer rescue crews dug their way today into the Samples coal mine No. 4 where 28 miners, all but one of a recently established night shift, were entombed. Curley Donley, the 29th man of the shift, was dead, killed instantly by a terrific blast that wrecked the mine late last night and was heard at McAlester, a mile and a half away. The bodies of four men were recovered shortly after 6 a. m. They were brought to the surface of the mine in cars from the 16th level, which is at a depth of 2,000 feet. No attempt was made to identify the bodies. Rescue workers said the victims were found in a heap where the deadly mine gas had suffocated them. The rescue party that reached the miners was the same that worked all night digging at the debris that blocked the passageways. Other victims were believed in the 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th level. Only Hope "The only hope that any of the men are alive is that they have found a pocket of fresh air and slipped into it," said J. G. Putterbaugh, president of a McAlester.

IT IS A NONPROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATION, NO MEMBERS EVER HAD BEEN PAID FOR THEIR SERVICES.

The complete program for the Wednesday night program follows: Old Gray Mare—March—Royal Hussars—King. Sobbin Blues—Kassell. Victor Herbert's Favorites—Vibra Harp Solo—Francis Pulliam. March—Regiment Return—Crosby. Serenade—A Night in June—King. The Devil on the Deep Blue Sea—King. Moonlight on the Nile (request)—King. March—Sabre and Spurs—Sousa. Eyes of Texas—Arr. Irons.

MANY ATTEND REVIVAL AT CHURCH OF GOD

The revival at the Church of God started off well with a good attendance last night. Judging by the hearty "amens," the congregation enjoyed thoroughly the earnest message brought by the pastor, Rev. Dodd. After touching on "vain religion," Rev. Dodd preached from James 1:27 on "Pure and Unadorned Religion."

EX-MAYOR DIES

ARLINGTON, Oct. 28.—A long life of public service was ended for C. D. King, 89, former Arlington mayor, who died at his home here Sunday night. He was finishing his thirteenth term as justice of the peace. He had served two terms as mayor of Arlington.

SERIOUS CONDITION

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Oct. 28.—Ensign C. W. Anderson, 26, of the U. S. S. Idaho, was reported in a serious condition today from an accident that claimed the life of Ensign Glenn L. Desch, 26, a naval reservist of Long Beach, Calif.

OIL TARIFF SOUNDED BY INDEPENDENTS

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 28.—A tariff on oil was sounded by an array of Texas oil and business men as the key-note to the semi-annual convention of the Independent Petroleum association of Texas in session here today to resume discussion of problems of the oil industry. President Tom E. Cranfill of Dallas, in his formal opening address, said that tariff on foreign oil is the bull's eye in the target the association is shooting at. "Tariff should be placed on foreign oil for the protection of our people," Mayor C. M. Chambers of San Antonio, said in the address of welcome. "Laws are enacted for the protection of the big fellows, why not a few laws for the small fellows, the independents?" W. C. Stroube of Corsicana responded to the address of welcome. President Cranfill in his formal address was of the belief that major companies should curtail production in the Venezuela field by the same method of proration used in the United States. "Operation of the state-wide proration" was up for its share of discussion by Dave Donoghue, Fort Worth, technical advisor to the state proration committee. He gave a history of proration, which, he said, was for conservation and prevention of waste in oil. He recommended that the independents have a sales agency for handling crude oil.

PIPE LINE QUESTION

R. T. Cannon of San Angelo talked on "the influences underlying proration nominations and potentials," saying the present program gives the purchaser the controlling voice. He said under proration there is no satisfactory way of arriving at potentials. Almost exclusive consideration of the pipe line question occupied the afternoon session. Opinion was that pipe lines are common carriers, and considered by some "as the most lucrative part of the oil game." On motion of Walter Campbell of Wichita Falls the president was authorized to appoint a committee to gather data on pipe lines, to determine whether or not discrimination is shown by the companies. This report will be presented at the next independents' convention. Col. W. S. Talbot, republican candidate for governor, sounded a plea for proration. Ross S. Sterling, democratic nominee for governor, did not appear at the banquet but sent regrets.

10-Semester Rule Is Suspended

AUSTIN, Oct. 28.—Eligibility is retained for a large number of high school football players, it was estimated today, as the result of a decision of the executive committee of the State interscholastic league that the league's new "ten semester" rule was adopted in violation of the league constitution. League officials said they did not know how many players are affected, but there was much protest. The new rule would have made a player ineligible after having passed the ten semester time whether he had actually been a school attendant for that period or not. The league now reverts to its old rule, based on actual attendance. The new rule was held to violate the provision of a year notice of any material change. Spur was put on probation after a night hearing on charges of alleged unethical procedure in transfers of players. Protested players had participated in no league games.

WILL RE-OPEN CONNELL CASE SAYS CLUCK

District Committee Will Re-Consider Matter This Week

The case of Johnny Connell, Lobo halfback who was ruled ineligible by the executive committee of Interscholastic league, district No. 2, will be re-opened this week, it was announced here today by Supt. R. N. Cluck of the Cisco high school, following a conference with Supt. R. E. Halloway of Ranger, chairman of the committee. The conference took place at Ranger this morning. Efforts to re-open the case of O. C. Ray, Lobo center, likewise ruled ineligible, failed. The Connell case will be taken up by the district committee again at a meeting this week, Mr. Cluck was assured. He was declared ineligible upon a protest filed by Breckenridge stating that he played with Clyde in 1926. A tie vote resulted upon the first ballot and on the second a majority for ineligibility was found. If Connell is returned to the lineup for the Lobos this year the prospects for the team will be considerably brightened.

E. S. TOWNSEND IS SURPRISED BY CHILDREN

E. S. Townsend, for fourteen years a resident of Cisco, was taken completely by surprise Sunday when four of his children and their families arrived in a group with a beautiful dinner and presents in celebration of his 68th birthday. While today is the anniversary of his birth the celebration took place Sunday because most of the children were unable to be away from their work during the week. Turkey and all the essentials of a feast were brought by the children and prepared by them after they arrived. Those who came were Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Townsend and children, of Anson, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lambert and children, of Hawley, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Clyburn and children, of Hawley and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Townsend and children, of Rising Star. Two others, Robert Townsend, of Altus, Oklahoma, and Fred Townsend, of Los Angeles, California were not able to attend. Mr. Townsend has two other sons at home, "Y" and "E. S. Jr." He was born in Mississippi and came to Texas with his first wife 40 years ago. After the death of his first wife 18 years ago he and his second wife married in McCollough county later coming to Cisco to make their home. About 30 attended the birthday dinner Sunday.

BANKERS OFF TO SESSION AT COLORADO

Guy Dabney, Cisco banker, and O. P. Newberry, Gorman banker, left Cisco about 8 o'clock this morning for Colorado where they will attend an all-west Texas drought conference determined upon following a conference of bankers and business men of this section with Governor Moody last Tuesday. The mass meeting will take place at 1 o'clock this afternoon and is aimed at suggesting additional ideas and a better basis of sentiment upon drought relief, throughout the affected areas. COLORADO, Oct. 28.—Bankers, merchants, farmers and legislators from 54 west Texas counties were here today to pursue proposals advanced recently at a meeting at Eastland urging county commissioners courts to issue warrants for relief of farmers in the drought area. The meeting was called by Guy Dabney and Garland Eubank, bankers of Cisco and Throckmorton respectively. "To arouse west Texas to the need of a special session of the legislature." The proposal is to have the counties issue warrants which would in turn be taken up by the state through action of a special session.

Thieves Get Nothing at Two Cisco Places

The Morgan feed store, across the street from the Blease Motor company, and the Cisco Lumber company were both entered by burglars during the night. Nothing of importance was missed this morning. Entrance to the feed store was gained by a side window looking upon an alley. The safe in the building was open and contained nothing but books and records. Some flour may have been taken, officers said but a check of the stock revealed nothing missing. Nothing was taken from the office of the lumber company.

ORDERS PASSED BY COMM'RS IN MONDAY MEET

The county commissioners court in session Monday when all members and the county judge were present, passed among others, the following orders: Order No. 15 issuing deficiency warrant in favor of E. S. Pritchard & Co., for $4,766.55, due March 15, 1931, without interest, for services rendered. The order, among other things, recites that the county heretofore had entered into a contract with E. S. Pritchard and company to pay them five cents on the $100 valuation for the increase valuation of oil companies and public utilities corporations assessed property in the county where such increases were due to the efforts of E. S. Pritchard & company. The order also recited in substance that heretofore E. S. Pritchard & company had earned $8,766.55 of which amount $4,000 had been paid leaving a balance of $4,766.55. On Oct. 27, the order recites, the report of E. S. Pritchard & company on the condition of the tax rolls for property rendered and assessed in Eastland county for 1930 by oil companies and public utilities was $11,411.671, and that the board of county equalization increased this to $17,533.110; that the property owners and the county commissioners agreed to these figures and that E. S. Pritchard & company obtained the information, furnished the data, etc., which made it possible for the county to get this increased rendition. J. S. Erwin was appointed election judge for Precinct No. 4 in place of W. N. Black, formerly appointed, who had removed from the district. The taxable values of south 89 feet of lots 7-8-9, block, original townsite of Ranger was reduced from present valuation of $250 per year for the years of 1922-23, 24, 25, 27, 28, 29.

DAILY AVERAGE CRUDE OIL OUTPUT DECLINES

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 28.—Daily average production of crude oil in all fields in the nation declined 5,723 barrels last week to 2,362,333 barrels, the Oil & Gas Journal reported today. The light oil decrease was 10,443 barrels. California's 4,250 barrel increase to 506,250 barrels was the only major increase in light oil producing fields. Southwest Texas, with a gain of 5,021 barrels, accounted for the heavy oil increase. The Elwood field, with a rise of 3,500 barrels to 38,000 barrels gave California its surplus. California heavy was steady at 87,000 barrels. West Texas declined 7,818 barrels to 275,147. Other Texas fields showed increases: North Central, 108,546 barrels, up 301 barrels; panhandle, 89,916 barrels, up 5,680 barrels; and east central, 43,048 barrels, up 489 barrels.

MUST GIVE TIME TO HIS OWN AFFAIRS

Blankenbeckler Will Become Acting Postmaster

John W. Triplitt, for the past almost eight years postmaster for Cisco, this afternoon announced his resignation to devote himself to private business affairs. Mr. Triplitt announced at the same time that F. A. Blankenbeckler will become acting postmaster upon his retirement. He expects to retire November 1. Mr. Triplitt was appointed postmaster here under the Harding administration. He took up his duties August 1, 1923, succeeding the late R. F. St. John and was subsequently reappointed twice under the Coolidge administrations. "I have given eight years of my time to the government service in Cisco," he said in announcing his retirement, "at a great cost to my personal interests. I intend to retire to private life and devote myself to personal business affairs, which have suffered from the lack of attention I have been unable to give them. In retiring I wish to express my thanks for the splendid cooperation which the people of Cisco have given me in the performance of my duties as postmaster."

Here 25 Years

Mr. Triplitt, a life-long republican, is a native Texan. He came to Cisco from Brown county and has made his home here for the past 25 years. He and Mrs. Triplitt, who is a member of the faculty of the Cisco high school, a position she has held for several years, have four children, two daughters and two sons. Bertha Helen Triplitt, is a teacher in the Cross Plains school. The other three children are in school in Cisco. During his tenure of office Mr. Triplitt has devoted himself closely to the affairs of the post office, endeavoring in every way to improve its service to the people of Cisco. In the development of rural delivery out of this city he has worked untiringly and effectively and evidences of his service in this respect are to be found in the excellent system of delivery that now exists. He has the office into the more remote sections of this area. In many other ways his efforts for the betterment of the postal service here has been demonstrated.

DAILY BIBLE READING

Luke 12:31-34

31. And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat.
32. But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.
33. And he said unto him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee, both into prison, and to death.
34. And he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

YOUR VOTE COUNTS.

Prosperity is up for election, running to overthrow Depression.

It's for the people to decide which will be chosen. Every man and every woman is privileged to ballot—every day.

Depression has no rightful place with a hundred and twenty million people, exchanging goods and services—capable—accustomed and willing to work—more highly skilled than other peoples—leaders in efficiency and progressiveness—backed by the vast natural resources of the United States. When we make it possible for the man who works to have a job we make it possible for him to buy food for his family and so help all business, including that of the farmer.

The rest of the world is of small importance compared with that free market of 120,000,000 people—homogeneous—of like tastes, habits and aspirations—living under the same laws—free of trade barriers. Foreign trade may be troubled by tariffs and revolutions, but at their peak our exports represented only five and a half billions of dollars of gross business in a year out of a total American income of ninety billions.

Stagnation of circulation is what's the matter with agriculture and with business. Everyone can help to get that circulation moving again.

Government can't make prosperity—alone. Bankers and other business leaders can't make prosperity—alone. It's the people, united in opinion and purpose and courage, who determine prosperity. They can elect it—none other.

Ballots that will be validly counted for prosperity are of many kinds. Some one of them every man and woman can cast. For example:

Help a deserving man or a woman to get a little paying work—or, better, a regular job.

Spend wisely and not too timidly, and anticipate scheduled expenditures so far as is practicable.

Turn the deaf ear to false, mischievous rumors; and don't repeat them, if you do hear them.

Be willing to pay a fair price. Don't take advantage of the other man's necessity. Recognize that he has as good claim to a fair profit as you.

When a vampire that fattens on the miseries of others shows up, help to make him unpopular.

Discourage calamity howlers.

Keep business moving evenly, and remember that, to the average man, his job is his particular business. When possible, reassure him against his fear of losing it.

Save, but save wisely, not in fright. Invest for the profit that sound enterprise pays and for the added profit that will come after the hysteria of pessimism has passed.

TIME TO BUILD.

Houston, with $15,239,591, is leading the cities of Texas in building permit totals for the year. Dallas with $11,563,237 is second, and Fort Worth with nearly $9,000,000 is third. Amarillo and El Paso have totals for the year above the $2,000,000 mark.

While these totals do not compare with those of flush years they do reflect a condition that is reassuring. There were no outstanding projects during the past week and the inference is that Texas people are going confidently ahead with construction that is needed, keeping their property in shape or expanding to meet conditions that arise, yielding nothing to a spirit of pessimism that sees no good to come of forward looking.

Local people can find some advice in this. The time now is to make needed improvements, to put property in shape while the cost is low rather than wait until the need is pressing and materials and labor are short and costly.

OTHER OPINIONS

VENTILATION

Another matter on which doctors disagree concerns the best way of ventilating school rooms, and other buildings. In this debate the public is interested for proper ventilation is essential to public health. The child made ill by too much or too little ventilation loses in an educational way and burdens the family with additional expense.

Professional ventilation experts have always urged that windows be kept closed, preferably made unopenable. The needed fresh air should be supplied, they believe, by forced ventilation through ducts, having been washed, heated, moistened or otherwise prepared. Opponents of the force-draft system urge that it is not only extremely costly but actually less healthful than a simpler plan. Judicious opening of windows, and there is some doubt that ever will be. The perfect ventilating system will be one that is as conducive to man's development and growth as the wind-swept cave of pre-historic man and the minutiae have been wasting vast sums which the schools could have used to advantage.

In this controversy, admittedly not scientifically determinable at the present, the layman confesses sympathy on the side of simplicity and cheapness. If physicians agree were able to tell just what conditions or air temperature, moisture and so on are the best for human health a strong case could be made out for the control possible with closed windows and filtered air. But they confess themselves unable to do this. They can merely warn against a few obvious extremes of stagnation or cold and venture more or less plausible guesses about proper averages.

The human animal is not yet fully acclimated to indoor life. And there is some doubt that ever will be. The perfect ventilating system will be one that is as conducive to man's development and growth as the wind-swept cave of pre-historic man and the out-door life of the more recent ages without requiring in man as great ruggedness as did those more rigorous conditions.

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By EDSON E. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma.

That no matter what your wants may be, you can always find in your own home city merchandising that will meet your every requirement.

Your business men are live and up-to-date; their stores are fully stocked with up-to-the-minute, reasonable merchandise of quality, and at prices that can't be beat. People want to see what they are buying when they pay their money.

The merchants of your home city value their reputations. It would be impossible for them to maintain their reputation of high grade merchandise at reasonable prices without actually delivering the goods.

They have the good will and confidence of the majority of the citizens of the home city. Every one should buy from local merchants.

It is impossible to keep a city growing unless the home people are loyal enough to spend their money in the home city. BUY AT HOME!

Reward for Poultry Thieves Is Offered

DENTON, Oct. 28.—A decided drive against poultry thieves was started recently at the reorganization meeting here of the Denton County Turkey Growers association. The organization at its meeting offered a reward of $50.00 for the conviction of any person who steals from one of its members.

At the re-organization meeting, Joe Waide, of Sanger, Texas, was named president and Mrs. Claud Underwood, Denton, was elected secretary.

The purpose of the Denton County Turkey Growers' association is to promote the turkey raising industry and to give information to members which will lead to the production of A-1 turkeys in Denton county.

To give thieves notice, the association passed a resolution asking each member to post a sign on his property stating that his birds are tattooed and a slogan: "We raise our turkeys for the market and not for thieves" was adopted.

Persons interested in the organization of similar associations may secure copies of the constitution and by-laws of the Denton organization and other valuable information by writing to the secretary.

CRACKS IN THE DOME

By POLITICAL ANALYST

AUSTIN, Oct. 28.—No choice holding lists will be made up from the rosters of American Legion local post officials in Texas. This is a ruling of the organization's state department headquarters. It is so rigidly enforced that even a legislative committee could not get the names of post commanders, on an informal request. But the committee got cooperation of the body in the non-political matter affected.

School people who do not think the law valid that would assess independent school districts for part of the cost of running the rest of the school system, are ready to make the test in supreme court of this law. An organization to fight it out was formed in Waco.

But nobody opposes the beneficial law that requires the state to pay high school tuition of pupils on transfer from rural districts. When the permanent accomplishments of Gov. Dan Moody's administration are ranked in importance, this one law will stand near the top.

Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer—and most of the other engineers of Texas, this week ended the professional pow-wow at Houston of the Texas section of the national association.

Gilchrist is "all set" to carry forward the complex and highly-organized work of the highway department with the commission appointments fortunately no longer involving political "shakes" of the legislative organization.

The constitution now fails to delegate power to boards and commissions to legislate. These agencies continually are bumping their heads up against this limitation. The federal agencies legislate ad lib, in such matter as changing and fixing open seasons on game, all the way up to the tariff.

Secretary Will Tucker of the Texas game commission has found it would be advantageous to let the same commission fix and change regulations at will. But the policy involved is so far-reaching that the welfare of the ducks, turkeys and deer may be FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 28.—When the University of Arkansas and Louisiana State University re-drew the Dixie football classic with a tilt at Shreveport Saturday, the Razorbacks will have a slight edge over their neighbors—on paper. During the 24 times the two machines have clashed, Arkansas has won 12 games, Louisiana 11. In 1906 they fought a 6 to 6 duel.

Profiting from their experience in the Southwest conference the Razorbacks are expected to take a strong aerial attack to Shreveport Saturday. This offense, if perfected, coupled with the strength of the big red forward wall, should give the quarter million fans at the Louisiana State Fair something to ponder over this week-end.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 28.—Regulars on the Texas Christian University squad continued to loaf along today and nurse semi-colds caused by periodic injections of cold serum ordered by Coach Francis Schmidt. Second string men were given a light workout Monday and promised a harder one today as they began conditioning for the tussle with the Abilene Christians Saturday.

Coach Schmidt is expected to start an intensive grind for his regulars the latter part of this week, as his men whip into shape for the last dash toward a 1936 championship. In that final dash they must encounter on consecutive week-ends Rice, Texas University, Baylor's Bruins, and the 1936 Methodist.

As it nears the climax of election day, the political prospect is comparatively clear. Republican victory of two years ago will be overwhelmingly wiped out. Democrats are making an unusually vigorous fight to beat the only republican congressman, H. M. Wurzbach of San Antonio. Both U. S. Senator Tom Connally and Senator Morris Sheppard have aided in the fight of Henry Diehlmann, democratic opponent of Wurzbach.

In one state senate race the republican nominee, Reno Eickenroth at Seguin, threatens the success of W. K. Hopkins, democratic nominee; but Eickenroth's friends now say his election is improbable. The net result seems that the republican foray of 1928 will help make Texas more democratic than usual in 1936.

The Texas citizens of German descent have a respect for law and order that commends itself to others. A most brutal and revolting crime took place at New Braunfels, little city made up largely of people of German ancestry. A man confessed here to the crime; yet the officers proceeded in perfect confidence that none of the volatile, irresponsible mob spirit would develop; and they were right. "We know our people," Chief Deputy Sheriff August Kneisch commented. "The mob spirit is not in them."

Perfect Ironing in one-third the time

Ironing, in the old-fashioned way, consumed many weary hours of toilsome drudgery—hours spent in useless work, for the Modern Electric Ironing Machine does the job far more satisfactorily, much quicker, and more economically.

The electrically-driven Fedelco roller and the perfectly heated ironing shoe takes pieces swiftly, one after the other, and gives each one just the right pressure and temperature. You'll be delighted with the splendid results.

This new Fedelco costs so little, and is so inexpensive to operate—truly it is real economy to install one in your home. A salesman will be happy to explain to you, either in your own home or our Merchandise Showroom, the many unusual advantages of this Modern Appliance. Call him today.

At the present time, exceptionally low prices and terms are available to you, so don't delay.

HIDALGO IN FINAL WEEK OF POLITICAL WAR

COLLEEN, Oct. 28.—Hidalgo county's three-year period of political warfare prepared to effect final settlement of differences the polls on Nov. 4.

Characterized by increasingly bitter and more concrete charges have been brought at any time during the entire campaign—each has had as its object the setting of Hidalgo county offices in Sheriff A. Y. Baker of Edinburg and his administration—the organized democrats and the government party are making their last bids for votes among the county's electorate of approximately 11,000.

At a meeting of the good government party in Alamo, leaders of the charge that the "Milwaukee" sheriff had returned to the valley from San Antonio and is actively engaged in canvassing the Mexican voting precincts in support of the democrats. The incident with his return came in the form of a letter to the county commissioners' court had authorized the re-districting of various precincts.

The situation is more tense than any time since the 1928 election when the much-disputed election box of Weslaco precipitated federal investigation and indignantly brought about federal grand indictments charging Baker and seven of his assistants with conspiracy to deprive citizens of their rights.

On the other hand, the democrats asserted in meetings at Mercedes and Mission that only the chance for personal gain had attracted various influential citizens throughout the county who have openly announced their support of the good government party. The democrats charge that their opponents are conducting the campaign on a foundation of "hatred, prejudice and intimidation," and that the good government movement is motivated by personal ambitions dependent on the November election.

The battle has been featured by a flood of telegrams to the White House in 1928, an automobile caravan of 400 persons to the halls of the Texas legislature, law suits involving millions of dollars in writs, warrants, political charges, and ordering on the sensational and mass meetings attended by as many as 9,000 persons.

Adage Sounds Well, But --- Say Doctors

FORT WORTH, Oct. 28.—Poor Richard's adage about "early to bed and early to rise" rhymes nicely, but it isn't necessarily sound advice, according to the conclusions of doctors attending the annual convention of the American Public Health association.

A man may keep any hours he likes so long as he gets a full eight hours of sleep out of every 24, the physicians believe.

"Most folks require eight hours of sleep every night, but if they turn in late one night, there's no reason why they should turn out early the next morning," said Dr. P. W. Covington, of Salt Lake City.

"I refuse to go to bed as long as there's any entertainment around," said Dr. Covington. "But I won't stay up unless I can sleep long enough the next morning to get in eight hours. Just as a person gets all the sleep he needs, I can't see where the time he goes to bed or rises makes a bit of difference."

"Four hours of sleep are enough for me," declared N. J. Urbanski, of Buffalo, N. Y. "The amount of sleep depends on the individual. I couldn't be any healthier, wealthier or wiser if I retired every night at 10 o'clock and got up at six. Poor Richard seems a bit out of date with his adage."

DUNCAN AND GOYEN MEET IN GOLF FINAL

The tenth annual golf tournament of the Cisco Country club for the president's cup reaches the finals with Jeff Duncan and J. P. Goyen to fight it out Sunday November 2, over 36 holes.

This is the fifth successive year in which Duncan has reached the finals and he is now trying to win his third cup in succession. Johnnie Goyen promises him plenty of competition and the match should be a close battle all the way. The public is cordially invited to witness the match.

In the consolation bracket Geo. Simpson and W. W. Wallace in the upper half are playing the semi-finals and J. R. Almond and S. E. Hittson are in the lower half of the semi-finals. The two winners will play the finals Sunday afternoon over 18 holes.

This has by far been the most successful and interesting tournament the club has had and many of the favorites have met with defeat. Homer Slicker and F. D. McMahon came through as the dark horses in this tournament to put out some of the older players in the way of golfing experience.

Mine Explosion

land by losing to Eastland on their home course.

Early this morning the rescue workers had reached the 500 foot level, digging furiously but progressing slowly through the mass of wreckage that blocked the shaft. Gas retarded the work.

Above them, milling about the entrance, were almost 2,000 excited persons. Among them were the families of the entrapped men. They realized there was scarcely a chance that any of the men would be brought out alive.

Beneath the workers were the entrapped men, probably dead, possibly fighting for their lives in the gas filled tunnels. Every possible avenue of communication with them had been cut off by the blast. The electric lighting system was wrecked.

Near Entrance

Dohley was near the mine entrance when the explosion, believed caused by accumulated gas in the shaft, occurred. His work was to drive the coal cars in and out of the mine and he had just returned from a trip to the 2,000 foot level. He was killed instantly.

The explosion was heard distinctly in McAlester and within a few minutes after it occurred roads were filled with running men, women and children. Among them were relatives of the miners who had lived in constant fear of just such a disaster.

Scenes of wild confusion ensued about the mine entrance. Screaming women and children were driven back hurriedly formed squads of pickets. The rescue crews were formed rapidly, gas masks procured and the work of digging away the debris began.

Officials of the mine, which is owned by Marshall Dana of Kansas City and is located on Oklahoma state prison property, did not believe the miners possibly could be reached before noon today.

The gas in the shaft was so heavy the rescue crews, even when protected by gas masks, could remain inside only a short time before stumbling out to be relieved by new crews. They worked in squads of ten.

Huge bonfires were built around the mine entrance to aid in providing light for the workers. An emergency electric lighting system was installed before morning.

The Samples mine, a slope pit, was considered one of the safest and best equipped in this section. It had a daily output of 200 tons. The mine was rock dusted daily. Custerbach said, to prevent accumulation of dust. This fact, he said, led him to the belief the blast was caused by gas.

The 28 men entrapped were: Vik Vontic, Sam Lovera, B. Lew-

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Adventure enters the life of Celia Mitchell, 17, when she learns the father she has supposed dead is alive and wealthy. She leaves her unpretentious home in Baltimore to live in New York with her father, John Mitchell, and her aristocratic grandmother.

Margaret Rogers, Celia's mother, is now a widow, having divorced Mitchell and remarried later. Barney Shields, young newspaper photographer, is in love with the girl and before leaving Baltimore Celia promised to be loyal to his love.

Mitchell asks Evelyn Parsons, beautiful widow, to introduce the girl to young people. Mrs. Parsons agrees, considering Celia a means to win Mitchell's affections though she is jealous and at once begins scheming to get rid of the girl. She introduces Celia to Tod Jordan, a fascinating but of dubious character, and does all she can to encourage this match.

Lisi Duncan, socially prominent, becomes Celia's loyal friend. Mitchell learns Jordan is paying his daughter attentions and forbids her to see him. Celia offends her grandmother and the elderly Mrs. Mitchell feigns illness and departs for a rest. The girl goes to Mrs. Parsons' Long Island home for a lengthy visit. Jordan calls there frequently.

Mrs. Parsons lunches with Mitchell and tells her he has investigated Jordan's past and that the young man is a gambler. She does not pass this news on to Celia. Next day Celia, Lisi and Jordan attend the races and there Celia encounters Barney Shields. Shields tells her he is working for a New York picture service and she agrees to telephone him next day.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXVIII

When Celia Mitchell opened her eyes next morning she saw at once that her plans for the day were ruined. Two little wrinkles appeared in her forehead as she turned on her pillow and gazed out the open window.

Rain! It was falling in gentle monotony, not a downpouring summer torrent that would end as abruptly as it had begun. This rain was sure to last throughout the day.

She sat up in bed and considered the dripping window, mopefully. Why, of all times, did it have to rain today? Her strategy, carefully studied out the night before, was useless now. She had planned, as an excuse to meet Barney, to stage an impromptu shopping trip. She would tell Evelyn she must have tennis shoes. They would have to be fitted and could not be sent out. Besides, Lisi had told her of a small store which carried the best equipment. It all sounded plausible enough, but who would be so ridiculous as to go shopping in the rain?

No, that story would never do today. Celia dressed slowly. She still was reticent about confiding in Evelyn. By the time she went down to breakfast no solution of her problem had come to mind. "Your breakfast is ready, Miss Celia," Hilda greeted her. "Mrs. Parsons had a tray sent to her room."

This was unusual. "Isn't she feeling well?" the girl asked. "I don't know. Rose said she wasn't to be disturbed." Celia ate her lonely meal. It added to the general gloominess of the situation that there was no one across the table to chat with. Hilda moved quietly from kitchen to dining room. The whole house was silent.

When Celia had finished she went out on the porch and watched the rain. Larchwood without its sunshine seemed a different place. No tennis. No golfing. And Barney was expecting her to telephone.

She spent most of the morning on the porch. Mrs. Parsons appeared a little before noon and said that she had slept and was feeling much refreshed. Then a marvelous thing occurred. Evelyn noticed it first. "I believe the rain is stopping," she said. "Look—it's much lighter than it was."

"Oh, if it only would!" "I'm glad, too," Evelyn said. "There's a bridge tournament at Fannie Marlow's club and I promised to play with her, but I wouldn't think of going if the shower keeps up. I don't know whether you'd enjoy it or not, Celia, unless of course you care to watch. Everyone will be playing."

The girl shook her head quickly. "No, that wouldn't be much fun for me. What I wanted to do this afternoon was go in town to get some tennis shoes. Lisi told me the place to buy them."

"I'm sorry, dear, but I'll need you today."

"Oh, that's all right! I can taxi to the station and take the interurban. They say it saves lots of time."

"Well, of course, if you don't mind the smoke and crowd!" "I like crowds. That was the thrilling thing about the races yesterday."

The day had brightened miraculously. Within 15 minutes the steady tap-tap-tap of the rain had become a sprinkle. Ten minutes more and the sky was clear.

Evelyn held a long telephone conversation after luncheon. At 2:30 she tapped on the door of Celia's room.

"Come in!" the girl called.

Mrs. Parsons appeared in the doorway. She wore an afternoon gown and wrap and her becoming Rebois hat.

"I'm going now," she said. "Fannie insists that I must stay to dinner with her. She has some friends coming I met abroad. I'll try to be home by eight or nine, though. I hope you won't be lonesome, dear."

"Never mind about me. I hope you stay."

"Thanks. Goodbye!"

Celia waited five minutes. She saw the motor car move off down the driveway, then dashed downstairs to the nearest telephone.

"I want to speak to Mr. Barney Shields," she told the voice which answered her. She had given the number of the Apex Picture Service.

"Just a minute. I'll see if he's here."

Celia waited with tightening throat. It seemed so queer that Barney actually was near enough that she could speak to him.

"Hello!"

It was Barney himself who answered.

"This is Celia," she told him. "I'm sorry I couldn't call this morning, but I'm coming in town right away. When can I meet you?"

Barney's voice was a series of delighted, somewhat incoherent sounds. He said he could meet her at four o'clock at the station. Yes, he knew all about the train service. He even got a time table and informed Celia when she could get her train. Barney, though new in the city, seemed to be persisting in his habit of knowing how to do just about everything.

There was ample time, but after Celia had put down the telephone she hurried to her room, pillaged dresser drawers and ransacked her clothes closet in frenzied haste. There were so many things she wanted to ask Barney that yesterday, in the suddenness of their encounter, she had forgotten. She wondered when he had last seen her mother. Surely he would have some message from her.

Celia flew into her clothes, thinking first about how she looked. Then she telephoned the suburban station for a taxicab. When she reached the interurban depot there was a wait of 20 minutes, which seemed an hour.

ney said. "Take a bus down the Avenue. It'll be cool on top. There's an Italian place down on Eleventh street I think you'll like."

The plan was agreeable to Celia. "But listen, Barney," she said, "you haven't told me anything about yourself or what you're doing here or anything yet! I want to hear about it."

"Come on, here's the bus! Tell you after we get upstairs."

But on the ride down Fifth avenue there was too much to be pointed out to Celia's eager eyes, too impressive a panorama to allow much conversation. Celia had glimpsed the famous thoroughfare from the windows of sedate limousines. Now she saw it as a glamorous, colorful procession between majestic buildings.

When they were finally settled at a table for two in the basement dining room and the girl had exclaimed over the blazing ovens where roasting chickens turned on spits and over the foreign atmosphere of the place, Barney Shields leaned forward. He clasped his hands together.

"This is what I've been looking forward to for a long time," he said. "You look swell, Celia!"

"I guess it's the new clothes."

"Are they new? Hadn't noticed 'em. You'd look swell to me no matter what you wore."

Celia smiled. "You're looking pretty swell yourself, Mr. Shields. Now tell me about the job. When did you get here—Have you seen met yet lately?"

Barney put up one hand. "Now wait a minute. Wait a minute! One at a time. I told you it was a long story. No, I haven't seen your mother very recently. You see it was a month ago I left Baltimore."

"A month ago? Barney Shields, do you mean you've been here a whole month and didn't try to see me?"

"But, Celia, you don't understand. Wait—I'd better begin at the beginning. Do you remember six weeks ago about the aerial maneuvers at Washington? Spectacular stuff! I made a bunch of pictures and had good luck with 'em. That's the kind of thing I like. They seemed pretty fair, so after we'd used 'em in the Post I shipped a bunch of prints to Apex Pictures."

"Biggest piece of luck you ever heard of! Wagner—he's the man who runs Apex—he took the whole air staff. He bought the bunch and wired there was a vacancy on the staff. Guess what your little friend Barney said to that? They were decent about letting me off on the paper. I packed my other shirt and tooth brush and here I am!"

"But a whole month—"

"Shields' face had grown serious. "I had to be sure I was going to make the grade before I tried to see you," he said. "I'm getting twice the salary. I did, but of course I couldn't be considered anything in your crowd. That's why I waited, and why I didn't write. It looks like this job is going to be a real opportunity. Wagner seems to like me—anyhow, he's treating me O. K. You see how it was, don't you, Celia?"

"I guess so."

Barney hesitated. Then he leaned nearer, his clear, gray eyes troubled.

"You still care, don't you?" he asked slowly. "There isn't anybody else."

Cardui "Did Me a Great Deal of Good," Says Florida Lady Who Suffered.

Tampa, Fla.—Mrs. O. M. Hamilton, of 517 North Idlewild Street, this city, says she was in bad health three years ago, and had not recovered good health after a weakening illness when she began to suffer as described below.

"At times, I suffered with pain in my right side that was so bad I could hardly stand it. I did not have any strength. I was pale. I looked bad and felt worse."

"I thought Cardui, which I had read about, would help me. My sister had taken it at one time with good results, so I started taking Cardui."

"I can't praise Cardui too highly, for I feel it did me a great deal of good. My trouble has entirely disappeared and I feel much better. I can't recommend Cardui, for I think it is a wonderful medicine."

Thousands of other women, who had been in a suffering condition, have reported that after taking Cardui their health improved.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We wish to announce to the people of Cisco that we have purchased the Myrick dairy, including his cows, land, barns, all equipment, and wholesale and retail milk distribution for the City of Cisco. And further, we desire to receive the continued patronage of all the old customers of the Myrick dairy as well as the patronage of those who have not heretofore patronized this dairy.

We promise a faithful service and the highest quality products at all times in raw or pasteurized sweet milk, coffee cream and whipped cream, butter, milk, butter and cottage cheese.

We want our customers to be satisfied at all times and any dissatisfaction reported to us will be adjusted to your entire satisfaction.

We furthermore wish to announce to the city at large and our customers especially that when we purchased the Myrick dairy, with her splendid herds and equipment we also considered, and still consider that we came into possession of the good will and good patronage which had been built up through the years.

Any disposition to sidetrack our trade in any other dairy, and especially any dairy under a Myrick name will be looked upon as dishonest. We had as soon you would come and get our good cows in the dark of night as to take our good trade by implication or subterfuge.

At present we are continuing under the name of Buck Myrick & Sons, however, we are changing the name within the near future and are asking our customers to help us select the most appropriate name. Any customer who is now on our lists is entitled, of payment of their account or as much as five dollars of account, to send in a name. Any new customer who spends as much as two dollars and fifty cents with us is entitled to send a name. All names will be considered by the dairy management and the name seeming most appropriate will be awarded $25.00 cash. If two or more parties should send in the same lucky name, then the name first on our files would receive the money.

Under our new system you can save 10 per cent on your milk bill by buying our coupons $2.50 worth of coupons will cost you $2.25; $5.00 worth will cost you $4.50; $10.00 will cost you $9.00. Each $2.50 worth bought entitles you to send in a name.

Loboes Take on Concho Clan at San Angelo Saturday

CISCOANS DUE FOR COMEBACK WITH BOBCATS

Team Being Rebuilt After Wreckage of Last Week

The Cisco Loboes journey for the second time to foreign soil this season when they take on the unknown Concho clan Saturday afternoon. The pack is confident that its excursion this week will not be as disastrous as was the unfortunate invasion of Buckaroo stadium last week. On the contrary the Loboes, smarting under the injustice they were done by the district committee and the sting of defeat, are due to start a determined come-back at the expense of the Bobcats.

The San Angelo Kitties are perennially capable of at least one upset. Last year they walloped the Abilene birds surprisingly under the late season wine and fig tree and they are to be regarded on the tall of the eye by any opponent who is inclined to be chummy over the prospect.

Loboes Picked.
To make matters worse for the Loboes the pack is universally picked to knock the slats out of the Bobcat bulwark next Saturday. Add to this the consciousness of one defeat and you have little opportunity to be over-confident so far as the Cisco eleven's chances with the San Angelo crew is concerned.

The Loboes are grinding this week with a will and a vim. Coaches Chapman and Hill are faced with the problem of virtually rebuilding a team from the wreckage of one which, as Bobby Campbell, at Big Spring, states it, was "excavated" by the district executive committee two days before the game last week. The biggest item of reconstruction is at center where Black is being groomed to replace the stellar Ray. Black has the makings, but unfortunately he had been trained for years at a guard position where he ranked among the district's best. With another week of practice he is due to get the pivot assignment well in hand and to function therein with the perfect timing essential to the effective operation of the formations from which the Loboes capture their offense.

Depends on Center.
What the Loboes do the remainder of this season depends to a large extent upon how the center post is filled. Important in any sort of system this position is vastly more important in the Warner style of play. The ball must be in the right place on the right instant or the whole line is thrown out of gear.

With this problem effectively solved the backfield realignment presents comparatively little worry.

The line-up which will start against San Angelo next Saturday will be about the same as that which started against the Buckaroos last week. Black will hold down the center post; McCall and Steen will be at guards; Wagon and Cole at tackles; Waverly Massengale and Van Horn at ends; Chambless at full; Turknett at quarter and Blackburn and Jeter at halves.

DALLAS, Oct. 28.—Waino Keenon, LGS Angeles mat star who has contributed several shekels to the promoting purse of Bert Wilkowsky, threatens to hunt new playgrounds. The sturdy Finn has indicated that unless the promoter sees fit to place him at the top of a wrestling card in the near future he will take his record of wins over leading middleweight grapplers to new territory.

BIG DAM CHATTER

Blondy Cross, eminent sports writer for the San Angelo Standard, has applied his famous "fold-up" term to the Loboes.

"It appears that the Loboes folded up ignobly, stunned and demoralized by the court room decision," he writes, referring to the Loboes' poor stand against Breckenridge last week.

Blondy has won more games for the opposition with that scathing term than he has ever helped win for the home boys. No other comment that he has made has so aroused the ire of opposing eleven and unless this column is sadly mistaken the Bobcats are going to pay next Saturday afternoon for this unwise reference of their publicity expert.

Says Blondy:
"The Big Dam Loboes fell with a mighty crash. A state championship team one week, a very poor also-ran the next. It is still difficult to believe that secret. The loss of Connell and Ray the other night via the court room route was a great one, but who would have thought it would be that great? It appears the Cisco team folded ignobly, stunned and demoralized by the court room decision. We say this with no intention of endeavoring to take credit from Breckenridge. But the Breckenridge team just is NOT that good. Max Bentley, eminent editor of the Abilene newspapers, submitted to the department details of the strike. He covered the game. He added that Cisco, a champion last week, looked like a class-B team out there Friday afternoon."

If the Cisco Loboes don't do something about that next Saturday this department is going to lay off of them. In all the years that we have watched Lobo eleven make things hot for this district we have never read that sort of comment about them. It just didn't apply to the Loboes. If the current Loboe eleven doesn't do another worthwhile thing all the rest of this season it has got to force a retraction of that statement.

There is plenty of time and plenty of opportunity to change this sentiment. Saturday the Loboes meet the San Angelo Bobcats at San Angelo. After they have thrashed the pants off the Bobcat crew they will have a chance at the Ranger Bulldogs at home. It was our privilege to witness the Abilene and Ranger contest at Ranger last week and if the Loboes couldn't have wall-ped either team cut there last Saturday we will pull in our flag and go fishing for the rest of the season.

We got an eyeful of this Mr. Bird and for all his prowess we will confidently turn him over to a certain youngster by the name of Steen. We are certain that the hefty Lobo guard, who was ineffective in the Breckenridge game because of an injured leg, will be in condition to take care of this assignment much to the discomfiture of the said Bird.

Abilene stopped the rampages of "Dangerous Dan" McCarty quite emphatically. With Waverly Massengale, who was airtight against Breckenridge last week, and Van Horn on ends and Cole and Wagon on tackles Dan is not going to get off for many long gallops against the Loboes, you may lay to that.

With two weeks to whip them-

S. M. U. - TEXAS GAME WILL BE GRUDGE BATTLE

AUSTIN, Oct. 28.—When the Flying Ponies of Southern Methodist university invade the corral of the Texas Longhorns November 1, the two teams will be playing the tenth game in the shortest and most bitter series of games on the Texas schedule. Although the two schools have been rivals since 1916 only, the bitterness and fight of the annual grudge game has superseded even the annual battle with the Texas Aggies on Thanksgiving day, in the minds of Texas students, and on the part of S. M. U. students the trouncings handed the Steers by the Mustangs has left a taste that is growing sweeter with each victory.

Another distinctive feature about the Texas-S. M. U. series is that it is the only one between Texas and another school of the South-western conference where the Longhorns are behind in the number of games won. The Ponies have won four, Texas has won three, and two games have been scoreless ties.

The revised rule was suspended by a year by decision of the executive committee of the league at Austin yesterday afternoon, however, so for this season only years actually attended by a player will be counted against him. The decision makes Jim Stanley Phelps, star Abilene Eagle guard, eligible for the season.

Booth Returns to Lineup for Yale
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 28.—The question of whether Army's touchdown, which gave the Cadets a 7-7 tie with Yale here Saturday, was legal or illegal, was overshadowed today by the return of Albion Booth to the Yale lineup.

The little backfield star, who participated in but one play against Army before he was carried off the field on a stretcher, was released from the university infirmary yesterday in time to run through a signal drill with the varsity. He is expected to be ready for action against Dartmouth Saturday.

The touchdown controversy arose yesterday after a showing of the motion picture of the game. The film revealed that Kilday was given a boost by a teammate when he crossed the Yale goal line. The rules prohibit such a shove or boost.

FIGHT RESULTS.
CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Joe Barlow, 144, Chicago, defeated Al Kline, 145, Cleveland, 6; Juan Lira, 133, Dallas, Tex., knocked out Jimmy Ryan, 139, San Francisco, 4; Joey Espinoza, 117, Chicago, stopped Palermo Martin, 111, Philippines, 4; and Mickey Mack, 114, Chicago, defeated Felix Young, 117, Philippines, 4.

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 28.—Sammy Mandell, Rockford, Ill., former lightweight champion won a newspaper decision from Tom Ligouri, Des Moines, in a 10-round bout here last night. Mandell weighed 142, Ligouri, 138.

WACO, Oct. 28.—W. S. Wells, Baylor basketball luminary and a member of the varsity grid machine, remained in a local hospital here today from injuries sustained in a head-on, automobile collision Sunday night. Wells' jaw was broken on both sides.

Cold weather is motor-punishing weather... Now, more than ever, you need the extra protection of this DE-WAXED, EASY-STARTING OIL

CONOCO

In cold weather motors usually are hard to start, but Conoco Germ-Processed oil actually makes starting easier!

There are two good reasons for this. First: Germ-Processed oil is thoroughly dewaxed and does not congeal at low temperatures. Second: Germ-Processed oil does not drain away during periods of motor idleness. The initial "turning over" process is made easier by the protective lubricating film which is on duty before you touch the starter. The usual 40% to 60% of motor wear occurring during the starting period is greatly reduced. Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil gives you safe starting—and quick starting, even at zero temperatures.

Change now to this new oil. Use it all winter for motor safety and economy. You always will find Germ-Processed Motor Oil at stations bearing the Conoco Red Triangle.

Per Capita Revenue Receipts in Texas Slightly in Advance of State Average

AUSTIN, Oct. 28.—Total revenue receipts of Texas per capita run slightly in advance of the average for the 48 states, a bulletin in governmental costs of the census bureau shows. The average is $16.29 per capita.

In Texas the per capita was $16.70. The report is based on 1928 figures. In 1917 the state received only $5.45 per capita from its citizens. In 1927 the amount had advanced to $14.66.

But a small part of this comes from the general property tax, the report revealed. Back in 1917 more than half of the revenue came from such tax, being $2.81 per capita. In 1927 it had advanced to $4.87 per capita, and in 1928 it dropped back to $4.58.

Abolishment of such tax in Texas was proposed in bills before the sessions of the last legislature, which failed to pass. Twenty states are shown with income taxes.

In Texas in 1928, the valuation of property subject to general taxation was $3,988,421,000; the general property tax levy was $25,256,000, and the total revenue receipts $93,140,000. The general property tax brought in $25,442,000 (more than the levy); special property taxes produced $1,999,000; revenue, inheritance taxes, $1,030,000; motor fuel tax, $1,211,000; motor vehicle licenses, $13,004,000. The various departments of the state earned $4,505,000 by their operations, and all other revenues produced from other sources were $27,949,000.

A companion report on operation of city governments shows that in Houston the cost of operation and maintenance of general departments was $6,903,000 and the cost of operation and maintenance of public service enterprises $459,000.

In Dallas departments cost $8,228,000 and services $505,000. In San Antonio departments cost $5,159,000, and services $369,000. In Fort Worth departments cost $3,763,000, and services $236,000.

For El Paso the department figures are $2,146,000, and service costs $229,000.

In Beaumont department cost was $1,092,000, and service costs $373,000. In Galveston department costs were $1,402,000 and service costs $152,000.

Wichita Falls expended $1,031,000 for departments and $168,000 for services.

Bishop Cannon Goes to Hospital

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church South, was a patient at Sibley hospital today, having entered the institution last Saturday for a period of "rest and quiet."

Dr. Roy L. Sexton, Cannon's physician, said no one would be permitted to see the bishop. Neither would the physician issue a bulletin on the patient's condition.

Cannon entered the hospital after his return from Richmond, Va., where he conferred with church authorities regarding charges that have been made against him alleging activities incompatible with his high church position.
